Message from the ## Technical Director

The economic council of Canada, in its second annual report, lays great stress on the value of education in the future growth of Canada.

Among the highlights of this report were these statements. "Education crucially important factor in realizing full economic growth and higher living standards." Also "Shortage of skilled labor likely in the next five years."

This report points up the importance of Technical education to obtain the basic technical knowledge and skills that will enable a person to take their place in the expanding economy predicted by The Economic Council.

To the graduates go my best wishes for success and happiness in your future life.

To the undergraduates I urge you to take full advantage of many opportunities offered by this school to prepare yourselves for a successful career in this technological world.

Message from the Vice-Principal

My appointment as vice-principal of the W.D. Lowe Technical School was indeed an honour for me. It was also, since I had been a teacher at this fine school for seven years (1951-58) somewhat by way of being a homecoming.

I have always been very conscious of the value of technical education and the vital role it plays in the life of our community. The technical skills obtainable at our school provide a means of earning a living and at the same time they constitute a part of today's culture.

Since teachers and pupils play such leading parts in this idea of technical education I am pleased to observe the deliberate effort being made at our school to view the pupil as a fellow human being, not as a tiny $\operatorname{cog}$ in a vast educational machine. Through this, many of our pupils are mastering that most important of all skills -- the art of living.

The future of technical education seems very bright in this land of ours. I am proud to have some part in that future with the students here at W.D. Lowe Technical School.

Editor's $M_{\text {essage }}$

Although this is one year short of the centenial for Canada, we have decided to dedicate this year's "Towers", to Canada. We hope that the students of W.D. Lowe along with the students of Canada will join together in making Canada a better place to live.

A number of students will look through the 1965-66 "Towers" and they will not realize that the material for this book was not put together by professionals but by the students of W.D. Lowe. Not by all of the students, but by such workers as Bob Farley and Dave Basden on the pictures, and by Wayne McGee working long hours in the darkroom and even longer hours on the actual layout of this year book.

I also, have the honour of thanking Mr. Kocot for the wonderful job he did in guiding us this year. And now, from all of us on the staff to all of you reading this message, I hope you feel we dida commendable job.

WE LIKE IT HERE!

General Motors has "lived" in Windsor for a long time. We know it and we like it. We like the location, the facilities, and most of all, we like the attitude of the people. Down-to-earth and down-to-business. That's why Windsor was the logical choice for the only automatic transmission plant in Canada and for the new interior trim plant.
We like it here and hope that the feeling is mutual,

Fellow Student

In the midst of a high school community the most prevalent virtue should be that of personal humility. Favoured though we are to be here we should draw realization of our own infirmities and shortcomings, through our close proximity to great men and great ideal. Simultaneously we should draw inspiration and ambition to improve ourselves and the world around us.

The social function of a high school is to produce original thinkers and nonconformists. It takes but little talent to conform to social dictates. It takes both courage and a sense of purpose to determine to change soctety constructively.

If W.D. Lowe has developed in you a sense of personal humility and a related desire to achieve perfection through social improvement, then it has accomplished its primary end. Let us hope that its success of this year shall be repeated in the years of growth to come.

Sincerely yours
Rich Romanite

In my opinion, a technical education is the most valuable secondary education someone like me can have. In a world where technology is not only a way of life but also the method of existence, no one -- and this, to an extent, includes the female of the species -can survive and progress without having at least a sketchy background in the technological sciences. While it is true that a straight arts course introduces students to the physical and chemical sciences, that is all it does -- introduce. The student seldom develops a real appreciation or "feel" for the work that he or she is doing.

This is where the technical education picks up the loose ends. It takes the "book-knowledge" that the student has acquired and turns it into a skill -- perhaps not a physical skill, but a skill nevertheless. And, naturally, if a student goes out into industry after completing a technical education, he is already three jumps ahead of everyone else, if only for the fact that his field of knowledge and skill has been broadened by his secondary school experiences. No one can argue that the world couldn't use the fastermoving technology that would inevitably result.

Now consider those who want a college education. Would they be wise to choose a technical course in secondary school? The answer is "yes". Not only will he or she have added dexterity in and more complete understanding of laboratory subjects while in university, but also the more widely diversified background received in high school promotes easier communication between co-workers on the job.

In summation, whether measured in school, out of school, or on the job, a technical education can be the most valuable five years of anyone's life.

MR, KNOW - IT - ALL Gerald Baillargeon 11-C

Locked in his computor brain
Is the maximum speed of a diesel train, The distance from Mississippl to Maine, And the principle of the aeroplane, Yet he never felt joy and he never felt pain.

