G. B. Shaw Derides England's Language In "Pygmalion" Plot

Producers Cast Varied Accents, Employ More Lighting in Sets

by Emile Schmidt '51

For several years George Bernard Shaw, the grand old master of satire, has devoted a great deal of time deriding the solid, time-honored traditions and customs of his native England. In Pygmalion, to be presented at Ursinus on December 2 and 3, he directs his barbs against the English language, claiming that it is not accessible even to Englishmen. The type of reformer England needs, according to Shaw, is a phonetic enthusiast, and he presents one in the person of Higgins in this play.

The title Pygmalion is quite apropos; for, according to Greek legend, Pygmalion was a Cyprus King and sculptor who created a masterpiece in the form of an ivory statue of a beautiful maiden whom he called Galatea, and to whom Aphrodite gave life so that Pygmalion might marry her. Shaw deviates from the original version, and changes the ending slightly in order to create a dramatic effect on which the final result is based.

Changes Necessary

In the production to be presented here a number of changes have been necessary. The script calls for a variety of English accents, but because these have not been discovered on the Ursinus campus, the audiences will hear instead an Irish brogue, a Scotch burr, two or three Cockney accents, and a bit of Oxfordian English.

In the past, production sets have been as realistic as possible. The settings for this play will be slightly different, however. The dramatic effect will be intensified by strategic lighting and fewer stage props. Nevertheless, the gracious hand of Mrs. Donald Helfferich, who has presented us with many superb scenes in the past, will still be obvious.

Yearbook To Open '49 Shooting Season

The Ruby will begin its annual widespread camera-clicking campaign on November 11, 14, 15, 16 and 17 when the juniors and seniors are scheduled to have their individual pictures taken.

Lists have been posted in Bomberger Hall and the Supply Store stating the time at which each student should report to the photographer in Shreiner Hall reception room. There will be a charge of $1.50 for each picture to be paid when the picture is taken.

No persons will be excused even temporarily from a mid-semester examination to have his picture taken. If such a conflict in schedules should occur, the student is asked to contact Betty Sheffer or Fred Nicholls by Wednesday.

All senior write-ups for the 1950 Ruby have been assigned and must be handed in by Friday.

European Student Enters Ursinus After Long Delay

by Joyce Derstine '50

Yesterday afternoon the last student for the fall term came to Ursinus in the person of Mr. Mykola Saporoshenka, who is Ursinus' DP student from Europe. Mykola is one of about fifteen such new arrivals in this area.

Mykola will live at the Annex and enter into school activities in the science or mathematics group. Because of his late arrival, he will probably audit classes for several months.

His stay here in the United States is not a temporary one, for he expects to become a regular citizen.

Directly responsible for Mykola's coming here is the college administration which is financing the greater part of his expenses. The Y will supplement the administration's aid with funds from its budget, and Mykola himself expects to work—on the side.

It was only after careful screening and selection that our newest student from abroad was chosen. He is being directly sponsored by Ursinus College and the student body.

Scheduled to arrive in time for the opening day of the fall term, Mykola was held up in Europe because of transportation difficulties and official red tape. His arrival in Boston on Saturday came only as a result of patient waiting and long suffering with quarantines and the like.

Mykola, whose quiet, pleasant manner has impressed all who have met him, has a personal history filled with more danger and hardship than many of us will ever know. Although his home in boyhood days was spent in the Ukraine, Mykola has not seen it for seven years.

At the age of 18 he was impressed into the Russian army and very soon became a sergeant in the artillery. Approximately two years (Continued on page 6)

Philip Organizes 125 For Twelfth Chorus Of Famed Oratorio

The festive spirit of Christmas has invaded Ursinus College as the strains of "For Unto Us a Child is Born" and "Hallelujah" echo from Bomberger Chapel. These are the first signs of one of the leading traditions at Ursinus College, the annual presentation of Handel's Messiah. This year's chorus, under the direction of Dr. William F. Philip, will give the twelfth performance of the famous oratorio in Bomberger Chapel on December 8.

Since the first performance, in which only the Christmas section was given, the chorus has grown from 50 voices to the present group of 125 voices, including the three sections of the Messiah. The ability and talent of last year's chorus was exhibited by their performance on station WVAR and their presentation of the Easter portion of the oratorio at Wanamaker's in Philadelphia.

The guest artists have not yet been announced, but Dr. Philip has (Continued on page 6)

Band, Singers Plan Combined Concert

On Thursday evening the combined band and Meistersingers chorus will present a concert for the student body.

Featured on the program are the following numbers by the Meistersingers: "Invictus" by Huhn, "Morning" by Speaks, "Nocturne (Poem)" by Fibich-Bourdon, "It Cannot Be a Strange Countree" by Repper, "The Band Played On" by Ward, and "Gospel Boogie" by Abernathy.

The band will play "March Project," "March Safety," and "March Military Escort," all by Bennett; "Down by the Station," and "On Wisconsin" by Purdy.

Last Thursday evening the Music Club of Ursinus College presented its first student recital of the year in Bomberger Chapel. Kathryn Haney opened the program with the singing of Bohm's "Calm as the Night" and Weather (Continued on page 6)

Old Timers Return For Traditional Day; Varsity Queen Rules

Enthusiastic welcomings of both grads and undergrads dominated the campus week-end scene as Ursinus' alumni returned for the gay reunions of Old Timers' Day Saturday.

