Queen Mary

It was a tribute to an old lady that as she lay ill in a palace, thousands, nay millions, gave thought to her, and that in all kindness. And now she has crossed the border and her passing is marked with true regret. For nearly nine decades Queen Mary lived among England's green landscapes, moving amidst its history. True, as a consort she never occupied the centre of the stage. Hers was always the "supporting role." Yet she brought to that an integrity, a strength, that has been no inconsiderable factor in maintaining the British Commonwealth throne in the place of trust it occupies today.

Joy did not pass her by, nor did grief. Wars roared around her. Sorrow entered her door and walked down the corridors. Yet always she remained erect and steadfast. Even the turban that so inevitably surmounted her silvered hair became something approaching a beloved symbol. The people of the Commonwealth nations liked her that way.

So now the messages and thoughts that make their way to London carry with them only the soft touch of gratitude and affection.

Dowager Queen Earned Love of Four Generations

THIS PHOTO of the Dowager Queen was taken a few weeks before being confined to bed.

PRINCESS ANNE "POSES" WITH GREAT-GRANDMOTHER

FOUR GENERATIONS of the Commonwealth were familiar with Queen Mary—first as the Duchess of York, then as Queen, then Queen Mother, and then as Dowager Queen. Raised in the Victorian era, she became a symbol of the dignity of the age. She was known as kindly yet unyielding, gracious but reserved. Some of the highlights of her 84 years included her marriage to Duke of York in 1893; their coronation in 1911 and celebration of their silver jubilee in 1935. To many Britons she, more than any other, was the true symbol of Britain's monarchic continuity.

Local Coronation Committee Members Meeting Tonight

Representatives of various local organizations on the Coronation Day planning committee, will meet in the City Hall at 7:30 o'clock tonight.

Ald. Art Jackson will be chairman of the meeting. It is expected that details of the program will be finalized at tonight's meeting.

Crash At New Stop Sign Ends In Fine

Aftermath of Monday noon's two-vehicle collision at the Mill Avenue Water Street intersection, where stop signs have been changed, came in city police court the following day when William P. Marshall was fined $4.50 for failing to stop at a stop sign. Fairly extensive damage was caused to both autos. The other was driven by Frank Kirschner.

Gracious But Reserved

THIS PICTURE of the beloved Dowager Queen was taken shortly before her marriage on July 6, 1893, to the Duke of York. At that time, she was Princess Victoria Mary Augusta Louise Olga Pauline Claudine Agnes "Princess May" of Teck.

Warns Municipal Gov'ts Must Be Prepared to Pay Share of Civil Defence

"Civil defence is becoming a permanent fixture, and quite pessimistically, I think the expense will be greater as we go along. Municipal governments will find it more costly despite efforts of keeping costs down."

That was the veiled hint dropped by Col. J. H. Horn, civic defence co-ordinator, when he addressed members of the City Council Monday night. Mr. Horn said that this was the "year of trial" for civil defence, and he outlined certain items which would be shared on a one-third basis with the two senior governments.

Deadline for submitting a list of projects, in April 15, Col. Horn stated. He stressed the fact that civil defence is primarily a municipal effort with the federal and provincial governments sharing costs. Some of the items which come under the match-in-funds program include air raid sirens, air raid shelters, fire equipment, ambulances and fire alarm systems.

"The civil defence official said instructions have now been received as to how costs will be shared and how to apply to the federal government for rebates."

"FOURTH SERVICE"

Later, Ald. Bob Knox, who recently attended a civil defence school in Ottawa, gave a detailed report of his trip. He said there are now 123,000 civil defence members, and it is recognized as the "fourth service," after the navy, army and air force. In the event of another provincial government engineer Tom Hughes.

FERRY SERVICE

That adequate ferry service be given the travelling public from Good Friday to Easter Monday, has been requested by the Kelowna Board of Trade, in a letter to district provincial government engineer Tom Hughes.

FLOOD FUND OVER $5,000

Financial help for flood victims in England and Belgium and Holland, donated through the local committee of the Canadian National European Flood Relief fund, totalled more than $5,000. Committee chairman Phil Meek reported today the sum of $5,110 had been received. There still was a return to be made from a dance at Rutland later this week.

School Finance Plan Upsets City's Estimates, Says Mayor; Must Find Additional $34,000

BRITISH Columbians will be marching to the polls probably on either June 8 or June 15, providing Lieutenant-Governor Clarence Wallace grants Premier Bennett's request for immediate dissolution of the Legislature.

And insofar as the premier's home riding is concerned it will probably be a two-way fight between Social Credit and CCF, with the possibility of Liberals entering a candidate.

Both C. R. Bull and W. B. Hughes-Games defeated Liberal and Conservative candidates in the last provincial election, stated they would not accept the nomination. Mr. Bull gave "pressure of business" as the reason, while Mr. Hughes-Games will be in England attending the Coronation. Tom Wilkinson, who has carried the CCF standard in the last two elections, stated he would accept the nomination if it were offered him. It is understood the CCF definitely intends to run a candidate. C. G. Beeston, president of the South Okanagan Progressive Conservative Association, stated an executive meeting will be called within the near future to consider the matter. Bob Knox, Liberal president said the situation is also being studied, and that a statement may be issued at a later date.

Meanwhile the city's finance department has been thrown into a state of turmoil, as a result of the defeat of the Rolston formula, the rock upon which the government ship was wrecked. B.C.'s first Social Credit government went down to defeat Tuesday night over a section of the controversial education bill.

Kelowna City Council had approved the school estimates of Kelowna School District No. 23 on the assumption that the Rolston formula would be approved by the House. The city had compiled its 1953 estimates based on the new system of financing education. Despite the $34,000 increase in school costs this year, Kelowna stood to gain around $3,000 under the new plan.

In view of the fact the new proposal was defeated, the government will go back to the old system of land and Beachland, also hangs in giving municipalities a share of the balance. While estimates of the social security and municipal aid tax.

"SEVERE BLOW" It comes as a severe blow to us as we have already passed the school budget," declared Mayor J. J. Ladd. "It simply means we will have to cut down expenses right now. It is a foregone conclusion Mr. Bennett will again run in his own constituency, while the CCF will definitely run a candidate, probably Tom Wilkinson.

C. R. Bull, Liberal standard-bearer in the last election, said he would be unable to accept the nomination due to pressure of business. He is doing a great deal of work in connection with civil defence, but added that he would willingly support any other candidate the Liberals may put up.

Bob Knox, Liberal president, was somewhat non-committal, stating an executive meeting will be called at which time representatives from various locals will make a final decision. He indicated a statement may be made at a later date.

C. G. Beeston, Pro-Con president, also said a meeting will be called within the near future at which time a definite stand would be taken.

Little Theatre May Use Toc H Building

KELOWNA Little Theatre in all probability will be given permission to use the old Toc H building on the corner of Doyle Avenue and Bertram Street.

The KLT made official application for the premises at Monday night's council meeting. The Kelowna Air Cadets have occupied the building up to the present, but the organization, it is understood, has since disbanded.

According to Ald. R. F. L. Keller, the little theatre urgently needs a suitable building where it can store props, scenery, paint and other equipment. The organization has expanded so rapidly during recent years, that it also needs a suitable playhouse where members can produce and rehearse plays. A full dress rehearsal at the high school costs the organization $35 a night and $70 for use of the theatre, Mr. Keller pointed out.

During the general discussion Alderman Keller indicated that tentative plans have already been made for renovating the structure and there is a possibility it may be expanded into a miniature "theatre." He pointed out that all shows have been produced locally and that costs had been kept at a "staggering low figure."

Mr. Keller said the KLT would be prepared to perpetuate the name "Toc H," and would co-operate in every way to improve the surrounding grounds, thus making it an attractive centre.

Ald. Dick Parkinson said it is the intention of the parks board to beautify the grounds, but that it must be understood the area would be open to the general public. Earlier, an application was also received from Kelowna Teen Town for use of the building, R. J. Hall, regional Teen Town director, said it is planned to reorganize the local group, and that Jack Hutchins, of Vancouver, Teen Town organizer, was in the city looking the situation over. When it was suggested the Teen Town investigate the possibility of using the Aquatic Club premises, Mr. Hall, who was present at the meeting, agreed to consult other Teen Town officials. In making application on behalf of the KLT, Mrs. Doris Anderson, president and Mrs. Edna Rabone, secretary-treasurer, said the Little Theatre would be willing to take the building off the city's hands, and pay for public utilities, insurance and maintenance.

RED CROSS DRIVE

Total of $6,000 has been collected to date in the local Red Cross campaign. Officers are confident the quota will be reached by the end of the month.

Urge Co-operation of Motorists

Motorists are asked to co-operate by driving slowly over gravelled roads until the city's hard-surfacing program is completed this year.

Request was made at Monday night's council meeting after Alderman R. F. L. Keller gave a resume of what work is planned by the public works department.

Mr. Keller said his department intends to dust-lay as many roads as possible when the warm weather arrives. "What we need is a minimum of three days when temperatures are above the 50 degree mark, in addition to very little morning dew," he declared. "It is a waste of time and money to treat roads with dust-lay material unless they are thoroughly dry, and it will also ruin the asphalt which will be laid later in the year."

City Engineer George Meckling estimated it will cost $1,050 a mile for dust-lay material. He added the road must be thoroughly dry to a depth of at least one and a half inches.

Alderman Dick Parkinson remarked that it is unreasonable for anyone to expect the roads to be dust-free in March. "We would just be throwing away money."

Thinks Roads Should Get Priority Over Sidewalks and Curbs

ALDERMAN R. F. L. Keller sounded a note of warning at Monday's council meeting regarding the advisability of council passing bylaws for construction of sidewalks and curbs under local improvement bylaws.

The discussion stemmed when first three readings were given to bylaws for walks and boulevard curbs on the east and west sides of Water Street from Lake to Willow Avenues.

"The point I am trying to make is that the city's share (one-third of the cost) could very well pay for dust laying material or for improving streets," Ald. Keller declared.

Mayor J. J. Ladd pointed out that council is not bound to build the sidewalks. "It depends how we are fixed financially. Meanwhile the applications receive priority as they are received," he said.

Ald. Keller continued to make his point however. "We been getting the kicks over dusty roads. Housewives are complaining over dust falling on their washing. I hope you'll take this into consideration when going over the estimates."

Ald. Dick Parkinson remarked that in the past the council has encouraged construction of sidewalks and boulevards as it adds to the attractiveness of the city.

