Clyde Walton's Band To Be Featured at Varsity Club Dance

Carl Drobek '49, chairman of the Varsity Club-sponsored Old Timers' Day dance, announced today that music for the affair would be provided by Clyde Walton and his band.

Walton's outfit last played here for the frosh dance in the Spring of 1946.

The band has been featured at various colleges throughout this area. Last week the combination played at Princeton, and it also furnished the music, during recent months, at dances at Swarthmore, Penn. Temple, and Rutgers.

The Old Timers' Day dance, to be held this year on November 15, is an annual affair. Complete informality will be the order of the evening. As usual, the hop will be held in Thompson-Gay gymnasium.

In order to avoid over-crowding, only 250 tickets are to be sold. Price of one ticket, which admits two people, is two dollars.

Noted Traveler-Author To Present Lectures

Mr. Boies Penrose, a professional book collector and world-wide traveler, will lecture Renaissance History (History 3) classes here beginning next Monday. A series of four lectures has been arranged, to be given on November 10, 12, 14, and 17, at 1:10 p. m. These special talks will be presented in Room 7, Bomberger, and are open to all students.

Mr. Penrose has traveled extensively in his search for material dealing with Fifteenth Century travelers and explorers. He authored the book Urbane Travelers—1591-1635, which is on the Ursinus Library shelves.

Last year Mr. Penrose gave a lecture to the class in English History here.

A group picture will be taken of all students who have had parents or other near relatives attending Ursinus. The photo will be taken Wednesday at 12:45 p.m. on the Library steps. In the event of rain, the site will be changed to Bomberger.

The photo is for the Norris-town Times-Herald. It is imperative that all students who qualify for this picture be present.

Sophomores Score Hit With Eventful Weekend

The sophomore class "took over" the campus this week-end with a series of social events.

The activities got under way with the "Sophs' Sloppy Hop" which featured a mixture of barn and social dancing. Charles Idler '49 and Ed Ulmer '50 supplied the music while William Weber '49 did the calling for the square dancing. Bob Barroll '49 provided the recordings for the social dancing.

Acting as chaperones were Ray Guryzinski, track coach and his wife; Mr. C.W. Matlack, Spanish instructor; and Miss M. McKinney, biology instructor. Refreshments were served during the dance. There was a pep rally during intermission time.

Dance Followed PMC Game

The sophomores kept the ball rolling with a dance in the gym immediately after the PMC game on Saturday until 5:15.

The final event of the week-end was a doggie roast held in the College woods Saturday evening.

The committee in charge of arrangements for the various affairs was composed of Ed Robinson, chairman; Jean Daniels, Sue Letson, Barbara Shumaker, Pat Pattison, David McMillan, Doris Neill, Robert McMurray, and Raymond Dipple.

Nominating Committee Selected

Besides taking care of these elections and those in the Spring, the committee nominates the officers for the major campus organizations. Representing the WSGA are Betsy Greene '48, Ruth Pettit '49, and Barbara Shumaker '50. Representatives from the YWCA are Annabel Schober '49, Peggy Corliss '50, and Mildred Noble '48. PMC Whips Bears In Drab Tilt, 20-0

by Richard Reid '49

Playing before packed stands on Saturday, Ursinus went down to a 20-0 defeat at the hands of a strong PMC eleven. Showing a great deal of power at the very beginning of the contest, the Bears drove to the PMC six where four passes failed to produce a score. This was the only real offensive threat put forth by Ursinus in the contest.

PMC Threatens

The second period was played entirely in Ursinus territory, with the Cadets threatening several times. Kicking out of bounds on the UC ten the Cadets put the Collegeville eleven in a hole from which it never emerged during the entire period. With a fourth down and one to go Young's try over center failed and PMC took over on the Ursinus twenty-one. They drove to the Bear eight, but on fourth down the Bruin line held and the locals took over from their own one. Young once again punted and the return carried to the Ursinus twenty-one. Once more stopped, PMC gave up the ball and Young carried for a first down on the forty as the half ended.

After receiving the second half kick-off, the Bears' attack stalled. Helferich's kick was downed on the Ursinus forty-six.

