SEVEN JUNIOR MEN HONORED BY CUB AND KEY AT PROM

Feature of the Junior Prom last Friday night was the tapping of seven junior men by the honorary Cub and Key Society. A short time before intermission the present senior members stepped down from the stage and tapped the new men. Those tapped were John Rauhauser, Fred Weiland, Harry Showalter, Joseph Dubuque, Nat Johnson, Frank Wood, and Nicholas Barry. Wood has been named president and Johnson, secretary-treasurer of the organization for the ensuing year.

The Cub and Key Society came into being last Spring when, with a nucleus of seven able men from the class of 1939, it was launched at the Class Day exercises by its faculty sponsor, R. C. Johnson. At that time five men from the present senior class were tapped and added to the society.

Membership in this group is determined on the basis of valuable service to the College in extra-curricular activities, outstanding qualities of personality and leadership, and high scholastic achievement.

The entire Cub and Key Society, with all present and alumni members on hand, held a banquet at the Commercial House, Sunday afternoon. Honorary President, Dr. N. E. McClure, and honorary faculty members, R. C. Johnson, Franklin I. Sheeder, Donald L. Helfferich, and G. Seiber Pancoast, were also present.

Formal initiations for the seven new men were conducted last night. Certificates of membership were passed out at this time.

Faith in Man and God Urged at Jr. Vespers

Centering his address about faith and its importance as a component of success, the Rev. Mr. A. Augustus Welsh '26, pastor of the Christ Reformed Church in Bethlehem, spoke at the Junior Vespers held last evening in Bomberger.

According to the Rev. Mr. Welsh, faith is the "temporary ability to attain our ends. Youth can build a strong foundation for life through faith, for if a person lacks faith and loses confidence in himself, chances for success are slim."

The second type of faith which the speaker analyzed is faith in God. "Without God in our thinking, we all would become atheists and victory in this life would be denied." In conclusion, the Rev. Mr. Welsh summarized by stating, "This is the victory of life, even your faith."

The entire program was arranged and conducted by the junior class. Jane Pakenham delivered the call to worship, the scripture was presented by Edward Knettlar and John Rauhauser introduced the Rev. Mr. Welsh.

Muriel Solomon was at the organ, additional music being supplied by three trumpeters, Curtis Leuallen, George Hopkins, and Ray Smith. Roy Snder, baritone, sang a solo.

TKA To Meet at Bucknell

Dr. Harvey L. Carter and three Ursinus debaters, Charles Barnes '40, Betty Funk '40, and Charles Blum '41, will participate in the Tau Kappa Alpha debating convention, to be held at Bucknell University on April 19 and 20.

Barnes will compete in the after-dinner speaking contest; the other two will enter the debating competition.

"Weekly" Attains Recognition At Collegiate News Convention

The Ursinus Weekly was awarded fourth place in each of the four contests recently sponsored by the Intercollegiate Newspaper Association of the Middle Atlantic States. The results of the contests were disclosed at the Saturday evening banquet which climaxed the convention held at Moravian College for Women in Bethlehem on April 12 and 13. Ursinus was represented at the convention by Garnet Adams '42, and Denton Herber '42.

The Belfry, publication of the Moravian College for Women, was awarded first places in editorial writing and advertising. Muhlenberg won the contest on news and Gettysburg took the trophy in sports writing. In each of these contests the Ursinus Weekly was awarded fourth place.

In division two, comprising newspapers with over 1050 net-paid circulation, publications from Swarthmore, Lehigh, Drexel, and George Washington University were awarded first prizes in editorials, advertising, news, and sports, respectively.

Girls' Basketball Team Elects Blanche Schultz to Captaincy

Blanche Schultz '41, was elected captain of the girls' basketball team last Friday for the 1940-41 season. Manager-elect is Dorothy Ducat '42, and her assistants will be Winifred Yeager '43, and Jean Dornis '43.

It was announced at the meeting that the annual varsity squad banquet will be held on April 24. The place has not been chosen.

The captain-elect, a member of the Mathematics Group, plays the right wing position on the hockey team. She is president-elect of the Women's Athletic Association for the 1940-41 college year.

Juniors Join Comic with Serious In "Outward Bound" Performance

By Dr. Calvin D. Yost, Jr.