DODDS NAMED CHEST HEAD

C. O. Dodds was elected president of the Kelowna and District Community Chest at a meeting of the directors Friday night. Other officers elected were Mrs. T. F. McWilliams, vice-president and campaign committee co-chairman; D. Fillmore, membership committee chairman; Mrs. Keith Brewster, publicity and public relations chairman; C. E. R. Bazett, budget committee chairman and Mrs. G. R. Rannard, honorary treasurer.

The position of campaign committee chairman was tabled for the next meeting of the board which will be held April 30 in the City Hall committee room. Regular monthly meetings will follow on the last Thursday of each month.

No move will be made to extend the services of the Community Chest to the outlying districts of the city until the Chest is approached by a representative from each area requesting such action. The meeting also disclosed that periodic joint meetings of the directors with the representatives of the participating agencies will be held.

Mr. Knox said he soon discovered that civil defence is of paramount importance, and that while it is unlikely an atomic bomb will be dropped on this community, nevertheless Kelowna should be in a position to accept evacuees, he declared.

Lectures were given by topnotch civil defence officials both on atomic and bacterial warfare, he said. Mr. Knox is making arrangements to give a series of talks in this area. He said he felt the course was worthwhile and that he had learned a lot.

City Favors Reducing RCMP Staff

City Council has applied for a reduction of the RCMP detachment from eight to seven men, effective April 1.

A letter has been sent to Inspector H. J. Spanton, of Kamloops subdivision, requesting the reduction. Recently L. A. M. Potterton was employed by the city to check traffic violators, and according to Mayor Ladd the new system is working satisfactory. Mr. Potterton is a retired police officer.

Mr. Ladd also pointed out that G. K. Kristjansson is employed as a night watchman in the industrial area under a joint arrangement between industrial firms and the city.

"The employment of these two men takes a certain amount of responsibility off the shoulders of the RCMP," Mr. Ladd told The Courier.

Under the RCMP policing arrangement, it is suggested municipalities should have one policeman for every 1,000 people.

DOGS AND DOG FOOD MISSING

Thieves not only broke into the dog pound last Saturday night, but to add insult to injury, they ran off with the dog food.

Ald. R. F. L. Keller informed council Monday night that five dogs had been released; three of the animals returned on their own accord, and two are still at large.

Mr. Keller termed the thieves "scoundrels." They had apparently used an iron bar and an axe to gain entrance.

Dick Warwick's Dramatic Goal Gains Willoughby Cup For V's

PENTICTON 2, KAMLOOPS 2
In a dramatic, storybook finish, the Pentiction V's Monday night claimed the Willoughby Cup and the right to represent the Okanagan senior hockey circuit in the Savage Cup final for the B.C. title by virtue of a 2-2 overtime tie at Kamloops against the bewildered and stunned Elks of Paul Thompson.

The one point, gained by Dick Warwick in the final seconds of regulation time, was all the V's needed to capture the best-of-seven Willoughby Cup final. They had seven of the required eight going into the seventh game. Kamloops Elks, had they won the game, would have tied the V's with seven points, forcing an eighth game at Vernon Tuesday.

Elks appeared to be headed for victory and an eighth game when they forged a 2-0 lead by the midway mark of the third period. But a Warwick-engineered play, polished off by Jim Fleming, started the process that ultimately ended in the stunning finale. Fleming's goal came at 10:16 of the third period. In the final five minutes the Elks had plenty of chances to consolidate their 2-1 lead. Pentiction pressure had to be taken off as the V's were forced to fight off one and then two penalties. Superb back-checking nullified the Kamloops' thrusts.

GOALIE REMOVED
A penalty to Jack Taggart then moved the balance of power the other way and proved to be the break the V's needed. In the final minute, Coach Bill Carse removed goaler Ivan McLelland and the six-to-four margin produced the tying goal with opportunist Dick Warwick parked right on Hal Gordon's doorstep to poke the rubber home. Up to that point, except for the goal scored by Fleming, Gordon was by far the most sensational performer of the period. The saves he made were fabulous. No one was more crestfallen than he when Warwick came through with the series-winning marker.

PLAYED IT COZY
A deflated crew of Elks strove valiantly to get a goal in the overtime period, but the V's, with victory in their grasp, could not be denied. The southerners played it cozy and there was little the Elks could do about it even when Hal Gordon was removed in the last minute. In their over-anxiousness they hardly got a good shot on McLelland.

Gordon had 34 shots to handle in his 70 minutes, and several of them were deadly. McLelland was equally sharp but called on only 21 times.

First period—Scoring: Nil. Penalties: E. Brown, Smith.
Second period—1, Kamloops, Hryciuk (Millard, Bathgate) 17:07. Penalties—Larson, Carlson, Fleming, E. Brown.
Third period—2, Kamloops, Clovechok (Hryciuk) 7:35; 3, Pentiction.

MYRA CUMMING HEADS LADIES' CURLING CLUB
Within one day of the close of their season, the members of the Kelowna Ladies' Curling Club convened for the annual meeting. Monday night they elected Mrs. Myra Cumming as the new president, succeeding Mrs. Carrie Gray. Other officers for the 1953-54 season are: Miss Margaret Crosbie, vice-president; Mrs. Gwen Harding, secretary; Miss Rosemary King, treasurer; draw committee: Mrs. Thelma Owen, Miss Nora Filford; bonspiel convenor, Mrs. Doris Stevenson; inter-club competition, Mrs. Joyce Underhill; prize committee, Miss Marie Frey; social, Mrs. Jen Nicklin; house, Mrs. Jo Fillmore.

Reports of all committees indicated keen interest on the part of all the members and the best year yet in the short history of the club. Rinks had entered bonspiels in Vernon, Kamloops and Peachland and three competed in the B.C. championships in Kamloops.

The club's first annual Ogopegotte Bonspiel attracted 30 entries, 15 from outside clubs and offered many fine prizes. A closed bonspiel was held Saturday and Sunday with 10 rinks entered.

Retiring President Mrs. Gray presented the trophies and prizes to the winners of events during the season just concluded.

LARGE TURNOUT AT FIRST SHOOT OF TRAP SEASON
If the initial turnout is any criterion, trap shooting is in for a banner season again.

There were over 30 claybusters of both sexes—even some in their early teens—at the temporary range near the Kelowna Rearing Ponds in East Kelowna Sunday.

Two new events proved popular. The 15-shot and 10-shot events have been introduced for those who do not want to go for at least $2.50 in the 25-shot caper. These fewer-shot events are being used at trap shooting clubs more and more as the price of shells keep mounting.

Gordon Finch, one of the finest in the province, and Jim Treadgold came up with the only perfects, proving the mild winter did not dull their shooting eye.

SUNDAY RESULTS
Sunday's scores were: Finch 25, 23, 21; Treadgold 25; Thompson 24; Pollock 24; Ellis 23; Duggan 23; 19; Botgier 23; Mun 22; Janeway 22, 21, 19; Rae 22; Garraway 22, 21, 20; Uhl 20, 17; Blake 20; Haldane 19; Lyman 19, 14; Smith 19; McLaughlin 18; Hower 17; Parsons 17; Guidl 16; McInroy 15; Popham 15; Vaccaro 12, 6; Krimmer 10; 15 SHOTS—Ellis 11; McInroy 10; Mrs. Finch 7; Mrs. Duggan 5; Gordon Hoover 5.
10 SHOTS—Hower 9; Hoover 8; McLaughlin 8; Jenaway 8; Campbell 7; Garraway 7; Ellis 7; Turri 6; Rae Jr. 6; Chambers 6; Uhl 5; Botgier 5, Finch 5, Parsons 5.

PEACHLAND — The Peachland Ladies' Curling Club wound up the season's activities with a social evening and tea with a large crowd in attendance.

Presentation of the Trautman and Garraway Trophy was made by president Mrs. Niel Witt to Mrs. Niel Evans' rink for winning the league playoffs. The members of the winning rink were also given silver curling brooches in support of the trophy. Mrs. C. Whinton's rink was presented with spoons as an award for the rink which topped the league before the playoffs.

On behalf of the members of the club Mrs. M. Ferguson presented the club president, Mrs. Witt, and secretary, Mrs. G. Smith, with gifts in appreciation of their work for the club during the year. Mrs. Witt and Mrs. Smith thanked the members for their kindness and also thanked the executive for their help during the season.

A design for a club pin was approved and it was decided that pins be ordered with delivery in time for next season's curling.

Entertaining highlights of the Kelowna Ladies' Bonspiel were related and it was agreed by all who attended the 'spiel that the Kelowna Club had been exceptionally hospitable and friendly.

Curling songs were sung by a group of the curlers, and some hilarious contexts had been arranged by Mrs. V. Cousins. Following the evening's fun the ships served a delicious lunch to all the curlers and guests.

TAKE INITIAL STEPS TONIGHT TO FORM COMPETITIVE TEAM

Baseball IS everybody's business! That is what the few stalwarts, who have stayed with the ball ship after it has taken a beating the past few seasons, are trying to bring home to the citizenry at large.

One went so far as to explain that now that Pentiction-Kelowna rivalry is hot on one side and Vernon-Kelowna rivalry is still scorching on the other side, it's up to everyone in Kelowna to do his or her part to help field a strong, competitive team.

A reminder then to all that tonight the re-organizational meeting of the baseball club will come off. A large turnout is solicited. The meeting will begin at 7:30 in the Committee Room in the City Hall.

PLAY HERE SAT. Spokane Win Catches V's By Surprise
Spokane Flyers jumped to an early lead in the Savage Cup opener at Pentiction last night to hang on for a 5-4 victory over the V's. The Pentictionites, lacking the luster and some of the drive that they displayed in whipping the Kamloops Elks for the Willoughby Cup, deadlocked the score once but made it a real battle all the way.

Second game in the best-of-seven final for the B.C. senior hockey championship will be in Pentiction Friday. Third game comes to Kelowna Saturday, starting at 8:00 p.m.

Tickets for the Saturday game here already are on sale, with outlets all the way from Vernon to Pentiction. Early response points to a full house. This series, operated by the B.C. Amateur Hockey Association, has a static, similar price in all arenas.

If Saturday's response here is as good as expected, then a second game at least will come off before Orchard City patrons.

MISSING OPEN NET
At Pentiction last night, the Flyers pumped in three unanswered goals in the first period and the V's retaliated with the same in the second. Spokane then came back with two more goals in the third for a 5-3 lead, which the V's trimmed to 5-4 with five minutes remaining.

Bill Carse pulled his netminder in the final minute and three times Spokane had long shots on the open net but all missed. Jack Miller paced the Spokes with two goals, and an assist. George McAvoy, Jack McIntyre and Angelo Defelice got two points apiece for the V's. McAvoy had one and one while the two latter garnered two helpers each.

Venues for the fourth and fifth games are expected to be announced later this week.

