Banquet and Party Will Highlight Gala Christmas Season

With the College still recovering from the rush of last week, the Ursinus Christmas season, which comes this week, will be highlighted by a banquet and party on Wednesday night, and the annual communion service on Thursday evening at 7:00 p. m. in Bomberger hall.

The week will get underway tonight with Mrs. Norman E. McClure entertaining the sophomore and senior women of the College at her home on Sixth avenue. Tomorrow evening, the freshmen and junior women will have their chance to meet with Mrs. McClure.

At Thursday's Christmas communion service, Dr. John Lentz, College pastor, and Dean Whorten A. Kline will be in charge, while the College choir will furnish sacred music.

After the Christmas banquet and women's tables contest in the Freeland dining rooms on Wednesday evening, the formally dressed women of the College will join the informally dressed men in the gym for a show and an evening of dancing. The College dance band will supply the music.

This year's Christmas show, which is under the sponsorship of the Y's and student councils, will be based upon the adventures of two mountain boys who see each other only to exchange Christmas presents and relate a year's worth of experiences.

Oldest Grad Dies In Philly Hospital

A. B. Markley of Collegeville Was in Class of 1876

Abraham B. Markley, Ph.D., of Collegeville, the oldest living alumnus of the College from the point of view of graduation, died last night in a West Philadelphia hospital.

Dr. Markley, who graduated in the class of 1876, was 87 years old, and had been active as a Lutheran minister for 62 years. His last charge was the Old Muhlenberg Church, near Spring City, from which he retired a few years ago.

At the commencement exercises in June, 1941, the College conferred on him the honorary degree of doctor of divinity.

EX-COLLEGE NURSE MOVES

Lieutenant Helen Moll of U.S. Army Now Stationed in Africa

Lieutenant Helen Moll, former resident nurse at Ursinus and now abroad with the U. S. Army, is in northwest Africa at the present time, it has been revealed in a letter from her received by Mrs. John K. Schlaybach, preceptress of Clamer hall.

When last heard from Lt. Moll was in England, but in her letter she tells of her trip to, and her first impressions of Africa, where she says "It is a pleasure to see the sunshine again after spending some time in an area where sunshine is scarce."

Academic Council Announces Future Examination Dates

Next Year's First Semester To End in December

Examinations for the first semester will begin Saturday, January 16, according to the recommendations of the academic council which were approved by the faculty at a recent meeting.

Furthering the acceleration program of the College, the faculty has announced the beginning of the second semester at 8:00 a. m., Wednesday, January 27. The spring recess, extending from April 21, to Monday, April 26, will be closely followed by the second semester examinations, scheduled for May 8-15. Commencement will follow on May 17.

The 1943 summer session, beginning Monday, May 31, and closing Saturday, August 21, will feature classes six days a week, with examinations scheduled in the regular course of study. If necessary, freshmen will be admitted on June 21, for a nine-week session, to supplement the accelerated freshman to be admitted at the beginning of the summer session.

The regular session for 1943-44 will begin Monday, September 13, and close Saturday, December 19.

As a special dispensation to seniors who are accepted for admission to professional schools in April, 1943, special examinations will be given to this group, and, if their standing warrants it, they will be graduated with their class in May. In addition, all sophomores and juniors who are accepted for admission to professional schools in April, 1943, will be given special examinations, and if their standing warrants it, they will be given full credit for courses in which they are enrolled.

PRE-MEDS HEAR DRESSLER TALK ON TROPIC DISEASES

"Tropical diseases should present no cause for alarm. They are things to be attacked; and armed with knowledge, we have nothing to fear," said Dr. Otto Dressler, speaking to the James M. Anders Pre-Medical society last Thursday evening on the subject of "Tropical Diseases."

Using slides to supplement his talk, the speaker, who heads the department of pathology at the Philadelphia College of Osteopathy, told of the life history, varieties and characteristics of several tropical disease protozoa and bacteria.

Ursinus Grad of '38 Receives Commission By "Air Mail"

Second Lieutenant Paul Craigie '38, who is stationed at Fort Sill, Oklahoma, was on maneuvers recently when an airplane circled overhead and dropped a small package.

