Cytologists To Give Material on Cancer From U.S. Research

Two European specialists in microscopic analysis of cells will come to Ursinus Wednesday evening to speak on the latest advances in cancer research. The lecture, to be presented in English in S12 at 8 p.m., is sponsored by the French Club. They will also discuss pre-medical education in France.

The cytologists, Dr. Jean Pasquier of Geneva, Switzerland, and Dr. Etienne Lasfargues of Paris, France, are among the ten men in the world engaged in this branch of work. They have been in the United States about two years and plan to remain for approximately six more months until their experiments are completed. At present the young doctors are working at the Cancer Research Institute in Philadelphia, one of the newest and most modern cancer clinics.

Educated in Paris, both doctors received their M.D.'s from the University of Paris. They are both members of the highly honored Pasteur Institute of Bacteriological Research of Paris. A general physiologist working on cancer research, Dr. Lasfargues has worked at the Institute of Copenhagen, Denmark. Dr. Pasquier, is a hematologist, and does research in radioactive material; he will publish a paper on his field.

The French Club invites all students and members of the faculty to attend these lectures.

Sophs To Highlight Velvet Mood at Hop; Present Art Brown

The Soph week-end offers campus he-men an opportunity to reciprocate for invitations to the Lorelei by bringing their favorite dates to the T-G gym for some smooth dancing at the semi-formal given by the Class of '52 on Friday evening, March 10, from 8 to 12 p.m.

Music will be furnished by Art Brown and his orchestra—brought here from Trenton, New Jersey, for the occasion. President Bob Henderson has announced that formal attire is strictly optional—your preference sets the rule.

The decoration committee, headed by Nancy Jordan, has formulated plans to carry out the theme of "Velvet Mood."

Herm Lintner is chairman of a committee which is drawing up plans for a class party to be held Saturday evening, March 11. Only sophomores and their dates will be admitted. A mock night club will set the theme, and entertainment and refreshments will be provided.

Acting as dance chairman for the hop are Richard Kiszonas and Joan Farquhar. Chairmen of the respective committees are as follows: advertising, Nelson Fellman; decoration, Nancy Jordan; refreshments, Roland Heinel; and program, Robert Meckelnburg.

The guests for the evening will be Dr. and Mrs. Norman E. McClure, Mr. and Mrs. Donald Helfferich, Mr. and Mrs. John W. Clawson, Miss Camilla B. Stahr and Mr. and Mrs. G. Sieber Pancoast.

Mr. and Mrs. Geoffrey Dolman and Mr. and Mrs. Roger Staiger will be the chaperones.

ANN ROYER RECEIVES AWARD FOR HIGHEST CHEM I AVERAGE

Ann Royer '52 received the 1950 Achievement Award in first year college chemistry at a meeting of the Beardwood Chemical Society last Monday evening.

Gilbert McClellan '50 presented her with a copy of The Handbook of Chemistry and Physics, which was donated by the Chemical Rubber Publishing Company. Ann, who is a mathematics major and a science minor, had the highest average of both the chemistry I sections. She is a member of the Booster Committee and is at present interested in organizing a riding group on campus.

The second highest average in Chemistry I was attained by Kathleen Aeckerle '53, a chemistry major.

Clothing Drive Opens Today For Overseas

Student Councils To Supervise Dorm Contributions, Provide Boxes While Social Groups Donate Shipping Expenses to India, Japan

Today marks the opening of a clothing and textbook drive that is being sponsored by the Social Responsibility Commission of the YM-YWCA. The campaign was prompted by letters which the Y received from Ursinus alumni who are affiliated with Christian colleges in Endai, Japan and Batala, India.

Both Mr. L. E. Williams, staff member of Baring Union Christian College in India, and Dr. Nishi-

Coed Societies Map Strategy in Rushing Season's Candidates

March 6 to 9 has been designated rushing week by the Inter-Sorority Council, at which time upperclassmen and also transfer women students who have been here at least one rushing season will be eligible to receive bids from the five sororities on campus.

There will be no parties given by any of the sororities, but rushing will be in full swing throughout the week. The climax will be reached by the signing of bids on Friday, March 10, in Room 7 of Bomberger at 12:30 p.m.

Rushing by any sorority members before 7 a.m. on March 6 or after midnight on March 9 will be considered illegal. Influencing rushees to join sororities other than your own will be discouraged also as illegal rushing. Girls on the ineligible list may not receive bids at this time.

It should be noted by prospective members that there are twelve openings in both Kappa Delta Kappa and Phi Alpha Psi, while Alpha Sigma Nu may rush nine persons. Tau Sigma Gamma offers three girls membership and Omega Chi may select two people to fill the standard sorority quota of thirty-five members.

Unlike the men's system of one rushing season, the coed social societies engage in two membership campaigns each school year.

The tactics to be used by the Greek organizations in the week of rushing are determined by the inter-sorority council, composed of two members, the president and vice-president, from each sorority.

Actors To Produce One-act Group Plays

The Curtain Club will present six one-act plays during this semester, it was announced at a meeting of the organization last Tuesday evening. These will be in addition to the major Spring production, Junior Miss, and the operetta, A Waltz Dream, which will be produced in conjunction with the Music Club.

The short dramatic works will be given two a night on Tuesdays early in March, April and May, and will be directed by Jackie Keller '51, Ivan Leaman '51, Bert Husband '52, Fred Beckhardt '50 and Emile Schmidt '51. Assistant directors scheduled thus far are Nancy Bare '51, Carol Lucas '53, Joan Deacon '50 and Marge Paynter '51.

The first one on the boards in March will be a production entitled A Woman's Privilege with Bill Jordan '51, as director.

