Al Hutchinson '42, chairman of the Interfraternity - Intersorority Dance Committee, announced today that Fred Wrigley's Orchestra will furnish the music for the annual dance, which will be held this Friday evening in the Thompson-Gay Gymnasium.

A motif of black and white emblems of the various fraternities and sororities is planned to transform the gym into a gala ballroom for the occasion. Dancing will begin at 8:00 p. m. and last until 12:00 p. m. The price of admission will be $1.50 per couple.

Ursinus Representatives Attend IRC Conference

Joyce Lownes '42, Marion Byron '42, and about 300 delegates from 63 colleges attended the Middle Atlantic Conference of International Relations Clubs held in Washington, D. C., on Friday and Saturday, December 20 and 21, sponsored by the Carnegie Endowment for International Peace and by Georgetown University.

On Friday the after-luncheon speaker was Dr. Josef L. Kunz, an international lawyer, who spoke on "The Present International Situation". After the banquet that night Dr. Lewis Hanke, an authority on Latin America, addressed the group on "The Present Status of Our Relations with Latin America". Dr. Edmund A. Walsh, S. J., Vice-President of Georgetown University, spoke after Saturday's luncheon on the topic, "The Function of Education in a Democracy".

The delegates participated in round table discussions on four major themes: "The European Theatre of War", "Our Neighbors to the South", "The New Order for Asia If Japan Wins", and "Democracy".

Dressler Talks to Pre-Meds On "Mechanics of Disease"

Making his second campus appearance of the year before the meeting of the James M. Anders Pre-Medical Society, Dr. Otterbein Dressler presented an illustrated lecture on "Mechanical Principles Underlying Disease" on January 7 in the Science Building Auditorium.

Slides illustrating actual medical cases were shown. Most of the lecture was confined to a discussion of diseases of the abdominal region.

Dr. Dressler is at present Professor of Pathology at the Philadelphia College of Osteopathy and has lectured here in former years. Accompanying him was Dr. Schaterle, Dean of Admissions of the College. Dr. Schaterle brought with him some literature about the school and talked privately with all those interested in the field.

Check Room for Friday!

The Women's Student Government Association will sponsor a plan for a checking room at College dances to avoid congestion at dances in the future. The plan is to be inaugurated at the Inter-Fraternity-Sorority Ball this Friday evening in the gymnasium.

Leroy Earle '42, and Donald Johnson '43, will be in charge of the room this week. The room is to the left of the main entrance to the gymnasium in Coach Eleanor Snell's office.

Four members of the faculty spent part of their holiday vacations at various conventions which had to do with their particular fields of study.

Dr. John W. Mauchly attended three meetings held in connection with the Philadelphia convention of the American Association for the Advancement of Sciences. They were the conclaves of the American Physical Society, the American Meteorological Society, and the American Physics Teachers Association.

He read a paper before the American Physical Society on the results he has gathered in his study of weather statistics. He told the group that he had found in his study of United States precipitation that rainfall returns in approximately twenty-seven day intervals.

Dr. Harvey L. Carter was present at the convention of the American Historical Association in New York City.

Attending the American Political Science Convention in Chicago, Dr. Eugene Miller acted as secretary for the Far East section.

In a different field, Dr. Carl V. Tower participated in the American Philosophical Association Convention, which was held in Philadelphia.

Phoenixville Minister Tells Brotherhood of 'Chosen' Races

The Rev. Imre Kovacs, pastor of the Hungarian Reformed Church of Phoenixville, spoke about conditions in Central Europe at the regular monthly meeting of the Brotherhood of St. Paul. The meeting was held last Monday evening at the home of Dr. Russell D. Sturgis.

The speaker placed the blame for the present contention in Central Europe on the fact that each race thinks it is the chosen race. "This country should take bread and the Bible to Europe instead of guns and men", said Mr. Kovacs.

Several student members took part in the service preceding the talk: Willard Lutz '44, played a piano prelude; Newton Hudson '44, read the lesson; and Richard Gay '42, offered the prayer.

Temple Home Economics Head Tells of Egyptian Home Life

Miss Grace Nadig, head of Home Economics at Temple University, spoke on "Home Life in Egypt" at the regular monthly meeting of the Perkiomen Branch of the A. A. U. W. last Wednesday evening in Bomberger Hall.

Miss Nadig spent a number of years in Egypt working with the women—especially those of the middle class—to improve home conditions. After living with and studying the people and their home life, she started a school of Home Economics in Egypt to carry on the work she had begun.

Miss Nadig told of the typical home duties in Egypt. In such an environment Miss Nadig worked and aided the people of Egypt to have more healthful and more convenient home conditions.