In the climax of its Junior Week-End the Class of 1941 added to its laurels by a sympathetic and skillful presentation of Sutton Vane's "Outward Bound" before a large, enthusiastic audience in Thompson-Gay Gymnasium on Saturday evening.

"Outward Bound" is not "just another" play, nor was this "just another" performance. The presentation was always skillful and was seldom if ever allowed to lag. Particularly to be commended were the swift transitions from the comic mood to the serious, upon which this play depends for its most striking effects. This shift of moods was especially effective in the second act.

High Point in Third Act

The high point of the play was the first scene of the third act, when the passengers finally realize that they are dead and face judgment. The meeting and the curate's prayer, Prior's fate, and Mrs. Midget's plea, all were done most effectively. This is not to detract from the last scene, which, however ably portrayed, is something of an anticlimax.

In such a well-balanced performance of a play which has no minor roles, it is rather invidious to praise one player above another.

But if judgments must be made, the first praises go to John Rauhauser as Tom Prior, the young ne'er-do-well, who first discovers

Ursinus To Represent Michigan at Conference

Ten Ursinus students will be under the banner of the state of Michigan at the Intercollegiate Conference on Government, convening this week-end at Harrisburg. Each college participating represents one of the forty-eight states in the plan which calls for a political convention.

Joseph Dubuque '41, has been nominated as a candidate for the General Chairmanship of the Convention. Harry Showalter '41, has been named Chairman of the Committee on Industrial Relations.

In preparation for the conclave, Harry Showalter '41, and Joseph Dubuque '41, spoke at a mock political rally at West Chester State Teachers' College last Thursday. Showalter's subject was "Industrial Relations", and Dubuque's was "Taxation and the Budget".

the true condition of the passengers, and to Edra Allanson, as Mrs. Midget, the cockney charwoman.

Scarcely less commendable were the performances of Nadine Sturges, the rather poisonous Mrs. Cliveden-Banks, and Franklin Morris, the young clergyman so keen about his job.

Paul Wise did about as well as anyone could with a very hard role for anyone to play, that of Mr. Lingley, the selfmade man. Although a little uncomfortable in the role, Mr. Wise was effective at the necessary moments.

Pathos Well Drawn

Muriel Solomon and John McAllister had a peculiarly difficult assignment in that they had to wait for the last scene for their chance to create the pathetic picture of the young couple who tried to die and failed. Though the scene is an anticlimax, they succeeded in awaking a sense of tenseness and pathos which gripped the audience.

It would be unfair to call the performances of Fred Weiland as Scrubby, the inscrutable but sympathetic bartender, and John Musser as the unexpectedly kindly Examiner, "last but not least" for that would be damning with faint praise. They did their jobs well.

To say that a vast share of the credit for the success of "Outward Bound" belongs to Dr. and Mrs. Reginald S. Sibbald is to repeat the obvious.

ROOM DEPOSITS DUE FRIDAY

Friday, April 19, is the last day for paying room deposits for the 1940-41 college year. They are to be paid at the treasurer's office. Room drawings will be held early next week.

I. R. C. Admits Four; Discuss Balkan Crisis

Shirley Staples '41, Jean Patterson '42, Garfield Clark '43, and J. William Ditter '43, were elected to the International Relations Club at the meeting Tuesday evening, April 9, in Shreiner Hall. These candidates will be officially inducted at the next meeting, which will be held on Tuesday, April 23.

Douglas Davis '41, gave a talk on "Turkey and the Near East Situation", after which an open discussion was held. Harry Showalter '41, presided at the meeting in the absence of the president.

A nomination committee for new officers was appointed. This committee, including Virginia Shirtz '41, Victor Troxell '41, Douglas Davis '41, and the chairman, Harry Showalter '41, will report at the next meeting.

A discussion was held concerning keys for the club, but no definite action was taken.

On April 24 the I. R. C. will sponsor a mock trial of Hitler. This trial will be open to everyone.

Pre-Legalites To Hear High

The J. Lynn Barnard Pre-Legal Society will have as its guest speaker this evening at 8:00 p. m. Mr. Samuel H. High, of Norristown, a member of the law firm of High, Dettra, and Swartz.

Mark Alspach '40, president of the society, will introduce the speaker. The meeting will be held in the reception room of Freeland Hall.

