Morehead State University

Meeting the educational needs of Eastern Kentucky while striving to constantly improve the quality of its public service, economic development and applied research programs are the primary objectives of Morehead State University.

Historically the University traces its lineage to the Morehead Normal School, which opened its doors in 1887. The private school closed in the spring of 1922 when the Kentucky General Assembly established Morehead State Normal School. The state institution accepted its first students in the fall of 1923 and graduated its first class in 1927. Name changes occurred in 1926 when "and Teachers College" was added, again in 1930 when it was shortened to Morehead State Teachers College, again in 1948 when "Teachers" was dropped and, finally, to university status in 1966. Twelve men, starting with Dr. Frank C. Button, have served as president. Dr. Ronald G. Eaglin assumed office as the 12th president on July 1, 1992.

Academically, the University offers 66 undergraduate degree programs, including 9 associate level degrees and 11 pre-professional programs in four colleges -- Business, Education and Behavioral Sciences, Humanities, and Science and Technology -- and 19 academic departments. There are 20 graduate degree programs plus 2 graduate level non-degree programs designed especially for professional educators. A post-master's level degree, education specialist, and a joint doctoral program with the University of Kentucky also are offered on the MSU campus.

Classes also are conducted in Ashland, Jackson, Maysville, Pikeville, Prestonsburg, West Liberty, Whitesburg and other locations. Extended campus centers located in Ashland, Prestonsburg, and West Liberty are staffed with full-time personnel. Additionally, the University offers a number of distance learning courses throughout the region via Internet and interactive video. Sixty-three percent of MSU's 320 full-time faculty members hold doctoral degrees.

Physically, the University is located in the foothills of the Daniel Boone National Forest in Rowan County. The nearly 500-acre main campus within the city limits of Morehead includes more than 50 major structures with a total replacement value of more than $144 million. Beyond the city, the University's real estate holdings include the 320-acre Derrickson Agriculture complex and a nine-hole public golf course. The instructional plant includes 120 class rooms and 112 laboratories. Housing facilities include space for approximately 3,400 single students and 178 families.

Fiscally, the University currently operates on an annual budget of $81.2 million with about $38.2 million provided by the state and $21.8 million coming from tuition and fees and other sources. Additionally, grants and contracts from external sources for research, service and academic/student support projects generate about $7 million each year. Private donations to the University, mainly through the MSU Foundation, Inc., have reached $2 million.

Statistically, the University has awarded more than 44,000 degrees, has an average fall enrollment of 8,200 and more than 990 full-time employees. The student body represents 97 Kentucky counties, 40 states and 40 foreign countries. The University attracts more than 55,000 visitors each year and its economic impact, directly and indirectly, on the Morehead area is estimated at more than $70 million yearly.

Administratively, the University is governed by an 11-member Board of Regents with eight citizens appointed by the governor and three seats held by the elected faculty, staff and student representatives. Management of the institution is vested primarily in four divisions -- Academic Affairs, Administration and Fiscal Services, Student Life and University Advancement--each headed by a vice president.

Athletically, the University sponsors 18 intercollegiate sports for men and women in accordance with the regulations of the Ohio Valley Conference and Division I of the National Collegiate Athletic Association. MSU also supports an intramural program involving more than 20 team and individual sports.

Dr. Ronald G. Eaglin President

MSU Administration

Dr. Ronald G. Eaglin, an outspoken proponent of student success strategies in college administration, has served since July 1, 1992, as the 12th president of Morehead State University in Morehead, Ky. Responsible for serving Kentucky's 22 easternmost counties, MSU was founded in 1897 and currently enrolls 8,300 students on its main campus and four extended campus centers.

A native of St. Louis, Mo., President Eaglin came to Kentucky from the chancellorship of Coastal Carolina University in Conway, S.C. Previously, he was vice chancellor for academic affairs at the University of South Carolina at Spartanburg. Earlier, he was the southeast regional director of the American College Testing Program (ACT).

