Bone and Carter Lay Ground For Reconstruction Talks

The first forum of the year, held last Wednesday evening in Bomberger Hall, featured addresses centered around the general subject of the war and post-war reconstruction by Professors Harvey L. Carter and Maurice O. Bone of the faculty.

Professor Carter, speaking on the topic "Political Issues of the War," emphasized the fact that before reconstruction the war must be won. To insure this he suggested three prerequisites that are now lacking: "a strong belief in the principles of democracy and a willingness to abide by it; unity and confidence in our associates; and a will to work for making this a better world."

America Should Influence Peace

Enlarging on these points, Dr. Carter observed that no matter how the war is decided, it will inevitably bring changes, and that it should be the concern of the American people to influence these changes in accordance with democratic principles. This means the guarantee of "a reasonable degree of freedom of expression and a reasonable degree of economic security."

In commenting on the attitude of the United States toward the other members of the United Nations, Dr. Carter stated that, most of all, China needs encouragement — "and without charge", that the attitude of the United States toward Russia should be sympathetic, and that Great Britain must not be followed too blindly.

Economic Jealousy Causes War

Professor Bone, presenting "The Background of Economic Post-War Reconstruction", attributed the cause of the war to economic jealousy, "for what a country cannot get by exchange it will take by force."

He continued, saying that one of three policies will inevitably prevail in post-war reconstruction: extreme nationalism, definite geographical economic areas, or a world economy. From 1860 to 1914 the policy of world economy was practiced, proved efficient, and is to be preferred for a reconstructed world after the present conflict.

The speaker then laid down several rules, the observance of which is necessary for world economy. He stated that "there must be freedom of movement of goods among the countries; there must be free-

CURTAIN CLUB BOOKS PLAY TRYOUTS FOR TUESDAY NIGHT

Tryouts for the first Curtain Club play of the season will be held tomorrow night at the home of Vice-President and Mrs. Donald L. Helfferich. These tryouts are open only to members of the Senior Class and the Curtain Club.

"Ring Around Elizabeth", a three-act comedy by Charl Armstrong, is the title of the play to be given as one of the highlights of the Senior Weekend. Chosen by a special committee of the organization, the play has been turned over to a committee for editing.

Mr. and Mrs. Helfferich, who were recently named official sponsors of the club, are planning to produce three plays this year with the help of the club's members. There will be one play during the Senior Weekend, one during Junior Weekend, and one on Mothers' Day. This year the club plans increased activity, including weekly meetings.

All students interested in stage and property work are asked to hand written applications for membership to any member of the Curtain Club.

DETWILER, BRUNNER ELECTED TO FILL COUNCIL VACANCIES

Paul Detwiler '44, was elected last Monday night by the men of the Junior Class to represent them in the Men's Student Council. He will fill the vacancy left by Al Wells ex '44, who has joined the Air Corps.

Detwiler was the second addition made to the Council this year. Earl Brunner '44A, was appointed earlier to represent the Men's Day Study.

"Praise the Lord" Chaplain Attended College During '28

Lieut. Howell Forgy Stayed At Ursinus 3 Months

In the midst of the controversy over the authorship of the now historic phrase which inspired the current war song "Praise the Lord and Pass the Ammunition", it has been discovered that one of the two Navy chaplains to whom it is ascribed is a former Ursinus student.

Lieutenant Howell Forgy, 34-year-old Naval Chaplain, entered Ursinus in 1928 from West Philadelphia High School. He had an outstanding record in high school football, having played fullback for two years, then tackle in his senior year, where he gained all-state recognition. He became an outstanding tackle on the freshman team despite a Weekly article which proclaimed him "the best fullback in Philadelphia scholastic circles, a hard hitting line plunger, and an exceptionally good punter, averaging well over fifty yards".

Elected Frosh Prexie

Besides being a member of the freshman team Forgy was elected president of the Freshman Class. Campus contemporaries recall that after some narrow escapes he managed to appear on time for the freshman banquet. He left school before the end of the first semester, however, and went to Muskingum College, where he became president of his class and of the student

FORMER COLLEGE NURSE ATTENDING U.S. ARMY "SOMEWHERE IN ENGLAND"

Lieutenant Helen M. Moll, College nurse from 1934 to 1942, is now stationed somewhere in England, according to a letter recently received by Dean of Women Camilla B. Stahr.

