The median age in the United States next year is expected to be about 35.

That's not the average age now, but the median. If you want to get real confused start defining median and average.

We don't feel up to it today. However we did feel foolish enough to squeeze the chairman.

More on the small brown spider which bites people with grievous results.

Lady calls and says that it is a Loxocoeles Reclusiana.

The Reclusian that may mean it is a lover.

Small brown, it has two dark lines across the head and a little shaded abdomen. Don't get it mixed up with the Black Widow. The Black Widow has a red hour glass underneath and is easily identifiable.

The little brown one hides in old boots out in the utility room, old garden clothes hanging in the garage, etc.

It can be very dangerous, especially if it bites you on the head or neck.

They are well known in Arkansas.

It was good to see Mrs. Hinesford Doran yesterday. First time we had seen her in some years. She is teaching school in Mayfield.

Mrs. Doran use to enter all the canning contests and won most of them.

Told her that if she was so good at teaching as she was at canning, she would be hard to beat.

You know, you just can't please some people.

Emergency Force Of 8,000 Lands And Enters Conflict

By RAY F. HERNDON United Press International

SAIGON (AP) — An emergency force of 8,000 Marines landed today at Da Nang and Qui Nhon with tanks, artillery and battle gear ready for immediate action against the Viet Cong. The first contingent of a New Zealand artillery unit arrived near Saigon with its weapons.

The new landings were announced as American and Australian paratroopers and infantrymen battled a force of guerrillas in the Viet Cong's Zone D battle zone 35 miles north of Saigon.

Another "Spilling Mislod" A force of eight-engine jet planes based on Guam, 2,300 miles away, flew another "spilling mission" against the Viet Cong in Zone D today, a few miles away from the joint U.S.-Australian-South Vietnamese 4,500-man force carrying out a sweep of the area.

A Da Nang dispatch reported two Viet Cong soldiers captured after the attack on the big air base 375 miles northeast of Saigon were shot and killed today "while trying to escape." Vietnamese officials reported. The air base attack killed one American and destroyed 55 million worth of planes.

Arrival of the Marines in the Da Nang area increased American troop strength to 80,000, announced last week when they arrived in 1961. It brings Marine strength to 29,000 men — the equivalent of a full combat division.

Wade Ashore Da Nang dispatches said more than 6,000 Marines waded across a beach two miles north of Da Nang and that the remainder landed more than 100 miles south at the port city of Qui Nhon, threatened by Communist offensive a few miles away. Another 600 Marines landed at Qui Nhon last week.

A U.S. military spokesman in Saigon said the new wave of Marines was not part of the six U.S.-based combat battalions recently alerted for Viet Nam by the U.S. Defense Department.

He said the fresh reinforcements "were needed too quickly" to wait for the announced landings. The arrivals were pulled in from the

Can Accidents produce Disease?

The cause of many diseases can be traced to a previous accident injury. Nerve force from the brain channeled over the spinal nerves is necessary to run the body. If nerve force is interrupted, the affected organs fail to perform their proper function. It might be the stomach which would be affected, the eyes, the heart, or any other organ of the body. Disrupted function can result in serious disease. See Your Family Chiropractor

IF YOU HAVE HAD AN ACCIDENT LATELY, it will pay you to have a check-up by your family Chiropractor. DON'T PUT IT OFF. The longer you wait, the more damage you will suffer, and the harder it will be to correct the CAUSE of your trouble. SOCIAL SECURITY

Questions and Answers

Question: I am a widow and receive $75 a month based on my own work record. If I remarry, will I lose my benefits?

Answer: You earned your right to receive payments and will continue to get them, no matter how many times you remarry.

Question: I have been working under social security for the last 15 years. What kind of protection do I have?

Answer: Payments may be made to you and your family when you reach age 62 or become disabled. Upon your death, benefits can be paid to your widow and children under age 18.

Question: Why do you urge people to check on their social security records every 2 or 3 years?

Answer: The time in which corrections on your records can be made is limited. Unless an error is found within 3 years, 3 months, and 15 days after the year which is incorrect, it may not be possible to correct the error.

Question: My husband gets social security. I am 58 years old and never worked. A few months ago I became disabled. Can I receive disability payments from my husband's private prayers at the Texas ranch home instead of the usual motorcade to a nearby church?

Answer: The President usually says grace before meals in the White House or at home and, on some occasions, he will ask Moyers or another member of the staff to say the blessing.

There is a story in White House staff circles that shows the President's personal approach to religion and prayers.

Moyers was saying grace in a soft voice before lunch at the White House.

"Speak up, Bill, I can't hear you," Johnson said.

"I wasn't speaking to you, sir," said Moyers respectfully.

Backstairs At The White House

By MERKIMAN SMITH UPI White House Reporter WASHINGTON (UPI) Backstairs at the White House:

President Johnson may be expected to worship with more frequency in the privacy of his family either at the White House, Camp David or on his ranch in Texas.

The Chief Executive is a devout man. His denomination, Disciples of Christ sometimes known as the Christian Church, is not as formal or as ritualistic as many other faiths and follows the tenets of individual faith rather than mass approach to religion.

Johnson's upbringing in the simplicity of his faith is enough to make him cringe at the sight of crowds which inevitably develop around any church where any President worships.

In his mind, he has tried to blame some of these crowds on reporters and photographers who attempt to cover any movement of a Chief Executive in public. But this theory falls apart when the President eludes the press corps successfully and arrives at a church with no fanfare or advance notice.

The White House limousines and accompanying Secret Service vehicles would attract attention in front of any church in the world. Their crowd-pulling attraction is even more pronounced in smaller towns near Camp David or the Johnson ranch in Texas.

