Union Is Advocated By Forum Speaker

By Denton Herber

A vigorously fought undeclared war in Asia and a declared war, not yet fought vigorously, in Europe give ample evidence of the dire necessity for a federation of the nations to restore and maintain a lasting peace.

This conviction Mr. Raymond Anderson expressed before the second Forum of the year on Tuesday evening in Bomberger Hall. Addressing the Forum in the absence of the ill Dr. Vernon Nash, who had been scheduled to speak, Mr. Anderson talked on the topic, "The World's Option—Union or Chaos".

Speaker Is Streit's Associate

Intimately associated with Clarence K. Streit over a span of twenty years as a classmate and friend, Mr. Anderson was able to review Streit's "Union Now" as a fellow journalist and to make numerous annotations on the author's style and predilections.

After sketching Streit's early life and the obstacles in getting the book published, the speaker summarized the text. According to the speaker, Mr. Streit derived much of his inspiration from Aristotle, the Federalist Papers, the Constitution, American history, and a diagnosis of the failure of the League of Nations. "Streit believes that the League failed because it was based upon the state as a unit," said Anderson. "He hopes to avoid the same mistake by basing the union he proposes upon the individual."

Plan Calls for Federation

The plan which Streit constructed provides for a federation of the fifteen outstanding democracies, including the United States. The government is to be based upon a constitution closely resembling the Constitution of the United States with the notable exception that the administration shall consist of a board of five men, three popularly elected and two selected by the legislature.

Mr. Anderson drew an analogy between the federation of nations which Mr. Streit proposes and our own United States, emphasizing that the very problems of state sovereignty which beset the au-

An Invitation

Following a custom established in the past, Dr. and Mrs. McClure are again entertaining the women students at an informal Christmas party at their home, 65 Sixth Avenue. Sophomore and senior women are invited for Monday evening, December 11, immediately after dinner, and the freshman and junior women for Tuesday evening, December 12, at the same time.

D. W. Ebbert, Former President, Passes Away

David W. Ebbert, B.D., A.M., D.D., '75, President of Ursinus College from 1905 until 1907, passed away yesterday in his eighty-seventh year at Akron, Ohio.

During his lifetime, Dr. Ebbert served pastorates in Reformed churches at Shippensburg, Spring City, Milton, Dayton, Ohio, and Barberton, Ohio.

Dr. Ebbert was also a member of the Board of Home Missions of the Reformed Church, and was for three years an associate editor of the "Reformed Church Monthly."

Pre-Med Students Visit Temple Medical School

Forty-six Ursinus students took a tour of Temple University Hospital last Thursday afternoon. Dr. Morton J. Oppenheimer, a graduate of Ursinus and professor of physiology at Temple Medical School, was the guide.

During the tour the group was invited to witness an emergency appendectomy on a 15-year-old boy. The operation was performed in fifteen minutes.

The students visited the various laboratories, including one where a study of the effects of anaesthesia on the heart beat and respiration rate of a rabbit was being held, and another in which embalming was conducted. On the fifth floor of the hospital they visited a laboratory where a cortex operation on a dog had just been completed.

Choir To Present "Messiah" Thursday

By Robert Yoh

The students and friends of Ursinus College will be in for a big treat this coming Thursday evening, December 7, for it is then that Dr. Philip and the Ursinus musical organizations present Handel's "Messiah." For several months the music studios have resounded to the beautiful strains of this well-loved oratorio, since the various musical groups have been busy rehearsing the different rather difficult chorus numbers.

Yet the biggest treat will be the fine opportunity to hear the four guest artists—three of whom have been heard on campus before. These three are: Miss Joanne de Nault, contralto; Madame Martha Atwood Baker, soprano; and Mr. Steele Jamison, tenor. The new guest artist, known to music lovers of New York, is Mr. Wellington Ezekiel, bass.

The Ursinus orchestra will again be reinforced by members of the Curtis Institute Orchestra, who have been secured for this performance.