A former chair of Kentucky's Conference of University Presidents, Dr. Eaglin holds a bachelor's degree in biology and mathematics from Southeast Missouri State University, a master's degree in student personnel administration from Southern Illinois University and a doctoral degree in education psychology from the University of Utah.

President Eaglin's expertise in student retention recently was highlighted in a research report he wrote for the American Association of State Colleges and University (AASCU) on the role of campus chief executives in helping students be successful in college. Dr. Eaglin was a member of the AASCU Board of Directors and had the distinction of representing two different institutions on the NCAA Presidents Commission. He currently serves on the NCAA Board of Directors for Division I and as president of the Ohio Valley Conference. His consulting work in student personnel and academic matters has taken him in recent years to Cyprus, China and Ireland and to numerous campuses across this country.

President Eaglin is active in economic development matters in East Kentucky, serving presently by appointment of Gov. Paul Patton on the Kentucky Appalachian Commission and Education Pays Task Force. He is a member of the Board of Directors of the Morehead-Rowan County Chamber of Commerce and the Central Appalachian Alliance, a partnership of energy and land holding companies and universities in Kentucky, Virginia and West Virginia.

Dr. Eaglin and his wife, Bonnie, have four adult children and four grandchildren.

Mike Mincey

Vice President for Student Life/Athletic Director

Mike Mincey, Morehead State's Vice President for Student Life and a former Eagle athlete, assumed responsibility for supervision of the University's athletics program in June, 1993.

An MSU administrative staff member since 1975, Mincey was appointed interim vice president in 1986 and assumed the title of vice president and Dean of Students in 1990 following a national search. Since joining the staff, Mincey has held a variety of posts including assistant to the vice president for academic affairs, grants coordinator and coordinator for academic support services.

In addition to the athletics program, Mincey also provides supervisory support to the areas of the Dean of Students, student activities, student development, financial aid and scholarships, student housing, public safety, admissions and conference services.

A three-time graduate of the University, he earned a bachelor's degree and two master's degrees, one in higher education. The native of Waycross, Ga., has done advanced studies at Indiana University and is a member of the National Association of Student Personnel Administrators.

Prior to joining the MSU staff, he taught and coached in public schools in Flemingsburg, Ky., and Tifton, Ga.

Mincey earned four varsity letters (1965-68) as a member of the Eagle football squad. He was an all-stater at Ware County (Ga.) High School, and he was a member of MSU's last Ohio Valley Conference football championship squad in 1967.

His wife, the former Kathy Crusie of Lyndon, Ohio, is a two-time graduate of MSU and currently serves the University as an associate professor of English. They have three children, Sarah, Jacob and Samuel.

Leslie Faber

Head Coach/Senior Woman Administer

Back for her third year piloting the Blue and Gold soccer team is Leslie Faber. As the program enters its third year of intercollegiate play, Faber has led the Eagles to a 6-31 record, including doubling the team's win total from year one to year two. Last season, MSU went 4-15 and defeated its first Division I opponent. In addition, the Eagles finished 2-3 in the Ohio Valley Conference to capture fifth place. It was the first two league wins in the program's history.

After being hired in February of 1998, she led her squad to a deceptive 2-16 overall record in her debut campaign as a head coach. However, her experience piloting young programs is nothing new. In fact, Morehead State is the second team she has guided through its inaugural season.

Because of her leadership qualities and vision, Faber was also recently named as MSU's Senior Woman Administrator. In her new role, Faber will be actively involved providing input and oversight in the planning and development of budgets and long-range goals for the department. Additionally, she will be involved in selected day-to-day operational functions, represent the athletics department at conference and national meetings, and serve as a key athletic representative on the committee charged with writing the 2002-2007 athletics long-range plan.

