Meeting Post To Direct Grads on Alumni Day

Plans for the annual Alumni Day feature of Commencement Weekend are well under way, according to recent statements by officers of the Alumni Association and the Ursinus Woman's Club. One innovation planned jointly by these two organizations, who are in charge of making arrangements for receiving alumni on campus, is the Alumni Meeting Post.

The Meeting Post will be a center for alumni to meet their classmates and friends. If the weather is good, it will be on the campus near Bomberger Hall. The two organizations sponsoring the Meeting Post will provide punch and light refreshments during the day for returning alumni.

Another feature of the Meeting Post will be a registration book arranged by classes, where all alumni can register and can quickly find out who of their friends have returned to Ursinus for the day.

The program for the annual dinner of the Alumni Association has also been changed. To shorten and enliven the occasion, there will be only one speaker instead of the three or four heard in previous years. The speaker this year will be Dr. Harold B. Kerschner '16, of Poughkeepsie, N. Y., a distinguished son of Ursinus who delivered the baccalaureate sermon at the 1939 Commencement.

Woody Leh and Orchestra Syncopate for May Hop

A slim gathering of seventy-six couples danced to the music of Woody Leh and his orchestra at the May Hop on Saturday evening, from 8 to 12, in the gymnasium. Leh's band, new to the Ursinus campus, was pleasing to all with its smooth rhythms in fast and slow tempo.

The Thompson-Gay Gymnasium, decorated for the occasion, presented a colorful appearance in a gay circus theme. Bright red and yellow streamers hung from the ceiling, large bunches of balloons were hung from the walls, and monkeys, pink elephants, and giraffes cavorted all over the gym. An innovation—pink lemonade and animal crackers—also served to enhance the circus atmosphere.

To Chairman Roy Wenhold '42, and his committee goes the credit for arranging this novel dance. The committee consisted of Lenore Berky '42, Alvan Brick '42, Robert Cooke '43, Janet MacNair '41, and Betty Power '43.

Tyson To Address Bear Athletes at Varsity Club Dinner

Dr. Levering Tyson, the president of Muhlenberg College, will be the principal speaker at the annual banquet of the Varsity Club to be held Tuesday evening at the Bungalow Inn, Jeffersonville.

Dr. Tyson is one of the key men in Muhlenberg's athletic policy, and he personally greets all varsity athletes when they play there.

President Tyson came to Muhlenberg in July, 1937, after vacating the post of director of the National Advisory Council of Radio in Education, a group he organized under Rockefeller and Carnegie auspices. Dr. Tyson graduated from Gettysburg College in 1910, and entered Columbia University where he received his master of arts degree the following year.

He renewed his association with Columbia in 1915 as managing editor of the Columbia Alumni News, after having served for three years as gazetteer editor of the New International Encyclopaedia. In 1920 he became editor-in-chief of the Columbia magazine and served from that year until 1930 as associate director of extension work at Columbia, and in that capacity organized and directed the university's home study division.

Dr. Tyson is a member of Phi Beta Kappa and of the Phi Delta Theta fraternities. He holds honorary law and literary degrees from Gettysburg, Lehigh, and Franklin and Marshall Colleges.

The Varsity Club will elect its officers for next year and will select the editor of next year's Grizzly Gridder following Dr. Tyson's address.

Plans Near Completion for Graduation Weekend Activities, June 6, 7, 8, and 9

Invitation To Revolution Is Vespers' Challenge

"I'd like to issue you an invitation—to revolution." This was the challenge issued by Mr. Roy McCorkel, former secretary of the Inter-Seminary Movement and now manager of the student cooperative at Swarthmore College, who spoke at the Ursinus Vespers last evening in Bomberger.

Mr. McCorkel presented to Ursinus students the task before real Christians today: "We live in a world that's wrong side up—turn it upside down. Christians today have become too complacent, too smug, too much satisfied with their religion; there is little comparison between the easy-going Christian of today and the active Christians of yesteryear", declared the speaker.