And now a word about the actual performance itself. Students will be admitted free; outsiders and friends will be admitted only with a ticket. These tickets can still be obtained for 50 cents by seeing Joyce Studenmund '41.

The oratorio will begin promptly at 8:00 p. m. Thursday evening, and all students are requested to be on time. Only a limited number of seats are available for students, since the entire lower floor (with the exception of the adjoining classrooms, which will be opened to students) is reserved for those persons having tickets.

This production promises to be the outstanding musical event of the year, and it is possible it may even surpass the almost perfect production of the last Christmas season.

Dr. William F. Philip will conduct the oratorio, which is now a tradition on the Ursinus campus. The chorus will contain some 75 voices, and will be aided by several alumni singers who are returning to take part in the rendition. Ernest Muller '40, and Roy Snyder '41, will be in charge of the staging and special lighting.

Steinmetz Talks on College Christianity

"College Christianity" was the subject of a talk by President Charles Steinmetz '40, of the Men's Student Council at Vespers in Bomberger Hall Sunday evening.

Speaking on the two phases of Christianity, the individual or inward expression, and that of brotherhood, Steinmetz drew a contrast between the spirit of the Ursinus Christmas season and that of the season when fraternity and sorority "rushing" is held. His talk comprised a series of incidents which gave evidence of the two spirits prevalent on the campus.

Jane Pakenham '41, Vice-President of the W. S. G. A., was leader of the service. Frank Wood '41, read the scripture, after which Elva Jane Buckingham '42, led the prayer.

On Sunday, December 10, the Christmas vespers service will be held in Bomberger at 6:00 p. m. The speaker of the evening will be announced later this week.

Giant Expose Planned For Christmas Party

What goes on behind the scenes at Ursinus? The answer will be revealed on Wednesday night, December 15, at the annual Christmas party in the gym, which will follow the traditional banquets for men and women students.

After the program proper, there will be dancing to the music of the College orchestra until midnight. The gym will be decorated with appropriate flora, and possibly fauna, of the Christmas season.

James Lyons '40, is chairman of the committee in charge of the party, assisted by Ann Robinson '41, Betty Shearer '40, Julia Hogg '42, Dorothy Thomas '41, Harry Byrne '41, Fred Weiland '41, and John Taxis '40.

Blum and Showalter To Debate on Radio Dec. 9

The Men's Debating Club, represented by Harry Showalter '41, and Charles Blum '41, will debate a team from Swarthmore next Saturday, December 9, on the question, "Resolved: that President Roosevelt should be reelected for a third term." The debate will be broadcast over station WFIL, Philadelphia, at 3:30 p. m., Ursinus upholding the affirmative side.

In recent meetings the club has reviewed the problem thoroughly in preparation for a novel presentation of its argument on the problem.

Denton Herber '42, and Charles A. Barnes '40, inaugurated the active debating season for Ursinus when they supported the present bicameral system of government of the United States in a debate against Swarthmore last Tuesday afternoon.

This discussion on the question, "Resolved: that the United States should adopt a unicameral system of legislature," in which Ursinus supported the negative side, was presented at a meeting of the Queen Lane Women's Club. Herber introduced the constructive case for Ursinus, and Barnes cross-examined the affirmative on its proposals.

At present the Men's Debating Club is proceeding with its work in accumulating an extensive periodical file of facts concerning the present European war and the national education proposals.

Arrangements Near Completion For Sr. Week-End Ball, Drama

Senior Ball Maestro

CHUCK GORDON

Class of '40 Will Present Chuck Gordon's Orchestra, "Shadow and Substance"

The Senior Week-End will get under way this Friday evening, December 8, when Chuck Gordon brings his orchestra to the Thompson-Gay Gymnasium to "swing out" in a winter playland. On Saturday evening at 8:15 p. m. the Curtain Club will join with the Senior Class to present Paul Vincent Carroll's "Shadow and Substance".