Taking over from there, Caia, PMC halfback, carried all the way to the Ursinus seven on two plays and from there Hank Smedley drove over for the first of three Cadet scores. Bowley's kick was good and PMC led, 7-0.

Helferich Pass Intercepted

In the last quarter, an exchange of kicks put the ball on the UC twenty-five. Helferich, attempting to connect to Bakes, had his pass intercepted by Fields who returned it to the Bears' one-yard marker. Bowley drove over for the score. His try for point was wide.

The Cadets kicked off and Helferich returned it to his own thirty-six. A fumble in the Bruin backfield was recovered by PMC, but the Cadets then lost the ball on downs. Once again the Bears mishandled the ball and this time the Cadets recovered on the Ursinus fourteen. Smedley then passed to DiAngelis for the third score. Bowley's place kick attempt was good, making the score 20 to 0. From then on, with the UC subs taking over, PMC dominated.

IRC Arranges Future Programs

The International Relations Club held its regular meeting on Tuesday night. Nine new members were inducted into the club. The constitution was discussed and programs were arranged for the coming meetings.

Exchange programs with other colleges are being planned. Students from the club will take part in joint meetings with similar clubs in these colleges.

Plans were also made to begin working on participation in a model United Nations assembly. The assembly will be held at Cornell University in April.

Subscription Drive Initiates Ruby Week; Yearbook Staff Cards Informal Hop

Today is the first day of Ruby week. The Ruby staff, headed by Florence Cherry and Sue Bellis, co-editors, will make a concentrated effort to sell orders for at least 750 copies of the Yearbook this week.

Subscriptions will be accepted by various dorm representatives. Business managers Richard Clark and Lee Grayson have set a 100 percent dorm subscription as their goal. Price of the Ruby is $5.00, payable in whole, or in two installments.

Hohlfeld Discusses Trip to So. America

Mr. Maurice Hohlfeld of the College faculty was guest speaker at the first meeting of the local chapter of the Future Teachers of America which was held last Wednesday evening in Bomberger Hall. Mr. Hohlfeld gave a very interesting report on his activities in the field of educational research in British Guiana this past summer. He was sent to this South American country by the British Colonial Government to make a survey of adult literacy in the colony.

Mr. Hohlfeld emphasized that the aim of the United Nations Educational, Scientific, and Cultural Organization was "peace through education." Therefore, surveys such as the type made in British Guiana serve to bring out the need for literacy education. The speaker brought out the interesting fact that 120,000 out of the population of 376,000 in British Guiana are either totally or functionally illiterate. Mr. Hohlfeld's job was to conduct an experiment among these people to determine the rapidity with which they could be taught to read. This experiment was carried out successfully at Plantation Ogle near Georgetown.

Freshmen Set Example In "More Spirit" Week

A "More Spirit Week" was the subject of discussion at the first formal meeting of the freshman class last week under its new president, Floyd Justice. To spur the enthusiasm of the Bear supporters at Saturday's game, the class of '51 sponsored a demonstration led by "Whistler" Donahue.

The effigy and various signs in evidence about the campus are the products of the publicity committee under Charles Stokes.

A song committee headed by Russell Fisher has undertaken to publicize the little-known College Alma Mater and to make a recording of the Campus Song.

James Duncan, vice-president of the class, has assumed the position of chairman of the program committee, which will plan freshman activities for the second semester.

YM-YWCA HOLDS DISCUSSION ON INEVITABILITY OF WAR

Last Wednesday the YM-YWCA held its first in a series of "fireside chats." The topic "Is War A Necessary Evil?" was discussed.

Randolph Warden '48 and George Yoder '49 led two groups in considering the question. Opinion was divided between those who consider war inevitable and those who feel that it can be avoided.

War is inevitable because of the pugnacious nature of man and, although it is evil, it may be used as a weapon to erase an even greater evil such as slavery. Since man's nature is such, no man-made machine or plan will prevent war because its components, men, are fundamentally pugnacious.

