Proposed Whittier College Performing Arts Center Toward Our Second Century "We can do it. By working together we can enlist the support of those who know that Whittier College is important to the future of the broader community . . . and to generations of students who will want a high-quality and caring place in which to learn and grow."

Mrs. E. L. Shannon, Jr. Trustee and Chairman, Strategic Gifts Committees

"The alumni of Whittier College know the quality of this place. I firmly believe that the new and ambitious plans for the Poet campus deserve the support of all of us who are a part of the extended family of the College."

Robert Blechen President, Alumni Association "The pursuit of excellence, in an atmosphere of stability, caring and trust, is what Whittier College is about. I know I speak for my colleagues when I say I am grateful and proud to share in the community of excellence which the College is now and will continue to be."

Professor H. Michael Praetorius Faculty Chairman

apital funds for buildings and improvements are also of paramount importance. Since Founders Hall, the original "home of Whittier College," burned down in 1968 there has been no campus auditorium for the many fine presentations by the drama and music departments. Also, the growing number of art exhibits currently must be displayed in the busy lobby of Mendenhall Building. A Performing Arts Center and Gallery is essential to the academic and cultural life of the Campus.

Following years of heavy use, a number of campus buildings are in need of repair and refurbishing. In addition, a plan has been developed for improvements in residential housing for students. Site preparation and contruction of a new residence hall will make possible a substantial increase in the quality of residential life on campus.

The Walter F. Dexter Student Union, a center of daily campus life for students, must be renovated in the immediate years ahead. The Los Angeles campus of the Whittier College School of Law has undergone considerable remodeling in the recent past, but here too changes will be needed to maintain the high standards required by the American Bar Association.

Finally, while the costs are not detailed in the following summary, there is need to prepare for an addition to the Bonnie Bell Wardman Library. The growth of the library holdings and the exciting increase in special collections (including the John Greenleaf Whittier, the Quaker and the Richard M. Nixon Collections) will require additional space in the coming years.

	Five years (1st phase)	Decade

"There is so much that is good about the College . . . the faculty and staff, the students, the solid educational programs. But it is time to push ahead with an aggressive fund-raising campaign and to give our campus the financial backing that it needs."

Mrs. John Fusco Trustee and Co-Vice Chairman, Second Century Fund "I have watched my alma mater grow and develop across the years since my graduation in 1927. There is pride here and a solid record of achievement. I believe that the strength of the independent sector of our society is directly related to the preservation of this and other private colleges." Wallace R. Turner

Second Century Fund Campaign

n 1987, Whittier College will celebrate 100 years of leadership and service. While the entire College community shares a deep respect for the extraordinary achievements of a century of teaching and learning, it is the challenge and opportunity of the future that provide inspiration for loyal Poets everywhere.

After two years of careful planning, the Board of Trustees has launched the Second Century Fund Campaign, the most ambitious, far-seeing effort in the history of the College. This unprecedented campaign will strengthen the College and assure its continuing vitality as a leading private institution of higher learning.

As a measure of their personal commitment and leadership, the members of the Board of Trustees have pledged over $5,000,000 to the Second Century Fund. The faculty and staff have pledged $160,000. Clearly the campaign will rest on a strong financial base. Trustees who have assumed important roles in the campaign include Rayburn S. Dezember '53, Chairman; Mrs. John A. Fusco and Wallace R. Turner '27, Co-Vice Chairmen; and Mrs. E. L. Shannon, Jr., Chairman of the Strategic Gifts Committee.

What are the specific purposes of the Second Century Fund? First and foremost, there must be a substantial increase in the general endowment of Whittier College. A growing endowment is essential if the College is to provide continuing support for outstanding faculty; assist deserving students who otherwise could not afford a private college education; encourage faculty and staff professional development; improve library resources; provide funds for enriching the curriculum; and underwrite planned improvements in campus buildings and physical plant.

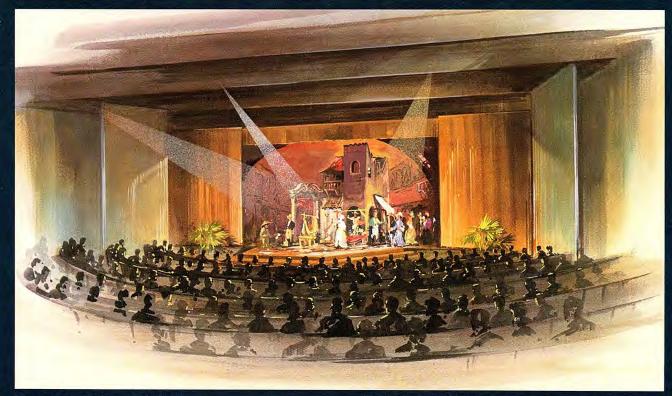

The Whittier College endowment is modest in size. The following comparative figures show the endowment per enrolled student at Whittier and at four other colleges:

	Student body	Endowment per student	Total endowment
University of Redlands	2750	$ 5,111	$ 14,054,750
Whittier College	1568	7,333	11,000,000
Occidental College	1644	28,318	46,554,634
Pomona College	1354	53,567	72,530,000
Swarthmore College	1314	89,737	117,914,530

*The figures above were supplied by the Council for Financial Aid to Education for the year 1980-81.

THE PRESIDENT'S CORNER

To me, one of the great pleasures has been to see the increased number of visitors who have participated in events at the College. Luncheons and dinners which Dotty and I have hosted have been attended by many new friends; the attendance at public lectures has grown; and numerous off-campus people have come to Mendenhall to enjoy the various art exhibits held in our small gallery. We estimate that there has been a threefold increase in public visitors to campus during the last three years. All of this means that word has gone out that worthwhile things happen at Whittier College.

I am delighted to report that in the previous fiscal year (the current year is not completed as I write) there was a 67% increase in the number of alumni who contributed to the Annual Fund. Also, there was a 47% increase in the total amount contributed. These results have made Whittier College a finalist in the U. S. Steel Incentive Grant Program for improvement in alumni giving.

Another cause of satisfaction is the improvement in the campus and buildings. Offices have been changed around, notably the Admissions office, which has moved from Mendenhall to a redecorated Philadelphia House; Hoover Hall has been extensively renovated, thanks to The James Irvine Foundation's challenge grant and to those who helped us match it; and the beautification of the grounds continues apace.

The coming year is already bright with promise. After two years of careful planning, the new Liberal Education Program will go into effect in the Fall, and we are confident that this will add luster to a curriculum that has always been innovative, keeping Whittier in the forefront of the small liberal arts institutions. The $50,000 award by The National Endowment for the Humanities is a special tribute to the program and to the faculty and dean who developed it.

Finally, there is the Second Century Fund Campaign, the most ambitious ten-year blueprint ever designed for the College. You will read more about the campaign in this issue of The Rock.

So, as the year ends, we have much for which to be thankful and a prospect that holds great promise for the future. Dotty and I truly appreciate the numerous occasions on which you have offered us hospitality at Impact meetings and in your homes and we look forward to meeting even more of you next year.

Gerald R. Ford to Speak at Banquet

"It is my great pleasure to announce that the Honorable Gerald R. Ford, 38th President of the United States, will be the speaker at a Recognition Banquet to be held in October," said Dr. Robert M. Wald, chairman for the event and a Whittier College trustee.

At no time in recent history has there been an event of this importance for Whittier College. Titled "Toward Our Second Century," the purpose of the evening is to give due recognition to the trustees and friends of the College who have come out so strongly in support of the Second Century Fund Campaign.

For those members of the College community and for alumni who are present, it will be an opportunity to hear about the exciting plans for the future of the College and the changes that will be made on campus.

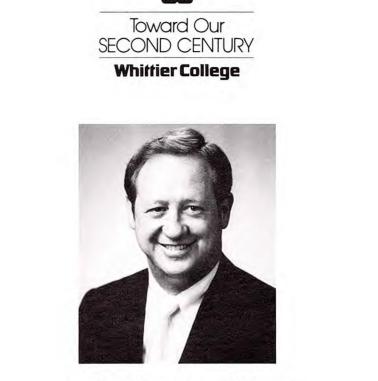

The banquet will be held Monday, October 4, at the Hyatt Regency Hotel (Broadway Plaza, Los Angeles). The reception will be at 7 pm and the dinner at 8 pm. Black tie is optional; tickets are $125 a plate.