Omwake Receives Committee Job To Make School Business Survey

Assistant Treasurer Stanley Omwake was recently appointed to a special committee of the Eastern Association of College and University Business Officers.

Appointed by Association President Hugh R. Patton, controller of Carnegie Institute, the committee will "make a survey and fact-finding report on the need and desirability of developing a training program covering fundamental problems of college business management."

yama, president of Meyagi College in Japan, stressed the need for warm clothing and textbooks if these institutions are to carry on their work.

In order to lend full support to these requests, the Y group has planned a week of active campaigning, ending Saturday, March 4, in the "Rag Shag" which will be held in the T-G gym starting at 8 p.m.

The sororities and fraternities on campus have agreed to contribute the money necessary to ship our gifts to their destinations. The MSGA and the WSGA are handling collection from the student body. There will be representatives in the men's dormitories to receive contributions. Women students will find collection boxes in each hall.

Both men's and women's clothing is needed desperately. There is a demand for textbooks on any subject. Please remember that it is winter in Japan; also, that textbooks are a necessity everywhere. A poorly clothed and inadequately equipped student cannot be a diligent one.

Cerone Opens Drive For Heart Patients In Talk To Students

The American Heart Association drive officially opened for a two-week period on the Ursinus campus today with an address by Mr. Daniel F. Cerone, of the Philadelphia Health Department.

Mr. Cerone, who is now acting as executive staff director of the drive in Philadelphia, Montgomery, Bucks, Chester and Delaware counties, told students about what is now "America's number one health problem." According to the speaker, a great deal more scientific research is necessary to combat successfully the heart disease, even though great progress has been made within the last 25 years.

Cerone also maintained that most cardiac patients have the ability to maintain normal, self-supporting lives in certain positions, and the co-operation of the public is needed to help these people readjust.

The speaker concluded by urging the student body to support the drive in order to help overcome the disabilities and reduce the untimely deaths caused by cardiac disease.

Mr. Malcolm Campbell, instructor in political science, is the faculty chairman for the drive, while Wallace Smiley '50 is the student chairman. Acting as faculty representative is Mr. James Herbsleb, instructor in economics.

In addition, the Boy Scout fraternity, Alpha Phi Omega, is helping to sponsor the drive. Although this is the first year that the Boy Scouts have undertaken the support of the American Heart Association on a national scale, they have decided to make it an annual feature of their yearly functions.

No goal has been set for the drive, but the chairmen have asked the students to give generously.

OIL BURNER EXPLOSION ROCKS EQUILIBRIUM OF HOBSON HALL

Echoing the sham explosions of Friday night's horror show was one in a more realistic vein. The explosion: Hobson Hall's oil burner; the time: peaceful Saturday afternoon, when any self-respecting oil burner should have been polite enough to remain in tact.

Except for a minor dust storm (within the building) there was no damage done to anything save the oil burner itself. Residents of Hobson found refuge for the week-end in nearby dormitories or went home for a few days.

College authorities report that both building and burner are doing fine and are both in condition, as of today.

Committee Requests Coeds' Suggestions On Customs Matter

Various Complaints Stir Council To Seek Revision of System

There seems to be a great deal of discussion about the revision of women's Soph Rules now underway. I'm sure that the Soph Rules program which has been in effect here at Ursinus has not been beneficial to the students in many ways. Complaints from parents, from the administration, and, most important, from the students themselves have given us just reason to feel that a revision is badly needed.

It was then decided that a committee for this purpose would be set up. The plans formulated by it were to be taken to the Senate, which could either act upon them itself, or take them back to the dormitories for the girls' votes. However, it seems that some of the women students feel that they are having something forced upon them.

The Soph Rules Revision Committee has no intentions of railroading any plan through for

Pre-Legals Prepare For ICG Convention

Ursinus College will be well represented by pre-legal enthusiasts at the regional convention to be held on Saturday, March 18 at Temple University.

Students in the Philadelphia area will attend this convention to prepare legislation which they will submit at the Intercollegiate Conference on Government scheduled for April 14, 15, and 16 at the Capitol Building in Harrisburg. The purpose of this latter convention is to draw a model constitution for the state of Pennsylvania. Mr. G. Sieber Pancoast, dean of men, will be faculty advisor; Wallace F. Smiley '50, a student advisor; and Jim Johnson '51 will be on the publicity committee at the state convention.

During the regional conference Ursinus students will work on the following committees: Bill of Rights, Suffrage and Elections, Preamble—Roger Drechsler (chairman), Jim Johnson, Harold Terres, Fred Nicholls and Bob Healy; Executive, Civil Service—Muriel Scholl (chairman), John E. Davies and

Red Cross Drive To Stage Debut; Representatives To Solicit Dorms

This year the Ursinus Red Cross membership drive will be sponsored by the Women's Senate and the Men's Student Government.

Representatives will be appointed in the boys' dorms, and Senate members in each of the girls' dorms will collect contributions for the drive. In this way an attempt will be made to reach all resident and day students.

The first full week of March has been set aside for donations. The campus agents are asking the co-operation of all students.

Steere To Consider "Sense of Vocation" For Emphasis Week

Activities for Y Week Feature Film, Panel, Chapel Speakers

An address by Dr. Douglas Van Steere, eminent lecturer and author, will highlight the Y-sponsored Religious Emphasis Week which began last evening.

Dr. Steere, who has carved his niche in "Who's Who" and is professor of philosophy at Haverford College, will speak in Bomberger Chapel at 6:45 p.m. on Wednesday on a topic of vital concern to all students, "A Sense of Vocation." The service is a regular Y Association Meeting, to be followed by a question and answer period in the Girls' Day Study. Refreshments will be served.

