Freshman Dance Well Attended

The Freshman reception was the first Y sponsored event of the year. The dance, held in the Thompson-Gay gymnasium was well-attended. Refreshments were supplied by the Junior Advisory Committee, and music was taken care of by the Y. Dance lasted from 8-10:30.

Dr. White Retires; Began Here in 1924

Three veteran members of the College faculty will retire from active status this summer and become emeritus professors. Because of the abnormal conditions entailed by the large enrollment, two of them will continue for the time being to render some service.

Professor Elizabeth Brett White will become Professor of History, Emeritus. A member of the Ursinus faculty since 1924, Dr. White was the first dean of women at Ursinus and served in that post from 1924 until 1939, when she retired to devote her whole efforts to her work as head of the History Department and advisor of the History-Social Science Group. She has long been active in sponsoring student activities, particularly the International Relations Club and the Rosierucians, which she founded. Dr. White will make her home with her sister, Mrs. F. E. Taylor, in Shepherdstown, Pa.

Professor Martin Weaver Witmer will become Professor of English, Emeritus. Since he joined the Ursinus faculty in 1920, Professor Witmer has taught the arts of (Continued on page 4)

GLENWOOD QUARTETTE TO TOP PROGRAM AT YM-YWCA RALLY

Planned for this coming Wednesday evening is the Y's big membership rally. Traditionally, this affair has been the big bang with which the Y has started off the year's program. This year the rally will include the presentation of several numbers by the now-famous Glenwood Quartette. Bud Bartholomew will start the evening rolling by leading some group singing.

Helen Southall '49, and Tom Kimes '49, will introduce to the student body the program for the year. They will explain in general the aims and purposes of the organization and the plans for the present scholastic year. A brief description of the committee set-up of the Y will be given for the information of new students and old ones as well. All are invited to this rally which will be held in Bomberger chapel at 6:30 p. m.

President Norman E. McClure's welcoming address at chapel service Thursday marked the official opening of another school year at Ursinus College. Approximately 962 students, a record-breaking number, are scheduled to attend classes, 252 of whom are freshmen.

Of this total, there are 450 veterans, old and new, attending under the G.I. Bill of Rights. Again this year some veterans from Valley Forge Hospital are registered as special students. They are Robert Baird from Indiana, Pa., and Joachim Hess and Robert Hoerter of Darby, Pa.

Among the thirty transfer students is Robert J. Hekking, formerly of Shanghai. Hekking, who spent two years in a Japanese concentration camp during the war, attended the American School in Shanghai. He studied at Wesley Junior College in Delaware for his freshman year, and is taking pre-medical courses here at Ursinus.

Brith Sholom Again Used

Men resident students have again taken over all campus dorms. Brith Sholom is being used for the second year to provide additional housing for men students.

The college has rented the late Dr. William Bancroft's home at 942 Main Street, which will be used to provide housing for fifteen women students. Mrs. Shryock has been named preceptress. Nine other women are living with Mrs. James Baird on Sixth Avenue. Mrs. Baird is the mother of James Baird and Anne Baird Rapp, Ursinus graduates.

Facilities for instruction, labs, and classrooms, are being used to their fullest capacity to accommodate the large student body. When the new gymnasium, now 82% completed, is ready for use, the old one will be devoted entirely. (Continued on page 4)

Callow Frosh Eagerly Anticipate Orders As Benevolent Sophomores Begin Reign

At a meeting of sophomore men on Thursday in Bomberger, thirteen huskies were chosen to comprise the 1947 Sophomore Rules Committee. With the organizing of this unit, the reign of terror for all freshmen under 21 begins.

Edward Stefanowicz, newly-elected Soph Rules chairman, amiably announced that formalities would commence today at 12:01 a. m. An attractive program has been arranged for the newcomers. This includes the usual prayer for rain, tug of war, pajama parade, etc.

Dinks, bowties, and identification buttons will be "must" items in the well-dressed freshman's daily apparel. For the convenience of

Dr. McClure Presides At Freshman Banquet

Approximately 250 freshmen men and women were welcomed to Ursinus at the annual freshmen banquet held on Tuesday night in the upper dining room.

Dr. McClure, president of the college and presiding officer of the banquet, introduced the guests seated at the speakers' table, who were campus officials with whom the freshmen will come in direct contact.

