TO THE ALUMNI:

The alumni of Ursinus College take reasonable pride in the academic standards of their College, in the high percentage of Ursinus graduates admitted to graduate schools, and in the conspicuous success of the alumni in the learned professions and in other fields. At Ursinus we have our full share of superior and brilliant students. We are glad that this is so, and we know that this will continue to be so.

What I wish to emphasize is that, despite our proper interest in the superior student, we are no less interested in the conscientious "average" student who appreciates the exceptional opportunities that Ursinus College offers him, and who tries to make the most of these opportunities. We do not expect every student to be an "A" student, or even a "B" student, but we do expect him to do his best and to be a good citizen of the college community. Many conscientious "average" students improve amazingly during their four years in college. Often the "average" student has unusual balance and stability. Often the "average" student surpasses his brilliant classmate in growth and in real achievement both in college and later.

Unfortunately, every year some conscientious "average" students who wish to attend Ursinus are reluctant to apply for admission, or, if accepted for admission, they do not enter Ursinus, because they fear that they will not do satisfactory work in college. I wish to assure such students—and their parents, their pastors, their teachers—that our experience proves that many of them do very good work indeed, that we shall welcome them, that we shall do our utmost to help them. Many of the most distinguished alumni of Ursinus and of other colleges were conscientious "average" students who developed steadily during their college years, and who after graduation continued to grow.

I am, of course, not suggesting mediocrity as a standard or as a goal. Ursinus seeks to give the best students the best opportunities to develop in the best manner to an appreciation of all that is best in our heritage. It is difficult to know which eighteen-year-old students will be the best men and women at the age of forty or fifty. I believe that the eighteen-year-old student who has not made a brilliant record in school, but who has character, integrity, and determination, deserves more encouragement than he sometimes receives. We welcome such students at Ursinus. We shall continue to give them special attention, and we are confident that the results will continue to be good.

Sincerely yours,

April 4, 1952.

N. E. McCLURE.

Dr. Paisley Honored As Layman-of-the-Year

Dr. Harry E. Paisley, Philadelphia, Pa., retired treasurer of the Reading Company, and for 40 years Chairman of the Board of Directors of Ursinus College, has been named Protestantism's layman-of-the-year for "outstanding advancement of Christian education through personal leadership and influence."

He is the ninth winner of the Russell Colgate Distinguished Service Citation, awarded annually by the Division of Christian Education of the National Council of Churches of Christ in the U. S. A. The citations are named after the well-known businessman, who served as second president of the International Council of Religious Education from 1926 to 1941. Dr. Paisley was voted the 1952 award by an electoral college of approximately 1,400 state and city interdenominational councils. He was nominated by the Pennsylvania State Council of Christian Education at Harrisburg, Pa.

His 70 years of local church activity have centered in the Trinity Evangelical and Reformed Church, Philadelphia, where he has been a member of its official board for 65 years and president for the last 19 years; and he closed a half century of Sunday School superintendency in 1949. The Sunday School has been the center of Dr. Paisley's lifelong devotion to the church, and to it he has given innumerable hours of service and leadership.

In addition to his church activities, he has served in various civic, cultural and educational enterprises.

An ardent advocate of interdenominational cooperation, Dr. Paisley was for a long time a member of the board of the Philadelphia Council of Christian Education, and its president for 12 years. He was president of the Pennsylvania State Sabbath School Association for 18 years.

Dr. Paisley was the first person to receive a state award under the Russell Colgate Distinguished Service Citation Plan. Pennsylvania bestowed it upon him in 1944.

DR. JAMES CREESE

Dr. Lachman Presents Bust of Washington

Dr. Charles Lachman, Vice-President of Ursinus College, and Mrs. Lachman, have presented to the College a beautiful bust of George Washington by a French sculptor, Jean Antoine Houdon. The bust was made in 1778, when Washington was 56 years of age. The bust will occupy a prominent place in the reading room of the Ursinus College Library.

Jean Antoine Houdon (1741-1828), an eminent French sculptor, was born in Versailles, and studied in the Royal Academy in Paris at an early age. He rapidly gained reputation and employment. In 1785 he was invited to America by Benjamin Franklin, where he executed the statue of George Washington and the bust of Lafayette in the Capitol at Richmond, Va. He also made busts of Franklin, Thomas Jefferson, Robert Fulton, Joel Barlow, and John Paul Jones. He is noted for his great skill in executing models of the human body.

Dr. Creese to Deliver Commencement Address

Baccalaureate Sermon by Bishop Corson

Dr. James Creese, President of Drexel Institute of Technology, will address the graduating class of 170 students, at the annual Commencement convocation at Ursinus on Monday, June 2, at 11 a.m. Weather permitting, the exercises will be held outdoors on Patterson Field, otherwise they will be in Bomberger Hall.

The Baccalaureate sermon will be delivered by Bishop Fred Pierce Corson, of the Methodist Church, on Sunday, June 1, 10:45 a.m. in Bomberger Hall.