It will be an historic evening for the College. All interested alumni and friends are urged to attend. Reservations will be made on a first come, first served basis, since seating is limited. For further information, write: the Second Century Fund Office, Whittier College, Whittier, CA 90608 or call (213) 693-0771, Extension 392.

THE ROCK

Volume LII, No. 4 June 1982

THE ROCK (USPS 608—189) is published nine times a year, January, March, April, May, June, September, October, November and December by Whittier College, 13406 Philadelphia Avenue, Whittier, California 90601.

An Open Letter to All Alumni from Rayburn S. Dezember '53 Trustee and Chairman, Second Century Fund Campaign

The Second Century Fund Campaign announced in this issue of The Rock is the single most important event at Whittier College in many years.

All of us who are involved in any way with the College — trustees, administration, faculty, staff and alumni — must do our utmost to meet the challenge.

We know that everyone is not in a position to make a major gift, but modest gifts and high participation are very important in a way that many of us may not realize. Many Foundations and Corporations use alumni participation as one of the criteria for making their own gifts. Twenty percent of our alumni gave to Whittier College in the year 1981-82; alumni participation at Dartmouth, for example is 59%.

The Alumni Fund goal for 1982-83 is $225,000. Ths represents the equivalent of income from an endowment of nearly $2 million. I urge each of you to give as much as your means permit and so help to insure the success of the campaign.

E. L. Shannon, Jr. Opens Conference Center

n April 29, the new Whittier College Management Conference Center was opened with a businessman's luncheon at which E. L. Shannon, Jr., chairman and chief executive officer of Santa Fe International Corporation spoke on "The Challenge of Global Competition: Strategies for Corporate Success."

Mr. Shannon told of his concern for the effect of international issues on the industrial life of this country, and the need to develop strategies for promoting and assuring a lasting peace. "Any success for a United States company," he said, "is wholly dependent on the political stability and long-term viability of our nation and its economy."

He referred to the danger inherent in any major disruption of foreign oil supplies, pointing out that our own resources would permit us to operate our transportation system, run our factories, or heat our homes and offices. "We can not do all three," he said.

What then are our options? A realistic look at alternative energy sources shows that the greatest contribution, other than fossil fuels, will come from nuclear plants. The investment is high, but the cost is only one-fifth that of conventional fuels. "Unfortunately," Mr. Shannon said, "emotionalism and controversy will preclude major expansion of this energy source." So less than 2½% of our needs will be met through nuclear plants by 1990. Oil shale exists in abundance, but is expensive. A 50,000-barrel oil refinery can be built for about $350 million, while a similar oil shale processing plant costs between $4-5 billion!

Renewable energy sources — solar, wind and biomass (grain, garbage, lumber mill waste, cornstalks, etc.) are the most costly of all sources and the least productive.

By the year 1990, solar energy will account for only six one-thousandths of one percent of our requirements, wind even less. Biomass will make a somewhat larger contribution, but together they will produce no more than half of one percent.

All the alternative fuels together will provide just over 5% of our requirements, leaving us dependent on fossil fuels for the other 95% and still heavily reliant on foreign oil. Mr. Shannon then outlined what he feels needs to be done. He gave deregulation as the first imperative. The removal of some controls has already stimulated exploration, he said, and led to the discovery of major new supplies of natural gas. Legislation or executive action could stimulate investment in secondary and tertiary oil recovery and other enhancedrecovery projects.

To encourage private industry to achieve large-scale production of shale oil or liquids from coal, some form of government assistance is required, such as a guaranteed market or loans, or tax incentives.

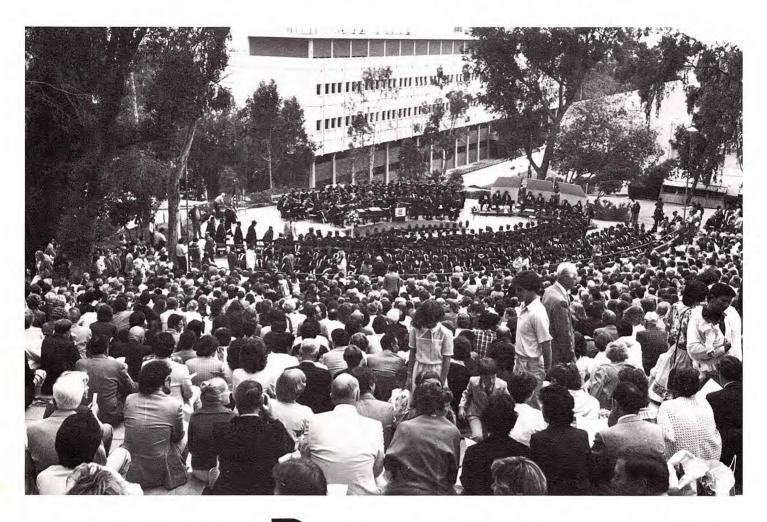

The conflict in the Middle East still remains the major problem. "Our country," Ed Shannon stated, "is in a position to assist in bringing about a solution . . . but our leaders need the conviction that they have the support of the public. As citizens we must urge our political leadership to embark on a program that would lead to a settlement and ultimately to peace.

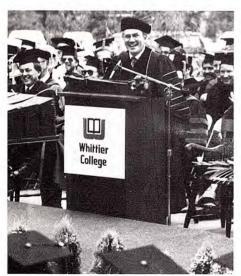

"If we can inspire the government to do this and to form a policy that will assist in the development of our major fuels, we will have the satisfaction of knowing that we have made an important contribution to our nation, our families, and our fellow man."

The Conference Center is designed to assist area business owners and managers in developing personal and corporate success. The first workshops, held in May, were on the topic "Management in Turbulent Times." In June, the series was on the use of computers.

Through these workshops, the College will continue to expand its close relationships with the business community at large.

Commencement 1982

P. Ernest L. Boyer, president of the Carnegie Foundation for the Advancement of Teaching, addressed 204 graduating seniors, 31 graduate students and 99 Law School students receiving their juris doctor degrees at Commencement, Saturday, June 5.

Boyer, whom President Mills described as "one of the world's outstanding educational leaders and a good friend of Whittier College," spoke on the importance of teachers. He commented that the quality of a nation's future is linked to teaching, and bemoaned the fact that in today's world there seems to be a lack of real regard for teachers, who are "expected to work miracles while facing daily criticism." Yet he said that in his nationwide travels he had witnessed many examples of excellent and enthusiastic teachers intereacting admirably with their students. His speech was interspersed with many flashes of humor and the response of the capacity audience showed their appreciation.

Bover was invested with an honorarv Doctor of Humane Letters during the ceremonies. Other honorary degrees were conferred on Trustee Carl L. Randolph '43, president of U. S. Borax, who for four years was Chairman of the Board, and whose devotion to his alma mater has been a shining example to his fellow alumni; and to Oscar O. Marshburn '17, prominent Quaker and civic leader, who served as an industrial missionary in Kenya and as a volunteer with the Red Cross in France in World War I and a welfare officer in a refugee camp in Egypt in 1946.

Following the ceremonies, there was a reception for the Class of 1982, hosted by President and Mrs. Mills and members of the faculty.

Occar O. Marshburn '17 receives a Doctor of Humane Letters from President Mills.

The Macebearer: Jack deVries of the Speech and Drama Department.

John Arcadi, M.D., research biologist and faculty member, with his daughter, Margaret Arcadi Vesneski.

Members of the Class of 1932 celebrated their reunion on Commencement Day. Tolbert Moorhead organized the affair, at which 40 of the total 75 members were present. Special guests were Paul Smith, President Emeritus and Chancellor, and Wallace "Chief" Newman.

ON CAMPUS

New Trustees

The election of two new members of the Board of Trustees has been announced by Chairman of the Board, R. Chandler Myers, Esq. Dr. C. Milo Connick, professor of religion from 1946-82 and Willard "Bill" Harris, Jr., a land developer and alumnus of the Class of 1955, will serve their first term in 1982-82.

Dr. Connick, nationally known for his dedicated service to religious education, is the author of four textbooks widely used in colleges, universities and theological schools in this country and abroad. Jesus - The Man, the Mission and the Message (Prentice Hall, Inc.) was first published in 1963, a second edition appearing in 1974 and a third edition is in course of preparation; The New Testament, An Introduction to Its History, Literature and Thought, was published by Dickenson Publishing Company in 1972, Duxbury Press produced a second edition in 1978 and the third edition will shortly be issued. The other two works are Build on the Rock: You and the Sermon on the Mount (Fleming H. Revell, 1960), and The Message and Meaning of the Bible (Dickenson Publishing Company, 1965). Research grants from the Danforth and Havnes Foundations have contributed to Dr. Connick's research activities.