Harry Atkinson, Chairman of the Ball Committee, has announced that all plans have been completed for decorations. Preparations have already been started by the committee itself, which is composed of Lucia Citta, Dorothy Reifsnnyder, Frances Thierolf, Elizabeth Trout, Elizabeth Usinger, Charles Barnes, Richard Frohner, Hugh McLaughlin, and Paul Wilson. At the Ball, the first formal affair of the year, dancing will be continuous from nine until one.

Band Has New Arrangements

A special setting for the orchestra on the stage will be made to add variety to the pattern of the Winter landscape. Gordon has announced that his men will use for the first time at the Ursinus Senior Ball several new arrangements of today's popular melodies. Betty Kirk, soloist, will sing some of these numbers.

Ken Dutton, bass fiddler, will present a new version of "Jambou" with his slap-bass technique and twirl. Mike Datz, trumpet-playing arranger, will play several of his own arrangements which have been recently added to the show.

Play Work Nears Completion

Turning into the home stretch week of rehearsals, the play cast, under the supervision of Mr. Donald L. Helferich and Mrs. Reginald S. Sibbald, has turned to the work of smoothing the rough edges throughout the four acts of the play. The major part of the past week has been spent in private coaching for individual members by the two directors.

The cast for the play includes: Brigid, Cracemary Greene '42; Thomasina Concannon, Marthella Anderson '40; Jemina Cooney, Frances Thierolf '40; Rosey Violet Mullahone, Edra Allanson '41; Cannon Skerritt, Rollin Lawrence '40; Dermot O'Flingsley, Mark Alspach '40; Father Corr, Douglas Davis '41; Father Kirwan, Nicholas Barry '41; Francis O'Connor, Robert Yoh '40; and Martin Mullahone, Ernest Muller '40.

Kenneth Bishop, general manager of the play, and the crew have been working for the past two weeks in order to complete the scenery in time for production. The ticket committee, headed by William Snyder, put tickets on sale during the past week.

Much valuable assistance has been rendered to the cast and coaches by several people in and around Collegeville who witnessed recent productions of the play in New York and Philadelphia.

May Day Pageant Contest Announced

Rules for the 1939-40 May Day Pageant contest were announced this week by Dean of Women Camilla B. Stahr. As in previous years, the manuscripts are to be submitted in open competition, and women students of any class are eligible. A prize of fifteen dollars will be awarded by the Ursinus Circle to the author of the pageant chosen.

The pageant, which must be suitable for May Day presentation, must include at least 125 members, 20 to 25 of them to be major characters. Enacted in pantomime with a minimum of action for the queen, the pageant should be divided into episodes or some similar divisions, with as few changes of scene as possible.

The deadline for entries for the contest is January 12, and the running time of the production must not consume more than one and one-half hours.

The manuscript should include costume descriptions and an indication of the campus site for production. Typed manuscripts are preferred.

Further information may be obtained from the pageant folder at the Librarian's desk or from Mrs. Sara Hampson.

"I. R. C. Quarterly" Will Be Published This Week

The International Relations Club Quarterly will appear on campus some time this week, according to Editor Robert Yoh '40. The Quarterly, a magazine of student opinion on international affairs, was first published last year under the editorship of Robert Peck ex-'41. Dr. Elizabeth B. White and Mr. Eugene Miller, sponsors of the club, will act as advisors to the staff.

The first issue of the I. R. C. publication will contain articles of interest on current problems. A wide range of events, including the European situation, South America, and the United States, will be covered.

In addition, the results of the poll taken last week by representatives of the I. R. C. will be included, as well as an announcement concerning the results of the contest conducted in conjunction with the poll.

There will also be included a summary of the proceedings of the International Relations Club for this semester. Copies of the Quarterly may be obtained this week at the price of ten cents from dormitory representatives.

Miss Spangler Directs First Of Concerts at Valley Forge

The first of a series of recitals under the direction of Miss Marion G. Spangler, of the College music department, was presented for the benefit of the Valley Forge Chapel Organ Fund at Washington Memorial Chapel, Valley Forge, Pa., on Wednesday night, November 29.