First period—1, Spokane, Miller (Fodey) 6:27; 2, Spokane, Miller (Rozzini, Butler) 6:42; 3, Spokane, Butler (Miller) 16:36. Penalties: Reeves, Johnston, McAvoy.
Second period—4, Pentiction, McAvoy (Defelice, Schmidt) 3:47; 5, Pentiction, G. Warwick (McIntyre, D. Warwick) 9:50; 6, Pentiction, Culley (McAvoy, Defelice) 14:05. Penalties: Toole, Grebinsky, Miller, Schmidt, Grosby.
Third period—7, Spokane, Bentley 3:26; 8, Spokane, McNally, 8:14; 9, Pentiction, Rucks (Berry, McIntyre) 14:40. Penalties: Reeves, Rucks.
Referees: Smith, Neilson.
Shots on goal: 22-22.

MRS. BARON WINS CLOSED BONSPIEL
Saturday and Sunday 10 rinks competed in the annual closed bonspiel of the Kelowna Ladies' Curling Club, with the foursome of Mrs. Helen Baron defeating Mrs. Lucy Fell in the final for the bonspiel's main laurels.

The winning rink consisted of Mrs. Baron, skip; Doris Stevenson, third; Bea Burch, second and Marie Frey, lead. To this quartet goes the Buchanan Trophy.

The Melkie Trophy for the second event was taken by the rink of Beth Grove who defeated Vi Hou in the final. Third event winner was Velda Bebb by virtue of victory over Mrs. Alston in the final. Mrs. Bebb and her rink won a consolation prize.

Makes-up of the Crowe-rink was: Beth Grove, skip; Nora Filford, Carrie Gray, Mrs. Cram. With Mrs. Bebb were Joyce Underhill, Olive Pope and Kay Elliot.

VERNON JUNIORS WIN B.C. TITLE
Vernon hockeyists, foiled at nearly every turn in their bid for B.C. laurels, finally captured a provincial championship in the junior class.

The Vernon juniors, sparked by Merv Bidoski, slapped Victoria All-Stars 9-5 at Victoria in a two-game series Monday and Tuesday to claim the B.C. crown.

Bidoski was also the star in the sudden-death semi-final at Vernon Saturday. He scored the winning goal as Vernon edged Trail Junior Smokies 4-3.

LETTER TO EDITOR
WHOLE TEAM RESPONSIBLE
The Editor,
The Courier.
Sir,—I have been following midget hockey quite close since I came to Kelowna four months ago. I've read your Courier and listened to the radio, and all I get is that the two Hicks got all the credit for the Midget Packers' success.

Why give the two Hicks all the credit? Why not the whole team? Don't kid yourselves that the other didn't play just as well as the Hicks. I saw both games and the most outstanding player in my mind was Casey.

But who got the credit? The Hicks, Hicks, Howard line. As far as I'm concerned the Hicks just have the weight and they aren't get the credit. Where I come from we don't just pick two players out all the time to give all the credit to, we give it to the team.

Another thing is why are they trying to say the Hicks, Hicks and Howard line are just as good as the other? They sure change their minds fast. When the Warwick's came to Kelowna, they were the worst players they ever saw. Why change so fast? I have nothing against the players on the midget team, but I say give them all a break.

Please print this — and don't think for one moment that I'm the only one who's complaining as there are lots more. I just wish they would sit down and write, too.

A DISGUSTED HOCKEY FAN.

Shop Talk

by MIL CRITTENDEN

Whether that "Dream Home" is still just a gleam in your eye—or whether you're building or decorating right now—you'll find a wealth of sound ideas at FLOR-LAY CO. The new Rainbow Plastic Tile, for instance, will set your head buzzing with ideas. This is one way to "do" your bathroom in great style and save money, too, 'cause it's so easy to install yourself. Rainbow Plastic Tile gives you absolutely guaranteed waterproof linings of shower or bathtub. Costs about 59¢ per square foot. It's so durable—so practical—that it appeals strongly to the "man of the house." But it's the glowing lustre—the unusual colors, that catch the feminine eye. This Rainbow Plastic Tile takes coloring as no other tile can. And the result? Those unusual "off tone" hues that interior decorators dote on. You'll find glorious shades of coral, turquoise, aquamarine, shell pink, forest green, peacock blue, apricot and many more. The smallest and most ordinary bathroom can have a distinctive and unusual look—if you choose Rainbow Plastic Tile from FLOR-LAY CO.

Look regal as a Peeress... or coquettish as a Southern Belle—in your Easter Bonnet from ELEANOR MACK'S. Variety is the keynote in the new millinery designs. Hats this year are as different and as varied as the women who will wear them. The Coronation theme brings retrospectives from the lines of other years. "Crown" brims... "Coronet" silhouettes frame your face in new beauty. Still "tops" are the tiny cloche hats with new 1933 details. Perhaps this is the "easy little hat" that you'll wear the most and love the best—it's so unpretentious, guileless and young. There's a host of flower-waterproof linings of Easter hats with not only Easter on them. Some are laden with ribbon... heaped with flowers... blushing with the sweetest shades. Which will be your Easter Bonnet? Choose this week at ELEANOR MACK'S.

Have you had the shocking experience of finding a much-loved suit or wool dress riddled with moth holes? If you've ever had precious wools destroyed (as I have) through carelessness, you'll need to take a chance again with second-rate moth protection. That's why I want to pass along this good news from GANT'S PHARMACY and PHYSICIANS PRESCRIPTION PHARMACY. There's a new product out that beats anything yet devised to fight this dangerous pest. It's a new push-button moth-proofing spray called BOSTWICK DYNOL. It's guaranteed to kill moths, eggs and larvae and to stop all moth damage for a full year. The great feature of BOSTWICK DYNOL is that it does not only destroy the moths but also the larvae and the eggs. Actually, the full-grown moth is not dangerous. It's while in the larvae stage that it eats fabrics. That's why it's so important to kill the larvae and also the eggs and thus prevent a new generation of moths from coming up. It takes a thorough moth-proofing job like this to give real protection. Just follow the easy instructions on the jar. $1.95 at GANT'S PHARMACY and PHYSICIANS PRESCRIPTION PHARMACY.

How do YOU rate for thoughtfulness? Do you observe special occasions like Easter and Mother's Day with carefully chosen "little gifts"? Then here's good news from BENNETT'S. For a gift that's dear to the feminine heart, choose "something for the home" from BENNETT'S "China" Department. Myriads of charming items in pottery and glass are available. English Bone China give you a choice selection. Whether your gift is lavish or modest, you'll find the gift that fits your budget at BENNETT'S.

Speaking of chinaware, have you seen the outstanding specials in dinnerware and breakfast sets at BENNETT'S? There's a huge selection of dinner, breakfast or luncheon sets in English or semi-porcelain ware... all reduced to special low prices. There's Empire Ware in a delightful "Spring Bouquet" pattern... a 67-piece service for eight at just $24.95. Another 66-piece dinner set with gilt edge and scarlet stripe around the border has been reduced from $37.95 to $29.75. Interesting new designs... modern shapes... modernistic and traditional patterns to choose from at BENNETT'S.

Send Joyous Easter Wishes to those who are near and dear to you this April 5th. For the littlest members of the family—there are some exciting Easter packages at OKANAGAN STATIONERS. For those who will appreciate a more traditional greeting, choose lovely cards that express religious themes. There's something "different" for every person on your list. Delightful surprise cards like the one that says: "Easter Wish from the Garden of Friendship." Tucked inside is a packet of "Bachelor Buttons" and a Magic Box containing a record of the year. "Here Comes Peter Cottontail." In other cards the Easter Bunny holds a real lollipop... packets of tiny Candy Easter eggs. Then there are individual cards... "To My Teacher"... "To Grandma and Grandpa"... "To My Wife." You'll find fluffy bunnies and chicks with real yellow feathers cavorting across these imaginative cards. 5¢ to $1.35 at OKANAGAN STATIONERS.

It's like money in the bank—the dollars you can save as SUPER-VALU'S big Anniversary Sale goes into its second week. This week-end you'll find new displays and specials in this spacious modern store. Check SUPER-VALU'S big Ad for two pages of value-packed specials. There's a great variety of food and household goods at special low prices. This is the week to stock up on canned tomatoes, spaghetti, baked beans, baby foods, ketchup and other Heinz products.

See the huge line-up of top quality canned fish—an economical meat substitute. Also featured this week are baking needs of every kind... biscuits... paper products... pet foods... Jam and marmalades and many more. There are wonderful buys, too, in canned fruit juices. Check the big Ads—you'll see dozens of reasons why IT PAYS TO SHOP AT SUPER-VALU.

I can't wait to see those cute little chicks in the Easter Parade—in fledgling fashions from RANNARD'S. There's a whole new flock of miniature fashions just unpacked... "Show-Off" coat and hat sets for little angels who wear sizes 3 to 6X. Sweet little sets in rayon gabardine for little girls as young as 3 to 6. The finest quality coats at $15.95 and $17.95. The gabardine coats in pinks, sunny yellows and other pastel hues come in two styles—for boys or girls. The boys' coats and caps are trimly tailored at $5.50... the girls' sets are garlanded with embroidery and other dainty feminine touches at $6.95. The Corduroy sets in pastel shades are $8.95. The more expensive coats are fashioned from finest British Woolens and are beautifully finished with fine detail work. Many have velvet covered buttons and matching velvet collars. Hats complete the ensembles. Choice of solids, darker tones or muted checks. A really huge selection to choose from—at RANNARD'S.

Here's a money-saving tip from dietitian Peggy Dillabough. Some recent research by the C.A.C. (Canadian Association of Consumers) turned up interesting facts about pastry making. You can save money by substituting lard for shortening in your pastry—and turn up with more luscious pastry than ever before. Most of us, I think, have some short of prejudice against using lard... but we'll be wise to consider these facts.

Canadian lard is such an economical buy that Home Economists recently conducted tests to rate its use as a fat in pastry making. Various brands of lard, as well as blended and pure vegetable shortenings, were compared in these tests. In all cases, the same standard pastry recipe was used—the proportion of fat to pastry flour being one to three. Both the fat and freshly-made dough were thoroughly chilled to prevent the pastry from becoming hard-to-roll and to assure desirable flakiness. For each fat, triplicate tests were made. Samples of all the baked pie shells were tested by an experienced panel of judges and scored for color, odor, flakiness, crispness, tenderness and flavor. PASTRY MADE WITH LARD WAS GIVEN THE HIGHEST SCORE. With such facts before us, why not use lard instead of shortening and put our savings in the Piggy Bank?