Miss Moll, who is remembered at Ursinus for her efficient, dependable, and untiring work, was inducted into the Army Nurses' Corps in February, 1942. In the last week of September she was transferred to England, "a place I've always wanted to visit, but never expected to do so as the guest of Uncle Sam."

After a pleasant, though trifle chilly voyage, Miss Moll arrived at her new post. According to her letter, she takes daily walks through the beautiful English countryside.

Social life apparently is not lacking for the army nurse in England. In the course of one day Miss Moll attended a military service at an Anglican church, a tea at a Methodist church, and received an invitation for supper at the home of one of the parishioners.

Miss Moll came to Ursinus after having graduated from Reading

IN BRIEF!

President Norman E. McClure announced today that the College will suspend classes on Monday, November 9, if the College ties or beats Drexel next Saturday.

William Daniels '44A, will speak to the Wednesday morning devotional service at 7:15 a. m. in the home of Dr. John Lentz. Breakfast for those attending this service will be served at 6:45 a. m. in the Upper Dining Room.

Fathers' Day Banquet To Feature Addresses By Steward and Ditter

Bears To Play Drexel Tech In Afternoon Grid Game

The fathers of two Ursinus students will speak at the annual Fathers' Day Banquet next Saturday at 6:00 p. m. in the Upper Dining Room.

Mr. H. D. Steward '07, and Congressman J. William Ditter, honorary alumnus of the College, will share the honors at the annual banquet which climaxes the Fathers' Day program. Toastmaster for the occasion will be Vice-President Donald L. Helfferich, while Dean Whorten A. Kline will be called upon for a few remarks.

The program in the afternoon will feature the football game with the Drexel Dragons, scheduled to get underway at 2:00 p. m.

Mr. Ditter is the father of J. William Ditter Jr. '43, while Mr. Steward is the father of Dean Steward '44A, and Robert E. Steward '38. Each speaker will deliver a short, informal talk to the guests at the banquet.

Tickets for the banquet may be secured this week in the Registrar's Office. No charge will be made to

OLD TIMERS' DAY TO FEATURE GETTYSBURG GAME AND DANCE

Speaking for the Old Timers' Day Dance committee, Chairman Andrew H. Souerwine '45A, stated today, "In spite of the many difficulties arising from the war effort, we promise to make this dance an occasion equal to or better than those in previous years."

The dance, which will highlight Old Timers' Day on October 14, will get underway at 8:00 p. m. and last until midnight in the Thompson-Gay Gymnasium.

During the afternoon, the football team will meet the Gettysburg Bullets with game time scheduled for 2:00 p. m.

Members of the dance committee are Betty Power '43, Robert Bauer '43A, Joyce Behler '44, Shirley Klein '45, and William Watson '46A.

"Unity in Diversity" Will Be Subject Of Interdenominational Conference

Dr. John Nelson To Keynote Wednesday's Meetings

Dr. John Nelson who will be the principle speaker at the Interdenominational Conference on Wednesday evening.

Gathering all the religious denominations represented on campus into a single group, the YMWCA Interdenominational Conference will meet to discuss "Unity in Diversity" on Wednesday evening at 7:00 p. m.

Leading the conference will be Dr. John Nelson, director of the department of student relations, Presbyterian Board of Christian Education, and noted youth leader.

The purpose of the conference, which is annually sponsored by the combined Y cabinets, is to unite all of the denominations at Ursinus in the realization of their common goal in making the Christian church stronger.

Combined Meeting To Hear Nelson

The program of the conference will include a short combined meeting which Dr. Nelson will address. The Presbyterians, Methodists, Catholic, Episcopalians, Lutherans, Reformed, and Baptists will then separate under the leadership of one of the guest theologians to discuss "Unity in Diversity" individually. Any student of a denomination not represented is invited to the Baptist meeting.