Hurrying to the spot, Craigie found that the package was addressed to him. Not knowing what to expect, he tore it open. A silver bar dropped into his hand. In addition to the bar, the package contained a paper—Craigie's promotion to the rank of first lieutenant.

While at Ursinus, Craigie was treasurer of his class, president of the Curtain club and Alpha Psi Omega, honorary dramatic fraternity, and a cheer leader. In the 1938 Ruby, he is listed as being the "most versatile," "best dressed," "most gentlemanly," and as "having the biggest drag with the faculty" of the men in his class.

Four Soloists and Supporting Chorus Score in "Messiah"

"Hallelujah Chorus" Marks Oratorio's Climax

by Donald Nelson '43A

Last Thursday evening, for the fifth time in as many years, a near-capacity audience of students and friends thrilled to the performance by the College choir, soloists, and orchestra under the direction of Dr. William F. Philip, of Handel's immortal oratorio, "The Messiah."

Giving an inspired rendition, the chorus of more than eighty voices exhibit a vitality, a sensitivity of interpretation, and a fineness of balance which combined to lift this year's performance above even the high levels achieved in previous years. The high point of the evening was their rendition of the two final choruses, "Worthy Is the Lamb," and the mighty "Hallelujah Chorus," which was moved from its accustomed place to the end of the oratorio to provide a fitting climax.

Solo Work Beyond Reproach

The solo work of the guest artists was also beyond reproach. Mr. Steel Jamison, tenor, returning for his fifth consecutive year, set the pace for the evening with his flawless interpretation of the opening arias, "Comfort Ye, My People," and "Every Valley Shall Be Exalted," and maintained it in the singing of the brilliant "Thou Shalt Break Them."

Miss Joanne de Nault, making her fourth appearance at Ursinus, made the same vivid impression on her listeners as she always has in the past. Her rich and mellow contralto was at its best in the lovely "O Thou That Tellest Good Tidings to Zion," while her skill of interpretation was apparent in the tender and beautiful "He Shall Feed His Flock."

Miss Florence Vickland, soprano, was at her best in the technically difficult "Rejoice Greatly, O Daughter of Zion," which she sang with exceptional ease and clarity. In addition, her "Come Unto Him," continued the effect produced by Miss de Nault's "He Shall Feed His Flock," an effect entirely in the spirit of the aria, which has been called "the most consoling music ever written."

Trumpeter Runs Into Trouble

Appearing here for the second consecutive year, Mr. Earle Styres, bass-baritone, rounded out a quartet of artists whose work was truly outstanding. His best offering was the thrilling "Why Do the Nations So Furiously Rage Together," although only a rather inadequate trumpeter marred his otherwise fine work in "The Trumpet Shall Sound." In all his work

"RING AROUND ELIZABETH" PLEASES LARGE CROWD AS WEEKEND CLIMAX

by Richard Wentzel '46

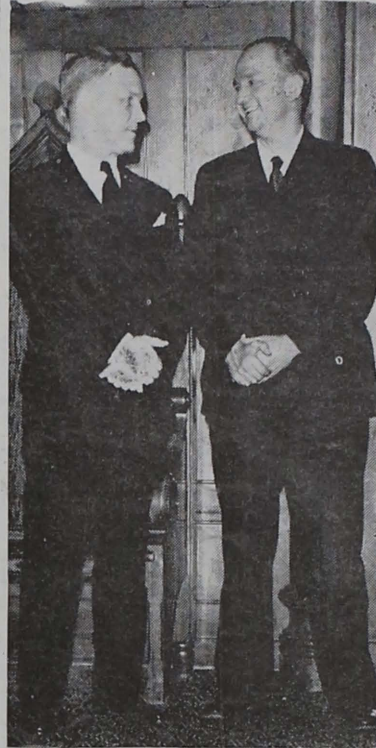

Last Saturday evening the Curtain club climaxed one of the finest and busiest senior weekends in recent years by presenting Charl Armstrong's Broadway comedy, "Ring Around Elizabeth," in the Thompson-Gay gymnasium.

Bursting brilliantly on a large audience which came with its fingers crossed but soon uncrossed them to applaud, the play revolved around Elizabeth Cherry and her household, consisting of a vociferous husband, two daughters suffering from adolescence, and a doddering, antagonistic father-in-law, whose capacity as an honorary volunteer fireman constantly provoked cryptic comment from Elizabeth's miserly, ailing mother. The menagerie was completed with the entrance of Vida, the Cherry's belligerent cook, into the picture.

