College Kaleidoscope

Outside the door girls are trooping up and down the stairs with armloads of books and clothing. Rooms are a welter of odd articles necessary and dear only to a coed. Shouts of "good-bye," "good luck," "be sure to write" (they never do) and "have a nice summer" ring from one end of campus to the other.

Yes, it's the end of another semester. College life is rather a kaleidoscope with things continually shifting. Old friends leave and new friends appear. One year is never like the next. Only the faculty and the buildings have any appearance of stability. College life is not always the grand whirl it is pictured to be. For many it means dull, plodding hard work. Yet in spite of its instability and oftentimes glamourless aspect, our days at college will always be looked back upon with pleasure.

It is doubtful whether those of us who are graduating will ever forget the good friends we have made here. It is doubtful whether we will ever forget this beautiful campus—the winter mornings when we awoke to find ourselves in an ice-encrusted fairyland and the spring evenings with the late sun slanting through the trees to cover everything with a haze of peacefulness. It is doubtful whether we shall ever forget the agony of cramming for exams in the wee small hours, but we will laugh when we remember. We will remember formals and football, bull sessions and baseball, cramming and chapel. We have a past. Our Future is brightening. We are not afraid to move on.

Those of us who will return realize only too well that our days are swiftly slipping from us and that each one is something precious to be treasured. We realize that there is much to be gotten out of college life if we take advantage of it. We realize that we must fight to uphold the college traditions and help to keep the college a vital attractive place. We realize that our presence here entails duty as well as pleasure.

The kaleidoscope is shifting again with its strange assortment of friendships, sadness, hopes, fears, and happiness.

or What's Bruin

Ah, "granulation" day, a date of excitement and happy hearts . . . a day of fond farewells and tear-drenched praises . . . a day when graduates are broke and parents likewise . . . a day of memories and sheepskins . . . what a day . . . thank heavens there's only one of them.

Weren't those caps and gowns becoming? On some, one could scarcely tell where caps stopped and the gowns began but perhaps that's why they term the day commencement 'cause that's what we're all supposed to figure out.

By now everyone is off on his merry way for the summer and isn't that nice . . . some will come back with tans, some with money, some with hangovers and some will just come back.

Here's hopin' a summer vacation will clear up this Mimi and Easy and civilian men confusion that has been raging all year long. And why is Hunter recently developing a passion for Shorty?

Some people just don't have a sense of humor and others must suffer accordingly. Don and Nance really were the victims of a ratty trick.

A few of the fellas who were visitin' this weekend past were Ray at Es' and Reds at Scoots'.

It seems that there was a big Ursinus reunion in the Hawaiian Islands a couple of weeks ago—Bob Haines, Walt Hauser, Dave Peckmann, George Ross, John Rorer, Tex Kearns, Joe Jones and Jack Miller. The gang met at the officers' club and "had a swell time . . . topped the day off by visiting John Rorer's LST," according to a letter from Jack Miller.

When you can get a sailor to hang around Collegeville just to be near his gal friend you really must have a case of true love and Hank is just the guy to take that title . . . Betty doesn't mind in the slightest tho.

Mr. Middleton is really settin' some of these seniors on the straight and narrow by inducing them to eat in the chow line.

The latest entry into Miss Snell's dog naming contest seems to be Chloe and what a howling success it should be.

Among Our Alumni

Mr. Walter B. Kelly '37, of Philadelphia, has accepted the position as instructor in English at Hofstra college, Hempstead, Long Island. Mr. Kelly has completed his residence work for his Ph.D. degree in English at the University of Pennsylvania.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles H. Miller have announced the birth of a daughter, Maryellen, on June 15.

SOCIETY NOTES

The girls of the Day Study recently attended a shower given by Betty Cowell for Gene Keeler.

Ethel L. Fehrle, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Richard P. Fehrle, of Philadelphia, will become the bride of Lt. Robert A. Doane, U.S. Army, on Wednesday in Tyler, Texas.

The girls of Fircroft recently entertained Mrs. Dennis at a shower in the Fircroft reception room.

Sigma Nu sorority held an informal dinner dance at the William Penn Inn in Lansdale on Saturday, June 16. The Valley Forge All-Soldier orchestra furnished the music.