Assisting Dr. Nelson in the conference will be Father John O'Neill, of St. Eleanor's Church in Collegeville, who will lead the Catholics; Dr. Frederick Iglar, a young theologian from the University of Pennsylvania who will lead the Baptists; and the Reverend Frederick Wentzel, from the youth department of the Evangelical and Reformed Church Board of Philadelphia and the father of Richard Wentzel '46, who will lead the Reformed group.

In addition, the Reverend James Pritchard, professor at the Crozier Theological Seminary, will lead the Methodists, and the Reverend George Baldwin and Dr. Robert Gearhart Jr., who both are connected at the University of Pennsylvania, will lead the Episcopalians and Lutherans respectively.

Dr. Nelson, who will set the mode of the conference with his keynote address, is an alumnus of Princeton where he wrote and drew for The Princeton Tiger, headed the symphony, took part in a variety of activities, and graduated with high honor.

Grad of McCormick Seminary

LIBRARY INCREASES RAKE-OFF ON BOOKS THAT ARE OVERDUE

Charles H. Miller, College librarian, has announced a new set of rules by which the library will operate this year. Foremost among the rules is a fine of 50 cents for books placed on overnight reserve which are not called for.

Another new rule boosts to two cents each day the fine for overdue books, while if the book is on reserve, the overdue fine will be 15 cents for the first hour and 10 cents for each additional hour. The fine on a one week reserve book will be 10 cents for each day it is overdue.

In addition to the notice of the fine, which will be sent to the student as the fine is incurred, the library will send a statement each month. In case a student neglects to pay this fine by the fifteenth of the month the bill will be sent to the treasurer's office and the fine deducted from the ten dollar deposit made at matriculation.

BAYNE TO ADDRESS CHEMISTS

Gilbert Bayne '43, will speak to the Beardwood Chemical Society at its regular meeting on Thursday evening at 8:00 p. m. in Bomberger Hall.

The subject of his talk will be "Polarography, Its Import, Scope, and Function in Qualitative and Quantitative Chemistry".

Council President Tells Vespers of Religion in College

Becker Assails Low Level Of Students' Interest

"Is your attitude toward religion the same now that you are in college as it was before? Do you go to church as regularly, take communion each month, or pray as often as you formerly did?" These were some of the questions asked by Frederick Becker '43A, president of the Men's Student Council, in his talk on "Religion Goes to College" at last evening's vespers. "At college the student sometimes forgets religion or changes his feelings toward it", he stated. "While receiving a well rounded liberal education, we often become too liberal in our religious thinking; and it becomes a challenge to our mode of existence. We form our own religion to fit our own particular needs and desires."

"College life is the time for the processes of reasoning to assert themselves", he said. "However, there is too often confusion in the student's mind; for he has not been well instructed." He went on to say that the average person's religious education is on a grade school level. "We are trying to solve adult problems with a childish religion. We don't bother to better our religious education."

Becker continued by expressing his belief that the war has caused a general return to religious thinking.

ENGLISH CLUB SCHEDULES BOOK REVIEW FOR TONIGHT

"The Days of Ofelia", by Gert-rude Diamant, will be reviewed by Barbara Cooke '44, at the meeting of the English Club at 8:00 p. m. tonight at the home of Dr. McClure.

This Book-of-the-Month Club selection cuts through the surface of Mexican life, showing the living people, their problems, and their customs and characteristics. Intending to administer intelligence tests to the Atome Indians in Mexico, the author became so interested in life there that she went to live with the Mexican Indians in order to discover the true nature of the Mexican people.

The book conveys the flavor of Mexican life with extraordinary accuracy and is filled with charm and humor. According to H. B. Parkes, author of "History of Mexico", "The Days of Ofelia" is "far superior to the innumerable books on Mexico that have appeared during the last decade."

Illustrations by John Cosgrove aid in presenting Mexico as a more attractive subject to many discriminating readers.

High School and the school of nursing of the Reading Hospital. Having enlisted in the Red Cross Nurses' Reserve, she was subject to call when needed; thus February saw her departure from Ursinus, with the good wishes of five hundred students.

In her letter Miss Moll asks for news of Ursinus and expresses her desire to hear from her friends at the College. All mail should be sent to: Lieutenant Helen M. Moll; A. P. U. 302; c/o Postmaster; New York, N. Y.

