Asian Authority To Be Speaker At Next Forum

Edward Shippen Morris Was Former Jap Consul

Mr. Edward Shippen Morris, an authority on Asia and Asiatic subjects, will address the Ursinus Forum on Wednesday evening, April 22, at 8:00 p. m. in Bomberg-er.

His topic will cover a discussion of the Far East — especially of Japan, and is obviously important for consideration today. Mr. Morris, because he has specialized in Asiatic subjects practically continuously since 1928, should be well qualified to speak on this subject.

When his father was ambassador to Japan, the forum speaker lived there for over a year. He himself was Consul of Japan in Philadelphia, but resigned last summer when he felt that he could no longer represent that country.

Mr. Morris was graduated from Princeton University in 1928; and ever since his coming to the bar in 1931, he has been associated with the law firm of Duane, Morris, and Heckscher, in Philadelphia. From 1935 to 1940 he was deputy attorney-general of Pennsylvania, and for two years secretary of the Democratic City Committee of Philadelphia. A man of varied interests, he held at one time a commission of lieutenant in the United States Naval Reserve and is today a fellow of the American Geographic Society.

Three Hundred Dance to Rhythms Of Criterions at Annual Junior Prom

Classical Setting Provides Atmosphere of Springtime

With the West Chester Criterions supplying the music, one hundred and fifty couples attended Friday evening's Junior Prom in the Thompson-Gay Gymnasium.

Braving the usual wintry blasts of prom night, the dancers found that the inside of the gym had been transformed into a "Spring Fantasy". Drab walls were hidden behind gold drapes and lighted columns, while a host of stars glimmered in the dimness above. A rose arbor at the entrance and the stands of roses around the room further emphasized the theme of springtime.

The Criterions, living up to their reputation of being one of the finest college bands in the East, not only gave the dancers a maximum of good music, but entertained them with novelty numbers as well.

As has been the custom in recent years, the Cub and Key Society held its tapping ceremony just before intermission. Five junior men, chosen because of their high scholastic standing, their extra-curricular activities, and their leadership, were tapped at this time. The men selected were Robert Cooke, J. William Ditter, Hermann Elits, Frank Hyatt, and George Kratz.

Last night, following the initiation of the new members, the seniors of the society elected Robert Cooke as president and Frank Hyatt as secretary-treasurer, for next year.

The Cub and Key Society, organized in 1939, gives recognition to the outstanding undergraduates of the College. Its present senior members are Garnet Adams, Karl Agan, Fred Binder, Denton Herber, and Roy Wenhold.

Chairman of the dance, and largely responsible for its success was Gilbert Bayne '43. Serving on his committee were these juniors: James Raban, Dorothea Trout, Ruth Riegel, and Doris Harrington. Chaperons for the evening were Dean of Women Camilla B. Stahr, Dr. and Mrs. J. Harold Brownback, and Dr. and Mrs. Foster L. Dennis.

NOTICE!

Room deposits for September, 1942, must be paid on or before April 17. Room drawings for Junior men will be held on April 20, for Sophomore men on April 21, and for Freshman men on April 22.

Navy Secretary Praises College's V-1 Cooperation

In recognition of its cooperation in the new V-1 plan of the United States Navy, Ursinus has received the following telegram from the Honorable Frank Knox:

Ursinus College,
Collegeville, Pa.

The Navy is proud that your college has undertaken our V-1 plan for training freshmen and sophomores as officer material. Please tell your young men who apply for enlistment and training under this plan that they will be serving the nation if they continue their college courses no less than those of your alumni who are already in active service. The Navy knows your institution and your V-1 students will do their part.

Frank Knox,
Secy. of the Navy.

The V-1 program is designed for students who are accepted as prospective Naval Reserve officers. Certain courses prescribed by the Navy Department are being provided in the college curriculum, and arrangements have been made to have a naval officer visit the campus to meet all interested students and make necessary arrangements for their participation in the program.

Lafayette President Will Be Speaker At Commencement

Open-Air Exercises Will Mark Graduation of 105 Seniors

Dr. William Mather Lewis, president of Lafayette College, will deliver the commencement address on May 18 when 105 Ursinus seniors receive their diplomas.

Dr. Lewis attended Lake Forest College, Illinois, from which he graduated in 1900. After the World War, he acted as director of the savings division of the United States Treasury Department. In 1923 he became president of George Washington University, and in 1927 took over the duties of president at Lafayette.

He acted as the Pennsylvania director of the Selective Service until recently, but resigned to devote more time to the accelerated program at Lafayette.

At Commencement Monday on a platform in front of Freeland, capped and gowned seniors will receive their degrees; sixty-nine will receive B. A. degrees and thirty-six will receive B. S. degrees. Four honorary degrees will also be awarded: three doctors of divinity and one doctor of law.

SCAVENGING PHYS-EDDERS COMB CAMPUS MONDAY NIGHT

Last Monday evening sixteen persons participated in a scavenger hunt sponsored by the Phys-Ed Club. In keeping with the spirit of "Hale America", the hunt was made exceedingly difficult.

If any of the students are missing any little articles such as false teeth, tulips, garbage cans, etc., the Phys-Ed Club will gladly return the same to their rightful owners. Other choice items hunted were fish scales from the popular business establishment known as "John's", a "Billy Club", Mr. Pan-coast's socks, a canoe paddle, 1939 license plates, Charley Ziegler's hat, and a white hair exactly six inches long.

Gladys Levensgood's team won; but due to a "foul", the official winner was Allie Dougherty's team.

