JOSEPH C. PICKARD,
~~292 SOUTH SIXTH AVENUE,~~
MAYWOOD, ILL.

January 7th. 1902.

My Dear Mr. Meier.

I think you will enjoy the enclosed letter. - Mrs. Tydale is now the wife of a Boston ^{lawyer}; for some years before marriage she was Professor of English Literature in the University of Iowa - of which my brother was President.

While visiting her last summer our talk drifted to yourself. She had not read your "Mountains of California" - On my return to Boston I sent her a copy, & this letter is her acknowledgment. You need not trouble to return it, as I have made a copy.

Trust Christmas and New Year's brought you holiday blessings. The good-bide with you:

Cordially yours

J. C. Pickard
