ABOUT THE NEWSPAPER INDUSTRY

As we begin the observance this week of National Newspaper Week we call attention to an editorial in the most recent issue of Editor & Publisher, a national weekly magazine that is circulated to members of the fourth estate.

The editorial deals with clarification of various opinions and impressions about the newspaper "industry." The Editor & Publisher editorial follows:

A letter-to-the-editor in last week's issue, replying to one that had appeared a week earlier, made three statements about the newspaper "industry" that we believe need explaining and clarifying. The letter exchange was prompted by differing opinions on whether or not newspapers should run free ads when they are submitted by government departments. In defense of his position that newspapers should do so one of the authors wrote: "Other industries do not get federal mail subsidies. Other industries are not exempt from child-labor and minimum wage laws. Other industries are not protected by the Constitution."

1. The term "federal mail subsidy" bears very little resemblance to the facts. More than 90 per cent of the 60 million-odd newspapers that are sold in the U.S. every day are delivered to the home by carrier boys. Most of the balance is sold on newsstands with the largest part of that accounted for in the largest cities. Only a very small percentage of the total is delivered by mail. Second class postal rates have increased 127 per cent since 1950 and yet those newspapers which use the mails perform most of the clerical work and sometimes the transportation that should be provided by the post office.

2. There is no general exemption of newspapers from the minimum wage laws. Only employees of some small newspapers are exempt if the major part of the newspaper's circulation is within the county of publication. Newspaper carrier boys under the age of 18 are exempt from the minimum wage, maximum hours and child labor provisions of the Fair Labor Standards Act if independent contractor relationship is maintained. Publication employees are not exempt.

3. Newspapers are not "protected" as an "industry" by the Constitution. It is the people's right to a free press which is protected in the First Amendment. That is why it is called "The Bill of Rights."

4. As for the original argument, we feel all government programs that call for messages or exhortations to the people would be more successful through the planned use of commercial and paid advertising techniques than through the voluntary programs that have been used. This includes such programs as military recruiting, Treasury savings bonds, etc. The successful use of such methods in England since the beginning of World War II illustrates the point.

Income Tax

Questions-Answers

This column of questions and answers on federal tax matters is provided by the local office of the U. S. Internal Revenue Service and is published as a public service to taxpayers. The column answers questions most frequently asked by taxpayers.

Q — I just returned from military duty in Viet Nam. What do I do about a tax return? I haven't filed yet.

A — You have an automatic extension of 180 days from the date you left Viet Nam before your return has to be filed. For servicemen who are hospitalized outside the U. S. as a result of wounds, disease or injury incurred while serving in a combat zone, the 180 day extension begins after discharge from the hospital. When filing your return be sure to attach a statement showing the inclusive dates of combat zone service or hospitalization.

Q — My wife and I were just divorced. Is there any way I can take an extra exemption for withholding purposes to make up for the alimony I'm paying? Unless I can, I'm going to be greatly over-withheld.

A — At present, there is no provision for you to take an extra exemption for this purpose. However, starting next year, taxpayers who have deductible expenses that substantially exceed the standard deduction may file a new Form W-4 for an additional withholding allowance. Based on your withholding experience this year, you may be eligible to use this new withholding provision of the law when it goes into effect. You may determine if you qualify for this additional withholding allowance by filling out Schedule A (Form W-4).

Q — What kind of background do you need to be a Revenue Agent?

A — Most of the new agents hired by the IRS are college graduates with an accounting background. Brochures describing a career with the IRS may be obtained by writing to the personnel office of the District Director for your District.

Q — I saw an article in the paper recently about some IRS personnel in South America. What are they doing there?

A — IRS personnel are there under the Alliance for Progress program. Tax reform is a major goal of the Alliance and the United States is sending teams of tax experts to those nations that ask for our help.

The role of the Revenue Service is to provide assistance in the area of tax administration, in cooperation with the Agency for International Development of the State Department. We presently have tax teams in 16 Latin countries. Similar assistance is offered to underdeveloped nations in other parts of the world.

Q — I give my maid lunch. Do I have to pay Social Security tax on that too?

A — No. Social Security tax applies only on cash wages. You do not have to include the value of the meal you provide.