WOMEN RUSH FINAL PREPARATIONS FOR SHORTENED MAY DAY PAGEANT

By Marion Fegley '43

In a little less than two weeks, or to be exact on Saturday, April 25, the women of Ursinus will present "Toyland Fantasy" as the annual May Day Pageant.

All but the freshmen and other new students have probably missed the many usual announcements of dance rehearsals and committee meetings heard in previous years. Perhaps you feel that you do not know much about the pageant and wonder how it is progressing.

Shorter Pageant This Year

The pageant this year will be shorter than those of previous years. The number of dances has been reduced and not all of Betty Ulrich's original work will be presented. The changes are the result of the accelerated program at Ursinus this semester. In spite of these changes, those working with "Toyland Fantasy" predict that it will equal or surpass the pageants of previous years.

Miss Margaret Clafin, director of the pageant, is devoting many hours toward the production of "Toyland Fantasy". One of her

Faculty and Students Mourn Death of Dr. Calvin D. Yost

Librarian for 32 Years, Head of German Department, Dr. Yost Is Remembered for Services to College

The Reverend Calvin D. Yost, D.D., '91, librarian, professor of German, and secretary of the Board of Directors of the College, died in Riverview Hospital, Norristown, where he had been a surgical patient, at 5:30 a. m. on April 10. Dr. Yost had entered the hospital early last month for treatment of an abdominal ailment and failed to rally from an operation performed several days before his death.

Dr. Yost was born in Walker Township, Schuylkill County, November 5, 1866, and received his early education in the local schools and the Kutztown State Normal School before entering Ursinus, from which he was graduated as valedictorian of the Class of 1891. He then attended the Ursinus School of Theology and the Divinity School of Yale University, graduating from the latter institution in 1894, and was ordained as pastor of Emanuel's Reformed Church, Minersville, Pa., the same year. He commenced his long educational career in 1896 when he became principal of the Mahanoy City High School, resigning in 1901 to return to the ministry as pastor of the Pleasantville charge at Eureka, Pa., serving until 1906, when he accepted a call to St. John's Church, Phoenixville. The following year he became general secretary of the Reformed Evangelical and Educational Union, an organization formed to advance the interests of Ursinus, holding this position for the next three years.

Philadelphia and Montco Alumni Join To Honor Dean's Birthday April 24

The Philadelphia and Montgomery County Alumni Associations will join in the celebration of Dean Wharton A. Kline's birthday by giving a birthday dinner in his honor on Friday, April 24. Originally planned to be held at the College, the accelerated program has shunted the affair to the Bellevue-Stratford at Philadelphia, where the testimonial will begin at 6:30 p. m.

In order to properly commemorate the Dean's seventy-eighth birthday, the alumni associations of both Philadelphia and Montgomery County are cooperating in sponsoring the dinner as an expression of the esteem and affection with which they regard the Dean.

Tickets may be obtained by communicating with Paul P. Wisler '27, president of the Montgomery County Association, or Sherman A. Eger '25, president of the Philadelphia Association.

CO-CHAIRMEN ANNOUNCE CANCELLATION OF CONFERENCE

The co-chairmen of the All-Ursinus Conference committee, Gracemary Greene '42, Blanche Shirey '43, Elwood Heller '43, and J. William Ditter '43, announced today that the conference would not be held this year.

The committee, although experiencing difficulty in securing a speaker, had agreed to a request by the College to limit its program to one day. The members then felt that they could make use of the chapel service to begin the conference, but these arrangements could not be made.

The committee will suggest to the 1943 Y cabinet that the conference should be held as in previous years.

THE REVEREND CALVIN D. YOST

In each generation there are a few men whose work and efforts are largely responsible for the advancements which civilization makes during their time.

Such a man was Dr. Calvin D. Yost. In a quiet, unassuming manner he performed his duties at Ursinus. He did not seek publicity and seldom got it, but for thirty-two years he was a faithful servant.

Behind him, Dr. Yost leaves the Ursinus library. Today the library stands as a token of his life, and work. It is a fitting tribute to the man who was largely responsible for its growth.

THINK TWICE ABOUT THE SUMMER!

In a bulletin from General Lewis B. Hershey, national director of Selective Service, to the state directors these two statements concerning college men are found:

"The student will not be given consideration for deferment until at or near the end of the second academic year, and then only if he can show evidence of continuing his training"; and

"It will be necessary for colleges and universities officially to enroll students for the third academic year at or near the close of the sophomore year, and to provide evidence of continuous training and preparation until such preparation is completed."

Dr. McClure pointed out the importance of these two statements when he spoke in chapel a week ago. Briefly, General Hershey's words mean that high school seniors who delay entering college until September run a grave risk of being drafted before they graduate, and those men in college who do not attend summer school, those who cannot "provide evidence of continuous training", run the same risk.

While it is true that a man may attend summer sessions, and still be drafted, it is further true that he materially increases his chance to graduate by taking "continuous training".

Each case before a draft board is judged on individual merits. No man can predict who will go—or who will finish college. However, summer school does provide students with a better chance to graduate—and it goes further. It gives men a chance to prepare for the post war world—and yet to still "do their bit" in bringing victory.

INDIAN INDEPENDENCE

Geographical, religious, and political factors have always stood in the way of a solution of the problem of Indian independence. India is divided into eleven British Indian provinces and 562 semi-independent Indian states. In area India is as large as continental Europe.

The Nationalist Movement in India probably dates back to the time of English occupation, but it took a definite shape with the emergence of Mahatma Gandhi as its leader. Many riots occurred as a result of agitation—several due to widespread revolutionary ideas. But under Lord Chelmsford's new administration, which began in 1916, India increased her army, developed her resources beyond any previous record, and assumed one hundred millions of the war debt.