Mr. High is a graduate of Princeton University and the Law School of the University of Pennsylvania. He is a member of the Montgomery County and Pennsylvania Bar Associations.

The College and its friends extend their sincere sympathy to Averill Fox '42, on the death of her brother.

Humorist To Deliver Keynote Address at Banquet on Friday Evening

The All-Ursinus Conference, "Design for Understanding", — "to create a sympathetic understanding of the peoples of the world through a knowledge of their respective cultures, and to promote a tolerant attitude toward other peoples"—will bring to Ursinus this week-end prominent men and women in the several fields of sports, science, folk lore, and religion. The week-end program will open Friday evening at a dinner in Freeland Hall, where Strickland Gillilan, humorist and journalist, will deliver the keynote address, "Stupidity Is Sin, and Vice Versa".

Gillilan, who has been dubbed "the Nation's Humorist", is a Washington correspondent who writes in the style of the late Will Rogers.

Edgar Guest, the noted commentator, said of Gillilan: "The man who would walk a mile for a camel is a piker. I'd walk ten miles to hear Gillilan".

According to Bruce Barton, United States Congressman from New York, "There are too many of everything in the world except humorists . . . Strick Gillilan is one of these".

Crew Coach To Speak

The other feature of the Friday evening program will be an informal talk on international sports by Dr. Russell S. Callow, Assistant Professor of Physical Education at the University of Pennsylvania. It will be heard in Bomberger Hall at 8:15 p. m.

Dr. Callow, formerly of the University of Washington, is the present crew coach at Pennsylvania.

An outdoor breakfast on the hockey field will be sponsored by the conference committee at 8:30 a. m. on Saturday morning. At 10:00 a. m. the science phase of the week-end program will be considered in a lecture by Dr. Ivor Griffith, Dean of the Philadelphia College of Pharmacy and Science. "What Is New in Science from the Standpoint of Contributions from European Nations" will be the theme of the discussion.

Three Represent the College At Political Science Academy

Dr. James L. Barnard, Dr. Elizabeth B. White, and Mr. Eugene H. Miller of the Ursinus faculty represented the College as official delegates at the annual meeting of the American Academy of Political and Social Science in Philadelphia last Friday and Saturday.

The topic of the meeting was "The United States and Durable Peace". Speeches by a number of distinguished American and European experts on international relations were included in the program.

Dubuque Heads Debaters

Officers of the men's debating club, the Webster Forensic Society, were elected at the regular meeting held last Monday evening, April 8, in the Freeland Reception Room. The following were elected for the 1940-41 term: president, Joseph Dubuque '41; vice-president, Harry Showalter '41; manager, Charles Blum '41; secretary, Denton Herber '42; and assistant manager, J. William Ditter '43.

Tentative plans were completed for a banquet to be held soon in conjunction with the Women's Debating Club. Further arrangements concerning the banquet will be announced later.

About Outstanding People!

April nineteenth, twentieth, twenty-first! The All-Ursinus Conference has arranged for a full card of discussions for those days,—and a host of noted people! The topics for conversation would strike a favorable note in almost any, but a hermit's thoughts.

"Design for Understanding", the theme of the week-end schedule, has for its key-note what Mike Kelly of the Penn A. C., in Philadelphia, calls "a sure-fire natural", Strickland Gillilan.

To appropriate words from the passing anniversary of one famous April day, one might well say, "Listen, my children, and you shall hear"; for Gillilan is at home behind the banquet table, a condition that resulted from numerous engagements as a speaker.

Following orthodox program make-up, Chairmen Karl Agan '42, and Jane Pakenham '41, have secured another four-star personality for the opening night. "Rusty" Callow, the famed University of Washington's offering to Penn's crew coaching staff, will weave sports into the international scheme. Callow should need no introduction to the men of the College; for as Coach "Ken" Hashagen said, "He's one of the best speakers on sports I know".

The Saturday program ranges from science, in the hands of the Philadelphia College of Pharmacy and Science Dean, to a lecture-recital by a well-known pianist of the Franklin Institute. Social event of the week-end, the international party, is another of the popular informal parties that Ursinus likes so well.