The new Trustee has served the College in many leadership capacities and has conducted eight Whittier College Study Tours to Europe, the Middle East and Asia. A graduate of Allegheny College, which conferred on him an honorary D.D. in 1960, Milo Connick earned his doctorate from Boston University, where he was presented with its Distinguished Alumnus Award in 1971.

Currently an editorial adviser for major publishers and a member of the National Advisory Committee of the American Christian Association for Israel, Dr. Connick is also an Associate of the Danforth Foundation and a member of the Western Pennsylvania Conference of the United Methodist Church.

Dr. Connick's biography appears in more than 20 reference works of national and international significance, including Who's Who in America, Who's Who in the World, the International Scholars Directory, World Who's Who of Authors and Who's Who in Religion.

Dr. Connick and his wife, Genevieve, have three grown children and live in Whittier.

Willard "Bill" V. Harris, Jr., is a land developer who, for the past seventeen years, has been president and owner of Rampart General, Inc. The company comprises housing, industrial development, Rampart Fireplaces, the American Pumice Mine and United Masonry. He also owns Ridgewood Development in Costa Mesa, of which his wife, Harriet, is president.

In addition to Rampart General and Ridgewood, the new trustee also has an interest in Beach Cities Development, owned by his twin brother Ben, and the Harris Fence Company, which his father started in Long Beach.

Willard V. Harris

Bill Harris is a special advisor to the President's Council on Physical Fitness, an activity which should not surprise anyone who knew him when he was at Whittier College on the track team and playing football. Both Bill and Ben were members of the Orthogonian Society, to which many athletes belong. For the past three years, Bill has served as the alumni Representative to the Board of Trustees.

Bill and Harriet Harris are also involved with the City of Hope and dedicated the Nuclear Medicine Wing at the institution; both are also members of the Whittier College Business and Economic Advisory Council. They live on Balboa Island.

Chairman Myers expressed his delight that two individuals so concerned with the welfare of Whittier College as Milo Connick and Bill Harris should have agreed to serve on the Board of Trustees.

Irvine Challenge Met

When Dr. Eugene S. Mills accepted the presidency of Whittier College in 1979, one of his immediate concerns was the physical condition of the campus.

There were new and excellent facilities, the John Stauffer Science Center; the Richard P. Ettinger, Sr., Faculty-Alumni Center; the Bonnie Bell Wardman Library; the Ella W. Peasley Center of Religion, Music and Philosophy; and the newly completed Donald E. Graham Student Activities Center. However, many of the older, historic buildings were badly in need of renovation.

In particular, Lou Henry Hoover Memorial Hall, built in 1948 and one of the main classroom buildings, needed extensive repair. The College received a Matching Grant of $185,000 from the James Irvine Foundation for these renovation purposes.

Recently President Mills made the following announcement:

"It is with deep appreciation and sincere gratitude to the donors that I am able to report that the terms of the Irvine Foundation Matching Grant have been met. We are proceeding to put the $370,000 to use in the refurbishing and airconditioning of Hoover Memorial Hall, a landmark building on the College campus.

"This is just the first in a series of improvements that will contribute much to the comfort of students and provide an environment in which learning and culture can flourish at this fine College."

The list of those who donated to the Matching Grant are given below.

The Ahmanson Foundation Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Ball The Milo W. Bekins Foundation The Galster Foundation Mr. Clinton Harris The Hoag Foundation The Hoover Foundation Mr. and Mrs. Michael Milbank The Murdy Foundation Mrs. Beverly Stauffer The John and Beverly Stauffer Foundation

Harold S. Voegelin

L.A. Chamber of Commerce Elects Voegelin

Trustee Harold S. Voegelin, senior partner with the law firm of Voegelin & Barton, has been elected senior vice president of the Los Angeles Area Chamber of Commerce for 1982, and will serve as chairman of the Chamber's Major Priorities Advisory Committee and chairman of the Select Committee on Organization & Planning.

Voegelin, a graduate of the University of Michigan and the University of Michigan Law School, joined James L. Wood and Robert M. Barton to form the firm Wood, Voegelin & Barton in 1957. In 1970 the firm reorganized under the name Voeglin & Barton.

He is a member of the Los Angeles County Bar Association, Orange County Bar Association, State Bar of California, Inter-American Bar Association, American Bar Association and the International Bar Association. He is also admitted to practice before the U. S. Supreme Court and is a member of the American Judicature Society.

His voluntary contributions include serving as dirctor and vice president, United Cerebral Palsy Association of Los Angeles, Inc., director of the South Coast Child Guidance Clinic, trustee of the South Coast Repretory Theatre, the Nesbitt Foundation and the Lluella Morey Murphey Foundation.

Impact Meetings

1981-1982 has been a year filled with Impact meetings. The three most recent were held in Bakersfield, the San Francisco area and San Diego, with President and Mrs. Mills, Vice President Michael J. Kearney, Alumni President Bob Blechen and Alumni Director Susie Roberts attending all three.

Ray and Joan (Erreca '56) Dezember '53 hosted a very successful meeting in their lovely home in Bakersfield in February.

In April, alumni were treated to a special performance of the Whittier College Choir, directed by Steve Gothold '63, at a Wine and Cheese party at the home of Denise (Dilkes) Belding '67 in Atherton; and in May the Harbor House Restaurant in San Diego provided a delightful setting for the Impact there. Alumni were shown slides and told about their alma mater as it is today. Amy (Roberts) Quinney '65 assisted in setting up this very special event.

Impacts in the works for next year include one in Orange County in November and one in Hawaii in December.

Alumni President

We are at midway point of a two-year term of our Alumni President, Bob Blechen '56. As President, Bob has shown himself an extremely active and committed member of the Association. He has attended two CASE (Council for the Advancement and Support of Education) conferences and numberous Impact meetings. He has also provided extensive leadership to the Alumni Board. Under his guidance, several new committees have been formed and a number of new areas for alumni participaiton have been initiated.

We are indeed lucky to have someone of Bob's caliber leading us. Let's give him all the support we can in his second year.

NEH Funds Liberal Education Program

Albert Einstein once said: "The development of general ability for independent thinking and judgment should always be placed foremost, not the acquisition of special knowledge," which is the underlying hypothesis of education at Whittier College.

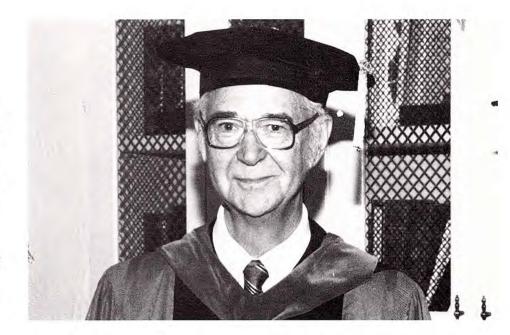

From the "Correlation" curriculum that began in the 1920s through the successful Whittier Scholars Program begun in 1978, to the new Liberal Education Program, Whittier's academic curricula have stressed the connection between ideas and ways of thinking.

In the spring of 1981, the Liberal Education Program, some elements of which are apparently a first in the United States, was unanimously accepted by the faculty and administration. It has received the support of the National Endowment for the Humanities, which has granted the College $50,000 for inauguration and appraisal during the first two years, commencing in the fall of 1982.

The program is built around specially designed "paired" courses - two separate courses taught by two faculty members from different disciplines, teaching the same subject from different viewpoints. For example, students might study a famous person in a history class and then see how the same individual was portrayed through the literature of the same and later periods. "Team-taught" courses, which are also a part of the program, cover one topic taught by two different professors in the same discipline. Courses in biology, physics, chemistry, geology and mathematics, as well as the arts, humanities and social sciences, complete the liberal arts requirements.

The pre-professional courses in the medical, pharmaceutical, engineering, legal, ministerial and social work fields will still be available for those students whose careers are centered in these areas. Eighty percent of students majoring in these courses are accepted in the graduate school of their choice, a proof of their success.

In his inaugural address, President Mills placed the strengthening of the liberal arts high on his list of priorities. With the new Liberal Education Program he has fulfilled his promise.

Connick Honored

Dr. C. Milo Connick, retired faculty member and new trustee, was honored at a brunch at the home of President and Mrs. Mills on Sunday, June 13, when Dr. Mills announced the establishment of the C. Milo Connick Chair in Religion as well as a scholarship in his name.