He mastered the logarithmic scale,
Stood first in his class three times at Yale And snubbed anybody that happened to fail, Though he never learned to drive a nall.

He quoted from Shakespeare at the age of four; Byron and Shelley, still he craved for more Till his library covered from physics to war And he's only become a well-learned bore.

In spite of his encyclopaedic mind,
His aimless knowledge could not ever give;
The truth that only the simple man finds:
That the secret of knowing is knowing to live.

VANCOUVER HO! or (BRAZIL Nu:

By Tom Findlay

11-B
When very young, I had a very interestio experience. I was to fly to Vancouver to spend ha weeks with my aunt and my uncle. Since I had a nine years of life behind me, and none of those tit any flying experience, the promise of a trip of 13 sort was in itself a tremendous thrill.

After being deposited at the airport by my parentis I sat waiting for my flight to be announced. Then, heard it!
"All passengers for flight 26 to Vancouver pleas report to gate 10 ."
"Hurrah!" I was on my way! I made a mad da: for gate 12. Enthuslastically I boarded the plane at settled down to enjoy the pretty stewardess and p flight to Vancouver.

Well, dear reader, to make a long story short, my excletment, I boarded the wrong plane and inste of going to Vancouver, I arrived in Brazil.

After arriving in Brazil, I realized that I hads money to get home. As I wandered down the stree of Redo, trying to find a solution to my problem, Isp a man standing in a crowd, signing up little childre to work on his coffee plantation. Realizing that ${ }^{[ }$ could be my opportunity to obtain some money for 1 : return fare, I signed up.

Because I had no previous experience, I starie out making eight cents a day. My job was to pick beat and at the end of the day, to load them into a wague Six days a week and fourteen hours a day, I picke Each week I received 48 cents, which after subtractir 25 cents for my room, and 10 cents for my food, 1 me with a total of 13 cents. This I carefully hoarde in a small bag under my wicker bed,

The food was very good - chili beans and coffel three times a day, seven days a week.

Every day it rained about seventeen inches, andw worked in it.

I am writing this story as I sit in the plane on the way back to Canada. It has taken me fifty-seven yean to save up enough to come home.

Ah! But those wonderful childhood years. I shiz probably never get my trip to Vancouver.

SUBLIME GIFT

By Kevin Mann 11C
The ancient quest for the irrelevant
Has distracted men from the song sought source Of life's extreme value and people sent Astray their goal, saw not God's secret force.
Ah! the fun, the wit, the companionship, Beyond the barriers or bars of wealth, The basic rudiment of lifes long trip; Firm to the end in hardship, sickness, wealth.

Of my father's enemies, their table
I partake and share in their joy o'er looking Their mistakes, for a friend true and faithful Is God's sublime gift - the joy of giving.

And when my life has passed me by, Proud I will be that the fool ne'er played I.

Dan Thomas

A silent glide into the air,
The sparkling sprayed spectacle of sunset light A sudden turn a flicking glare,
The ruby eyed rays, an awesome sight.
The salted breeze, the upward lift, The crashing dive through the breeze,
A dlamond spray, that was the flfth
Fish caught today in effortless ease.
Back into the golden sky
To glide, turn, and soar in grace,
As endless time passes by,
The sea gull goes on in endless pace.

ESCAPE

Abb Naklie 10-C

North, south, east, or west . . . which way! Its coming, you can feel it . . . choose! North! Faster legs faster . . . Stop! No escape! Retrace your steps . . . hurry! Turn south, Don't Stop! Thats almost suicide. Fell eh . . . Get up. In heaven's name get upl Turn left . . . no good. Re-trace your steps. Don't worry; you'll find a way. Right back where you started from? There are only two ways left, and one of them has to be it. East - and don't fall this time. Turn right here . . . Stop! Well don't just stand there. Go back! Hard to breath, eh! Just keep the cloth where it is and you'll be alright. Back again. There's only one way left and it has to be it. Don't let the sweat bother you. Got your breath . . . Good. Now, run like you never ran before and don't give up hope. Oh no! A fork! Take the one on the left . . . Well move! Whats this . . . Stop! Turn around and go back. Now for the right side. This has to be it; It has to be! Don't do that! Keep those eyes open, Look . . . look ahead . . . a window! It's getting closer. Now, dash - through. Don't be afraid; It's open . . .

You did it: you've really escaped. Relax! Now you surly flame, go and devour your prey!

I was deep in the darkness of a downbeat slum street, looking for a place to stay. A heavy mist hung in the air making it difficult to breath. My feet were tired and my arms were sore from carrying my luggage down this endless stretch of darkened buildings.

