Y Plans Activities at Week-end Retreat; Lists Fireside Chats

While many organizations are closing a year's activities, the YM-YWCA is not only busy planning a program for next year, but is also carrying on a full schedule of events right now. These include a popular Y Retreat, coming Fireside Chats, and Vesper Services.

Foremost topic of conversation among active members is the Y Retreat held this week-end at Camp Fernbrook, near Pottstown. New presidents Mabel Faust and Bob Herber were initiated into some of the responsibilities of their new offices by taking complete charge of the plans. Discussions and evaluation of the year's program, suggestions for improvements, sports, fellowship, good food, barn dancing, and a "doggie roast" were all on the agenda of a fun-packed week-end. Arriving Friday evening and Saturday, about thirty students attended the week-end.

New vice-presidents Carolyn Herber '52 and Paul Scheirer '51 have announced that the topic of Wednesday evening's Fireside Chats will be "Are Our Grips Justified?" Mr. Pancoast has been announced as a faculty participant. The group will meet either in the college woods or in the Day Study, depending on the weather. Refreshments will be provided.

Dr. Mattern Speaks At Vesper Service

Dr. Charles D. Mattern, of the philosophy department, spoke at the Vesper Service in Bomberger last evening on "The Incredibility of Christianity." Margaret Hooper '52 led devotions.

Dr. Mattern defined original Christianity as the teachings of Jesus as found in the gospels and through the disciples. Nominal Christianity is our own form. We belong to a church and give lip service to ethics that come from Christ's teachings.

Christianity is not incredible as such. What is incredible is the motives that move a Christian. A Christian cannot be a natural man. Yet man is born with an ego, born a natural man.

May Pageant Scheduled For Saturday Afternoon

The traditional May Day Pageant will be held May 13 at 3 p.m. on Patterson Field.

"The Land of Sunshine and Showers," as the pageant is called, is being managed by Sue Letson '50 and is under the direction of Miss Maribelle Waldo. Betty Leeming '50, who is Sniffles the mouse, and Phil Letson '53, who is Mary Ann, have the lead roles. The pageant, written by Dorothy Garris '51, is the largest ever given at Ursinus College, with 130 girls participating.

Programs will be sold in the dormitories before May 13 and at the pageant.

Sniffles comes to Mary Ann and tells her that the terrible Magician is holding the Sun Queen captive in his castle. So off they go to the "land of sunshine and showers" to outwit the evil magician and free the beautiful Sun Queen.

Many obstacles have to be overcome before they reach the castle. Then there is a contest between Sniffles and the Magician in which the clever Sniffles is victorious, and once again the Sun Queen in all her glory reigns supreme over the "land of sunshine and showers."

If, perchance, there should be showers rather than sunshine, the pageant will be held in the new gym.

At 5:30 on May Day the college kitchen staff will serve a buffet supper in front of Freeland Hall. All students will be given free tickets for this meal. Guest tickets will cost $.65.

IRC Hears Address on U. S. - Soviet Relations

"The major deterrent to understanding between the United States and Soviet Russia is the Soviet expectation of the collapse of non-Soviet countries," said Marshall Schumann to an open meeting of the International Relations Club in the faculty room of the library last Tuesday.

Speaking on the topic "American-Soviet Relations," the UN Press Liaison Officer added that "the saving grace is that there is no time table attached to this expectation."

We can lessen the tensions and perhaps convince Russia of a temporary period of stabilization, a time of peaceful co-existence. Then we can try to extend this period until nationalism exerts itself.

Military methods of bringing this about would be self-defeating. The answer that has been developing is the building of areas of

Frosh Will Sponsor Semi-Formal Dance

"Springtime in Fantasy" will be the theme for a semi-formal dance presented by the freshman class at the T-G Gym on May 19. Open to members of all classes, the dance will cost 75 cents a couple.

Decorations to harmonize with the spring season and a three or four piece combo to provide music are significant features of the dance. No usual Friday night dance, this semi-formal also offers programs for milady's scrapbook.

All girls attending the dance have 12:30 permissions, announced Ray Rauenzahn, who is directing arrangements for the dance. Freshmen will receive a complimentary ticket to the dance upon payment of the 50 cents dues decided upon at the class meeting.

Givler and Bare Elected '51 "Ruby" Co-Editors

In a hotly contested election Thursday, Nancy Bare and Aubre Givler were voted co-editors of the 1951 Ruby by the members of the Junior Class. Robert Moorhead is business manager.

An English major from Lancaster, Nancy is a member of Alpha Psi Omega, national dramatic honor fraternity; associate editor of the Weekly; vice-president of the YWCA; a member of the Rosicrucians and the English club; and is active in Tau Sigma Gamma sorority and the Curtain club. She is remembered for her roles in Barretts of Wimpole Street, Uncle Harry, You Can't Take It With You and will appear in Junior Miss to be presented this week-end. She has also done committee work and served as prompter for Pygmalion.