Q — I've been supporting my mother for years but an IRS agent says I can't claim her as a dependent unless I can substantiate my claim. What right does he have to say that?

A — The law requires that each of five separate tests be met in order for you to claim the $600 exemption for your mother. One, that of relationship, is met already, of course. The others are that you provided over one-half of her support, that her income was not over $800, that she be an American citizen, and that she does not file a joint return with her spouse for the year that you are claiming her as a dependent. Not only must the tests be met, but, according to the law, records to substantiate claims must be made available to IRS upon request. The fact that the exemption was not questioned in one year has no effect on another year.

Q — My neighbor was just audited, and he told me that if a taxpayer doesn't agree with the agent's report he can ask someone else in the IRS to look over the case. Is that right?

A — If you do not agree with an agent's findings you may appeal. There are two levels of appeal within IRS. The first is a District conference with a member of the Conference Staff, and the second is the Appellate Division.

A free pamphlet explaining an audit and your rights to the appeals procedures, Document No. 5002, can be obtained by writing to your IRS District Office.

EXTEND TERM

WASHINGTON (AP) — The board of visitors of the U. S. Naval Academy at Annapolis believes the term of the academy superintendents should be extended to at least four years.

In a report to President Johnson, made public during the week-end, the board said the present two-year term is so short the superintendents have no opportunity to handle long-range problems.

The board also noted "with pleasure" that there was a sharp decrease of 30 per cent over the past year in voluntary resignations from the academy by plebes.

Georgia Gains Ground In SEC, Wins Saturday

By FRED McMANE
UPI Sports Writer

NEW YORK (UPI) — Georgia Tech, which hasn't been in a national collegiate football power since 1956, continued to rise to regain place in the No. 7 spot on the United Press International Board of Coaches' weekly ratings released Monday.

The Yellowjackets, who finished 9-1 in 1956 but who have lost three or more games in eight of the past nine seasons, won their fourth straight game, just Saturday by whipping arch-rival Tennessee, and now in good position to repeat or better that season of a decade ago.

On the other side of the ledger, Arkansas suffered its first setback in 25 regular season games last weekend to fall from sixth to 15th in the ratings, the first time since 1957 the Razorbacks have failed to be included in the UPI's weekly top 15.

There was one newcomer and one returner to this week's list as Oklahoma, absent from the ratings since 1963, edged into the No. 10 spot and Purdue, knocked from the select group two weeks ago, returned to the No. 9 spot after a crushing victory over Iowa.

Tennessee, seventh a week ago, joined Arkansas in the bowlball plunge as the Volunteers dropped six notches to 13th.

Michigan State retained its hold on the No. 1 spot for the fourth straight week by notching 19 first place votes and 339 points while Notre Dame pulled nine first place votes and 305 points to move up one notch to second.

Alabama had the support of four coaches as the nation's best team and moved from fourth to third while UCLA, which narrowly avoided defeat against Rice, fell from second to fourth. Southern California held on to the fifth position.

UCLA, Southern California and Nebraska each received one first place vote.

Nebraska, eighth a week ago, moved up two places while Florida, ranked ninth last week, advanced one notch to eighth.

Georgia and Wyoming, two other teams that are surprising this year, moved into the 10th and 11th positions while Missouri jumped three places to 14th.

Houston, idle last week, fell from 12th to 16th while Baylor moved into the No. 17 position by virtue of its upset of Arkansas. Southern Methodist, Miami of Ohio and Washington were all tied for 18th.

KIDNEY RESEARCH
WASHINGTON (UPI) — The federal government is backing research aimed at developing an artificial kidney small enough and cheap enough to be worn by those suffering from kidney diseases.

The National Institutes of Health and the National Cancer Institute announced Sunday the award of $1.8 million in contracts for 24 projects, mostly on the research into membranes and blood vessel connections that would be needed for such a kidney device.

INVESTMENT APPEAL
BRUSSELS (UPI) — Ridgeway B. Knight, U.S. Ambassador to Belgium, Wednesday appealed for more European investments in the United States. He told a meeting of corporate executives that such investment would help ease pressure on the dollar and aid international monetary equilibrium "which is of legitimate concern to everybody."