Two native Indians represented her in the Imperial War Cabinet in London at that time. A scheme of reform was reported which led to renewed political contention and disorder throughout the land. Trains and telegraph wires were wrecked and destroyed; and martial law was declared. These outbreaks, plus the 6,000,000 deaths caused by the influenza epidemic of a short time before, resulted in a severe industrial and economic crisis which naturally affected the entire country. On top of all this, Amir of Afghanistan knowing the timeliness of the situation, invaded India. After this war, uprisings occurred on the northwestern front which were put down by the British only after severe military operations.

In 1919 Parliament passed the Government of India Bill and more trouble resulted. When the Allies took from Turkey her sacred lands the Hindus and Mohammedans united in a common cause under Gandhi. Murderous outbreaks continued, until after the visit of the Prince of Wales. Comparative quiet then followed except in Punjab where disorder was constant and widespread. When Gandhi's non-cooperative policy failed the unity between the Mohammedans and Hindus was broken. Trouble continued for three years. In the meantime the Indian tariff board gave protection to coal and steel, two serious strikes were settled, a new party which advocated dominion self-government within the empire was formed in Bombay, and in 1926 the Indian government announced that opium traffic would be abolished within ten years.

In 1927 a bill was introduced in the British Parliament to make India a self-governing dominion. After numerous committee reports and negotiations, the Government of India Act was passed in 1935. Although leading political parties assumed office in 1937 in India, a projected federation of British India and the native states was rejected as unsatisfactory by the Indian groups. The Congress party objected to the prerogatives left with the princes and those retained by the British Crown, the Moslems protested against the power given to the Hindus and so it is that the Viceroy continues to govern from Delhi assisted by an Advisory Council.

After 300 painful years, Britain has turned "a page of history. She offers full Dominion status to India after the war, including the right to separate into two or more Dominions and even to secede from the British Commonwealth". The plan as stated in "Time" magazine follows:

"During the war Britain would direct India's defense, but India would appoint a member to Winston Churchill's War Cabinet. At the end of the war, elections would be held for the provincial legislatures. The lower houses of these bodies would then sit as an electoral college to choose, by proportional representation, a constitutional congress. The 562 semi-autonomous Indian states would be invited into this congress with proportional representation. States or provinces which did not agree to the new constitution could agree on separate constitutions, which would be equally recognized by Britain. Thus the door was left open for a separate Moslem State, if India's great minority of 80,000,000 Moslems want it."

The plan has collapsed, momentarily at least, for the Nationalist Congress has rejected it because a settlement on the defense issue cannot be reached. It is late, Japan continues her attack; a complete breakdown in negotiations will be a serious set-back to the war strategy of the United Nations, for India is a vital arsenal of democracy and she is needed in an all-out war effort.

ESTRANGED COUPLES, PLEASE NOTE

We think this tampering with Mother Nature for the benefit of a mere war has gone far enough! Not only was the month of March so confused by the lack of weather reports that it came in like a lamb and went out like a lion, but the Ursinus student body seems to be oblivious to the fact that Spring is here.

We assure you that it is, in spite of limited weather forecasts, War time, accelerated program, et al, Spring is here, and it's time to fall in not out of love. Now is the time for walks by the Perk, hand in hand strolls around the campus, moon-lit chats on the Science Building steps, and anything else your imagination calls forth. It is not the time for returning fraternity keys, class rings, and pictures, and saying goodbye forever!

THE MAIL BOX

The opinions expressed in this column are those of individuals, and do not necessarily represent in any way the views of the editors of the Weekly.

To the Editor:

In the course of our college careers, most of us have heard mention of the "sour grapes" mechanism. What I have to say is really not sour grapes, but the true expression of an opinion that I feel deeply and that many others share wholeheartedly.

At the Junior Prom on Friday night, the Cub and Key society, representing the finest qualities of manhood at Ursinus, tapped its new members. Those men tapped were to stand for the best this college has to offer. They were to be the selected few, whose participation in extra-curricular activities, whose personality and leadership, and whose high scholastic achievements were outstanding enough to merit special distinction. Having seen this organization form and grow, it hurt me to watch the new members being chosen.

With all due respect to the students chosen, all of whom are exceptional scholars, most of whom are great fellows, and some of whom any one of us would have approved; I believe that membership in the Cub and Key society is synonymous with leadership, and only one or two of the group are leaders.

To me, the Cub and Key society means a man who commands the respect of his fellow students as a true leader should, a man who forges to the front in every activity on campus, a man who enters nearly all phases of college life and excels at each of them.

The names of those tapped on Friday, with few exceptions, have been conspicuously absent from the lists of class officers, major athletes, club presidents, fraternity leaders, student council executives, Weekly writers, and even committee chairmen. How many of the new members actually head activities on the Ursinus campus? They are all good fellows, I'll admit, but so are a hundred other men.

Marks are important, let there be no doubt about that; but the Cub and Key society is neither a brain trust, nor a scholastic fraternity.

If the new members had not the qualities of leadership to be elected officers of their own class, of their own fraternity, of their own clubs, why should their leadership be recognized by the Cub and Key society?

The Cub and Key society has been exclusive; it has always included the men who guide the whole life of Ursinus College, social, athletic, scholastic, and extra-curricular; and I for one would be sorry to see its principles lowered and its standards dropped. That is exactly what is taking place, slowly and sadly. Let us see that it does not continue.