Aubre, better known as "Skeeter," hails from Laureldale, and is an English major. Active in musical groups, he has sung in the Messiah the past three years, and in the Chapel choir two years. A member of Meistersingers last year, he has been serving as accompanist to that group this year. Aubre has also done committee work for the Curtain Club, as well as appearing in the choruses of Sweethearts, Waltz Dream, and in a role in a one-act play last fall. During his freshman year he served as editor

Thespians to Stage "Junior Miss" Here Thrice This Week

Thursday evening the house lights of the Thompson-Gay Gym will flicker and finally go out, the curtains will sweep aside, and an Ursinus audience will be treated to a performance of the Curtain Club's spring production Junior Miss.

The play—a comedy—relates the difficulties in which a teen-age girl manages to involve her family by attempting to solve problems which she feels may result in a major catastrophe (or at least a bigger problem) without her beneficent guidance.

Cast in the title role of Judy Graves is Virginia Smith '50, who was seen on the Ursinus stage as Mrs. Eynsford-Hill in last fall's Pygmalion. She played similar roles while in high school, and is sure to amuse the audiences with her interpretation of an adolescent

British Professor Talks Before Y Commission

Kenneth Brooks, professor of international relations at the University of Birmingham, England, addressed the Wednesday evening meeting of the Y's Political Action Commission on "Political and Economics in England."

He talked about three experiments, or perhaps more properly, ventures, which England has undertaken: The National Health Service; the National Coal Board; and the University Grants Committee.

The National Health Service which was adopted in 1945 was almost identical with that which was proposed in 1938. The first plan of any sort in England had been started in 1912.

Decision as to whether to participate in the plan was left to the doctors, and when the date for the beginning of the scheme came,

EDITORIALS

A Challenge So to Do

Time and again students have been lambasted by Weekly editorials for their lack of interest in everything that is undertaken on the Ursinus campus. Sometimes specific suggestions for action were presented; at other times more general considerations were advanced. But in all cases the answer of the student body was apathy.

Now another challenge has arisen. This is the time of the school year when campus leaders are chosen. The student governments, the YM-YWCA, the fraternities and sororities, and the 1951 Ruby have already selected those who will guide their destinies through 1950-51. Next year's senior class is having nominations of officers this evening and the other classes will shortly follow suit. Officers are being announced here, there, and everywhere.

Those leaders who have already been selected are of an exceedingly high caliber and the Weekly takes this opportunity for extending its heartiest congratulations. Without exception these are people of whom we can truly be proud. They deserve their positions beyond a shadow of a doubt.

But was this assured by the system of selection or was it fortunate-for-us coincidence? Several recent incidents have called this question to our attention and we wonder whether perhaps the latter situation is not the case.

Let's see just how some of our campus leaders are selected. The Women's Student Government officers are voted for by the women students, as are also those of the Women's Athletic Association. The heads of the YM-YWCA are chosen in elections held for the men and women, respectively. The Y presidents then appoint commission leaders.

The Junior Class chooses next year's Ruby editors, or co-editors, as the case has recently been, and its officers, at class meetings. This is where other classes also choose their leaders. Finally, all campus organizations pick their officers within their own groups.

All this points to one important conclusion: these systems of selection do not inherently assure wise choices. Only active participation, and intelligent, unbiased, voting can do this. Only this can avoid the selection of leaders who might create incidents which pose much difficulty for students, the student government, and the administration. Only this can avoid the confusion and ill-feeling caused by the necessity for revoting for campus offices after a number of ballots have been declared invalid.

Comparatively few students have shown such an active participation and intelligent voting. Here is a challenge so to do.

"Sitting Pretty"

Friday's movie in S-12 marked the last presentation of the semester. "Sitting Pretty" was an exceptional choice for the occasion and it proved a fitting climax to one of the highlights of week-ends here on campus.

Many exceedingly good movies were shown this year. The films offered a period of relaxation at the end of a busy week and saw the week-end "off on the right foot."

The Weekly congratulates all those responsible for the presentation of these movies—the administration, the students who kindly gave their time and talent to operate the projector, those students who supported the program by attending the movies, and all others in any way instrumental in carrying out the project.

It is our hope that a similar program, at least as large as the one this year, if not larger, will be instituted next year. Let's present as many good movies as possible to week-ending-at-Collegeville Ursinusites.

The Other Person's Job..