Dr. Steere comes to Ursinus College with an illustrious background. A Rhodes scholar, Harvard and Oxford graduate, Phi Beta Kappa, and a member of the Society of Friends, Dr. Steere can draw on many personal experiences for his talk. During the war he served as a member of the Quaker mission to Scandinavia, Germany, Finland and Poland.

Next Sunday evening, in place of the regular vesper service, four members of the Ursinus College faculty will form a panel to discuss pro and con Dr. Steere's address and to express their own opinions, having heard the remarks of a professor from a rival college. Dr. John Heilemann, Dr. Donald Baker, Mr.

Week-end Promises Full-time Enjoyment With Carnival, Shag

Two unique events, one sponsored by the junior class and the other by the Y, will fill the nightly schedule this week-end.

Friday evening the 1951 Ruby business staff will open its year-long campaign with a flashing carnival of fun in the Thompson-Gay gymnasium. Not only will the threat of exams, which usually hangs over the spring carnival season, be absent, but there will be no need to crawl under the fence, because the admission is free. Slight charges will be made for admission to the unique sideshows, however, and the evening's entertainment will be complete with music for dancing.

Saturday evening the YM-YWCA will sponsor its "Rag Shag" in the T-G gym. Dancing of every variety will be the main features of the program. Admission will be 25 cents stag, 35 cents a couple, or one good textbook or article of clothing per person. The dance is held in connection with the drive for books and clothing for students in Japan and India. Doors will open at 8 p.m.

FOREIGN SERVICE AGENT TELLS STORY OF ESCAPE FROM ASIA

Mr. John Hall Paxton, United States foreign service officer, who has recently returned from Chinese Turkestan, addressed a special meeting of the IRC Thursday evening in the faculty room of the library.

Mr. Paxton told of his experiences in getting out of Asia by making the first part of his trip by caravan through Turkestan. He was accompanied on this trip by his wife, who came to Ursinus with him, and also addressed a few words to the club on conditions in Turkestan.

Mr. Paxton and his wife were secured through the World Affairs Council of Philadelphia.

Dr. Armstrong Receives Position

At a recent meeting of the board of the Council of the Pennsylvania Industrial Home for Blind Women, Dr. Maurice W. Armstrong, professor of history, was elected to serve as president of the board for the coming term.

Dr. Armstrong has, in addition, been appointed to serve on the board of the Presbyterian Historical Society.

THE BENIGN INFLUENCE

In the title page of the Ursinus College Bulletin appears the following statement:

"An institution where the youth of the land can be liberally educated under the benign influence of Christianity."
—The Founders.

To maintain this "benign influence" there is a religion department which includes a minister who has a full-time job with his church, and a visiting professor who teaches at Temple School of Religion and is on campus Monday night and Tuesday morning. There are, at the most, three religion courses being offered this year.

That such a department cannot offer adequate counseling is obvious. And when students realize the chances of finding counselors when they need advice, they are not inclined to seek them.

It takes funds and diligent searching to establish a full-time position, particularly in the field of religion; but there was a full-time chaplain at Ursinus just a few years ago.

At a time when college chaplains throughout the country are testifying to the great increase of interest in religion shown by students, Ursinus seems to be in an unfortunate position. A school of 940 students warrants at least one person to devote all of his time to the religious needs, be they educational or spiritual, of those students.

Committeemen Seek

the women students; but since it is impossible to hold a number of mass meetings of all the women students in order to revise Soph Rules, a representative committee had to be organized.

There is no concrete plan for revision as yet, and the committee is open for constructive ideas from all of the women students. We have been working on and thinking about this problem very seriously for four weeks, and I feel that it will be many more before we arrive at a satisfactory conclusion. In the meantime, we need the co-operation of the women students if we are to succeed to any degree. Anne Hughes and I will be glad to accept any constructive criticisms or suggestions.

Horseback Riders Meet To Plan Future Activities at Academies

At a meeting held last week of a group of students interested in horseback riding, Ann Royer '52, a riding enthusiast, attempted to determine how many would be willing to organize an informal club.

Although no definite plans have as yet been formulated, the students are in the process of determining the rates and the quality of various nearby academies.

The group, if it becomes permanent, will have no definite club setup, but will have a loose organization that serves to benefit those interested through reduced rates at the riding academies.

Rue Makes Railroads Life Project

Most of us, when we enter the treasurer's office, are so eager to escape before our bank accounts are altogether depleted that we take little time to notice the people who keep the office buzzing with activity.

Mr. James Rue, a genial, soft-spoken gentleman, is usually busy at his desk there where he has worked as accountant for the school for the last twenty-six years.

A Trooper, Pennsylvania resident now, Mr. Rue is a native of Monmouth County, New Jersey. As a youth he worked for the Pennsylvania railroad at its branch in Trenton where he became familiar with station operations.

In 1923, when 250 students attended Ursinus and Pfahler Hall had not yet been built, Mr. Rue took his position at Ursinus.

His zeal for railroads has not waned, however, and they have remained his hobby ever since. Unknown to most of us, Mr. Rue has maintained what amounts to a travel information bureau for both students and residents of Collegeville from his desk in the treasurer's office. Both the Pennsylvania and the Reading Railroads send him schedules each time one is issued, but seldom does he need to rely on one. Even for far-distant points, he readily supplies correct information in a matter of minutes.

Mr. Rue states that travelling has become his recreation, and through it the geography of the United States has become real to him. He has ridden on thirty railroad systems throughout the country and believes that one day spent visiting places of historical interest is worth five in the classroom. Dr. Ralph Sturgis, professor of chemistry, and Mr. Rue have travelled together to many such places.