Greetings from the women of the college were extended to the class of '51 by Miss Stahr. Dean Clawson then explained the group system and added his welcome and best wishes for the incoming class. He was followed by Rev. Creager, pastor of the college church, who invited the freshmen to attend services and take part in various activities of the church.

Other guests were Dr. Miller and Dr. Phillips, registrars; Dr. Mattern, in charge of the self-help plan; Miss Moll and Mrs. Yeagle, nurses; Mr. Miller, librarian; Mr. Minnich, in charge of veterans' (Continued on page 4)

Faculty Augmented By Fourteen; Six Alumni Appointed

President McClure has announced the following additions to the Faculty for the academic year 1947-48.

Dr. Vanderslice did graduate work at the University of Pennsylvania, Columbia, N.Y.U., and Pittsburgh, receiving his Master of Arts at Pennsylvania. In 1934 his alma mater conferred on him the degree of Doctor of Pedagogy. Dr. Vanderslice has had extensive experience in administrative work in the secondary school system, serving as superintendent of schools at Aliquippa from 1926 to 1937 and at Coatesville from 1917 to 1926 and from 1939 to 1947. He has taught various aspects of education at Juniata, Geneva, and Pennsylvania State Colleges.

Ursinus Had Large Summer Enrollment; Eight to Graduate

Two hundred thirty-four students were in attendance at the fourth successive summer session conducted at Ursinus. While the great majority of the regular students spent the summer on the beach at Ocean City or in the 52-20 club, 201 men and 33 women braved the heat to add a few credit hours to their total. The session was the second summer semester limited to eight weeks.

With extra-curricular activities at a minimum and work at its highest peak, few depressed faces were seen on the final day of the semester.

Highlighting the social activities for the summer were a doggie roast and a semi-formal dance. Nick Mancini's music was again heard at the dance.

Eight seniors completed their schooling at the summer semester and will receive their degrees at the Founders' Day exercises on October 22.

BAND BEING RE-ORGANIZED; SEEK EXPERIENCED MUSICIANS

The Ursinus band is re-organizing for the coming football season. Present plans call for the band to play at the first home game with Haverford on October 11. Rehearsals will get underway sometime this week.

All students who can play band instruments are urged to register with the Music Director, Dr. William F. Phillip, in the East Music Studio. Freshmen, both boys and girls, who have had experience in high school bands, are especially invited to join the Ursinus band. Uniforms will be issued shortly.

There are still vacancies for most instruments and interested students should contact Dr. Phillip immediately.

HISTORY REPEATS ITSELF

Twenty-five years ago this week, Ursinus had its greatest enrollment up to that time—240 students.

The Weekly editor at the time probably commented on the unprecedented size of the student body. He welcomed all the new students, of course. We are going to follow the same formula.

Our near-1,000 enrollment makes the 1922 high look very unimposing. But it is significant to note that veterans of World War I made the '22 enrollment what it was.

Today some 400 G.I.'s have helped skyrocket the Ursinus student total to another peak. History, it seems, does repeat itself.

To the many new students who are part of the present record enrollment, we of the Weekly extend a warm welcome. We hope you'll like it here.

And if the crowded hallways in Bomberger (hallways the '22 students probably never saw jammed) these days vex you—don't let it get you down. Just remember, you've helped make history this week!

Alumni-Society Notes

The marriage of Charmaine Peacock '49 of Lansdowne to Robert McKinney of Germantown has been announced by her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Harry E. Peacock.

The marriage of Dorothy Lillian Hollis to Lt. Arthur Forbes Barker was solemnized late in June at the brides home at Charmead Farm near Lansdale. The couple are living in Kansas where Lt. Barker is now stationed.

Contributions Sought For College Magazine

The Ursinus College literary publication, The Lantern, will hold its first staff meeting of the year in approximately ten days.

The Lantern provides your opportunity to see your work in print. Using the format instituted in last year's last issue, it will publish all types of prose, poetry, and fiction written by students.

The Lantern is a magazine for and strictly by students of the college. Any student may submit material—dates will be announced in the near future—to any member of the editorial staff or to any employee of the Supply Store. Present members of the staff are Nancy Twining, Fay Horner, Nelson Yeakel, Charles Williamson, and Dick Wentzel.