DRIVEN TO SUICIDE

The paper said that the farm officials should be punished.

The defensive player of the week was Eastern Kentucky's Ron Reed, a 190-pound sophomore from Huntington, N.Y. The six-foot linebacker intercepted two MTSU Billy Walker passes and came in with 27 tackles and 22 assists.

Western Kentucky was the offense and defense leader of the week to take team honors.

Middle Tennessee and Morehead State are tied for the conference top standing, with two wins each and no losses in conference matchups.

Austin Peay's Ronnie Pearson took the puntin' crown of the week.

In other individual honors, Tom Atwood of Western Kentucky was the top kicker with one field goal, 9 extra points and 12 touchdowns points. Marsh and Gray were the top scorers with 7 touchdowns each.

Buddy Pfadt of Eastern Kentucky led in interceptions. He intercepted 7 passes for a yardage of 41.

Raiders Come Back To Defeat Eastern 22-20

By United Press International

The Blue Raiders made their 18th in a row with the help of quarterback Billy Walker who launched a 64-yard scoring drive with the clock showing a dangerous less-than-a-minute of play.

The breath-taking last-minute victory push came on a 12-yard pass to Ken Gaspore and a lateral to halfback Bob Hixson.

Eastern's talented Jim Guice, a sophomore from Miami, Fla., led the Maroons in the second period to take a 14-7 halftime score and a 20-14 lead late in the final period.

With a fourth down and Eastern on its own 6-yard line the Maroons gave up a safety in favor of kicking from their 20. However, the Blue Raiders took the punt on their own 46 and ranned their point home.

In other conference play, Tennessee Tech, urged on by fullback Larry Schreiber's two touchdowns turned back East Tennessee State 14-3.

Tech's quarterback Tommy Van Tine threw a 22-yard pass to halfback Terry Pades to make a 55-yard drive in the first period. It was Tech's first win of the season with three losses, two an Ohio Valley matchups, and ETNU was left 1-2 in the OVC and 1-3 overall.

Western Kentucky put off Austin Peay's savage rushing attacks and forced the governors to their knees 7-3 on take a 2-1 record in the conference and a 3-1 overall.

Austin Peay, a pre-season favorite for the OVC crown, was left with a 1-2 in the conference and 2-3 overall after a game in which the governors gave up the ball on downs four times and twice on interceptions.

Morehead State University's Tommy Gray made a 3-0 half-time score turn into a 30-6 victory over Murray. Gray came in as an offensive tailback in the second to give the Morehead Eagles touchdown runs of 42 and 35 yards.

Morehead tallied a 2-2 in AVC and 2-1 overall while the Thoroughbreds were left trailing behind the conference banner.

Notre Dame Rolls Over Army 35 to 0 Saturday In South Bend

UPI Sports Writer

By JOE CARNICELLI

Notre Dame, featuring its teenage aerial combination of Terry Hanratty and Jim Seymour, made the Las Vegas oddsmakers look like fortune tellers as the Fighting Irish racked up their highest point total against Army in 53 years in rolling over the Cadets 35-0 at South Bend Saturday.

Going into the contest as an amazing 26 point favorites over a previously undefeated Army team that allowed only one touchdown in beating Kansas State, Holy Cross and Penn State, the third-ranked Fighting Irish drove for three touchdowns in the first quarter and added two more in the second before Coach Ara Parseghian mercifully inserted his second unit.

Hanratty, the 18-year-old passing whiz from Butler, Pa., completed 11 of 20 passes for 196 yards. The 18-year-old Seymour, from Berkley, Mich., snared eight of 11 good for one touchdowns as the Irish offense completely dominated play. Nick Eddy tallied twice for the Irish, who amassed their highest point output against West Point since the Gus Dorais-to-Krute Rockne pass combination ricked the Cadets for 30 points in 1913.

In other top action, No. 1 ranked Michigan State topped Michigan 20-7, second ranked UCLA, edged Rice 27-24, fourth ranked Alabama crushed Clemson 26-0, fifth ranked California whipped Washington 17-14, Baylor upset sixth ranked Arkansas 7-0, 10th ranked Georgia Tech bootleg Tennessee 7-6-3, Nebraska No. 8 trounced Wisconsin 31-3 and ninth rated Florida squeaked by Florida State 22-19.