Miss Fiona McCleary, pianist, and Mr. William Kurasch, violinist, presented a recital featuring sonatas for violin and piano by Brahms and Delius, and a group of solo numbers by each artist.

NOTICES

The Weekly Board of Control will meet this Wednesday afternoon, December 6, at 3 o'clock in Dr. McClure's office in the Science Building.

The Council on Student Activities will meet tonight in Room 3, Bomberger, at 7:30 p. m.

The Rev. James C. Gilbert announces that the series of daily services planned for Episcopal students from December 4 to December 8 will not be held, as previously stated in The Ursinus Weekly.

The Christmas sale of gifts for the benefit of the Women's Dorm Fund will be continued this Tuesday and Wednesday from 12:30 until 1:00 p. m. in the Girls' Day Study.

Singing of Christmas carols will be held next week in Bomberger every day after lunch. This feature of the Ursinus Christmas week is sponsored by the YM-YW organizations.

Food for Thought

If it's food for thought that you are looking for, there was plenty of it available at last night's Vespers service. We wish that we could print for the benefit of those who missed it the talk given by the President of the Men's Student Council, in which he showed how Christianity has a very definite application to campus fraternities and sororities and to the actions of their members.

In these days of a materialistic outlook on life and its problems, skeptics are constantly demanding that Christians give some evidence of the practical value of the faith they profess. More than ample evidence was presented last night. The talk that we heard really "brought home" the idea that brotherhood can be a watchword, and not a catchword; a helpful rule of conduct, rather than a stumbling-block in the way of harmony and friendship. May its influence remain with us throughout the rest of the school year and during years to come.

Rec Center — A Privilege

Rec Center performs a valuable service at Ursinus. It provides a place for pleasant indoor recreation where students may profitably pass the time on long week-ends as well as on week days; and its facilities are available to any student free of charge.

How can it be operated without any visible means of support? It is maintained on a very restricted budget; what funds it uses are derived from candy sales at athletic contests and from the admission charged at the annual Intramural Night. The Physical Education Department, under the direction of Mr. Everett M. Bailey, is supervising Rec Center, even though it is not by any means obligated to do so.

We are often inclined to take for granted such things as Rec Center, never realizing that people are making sacrifices, going to a great deal of time and trouble, in providing them. It is probably such an attitude that has led some of us into rather slovenly habits of conduct at Rec Center.

Those in charge of Rec Center have noticed an increased disregard on the part of the students for both the appearance and equipment of that place; but, not wishing to play the part of the "wet blanket," they have not pressed their complaints to any great extent. Magazines disappear with amazing regularity, despite the fact that binders have been bought for them; they have been torn from the binders, or have been thrown, binder and all, into the waste basket. Whole magazines, or parts thereof, have been used as missiles on several occasions.

The personal conduct of the frequenters of Rec Center is not always up to snuff, either. Feet on the furniture is not only frowned upon by Emily Post, but it wreaks terrible damage on the furniture that adds a "homey" atmosphere to the place, and has been secured with no little difficulty. And it is good training for future members of "polite society" to get into the habit of removing one's hat indoors.

It is an axiom of human conduct that we can enjoy privileges only as long as we do not abuse them. Rec Center is a privilege; let's think twice before we do anything that might result in a curtailment of its operation.

Education's Darling

"The American college student is the particular darling of our whole grand educational system, as he learns and strives, re-entering the world of affairs, determined not only to get something out of it, but to do something to it — so does society evolve".

The above statement by Dr. George D. Stoddard, Dean of the Graduate College at the University of Iowa, is a rather true, if somewhat glorified, representation of the attention given to the American college student. There seems to be a wholesome faith in his ability and determination to solve the obstacles confronting leaders of today and tomorrow. This faith is not poorly founded. Education's darling is therefore automatically possessed of a trust which must be repaid in full measure. Payment will be taken, no matter of what nature it be; consequently, he might well consider what he will offer for the faith men have in him. In contemplating the benefits he will give to society for his privileged position, the college student finds that it is important which modes of behavior he rejects and which he will strive for. Once he has made his choice in his mind, his thoughts will be but preludes to actions, if he is a man.