Shore Jobs Rate
Highest with Coeds

Exams are all finished. Those caffeine pills have been put away for another semester and most everyone has hit the trail for home. After dispersing with headaches—now comes the question of summer jobs. Ursinus people have a way of getting into more different fields for summer work. It must be our bubbling personalities.

The favorite among the coeds appears to be the shore and a waitress job that yields nice fat juicy tips. Brad and Shirl head the list and are going to be hostesses at Maier's. Delphine Thompson, Elaine Loughin, Jan Koenig, Phyl Palacio, Elaine Bickhart and Carol Schoeppe will be toting trays. They'll also be out in the sun all those long afternoons and getting neat tans.

Henrietta Walker will be laboring for Sun Oil company in Marcus Hook testing high octane gasoline.

Sally Diebler and Ethel Fehrle will be getting new jobs too—the very nicest kind of jobs—'cause they are both being married. The best kind of luck and wishes to you!

Harriet Conner is going to take up her duties with an insurance company.

Play grounds mustn't be forgotten either. Tinker Harmer, Jan Shoemaker, Deanie Sinclair, and Manny Ballantyne will be instructing the younger generation in the acts of athletics and crafts.

Jinny Charles will be doing counsellor work at the camp in her home town of Medford Lakes while Mary Ellen Ellis is going to the Poconos and Court Richardson to Maine.

And then there are those of us who will be slaving away in summer school. At least we'll be in summer school hoping like mad that loads of people will come back to visit. It gets awfully lonely sometimes.

Whatever the Ursinusites do they have a wonderful time and come back with many amusing incidents to brighten those winter nights. Have a wonderful summer. We'll be seeing you again in November!

Nonsense Invades Ursinus Campus

The foundations of Glenwood Memorial were rocked last Wednesday evening when an unprecedented climactic ceremony took place there. It marked the final meeting for this semester of the Psilosophical Society for Silly Sophists. At this time three new members were inaugurated into the organization, and the President delivered his welcome and farewell address.

This society, founded about two months ago, has been doing its utmost to promote the cultural nonsense of the public. Its founders, Ronnie and Shorty, while scouting around for a suitable head for the organization, stumbled over Fred Knieriem's which was busy psilosophizing in the dishwasher and upon recognition of great possibilities for success in the office it was elected president. Each member of the mighty triumverate accepted a position as an "izer" and the club officers became Rationalizer—Ronnie Sare, Idealizer—Shorty Haimbach and Materializer—Fred Knieriem.

To become a member, one must submit an idea of some form—any idea—just so it has form. The duties of the "izers" are as follows: Idealizer—to present the ideas in the abstract state; Rationalizer—to use her reasoning powers to weigh the facts concerning the ideas; and Materializer—to bring the ideas from the abstract to the concrete.

At the first meeting it was decided upon that courses in nonsense will be given here at Ursinus beginning next fall. During the first semester one can study the Theory of Nonsense and the second semester deals with its practical application. (snap course).

The club's first project was the sponsoring of the Semi-meta-metaphor contest. The winners were selected according to the three best examples of semi-meta-metaphors that were submitted. At this time we wish to extend our heartiest congratulations to Joe Chiaravalotti, Richard Hunter and Paul Stauffer as the three winners.

In addition to being admitted into the society, they were awarded beautifully hand engraved membership cards stamped with the club's priceless seal. These were presented at the ceremony Wednesday night. The affair began with vocal solos by Fred Knieriem which were followed by his address. The prizes were awarded by the club officers and the meeting was brought to a close with the rendition of "Seven Little Silly Psilosopher Nuts Are We," an original trio composition by the Questionizer, Rationalizer, and Idealizer. New members were made "izers" and the club is now composed of seven psilosophers. Questionizer Joyce O'Neill flew under the hyphen of the semi-meta-metaphor.

This society is notorious nationwide and extends the opportunity for admission to all.

Officers at present:

President—Fred Knieriem (Materializer)
Vice-President—Ronnie Sare (Rationalizer)
Secretary—Shorty Haimbach (Idealizer)
Treasurer—Joyce O'Neill (Questionizer)
Otherizers—Joe Chevy (Anatomizer)
Richard Hunter (Homogenizer)
Paul Stauffer (Rhapsodizer)

Honor System Opinions—

Interviews were conducted at Beaver college which discussed various opinions of the honor system and its benefits to students. The general consensus of opinion resulted in approval of the honor system but the majority of the students believe that Beaver's system is unsatisfactory. Comments were made on the trouble resulting between friends' hesitancy to report fellow students. On the other hand many approve of the system as satisfactory in that it strengthens character, develops personal honor, commands respect among fellow-students and gives each person an individual responsibility.