The story involves the consummation of a $1500 legacy left Eliza-

Adamic Explains "Two-Way Passage" And Reconstruction Plans to Forum

Author Says Future Peace Is Up to America

President McClure chatting with Louis Adamic after Wednesday's forum.

Speaking before the largest audience in the history of the Ursinus forum Wednesday evening in Bomberger hall, Louis Adamic, author, traveler, and immigration authority, revealed his plans for an American reconstruction mission to Europe.

Basing his talk on the material presented by him in his recent work, "Two-Way Passage," Adamic pointed the principal features of a plan in which a group of Americans, realizing their debt to their European background, will return to the countries of their fathers to aid in the reorganization and rehabilitation of Europe. In the words of the speaker, to attain a satisfactory reconstruction "It would not be enough to send supplies; we must send leaders."

Must Win Peace Too

Since the war is but a prelude to the problem of bringing about an equitable, lasting post-war world, it is Adamic's opinion that "We do not deserve to win the war if we're not prepared for the peace."

Continuing, Mr. Adamic presented his ten-point plan for post-war European administration: a post-war or peacetime army; a policy-determining executive staff; an intelligence or information division; a division of food, clothing, and shelter; a division of medical aid (to be administered by the Red Cross); and divisions of agricultural rehabilitation, industrial reconstruction, social and economic activity, public education, and democratic propaganda.

In the relations with European countries after the war, Adamic advocated the practice of a policy of active, understanding cooperation and not merely toleration.

Following the formal address, Carol Swartley '43, forum chairman, opened the floor to discussion.

Thirteen Added as Weekly Reporters

At a meeting in President Norman E. McClure's office on Wednesday afternoon, the Weekly Board of Control added 13 news writers to the paper's staff.

In addition, the Weekly's governing body approved the promotion of Clark Moore '43, to the post of an editorial assistant, made Henry Turner '46, a feature writer, and added Sheridan Much '44, as an assistant sports editor.

REV. SCHLINGMAN TO SPEAK AT BROTHERHOOD MEETING

The regular monthly meeting of the Brotherhood of St. Paul will be held this evening at 7:45 p. m., at the home of Dr. Sturges.

The guest speaker tonight will be the Rev. Edward Schlingman, of Boyertown. Rev. Schlingman is well known to many students as a recreation leader in summer camps and conferences.

The regular weekly devotional service will be held Wednesday morning after breakfast in Rec center.

This week's service will be built around the Christmas theme. Richard Hart '45A, will be the leader.

NOTICE!

The Curtain club will hold tryouts for new members on Tuesday evening, January 5. Interested students should prepare a reading for presentation at that time.

THAT BIG WEEK

Last week's forum, "Messiah," Senior ball, and the Curtain club play presented Ursinus with an interesting and eventful week.

Hats off to all those who helped make it a success.

JUNE IN JANUARY

The decision to hold commencement exercises and to award diplomas to those seniors who are completing their academic work in January, at that time, rather than in May, is one that is approved by all members of the student body.

Seniors who will graduate at the end of the regular academic year, although not directly interested, are sympathetic with the desires that motivated a request for such an early graduation.

They see that it is not only proper, but also desirable to mark the culmination of a memorable portion of life with some ceremony — a ceremony which honors the graduates in the presence of their friends and relatives. They also see that it is not only undesirable, but even improper to make awards four months after the class has been dispersed, and perhaps "in absentia" to a graduate, hundreds of miles away, who finds the day memorable only in a tour of K. P.

"KEEP OFF"

This summer "Jing's" men performed a necessary task when they seeded and fenced off that portion of the East campus between Bomberger hall and the Freeland walk and did the same for the "path" to Brodbeck. When "Keep Off" signs replaced the fences, it was recognized that students possess an adult sense of responsibility; although one or two may have trespassed, rationalizing that no damage would be incurred if only they did so.