Prior to coming to the Bluegrass State, Faber spent two years as the assistant coach at Northwestern State in Natchitoches, La., in the Demons' first two seasons of existence. There, the program also experienced growing pains and notched a 2-35-3 overall mark as a member of the Southland Conference. However, those two wins, both in the 1997 campaign, came en route to capturing the league tournament trophy. In her two years on the sidelines, Faber can note to her credit recruiting the 1997-98 Southland Conference Freshman of the Year. While at NSU, she was also a member of Louisiana's Olympic Development Program (ODP) staff for both years, which gave her inroads to some of the top players in the state.

Since coming to MSU, Faber has been instrumental in developing soccer interest in Eastern Kentucky. Her experience has helped foster its growth in the community. Having grown up in the soccer hotbed of Dallas, Faber understands the importance of developing players at the grass roots level by cultivating local talent. As the head coach of one of the few Division I collegiate programs in the state, grooming Kentucky high school players carries an even greater significance. Actively courting local talent, she landed five Kentucky players in her first recruiting class. However, her connections in Dallas also produced highly-sought after players from that area, as well as from the powerhouse regions of St. Louis, Cincinnati and Detroit.

In her native Texas, Faber also worked with youth programs guiding two different competitive club teams for four years. She has continued her association with youth-league soccer in Morehead, working with local teams in various capacities.

As a player, Faber spent two seasons at East Texas State (now Texas A&M-Commerce), joining the team in the first year of its existence. During her tenure in a Lions' jersey, she registered the first goal in the program's history and posted the first shut out as a goalkeeper. A two-year starter, Faber helped guide the team to a 15-12-5 combined record in the 1995 and 1996 seasons and served as a captain in her final campaign. She also spent a year as a student assistant coach with the team after she hung up her boots.

A scrappy defensive midfielder, Faber earned all-state honors as a high school star in Dallas. She also played club soccer for the highly-successful Solar. Faber graduated with bachelor's degree in kinesiology from East Texas State in 1999 and earned a master's degree in sports administration from Northwestern State in 1998. In addition, she has a United States Soccer Federation (USSF) license and is a member of the National Soccer Coaches Association of America (NSCAA). Faber currently resides in Morehead.

Jennifer "Flash" Gordon

Assistant Coach

Standout All-Ohio Valley Conference goalkeeper Jennifer Gordon joins the soccer staff this season as a graduate assistant coach. The Webster, Texas, native starred for two seasons at MSU in the first two years of the program. Her primary responsibility will be to work with the goalkeepers, but will assist in all phases of the program.

As a goalkeeper, Gordon was the most dominant force on the Eagle defense in her two years in the Blue and Gold. She twice earned All-OVC honors, including second team as a junior and honorable mention as a senior. Both years she also ranked among the national leaders in saves, finishing ninth at 9.22 per game in her first year and then 22nd with 7.61 per game last fall.

In 1999, she ranked sixth in the OVC in goals against average and second in saves per game. As a junior, she led the league in saves, was fourth in shutouts per game and was sixth in goals against average. In 1998 Gordon earned national honors as an honorable mention All-American on Soccer News' all-first-year programs' team. That season, she also claimed a team honor, being selected as MSU's defensive MVP. In her career with the Eagles, Gordon recorded 303 saves and played 3,209 minutes and 37 seconds, all but 239 minutes and thirty seconds of the total time the team was on the field. In total, she amassed 35 starts and played in 36 of the team's 37 total games. She also finished with a career 3.25 goals against average and collected six wins and two shutouts. Her name appears scattered all over the MSU record books, holding single-game records in saves, shots faced and minutes played in goal.

Gordon began her career at Northwestern State (La.), playing two seasons under Faber, who was the Demons' assistant coach for the first two years of the program's existence. At NSU, she faced 506 shots and made 413 saves. Her best season came as a freshman, when she recorded 328 saves and a 3.6 goals against average.

A spring 2000 Morehead State graduate with a degree in exercise science, Gordon earned several academic honors. She was named twice each to the MSU Dean's List and the OVC Commissioner's Honor Roll. In addition, she was a representative to the MSU Student Athlete Advisory Committee and served as a team co-captain last fall. Her plan is to pursue a master's degree in sports administration.