Highlight of the roster was the appearance of Marjorie Justice '51, Varsity Queen, at the afternoon's football battle with the traditional rivals F & M. The pretty ruler accepted her position with grace, and was presented with a bouquet and trophy at the Varsity Club Dance in the evening.

Sororities occupied the noon hour, greeting alumnae at pre-game luncheons in the nearby restaurants of the area, while fraternities scheduled reunions for the dinner hour.

Joe Farina's band, featuring the voice of Kay Karol, provided the satisfying atmosphere for the climax of alumni festivities at the Varsity Club Dance.

Undergrad events began Friday evening with a pep rally to do Atlantic City proud. Beauty and the beast became one and the same as several members of the male population represented Miss Drexel, Miss Swarthmore, and all the other schools on the football schedule's list of opponents. ## Author - Publisher Strongly Denounces Britain's Welfare State as Totalitarian

by Fred Nicholls '50

Cecil Palmer, British author and lecturer, spoke on the effects of Socialism in Great Britain Tuesday evening in Bomberger. Mr. Palmer spoke under the auspices of the Superior Tube Company and the College before an audience of both students and townspeople.

The speaker condemned strongly the present Labor government of Britain and claimed that their socialistic policies would only lead to the complete bankruptcy and ruin of the nation.

Mr. Palmer was vehement in his rejection of the "welfare state," terming it the "servile state." The principle of "fair shares for all" was denounced as only creating "poverty for all." The speaker claimed that the "welfare state" can only be guaranteed at the lowest level and then only by totalitarian methods.

The well-known publisher also attacked the principle of socialized medicine which is the law in Great

FORUM SPEAKER

Nola Luxford, O.B.E., noted woman lecturer, actress, and author, will be the Forum speaker this Wednesday evening at 8 p.m. in Bomberger Chapel. Her discussion of the topic "Prospects for Peace" will be based on her recent observations in post-war New Zealand, Australia, and Europe.

Calendar Indicates Vigorous, Far-Flung Week-end Schedule

Dances, Sports Events Promise Varied Activities for Students

by Anne Hughes '50

Hold it! Just because it says here—on the social calendar—"Football, P.M.C., Away," don't let that be a signal for all of you to leave campus. Take another look! There's more of that black print describing the week-end activities—quite enough to induce many students to remain here.

On Friday the busy WAA has scheduled a record dance in the T-G gym.

On Saturday you'll have a chance to see our soccer team play Lehigh, unless, of course, you are lucky enough to hop a ride to Beaver to see Snell's Belle's beat (here's hoping) the Beaver gals. Maybe you'll be able to make it a continuous hop to Chester where you can watch the Bruin eleven battle the Cadets.

The Hayseed Hop, which you've been hearing so much about, is going to jive at 7:30 p.m. on Saturday evening down in the T-G gym. The Pre-Med Society wants you to come, dance, and enjoy yourselves until 10:30 p.m.

For those industrious creatures who don't feel capable of a night of "toeing it," there are plenty of textbooks, workbooks, and anthologies handy, just waiting for a pair of eager eyes to gaze upon them. Everyone to his own taste, as they say in better circles.

Sommers To Appear For "Starlight Ball"

"Rhythm and Rhyme in Sommer-time" will be the feature of the evening when the Senior Class takes over Sunnybrook on Friday, December 9 from 9 p.m. to 1 a.m. for the Senior Starlight Ball, a strictly formal and really gala affair.

George Sommer and his orchestra have been chosen to supply the music for the last big dance of the class' college career. The combination, which consists of eleven men, has a special style featuring the woodwinds and French horns in all its arrangements with a surprising innovation for clarinets. This group is receiving wide acclaim on college campuses and well-known ball- (Continued on page 6)

Campus Y To Boost Annual WSSF Drive With $1000 As Goal

Gilley, Wenner Announce Roster Of Speakers, Movies, Dances

The annual World Student Service Fund Drive, sponsored by the Y on campus, will take place November 13-18. This drive is held to raise funds for foreign students who lack both money and the proper educational facilities.

Co-chairmen for the campaign are Jeanne Cilley '52 and Nelson Wenner '51. To make the students here at Ursinus constantly aware of the drive and of its worthiness, they have planned a week-long roster of activities.

On Sunday evening Mr. Philip Egerton, authority on student conditions both abroad and in the United States, will speak at the regular vesper service. He will also address students in chapel on Monday morning.

Faculty Night

The faculty will reveal talents undreamed of Wednesday night as they add their efforts to the campaign.

On Friday, November 18, the program will reach its climax. At 6:50 p.m. they will sponsor the pep rally in the Thompson-Gay gymnasium. Immediately following, a 20-minute film, This Is Their Story, will be shown. It will give a brief description of student life in Europe.

After the movie, the Reverend Paul C. Scheirer, well-known area square dance caller, will lead the group at a barn dance.

Scout Men To Form Service Fraternity At Meeting Tonight

by Dick Hector '53

This evening at 6:45 in Bomberger Hall, a meeting will be held for the purpose of organizing a new campus fraternity, Alpha Phi Omega. Forty Ursinus men have indicated an interest in this unusual new endeavor.

Jack Corcoran '50, Jack Christ '51, and Bill Walls compose the trio plugging Alpha Phi. The posters on bulletin boards across the campus have been attracting crowds of interested students.