Jimmy Rayne ran for one touchdown and hit end Gene Washington with a 24-yard scoring pass as Michigan State dumped Michigan. UCLA scored 11 points in the last quarter to halt Rice as Kurt Zimmerman booted a 17-yard field goal with seven seconds remaining.

Alabama's Kenny Snake Stabler, playing only a half, completed seven of eight passes for 93 yards and two touchdowns and ran for another score as the Crimson Tide easily smashed Clemson.

Toby Page, understudy injured Troy Winslow at quarterback, climaxed a 71-yard fourth quarter march with a five-yard touchdown pass to Rony Drake to lead Southern California over upset minded Washington.

Tennessee and Georgia Tech locked horns in a battle of field goals with Bunky Henry's 41 and 22 yarders proving the margin of victory for Bobby Dodd's Yellow Jackets.

Nebraska gained 383 yards through a porous Wisconsin defense as the Cornhuskers routed Milt Burin's Badgers and Steve Spurrer hit Larry Smith with a 41-yard scoring pass in the last quarter, his third touchdown-loss of the day, to lead Florida over rival Florida State.

In other key games across the nation, Penn State tripped Boston College, 30-21, Pittsburgh downed West Virginia 17-14, Syracuse, working without injured Floyd Little, stopped Navy 28-14, Auburn topped Wake Forest 14-6, Georgia edged Mississippi 9-3, LSU and Texas A&M fought to a 7-7 tie, Illinois nipped Ohio State 10-9, Minnesota and Indiana battled to a 7-7 stand-off, Purdue, trounced Iowa, 35-0, Wyoming bombed Stanford 40-7, Oklahoma dumped Texas 18-9 and Maryland upset highly touted Duke 21-19.

"More Punch" Says Reese Of Bums Dilemma

By JOHN T. KADY

United Press International

LOUISVILLE, Ky. (UPI) — In what may be the understatement of the year, Pee Wee Reese summed up the dilemma of the Los Angeles Dodgers when he said "I think they need a little more punch."

A little more would be better than practically none the Dodgers received in dropping four World Series games to the Baltimore Orioles.

The Dodgers were scoreless for 33 consecutive innings and set a series record—one that will probably stand up quite a while. That is unless the Dodgers make it to the series next year.

"I think the Dodgers will be shopping this winter," Reese said. "They have a lot of good young pitchers in their farm system they would trade off to get more power."

Reese also pointed out the Dodgers will need skinned at third base to replace the ailing Jim Gilliam who says he is quitting as an active player this season.

Orin Kennedy, who hit only 201 last season, was his replacement in the final game of the series.

Reese said at a loss to explain his former team's sudden collapse.

"Maybe those Oriole pitchers were a little bit undermanned," he said. "It seemed to me."

Reese said the Orioles may have picked up the necessary momentum in the first game when Frank Robinson and Brooks Robinson hit back to back homers.

"You need about this power all season and then they both hit homers the first time up in the first inning," Reese said. "It could do something to you."

Reese said in a short series you could never give a really good reason for anything.

"But it was sickening wasn't it?" he said.

It was for the littlest Dodger of them all.

Yes—But Does It Cure Insomnia?

CHICAGO (UPI) — Here's a bed in which you could be pushing a button . . . adjust coverings hot or cold to desired temperature . . . inflate or deflate the mattress to desired softness or firmness . . . get a message from built-in vibrator . . . watch color or television on a screen built into the framework or switch it to closed-circuit television to see what's going on elsewhere in the house.

Count sheep on a motion picture screen . . . read books projected on same screen . . . control room temperature without getting up . . . eat a meal from built-in refrigerator and heating grill, then a rechargeable tray . . . bring your mail and morning newspaper to you by conveyor belt . . . sleep to the radio, speak on the telephone . . . care for personal needs via a built-in lavatory . . . turn yourself via installed sun lamp, or take ultra violet lamp treatment.

You could also, if you're dull enough to want to, sleep in this bed — and stretch out, too, because it's king-sized.