Too much Christianity has become bad religion: religion that is not respectable intellectually; religion that is socially irrelevant; religion that doesn't answer the fundamental questions we ask.

According to Mr. McCorkel, we should take our minds with us to church; it is our task to consider and try to remedy some of the great social needs of our time. "When compelled to think of reality, that is where genuine religion comes in", he said.

Mr. McCorkel concluded: "I extend an invitation to all of you to revolutionize—to become Christians by action as well as by confessions".

Debaters Hold Joint Banquet at Close of Year's Activity

Dr. Elizabeth B. White and Dr. Harvey L. Carter, professors of history, were the principal speakers at the annual banquet of the men's and women's debating clubs, which was held in the Upper Dining Room of Freeland Hall last Tuesday evening. Charles Blum '41, acted in the capacity of toastmaster.

Denton Herber '42, incoming president of the Men's Debating Club, was introduced to the members of the club by Joseph Dubuque '41, past president. Shirley Staples '41, retiring president of the Women's Debating Club introduced her successor, Joyce Lownes '42. Each made a few remarks.

Also in line for introduction and a few words of commendation from the toastmaster were those who are to be initiated into Tau Kappa Alpha during Commencement Weekend. The new members of the national honorary debating fraternity are Marion Byron '42, Martha Jane Evans '41, Jean Patterson '42, Marian Witmer '41, Joyce Lownes '42, William Ditter '43, Elwood Heller '43, Garfield Clark '43, John Rauhauser '41, Paul Wise '41, and Donald Melson '43.

Morris' Varied Program Scores Big Success As His Valedictory Concert

Playing a program of considerably varied interest, Frank Morris, student pianist of the College for the past four years, performed another, and probably his valedictory, recital last Wednesday evening in Bomberger Hall. He was assisted by Alan Parks, violinist, of Phoenixville.

The program was in three sections: the first part consisting of unfamiliar pieces made interesting by preceding each with a cleverly written personality sketch of the composer; the second part, of violin selections; and the third, of piano numbers more familiar to the audience. Throughout, the recital was pleasantly informal.

Morris opened the recital with a Bach two-part invention, played with a discrete handling of the pedal. Two Chopin numbers followed, the latter, the "Revolutionary Etude" had a brilliant left hand section. Reminiscent of Mendelssohn and Mozart, a single movement of a Beethoven "Sonata" was played next. The group closed with two moderns, Scriabin's "Poem" and Prokofiev's "Sar-

Commencement To Be Held Outdoors If Weather Permits

Charles Grove Haines '03, Ph.D., will deliver the address at the Seventy-first annual Ursinus Commencement on Monday, June 9, at 11:00 a. m. on the campus in front of Freeland Hall. Dr. Haines, a former member of the Ursinus faculty, is professor of political science at the University of California in Los Angeles.

The Commencement Week program opens with the annual Senior Class Luncheon in the Upper Dining Room of Freeland Hall on Friday, June 6, at 1:00 p. m. The Spring Operetta, "A Waltz Dream", by Oscar Straus, will be presented Friday evening at 8:30 p. m. in the Thompson-Gay Gymnasium by the Ursinus Music Department.

The annual meeting of the Board of Directors will be held in the faculty room of the library at 10:00 a. m. Saturday, June 7, and the Alumni Association will meet at 2:00 p. m. in Bomberger Chapel. From 4:00 to 6:00 p. m., President and Mrs. Norman E. McClure will entertain at an informal reception for members of the faculty, alumni, students, and guests in the library.

The Alumni Banquet is scheduled for 5:30 p. m. in the Upper Dining Room. The toastmaster for the occasion will be Dallas R. Krebs '02. Saturday night will see the second performance of the operetta.

The Reverend Charles F. Deininger, D.D., '15, pastor of the First Presbyterian Church, Glenolden, Pa., and father of Dorothea Deininger '41, will deliver the Baccalaureate Sermon on Sunday, June 8, at 10:45 a. m. in Bomberger. A concert of sacred music will be given by the music organizations of the College at 8:00 p. m. Sunday evening.