New Students Enroll For Second Semester

Twenty-six new students were added to the Ursinus enrollment for the February semester this year. The new students are divided into three classifications: sixteen first year students, four transfer students, and six former Ursinus students who are returning.

Among the transfer students is Arnold Ulbrich, a political science major from Germany, who will study here two years. When Arnold was only ten years old, he was drafted into the Hitler Youth Movement, and the army was his life until the close of World War II and he became an American prisoner of war. After being freed, Arnold found his native district of Germany, Silesia, under domination of the Poles in accordance with the Yalta agreement; and since both his parents had died before the war, he was not allowed to return there. He went to the University of Munich, where he studied forestry intermittently until last summer, realizing more and more that he had no future as a forester in Europe.

Under the sponsorship of American friends at the Young Leader's International Camp in Switzerland, he came to the U. S. as a displaced person last

Jeanne Careless is Queen of the May

Jeanne Careless, of Philadelphia, has been chosen Queen of Ursinus's May Day festivities which will be held on Saturday, May 10, 1952. Miss Careless is an English major and a student teacher. She is a member of Phi Alpha Psi Sorority, has belonged to the Meistersingers, was a senator in the W.S.G.A. last year, and was an attendant in last year's Junior Prom Queen's court.

Chosen as her attendants are: freshmen, Marjorie Moore and Priscilla Shinehouse; sophomores, Joanne Friedlin and Doris Thompson; juniors, Edna Seifert, and Mary Ann Townsend; and seniors, Grace Matthews and Phyllis Baumann.

Laura Bechtle, of Englewood, N. J., was elected May Day manager. Miss Bechtle is one of the college's drum majorettes, has served on many and various committees, and is secretary-treasurer of Phi Alpha Psi Sorority.

The pageant, "Stolen Princess of Fantasy", was written by Audrey Harte, '53; and for writing the winning pageant, Miss Harte will receive the Ursinus Circle's prize of $25.00 on Commencement Day. Miss Harte wrote the narrative verse for the 1951 pageant, she is co-editor of the 1953 Ruby, vice president of the French Club and secretary-treasurer of Hobson Hall.

Told in poetry, the pageant shows what happens when the infant daughter of the king and queen of fantasy is stolen by a wicked witch. In his efforts to find his daughter, the king sends for ballerinas, cooks, wise men and jesters. He interviews beggars and nobles. But many years elapse with no trace of the lost princess. The king offers his daughter in marriage to the man who can find her; and what results makes for a lovely climax to a charming pageant.

Anne Hughes Speaks At Ursinus Color Day

Freshman women, their big sisters and junior advisors gathered in Bomberger chapel on Wednesday afternoon, February 14, 1952, for the annual observance of Color Day, at which time the freshman women received their school colors and were officially welcomed as members of Ursinus college.

The charge of freshman representative to the W.S.G.A. was presented to Gladys Evans by Martha Daniels, '52. The Y.W.C.A. charge was presented by Molly Hall, '52, to Mary Faust; and the W.A.A. charge was presented by Barbara Landis, '52, to Barbara Harris.

Mary Ann Townsend, '53, presented the school colors to Peggy Montgomery, representing Barbara Rack, secretary of the class of '55, who was ill.

Anne Hughes, '50, former president of the W.S.G.A. and active participant in many campus activities, gave an informal talk on her career at Ursinus, telling of her foremost memories, most of which centered about the many lasting friendships she made while at Ursinus.

fall, and lived in the Boston home of his sponsors. While visiting friends in Bryn Mawr during Christmas, he telephoned Inge Rudloff, an Ursinus student from Germany and whom he had known at the University of Munich. Through her he met Mr. D. L. Helfferich, and at Mr. Helfferich's suggestion came to Ursinus for an interview, and subsequently as a student.

Arnold states that he finds Ursinusites very friendly and helpful; and he's grateful for the good deeds done for him by the Y Cabinet under whose auspices he is here.

Mykola Saporoschenko, the Ukrainian displaced person student who completed his undergraduate work at Ursinus at the end of last semester has accepted a position as assistant instructor in the department of physics at Washington University, St. Louis. He is specifically engaged in work on a cyclotron, an atom-smashing machine.

Alumni Activities

COME TO ALUMNI DAY

Alumni Day is Saturday, May 31, 1952

Paul I. Guest, '38, chairman of the day, has been working with his committee making interesting plans, and is anxious for a wonderful reunion.

Classes of 1892, 1907, 1912, 1917, 1922, 1927, 1932, 1937, 1942 and 1947 are planning class reunions of various kinds. Some classes will lunch together on the campus, others at some restaurant nearby. Still others plan to have a reunion table at the evening Buffet Supper and Dance. But whether your class is one of the reuniting classes or not, plan to come to Ursinus on Alumni Day. We feel sure we can guarantee a pleasant day for all.

Luncheon will be served at noon outdoors, weather permitting, at the cost of $1.00 per person. The annual business meeting of the Alumni Association, will be at 2 p.m. in Bomberger Hall, followed by the President's Reception in the Library at 3:30 p.m. Some outdoor entertainment will be provided for the late afternoon. And at 6:30 p.m., there will be a Buffet Supper and Dance with Entertainment at the Thompson-Gay Gymnasium, the cost of which will be $2.50 per person.