Others believe we have now reached a point where world unity can be obtained and war can thus be eliminated. A federation similar to the United States was the most popular solution suggested.

New Senate Member Chosen

Constance Warren '49, member of the Weekly sports staff, has been elected to represent the School newspaper on the Senate of the WSGA. Connie, a junior majoring in physical education, is a member of the WAA and Tau Sigma Gamma sorority.

Additional advertising and patrons are being sought to help finance the book. Any student interested in procuring ads should contact either of the business managers. As an incentive, 10 percent of the ad's cost goes to the salesman.

The entire Yearbook staff is working hard to produce a distinctive book. A panorama of pictures depicting all phases of life here at Ursinus will be included. The editors hope to add color pictures to enhance the Yearbook's appearance.

Any snapshots taken about the College are in demand. Students possessing such pictures are urged to turn them in to their class representative, or to any member of the Ruby staff.

Climaxing the week-long drive is the Ruby-sponsored dance and entertainment to be given in the gym on Friday evening. A small admission fee will be charged.

Senate Drafts New Late Pass System

At the first meeting of the Senate, legislative body of the WSGA, the committee on late permissions presented a draft for a revised system of late privileges.

Under the new plan, which must be approved by ballot by a majority of the women students, all sophomores, juniors, and seniors would receive unlimited twelve o'clocks on Friday and Saturday nights; three special privileges each semester; unlimited ten-thirties during the week.

Freshmen would receive five twelve o'clocks and fifteen eleven-thirties on Friday and Saturday, but would be restricted to eight-thirty permissions from Sunday to Thursday, inclusive.

New Reception Room Rules

Revised rules for the use of the reception room were also proposed. Reception rooms would be open until 12:00 to all sophomores, juniors, and seniors on Friday and Saturday and to freshmen on Saturday evening. Although they must be in the dormitory at eleven o'clock, all girls who do not leave campus would be permitted to entertain guests in the reception room until the closing hour.

If adopted, the plan will go into effect next semester. It must, however, be adopted in its entirety and without further revision.

PENN PROFESSOR TO DELIVER ADDRESS AT FORUM SESSION

Dr. Michail M. Dorizas, Professor of Geography at the Wharton School of Finance and Commerce of the University of Pennsylvania, will speak at the second Ursinus Forum of the year on Wednesday evening, November 12, at 8:00 p. m. in Bomberger Chapel.

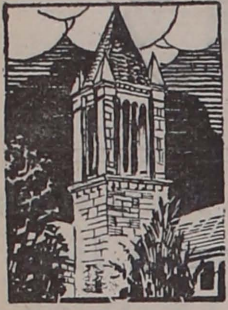

Dr. Dorizas, an internationally-known traveler and lecturer, will speak on the topic, "The World in Action." His lectures on people and places in the direct focus of international attention are constantly in demand among modern historians.

Delta Tau Plans Year's Program; To Have Dinner, Theater Party

The Delta Tau chapter of Alpha Psi Omega, the national honorary dramatic fraternity on campus, met last Tuesday evening in Bomberger Hall to discuss plans and activities for the forthcoming year. Nelson Yeakel '48 was appointed chairman of publicity for the organization.

Plans for a dinner and theater party to be held late in November were made. Marian Bell '48, secretary, was put in charge of making the necessary reservations.

The members are also planning to hold a fraternity dinner-dance sometime in the Spring.

Back the Ruby

This week has been designated as Ruby Week. Its purpose is to make the student body Ruby-conscious, and to initiate a subscription campaign.

Putting out the Yearbook is no mean feat. As far as the editors and business staff are concerned, it is a year-long task. Beyond the satisfaction gained from a job well done, the students shaping the Ruby receive no compensation. The best reward for their efforts would be a concerted response on the part of the student body to the subscription drive.

In these days of exorbitant prices and modest values, the Ruby stands out as an exception to the rule. The cost of a copy is relatively low, and no better return can be had for the amount invested.

Without exaggeration, the 1948 Ruby is going to be the biggest and best yet. So don't get left behind. Hop on the Ruby band wagon now.