Membership on the staff can be gained by submitting a letter of request to the present staff. Letters will be considered and announcements concerning those selected will be made in February.

It should be emphasized that The Lantern staff exists primarily to judge manuscripts. They do not by any means make up the majority of authors and poets represented in the magazine. Everyone and anyone on campus may submit original material he or she would enjoy seeing in print. All manuscripts not used will be promptly returned.

QUARTETTE SEEKS WPTZ JOB; CAMPUS ACTIVITIES CONTINUE

The Glenwood Quartette, four Ursinus boys on the road to fame, will again be available for school and area functions.

The quartette, now three years old, is well known to old campus members for its work here and on the radio shows, The Morning Clock, and Lunchtime with a Punchline, over KYW. Records and personal appearances on the two shows, as well as a number of important gatherings in this and the Philadelphia area, have established the boys as an experienced and expert group of songsters.

Recently the group made a personal appearance before 5000 members of the KYW annual picnic, and shortly afterward received an audition from television station WPTZ in Philadelphia. As a result of the audition, the boys, Kenneth Schroeder '48, Ian Smith '48, Burton Bartholomew, and Mike Zingraff '48, will report to WPTZ on October 6th to rehearse a probable weekly spot.

At present the quartette is recording for LARK records and will cut, in the near future, several new sides using, for the first time, guitar accompaniment.

Curtain Club Seeks Candidates

Any freshman or old student desiring to join the Curtain Club this term may do so by submitting a letter of application to any officer of the club. The officers for the year are Susan Bellis '48, president, Harold Grossman '48, vice-president, Richard Reid '49, treasurer, and Florence Cherry '48, secretary.

GAFF from the GRIZZLY

or What's Bruin

Got the sand out of your hair and the sunburn off your nose? Oops! — you say you worked this summer? Well, then—got the ink off your fingers, the lab stains off your hands, and new arch supports in your loafers? Better get set, 'cause it's "that time" again, and here we go back along the bumpy road to a B.S. (or is it B.A.?) degree.

People, people — millions of people are going to Ursinus this year, it seems, and most of that million are new faces around campus. Janie Estabrook was back for the Sigma Nu doggie roast Thursday night, and she's the only one we've seen with a new figure.

"Big brothers" and "big sisters" were busy Wednesday night escorting the frosh down the gym to be "recepted." Crowded, wasn't it? Scattered about in the sea of new faces were a couple "old faithfuls" we remember from last year . . . Mim Schellhase and Jim Peifer, Sue Bellis and Tish, Puddie with John Kajmo, Polly Pechter and Jack Nill, Sunny and Ken "when the lights are low" Schroeder, Jo and Walt, Betsy Greene and Collier . . . Dave Kohlhas and Dolores Meder, Gerry Navis and Sam McElroy, and Carolyn Kaimer and Buddy Miller were getting acquainted.

Don't breathe this to anyone, but wild rumors have been flying that Mr. Pettit is announcing tests in chemistry this year. Somebody pick up Hank Pfeiffer; he just fainted.

We remember when "Mac" MacLaughlin and "little Mary" Ontivaros wore navy-blue flannel in the oft-spoken-of Navy V-12 unit long ago. How's it feel to be back in corduroy, fellas?

Chad Alger is planning a club for people like Andy Bain, Helen D., Moe Leute, and Kasper who find themselves rather lonely around 9:30 every evening without a "better half." Chad feels they should do something constructive with every spare minute of their time now — such as playing bridge, maybe.

Shades of David Ziegler! Seems like there's always someone ready to take away a poor college student's hard earned penny. Last year's "sticky-bun" business is being replaced by Clark, Reid, Dougherty and Vance, Incorporated—odd jobs and trunks gladly taken down (at a small fee, of course).

Didjknowthat Emmy Lou and Toddy are engaged? . . . Kitty Schellhase is now Mrs. William H. Anderman, Jr.? . . . Charmaine Peacock is Mrs. McKinney? . . . Cyd Lill is Johnny Dahlman's new wife? . . . Edith Neely is Mrs. Crews as of this summer? . . . Dot Hollis and Art Barker were married this summer too? . . . Elaine Loughin Tredinnick is teaching down at the Collegeville grammar school.