Next Journal to be Mailed November, 1952

At the suggestion of the ALUMNI JOURNAL editors, the Executive Board of the Ursinus Alumni Association has decided that in the future the JOURNAL is to be published in March, July and November, rather than in February, May and September.

News of alumni election returns and Alumni Day could then be included in a summer issue, rather than in the fall. College opening news could be in the November issue. Since it has been decided that alumni should be notified by postal cards about Old Timers' Day, the September date of the JOURNAL would not be too important. This new plan should prove more satisfactory in many ways.

The next issue of the JOURNAL will not reach you, therefore, until November, 1952.

Tickets for the Buffet Supper and Dance may be obtained by sending your remittance to Muriel B. Pancoast, Alumni Secretary, Ursinus College; or in the case of reuniting classes, the class chairmen will be able to provide tickets.

Members of Paul Guest's Alumni Day committee include: Richard Wentzel, '49; Peggy Brown Staiger, '43; Archie Simons, '48; Charles Hearey, '40; MaryAnn Ballantyne Porter, '48; John Rauhauser, '41; A. Benjamin Scirica, '32; and Clarence Paine, '22.

Faculty Representative: Eugene H. Miller, '33; Roger P. Staiger, '43.

Levengood*, '35, and Merritt Jeffers, '29. Lillian Isenberg Bahney, '23, Alumni Director for the 1951-56 term, has been named an ex officio member of the Alumni Executive Board until her term expires in 1956.

Alumni to Entertain Seniors at Dinner

On Monday, May 19, the seniors of Ursinus will be the guests of the Alumni Association at a dinner in the upper dining hall of Freeland Hall. Members of the Executive Board will be present, and at this time, President Kermit Black will introduce the alumni association, its work and its purpose, to the seniors of the college.

This talk is followed by a letter sent by Dr. Black early in July to all new graduates, inviting them to become a part of the alumni group.

Under this plan, out of 220 in the class of 1951, 94 have become active members of the alumni association.

Philadelphia Alumni Group to Reorganize

The Philadelphia Regional Group of the Ursinus Alumni Association will hold a banquet on Friday, May 23, 1952, at the Penn Sheraton Hotel, 3900 Chestnut St., Philadelphia, Pa. The main purpose of the dinner meeting will be to reorganize this group which has not been active for several years. J. Justice Bodley, '38, will preside as president.

All Philadelphia and suburban Philadelphia alumni are urged to attend. Tickets may be secured by writing to Floyd Justice, '51, 359 W. Mt. Airy Ave., Apt. B6, Philadelphia 19, Pa.

New York Alumni To Meet May 7

The New York Ursinus College Alumni Association will hold its annual dinner meeting on Wednesday, May 7, 1952, at the Barbizon Hotel for Women, New York City. At this meeting, the Committee on Arrangements hopes to show a movie filmed on the Ursinus campus.

The officers of the group are: President, Nicholas J. Paladino, '19; Vice-President, Isabel Rickley Bateman, '30; Treasurer, J. Wilbur Clayton, '28; and Secretary, Helene Rogalinski Theurer, '43.

Webb Enjoys Oylmpics

Jack Webb, '50, in the foreign service of the United States, is in Oslo, Norway, and spent an interesting vacation at the winter Olympic Games. He writes that it was a great thrill to see these wonderful events and a rare privilege. The opening ceremony at Bislet Stadium impressed him greatly as he watched men and women from thirty nations, proudly waving their flags.

Among the events he watched was the strictly dare-devil two-man bobsleigh run which was won by the Germans, with the U. S. in second place. But he most enjoyed the ice hockey games, especially the one in which the U. S. beat Norway, 3-2.

Jack, himself, tried skiing on the Olympic slalom hill and writes, "I ended up with a broken ski. No more! After trying it, I have a great deal of respect for the slalom skier now . . . I slid about 50 feet before I came to a stop."

Rusty Garlock Stars On Court for Guam

Gladys Hoagland Garlock, '42, has won athletic laurels even across a continent and an ocean.

The former Ursinus varsity basketball star has been voted "the most valuable player" in the Guam Girls' Basketball League. She is the wife of Master Sergeant John Garlock, '42, former Ursinus athlete and a weather forecaster at Andersen Air Base, Guam, and the mother of a 2½ year old daughter, Jill. "Rusty" has been the leading scorer for the undefeated Bomberettes, league champions. She chalked up a total of 77 points for an average of 10.7 per game, dropping in 18 in one game alone.

Mrs. Garlock has been singled out for honors by the Quarterback Inter-service Basketball League, comprising the pick of the male athletes in Army, Navy and Air bases in the 37-mile long, 12-mile wide island in the South Pacific. Recently they feted "Rusty" as a special guest on one of their programs.

S.S. Laucks President York Bar Association

Samuel S. Laucks, '10, has been elected president of the York County Bar Association.