Annex - notes

by John Martin '51

Last Friday, as a symbol of the opening of Freshman Prep Week, an effigy of a PMC gridiron star dangled from a tree in front of Freeland Hall. (Underdrawers contributed by Whistler.) The school spirit drive continues with candles, posters, songs and cheers. Back the Bears—win or lose!

Since W. Gallagher has been consuming so many Zeps of late, the boys have voted him the man most likely to need Sen-Sen.

The Annex Hot-Rods of America made their first appearance at the Swarthmore game. The roaring, muffler-less hacks were gaudily decorated in traditional fashion with mops, fly swatters and witty remarks. The pilots, Lecky, Vickers, Boudroni, and Justice, encountered only mild opposition from road hogs and police. Safety belts and crash helmets were the order of the day.

What handsome blond German prof residing at the Annex has been causing sleepless nights of late among his students? After only seven lessons, his proteges can glibly ask each other to hold their cheese sandwiches.

The cleanest spot in the Annex is the entrance to sec. C, which is thoroughly mopped at least twice each evening. The fun-loving occupants of this room suspend a pan of water over the door, and entering victims are given a cold reception (2 qts.) Rah! Rah! Ralph Ziegler holds the gullibility record, having been sloshed three times in two days.

GAFF from the GRIZZLY

Dr. Wagner's been proud as punch about the little bundle of charm which the stork dropped at his house last week. It was a girl, and the proud papa passed out cigars to his classes in typical "proud papa" tradition. Some of his students decorated Dr. W's office with baby pictures which he has named after the bio lab assistants.

Salute the sophs for the best week-end of entertainment so far. Never saw so many people enthused over barn dancing down in good old Thompson-Gay. Even the chaperones themselves were as "Gay" as "Thompson." Alumna Marge Coy was there with Don Remmey, Ellie was back with Chad, Joanie with Andy, and Doss Renner was with John Vance. Debby Norton was with Nels Yeakel, Frickie with "Billie-George," Eddie Daniels with Archie, Manny and Reid, and Sally Bartsch was with Jack Griffith . . . A made-to-order moonlit night helped the sophs finish off the week-end with a doggie roast. Rog Staiger's fur hat might have come off the original Ursinus bear, but we'll wager that his gingham apron came from wifey's kitchen . . . Some of the bumps beneath those "bring your own" blankets were Pat Pattison and "her" Phil, Lou Wilt and Jeannie Waltz, Bartle and "Mazurcabbage," Vera and Bill, Nance Weissman and Ray Dipple, and Freddie Frederick and Adam-thwaite.

If Donahue wants the sweat-suit used in stuffing the "String up PMC" dummy, he can stop at Maples and pick up the whole works. It's the only male who stayed overnight in a girl's dorm.

Orchids to: Mr. Morrison for our gala Halloween party, complete with four kinds of dessert . . . the freshmen who sell refreshments at the football games for the Ruby . . . the Ursinus bear who kept spirit alive in the stands on Saturday . . . Dick Davidson and Chollie Collins who risk a smashed head everytime the coach sends in a sub.

THE MAIL BOX

Letter to the Editor:

After reading an article in the Ursinus Weekly the Annex veterans, particularly those of C and D sections, are aroused and indignant. Noting the comment that spirit is returning to the campus but the veterans are discouraging it, we say 48-49-50! If you will notice the various spirit-producing activities introduced, you will find the same names on the list time after time. Take a look around. Who started the "We win, we shave; we lose, we don't" club? A veteran! Who whitewashed their cars, put banners and signs all over them? The vets. Then tell us a man who paints his combat boots red, gold, and black doesn't have spirit. And it seems that all the cheers seem to come from a certain section at each game.

The "aged" veterans of '51 are finding difficulty in attaining sophistication on $65 per month. Nevertheless, we are open to suggestions from our illustrious upper classmen on how to merge sophistication and spirit.

We are not necessarily criticizing the author of this rather ambiguous article, but we do want a clever and direct statement of facts by the above mentioned author. State your case, Mr. Smith. Are you with us vets or are you trying to balance the scales and remain friends with all concerned?

