Sheble Airs Echo For 125 Couples At Soph Hop Dance

COLORFUL MILITARY THEME PROVIDES NOVEL ATMOSPHERE

A hundred and twenty-five couples were on hand last Friday night in the militarily bedecked Thompson-Gay Gymnasium for the annual Soph Hop. Bob Sheble and his orchestra provided the music for dancing and although he and his band were an hour late, all was forgiven when the music started rolling.

Everybody arriving at the dance by eight thought they had struck a Friday-the-thirteenth snag when they noted the empty bandstand, but by 8:15 the musicians had begun to filter in. By 8:45 the band was set to go and the cash customers were pleasantly surprised to hear the find of the Class of '44. Dr. J. Harold Brownback, one of the chaperons, persuaded Dean Stahr to extend the women's permissions to one and everyone settled down to enjoy the dance.

Best in Several Weeks

Bob Tredinnick was the hop chairman and he deserves the credit for finding and bringing Sheble to the campus. Probably one of the sophomore women put it most aptly when she stated that Sheble was "the best band to appear in these parts since Glen Miller was at Sunnybrook".

The decorations were the work of Dave Krusen '44, and his committee. The usual crepe paper streamers were conspicuously and fortuitously absent, and in their place glittering battleships, tanks, and small flags made the members of the armed forces—Dave Jacobs—feel at home.

The chaperons for the evening, in addition to Dr. Brownback, were Mrs. Brownback and Mr. and Mrs. G. Sieber Pancoast. Assisting Tredinnick and Krusen on the committee were Judy Ludwick, Emily Williams, Eileen Smith, and Robert Young.

CHOSEN TO RULE OVER ANNUAL MAY DAY PAGEANT

MAY QUEEN LENORE BERKY

At long last the Weekly can run the picture you have all been waiting for. Here, after several delays in getting her cut from the engravers, we are pleased to have this fair representation of Ursinus feminine pulchritude adorn the Weekly.

Lenore Berky, as you know, is to reign as Queen of the May at the annual May Day Pageant scheduled this year for Saturday, April 25.

During her four years at Ursinus, Lenore has been engaged in many activities on the campus. She is a member of the German Club and the Ruby staff. In addition to being chosen as an attendant in the pageants for the last three years, she has also served on pageant committees. Omega Chi Sorority claims her as a member.

Lenore's home is in Allentown where, before coming to Ursinus, she attended Allentown High School. Music is one of her varied interests. After being graduated from Ursinus this spring she hopes to do secretarial work, although perhaps not for long. Lenore several months ago announced her engagement to Edwin J. Mitchell, a student at Moravian Seminary in Bethlehem and pastor of the Trinity E. C. Church in Slatington.

Former Member of German Reichstag To Address Forum Wednesday Night

Doctor Sherman Eger To Speak to Pre-Meds At Meeting Tomorrow

Tomorrow evening at 8:00 p. m. in the Science Building Auditorium, Dr. Sherman A. Eger '25, a member of the staff of Jefferson Medical College, will speak on the subject of osteomyelites. Slides will be shown by Dr. Eger to supplement his lecture and make it more easily understood.

A graduate of Jefferson Medical College in 1929, Dr. Eger interned at the Reading Hospital, following which he was diagnostician at the Akron (Ohio) Clinic, surgical fellow at the Cleveland (Ohio) Clinic, and research surgeon at Memorial Hospital, Worcester, Massachusetts.

Since 1934, Dr. Eger has been attached to the surgical staffs of the Jefferson Hospital and of the American Stomach Hospital in Philadelphia.

Wilhelm Sollmann Will Speak on "The German Enigma"

Mr. F. Wilhelm Sollmann, former member of the German Reichstag, will address the Ursinus Forum this Wednesday evening, March 18, at 8:00 p. m. in Bomberger. He will speak on "The German Enigma", the tale of Hitler's rise and coming downfall.

Since 1937 Mr. Sollmann has been a staff member of Pendle Hill, Center for Religious and Social Studies, maintained by the Society of Friends, Wallingford, Pennsylvania. Recently he has made lecture tours in forty-five states, speaking at universities, colleges, high schools, chambers of commerce, student work camps, professional and business clubs, churches, radio stations, and forums.

Before his exile from Germany for political reasons in 1933, the forum speaker was editor-in-chief of the Daily Rheinische Zeitung and of a chain of daily newspapers in the Rhineland. In addition, he was director of a nationwide news service, Parliamtarishcher Presse-dienst, serving as a columnist for more than two hundred newspapers.

As a member of the National Assembly in Weimar in 1919-20, Sollmann was one of the founders of the German Republic. Also in 1919, he was a co-founder of the University of Cologne. From 1920 until his forced exile in 1933 he was a member of the executive board of the National Federation for Adult Education.

In 1923 he was Secretary of the Interior in the two cabinets of Chancellor Dr. Stresemann. In addition, he was co-founder of the Karl Schurz Society in Germany, vice-president of the Society for European Federation, and member of the Interparliamentarian Union.