The only thing you can't do is buy it, but a Chicago company (Spring Air Mattress) says their designers have it on the drawing board and anyone willing to invest $10,000 in such a bed could have it made.

Household Hints

Don't clean leather upholstery with furniture polish. Use a mild soap and damp cloth instead.

To keep wax paper from slipping when rolling out a pie crust, wet the surface of the table first.

Live as You Please — It's Your Right

By Abigail Van Buren

DEAR ABBY: I am 23 and for the past year have been going with a married man of 44. He was nearly separated from his wife when I met him. He's a fine intelligent man, and we love each other very much. His wife is a shrew who has turned their four children against their father. Since she has found out about me she has been pestering my family with anonymous telephone calls and gossiping about me.

DEAR ABBY: I have an agreement with the bar association. They won't write advice columns and I won't practice law. But they have allowed me to state that no one can prevent anyone else from using. Whether they can collect or not, is another matter. In the meantime, why not give the teacher a piece of KODAK film?

She has called me, too, and said some horrible things to me, calling me names, etc. She's also sent me hate cards. I know she'll eventually get sick of the way things are and will divorce him so he can marry me. But in the meantime, is there anything I can do to keep her from making my life so miserable?

DEAR ABBY: I hate alcohol and some know it. Yet when we go to their homes for parties, the boys and their wives and their guests drink hard liquor right in front of us. One boy is 13 and the other is 16, so they don't need our permission to drink, but it wouldn't hurt them to abstain when we are present.

DEAR BORN: It is the right of every decent, law-abiding, respectable citizen to go about his daily business without fear of being harassed, intimidated or threatened. If you qualify, seek police protection.

DEAR ABBY: A teacher in a public school wanted to make an example of my son because he talked out of turn, so she put a piece of adhesive tape across his mouth. Well, Gilbert wasn't going to walk around school with that tape on his mouth all day, so he tore it off just as he was leaving her class. And with it he tore off a piece of his lip. The principal had to rush Gilbert to a hospital to have six

What's New

A new, powerful lantern operates on the 20-charge principle, recovered by plugging it into a home 110-volt AC outlet, a 12-volt DC outlet, or a 12-volt automobile cigarette lighter receptacle. The lantern has a sealed beam lamp which generates 12,000 candle power, from its rechargeable battery. A 12-foot cord with adapter plug and AC adapter are included.

To give beverage glasses that frosted look, there's a new gadget with aerosol action to convert the natural moisture on the glass to an icy coating. Simply invert the glass over the frosted top and press down, and frost to any thickness desired. The maker says the frosting is completely tasteless, harmless and non-toxic.

A new cover-up for any skin blemish or dark shadow comes in shades matched to regular foundation and compact makeup tones, so there's no tell-tale demarcation. The moisturizing cream can be used under or over foundation or alone, says the manufacturer.

Worried of a dress in one color, change it. A new colored fabric is on the market which can be altered to an entirely different hue by a simple home treatment, reports Chemalene Week, a trade publication. The fabric comes in solids as well as in prints, polka dots and stripes. Packets for color changing are attached, to turn blue to white, green to lime, brown to orange.

A new heavy duty cleaner is designed especially for hard to clean copper and brass. It's particularly effective on neglected grill-covers, as well as on fireplace accessories and kitchen utensils, and no hard rubbing is necessary. Safe chemical action does the cleaning, says the manufacturer.

Young Cowhand Meets Big Test

ANTIOCH, Calif. (UPI) — Sheree Austin is one up on boys her age who played cowboys and Indians this summer. The 11-year-old girl made a call for a neighbor.

She talked the problem over with her dad, James Austin, foreman of a ranch about four miles from here, and got some pointers.

"You just have to let them know you mean business," explained Sheree, who is five feet tall and 80 pounds in her boots and spurs.

"When I first started working with King (the calf), all the family, dad, mom and brother and sister came out to watch," she recalled. "I think they thought I would be bucked off."

"Well, I guess I can get on now," she said as summer ended. "Hope he doesn't decide to buck." King didn't.

Deft Needle Faces Her Quilts

ST. LOUIS (UPI) — Clara Schmidt's quilt has a lot of faces.