Stevens Injured During the Vacation As Car Overtakes

Mr. Peter Stevens, varsity wrestling mentor and line coach of the football squad, received a fractured wrist during the Christmas vacation in an automobile accident.

When a car, owned by Clem Stevens, younger brother of the coach and a former star back on Temple's gridiron machine, was struck by a speeding car that failed to halt at an intersection, Stevens' car was overturned and completely demolished. The only major injury to the occupants was "Pete's" fractured wrist.

All applications for Varsity Club loans must be sent in writing to President Nat Johnson '41, before January 20th. Seniors who have been members of the Varsity Club prior to the fourth year in college, are eligible candidates for these loans.

Blum, Herber Speak in National TKA Contest

Charles Blum '41, Denton Herber '42, and Dr. Harvey L. Carter represented the Ursinus Chapter of Tau Kappa Alpha at the Second National Discussion Conference held at Washington, D. C., December 30 to January 2.

Sixty-six contestants from seventeen different colleges throughout the country participated in the progression discussion contest on the theme, "What should be the policy of the United States in relation to the other countries of the Western Hemisphere as regards defense against aggression?"

Judged by speech critics who evaluated their efforts on the point system, fourteen of the contestants amassed more than the 410 points necessary to qualify for a plaque. Blum's 385 points and Herber's 383, while falling short of winning Ursinus any special recognition, rated places in the upper third among the contestants. John Metzger of Muhlenberg College, in placing third, was the only entry from this district to take special honors.

Two highlights of the Conference were a talk by Oswald Ryan, founder of T.K.A. and a member at present of the Civil Aeronautics Board, and the awarding of an honorary membership to Frank Knox, Secretary of the Navy.

The active chapter of the College asks that the Weekly tender an expression of thanks to all the T.K.A. alumni and friends who by their contributions made the participation in the Washington conference possible.

Bears Take Lebanon Valley, G-Burg in Thrilling Openers

By Garnet Adams '42

Lebanon Valley Falls, 28-26

Gettysburg Score, 30-29

In a slugging-good game typical of the days when ten men were placed in a cage with a ball and a referee to go to it, the Bears of Coach Ken Hashagen opened the season by defeating the Flying Dutchmen of Lebanon Valley 28-26 last Wednesday on the home court.

As an exhibition of basketball the game was next to a failure, but as a show it left nothing to be desired. Fists flew in all directions on several occasions in the last half when both teams fighting furiously left their fight get the best of them.

MacMahon Sinks Winning Goal

Acting Captain "Shmoke" MacMahon proved to be the man of the night for the Bears as he passed, scored, and directed his team to a well-earned victory. It was Mac who grabbed the ball with only seconds remaining and dribbled the length of the floor through a maze of players to break the tie and win the game for the Bears.

Lebanon Valley Has Tight Defense

The first half of the game was a rather drab affair with first game nervousness showing rather prominently on the part of the Bears, who time and time again missed easy lay-up shots. A tight zone defense which Hash's men could not penetrate held the scoring down to a minimum and only some excellent long shooting on the part of Grosbeck and MacMahon kept the Bears ahead of their rivals. The first half ended with the score 13-12 in favor of Ursinus.

In the second half both teams put on a better exhibition of basketball until the final quarter when the melees broke out. The score stood at 26 to 24 in favor of the Bears with only seconds remaining when Mease punctured the hoop with a one-handed side shot to tie up the game. It was at this point that MacMahon took the ball on the throw-in and went on his journey down the floor that ended with a field goal and a 28 to 26 victory for Ursinus.

"Al" Hutchinson who was assigned the task of guarding Mease, the league's high scorer last year, was successful in keeping him in check, while the work of substitutes Zeigler and Augustine was also instrumental in the victory.

Newman Club To Consider Labor Strife, Conscription

The Newman Club, organization of Catholic students on campus, will discuss the place of religion in industrial disputes and in the matter of conscription at its meeting to be held Wednesday evening, January 15, at 8:00 p. m. The Rectory of St. Eleanor's Church will be the place of meeting at which Father F. X. O'Neill will lead the informal discussion.

The girls of the club are making arrangements to visit the Villanova campus in the near future.

Michael on School Survey

Professor Eugene Michael has been appointed by the Commission on Secondary Schools of the Middle States Association to serve as a member of a visiting committee which will make a survey of the entire school system of Upper Merion Township High School on January 13 and 14.

The purpose of the survey will be to evaluate the school and to discuss the possibilities of this high school's becoming an accredited secondary school. The committee, consisting of nine educators, will be headed by Miss Emma Christian, principal of Norristown High School.