Alpha Phi Omega is a national service fraternity composed of college and university men who are or have been previously affiliated with the Boy Scouts. The requirements for membership are: (1) previous training in scouting; (2) a desire to render service to others, and (3) satisfactory scholastic standing.

Interested students must undergo a period of pledgeship consisting of one service duty prescribed by the chapter before attaining full initiation.

The motto of the fraternity "To assemble college men in the fellowship of the Scout Oath and Law; to develop friendship and promote service to humanity," arrives at a time when school spirit is gaining momentum.

COEDS TO CEMENT RELATIONS AT BIG-LITTLE SISTER PARTY

On Tuesday, November 15, there will be a Big and Little Sister party in the combined Rec Center and Day Study at 7:30 p.m.

The party, given to help the big and little sisters develop closer ties, will consist of games and refreshments. Heading the committee in charge of the affair is Ginny Smith '51; those assisting her are as follows: Norma Marmor '51, Eleanor Jones '51, Miriam Kulp '51, Mary Ruth Muffley '50, and Sue Letson '50, the last-named being in charge of Big Sisters this year.

FTA Offers Talk on Opportunities

The FTA will meet tomorrow in room 7 of Bomberger at 7:30 p.m. The topic for discussion will be "Salaries and Opportunities for Teachers."

Membership in the FTA is still open, and anyone who wishes to join is welcome.

COMING DRIVES

The annual events of the Ursinus social season are beginning to materialize, with the approach of dates appearing on the recently released Social Calendar. The past week-end is but one of many which create the social life of the college.

Coupled with the opening of the social events are the not-far-off charitable drives which have also become a part of the school activities. The WSSF Drive and the Toy and Clothing Drive are two of the most well-known in the offing.

In past years, the amounts contributed to humanitarian campaigns have fallen short, in some cases far short, of the goals set for the student body. The WSSF Drive, the Cancer Drive, and the Red Cross Drive all suffered this same experience last year.

The WSSF goal of $1000 materialized into $491.82; the Cancer Drive's hoped-for $500 resulted in $246.96; the Red Cross collected $132.37. This amounts to a total of $421.15, which, when divided by the student enrollment of 1040, amounts to $.40½ per student for the whole year. Since the faculty contributes a good share to the campus drives, the amount donated per student is even less. Unfortunately we have no record of other expenditures of college students throughout the year.

It makes a discouraging record to see Ursinus students chalk up unsuccessful campaigns in such unrelenting succession, not just last year, but in previous years as well. The goals have not been exorbitant, and our failure to meet them has put us behind the other colleges of this area.

There is little doubt that most college students cannot afford to give large sums to these beneficial efforts. On the other hand, there is little doubt that anyone of us has the right to withhold our contributions from at least a few of these campaigns. There is a large enough selection for those who, for some reason, disapprove of a particular drive to support another one, for the campaigns are as diverse as the people who give to them.

There is a great tendency for all of us to become very much enclosed in our own little webs—to forget that we are really the luckier ones in the world as we hear so often. Whether we feel the need for supporting efforts to help the less-fortunate is "our own business" according to some. However, to others it seems our business to feel the need. How we decide affects more than our pocketbooks.

— Betty Leeming '50

Collegiate World

After almost an hour of straight facts in her first geology class, a new frosh coed blandly asked the prof, "You don't mean that we have to 'memorize' all these names and things . . .?"

The prof weary after so many questions of the same nature, year after year, replied brusquely, "Do you know of any class where you DON'T have to memorize?"

A huge character, slouched in his first row seat, answered boredly, "Physical education." — "Syracuse Daily Orange".

"The Indian" of Newberry College, South Carolina reports, "Pop" Ruff, over at the canteen, meets all kinds of characters. One day last week he watched astounded while a student put eight spoonfuls of sugar in a cup of coffee and proceeded to drink it without stirring it first.

"Why don't you stir it," suggested 'Pop'.

"The student regarded him coldly and said, 'Who likes it sweet?'"

Viewbook Becomes New Ursinus Agent Throughout Nation

by Jack Young '51

Returning to life after a dormancy of ten years, the Ursinus College Viewbook is gradually being distributed throughout the United States as the literary salesman of Ursinus. College guidance counselors of numerous high schools and preparatory schools throughout the United States will receive this pictorial representation of Ursinus.

The tendency toward continuity, the historical approach, and the inclusion of a map on the inside back cover are a few of the improvements included in the 1950 Viewbook over its forerunner of 1940. The large map, which presents the prospective student with a diagrammatic as well as a verbal interpretation of the location of Ursinus, is an outstanding feature of the Viewbook.

Other improvements are the vivid photographs, the presence of students in nearly all scenes, a suggestion of the religious influence, a presentation of the three scientific laboratories, and a representation of most of the major sports.

Photographers William M. Ritase, Allan Cleaves Dodge, Ursinus alumnus Ray Tanner and the Livingston Publishing Company of Narberth are responsible for the pictures, while the organization and content of the Viewbook are the work of President Norman E. McClure, Vice-President Donald L. Helfferich, Esq., Registrar Dr. William J. Phillips, and Assistant Registrar Professor William S. Pettit.