John Rothmann '70, now a San Francisco based foreign affairs consultant, emceed the event. He is chairman of the committee to raise the $500,000 still needed to fund the Chair and scholarship.

Former trustee, Richard P. Ettinger, Ir., who received an honorary degree from the College in 1973, is one of the major contributors to the Connick Chair. While still a trustee he paid tribute to Dr. Connick and it seems appropriate to include his words here. "To me," he said, "Milo Connick exemplifies the greatest strength of Whittier. His interest and concern for the welfare and development of individual students, his belief in the liberal arts as the best foundation for the education of the human citizen, his conviction that traditional moral standards are still valid and should be revitalized, and his view that vigorous and informed cooperative effort among the administration, faculty and students is essential for the future growth of Whittier."

Over a hundred individuals, including trustees, past and present faculty, friends and many of his students from the 36 years during which he has taught at Whittier, were there to congratulate Dr. Connick and to see him presented with a plaque and a bound collection of letters to which many of them had contributed.

Obviously moved, Milo Connick lightened his response to a standing ovation by stories of his arrival, with his wife Genevieve, on campus in 1946. They were first housed in a dorm, but had to leave when the students returned to campus. There was a small college-owned one-bedroom bungalow just vacated by Carl L. Randolph '43, his wife Jane (Taber '43) and their new baby. This was the Connick's next home and it became a joke between the two couples that the Connicks had "evicted" the Randolphs. "Little did I know at the time," Milo said, "that Carl would later become the Chairman of the Board of Trustees!'

He concluded with a story of his arrival in Los Angeles, "When we stepped off the plane," he said, "we were greeted by two influential aspects of the Los Angeles area, smog and Whittier College. We quickly adapted to the first and developed a life-long love affair with the second. Now, after thirty-six years, we've decided to stay!"

The whole Whittier College community is grateful for that decision. C. Milo and Genevieve Connick are an integral part of the history of the College.

A Night for Cheering

Saturday, May 15, was a day that held a number of surprises for those who attended the Poet Awards Dinner.

Alumni Affairs Director Susie Roberts had succeeded in doing the near impossible, inviting the award recipients without giving them an inkling that they were to be honored.

It was natural for Dick Thomson '34, who had been her predecessor as director, to be present, and it was she who presented him with the alumni Service Award. Dick was greeted with cheers from his many friends as he stepped to the podium

Dr. Roberta A. Forsberg '36, recently retired as professor of English, assumed that her purpose in attending was to present an Honorary Alumnus Award to Dr. Harry Nerhood, while he, for his part, assumed his presence was required to present the Special Alumni Service Award to her!

Alumni Achievement Awards went to three outstanding alumni, Dr. Guy Frank '43, Dr. Stuart Gothold '56 and Congressman Wayne Grisham '49.

Guy Frank's diversity of interests is something rare. A talented musician, pianist, composer and director, he has been associated with a number of educational innovations. Currently director of the new Creative Arts Center at Shepherd College in Shepherdstown, West Virginia, he is a member of Jefferson County Hisorical Society and a board member of Jefferson County Hospital Association. He is also president of a land development corporation in the Eastern Panhandle of West Virginia, vice president of Hagerstown Bookbinding and Printing Corporation, and a partner in a building renovation organization.

Stu Gothold, Los Angeles County Superintendent of Schools, is wellknown in educational circles and has studied the systems of other countries. Most recently, he was a guest of the Korean government, where, besides sightseeing, he visited a number of schools.

Wayne Grisham is committed to the wellbeing of his country. A member of the Army Air Corps from 1942-46, he was a prisoner of war in Germany and was awarded the Air Medal and Purple Heart. Since 1956 he has been a real estate broker, and in 1978 was elected to Congress.

James Roosevelt and his charming English wife, Mary, were also present. A member of the U.S. House of Representatives from California for twelve years, Roosevelt was subsequently U.S. Representative to the UN Economic and Social Council from 1965-67. His first book, Affectionately FDR, was published in 1959 and his second, My Parents: A Differing View, appeared in 1976.

Roosevelt was not campaigning on this occasion, nor was he giving a public lecture or teaching as he did when a Nixon Scholar on campus. It was a time of congratulations for Whittier alumni, and the audience was composed of families and friends. So the talk he gave was brief and much to the point. In essence, it was to the effect that, as Speaker Sam Rayburn once said: "If you want to get along, go along," and that in difficult times there is no benefit to be had from adhering blindly to party lines, no option in fact but to stand behind the President so as to present a united front to the rest of the world.

Certainly party prejudices were absent that Saturday night, and all were staunchly behind one president in particular, Dr. Eugene S. Mills of Whittier College.

Broadoaks Reunion

On May 8, the Broadoaks Alumnae Association held a very successful Reunion in the Faculty Center. President Louise (Williams) Perkins B.'39 presided over a short business meeting, after which luncheon was served. Doramae "Dori" (Armstrong) Hart B.'45 served as Mistress of Ceremonies for the program, with assistance from Dr. Eleanor Hempel B.'48. The featured speaker was Dr. Mary Ellen Nogrady, Director of Education at the Los Angeles Childrens Museum.

Officers for the coming year are Louise Perkins, president; Doramae Hart, vice president; Mary Elizabeth (Patterson) Bush B.'41, secretary; and Elizabeth (Carter) Scott B.'37, treasurer.

Broadoaks School was established in 1906 in Pasadena. From its inception until 1931 it was conducted by its founders, Miss Ada Mae Brooks and Miss Imelda Brooks. In that year, in order to assure the continuation of the well-known school and so that it might receive legal recognition, it was deeded to Whittier College. It still retains its name, now being The Broadoaks School of Whittier College, although its facilities were moved to the Whittier Campus in 1945.

Broadoaks Alumnae Association officers. (L. to R.) Elizabeth Scott, treasurer; Mary Bush, secretary; Louise Perkins, president; Doramee Hart, vice president.

Reunions

This is a great year for reunions. The Class of 1932 celebrated its Golden Anniversary at Commencement, and the Class of 1957 is planning a Silver Anniversary weekend September 24 and 25.

Other classes with committees going strong and dates set are:

Class of '37 and Class of '42, October 22

Class of '67, October 23.

The Classes of '52 and '62 have formed committees and are beginning their plans.

Homecoming 1982

Don't forget! Homecoming 1982 is on October 23. Plans are under way for the day and it looks as if there may be a few surprises. Mark your calendars now!

LAW SCHOOL

Reception for Dean

In February a reception was held in honor of then newly-elected Dean, John Fitz Randolph. It was a gala affair, attended by a number of people from the "main" campus, including President Eugene S. Mills; Dr. Allan B. Prince, Vice President for Budget and Administration; Dr. Richard J. Wood, Vice President of Academic Affairs and Dean of Faculty; Michael J. Kearney, Vice President for College Advancement; Dr. Philip O'Brien, Librarian; Ross McCollum, for whom the Law Center is named; and Chairman of the Board of Trustees, R. Chandler Myers, Esq.

Ceremony at Center

For the first time a swearing-in ceremony was held at the Law School. On June 10, twenty-nine graduates who had passed the California State Bar last December, were sworn in by Judge Judith Ashmann (WCSL '72). In keeping with the "family" atmosphere of the occasion, the address was given by Alumni Representative David Noble (WCSL '73).

"By Performance" Program

WCSL offers a special summer program for a few selected applicants who would not otherwise be admitted to the Law School, due to low LSAT and GPA scores. If those who enroll prove their ability during the eight-week session, they can generally expect to be admitted to the School as regular students.

This program also provides an opportunity for those who have been out of college for some years, or whose relevant work experience indicates an aptitude for the law.

Data Bank

A number of alumni have submitted information on their types of practice to Assistant Dean Kerfes for the Alumni Directory and Data Bank. Please contact her for attorneys to assist you, or for referral on a particular case or in a designated geographical area.

Luncheon to be Held

The Law School will host an alumni luncheon at the California State Bar Convention in Sacramento on Monday, September 13, at 12 noon. Please contact Kathryn Kerfes, Assistant Dean, at (213) 938-3621 for further particulars.

WSCL'S TV Star

Associate Professor Harvey Levin continues to enhance his popularity. An article in the Spring 1979 issue of THE ROCK told of his many activities, the cases he takes without fee in order to right a wrong, and his genuine love of teaching.