Preceptresses Are Girls' 'Second Mothers'

Editor's Note:- This is the first article of a feature designed to acquaint "Weekly" readers with jobs and occupations found on the Ursinus campus.

by Doug MacMullan '53

To every fellow on campus the aura of home that pervades the girls' dormitories is a continual source of envy. From Clamer down the hill to Trappeward 944, the only thing missing seems to be the watchman. The most important thing, according to Mrs. Jacobson, is to be someone to whom the girls can take their problems, and someone who sets them a good example.

These "second mothers" have taken over the jobs of instilling in the girls the feeling of responsibility and poise which will enable them to emerge from Ursinus not only as students, but as capable ladies.

"The capabilities," says Mrs. Jacobson, "of the girls are wonderful. At every function given by any of the dorms it is the girls who preside. And although everyone has a case of nerves up until the last moment not once have any of the girls ever lowered my opinion of what they are able to do."

In essence then it seems that the ladies who have so graciously presided over the dorms in the past and present do truly, in the best Walter Winchell sense, deserve orphans.

smell of apple pies that mother used to make. In an interview with Mrs. Jacobson of 944, we think we have discovered one of the secrets for the success.

The preceptresses of Ursinus don't define chaperon the way they do in the dictionary. To them the job is more than just being a

Frosh, Sophs Sponsor Week-end

The weatherman smiled on Collegeville Saturday, and threatened thundershowers did not materialize to mar the fun and frolic of the Daisy Mae's Day sponsored by the freshman class.

Island Grove was the scene of much activity from 3:00 to 11:00 p.m., and swimming, canoeing, and softball, in addition to a hearty indulgence in hot dogs and potato salad, comprised the day's agenda.

Prosper War provided a "substantial feast," and Mary Ann Townsend and Harry Fuellner were in charge of "dishing it out" to the approximately forty couples.

Friday evening's inclement weather moved the Soph's "Racquet Club" dance into the T-G Gym. It had originally been slated to be held out-of-doors on the tennis courts. About twenty-five couples attended and dance chairman Paul Doughty judged the affair a social and financial success.

It's an Ursinus Fact...

- ... that girls were not permitted to be waitresses in the dining room until the last war.
- ... that Dean of Men G. Sieber Pancoast was elected president of the Men's Student Council on May 12, 1936, during his junior year here at Ursinus.
- ... that another book written by a member of the Ursinus faculty is Poetry of the Gentleman's Magazine, 1936, by Dr. Calvin D. Yost.
- ... that the years immediately following the Civil War witnessed the foundation of many colleges. Ursinus' collegiate contemporaries include the Universities of California, Cornell, Illinois, Kansas, Kentucky, Lehigh, Maine, Nebraska, New Hampshire, Purdue, Syracuse, and West Virginia; three fine negro colleges, Hampton, Fish, and Atlanta; three for girls only, Cedar Crest, Wells and Wilson; and of our type, Bates, Carleton, Lebanon Valley, Swarthmore, Wooster, and the American University of Beirut. Good company indeed!
- ... that one-third of the resident students are from states other than Pennsylvania.
- ... that a big self-help job in days past was the cleaning and filling of the oil lamps around campus.
- ... that the annual budget is well over a million dollars and that it takes over 150 people to fulfill the college's purpose.
- ... that Justice will reign over the 1950-51 sessions of the Men's Student Government.

Paderewski was giving a private concert at the home of a young matron who had recently acquired great wealth, but whose knowledge of music was not equal to her money.

"May I ask, Mr. Paderewski," said the young woman, "who is the composer of that selection you played last? It is indeed wonderful."

"Beethoven, Madam," answered the pianist.

"Ah, yes," she replied. "Wonderful. Is he composing now?"

"No, Madam," replied Paderewski gravely, "he is decomposing."

Two boys returning from Sunday School were discussing what they had learned. "Do you believe all that stuff about the devil?" one asked.

"Naw," replied the other, "it's just like Santa Claus — it's your old man."

THE MAIL BOX

To the Editor:

The York County Alumni Association wishes publicly to express its appreciation for the exceptionally good harmonizing provided us by the College Quartet at our annual banquet, Friday, April 28. If we had known they were coming—well, we did know, but no one told us how good they were. Had we known just how good, we might simply have served them up instead of the banquet.

As a matter of fact, they hit their highest note when they weren't singing. They interrupted the vocalizing to predict a victorious 1950 football season. Let Coach Gurzynski be forewarned, therefore, of his advance press notices.

Cordially yours,
E. Eugene Shelley, Pres.

Teachers Are Given Employment Data In Federal Report

The Weekly in this article brings you the Department of Labor employment outlook for elementary and secondary school teachers:

Graduates trained for elementary school teaching should find a wide choice of employment opportunities in most States this spring. On the other hand, prospective teachers at the secondary level will find a highly competitive employment situation in all but a few subject fields.