Caracas Native Adds Diversity to '53 Class

When Ovidio Antonio Perez docked at Miami, Florida, on May 14, 1946, he couldn't speak a word of English. A little over three years later he entered Ursinus as a freshman, speaking fluent English.

A native of Caracas, Venezuela, Ovidio went to the Miami Military

Academy after his arrival in this country, and it was there that he learned to speak English. He was the only person in the school who spoke Spanish and it was difficult for him to master this strange tongue without an interpreter. But he started, and one of the first things that he learned, strange as it may seem, was slang. He turned to the grammar books only after "having gotten slang."

His folks moved to Lake Grove, Long Island, after he had gone to Miami Military for a year and a half and the husky footballer transferred to Lake Grove High School. "But when they made Lake Grove coed," says Ovidio, "father thought I wouldn't do much studying there, so I went to New Hampton, New Hampshire, where I was graduated last June." (P.S. Dad—Ursinus is coed).

Ursinus was one of the schools recommended to Ovidio by the School and College Association of America. Other schools included on his list were Temple and Haverford. Ovidio says he chose U.C. because he "thought it would have much more of a friendly attitude than a large school such as Temple; and of course, Haverford is an all-male school."

Perez likes the states very much, but says "Venezuela is still Venezuela." The biggest difference between his homeland and the United States, he says, is our racial prejudice problem. Venezuela has no such problem.

The climate, too, is difficult. Our 98 degree heat waves are almost ice-box temperatures in comparison to the "120 in the shade" readings in Venezuela.

Nevertheless, Ovidio does like the United States and especially Ursinus. And Ursinus has taken a liking to Ovidio, too. Welcome to Ursinus, Ovidio!

Three Twirlers Add Baton Intricacies To Marching Band

Foremost in the retinue of the year's improvements visible to Saturday's visiting alumni was the bigger, better and more beautiful (thanks to new uniforms) band, especially the three high-stepping coeds maneuvering the instrumentalists.

With a twist of the wrist and a flip of the elbow, the leader of the trio, Carol Lucas '53, is off to a most impressive routine. Eyes wide and jaws agape, the well-populated stands witnessed Carol's fine performance of rhythmic baton work. A Shreinerite from Glassboro, New Jersey, this biology major gained experience with both her high school band and the Gloucester-Salem Counties Boy Scout Band. Carol is a member of the Curtain Club, and claims an interest in semi-classical music.

Laura Bechtel, a second-semester freshman of Duryea, appeared as specialty twirler for Henry Snyder High School, Jersey City, New Jersey. An English major, Laura is preparing for a teaching career.

Completing the threesome is Ruth McCartney, also from New Jersey, and a veteran majorette. Hoping to travel to Mexico City someday as a Spanish interpreter, Ruth is majoring in modern languages. In addition to band activities this freshman is a member of the Messiah chorus and the Spanish club.

Chaff . . .

You mean all those people went here? Pretty soon they'll have enough to start a pyramid club. It wasn't even safe to count on sleeping in your own bed (in fact, a bed) this week-end. Met more old dorm-sisters every time we hit the hay—spread on the floor, that is.

Collected three welcome kisses from three different fellows at the Varsity Dance. Of course, we never saw them before, but far be it from us to spill the beans. They probably only went to Ursinus on the way out of Graterford on a dark night.

The impromptu concert in the Library the other evening was really quite pleasant. Since no one had as yet gotten around to pretending to be studying it didn't interrupt anything—outside of twenty-five conversations, that is. It's the only thing that has ever created silence in that place, and that only lasted two seconds. The music itself was quite commendable. The static particularly is destined for bigger things.

You know, these practice-teachers really have an angle worked out in spite of all their griping. They only have to go to lunch two week-days.

Korean Compares Hawaii U., Ursinus

For the first time in his life, on August 29, 1949, a young Korean left Honolulu by plane bound for San Francisco. This was to be his first stop on a long journey eastward. His destination was Ursinus College, located in the small town of Collegeville, Pennsylvania.

Dan Hong had never before seen the United States, but he had heard all about it from a brother who attended the University of Minnesota and a sister who majored in social work at the University of Ohio. Dan is the sixth in a family of four girls and four boys.

Dan Young-Ho (which means "long life") Hong was born in Honolulu on the island of Oahu twenty years ago of Korean parents. His father is employed by the Nehi bottling company which has a plant in Hawaii, and owns some real estate interests. Dan learned to speak English in the Hawaiian schools, in which English is the primary language and the mother tongue is secondary.

Having completed two years in the pre-med department of the University of Hawaii, Dan decided to complete his pre-professional education at Ursinus, through the recommendation of a medical friend who had attended the University of Pennsylvania.

Among the favorable impressions which Ursinus has made on this new student are the dining room system and the histology laboratory. Dan appreciates the fact that students here do not have to wait in long lines for their meals as they did in the U. of H. Ursinus' histology laboratory is also a definite improvement over that of his former school. Its individual places for work, lamps, steel desks, high powered microscopes and drawers in which to keep equipment contrast strongly with the less elaborate laboratory supplies of the Hawaiian counterpart.

Ursinus is quite different from the University of Hawaii in three respects: the size, since the U. of H. has almost four thousand students; the over-all friendliness here; and the large percentage of resident students at Ursinus. Although education is very highly regarded in Hawaii, and there is a large enrollment of pre-medical students, not many of them, according to Dan, can afford to continue their education in American medical schools.