"Waltz Dream" by Straus Is Commencement Operetta

The work of Oscar Straus, and the talents of Dr. William F. Philip, and the Ursinus Musical Organizations will be combined on Friday and Saturday, June 6 and 7, to present the annual Commencement Operetta, "A Waltz Dream", in the Thompson-Gay Gymnasium.

The light and breezy plot of the operetta is complete with dramatic situations, but is more noteworthy for its sparkling comedy in the typical Straus and Viennese Style.

Tickets will be on sale in Room 3 after lunch this week; reserved seats priced at 75 cents and general admission at fifty cents.

By Joseph Chapline '42
Both were played with a true understanding of this musical idiom and were well received by the audience.

For his part of the program, Mr. Parks chose from Handel and Kreisler. Parks attends the Curtis Institute, and at all times was a creditable student of his instrument. Kreisler's "Sicilienne and Rigaudon" offered opportunity for a brilliant technical display. He played the "Old Refrain" as an encore, the double stop work being very well done. Morris was the accompanist.

The program closed with Rachmaninoff's "C-Sharp Minor Prelude", Debussy's "Clare de Lune", a Chopin Waltz, probably the highlight of the evening, Mozart's "Turkish Rondo", and Lecuona's "Malgueña". Except for a slight speeding of the Rondo and part of the Prelude, all these pieces attested to Morris' skill and they were all well received.

Played as encores, MacDowell's "Polonaise" and Morris' own composition "Toccata" closed the program.

Out of the Mailbox — A Moral

A college newspaper editor receives many strange and mysterious things in his mailbox. Railroads send their propaganda, the large automobile corporations go to a lot of expense in printing and mailing illustrated booklets depicting the processes of the assembly line, from which a piece of steel emerges a beautiful, upholstered car. Unfortunately, samples are not included, but chewing gum companies are not at all niggardly in this respect. The "Let's Stay Out of This War Committee" sends its literature as does the "Let's Jump in This War Committee". The Nazi's show their hand at propaganda in "Facts in Review". Even societies urging the adoption of children besiege the poor editors. If we believed all we read, we would be in a quandary. If we believed half of what we read, we would still be in a quandary. That's where we are now.

But speaking of finding strange and mysterious things in the mailbox, the letter we received about a month ago takes first prize. Contained in the envelope was a clipping from Tampa, Florida, which was dated Friday, February 25, 1921, with an attached note, unsigned, which said, "This article of twenty years ago which knocks college training should make a good story".

Despite the circumstances of the receipt of this article, there is much in it deserving of attention. In the first place, it deals primarily with the attitude of a certain Malcolm Hatfield, a Notre Dame student, toward the future trend of affairs in the United States. Said he in the paper he wrote twenty years ago, "We are permitting materialistic factors to influence our social thinking and are paying too little attention to the important and fundamental question of developing and preserving the mental well-being of our one hundred and five million citizens.

"What has happened to that spirit of mutual assistance which motivated our grandparents in their day? Greed for things material and the lessening of spiritual values is so undermining the basic security of the individual that government may be forced to intervene. Here again, a dangerous new factor is rearing its head, for we must not forget that such supervision is costly. Good government is always the government that is required to govern least".

Here the reporter who is commenting on the student's attitude says, "Strange doctrines these. It can readily be observed that the embryonic Hoosier philosopher is even more of a dreamer than Nicholi Lenin. The University of Notre Dame, instead of encouraging its students in flights of unrealistic fancy, would do well were it to limit its teachings to more practical matters".

Those statements were made twenty years ago. The visionary ideas of that Notre Dame student do sound rather strange in the world of today that measures success in materialism and force. Yet he is not to be condemned, for he had more than an element of truth in his observations.

Although many radical ideas may be too idealistic, according to accepted views, to be practical, they are a real benefit to society by the stimulation they offer to those who think. So, think about them, accept or reject them as you wish, but do, above all things, tolerate them.