Last year, only one student completed training for elementary teaching for every three who were needed; this year, the shortage will be nearly as acute. The number of students completing preparation for high school teaching in 1949 was four times as great as the demand; the oversupply in 1950 is expected to be even greater.

Prospects for Elementary Teachers

The need for teachers in elementary schools will continue to increase over the next several years. According to a recent study by the Department of Labor's Bureau of Labor Statistics, enrollments in grades 1 to 8 will probably rise sharply for the next 7 years in most States and then level off. The total number of elementary teaching positions will therefore increase considerably, perhaps by more than 260,000 in the next 7 years. The number of new teachers required annually will be greatest about 1953, the year when the sharpest increase in enrollments is expected.

Many more new teachers are required each year as replacements than for new positions, even in the current period of rapid growth of elementary school population. On the basis of a conservative rate of 7 percent, it is estimated that over half a million elementary teachers will be required in the next 10 years to replace those who die, retire, or leave the classrooms for other reasons. In addition, a sizeable number will be needed to replace some of the persons now teaching on emergency certificates.

The number of young people taking training for elementary teaching will depend, in the future as in the past, chiefly on the other employment opportunities available and the relative salaries offered. If general economic conditions should become less favorable and there should be considerable unemployment, the supply of elementary teachers might become such that keen competition would develop.

Prospects for Secondary Teachers

Strong competition for high school teaching positions is expected in the country as a whole for the next few years at least. However, the distribution of teachers both by locality and by subject field is such that some schools suffer shortage while others have many applicants for each job. With few exceptions, shortages are now limited to rural areas and such special subject fields as home economics. The greatest oversupply in most states is in men's physical education, the social sciences, and English.

It is likely that education and experience requirements will be raised, in line with the pre-war trend. Students taking training for high school teaching should plan to get a master's degree in order to qualify for the best employment opportunities.

Enrollments in grades 9 to 12 are expected to decline until about 1952. Therefore, the need for high school teachers will be limited largely to replacements for the next few years. After 1952, enrollments will probably rise slowly for the following 3 years and then increase rapidly into the 1960's.

Over the 1950 decade, close to 85,000 new teachers may be needed to handle increased enrollments. In addition, from 17,000 to 20,000 replacements may be required each year during the 1950's. However, unless high school enrollments are considerably greater than seems probable on the basis of past trends, a training rate as high as that in 1949 would continue to produce an oversupply of secondary school teachers even in the years of greatest need.

Annex - notes

by Dick Hector '53

We wake these balmy morns without the aid of alarm clocks. Strange men with sharp pencils and clip boards come tip-toeing in to scrutinize the plaster, and gaze sadly at the falling tiles from the shower walls. After making rapid notations they tiptoe quietly out. Nothing is more deafening than persons tiptoeing about . . . especially with sharp pencils. These men study the doors, all the thousands of doors, with looks of strange disbelief. It seems these cream-colored panels are not quite in the best of condition. The big dining room is empty. It's residents are now dwelling in the drawing room with the big fireplace that nobody ever lights. Really, they're much more comfortable there. We sit on the big porch in the evening after dinner watching the more athletic members of our country club vigorously batting home runs at random everywhere on the four acres of freshly cut lawn.

Plan Schedules

With laments and groans the seasoned yardbirds begin to fill with great trepidation their schedules for next semester. Whispered conferences are being held between those who have already run the fatal gauntlets and those approaching the starting line. Dog-eared volumes are being passed on to new hands.

Do you have a summer job yet? Tons of letters go out each day stating the many virtues of more-than-willing frosh. If only these many establishments knew how fortunate they could be with the crowd of experienced, versatile cosmopolitans such as we have here among us.

PRE-LEGAL NOTICE

A concentrated membership drive of the Pre-legal Society is going on. Letters of application can be given to any officer of this organization.

Directs "Junior Miss"

Red Face Department — The Weekly wishes to express its sincere apologies to the Curtain Club, especially to Jean Fredericks and the male leads of Junior Miss, for the errors that inadvertently appeared in last week's issue. Miss Fredericks, above, is student director of the spring comedy and Tom Davis is stage manager.

The Poconos will see many Bears this summer. "Dutch" Schultz has a job among the verdant hills of upper Pennsylvania, at Eaglesmere. Ocean City and other shore spots will see many waiters balancing trays. "D" Bill Bond will be forwarding seeds of post cards from the Continent after June fourth.

Damp trunks are hanging on the perches outside Swett's and Diamond's rooms. Those two seals have been practicing their butterflies after diving off from the old knarled tree down by the Perk.

With the surrounding fields of winter wheat knee high and lush green and scenic views of our chalet improve each day. The days speed by and soon the hallway will be empty and filled with laughing youngsters preparing for a summer of fun. Yes, these are the days we'll look back upon and remember.