—The Veterans of the Class of '51

MR. SMITH'S REPLY:

After reading the above letter of protest, I can only express regret that Ursinus does not offer a remedial reading course.

Nowhere did I state or even imply that the term "aged veteran" is all-inclusive—it merely depicts an extreme type. Nor did I advocate, as some misguided souls seem to think, that every loyal Ursinusite dash out and buy himself a megaphone and a raccoon coat.

There is such a thing as a happy medium, friends. True, it sometimes requires a little discrimination and intelligence to find it, but, since I was addressing college students, I thought myself on safe ground. Evidently I was assuming too much.

— Ian Smith '48

Letter to the Editor:

With the institution of nationwide meatless Tuesday, Ursinus patriotically announced its cooperation with only minor grumbings to be heard.

However, even though the noon meal of salmon on Tuesday, October 28 was received agreeably though not appreciatively, I was quite resentful at learning of a member of the School staff in the kitchen eating steak and french fried potatoes.

With all due respect for the policies of the School, I think the administration should enforce those policies impartially and not direct them specifically toward the students who after all pay the salaries of the staff of professors and workers.

Respectfully, but hungrily, yours,

Is the U. N. Passe ?

The Greek, the Indonesian, the Jew—all these peoples have lived through a war. The resources of their countries have either been drained for the purpose of maintaining armed forces or they have been ravaged by war itself. The war is over for most of us, but not for the hungry Greek, the oppressed Indonesian, or the struggling Jew.

The U.N. was created in the midst of a war, created with the idea of destroying a man-made vice, which has done so much to destroy man himself. The means for abolishing war were stated in the charter. The task of carrying this out was left to the members of the U.N. Yet, the Greek, the Indonesian, and the Jew continue to battle with their neighbors.

And the U. N. continues to argue over issues irrelevant to the fighting itself. The members quibble over such matters as "who is right, the Dutch or the Indonesians?" or "has the Jew the right to all he demands?" The U.N. forgets that while it argues over comparatively trivial matters, the thing which it strives to destroy blazes on in fury.

Two reasons may be given for the U.N.'s failure to settle successfully the problems of these three peoples. The first and most important reason is that the members of the United Nations Security Council have failed to come to an agreement as to the use of armed force in settling disputes before the disputes become too serious. For example, His Majesty's troops in Palestine do not act as a mediating force, because of the fact that they are in Palestine to serve the interests of Great Britain.

Secondly, the Big Three of the Security Council is too much concerned with its own future well-being to give much attention to the problems of its little brothers.

The Big Three, in fact, are no longer a united Big Three; they are Big Two versus Big One. And as this split of the big powers causes the three nations to scrutinize one another with distrust, the smaller nations struggle on blindly. If the big members of the U. N. cannot cooperate, how can we expect the U.N. itself to be a success?

Until the Big Three can sit down side by side with one another and cooperate effectively, and until the members of the U.N. can give the organization sufficient support, there will be no peace. Until that day the hungry Greek, the oppressed Indonesian, and the struggling Jew will continue to fight.

HERE AND THERE . . .

This week's orchids go to Doc Baker's soccer team for its swell performance against a high class Swarthmore aggregation. Despite the fact that the Grizzlies dropped a 3-0 verdict to the Garnet on Wednesday, they conclusively proved to everyone present that they are improving. The defensive play of Ricky Wentzel, Dave Bahney, and new net-minder, Bill Forsyth, was at times very brilliant, and the pressing offensive tactics of Archie Simons and Dick Fink also deserve mention. Look for the Bakermen to break into the win column very shortly!

Bill Helfferich, frosh fullback, is fast developing into a first-rate line-cracker, if his showing in the recent Swarthmore tussle can be taken as a criterion. The Bruin backfield exhibited a rather potent ground attack against the little Quakers in their recent clash as they rolled up lots of yardage time and again only to falter when pay dirt beckoned.

Here's hoping that the Bruin pass defense tightens up a bit in the remaining grid clashes. In the opinion of your writer, this is about the only defensive weakness exhibited so far this campaign by the charges of Kuhrt Wieneke.

