

Apr 17th, 11:50 AM - 12:00 PM

Dayton Literary Peace Prize

Elisabeth R. Shook

Wright State University - Main Campus, elisabeth.shook@wright.edu

Follow this and additional works at: <https://corescholar.libraries.wright.edu/irday>

Part of the Scholarly Publishing Commons

Repository Citation

Shook, Elisabeth R., "Dayton Literary Peace Prize" (2015). Ohio IR Day. 7.
https://corescholar.libraries.wright.edu/irday/spring_2015/april17/7

This Event is brought to you for free and open access by the University Libraries' Events at CORE Scholar. It has been accepted for inclusion in Ohio IR Day by an authorized administrator of CORE Scholar. For more information, please contact library-corescholar@wright.edu.

Dayton Literary Peace Prize

Elisabeth Shook

Ohio IR Day

April 17, 2015

Dayton Literary Peace Prize

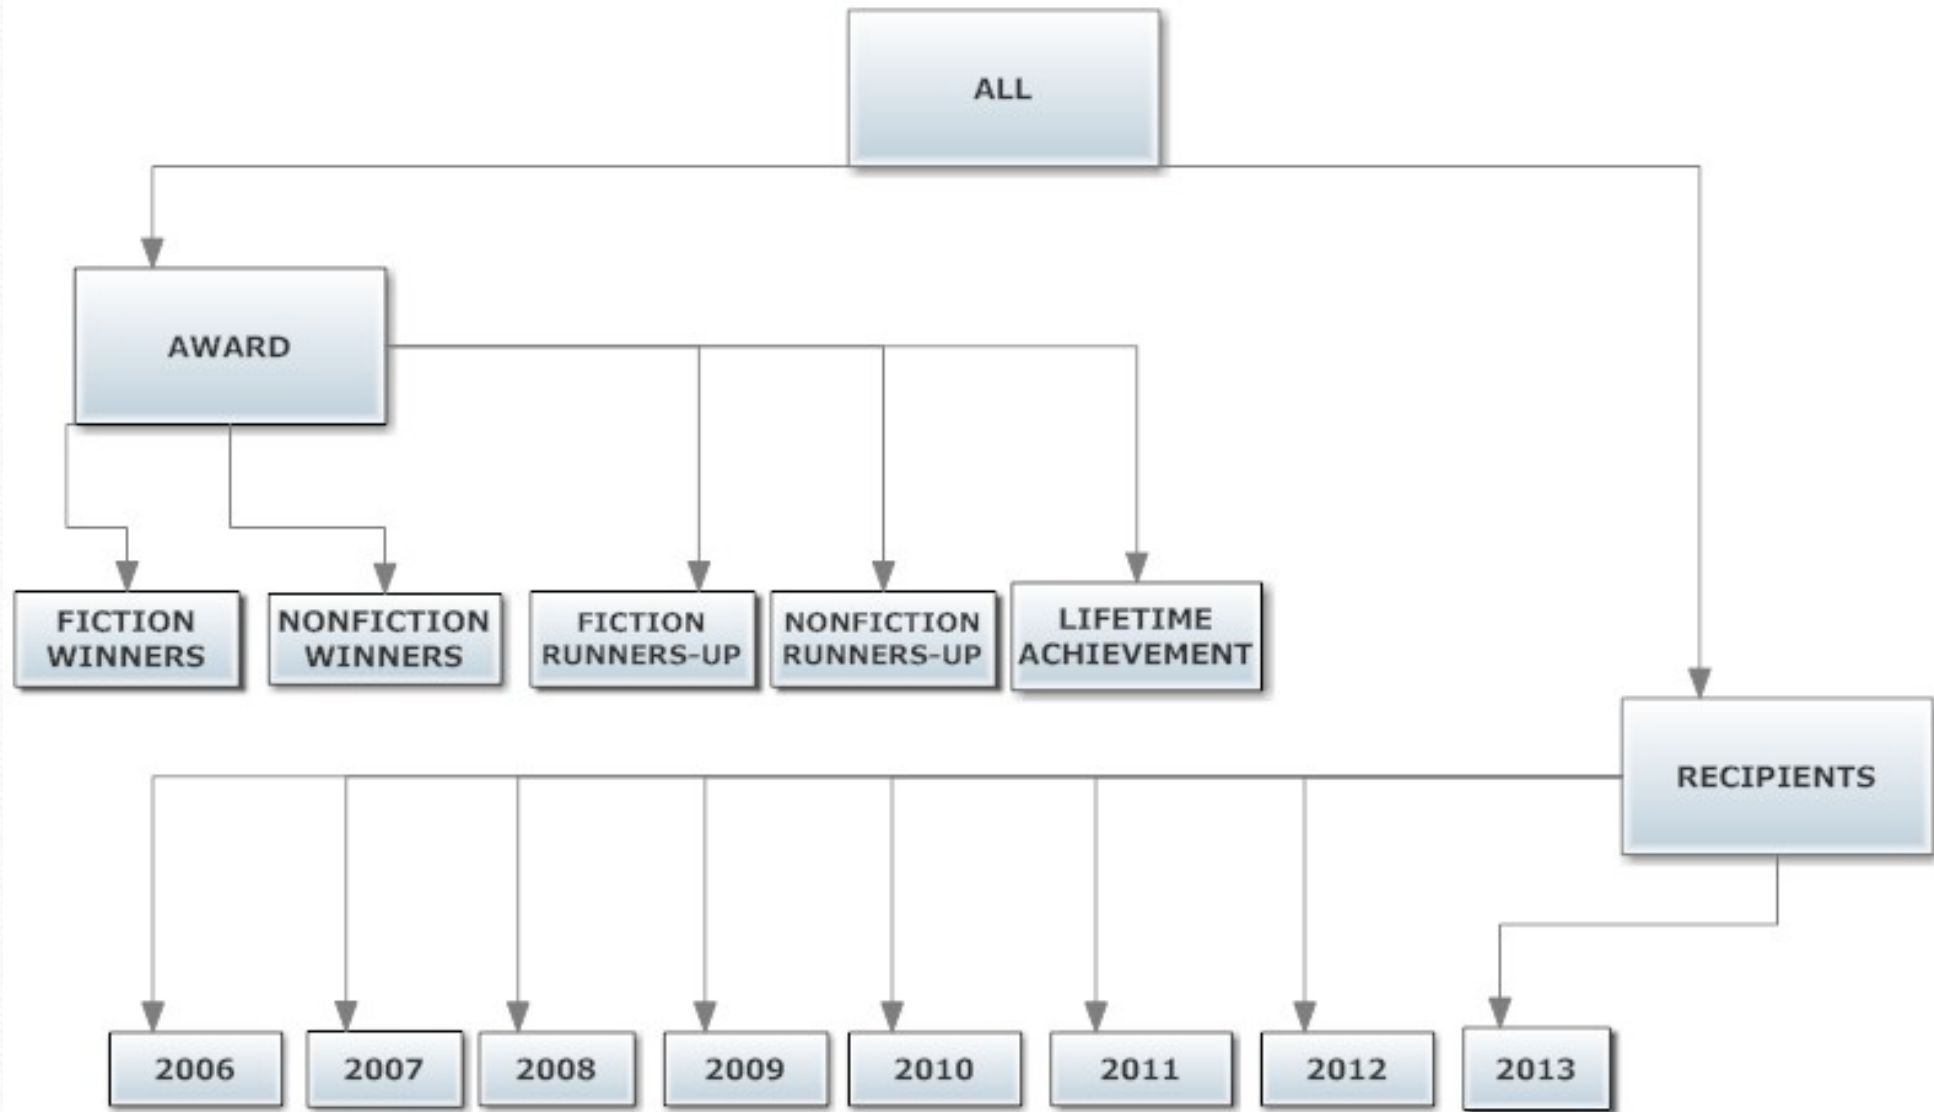

- Established in 2006
- Successor of the Dayton Peace Prize
- Endeavors to Celebrate a Message of Peace through the Written Word

Cumulative Bibliography?