IN THE MAIL BAG

In the next column there appears a letter "to the editor" concerning certain remarks in last week's Weekly. It's a letter that should be answered. However, it's a letter that everyone will answer for himself. This is the way we would do it.

Let's not bother with the first paragraph — it's personal. As for the second, the one concerning the ground-gaining ability of the football team, let's look at the record. The season's half over, and the Bears have netted 25 yards from scrimmage. No matter how we support the team, it must be admitted that that's not impressive.

As for the reference to Shropshire, we always thought that "double teaming" and "mouse-trapping" required two men — in other words that F & M respected Shropshire enough to put two men on him for the afternoon. Perhaps the sports editor was ambiguous, but he didn't mean to slam.

Then comes a request for optimism from the sports department. There are times when optimism gets a little strained, especially if a panning is in order. It's strictly up to you whether or not sugar coating should cover up indifferent football. We never thought so.

And finally there is the accusation about stealing a write-up from the Inquirer, and the reminder that Gettysburg and Drexel didn't play until last Saturday. The former is a question of a statement without facts, and the latter was a Weekly boner. There's no justification for the one, and we have no defense for the other.

IF WE WIN . . .

President McClure has announced that there will be no classes next Monday if the football team ties or beats Drexel.

If we do either, it will be a day to celebrate. In ordinary times it would be a day worth public demonstration. But in these war times, a moment's reflection will show that the spectacle of students wasting time in the celebration of a football win might not be understood by those who have men sacrificing their time, money, and selves in the service — especially when college students are deferred to work, not play.

In other words, don't let an Ursinus win make us obnoxious to those around us. It's not much of a sacrifice on our part.

MANNERS

The forum the other night was interesting. It proved that two members of the faculty are informed, interesting speakers, but also showed that the old complaint about Ursinus manners still applies.

When a man is addressing an audience, the tardy few who can't keep the meeting time in mind disturb not only him, but the audience as well. Those students who thoughtlessly clattered down the stairs should have known better, and the late-comers who entered from the back should have done so more quietly.

GAFF from the GRIZZLY

New Faces for Old

Now the wolves will have a chance to see what the '46 crop is like. The removal of the girls' customs did a lot to make the campus look better.

Coincidentally, the hunting season has just opened.

It started This Summer

One of those very serious romances that attracts little attention seems to belong to Ted Burns and "Slats" Whiteside.

If we're wrong, get in line to sue, but if we're right, it might be another diamond down Clamer way.

Looking for Cinderella?

One of these times, ask Lou Bock about the pair of shoes he hoarded for a week. It seems that he was having them cleaned for a young lady after the Halloween party the other night.

Polygamy

We know that times are tough, gals, but we had no idea that it had reached such proportions that Betty Dowd, P. J. Vibbard, Evelyn DeVore, Peg Brunner, and Shirley Ellis would date Freshman "Hank Clark", sight unseen. And all for the same night, too.

By the way, gals, are you sure you know him when you see him now?

B. B. Is the Latest

The thought has been expressed by the campus bachelors (wolves to you) that it would be a good idea to have diamond rationing too.

Snatch Racket

Speaking of kidnapping presidents—and who wasn't—it might be pointed out that the Class of '43 is pretty good. As freshmen, they protected their honor and their president. As sophomores, they snatched Freshman Eddie Lord and removed all dignity from his inauguration. Last year, as juniors, they kept Prexie Dick Edwards from harm. And this year, well, ask Kilcullen where he was this week.

THE MAIL BOX

To the Editor:
 Attention Mr. Ihrie
 Dear Sir:

If I'm not mistaken, your column in the Weekly of October 26, 1942, contained this complimentary quip. "Think from now on until the Drexel game, we'll feature hockey. Lots more fun that way." As a matter of fact, Mr. Ihrie, perhaps it would be a good idea if you did feature hockey all year around—I feel certain you know much more about that than you do about men's athletics.

Ursinus takes it on the chin (and elsewhere from Muhlenberg), so what happens?—just this: in the eyes of Mr. Ihrie, Ursinus will have to struggle to gain 100 yards from scrimmage in four games this year. But just one week ago Ursinus holds F and M to a scoreless tie and breaks Weekly headlines. Great team then. Am I right, Mr. Ihrie?