After his exile, Sollmann was editor-in-chief of the daily Deutsche Freiheit (German Liberty) in the Sarr Territory. This connection he terminated on the day of the plebiscite. Following this, for two years he traveled in France, Great Britain, Belgium, Holland, Luxembourg, Switzerland, Austria, Czechoslovakia, meanwhile contributing to numerous European newspapers.

In 1937 the German journalist emigrated to the United States and

Marshall Calls for Practical Christians At Frosh Vespers

CITES NEED FOR EXTENDING BROTHERHOOD OF MAN

"If you want to leave something worthwhile behind in this world, do something worthwhile for others." This was the keynote of the vespers talk given last evening by James Marshall '45, at the service in Bomberger. The entire program was in charge of members of the Freshman Class.

"Our Christianity must be made more practical", was the imperative message that Marshall impressed upon his listeners. "To make our religion practical, we must make it benefit not only ourselves, but our fellowmen, as well."

Two of Christ's parables were made especially applicable here. The first was that of the good Samaritan; the second, that of the rich young man who refused to sell all of his possessions and follow Christ.

Two leading Christians of more recent times who have adopted the universal brotherhood of man viewpoint, according to Marshall, were St. Francis of Assisi and William Booth. St. Francis was the founder of the Franciscan friars and Booth, of the Salvation Army.

Richard Edwards '45, president of the Freshman Class, read the Scripture at the service. Vice-president Shirley Klein '45, was in charge of the program as leader. Special musical selections were offered by Alice Davis '45, who sang "Abide With Me", and by William Braxater '45, who gave as his violin selection, "Air for the G String". Jean Featherer '45, at the organ, completes the list of freshman participants.

Need for Leavening Is Theme of Sermon at Weekly Lenten Service

"We must be leavened by grace as bread is leavened by yeast." This was the theme of the talk given by Rev. Henry M. Kisler of St. Mark's Lutheran Church, Pennsylvania, at the weekly Lenten service Wednesday afternoon in Bomberger.

Speaking in parables, Rev. Kisler explained that the leaven in bread comes from a power outside itself just as human leaven comes from an outside power, God. Through ferment there is growth and through the dynamite of the Gospel the Christian kingdom grows.

He pointed out the strange coincidence that the unrelated words 'humus' and 'humor' serve so similar a purpose. Humus does for the soil what humor does for men's hearts, making them open and glad. Only men with such hearts who feel the dynamite of the kingdom can feel the power of God.

Roy Wenhold '42, was the student leader and read the scripture.

Martin Tells Chemists About His Findings on Viscosity of Liquids

Arthur Martin, Ph.D. '38, addressed the monthly meeting of the Beardwood Chemical Society in the Science Building last Tuesday evening. He chose as his subject a condensation and simplification of the paper which he will present before the American Chemical Society this spring. Dr. Martin dealt with a theory of liquids generally, and more specifically with the theoretical aspect of viscosity measurement.

Dr. Martin, nephew of Dr. Reginald Sibbald, obtained his Ph.D. at M. I. T. and last summer started work with the Hercules Powder Company, where he is making a study of cellulose. It was during a series of experiments for Hercules that he made the discovery upon which he based his talk last week.

The theory of viscosity discussed by Dr. Martin was based upon entirely new considerations, that is, his theory is totally different from any heretofore proposed. His prime consideration in presenting this subject was to hear criticisms from the students so that he would be better prepared when he presented the thesis this spring. Unfortunately, Dr. Martin was unable to reveal what he was working upon at Hercules owing to government and company regulations.

IN BRIEF!

The regular meeting of the WEEKLY board of control will be held next Tuesday afternoon at 4:00 p. m. in the office of President McClure in the Science Building.

The LANTERN staff will meet in Room 2 of Bomberger tomorrow after lunch. Because of the necessity for staff reorganization, this meeting will be an important one.

"Living Under Tension" Will Be Theme Of Annual All-Ursinus Conference

War-Shortened Conference To Last Only One Day

"Living Under Tension", the title of a recent book written by Dr. Harry Emerson Fosdick, has been selected as the theme of the All-Ursinus-Inderdenominational Conference which will be held on Friday, April 17.

This one-day conference will include activities for both the afternoon and evening, but as yet definite information as to the speaker and his subject has not been disclosed. His talk will be the main feature of the afternoon session.

A banquet to which the students and members of the interdenominational group are invited will open the evening program. It is planned by the committee in charge to put the afternoon speaker on the evening program as an after-dinner speaker.

After the banquet, various discussion groups will be formed in Bomberger, under the direction of capable leaders. The purpose of these group discussions will be to deal with various phases of religious living.

A number of other colleges in this vicinity, including Haverford, the University of Pennsylvania, Temple, and Franklin and Marshall have been invited to send delegates to this conference in order that leaders of other schools and of Ursinus may exchange new ideas on problems concerning the war with which the youth of today is confronted.

Previously, the All-Ursinus Conference had been held over a period of two or three days, but due to the shortened school program, the Y has incorporated the two conferences in the one. Blanche Shirey '43, Gracemary Greene '42, Elwood Heller '43, and Bill Ditter '43, comprise the committee in charge of arrangements for the affair.