By IHRLE

They're Here Again!

Well, they're here again! Yes, the plague of plagues, the Black Death of the campus, the dreadful scourge which semi-annually accompanies the pursuit of education will catch up with every one of you within a week. You've guessed it—finals start Monday.

You know, it's a funny thing about exams—all this last minute cramming and jamming. It seems those who need it most, bother least. But all this frantic panic is pure folly after all.

Mid-years and finals merely test a semester of achievements—your achievements—be they great or small!

Who are you trying to kid anyway? If you've been a hard worker throughout the term, why worry? Don't you think the profs realize it? Don't you think your fathers and mothers know it? And if college has just been a glorified playground at papa's expense, everybody's wise to you, except maybe papa, and it's high time he finds out! A few hours of fact-packing more or less won't make a particle of difference.

You know if you've accomplished anything at Ursinus, and so does everybody else!

If you haven't worried all year why start now? Do you expect to learn in a week what profs have been taking a whole year to drum into your head?

Wise up, fellow, you're not kidding anyone but yourself! Examinations are the final official score cards, and there's no changing the score after the game is played! And don't think they haven't all been watching how you've played the game!

If you've been loafing all year, you might just as well go right on loafing during exam week, because burning the midnight oil won't help you a bit!

College is so much like an investment—you get out of it just about what you put into it—and exams are only the semi-annual payoff!

Society Notes

All of the campus sororities have held their elections for next year's officers. The results are as follows:

GAFF from the GRIZZLY

The gala circus dance was quite a success with Woody Leh, balloons, animal crackers, pink lemonade, pink elephants—no aspersions on the lemonade. As an added attraction we had with us Hedy Lamarr, didn't we Nat? For further details along this line see Charlie Mulligan.

While dealing with the May Hop we noticed that there were a goodly number of couples absent who usually attend. Might be that J. Dorsey at Sunnybrook had something to do with it. To be Frank about it maybe some of the couples Landised in Stone Harbor. Was Joe fishing for Herring by the ton? Was Buddy gunning for Buck—? Is there any such game in Stone Harbor?

Chemistry students beware: Mr. Petit had that wild gleam in his eye while dancing at the Hop. You know what I mean. Acid plus Base yields Salt plus Water and such nonsense. He seemed to be looking for some of his prize—less pupils.

We don't Kratz on to this derisious LeLorme situation. She seemed to be Beauen quite well, then she decided that things had gone Toulon-g, and now well—

Classified:

All gentlemen attending two dinner dances over the weekend of June 6, 7, 8, 9, should send their dress shirts to Armstrong's Overnight Laundry. His slogan is: "I'll remove all traces of lip stick and such stuff, even if I have to eat it."

Note: You can take off your coat but you can't your shirt, or can you?

As yet not a recognized sport at Ursinus, the hunting-of-hares, noble old Neanderthal custom, is making a strong bid for that right. Several stalwart sons of Ursinus would now qualify to wear distinguished-looking U-ed sweaters. A rabbit was caught on campus the other evening after he had led some lads on a merry chase. What happened after his capture is still a mystery.

The Commentator

Pro-American, But Not Disillusioned

The World War bequeathed to this generation a flock of curses, the most familiar of which are the disabled veterans, the widows, and the total economic depression. There is one curse, however, that we do not acknowledge so readily. That curse might be described as total mental depression, or just disillusionment. And whereas economic depression was most prevalent among the mass of people, this mental depression has sewn its seeds most productively among a smaller category, the students of our colleges and universities.

One of the best ways to study the poisons of disillusion working on the mind is to engage some students in a discussion of the present conflict. Be sure to use such phrases as "we can save the world for democracy", or "this is the war to end wars", or "our way of life is threatened", or "Britain is our first line of defense". Those phrases are not fashionable on college campuses because they are too suggestive of risks. So you will be told, and no doubt you will also hear from many students that they have learned their lessons.