All too frequently our lives are legislated by rationalizations. We don't go to church. We go through "Stop" signs because we "know the road is clear." We don't buy War bonds and stamps because enough other people will buy them, and our failure to purchase will never be noticed. The philosopher, Immanuel Kant, recognized rationalizations as a major moral problem. Consequently, he deduced his "categorical imperative" which he phrased, "Act only on that maxim that thou can'st will to be a law universal."

True, this is only a negative guide to conduct, and it is not adequate for the attainment of a positive dynamic life. But it does make us see the folly of disregarding "Keep Off" signs.

A surreptitious peck beneath the mistletoe? Mince pie with that certain added touch? Dickens' "Christmas Carol" with Scrooge and Tiny Tim? Holly wreaths and sleigh bells? Family dinners? Burning plum pudding? Candlelight communion services? Last minute shoppers? Hopeful salvation army lass-

That awful time when the myth of Santa Claus was first blasted? Those happy souls who imbibe their Christmas spirit? Sending a belated to someone whom you had forgotten but who had remembered you? General overeating followed by bicarbonate of soda?

Somehow much of that picture has been changed this year—Schickelgruber and his buddies Benny and Hirohito have seen to that.

Dimout restrictions have curtailed much of the customary outdoor illumination—the neon Santa Clauses and their cavorting reindeer. Local draft boards and recruiting stations have thinned the ranks at family dinners. Defense plants have absorbed most recipients of Christmas baskets. Leon Henderson has taken ample precautions to prevent over indulgence. Transportation problems have cut the quantity of mistletoe and greens.

Indeed, the best we can do to recapture that former holiday atmosphere is to whistle "White Christmas." And if the fuel oil rationing causes too many cases of chilblains, remember in breaking the wishbone of the turkey to ask for a very, very, warm holiday for the Axis boys next year.

"THE PASSAGE BACK"

At the Ursinus forum last Wednesday evening Mr. Louis Adamic, a naturalized American, revealed his "passage-back" plan for the reconstruction of the conquered countries after the present war. This plan provides for the completion of the "two-way passage" for Americans of European backgrounds—a change for them to return to their native countries to the countries of their and our fathers, in the case of second and third generation Americans to show them the American way of life.

This plan is based on two assumptions: first that the Allies will win the war; and second that the European nations will receive the reconstruction delegates with open arms. Thus far, these assumptions seem quite reasonable but it seems that Mr. Adamic amplified his plan limiting the second assumption. We were told that these Americans, specially trained at American schools, will be under the guiding protection of the United States government, and also that they will set up reconstruction administrations in the lands to which they are sent.

Foregoing a discussion of food supply and other methods of favorably propagandizing the people of the conquered nations, let us consider just this one point—would not the itinerant angels of reconstruction be considered in the same light as the carpetbaggers of our own reconstruction days? The European countries, though devastated and ravaged by war and famine, would still present fine opportunity for graft—and "carp diem" has long been a motto of the energetic American, altruistic or criminal.

The "passage-back" plan is undoubtedly a good idea, the plan of a genius, but every man involved would have to be a genius for the successful administration of Mr. Adamic's plan. However, in our opinion, this plan in a modified form would be satisfactory and may possibly be the solution to the post-war problem.

Modify the idea presented by the recent forum speaker to include the conception of an advisory, rather than an administrative group. The reconstruction delegates, instead of assuming the functions of government themselves, should serve as an advisory commission to aid in the setting up of a democratic, truly representative government and then to aid the newly established government in the solution of its problems.

Here is a plan for the future—a plan in which the more fortunate nations of the world will aid their fellow nations in the recovery of order and prosperity. This must be done on a cooperative basis, by helping and diplomatically advising, if democratic principles are to remain unscathed. It is through men like Louis Adamic that such plans find their origins—it is through us, the men and women of America, the men and women of the world, that these plans will find their fruition.

Looks 'Em Over

First off, I guess it would be fitting and proper to correct a little mistake that slipped into last week's column somehow. I made mention of the fact that this year was Ursinus' fiftieth anniversary in football; then I found out from Jing that it wasn't a fact at all, but only a year long mistake. The real fact, in case you haven't heard, is that next year, not this one, is the silver anniversary. Please pardon. At any rate, let's hope that there will be a celebration, and that celebration will be topped off by a regular varsity playing schedule.