THE B.C. LEGISLATURE
"Blessed is the nation whose God is the Lord; and the people whom He hath chosen for His inheritance." (Psalms 22:12). That nation is Israel, now identified as Anglo-Saxondom. One of the proofs of that is that God gave the Ten Commandments, the basic laws underlying all our laws. The fact that the English common law is found in the Anglo-Saxon race is a sure mark that the British Commonwealth and the U.S.A. are modern Israel.

"Where Cash Beats Credit"

"FOTO NITE" PRIZE AWARDED CRASH VICTIMS

Mr. and Mrs. Graham Stewart, 777 Fuller Avenue, received an unexpected windfall at Tuesday's "Foto-Nite" in the Paramount Theatre.
Mr. Stewart was present when his name was called, with the result he will receive $400 in cash, plus an electric food mixer and a set of coppered cooking utensils, valued at $125.
The couple was seriously injured in an automobile accident on August 10 at the corner of Pendozi Street and Strathcona Avenue. They were hurled from a motorcycle after being hit by an automobile, and were hospitalized for 15 days. Mr. Stewart still wears a cast as a result of a broken back, while Mrs. Stewart sustained a broken ankle.
They were so excited they left the theatre without making arrangements with Will Harper regarding a photograph. Mr. Harper later drove around to their modest dwelling; congratulated them, and arranged to have the photo taken.
After presenting the picture at next week's "Foto-Nite," they will receive the cash and merchandise awards.

VOLUNTEERS FOR REGATTA URGED ATTEND MEETING

An appeal for assistance was issued by perennial Regatta chairman R. F. Parkinson at the bi-weekly meeting of the Regatta committee on Friday evening.
The next meeting will be delayed an extra week due to the Easter holidays, but Mr. Parkinson requested that all interested parties turn out for the meeting on Friday, April 10, in the City Hall committee room.

It was necessary to fill the places of key workers who had contributed invaluable aid in the past, he said, with a special invitation going out to newcomers to the city, people with ideas who would like to help make the 47th annual Kelowna International Regatta as successful as the predecessors have been. Dates this year are Thursday and Friday, July 30 and 31, and Saturday, August 1.
One representative, a long-time resident of Kelowna, stated that while he had realized the Regatta involved a lot of work, the magnitude of it had not been fully realized. A tremendous community effort, it is so big now that all must help.
When you give through your Red Cross you are there to bring new hope and comfort to veterans in hospitals from coast to coast. Your Red Cross sends $5,310,000 in 1953,

EDITOR'S NOTE—Following are excerpts from the Winnipeg Free Press—one of Canada's largest daily newspapers—of March 16, covering the Regina at Winnipeg senior hockey playoff game of March 14. Sports writer Ted Bowles, in both his report of the game and in his column, "As I See It," condemned the "lactics" of the Regina Caps in the second game of their Western Canada Allan Cup quarter-final. The first two games were played in Winnipeg; the balance in Saskatchewan.

BOWLES' GAME REPORT

Winnipeg Maroons, despite the vicious attitude of the opposition, skated and passed their way to a resounding 6-1 victory over a group of amateur wrestlers posing as hockey players and bearing the name of Regina Caps, Saturday before 3,000 riled Amphitheatre fans.

The fans, almost to a man, couldn't help but feel it was good riddance when Caps skidded off the ice for the last time (this was in reference to the balance of the series going to Regina).

The game produced 21 penalties, including five majors and a 10-minute misconduct, and if referees Curly Brault and Cam Smith of Edmonton had handled the game with the degree of efficiency necessary, there would have been many more.

Both teams stuck fairly close to the rules during the first period, although Caps got away with a few digs and Maroons hopped into a 5-0 lead. It was apparent that Caps couldn't match Maroons when the teams played anywhere close to the rule book, so elbows, knees, sticks and crude tactics in general were employed by the Regina crew in the remaining two periods and this style of play, if it can be called hockey, bore fruit. Caps found that crimping tactics could put them almost on an even keel with the Maroons, with the result that for the last two periods, scoring was even.

The display put on by Regina was a disgrace. In fact it was only slightly worse than the effort turned in by referees Brault and Smith, who lost complete control.

MIDDLETON BULWARK

It was four defencemen and goalie Don Collins who stole the spotlight Saturday night. Gordie Simpson, Bert VanBelleghem, Bob Middleton (former Packer and brother of Jim Middleton) and Jack Mason threw up a tight wall at the blue line and when that was penetrated they checked and cleared well around their goal.

The game broke wide open in the second period, as Caps, showing the kind of sportsmen they are, used every method they could think of to stop Maroons, which appears to be getting more useless all the time.

Stan Craig, VanBelleghem and Ken McKenzie suffered injuries. Craig received a high stick

FUNERAL RITES FOR D. H. WARREN CONDUCTED HERE

Final rites for Delbert Henry Warren, 61, whose death occurred at his home on the Vernon Road March 22, were held yesterday from the chapel of Day's Funeral Service Ltd., Rev. R. S. Leitch of First United Church conducting the service. Interment was in Kelowna cemetery.

Born in Ontario in 1891, the late Mr. Warren was a veteran of World War I, seeing action in France with a Scottish regiment, where he was wounded. In 1919 he took a position as instructor at the technical school in Calgary and later turned to farming at Cremona, Alta., until moving to Kelowna 6 1/2 years ago.

Besides his widow, Lila, he leaves one son, Don, in Kelowna; four daughters: Mrs. Doris Clower, Kelowna; Mrs. Divila Reid, Carstairs, Alta.; Mrs. Delberta Christensen, Crossfield, Alta., and Mrs. Doreen Hillstow, Nelson. Ten grandchildren also are left.

Fred Tutt Again Heads Ratepayers

Fred Tutt was re-elected president of the Kelowna Rural Ratepayers' Association at the annual meeting held in Raymer Avenue School. Harry Bubb was named first vice-president, and W. A. Cameron secretary.

Appointed to represent their respective districts were: South Pendozi, F. Tutt, B. I. Jones, H. Brahan, W. A. Cameron, Casorso and Welder divisions, A. Marty, E. Bergen and W. A. Cameron.

Woodlawn, F. Paul, W. Buchanan and I. Graves.

Five Bridges, H. Bubb, H. J. Harder and W. J. Kacharski.

Over 60 people heard Mr. Tutt review the past year's activities in his president's report. Financial statement showed a credit balance of $59.65. An additional $28 was realized in a membership drive at the meeting.

Interested talks were given by F. R. Alcock of the South Okanagan Health Unit, who spoke on septic tanks and their control, and by G. D. Cameron, who spoke on civil defence.

Committee members agreed to continue regular meetings on the third Monday of each month.

Members unable to attend the meeting are requested to leave their membership fees at Tutt's Tailor Shop, Pendozi Street.

BOWLES' COLUMN REMARKS

It's not the dog in the fight, it's the size of the fight in the dog. These words certainly had a lot of truth in them Saturday night... when the smaller Winnipeg Maroons took all the rough stuff Regina Caps could hand out and still came up with a 6-1 victory.

For one period the fans who came expecting to see a hockey game got an eye-ful of precision passing and all that goes to make good hockey. After that the game took on a survival of the fittest aspect, and anyone who derived enjoyment from the brutal attacks of Caps and the filthy language of Tony Schneider certainly required the attention of a psychiatrist.

But the blame for the rough stuff can be laid squarely at the feet of four men—two Caps who aren't yet dry behind the ears and the officials. Doug Killoh and Schneider were eight of Caps' 19 penalties and they deserved every one—and more. Their attacks were brutal to the extreme...

Mickey Boyle, manager of Caps, came up with the best comment of all, showing the mentality which is embodied in the man who handles "business" dealings. "They wouldn't even have called that penalty at Regina," said Boyle, referring to the brutal charge which Schneider made upon Bert VanBelleghem. The check put VanBelleghem out of action with a twisted knee and got Schneider a five-minute sentence.

Boyle went on to describe how he has "seen them carry off six men in one game at home." He termed Maroons and the hockey they play "pink tea." Those were pretty brave words for a man who partakes of his hockey from a box seat...

In the same issue of the Winnipeg Free Press, in a front page story, headed "Maroons Told To Quit If Play Dirty," the Maroon management was instructed to pull the team off the ice at Regina Monday if there is a "repetition of Saturday night's dirty play."

MISS SHEILA GALE DIES IN ENGLAND

Word has been received of the death, after a long illness, of Miss Sheila Gale in London, Eng., March 24. The sister of Miss Nancy Gale of Kelowna, she visited B.C. in 1949 spending a few days in this city, an occasion she liked to recall.

Besides her sister here, she is survived by three other sisters, Mrs. Frank Selby, Nora and Mrs. Alan Chick, all in England.

SECRET AMAZES FRIENDS!

"Out of the blue...!"

"I certainly stole the show the other day when I told my friends the secret of my washing—the whitest in the neighbourhood. Just swish Reckitt's Blue through the rinse," I said, "and out of the blue comes the whitest wash." Reckitt's Blue costs so little and makes such a big difference."

United Nations Group Formed In This City

MRS. T. F. McWILLIAMS has been named chairman of the newly-organized Kelowna group of the United Nations Association of Canada. Other officers are Mayor J. J. Ladd, honorary chairman; Mrs. W. J. MacKenzie, secretary-treasurer; Mrs. M. Foulkes, library; W. Goodland, films; J. Stewart, publicity.

Others present at the informal meeting were Mrs. G. Herbert, Mrs. L. Lewis, Miss H. A. Sturrock, Mrs. V. Howe, C. G. Beeston and F. Weber. They volunteered to form study groups, assist in previewing films and to speak on United Nations activities.

It was pointed out that in recent years, many people have expressed a desire for more information in respect to problems of United Nations and related international questions.

Group has been formed in an effort to encourage individuals to study international affairs and also to serve other organizations that from time to time may request speakers, films or literature on United Nations or its specialized agencies.

Those desirous of joining the local organization should contact any member of the committee, or Mrs. Foulkes at the Okanagan Regional Library.

EAST KELOWNA SHUTTLE CLUB HOLDS DANCE

EAST KELOWNA—A dance, arranged by the members of the Badminton Club, was held in the Community Hall Saturday of last week.

There was a good turn out and everyone had a very enjoyable time, with Carol Evans at the piano, Bob Wilson, banjo, and Pete Zagrozy, violin, playing for old time and modern dances.

Refreshments were served during the evening.

Smooth Ride To Kamloops Soon!

THIRTY NINE MILES of North Okanagan highways are to be hard-surfaced this summer, according to Works Minister P. A. Gagliardi, and here is a stretch that will probably be included—it's part of the four miles of joint highway 6-97 now being built between the end of Mara Street and the Kamloops highway cutoff north, near Vernon.