Sincerely,
 Al Hutchinson '42

WEEKLY'S ROVING REPORTER VISITS CAMPUS DEN OF SIN

By Bill Sutcliffe '43

The boys from the Day Study are making a spiritual comeback. They wish it to be known that the room occupied by them in the underworld of Bomberger is no longer a dive. "Even such a distinguished visitor as Jesus would call it home," they say. "Wasn't he born in a stable?"

The Men's Day Study is an old and honored (?) institution on the Ursinus Campus. In spite of this fact there are many students who have never been inside its imposing walls. For the benefit of those fellows that have never found time to visit the Day Study, and for the girls of the College, who unfortunately are not permitted to stalk the men in their lair, the Weekly conducts this brief tour through what is generally thought to be the campus's den of sin.

Didn't You Get My Signal?

Upon first entering the Men's Day Study you notice nothing unusual. This is because of the thick layers of cigarette smoke that obscure your vision. But when you are able to beat your way through the clouds of dense blue smoke you come upon the principal furniture of the Day Study—card tables. It is said that the standard equipment of day students entering Ursinus College is a dilapidated jitney with four good tires (the revised edition leaves out the word good), an armful of obsolete textbooks, and a pack of playing cards. But it is the latter item that is the most integral part of a day student's equipment.

On the west side of the Day Study is the table reserved for the sharpers; on the east side is the one used by novices. All card games are strictly on the level. This is no doubt due to the beneficent influence exerted by the pre-ministerial students. When a fellow's partner plays the wrong card, the only rebuke he receives is, "What's wrong? Didn't you get my signal?" This isn't cheating; it's a necessity when you have three "kibitzers" to every player.

Hot Pups!

Against the west wall stands a sofa, which is used by the boys when they want to catch up on the sleep they have missed the night before because of a date with a dream—physical not mental. Often you will see fellows kneeling by the side of the sleeper. They aren't praying for his soul—they're giving him a "hot foot". If you smell rubber burning, it is not someone thinking—this is rarely done in the Day Study—it is your shoe that's on fire; you're really hot, "Gate".

From Natchez to Mobile

But the men from the Day Study want it known from Natchez to Mobile that their headquarters is now a high class joint. The rough-house that abounded there a few years ago has been eliminated. As proof of this they cite the fact that the last two presidents of their organization have been pre-ministerial students. Yes indeed, the boys of the Day Study are a fine group. One of their members has even distinguished himself on campus as a nerve specialist—he gets on everybody's.

And if you fellows from the "dorms" want to pick up a good "date" off campus, see the lads from the Day Study. They really know their P's and cuties.

On the Shelves

By Mr. Charles H. Miller, Assistant Librarian

As I sit down to review a few books for you, I have just been informed of the passing of Dr. Yost. That fact leaves me with little heart to write about books—or anything else. For I have just lost, not only my superior officer, but a good friend. I have known Dr. Yost for thirty years—first as the father of very dear friends; later, in the still happier relationship of superior officer, and friend. In the latter capacities, I have known him more intimately than many people on campus. He was not one to give friendship too easily—he was not constituted to be a hale-fellow-well met — and for that reason I valued this friendship the more highly; for real friendship is a rather priceless thing.

The building of our library was Dr. Yost's life work and a great deal more than that; it was his whole life. In season and out, without vacations, many times when he was physically unable to carry the load, he still carried on—for hundreds of Ursinus students in the past, as he has for you and me in recent years. Such a life of devotion is not one to be passed over lightly. It is one which should make us pause, not only once, but many times.

The life of a librarian is not too easy, and the life of an administrator not too pleasant. In the former capacity, he must handle a myriad of detail, and be on duty eight to ten hours a day, and on call seven long days a week. In the latter capacity, he must deal with thoughtless students who often forget that the library is a place for serious work, and not one for horse-play. Dr. Yost did not enjoy this part of his duty, but in the interest of hundreds of students who now honor him for it, he never shirked it.

Too often a student is forgetful of what a librarian means in his life. The library is the laboratory where the student finds the tools which prepare him for his life work—and without which he could not be so well prepared, and could not secure so well-rounded an education. The librarian is the one person who does most to make available to all students the tools which they should have to learn their craft well. Many students in foreign countries have learned to appreciate their library, after it was destroyed. Let us pause—and do that now, and in doing so honor its builder.

Dr. Yost's life was one of service to others. Librarianship was only one facet of a busy and useful life. He served, among other things, in the ministry of the church, in the civic life of the community, in the Masonic fraternity, as faculty member and counselor, and as an important member of the Board of Directors of the College. It is meet, now, to pay tribute to a friend, to one who was proud to be a servant, — and to say "Ave atque vale".

RODEO OR RANGE— TOP-HANDS AGREE: "THERE'S NOTHING LIKE A CAMEL"

GRAND CHAMPION ALL-ROUND COWBOY FRITZ TRUAN also has a Saddle Bronc title to his credit. Wherever the riding is the roughest . . . you'll find Fritz in action—and, if not riding, he'll probably be enjoying a Camel (above). "Camels are extra mild. I've smoked 'em for 10 years," says Fritz.

"AFTER A REAL TOUGH RIDE, believe me, nothing hits the spot like a Camel," says Steer-Riding Champion Gene Rambo (below). "That full, rich flavor is great—and no matter how much I smoke, Camels always taste swell. What's more, the extra smoking in Camels is mighty welcome economy."

"LESS NICOTINE in the smoke makes good horse sense to me," explains Bareback Bronc ace Hank Mills (left). "Camels have the mildness that counts. They've got the flavor, too." Everywhere you go, it's the same—for extra mildness, coolness, and flavor, there's nothing like a Camel—America's favorite.