Dan is another example of the growing desire for education among all the peoples of the world, and we sincerely hope that his stay at Ursinus will be beneficial, both academically and socially.

Academy Reveals Diversified Program For All Music Fans

by Barbara Crawford '52

The advent of fall marks the beginning of another Philadelphia season of fine musical and theatrical entertainment. By special arrangement with Miss Emma Feldman, Concert Manager, a group of ten or more students may be offered a special rate for some of these functions from time to time. Anyone wishing to take advantage of this may do so through the Weekly office.

A series of Concerts for Youth will be given by the Philadelphia Orchestra, Eugene Ormandy conducting. These concerts, limited to youths between the ages of 13 and 25, bring the finest in symphonic music at a price within reach of any student's budget. Several special events have been announced including an art and writing contest and a ballet by the Nadia Chilkovsky Dance Theater Company.

There will be a Tchaikovsky program November 11 and 12. Other performances include the appearances of William Kapell, pianist on November 16; Robert Casadesu, pianist, on November 18 and 19; and John Hammond, soprano, on November 25, 26, and 28.

Nelson Eddy will present a concert on November 9, while November 10 and 11 will mark the first American appearance of the Sadler's Wells Ballet, direct from the Royal Opera House, Covent Garden, London. Such stars as Margot Fonteyn, Robert Helpmann, Alexis Rassiné, and Moira Shearer, the latter having already won American fame as the brilliant star of The Red Shoes, comprise this group.

Two old favorites of opera goers will be presented next Monday at 8:15 p.m. They are known as the operatic twins, Mascagni's Cavalleria Rusticana and Leoncavallo's Pagliacci.

Sharing the honors in Pagliacci are Frank Guarrera, who will sing the prologue and the arias of Tonio, the clown; and Assietta Tessi, who will portray Nedda. Giuseppe Bambaschek will conduct.

Major Ed Wall, Harvard, '40 -Flying Executive, U.S. Air Force!

Born in Newark, N. J., he moved to Boston at an early age, graduated from the public Latin high school in 1936, entered Harvard the same year, where he majored in economics and government.

"Active on the campus" — he played football, earned his letter on the boxing team. He worked part-time in a variety of jobs from bouncer to baby sitter, received his AB degree in 1940.

He enrolled in Harvard Law School, left at the beginning of the war to become an Aviation Cadet. In December, 1942, he won his pilot's wings, received a Reserve commission as Second Lieutenant.

Assigned to anti-sub patrol duty, he flew B-25's and B-17's before going overseas in 1944, where he flew 30 missions as a B-24 pilot. Shot down over Germany, he was a prisoner of war for 3 months.

Back in the States with his English wife, he earned his Regular commission. Then he returned to Harvard under the Air Force college training program, receiving his LLB degree in 1949.

Now, he is confident about his future and security. As a pilot and legal officer of Bolling Air Force Base, D. C., Major Ed Wall is a typical U. S. Air Force flying executive . . . with a challenging career.

If you are single, between the ages of 20 and 26½, with at least two years of college, consider a flying career as an officer in the U. S. Air Force. You may be able to meet the high physical and moral requirements and be selected for training as an Aviation Cadet. If you do not complete Aviation Cadet training, you may return to civilian life or have opportunity to train at Officer Candidate School for an important officer assignment in non-flying fields.

Air Force officer procurement teams are visiting many colleges and universities to explain these career opportunities. Watch for their arrival—or get full details at your nearest Air Force Base, local recruiting station, or by writing to the Chief of Staff, U. S. # Curtis Emerges Victorious in Football; Play-offs To Determine League Winner

by Ed Klein '52

Mighty Curtis came out of the intramural football season with a winning combination that showed five victories against a lone defeat. Using a two platoon system, something new to interdorm competition, Curtis outmanned and over-powered all opposition to end in first place in the final standing of the first intramural competition of the season. The lone defeat came at the hands of a quick-striking aggregation from Off-campus, who started too late in their own belated efforts for top honors. Along with Brodbeck and Derr, they were tied for second place with a four and two ledger. Brodbeck had been tied for first place with Curtis, but was edged out in their final game with Derr. The Annex, Stine, and Freland followed the leaders, in that order.

Playoff Decided

It was decided at a meeting of the four top team managers to hold a Shaughnessy play-off, starting today and continuing tomorrow afternoon. It was arranged that Curtis and Off-campus meet this afternoon on one field, while Brodbeck and Derr battle on the other. The winners of this afternoon's game will play each other tomorrow for the first and second places, while the two losers will vie for third and fourth positions.

Those members of the winning team in the play-off will receive medals. All four teams will receive points towards the trophy presented at the end of the year for the most points compiled in all of the year's intramural contests.

Managers Cited

Every game was a clean, well-fought contest, played to the hilt. This is clearly indicated by the scores of the games — all close-fought affairs. The managers of the respective teams deserve praise for their excellent job in getting their teams to appear for the games. The managers are: Curtis, Dave McMillan; Off-campus, Bob Ziegler; Brodbeck, "Mac" McCluskey; Derr, Willy Baxter; Annex, Joe Walker; Stine, Mac Condie; and Freland, Ford Bothwell.

