CAMPUS LEADERS

Hughes, Hellie, Taylor, and Pattison Gain WSGA, Y, and WAA Presidencies

by Nancy Bare '51

Last week's elections decided the fate of two extremely active girls' organizations on campus. The Women's Student Government Association and the Women's Athletic Association each selected a new slate of officers for the coming year.

Heading the WSGA will be Anne Hughes '50, president; Mary McPherson '51, vice-president; Martha Daniels '52, secretary; and Marilyn Joyce Miller '51, treasurer. The new WAA officers are Pat Pattison '50, president; Marjorie Justice '51, vice-president; and Jody Woodruff '52, secretary-treasurer.

The juniors chosen as leaders for these two groups have each shown an interest in various activities. Anne Hughes, an English major, served this year as treasurer of the WSGA. A member of Tau Sigma Gamma sorority, Anne is a member of the English Club and has been active enough in the Curtain Club to have won her the coveted honor of membership in Alpha Psi Omega, the national dramatic fraternity. She also writes for the Weekly and participated in Meistersingers and the orchestra.

Pat Pattison '50 is a physical education major. She is well-prepared for her new position through having held the office of vice-president of the WAA this year. Captain of next year's swimming team, a member of the Phys. Ed. Club, the softball team and the JV hockey squad, Pat does not limit her activities wholly to sports. She is also a "B" lister, a dancer in the May Day pageant, and a member of Tau Sigma Gamma sorority.

Jane Hellie '50 and Keith Taylor '50 were elected to the presidency of the YWCA and YMCA on campus in last Wednesday's Y elections. Jane held the post of secretary of the Y Cabinet during this past year and Keith was elevated to the co-chairmanship of the Social Responsibility Commission at the beginning of this semester. Both have acquitted themselves well in the past as active Y members and their election promises an ambitious and energetic program for next year. They will begin to assume some of their duties before the end of this year with the aid of Peggy Hewitt and Tom Kimes, graduating presidents of the two organizations.

Nancy Bare '51, co-chairman of the WSSF Drive, and Dave Monjar '51, active member of the Social Responsibility Commission and chairman of a special committee of the Y Cabinet, won the vice-presidential positions. Carolyn Herber '52 will be the secretary of the Cabinet and Jack Christ '51 was elected treasurer. The other cabinet positions will be appointed before the end of the year.

This Wednesday evening, Rev. Clyde G. Allison, representing a Philadelphia marriage clinic, will speak at the last Y Association meeting in Bomberger Chapel. He will remain on campus the following day to talk privately with any students who desire a conference with him.

Book of the Year, "The Ruby," Carded For Early Delivery

by Joanne Keuhn '52

On May Day (May 14) the long awaited "Book of the Year", the Ruby is to be distributed. The earlier delivery of the Ruby was delayed by the special processing that was used for the book.

Final copies were proof-read and the books went to press last week. The cost of the Ruby has been met with the aid of its many enterprises and the very successful Club '49 held in the gym Friday night.

This year's Ruby contains one hundred eight pages including within its covers more pictures, more students, and more organizations than ever before.

The object of choosing next year's Ruby staff earlier in the year is now proving its worth. The present Ruby staff has met with the newly-appointed staff for consultation and to advise them against the pitfalls and stumbling blocks encountered in compiling and producing a successful Ruby. Even with the excellent aid given by the '49 staff, the staff of '50 will have to work doubly hard to produce as fine a book as the Ruby of the class of '49.

Mystery, Comedy on Tap

At 7:30 tomorrow night the curtains of the Thompson-Gay Gym will open on the last two Curtain Club group productions of the present season, when Nagel & Grove, Inc. present Mr. Snoop Is Murdered, and The Stage Props offer The Fourth Mrs. Phillips.

The former is, as the title suggests, a mystery, and is the first to be presented during the past year. Wally Schumaker has the title role, Dave Monjar plays the part of the more than slightly baffled Police Sergeant, while others in the cast include Leon Abel, Molly Hall, Marion Matterson, Marjory Taylor, and Bill Bookheimer. During the course of the play the curtains will close and members of the audience will be given a chance at solving the crime. The leaders of the group, Jane Nagel and Murray Grove, have undertaken the strenuous positions of directors.