In one game, Elwood Shropshire, just one of the greatest tackles around, gets "mouse-trapped and double teamed all over the field." Tell me, Mr. Ihrie, was that meant as a compliment or a slam? I think that you should read your pigskin dictionary once more.

The Bears may not win this year, nor even score—but don't you think an optimistic sports editor would help just a little? The Booster Club boosts and Ihrie boots—big deal!!!

Incidentally, thanks from the football team for that great two inch write-up of the Muhlenberg game reprinted from the Inquirer (cut down, at that). Maybe for the Bears' sake we'd better distribute Saturday's Inquirer on Monday night instead of "Bob Ihrie Looks 'Em Over".

Disgustedly yours,
 (signed)

Sheridan D. Much '44

P.S. — So Gettysburg did whip Drexel. Hmmm, very interesting. I wasn't aware that they had played each other.

The Commentator

POST-WAR RECONSTRUCTION

In this war we potential soldiers are faced with the problem of "rendering unto Caesar the things that are Caesar's and unto God the things that are God's." Usually this principle is reasonable and easily conformed to, but during war time it defies reason.

The principle offers us not the customary command of "both . . . and . . ." but the choice of "either . . . or . . ." We grope in darkness to make our decision, but find ourselves at a loss to do so. How shall we resolve this paradox? Shall we keep our hands free from blood, or shall we patriotically participate in mass murder?

Truthfully, there is no choice — the answer is inevitable. The question of self-preservation is involved, but so is the matter of preserving that which is God's. Like Jesus himself in the anger of the moment we shall put aside our habitual quietness, and grasping the lash, drive the money-changers from the temple. Our hands shall be bloody.

Our punishment too is inevitable. We shall have transgressed a law of God; therefore, we must suffer punishment. Doubtless, as mature and educated men in a modern world, we need not fear physical torment in a physical hell after death. Still we must suffer punishment. "I am heaven and hell," says Fitzgerald, in his translation of The Rubyat. Hell, therefore, is within us; and it is in that hell within ourselves that we must do penance. And for long days and nights after the war has ended, we shall suffer inner torment. Within our minds every ugly battle shall be repeated again and again, every brutal murder, every horror. By the law of compensation, we must experience mental and spiritual agonies like Macbeth's. This is the reality of hell.

However, there is a hope of lessening that punishment. It lies in our motive. Instead of warring with national selfishness—America for America, and England for England—we must fight for the world and for God. We cannot murder for His sake, but we can win the victory for God. And when the peace treaty is being made, we must—all of us—sit at the conference table in the spirit of a Wilson and with the Sermon on the Mount constantly in mind. Unless we do this, catastrophes like the present one will continue until some generation of men, realizing that "His will shall be done" establishes the kingdom of heaven on earth.

PROFS (with apologies)

I think that I shall never see
 A prof who thinks and writes like me.

A prof who reasons history's dull
 Because it cannot dent the skull,

A prof who never thinks of books
 Without dark, down, sour looks

And one who thinks that grammar's stuff
 That newborn babes know well enough.

Or one who likes the social side —
 A walking talk, or canoeing ride.

Good marks are made by fools you see,
 Because the profs don't think like me.

URSINUS 1917-18

As a matter of interest the other day, we were paging through old copies of the Weekly — those from 1917-18. It was interesting to read of Ursinus in the last war, and so we picked out a few items which we'll pass along.

April 16, 1917

Military training was officially instituted. The initial movement in this direction was taken by the men students of the College, who presented a petition to the Committee of the Directors asking that military training be provided. Instruction and drill will be held each week-day except Saturday at 4 p. m. Students who may ultimately enter the army can thus secure excellent preliminary training and at the same time continue their studies in college, while all of the students may enjoy the well known benefits of military training.

April 30, 1917

At an important meeting of the faculty last Tuesday afternoon it was decided that the remainder of the baseball schedule would be cancelled and that the periods of classroom work would be shortened from one hour to forty-five minutes. It was thought advisable that school work should only continue until 3:30 p. m., to give everybody ample opportunity for some recreation before the drill.