This desire to educate spills beyond the classroom. Levin's succinct responses to queries he receives for his "The Law and You" column in Tuesday's Los Angeles Times, and his appearances on KABC's "AM Los Angeles," represent an endeavor to instruct the public in areas that are usually so clouded by legal mumbojumbo, that the man-in-the-street is totally bewildered.

Recently Levin has expanded his efforts in this direction through his position as legal affairs commentator for KNBC (Channel 4) and as legal consultant for the very popular "People's Court" on KABC (Channel 7).

If more lawyers could express themselves with the same clarity and lack of abstruse phraseology, and if this same simplification could be carried over to government documents, life would be easier for many citizens.

Already a household name, Harvey Levin is greatly enhancing the reputation of Whittier College School of Law.

Old Acquaintances

WCSL alumni now include five judges: Elvira Austin '68, Long Beach Municipal Court; Roosevelt F. Dorn '69, Los Angeles Superior Court; William Ormsby '69, Inglewood Municipal Court; Hugo E. Hill '70, Compton Municipal Court; and Judith Ashmann '72, Los Angeles Municipal Court.

Deputy City Attorneys include Robert Austin '68 in Long Beach; Larry C. Heshier '80, in Santa Monica and Kerry Hamor '80 in San Diego.

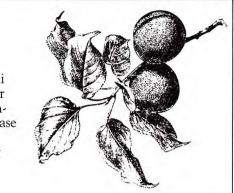

Class of 1976 William McMillan is now a partner in the Los Angeles firm of Green, O'Reilly, Agnew and Broillet, which specializes in personal injury. The firm was recently featured in a segment of "20–20" on KABC (Channel 7). He and his wife, Susan, have one daughter, Cameo (4).

Class of 1978 Jim Ball is In-House Counsel to the Teamsters Local 595 in Los Angeles; Ronald Zonen has left the San Bernardino County District Attorney's Office and is now Deputy D.A. in Santa Barbara.

Class of 1979 Patrick Burke has joined the firm of Gary, Steven, Findley and Associates in Brea — all the partners are graduates of WCSL, Mike Cahill, Gary Findley, and Tom Kwan. Dennis Jones is a Public Defender in Phoenix.

Class of 1980 Ruth Essegian is a Deputy Attorney General for the State in Los Angeles; David Herskovitz is with Irell & Manella in Century City.

Class of 1981 Patsy Cullison will become an associate with Bronson, Bronson & McKinnon in San Francisco when her term as clerk to Judge Hauk ends; Mark Kane is associated with a firm in Colorado Springs; Clifford Pearson is with the Bank of Toronto in New York; Lane Vaughn is working for "Racehorse" Haynes in Houston.

SPORTS

Scholar-Athletes

"Noel Torigoe is the most dedicated player I have coached in 12 seasons of intercollegiate baseball," said Hugh Mendez after Noel received the "Scholar-Athlete" trophy from President Eugene S. Mills at the annual sports awards luncheon. It marked the first time in four years that a male athlete has achieved this honor.

Noel, who graduated with a 3.76 average, is a biology/pre-dentistry major, the product of Kalani High School in Honolulu. He made the Dean's List during his first three years on campus, and is a member of the National Deans' List. He is a member of two national honor societies, Beta Beta Beta (biology) and Omicron Delta Kappa (academic leadership). His name appears in Who's Who in American Colleges and Universities and he is Whittier's nominee for an NCAA postgraduate scholarship.

Captain of the baseball team for three years, Noel enjoyed his most productive season at the plate in 1982, batting .386. He played errorless ball in left field and was voted to the first All-Conference team as an outfielder.

"Noel has an intense desire to succeed," Coach Mendez said. "Whatever he has accomplished, he did it by hard work."

Rich Amador, captain of the Poet tennis team, was named a scholarathlete by the Intercollegiate Tennis Coaches Association for 1982. A senior from New York, he was one of 10 players in NCAA Division III honored at the national tennis championships in Kalamazoo, MI, for varsity tennis accomplishments and outstanding scholastic achievements.

Being in the upper 10 percent of the class, with a grade point average of 3.5 or above, are the minimum requirements for the award.

In tournament singles, Whittier's Kevin Reichenberger lost his opening round match to Shaun Miller of Gustavus Adolphus, and the Poet's Joe Risk dropped his first round match to Detlef Scholz of Christophe Newport College.

Kevin and Joe, one of the top doubles teams in the Southland, were beaten by Neil Schneider and Steve Solik of Trinity College.

National Championship Competitors

Several Whittier athletes competed as individuals in national tournament competition during the season.

The wrestling team sent three conference and West Regional champions to the NCAA tournament in Cortland, NY — Dave Forsyth, Chris Knowland and Luis Camarena.

Lori Rice, a member of the women's swim team, competed as a diver in the national competition in Boston.

Steven Sanborn qualified for the NCAA track championships in the 400-meter intermediate hurdles at Naperville, IL. He also repeated as 100-meter high hurdle champion in the conference meet.

Freshman Jennifer Reingold qualified for the NCAA nationals in cross country at Kenosha, WI. She also was voted all-conference first team and the most improved runner.

The college also produced two "Athletes of the Year" selected by the SCIAC coaches. Free safety-punter Louie Sanchez received the football trophy and John Fitzsimons the trophy for soccer.

Athletes of the Year

The 11-9-5 Booster Club's choice for male "Athlete of the Year" was made much easier by the striking success of shortstop Tony Woods. On June 7, the All-Conference junior, who was originally recruited from Oakland as a basketball player, was drafted by the Chicago Cubs as the 17th player in the nation in the first round. This was an unusual distinction for a Division III player, but, as Coach Hugh Mendez said, "Tony is an exceptional athlete, he can run, throw and hit for both average and power. These are the attributes the scouts are looking for," adding, "I'm sure he'll put Whittier College on the map so far as baseball is concerned."

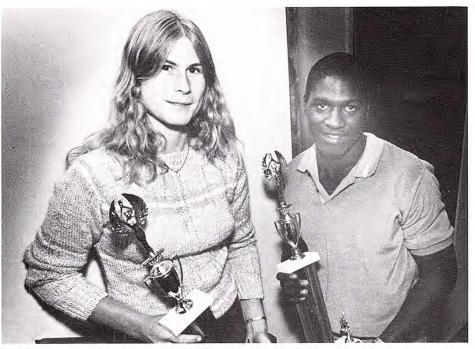

As an NCAA Division III All-American freshman in 1980, Tony suffered an ankle injury last year, missing most of the pre-season schedule, but he still came on strongly to finish batting over .500.

Despite the pressures from major league baseball scouts, Tony had a banner season, leading the conference in runs batted in (25), placing second in batting (.456), second in doubles (7), third in triples (2), fifth in home runs (5), and fourth in stolen bases (9). He also hammered out five homers in nonleague games to establish a college single-season record at 10.

An interesting parallel to the fact that Dave Jacobs had recruited Tony for basketball, later losing him to baseball, is that when Hugh Mendez recruited Mike Brown seven years ago as a baseball player, Mike went on to become an All-American basketball player for Dave!

The woman "Athlete of the Year," honored at the annual all-sports luncheon with Tony, is softball-volleyball player, Lora Brunson. A sophomore from Cerritos, Lora earned "Most Valuable Player" honors in both sports. An All-Conference selection in volleyball, she topped the Lady Poets in all-around efficiency, was first in digs, third in attack, first in fewest blocking and service errors and second in services aces.

Moving to the softball diamond in Whittier's first season as a varsity sport, Lora batted .357, led the team in total

Girls gym class at Whittier College, c. 1906.

The fact that she is approaching her 80th birthday doesn't deter Helen (Knudson) Hose '23 from taking an active interest in education. She is the founder of Delta Phi Upsilon (Honorary National Professional Fraternity for Early Childhood Education).

Walter Jessup '24 recently visited relatives and friends in Illinois, Indiana and Ohio with his son Merrill '53 and his daughter-in-law.

Ethel E. Hatch '25 works as a volunteer for the Fine Arts Museums of San Francisco. She went on a Carribean cruise in the spring of 1981.

To keep in touch with his family, Edgar E. Barkley '27 has to keep on the go. Last year he went to England to be introduced to a new granddaughter and this spring he was off to Australia to visit his son!