Sherwood Eddy, the closing speaker of the conclave, has a distinctive record as an author and lecturer. Commenting on a scheduled visit to Dickinson College tomorrow, the Dickinsonian said of Dr. Eddy: "He gets very close to the real sources of information, and in this present day world, when one can never feel sure that what he reads is factually true, the information of Dr. Eddy should be particularly valuable and refreshing".

Such a prospectus commands the support of any student body.

N. T. B. '41

The Commentator

How can the danger of war be removed from the world? What can the United States do to prevent her involvement in international catastrophe?

Those were some of the questions considered under the topic, "The United States and Durable Peace", at the forty-fourth annual meeting of the American Academy of Political and Social Science held last Friday and Saturday at the Bellevue-Stratford Hotel in Philadelphia. We have here noted some opinions of the experts who spoke at the sessions.

Although "peace may seem to be farther away than ever as a result of recent European developments which compell the attention of Americans, there must eventually come a peace. And it is important that the conditions of that peace grow more from long-range considerations worked out in advance, rather than from the immediate fortunes of war". These were the views expressed by George Stuart Patterson, a Philadelphia lawyer.

In his analysis of the causes of the war and the conclusions, Dr. Clyde Eagleton, of New York University, seemed to us particularly striking. He declared that war is primarily carried on for the settlement of disputes, the remedying of injustices, the enforcing of rights.

Although war is about the worst possible way to perform these functions, if it is to be removed, something must be substituted. It cannot be outlawed by international fiat as the Kellogg Pact attempted to do. "It is inevitable", Dr. Eagleton asserted, "that we should have an international government." He emphasized, in addition, that the most powerful nation in the world can not remain aloof from that government.

Dr. M. J. Boon, who was born and educated in Germany and is now in the London School of Economics, seemed to feel rather doubtful about the possibility of gaining a world peace in a short time, because of the naturalness of nationalism and the difficulty of overcoming racial animosities and the military spirit of some nations. As to economic problems, he stated: "The self-sufficient stunt will not work and the liberal free-trade stunt has not worked". W. S. B. '42

Crowded Slum Areas Studied on "Y" Trip

With Mr. Sherwood Messner, Field Secretary of Student Christian Movement of Philadelphia, as their guide, twenty-seven Ursinus students accompanied by three chaperons, Mr. and Mrs. F. I. Sheeder and Mr. Charles D. Miller, journeyed to New York City last Friday, April 5, to study the social conditions of heavily populated areas there.

On Friday afternoon the men of the party went through the Tombs Prison, while the women visited the Women's Detention Home where 478 inmates, both Negro and white, of the average age of seventeen are housed. The entire group visited the Women's Court and the Criminal Courts.

A Syrian dinner was served at the Sheik Restaurant, at which time Marjorie Ball, prominent New York City social worker, spoke on "Opportunities for Social Service Workers". Later in the evening the play "Pins and Needles" was attended. A trip was also taken to the docks to visit the wholesale markets.

The Saturday morning schedule included the Police Line-Ups, Police Communication Bureau, the Rogues' Gallery, and the Church of all Nations which is a settlement house in the Bowery section. The lunch hour was spent in the Bowery Y. M. C. A.

The group toured Greenwich Village and the Whitney Art Museum in the afternoon, as well as several curio shops, a Syrian Bakery, the Aquarium, the Battery, Wall Street, and Trinity Episcopal Church.

Several hours were spent in Chinatown visiting a museum and a Buddhist Temple, and eating at the Prince Albert Restaurant.

Sunday morning the party were the only white members among the vast congregation of Negro worshippers at the Abyssinian Baptist Church in Harlem. Lunch at the church completed their stay in New York.

Vivian Judd '40, chairman of the social service committee of the Y. W. C. A., was assisted by Ruth Noble '41, Kenneth Bishop '40, Dorothy Adams '41, and Helen Adams '41, in planning the trip.

GAFF from the GRIZZLY

The local high school certainly blossomed out at the Juniors' blow-out. Too bad Anne didn't tell her escort that maroon accessories don't exactly blend with red hair, and that wolves don't enjoy teadances.

Who was the wise guy who raised the window in the third floor Curtis bath on Saturday morning? No doubt it was "stuff" and he needed air.

At least two parties were happy after chapel today. Commissioner Agan and Clamer Hall both got a bit of free plugging. At least Clamer has an innovation with a minister in the environs. But, perhaps there's still not enough to go around.

