DIPL 6004: Peacemaking
Spring, 2021
Professor Moremen

PRELIMINARY SYLLABUS

This course combines a thematic and case study approach to peace operations and their role in maintaining peace and security in the world. We will look at UN and non-UN peace operations, broadly defined to include peacekeeping, peace enforcement and post-conflict peacebuilding. We begin with an introduction to some fundamentals: theories about the nature of conflict; the UN Charter framework; and the types of peace operations. We then explore selected case studies of missions since the end of the Cold War to draw out common themes and to familiarize students with the evolving nature of peace operations. We weave in sessions that specifically address some broader issues, such as the law, policy, and ethics of humanitarian intervention, the role of regional organizations and subcontracting, and transitional justice. At the end of the course, students will participate in an exercise in which they develop and present aspects of an ideal peace-building operation, designed to draw on knowledge garnered from the cases, themes and issues studied earlier.

In terms of the learning goals and student outcomes the School's Faculty have identified as key for students, students will:

- increase their knowledge and understanding of
 - key concepts, models, theories, and debates in international relations
 - the institutional backdrop underpinning international politics, including international organizations and international law
 - the normative aspect of international relations as reflected in international law, including human rights
 - the prevailing global issues, such as international conflict, global health, and environmental challenges;
- develop skills to
 - collect, sort, and evaluate information
 - analyze complex situations and synthesize information
 - integrate different fields of study in analysis of a complex world
 - communicate effectively in oral and written form;
- develop a sense of global citizenship and to employ a global perspective to:
 - recognize and understand differences among a diversity of cultures and viewpoints
 - employ a global perspective and self-awareness regarding their own culture and responsibility as world citizens
 - demonstrate leadership qualities and other essential skills of diplomacy.

COURSE REQUIREMENTS:

This course will include several requirements, more fully described below: (a) completing assigned readings before class and participating in class discussions; (b) preparing journal entries' (c) making a short class presentation on a peace operation; (d) preparing a midterm paper; (e) participating in a group presentation and a group exercise on a peace operation; (f) taking a final exam.

- a. Readings and Participation. [20%, including journal entries] Please read the assigned readings before class and be prepared to discuss them in class. Class participation is a required part of the course, and will be considered in determining your grade.
- b. Journal Entries. For seven of the class sessions, you will submit a 2 page typed, double-spaced journal entry on some aspect of that week's reading. Rather than a summary of the reading, the journal entry should express your critical thoughts and reactions. Please submit journal entries through the assignment link on Blackboard. Late entries will be penalized ½ a mark; entries not submitted by the next class will not be graded.
- c. Class Presentation on a Peace Operation [5%] You will make a presentation to the class on one of the case studies we are examining.
- d. Midterm Paper. [20%] There will be a 5-10 page mid-term paper on an assigned topic, due on or about Monday, March 28.
- e. Peacebuilding Exercise. [25%] You will prepare a presentation and a short paper on one aspect of an ideal peace-building program toward the end of the class. Further information on the structure of these exercises will be provided. The peacebuilding exercise will be held in class on 4/28; please plan your schedules accordingly.
- f. Final Exam. [30%] There will be a take home final exam covering the entire class, including all assigned readings.

COURSE MATERIALS: All students are expected to acquire the following book:

-Chester Crocker, Fen Hampson, & Pamela Aall, eds., Managing Conflict in a World Adrift (2015).

OFFICE HOURS AND CONTACT INFORMATION. My office hours will be Thursdays, 10:00 to 12:00 and Tuesdays, 5:00-6:00, by prior arrangement on Teams. My e-mail address is philip.moremen@shu.edu (best way to reach me) and my extension is 2517.

GRADING SCALE: The grading scale used for most assignments will be: 93 and above=A; 90-92=A-; 87-89=B+; 83-86=B; 80-82=B-; 77-79=C+; 73-76=C; 70-72=C; 67-69=D+; 63-66=D; 60-62=D-; Below 60=F. Journal entries will be graded on a check, check minus, and check plus basis.

POLICY ON INCOMPLETES. Incompletes will be given only in exceptional cases for emergencies. Students wishing to request a grade of Incomplete must provide documentation to support the request accompanied by a Course Adjustment Form (available from the Diplomacy Main Office) to the professor before the date of the final examination. If the incomplete request is approved, the professor reserves the right to specify the new submission date for all missing coursework. Students who fail to submit the missing course work within this time period will receive a failing grade for all missing coursework and a final grade based on all coursework assigned. Any Incomplete not resolved within one calendar year of receiving the Incomplete or by the time of graduation (whichever comes first) automatically becomes an “FI” (which is equivalent to an F). It is the responsibility of the student to make sure they have completed all course requirements within the timeframe allotted. Please be aware that Incompletes on your transcript will impact financial aid and academic standing.