Miss Schmidt, a seamstress at St. Mary's Hospital made a quilt with portraits of almost 50 major league baseball players sewn into it.

The quilt is seven-by-seven feet, and each player portrait is about eight by 10-inches, with the player's autograph embroidered. Miss Schmidt found former St. Louis Cardinal player Marty Marion's name the toughest to embroider. The reason, Marion uses "mugs-and-whorls" in his penmanship.

Another tough one was Oakland manager Red Schaefer's, who she said "wrote all that mess in such a little space."

1000 LUNCHES

"Although eating patterns varied considerably from one individual to another, the custom of breakfast is common. Often this is associated with the lack of time or with family habits. Lunch often provides the most balanced meal of the day if it is consumed in the lunch cafeteria. On the other hand, students who are permitted to leave the school building at noon, most commonly consume French fried potatoes, catsup, a carbonated drink, and candy, and sometimes a hamburger sandwich."

Personnel at each of the four lunchrooms are as follows:

Douglass — Mrs. Lola Shedd, Robertson — Mrs. Sallie Lawrence and Mrs. Lillian Spann with Mrs. Mildred Tutt and Mrs. Jodi Wilson as part time workers.

Carter — Mrs. Buena Rose and Mrs. Lillian Gilbert with Mrs. Lucy Payne as a part time worker.

Murray High Austin — Mrs. Edna Robertson, Mrs. Alice Ekins, and Mrs. Elizabeth Turner with Mrs. Horatia Graham and Mrs. Pat Watkins as part time workers.

RACERS IMPROVE

the entire second half with an injury and linebacker Jimmy Hunter and tackle Dick Hargrave missed most of it.

The Racers had trouble generating an offense in the game. Their only sustained drive led to Curtis Keen's 28-yard field goal. They had two other good scoring chances in the first half but couldn't move the ball.

The Racers TD came on an 86-yard pass play from Toby Thompson to Wayne Wilson. The play tied the school record for the longest pass completion.

Probably the highlight of the Racers game was the punting of Keen. He punted six times for a 43.5 average, despite a 25-yarder that was almost blocked.

Players commended by the Racers coaches were Larry Tillman, Jimmy Harrell, Jimmy Hunter, Charles Lovell, Bill Green, and Harvey Tanner, of the defensive unit, and Bill Johnston, Wayne Wilson, and Bill Taylor of the offense.

Don Faughin, the leading Racers rusher, was sick and used only sparingly in the game.

The Racers will play undefeated Arkansas State at Murray Saturday night. The Indians are one of the top-ranked college teams in the nation and hold easy victories over Tennessee Tech, Florence State, and Louisiana Tech.

POWELL GUILTY

ted up in the courts for years before the flamboyant Negro politician ever sees the inside of a jail cell or pays out one cent in fines.

"I don't think the congressman's ever going to jail," said his chief counsel, Attorney Henry R. Williams of Manhattan.

Williams said he had informed Powell of the jury's decision late Monday and said, the congressman-clergyman was "disappointed" as both the verdict and the all-white makeup of the jury.

Neither Powell nor his battery of lawyers were present when the panel of nine men and three women brought in a verdict of guilty to five counts of having willfully defied court orders to submit himself to financial examination as a debtor. Powell, 57, has represented Harlem in Congress for 20 years.

State Supreme Court Justice Matthew M. Levy postponed sentencing for at least a week while he rules on the all-important question of whether the court has jurisdiction in the case.

Up until now, Powell has avoided arrest on a previous civil contempt citation through his congressional immunity. This stems from Article I, Section 6 of the U.S. Constitution, which provides that congressmen "shall in all cases, except treason, felony and breach of the peace, be privileged from arrest during their attendance at the session of their respective houses, and in going to and returning from the same."

The courts have interpreted criminal contempt, however, as "breach of the peace," for which the Constitution provides no immunity, according to legal authorities.

Powell's attorneys have maintained that the four-day trial was, in effect, a criminal proceeding over which the court had no jurisdiction.

Tigers Meet

breakers to Tilghman for the previous two years.

In their game with Trigg last week, the boys seemed to regain their poise, and the Murray coaches hope to be able to start the same team this week.