Contractors are making good progress as can be seen from the picture, and have reached a point several miles north of Vernon city limits. In the background is the Anderson subdivision. A colossal yardage of fill is going on this particular section, passing through wet ground near Swan Lake.

YOUNG PEOPLE TAKE SERVICE AT BENOULIN

BENOULIN—A very impressive service was held in the Benoulin United Church Sunday morning when the young people from the Naramata training school took part in the service.

Rev. P. H. Mallett conducted the service with Harry Johnson as organist. Peter Jensen from Williams Lake told the children's story, while Harold Reinders, of Calgary, gave the witness and told how much he had obtained spiritually from the Naramata training school.

and of the wonderful fellowship there. He said that what he had learned would go with him to university and on into engineering which was his goal.

Miss Catherine Harris from Scotland spoke on what the Christian faith meant to her. Her soft spoken sincerity was an inspiration to all present.

After hearing these young people, one realizes the important work the Naramata School is doing and it gives one hope in the future to know there are citizens such as these coming along.

Easter service will be held in the Benoulin United Church on Sunday, March 29 at 11:00 a.m., conducted by Rev. P. H. Mallett. Harry Johnson will be organist. Sunday School is at 10:00 a.m.

A. Hagen left Monday of this week for Moose Jaw, Sask., where he will spend two weeks visiting friends.

Friends and neighbors in the district were sorry to hear of the passing of D. Warren, who has been a resident of the Byrns subdivision for the past six years.

Mrs. H. Berard has been a patient in the Kelowna General hospital for the past week.

Kelowna Junior Band Will Conduct Bottle Drive This Week-end

THE Kelowna Junior Band Association is again soliciting support for its semi-annual bottle drive to raise money for the purchase of further instruments and equipment for the band. There are now approximately 150 students taking instrumental instruction and the majority of these use their own instruments which they have purchased themselves. However, there are some large instruments which are necessary for the proper development of the band which have to be purchased by the band association. Drums, sousaphones, bassoons in particular, are instruments which have been bought by the band association and the school board and these are very expensive.

The money raised by bottle drives and other ventures of the band has supplemented the financial assistance given by the community chest and the school board and this year has enabled the association to purchase uniforms for the performing band of about 60 members which played at the recent figure skating carnival and other public events.

The co-operation of all householders is solicited to ensure the success of the bottle drive. Beer bottles, all types of soft drink bottles, clothes hangers and apple boxes will be picked up by a band member on or before Friday afternoon of this week. Bottles should be left in a convenient place for pickups. If no one calls, phone 3733 and a pick-up will be arranged.

GEORGE WOITTE SUMMERLAND'S GOOD CITIZEN

SUMMERLAND—Board of Trade this year looked behind the scenes of community activities to honor as Summerland's "good citizen of 1952," George Woitte—"probably never a chairman of any committee but always a strong man of any committee on which he served."

Presentation of the Reid J. Johnston Cup was made at the annual banquet of the board but it was presented in absentia. The guest of honor, unaware of the tribute that was to be paid him, was called to the premises.

LADY-OF-LAKE WELCOMES TRADE BOARD MEMBERS

Lady-of-the-Lake Cathy Archibald extended a gracious invitation to guests at the special annual dinner meeting of Kelowna Board of Trade last Thursday evening, to attend the 47th Kelowna International Regatta, July 30, 31, and August 1.

"If you are having a good time here tonight, you'll have twice as much fun during the Regatta," she said.

Deeming himself fortunate to be seated next to Miss Archibald, "and a bachelor at that," acting manager of the B.C. Chamber of Commerce, C. K. Bantock, expressed only one regret: that he could not swim.

Reeve Ned Bentley, Summerland, facetiously remarked that although he too was a bachelor, he had been discriminated against and was seated some distance away from the Lady-of-the-Lake.

CITY AWAITS EXPLANATION RCMP CONTRACT

City council is still awaiting word from Attorney General Robert Bonner to outline reasons for the increase in the 1953 RCMP contract.

Police costs were discussed at a meeting of the Okanagan Valley Municipal Association several weeks ago, and at that time it was decided to table the matter until clarification from Attorney General Bonner. The latter indicated he would confer with Ottawa authorities.

City Clerk George Dunn at Monday night council meeting said no word had been received from Mr. Bonner.

Under the Tower At Ottawa

By O. L. JONES, M.P.

WEDNESDAY, MARCH 18, 1953

Now that the prime minister has definitely informed the house that an election will take place in a few months, it has steamed up the tempo of the debate to such an extent, that we have had several fiery exchanges of words between members of the various parties.

Such an incident occurred recently, when Mr. Drew charged the government with waste and extravagance and was answered by the prime minister, who charged Mr. Drew with irresponsibility and having a desire not so much to prove his case as to provide a good election campaign.

The defence expenditure committee meets regularly, but owing to the limitations in exploring the field of defence in general, many of the members feel frustrated and resent another white-wash committee.

NATURAL GAS PIPELINE An interesting debate took place on the gas pipeline, when Mr. Howe spoke on behalf of the government, defining its policy relative to the export of petroleum and natural gas.

Attending the meeting were the following: D. H. Campbell (chairman) W. E. Hall, A. W. Gray, representing the Board of Trade, Art. Pekul representing the BCFGA Local, Mrs. A. W. Gray, Women's Institute, Darze Dendy, P.T.A., Bernice Heitzman, Catholic Church, Elwyn Cross, United Church.

TO LEAD SCOUTS In charge of Canadian contingent of Boy Scouts that will attend the coronation on June 2, will be Scoutmaster J. Barry Cole of Shawinigan Falls, Que. Scheduled to sail for England on May 18, the group, comprised of boys from all across the country, will return toward the end of June.

House where they did come from. What is more remarkable still, Mr. St. Laurent admitted about 3:30, that the manuscript had not been found during the past half hour; it had been found "last week." And in the course of his remarks, Mr. St. Laurent said that the government has never attempted to "withhold any information it was reasonable to make available to the public."

KELOWNA SEA CADETS

The Kelowna branch of the Navy League of Canada sponsors the Kelowna Sea Cadet Corps and the Navy League Juniors for boys aged 12 to 14.

Each year the Kelowna Corps is assessed $200 by the Canadian navy and the local branch is assessed for the number of boys attending.

A modern projector and screen, complete with sound machinery, has recently been provided by the navy for the Kelowna Corps, which is now a member of the local Film Council and which also draws films from Naval headquarters in Vancouver.

It is expected that additional equipment will arrive shortly, whereby the training program can be greatly enlarged. The new equipment will increase the desirability of those who are not yet members, to join the Sea Cadets.

SUNNY SPELL ANNAPOLIS ROYAL, N.S. — This part of Nova Scotia enjoyed 87 hours of sunshine in February, compared to 63 hours in the same month last year, according to weather records. Temperatures varied from a high of 58 to seven below zero.

ment has never attempted to "withhold any information it was reasonable to make available to the public." But is it not curious that no information could be given the public at about three o'clock, when it could be given about 3:30? And all, apparently because the writer had meantime declared in print that he could vouch for the manuscript's existence, even if the government wouldn't. Perhaps there is some way of reconciling these two statements made by Mr. St. Laurent within so short a period of time. But until some satisfactory reconciliation is provided, the question must continue whether information, properly belonging to Parliament and embarrassing to the government, was withheld, until it could be withheld no longer.

Agriculture Today

DEBUNKING ORGANIC FARMING

The Montana Farmer-Stockman in a recent edition had a few words to say about the extremists who take an element of truth and expand it into a pseudo science to the exclusion of other facts which are just as true.

The value of organic matter in the soil has long been recognized by farmers as well as by scientists. It is essential to the normal development of soil organisms which turn aid greatly in changing food elements into forms that are available to plants.

But the self-styled "organic farmers" appear to be taking the position that humus content is all any soil needs. They attack the use of chemical fertilizers in any form and even go so far as to claim that such materials poison the soil, kill such beneficial organisms as earthworms, make crops susceptible to insects and diseases of all kinds, and injure the health of animals and humans that eat crops so fertilized.

cial fertilizers do so because they have found that humus alone is not enough for profitable crop production. Or they can maintain the fertility of their soils more economically through the use of chemical fertilizer than by attempting to add manure and other organic materials to maintain the mineral content.

There is no scientific evidence that chemically fertilized plants are less nutritious than those not so treated. In fact the evidence points quite conclusively to the fact that plants grown on soil in which some mineral deficiency has been overcome through the use of a commercial fertilizer are more nutritious.

If proper use of chemical fertilizer "poisoned" the soil, yields of the crops grown upon it would soon suffer. But at the famous Rothamsted experiment station in England there is a wheat experiment that has been conducted for considerably more than 100 years. One plot has received nothing but manure at the rate of 14 tons per acre annually. The other has received nothing except chemical fertilizer. Average yields of both plots have been practically the same in spite of the unsightly heavy application of manure.

shown that there are just as many earthworms in the chemically treated soil as in that treated with manure but those in the fertilized plots are actually larger and stronger.

Montana farmers know that some soils will not produce profitably unless treated with phosphate fertilizer. And that animals feeding on such crops are thrifter when the soil is improved in that way.

There are countless other examples that disprove the destructive claims of the "organic farmers."

Volunteers Build Walks Near School At Rutland

RUTLAND—A meeting of representatives of a number of local organizations was held here to make plans for construction of a sidewalk in the vicinity of the school.

Efforts to get action by the provincial government had been made for a year or more, without success, the policy of the PWD opposed to construction of sidewalks in unorganized territory.

The meeting decided to try a voluntary community effort, and a start was made on Saturday when volunteers with small bulldozer equipment levelled off the pathway from the United Church corner to the Athletic Park.

Attending the meeting were the following: D. H. Campbell (chairman) W. E. Hall, A. W. Gray, representing the Board of Trade, Art. Pekul representing the BCFGA Local, Mrs. A. W. Gray, Women's Institute, Darze Dendy, P.T.A., Bernice Heitzman, Catholic Church, Elwyn Cross, United Church.

If the local volunteer effort is successful in completing a section this season, it is hoped that in succeeding years the whole road may be supplied with a sidewalk, for the safety of the children and pedestrians.

RAILWAY PIPELINE My only regret is that the government did not authorize the Canadian National Railways to build the pipeline as a publicly owned transport system. The profit to be derived from it would undoubtedly have been pressed to our own economy. Therefore, it becomes our policy to refuse permits for moving natural gas by pipeline across an international boundary, until such time as we are convinced that there can be no economic use, present or future, for that natural gas within Canada.