Another of Mr. Rue's hobbies is to serve as dispatcher for Dr. Sturgis' model railroad, one of the few models run on a scaled time. Mr. Rue has lent his technique to the system and every Friday evening stages a two-and-a-quarter hour demonstration which compares to an eight-hour run.

In spite of his unflagging interest in railroads, Mr. Rue does not regret his decision twenty-six years ago to become a part of the Ursinus family.

Old "Weeklies" Reveal Fads, Innovations As New Dorm, Gate Appear on Scene

by Sally Canan '53

Looking over old Weeklies in the narrow corridors of the library stacks is an amusing business—also, we might add, an enlightening one. (Blackmail, Inc. speaking.)

The Weekly, which was started in 1902, replaced a bi-monthly bulletin.

Forty - eight years ago at Ursinus, according to the issues of that first year, the campus social life was organized in two literary societies, Schaff and Zwingli. They met every Friday evening to present programs of music, readings and plays. In addition, the students enjoyed Oratorical Contests and Freshman Declamation Contests, and the Ursinus football team had an undefeated season against big-name colleges. (Times do change, don't they?) The only familiar sounding events described were the Sunday night vesper services sponsored by the YMCA.

The early papers, since this was before the days of Lantern publications, contained a number of pieces of creative writing. At least one sentimental poem appeared every week, and a separate monthly literary installment, the articles of which extolled in flowery language the virtues of famous gentlemen or soberly reviewed serious books.

In the February 24, 1905 issue, the front page of the Weekly is taken up almost completely by "George Washington's Early Life." Twenty-five years ago at Ursinus, the gateway at the entrance to the main walk appeared for the first time. Glenwood Hall was first opened as a girl's dorm and described as having "spic and span neatness and beauty, hardwood floors, white walls and a homelike arrangement of rooms."

At the first meeting of the women's council, Doctor Elizabeth White, the guest speaker at Color Day this year and then dean of women, encouraged hiking and hockey as suitable fall sports for girls.

This same council also decreed that freshman girls should wear their green ribbons two inches lower on their foreheads. Even at this early date, however, there were a few murmurs against women's customs, for an editorial strikes out against the "weird costumes" worn by the women during Freshman Week.

In 1925, however, the Weekly is beginning to sound familiar. The calendar for the February 25 issue includes a basketball game against PMC, a student council dance and moving pictures shown in Hendricks Hall. The literary societies are no longer mentioned. It was that same year that one of the fraternities, the Apes, was founded. Most of the sororities began in 1929.

We would like to suggest that you browse through a few years of Weeklies on your own, but we shall swiftly settle for just one hurried glance at the forthcoming issue of March 6.

Chaff . . .

Those skeletons Friday night were a perfect example of what over-generosity can do. These clothing drives really get the support, don't they? (To be read in a menacing tone.)

When oil-burners start going on strike too, it's time to pack up for the tropics. Maybe we won't progress, but we won't have to read anymore of Sutherland either. (Special to soc. victims.)

What a way to end a season! (We're talking about the wrestling squad now, slow poke.) Now, if just one of those champs could have used a hold or two on a certain dignitary at the basketball game Saturday night . . . (No names mentioned, you understand, but he don't wear that uniform fer nuthin'.)

With this parting cryptogram we crawl into our three sweaters, two jackets and a portable tupee to shiver with the rest of the frigid public.

"Ruby" Staff To Stage Musical; Begin Tryouts for Cast Tonight

Casting will begin this evening for the Ruby musical production, Back in Civics, to be presented in the Thompson-Gay gymnasium on March 18.

Tryouts for parts in this show by George Saurman will be held at 7 p.m. tonight in Bomberger.

The script is a simple dialogue used to introduce various songs. Piano accompaniment for the singing will be provided.

Annex - dotes

by Dick Hector '53

From the ice-locked Annex comes word of a disc jockey, elections, nominations, and a mascot.

What dormitory boasts its own "platter show"? The Annex does. Our own versatile Byers Bachman is the brainstorm behind the scenes. The show is restricted to the Annex, of course. But with secret speakers impersonating great persons, Baker interviewing Kay Wiley, and Byers broadcasting vesper programs, the show was an immediate smash hit. This yet unnamed hour of charm each evening also plugs campus commercials and has great plans for the future.

The girls at Fircroft are the topic of talk these days with the Yerkes smart set. A certain bio-lab assistant has been unanimously named Miss Maladjustment of 1950. Fircroft, not to be outdone, returned the honor by dubbing a certain favored frosh in "D": the lad with the Bedroom Eyes.

George Ott and Bruce Anderson, through the blessing of the powers that be, have been appointed as the new "house-mothers" to curb the after-twelve enthusiasm of some of our more zealous cherubs.

The week-end saw the loss of our newest Freshman, a lad with a quietly charming personality and an abundant supply of red hair. The pattering of his feet and the thumping of his tail were sufficient to warn the coming of a canine visit. His name — Rusty of Sunnybrook Farm. He was fed through the kindness of CARE packages from the homes of Frosh. He is gone now. He left our ranks to join the throngs who once were Annex-ites.

SWAP SHOP

Long Island, New York—(ACP)—"The Seawanhaka" newspaper of Long Island University has issued a call for a new name. Along with rules of the contest the paper explains the origin of the present name: "In 1636 a Dutchman decided then an old Indian word, 'seawanhaka,' meant Long Island. Why he thought this isn't too clear, but what is important is that he thought it. One thing he did not ponder on however, is that his decision would cause concern in an Eastern university four centuries later . . . In that very same college, in the year 1926, someone picked that word to be carried on the paper's masthead. There's the rub, no one knows who did it. Whoever it was, perhaps realized that this name he had chosen might lose its flavor as time went by. Evidently it has. The chap has covered his tracks well.