The smoke of slower-burning Camels contains 28% LESS NICOTINE than the average of the 4 other largest-selling cigarettes tested—less than any of them—according to independent scientific tests of the smoke itself!

College Chemists Urged To Make Application For Government Posts

War demands have created unusual opportunities for technically trained persons in Federal employment. The United States Civil Service Commission is now seeking Junior Chemists to perform research, investigative, or other work in some branch of Chemistry. The positions pay $2,000 a year. No written test is required. Applicants' qualifications will be judged from their experience, education and training.

Women especially are urged to apply. The Navy yards, arsenals and other Government laboratories, it is reported, are now employing women in chemical work. Completion of a 4-year course in a recognized college with 30 semester hours in chemistry is required, although senior students who will complete the required course within 4 months of the date of filing application may apply. No experience is required, although preference in appointment may be given to applicants showing experience in chemical or related work.

There are no age limits for this examination. Applications must be filed with the Civil Service Commission, Washington, D. C., and will be accepted until the needs of the service have been met.

Application forms and further information regarding this and other opportunities open to chemists in the Federal Government may be obtained at first and second Class post offices throughout the country.

TKA To Send Four Delegates To Conference at Albright

Next Friday and Saturday, April 17 and 18, members of Tau Kappa, Alpha, the honorary debating fraternity, will take part in a state T.K.A. convention to be held at Albright College in Reading. The Ursinus students who will attend the conference are Denton Herber '42, Marion Byron '42, Joyce Lownes '42, and Elwood Heller '43. Dr. Elizabeth B. White, the women's debate coach, and Dr. Harvey L. Carter, who coaches the men, will also be present.

Herber and Miss Lownes will participate in the debate contest while Miss Byron will enter the after-dinner speaking contest. It is hoped by the members of T.K.A. that this conference will take place on the Ursinus campus next year.

This evening at 8 p. m. the Men's Debating Club will meet in the reception room of Freeland Hall. New officers will be elected for next year.

Council on Activities Requests Student Groups to Reorganize

The Council on Student Activities, which met on Monday evening, April 6, has requested that all student activities reorganize immediately for the coming year. All officers should be elected and plans for reorganization should be completed by Monday evening, May 4. At this time the Council on Student Activities will complete the program by its own reorganization.

It was also decided to close Rec Hall for the remainder of the term due to its conflicting with the sports program now in operation.

Pre-Medders Hear Dr. Appleton Speak On Oral Hygiene

SOCIETY ELECTS HUNSICKER NEXT YEAR'S PREXY

Dr. J. L. T. Appleton, in speaking before the James M. Anders Pre-Medical Society last Tuesday evening, showed clearly the importance of the mouth as an aid in the spread of respiratory disease and as an indicator of general body health. As far back as the first decade of this century, Sir William Osler, then requis professor of medicine at Oxford University, stated that there was more harm done to society by dental disease than by the inhibition of alcoholic beverages.

To prove that the need for dentists and oral hygienists is much greater than the popular demand, Dr. Appleton pointed out that dental defects were the largest single cause for rejections from the draft under the present Selective Service Act. According to recent statistics, a mere 20 percent of our population attend the dentist regularly.

Nurse Describes Opportunities For Women in Medical Field

"The greatest need in the nursing field today is for emergency nurses to care for the soldiers and sailors in our armed forces." This statement was the highlight of the talk by Miss Ethel Hopkins, R. N., to the women of the College last Thursday afternoon in the Science Building Auditorium.

Miss Hopkins, who is the educational director at Jefferson Hospital in Philadelphia, went on to explain the new phases to which the nursing profession must adjust its plans during wartime. The government has asked for fifty thousand and student nurses to be enrolled this year, and the Red Cross needs ten thousand additional nurses to care for military and public health. She also discussed admission qualifications to the accredited nursing schools of the country and answered questions concerning all branches of her profession.

An additional feature of the meeting was a film entitled "Nurses in the Making". It portrayed the life of the nurse from entrance to graduation, and was filmed at the New York Hospital School of Nursing.

SOCIETY NOTES

Beta Sigma Lambda fraternity entertained its guests at a doggie roast last Monday. The members of the party hiked to Lost Lake where games, singing, and eating helped to pass a pleasant evening. Professor Maurice O. Bone and his wife were the chaperons.

A diamond is now sparkling on the left hand of Clamer's Ruth Heinkel '42. She is engaged to Frank Bowen of Haddonfield, N. J., who is the brother of Charles Bowen '41.

Lynnewood Hall will entertain the women of the College at its annual Lantern Party on Wednesday, April 15, from 8:30 to 10:30.

The Tau Sigma Gamma sorority plans to spend the weekend of April 17-18 at the home of Dr. and Mrs. John Mauchly, the sorority sponsors. The weekend is planned as a farewell gesture by the Mauchly's to the members of the sorority. The former physicist professor and his wife have resigned their sponsorship as they are moving from this area.

NAVY ANNOUNCEMENT TO COLLEGE FRESHMEN AND SOPHOMORES 17 THRU 19

You want to serve your country!
Why not serve where your college training will do the most good?

Under the Navy's newest plan, you can enlist now and continue in college. If you make a good record, you may qualify within two years to become a Naval Officer—on the sea or in the air.