With the help of a very aggressive second team that wouldn't be beaten, Coach Ken Hashagen's Grizzlies issued a note of warning to league contenders by defeating a strong Gettysburg team, 30-29, in a game that saw no end to thrills and frills.

This was the first defeat for the Bullets who previously had defeated the powerful Albright team; while the game marked the second victory in as many starts for Hashagen's clan.

The fighting combination of Garlock, Zeigler, Biery, Wadsworth, and Augustine, who entered near the close of the first quarter, transformed the game from a listless affair into a ball game. During the first quarter the Bullets held sway, passing the Grizzlies into submission and, with the help of some long set-shots, taking an early 11-4 lead. Here Hash used some clever strategy in substituting a new squad to use a zone defense.

The Bullets never recovered from their confusion. The Bears gradually cut down the lead to 21-24 at the end of the third quarter. Here the first team, including high-scorer Jim Zeigler went to work.

Successive field goals by Al Hutchinson and Dave Jacobs brought the count to 25-24 for the Bears who never lost the lead after that. A minute remaining, "Frank Merriwell" MacMahon cashed in on a pivot shot to put the Bears two points ahead, 29-27. Hutchinson garnered another point via the foul way which offset the field goal Gettysburg's Falkler scored in the final ten seconds.

For the Bears the work of substitutes Zeigler, Garlock, and Augustine stood out along with the steadiness of veterans Hutchinson and MacMahon, who held the team together in the hectic last minutes.

Lawyer Tells Haines Society Of Difficulties in Political Life

There is positively no chance for young college graduates to make a career of politics today. This is the opinion stated by Robert Truckess, Esquire, a graduate of Ursinus who is practicing law in Norristown, at a meeting of the Haines Political Society in Bomberger Hall last Tuesday evening.

The local political scene is completely dominated by the "ward heeler", and the educated man has no chance. But, Mr. Truckess added, the political aspirant should enter some useful profession and if the political wind blows his way, he should throw out his sails and let it carry him along.

To Beardwood Society

A very important business meeting of the Beardwood Chemical Society will be held tonight after dinner in Room 3 in Bomberger. All members are urged to attend.

Without the Sword of Damocles

Several times in the past a discussion in favor of the Honor System has been raised among the students of Ursinus. It is not my purpose to propose such a system but rather to suggest the possible advantages our present system could have over this.

The Honor System as I understand it has great possibilities, but in most institutions it eventually becomes a sword of Damocles over the heads of the students. One's own honesty may seem a very easy thing to carry out, but the idea of reporting anyone else who is seen giving or receiving aid is a task which most students would rather not assume. The presence of a professor in the room shifts the rather unpleasant duty to his shoulders and leaves the student to be concerned with himself alone.

The plea "You're only hurting yourself" is one which might be given to high school students; but, although the basic idea may be true, college students cannot be approached in this manner. There is no real approach that is acceptable to college students but the student's own realization of his responsibility. The Honor System, though it purports to be the problem of the individual, in reality is a forced system involving the group. Our system has all the possibilities of an Honor System without the painful and embarrassing duty of reporting fellow classmates.

Here is no attempt at moralizing the issue but merely an appeal to the intelligent student to accept his responsibility for his own work. The possibilities latent in our system can be materialized as the individual student contributes his share towards its success.

The Commentator

IF WE BELIEVE THEIR WORDS

As I write, the President of the United States has just finished his latest fireside chat to the Nation. He has stated his stand on national defense and aid to Great Britain. I accept his words in good faith; therefore, I feel that the issue is now clear. Most national figures in American foreign policy are working for an all-out aid to Britain, but definitely short of war. Our own war machine, now in the making, is for nothing but defense of our country if attacked. This was not an issue between Mr. Roosevelt and Mr. Willkie. It is not an issue between the two major parties now. I believe that a full ninety per cent of our people are rallied behind this idea.

For a long time many people have feared and mistrusted the movement headed by William Allen White. I have heard this committee of the long and unwieldy name called "White's Committee to Get Us Into the War". We may have to re-vamp our opinion of Mr. White now. The other day he said that he opposes leasing of war supplies to Britain and the repeal of the Johnson Act. Why? Because that would mean war, and Mr. White says "The Yanks are not coming". I accept his words in good faith; therefore, I feel that the issue is clear there. Mr. White would give all safe and reasonable aid to Britain. He would not lead us to war.

In Congress and among the people are many who answer to the new cuss word "isolationist". Senators Wheeler, Taft, Vandenberg, Johnson, Tydings, and others; representatives like Hamilton Fish; out of Congress men like Hugh Johnson, Lindbergh, Ford, Joe Kennedy, and Verne Marshall. These men, I firmly believe, fear more extensive aid to Britain and much of our own defense program for only one reason: they fear its implications of war. When these men lose that fear, there will be no dilly-dallying, no acrimonious debate. They will unite behind aid to Britain and will devote themselves unselfishly to the defense of our own shores. They need to have removed only the fear of an aggressive war. That fear has been removed in a large measure if our leaders have spoken from their hearts.