May 21, 1917 (Exchange item)

Large numbers of the students of Muhlenberg have enlisted. The Junior Class has but ten members left. College work will continue, but examinations will be suspended and the commencement exercises shortened. (Ed. Note—An excellent idea.)

November 5, 1917

The Students' Friendship War Fund is now in progress. One of its purposes is to save the girls of the country from the dangers and evils of war which undermine the life and soul of the nation.

December 17, 1917

Due to the difficulty of heating the chapel and the present shortage of fuel, vesper services will be discontinued until further notice.

January 7, 1917

At a special meeting of the Junior Class on December 19, it was decided that there will be no 1918 Ruby. This action was taken because publishing labor and materials are both scarce and expensive.

February 18, 1918

The Zwinglian Freshman Declamation Contest has been postponed because Bomberger Hall is closed for the fuel-less winter.

October 7, 1918

Every man who can reasonably afford it will buy a bond before October 20. It is our first real shot at the Hun; let it be a hard one.

November 18, 1918

Never before was there seen in Collegeville such a remarkable scene as the splendid victory parade in which the student body took the Kaiser on his "last ride".

SOCIETY NOTES

The engagement of Betty Brown '45, to Charles A. Dando, Philadelphia, was announced at a dinner in her home on Saturday, October 24.

The girls of Clamer Hall held a Halloween party in their hall last Friday evening. Mary Jane Lytle '44, was in charge of arrangements, while Betty Hunter '45, and Beatrice Weaver '45, were in charge of the food and decorations committees.

The women of 944 will hold a USO party in their hall for the women students of the College next Sunday afternoon from 2:00 p. m. to 4:00 p. m.

The Sunday Evening Social Club of Ursinus met in Derr Hall last night. Homer Koch and Henry Turner were in charge of the refreshment committee.

Ursinus, Bryn Mawr Battle to 2-2 Tie

In the first meeting of the two teams for the past five years, the coeds of Ursinus and the hockey team of Bryn Mawr battled to a 2-2 tie at Bryn Mawr on Wednesday afternoon, as the Ursinus girls continued their travels by bus and trolley.

The Ursinus squad left the field at half-time with a 2-1 lead as a result of goals by center forward Jeanne Mathieu and freshman left inner Tinker Harmer; but the Bryn Mawr center pushed through a tally in the second half to tie the score.

All of the Ursinus girls played well, with Marion Bright starring at her right half post, and wing Judy Ludwick showing exceptional bursts of speed as she carried the ball down the field. Freshman Janet Shoemaker, a converted inner, gave a good account of herself at her new left fullback position.

The lineup:

Ursinus	Bryn Mawr
Bricker LW	Scribner
Harmer LI	Murnaghan
Mathieu CF	Gifford
McDaniel RI	Hardenburgh
Ludwick RW	Laro
Halbruegge LH	Offutt
Landis CH	Matthai
Bright RH	Perkins
Shoemaker LF	Dent
Bradway RF	Smith
Kirlin G	Hall

Looks 'Em Over

The Bears will be out for meat Saturday, Dragon meat. Should win by a touchdown . . . Drexel isn't as easy as the records show . . . Two losses were to undefeated teams, two others close, then Gettysburg . . . Everyone was quick to notice the boner in the reported 20-0 victory of the Bullets last Monday . . . We all make 'em, even football players, eh Joe . . . Just to clear up an old mistake. Sorry that note about Shrop being mousetrapped and double-teamed was taken wrong . . . Didn't mean a slam, only mentioned the fact Shrop was good enough to rate two or three men . . . Best explanation we've heard yet for football is that it's not the fault of the coach or the team, but the competition . . . Since Ursinus isn't all out for winning grid squads like colleges with more money, more pressure from townspeople, we should play other schools with the same slant on things . . . Pete wants to win as much as everyone, so do the boys . . . Don't see why the Mule-Bear game should have rated more than three original inches (with facts taken from official college statistics and no plagiarism) . . . Seems the less said about those games the better . . . All the students there were plenty glad when the final whistle blew . . . Incidentally, if my story resembled the Inquirer's, so did those in the Allentown Morning Call, Evening Chronicle, Pottstown Mercury and News, Norristown Times-Herald, and at least 25 different local papers, besides Bethlehem Globe-Times and various others in Lehigh Valley . . . The yardage statistics were the same I'll admit . . . It will be somethin' if the Bears gain the length of the field, Joe, so far I'm almost certain there is a minus to their credit if you count yards lost . . . The deficit at 'Berg was 37 yards.