COURT CAPERS . . .

With their opening tussle against Elizabethtown coming up December 9, the basketeers, once again under the tutelage of Jerry Seeders, are busy with daily drill in an effort to round into shape. Several large gaps in the lineup were left by the graduation of such sterling performers as Dave Zeigler, George Moore, John Snyder, and Joe Much. It will be pretty much of a task to find a shot artist like Zeigler or a floor man like Moore. Your writer hopes that Coach Seeders is able to glean from the returning veterans and a host of able newcomers a winning combination.

Seeders will have several members of last year's successful quintet to rely on, plus two members of the championship squad of two seasons ago, big "Moose" Kennedy, currently performing on the gridiron, and Dave Bahney, at present

Quaker Squad Ends Bearettes' Victory Skein With 3-1 Win

Snapping Ursinus' string of victories at three, the unbeaten Pennsylvania hockey team visited Collegeville last Thursday and downed a fighting local eleven by a 3-1 count.

From the very beginning of the contest tension ran high and the cold and damp crowd on the sidelines could see that it was going to be a hard battle. The Quakers started marching early in the first period, but top-notch work on the part of the Ursinus backfield and quick-thinking goalie Sis Bosler staved off a score. Finally center forward McConnell broke through to rack up the Red and Blue's first tally.

Belles Tie Score

The fighting Bearettes, undaunted by the Penn rush, came back before the end of the initial period, with right inner Evie Moyer flicking one past the Pennsylvania goalie to even things up.

Beginning the second half under a still overcast sky, for a time neither team was able to cross the other's goal. During one of the exchanges near the Ursinus cage the locals' fullback, Floy Lewis, was hit by the ball and suffered a severe cut on the cheek. She was removed from the game and Manny Ballantyne, who had seen service in the first period, returned to the game.

Finally about three quarters of the way through the final half the Philadelphia eleven again pushed through and left inner Budd tallied, giving the visitors a 2-1 edge. Budd quickly followed up with another score to give the Penn team a two-point lead which they held until the final whistle.

a soccer player. Add to these lads a few of last season's jayvees and a horde of talented freshmen and perhaps the bespectacled court mentor can produce another Conference title holder.

Swarthmore Trips Bruin Booters, 3-0

A talented, clever-footed band of Swarthmore booters scored a decisive 3-0 win over Ursinus on Price Field Wednesday. Lack of experience and shortage of substitutes hurt the Bears as they went down to their fourth straight setback.

The contest was fast and well-played throughout. Time and again the red-shirted Ursinus front line delved deep into Garnet territory, but the ever-essential scoring punch was absent.

Swarthmore first drew blood in the initial frame on a sizzling penalty shot by Rolf Valtin. In the third period Valtin tallied again on a long rolling boot which evaded goalie Bill Forsyth.

The final marker was registered by Jim Evans in the fourth stanza. Outstanding for the Grizzlies were defenseman Dave Bahney and front-liners Simons and Fink.

The Bakermen are idle until Saturday when they travel to Haverford. Next home game is on November 12, with Lehigh providing the opposition.

Bailey Announces Fifteen Game Slate; Hoopsters Open With Elizabethtown

Grizzlies Square Off With Juniata Saturday

Kuhrt Wieneke's Bears travel to Huntingdon this Saturday to face a much-improved Juniata College eleven. Last year the Grizzlies scalped the Indians, 20-3.

The Juniata team has proven to be no soft touch thus far this season. Bill Smaltz' lads drubbed Westminster, 19-6, early this fall. In running up nineteen points, Juniata scored more points in a single game than it did all last season.

The Ursinus-Juniata series began in 1922 with the Indians taking the Bears, 18-12. In each of the succeeding games, in 1925 and 1946, the Bruins were victorious.

This year marks the termination of a 2-year grid contract between the schools.

Inasmuch as both teams are on the rebound, Saturday's game promises to be a rouser.

CAMPUS FOOTBALL NEAR END; BRODBECK, CURTIS IN LEAD

Going into the home stretch of the intra-mural pigskin race, it would seem that a photo-finish will be required to determine the league winner. Brodbeck has the edge over the ever-pressing Curtis eleven at this time, by virtue of an extra victory. Each team has dropped one contest.

