About the CONSERVATORY OF MUSIC

The Conservatory of Music at Lynn University is one of the leading conservatories within a university environment. A highly select group of gifted music students is admitted annually to pursue rigorous performance training in solo, chamber and orchestral music.

The University grants full-tuition scholarships to these outstanding young musicians majoring in performance and offers them abundant performance opportunities as the core of their education.

Thousands of South Florida residents enjoy the more than one hundred acclaimed performances each year by the Conservatory's students, alumni, faculty and guests. Serving as a center for the celebration of music, education and cultural life in Florida, the Conservatory relies on community support to fulfill its mission.

Lynn University, founded in 1962, is a private, coeducational university, awarding Doctoral, Master's, Bachelor's and Associate degrees. The University is committed to developing academic programs that reflect the importance of global transformation, multicultural awareness and international exchange. The University has an enrollment of approximately 2100 students from 38 states and 72 countries living and learning on its Boca Raton campus.

MUSIC TRAINING AVAILABLE at MUSIC PREPARATORY

People of all ages can enjoy music classes, take lessons on more than a dozen instruments, and become members of many music ensembles at Lynn University's Music Preparatory. Courses offered are for both adults and children on Saturdays.

Private lessons can be taken in composition and any one of the following instruments: bass, bassoon, cello, clarinet, flute, french horn, guitar, harp, oboe, percussion, piano, trombone, trumpet, tuba, viola, violin and voice. Group lessons are also available for piano, string, guitar, and voice students.