Spring Issue of Lantern To Come Off the Press Soon

The spring issue of The Lantern is scheduled to appear the end of this month, according to an announcement made today by its editor, Gladys Heibel '42.

The Lantern, the College's literary magazine, is published three times each year. It is made up of the best in poetry, essay, and narrative writing that is submitted by Ursinus students. This month's issue will contain a collaboration by Norma Kronfeld '44, and Jean Patterson '42, essays by Andrew Souerwine '45, Eileen Smith '44, and other interesting articles of prose and poetry.

This issue of The Lantern will be the last under the direction of its present staff. A reorganization meeting will be held tomorrow after lunch in Room 2 of Bomberger.

Frosh Co-ed Debaters Meet Norristown High In Double Debate Here

The freshman women debaters met the Norristown Senior High School Varsity Debate Team in a double debate here on campus last Wednesday afternoon. The question debated was "Resolved, that every able bodied male American citizen should have one full year of military training before reaching the present draft age and this should be established as a permanent policy." The affirmative side for Ursinus was taken by Lois Ann Fairlee, Dorothy Waltz, and Betty Jane Wieder. Betty Dowd, Libby Rubin, and Betty Jane Cassatt debated the negative side of the question for Ursinus.

At the meeting of the Women's Debating Club on Monday night Judy Ludwick '44, and Betty Freeman '44, discussed the Saint John's plan for college education. The newly elected freshmen were welcomed for the first time into the organization, after which refreshments were served.

A JOB WELL DONE

This year the Ursinus drive for the World Student Service Fund reached its goal—a real achievement, especially in times such as these. It has required real courage and self-sacrifice, indeed, on the part of those directing the drive, to devote the greater part of their time for several weeks to raising money for the relief of students in distant countries, and these people are to be commended for their work.

And finally the hard-sought goal was achieved. The two hundred dollars was raised, so that students in China, in Europe, in other parts of the world besieged by war, may have relief of some sort—so that the spirit of free-thinking youth will be enabled to carry on. Certainly this is a praiseworthy purpose, and certainly we owe a debt of gratitude to those few who unhesitatingly contributed to this cause.

WHAT URSINUS NEEDS IS MORE POLISH!

Not so evident to those of us who limit our acquaintanceship with collegiate life to the Ursinus campus, the crying need for better manners on the part of the students should have been our concern before now. But we are inclined to get into a rut here.

Some of those customs or traditions we are referring to are our rustic, boorish table manners—highly unorthodox, to say the least. Sometimes they are condoned by attributing them to the spirit of friendliness and democracy that pervades the campus. It's a slur on the name of democracy.

There really is no reason why these remarks should be confined to a castigation of table manners. In general there is a lack of courtesy and marks of good-breeding in most of our associations among students and between students and members of the faculty.

If outsiders were to base their judgment of Ursinus solely on the gentility and grace of the finished product, there would be ample justification for the charge that we are "a bunch of hicks from the sticks".

Things'n Stuff

By IHRIE

DR. YOST, SR.

The finest things in life we tend to forget, the most fundamental rudiments we assume, and the nearest and dearest people we take for granted, never fully appreciating them until we have to do without them.

Dr. Yost, ranking behind only Dean Kline and Dr. Clawson in seniority at Ursinus, has become as much a part of the College as the pillars of Freeland or the portals of Bomberger. He is so close to its heart and spirit, so near to its very soul, that we have come to think of him as a permanent cog in the Ursinus machinery, an eternal part of its structure.

Now that he is suffering an abdominal ailment, we are deeply concerned. Since he went to the Riverview Hospital in Norristown only two weeks ago, we have begun to miss Dr. Yost, to feel the part he plays in the routine daily drama of Ursinus, to await eagerly his return.

His career of steady, faithful service has never been one of excitement and surprises, for Dr. Yost is the kind of man who has always seen the little jobs that have to be done, jobs that aren't spectacular, jobs that bring no gratitude or recognition—and he has always done them so much as if they were his ordinary duty that we have often forgotten those jobs existed.

A member of the Class of 1891, Dr. Yost was awarded his A.M. degree at Ursinus in 1895 and his B.D. in 1907, three years before he became professor of English and German on the College faculty. Since 1920 he has taught only German.

Although temporarily put on the sidelines by a heart condition about four years ago, Dr. Yost immediately returned to active service and has been teaching mid-year students in German ever since. As a reward for 30 years of work on the faculty, the Class of 1939 dedicated the Ruby to Dr. Yost and those principles for which he stands.

It was largely through the efforts of Dr. Yost, though he is too modest to admit it, that the study of German was continued at Ursinus during the last war when nearly all other schools suspended instruction in the language.

Dr. Yost has distinguished himself not only in educational but also in civic life, serving for 12 years as a member of the Collegeville borough council and for four years as its president before his retirement.

It is out of deep respect for Dr. Yost, Sr., and his qualities of dignified friendliness, liberalism tempered by the mellowness of age and mixed with the courage of youth, and a sympathetic understanding coming from years of patient work and play with college pupils, that we of Ursinus heartily extend all our wishes for a speedy recovery.