From that point you will do the listening. And you may hear opinions that go something like this: "Save the world for democracy! Who do you think you are kidding? That propaganda may work with the mass of people, but not with me. I'm pro-American, not pro-British. Look at Versailles, what did that get us? It will be the same old story this time. This conflict is just a 'wave of the future'."

Such talk reeks with suspicion. Such suspicion is just as unhealthy as the rabid "patriot" who will fight in the progress of the world, because progress is based on a fulfillment of certain ideals that a nation may have.

It is quite possible that we have learned our lesson too well; for in so doing we have drawn an all too inclusive analogy between 1917 and 1941. In the first place, national socialism is more than just the mechanized force that 1917 offered—munitions are not its deadliest weapon, though to date they have been adequate for conquest. Next, England today is not seeking an Empire. Her possessions that were not necessary for her economic livelihood proved too troublesome a luxury. Nor, let us add, is she interested in our welfare. Third, the United States government is neither imperialistic nor pro-British—it is pro-American.

To some this sounds like a prelude to a declaration of war. That is not so; the call here is for positive thinking about any cynicism about idealism and nobility in a nation's policy. Each must make his decision, but let it be without cynicism, fear of trouble, or belittling of idealism. It is a sad commentary that college students, whose opportunities in this country are in general better than those of the masses, should be half-hearted in this respect. Some say it is prudence. Or is it "a little knowledge"?

On one of those very illuminating Wagnerian botanical tours, Bobby Bauer, while giggling frogs, got "stuck"—in the mud. Looks as though Robert is in the same predicament as to his Trout-fishing—don't let those double-trouble boys get you down, Bob; we're betting on you.

Obituary:--

For our dear departed editor, Mr. Barry, we clipped this poetic whimsy from the George Washington Hatchet:

"What have you done?" St. Peter asked, "That I should admit you here?" "I ran my college paper, sir, Throughout my senior year." St. Pete affirmatively nodded his head, He knew the case so well. "Come in poor thing, select your harp, You've had your share of . . ."

Students in Science Look Forward to Work In Graduate Schools

Because of an insatiable appetite for knowledge which they feel even the comprehensives cannot cure, seniors who have passed through the portals of the Science Building for four long years now are admitting that they have not had enough. Many of them are going on to do graduate work, some in medical schools and others in various institutions as the recipients of assistantships, fellowships, or scholarships.

Among those going to medical schools are: Bryce Cochran, Edward Davis, Joseph Harrison, and Frank Lippi, who will attend Temple Medical College in Philadelphia. Students at Jefferson Medical School next year will be Felix Karpinski and Frederick Weiland. John Shuttleworth '42, will attend Hahnemann Medical College.

Mary Alice Lord was also admitted to Temple Medical College. Since then, however, she has been admitted to the Yale School of Nursing, where she hopes to continue her work.

Doing graduate work in biochemistry is Curtis Leuallen at Rutgers University, where he has also received an appointment for the forthcoming year. Although admitted to a medical college, he has accepted the former position.

On the campus of the Massachusetts Institute of Technology will be seen Franklin Morris. He has been awarded a tuition scholarship to do graduate work in the field of organic chemistry. Doing research work in physical chemistry will be Robert Worthing, at the University of Delaware. He also has an assistantship in chemistry.

At Boundbrook, New Jersey, will be Joseph Lobby. He has succeeded in being appointed to a position with the Claco Chemical Company.

 Looking 'Em Over
 With

After last week's sterling performance by the baseball team, we can not help but recount the great job of moulding a team accomplished by Coach Jing Johnson and his players.

If you remember, Jing had left from last year's team only two lettermen, MacMahon and Fetterman, and varsity substitutes Spohn and McFarland. Besides that, he had only members of last year's mediocre Jay Vee team and several inexperienced newcomers.

That was where Jing started. Predictions rated us from very poor to "lousy"—even Jing himself predicted two victories for the entire season. The first game was lost to Villanova in a massacre 23-3. Now the record shows 7 victories and 5 defeats—4 victories straight and a chance to take the league championship.