Tim Utt

Assistant Trainer

Utt joined the MSU athletic training staff in January 1999 and worked directly with soccer last season.

A 1998 graduate of Tusculum College with a degree in physical education/athletic training, Tim is pursuing his master's at Morehead State in exercise science.

While at Tusculum, he worked all four years in the training room. Assisting with 14 sports, Tim spent most of his time with football, basketball, softball and baseball.

The Jefferson City, Tenn. native attended Jefferson County High School, where he was a student trainer for three years. On the gridiron, Utt earned honorable mention all-state honors as a sophomore, while also playing basketball for the Patriots.

Outlook

Entering the third year of existence, MSU head soccer coach Leslie Faber is finally seeing her squad take the form which she originally envisioned. The Eagles return nine players and six starters from 1999. The returnees, along with an infusion of new talent, figure to put MSU in the hunt for the OVC title.

Last season the Eagles showed flashes of true ability rarely seen in such a young program. One of the reflections of that improvement can be noted by the team's 2-3 league record, with the two wins coming by two-goal margins. "Last year was a continuation of our building process," Faber noted. "We showed marked improvement in our level of play and competitiveness, as well as demonstrating that we can win games and play with highly-competitive opponents. That should help with our confidence this year."

Experience will be an asset for the Eagles with four players entering their third year in the program. "We have several upperclassmen who have contributed greatly over the past two years," Faber remarked. "They continue rising to the challenge and have a thirst for more success."

Brandy Morris (Jr, defender), Mary Claire Collins (Jr, defender) and Tracy Tenholder (So, midfielder) are the captains, and I expect them to be leaders on and off the field."

MSU lost nine players from '99, including five starters. Although those losses will be hard to replace, Faber believes that this recruiting class may be her best yet and will add more depth throughout the lineup. "Our freshman class are better soccer players and will make a bigger impact," Faber professed. "They possess athletic ability and are true soccer players, both technically and tactically."

In '99 Eagles led the OVC during regular season in goals, assists and points, and improved their scoring totals from the year before by 225 percent, while allowing 25 percent fewer goals.

Returning is second team All-OVC selection Stephanie Sandfoss (So, forward), who set single-season records in goals and points last fall. Sandfoss brings essential speed to the team. Joining her on the front line are newcomers, Christina Moore (Fr) and Beth Crance (Fr). Both had outstanding prep careers, giving the Eagles more offensive threats than they have had in the past. "We have added tremendous strength and depth to our forward line," Faber asserted. "You are going to see speed, coupled with brilliant tactical ability and tenacity. We have three pure finishers."

The squad is even stronger at the midfield, where Tenholder, Sarah Haynes (So), Susie Blevins (So), Jessica McAnnam (Jr), Shelley Schaberg (Jr), Tricia Hornsby (Sr), and Alison Connley (Fr) will prowl. The group has earned a bevy of accolades, led by Tenholder, who was second on the team last season in points and tied for squad-high honors in assists. A fluid player she was a second-team all-conference pick. Haynes was also recognized by the league, earning honorable mention All-OVC honors. Looking to return to the form which earned her First Team all-league accolades in 1998, McAnnam sees the field well and anticipates the game's action. Hornsby, a third-year player, has parlayed her athleticism, smarts and savvy into considerable playing time.

Blevins was a starter on the front line at the end of last season and will bolster the talented midfield with her presence. Her first fall season with the team, Schaberg has actually played with the squad during the last two spring campaigns. Connely's skill level enables her to play offense and defense equally effectively. "Midfield is our strongest point, especially depth-wise," declared Faber. "We have a couple of new players with finishing ability who are both offensively and defensively oriented."