East Lansing, Michigan—(ACP)—The manager of Michigan State College's women's dormitories reports she has found a number of persons who are happy about the housing shortage. Fifty-two coeds given temporary housing near the men's dormitories had to eat meals with the men. Now that new quarters are available she reports that women have come to her and requested that she place them at the bottom of the transfer list.

"Ruby" Staff Leers As Night of Horrors Augments Treasury

The black events of last Friday night's "Horror, Inc." are just now freezing into oblivion.

By some feat of dark magic the peaceful stability of the T-G Gym had disappeared and in its place one found an unearthly chamber of horrors containing creatures which even Milton and Dante had never dreamed existed. Called from their homes by industrious seniors to help raise the needed funds for the publication of the Ruby, these beings gave a most unusual evening's entertainment.

Upon entering, even the most hardy individual was startled by the appearance of the ghoulish doorkeeper. Fixing his bulging eye on the victim he bade him enter (in a voice which strangely resembled that of Bill Turner's.) Once inside one shuddered at the piercing screams but reluctantly began the long and unforgettable trip to his seat. The next few moments were a nightmare of crawling through tunnels (of mats), seeing swinging bodies and flashing lights, feeling clammy wet hands on one's face, and being confronted with skeletons and their various companions.

The show began with a dance by three luminous skeletons to appropriate music. Their human counterparts were Joan Kahn, Betty Leeming and Jean Staker. Next the devil himself put in an appearance. He told a few of his many tales of horror and succeeded in creating an atmosphere of gloomy forbidding broken only by a few hysterical laughs.

Following Lucifer, the sad story of a young couple who rented a haunted house was enacted. Before they could get reasonably settled they were disturbed by such minor nuisances as objects floating across the room, a dead body, the Frankenstein monster, and a deathless ghost. Included in the cast were Jack Bower, Betty Leeming, Pat Pattison, Fred Beckhardt and Mac McCluskey. George Saurman and Barbara Shumaker directed the entire affair.

With the sound of pistol shots from the final scene in the play still in the air, the dark spell was lifted from the gym and a record dance followed.

"That's what I like about you, George. You're different. You'll go places."

Emily Loses Face on Ursinus Campus As Student Diners Turn to Rules, Tux

In line with all the new trends apparent on campus these days is the one that involves something heretofore unknown in Freeland Refectory; i.e., table rules for better table manners.

It first made itself known with the publication by the Judiciary Board of Table No. 1 (namely George Mansur, Mac McCluskey, Paul Stubbs, and Bill Walton) of Table Rules, Revised edition.

#1. Promptness at all meals is expected by all members of the table in question. Tardiness will not be tolerated.

#2. When reaching across the table for food (since no one except the ninth member at the table may pass food), do not dip the sleeves of your garment into your neighbor's milk. The reason for this rule is a sanitary one.

#3. When sitting at either end of the table, do not get up to let anyone proceed to the rear of the table. If they can't squeeze through—to heck with them!

#4. All feminine members of the association must be recognized by the head of the table before being seated. Failure to comply with this rule will result in forfeiture of a helping of chili sauce.

#5. All feminine members of this same association must be recognized by the head of the table before being excused from said table. Failure to comply will result in deprivation of the brilliant conversation of the male members of the association.

#6 & LAST. All female members will be expected to come to the table dressed—to kill!!

Science Lib Offers Rare Secluded Nook For Deep Pondering

Unknown to many students and overlooked by others is the lone spot on campus which offers a good, quiet place for study; that spot is the library in Pfahler Hall of Science.

The science library is a credit to Ursinus, for it equals those of most universities in its range of reference material in the fields of chemistry, biology, physics and mathematics. A branch of the main library, it offers great opportunities to those interested in scientific study.

This reading and reference room was part of the original design of the building, because of the recognized need of having science reference books in a more convenient location. Some of the books were transferred from the main library upon the completion of Pfahler Hall and other books have been bought since then on a yearly budget system. About $300 a year is spent on periodicals and serial sets alone, including Beilstein's Organische Chemie, an authoritative German publication.

Valuable contributions have been made by Dr. Sturgis, head of the chemistry department; Dr. Robert Bateman, Dr. Ernest Wagner, and other professors and alumni, who have made chemistry, biology, medical abstracts and journals available to students.

Purchases of books for the science library, as well as for the main library, are determined by their usefulness to the student.

In direct retaliation (though unknown to the retaliators in question) to #6 and last, as quoted above, is the little episode that took place at table #6 Wednesday evening. It seems some female members also expect some male members to come to the dinner table dressed to kill—or perhaps they'd just like to add spice to something besides the food.

Actually, the prelude to the episode occurred on a previous evening with a conversation that ran like this:

Female Member (1) (to Male Member in open-at-the-throat, obviously-no-tie flannel shirt): "Hmm, you look particularly scrungy tonight."

Male Member (2) (up in arms, not manners): "What do you want me to do? Wear a tux?"

Female Member (just kidding): "If you wear a tux, I'll wear an evening gown."

Anonymous Third Party (3): "I heard that!"

One thing led to another, all according to the law of cause and effect, until our two would-be fad-fashioners appeared at dinner in full evening dress.

Gravediggers Ply Trade On Hardwood Lib Tables

by Frank Edwards '50

While most of the student body occupies its Wednesday afternoons with the conventional stuff of Pfahler, Bomberger or the S.S., six would-be savants (including the author) pore over archaeological journals and maps of ancient Greece in an untravelled nook of library. Under the direction of Dr. Baker, this sextet contents itself by exploring the nature and significance of Greek pots and pans (more subtly referred to by the U.C. Bulletin as Classical Archaeology).