Sharps and Flats

In Greenwich Village, where Seventh Avenue and Tenth Street intersect, a native amiably directs you to the unimposing structure on the south corner bearing the modest name of "Nick's". Ridiculed by the more sedate Fifty-second Street group, it nonetheless remains one of the last outposts for the polyphonic, everyman-for-himself school of jazz that found its way up the Mississippi many years ago. Fashionable musicians justify their presence with the excuse that they fell asleep on the subway and required nourishment before the return uptown.

A neophyte will be assured of two outstanding features however. Although dated, the music is congenial and the congeniality contagious. Furthermore, the classic and formidable front line of clarinet, cornet, and trombone is capably managed by the country's leading exponents — Ernie Caceres, Muggsy Spanier, and Miff Mole.

Trombonist Mole and cornetist Spanier need but slight introduction. Long associated with the Whiteman orchestra and numerous other successful ventures, Miff yet plays a driving and interesting brand of trombone — considerable accomplishment for a man in his late fifties. Muggsy, he of the smile, provides adequate support. Caceres, on the other hand represents an interesting study, both in art and sociology. Of Mexican extraction, he flaunts his success with an arrogant and sometimes raucous technique. One receives the impression that he is attempting to explain his position (slightly advantageous) over his less fortunate countrymen. Perhaps he is. At any rate, the answer spells "artist," whether he be boasting or merely enjoying his work.

Yet with all of the gaiety and spontaneity that is called forth from that tiny platform, the observer detects a weary look on the countenances of these men; the look of resignation to a fate promulgated by changes in taste and quirks of their profession. They realize their insecurity, yet clutch at straws. They remain artists, yes, but only in their performance and not in their contribution. What they do is the same as they did twenty years ago. People enjoy retrospection, but there are many empty tables at "Nick's". When the last table is emptied, these three men and their combined efforts will be missed.

ALUMNI-SOCIETY NOTES

The engagement of Emma Lou Mason '49, and Roy Todd '49, was announced late this summer by the prospective bride's relatives. Miss Mason is an English major hailing from Allentown, Pa., and Mr. Todd is a native of Atlantic City, N. J. The wedding is due to take place during the couple's senior year.

Dr. and Senhora Aurino Vieira deAraujo, Brazil, announce the marriage of their daughter, Mariza Augusta Ribeira Maciel, to Walter E. Turner '48.

They were married in St. Stephen's Episcopal Church, Norwood at 7:00 o'clock Friday evening. The couple met in 1944 when Mr. Turner was stationed with the U. S. Navy in the bride's country.

Sports Slants

GRID OUTLOOK . . .

Once again pigskins are filling the air and the sound of crashing moleskins may be heard as our gridgers round into shape for the coming campaign. With a brand new coach, Kuhr Wieneke, at the helm and lots of holdovers from last season, the prospects appear a bit brighter than they did a year ago. Here's wishing Mr. Wieneke and his squad the best of luck all season long. Smooth sailing to you, boys!

WELCOME . . .

As another school year begins and the students dust off their textbooks and prepare to "dig in" for the coming semester, your writer wishes to welcome back all of last year's sport fans and to say "Hello" to all followers of athletics among the newcomers. Our policy as far as this sport page is concerned will be to view all athletic situations with an open mind and to give you as accurate a coverage as possible on all events in the field of sportdom. Our sports staff is still in the embryonic stage and although we have several experienced writers back from previous years, we would like any newcomers who desire positions on the staff to contact a member of the Weekly as soon as possible.

Another point we would like to stress in this, our initial issue, is the fact that we are open to constructive criticism at any time. If anyone feels that he would like to throw a suggestion our way, we urge him to do so.

HERE AND THERE . . .

Something new in the annals of athletics at Ursinus takes place this autumn as the Bears clash with Moravian in a night football game. This is the initial venture of the Red, Old Gold, and Black in after-dark grid tilts. We hope that the arc lights tussle at Bethlehem on the night of October 17 will be successful from a Bear standpoint.

Keep your eyes focused on lanky Ken Rinehart this autumn. The elongated wingman seems to be one of our most improved gridgers and promises to press veterans Kajmo, Bakes and Turner for the starting end job.

Coaches Wieneke and Gurzynski seem to inject more sparkle and dash in the football team than has been present in previous campaigns. This is noticeable as soon as one gets a glimpse of the way Bain, Miksch and company "rock 'em and sock 'em" in scrimmage sessions.