One of the other officers elected at the association's annual meeting, attended by approximately 60 members, was E. Eugene Shelley, '37, who was reelected to the post of secretary.

Women's Club Enjoys Busy Spring Season

On Monday evening, March 17, the senior women of Ursinus College were entertained at Coffee by the Ursinus Women's Club at Super House, the home of Vice-President and Mrs. D. L. Helleferich. Mrs. Norman E. McClure and Miss Camilla Stahr poured at the table beautifully decorated in honor of St. Patrick. Mrs. Frederick Corson, who has lived in Japan, entertained with beautiful slides of that country. Mrs. Horace Godshall was chairman of the event.

Following the business meeting in Bomberger Hall, the Ursinus College Women's Club enjoyed its annual spring dinner on Friday, April 18, in Freeland Hall. The speaker was Dr. John H. Furbay, Director of the Trans-World Airlines Global Air World Education program, which is devoted to interpreting the air world responsibilities. Dr. Furbay believes that modern air travel brings social obligations on the traveler. Can the races, religions, and varied cultures of the world be thrown into intimate contact without creating frictions and antagonisms which may cause hatreds and wars of the future? He contends that this question can be answered only by the educators who mold the minds of our children.

On May 3, 1952, Dr. Niblo is opening the gardens of his estate to the Women's Club. "Oak Knoll" is at Arch Road and Township Line. Tea will be served; and the price of admission is fifty cents. Mrs. Wilmer Rockett and Mrs. Henry Henzel are in charge of arrangements.

Any woman graduate of Ursinus who does not belong to the Women's Club is missing unusual experiences. Good fellowship, outstanding speakers and interesting events are planned for the coming year. Send your name and address with one dollar in dues to Mrs. Harold Brownback, Main St., Trappe, Collegeville, Pa.

DAVE JACOBS RECRUITS

Sellers, Chief Recruiter, Philadelphia district; Mr. Brightman, president of Lit Brothers store, Philadelphia, Pa., and chairman of the Civilian Navy Advisory Committee for the Fourth Naval District; and Lt. The principal trophy will be awarded semi-annually to the substitution doing the best over-all job in the Philadelphia district. Other awards will be made quarterly to the best substitution and to the best of their individual branch stations.

Lt. Col. Bare in Korea

Lt. Col. P. Wesley Bare, '24, serving as chief chaplain of the 24th Infantry Division of the U. S. Army, has been decorated with the Bronze Star "for meritorious service during the October (Kumsong offensive)." Lt. Col Bare was recalled to active duty on March 15, 1951, and, as he says, finally "wangled" his way to Korea the following August. He's there because he wants to be there. The 24th division to which he was assigned, is the oldest division in Korea, and has seen some of the hottest fighting. Lt. Col. Bare served in both the first and second World Wars and saw much combat service. He writes that he has the distinction of being the oldest combat chaplain in Korea; and although it's rough soldiering he says he's "well-clad, well-equipped and well-fed."

One of his letters to his wife, written during a lull in the admissions of the wounded at a Mobile Army Surgical Hospital near the front line, was reprinted in the Pacific Stars and Stripes and in the February 15th issue of The Churchman.

Lt. Col. Bare's admiration of the chaplains in Korea is great indeed. He writes, "What a magnificent lot of men they were. Without relief they worked endless hours. These men of God met the wounded, knelt by their litters, steadied them, comforted them, and prayed with them."

In this letter, Lt. Col. Bare draws vivid pictures of the wounded that were brought in that night, as he asks Mrs. Bare to "walk with me through the hospital" because "you have some nights of your life so engraved in your memory that you never forget them," and that particular night was one of those for the chaplain.

He tells of the boy from Tennessee who had both legs blown off by a land mine, and who asks the chaplain to read scripture verses. "You know he is going to die, but you know his soul is going to live. He smiles and says, 'Thanks, chaplain—thanks. I'm all right now.'"

There's the 17 year old youngster wounded for the second time—not seriously—but he is scared and confused. Lt. Col. Bare just talks as he would to his own son until the boy relaxes and smiles. He tells how he must desperately try to show the chap with the wounded shoulder that even though he'll never use his right arm in its normal way, he's lucky to be alive. . . . And about the old sergeant who isn't fatally hurt, but who's "an old regular, a high calibre non-commissioned officer" with pride in his platoon like a mother's pride in her child. He's nearly out of his mind, remembering his boys whom he saw die in combat and he feels guilty.

Then there's the Chinese prisoner with a badly shattered leg and head wound to whom Lt. Col. Bare gave a cup of water and cigarettes while his leg was being set. "Could he be a Christian impressed into the Chinese Red Army?" asks the chaplain. "He has an intelligent face and a nice spirit . . . He is smiling and looks your way; he waves his hand, and you wave back."

In January 1952, the 24th division was relieved and transferred to Japan, but from August 1951 to January 1952, it was continuously in combat and in combat area; so the experiences related above became a common occurrence in the life of Chaplain Bare and his other "men of God."