No matter what happens in these next few games, the season is a success already. Two factors were evident in moulding that team from the hodge-podge of inexperienced players. A willing and hard working coach who instilled fight and interest in his players and gave them the benefits of his experience; and a bunch of players that had fight, cooperation, and above all a real Ursinus athletic spirit.

We salute you, Coach Johnson and the baseball team!! May we have many more teams of your calibre at Ursinus.

Baseballers Win Four Straight; Defeat Juniata Friday 4 - 1

WEEKLY SPORTS

Rorer Allows Only Four Hits In Seven Innings

Bears Hammer Swarthmore 18-3

Playing a tight game all the way through, Jing's baseballers defeated the Juniata tossers last Friday on Price field by a score of 4-1.

Rorer Is Winning Pitcher

John Rorer started on the mound for the Bears, but was forced to retire at the end of the seventh inning after being hit on his throwing arm by a pitched ball. He did very well for himself during his stay in the game, however, holding the Indians to four hits and one run, fanning eight and issuing but one pass.

He was in trouble on two occasions, in the fifth and seventh innings, when Juniata threatened to tie the score with a man on third. In the first instance, the runner was caught off base and run down by third baseman Albie Tkacz and catcher Tom Rorer; while the second situation was relieved when Tkacz caught the Indian off base after a snap throw from Tom. Aside from these two chances, Juniata never even worked a man around to third. The Indians' only run was scored in the fourth by the only man walked by Rorer. "Smoke" MacMahon, who came in from center field to finish the game for the Bears, held the Juniata stickmen to one single, no man getting past first base.

Fetterman Drives in Two

Ursinus scores came in the third and seventh frames, two in each. Don Fetterman's timely single past third base brought in both Bear runs in the second, while Berman and Hartline came across the plate in the seventh through an error by the visitors' shortstop and a single by second baseman Jim Raban.

Although the play of the team as a whole was good, Al Tkacz and Dan Hartline were outstanding in their fielding and Don Fetterman, who didn't get to the field until the third inning, did good work at the plate.

SWARTHMORE GAME

Scoring in every inning except the eighth, the Ursinus diamondmen swamped the Swarthmore baseballers last Tuesday by a score of 18-3 in a game played on Price Field.

Smoke MacMahon, who started on the mound for the Bears, effectively muzzled the Garnet bats, allowing seven scattered hits and two runs, one of which was unearned. Seven Little Quakers were fanned by Mac. Jack Garlock replaced MacMahon in the seventh frame, and the big southpaw in turn permitted only one run and one hit, striking out four.

Outstanding among the bears in offensive play were Biggie Berman, who scored the most runs, four; Bob McFarland, who had the most hits, four again; and George Spohn, who had two successive doubles and a single. Every member of the starting lineup had at least one hit; the total at the end of the game was nineteen.

Cindermen Hit Stride and Defeat Lions In Close Meet Saturday; Hartzell Stars

Hashagen Clan Wins 8 Firsts

With both track and fieldmen turning in some of their best performances of the current campaign, Ken Hashagen's tracksters beat Albright to the tape by the score of 63 1/3 to 61 2/3 in a close finish Saturday on the loser's field.

Ingham Clinches Meet

The meet was one of the year's best from every angle and its outcome was in doubt until the last event when sophomore Joe Ingham clinched the day's honors for the Bears by winning the 220 Low Hurdles, romping over the barriers in 27.4 seconds.

During the afternoon Tom Hartzell, rapidly rounding into one of Hash's brightest prospects, trotted a 4:44.8 mile finishing second behind Albright's Bill Miller. Hartzell then turned around and took the half mile event, a new race to him, in 2:09.4.

Harry Felton turned in his best time of the year when he captured the two mile jaunt in 10 minutes and 42 seconds.

The Bears play host to the Drexel Dragons this Wednesday, and the Hashmen are looking for their third win against two defeats in dual competition.