GAFF from the GRIZZLY

Dick Sees Red

It looks as though the Zimm-Arnold affair is ipskwitch-on-the-amscray. At least it's all washed up, and Dick and the red head seemed to make a nice couple for the Soph Hop.

Priorities on Typewriters

What are those who can't write legibly going to do now that typewriter sales have been government-banned? It looks as though next year's term papers will be written in ink—and the professors will take it and like it.

"Service Men Admitted Free"

The Navy had one more man at the Soph Hop than did the Army. Dave Jacobs '41, was the sailor who turned the tide for the U. S. N.

Latest Bus News

John Bear, the Hamburg lover, has recently been offered a position as bus driver on the line between Collegeville and Norristown. It seems that the other Saturday night, John and his Little Clamer attraction were "riding" from the movies when the bus driver could stand it no longer.

The Next Move Is Up to Elwood

Elwood's quest for a date seems headed for smoother sailing since he received the kiss-signed note direct from Clamer. The next move is up to him.

Hop

Also seen at the Soph Hop were Dick Ellis and his dream girl, Bob Luginbuhl and his ditto, and Judy Hogg with a new man. The band was loud and late, but to Arno Kuhn and the sophomores, Bob Sheble sounded like Glen Miller and Benny Goodman rolled together.

Dedicated to E. G.

SOCIETY NOTES

The engagement of Margaret Herbert '44, to Mr. Kenneth Paul Park of Audubon, New Jersey, has been announced by her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Frank J. Herbert.

Margaret received her ring at a party given to her by her parents on Friday, March 6, 1942.

Mr. Park is an employee of the American Telephone and Telegraph Company, and is attending Drexel Diploma School.

Sigma Rho Lambda Fraternity is holding an informal dance in Freeland Hall this Friday evening. The brothers are inviting some of their friends to attend the affair.

THE MAIL BOX

The opinions expressed in this column are those of individuals, and do not necessarily represent in any way the views of the editors of the Weekly.

To the Editor: Sir:

Although I am not one to disrespect age and position as well as authority, I cry out in disgust when a so-called educated man—supposedly a leader of American Youth—is known to utter remarks in a college classroom which immediately strike the curtain from his well-padded "Ph.D.'d" self and bare him as a narrow minded example-maker.

If the professor in question thinks a student is taking up space in his classroom, why call him down in front of his fellow students? Does psychology teach this axiom—to get work out of a student the same should be reprimanded in front of his fellows? I doubt it. I (Continued on page 6)

THE UNITED STATES AND THE WAR

World War II has come to the very doorstep of the United States of America. We have been hearing this statement since the forced entry of our country into the war, especially since the submarine attack on our east and west coasts. Congress has ordered the raising and training of an army, greater than any before assembled on our shores.

The great question facing the entire nation is whether we can turn raw materials and labor into the final products of ships, guns, planes and tanks with which the United States and the Allies can defeat Germany and Japan. For we are not producing arms merely for our own use. Russia, China, Australia, New Zealand and many more are depending on our resources.

Let us analyze this situation in the United States and compare it with the conditions of France from 1938 to 1940. Consider the labor situation in our country. Men are going on strike because they are not getting paid what they think they are worth. Congress has been trying to pass a law which would lift the forty-hour work week, which is now hanging over the heads of all industries, including defense work. Men will work for one company as long as the wages are very high; but at the first opportunity they sell their labor to any other company or industry which will pay them higher wages for the same type of work.

French labor refused to give up their rights to accept a 48 hour week instead of the forty hour week; they insisted upon their right to strike and make demands upon the government. Their representatives in the parliament formed a bloc which was an effective control over all parliamentary action. This is very similar to our farm bloc in Congress, which refused to let the government sell any of its accumulated grain stores for prices which are below those which the farmers are getting.

It is a fact that the United States must really strip for action for the first time since the Civil war. All civilians will lose their luxuries (including automobiles, radios, and innumerable others) and will live a more simplified life than would have seemed possible several years ago.

America, the home of the brave and the free, must be made the home of the industrious and the sacrificing in order to retain that liberty which we prize so highly.

A short time ago there was a radio program whose slogan was: "Wake up, America, it's time to stump the experts". Now the opinion of many people in this country may be expressed: "Wake up, America, you have stumped the experts, but make an effort to snap out of your lethargy".

X-TRACTS from X-CHANGES

We've certainly come a long way from the good old frontier days. The following reminiscence on the good old days when men were men was gleaned from The Appalachian of Appalachian College, way down South.

"A thousand years ago today
A wilderness was here;
A man with powder in his horn
Went forth to hunt a deer.
But now the times have changed somewhat
Along a different plan,
A dear with powder on her nose
Went forth to hunt a man."

Extracting an extract from the Lehigh Brown and White, which had made an extraction from the Juniata paper, we have the following low-down on the demerit system for women there:

"Juniata College in Huntington is really cracking down on the young ladies who roam campus there. They are putting into effect a new demerit system which is a whipperdoo. The possibilities for demerits and the number given are as follows: noise, 1; use of profanity, 2; leaving lights on, 2; not dressing for dinner, 2; coming in late, 5; unladylike behavior in social rooms, 5; couples loitering on stairways, 5; smoking, 10. After 10 demerits, the girls have to appear before a committee, and after 50 of the little black marks, they are eligible for suspension. In other words, five "reefers" and they're in a plenty bad way."