I am glad, Mr. Howe has at last declared the government policy is to supply Canada first, as for the last four or five years the opposition members have been trying to force the government to do this, even though it sometimes meant filibustering on private bills. This statement of Mr. Howe's will be welcomed, particularly by those people in B.C. who have been hoping that some day they will be able to use natural gas for heat and power.

The Passing Parade

By JACK SCOTT

TORONTO SIX

Mrs. Ruth Budd has sent along to this department the unpleasant history of what might be called The Case of the Toronto Six. I seem to be the only commentator in Canada, who hasn't dealt with this and so I'm hastening to join the chorus, late but double forte.

You'll doubtless recall the story. Six members of the Toronto Symphony Orchestra—Mrs. Budd and five male musicians—were refused entry into the United States by the American Immigration Department. They were then dismissed by the orchestra's management.

This happened several months ago—in May, I believe—and there was a commendable outcry from many responsible parties. Toronto Saturday Night observed: "It is bad enough that six musicians have been done a grave personal injustice; it is worse that no practical remedy is available."

Maclean's Magazine suggested that "the arbitrary sentence on the unspecified charge is a standard device of thought-control and its dismal runningmate, guilt-by-association, and it is profoundly disquieting to find a great Canadian cultural institution running in such incongruous company."

The Nation commented: "Incidents such as this make it an increasingly embarrassing for Americans to speak sneeringly of other countries' iron curtains."

But the Toronto Six remained fired. It seems to me, in retrospect, that the strangest part of this whole business was the fact that the U.S. Immigration Department did not explain the reason for refusing entry to the six musicians and that, as far as anyone can find out, the department was never asked to explain.

The assumption is, of course, that it was for political reasons and the very fact that it is an assumption demonstrates the dangers of what Adlai E. Stevenson called "the climate of fear in which we live."

The orchestra's board of directors highly sensitive to that climate, was in the curious position of firing its members because of an accusation that was never made. There was nothing from which to appeal except the word "No."

The effect on these musicians would have doubtless been the same if the immigration people had barred them as suspected carriers of just and mysterious disease or just on the general grounds that the double bass (which three of them happened to play) is too handy an instrument for smuggling back Lucky Strikes. No one knows to the contrary.

Whatever the reason it means that the hysteria manufactured in the United States can cost a Canadian his job and his reputation.

Hysteria doesn't seem to me too strong a word. I cannot conceive of a man like Dirk Kegbaas, solo flutist and one of the banned, overthrowing the American government by force. His flute probably wasn't over a pound.

It seems astonishing now, looking back on all the evidence, that the orchestra's board of directors, who admitted that they were indifferent to their members' politics, did not spring to the defense of the six as Canadians and as artists.

Who are some of the members of the Amsterdam Concertgebouw Symphony Orchestra were refused entry by the United States on a proposed American tour the directors of that orchestra simply cancelled their plans.

These people are accepted by us," they said, speaking like a Dutch uncle. "You'll take us as a group or not at all."

The Toronto management, on the other hand, accepted the ruling, right or wrong, as an edict.

It seems astonishing to me, too, that there was no government action on the case. Surely in our devoted relations with the United States there's room for one or two stern glances and perhaps even a harsh word when a thing like this comes along.

And surely it's part of the responsibility of the government to protect the citizens who suffer at the hands of another country.

"Look, Sam," we might profitably tell the United States, "your recent habit of turning back some of our people is ruining their careers and we'd like to make kind of sure that you're right about them. Now about these six musicians..." Still, however vicious and shortsighted this U.S. policy may be, it is their own business. Our business is to see that the sometimes onli-

DISCOVERER OF NORANDA

A Nova Scotia farm boy, who discovered one of Canada's most prolific mines after 40 years of lonely toil, died at Halifax recently at age 87. As a wiry, raw-boned prospector, E. H. Horne roamed the wilds of North America—from Labrador to Nevada and California to the Yukon—in search of gold but found fame and fortune in a base metals deposit which today is named Noranda. He was nearly 60 at the time of the strike, situated in Quebec near the Ontario border and was on his last grubstake after trekking and canoeing across Labrador and northern Quebec. Horne then sold his option to Noranda for $280,000, married and brought his wealth back to his native Enfield, where he ended his days raising one of the finest Hereford dairy herds in Canada.

COOK'S CORNER

CHEESE COOKERY
Cheese is a perennial favorite and being rich in protein, fat, minerals and vitamins, is an inexpensive substitute for meat and fish. Cheese is one of the most valuable foods and should have a prominent place in the meals of both adults and children. Like milk, it is almost a perfect food. It contains nearly all of the proteins of milk, which are body-builders, a large percentage of fat which makes it a valuable source of energy, a good supply of minerals, particularly calcium and phosphorus and also some vitamin A and B complex, each of which is essential to good health.

Cheese should be cooked at low temperatures, being heated just to melting point, as the protein toughens with extreme heat.

CHEESE BREAD
2 cups water, milk or potato water
1 package yeast
1 tablespoon sugar
1/2 teaspoon salt
6 cups sifted, all-purpose flour
3 tablespoons shortening, melted
2 cups grated cheese.
Scald liquid and cool to lukewarm. Take out one-half cup of this liquid, add one teaspoon sugar and sprinkle yeast over top. Let stand 10 minutes. Dissolve sugar and salt in remaining liquid and add to yeast mixture. Add one and one-half cups flour, beat well and add melted shortening, blending well. Add remaining flour mixed with grated cheese, making a stiff dough. Knead well on a floured board. Place in a large, greased bowl and let rise until double in bulk. Knead slightly, shape into loaves, place in well greased loaf pans and let rise until doubled, about one hour. Bake at 375 degrees about one hour. Makes two loaves.

EAST KELOWNA PLANS GOLDEN BAR CEREMONY

EAST KELOWNA—The monthly meeting of the Girl Guide Association was held in the Community Hall, with the president, Mrs. D. Evans in the chair.
It was decided that Brownie parents and friends be asked to make candy to sell at the P.T.A.'s entertainment which takes place early next month.
Mrs. W. Hince, reported on the Brownie activities. She hoped to have a "Golden Bar ceremony" before Easter, when six Brownies would receive their bars and service stars.

The president, Mrs. James, was in the chair, the other officers being taken from the various churches. Six new members were added to the roll and two honorary members. The Union's project to further the cause was evident by the tangible offering of $10, which was given to the district treasurer.
Mrs. E. Sapinsky was the recipient of a membership pin. Good reports were given from the different departments and all were enthusiastic in the work for the coming year.

BOY SCOUT COLUMN

By A. M. THOMPSON (District Scoutmaster)
Easter week camping time is getting close, and I think a word on the care of tools is in order.
Only first Scouts are permitted to carry an axe, hatchet or hunting knives.
Any hunting knife over four inches long is against Scout rules. A few don'ts may save a few trips to the first aid tent for treatment of unnecessary cuts.
1. Don't throw knives or axes.
2. Don't cut down trees unnecessarily.
3. Always place your axe cutting edge in a block of wood.
Keep your hunting knife in its sheath when not in use.
Make sure that your first aid kit is up to standard. You may need it. Practice the safety methods you have been taught during Scout meetings.
WATER
Make sure that you have ample drinking water. All water taken from the creeks at this time of the year must be boiled before drinking. Protect your health while camping out.
Your bronze arrow training books should be completed and sent in for inspection.
I M U
Try this for cooking your dinner.
1. Dig a hole in the ground 18 inches square. Build a criss-cross fire on a platform of split wood across the hole.
2. Place a layer of stones one-half brick size. Light fire and keep it going for one and one-half hours until stones are almost at white heat, and have fallen into the hole.
3. Now work fast. Shovel out burning pieces of wood. Level stones and coals in the bottom of the hole. Place in your meat and vegetables (potatoes, carrots, beans, onions, corn) or what you may be wanting to cook that have been wrapped in aluminum foil.
4. Cover with wet gunny sack. Bury completely with dirt so that no steam can escape. After two hours of cooking your I M U should be ready to eat.

Needlecraft News by Pauline Roy

SPRING SUNSHINE NOT ONLY brings out the flowers, but also the athletic urge in each of us. We want to get out and frolic in the sun, enjoy the sport of the golf course, take backhand shots on the tennis court or tramp through the woods. Because it's the "glad to be alive" time of the year, we'll want to doubly enjoy every activity in which we take part.

Smart and Attractive New Clothes
Comfortable and appropriate clothes are necessities for these vigorous days ahead. You'll want clothing that will not hamper your movements or be too bulky, yet are smart and attractive. And, of course, you will need a warm jacket or sweater to don after you have finished playing golf or tennis or whatever your favorite sport may be. At such times a lightweight wool sweater will be just what you want. Men are great admirers of good fashion, though it might take them awhile to accustom themselves to a new style. However, the majority of men will continue to wear the cute and colorful they feel most comfortable in. The introduction of new colors and effects will come mainly through the accessories, and where can you introduce a new color more attractively than in a handsome hand knitted sweater. His favorite vacation cardigan can be the very latest in masculine chic.

Long Sleeved Cardigan
Men are very fond of sweaters. And, here's a style to warm the cockles of any sports enthusiast's heart. Checks are smart and add variety to this perfectly designed cardigan. The sweater is knitted from only two colors of 4 ply wool, a main color B, and a contrasting color A. To make it in size 38 with the long sleeves as pictured here, you will need 13 ozs. in the main color and 2 ozs. in the contrasting color. If you would like to have a jacket with directions for making this sweater in sizes 38, 40, 42 and 44 inches, just send a stamped, self-addressed envelope to the Needlework Department of this paper requesting VACATION MAN'S CARDIGAN, Leaflet No. CW-45.

DOOM TOWN IS SACRIFICED FOR SCIENCE

—Central Press Canadian Photos

WHAT EFFECTS the possible explosion of an A-bomb will have on the average family is one of the questions U.S. atomic officials are trying to answer in the current series of tests which started with the recent exploding of an A-bomb from a tower in Yucca basin, near Las Vegas, Nevada. The bomb gushed its ghastly light and killing wallop, equal to 15,000 tons of TNT over Doom Town, a replica of an American community, and turned the pale pre-dawn of the desert into that of a blinding noon. An ugly mushroom cloud then rose up from the centre of the little mock community, sacrificed for science, with its houses, 50 test cars, including one seen above, and realistic-looking mannequins, seen below in the living room of one of the houses constructed well within the danger area. Meticulous care was used in selection of subject matter to be exposed; even to articles of clothing worn by the mannequins.