One of Derr Hall's All-Americans seems to have avoided parental orders which followed the posting of the Dean's squad. At least he took time out for the Prom,—and only the weather was cold!

Economics classes will probably be jammed to the doors for a few days, what with detective Boswell having Ellery Queen material deposited at his front door over the week-end.

Society Notes

Kappa Delta Kappa sorority attended the play, "Ghosts", by Ibsen, given at Hedgerow Theater on Thursday evening, April 11. Mr. and Mrs. Everett M. Bailey were the chaperons for the party. Mrs. Bailey is one of the sponsors of the sorority.

Miss Marion G. Spangler gave the Ursinus co-eds a musical tea on Saturday afternoon, April 13, at Studio Cottage. Miss Spangler's pupils presented the music for the afternoon.

Maples Hall will hold Open House for all Ursinus girls in residence halls on Thursday afternoon, April 18.

Looking 'Em Over
By D. D.

The Junior Week-End is now history, but you just can't forget such affairs in a couple of days.

The Weatherman scored a technical knockout by snowing under a pair of ball games, but even his meanest trick wasn't enough to dampen the Prom.

"Fats" Costello, Fred Glatfelter, and Glenn Eshbach were only a few of the former Bear athletes who swung to Hunter's jive.

Another week-end visitor was "Muggins" Groff, Brown Prep coach, who has developed such athletes as Bob Keehn, Hal Chern, Howard MacMahon, and countless others.

Villanova is resuming freshman baseball this year, after a year's layoff, with "Buzz" Howlett as the coach. The Wildcats will play the Jayvees here tomorrow.

The facial expression of Don Kellett was slightly rearranged by a line drive from the bat of Walt Peterson during practice last Thursday; and on Friday Don was hiding under a patch that made him look like Long John Silver.

The Weekly has adopted a new policy. From now on, we'll never say that a game will be played, but all articles will be prefaced with "If weather permits". Fred Swift calculates that, about the middle of May, he may have a chance to pitch the opening game of the season.

The story of the week comes from Harry Bigley, one of the best basketball players to ever wear the Ursinus colors, and concerns that grand old sport, "Doc" Barnard.

It seems that in a particularly hard-fought game Bigley's opponent pounded him on the back on every tap-off. Soon tiring of being a punching bag, Harry whirled around and caught his opponent square on the jaw with a hard right. The man was knocked into the fans, and after the game, Bigley learned that he had propelled his adversary into Dr. Barnard's lap.

For the next few days, the crestfallen Bigley managed to evade the good doctor, but at last they bumped into each other while going around a corner of Bomberger. Dr. Barnard looked straight at Bigley and remarked, "Do you remember knocking that fellow into my lap? Well, I watched him slug you all evening, and I was mad enough to hit him myself."

Cindermen Start Season With Triangular Meet

With a fine turnout of forty-five, the Bear trackmen are rapidly getting into shape for their first track meet here at Ursinus on Saturday. The meet is a triangular one with Drexel and Gettysburg. Last year the Bears had to give three events away due to lack of material, but with strong men in each event, the 1940 team looks like one of the best in the history of Ursinus.

From the intramural track meet on Wednesday "Hash" got his first chance to see his team perform, and he was very much pleased with the times and distances recorded in the various events. In the 100 yard dash, three freshmen, Jim Raban, Joe Irvin, and Frank Hyatt, are all possible winners. To date Raban has shown the best form and appears a sure winner; he is also a threat in the 220 along with Joe Ingham and Joe Irvin.

Laird Henry and Joe Ingham will run in the 440 event, and both appear as possible point-getters. "Hash" is well pleased with Laird's improvement and is counting on him to come in with a few firsts. Nat Toulon, in the 880, who is rapidly rounding into condition, is looking for a good year.

Scorers in Distance Runs

In the mile run, a freshman, Ralph Jowett, who comes here with a high school record is one to bear watching. Coach Hashagen thinks that Ralph can be developed into a still finer runner. "Buddy" Adams is looking much better in the two-mile run, and with the addition of John Cornely, Ursinus should have two consistent scorers. Ed Conine is the standout in the 120 and 220 low hurdles.

"Biscuit" Morrow and Max Zeski will handle the shot-put. "Hash" says that Morrow is a "big" addition in the weight department. "Jug" Ehlers looks exceptionally good in the discus throw, and he will be aided by Bill Selfridge.