The colorful Alvin "Duke" Knepper promises to keep the soccer situation lively as he gives it the "old college try" in practice. The talented Archie Simons bulwarks a sprinkling of last year's lettermen plus a host of promising newcomers as the minions of Doc Baker go through their daily paces.

Shortage of Materials Delaying Completion of New Gymnasium

Prospects of using the new gymnasium for the coming basketball season seemed to be in the hands of fate today as that old post-war bugaboo, shortage of materials, appeared to be the dominating factor in the future plans of the college athletic department.

The building, which formerly served as a gym at Camp Patrick Henry in Virginia during the war, was originally scheduled to be ready for use by the student body at the opening of the current semester. Today, one can only guess when the last bit of construction will be completed. The current drawback can be traced to the excusable inability of the Johns-Manville Company to procure the shingles.

If the gym is open before the basketball season, it is probable that temporary stands will be used for spectators. New steel stands seating 800 fans have been ordered to surround the 95 feet by 55 feet playing surface, but delivery is not expected until March 1.

Once again, it appears that Thompson-Gay will be the athletic center of the campus.

Booters Commence Practice Sessions; Eight Games on Tap

About twenty-five prospective Ursinus soccer players answered Coach Donald Baker's call for candidates Wednesday afternoon. With only seven returning lettermen in the group, there is likely to be a notable shortage of experience when the Bears commence their eight game schedule. However, even with a shortage of veteran booters, the general outlook for the season is very promising.

Talent seems plentiful among the freshmen try-outs who comprise the majority of the squad as it now stands.

Archie Simons, former All-American, is back to spark the

Football Clinic Held Here

On September 6, a Football Officials Clinic was held at Patterson Field. Competitive examinations were given all officials. The tests were especially prepared for use during the Eastern Inter-collegiate Football Association's officials clinic.

The program included a rules discussion, rules examination for all officials, and a practical demonstration in officiating on Patterson Field. The football team of South River (N.J.) High School was on hand for the demonstration.

Robert D. Evans, Mitchell and Ness executive and well-known official, acted as director of the clinic, and Worthington Surrick, Frankford High, Philadelphia, coach, acted as his assistant.

Evans played fullback on several great Ursinus teams, including the one which beat Navy in 1916.

Grid Outlook Fair; Wieneke Installing Double-wing Attack

With high hopes for a successful season the students of Ursinus are anxiously awaiting the opening game against Drexel Tech Saturday. The entire football set-up is changed for Coach Kuhr Wieneke has installed a new system and many changes are expected by the time the opening whistle sounds.

Some fifty-odd candidates reported a week ago last Monday and spent the first week getting rid of the excess poundage acquired during the summer. A great deal of time was spent stressing fundamentals for Coach Wieneke, being unfamiliar with the capabilities of the squad, had to start from scratch. In spite of this the squad has worked very well and looked impressive in several scrimmages.

Few Positions Cinched

At last reports very few positions were cinched although Mr. Wieneke appeared pleased with the situation at guard. Veterans Bill Miksch and Carl Drobek have lots of experience at this slot and are ably backed up by Fry, Lindenmouth, and Durfee. Ronnie Landes is the only varsity tackle returning since Ray Blydenburgh has been shifted to blocking back. Fred Binder, a member of last year's squad, and Mitchell, Applegate Gregonis, and Leander, all newcomers, complete the roster for this post. At end the situation looks fairly good for Kajmo, Bakes, Reinhart, and Turner, all experienced men from last year's eleven, are playing the type of ball that made them outstanding the past season.

The center slot falls to Andy Bain, letterman from '46, while his understudies are Chuck Glinisky and Fred Tischler. The latter is also working out at the end slot.

There are several other men who are donning the pads here at Ursinus for the first time. With some game experience they should become varsity caliber.

Many Backfield Vets Back

In the backfield all berths are wide open and starting positions will probably not be assigned until just before the initial tilt. There is a wealth of new candidates for starting positions and the returning lettermen will have to hustle to maintain the posts they had in '46. The many varsity backs who have returned again this year include Lou Wilt, Ed Miller, George Saurman, Harry Collier, Ed Stevens, and George Ferguson. Larry Fleisher, who was injured early last fall, looks very promising. Ray Blydenburgh, converted varsity tackle, seems to be picking up the blocking back assignments and will certainly supply the weight and power that was missing before.