The resulting opinion approved of an honor system but agreed Beaver does not run her's satisfactorily.

The proposal to establish the permanent headquarters of the United Nations in Philadelphia has been climaxed by a formal announcement of the city's determination to push the issue. Bearing the necessary signatures including those of Gov. Edward Martin and Mayor Bernard Samuel, the petition cites the many outstanding natural, historical, cultural, and geographical advantages which the city has to offer in its plea. A citizen's committee already formed will send a formal invitation to each representative of the United Nations now assembled in San Francisco.

"Are fraternities and sororities an asset to the Temple campus" was the topic of the second semi-annual forum sponsored by the student government of Temple university. The topic was selected as a result of a letter submitted to the New Ideas bureau and an article in the Women's Home companion which charged Greek societies with being undemocratic.

Lafayette Wins 8-7; Gartner Hits Homer For Bears in Ninth

Only 2 Lafayette Runs Earned As Bears Lose Final Game

Despite a four run rally in the ninth led by Johnny Gartner's four bagger, the Ursinus Bears received an 8-7 setback from Lafayette in the final game of the season on Thursday, June 13, on the Ursinus diamond.

Ursinus again lost the game on errors with seven chalked up for them against two for the opponents. Only two Lafayette runs were earned.

Lafayette opened the game with two runs. The first man up struck out, but Kelley dropped the last strike and failed to recover the ball in time to retire the batter at first. This runner scored when the clean-up hitter knocked the ball out into far center field for a homerun. They tallied again with one run in the second and third innings. Gumerlock made a beautiful catch at second on a bunt fielded by Connell in the second inning, and Bob Geist put out a batter in the third making a sensational catch of a foul ball behind the backstop to get rid of other possible Lafayette runs.

The home club failed to score until the third inning when they brought three runs across the plate to cut the visitor's lead down to one run. Bob Stockton started the inning off with a double and then came home on Jack Connell's single. Jim Williams scored Connell on a hard hit triple and then crossed the plate himself on a passed ball for the third Ursinus run.

Neither team scored in the fourth, fifth, or sixth inning, but Lafayette broke the ice in the seventh tallying two runs. Bob Stockton was the outstanding player in the field this inning making a one-handed shoestring catch of a ball hit just to the left of first base. The visitors scored again in the eighth after which Mitchell relieved Connell, but they brought in one more run in the ninth.

Bob Geist had a single to open the big ninth inning followed by Shaud, pinch-hitting for Wagner, who reached first on a fielder's choice, Geist reaching second on the second baseman's error. These two men scored on Kelly's single. Stockton then went out second to first. With one on, Gartner stepped to the plate for his first time all season and drove a four bagger out center field way. The next two Ursinus men were retired and so ended the inning, one run short of a tie.

Lafayette had only five hits for their eight runs while Ursinus had eight.

Ursinus 0 0 3 0 0 0 0 4-7
Lafayette 2 1 1 0 0 0 2 11-8

Looking 'Em Over

The last issue of the Ursinus Weekly rolls off the press and we all go home to our wives and children. The sporting world went out like a lion last week when Gartner, who batted a 100 all year tallied with a homer as pinch hitter. It is the only time that Gartner has seen action all year, and he certainly made his time at bat count. Congrats Gartner and many happy homers to come.

It will seem awfully lonely around the old Thompson-Gay gym after Monday. The shadows will lack the usual groans on P.T., the cheers of victorious teams, and the whispered nothings of . . . but I'm getting off the main subject.

Those who remain for the summer term can look forward to another softball league. There is no word to indicate whether the baseball club will function during the summer term or not. We'll just have to wait and see what develops. There are quite a few of the team members who will remain here this summer: Starer, Robertson, Gumerlock, Shaud, Mitchell, Stockton, Connell, and so on into the night. Maybe we'll have a team and maybe not.

That about does up the package for this time. If you're around for the summer term pass along any good news. If you're not — good luck in everything you do.

Brodbeck Ten Lose To Curtis Stars 7-6

K. D. Millsop pitched the Curtis All-Stars to a 7-6 triumph over the All-Stars from Brodbeck last week to prove conclusively that the best softball players came from Curtis.