Since Curtis has two more games to play and Brodbeck only one, it is possible that top honors will be shared. However, a loss by either team would throw it back into second place.

In any event it seems certain that these two will be the contestants to clash in the play-off next Monday at 4:15. It was Brodbeck that succeeded in handing the lighter Curtis squad their only setback of the season. Indications are that rivalry will run high when these two meet once more for league supremacy.

Schedule for remainder of the season:

| Tuesday— | Brodbeck vs Annex 1 |

Everett Bailey, director of athletics, announces that the '47-'48 edition of Bruin basketball teams will face a fifteen-game slate.

Elizabethtown College, a newcomer to the schedule, will clash with Jerry Seeders' charges here on December 9 in the opening tilt. Another newcomer, Philadelphia College of Pharmacy, will be played on December 16.

This year's schedule differs from those of recent years in that the hoopsters will be in action before the Xmas holidays.

Heretofore, the Bruins opened their season the first week in January.

Player of the Week

Despite the fact that for the third straight week the Bears failed to cross the enemy goal line, the player of the week choice is divided between a pair of halfbacks, Pete Tenewitz and George Saurman. The shifty Tenewitz and the hard-driving Saurman provided the only bright spots in an otherwise drab offensive performance turned in by Kuhrt Wieneke's charges in their 20-0 shellacking by PMC.

The Cadets' line was far too heavy for the plucky Grizzly forward wall, and for the first time this season the Ursinus line was outcharged during most of the tilt. This fact makes the performances of Tenewitz and Saurman even more noteworthy as they continually knifed through the line and around the flanks to accumulate plenty of yardage for the Bruins.

Tenewitz, a junior, sparked the Bear's first period drive to the PMC five which almost netted the Collegeville gridders a six-pointer. He has displayed a very consistent

Three Co-eds Make All-Hockey Squad

Representatives of twelve colleges competed in the eighth annual Middle Atlantic All-College girls' hockey tryouts which were held Saturday on the Bryn Mawr College field. Undeclared Penn captured four positions on the first team. Ursinus followed with three representatives. Two from Bryn Mawr received recognition while Temple and Beaver each placed one.

Veteran Performers Picked

Hilda Anderson, co-captain of this year's Ursinus eleven, has been selected for the left inner position for the second consecutive year on the All-College team. Joanne Duncan, a member of the sophomore class, was the other Ursinus line player honored. The Ursinus backfield member gaining recognition was Doris Greenwood, who was awarded the right half back position. All three of these girls have been Ursinus varsity players since their freshman year.

The Ursinus members to make the second team are Ann Harting, Jane McWilliams, and Edna Daniels. This is Ann's third year as an all-college player. She made the first team in her freshman year and again in her junior year. "Wee-Wick" was dually honored on Saturday, being elected captain of the second team. The center forward position goes to Jane McWilliams. "Mac" has also played three years varsity hockey here.

Edna Daniels, co-captain of the local eleven, was awarded the difficult left halfback position.

Floy Lewis was chosen All-College substitute at fullback. This is her first year as a member of the Bearettes' varsity. She performed on the JV squad for two years.

brand of ball-carrying all season long and is one of those gifted competitors who seems at his peak when the going gets rough.

The burly Saurman, who has improved immeasurably since the beginning of the campaign, gave a fine exhibition of line cracking, and also came through with several vicious tackles at opportune moments to stave off Cadet drives.

In a tussle which saw the Grizzlies turn in their worst performance to date, the fine offensive play of this pair gave the dismayed Ursinus rooters their few chances to yell.

ated completely. As the game ended the Chester club clicked on a long pass to the Ursinus six inch stripe.

Remarks are rather hard to make from a home standpoint. The Bears simply did not look like a ball club. Tenewitz and Saurman ran very nicely when they had a hole—but that is about all that can be said. Young took quite a beating while playing fine ball.

Something was lacking — your guess is as good as mine as to the answer.