Who may qualify

80,000 men per year will be accepted under this new plan. If you are between the ages of 17 and 19 inclusive and can meet Navy physical standards, you can enlist now as an Apprentice Seaman in the Naval Reserve. You will be in the Navy. But until you have finished two calendar years, you will remain in college, taking regular college courses under your own professors. Your studies will emphasize mathematics, physics and physical training.

After you have successfully completed 1½ calendar years of work, you will be given a written examination prepared by the Navy. This examination is competitive. It is designed to select the best men for training as Naval Officers.

How to become an Officer

If you rank sufficiently high in the examination and can meet the physical standards, you will have your choice of two courses—each leading to an officer's commission:

1. You may volunteer for training as an Aviation Officer. In this case you will be permitted to finish at least the second calendar year of your college work, after which you will be ordered to active duty for training to become an officer-pilot. Approximately 20,000 men a year will be accepted for Naval Aviation.

2. Or you will be selected for training as a Deck or Engineering Officer. In this case you will be allowed to continue your college work until you have received your degree.

After graduation you will be ordered to active duty for training to become a Deck or Engineering Officer. Approximately 15,000 men a year will be accepted.

If you do not qualify for special officer's training, you will be allowed to finish the second calendar year of college, after which you will be ordered to active duty at a Naval Training Station as Apprentice Seaman.

Those who fail to pass their college work at any time may be ordered to active duty at once as Apprentice Seamen.

Your pay starts with active duty.

Here's a real opportunity. A chance to enlist in your country's service now without giving up your college training... a chance to prove by that same training that you are qualified to be an officer in the Navy.

DON'T WAIT... ACT TODAY

ATHLETES OF THE WEEK

And the mighty Casey had struck out! Likewise did 14 powerful Red Sox go the way of all flesh as veteran southpaw John Rorer pitched his way to intramural fame

The Sox were scalped in order, with so much fanning that one of the closer spectators is down with pneumonia. Then the fifteenth man managed to pole a blooper which made the crowd moan and turned Johnny Rorer's perfect game a little green—only to have brother Tom nip him stealing second.

On the next day pilot Tom Rorer salted away 12 Browns via the strikeout route. As a result of this amazing twirling, the Yankees stretched their league lead to four games.

Because of their singular exhibitions, the Rorers have duly earned the title of—Athletes of the Week!

Yanks Beat Sox And Top Browns For Fourth Win

John and Tom Rorer Take Turns Hurling Unbeaten Nine To Twin Wins

Behind the sensational twirling of the Rorer twins, Johnny and Tommy, the Yankees continued their drive for the baseball championship last week, trouncing the Red Sox 6-0 and nosing out the Browns 2-1 on Monday and Tuesday, while the Tigers dropped an error-filled contest to the Indians 8-1 and then walloped the Red Sox 16-12.

Starting off the week's activities on Monday afternoon, the Indians swamped the Tigers 8 to 1 as a result of several errors and some timely heavy hitting. The winners scored three in the second frame and three in the seventh for half a dozen of their runs, while captain McFarland's double and Wood's two-bagger drove in the lone run for the Tigers in the fourth. Ross pitched for the Indians and McFarland twirled for the Tigers.

Johnny Rorer turned in the most amazing feat of the week by fanning fourteen men in five innings to hurl the pace-setting Yanks to a 6-0 triumph over the Red Sox on Monday night. The only other out was made by a toss from Tommy Rorer which caught Albie Tkacz trying to steal second. The Yanks were leading 2-0 at the start of the final stanza, when pitcher Joe Irvin walked in one run with the bases loaded, and everyone scored on an overthrow to first base by catcher Tom Henry, making the final count 6-0.

Tommy Rorer took a turn on the mound Tuesday against captain Spohn's Browns and struck out 12 men in the five innings, nearly equalling his brother's record, while his teammates eeked out a 2-1 win. Fred Tomafsky led the Yankee attack with two solid base hits off pitcher Lou Meyers.

The most exciting and the screwiest hitting and fielding ball game of the week took place on Wednesday, when the Tigers blasted the Red Sox in a six-inning game that was finally called by darkness after 28 runs were scored. The Tigers got the better of the hitter's paradise by crossing the plate sixteen times.

Although he was hit freely, Doug Crone pitched the entire game for the Tigers and was accredited with the victory.

WEEKLY SPORTS

Stevens Fetes Varsity Matmen

On Saturday evening, Mister Peter P. Stevens, head coach, entertained members of the varsity wrestling group at his home in Conshohocken, Pennsylvania, a traditional function which has been held annually since the mat sport assumed a major role in Ursinus athletics.

Accepting Mr. Stevens' invitation to dinner, were such eminent gentlemen as Messieurs D. Stamm, W. Hunt, R. Arnold, A. Wells, E. Maykut, S. Green, J. Tropp, and manager D. Crone. Those assembled remained after the banquet, which featured imported Italian spaghetti, to take part in a serious discussion led by Mr. Stevens and to imbibe of their favorite beverage as refreshment.

Actually, Pete threw a swell blow-out for the grapplers, treating them as royally as he did throughout the regular season. Everyone had a great time, and the affair was a fitting close to a year, which, although featuring few outstanding victories, was never lacking in fun for the boys who groaned on the mat, always to have Pete cheer them up with an encouraging word, win or lose.

Hiking and Golfing Programs Hit Stride

Hiking students under the leadership of Fred Becker are finally getting an opportunity to observe the wild life of the surrounding countryside, and at the same time to develop the muscles and sinews, as the hiking schedule begins to run at full tilt.

At the present time, the ardent hikers go on three five-mile cross country treks every Monday and Wednesday evenings immediately after dinner. This enables them to take advantage of the lengthening daylight.