Thoughts, one finds, refuse to be confined to separate problems, and it becomes increasingly apparent that in all we do there is an inescapable relation to the "world of affairs". Professors are projected into student thought; conductors pour into orchestral music their mastery and temperament; scientists bear upon the philosophies of generations.

The American college student has more than the other youth of the land, the opportunity and obligation to see the things the world needs and will need more when it calms down. The keenest need would seem to be tolerance of other people, theories, and nationalities. The American college is not a group of buildings, recitations, and lectures, but a way of life. No way of life offers a wider range of possible applications of understanding, and to no other way of life do men look more for tolerance.

Tolerance that is genuine by its very name plainly can not be imitative. It must be a personal acquisition from a maze of conflicting philosophies, and it can not be mistaken for impartiality, for it is conceived in the belief in the individualism of men.

CAMPUS CAMERA

GAFF from the GRIZZLY

Well sir, what with four parties on campus over the initial December week-end, there should be more girls going to the Senior Ball this year than ever before. Oh, they're not so dumb,—I guess.

Mr. "Toughie" Gene Miller just about wrecked the K. D. K. . . . "one record swingaroo" party Friday night while playing that sophisticated "drop the hankie" game. And he didn't even say pardon, either.

He's really not so tough, though. There's a soft spot in his heart, really. Just the other week he was asking directions to the nursery dept. in John Wanamaker's rummage sales store in Philly. He was buying a gift for his niece . . . of course.

So that the Bell Telephone Company doesn't worry too much about the three-hour interruption in the Derr Hall service, we wish to inform them that the wires weren't torn down, — that was just one C. Shollenberger and his friends making "warm friendships". Do you have her address too, Sholly?

Hen, the Sharper, Eldredge is reported by "undefinite" sources to have a date sometime in the very near future. The only thing is, even he doesn't know when that fateful event is to take place. Well Henry, more Power to you. (That pun smells!)

The Dean called his men to the varsity colors once again, and he expects to have a successful season, too. Quite a squad turned out. Due to this, there has been a noticeable change in the dining room personnel. Some of those waiters are plenty snappy, too, aren't you, Runkle?

Who was waiting outside of Brodbeck for Fred Binder at 7:48 p. m. Thursday evening, and said that she wasn't cold? She's not a frosh, not a soph, not a junior—and she lives at South.

Aside to Shreiner:
 At next big Shreiner cookie snatch
 Why not make a royal catch?
 Invite Stan, Stan, the Doggie Man;
 Maybe he'll then see all he can!
 P. S.: Along Sixth Avenue's new stretch of tar,
 A doggie path should also run "thar"!

Notice: The football team announces that they are now on the "can be had" list.

Society Notes

Tau Sigma Gamma Sorority entertained at an informal dance on Saturday evening, December 2, in the upper dining room of Freeland Hall. The chaperons for the evening were Dr. and Mrs. John W. Mauchly and Dr. and Mrs. George W. Hartzell.

Miss Camilla B. Stahr, Dean of Women, was guest of honor at a tea given by the women of Maples Hall on Thursday afternoon, November 30.

On Tuesday evening, November 28, Omega Chi Sorority held a "doggie roast" in the Sixth Avenue Woods.

The girls of South, Maples, and Glenwood were entertained at an after-dinner coffee given by Shreiner Hall on Thursday evening, November 30.

On Friday evening, December 1, Kappa Delta Kappa Sorority gave a "barn dance" in the upper dining room of Freeland Hall. Mr. and Mrs. Everett M. Bailey and Mr. and Mrs. Eugene H. Miller chaperoned the affair.

A "Dead End" party was given by the girls of Glenwood Hall on Friday evening, December 1.