A professor at George Washington University, speaking of the results of the last war, informed his American Lit class, "First we had the gin age, which was followed by the flapper age and finally the zipper age made its appearance".

The University Hatchet

Strange doings, these, at Stevens Institute of Technology. From just a single column of The Stute we find:

"The speed-up must be taking effect at last: When a whole section of seniors can spend a good portion of a class period passing around, with great earnestness, a "statue of Yehudi" (a handful of emptiness), then something must be the matter. . . . That's the same section that was tossed out of snopy class not so long ago for staging a practice air raid".

Cheerleading there, in keeping with the Stute tradition of wackiness, has turned into a profitable business. Someone in the stands keeps tossing pennies at the "rah-rah" boys.

Meistersingers Present Concert Of Sacred Music at Easton

Last evening the Ursinus Meistersingers presented a program of sacred music at the St. Mark's Evangelical and Reformed Church, Easton, Pa. Frances Kooker '42, and Frederick Wilhelm '43, were the soloists. Miss Kooker sang "Art Thou the Christ?" by O'Hara and Mr. Wilhelm's bass solo was "The Blind Plowman" by Clarke. Marion Stocker '43, gave a flute selection from Mignon by Thomas. Emma Kay Hartman '45, accompanied the Meistersingers.

Their program last evening was a return engagement to Easton for the Meistersingers who were asked back because of the very favorable impression they had made on their previous visit. The group provided the entire program for the evening.

Men Debaters Plan To Conclude Season At Home and Afield

Members of the Men's Debating Club will close their season this week with a series of debates both at home and away. The first debate of the week will be on Wednesday evening when Willard Lutz '44, and Andrew Souerwine '45, will debate the labor question with Gettysburg College at home.

The final trip of the season will be taken the latter part of the week and will include debates with Rutgers University, Upsala, Brothers College of Drew University, and Yeshiva College in New York City. Elwood Heller '43, Bill Ditter '43, Frank Curtis '43, and Don Melson '43, will make the trip. In all the debates the labor question will be used except at Brothers, where the topic will be "Resolved, that the American system of government offers youth a better opportunity than any other system." The new forum style debate, which includes the best features of both the Oregon and orthodox styles, will be used both at Rutgers and Upsala, while the debate with Brothers will be an Oregon style debate, held before the assembly of Madison High School.

Last Friday night, in a special pre-hop debate, Blaine Fister '44, and Allen Munster '44, met a team from Upsala College in a debate on the labor question.

For Intramural Program

Six Teams To Compete in Baseball and Softball Leagues Starting Next Monday; Post Season Play-offs Decide Winners

With the Philadelphia papers already catching the significance of Jing Johnson's new compulsory intramural program, the stage is all set for the program to swing into action. In a special article by Ross Kaufmann the Philadelphia Evening Bulletin last week published the entire set-up as planned by Jing and explained the reasons why this experiment at Ursinus will be watched and copied by other schools.

The program, as originally planned, will go into action next Monday, March 23, if the weather permits. The lists of teams for the baseball and softball leagues have been announced by the committee. The complete schedule of the games to be played will appear in next week's Weekly.

Six teams have been picked for both the baseball and softball leagues. The teams in the baseball league will play at least twice each week and those teams in the softball league will play three or four times a week. In both of the leagues a Shaughnessy play-off will be held at the end of the season to determine the winner.

Baseball Teams

With the intramural plans and arrangements rapidly reaching a stage of completion, Director Jing Johnson announced the team arrangements in baseball the past week.

Attention is called to the fact that the captain is in full charge of the team. The schedules of games played and times of games will be posted later.

Senators: Capt. MacMahon, Adams, Buckman, Daniels, Driesbach, Gill, Hainley, Morningstar, Reppert, Stead, Steward, Talarico, Verdelli, Wadsworth.

Browns: Capt. Spohn, Burroughs, J. Dahlman, Eckenroth, Fletcher, Gliwa, Grant, Hamer, Hayes, Kuhn, Myers, Ort, Rank, Young

Softball Selections

Six softball teams have been selected for the new intramural program at Ursinus.

The captain of each team will be in complete charge as in the baseball program and the announcement of games and game times will be given later. All games in the softball league, however, will be held in the evening, after dinner.

Giants: Capt. Coulter, Alderfer, Applegat, Cochran, Creitz, Currens, Hoopes, Hosler, McElhinney, Hartzel.

Cards: Capt. Hutchinson, R. Bauer, Bayne, Datz, Ditter, Eilts, Hunt, Ihrle, Johnson, Keagle.

Pirates: Capt. Maykut, Bear, Becker, Brick, Fister, Gentry, Guil-

THE campus favorite is Camel—the cigarette with less nicotine in the smoke! Yes, country-wide surveys show that America's favorite cigarette ranks first with college students, too.