The final standing of the teams is as follows:

	Won	Lost
Curtis .....	5	1
Off-campus .....	4	2
Brodbeck .....	4	2
Derr .....	4	2
Annex .....	3	3
Stine .....	1	5
Freland .....	0	6

Ursinus Bows 16-45 To Reading Runners

Last Thursday afternoon the Ursinus cross-country squad lost its second meet of the season 16-45 to Albright on the Reading course, which boasts the longest and steepest hill of any cross-country course in the northeastern United States.

Joe Shaw again paced the Bear harriers, while Paul Scheirer, Whistler Donahue, Ralph Ziegler, and Randy DeWitt finished in that order behind him.

Freshman runners Charley Schegel and Dutch Meyers performed well in the three-and-a-half mile contest, as did senior Joe Smith, who ran without having had any practice whatsoever.

The Albright speedsters passed Scheirer and Ziegler after the first quarter-mile and were never headed thereafter. Shaw was the only Bear runner to keep the Red and White leaders in sight throughout the remainder of the race. The meet marked Albright's second victory in three starts.

This afternoon the local runners traveled to Haverford to oppose the Fords and Lincoln University in a triangular meet. On Friday they will journey to Allentown for the Middle Atlantic Cross-Country Championships. St. Joseph, which shut out Navy and is one of the best squads in the country, is favored in this meet.

FROM THE SIDELINES

by Bob Gehman '50

Tucked away on one of the crowded shelves in Mr. Bailey's workshop, located atop the Thompson-Gay gymnasium overlooking the football field, there is a faded blue loose-leaf notebook entitled Football, 1893—

In this obscure notebook, compiled and edited by the Director of Athletics during the summer months, is recorded football at Ursinus since the first time any eleven represented the Bears way back in 1893 until the present campaign.

Football in the early days was a poor facsimile of the modern day style, for it did not employ the two platoon system, T-formation, scholarship battles, nor four to a dozen coaches per team. Cheerleaders, bands, prancing bears, and acrobats were unheard of, and the handful of onlookers who stood along the sidelines in bowlers and tight pants were a far cry from the capacity crowds of 80,000 which today pack some concrete ovals on a Saturday afternoon.

It is gratifying to note that Ursinus won its first pigskin contest, defeating Melrose Athletic Association 20-0 on the home field. That year the Bears smashed Norristown High School 30-0 for its second win, tied Tioga Athletic Association 4-4, and lost three to complete the season.

The following quotation is culled from the 1893 Weekly, describing the Phoenixville tussel. "Men in the Phoenixville line were gentlemen, but men behind the line disregarded all rules of football and society. They slugged, throttled, tripped, and cajoled the referee and bulldozed the umpire. Ursinus left field at end of first half, but returned to play upon promise of better treatment. Second half was worse."

The next season, the Bruins took a giant stride in the football world as they secured the services of Ed Lentz for double duty, acting as both coach and captain.

1894 saw the first intercollegiate games played by Ursinus. That year the Bruins lost to F & M 76-0, Haverford 30-0, Dickinson 20-0, but defeated Temple 16-0. As in the year before, fifteen hearty souls comprised the playing squad.

Equipment was ridiculously inadequate. Felt pads sewn on the shoulders of jerseys and adorning the hips and knees of the pants served as body protection for these stalwart gridders. A leather headgear, which could be folded neatly and carried in the hip pocket for convenience sake, and a thick head of hair protected the craniums of the participants.

A new regime entered in 1895 as Cressinger took over the coaching reins. Conditioning was stressed. "For the first two weeks of practice, men ran five miles at 6 a.m. each morning with usual practice at 4 p.m. Special training diet and strict living rules in effect." Success did not follow this program. After defeating Temple 56-0, the Bears lost three games and canceled the rest of the contests that season. "Some men did not seem disposed to obey the orders of the coach and captain. Besides ending season early, some men will be debarred from all athletics for six months."

F & M Downs Bears 27-6 In Old Timers' Day Clash

Bill Fischer Tallies Only Bear Touchdown on Plunge from the One; Cordier, Hartman, Scandiber, Lowder All Score for Diplomats

by Ford Bothwell '51

The Diplomats of Franklin and Marshall attended the Ursinus Old Timers' Day celebration at Patterson Field Saturday, but they left their diplomacy at home and ran roughshod over the Bears by a 27-6 count.

The Bears played their part as perfect hosts, however, as they set up all F & M scores on fumbles. Thus, F & M walked off with its 26th win in the 46-game series, as against 16 losses and 4 ties.

The first time the Diplomats took possession of the pigskin they showed they were not merely paying a social call. They drove from their own 35 to the Bruin 15, aided by a 29 yard sprint by Jack Lowder. Here they were stopped, and as Ursinus took the ball things looked brighter for the alumni crowd.

However, on the next play Howard Roberts fumbled, and F & M recovered on the 8. Four plays later Bob Cordier dashed over from the 2. Herb Galebach booted the extra point, and the Lancaster County eleven led 7-0.

Late in the same period the Bears again fumbled, this time on their own 41. On the first play Galebach faded and pitched a long aerial to end John Hartman, who gathered it in on the 15 and crossed the goal untouched. Galebach again split the uprights.

Bears Start Rolling

In the second quarter the Bruins began to growl. Bill Fischer ran back an F & M punt ten yards to the Ursinus 45. Then Don Young stepped into the picture and displayed some of the finest passing and running of the game.