Defense was one of Faber's primary areas of focus in her recruiting this off-season. The two returnees, Collins and Morris, are both experienced and will anchor the back line. Faber labeled the junior duo as her "enforcers", who will shut down the opposition's scoring threats. Three newcomers will bolster the back line. Faber's two recruits, Cathryn Isgrigg (Fr) and Sarah Schafbuch (Fr), are tactical defenders, who will be able to push the play forward. Heather Lueke (So) brings pure speed to the backfield and will utilize that ability as the team's sweeper. "Defensively, we are more sound this year," Faber stated. "We have better soccer players on defense than before. They are technically sound as well as physically strong. I look for Morris to set the tone and be the leader." The biggest question mark for the Eagles lies at the keeper position, with only one goal keeper with experience on this year's roster, Holly Beach (So). Beach attacks the ball and plays with an aggressive, confident style, and her tenacity has Faber feeling reassured about her ability to do the job. "We are looking for our goalkeepers to continue the level of play that we have had the past two years," admitted Faber. "Holly is aggressive and will dominate the box attacking the ball, not stand on the line and make saves."

Faber has set up a schedule favorable to the team's third-year status. There is a mix of talented opponents with NCAA Tournament experience. "Our schedule is strong, but winnable, with high levels of competition that will challenge our team" Faber surmised. "We have played a lot of these teams over the last two years and we know a lot about them."

The OVC will feature a new six-team alignment with a first-ever NCAA Tournament Play-In bid at stake. "We think we can challenge for the conference title this year," Faber contended. "The conference is still young, building competitiveness in every game. Like everyone else, we have added great players and I expect them to help push us to be among the league's top teams."

OVC Sportsmanship Statement

General. The Ohio Valley Conference is committed to establishing sportsmanship and developing healthy environments for competition. This conference wants to lead the way in abolishing the notion that it is desirable to create a "hostile" environment for intercollegiate athletic contests. Instead, we will strive to create "hospitable" environments. We believe that part of the role of education through sports is to teach our youth and our communities to conduct themselves with sportsmanship and respect for opponents.

In an effort to achieve this goal, the Conference has developed this statement which outlines the expectations of the various groups and individuals associated with our intercollegiate athletics program.

Administration. It is incumbent upon institutional administrators to create an environment of hospitality for visiting teams, particularly for those individuals at Conference institutions. OVC administrators must develop the attitude that the treatment of a visiting team and its fans will be in the same manner that they would want their teams to be treated.

The athletics director at the host institution must ensure that he or she, or someone else designated as game manager, approaches the coach of the opposing team at a spectator event in order to welcome that coach to the institution, provided an opportunity for the coach to address and concerns, indicate the location of the game manager in the arena or stadium and identify security personnel to ensure that the visiting team is protected from abuse from the home crowd and that security is in very close proximity to the visiting team's bench. Each institution must arrange its seating at spectator events so as to emphasize sportsmanship and minimize the harassment of the visiting team and its fans.

The athletics director must ensure that those who are employed by the university treat the opponents with fairness and respect. For example, public address announcers must be required to announce the contest in an evenhanded manner with equal excitement for both teams. The institution's chief executive officer and athletics director should review periodically with other athletics department staff members, coaches, student-athletes and spirit groups (cheerleaders and bands) precisely what is acceptable conduct, as set forth in this document.

Coaches. Coaches have the greatest amount of influence over whether the young people in their programs are taught and follow the high principles of sportsmanship. The OVC has been benefited by coaches who have risked losing a contest by removing student-athletes who have demonstrated disrespect for the opponents. This discipline measure educates that individual and his or her teammates about the importance of sportsmanship over participation and winning. This type of attitude and courage must be adopted by all OVC coaches. Administrators and coaches must pay special attention to their student-athletes' behavior and continually emphasize the need for sportsmanship and respect. Such education is needed to counteract the constant messages received by our young people from many professional athletes and others who demonstrate a lack of respect for opponents. This Conference and its coaches are committed to teach messages that are appropriate about sportsmanship.