It was so very quiet, that Iwalked in fear of waking some half drunken night-owl. Distant horns of ocean going boats could be heard and the often frightening sound of a nightcrawler, slipping down a sewer opening, or a black cat knocking down a tin, shattered the stream of sllence and my nerves.

This whole place gave me the creeps. I was conscious of every movement or sound. I was breathing heavily, sweating, and imagining some ungodly beast would slip up behind me and slit my throat.

As I looked around, no one could be seen. Only the tall haunted buildings stared back at me. Then a sound startled me; I wheeled around, but saw nothing . . I felt as though someone was out there in the misty darkness following me, and he could see me but, I could not see him. Occasionally a car would dash by at an intersection down the street. Finally a taxi cruised up beside me. "Looking for a ride," he said. "Yes," I answered. "Where to?" he said. I answered, "Anywhere, as long as I get away from here."

THE MARTIAN

By: Joe Krsul 10-D
One night as I looked at the stars, I thought about a man from Mars, Would he be big, would he be burly Or would he have hair thats gold and curly?

I've often thought of how he would appear, He lives so far but seems so near. Would he be bigger than a house Or smaller than the tiniest mouse?

These questions have often entered my mind The answers to which I might never find About a creature who lives in space Millions of miles from this time and place.

GONE! IS THE LITTLE WHITE SWAN

I dashed through the woods,
For I knew what to see,
Along the lake protected by trees:
The little white swan
Swimming at dawn.
Dodging the skyward vegetation I crept to the side of the stream, While the morning sun shone a steady beam On the back of the little white swan, Swimming at dawn.

I did not want to make her leave
Though leaves were crackling under my knees,

Off down the stream, with fear in her mind, The little white swan left to find,
A nice quiet place
To go swimming at dawn.

TIT 14

BALLANTYNE, ALBERT,E 188 SNOWDON AV

Getting your driver's license makes the whole world a brighter place to live in.

You can move.
Without pestering Mom or Dad to drive you. Without depending on anybody else.
But now a lot of other people are suddenly depending on you.

Not for rides (although you like the feeling when you give somebody a lift).

But for their lives, And their property,
So don't take chances. Don't try to prove anything when you drive - except that you are qualified to do it.

In every way.

President's Message

This marks the end of another school year. It means graduation for some, but for a few others it means another year of diligent work.

Our interform program which included basketball, and baseball turned out fairly well this year. We introduced murderball which proved to be smashing success. Next year we plan to introduce soccer into the schools interform program.

From the results gained from this busy schedule of interform sports, we can expect many good players to form the nucleus of next year's school teams.

I would like to thank whole-heartedly Mr. Costello who put in many hours of his own valuable time assisting in our sporting activities during the year.

Wayne McGhee

Athletic Association

In spite of the fact that our defence played too well throughout the league programme and they had conceeded only two goals before the play-offs, defensive mistakes in the two Brennan finals was responsible for our exit from the SWOSSA Finals. Notwithstanding these slips our team played more soccer than our opponents but needless to say scored less points. It was rather disappointing to hear a few of our team say after the second game with Brennan that they knew we would not win and the defeatist attitude must be as far removed from competitive sports as possible. On the brighter side, and with new 'blood' showing signs of making excellent soccer players our prospects for again establishing ourselves as champions here in Windsor and in South Western Ontario are excellent.

Without the help of the office staff, Mr. J.K. McMeekin, Mr. Baggio and our new manager Doug Reaume who did a wonderful job, we would have been unable to fulfill our obligations in the regular schedule and exhibition games as well as we did.

Most team members gave of their best and have to be congratulated on their very commendable efforts during the soccer season. And come next fall should have some extra weight to push around.

Mr. Neilson

Junior Tootball

Successful season? I would have to, very definitely say yes. Although we came out on the short end of the scores, the flame of spirit and the desire to win was never extinguished. The boys worked hard and gave their best. We could not ask for more. I'm sure our fellows profited greatly in sportsmanship, co-operation, sacrifice, and hard work.

As field coach, I am very pleased to say, I am very proud of our boys.

May I also express my gratitude to Mr. McGee, our principal, for his wholehearted encouragement and support; to my assistant coaches, Mr. Brumpton, Mr. Jenkins, and Mr. Phillip who gave so freely of their time and knowledge; to Mr. Malkin who worked very hard on equipment; to our student managers, Russ Fields and David La Branche, who were invaluable to us; to the staff members who followed our team in rain or shine; and to that faithful group of students and cheerleaders who gave us their wholehearted support and cheers by their presence at all our games.

We would also like to congratulate Bill Hunt on making the second string All City team.

JUNIOR FOOTBALL

They fought hard, but did not conquer. Yet they didn't lose. This sums up the junior football team's achievement for the 1965 fall season.

