

Tributes

William V. Muse

John Steinhauer was a University of Akron-trained lawyer turned entrepreneur closely associated with the city's political leaders.

Ben Ammons leveraged his long service to Firestone into a major endowment gift supporting our efforts to diversify the student population.

Dottie Schmith was absolutely discreet and knew where everybody was buried.

Charlene Reed was a talented writer who learned rapidly on the job to balance the many constituents who sought the president's attention.