First he fired a ten yard jump to Bill Dimon, who grabbed it on the Diplomats' 45 and powered his way to the 40. Chic Scirica failed to gain through the line, so the Bears went into a deep spread formation. Unable to find his receivers open, Young tucked the ball under his arm and snaked his way through the entire F & M defense to the 25.

Again Young faded, but this time he flipped a short screen pass to Fischer on the 20. Standing deep on the next play, Young again found his receivers bottled up. As he started running toward the line on scrimmage he was seemingly trapped by a hoard of F & M linemen. But the elusive back slipped away from one tackler after another and brought the crowd to their feet as he scampered to the 17.

A roughing penalty moved the ball to the 2, where Bill Fischer smacked over for the score. Johnny Ehnott's try for the point was wide, and the half ended with F & M leading 14-6.

Diplomats Score Again

The Diplomats took the second half kickoff on their own 15 and marched down the field to the one-yard line. Here Galebach was rushed by the charging Bruin line and fumbled, Ursinus recovering. However, on the very next play Scirica fumbled, and the ball again changed hands. Austin Scandiber scored on a quarterback sneak, Galebach missing the conversion.

Three plays following the kickoff the Grizzlies again fumbled, and the Diplomats recovered on the 25. Jack Lowder barged through tackle for 16 yards to the 9. Mischissin picked up three, and Lowder then took a pitchout and swept his left end for a score. Galebach again converted.

In the fourth quarter the Bruins put on their final drive. Starting from their own 25, Young faked a pass and squirmed for two yards. Then he tossed to Fischer on the 34, the latter leaping high into the air for the catch.

On fourth down Chic Scirica blasted through the line on a fake kick and whirled 14 yards to the 48 for a first down. Young then ran to his right and pitched to end Bill Turner, who juggled the ball as Bernard Ebersole intercepted for F & M on the 27.

This ended the last Bruin threat of the game. The Diplomats moved into Ursinus territory, and although the Bears took possession three times more, they could not produce any sort of sustained drive.

Bears To Encounter Powerful Grid Foe At PMC This Week

by Bill Helfferich '51

This week the injury-riddled Ursinus bears travel to Chester to tangle with a strong PMC aggregation. The Cadets, to date, have won four, tied one and lost two. These include impressive victories over Swarthmore (28-0), Johns Hopkins (21-7), Susquehanna (54-0), and Haverford (20-0).

PMC has proved quite a thorn in Ursinus' side for several years and this year they are again back with a "powerhouse." "Woody" Ludwig has a starting line averaging 207 pounds in weight and 6' 1" in height. This includes such greats as Chips Margavage and Walt Udovich, who was mentioned in the Associated press All-American last fall.

The Red and White's backfield is studded with a host of fine, hard-running ball-carriers, as last years 31-0 score indicates. All-around athlete Bobby Martz will handle the pigskin from under center, while two slippery breakaway runners named Tony Caia and Bob Copley fill in the halfback slots. Rounding out the foursome is hard-driving Ken Bowley, fourth year man and top line cracker.

The athletic department has made arrangements with PMC to have Ursinus students admitted to the game for $.50 with matriculation card for identification. The usual price is $1.00.

ATTENTION ALL WRESTLERS!

Kurt Wieneke, head coach of the Ursinus wrestling squad, has announced an important meeting of all wrestling candidates at 12:30 Tuesday afternoon in Room 7 of Bomberger. Anyone intending to go out for this popular sport is urged to attend this meeting.

Evans Scores Goal To Tie Swarthmore

The Ursinus coeds came from behind to deadlock the Swarthmore hockey team 1-1 in the varsity tilt last Wednesday.

Ursinus had control of the ball during the first ten minutes of the game, but was unable to break through to score. The first tally came when the Swarthmore right wing, Margie Hench, carried the ball down the field and into the goal single-handed.

The play see-sawed back and forth with opportunities to score lost by both teams. Three minutes before the end of the first half Mary Evans, right inner, scored on a follow-up shot on right wing Anita Frick's drive for goal.

The second half was much the same as the first. The Ursinus forwards had the ball in their opponents' striking circle most of the time but failed to take advantage of scoring opportunities.

Laurels should go to the backfield, which did a splendid job, particularly fullback Margie Hooper and goalie Jean Leety.

Fords, Lincoln Defeat Grizzly Soccer Team

Booters Share Gridders' Fate; Yield 3-0 to Fords, 6-2 to Lincoln; Arthur, Peterson Keep Ursinus from Shut-out in Lincoln Tussle

by Roy Foster '51

This past week-end the luckless soccer squad journeyed to Haverford in search of their first victory in intercollegiate competition this season, and returned without finding it. The Fords, controlling the ball most of the game and keeping it in Ursinus territory, posted a fairly easy 3-0 victory.

Throughout the first period, with a stiff wind in their faces, the Haverford line blasted away at the goal with no effect. Their prolonged scoring threat netted them nothing as goalie Larry Pleet and the other backfield men completely baffled the Fords' offense. They controlled the ball, however, and prohibited the Bears from making more than one or two penetrations into Ford territory.

Bearettes Place Six On All-College Club In Week-End Meet

by Jean Leety '52

The Ursinus College hockey team concluded its day of tournament play with a splendid record of two wins and one tie. Participating in the all-college tournament at Swarthmore College, the Belles were outstanding for their aggressive team play.