THEATER

"The Will of St. James"

by Clara Hamm '52

The Will of St. James, a one act play written by Tom Swan '50 and directed by Jackie Keller '51, attracted only a small audience last Tuesday night.

A lot of dialogue and little action made the play rather slow-moving and melodramatic, while the acting was on the whole more stiff than that of most Curtain Club productions. Howard Roberts '53 gave a good performance as the villain, Stephen St. James.

"The Hamsters" were not able to present their scheduled skits, but Kathy Haney '51 and Jack Christ '51 repeated their duet from A Waltz Dream. Several of the vocal numbers from Back in Civics were presented by Doris Dalby '50, George Saurman '50, and Bill Turner '50—one of the brighter spots of the entertainment.

It's encouraging to find Ursinus students presenting a play entirely by themselves — student-written and student-produced.

Bill Beemer Chosen Assistant Regional Director of the ICG

William Beemer '52, newly-elected MSGA member and secretary-treasurer of the Pre-Legal Society, has recently received another honor in his election to the position of Assistant Regional Director of the Intercollegiate Conference on Government. A fast-moving waiter in the dining room, Bill is the first student from Ursinus to hold such a responsibility in the organization. The choice is a real distinction, since the position is usually occupied by a member of the junior class and a member of longer standing than Bill's two months.

Among the responsibilities of the Assistant Regional Director is helping to plan the annual regional meeting of the Southeastern Area, which includes nineteen schools around Philadelphia. Each year the ICG plans a state conference which this year was in the form of a Model State Convention in Harrisburg. Next year the members will hold a Model National Congress. Approximately 600 students attend these meetings.

Bill, a political science major, will be well qualified for his new position.

Attention Faculty!

On Tuesday, May 16, at 6:30 p.m. the Ursinus Chapter of the American Association of University Professors will hold its annual dinner meeting in the President's Dining Room.

Guests from other colleges will attend and a discussion program is being arranged. All members who plan to attend, and any other member of the teaching staff who would like to be present will please notify Miss Blanche Schultz by Friday, May 13. The price of the dinner is $1.25.

Former Yankee to Speak At Varsity Club Banquet

Monday evening, May 15, the Varsity club of Ursinus College will hold their annual banquet at the Spring-Ford Country Club. The annual affair usually features several interesting speakers. This year is no exception, for Henry L. "Hinkey" Haines will address the group.

A native of Red Lion, in York County, Pa., Haines attended Lebanon Valley College and then transferred to Penn State in 1919.

While at State he played football, baseball and basketball and was named All-American in 1920. Extremely fast, a consistent ground-gainer and an exceptional passer he was considered by many as one of the best backfield men ever turned out at State. A career in both baseball and basketball followed his graduation.

In 1921 he was backfield coach at Gettysburg College and helped develop one of the school's best teams. He moved back to Penn State in 1922 as assistant football coach.

In 1923 he played with the Frankford Yellow Jackets in Philadelphia and by 1925 was with the New York Giants pro football combine where he remained until 1930. Baseball attracted him strongly, however, and he played several seasons with the New York Yankees, participating in the 1923 World Series as utility outfielder.

One of his brightest memories, perhaps, is that of the day he was called on to pinch-hit for Babe Ruth. He hit a homer and in reading about it in the papers the next day Ruth inquired, "Who is this guy, Haines?" He had been with the club two years at that time but the Babe had never come to know his name for he always referred to Haines as "The Kid."

In addition to his term with the Yankees "Hinkey" played with clubs in Louisville, Rochester, Montreal, York, Reading, Scranton and Harrisburg.

In 1933 his athletic activity turned to football officiating where he has gained a reputation as one of the country's outstanding officials. Starting with high school contests, he progressed through the prep school and college ranks to the professional field. For the past ten years he has been associated with the National Professional Football League.

BEAR FACTS

by Ford Bothwell '51

Rummaging aimlessly through old copies of the Ruby, we came across some interesting information in the 1937 edition concerning a graduating student who later returned to Ursinus to become its dean of men and baseball coach. Then, as now, Mr. G. Sieber Pancoast was a leader around the Collegeville campus, and his athletic achievements recorded at Ursinus take second place to none.

There are some people who still remember the afternoons that Mr. Pancoast spent running between the baseball diamond and the track in order to participate in both sports. Neither sport seems to have suffered by this, however. He was a consistent point-gainer for the cindermen, gathering 34 points in his best season. His time of 54.1 in the quarter mile still stands as an Ursinus record.

Sieb's best sport, however, was probably baseball. He was a handy man to have around, too, for he played both infield and outfield for the Bears and was a consistently hard hitter. He batted .328 his junior year but in league competition finished fourth in hitting with a sizzling .417 average. His senior year he "slumped" a little, hitting a mere .400. Many accounts of the games describe a victory that was won by a home run by Pancoast or a double with men on bases.