Weaknesses they had, such as the faulty running offense and weak defensive corners on wide plays. This caused their losses.

But their strong points more than made up: a good passing attack and a solid defensive line.

Combine this with excellent spirit, teamwork and desire, and you will find the 1965 junior team. Every gamewas close, and lost on a few mistakes only.

Their biggest thrill? Scoring more points offensively than the senior team!

VICTORY AT LAST!

It has been quite a few years since W. Lowe has had a winning Volleyball Team and at the beginning of this season it looked as if there wasn't much hope again. After losing two of our first three games, things looked dim, but with the consistent coaching of Mr. Bellaire and practice every night, our eight man volleyball team came back with 4 straight victories and a tie for first place. Although most of the boys on the first string are leaving this year I hope the remaining players will keep up the good work.

The first game of the year our team lost to Kennedy by 15 points. This team had some of the same members who last year beat us by 40 points. So you can see how much we have improved. But we lack one very important asset: height. Our first team averages a measly 5 ft . 10 in.

Considering that we lost five games by less than ten points, we had a fairly good season.

We have good potential in our junior team: David Bigness, Ernie Haines and Thoms, along with the members that are returning from this year's squad; they should be able to have a very successful season next year, if they have some support from the students.

The W.D. Lowe Roughriders completed their first season in the Windsor Secondary Hockey Association after re-entering the circuit following a lengthy lay-off.

Coach Mr. Costello felt that the boys deserve a great deal of credit for their efforts put forth. What could have been the highlight of the year ended in a 4-3 loss to Assumption Purple Raiders -- the undefeated team of the league and the elimination from the semi-final total goal series.

All-Star recognition was given to Bob Turner and Gary Churchill on the cities second team. Also, Manuel Lemmo, the teams leading scorer received honourable mention.

The team received great support for such a new event. Coach Costello is optimistic for the coming season.

All those who aided in making the season successful are to be congratulated and informed that their help was well appreciated.

Dramatics

On Thursday February 10 and Saturday February 12 the Lowe Dramatic Society's first production of a full blown murder mystery "The Mousetrap" was staged for public presentation. Every person who participated in, or watched the play was able to boast of witnessing a rare and successful production.
"The Mousetrap", an Agatha Christie special, was directed by and casted by Mr. Roach. Members of the colourful cast were; Joanna Bullard, Allan Knight, Joyce Matajasevic, Clint Furbert, Sandi Poupard, Dean LaBute, Len Robitaille and Gerald Baillargeon.

The members of Mr. Marchand's stage and properties crew that did such a splendid job in creating Monkswell Manor were; Larry LeBlanc, Dave Labranche, Sharon Sinclair, Diane Jackson, Norm Yeryk, Robin Carrick, Nancy Wigle, Bev Young, Joanna Bullard, Marjorie Dennison and class 9A section B. In this connection, Mr. Weir, Mr. Puusa, and Mr . Chirgwin helped immensely.

The actors are indebted to the make-up crew Joe Bulat, Sharon Sinclair, Normand Savage and Linda Lee Porter with whom they closely worked. Art work and the striking Op Art posters were createdunder the critical eye of Mr. Monks who was capably assisted by John Schoof, Sandi Poupard, Joyce Matajasevic, Nancy Wigle, Rick Bagdasarian and Darry Pearce.

The effective blackout in the murder scene of the play was the handiwork of Mr, Kocot's sound and lighting crew; Mike Skreptak, Randy Sliva, Ed Mullaine, Fred Wallace, Paul Acchione, Wayne Strudwick and Richard Bellaire. House and stage lights and sound effects were suprisingly of professional calibre.

Ticket sales and the imaginative publicity were handled by Mr. Chirgwin and Mr. Boudreau.

Mr. Reynolds Ushers had their hands full because of the large attendance on both performance nights.

The excellently detailed programmes drawn up by Mr. Grimes were in the possession, of the audience when the stage curtains parted. Our patient prompter Predrag Jovanovic helped tremendously in the continuity of the play.

Many names are involved in this years performance and behind the names are many enthusiastic people. They have all been richly rewarded by the "sweet smell of success."

Cadets

Cdt. Lt. Col. Robert S, McDowell

Message

This year it has been a great pleasure to be the Commander of No. 1112 Cadet Corps of W,D, Lowe Technical School.

To make a success of Cadets, requires co-operation on the part of everyone involved; credit must be given to each member of the Corps for his part in the inspection.

Special thanks are given to the specialist platoons for their hard work and also to Mr. Philip and Mr. Allen.

I hope that in the following year more students will take advantage of the Cadet training at this school and uphold the honour of the 1112 Cadet Corps.