Miss Omwake Accepts Position at Yale

Miss Eveline Omwake, '33, daughter of the late Dr. George L. Omwake and Mrs. George L. Omwake, now of West Chester, has accepted a position at Yale University. In the autumn of 1952 she will hold the position of Assistant Professor of Child Psychology and Director of the Yale University Nursery School.

Miss Omwake has been Assistant Professor of Child Study at Vassar College, Poughkeepsie, N. Y. She has been director of the Poughkeepsie Day School and director of the Vassar Summer Institute.

Bill Daniels Returns From Work in China

Bill Daniels, '43, has recently returned from four years' missionary service in China; and at the request of the editors, he has written an account of some of his experiences:

"The opportunities for Christian witness and action in China were great indeed, both in direct church work and in community service. My last year and a half in that land was spent under the communists, and it was a period of profound changes and of tremendous challenge to the Church. For several months we missionaries were able to work as usual and render constructive service; but as the anti-American propaganda increased, the departure of Westerners was deemed best for the survival of the Chinese Church.

"It was fascinating, even though discouraging, to watch the revolution in process. The communists won the loyalty of many, particularly the youth, because they were well-disciplined, militant, had a concrete program, and satisfied the nationalist aspirations of the people. There were and are accomplishments; and these have been at the price of tremendous economic sacrifice on the part of almost all classes and the loss of liberty for everyone. The early enthusiasm of many was destroyed in the face of the constant demand for thought-reform and the imprisonment and death of countless numbers.

"We're thankful for having had the opportunity of living and serving among the Chinese people. Our hearts are still with them, and our hearts too are still in the international missions' cause."

Incidents in the Life of a Missionary

By Marian H. Reifsnyder, '17

It all started, I suppose, in German Class in the Pottstown High School with Miss Mabel Hobson, Ursinus, '06, now Mrs. Edward S. Fretz, as my German teacher. She made the German classes so attractive and interesting that it was always the most anticipated class of the day.

After graduation from Ursinus in 1917, a position opened in Coatesville High School to teach several odds and ends left dangling when most of the curriculum had been assigned. When the schools were closed for lack of coal in that difficult winter of '17-'18 and I returned for a while to the home-town, I grasped the opportunity of substituting in the German department of that high school.

This soon became a permanent position, in which I taught in the very room where I had spent so many interesting hours as a pupil. However, in retribution to our enemy of World War I, at the close of that year German was removed from the curriculum and the children denied the privilege of reading such delightful classics as "Höher als die Kirche" and "Wilhelm Tell". Then I turned to French, which I taught until I decided to give up teaching in 1922.

My background and interest had also been of a spiritual nature—trained in a Christian home, loving to have a part in the church, president of the Y.W.C.A. in college. During my senior year in college there came a definite "call" to mission work in India. Just why it should come as and when it did, I cannot explain—except that it was one of those insights that come to any of us at times. There were barriers then, but I did not foresee the barrier of a rheumatic heart that would show up when the time came to go.

This latter brought its testing in faith and waiting. But when God calls, He breaks through the man-made barriers. There was a special need for a village missionary in Burma, at that time a province of India. An inheritance made it possible to care for living expenses for two years until my strength and ability to carry the responsibilities on the foreign field were proved. With these "ifs" and "buts", I was appointed a missionary of the Woman's American Baptist Foreign Mission Society in 1923, and reached the interesting and famed city of Mandalay late that year.

Learning to speak the Burmese language was a "first", and during the first seven months all my time was devoted to that. With the passing of that first examination, which included the Second Standard (Grade) Reader in Burmese and the first ten chapters of St. John's Gospel, as well as simple conversation, some responsibility in village and field work was assigned. In course of time the second and third (higher proficiency) examinations were passed.

The particular assignment for which I was responsible was a Christian center in North Mandalay and work among women and children in the city and villages within a radius of perhaps 20 miles of the city, except to the west, where the Irrawaddy River flowed—sometimes a mile wide at that point. Our center included a primary vernacular school (through fourth grade) of about 100 children, a dispensary, and a public playground, parent-teacher meetings, and work tied up with the membership and needs of the local church. Co-operating in this work were from 6 to 8 paid Burmese workers, and a number of enthusiastic volunteers. One of the highlights of those years was the Daily Vacation School work. On one occasion we ventured far afield, holding schools in different language groups—first Burmese, then Lisu and finally Kachin. At times, the stories told in Burmese had to be retold through an interpreter into another language. Imagine being a child and having to listen to a story piece-meal through an interpreter. But it was new and interesting and worthwhile to them, and to all of us who participated. Even with these barriers, it was surprising and rewarding to note how much of the message of the Golden Rule and the stories of Jesus could be taught. And always a tug of regret when our two weeks in a village were concluded and we left with the invitation to come back soon.