Veterans in Field Events

In the running broad jump, Dick Frohner stands out, along with Ed Conine and Joe Ingham. The high-jumping will be handled by Russ Huckle, "Curt" Leullen, and Johnny Birbeck. Bill Lundgren, Ralph Jowett, and Nat Toulon have been working with the javelin, but Hashagen is not sure yet as to who will be entered in the event. The probable pole-vaulters are Nat Johnson, "Buddy" Adams, and "Doc" Brown, a former Wildwood high school star.

In the intramural meet, two possible point scorers were also discovered in Bill McDade, a sprinter, and Harry Felton, a two-miler. Baseball has taken a few men and the "Dean" took quite a bit away in Kenny Grosseck, a fine pole-vaulter, and Bill Maguire, a former Trenton distance man.

Dr. Tyson Will Talk Tennis at Phys. Ed. Meeting Here Wed.

Dr. George R. Tyson, professor of psychology and coach of the Ursinus tennis team, will address a meeting of the physical education teachers of the Pennsylvania Association of Health and Physical Education, to be held at Ursinus on Wednesday.

The topic of Coach Tyson's talk will be "Tennis and Psychology of Skill as Applied to Tennis". He will be assisted by "Bunny" Harshaw, women's tennis team captain, who will demonstrate the proper stroking. At the same meeting, Ben Ogden, veteran Temple track coach, will give a talk on track, and "Jing" Johnson will show the American League baseball film, "Touching All Bases".

The program will include both an afternoon and evening session. Approximately 100 high schools in the Southeastern District of the Association will be represented.

Ball Team Will Travel For Opener at Lehigh

"Jing" Johnson's baseball squad plays its first away game of the season tomorrow against the twice-victorious Lehigh club. In a 26 game series dating from 1891, the home team has won 10, lost 16. Last year's game was rained out.

Gettysburg visits the Bears' den on Friday, April 19, for the first league game of the season. The Bullets placed second in last season's final league standing; their 3 wins-1 loss average nosing out the Bear's 3-2 conference record. Ursinus has won eight, lost eight, and tied one in a 17 game series with G-Burg. The tie was a 17 inning 1-1 thriller, hurled by "Jing", 'way back in 1914.

Although inclement weather has forced the postponement of games with Villanova, Temple, and Penn A. C., the team has been able to participate in daily workouts in which both batting and fielding has been stressed. Most of the varsity athletes are veterans with three years of experiences, and "Jing" is able to drill on their weaknesses at once.

The tentative lineup for these two games includes: Atkinson, c.; H. Wise, 1b.; Moyer, 2b.; Keehn, s.s.; Harris, 3b.; Dawson, 1. f.; E. Thompson, c. f.; Fetterman, r. f.; Swift or MacMahon, p.

Jayvees Meet Villanova

With the scheduled opener against Perkiomen wiped out by Dame Nature, Don Kellett can lean back and survey. The squad seems fairly well balanced with seven veterans to provide a steadying influence on the newcomers.

Tom Strange has the catching post to himself but generally the team will be two deep in nearly every position. Al Tkacz and Pete Peterson will fight it out for third while Paul Augustine has short to himself. The second base struggle will be between Danny McGowen and Jim Raban, first between Tom Adams and Bob Cooke, while Ken Snyder, as utility man, may leave any one of them sitting on the bench. Al Berman, Danny Hartline, and Joe Glass look set for the outfield posts. Three hurlers will see service; righthanders Harry Showalter and Gordy Blythe, and Portsider Jack Garlock.

Tomorrow, however, the team will again try to take the field against an opponent. Villanova is the scheduled nine and the game is to be played here.

- Intramurals -

Curtis, despite a prevailing rumor of a Highland victory, took the intramural track championship last Wednesday by a margin of nearly 25 points.

Totals for the meet were: Curtis 53, Highland 28½, Brodbeck 22, Derr 19½, Day 14, Stine 5, and Free-land 2.