Bakermen Drop Close 1-0 Decision To Swarthmore

Lack of Scoring Punch Causes Setback

After absorbing a stinging 10-0 defeat at the hands of the Haverford booters on Wednesday, Doc Baker's inexperienced but fighting soccer team came back to drop a close 1-0 decision to Swarthmore on Saturday morning.

Completely outclassed by a great Haverford team, the Bakermen were in the Swarthmore battle down to the last whistle. They not only were able to check the Garnet forward line for most of the game, but also threatened to score several times, only to be stopped by some adroit tending by the Swarthmore goalie.

The opponents got red hot in the fourth quarter with five minutes to go when the Garnet defense men broke up an Ursinus threat and quickly relayed the ball out to the forwards who took it down for the lone goal. Nicholson, a substitute center forward, was the man who tallied.

The Ursinus defense was led by Bill Daniels, who was all over the field to rescue the ball time after time from the Garnet linemen. The Bears' lack of scoring punch can probably be attributed to inexperience more than anything else, a factor which is being gradually overcome so that prospects look good for the approaching games with Lafayette and Penn.

Haverford Booters Defeat Bears 10-0

The undefeated Haverford booters kept their streak intact by whitewashing Doc Baker's soccer men, 10-0, in their opening game of the season at Haverford on Wednesday afternoon.

With five games experience behind them and fielding one of the best small college soccer squads in the East, Haverford had little trouble in defeating the Bears.

Stokes led the scoring with four goals, while Matlack and Post each registered twice, Haverford tallied five times in each half.

One Fifty Pounders To Begin Scrimmage For Opening Games

One hundred and fifty pound football is definitely going to highlight Ursinus' fall intramural program. Great interest and enthusiasm has been exhibited and many fellows originally out for soccer or touch football have shifted over to the more rugged sport. Pete Stevens is well pleased with the response shown so far.

This week will be the final week of preliminary practice as the first game is scheduled to get underway on November 9, next Monday. Although considerable time will still be spent on conditioning and running through and learning plays, scrimmage will start this week. Full equipment will be issued and the men will be given the go ahead in regard to tackling and blocking.

Pete has definitely decided to limit the number of teams to four. Although this will necessitate large squads of 25-30 men, it will furnish a better brand of football. It should also keep injuries at a minimum, for inexperienced players will not have to bear the brunt of 60 minute football. Also a surplus of reserves will enable the tired, winded gridders to be readily replaced.

Len Kedda, Frank Pierce, John Keefe, and Dick Eckenroth will serve as coaches for the four teams. Each of these tutors will use a different set of plays run from different formations—which are as follows — a short punt formation; a single wingback with an unbalanced line a double wingback and double fullback with a balanced line; and a double wingback with an unbalanced line.

The teams and coaches line up as follows:

Monday and Wed.—
Redskins (Kedda)

Tues. and Thurs.—
2:00—Bears (Pierce)
3:00—Giants (Keefe)
4:00—Packers (Eckenroth)

So far no selection of team members has been made. The top weight limit has been hoisted to 160 pounds to allow some heavier enthusiasts to participate.

The league schedule is posted below. Games will start at 4:15 in order to give the student body a chance to be spectators. Men from the Phys. Ed. classes will officiate at the games. Either the championship team or an all-star will play the Penn or Villanova 150 pounders in an intercollegiate contest.

 Nov. 13—Bears vs. Giants
 Nov. 16—Redskins vs. Giants
 Nov. 20—Bears vs. Packers

LADY WITH THE PACKARD CLIPPER AND THE DOG - - THAT'S MISS SNELL

by Marion Bright '44

The lady with the dog and Packard Clipper and the smile—that's Miss Snell!

Tall and gracious, Coach Eleanor Frost Snell belongs to Ursinus just as hockey sticks belong to hockey. For years, she has been the leader of phys-edders and a friend of every one on this campus. Besides being a true sportswoman at heart and in appearance, Miss Snell is well versed in any subject you care to discuss—and she won't hesitate to correct your grammar if necessary.