Two applicants for the fullback berth who make up in brawn what they lack in experience are Bill Helfferich and George Kennedy. If they can fill the bill the Bears may not have the difficulty in crossing the opponent's ten yard line that was so clearly noticeable last year. Don Young, a freshman, looks very good at wingback and with his passing and kicking will give the old men a stiff fight for the varsity berth.

Fundamentals Stressed

The attitude of the coaching staff will be very gratifying to the followers of the Ursinus gridiron hopefuls. Coaches Wieneke and Gurzynski are very thorough and have stressed fundamentals and conditioning to insure a well drilled team. The system, a double wing-back, offers a very powerful offense based on power of numbers together with tricky ball handling and numerous reverses. Ample time is being spent on kicking and several promising kickers have been uncovered.

Since a goodly portion of the squad are lower classmen the outlook for the next few years is excellent. Although it is not good form to expect miracles the initial season, one cannot help but be a trifle optimistic over the '47 prospects of Wieneke and Company.

Good Season Looms For Hockey Squad

With seven players back from last year's once-defeated and undefeated squad, the Ursinus hockey team this year has prospects of another good season.

Among the holdovers from the '46 aggregation is co-captain Hilda Anderson, playing her fourth consecutive year in the left inner position. "Andie" with the aid of her well-known flick won a berth on the All-College eleven last year.

Another line veteran is hard-driving Ann Harting, better known as "Wee Whisk," who played left wing last year. Whisk, also on last season's all-college team will probably hold down the right wing spot this year.

Two other scoring threats back on the line this season are Jane MacWilliams, a junior, and aggressive Evie Moyer. Both have played at center-forward and right inner. Joanne Duncan, substitute at wing last year, will probably take over the line vacancy. Two other forward prospects who also look good are Ruth Pettit, last year a JV player, and freshman Betty Kaiser.

Losses were heavy in the backfield and the only regulars back are the two speedsters, co-captain Edna Daniels and Mary Evans. Left half Daniels is playing her fourth year of hockey while fullback Mary Evans is starting her second.

Several upper classmen with plenty of JV and varsity subbing experience are vying for the backfield openings. Among them are Doris Greenwood. "Bugs" Calhoun, Mannie Ballantyne, Floy Lewis, and Anne Moister. Freshman Nancy Vadner also is a good backfield prospect.

One other veteran also back in her position and one who must not be forgotten is the fast-moving goalie, "Sis" Bosler.

Bearettes Face Ten Opponents; Temple, Penn Judged Top Foes

On October 13 "Snelles Belles" open the 1947 hockey season with a match against Rosemont which they hope will be the first of another long skein of victories. The varsity schedule consists of ten games, four of which will be played on home territory. The All-Collegiate hockey try-outs will also be played on home soil on November first. The lassies big rival will be the hard-hitting Penn squad, the only team successful in defeating Ursinus last year. Temple, however, still remains a strong threat. The Bearettes are also looking forward to a week-end trip northward to Springfield, Mass., to test their strength against Mount Holyoke.

Varsity Club to Handle 'Gridder'

After many years of being handled by various college organizations, the Grizzly Gridder will once again be sponsored by the Varsity Club.

For the benefit of freshmen and newcomers, the Grizzly Gridder is the official Ursinus football program. The funds gained by this activity will go toward the annual spring banquet and also the scholarship fund.

Tentative plans are also being made for a dance to be held on the night of Old Timers' Day, after the football game with Franklin and Marshall.

Twenty-Six to Receive Awards in Near Future

Director of Athletics, Everett M. Bailey, has announced that those men who carried Ursinus colors in baseball, track and tennis competition last spring will receive their letters at a formal presentation in the near future. With the awarding of a total of twenty-six letters, many to Freshman athletes, the ranks of the newly-formed Varsity Club seem destined to increase. This belated announcement thus ends another season of sports activity at Ursinus. It is regrettable to note that, as the records are brought to light for inspection, they revealed but a mediocre total of wins.

The baseball club compiled the best results of all, winning six while losing only five contests. Following an excellent start of four successive wins, the final record came as somewhat of a disappointment. The trackmen bested Albright in a dual meet, lost to Franklin and Marshall, and finished second in two triangular meets, while the netmen defeated three opponents and lost to four.