The second play on the program, The Fourth Mrs. Phillips, is a comedy which attempts to show what happens when a ham actor's three former wives meet his present fiancée. Donald Aikens will be seen as the "unfortunate" actor, and Becky Boswell as his wife-to-be. The remainder of the cast consists of Marge Paynter, Jeanne Heal, Catherine Faust, Norman Weisler, and William Dagerberg. Emile Schmidt has stepped out of his accustomed role as actor, and will direct the production.

Moods and Moosic Listed by Freshmen For Annual Dance

by Barbara Crawford '52

Friday evening the Freshman class will present "Moonlight Mood," a dance to be held in the T-G gym from 8 to 12 p.m. Although previously advertised as a semi-formal affair, the dance will be strictly informal because of the number of sorority and fraternity dinner dances scheduled for the month of May. Corsages will be optional.

The decorations will carry out the title theme with the colors of blue and white predominating, and all are invited to take a whirl beneath the huge gilt moon and stars which will transform the gym ceiling into a romantic tropical sky. The class has secured an orchestra for smooth dancing and refreshments will be served. The donation will be seventy-five cents per couple.

Prexy Lee Trimble has asked for the student's support for this first big undertaking of the class of '52 and promises an enjoyable evening to all who attend.

Beardwood Group Visits Plant, Hears Talk on Wool Processing

Last Monday night fourteen members of the Beardwood Chemical Society, accompanied by Mr. William Pettit and Mr. Roger Staiger, visited the James Lees plant in Bridgeport, makers of famous brands of carpets and knitting yarns. Mr. Harry Morgan, head chemist of the plant, gave a short talk on wool processing and showed the group through the laboratory and the plant. Refreshments were served in the plant cafeteria, after which the students were taken to the show room to see the finished products.

Gov. Alfred Driscoll Slated To Address Graduating Seniors

by Jeanne Stewart '52

The Honorable Alfred E. Driscoll, governor of New Jersey, will deliver the address at the commencement exercises on Monday, June 6. Weather permitting, the commencement exercises will be held on Patterson Field; in case of rain or threatening weather the exercises will be held in the College Gymnasium. Dr. McClure will present degrees to the largest graduating class in the school's history.

Reverend Reginald Helfferich, a graduate of Ursinus, class of '28, will preach the Baccalaureate sermon in Bomberger Chapel on Sunday, June 5, at 10:45 a. m.

Dr. Helfferich is pastor of the Christ Reformed Church, Bath. During the summers of 1947 and 1948, he visited Germany and Austria as the official representative of the Church World Service Commission. He has spent the past year overseas as Chairman of the Committee on Displaced Persons and Refugees, and he is a member of the permanent Commission for Displaced Persons of the Church World Service Commission of the Federal Council of Churches of Christ in America.

Students Travel to Gettysburg For College Chemistry Session

On Saturday, April 23, Mr. William Pettit and Mr. Roger Staiger, professors of chemistry, and Charles Fawthorpe '49, Charles Kuhn '50, Marian Smith '51, and George Burgess '51 attended a meeting of the Intercollegiate Student Chemists in Gettysburg. Charles Kuhn '50 was awarded second prize for his talk on the formation of cobalt complexes. He received a valuable chemistry handbook.

Casino Atmosphere Scores for Louie

by Dorothy Garris '51

After a whispered "Joe sent me" at the front door of Louie's, Ursinus students entered the most exclusive night spot of Collegeville and vicinity. All the twang and mystery of the gay 20's prevailed at Club '49 right down to the casino, which was the most popular spot of the club.

At the 8:30 and 10:30 shows, all the old favorite entertainers of the club were on hand to provide sparkling entertainment. Witty emcee Dick Wentzel was quick with the jokes and put the crowd into the proper mood for the rest of the show.

Nancy Mattson '50 and John Clarke '49 sang a lovely duet, accompanied by Dorothy Kuntz '49. Tom McKenzie '50 gave out with "Twelfth Street Rag" on the piano, while the night clubbers fairly danced in their seats, and Dick Buckwalter '52 entertained with his accordion.