The senior members of Phi Alpha Psi Sorority were entertained at dinner by Margaret D. Eachus, Mont Clare, on Monday evening, November 27.

THE MAIL BOX

To the Editor:
 During the football season of 1938, the Maxwell Memorial Football Club honored one of our players, Bill Power, with the award for being the outstanding college football player of that particular week. "Jing" Johnson sent a notice to all alumni living in and near Philadelphia asking them to come to the Maxwell Luncheon that week so we would have some of our alumni represented when the award was made. Not one solitary person saw fit to turn out for this occasion. This past Monday, the Maxwell Award was given to a boy by the name of Hamilton, from Gettysburg. When the presentation was made, 50 Gettysburg alumni and guests rose to their feet and cheered. This comparison speaks for itself. I hope you may see fit to print this letter in your column. Very truly yours, Robert D. Evans '18

Harry Atkinson Looks 'Em Over

With the annual battle in the fog over in Philadelphia, we can all turn to the Winter program of sports.

Hash has his gang just about ready for the December 16 opener at Rutgers, while Miss Snell blew "assembly" for her Amazons of the Wooden Way last Monday.

Peter the Bald had a good turnout for wrestling, which may mean that the forgotten art will reappear on the Ursinus program.

"The Messiah", which drew a full house last year, is due for another Ursinus airing this Thursday eve in Bomberger.

Then the seniors take over for the next couple of days, with a boost from the Curtain Club on Saturday. The following week is dedicated to Xmas and the inevitable tests which crop up at that time.

The Eastern Penn court loop opens January 5 when Albright will invade Thompson-Gay, and will see Bucknell as a newcomer to the Conference. Drexel dropped out, but stays on the Bear schedule.

Varsity Club loans are available to senior club members, who should apply in writing immediately, with the standard Sept. 30 and Feb. 1 sob stories taboo.

Thrasher's gangs of Chicago have nothing on the Ursinus racketeers who are raffling off everything but a date to the Ball.

Welcome back, Reggie Sibbald, fully convalesced from Bryn Mawr Hospital, where he came out on top in his scrimmage with a bad ticker.

It is rumored the defunct Curtis Nocturnal Riding Academy will reorganize in the near future, with White Beauty the object of their affections.

Congratulations to "Mother Margaret" Clafin, who made an auspicious coaching debut at Collegeville-Trappe High by turning out a championship hockey team this Fall.

Don Kellett wired a word of encouragement to the Finnish cabinet today.

"Toy" Dawson was elected honorary permanent captain of the 1939 Bear football team last week at a meeting of all lettermen. In accordance with Ursinus' athletic policy, no captain was elected for next year.

Hashagenmen Prep For Rutgers Game

With the opening game only two weeks away, Coach Ken Hashagen is putting the pressure on his basketball team to get them in top flight playing condition. The Bear courtmen pry off the lid December 16 against Rutgers on the spacious New Brunswick floor, and will be put to one of their stiffest tasks in stacking up against the Jersey five.

Scrimmages to date have found the Bears good and bad, but the bad nights are less evident than the good. The recent workout with Temple found the local five sluggish and unable to match the fast moving and breaking Owl offense, but other performances have shown that it was just a bad night for the Bears. Two scrimmages with Penn are carded before Hashagen cuts his squad and announces his starting lineup.

Veteran Lineup Indicated

From all indications the Ursinus court mentor will make no changes in the lineup which opened most of last year's games. Hal Moyer and Abe Chern are still in their slots up front, and appear ready for a good season. Both seem to have found their shooting eyes already, and will give the Bears a strong scoring duet in the forward jobs.

Frank Meade, the work-horse of the club, is certain of his center job again, and is fast getting in shape to carry the burden of retrieving the ball off the boards. Always the underdog in height, Meade did a great job last season under the hoop, and will be in there again doing this all-important job for the Ursinus five.