Thus, the President emerges from church to find anywhere from dozens to hundreds of on-lookers awaiting him, and, on occasion, his annoyance is visible as he escorts his wife in stony silence to their waiting car.

Johnson is well aware the other presidents have avoided Sunday crowd scenes by having family services conducted by visiting pastors in the privacy of the White House or wherever the first family may be on the sabbath.

Against this historic background, Johnson has been following this practice on occasional Sundays. On one recent Sunday at Camp David, he instructed one of his staff members whose father was a clergyman to compose a sermon and read it to members of the Johnson family and friends.

Woman's World

Dear Abby . . .

You've Got A Choice!

Abigail Van Buren

DEAR ABBY: I am a 31-year-old woman who has been divorced five years. I have two children. We live with my parents as my mother is always at home, which makes it convenient for me to work. Besides, if I had my own place it would just add to my budget, and my job requires that I drive well and own my own car. I do pay room and board however.

All my life my father has been domineering, unreasonable and very narrow-minded. Even my mother has never dared to cross him. If I am not in by 12 o'clock, he goes out looking for me. He has burst into phone, insulted my escort, and has literally dragged me home with him. My friends have all been respectable, but after such a scene they never call again.

I don't want to move out as it is so very comfortable and convenient having Mother to look after my children, and do all the laundry and cooking and cleaning. But I can't live like this either. What would you do if you were in my shoes?

AGAINST THE GRAIN—Dorcas Cook, Missouri Farmers Association secretary, holds a sack containing the amount of wheat necessary for making a one-pound loaf of bread, a stunt the association cooked up to make this point. The loaf sells for an average of 21.5 cents, and the farmer gets 2.5 cents of that. Now then, in 1948, says the association, the farmer's share was 2.7 cents and the bread sold for 15.5 cents average. That is a point.

DEAR ABBY: I suspected that my husband was running around with a certain girl, so I had him tested by a private detective. They followed him to a motel where he checked in with this girl. They stayed only 23 minutes and then left. Do you think he could be guilty of wrongdoing?

DEAR ABBY: I suspected that my husband was running around with a certain girl, so I had him tested by a private detective. They followed him to a motel where he checked in with this girl. They stayed only 23 minutes and then left. Do you think he could be guilty of wrongdoing?

DEAR WIFE: You're his wife; I'll ask you. Could he?

DEAR ABBY: In a child's imagination, I had to struggle with the thought of my mother as a "cool" kid. I can't live like this either. What would you do if you were in my shoes?

FEELING GUILTY—Return the stolen shoes to the manager at the shoe store, explain the circumstances, and take the consequences. Since you were the shoes out of the store, prepare to pay for them. I suggest you find "cooler" kids to go with before you end up in the "cooler."

DEAR ABBY: What do you say to a person who asks a lot of very personal questions in a crowd? This woman said to me, "It's funny that you've been married almost four years and don't have any children. Don't you WANT any? Or can't you HAVE any?"

NO NERVE—The man will inherit a lot of earthly questions. Master the courage to tell her that if it none of her business.

AIR BOARD SET—The Louisville and Jefferson County Air Board's airports director will testify this week at Washington hearings before the Senate Aviation subcommittee on adequacy of trunk-line service to medium-sized cities. Foster V. Jones will testify along with representatives from Chattanooga, Tenn.; Wilmington, Del.; and Oakland, Calif.

Kentucky Ayrshire breeders had an opportunity to see and buy some of the Nation's top Ayrshire animals last week at the second annual Kentucky National Ayrshire Show and Sale. It was held at the State Fairgrounds and offered 46 top-level animals.

Middle Brook Farm, Dalton, Ohio, showed the grand champion, which was purchased by Bob Dix, De Graff, Ohio; Harold Nation and Dr. E. H. Baker, Shelbyville, purchased the reserve senior champion which was consigned by the South Haven Farm, Kirksville, Ohio.

The Ayrshire breed is smaller in total numbers on Kentucky dairy farms. However, the numbers are showing an increase in many areas of the State. This was the second National show and sale for this breed, and this event should do much toward promoting the breed.

The Department does not attempt to promote one breed over the other, whether it be dairy or beef. Rather, we like to see strong associations for each breed. I feel that if a farmer finds that he likes a particular breed, that is the one he should own. Good management is what determines the success of the livestock operation.

Our total livestock industry needs promotion, not only for a particular show or sale, but throughout the year. Strong, well-organized breed associations should be the center of such promotion. I would urge each cattleman, whether he be a dairymen or in the beef cattle business, to join his breed association. Moreover, I would urge him to be an active member and speak up for good, quality-bred cattle whenever an opportunity presents itself.

Dog owners are reminded that 1965 licenses are due. Licenses are on sale July 1, and a license is required for all dogs six months old or older. A person operating a kennel may buy a kennel license. A fee of $10 is required to keep 10 dogs or less, with a $15 fee being charged for more than 10 dogs.

The individual tag sell for $1.50 and may be purchased from the local dog warden or in some cases, the deputy sheriff.

The purpose of the Kentucky dog law is to eliminate stray dogs and to control rabies. Along with the requirement that all dogs be licensed, the State Board of Health requires that all dogs six months old or older be vaccinated for rabies. The control of rabies is a very important service of the dog law. If a child is bitten by a dog that can be identified and shown to have been vaccinated, chances are he or she will not be required to take Pasteur treatment. However, if a child is bitten by a dog that has not been vaccinated, the shots will probably be necessary.

A license will provide identification for a dog if it becomes lost or stolen, or should it bite someone. Too, the control of strays protects our children, home and yard property, livestock, and prevents outbreaks of rabies.