In addition to their fine standing, six of the Ursinus squad were placed on the all-college teams. Mary Evans and Betty Keyser were rewarded for their fine showing with first team posts, while Joanne Duncan and Margaret Hooper took second team honors, and Marguerite Spencer and Nancy Vadner received third team positions.

The twelve teams who participated in the tournament from the surrounding college district were Beaver, Bryn Mawr, Drexel, East Stroudsburg, Penn, Shippensburg, Swarthmore, Temple, Ursinus, West Chester, Wilson, and an All-Catholic squad composed of players from Chestnut Hill, Immaculata, and Rosemont Colleges. Judged by their coaches, the girls played a series of three games each.

Two Wins, One Tie

Ursinus met with Shippensburg, for their first encounter and was the victor by a 3-0 score. Their second game was a high-spirited contest which ended in a scoreless draw. For their third and final game the Belles played Beaver and battled to a 2-1 victory.

Characterized by their enthusiastic play, Ursinus produced some of their best hockey of the season. The well co-ordinated passing of the fast line was backed up by the equally aggressive play of the backfield.

Fifty-six players were asked to return the following day for the final judging. Four squads were selected from these remaining players. The distribution among the participating schools of the players on the first time was very even. Bryn Mawr placed one, Beaver one, Penn two, Swarthmore two, Temple two, Ursinus two, and Wilson one.

The first three of the four squads chosen will compete in the Philadelphia tournament to be held on November 18 and 19. Next week-end the first team will play the second, and the third team will meet with the fourth.

Godshall Supervises Construction Work For Disposal Plant

Co-operating with the state in its "clean stream" program, Ursinus College has undertaken the construction of a complete sewage interceptor and sewage treatment plant at a cost of $45,706. Begun in June the plant is expected to go into operation in the near future.

Designed to accommodate a population of 12,000, the system includes a complete treatment plant consisting of a screen and grit chamber, an Imhoff tank, trickling filter and final settling and chlorination tanks. Adequate drying beds for sludge are also included. Over a thousand feet of trunk sewer line had to be laid as well as 1050 feet of 2 inch water line and 800 feet of 6 inch water mains.

The system was designed by Whitman, Requardt and Associates of Baltimore, one of the foremost sewerage design engineering firms in the country. Associated with the Baltimore firm in the work was Ivan M. Glace of Harrisburg.

Week-end Events

A somewhat drizzly atmosphere permeated S-12 with the showing of Sentimental Journey, which proved too much for coed emotions.

The farce band and vocalists at the Ruby dance later in the evening reversed the sad trend as Steve Munch and Bill Turner (the new Maharaja of Matador) threw caution and talent to the winds.

Saturday morning amid smoke and early hours the Junior Advisory Committee employed their culinary prowess to feed the hungry frosh and juniors that groped blindly through the morning haze for their outdoor breakfast.

European Student

later he was captured by the Germans and put in a prison camp where he worked "very, very hard."

Finally, when the Allies took over in 1945, he was sent to Kiel in Denmark to a Displaced Persons camp where he entered the university. While there, he achieved the high scholastic record which has been partially responsible for his acceptance here. (Incidentally, Mykola has taught himself all the English he knows.)

The Weekly staff welcomes Mykola to our campus, and urges the student body to become acquainted with him.

erley's "The Little Damosel." Bob Jordan followed her with brilliant piano renditions of Ernesto Licuona's "Danza Negra" and "La Camparsita."

Next on the program was Bill Van Horn, who sang "On the Road to Mandalay" by Speaks and "My Hero" by Strauss. For an encore, Bill sang "Shortnin' Bread."

The recital concluded with the presentation of Sigmund Romberg's "Will You Remember?", Caryll's "Beautiful Lady," Jerome Kern's "All the Things You Are," and, as an encore, "My Little Banjo" by an octette composed of Nancy Mattson, Kathryn Haney, Sally App, Ruth Feidler, Norman Harberger, Charles Pritchard, Jack Christ, and Bill Van Horn.

Much credit for the success of the program should be given to Aubrey Givler, who very ably accompanied both soloists and chorus on the piano, as well as to the other participants and Dr. William F. Philip, head of the Music Department.

"Pygmalion"

On numerous occasions remarks have been overheard in the summer theaters in this area, and even in the playhouses in Philadelphia, to the effect that "I've seen better plays at Ursinus." It is indeed gratifying to note that productions here have received attention far from the campus boundaries. The cast has been happy to hear that there is a fine chance for this show to be taken on the road, but more of this in a later issue. Suffice it to say that the play is taking shape beautifully, and it seems that the Curtain Club will have another success to add to its list when December 2 and 3 have passed.

Messiah

arranged to secure the services of from ten to fifteen members of the Philadelphia Orchestra who will be combined with the college orchestra.

Ablly assisting Dr. Philip are Robert Jordan '51, who is serving his second year as accompanist, and Elsie Gruber '53, who is acting as assistant accompanist. The business manager is Dan Bomberger '51, and the sectional directors are Nancy Mattson '50, in charge of altos and sopranos, and Jack Christ '51, leading the tenors and basses.

Tickets will be distributed to the student body before Thanksgiving, and any remaining tickets may be secured by the students for their parents and friends. A later presentation in Norristown is pending.