On return to Burma for my third term of service in 1938 I was invited to add to my duties the responsibility of writing the Burmese Sunday School leaflets—a monthly publication of 12-14 pages of adult and junior age materials. We also put out a monthly mimeographed sheet for local use, called "The Christian Home". However, early in 1942 the War compelled those of us who were foreigners to flee. India took us in as refugees. Finally in India, some of us who were especially interested in preparing Christian literature for Burma, were able to establish a center at Jubbulpore through the courtesy of 2 other denominations. There we prepared hymn books, devotional books, and Sunday-school lessons, in anticipation of the time when they could be sent back into Burma.

When Burma was retaken and before any mail service could be re-established, bundles of these materials went in the bed-rolls and the luggage of anyone we knew who was returning. The welcome with which they were received added to our joy in this labor of love.

My third furlough was overdue when I came home in 1945. And the doctors have prevented my return to Burma. So it was with considerable interest that I read a letter, received from the Department of State last January, (1951), inquiring about the possibility of my working at the Burma Desk in the Voice of America. The result is that I am at present busy in this capacity.

The broadcast to Burma in the Burmese language was inaugurated on June 24, 1951, being one of 46 different foreign languages used in the VOA broadcasts. There are four Burmans on our staff who do the broadcasting. My particular work is mostly that of monitor. At present our program is 15 minutes daily. And to one new to such work, it has been amazing how much work is actually required to keep such a program continuously on the air. I like the constructive nature of these broadcasts.

For myself, now, it is a satisfaction to be serving the land of my birth, America, with all that she has to share of the privileges of freedom, the fresh ideas of a relatively young nation, the abundance of her crops, mills, and laboratories, and also the land of my adoption for 20 years, Burma, still a very, very young nation in her struggles toward peace and prosperity.

Matmen Win 3, Lose 4

Ursinus wrestlers ended the season with a record of 3 wins and 4 losses. Ted Dawkins, freshman, in the 123-pound class, ended the season undefeated, and suffered his first reversal in the finals of the Middle Atlantic Championships as Woods of Gettysburg decided him 9-6.

In the 130-pound class Co-captain Zimmerman, '54, was handicapped by injuries throughout the season, and in the Middle Atlantic tournament, wrestled despite a dislocated thumb in order to save a 5 point forfeit if Ursinus had no wrestler in that class.

Freshman Albert Paolone, 137-pound class, was a fine wrestler and met stiff competition. He should improve with more experience. Co-captain Ted Miller, '52, 147-pound class, lost only one match, and finished his college wrestling career by scoring a referee's decision over Robinson of Bucknell to claim a third place finish in the Middle Atlantic.

In the 157-pound class, Dick Gellman, '53, was Ursinus's most improved wrestler, according to Coach Wieneke, and suffered hard luck when injured in the semifinals of the Middle Atlantic. In the 167-pound class, Bob Guth, '54, did a good job substituting for Orsini, '55, who was ineligible and Pritchard, '52, who failed to make the weight. "Rocky" Davis, '53, wrestled in the heavyweight class for the first time this year, and after the season's experience should prove very successful next year.

In the Middle Atlantic Championships, the Bears placed fifth out of eight colleges who participated.

Badminton Team Tallies 3 Wins, 3 Losses

The 1952 Ursinus Badminton team finished the six game schedule with three wins and three losses. In its second year as a major varsity sport, the girls were led by Coach Jane Platt and captained by Janice Christian, '52.

Alumni Asked for Ursinus Trophies

The Thompson - Gay Gymnasium now houses an Athletic Trophy Case, complete with lock and key. Mr. Everett "Ace" Bailey has suggested that since Ursinus never before had a suitable place to display trophies, such as footballs and baseballs from important games, many Alumni have these things in their possession. The Athletic Association is anxious to fill this case, so if any alumnus has any such suitable trophies and would care to give them to be kept and displayed in the case, it would be greatly appreciated.

Courtmen End Season With 7 Wins, 10 Losses

The 1951-52 Varsity basketball season at Ursinus was fairly successful considering the greenness of the squad. A season's record of 7 wins against 10 losses was not quite up to last year's 10 and 8 record, but things look brighter for the future.

Captain Dave Reice, '52, is the only member of the squad who will not be back next year. Bob Swett, '53, the big pivotman, led the scorers with a total of 313 points and an average of 18.4. Herb Knoll, '54, with a 12.4 average and a total of 199 points, was second best scorer. Bill Burger, '54, a fine defensive player, and Ralph Schumacher, '55, rounded out the starting five. These four boys and six other veterans compose a good nucleus for a good team next season.

Veteran Team Aims at Successful 1952 Baseball

Only two seniors, Captain Bill Lampeter, Collegeville, and Norristownian Hal Feist, appeared in the starting line-up of a promising 1952 Ursinus baseball team. Five sophomores, one junior and freshman Gene Harris, first-sacker, made up the balance.

Coach Sieb Pancoast believes that hitting should be good and that the team should show an excellent defense; but pitching is the key to the success or failure of the season.

With only Mel Smithgall and Harry Light departed from the 1951 varsity, Ursinus has been endowed with a splendid nucleus for the year. Lettermen include: Jack Popowich, '54, shortstop; John Anderson, '54, third-baseman; Bill Lampeter, '52, pitcher; Hal Henning, '53, catcher; and Jay Kern, '54, Dick Glock, '54, and Hal Feist, '52, outfielders.