Mr. Pancoast was quite a grid-iron star also, and held down the pivot position on the Grizzly aggregation. And remember, this was at a time when Ursinus was much more prominent in the football world than now and played a grueling schedule. As a sophomore he played on the 1934 squad, which jumped into prominence with a 7-6 victory over the University of Pennsylvania at Franklin Field. Surprisingly enough, he played three years of varsity ball weighing a scant 145.

Any of this can be found in his yearbook, which says, In spite of a slight build, Sieb has the ginger and scrap to tear through opposing lines, and in the spring he usually caps baseball games by wandering over to the track to capture the dash. He ranks as a student, Demas brother, and leader of men. He also devoted his time to other things than sports because He rarely missed football practice, fewer dates.

This is Sieb's fourth season as diamond mentor for the Bruins. In his three previous seasons he has compiled a record of 19 victories and 18 losses, a good record considering many of these wins have been upsets turned in over larger colleges.

Bears Lose to Moravian; Whip Fords Second Time

Bears Thump Fords, End Slump As Saurman Wins Third 15-5

The baseball bruins snapped a three-game losing streak Saturday afternoon by thumping Haverford College, 15-5. Eighteen base hits, coupled with George Saurman's effective pitching provided the Bears with their second win over the Fords. In winning, Saurman chalked up his third victory against one setback.

The Bears tore into Haverford's right-handed ace, Charlie Worster, in the very first inning. Hap Hallinger led off with a sharp single over second; Bob Gehman laid down a perfect bunt and beat it out for a hit. The rally stalled when Wayne Niedringhaus grounded out, pitcher to first base, but big Ed Klein walked to load the bases. Hallinger scored as Don Stauffer grounded out to first, and Don Young doubled to center field to score Gehman and Klein with the second and third runs.

Bears Score Again

In the second inning the Bruins combined two hits and two walks with two Haverford errors to score five more important runs. The Pancoastmen added two more runs in the fourth on well hit singles by Klein, Stauffer, Young, Cherry and Saurman. In the meantime the Hornets were vainly trying to overtake the Bruins, aided by two home runs off the bats of Hurtubise and Garrison, but in the seventh Ursinus iced the game with four more runs.

The Haverford team used four hurlers in an attempt to hold the rampaging Grizzlies. In the meantime Saurman gave out only seven hits and set down five Ford batters on strikes.

The golf team went down to defeat at the hands of the Swarthmore linksmen last Wednesday on the Rolling Green course by a 7½-1½ count. The lone winner for the local divot-diggers was Tom Swan who defeated Chuck Reilly 3-2 by scoring an 84 on the hilly course.

Low Hatch again lost a tough match 1 up as Tom McCarthy scored an ace on the 128 yd. 16th hole. Mike Valerio, playing in the number four position this week, faltered, to go down 2-1, the winner being Nick Meyers. Best ball was halved by Swan and Valerio, giving the Bears the half point.

Against Albright on a soggy home course last Friday, the Bears took it on the chin again by a 7-2 count. Dick Hanna, number six player, scored the only win, paring the last hole to win 1 up. Earl Fargo and Mike Valerio had outgoing 39's, but both stumbled on the back nine to lose to their Reading men 1 down. The Fargo-Hanna duo took best ball for the Bruins second marker.

Late Moravian Rally Wins 16-4 As Starter Dan Stauffer Tires

The Bruins absorbed their third straight defeat Thursday afternoon at the hands of the Moravian Greyhounds 16-4.

The game was not as dull as the score indicated, as the Bears battled on even terms for the first six innings. Lefty Don Stauffer started on the hill for the Grizzly nine and was hooked in a real pitching duel for six innings before he began to tire.

Bears Score First

Ursinus loaded the bases in the first inning on Hallinger's double and walks to Gehman and Niedringhaus, but at this point Klein bounced into a double play to snuff the big rally. The Bears did manage to salvage one run as Bobby Gehman stole home.

Moravian led 4-3 going into the last half of the seventh. Knobath led off with a double and the next batter walked. At this point Walker replaced Stauffer and got two men out before Garis poked a long home run with the bases loaded. This broke the game wide open and Moravian went on to score seven more runs off Walker, Lampeter and Klein.

Garnet Edges Belles 3-2; Vadner, Woodruff Win

Last Monday Whiting's Wonders last a very close match to the Swarthmore septet. The final score after several long matches put the hostesses on top 3-2.