Against a battery of Millsop and Thornes, Brodbeck got hits in the second, fourth, fifth, and sixth innings. They scored two runs on one hit and a couple of walks in the fourth, and threatened with three hits in the fifth. However only two runs materialized, and the last two runs came in on one hit in the sixth. Jack Miller pitched to Gartner; Glaser was at first, Bayer at second, Daley at third, Newlin at short stop, Whitman at left field, Agnello at short field, McLaughlin at center field, and Kauffman at right field.

The winners knocked out two hits in the second to bring in two runs, four in the third for three, two in the seventh for one, and two in the eighth for the winning run.

Phys Eds Elect Virginia Charles To Head Club at Final Meeting

Virginia Charles '46, was elected president of the Physical Education club for the coming year at an informal meeting on Tuesday evening in Rec center.

Jinny, a physical education major, played javvee hockey and basketball and was manager of this year's softball team.

The phys-edders chose Margie Bizilia '47, and Edna Daniels '48, as their vice-president and secretary-treasurer.

Retiring president Peggy Hudson presided over the meeting.

Final Match Ends In 3-2 Penn Victory

The Ursinus coeds bowed to the Penn racquet wielders 3-2 on Tuesday, June 12, at Ursinus in the last match of the year.

Tinker Harmer and Janet Shoemaker turned in the two Ursinus victories defeating Joan Fernley and Marguerite Huxler. Although in Tink's match both girls were very steady and the games were close, Tink placed her shots well to gain the victory 7-5, 6-4.

Jan won her match in three sets 6-2, 9-7, 6-3. Despite the three sets Jan seemed to be ready and waiting for each of her opponents' shots and made the first and third sets decisive victories.

The first singles match with Betsy Claves losing to Betsy Crothers 1-6, 6-2, 3-6, was the best played. Betsy couldn't seem to get started in the first set and took only one game, but she came back in the second with beautiful hard forehand drives landing just inside the base line to give her opponent just two games.

Both doubles lost their matches. Peggy Hudson and Jackie Landis went down 5-7, 1-6 to Polly Page and Tinker Zule, while Courtenay Richardson and Betty Bradway lost 2-6, 3-6 to Shirley McConnell and Ruth Radbill.

Jan Shoemaker is New Tennis Captain

Courtenay Richardson '46, was reelected captain of the softball team and Janet Shoemaker '46, was elected tennis captain for the coming year last week.

Court, who played short stop this year and led the team in hitting, has played varsity for three years. Winner of the WAA medal, she has also held a forward position on the basketball varsity for three years and played two years of varsity tennis.

Jan, third singles player this year, will not only head the tennis team but was also chosen as captain of next season's hockey team. Along with her two years of varsity tennis Jan has played the left fullback position on the hockey team for three years.

Coed Softball Team Takes Every Game To End Fifth Straight Undeclared Season

by Jane Day '48

The varsity teams of the Ursinus girls have just completed another season under the capable direction of Miss Eleanor Snell. Although most of the teams did not reach last year's peak, nevertheless the softball team remained undefeated for thir fifth season.

Under the leadership of Captain Betty Bradway the girls completed an exciting and successful hockey season. The game against Temple was the best demonstration of top-notch hockey and the Ursinus coeds came out on the long end of a 2-0 score. Brad played the outstanding game of the team at her right fullback position, saving many would-be goals and sending the ball up to the line in many spectacular scrimmages.

When tryouts were held for berths on the Middle Atlantic All-College team, Captain Bradway made the team for her second successive year. Gracie Nesbitt, goalie, made the second team while D. J. Hobensack, center half, got honorable mention. Brad is the only graduate on the team. Next year's eleven, captained by Jan Shoemaker, should see a good season with so many regulars back.

The Ursinus coeds went into the basketball season with a green squad with the exception of Brad, Gracie Nesbitt and Courtenay Richardson, who had played some varsity ball. This year's varsity squad was quite unusual, having twelve equally good players who were shifted around and played in many combinations. The freshmen held down four places on the squad.

Deanie Sinclair, captain of next year's squad, played the most outstanding game at her guard position, saving the ball many times and advancing it to her forwards. Captain of basketball also, Brad played a clever game as forward, using effectively many pivots and fakes.