Needless to say, our assistant professor of physical education has chosen sports as her first love, whether it be riding, hockey, basketball, softball, or tennis. And she has attained enviable success in this field—as an athlete, a coach, and an official. As an athlete, she plays a mean game of "21" at the gym; as a coach, she sported a record last year of only two losses in four varsity seasons; and as an official she's in demand in this area as well as the Philadelphia section.

This year, Miss Snell has an even bigger job. With no assistant, she has to coach varsity and Jay Vee hockey teams, improve skills of old players, and start from scratch with the new ones.

Untiring and unselfish, this daughter of Nebraska really understands the girls with whom she works and knows what makes them tick. Even though she appears to be calm during a game, one look at her handkerchief, limp as a dishrag, reveals nerves that jingle, jangle, jingle.

However, through the toughest squeezes or heart-breaking losses, you'll never hear her say a harsh word or see her lose that infectious smile and genuine sincerity, which are an inspiration to all who know her. No wonder we often hear, "I wish I could be like Miss Snell!"

NOTICE!

Anyone who has as yet failed to contact Pete Stevens as to participation in intramurals should do so immediately before action is taken at the Dean's office.

Bears Will Be Out for Dragon Meat In First Home Game on Saturday

The Ursinus Bears will be out for Dragon meat and a Monday holiday when they tangle with the winless eleven of Drexel Tech in the first home game of the season on Saturday afternoon. Coaches Al Repscha and Pete Stevens will both be seeking their first victory since they took their head coaching berths.

After a two-week layoff since the game with Muhlenberg the Bruins will be at top physical shape for the revival of their traditional feud and the same starting lineup that opposed F and M and 'Berg will probably take the field against D. I. T.

Co-captains Morrow and Worthing, along with Tomafsky, Green, Parks, Becker and probably Shropshire will form the forward wall, and Ort, Fetch, Detwiler and Steward will round out the backfield.

With the return of Captain Irv Kun to his left guard slot, Drexel will still be missing the services of veteran center Bill Poehlmann and triple-threat Joe Michaels, who had been shifted from quarterback to fullback this year to add power to the T-formation.

Michaels, who sparked the Dragons to five wins last year, is suffering from a severe leg injury received in scrimmage last Thursday and will probably be side-lined for the Ursinus tussle. Raymore Greene, freshman from Baltimore who has been showing up exceptionally well in practice, will probably get the starting assignment.

Three Coeds Place On all-College Team

Competing with eight other hockey teams from Eastern Pennsylvania at the tryouts for the Women's All-College Hockey Team held at Bryn Mawr College on Saturday, Ursinus placed three co-eds on the second team and two girls as reserves, but failed to gain a single position on the first string squad.

Although Temple, Beaver, Bryn Mawr, Rosemont, Swarthmore, University of Pennsylvania, Drexel and Misericordia all participated in the try-outs, the light-tripping Ursinus lassies met only Drexel, Temple, and Penn in actual contest.

SIXTY-FIVE COUPLES ATTEND VARSITY DANCE ON SATURDAY

Last Saturday evening in the Thompson-Gay Gymnasium, sixty-five couples danced to the music of Damon "Woody" Holton and his "Royal Blues" at the annual Varsity Club Dance.

Arrangements for the dance, the proceeds of which go into the Varsity Club's loan fund, were under the direction of Evan Morrow '43, president of the Club, assisted by James Raban '43, Paul Detwiler '44, and Elliot Parks '44.

Chaperons for the evening were Mr. and Mrs. Peter Stevens, Dean and Mrs. G. Sieber Pancoast, and Mr. Charles Steinmetz.

IRC ADOPTS PLAN TO STUDY POST WAR RECONSTRUCTIONS

The International Relations Club, at its meeting last Tuesday in Shreiner Hall, adopted a new plan to study problems of post-war reconstruction.

The plan, the details of which will be completed shortly, includes a project which all the members will carry out in special committees. The program for the evening was in charge of Carl Hoffman '44A, who led a spirited discussion on our attitude toward the Vichy government.
