

OPERATIONAL STALEMATE OR POLITICALLY INDUCED FAILURE OF HUMANITARIAN
AID IN THE DEMOCRATIC REPUBLIC OF CONGO? ON THE DYNAMICS DISTURBING
HUMANITARIAN DELIVERY IN COMPLEX EMERGENCIES AND CIVIL WARS

(CHRISTOPH VOGEL)

TABLE OF CONTENTS

Acknowledgements	1
1. Introduction and literature review	2
2. Description and history of the DRC case	10
2.1 Explanation of case study choice	11
2.2 The history of conflict and humanitarian aid in DRC	16
2.2.1 Independence and the Mobutu era	16
2.2.2 The 1990s – Collapse and Regionalization	20
2.2.3 The Rwandan Genocide and its consequences for DRC	21
2.2.4 Africa’s World War	25
2.2.5 The perpetuation of civil war after 2003	31
3. Theoretical and conceptual framework	35
3.1 The concept of complex emergency	38
3.2 Principles of humanitarian action	41
3.3 Institutional economics of aid	44
3.3.1 The system of agency and delegation in the world of aid	45
3.3.2 Multilateralism versus bilateralism in the world of aid	48
3.3.3 Problems arising due to the agency system	51
3.3.4 Principal-agent relations in the humanitarian world	61
3.3.5 Intermediate summary	64
3.4 State failure and war economy	64
3.4.1 State failure: A prerequisite for war economy?	65
3.4.1.1 Provision of (political) goods	66
3.4.1.2 Shadow statehood and disorder as a political instrument	69
3.4.1.3 Politics of the belly	72
3.4.1.4 Intermediate summary	74
3.4.2 War economy	75
3.4.2.1 Sub-types of war economies	78
3.4.2.2 ‘Humanitarian war economies ’	84
3.4.2.3 Aid (and its manipulation) in war economies	89
3.4.2.4 Intermediate summary	92

3.5	Humanitarian aid as means of international politics	93
3.6	Summary of hypotheses	96
4.	Empirical analysis of humanitarian aid in DRC	97
4.1	Methodology and operationalisation	98
4.1.1	Methodology	98
4.1.2	Operationalisation of hypotheses in the questionnaire	101
4.1.3	Choice of discussion partners and conduct of interviews	102
4.2	Empirical research	104
4.2.1	Results for aspects related to institutional economics of aid	105
4.2.2	Results for aspects related to state failure	121
4.2.3	Results for aspects related to war economy	126
4.2.4	Comparison and assessment of the initial hypotheses	136
4.2.5	Identification and assessment of intervening variables	140
5.	Conclusion	146
6.	List of abbreviations	153
7.	Bibliography	156
7.1	Books	156
7.2	Articles from books	159
7.3	Articles from journals	161
7.4	Single papers and reports	164
7.5	Documents, databases, newspaper articles, and other sources	165
7.6	List of interviewees	169
7.7	Questionnaire used for the guideline-interviews	171