Optimism about batting power stems partially from the return of Jay Kern, Asbury Park, N. J., leading individual hitter in 1951. Henning and Popowich can also hammer the sphere, and Pancoast has confidence Glock and Anderson will continue their recent sorties.

With so much at stake in pitching skill, Ursinus has to develop Herb Knoll, '54, Irvington, N. J.; Allen Sare, '53, Trenton, N. J.; and Bill Buchanan, '52, Overbrook Hills, Pa., none of whom saw any duty in 1951.

Captain Lampeter and Feist will likely be mainstays with senior Ed Harned, Wyckoff, N. J., lending a big hand.

The infield picture features 137-pound Popowich, St. Clair sensation, whom any coach would recommend for major league service were he a trifle heavier. With Glock playing center field, many long hits will be additional outs, for Glock is the fastest man on the squad.

The 1952 baseball season should be successful if the squad gets help from the pitching staff and from the weatherman.

1952 Track Prospects Look Promising

The prospects for a good track squad are as good or better than they have been for the last five years.

The shot, discus and javelin should be very strong with returning veteran Bob Swett, '53, to head the candidates. Swett holds the school discus record of 142 ft. 10½ in., and scored many points in the javelin (183 feet) and shot (41 feet). Bob should scale the discus over 150 feet this year. Other returning veterans in the weights are Tapp Webb, '53, and "Rocky" Davis, '53. Newcomers who have shown a great deal of promise are Stan Morris, '55, George Aucott, '55, and Dan Schwenk, '55.

In the jumping events, the candidates should hold their own in most cases. Returning broad jumpers Bill Fischer, '52, and Ed Mewing, '52, should go beyond 21 feet. Newcomers Al Paolone, '55, and Dick Guldin, '55, show promise.

Ken Mammel, '52, and Jack Weaver, '53, continue to improve in the high jump, and are bolstered by freshman Jack Moser.

The pole vault needs more candidates with only Ken Mammel, '52, returning. Bob Guth, '54, and Al Paolone, '55, are starting from scratch in this event. Points garnered will be scarce in this area.

Dick Eshbach, freshman hurdling sensation, will head a lean crop of hurdlers. Dick holds the school record of 15.8, jointly with John Grimm, '36, and should become sole owner this year. Ken Mammel, '52, will lend support, but otherwise Ursinus will depend on green material for additional aid in hurdling.

In the low hurdles, Captain Wil Loomis, '52, sprint sensation, promises to give Eshbach very stiff competition. Although Loomis has never hurdled, his speed and willingness to work should more than compensate for lack of experience.

Loomis has no supporting cast at this time in the 100 yard and 220 yard dashes. Undefeated in the 220, and once defeated in the 100, Loomis should be a prolific point-getter.

Middle distance prospects appear to be good, with veterans Bill Fischer, '52, Boyd Schellhase, '52, Ed Mewing, '52, and John Gruber, '54, vying with Ed Denkin, '55, Duke Stouffer, '53, Don

Mermaids Win 3—Lose 4

Led by Coach Jane Platt and Captain Jeanne Cilley, '52, the 1952 swimming team had a more successful season than the three win-four loss record would indicate.

The season opened with the Ursinus mermaids defeating Drexel 32-25, only to be set back in the next meet by Beaver 34-23, Ursinus taking a first only in the freestyle relay. The team was in high spirits again, however, by exciting victories over Bryn Mawr and Temple; but dropped the meets with Chestnut Hill, 33-24, and Swarthmore, 41-16. In the final meet with the U. of P., the mermaids lost the freestyle relay by a tenth of a second, and Joan Strode, '54, missed a second in diving by a tenth of a point which gave Penn an overall victory of 33-24.

Outstanding in freestyle was Sally Lumis, '53, who captured three first places and anchored the freestyle relay team to four victories. Captain Jeanne Cilley also a freestyler, captured a first in the Bryn Mawr meet and did the sprint work in the medley relay.

In the intercollegiate meet held at the U. of P. at Hutchinson Pool, the mermaids placed sixth out of eleven teams. Individuals who placed were Joan Compton, '54, fourth in the butterfly, and Jeanne Cilley, fifth in the freestyle. The medley relay team took a third place while the freestyle relay took a fourth. These totaled 13 points for Ursinus.

Devonshire, '53, Dick Gulding, '55, and Gordon Mella, '53.

Distance men are ably headed by veteran Herm Lintner, '52. Others who appear promising are Dick Baltz, '55, Bob Guth, '54, Gordon Mella, '53, and Jack Gruber, '54.

If the newcomers can take those important seconds and thirds, the season should be the most successful in many years.

Tennis Team Faces Strong Opposition

The men's tennis team finds two major stumbling blocks in its path as the players will attempt to better last year's outstanding seven wins and two losses record. They are the perennially strong Haverford and Swarthmore teams—the two squads which were responsible for Ursinus's losses last season.