All this talk about there not being intercollegiate sports up here next year is a little disheartening to the athletes. It looks from here as though that if there is any manpower at all left in school, we should at least attempt a little athletics on the intercollegiate scale. We do have the equipment, we have the coaches and this year proved that we're catching on to a little spirit again. The only bad tire is the fact that transportation may not be sufficient. But if worse comes to worst, I don't believe that the ODT would get all mad at us if the boys packed their own togs and the team grabbed a trolley to reach the opponent's lair. But right now all we can do is hope, because the issue, at the time, lies in the hands of Uncle Sammy and the murderer's row in the front office.

It gives a fella that old urge again when he reads in the paper about Muhlenberg's tussles with Temple and St. Joe — they were mighty close games, too. Well we played them when . . .

This jiu-jitsu Pete has been teaching the boys is quite the thing. A fellow finds he can toss Trevaskis or Pete himself around if he gets the right twist on the situation.

FROSH PLAYERS PRAISED

The junior varsity hockey team, despite the loss of their coach, Mrs. Harry Atkinson, finished their season with five victories. It took two defeats before the girls were accustomed to playing together, but from then on victory after victory rewarded their patience.

According to the report of their captain, Jane Kircher, much credit goes to the freshman girls: Betsy Claves, Ann Harting, Sally Secor, and Marge Gelpke.

Team play, good spirit, and co-operation made this year's junior varsity team superior to teams of past years. The other girls on the team were: Ann Baird, Mary Hogg, Pughe Brooks, Teddy Knopf, Shirley Klein, Doris Harrington, Betty Brown, Peg Hudson, Babs Baberich, Eleanor Bauer, and Beverly Cloud.

Several of these girls will be called upon next year to fill in varsity places left open by graduation. Judging from their excellent play this season, these up-and-coming young stick wielders should certainly be able to help Miss Snell to another undefeated season. Congratulations to the jayvee team and here's wishing them loads of luck when they join the "big girls."

PING PONG TOURNEY BEGINS

With 54 entries lined up and all first round matches to be played off tonight, tournament chairman Jeanne Mathieu has hopes for a bigger and better ping pong tournament this year.

Although women's ping pong has been unsuccessful in the past few years, Jeanne plans to have this tournament move right along until an Ursinus girls' champ is crowned. Freshman talent may be hiding outside of Rec Center, but veteran players include Dot Charlesworth, Lisle Hochbaum, and Margie Downs, who reached the quarter finals last year without lifting a paddle.

All entrants should watch the Bomberger bulletin board for announcements and play off matches as soon as possible. Scores must be pasted under the winners' name.

League Champs Place Five

The four coaches of the intramural football teams have picked a 150 pound all-star team on the basis of play during the past season. These boys were selected because of their outstanding ability demonstrated in the intramural games played this year for the first time.

Miller, at left end, distinguished himself by his great pass-catching, which resulted in many touchdowns for his team; Myers showed good form on defense, breaking up many of the opponents' running attacks before they got started.

The tackles, Geist and Wanner, were hard-charging linemen who tackled viciously and caught ball-carriers behind the line of scrimmage regularly.

Young of the Packers and Archie Miller of the Giants were guards of the rugged type. They showed up well in keeping the center of the line plugged up on plunges.

Center Harry Kehm was unchallenged for the pivot berth.

The classiest part of the team is the backfield, which consists of Verdelli, a dangerous passer; John Rorer, the most consistent ground-gainer in the league; and Kedda and Rank, two of the hardest charging backs in the league.

The team lines up as follows:

- End—Myers, Redskins
- Tackle—Wanner, Giants
- Guard—Young, Packers
- Center—Kehm, Giants
- Guard—A. Miller, Giants
- Tackle—Geist, Packers
- End—G. Miller, Giants
- Back—Verdelli, Packers
- Back—J. Rorer, Giants
- Back—Kedda, Redskins
- Back—Rank, Bears

There were many others who played well, but missed the first team selection by a few votes. The boys who earned honorable mention were: T. Rorer, Giants; Chance, Giants; G. Moore, Packers; Schellhase, Bears; Pfeiffer, Packers; Corazza, Giants; Hamer, Packers; Dougherty, Giants.