Keehn, J. Wise at Guard

At guards Bob Keehn and John Wise will round out the all-senior starting quintet. Keehn, who is marked as one of the greatest scoring threats in the conference, fell off his normal pace last year in favor of carrying out the toughest guarding assignments Hashagen gave him. Supposedly a weak man on defense, Keehn turned in some great jobs of holding down Conference scoring aces, and naturally his own pace slackened; but having now mastered both sides of the game, the slim guard looks set for his greatest season on the basketball court.

Jim "Falstaff" Wise, despite his excess bulk, is in better shape now than he has been since freshman year, and will be in the pivot spot when that type of offense is employed. Wise is also a good man under the boards, and will be a big help to Meade in this department.

MacMahon, Hutchinson Ready

Howard MacMahon and Al Hutchinson, sophomore aces up from last year's freshman team, are developing as rapidly as expected, and will see plenty of action. Neither may break into the starting lineup, but both will be ready for a good job if called upon.

Nat Johnson, Dave Jacobs, and George Biery are other veterans of last year's squad and will be on hand for reserve duty. Bud Adams, Al Tkacz, and Jack Garlock are up from the freshman squad of last season. Howard Wise and Don Fetterman, both of whom were out of action last year due to football injuries, are back again and may see plenty of action before the campaign is over.

Coach Snell Drills Co-Ed Courtsters

Miss Eleanor Snell issued the call for her basketball team last week, and started drills early for the campaign, which does not officially open until the second semester. However, an important exhibition contest is slated in the near future, and Coach Snell wants to have her girls ready for it.

Once more the Ursinus sextet will be built around Bunny Harshaw, sensational forward and high scoring ace for the past three years. Bunny, whose play would do justice to a boy's efforts, has more than once beaten single-handed teams the girls' basketball team has faced, and will again be the main cog in the offense. Paired with her up front will be Ruth Von Kleeck, while the third forward berth, vacated by the graduation of Peggy Clafin, is wide open.

At guards the only vacancy was created by Ruth Shoemaker, who was also graduated. Blanche Schultz, Allie Dougherty, and Betty Snyder are all on tap, and may be the starting trio in the back court. Ruth Von Kleeck will captain this year's outfit.

Wrestling Hopefuls Report to Stevens

Pending action on reinstatement of wrestling as an intercollegiate sport at Ursinus, Coach "Pete" Stevens sent twenty of his charges through their initial workout this afternoon.

Capt. George Meklos is the only member of last year's team who was lost by graduation. Five letter men remain: Johnny Witman, Joe Lobby, Jim Armstrong, Charley Steinmetz, and Gordy Astheimer. With the exception of Meklos, the same team which won the last two meets of the 1939 season will be available for the 1940 campaign.

The proposed wrestling conference would include Rutgers, Muhlenberg, Haverford, Lafayette, Gettysburg, and Ursinus. The other five schools have left an open date for the Bears on their schedules in the expectation of wrestling being continued on an intercollegiate basis here.

The candidates for positions on the team include:

- List of wrestling hopefuls and their weights: 121 lb. class: Bob Worthing, Johnny Witman; 126 lb. class: "Scoop" Widdicombe, Ray Smith; 135 lb. class: George Shuster, Dick Arnold, Wilmer Knight; 145 lb. class: Bruce MacKenzie; 155 lb. class: Ray Dilliplane, Ed Maykut, Sam Leshner, Joe Lobby; 165 lb. class: Charley Steinmetz, Jim Armstrong; 175 lb. class: Jack Coughlin, Bill Selfridge.

Heavyweight: Norm Callahan, Gordy Astheimer, Max Zeski, Howard Marsh. Any freshmen who are interested in wrestling are invited to report to the wrestling room, Coach Stevens says. "Pete" hopes to have a jayvee team as well as a varsity team, and freshmen are eligible for the former squad.

Intramurals

Dear "Tennis Fan": Ed McCausland copped the Fall Tennis Tournament when he upset favored Frankie Wood in the finals during the past week. We hope you didn't miss the match.