Spring rolled around a bit early and brought with it many tennis enthusiasts. This squad was perhaps the veteran squad of the four needing only one new player, Em Fischer, who made up the second doubles team with Court Richardson. Captained by Peg Hudson, the team lost only two matches. Betsy Claves, top-seeded player, reached the semi-finals in the Middle Atlantic Intercollegiate Tennis tournament but was defeated by Gloria Evans, winner of the tourney. The first doubles team, composed of Peg Hudson and Jackie Landis, with their exceptional teamwork and net work played bang up tennis.

Spring brought to light also the usual softball enthusiasts who could be seen many afternoons practicing hard to improve their game. The girls won every game, losing and tying none. The Lewis-town game, in which the sluggers of Ursinus pulled out from a 9-3 score to win 12-9, was the hair-raising contest of the season. The efficient battery consisting of Erma Keyes and Hilda Anderson got the best workout of the season. Erma pitched spectacularly throughout the season. The team as a whole played top flight ball.

Senior PEers Show Brains and Brawn

Whilst others delve in hard and studious work, let us launch our feeble pen and ink barque upon the waves of criticism and see just what is accredited to Phys. Ed. that it should be acclaimed a snap course.

There are six brilliant students who have outlived the hard course out of twelve lusty individuals who started as freshmen. These hardy souls have survived such easy courses as History 1, 2; Bio. 2, 3, 4; Chem. 1, 2; Human; Kines.; and P. E. 1 to 20. The following is a report of our findings on the six. All but one are on the B list and two are permanent Rosicrucians. None have ever failed a subject which disproves the statement that phys-edders are all brawn and no brain.

Anne Baird is first on our alphabetical list. Anne was president of the WAA. We'll always thank her for that wonderful banquet. Her good looks have gotten her a position as May Queen attendant every year. Perhaps she could be called the constant bridesmaid for she is always dashing off to help get people married. She has no definite plans for next year as yet.

Next is Betty Bradway, known to all as Brad, who has played on the hockey, basketball, and tennis varsities and was captain of the first two sports. She gained a position as fullback on the All-College Hockey team for two consecutive years. Well-known for her smart attires and her role as Puck, Brad has a coaching position at Norris-town high to keep her happy.

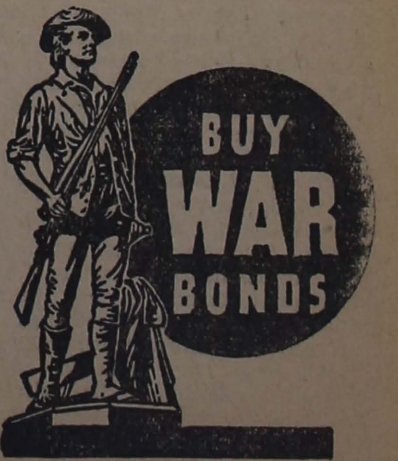

Beverly Cloud is third. Better known as Bev or Ever Clever Cloud, she is quite adept at singing (one of the Stardusters) and making up poems. After this summer Bev will march to Georgia where her parents recently moved. She hopes to get a job in the sunny south, and we're sure she'll have no trouble at all.

Mrs. Betty Brown Dando, distinctly known for some time as "the only married woman on campus," is next. B.B. was the president of WSGA this year and is trying for the position of P.E. instructor at Pitman high. Her plans for the summer are mainly to go to Texas and see Charley, if she has to buy a jalopy and drive it. Wonder what he'll think of that new hair do?

Blonde Peg Hudson, tennis captain and star, comes next. Along with her athletic activities Peg heads the P.E. club, Inter-Sorority council and Phi Alpha Psi sorority. She is famous for hair styles—both her own and those she creates on others. Her big event was the engagement to Moose and the big question was—who does she think she surprised? Peg will be working with Allie Dougherty, an Ursinus alumna at Summerville high school, N. J.

Last but not least comes Shirley Klein, better known as Shirl. Although really a chem major Shirl has all the hours of a P.E. major and is inseparable from the rest. Her voice brought her membership to the Stardusters. Wherever Shirl is there's bound to be laughter and gay frivolity.

Four years together have made the six almost inseparable. A summer at the shore, a husky lasting tan, and Bev's new home gave them the inspiration to inflict Ursinus with a Southern drawl that we all will nevah fo' get. Mr. Bailey's picnic was the final high spot to a wonderful four years for six saddened seniors.