Coaches also have the ability to influence the behavior of their fans. OVC coaches must take every opportunity when addressing the media, booster groups or other public forums to express the desire for fans to support their team at home contests, but not to abuse the visiting team. Coaches and administrators should stress that the participants in our athletics contests are young people who do not deserve to be mistreated by a hostile crowd.

Student-Athletes. Respect for the game in which the student-athlete participates also demands respect for the opponent. Student athletes at OVC institutions are expected to treat opponents with sportsmanship. There can be no tolerance for taunting and baiting of opponents. OVC student-athletes must understand that they are perhaps the most visible representatives of their institutions. Also, their behavior is observed and emulated by many who are younger. OVC student-athletes must honor the responsibilities that accompany the privilege of representing our schools by behaving with dignity and class on and off the field.

Spirit Groups. Like our student-athletes, these groups are visible representatives of our universities. As such, we place high expectations on them for decent behavior. Cheerleaders, bands and other spirit groups are admitted to contests at the pleasure of our institutions to support their teams and assist in creating a fun atmosphere. They are not admitted in order to disrupt or confront the opponent and such behavior will not be tolerated. Their focus must be toward encouragement of their team and respect for the opposing team.

Officials. Officials who are assigned Conference contests must enforce the rules regarding sportsmanship, without tolerance for abuse. The only warning to participants and coaches regarding sportsmanship should come at the beginning of the contest. Once the contest begins, penalties (consequences), not warning, must be assessed for violations of unsportsmanlike conduct. Similar to the baseball policy of ejecting coaches for arguing balls and strikes, the Conference will require that officials eject any coach who protests unsportsmanlike conduct calls, provided such ejection is permissible to the rules of that sport.

Each official assigned by the OVC will be provided a card with the following statement which must be read to the captains and coaches of every contest prior to the beginning of the game: "The OVC requires officials to enforce all rules regarding unsportsmanlike conduct by coaches and players. There will not be any tolerance for negative statements or actions between opposing players, especially taunting and baiting. If such comments are heard, a penalty will be assessed immediately. If any coach protests an unsportsmanlike penalty, he or she will be ejected for the contest. We have been instructed not to issue warnings during the contests. It is strongly suggested that you remind your participants of this policy." Officials who do not follow this policy will be subject to suspension.

Commissioner. The commissioner is expected to enforce the unsportsmanlike conduct rules of the game and the Conference. He or she is authorized to assess penalties for improper behavior that is not detected or properly addressed during the contest. Institutions and their personnel are expected to fully cooperate with his or her effort to investigate possible improper behavior.

In the unfortunate event that an altercation occurs during a contest, all individuals who are on the bench are expected to remain there. It is incumbent upon the head coach to ensure that this occurs. The commissioner is directed to suspend automatically the head coach of a team whose bench personnel enter the field or court of play during an altercation, regardless of whether those individuals become involved in the altercation.

Fans. The Conference hopes and believes that the establishment of the principles outlined in this document will create a wholesome atmosphere that will attract more fans to our events. The fans attending our games must be reminded by the public address announcer of the expectations of sportsmanship and respect for both opponents.

We expect that all fans will act in an appropriate manner, and respect the opposition and the officials. We understand that occasionally there are individuals who attend games and abuse the opposition and officials. Those individuals may be dismissed from athletic events.

Concluding Statement. The Conference believes that the effort to meet the expectations outlined in this document will increase the attractiveness at our athletic events by creating a healthy environment for our competition.

Dear Friends:

Morehead State University is committed to upholding the highest integrity within all procedures and practices of the athletic department. We are pleased to publish this note as a reference to understanding often confusing NCAA regulations.

The NCAA defines "representatives of athletic interests" as alumni, friends and boosters of the University. All member institutions are held accountable for their representatives' actions. One violation could jeopardize the eligibility of any or all Eagle Athletics programs.