One of the Tigers big handicaps this year has been sickness. Sammons, Melton and Howard missed last week's game for that reason. Several boys did not dress and others had minor injuries that slowed them down in the Bowling Green game. The coaches believe that Bland and Shelton, when in good condition, can move the ball against any of their opponents.

The Murray defense has been fairly good all season and the pass defense has been terrific. "Vic Dunn, Tony Rayburn, Campbell, Wells, Wilkins, McKee, Hart and Armbruster up front with Bland, Shelton and Bland in the secondary give Murray a good defense. Howard, Melton, Scott, Williams, Hale and McCoy also do a good job."

Tilghman, as usual, has a good team and Rice Murray plays a tough schedule each year. Tilghman has won from Owensboro, Charleston and Bowling Green and lost to Hopkinsville, Oakwell County and Male High School. This should be one of the best games of the year and a large crowd of Tilghman fans will accompany their team to Murray. Game time will be 8:00 p.m. RTA will be discussed by Charles

Belvedere Adds Two Models for 1967; Mechanical and Safety Improvements

Two new models are added to the intermediate-size Plymouth Belvedere line for 1967, the high-performance GTX and the economy two-seat Belvedere station wagon.

Many mechanical and safety improvements appear throughout the entire 1967 Belvedere line, which includes 22 six-cylinder and V-8 models on a 116-inch wheelbase for all cars except station wagons, which have a 117-inch wheelbase, one inch longer than last year.

The Belvedere line has in recent years become recognized as the top performer in its price range. Engineers have successfully combined the maneuverability of the intermediate-size car with powerful drive trains to make the Belvedere the ideal unit for modification for stock car and drag strip racing.

GTX IS PERFORMANCE CAR

Designed from the ground up as an integrated performance package, the new GTX is built for performance-minded motorists. It has as a standard engine the performance-tuned Super Commando 440-cubic inch V-8 equipped with a four-barrel carburetor, dual exhaust, special camshaft, and two-spoke wheel cleaner. The GTX may also be ordered with the optional 46-cubic inch Hemi V-8.

In appearance, the GTX has many styling and trim features which readily identify it as a performance car. On the hood are special dark-textured silver paint. The new economy Belvedere station wagon is available with either the 225-cubic inch six-cylinder engine or the 273-cubic inch V-8, plus the optional 318-cubic inch V-8 and the 383-cubic inch V-8 with a choice of either two or four barrel carburetors.

NEW DUAL HEADLAMPS

The crisp external appearance which contributed toward the popularity of the 1966 Plymouth Belvedere is retained. Refinements in ornamentation set the cars apart from their predecessors. New dual headlamps are arranged horizontally on the 1967 models. The model line-up includes both six-cylinder and V-8 models in both the Belvedere I and Belvedere II series. Both the new GTX and the Satellite are offered only as V-8s and the model availability of each is limited to two-door hardtop and convertible coupe.

Belvedere buyers are offered a wide choice of power options—six different engines in all—and a further options in carburetion, camshaft, and exhaust system in certain of the engines.

ENGINE WEIGHT REDUCED

Wedge-type combustion chambers replace the former polyspheric chamber design in the optional 318-cubic inch engine. The new engine's weight has been reduced by 60 pounds through the use of special furan cores for casting the cylinder heads and block.

Other 1967 improvements to engines include these: the 440-cubic inch V-8 has new cylinder heads with intake ports increased in size by 10 percent, and larger cross section areas in the runners and branches of the new intake manifold; the 225-cubic inch six is changed to allow more complete combustion and more uniform flame travel.

CONTRIBUTIONS TO SAFETY

These are improvements which contribute to safety. A hazard warning system is standard equipment. When turned on, it keeps the tail lamps and the parking lamps flashing as a signal to other drivers. New outside rearview mirrors have larger reflective surfaces. The flexible inside rearview mirrors have a double balljoint arm, which yields on impact.

There are separate hydraulic braking systems for each the front and rear brakes, an addition which assures braking ability even should one system fail. Each system has its own master cylinder.

A new impact-absorbing steering column is standard equipment. Deluxe seat belts with automatic retractors and retaining scabbards are standard equipment. Front shoulder belts and center seat lap belts may be installed at the factory or by dealers.