KELOWNA PTA PRESENTS PLAY AT PEACHLAND

PEACHLAND—At the regular meeting of the P.T.A., members enjoyed a play "Push, Variable Winds" which the Kelowna P.T.A. members produced, under the direction of Mrs. S. M. Gore. This play, based on the question of child discipline, in relation to mental health, was excellently played, and brought out some interesting discussion. After the play, two discussion groups summed up their opinions on the problems presented by the characters in the play, and this was followed by general discussion. It was decided that the National Film Board pictures be shown to the public under the sponsorship of the P.T.A. It was agreed to have a dinner for the members of the Kelowna District Rural Teachers when they have their meeting here in the spring. Mrs. C. LeDuke and Mrs. Z. Blower will act as conveners. A report of the School Fair held during Education Week showed that it had been most successful, and that approximately $37 had been spent on prizes.

Charged in district police court with driving a motor vehicle with illegible licence plates, Jogie Basran was fined $10 and costs. An additional charge of depositing a noxious substance (planer shavings) on the highway was dismissed with a reprimand.

LETTERS TO THE EDITOR

RIGHT TO ARBITRATION

The Editor, Kelowna Courier.
Dear Sir,—Under provincial government law, the right of employees to bargain collectively, to submit their differences with their employers to conciliation and then arbitration, is a civil right enjoyed by all groups of employees in B.C.—except the employees of the provincial government itself. Even employees of our schools, hospitals, public utilities, civic and municipal governments, etc., all have this right—but we alone are denied it.

The B.C. Government Employees' Association, representing the employees of the provincial government, feels that this is unwarranted and unfair discrimination. We are citizens and taxpayers of our province first, and employees of our provincial government second. To deny us the same right that the government has extended to all others, even to government employees at the civic and municipal levels of governments, is to relegate us to a second-class level of citizenry.

So far, our present employers have given no reason for not granting our request other than that they desire at least six months to study the principle involved. Obviously this is merely a stalling tactic; similar to that employed in rejecting our other requests for the five-day week and better overtime and holiday provisions. The government has had over two months now to study our proposals. There is nothing revolutionary in them. The "principle" was established by law in B.C. some years ago. Employees of civic and municipal governments, and other employees in positions of trust such as policemen, firemen, nurses and teachers have long enjoyed the benefits of arbitration. In 1944 the Saskatchewan provincial government agreed to be considered as an employer on the same basis as any other employer in its dealings with its employees, and in 1947 set up an impartial board of arbitration to regulate differences it might have from time to time with its employees.

The association finds it hard to realize that it needs at this stage in our development to convince our employer, the provincial government of this now universally accepted principle. The fact that we apparently have to do this is the reason why we now appeal to all citizens and residents of our province to support us in our representations to the provincial government to be granted the principle of arbitration of employment.

Not everyone realizes that government employees have the right to strike. Because we do not come under the provisions of the I.C.A. Act, there is nothing to prevent us from walking off the job. Obviously this would be a disastrous step. It would mean a cessation of all those vital services necessary to the public welfare. It is in an effort to avoid such a step that the employees of the provincial government are prepared to forego the right to strike in return for the right to submit differences with their employer over their conditions of work to an impartial board of arbitration with provision for binding award. The B.C. Government Employees Association finds it difficult to realize that it has to attempt to convince the government of the wisdom of foregoing the right to strike in return for arbitration of its working conditions. The wisdom of such a step should be obvious to every intelligent person. It was this reasoning that gave rise to the extension of the principle of arbitration to all other classes of public employees, such as nurses, policemen, firemen, teachers, etc.

The B.C. Government Employees Association can only consider this a negation of a promise already made and a betrayal of trust. In April, 1951, the government by law established a legislative committee commonly known as the Ash Committee, to inquire into the provisions of the I.C.A. Act with a view to their improvement. In February 1952, the committee released its findings and all five of its members unanimously agreed to extension of the principle of arbitration to government employees. This recommendation has now been before the government for nearly a year and yet the government refuses to agree to the requests of its employees and to implement the board's recommendation.

On February 5 of this year we wired Premier Bennett in which we stated we were prepared to participate in a study of the implementation of the principle of arbitration of employment. We assured the premier that we wanted to continue to bargain in good faith. To date we have not even had the courtesy of a reply from the Premier.

It is because of all this government stalling and refusal to grant our request—after more than five years of effort on our part—that we are now placing our position before the highest authority—the people.

SAWDUST AIDS AGRICULTURE
Recently, scientists have established the value of sawdust as a mulch, and so a waste product of the forest is now able to aid agriculture serving a double conservation purpose.

Sawdust, like other mulches such as straw and peat moss, is not a fertilizer. As a mulch, however, it helps to hold soil moisture, to keep down weeds and to retard erosion. Upon complete decomposition, all mulches add to the humus supply, but the rate of decomposition depends upon the nitrogen supply in the material itself. Therefore, nitrogen is added to get rapid decomposition and prevent nitrogen starvation in plants.

Sawdust mulch should last for about 10 years, and is being used extensively in orchards and berry fields. Research on further agricultural uses of sawdust mulch are currently underway at the University of B.C.

KNOW YOUR TREES
The trees of British Columbia were poorly named. Western red cedar is not a true cedar. Neither is yellow cedar. Douglas fir, the most important lumber species, is not a true fir.

The true fir, the Abies, occur in Western Canada in three species. Alpine fir, Abies Lasiocarpa, also known as mountain fir, white balsam, white fir, western balsam fir, Caribou fir and Rocky Mountain fir, occurs at high altitudes in British Columbia, Alberta and the Yukon. It does not grow on Vancouver Island or the Queen Charlotte Islands.

Amabilis fir, Abies amabilis, is found on the West coast, extending from Alaska to the U.S. boundary. This fir is also known as red fir, lovely fir, alpine fir, larch, silver fir, white fir, balsam fir and Cascade fir.

Grand fir, Abies Grandis, grows only in a limited area of the south of B.C., chiefly along streams and on lower slopes. It is also called lowland fir, white fir, western balsam, silver fir, larch, giant fir and NANTON, Alta.—A young lynx was shot in a coulee six miles west of here. It was the first-time in many years that a lynx had been spotted in this part of southern Alberta.

TWO HUNDRED
...is worth ~~two~~ in the bush"
A growing tree is worth so much money. But cut it down, limb it, buck it... haul it to a pulp mill in log form and watch its value jump!
Why?
The power saw that felled it cost around $600. The tractor that hauled it cost $30,000. It was stacked by a $50,000 donkey engine and trucked out to rail or water by a $20,000 logging truck over a road that cost up to $30,000 per mile to build.
And, at every stage, skilled men have guided it on its way. Men operating machines and maintenance equipment; men riding booms and tending camp; highriggers, scalers, chokemen—all must be housed and fed and paid.
More? Yes, there's much more than this to a big woods operation. And each separate item carries a price tag which is reflected in the value of that log rumbling up the conveyor belt to our chipping machines.

Natural Gas Distribution

NATURAL gas transmission companies have refused "even to consider" directing a pipe line through the Okanagan Valley, even though Vernon, Kelowna and Penticton have expressed their willingness to co-operate. Present handling of natural gas distribution is like "selling our heritage for a mess of pottage."

Those thoughts are from an address made recently in the House of Commons by federal M.P. for Yale, O. L. Jones during a recent debate. Extracts are reproduced below:

I rise to vote my protest against this bill on grounds which have been covered before and which, in my mind, are sound; that is, that we should protect our Canadian consumers, and first set aside sufficient gas and oil for our own use.

DEFINITE PATTERN

I am alarmed by the frequency with which these bills appear before us. I do not know what number of them have been presented to the House or the number that will come before us in the future. But we do know they are coming with great frequency and that they follow a definite pattern, that the gas is to be exported to the United States. The frequency and the danger of these applications have alarmed a number of people in my constituency, especially those connected with boards of trade, city councils, junior chambers of commerce, the Canadian Legion, and service clubs of all kinds; the members of whom have written to me in protest, asking that I speak out against the exportation of these vital natural resources. They are demanding that they should be given the first opportunity to utilize those resources, and develop their own industries.

Cities such as Vernon, Penticton and Kelowna have already expressed their willingness to co-operate with oil companies or gas companies to have the pipe line directed through that area but thus far they have received no effective response. The companies refuse even to consider going through the Okanagan Valley. Naturally, they are more interested in profits to be derived from larger sales over the border. The only recourse we have left is for the government to step in and direct the flow of these resources in a manner whereby Canadians who require this power will have the first access to it. I believe that is the government's responsibility, not only to Canadians now living but to those unborn Canadians who will look to us for the heritage for which we are now responsible.

We are the guardians of that common heritage; and it seems to me we are poor guardians, because we are selling our heritage for a mess of pottage. This policy will be truly assessed in 20 years' time when a new generation will be looking in vain for the gas and oil resources of this country. Nothing but rotting derricks and dry oil wells will be left for them; and historians will record that we and the government dissipated those resources without any plan, without any thought of conservation, but just through a process of happy-go-lucky dealing with private companies for purposes of exploitation.

I feel that once a pipe line is built it remains a permanent route, just like a railway. And should it turn out later that the pipe line is not in the right position to give the best service to our people, nothing can be done about it. There would be required either a new pipe line of a network of pipe lines to give full service to our own communities. Therefore now is the proper time to plan. I feel the best persons to do the planning would be the oil companies or the pipe line companies. Their interests are diametrically opposed to ours, because they are after quick and large markets, in any part of the world so far as they are concerned. At the moment, the nearest and the greatest market is across the border. Therefore our interests are totally different. Our interests are to develop our own country first. And I say "our" because it is in the interests of the government as well as those of the opposition to do that. The government should take a hand immediately in planning the proper distribution of the great natural resource, before it is too late. It should do so as an economic service to Canada, with a view to finding out the best possible use of our natural resources, and to bringing gas and oil to those areas which could profitably develop most from such service.

LARGE SUMS I do not blame the pipe line companies for their point of view. They are putting up large sums of money; they are gambling with it, and gambling in the hope of doubling their investment, or making as much money as they can. So we cannot look to them to do anything that would not be profitable from the standpoint of making money immediately.

On the other hand our government has the responsibility to improve our economy and development. This can be done easily by directing cheap power to the right locations. I have in mind my own riding where we need cheap power if we are to develop industry. At present we have most of our eggs in one basket, in the form of the growing of fruits and vegetables. In line with the statement made in the House some time ago, I believe industry should be decentralized, and that now would be the time to consider part of that decentralization by locating in interior British Columbia some of those lighter industries which could be located suitably in that area. We have an ideal climate all year round which would prove attractive to many industries that are handicapped in the colder parts of Canada through having to close down in the winter months.