No show would be complete without John Ulmer '49. John, also the program director, presented two satirical monologues (with help from Bill Helfferich '51 in the first show.)

Dick Wentzel wound up the entertainment with his famous impersonation of the three types of announcers and their way of presenting "the chorus line from that famous show on Broadway, "Oh, Bull-shoes."

The high spot of the club was the "infamous" casino, which everyone visited at some time during the evening. From the looks of the people leaving this den of iniquity, the seniors won't have to worry about money for the '49 Ruby.

RICKIE RETURNS!

Rickie Wentzel returns to Bearville to emcee the Seniors' second successful Club '49 production.

EDITORIAL

THE LAST MILE

We care not what we print, so long as it is well written. Articles submitted that advocate polygamy, nudism, Communism, and Taftism will never meet the approval of the current editorial staff. However, if they stimulate thinking, they will be used. On a college campus, which is usually dominated by rote learning, we feel that our greatest measure of success is the creation of critical analysis.

In these few words, printed in the year's first issue, the Weekly's 1949 policy was established. The item was probably overlooked by the great majority of readers, but strong mixed emotions were aroused by those who did happen to read beyond the page one headlines.

With this creed, we made a feeble attempt to forecast events to come, and for this creed, we battled faculty, administration, and students—with the result that the 1949 Weekly probably aroused more interest than any paper in Ursinus history.

To say that interest was aroused certainly does not mean that a good publication was produced. Nor does it mean that the Weekly made no mistakes. Both of these points may be debated as long as there is a town called Collegeville.

But to say that interest was aroused does mean that we succeeded in our primary objective. For after observing reactionary Ursinus over a period of several years, we felt that a definite growth in interest was needed—growth in interest in campus organizations, in alumni activities, in student-faculty relations. Interest even in the Weekly—interest in anything but ourselves.

The Ursinus student needed to think—to forget for a moment his scholastic standing and to think of the future of his school.

In our endeavors, we trod on many feet. We criticized everything there was to criticize. If criticism were sometimes aimed in the wrong direction, perhaps that too can be blamed on the lack of interest in the average student. For had interest been sufficient, the Weekly could have followed the crowd in its belief, rather than to try to grope its way blindly along the path, hoping to find the correct answer.

Because we wanted student opinion, we gave free license to our reporters—a journalistic abhorrence, but a policy in line with our goal. We also printed unsigned letters to the editor, but gave up the attempt when we realized the futility of encouraging those uncourageous persons who would only express an opinion if their identity were kept secret.

Many times, the Ursinus scene has been painted completely black. This was our greatest fear—that we would appear as one trying to destroy, rather than as one trying to build. The lackadaisical student can create no enemies with his apathetic attitude—but at the same time, he can add nothing. We believed that the one who tried could succeed through effort alone, even though his efforts were mainly critical.

The Ursinus scene is certainly not black. In spite of all its faults, few Ursinus students will be able to forget its merits. We all have faults—so have all colleges. To say that our faults or those of our college are greater than the average is sheer folly. But to admit those faults and to strive to correct them is a policy only the most foolhardy would condemn.

If we have overemphasized the faults of Ursinus, it has been with the thought in mind that they could only be remedied by strong emphasis. Some accomplishments have been made—others await only time.

Many have applauded our efforts and to them we extend our sincerest gratitude. Many others have complained bitterly about our methods. We can only hope they will do as we do—await the future.

The creation of critical analysis . . . we must have succeeded in our attempt, for our policies have been analyzed in every dormitory room on campus. Only more mature years will give us the answer—was our attempt the right one?

Grizzlies Blast Two Foes, Yield to Garnet Batsmen

The Ursinus diamond squad brought its season's standings to three wins against four losses last week when it yielded to Swarthmore after setting down Dickinson and PMC in that order.

Four baggers by Dick Hall and Roger Pott of the Garnet did much to bring about the 8-5 defeat of the visiting Bruins last Saturday. The tide was turned when, with bases loaded, a doubtful double play, home to first, broke up a healthy Ursinus rally after it had produced but two runs.