The letter awards are as follows: Baseball — John Snyder, Jack Kemp, Dave Ziegler, Seth Bakes, Bob Gehman, Dale White, Dave Bahney, Dick Eckenroth, Roy Todd, Archie Simons, Ron Landes.

Track — George Kennedy, Bill Turner, Dick Gradwohl, Bill Elliot, Karlton Smith, Dick Kropp, Jerry Rotwein, Russ Binder, Ray Blydenburgh, Ken Rhinehart.

Tennis — Joe Jones, Stan McCausland, Bill Miksch, Fran Roncase, Ray James.

Phys. Ed. Instructress Leaves To Take Position at Upper Darby

Mrs. Dorothy Germain Porter has left the faculty of Ursinus to take a position as assistant director of physical education at Upper Darby High School.

Mrs. Porter, who graduated from Upper Darby in 1942, will return to her alma mater as hockey coach, but because it would interfere with her amateur standing will have no hand in the golf future of the Delaware County school.

Mrs. Porter came to Collegeville last fall to become a member of the Physical Education Department. Her duties included teaching golf and coaching the varsity swimming squad and the hockey third team.

A graduate of Beaver College, Mrs. Porter has held several amateur golf titles, including the Philadelphia, the Pennsylvania, and the Women's Western Amateur championships.

nomics at Maine. Dr. Miller took her M.A. at Clark University in 1930, and after teaching at Maine for a year, spent two years in China as a graduate student at Yenching University, Peking. She took her Ph.D. at Clark University in 1940. Dr. Miller has taught at Westminster and Lynchburg Colleges, holding the rank of associate professor of history at both institutions.

The Reverend Alfred Leon Creager, pastor of Trinity Evangelical and Reformed Church, Collegeville, has been appointed Lecturer in Philosophy. After graduating from Ursinus in 1933, Rev. Creager pursued his theological studies at The Seminary in Lancaster, received his B.D., and was ordained in 1936. He has served churches in Cumberland, Md., and Orwigsburg, Pa., and has been since October of last year pastor of Trinity Church. Rev. be a tough one as the Ursinus-Drexel rivalry is of long standing. The Engineers' coach, Ralph "Hoss" Chase, always turns out a competent squad which can be depended on to give any foe a worthy battle. Drexel has been emphasizing pass defense ever since its scrimmage with Franklin and Marshall one week ago.

Their backfield is inexperienced, but shows promise of development, and will most likely be primed by the time Saturday rolls around. Freshmen make up the bulk of the Drexel secondary, but there are several likely-looking replacements for their twin sparkplugs of last season, Joe Michaels and Jim Ostendorp who are lost this year through ineligibility and graduation.

Coach Wieneke is not overly optimistic or pessimistic about the Bruins' chances in their initial tilt, but you can bet that his protégés will be in tip-top shape and rarin' to go. With several informal scrimmages under their belt to give them the necessary poise and confidence, the Collegeville outfit should be ready to make the Drexel clash victory number one in their present campaign.

SCIENCE PROFESSORS PUBLISH FIRST YEAR LABORATORY BOOK

Professor William Pettit and Instructor Roger Staiger have recently finished writing a first year chemistry laboratory manual entitled "Semimicro Experiments in College Chemistry."

The new manual, in which the usual qualitative or descriptive experiments have been revised to introduce a semimicro technique, was necessitated by the lack of any existing manual which puts to full use the quantity of equipment on hand in Ursinus laboratories. The experiments in the manual, twenty-five in number, were begun several years ago by Professor Pettit, but it was not until Mr. Staiger's return from the Navy a year ago, and the subsequent collaboration, that work began in earnest.

Each of the twenty-five experiments is divided into three parts:

- 1) a preliminary report to be completed by the student before entering the laboratory so as to insure a background of theoretical material pertinent to the problem under study,
- 2) detailed procedure to be followed in the laboratory,
- 3) a report and data sheet to be filled in with observations made in the laboratory.

Prof. Hohlfeld Visits British Guiana, Takes Part in Educational Experiment

"A fully-literate British Guiana within one year" is one of the educational objectives formulated in the interests of a mass adult literacy campaign for the colony by Mr. J. Maurice Hohlfeld of the Department of Modern Languages. This aim was one of the results of a month's visit to Georgetown, British Guiana at the invitation of the Colonial Government to devise ways and means to teach 120,000 illiterate folk to read.