The only winners for Ursinus were Nancy Vadner and Jody Woodruff. Nancy, meeting Margie Hench, was extended to three sets after taking the first set 6-1. Good placement coupled with a hard driving game awarded the first set to Nance, but Hench came up in the second set with accurate lobs which put her ahead. When the sets stood at one apiece, both girls softened up their games, and Nancy, coming from behind took the match 6-4.

This last set was perhaps the most exciting of the afternoon. Miss Hench took a quick lead, 2-0, but Nancy retaliated by taking the next two to tie the score 2-2. From here on the girls alternated, Miss Hench leading 3-2 and then Nancy tying the score and going ahead. After the score stood at 4-4, Nancy went ahead and didn't allow her opponent to take any games.

Jody Woodruff, much improved second singles player, showed a great deal of power and skill when she beat her very competent opponent, Jean Goertner. From the very beginning Jody showed great control of the tennis ball and won easily 6-4, 6-2.

In spite of the two wins scored, we were not able to win the third singles, first doubles and second doubles and win the match. However, Anita Jonas put up a strong battle before losing 6-2, 6-3.

Wednesday the team will play Temple's team in Philadelphia.

Summary:

1st Singles—Nancy Vadner (U) vs Margie Hench (S) 6-1, 3-6, 6-4.
 2nd Singles—Jody Woodruff (U) vs Jean Goertner (S) 6-4, 6-2.
 3rd Singles—Rita Handy (S) vs Anita Jonas (U) 2-6, 3-6.
 1st Doubles—Martha Penfield and Kay Stainton (S) vs Joan Kirby and Barb Landis (U) 6-0, 6-1.
 2nd Doubles—Joyce Powell and Sue Woford (S) vs Janice Christian and Jean Daniels (U) 6-0, 6-1.
 The JV squad also traveled to Swarthmore to meet their JV team. The UC gals were unsuccessful by a score of 5-0.

Cinder Squad Splits Pair With Cadets and Lehigh

Track Team Halts Cadets 80-46 As Turner and Binder Win Five

The Bears drew first blood last Wednesday, liked the taste, and went on to maul the Cadets of PMC, 80-46, and win their first meet of the season against two losses.

Joe Shaw started it off by winning the mile in 4:51.5, an accomplishment, considering the damp, slow track. Carl Reifeis and Karlton Smith followed Shaw home. Then Langton of PMC loped to victory in 53.5.

Reliable Russ Binder ran his best 100 of the season, winning in 10.2. He later returned to take the 220 in 23.8. Bill Turner took both hurdle events and the pole vault. The 880 was the most exciting race of the day as Langton fought off a terrific stretch drive by Paul Sheirer. The time was 2:08.2. Ursinus sewed up the meet as they swept the two-mile run with Herm Lintner, Reifeis, and Bill Fischer finishing in that order, Cadets Richardson and Copley beat Bill Fischer in the broad jump, and the vertical leap ended in a deadlock between Bill Powell and Jack Weaver of Ursinus, and Richards of PMC.

Koury put the shot 45 feet, 6/8 inches, to better a Price Field mark, and was second to Bob Swett in the discus. Clem Cumpstone and Sweet were one-two in the javelin.

Spencer Twirls No-Hit, No-Run Softball Opener

Marguerite Spencer, talented Sophomore hurler, opened the girls' softball season with a sterling display of pitching ability as she pitched a no-hit, no run 22-0 triumph over Chestnut Hill Thursday, followed by a two-hit 17-4 win over Albright on Friday.

TENNIS FANS!

Mr. Norman Bromall, noted pro and tennis coach at Haverford College, will show movies and give a demonstration on tennis fundamentals on Tuesday evening, May 9, at 7:00 p.m. in S12. All are cordially invited.

"Spence" is a converted left-fielder, possessing both speed and power, and in the two games the opponents were able to hit only five balls out of the infield. The no-hitter was a thing of beauty, as she issued only five passes and fanned seven. She was in complete command throughout and seemed to grow stronger as the game progressed, retiring the side in order in the final frame.

In the meantime the Belles pounded Chestnut Hill pitching for 15 hits.

Mary Evans was the most consistent hitter with three singles to her credit, while Nancy Vadner and Audrey Rittenhouse hit the longest balls with one double apiece. In the Albright game, however, Ursinus was credited with only 4 hits, but they were able to capitalize on the free passes and errors of their opponents to gain seventeen runs.

Tennis Team Swamped In Swarthmore Match

Losing only to Navy in five matches this season, a powerful Swarthmore tennis squad defeated the Bear netmen 9-0 last Thursday.

Three matches were forced to the limit of three sets but each time the opponents were the victors. The winners had little difficulty in the singles for only Lane Dewees in the fourth position was able to take a set. In the other five matches Jack Humbert, Paul Jones, Joe Benenati, and Bill McManimen were allotted two games apiece while Jay Ely, playing his first varsity match, was blanked. The doubles were a slightly different story with the same ending. Both the Humbert-Dewees and the Benenati-McManimen combination came within the proverbial whisker of winning.