VAST RESOURCES I have referred to my own riding because there is one familiar aspect with respect to it. It is roughly 200 miles in length by 50 in width, or just the same size as my native Wales. In Wales, there are over 2,000,000 people living in a rugged area, much of which is uninhabitable; and I have in mind particularly the Snowdon range. It is very the stock market. I have in mind the stock of one company which was placed on the market at $10 per share. This company has not yet shared one cubic foot of gas, but such are the prospects of profits that people all over the country are buying these shares at around $50. That should not be. I believe the government should have stepped in at the very beginning and taken over this form of transportation to be administered along with the Canadian National Railways.

If that had been done there would have been a ready-made route for the pipe line, especially in British Columbia where the Canadian National runs a gas pipeline which is much better than any other in the province. The pipe line could have been laid on the railroad right of way. Their experts and trained men could have looked after both the railway and the pipe line at the same time, thus reducing costs.

EXPLOIT CANADA While this particular pipe line will not run through British Columbia, I submit that the principle is the same. The question is, are we going to build up the United States economy at the expense of our own? I would point out that the United States have already exploited their own resources; they have denuded their forests and depleted other natural resources, and now they would do the same to us. Naturally the United States are not interested in the conservation of Canadian natural resources; that is our problem. They are not going to go out of their way to help conserve what does not interest them beyond the profits to be made out of their use as quickly as possible.

We are the ones concerned, and it is for that reason that I appeal to the government to announce a policy under which no natural gas would be permitted to leave this country until every avenue has been explored to provide for its use in the development of our own country.

By developing new industries we will keep our youth happy in industry in this country instead of following the gas to the newly-created industries south of the border. I appeal to the government to really consider this aspect of this pipe line bill and take over this means of transportation so they can direct the flow of gas and have our own economy the first in mind.

The Junior Red Cross spreads the work of mercy throughout this land and many others. When you give to the Red Cross you are helping, too.

I suggest that the government is the logical body to take over the direction of the flow of gas, and it should do so in conjunction with the other transportation company that we now own, the Canadian National Railways. This new form of transportation is the ideal thing to be operated by the same group who operate the Canadian National Railways. I am satisfied that the benefits from the pipe line would pay the deficit on the Canadian National Railways.

The stock of some of those pipe line companies has been traded on

I feel that what was done in Wales could be done in Canada. Here we have a source of cheap power which would be the magic key to bring about a transformation. As I pointed out before, the private pipe line companies are not at all interested. We tried to sell them this picture and we tried to place on the records of the House what we are trying to do, but to no avail.

FIFTEEN junior championships of the Okanagan Valley were vied for here Friday, Saturday and Sunday with the best shuttlers in their class from all sections of the Valley taking part in the tournament.

Of the 15 titles, Joan Van Ackerah, Okanagan Center miss who copped three provincial championships last year, pulled down three, emerging as the outstanding performer of the Valley classic.

Joan Motowylo, also of Okanagan Center, but playing in the under 16 years (Joan Van Ackerah was in the under 18) captured two titles and was runner-up in a third. Another double winner and a runner-up in a third was Karen Hoover of Armstrong, in the under 14.

F. Milne of Armstrong figured in Knott, Keremeos bt. Peter Drum-victories in both the boys' doubles and mixed doubles in the under 16 bracket. Ross Baker of Okanagan Center and Bob Campbell of Rutland also secured two victories in the under 18 class.

The Pocket Version of The Packers Produced

A milestone in local sports history, almost equal in importance to the completion of Memorial Arena, was reached last week when the Midget Packers captured the first B.C. hockey championship ever to come to the Orchard City. It marked the third time a Kelowna team had reached the final, and two of those occasions came in midget hockey.

Local sports enthusiasts probably recall last year's final epic more than any other because the Packers was attested in the tremendous homecoming given Phil Hergeshelmer and his boys upon their return from their futile final in Trail. The third time a Kelowna team reached the final was in 1951 when the Kelowna midgets beat Kerrisdale, as they did this year, but lost out to Trail, at Trail, in the deciding game.

I wonder how many recall one other occasion, however, when Kelowna might have had a B.C. championship—even though not having an arena? Remember late in February, 1947, when the Kelowna Kodaks, the "runkless wonders" and the "iceless marvels," lost a disputed semi-final series to Vancouver Monarchs at Vernon? Kelowna's arena was upheld, but it was too late to do anything about it.

Vancouver lost to Kimberley in the final and then in a gesture of sort of determine an unofficial "champion," the Kodaks went to Vancouver for an exhibition game and beat the pants off the Monarchs 8-2.

ACCOLADES ALL
That particular semi-final series, played in Vernon because Kelowna's arena was just in the dream stages then, proved again how dangerous a total-goal series can be. If total goals had prevailed in last week's midget final at Trail, Trail would have repeated for the umpteenth time. Trail had 19 goals to Kelowna's 18. However, when brevity is the dominate consideration, total goals is the only solution.

In passing out the bouquets to the Midget Packers, we should not forget that it was the few men who directed the Kelowna and District Minor Hockey Association and its many teams that helped to make the dream of a championship become a reality for the first time.

Every person who has helped since minor hockey first was proposed here had a small part in the ultimate triumph. But a large portion, in my opinion, has been earned by the four-man executive, headed by tireless John Krausman. Take a bow, John, and Fred Day, and Ed Coelen and Gaspar Rizzo — and Coach Jack Robertson and the Midget Packers. You have made a niche in Kelowna sports records.

Roegle's almost flawless record for predictions all during the playoffs.

AL-DEN-ETTES
The I-don't-know-it-all-but-but-department: (1) Despite stubborn reports, even locally, to the contrary, Penticton V's ARE NOT the OSHL champions. Kamloops Elks are the league champs. V's are the Willoughby Cup winners. Just as in NHL. (2) Regina Caps ARE NOT in the Western Canada Allan Cup final, yet. They have to meet Fort Williams' team that knocked off the Fort Frances Canadians, last year's Allan Cup winners, with ease. (3) Carl Kaiser of Vancouver Canucks IS Joe Kaiser's brother. Joe said so. (4) Little League WAS the brainchild of Carl Stolz of Williamsport, Penn., according to Frank Pitt, who is getting some material from him right now. (5) During off-hours at Washington State College, our Dave Brown IS sports editor for the Fullman daily, also writes a column called "Post Mortems." (6) Another expert WAS wrong. Phil Hergeshelmer predicted Kamloops' over Penticton from the beginning and even when things looked blackest, never backtracked. (I picked Elks, too, but that's in keeping with my crystal-balling record.)

To wind up, an apology to the Kelowna Junior Band for an oversight in the Monday story on the welcome given the Midget Packers. Mark Rose and his orchestra were in the arena; everyone had a chance to hear this fine aggregation again. Please try to get as many Alliswell box ends as possible before the drive ends this month to help the band to help themselves. Sound the drums!

VERNON JUVENILES DOWNED BY TRAIL IN TITLE DEFENCE

VERNON—The strong Vernon Juveniles, champions of the Okanagan-Mainline and winners of the John McCulloch Memorial Trophy for the second year in succession, were not as strong as the Juvenile Smoke Eaters of Trail last week.

The Smoke Eaters posted wins of 4-3 and 4-2 here last week to take an 8-5 total-goal series from the Vernons and advance into the final for the B.C. championship at the Coast. Vernon won the B.C. title last year.

In the first game of the two-game series it seemed that the two teams were fairly evenly matched, but in the second game the rink knowledge of the Trail Club showed up to good advantage.

Vernon power was demonstrated in the final for the O-M laurels when they swamped Kamloops 9-1 at Kamloops, and 18-0 at Vernon, to take the home-and-home final series 27-1. The McCulloch Trophy symbolizes O-M supremacy.

FOUR DAYS, FIVE EVENTS

Winners Get Cups At 'Spiel Banquet

OGOGOGO. Bonselpiel entrants, expected to number around 200, have a novelty in store for them—a novelty in the local sense, that is.

The spiel committee, desirous for years of making the traditional bonselpiel stag-party part of the local doings, but deeming it ill-advised until the club's finances were on a more sound footing, has decided on a real get-together for the fifth annual affair.

The get-acquainted do will come off the first evening, Monday, at the Legion Hall. There will be no charge to competitors and Kelowna Curling Club members not entered in the bonselpiel may attend by purchasing a ticket. Tickets may be obtained at the coffee bar in the curling rink or from Ken Harding.

The "stag" will also be the occasion for presentation of the club's three trophies to the winners. The winner of the third trophy—the club championship award—is in the process of being decided now. The award is the Brown Prescription Pharmacy Trophy.

The Lipsett Trophy will be presented to the W. G. Borland rink, while George Cmolik and his rink will receive the Don Lange Trophy they won in the playoff around the middle of February.

JOHNSTON, HARVEY BACK
At the helm of the bonselpiel again is Bert Johnston, chairman of the committee for fifth year. He's chairmanned 'em all since they began in 1949 (the first three were in the arena).

Assisting him for the third year in succession in the post of vice-chairman is Ken Johnson. A two-year man is President, Ernie Smith. Orby Boake is secretary and Bill Harvey, a club official longer than any other person, living or dead, is honorary secretary, for the second year in a row.

Previously, Bill Harvey, always the oldest competitor in former bonselpiels, was "spiel" secretary. He was club secretary for over 25 years up until two years ago.

Committee men for the bonselpiel are: Draw—Ken Johnson, Pat Dolson, Bob Grant. Prizes—Carl Stevenson, Ice—W. G. Borland, Roy Jacques, Bill Cretlin, Advertising—Ken Johnson, House—Dr. C. O. Newby, Entertainment—Ken Harding.

FINALS THURSDAY
With the deadline for entries a little more than 24 hours off (it's midnight Friday) the desired entry list of 48 rinks is in sight. About half the number entered are expected to be local rinks.

The first draw is expected to begin Monday morning. Most of the finals will come on the fourth and final day, Thursday.

Rink of Russ Bowles of Kamloops won the major event last year at the Highland Lassie Trophy. There are five events, each for a trophy and valuable prizes. Value of the prizes, all donated, is close to $500. They will be on display in Owen & Johnston's window next Monday.

A friend of yours works here

At your branch of The Bank of Nova Scotia, through the door marked "Manager," works someone you should get to know. Someone who can be as good a friend as the old family doctor.

Sure he's a business man—and a good one, who knows rather more than the next man about finance, whether it affects you and your family or your business. That's why he's got where he is. But he's learned one lesson—a lesson passed on to him from The Bank of Nova Scotia's 121 years of experience. That is, that when you get right down to it, business is really people. And because people need friendship in business—he's ready to be your friend. You'll find him a good man to know.

Your BNS Manager is a good man to know. In Kelowna he is P. W. Meek. Branches in Lumby, Penticton and Vernon.