Perhaps sociologists would classify these scholars of corroded artifacts as escapists endeavoring to shut off their senses to the prattle of A and H bombs. But, if the question were put to any one of these classicists as to what value he attached to the course, he would probably answer, with a slight Sanskrit accent, "At least, after the Peloponnesian Wars, pots remained!"

Archaeologists the world over have spent their lifetimes digging holes in Southeastern Europe and coming up with relics which contribute much to man's knowledge of his Attic ancestors. Not only have they dug, but also they have catalogued their prized findings in thick tomes which collect dust in damp library basements. For this reason, we do not recommend tubercular or asthmatic students to this course.

Pots are not the only topic for discussion; findings of ancient literature also pervade the learned course. Last week, the six students and Dr. B. reviewed several articles concerning the birthplace of Plato and the scene of the Odyssey's authorship. Having narrowed the possible locations to the eastern coast of the Mediterranean, one of the more enlightened scholars said brightly that Plato must have written the work on the northern sector of that coast. His reason: the

When the books arrived, the minister was overjoyed to find the books containing no advertising matter at all. But on the following Sunday, he was horrified to hear the following:

Greek equivalent of "you-all" does not appear once in the epic poem.

By general agreement, most likely due to a lack of funds, the class has decided against a field trip to the sites of these ancient civilizations. Nevertheless, do not be surprised to find one of these students return to the campus twenty years hence with shaggy beard, sand-burned face, and what he considers to be Grecian pot which will explain all that is not yet known by man. On the bottom, in neat script, will appear the key to all knowledge—the word PYREX.

Garnet Whips Bears 19-11 With Experienced Squad

Swarthmore Wins Five of Eight Matches; Bear String Ends at Ten; Zimmerman, Miller, Helfferich Only Winners for Local Squad

by Ford Bothwell '51

After ten straight victories the Bruin wrestling team finally met their match last Tuesday night, succumbing to an experienced Swarthmore squad 19-11 on the Collegeville mat.

The Garnet gained victories in five of the eight matches, thereby gaining their sixth triumph of the year against two losses. The Bears' loss was their first since an early season defeat to Haverford last year.

Loren Zimmerman provided the locals with a short-lived lead when he decisioned Avery Harrington 6-4. "Zim", inexperienced before this year, racked up his fifth win against a single loss.

Garnet Goes Ahead

The visitors quickly gained the lead in the 128 pound match when French Youngman fought gamely for two periods but subsided in the third. Mike Laws nailed him to the mat in 6:55 with a crotch, half-nelson. The lead mounted when the smooth and clever captain of the Garnet, Ben Fusaro, decisioned Dick Gellman in the 136 pound class 8-1.

Things looked brighter when undefeated Ted Miller, 145 pounds of dynamite, took the mat and worked over Bob Sumner to the tune of 5-2. Miller put on his usual sparkling display, and the visitors' lead was narrowed to 8-6.

In the 155 pound bout Captain

Bill Turner was decisioned 7-2 by Phil Swayne, perhaps the most polished performer on the Garnet squad. Galey Chandler, 165-pounder, was edged 4-0 by Ken Ruhl before Swarthmore's 175 pound Jeff Griest iced up the match by pinning Frank Schiesser in 4:56 with a reverse chancery.

Bill Helfferich provided some consolation in the heavyweight contest when he pinned Clark Palmer in 2:06 with a body press to remain undefeated in collegiate competition. Although the outcome was inevitable, Palmer, weighing only 165, displayed a great deal of spunk against the Middle Atlantic champion.

Junior Varsity Wins

In the preliminary match, the Ursinus JV's won an 18-10 decision over the Swarthmore JV's, as Len Abel, Howard Roberts and Bob Mitchell turned in pins and Bob Meckelnberg won a decision for the Cubs.

Summary:-

121—Zimmerman (U) decisioned Harrington (S), 6-4.
128—Laws (S) pinned Youngman (U) in 6:55 with crotch, half-nelson.
136—Fusaro (S) decisioned Gellman (U), 8-1.
145—Miller (U) decisioned Sumner (S), 5-2.
155—Swayne (S) decisioned Turner (U), 7-2.
165—Ruhl (S) decisioned Chandler (U), 4-0.
175—Griest (S) pinned Schiesser (U) in 4:56 with reverse chancery.
Unlimited—Helfferich (U) pinned Palmer (S) in 2:06 with body press.

Big Night To Come Staff Decides Rules Race Grows Hotter

Attention, all potential wrestling, boxing and foul-shooting champs! Monday, March 20, is the date designated for the traditional Intramural Night. This sporting event has steadily grown in popularity at Ursinus until it is now one of the most eagerly awaited happenings on the athletic calendar.

Climaxing the winter intramural program, it features interdorm competition in foul-shooting and the manly arts of grappling and leather slinging. Medals will be awarded to the champion of each event, and the dorm which enters the most winners will collect points toward the intramural trophy.

All male students who are not included in the varsity or JV wrestling squads, or who have not boxed professionally are eligible to compete in these two events. In addition, all students are eligible for the individual and team foul-shooting contest.

As in past years the gym will be open for contenders who wish to train for their specialty and the mats, gloves, balls and plenty of competition will be on hand. All entrants are urged to take advantage of these facilities in order to be in the best possible condition.

Foul Shooting Rules

Each dorm may enter one five-man team of foul shooters. Interdorm eliminations will be run off on the afternoon of March 20 if necessary. The teams will compete that night, each man shooting fifty times from the free throw line after six warm-up attempts. The squad with the best percentage will win the event, while the best individual scorer of the night will receive a medal and have his name placed on the trophy. The foul shooting will be first on the program, starting at 6:30 p.m.