MORE ABOUT JOURNAL ENTRIES. Journal entries are graded as a check, check minus, and check plus basis. Journal entries are included in the portion of the grade dedicated to class participation. Satisfactory performance would consist of a mix of checks and check plusses. Superior or inferior performance could make a difference in your grade if you are between grades. Failure to submit journal entries will affect your grade negatively. Late journal entries will be penalized as described above.

I will try to provide comments on the first journals and in early classes to provide direction, but generally will not provide lengthy comments on journal entries. Rather than a summary of the readings, the journal entry should express your critical thoughts and reactions to the issues and the readings. Is there a point of view that you agree or disagree with and why? Can you bring in outside knowledge or experience to illustrate a point in a particularly telling way? You should strike a balance between broad coverage of the readings and a focused analysis. A summary of the readings generally will receive a check, unless it's very well done, e.g., identifying main themes in a sophisticated way. A journal entry consisting of general moral prescriptions without more (e.g., "more education will solve all problems") will not be well-received.

CITATIONS IN PAPERS. Papers should utilize one of the Chicago Manual of Style citation formats: Author-Date or Notes and Bibliography. The guidelines for these formats are on the course Blackboard page. You do not need to use formal citations in journal entries.

LATE OR INCOMPLETE ASSIGNMENTS. Students who anticipate not being able to complete an assignment on time should inform me as soon as possible. Absent prior communication, failure to complete an assignment on its due date will result in a grade penalty. Late assignments (except journal entries—see above) will be penalized by one-third letter grade every two days (i.e., an A assignment turned in up to two days late is an A-, up to four days late a B+, etc.) except in cases of medical/family emergency or COVID-related issues.

PLAGIARISM AND OTHER SERIOUS ABUSES OF ACADEMIC INTEGRITY. All forms of dishonesty, whether by act or omission, including, but not limited to, cheating, plagiarism, and knowingly furnishing false information to the University, are prohibited. Work submitted in courses must be the product of the efforts of the student presenting the work, and contributions of others to the finished work must be appropriately acknowledged. The presentation of another's work as one's own is a serious violation of the academic process. Plagiarism and other forms of academic dishonesty will be reported to the administration and may result in a lowered or failing grade for the course and up to possible dismissal from the School of Diplomacy. See University and School standards for academic conduct here:

<<https://www.shu.edu/student-life/upload/Student-Code-of-Conduct.pdf>>

<<http://www.shu.edu/academics/diplomacy/academic-conduct.cfm>>

More particularly: In a paper, where you quote language word for word, you must place in quotation marks or in a block quote and give the exact source for each quoted passage. Where you paraphrase something, you must cite the source. Where you refer to or use an author's insight or idea, you must cite the source. Lifting language from a web site without indication and citation is plagiarism.

STUDENTS WITH DISABILITIES. It is the policy and practice of Seton Hall University to promote inclusive learning environments. If you have a documented disability you may be eligible for reasonable accommodations in compliance with University policy, the Americans with Disabilities Act, Section 504 of the Rehabilitation Act, and/or the New Jersey Law against Discrimination. Please note, students are not permitted to negotiate accommodations directly with professors. To request accommodations or assistance, please self-identify with the Office for Disability Support Services (DSS), Duffy Hall, Room 67 at the beginning of the semester. For more information or to register for services, contact DSS at (973) 313-6003 or by e-mail at DSS@shu.edu/

CORONAVIRUS SAFETY. In accordance with the Seton Hall pledge, students must wear a mask in class, maintain required social distancing, and not come to class if you are ill. No mask, no class. The pledge can be found here: <https://www.shu.edu/health-intervention-communication/seton-hall-pledge.cfm>

CAPS. As part of our commitment to the health and well-being of all students, Seton Hall University's Counseling and Psychological Services (CAPS) offers initial assessments, counseling, crisis intervention, consultation, and referral services to the SHU community. The CAPS office is located on the second floor of Mooney Hall, room 27. Appointments can be made in-person or by calling 973-761-9500 during regular business hours, Monday-Friday, 8:45 a.m. - 4:45 p.m. In case of a psychological emergency, call CAPS (973-761-9500) at any time to speak to a crisis counselor.