Meanwhile, Pete Stevens, sponsor of the intramural golf program, states that he plans to give his boys the opportunity to play on the golf course at Meadowbrook, located near Phoenixville, where he will be able to determine each boy's ability and handicaps.

The last few weeks he has been trying to teach his proteges the fundamentals of golf on the temporary driving range set up on the campus.

Girls' Intramurals Off to Fast Start

The extensive girls' intramural sports program is well under way, with badminton, archery, golf, and softball highlighting the spring activities.

Every afternoon from 1 to 4 finds girls out on the greens behind the tennis courts swinging golf clubs under the direction of Pete Stevens, trying to pick up the fine points of the links game. There will be a special tournament arranged after the daily practice sessions are over.

Archery practice is held at four o'clock every Monday and Thursday afternoon, and the gym is open at 4 p. m. each Monday for all those girls interested in learning or playing badminton.

Although intramural softball practices have not begun yet, plans are being made so that various class teams may swing into action this week. There may be an inter-collegiate softball team organized to represent Ursinus in several games with the varsity squads of other nearby schools.

Tennis instruction is also available on the courts for coeds who wish to learn or to participate in that phase of the extensive sports-for-all program on campus.

There are enough activities going on for every girl to find at least one that interests her, and everyone is urged to take part in the Ursinus intramural setup.

Phils Trip Pirates, 10-6, To Take Over League Lead

Captain Bob Heckman's Fast-Fielding Softball Sluggers Break 6-6 Tie with Four Runs in Last Frame To Clinch Win For Biscotte

SECOND-PLACE PIRATES TOP CUBS, DODGERS RANK THIRD

In a wild and woolly week of sloppy fielding and free-scoring slugfests, captain Bob Heckman's fast-moving Phillies broke a last inning 6-6 deadlock to outscore the second-place Pirates 10 to 6 on Monday and take over undisputed leadership of the red-hot softball league. The third-place Dodgers, who came from behind to knock off the Giants 7-5 on Tuesday, were to play the Phillies on Thursday, but ole Jupe Pluvius halted proceedings. Meanwhile, every other team in the race split even except the lowly Cubs who dropped two straight tilts to sink to a tie for last place.

On Monday the Phillies downed the Pirates to the tune of 10-6 in a real thriller. Starting the game with a bang, the victors garnered three runs in the initial inning; another was added in the third when captain Heckman slammed his second homerun. Nick Biscotte pitched shutout ball for the champs until the fifth frame when the Pirates dented the plate with three runs and then registered three more in the sixth. With the score at 6-6 at the start of the final stanza, the Phillies slammed out four counters to clinch the victory.

Bunching five hits and two errors for six tallies in the first inning and contributing two more on a blow by Ditter and Bud Bayne's homer in the second, the Cards went out in front 8-0 and maintained their impressive lead to trample the Cubs 11-7 in a free-hitting tilt the same night. Keagle pitched for the winners and Zeigler was the loser.

Tuesday saw the Dodgers come up from behind to take the Giants by a 7-5 score. In the first frame, the Giants nicked Andy Souerwine for four counters. Entering the fifth on the short end of a 5-1 score, the Dodgers finally came to life, scoring a pair of runs on Bob Rapp's bingle. Having blanked the Giants in their half of the sixth, the Dodgers needed two runs to tie the count. They got them and more when Parks tripled with the bags loaded and then scored himself. Keeping the opposition without a run in the final frame, the Dodgers walked away with a 7-5 verdict in their favor.

Avenging their earlier defeat at the hands of the Phillies, the Pirates battered out a 9-5 win over the Cubs on the same night. Not only did the Pirates hit hard and often, but their brilliant fielding cut off several Cub uprisings. The tilt was decided in the third inning when a walk, three singles, two doubles, and slugger Ed Maykut's triple resulted in four runs for the winners.

On Wednesday the Giants came back from their defeat by the Dodgers on the previous day to shellack the Cards 11-1. The Giants gained an early lead, scoring three runs on McElhinney's homer in the first inning, and went on to an easy victory.

Men Primed For Tennis Tourney And Track Meet

Cinders have been flying these last few weeks as Coach Ken Hashagen's proteges develop into conditioned track men. The students in the intramural track program have been busily engaged in extensive calisthenics and jogging and striding exercises.

Coach Hashagen has announced that, starting next week, mass drills will be discontinued and the conditioned athletes will warm up individually and head for instruction in their respective track events.

Former varsity men acting as assistants in instruction are Paul Detwiler, sprinting, running, broad jump; Ralph Mendenhall, running broad jump and high jump; Frank Pierce, hurdles and running broad jump; Elwood Shropshire, javelin and discuss throwing; Russ Huckel, high jump; Evan Morrow, shotput, and Doc Brown, pole vaulting.

An intra-squad track meet starting about May 1 has been planned as a climax to the training program. Since the track men have signed up for at least one and not more than three events, active competition may be expected.

The thwang of tennis racquets and the appearance of netmen in white announced the early start of the first intra-mural tennis program. Over fifty anxious men reported for the court sport and are developing rapidly under the able instruction of director Dr. Tyson, assisted by Frank Hyatt, Jim Zeigler, Leroy Earle, Ed McCausland, and Ed Man.

Instructors have reported that several of the freshmen have shown unusual ability and with careful supervision may develop into accomplished racqueteers.

The past few weeks have been spent in the presentation of fundamentals, but extensive plans have been made for a huge intramural tournament to be held in the near future. Those men who are at present engaged in the regular program will be eligible for participation in the tourney.

