Video - 1.12 How we did it: Choosing a question

In this video, you found out about the main questions being addressed by the WeObserve Citizen Observatories. You also heard about why they chose these questions specifically, to guide their projects.

##Share your thoughts!

Think about a citizen science issue you've been concerned with, or a local environmental or social problem you have been discussing with friends or family. Would this be a good question for a project?

Please share your question in the discussion area below.