The task will be largely in the hands of five returning lettermen, aided by three experienced freshmen. Coach Eugene Miller will rely on co-captains Jack Humbert, '52, and Paul Jones, '52, Joe Benenati, '52, Lane Dewees, '52, and Jay Ely, '52, to turn in their share of victories, although any one of these might be replaced by improving Harry Markley, '52, or freshmen Charles Kenney, Ted Radomski and Jack Westertoff.

While the two main line schools are reported to be the strongest opposition that will be faced, such teams as Albright, LaSalle, and Delaware will be improved. These schools were all defeated by identical 5-4 scores by Ursinus last spring.

Girls End Successful Basketball Season

The girls' basketball team turned in an outstanding record this year since they missed an undefeated season by a heart-breaking one point margin to the University of Pennsylvania.

Captain Marguerite Spencer, who led the team in scoring, tallied a high of thirty points in the East Stroudsburg contest. Forwards Shirley MacKinnon, '52, Joan Hitchner, '53, Margery Johnston, '53, Audrey Rittenhouse, '53, and Joanne Kuhn, '55, were outstanding for their fast aggressive play. The guarding of Adele Boyd, '53, Sally Parent, '53, Marjorie Merrifield, '54, Edna Seifert, '53, Eleanor Unger, '53, and Marjorie Abrahamson, '54, was particularly noteworthy. In only one game did they allow their opponents to score more than twenty-five points.

Since the squad loses only two players, Captain Spencer and Shirley MacKinnon, through graduation, Coach Snell and Captain-elect Sal Parent hold high expectations for next year.

The junior varsity team was completely undefeated and untied in nine games.

Alumni Placement at Ursinus

By Harvey R. Vanderslice, Director of Placement

The history of placement services in higher institutions of learning has generally followed a uniform pattern. In the early days of most institutions, placement functions were performed by administrative officers, professors, and members of the Alumni Association who were actively interested in younger graduates. As enrollments in institutions grew and the needs of the professions, business, and industry became more complex and demanding, the administration in most institutions organized a campus placement service which more or less centralized placement activities for the graduates of the institution.

As these organized services developed, they usually did not entirely displace the earlier pattern of placement that in most institutions was as old as the college itself. There always has been the student who wishes to contact a friend on the college staff or the graduate who prefers to consult his favorite campus personage in recruiting personnel for his organization. Organized placement services never will and never should entirely eliminate these practices.

The function of the placement service on the college campus is to provide career information to all college men and women who need it and to be active in assisting students to enter careers that offer satisfactory life values.

Placement at Ursinus has followed the pattern of development of the great majority of institutions. Placement, which once was entirely on a personal basis, has for more than twenty years been supplemented by an organized placement service. As the years have passed, the usefulness of this office at Ursinus gradually has been extended. As it now exists, the services of the office are available to all Ursinus men and women including members of all former classes.

In the past the small registration of former graduates in the placement office has been a handicap in recommending experienced people. Sometimes when calls have come, there have been few, if any, candidates from whom to choose. In the field of professional education this situation has been changing during the last few years. More graduates are now registered for placement in new positions in educational work than members of the class about to be graduated who are available for teaching positions. The effectiveness of this service for graduates has not been all that one might wish, but is growing both in registrations and in successful placement of candidates.

The same service is available to all graduates of Ursinus whatever their field of work. There are many opportunities available. Representatives of large industries interviewing students on the campus during the past winter and spring individually reminded placement personnel of their desire to interview men and women of earlier classes. In substance they said that we may have something to offer that will enable persons to capitalize on experience since graduation. They all added that such persons must be able to give good reasons for their availability. Another large corporation has sent us repeatedly a list of more than twenty openings in its national organization, only one or two of which could be filled by current graduates.

The lack of candidates in many fields frequently has been a discouragement to placement personnel. In education, requests of schools for language teachers, particularly Latin, must often be returned without recommendation. The same is true of requests for teachers of physics and chemistry. During the current year, there have been many more calls for English teachers than candidates available. In almost all fields of professional education, the demand for teachers has been excellent. The one exception has been in Health and Physical Education for men. Since the war there has been a large surplus of men available for this field of work.

In business, personnel in the fields of physics, chemistry and mathematics is in great demand. Marvelous opportunities are available in all phases of insurance. Many companies are looking for experienced people in such specialized phases of accounting as auditor, cost accountant, or tax specialist. There are many others. Opportunities come throughout the year.

All graduates of Ursinus are invited to register or, still better, to visit the Placement Office, Room 1, Bomberger Hall, and learn of the opportunities for properly qualified candidates.

A word should be added requesting and urging all loyal Ursinusites to help the placement service of their college. Ursinus has hundreds of eminent and successful men and women in all walks of life. All can render valuable assistance in one way or another. Some will be able to offer opportunities to recent graduates; others can report vacancies; still others can interest their friends and associates in Ursinus graduates. Some have consistently rendered these services for years; many have not. The Placement Bureau earnestly solicits the interest and assistance of Ursinus men and women in promoting the welfare of all members of the Ursinus family.