You'll find the answer when you try Camels yourself. From the first puff right through the last puff in the pack—and pack after pack—Camels give you the flavorful smoking you like with the mildness that lets you enjoy it! So make it a point to try Camels—the milder cigarette with less nicotine in the smoke.

headline while articles of lesser importance generally appear to the left. Make no mistake about it, the dummy make-up is a job such that tries men's souls. Frequently more than an hour must be spent by the harrassed editor in juggling the make-up design until all the articles fit. And at the same time he must decide upon the kinds and sizes of types to be used so they won't clash but present a good appearance.

A lot of the work on the Weekly is done on Friday and Saturday.
 However, Monday is always the busiest day. Herber generally gets to the Independent office by eight in the morning. No matter how good the reporters as a group may be, there are always some stories which must be rewritten, there are always names which must be spelled correctly, facts which have been twisted, and punctuation which is in dire need of change.

If He Only Could Spell!

A little later Ditter and Adams arrive. To Ditter is usually assigned the task of writing a last-minute article. As soon as Ditter gets on the scene, the dictionary must be rescued from under the stacks of paper, always littering the desk, for the best that can be said for his spelling is that it is original, the worst that could be said is unprintable.

Norman

By early afternoon the diligent and efficient Adams (at least, he brags about his efficiency) has his sports page ready to be printed while the inside pages have been run off on the press during the morning. By this time the editorial page also has been set up and is ready to go to print. After Gaff has been censored, there really is nothing to the work of finishing that page off. The only really big job remaining is the writing of the heads.

Writing of Heads Is Art

Headline-writing is an art in itself. In the first place, the heads must fit the space assigned them; in the second place, they should always be "catchy" and say something. Headlines must contain a verb, they should be split up into lines only at certain places, and they should make the reader want to read the article. Simplicity is to be desired and speed in writing is a necessity, but when an attempt is made to fit a name like
 "All Ursinus - Inderdenominational Conference" into a head, relief is often found by resorting to in-vectives.

As the time grows shorter and the deadline draws ever nearer, the tension increases until the editors down at the print shop figuratively
 "sweat blood".

Finally the paper is ready to be printed. Articles have been edited,
 "set up", "proofed", corrected, "re-proofed", and fitted in the dummy, heads have been written, and caption the right story (maybe). The form which holds the type is then locked and carried to the press.

 A single copy is made and checked.
 Perhaps the cut of some handsome band maestro with sleek black hair does not print heavily enough, in which case flecks of white show up and make him look like a fit subject for anti-dandruff hair tonic.
 The insertion of a paper is used to lift him the fraction of an inch necessary to put just the right lustre on his hair.

The copy is then checked to make sure that there are no leads "up".
 Leads are small bits of metal which spread the type to make the white spaces. When one of them is "up" a dark line results.

And then when the whole job is finished and the smoke has cleared away, the staff and editors can sit back and relax—from Monday night until Tuesday morning.

Beaver Mars Coeds' Record, 28-31, But Temple Lassies Defeated Saturday, 29-25

Miss Snell's co-ed sextet furthered another glorious season this past week when they defeated the Temple lassies Saturday by the score of 29-25.

Previously in the week, however, their perfect record was marred by the very good Beaver team by the score of 28 to 31. This brought their season's record to 4 victories and 1 defeat to date.

Temple Game

In a final drive against the once-defeated Temple squad, the Ursinus women's basketball team closed its home season in a blaze of glory, 29-25, on Saturday.

Having met their only defeat at the hands of Beaver earlier this week, Miss Snell's lassies handed the strong Temple sextet a decisive setback to further another enviable record.

16-16 at the Half

True to their reputation, Temple gave Ursinus a hard fight. Half-time was marked by a 16-16 score, and it was during the last quarter that our home team held its third quarter fire for the final score.

High-scoring honors go to Doris Harrington, Junior class veteran, who totaled 16 points. Nat Hogeland and Allie Dougherty captured 6 and 7 points respectively.

Junior Varsity Wins

The junior-varsity squad polished off Temple J. V.'s by a greater margin, 35-14, adding to their laurels of the season, having been defeated only once, by Bryn Mawr. Rusty Hoagland took high-scoring honors with 18 points.

The varsity lineup:

Ursinus	Temple
Hogeland, 6 F	Euck, 11
Dougherty, 7 F	Schuler, 4
Harrington, 16 F	Brown, 10

Bright G	Bingaman
Mathieu G	Pickel

Umstad G	Beck
Bricker G	Cavanagh
Bradway G	Watson

Beaver Game

Recovering from a set-back in the second quarter, the Ursinus women's basketball squad could not quite reach the 31 points of Beaver's fire, and lost a close game to the Beaver lassies by the score of 31-28.

However, it cannot be said that Miss Snell's lassies played less professionally than they've been accustomed to playing. Their teamwork was up to its usual par, but a sudden spurt in Beaver's offense and a strange foul were combined as factors in the defeat. The game was an unusually interesting game, with a minimum of fouls committed by both teams.

Nat Hogeland captured high-scoring laurels with eighteen points.

Ursinus J. V.'s turned the tables on the little Beavers when they won, 29-16. Rusty Hoagland took 18 points to be high scorer.

•Foul Shooting Finals Tonight

The finals in the intramural foul shooting contest will be held tonight with Smoke MacMahon, John Rorer, and Tom Rorer shooting it out for the championship.