Wrestling and Boxing Elimination

Each dorm may enter one wrestler and one boxer in each of the lightweight classes. The representative will be chosen through eliminations within the dormitory on March 14 or 15. Depending on the number of men in each class, quarter-finals and semi-finals will be held on the afternoons of March 15, 16 and 17 in order to pick the contenders for the finals. Contestants will be determined by drawings after the weighing in.

All wrestling bouts will be officiated by Bill Turner, captain of the Effective today, the following eligibility rules should help to clarify several situations which have come up this year:

1. An individual who has once participated with one dorm group in league competition cannot change his affiliation until that sport is finished.

2. A member of a varsity or junior varsity squad at the beginning of a sports' season, or one who joins the squad after the season begins, will be ineligible to participate in any intramural competition during that intramural season.

3. In order to be eligible for a championship playoff, a man must have represented his team in at least one game prior to the playoff.

4. A team playing with an ineligible player shall forfeit all games in which the ineligible player participated.

5. Any situations occurring which are not covered by these rules shall be settled by a committee consisting of Mr. Ray Gurzynski, Bob Gehman, and the dorm managers.

Bruin matmen, and will consist of three two-minute periods. Official wrestling rules and the point system will be used to determine winners. Contestants must furnish their own equipment.

Boxing matches will be judged by Ray Gurzynski, intramural director, and will consist of three two-minute rounds, with a one-minute rest between periods.

The wrestling and boxing bouts will follow the foul-shooting contest and should get under way about 7:30 p.m. The bouts will alternate, starting with the 121 wrestling match, followed by the 121 boxing bout, and continuing in this manner.

Application forms may be secured from the following dorm managers: Curtis, Tweed McMillan; Brodbeck, Bob Gehman; Stine, Paul Condie; Freeland, Ford Bothwell; Derr, Will Baxter; and Annex, Bill Dimon. Off-campus men will find forms in the day study and on various bulletin boards around the campus.

Only three games were recorded in intramural basketball competition last week, but two of the games had an important bearing on League II standings.

Freeland turned back Curtis D 37-25 to tie for first place with Curtis B, who defeated Wagner's 34-27. Both teams now boast three wins without a defeat.

In the other contest Bock reversed Brodbeck B 38-28. Paul Doughty was the most productive scorer of the week, pouring in 15 points in the Bock victory over Brodbeck.

Nancy Vadner Garner 13 Points As Belles Match Penn 31-31

Despite the last-quarter rally of the University of Pennsylvania, the Ursinus girls' basketball squad was able to hold out for a 31-31 tie.

The score at the half time whistle was 20-20 and at the third quarter 31-25 in the Belles' favor. The Ursinus forwards played well until the last period when they were unable to sink a shot. The guards, who had some difficulty in the earlier part of the contest, pressed the opposing forwards in the final quarter to keep them from putting in the winning counter. Although the scoring for Ursinus was well distributed, Nancy Vadner was high scorer with 13 points.

The junior varsity contest also ended in a draw. As in the varsity game, Ursinus was ahead until the last few seconds when a Penn forward evened up the count to 21-21.

The Ursinus third team, however, won by a 25-24 score.

Court Coeds Fell Rosemont 26-17 For Season's Second Victory

The Ursinus girls' basketball team defeated Rosemont College 26-17 on Tuesday for their second victory of the season.

The Belles started the contest with a first quarter drive that put them ahead 12-4. However, after this initial spurt the forwards were unable to find openings as abundant during the remainder of the game. The guards played well and held the opposing forwards to only six field goals. Although the scoring was low, it was well distributed among all six of the Ursinus forwards. With a 14-7 half-time score, the Belles increased their lead so that by the final whistle they held a nine-point advantage.

The junior varsity added a third game to their string of victories by defeating the Rosemont jayvees, 25-12. Sally Lumis was high scorer for the Bearettes with 14 points.

Bruin Matmen Take Easy 34-0 Decision From Cadet Squad

by Bill Helfferich '51

Last Saturday the successful Ursinus wrestling team journeyed to Chester to defeat Pennsylvania Military College 34-0. This overwhelming victory ended the dual meet competition for the year and gave the Bears their sixth win of the season against one defeat.

Loren Zimmerman, stellar 121 pounder, and Bill Helfferich, heavyweight, both won by forfeits, giving Ursinus a ten-point lead before the match started. Art Wilkie added three more when he decided Montaznola 6-0.

In the 136 pound class, newcomer Rich Gellman, who has come a long way this season polished off Linsky with a bar-arm and body press in 2 minutes and 17 seconds of the first period. This made the score 18-0.

Miller Remains Unbeaten

The next match pitted dynamic Ted Miller against PMC's Joe Kijanskas. Ted put about every hold in the book on the rangy "45er", but failed to roll him over. Miller won on a decision 6-0.

The 155 pound class matched bruin captain, Bill Turner against PMC captain, Goldhamer. Turner displayed his true form by flattening the stocky Cadet in the second period.

Galey Chandler, popular 165 pounder, added another notch on his belt when he showed Mr. Ennis the lights in 2:58 of the first period. This pushed the score to 31-0.

In the final bout, Frank Schiesser, wiry light heavyweight, decided Reel of PMC 7-2. Although Frank had Reel on his dorsal side most of the match, he was unable to hold him down for the count, and had to be content with a decision.

Summary

- 121—Zimmerman (U) won by forfeit.
- 128—Wilkie (U) decided Montaznola 6-0.
- 136—Gellman (U) pinned Linsky 2:17 (Bar-arm and body press.)
- 145—Miller (U) decided Kizanskas 6-0.
- 155—Turner (U) pinned Goldhamer 5:33. (Double bar-arm.)
- 165—Chandler (U) pinned Ennis 2:58. (Bar-arm and body press.)
- 175—Schiesser (U) decided Reel 7-2.
- Unlimited—Helfferich (U) won by forfeit.