As a general rule, anyone who has financially supported Eagle Athletics, been a member of any booster organization, or who has supported Eagle Athletics is considered a "representative" of Eagle Athletics. If anyone has questions regarding these types of relationships, please contact Brian Hutchinson, Director of Development and Marketing (606) 783-2593.

Prospective student-athletes can be defined as a student who has started classes in the ninth grade or any younger student athlete who has received a benefit from the institution. These individuals may only be recruited by MSU coaches who have passed the NCAA Recruiting Rules Examination. While "representatives" of Eagle Athletics may speak to any of these individuals via telephone or in person, a recruiting effort must not be made. Also, no student-athlete or prospective student-athlete may receive any extra benefit outside of the support provided by the institution. For any questions regarding this description, please contact Jim Wells, Compliance and Educational Services Director (606) 783-5136.

These are certainly not all the regulations any "representative" of Eagle Athletics must remember. However, they provide a good outline of the types of things that could endanger the eligibility of any MSU Athletics program. Again, feel free to contact us if you have any questions. Thanks again for your support of Morehead State Athletics.

Sincerely,

Jim Wells

Compliance and Educational Services Director

Athletic Facilities

Athletic Facilities

Morehead State has at its disposal modern and well-equipped facilities for the use of its athletic teams. Included among these are Jayne Stadium, the Academic-Athletic Center, the George A. Sadler Tennis Courts, the "Sonny" Allen Field, Wetherby Gymnasium and the University Field (softball), to name a few. Among the facilities used for purposes other than competition is the Phil Simms Weight Training Facility, a building dedicated by the former Morehead State and New York Giants football star, which allows MSU student-athletes every opportunity to enhance their strength and conditioning. In addition, there is a spacious athletic training facility in Jayne Stadium complete with all of the resources needed to enhance the training of MSU student-athletes and allowing them to rehabilitate and recover from injuries quickly and safely.

Athletic Training

The main athletic training room, a spacious and modern facility with four whirlpools, stairsteppers and exercise bicycles, is located in Jayne Stadium. Two other remote facilities are in the Academic-Athletic Center and Wetherby Gym. The MSU staff includes head athletic trainer Gary Diehm, assistant Johnnda Wireman, plus two graduate assistants and several student assistants. Diehm, Wireman and the graduate assistants are either certified or eligible for certification. Also members of the MSU medical team are a group of highly-qualified doctors, including orthopedic surgeons, Dr. Tom Fossett and Dr. Pat Serey; a dentist, Dr. Jim Bendixen; and an optometrist, Dr. Thomas McHugh. In addition, the St. Claire Medical Center, located in Morehead, utilizes a full-spectrum of medical services. In all, the Lady Eagles have access to several specialists in all areas of potential need, providing them with the most modern medical attention available.

Weight Room

MSU athletes have two primary weight room facilities for their use. The largest is the Phil Simms Weight Training Facility, which is used by all Morehead State teams. The other facility is located in the AAC and is the primary domain of men's and women's basketball and soccer. Both offer a wide-range of modern equipment, including a stairmaster, free weights and nautilus-style machines, which can help Eagle teams maintain the highest level of strength training.

Entering its 53rd year, the Ohio Valley Conference continues to build on the success that has made it the nation's eighth-oldest NCAA Division I conference.

The OVC's proud past dates back to 1948, but seeds for the new league were actually planted in 1941. It was then that Ro Stewart, the athletics director at Murray State, Charles (Turkey) Hughes, the athletics director at Eastern Kentucky, and Kell Thompson, the public relations director at Western Kentucky, first broached the idea of forming a new conference. Discussion were put on hold by World War II, but reemerged Feb. 27-28, 1948 at the Kentucky Hotel in Louisville as the three original institutions combined with Morehead State, Louisville and Evansville to form the OVC.