Don Todd '29 writes "My Barefoot Approach to Self-Help sold out completely"; . . . Leslie C. Wade '29 has returned to the habits of his youth. Last summer he went by Amtrak to Seattle, crossed Canada by train, toured Nova Scotia, New England, New York and Washington, DC and returned to Los Angeles, again on Amtrak . . . We would especially like to thank Webster D. Willeford '29 for his constant and loyal support. He only attended Whittier for one year, yet he has never forgotten us. Now retired for 15 years, he has 5 children, 12 grandchildren and 5 great grandchildren. We hope some of them will come to the College - don't forget, we have numerous alumni scholarships!

Ruth (Hollingsworth) '30 visited with Kate (Balden '30) and Dr. Lynn Juday '32, who have moved into the hills a few miles east of her in Denair. Ruth tells us she has been able to contact a number of old friends with the help of the Alumni Directory . . . Everett and Frances Schneider '30 have been co-chairpersons for the Sacramento District United Methodist Churches' studies on Middle Europe . . . Adline (Hunter) Scott '30 is another traveler. Since her retirement in 1968 she and her husband have been to New Zealand, Tahiti, Fiji, American Samoa, Australia and Hawaii. They celebrated their 52nd wedding anniversary last April and, Aldine says, they "appreciate having been married by Dr. Walter F. Dexter in 1930." Dr. Dexter, of course, was a trustee of the College and president from 1923-1933.

After 32 years touring the freeways and byways with the California Highway Patrol, R. A. Kindler '31 has retired. Now his travels take him fishing and hunting things other than speeders and criminals.

Dr. William Hornaday '33 is now President of the United Church of Religious Science, after 40 years as minister of Founder's Church in Los Angeles. He is the author of two books and co-author of two others. In 1979 the Literary Hall of Fame voted Your Aladdin's Lamp the Inspirational Book of the Year. Bill studied with Dr. Carl Jung in Switzerland and with Dr. Albert Schweitzer in Africa. In 1976 he was given an Honorary Master of Humanities from CSULB

. . . Vivian (Van Hellen) Jordan '33 is a tour guide and slide lecturer. With her husband she led her 9th tour to the British Isles in 1981 and will be going to China in October 1982. In August 1981 she was one of the teachers of "Europe: Dimensions of Christian Mission" sponsored by the Pacific and Southwest Conference of United Methodist Women. Last September she headed a crew of women at the church in San Clemente who made and sold 776 apple dumplings! (The rest of Vivian's notes were under the sealed flap of the envelope and could not be read.) . . Helen (McClean '34) and Byron Netzley '33 have been traveling in their trailer. They joined the "Thousand Trails' Preserve Program that has campgrounds from San Diego County to British Columbia.

C. Richard Harris '34 has retired as consultant design engineer for Smith Tools after 34 years designing rock bits for oil well drilling. (Maybe we should have asked him to design our "Piece of The Rock!") . . . We are sorry to hear that Mary (Haven) Muller '34 has been in the hospital and hope she is now in better health.

Maria (Ross) Glasgow '35 retired from the Riverside USD after 33 years. She and her husband have cruised the Caribbean, Alaska and the Mexican Coast. Their children, Robert (a Major in the U.S. Army) and Jessie (a 4th grade teacher) together with 6 grandchildren, joined them on the lap between Puerto Rico and Nassau . . Mildred (Hatch '35) and Harry Phillips '35 toured the People's Republic of China in October and will be tour leaders for a trip to Greece and the "Jewels of the Adriatic" in September 1983, visiting Athens, Dubrovnik and Vienna with a hydrofoil cruise to Budapest and an optional tour of the Greek Islands . . . Harriet (Menker) Robinson '35visited Naomi (Wood) McLane '38 who lives on a farm near Chico.

Roxie (Willis) Gibbs '36 who has lived in Concord since 1953, teaches English at Pittsburgh HS... Lois (Bushby) Morse '36 taught in Cloverdale for 14 yewars before retiring in 1980. Her hobbies are gardening and making Raggedy Ann dolls . . . Madeline (Aborn '36) and Elton Paddock '36 hope to get to California this summer. Elton has not yet decided whether to retire this year or teach at Ohio State another two years.

Marie (Morrison) Actis '37 has retired from teaching after 26 years in Greenfield SD, near Bakersfield . . . Rachel (Ralston) Lutz '37 and her husband are now retired and give much of their time to helping with clerical work at the La Mirada office of the Far East Broadcasting Co., a Christian endeavor.

Life hasn't slowed down yet for Ruth (Railsback) Batemen '38 and her husband, who are building their own home. It's taking longer than they thought and now Ruth wonders how she ever found time for work! They live in Philomath, OR . . . Dorothy (Pfeiffer) Brown '38 may be retired, but she still performs on the piano, organ and harpsichord. She and her husband visited the Pacific Northwest, Canada and the Midandolph W. Carter '38 died in 1970, but we are sure his classmates would like to hear of an outstanding memorial that has been named in his honor. We have just heard that in 1973, the Board of Directors of Seattle Central Area Industries changed the name of that organization to the Randolph Carter Industrial Workshop Association.

In 1981 Randy was inducted into the Whittier College Hall of Fame for the record he established in the Small College Relay Championship in 1938, a record that stood for 20 years.

From 1943-44 Randy was director of the Market Street United Service Organization in Stockton and then moved to Los Angeles as a group worker for the All Nations Foundation. From 1952-59 he served as Community Relations Secretary to the Urban League in Seattle and then Executive Secretary of the State Board Against Discrimination. For a further six years he was associated with the State Division of Vocational Rehabilitation. Then, in 1967, he was one of the founders of the Seattle Central Area Industries, providing training and employment for the disabled and disadvantaged. He was also active in his church, the Central Area Committee on Civil Rights, the YMCA, NAACP, Boy Scouts and the National Association of Social Workers.

As Maralyn Chase, assistant director of the Randolph Carter Workshop, wrote to the College in May 1981: "His life is a witness of the principles on which Whittier College was founded and which it manifests to this day."

West in the past year. She has also held the office of Recording Secretary of the Long Beach P.E.O. Reciprocity Bureau . . . Now retired, Harriet (Cooper) Ebermover '38 is working as a volunteer at Presbyterian Hospital and is on the Board of the Heart Association and Rio Hondo Volunteer Bureau . . . John Kegler '38 retires this year after "a long and fulfilling career in public education." He and his wife, Jean, are alumni parents, daughter Jean-Ellen Jantzen having graduated in '68

. . Ardith (Lowe) Kane '38 is "busier than ever" after 33 years of teaching. She does volunteer work with senior citizens; plays the organ for weddings and funerals, and is an active member of several organizations. She frequently gets together with Eleanor (Brooks) Tucker '39 and her family. The Kanes have a new mobil home in Langlois, OR, and would love to see anyone passing that way. (Call first, they're often out of town.) Paul A. Camp '39 (MA '46) has sent us a clipping dated 1976. Although this is somewhat late, we think everyone will like hearing about his retirement banquet, given by the University of Georgia. After 30 years on the faculty he was presented with a bound volume of letters, photographs and keepsakes, and a $5 gold coin minted the year of his birth. Paul's portrait, painted by a colleague, will hang in the Fine Arts Building at the University. Members of the faculty and staff gave a performance of his favorite play, J. B. Priestley's "An In-spector Calls." During his tenure, Paul designed sets, lighting and sound for more than 80 stage productions and supervised the renovation plans for the million-dollar auditorium at the University. He got his first taste of theatre at the Pasadena Playhouse College where he got a degree in theatre arts in 1935. Later he was an instructor and art director there . . . Comdr. Fred E. Francis USN (Ret'd) '39 left the service in 1963 at the Naval Air Station in Corpus Christi, where he won his wings in 1942. He and his wife of 18 years "continue to live the good life in that sparkling city by the sea"... Walter C. Taylor Jr., '39 has retired after teaching Spanish for 34 years at Upsala College in New Jersey.

Isabel (McCormac) Angelsen '40 is another of the avid cruisers. This summer she's going to Athens, Corinth, the Greek Islands, Turkey, Egypt (with a side cruise up the Nile) and Israel . . . Bob and Joy (Hull '48) Elkington '40 have been co-chairpersons of the Service Commission (social action program) at Orinda Community Church for the past five years. Joy teaches social studies and psychology at Concord HS in Mt. Diablo USD, where Bob substitute teaches in senior and junior high. Bob also has his own business in small sailboat and boat parts and supplies. Daughters Kathy, Lynn and Jeanne are married and teaching in elementary schools in Oregon and Northern California . . . Steve Gardner '40, an advertising executive in the Palm Springs area, has been honored by the Riverside-San Bernardino Chapter of the Southern California Section of the PGA as the "Media Person of the Year 1981." His column on desert golf activities appears weekly in the Palm Springs Desert Sun . . . Herbert Nanny '40 is in his 35th year as professor of music and University organist at Stanford. He also serves as program chairman for the 1984 National Convention of the American Guild of Organists, to be held in San Francisco . . . Frank Nelson '40 plays the trumpet five nights a week in San Diego. In 1980 he started creating materials for Yamaha International Corporation's educational program ... Robert C. Post '40, who liquidated his Chrysler-Plymouth dealership in 1981, is a sales associate for the Devonshire Real Estate Company.