Strategy Beats Cadets

On Thursday the locals grabbed a 10-9 victory from their Chester guests in the tenth inning. With the bases full of Grizzly runners, Dave Bahney broke for home in an attempted squeeze.

Although Dick Cherry missed the ball, catcher Roger Williams let it get away from him and big Dave crossed the plate standing up with the deciding run. Bill Buchanan relieved starter Bob Quay in the sixth and was credited with the win.

Bears Invade Dickinson

Filled with a ravenous hunger for victory, the Bears traveled a hundred miles to knock off the Dickinson ball club in Carlisle by a 12-9 score. The game was a see-saw affair which saw a total of twenty-one errors committed by the two teams.

However, the Bruins offset their miscues afield somewhat by their achievements at the plate. Led by Bill Lampeter, who pounded out three safeties, the squad totaled fourteen base knocks before the final out.

Ron Landes hurled until the eighth inning when he was relieved by Bill Buchanan. Landes, however, was the winning pitcher.

Danger Ahead

Franklin and Marshall will visit Collegeville to meet the Bears this Wednesday, while the locals will travel to Philadelphia on Saturday to oppose the Dragons of Drexel.

Brodbeck and Stine Feature Dorm Play With Freak Inning

Losers' Seven Run Rally Nullified When Darkness Halts Contest

With clear skies and warm weather to aid them, the two intramural leagues provided Ursinus students with eight exciting games last week. Each evening of play was witnessed by a large number of interested fans.

In the first game, played Monday evening, Annex II nosed out Collegeville 3-2. It was a pitcher's duel between freshman John Fisher and Collegeville's Don Cumpstone. In the second contest Norristown's Charles Wismer completely handcuffed a strong Curtis II 11-2. Wismer displayed a fine fast ball and good control which enabled him to stop the Curtis squad.

League I's opener on Tuesday was an odd game which finally saw Stine edge out Brodbeck 9-8. Stine led by one run going into the sixth, but Brodbeck scored seven runs in their half to take the lead. It was too dark to complete the inning and the score reverted to the previous inning which nullified Brodbeck's rally. The second game was a slugfest between Derr and Freeland with Freeland winning out 14-13.

Wednesday's opener in League II resulted in a victory for Curtis II over Trappe, 6-5. Will Wimberg was on the hill for Curtis II. Wismer won his second game of the week in the second game as Norristown gained a 5-2 triumph. Don Ferreri homered with two on to win the game for Norristown.

Stine won its second game of the week in Thursday's initial game 6-3. Russ Mack recorded his second win and Mac Condie helped the cause by batting in three runs. In the nightcap Curtis I won easily over Derr, 13-6. Ray Dippel turned in his third win of the campaign, and Bill Oberholtzer homered for Derr.

Belles Batter Foes In Opening Games Of 1949 Campaign

Coach Eleanor Snell's rollicking softballers rolled over two opponents in the past week, with Monday's Bryn Mawr battle providing one of the most spine-tingling final innings in Ursinus history. B. J. Moyer outpitched Jane Stevenson in the Bryn Mawr tilt, which found the locals on the top end of a 2-1 score. On Friday, the Belles romped through Swarthmore, 6-1, in a game featured by seven Garnet errors.

The Belles gained a 1-0 lead in the sixth inning of Monday's battle, but found the going rougher when the visitors knotted the count in their half of the final inning.

With one out in the waning minutes, Leinbach drove a long fly ball to right scoring Hooper with the deciding marker.

Marguerite Spencer's pair of safeties and the steady hurling of B. J. Moyer proved too much as the Belles battered Swarthmore into submission for victory number two.

The JayVee squad outslugged the Bryn Mawr nine, 25-22, in Monday's fracas.

Trackmen Trim PMC, Falter in Penn Relays

The Ursinus College track team exploded against an inadequate PMC squad last Wednesday at Chester, defeating its military foe by the score of 80 to 46. Ursinus swept the meet, taking 11 out of 14 possible firsts and tying in a twelfth. However, the story was somewhat different at Franklin Field over the week-end.