These groups represent, I think, the ninety per cent of the American people I mentioned earlier. Still to be accounted for are confirmed pacifists, confirmed interventionists, and confirmed non-Americans. The pacifists fit into the program. They will do their share in a peaceful way to defend their country. Interventionists of the type of Sturgis Ingersoll want, in their own words, nothing more than "an immediate declaration of war against Germany". I think this group is still small. I pray to God that it is as small as I think. But they should have every freedom to speak and write their views that this free democracy accords. They should not be the victims of name-calling any more than should non-interventionists be so treated. There is room in this nation of ours for such difference of opinion. But for confirmed non-Americans there is no room. They must be curbed in harsh but American fashion.

If the issue has presented itself as I hope it has, if all can aid Britain who feel the justice of her cause, if all can prepare to defend the land they love, without fear of those instinctive acts involving them in a war they would shun, then America is ready to unite and do this job. I think most of us are now ready to accept plain truths plainly spoken. I think, too, that we can now forget much of past deceit and our own distrust. May God grant that all words spoken in the past weeks were said in the good faith that I accept them. Then may all people in America believe those words and help to crack this bloody stalemate.

Stevens' Grapplers Fall Before Haverford, 33-3

The Ursinus grunt and groaners started their season at Haverford on Saturday with a decisive loss to the tune of 33-3 at the hands of a strong, well conditioned Haverford College team.

Frosh Open Season With Pair of Wins

The Ursinus junior varsity basketball squad got off to a flying start in the 1940-1941 campaign with two wins last week, defeating the towering Lebanon Valley jayvees 41-34 here Wednesday night and trouncing the Girard College five 44-15 at Philadelphia Saturday afternoon in two convincing exhibitions of smooth ball-handling and classy teamwork.

Displaying championship form and polish, the starting jayvee quintet, led by sensational Barney Barab who tallied six points in six minutes, piled up a 14-2 first period count, holding Girard scoreless until the last ten seconds, and the second team went on to drop in thirty more points in the next three quarters and emerge victorious 44-15 on Saturday.

The little Bears spent the entire final period practicing cutting, weaving, and general floorwork, and only two baskets and a foul were scored.

Paced by the diminutive Rorer twins, Tom and John, who together accounted for sixteen points, and the floor play of Thorpe, Kuhn, and Barab, the Ursinus Frosh piled up an early lead and went on to take the measure of a giant Lebanon Valley quintet, 41-34, here Wednesday night.

The first half saw high scoring by Tommy Rorer and Barab, ending 22 to 10.

Girls Take St. John's In Pre-Season Tilt, 40-9

Making over 51 per cent of their shots count, the girls' basketball team defeated St. John's sextette 40-9 in a pre-season game on Tuesday, January 7.

With fourteen points to her credit, Nat Hogeland led the scoring. "Allie" Dougherty, who recently changed her position from varsity guard, made good 75 per cent of her tries at the basket, chalking up thirteen markers, as did Doris Harrington.

Action waxed fast in the first period, but the St. John forwards found the Ursinus defense too strong. With the ball in the hands of the home team most of the time, the winners were able to work their plays and score almost at random.

In the defensive posts, Blanche Schultz, Peg Keagle, Nancy Landis, Marion Bright, Jean Mathieu, and Glad Levengood held the visitors to nine points, while Rusty Hoagland, Mid Halbreugge, and Betty Kirlyn, were substitute forwards.

On Saturday morning a group of Ursinus girls, including "Bunny" Harshaw and "Squeaky" Von Kleeck from last year's team, took the Hill Sisters professional team, 25-16.

The whole trouble with Wednesday night was that Lebanon Valley sent down its boxing and rassing squads instead of the court team.

YES, the smoke's the thing! After all, you don't get anything from a cigarette until you've lighted it...until it's burning. And there is the secret of an advantage Camel smokers have enjoyed for years. For Camel's costlier tobaccos are slower-burning.

Slower-burning for more coolness and mildness—for Camels are free from the excess heat and irritating qualities of too-fast burning. Slower-burning for more flavor because slow burning preserves tobacco flavor and fragrance.

Now Science confirms still another advantage—less nicotine in the smoke—less than any of the four other largest-selling brands tested...28% less than the average!

Make Camels your steady smoke and enjoy all the advantages that only Camel's slower burning...costlier tobaccos can give—even economy (see left).