Speedball results of last week show Curtis ringing up victories over Brodbeck and Freeland-Stine to jump into first place in the league standing. In the other games played, Highland won over Brodbeck and shared a double forfeit with Derr.

The Marines lead the speedball scoring parade, racking up 24 points in their two wins.

Big Hank Shuster stepped off the football field, and into the intramural program, to pull the first "Corrigan a la speedball", when he booted a three-pointer into the wrong goal in the Curtis-Brodbeck game. Brodbeck didn't even say "Thanks".

"Hapless" Hank did pretty well for his own club, though, getting eight of the Curtis 14 point total. That, incidentally, is the best individual scoring performance to date.

Captain "Bunny" Reber of the Brodbeck "Gang" did a good job on his own hook, with six points in the same game.

So far speedball has been taking hold a little better than was expected of a new sport. And for the success of the intramural program up until now "Hash" wants to thank the men students for their active participation.

Report Shows Placement Of 1939 Class Members

Exactly half of the 36 members of the Class of 1939 who indicated teaching as their first choice for an occupation have already secured positions in that field, according to information released by Mr. Eugene B. Michael, head of the Ursinus College Placement Bureau.

In addition to the 36 who indicated teaching as their first choice, there were 15 graduates in '39 who named teaching as a second choice; thus 51 members of the Class of 1939 were enrolled in the practice teaching course. Of these 51, 18, as previously stated, are now teaching; nine have entered business; and eight are pursuing graduate work, making a total of 35, or 68.6%, placement in the teaching group.

The Placement Bureau has information that at least eleven other members of last year's Senior Class, which had 98 members, are enrolled in higher institutions this year for medical, law, and other graduate work, and seven more have positions in the business field.

A. A. U. W. Members Will Hear Musical Program on Wednesday

A musical program by Mrs. Helen Bader Yost of Phoenixville, pianist, and Mrs. Dorothy Sturtevant of Norristown, contralto, will feature the regular meeting of the Perkiomen Branch of the A. A. U. W. on Wednesday, December 6, at 8 p. m. at Studio Cottage, 515 Main Street, Collegeville.

Both Mrs. Yost and Mrs. Sturtevant were graduated from Goucher College. Their program will consist of musical selections by Chopin, and will be followed by group singing of Christmas carols.

Lecture on Renaissance Art Presented by Oskar Stonorov

Oskar Stonorov, of Phoenixville, presented an illustrated lecture on "Renaissance Art of the Fourteenth and Fifteenth Century" on Wednesday, November 29, in the Science Building auditorium.

Mr. Stonorov spoke of the Greek influence on Italian architecture, noting the use of columns, basilicas, and articles of the Greek style. He then described the city of Florence, famous for its art of the Middle Ages.

Finally, he used pictures of the Roman and Gothic styles of architecture to show the important differences in the two types of design.

Mr. Stonorov and his wife are owners of the Play House in Phoenixville, an old church remodeled by him to house a creative art project for about 200 children.

"Mein Kampf" Is Discussed at Women's Debate Club Meeting

Marjorie Bell '40, read and discussed selections from Adolf Hitler's "Mein Kampf" at the Women's Debating Club meeting on Monday, November 20.

The club was informed by Jane Hartman '41, that two debating trips have been tentatively planned for this year, one to Bucknell University, Penn State, Susquehanna University, and Juniata College; and another including Gettysburg, Wilson, and William and Mary.

New members accepted at this meeting are Emily Baldwin '41, Stella Zapotocki '42, Ethel Heina-man '41, and Elizabeth Hamilton '41.

thors of the Constitution now block the road to a union of the nations.

Since the original fifteen democracies control a majority of the world's population, wealth, and area, their example of tranquillity and prosperity, Mr. Anderson believes, should persuade the remaining nations to join.

In conclusion, Mr. Anderson expressed his confidence in the eventual acceptance of Streit's plan for union, and reiterated his contention that "Civilization is at the crossroads. It must either accept world union for peace or continue to be embroiled in successive catastrophes which will finally lead to its extinction."