Experiment at Piantation

Mr. and Mrs. Hohlfeld left New York on August 17 by Pan American Airways and arrived in Georgetown, the capital, 13½ hours later.

During their stay in the country, they maintained their residence in the Park Hotel. Mr. Hohlfeld had his office in the Education department. The sugar plantation where the experiment was carried on, however, was located seven miles from the city.

This educational venture was made possible through the aid of the Committee on World Literacy and Christian Literature of the Foreign Missions Conference of North America. Mr. and Mrs. Hohlfeld serve this committee as special representatives and act as linguistic and educational advisors to Dr. Frank C. Laubach, well-known pioneer in the realm of adult literacy and author of the book "The Silent Billion Speak."

YMCA and Beta Sigma Lambda fraternity.

McCausland, who served as a waiter here before his entrance into the Navy and during the 1947 spring semester, is also a Beta Sigma member and was the mainstay of the last season's tennis squad.

Mr. Hohlfeld did somewhat similar work in the spring of 1946 when he worked with Puerto Ricans from Spanish Harlem in New York. At this time he also employed the Laubach system of "each one teach one," which they used during the past summer.

The Guiana experiment was set up on a sugar plantation where more than 300 native workers expressed the desire to learn to read. Backed by the government, the affair was a community project which organizations such as the Chamber of Commerce, Union of Culture clubs, all churches (regardless of creed), the Salvation Army, labor unions, legislative committees, Teacher's Associations, and social welfare agencies supported wholeheartedly.

30 Percent Illiterate

In a country where 30 percent of the entire population of 376,000 are illiterates, compulsory education applies only till the end of the primary school, and high schools are private. A group of 50 East Indian plantation workers, ranging in age from 18 to 63, reported to the teaching center three nights a week for a one-hour course. The literate people of the colony served as volunteer teachers.

No attempt was made to teach the alphabet or spelling. The main idea was to teach the natives to recognize their native tongue.

An official report to be made to the British government will include an original contribution made by Mr. Hohlfeld in the realm of phonetic charts to aid teaching this group. The Colonial Government will act upon the recommendations and suggestions made in this report.

FUTURE TEACHERS SCHEDULE FIRST MEETING OF SEMESTER

The local chapter of the Future Teachers of America will hold an organization meeting on Tuesday evening at 6:30 p. m. in Room 7 of Bomberger. All members of the organization and those planning to join this year are urged to attend this brief but important meeting. Here, plans will be laid for the coming school year and all members and prospective members should be prepared to offer program suggestions for the monthly meetings.

The Future Teachers Organization is open to all students who are enrolled in education courses, and is affiliated with the National Education Association. Those students planning to enter the teaching profession should become affiliated with F.T.A. Any questions concerning membership in F.T.A. will be answered at this meeting.

Telescope to be Sent to College by Institute for Astronomy Study

An agreement has been reached between Ursinus College and the Franklin Institute in Philadelphia for cooperative work in astronomical observation on the Ursinus campus.

The College will erect in the near future a pier and housing on the observation deck of Pfahler Hall in which the Franklin Institute will place a refractor telescope. The telescope, which was made by the late Elihu Thomson, one of America's greatest scientists, is about twelve feet in length and has a ten inch objective.

The telescope will be used by scientists of the Franklin Institute for astronomical observation and by the classes in astronomy at the College. If present plans mature, it will also be made available for the use of the general public at stated intervals. This will be done under the supervision of members of the College faculty and the staff of the Fels Planetarium at the Institute.

Big-Little Brothers Plan Revived

Of special interest this year is the appearance on campus of the traditional "Big and Little Brother" program which was suspended for two years. A similar program by the women of Ursinus had been functioning continuously through the wartime emergency.

The program was helpful in providing for the incoming freshman a means of obtaining information and help usually needed by new students. As a rule, upperclassmen served as "big brothers" and "little brothers" were made up of resident, non-veteran students.

New Records for Music Room

Women's Student Council has voted to appropriate part of the money made from last year's May Day to buy records for the Music Room. Marion Bell '48, and Amelia Neznec '48, are in charge of a committee to select the records.