NAT HOGELAND, ALLIE DOUGHERTY END CAREERS IN BLAZE OF GLORY

Earning three varsity letters a year ever since they came to Ursinus, seniors Alice Dougherty and Natalie Hogeland are going to leave women's athletic shoes that will be difficult to fill next year, and it's no wonder coaches Snell and Clafin expect to miss Nat and Allie.

Nat, who hails from Blue Bell, Pa. and calls South Hall her Collegeville home, has been a leading offensive player both in hockey and basketball. Holding a post on all-college second teams in these two sports, Nat captained this season's swishers to a successful record marred by only one defeat. Modest and unassuming, Nat is a real campus leader — president of the Women's Athletic Association and active in all Physical Education functions.

At her fullback position on the hockey team, Allie proved as dependable a captain for the stick-wielders as she did a pivot-artist on the girls' court sextet. Although she came from Haddonfield High School as a guard, Allie became a forward in her junior year at college, setting up plays and perfecting her boy-style shots like an old-timer. This product of Glenwood heads the Phys. Ed. Club and, like Nat, is a member of the Phi Alpha Psi Sorority.

On the tennis varsity, both of these seniors have played doubles since their first spring at Ursinus. Always boosting activities for girls, Nat and Allie have played pitcher and first base respectively on their class softball team, while this year they plan to play on Ursinus' first softball varsity.

Bob Ihrie Looks 'Em Over

Jupe Pluvius seems to be the only one that can stop the Phillies in the red-hot softball league.

Tom-John Rorer and the Yanks should swoop to victory, with the other clubs scrambling to make the best of what is left.

Quoting Jing, who umped the Yanks-Red Sox game in which Johnny struck out 14 of 15 men, "I'm getting cockeyed from looking at so many curves" And he didn't mean the spectators.

For an added attraction, get a ring-side seat at one of the Jones-Kilcullen wrestling matches, during any baseball game.

The interscholastic track meet is coming up on May 2.

Cornell will open its 1942 football season with Hooks Mylin's Lafayette Leopards at Ithaca.

Larry McMains, assistant to Halas, is rumored in for the head coaching job at Drexel; Glen Harmeson was ousted from Lehigh last week; Art Kahler quit Dickinson for the Navy a week ago today.

Rutgers, Lafayette and Lehigh, the Middle Three, repealed the no-frosh eligibility ruling recently.

Drexel's baseball team knocked off Penn 8-1 for the first time in history.

The 'Berg squad looks like a who's who in basketball and football.

Now that the din has barely died down following Lower Merion's second straight state basketball championship, rooters are predicting a third term for Bill Anderson and his quintet. Who do they think that guy is — Roosevelt?

The Lower Merion schoolboys played not only the semi-finals but also the finals in the Penn palestra, which had already become a good substitute for their home floor. Why not take out a 99 year lease on the place?

Perry Lewis' bust-off that war makes athletes at college rougher and tougher because of the psychological factor is all right with us as long as there are some athletes left.

Tomorrow President Roosevelt will try out his wing at the opening game of the big league season between the Yanks and the Senators.

Pottstown High's state champs are sure bowling 'em over right and left on alleys all over the countryside.

The Derr demons, cocky because of their 27-4 victory over the championship senior girls, challenge all comers to a volley ball game, any time but Saturday.

Congrats to Allie Dougherty and Nat Hogeland for some truly great basketball and hockey performances throughout the year, ending their college careers in a blaze of glory. And don't forget jayvee captain Rusty Hoagland, who will also be graduated in May.

Can't understand why those girls go on winning year in and year out, as if we weren't in an athletic depression. Look at the crop of coeds coming up from this season's jayvee basketball squad: Kirlin, Umstad, Klein, Halbruegge, Brickner, Bradway, Dowd and Hudson!

Stevens' blowout for the grapplers, featuring spaghetti and the favorite beverage, was a real lulu.

Pete the Bald won't have to worry about the average term of Philadelphia and vicinity coaches being only three and a half seasons; if the dean and the armed forces keep driving, he'll be a girl's gym teacher next year.

Fatty Bob Heckman's imitation of fatty Freddie Fitzsimmon's knuckle ball delivery is a real pip-eroo.

PRE-MED

The science of dentistry is a practical one, and, as such, is built on a tripod: (1) the maintenance of, and restoration to health of one part of the body in terms of the rest of the body; (2) the possession and use of mechanical sense and manipulative skill; (3) an aesthetic sense of appreciation complying with man's ideas of facial beauty.

Digressing somewhat from the subject of dentistry, Dr. Appleton spoke highly on air-borne infections. Wounds under treatment in surgical wards are subject to air-borne infection whenever the aseptic technique is interrupted. In the middle 1800's Lister of England tried to combat this type of infection by spraying the air with carbolic acid, but doctors and patients alike found it difficult to breathe in such an atmosphere. Curtains of ultra-violet light are now used to arrest air-borne infection incurred by open wounds.

Many respiratory diseases (diphtheria, common cold, pneumonia) are air-borne infections, being spread by ejections from oral and nasal cavities. An experiment was carried out recently at the University of Pennsylvania School of Dentistry in which samples of an easily recognized bacillus were sprayed into oral and nasal cavities in an attempt to discover the relative potency of these cavities in spreading infection. After many sneezes the experiment showed conclusively that the mouth is by far the more effective of the two cavities as an agent of contagion.

Following the talk, a short business meeting was held at which time Llewellyn Hunsicker '43, and Emily Wagner '43, were elected to the offices of president and secretary-treasurer, respectively, of the society for the ensuing year.