- Chair of English Department, Dr. Carol Loranger
 - Not only the winners and runners-up work, but other works by each author.
 - Allow users to sort by year of award, type of award, and search the whole collection of work by all authors
 - Connect users to buy or borrow the work

Structure

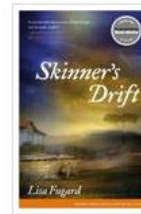

- Book Gallery
- Three Over-Arching Categories: All Work, Year, and Award Type
- Award Categories: Fiction Winner, Fiction Runner-Up, Nonfiction Winner, Nonfiction Runner-Up, and Richard C. Holbrooke Distinguished Achievement Award (Previously Lifetime Achievement Award)
- Year Categories: 2006-2014

Virtually Collecting

- Added Custom “Award” Field
- Hid Keywords
 - Added YYYY, Title of Award
 - Sorted to Collections using the keywords

Keywords: 2007, Fiction Runners-Up

Buy this Book

Catalog Record

SHARE

Skinner's Drift: A Novel

Lisa Fugard

Document Type

Book

Description

Ten years after leaving South Africa, Eva van Rensburg returns to her dying father, a violent stuttering man whose terrible secret Eva has kept since she was a child, and to Skinner's Drift, the family farm, a tough stretch of land on the Limpopo River where jackals and leopards still roam.

Publication Date 2006

Publisher Scribner

City New York

State

NY

Award

2007 Fiction Runner-Up

Disciplines Arts and Humanities | Creative Writing | Fiction | History

Repository Citation

Fugard, L. (2006). Skinner's Drift: A Novel. New York, NY: Scribner.

Voila!

- Dr. Loranger Added Intro Text
- DLPP Site Links to Collection on CS!
- News Story

See a complete bibliography and short history of the Dayton Literary Peace Prize on the website of CORE Scholar, an institutional repository sponsored by Wright State University Libraries. CORE Scholar collects and makes available the scholarly output of WSU faculty, staff, and students as well as local, regional, and WSU heritage material.

See a slideshow and videos from the 2013 Award Ceremony!

Make an ONLINE CONTRIBUTION to the Dayton Literary Peace Prize through our fund at The Dayton Foundation

(Please click here if you are using with a mobile device.)

Simplicity and Payoffs

Questions?

Dayton Literary Peace Prize Cumulative Bibliography

"The first and only U.S. literary award recognizing the power of the written word to promote peace," the Dayton Literary Peace Prize (DLPP) began as a homegrown effort by a small but committed group of Dayton readers, academics, and philanthropists to foreground the power of the written word to create peace. By its third year in existence the DLPP had developed a truly international profile. Every year since 2006 a $10,000 prize has been awarded each fall to the author of a fiction and nonfiction work published the preceding year, based on the works' focus on peace, broadly defined, and significant literary value, among other criteria. A runner-up in each category also receives a cash award.

A third category of award recognizes distinguished achievement in the advancement of peace through literature across a body of work. In 2011 this lifetime achievement category was renamed The Ambassador Richard C. Holbrooke Distinguished Achievement Award in honor of the architect of the 1995 Dayton Peace Accords.

Browsing this bibliography by "Year of Award" yields winning works and runners-up in the fiction and non-fiction categories for each year, starting with 2006. Browsing by "Award Type" yields five awards groupings arranged in reverse chronological order: Fiction Runners-up, Fiction Winners, Nonfiction Runners-up, Nonfiction Winners, and Ambassador Richard C. Holbrooke Distinguished Achievement Award. From 2006-2010 the Holbrooke Award bore the designation "Lifetime Achievement Award"; however this bibliography collects all honorees in this category together. From both Year of Award and Award Type, clicking on a book's title takes users to a complete record, including links to OCLC WorldCat data featuring browsers' local library holdings and options to purchase. A final browsing option, "Browse all Work" provides links to all known book-length works by every honoree, organized alphabetically by the author's last name. For more information about the Dayton Literary Peace Prize, including video and audio recordings of honoree's speeches from 2007 forward, see the organization website.

This bibliography is updated annually in November/December. Address corrections and comments to Carol S. Loranger (content) or Digital Services (design).

Follow

Browse the Dayton Literary Peace Prize Cumulative Bibliography Collections:

Browse by Award Type

Browse by Year of Award

Browse All Work by DLPP Recipients and Runners-Up