James Hoyal '41 retired a year ago from teaching English in Jr. High . . . Beth (Garfoot) Lumpkin '41 and husband Don spent the fall of 1981 quartered in England, where he supervised Bell State University students assigned to British classrooms. While they were there, Beth joined a Presbyterian seminar group and visited Madrid, Geneva, Brussels and Carrymeda (near Belfast). Both were on sabattical the winter of 1981-82 and visited eleven countries on the Continent . . . Ethelyn (Stuart) Meyers '41 was an elementary teacher for 31 years. She and her husband live on a farm in Arkansas. Their son is an audiologist at Rancho Los Amigos Hospital in Downey and their daughter and her family live in Northwest Arkansas. Ethelyn says she loves the Ozarks area and the "friendly, caring community" in which she lives . . . The Christmas letter of Virginia (Hill '42) and Carroll Richardson '41 was full of interest. Unfortunately it is too long to reproduce here — however, for the editor (an Englishwoman) it stirred many memories and recalled the names of friends (not alumni) of years past. So, to the actual news. Virginia retired June 1981 after 32 years as a teacher and coordinator and Carroll celebrated his retirement from Saddleback College with two weeks in Virginia with Lisa (12) and Mike (10). In August the Richardsons exchanged homes and cars with an English couple whom they'd met in 1976 and toured the British countryside meeting innumerable interesting people and having a marvelous time.

Frederic W. Errett '42 plays the organ at First Church of Christ Scientist in Sacramento and is a part-time worker for musical activities at Fremont Presbyterian Church . . . Justine (Smalley) Lemke '42 says she "has taken early retirement from many, many years of teaching and is fully enjoying it." . . . Ann (Sanborn) Prestridge '42 took early retirement from La Habra City School System in June 1981 . . . Dorothy (Mitchell) Stevens '42 is still working as a staff RN and is active in CNA bargaining at Stanislaus County Scenic General Hospital. This year she was awarded the "Agnes A. Dix" award, which is presented annually by Region 8 of California Nurses Association to someone who has contributed significantly to nursing through leadership within the profession and/or the community. (Congratulations Dorothy!)

Thelma (Sprague) Allen '43 tells us she has completed a term of office as president of the California Association for Traffic Safety. In July 1981 she and her husband left in their 32' fifth wheel trailer for extended travel in the U.S. They attended an ADK International Convention in New Orleans, an American Driver and Traffic Safety Conference in Albuquerque and then drove through Texas, Nebraska, Missouri, Arkansas and Alabama, returning to San Diego for Christmas. Now they're off again to Alaska and other states . . . Robert "Tippy" and Esther (Boyle '44) Dye '43 have moved from New Jersey to Chicago, where he is director of the Program Development Division of the YMCA of USA. The National Headquarters of the organization moved from New York to Chicago last year.

We'd like to thank Charles, husband of Betti-Wilson (Simmons) Chu '44 who noticed the wish of Olive (Chandler '41) and Bob Clift '40 to have a piece of Chinese calligraphy for their garden, and very nicely sent one. The Chus, who have been married 35 years, live in New London, CT, where Betti is the clerk of the Friends Meeting. They have four sons, one a lawyer in San Francisco, one a scientist specializing in whales one who works in Oregon, the youngest is Dean of Students at Trinity College in Hartford.

Shirley (Roberts) Firestone '45 writes: "I am happy to be a new past president of Órange Branch Music Teachers Association of California. My task is production manager for our June 1982 "monster" concert or Young Musicians for the Music Center' (Orange County) benefit. This promises to be hectic but fun." . . . Elwin E. Stan-field '45 who retired from government medicine three years ago, is now "seriously back in practice, at the South Cumberland Medical Center as director, a "totally new practice experience," he writes.

Mercer Campbell '46 retired in June as elementary school principal in the Hayward USD and in September will retire as Lt. Comdr. U.S. Coast Guard Reserves . . Carol (Weber) Rhea '46, who works for the L.A. Board of Education and the L.A. Community College Board of Education, writes that 1982 is their "eventful" year. Her husband is building his 1963 charter fishing boat and she and six of her classmates went to India where she was born . . . Rev. John R. Spitler '46 is Pastor of the United Methodist Church in La Cañada and for 15 years has been chaplain of Kingsley Manor Retirement Home in Hollywood

. . . Robert G. Wolstoncroft '46 has taken early retirement from Whittier UHSD but continues to serve on Whittier Citizen's Credit Union Board of Directors. His three daughters were all married this past year and live in Chicago, Davis and Beverly Hills.

Kenneth Beyer '47, who was President of Park College in Parkville, MO, now lives with his wife in Laguna Beach and has his own consulting business with private colleges and universities . . . Winifred (Chaf-fee) Brock '47 says her husband, Ted, retired in 1981. Then they bought a fourth travel trailer and have "enjoyed the freedom of unfettered traveling." Son Martin will receive his Ph.D. in bio-chemistry in December and will go to Stanford for post-doctoral work. Martin and his wife have two children, Naomi and Nathan

. . . Joe McClain '47, who retired as Superintendent of the El Rancho USD a while back, is now busy writing his autobiography. With the possible ti-tle "The Son of a Moonshiner," this promises to be an interesting volume, dealing as it will with sharecropping, a one-room schoolhouse, an accident involving a freight train that left him partially disabled, experiences in World War II, and education today . . . Emmett M. Wade '47 retired from high school business administration teaching and seems to have become quite a nomad. He and his wife have visited Central America, Hawaii, and Western Europe, including West-East Berlin where they were able to view the Pergonen Altar. They also went to the Mid-West and this fall will return to Europe.

Bill Bayless '48 retired from Chaffey UHSD after 27 years and is now a staff writer with the Quest Publishing Company in Brea . . . Fred R. Dukes, Jr. '47 is a part-time adjunct lecturer in education for Cal State, Bakersfield, supervising student teachers. Last year he was foreman of the Kern County Grand Jury . . . Maybe a tradition has been started! Dr. James B.

Gregory '48 tells us of the birth of a grandson. The parents? Linda (Gregory '72) and Michael Young '72 . . . Congratulations to Donald Hart '48 and his wife, Darlene, who have been married 30 years. Don has been 33 years in public education and 11 as Deputy Superintendent for Downey USD. Sons Alan, an electronic engineer, and Paul, a real estate appraiser, are living in San Carlos . . . Irving Rothblum '48 lives on an acre of land 25 miles from Hilo, where he and his wife grow pineapples, bananas and papayas. Reed Benched

Chuck Reed '50 is a very special kind of person, a man of courage and determination whose life bears testimony to his dedication to service.

A native of Atlanta, GA, Chuck was the only Black student at Whittier in 1947. A member of the Orthogonian Society and active in student government, he was on both the football and basketball teams.

In 1953 he joined the Los Angeles Department of Parks and Recreation as an assistant and by 1977 had risen to principal recreation supervisor for the South Area.

His interest in sports never flagged. In 1955 he was calling small college basketball games and ten years later was the first black man to call Pac-8 varsity games, afterwards becoming an official in the National Football League and the National Basketball Association. He has participated in numerous community service activities, including acting as chairman of the Festival in Black.

In 1979 Chuck suffered a cerebral stroke which left him with a paralyzed left side. Undaunted by his disablement, he was determined to overcome his handicap and when he left Hollywood Presbyterian Medical Hospital he went to Rancho Los Amigos in Downey for rehabilitation. After two months he returned home, wearing a brace and using a wheelchair to get around.

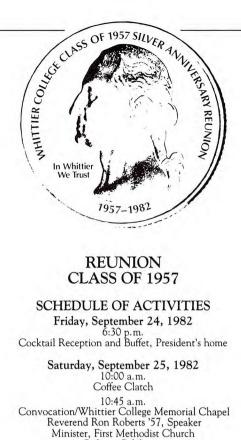

Six months after his stroke, Chuck was back at work. For a time he commuted 23 miles from home to Wilmington and then, when the drive became too much, he was transferred to City Hall East.