Saturday's match with Elizabethtown, called off because of wet grounds, has been cancelled due to the lack of a common playing date. Wednesday the Bears meet Delaware away and Saturday, Albright at home.

Summary

Singles—Shibley (S) defeated Humbert (U) 6-1, 6-1; Shane (S) defeated Jones (U) 6-0, 6-2; Fussel (S) defeated Dewees (U) 3-6; 6-0, 6-0; Merson (S) defeated McManimen (U) 6-0, 6-2; Jones (S) defeated Ely (U) 6-0, 6-0.
 Doubles—Shibley and Fussel (S) defeated Humbert and Dewees 3-6, 6-2, 9-7; Merson and Jones (S) defeated Benenati and McManimen 5-7, 6-4, 6-3; Wentworth and Landeck (S) defeated Ely and Jones 6-1, 6-3.

strength. Our approach to the task must have economic, social and moral as well as military aspects.

Mr. Schumann emphasized the fact that the Atlantic Pact and other agreements must be supplementary to, and not in place of, the United Nations.

"In the context of the times, the UN has succeeded," he continued. It has succeeded in moderating tensions by serving as a point of contact, through the effect of its discussions, by giving more opportunity to the people of small nations and by obliging the administering powers to live up to their obligations.

In addition to all this it has succeeded through building patterns of internal cooperation, which represents to Mr. Schumann the only real organic way of integrating all nations.

The problem arises of converting ourselves to the selfless person. An unusual experience or conversion is necessary to alter our motives; a rebirth, or radical change must occur.

Most of us cannot believe the motivations required by Christianity and yet remain true to our ego. Some of the consequences of this are that the number of true Christians must be very small, that because of the tremendous hold of ego on us, Christianity can be purchased only by conversion, and that emphasis must be placed on insight instead of on ethics.

William Keller '50 concludes a long and illustrious career in Curtain Club productions in the part of Harry Graves, Judy's harassed father. Many will remember him for his fine performances in plays such as Pygmalion (Alfred Doolittle), last year's You Can't Take It With You, Uncle Harry, and The Little Foxes. Bill is president of Alpha Psi Omega, national honorary dramatic fraternity.

Playing opposite him is Nancy Bare '51 in the part of Grace Graves, who spends half her time raising her daughters and the other half soothing her husband's nerves. Nancy was seen last as the ingenue in You Can't Take It With You, and before that appeared in Uncle Harry and, in her freshman year, in The Barretts of Wimpole Street.

Mary Jo Lucas '52 will make her first major appearance Thursday night, when she is sure to amuse the house as the bouncing Puffy Adams, side-kick and partner-in-crime to Judy.

J. B. Curtis, the big business executive and Harry's boss, will be performed by Tom Swan '50, the club's prexy. Tom was Colonel Pickering in Pygmalion, and also was in You Can't Take It With You. Don Aikens '51, vice-president of the dramatic organization, switches from a phonetic expert (Pygmalion) to a long lost uncle as he undertakes the role of Willis Reynolds. He and Ellen Curtis (Joan Deacon '50) provide the romantic interest in this delightful comedy. Joan, though she will make her stage debut in this part, has been very active in the club during the past few years, and was business manager for Pygmalion.

Marge Justice '51, another newcomer, will tread the boards as Lois Graves, Judy's pseudo-sophisticated sister who introduces her family to a number of distinguished (and otherwise) young men.

The following supporting players round out the cast: Joe Beardwood '51, Hal Gold '52, Al Miglio '52, Ernest Roemer '52, Herman Lintner '52, Marna Feldt '53, Roy Foster '51, Emile Schmidt '51, Russ Mack '51, and Len Abel '51.

Student Director for this year's May Day production is Jean Frederick '50, a member of Alpha Psi Omega and a Curtain Clubber since her first year here. Tom Davis '52 is in charge of the back stage work as stage manager. He was last seen in You Can't Take It With You and will soon appear in Rope.

95 percent of the doctors had joined. Ninety-seven percent of the public joined. Perhaps the most important feature, of all of these ventures is the fact that day to day management has been kept free from government control. Mr. Brooks emphasized this in all three examples, and attributed it to the growth of tradition.

The other two groups operate in much the same manner. The Coal Board is not established directly by the government; a large corporation is set up.

There has been a national scheme for education since 1870. The fifteen universities (all there are in England) with 85,000 students get 92 percent of their income directly from the state.

However, the government attaches no strings. The money goes to the University Grants Committee, composed of the Vice-Chancellors of the fifteen universities, which administers the funds free from government control.