Individual winners on Wednesday were as follows: 100 yard, Raban, Curtis; 220 yard, Raban, Curtis; 440 yard, Maguire, Highland; 880 yard, Toulon, Curtis; one mile, Jowett, Day; two mile, Adams, Derr; 110 yard high hurdles, Conine, Brodbeck; 220 yard low hurdles, Conine, Brodbeck; high jump, Huckel, Brodbeck; broad jump, Frohner, Stine; pole vault, Grosseck, Highland; discus, Ehlers, Derr; shot put, Morrow, Highland; javelin, Lundgren, Curtis.

The soft ball "sluggers" got underway today with Highland meeting Curtis, and Brodbeck opposing Derr.

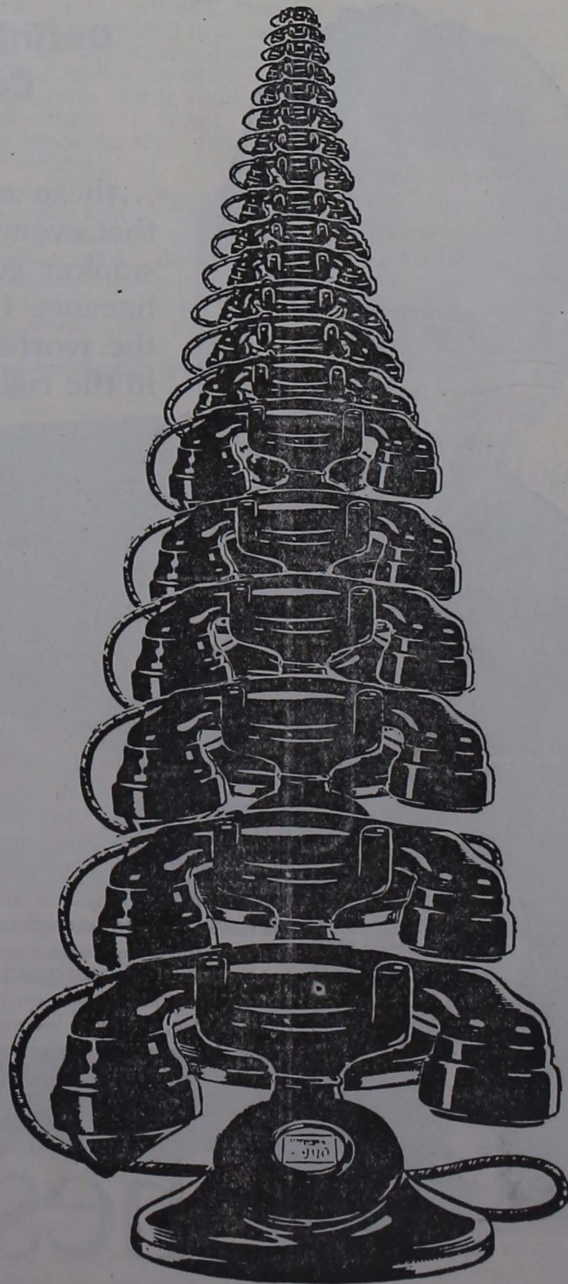

Snell Racquetters Meet Penn Squad on May 3

May 3 will mark the official opening of the 1940 girls' tennis season, when the Ursinus racquetters swing into action on the Temple courts. This year's team will be led by its number one singles player, "Bunny" Harshaw. A veteran racquet wielder and all-around athlete, "Bunny" has distinguished herself and has won widespread publicity for Ursinus in both college and amateur open tennis competition. Three years ago she won the championship for the Middle Atlantic States division of Junior Nationals, and last Summer she captured the Women's Eastern Clay Courts title.

This year will see the last appearance on college courts of "Bunny" and two of her teammates, "Squeaky" Von Kleeck and Jane Roberts, seeded second singles and first doubles players last year. With them, Mary Robbins, third singles player, and Nat Hogeland and Alice Dougherty, second doubles players, volleyed through a season marred by only one defeat, on the Swarthmore courts. One doubles vacancy will be filled this year to replace "Slim" Shoemaker, who was graduated.

The schedule includes: Temple, May 3, away; Penn, May 4, home; Swarthmore, May 13, away; Beaver, May 15, away; and tentative matches with Drexel, Rosemont, College of Chestnut Hill, and William and Mary.

Mr. Reed, lauded by critics for the poignancy of his characterizations selected from Edgar Lee Masters' "Spoon River Anthology", will present a series of verbal portraits from that same work.