RING AROUND ELIZABETH

ed to run away with the laurels, for his portrayal left nothing to the imagination. Elizabeth Power '43, as Harriet Gilpin, showed herself more than adaptable to a difficult part.

Mary Alice Weaver '43, characterizing the ailing mother, was constantly clever and deserves no little credit for a job well done. Upholding another difficult part without letdown, Marion Stocker '43, as Irene Oliver, carried a definitely charming air of sophistication, while Blanche Shirey '43, and Ellen Rice '43A, as the daughters, produced hearty merriment.

Peggy Crump '45, as the cook and Michael Hamscher '45, as Andy Blayne turned in supporting roles which kept the high standard set by the lead players. At the same time Robert Cochran '43A, as a policeman and Edward Man '44, as Dr. Hollister ably assisted the smooth unraveling of the tale.

A large measure of credit is also due the director, Homer Koch '43, Mr. and Mrs. Donald L. Helfferich, dramatic advisors, and Clark Moore '43, the stage manager.

men were able to please almost everyone with quality music, a good show, and several novelty dances.

Featured with the band was pretty Frances Bishop, a new vocalist, who grabbed the lyric spotlight. Gordon himself seemed very much at home on a trumpet, with his frequent solos.

Dancers Travel to Tahiti

The decorations, constructed by Frederick Lynch of Philadelphia, transported the dancers to far-off Tahiti. Huge tropic pictures, framed with a gold satin material, covered the walls of the gym, while a large picture of a ship furnished the background for the band. At the other end of the room, a South Sea island moon lit up a tropic sky.

All arrangements for the ball were under the direction of James Raban '43, assisted by Seniors Dorothea Trout, Ruth Riegel, Doris Harrington, James Zeigler, and Gilbert Bayne.

Guests for the evening were President and Mrs. Norman E. McClure, Dean of Women Camilla B. Stahr, Dean of Men and Mrs. G. Sieber Pancoast, and Dr. and Mrs. George Hartzell.

2. The last night shall be open night and a freshman must go to all parties to which he is invited. These parties shall be held on campus and all freshmen must be in their rooms by 11:30 p. m.

3. During rushing week:

a. Dates may be made at any time within the rules and specifications of the Interfraternity Council.

b. Rushing may be done only in the borough of Collegeville. On the last night all rushing shall be done on the campus.

c. Smokers or parties shall be held from 9:30 to 11:00 p. m. at which time all rushing shall cease. The Interfraternity Council shall have the power to extend this time period. Fraternity men may accompany new men to the parties, but the latter must return unaccompanied and must be in their rooms by 11:00 p. m.

d. On the first five nights of rushing season, those freshmen invited to fraternity parties may not be rushed by other fraternities while those parties are going on.

4. Members of the Interfraternity Council may question freshmen at any time as to whether there has been any illegal rushing.

5. Bids, sealed and written on uniform cards, which require the declination or acceptance in rushee's own handwriting, supplied by the council, must be placed in the hands of an impartial person by each fraternity by 7 a. m. on the day set for formal bidding. The Interfraternity Council will post a list of the men to receive bids, which shall be handed to the new men between the hours of 8:50 a. m. and 9:15 a. m. in the presence of the council.

The freshmen shall write accepted or rejected on the bids, at once. If all a man's bids are received marked "rejected," he may not be rebid until after the Easter vacation.

6. These regulations shall be discussed with and explained to the incoming men, by the President of the Interfraternity Council, and shall be published in the Freshman Handbook.

7. Complaints lodged against a fraternity for illegal rushing or illegal bidding must be handed in, in writing, to the President of the Interfraternity Council, and must be signed by two members of the fraternity making the complaint. He must then call a special meeting of the council at once. A decision of the case shall be made by majority vote of all members.

WAR

needs the wires this Christmas!

War can't wait—not even for Christmas.

Telephone lines must be kept clear for important war calls during the holidays as at all other times.

So this year, we must ask everybody not to send Christmas or New Year's greetings by Long Distance—especially to Washington and other centers of war activity.

Important war and emergency calls will, of course, be given precedence during the holiday rush. This means that other calls may be subject to long delays on certain over-crowded circuits to the South and to the West. We are sorry—but such delays may be unavoidable under present conditions.