Each contestant will shoot 50 fouls breaking mark on each shot and the one who makes the most out of those shots will be the winner.

Looking 'Em Over
 With Buddy Adams

Although we do not intend this column to become a "gripe" center we feel there is something this week that demands a little griping. Ursinus' tennis addicts this year will be forced to confine their playing activities to two hard surface courts, two very poor clay courts, and the sight of two very unplayable courts, whereas they should have six courts in fair condition (at least) at their disposal.

Poor management and administration was responsible for the ruination of the clay courts. These courts, too, as I understand it, are not built for a song and Ursinus, furthermore can ill afford to give away a song of any sort. If care is taken the two very poor courts can be saved and made playable.

So once again (we pleaded the same way last year, unsuccessfully) we ask that the proper measures be taken immediately to get the courts into playing condition before it is definitely too late.

Orchids!

The Weekly basket of orchids this week goes to Miss Snell and her coed basketeers and especially Nat Hogeland and Allie Dougherty who finished their basketball playing days this past week. The loss of Nat and Allie will be felt on the hockey, tennis and basketball teams as well as in the entire campus life.

Sieb's Star, Johnny Kilcullen, finished the season in a blaze of glory with a field goal against the Norristown Y. "Just a slow starter" says John.

What Strategy!

This story comes via the well known grape vine system. It seems that in the wrestling match between Temple and Ursinus, which incidentally ended in a 16-16 tie, both teams were forced with the necessity of forfeiting several matches. To avoid forfeiting the heavyweight match Coach Stevens was going to allow Joe Tropp to wrestle in both the 175 and heavyweight divisions. The Temple team would not allow him to do this, and this is where the story begins. The Temple team was also going to forfeit the heavyweight class but when they found out we were, they snagged one of their students in the vicinity of no wrestling experience at all, dressed him in a wrestling suit to sit on the bench, and got five points for their deception. If Tropp would have wrestled in the heavyweight class he would have probably pinned the inexperienced man instead of merely getting a decision as he did in the 175 bout, and the match would have been ours by the score of 18-16.

Parings . . .

The Philadelphia daily blabs once more gave Ursinus its usual good deal this past week when they ran huge stories on the new Villanova Intramural program, supposed to be the first in this part of the country. Of course, the mere fact that our program was formulated over a month before was merely incidental and unworthy of mention.

Abe Chern, one of the stalwarts of the famous quintet of 1940, had been showing some of those army camps the way basketball should be played. Abe performed this past season with the team of Camp Lee, Virginia, and was cited by their papers as the outstanding player on the team.

Chern, incidentally, is the player who is shooting the lay-up shot in the picture to the left of the page head.

Last Year's Co-Captain -- This Year's Captain

Al Hutchinson

Basketball Squad Elects Veteran Al Hutchinson as 1942 Season Captain

Al Hutchinson, for three years a main cog in Ursinus basketball machines, and this season high scorer with 136 points, was last week named captain of the varsity cagers for 1942.

High Scoring Guard

Not only one of the best defensive guards in the East Penn league, Hutch racked up 288 points in the past two years, finishing only a single counter behind MacMahon for individual honors in 1941.

After seeing a good deal of action on Hash's varsity in his sophomore year, Hutchinson sparked the Ursinus Bears with his consistently sterling play last year and was elected co-captain with Don Fetterman.

Wins Scoring Honors

His record for 1942 speaks for itself. Only three times did Hutch fail to register at least 7 points and he ran away with high scoring laurels with half a hundred field goals and 36 of 63 fouls for a total of 136 points.

Coming to Ursinus from Atlantic City High School where he paced his alma mater to conference championship, Al has also made his mark in scholastic and extra-curricular activities. A senior in the Business-Administration group, he is president of the Varsity Club, circulation manager of the Weekly, and a member of Zeta Chi fraternity.

Eleven Enter Final Rounds Of Girls Ping Pong Tourney

The girls' ping pong tournament, after a slow start, is now well under way. From a total of 32 who entered, there are now only 11 survivors.

Tiesel Hochbaum, Marion Bright, Nat Hogeland, Inge Wesemann, and Marorie Downs have achieved the quarter finals, while second round matches still must be played by Peggy Hudson and Betty Umstad, Judy Hogg and Ticky Goldberg, and Nancy Landis and Doris Harrington.

The final match will probably be played off by the end of the week.

Six Teams To Compete in Baseball and Softball Leagues Starting Next Monday; Post Season Play-offs Decide Winners

With the Philadelphia papers already catching the significance of Jing Johnson's new compulsory intramural program, the stage is all set for the program to swing into action. In a special article by Ross Kaufmann the Philadelphia Evening Bulletin last week published the entire set-up as planned by Jing and explained the reasons why this experiment at Ursinus will be watched and copied by other schools.

The program, as originally planned, will go into action next Monday, March 23, if the weather permits. The lists of teams for the baseball and softball leagues have been announced by the committee. The complete schedule of the games to be played will appear in next week's Weekly.

