It should be appreciated that some duplication appears in the lists as a consequence of particular portfolios being bracketed for a time and then separated. The information has not been checked by the responsible Commonwealth and State officers, and I would be grateful for advice on any errors noted.

Introduction

As foreshadowed in the 1977-82 Supplement to A Handbook of Australian Government and Politics 1890-1964, a set of portfolio lists containing the material already provided as portfolio lists in the two Handbooks, plus earlier material from 'Ministerial Lists 1855-1889' and subsequent material from the 1975-76 appendix in the 1965-74 Handbook and the 1977-82 Supplement, have been compiled. This, the latest supplement, like its predecessors has been prepared for a limited private circulation. Stocks will be exhausted by the first and only distribution.

It should be appreciated that some duplication appears in the lists as a consequence of particular portfolios being bracketed for a time and then separated. The information has not been checked by the responsible Commonwealth and State officers, and I would be grateful for advice on any errors noted.

Introduction

As foreshadowed in the 1977-83 Supplement to A Handbook of Australian Government and Politics 1950-1964, a set of portfolio lists containing the material already provided as portfolio lists in the two handbooks, plus earlier material from 'Ministerial Lists 1955-1969' and subsequent material from the 1977-78 appendix in the 1965-74 Handbook and the 1977-83 Supplement, have been compiled. This, the latest supplement, like its predecessors has been prepared for a limited private circulation. Stocks will be exhausted by the first and only distribution.

It should be appreciated that some duplication appears in the lists as a consequence of particular portfolios being provided for a time and then separated. The information has not been checked by the responsible Commonwealth and State officers, and I would be grateful for advice on any errors noted.