In the 1950's, the OVC became a pioneer on a much more significant scale socially. During times of racial segregation, league member Morehead State became one of the first non-traditionally black mid-southern institutions to accept a black student. In 1958, Marshall Banks earned athletically-related aid at Morehead, which signed a second black athlete, Howard Murphy, a year later. (In 1961, Murphy earned football all-conference recognition at halfback.) With racial barriers broken, the rest of the institutions in the league began to provide educational and athletic opportunities to African-Americans. In 1955, the OVC became one of the second six-member league nationally to earn an automatic bid to the prestigious NCAA Men's Basketball Tournament, which, at that time, was limited to only 24 participants. In the late 1970's, women's athletics began somewhat of a rebirth on the national scene as the NCAA began sponsoring and marketing women's sports. Recognizing the need to provide increased opportunities for female athletes, the OVC established women's championships in the sports of basketball, tennis and track in 1977, with cross country and volleyball added over the next four years. Those sports were initially governed by the Association of Intercollegiate Athletics for Women, but the overall strength of women's programs in the league was demonstrated by the automatic bids the OVC instantly received when the NCAA became the governing body in 1982.

Through the early years of the league, administrators wrestled with fan behavior due to the close proximity of the conference members and the intense rivalries which developed. Just as it did decades ago, the OVC took the leadership role on what has become a national issue. In 1995, the OVC implemented a first-of-its-kind "Sportsmanship Statement", a policy which promotes principle of fair play, ethical conduct and respect for one's opponent. The statement has become a model for others to follow across the nation, and has answered the challenge of the NCAA Presidents Commission to improve sportsmanship in collegiate athletics. Over its 52 years, OVC teams have garnered national championships and bowl games in football, along with national team or individual titles in the sports of rifle, cross country, track and golf. The OVC has also produced several Olympic athletes, while some of the greatest players in professional sports were educated at OVC institutions. The list includes former greats such as basketball's Glen Haskins (Western Kentucky) and two-sport star Steve Hamilton (Morehead State) to present-day standouts like basketball player Carlos Rogers (Tennessee State), Popeye Jones (Murray State) and Bubba Wells (Austin Peay), football players Tim Lester (Eastern Kentucky), Chris Watson (Eastern Illinois) and Brent Alexander (Tennessee State), baseball players Kirk Reuter (Murray State) and Willie Blair (Morehead State) and professional golfer Jeff Sluman (Tennessee Tech).

The playing field isn't the only place where OVC athletes are working hard. The league also recognizes excellence in the classroom. The prestigious OVC Academic Achievement Banner is awarded annually to the league school whose athletes produce the highest grade point average when compared to the general student body. Also, six Scholar-Athlete Awards are presented yearly to male and female athletes, while others are commended for their academic success by being Medal of Honor recipients or named to the Commissioner's Honor Roll. Additionally, the Steve Hamilton Sportsmanship Award, in honor of the former Morehead State student-athlete, coach and athletics director, is presented annually to a junior or senior student-athlete with significant athletic contributions who best exemplifies the characteristics of sportsmanship and citizenship.

The vision of leadership demonstrated by the Founding Fathers in 1948 remains alive today as the Ohio Valley Conference prepares for the future. One example is in regard to the current trend in collegiate athletics administration for increased involvement of university presidents in setting policies and making rules. The presidents of OVC institutions, however, have always governed the Conference, long before presidential governance became a national theme.

The OVC sponsors the following sports: baseball, basketball, cross country, football, golf, tennis and track for men, and sketball, cross country, golf, soccer, softball, tennis, track and volleyball for women. The OVC also sponsors the combined men's and women's sport of rifle. Over the last few years, the league has grown, not only in the number of athletics opportunities it is providing for students, but in terms of the number of institutions in the league. In the early 1990's, the league expanded by two members, adding Southeast Missouri State University and the University of Tennessee at Martin. The league grew again in 1996-97 with the addition of Eastern Illinois University. Other current representatives include charter members Eastern Kentucky University, Morehead State University and Murray State University, along with Austin Peay State University, Tennessee State University and Tennessee Technological University. Western Kentucky University joined as an associate member for football in 1999.