Six teams have been picked for both the baseball and softball leagues. The teams in the baseball league will play at least twice each week and those teams in the softball league will play three or four times a week. In both of the leagues a Shaughnessy play-off will be held at the end of the season to determine the winner.

Baseball Teams

With the intramural plans and arrangements rapidly reaching a stage of completion, Director Jing Johnson announced the team arrangements in baseball the past week.

Attention is called to the fact that the captain is in full charge of the team. The schedules of games played and times of games will be posted later.

Senators: Capt. MacMahon, Adams, Buckman, Daniels, Driesbach, Gill, Hainley, Morningstar, Reppert, Stead, Steward, Talarico, Verdelli, Wadsworth.

Browns: Capt. Spohn, Burroughs, J. Dahlman, Eckenroth, Fletcher, Gliwa, Grant, Hamer, Hayes, Kuhn, Myers, Ort, Rank, Young.

Red Sox: Capt. Tkacz, Crosby, Flynn, Getty, Green, Henry, Irvin, Kruse, Lutz, Parsons, Raban, Reemer, Walz.

Yankees: Capt. Tom Rorer, Anderman, Borneman, Chance, Edwards, Kilcullen, Lamond, Melson, Peiffer, Reimer, Rorer, J., Tomafsky, Walbert.

Tigers: Capt. McFarland, Buckner, Crone, Currington, Garner, Glass, Hudson, LeVan, Moser, Scott, Sufias, Winter, Ziegler.

Indians: Capt. Thomas, Bock, Callahan, Cooke, H. Dahlman, Gehring, Kedda, Meager, Much, Ross, Thorpe, Reed, Todd.

Softball Selections

Six softball teams have been selected for the new intramural program at Ursinus.

The captain of each team will be in complete charge as in the baseball program and the announcement of games and game times will be given later. All games in the softball league, however, will be held in the evening, after dinner.

Giants: Capt. Coulter, Alderfer, Appleget, Cochran, Creitz, Currens, Hoopes, Hosler, McElhinney, Hartzel.

Cards: Capt. Hutchinson, R. Bauer, Bayne, Datz, Ditter, Eilts, Hunt, Ihrle, Johnson, Keagle.

Pirates: Capt. Maykut, Bear, Becker, Brick, Fister, Gentry, Guillard, Kehm, Kratz, Man, Pancoast.

Phillies: Capt. Heckman, Biscotte, Briody, Burke, Hidlay, Hinnershots, MacAllister, Miller, Moder, Moore, G.

Cubs: Capt. Selfridge, Munster, Neustadter, North, Pastras, Perkins, Smith, Staiger, Underwood, Wanner, Ziegler.

Dodgers: Capt. Worthing, Moore, C., Parks, E., Rapp, Schultz, Shuster, Souerwine, Straub, Vernon, Wight, Steinmetz.

Shreiner and South To Play This Week for Dormitory Title

Shreiner and South will meet next week to decide which girls' dorm will clinch the intramural basketball championship.

Shreiner moves into the play-off position, having defeated 944 and Glenwood, and having claimed a forfeit from 612.

Both teams look evenly matched. Although Shreiner has played one more game than South, the girls from Sixth Avenue can flaunt a crushing victory over the Day Study.

Ursinus Goeds To Compete In Temple Play-Day Events

Temple University is sponsoring a play-day on March 21, at 10 a. m. for a number of the surrounding colleges.

They have given each college a choice of three activities in which to send participants. Ursinus has chosen volleyball, badminton, and bowling as the three activities in which they wish to be represented.

Due to the large number of girls signed up for this play-day they will have to be a play-off to see who will represent Ursinus at Temple.

suggest reference to the chapter on individual differences. Then, too, if the aforementioned professor is so patriotic that he thinks students who do not study from day to day should join the armed forces where they would be of more use, I ask the gentleman before the class—why doesn't he in his patriotic fervor rush unhesitatingly to the recruiting office? Perhaps he did win World War I, but this is World War II and it needs winning.

Fred Binder '42

Dear Sir:

In your issue of February 23, 1942, you published in the I. R. C. Commentator a column by a certain student which was entitled, "What We're Fighting For". We have discovered that almost two-thirds of the article was taken verbatim from an essay entitled, "The Last Best Hope of Earth" by Harry Scherman, printed in the Atlantic Monthly for November, 1941, distributed in pamphlet form by the Book-of-the-Month Club, and abridged in the December, 1941, issue of the Readers' Digest.

We think it deplorable that such a disreputable act of plagiarism could be committed by such a student of Ursinus College. Such an unethical attitude not only reflects upon the integrity of the writer and Ursinus College, but also impairs the reputation and good standing of the International Relations Club and The Ursinus Weekly.

This attitude of that student seems to be mirrored by a similar attitude among the student body and administration. Such moral laxity is encouraged by members of the faculty who refuse to punish with severity students caught cheating in examinations; it is encouraged by members of the faculty who permit an entire dormitory to be exposed to the rampages of a social disease; and it is encouraged by members of the administration who refuse to provide decent living conditions for the men students in certain dormitories—they did provide a cat.

Ursinus College cannot meet its responsibility of producing honest and intelligent leadership in a democratic society if it is indifferent to such an outlook among its students and administration.