Tank Squad Sweeps Victory From Penn, Taking Five Firsts

The coed swimming team chalked up its second victory of the season by defeating the Penn mermaids 35-22 at Hutchinson pool in Philadelphia last Saturday. The visitors showed much skill and speed, taking five first places.

Anne Marzahl and Jean Cilley, consistent Ursinus winners took first and third places respectively in the fifty-yard free-style. First place in the breast stroke event was clinched by Joan Compton, who is undefeated in intercollegiate competition.

The losers were able to secure only one first place. Peg Mangels was the winner in the back-stroke race, and the second place was awarded to Dorothy Garris.

Ursinus' tank team swept the seventy-five yard medley and the hundred-yard freestyle relay. The latter race was very close. With the lead built up by Jean Cilley, Joan Compton, and Pat Pattison, Anne Marzahl, the anchor man, pulled through for the victory.

Ursinus captain, Pat Pattison, gave a wonderful performance to accumulate 115.5 points and secure first place. Pat's dives showed superior form and co-ordination.

On Thursday in Norristown, the UC coeds will meet the Bryn Mawr tank team.

Summary

- 50 yd. Freestyle—1) Marzahl (U), 2) Cohn (P), 3) Cilley (U), 32.8.

Bruins Drop Two Games As Losing Streak Grows

Haverford Wins Easily 82-59 With Fine Display of Accuracy

by Roy Foster '51

Paced by prolific Sol Tollin, Haverford's visiting quintet moved away from a 37-29 half time score and romped to an 82-59 conquest over Ursinus last Wednesday. The diminutive scoring ace garnered 26 points, sinking half of his 24 shots from the floor, and two of three from the foul circle.

Haverford scored first on Paul Bomze's free toss but Don Young retaliated with a two-pointer. The lead changed hands six times in the first period until the Fords moved ahead 19-10. Young's eight markers, Bill Forsyth's two, and Bob Swett's singleton knotted the count at 21. It was deadlocked again at 23, but from there on it was no contest, as the Fords shifted into high gear and led by an eight-point margin at the midway buzzer.

Fords Shots Drop

The victors widened the gap with a burst of red-hot shooting. At one time in the third quarter they netted eight field goals and four fouls, while only one shot went astray. The Bears failed to keep up the pace and found themselves on the wrong end of an 82-59 score as the game ended.

Bomze followed Tollin in the scoring parade with 19 and Wayne Hurtabise was third with 14. For the Bears, Forsyth was top man with six goals and five charity heaves for a 17 point total. Young threw in 14 the first half but couldn't increase his total. From the foul circle Ursinus made 60 percent of its 25 shots count, but only averaged .293 from the floor. Respective averages for Haverford were .666 and .464.

The JV battle was not decided until the closing seconds, when Haverford's Dave Caskey netted a one-handed stab from the side to win 41-40. Caskey contributed 12 points to the Fords' cause while Jim Devlin led the Bears with 16.

Wrestlers Face Tourney For MA Championship

by George Saurman '50

Boasting a season record of only one defeat in seven dual meets, the Bruin grapplers will embark next Friday afternoon to compete in the Middle Atlantic Wrestling Championships held this year at the University of Delaware.

The preliminary bouts will begin on Friday evening at 8 p.m. Semi-finals will be held on Saturday afternoon at 2 p.m., followed immediately by qualifying matches for third and fourth place. The eight final bouts will transpire on Saturday evening, beginning at 8 p.m. Consolation matches for third and fourth will precede the main event.

The 1950 NCAA rules will be used by referees William Horner and Richard DiBatista. Team points will be awarded according to 6 points for a first place, 4 for second, 2 for third and 1 for fourth. A fall automatically gives the victor's team an additional point.

Four Defend Titles

Only four of last year's champions will be defending their title this year. Riegel of Gettysburg is expected to vie for 155 pound honors, Sout of Gettysburg at 165, Bill Rodewald of Haverford at 175, and Bill Helfferich of Ursinus in the unlimited.

Competition will be keen in all weight classes. However, in the 121 pound division, neither last year's winner nor runner-up is wrestling, and Loren Zimmerman should be right up there.

A similar situation exists at 128 where Art Wilkie will probably represent the Bruins.

At 136 pounds, Erb of Gettysburg and Runk of Delaware will not be seen, but Bucknell's Stainsby and Swarthmore's Fusaro could make the going rough for Richie Gellman.

Teddie Miller's biggest problem will probably be Gettysburg's 145 pounder, Stassman, who was downed by Ursinus' Jim Cox last year in the finals. Seeding will probably cause the two to meet in the finals.

Captain Bill Turner will find the going rough from start to finish in the 155 pound class, but one bright spot is the fact that Phil Swayne of Swarthmore will not be in the race. Lafayette's newcomer, Rupp Bing, will be a favored contender along with defending champion Russ Riegel. Among the 165 pounders, defending titlist Sout will give the Bears' challenger, Galey Chandler, something to shoot for.

At 175 Haverford's Bill Rodewald will probably meet all comers. Rodewald has been wrestling heavyweight during the season in an attempt to strengthen the team, but will swap with Phil Maroney for the tournament.

Bill Helfferich will not find the going any too easy in the heavyweight event due to the presence of Delaware's Yuengling and Bucknell's Ed Kiely who recently flattened Rodewald in a dual meet.

However, the Bears will be earnestly trying to better their second place position of last year and deserve the support of all those who can possibly get to Wilmington.