In January 1982, after 28 years with the Parks and Recreation Department, Chuck was advised by his doctor to retire. So, at age 55, and two years short of the 30-year full benefit retirement program, Chuck is now bench-warming.

He and his wife and childhood sweetheart, Raynetta Rollins, have two daughters, a son and a grandson and live in West Los Angeles.

and says soaring in a sailplane is beautiful! From what we've seen on TV about this sport, it surely is! Russell has just completed his 25th year with Douglas Aircraft Co., where he is section manager of resources in the Transportation Department in Long Beach. Gad '71 Ph.D. is active in the Navy Reserve and is now a Lt. Comdr. with 13 years of service (including four of active duty), the last two as the commanding officer of an Explosive Ordnance team unit consisting of two other officers and 75 enlisted men. The other side of the coin is his private life. This year he was promoted to director, mammaliam toxicology with Allied Chemical and is in charge of the Corporation's animal testing lab and its staff of 26. This means a lot of travel, including four trips to Europe, one to chair a session at the European Society of Toxicology in Dublin. With all this, he was still able to make his class reunion, in spite of the fact that he had his certifying Board exam the next day in San Francisco. He passed with flying colors! . . . Dr. Stephen A. Kramer '71 has made great strides in his medical career. Last July he was appointed consultant in urology and pediatric urology at the prestigious Mayo Clinic and Mayo Medical School in Rochester, MN. Mia Linda (Hervin) Moore '72 is manager of The Elephants, a specialty shop featuring European imports wines, cheese, kitchenware, table linens, china, etc., in Portland . . . We have to thank Robin Pulliam '72 for her most interesting letter. Sorry you've been missing THE ROCK, Robin, but I'm sure we've been sending it out and probably paying vast sums to the post office for its return! Robin is living in Citrus Heights in Northern California. She has left her job as director of development for Children's Home Society of California, San Joaquin District, and is now executive director of the Los Rios Foundation in Sacramento. She has bought a small farm where she says she spends her "spare hours chasing cows out of the vegetable garden and fruit orchard." She is also on the Board of an historic theatre in Old Sacramento; works as a consultant in management systems and motivation; leads a lively troop of 50 seventh, eighth and ninth grade Girl Scouts — "no one else will have them!" she writes; and sings lead with the Treble Makers, "a strange women's barber shop quartet." She returns to Sacramento State in August to complete a master's in international relations. She and Carol (Odou) Tatnall '73 are trying to locate veterans of the "stairwell sings" so as to have one in the Sacramento area. They would like anyone who is interested to contact either of them (Carol is in Auburn) so they can plan some fun . . . Amy Pulver '72 splits her time between Denver and Los Angeles now that she is director of market analysis in the Futures Planning Division of Continental Airlines. She was previously a manager in the same division of Frontier Airlines. Her office is in Los Angeles, but in Denver she is on the YWCA Board, the Women in Business Conference Executive Committee, and the Women's Bank . . . Leslea (McElravy) Stringer '72 is the co-author of Craft Handbook for Children's Church, a book of graded activities for ages 3-12, published by Baker Book House, Grand Rapids, MI 49506. We give the address in case anyone wants to order this exceptionally well put-together and illustrated volume. Jim '70 is a CPA with his own practice. The couple live in Brookfield CO, where they moved five years ago . . . Jerry (Pelegrin) Stoltzfus '72 is working for an accounting firm near the Capitol in Sacramento and seems quite happy, or so Robin Pulliam tells us.

Frances (Von Seggern) Bach '73, cellist and Artist-in-Residence at Whittier, was married last April to Dr. Phil Bach, a clinical chemist with CLMG. We won't comment on her new last name, she's surely heard that too often by now!

. . . Linda (Samuelson) Bagzis '73 has moved with her husband and two small sons to Pensacola, where Larry is a chemical engineer with Air Products and Chemicals. Linda has "retired" from teaching to look after the family . . . News of eight Orthogonians of the Class of '73: Kim Brooks was married in 1977 and now has four children, Eric, Eddie, Jack and Julie, they live in La Mirada. Dye '74 is teaching obstetrics and gynecology in Portland, where he has a home-birth practice

. . . Dennis and Joanne (Shutt '75) Fulbright '74 are the proud parents of a ten-month old daughter. Dennis' research on the blight that wiped out the American Chestnut and its possible biological control was written up in the New York Times and Newsweek. Joanne is a physical therapist at the Edward W. Sparrow Hospital and Dennis is an assistant professor in the department of plant pathology at Michigan State U. . . . Cary and Terri (Stimpfel '74) Hall '74 are both with the Montebello USD, where he teaches special education and she is an elementary teacher. For the past year, since the birth of young Michael, Cary has been on maternity leave, but will teach again this Fall . . . Orthogonian Gregg Henderson '74 wrote a nice long letter as the result of a phonathon call from a Society brother (Jeff Miller '74). Gregg and Vicki (Dunnaway '73) were married in 1974, the year he joined the Pasadena Police Department. He has been a patrol officer

Med Ma'am

Mary Exum '78 is a lady of many parts. She is a custodian for the Presbyterian Church in Merced; she is a librarian for the Merced New Calvary Chapel tape lending library; and she is a Medfly trapper!

The Merced Sun Star ("Breakaway" section), ran an article on her in November 1981, with photographs by the author, Marc Medefind, whose permission we have to print excerpts of his piece.

"Mary," he writes," is one of ten Merced County Agricultural Commission Medfly trappers, checking more than 3,200 traps spread throughout the country and also servicing traps for Japanese beetles, gypsy moths and other destructive fruit flies."

Nicknamed "Med Ma'am" by her co-workers, Mary once set a record with 96 traps in a single day. With agriculture a $14.8 billion business in California, she worries about the gravity of the infestation. Her concern leads her to be extra careful about setting, baiting and placing traps in host fruit and vegetable plants, checking and servicing them on a regular basis and effectively meeting and dealing with the public.

Mary says that possession of a Medfly trap has now become a status symbol. If there's one in Mr. Jones' yard, Mr. Smith wants one too. Residents have even been quite upset if a trap is taken from them and relocated in a more advantageous spot!

Since many people don't really know a Medfly from a dragonfly or housefly, Mary gave a description. "They are slightly smaller than a housefly," she said, "and noteworthy for the normally drooping, banded and blotched wings. Any fruit fly with spotted wings is suspect," she added, telling people to take these to any Medfly control center near them.

Those of us in Southern California might remember this description and keep our eyes open. The Medfly is a hitchhiker and might well appear in our own yards, courtesy some unaware fruit trucker.

with the Special Enforcement Team, a helicopter observer, an agent in the Detective Section, and a vice-narcotics unit officer (working undercover). Most recently he moved to the Community Services Section, where he is in the Crime Prevention unit. Vicki has taught, been a real estate salesperson and escrow secretary, and a fire dispatcher. Right now she's looking after young Michael, who is a year old. She also has an interest in a crafts boutique . . . Wayne Manzo '76 is head varsity football coach at Cerritos HS . . . Navy Lt. j.g. Cori M. McConkle '76 is on deployment to the western Pacific, assigned to the destroyer tender USS Dixie, homeported in San Diego. The ship is participating in training exercises with other 7th Fleet units and those of allied nations. Port visits have been made to Pearl Harbor and the Philippines. (The fact of Cori's being a naval officer seems to have shocked their PR department — in the release giving the announcement, and after referring to her as the "daughter" of Charles and Donna McConkle, they referred to Cori as "he" throughout the press release!) . . . News of Peter and Cindi (Edgerly '77) Makowski '76. Peter is vice president ambulatory/special services at Presbyterian Intercommunity Hospital in Whittier. He did his graduate work in hospital administration at the U. of Colorado and received his M.A. in public health from UCLA. Cindi completed her M.A. in bilingual education at La Verne and is working on her administrative credential. She is still at Rowland USD, teaching 1st and 2nd grade and is also a program specialist for the School Improvement Program

. . . Mary (Robins '70) was married last December to Robert O. Taddeo '76. Bob is a senior purchasing agent for an electronics firm in Huntington Beach and Mary is a deputy probation officer with the County of Orange, supervising a caseload of "60 hard-core male and female juvenile offenders," a job which she says is "frustrating but occasionally rewarding."