Bill Turner, versatile Grizzly athlete, led the scoring parade against the Cadets by taking first place in three events. Hard working Joe Shaw came through with ten points by notching a first place in the mile run and the 880 yard contest. Herman Lintner, sparkling young freshman, took the two mile run with plenty to spare, and the eager distance runner nearly lapped his nearest competitor.

George Kennedy, the old Ursinus workhorse, putting in his last year for coach Ray Gurzynski, took top honors in both the shot put and the discus. Russ Binder had little trouble taking the 100 yard dash, while Ralph Ziegler contributed to the rout by taking the 440, and also a third in the 100. Don Cumpstone took the javelin toss and remained undefeated so far this year in javelin competition.

Penn Relays

Don Cumpstone and Russ Binder sparked the octet of track men who represented Ursinus in the Penn Relays last Friday and Saturday. Don unofficially broke the school record in the javelin throw with a heave of 175 ft. Russ took a fourth in his qualifying heat behind some of the fastest dashmen in the country.

The rest of the Bruin squad made excellent showings but were lost in an extraordinary exhibition of record-breaking styles. Six men tied for first place in the pole vault at 13 ft. Harney of Albright, who will be at Ursinus next Saturday, took a second in the javelin with a toss of 194 ft. 5 3/4 in. The discus throw of 170 ft. completely eclipsed Kennedy's 135 ft.

Tennis, Golf Teams Get Starvation Diet From All Opponents

Victories proved elusive to the Ursinus golf and tennis teams during the past week. The golfers dropped a 5 1/2-3 1/2 decision to Haverford at Jeffersonville on Thursday, while the charges of coach Matlack lost 7-1 to Elizabethtown on the same day and 7-2 to Delaware on Saturday.

Lew Hatch, starting in the number one position defeated Runcie Tatnall 6 and 5. Bob Buzzard, playing in the low eighties, beat Bill Rhoads of the Mainliners, and Jack Thalheimer halved with Dick Huffman.

Vance Wins

In the opening match with Elizabethtown, the local netmen could boast only one victory, which went to veteran John Vance. Both teams were faced with a stiff wind which made playing quite difficult.

On Saturday it was Paul Jones who upheld the honor of Ursinus by gaining a victory in his singles match and then teaming with Dick Lytle to secure another victory in the third doubles match. However, the Bruins failed to produce in the other tests.

The coed racket-wielders bowed twice this week. Swarthmore scored a 5-0 triumph in Monday's opener, while Jody Woodruff saved the squad from a second whitewashing, when she turned in the lone victory against Bryn Mawr on Wednesday.

WEEKLY POLL

What Courses Are Needed At Ursinus?

Marjorie Dawson (Math) "I feel that a typing course should be added to the curriculum. Not only would typing be a tremendous asset to the student in his undergraduate days, but it would be of special value to women who would graduate to enter the business world."

Jean Stringfield (Math) "Both typing and shorthand should be added to the curriculum at Ursinus. These courses are necessary adjuncts to almost any occupation, and teaching them here would save many women from going to secretarial school after graduation."

Gisela Ungarian (C.B.) "While I do feel that the Chem-Bio courses at Ursinus are well-staffed and well-presented, I think that courses such as Bacteriology and Botany with a herbarium should be added. Also, the addition of a wider range of psychology courses would be desirable."

Steve Arvanitis (C.B.) "What Ursinus needs is a good course in creative writing. The present course in Comp. 5-6 is inadequate, and in its place I would suggest a laboratory course in which individual style and professorial criticism were emphasized."

C. C. Hoyt (Mod. Lang.) "For a school of its size I do feel that Ursinus offers an extensive and varied curriculum for the liberal arts student. But I do believe that most of the women students could benefit greatly from additional courses such as home economics, typing and shorthand."

Irvin Bossler (Math.) "I think that Ursinus offers a sufficient number of courses in most of the fields of study. Each group offers enough elementary courses and advanced courses to acquaint its students with his field. But, we could use more courses in Sociology and Applied Psychology."
