MAY QUEEN MADGE "BUNNY" HARSHAW

"King's Daughters" Is Feature Of Mothers' Day Entertainment

Mothers To Be Feted at Pageant, Dinner, Play

Scene of May Day Pageant Is Merrie Old England

Ursinus' mothers will be feted next Saturday with a program of events which features "The King's Daughters", the women's May Day Pageant, and "You Can't Take It With You", the Spring Curtain Club play.

Luncheons for the mothers will open the card of events. They will be held at the various women's dormitories, where the mothers will have an opportunity to become acquainted with each other.

The big event of the day, the pageant, will be staged on Patterson Field at 3:00 p. m. The pageant includes every woman student in some part of the production either in the presentation or the committees.

"Orpheus" To Be Staged

Immediately following that production, the vocal students of Miss Marion G. Spangler, of the College music department, will present on the Library steps the Elysian Fields scene from Gluck's opera, "Orpheus". It will be sung in English and in costume with a hidden choral and instrumental accompaniment.

The characters include Orpheus, Gracemary Greene '42; Eurydice, Dorothy Newhard '41; Amor, Averill Fox '42; and a Blessed Spirit, Mary Alice Weaver '43, attended by Blanche and Carolyn Nowicki. Joseph Chapline '42, and Jeanne Russell will provide the musical accompaniment.

Preceding the Curtain Club play will be the annual banquet held in Freeland Hall. Members of the administration and some of the mothers will speak.

Lantern Deadline Announced

Harry Showalter '41, the newly elected editor of The Lantern, announced that the deadline for the Commencement edition is May 10.

The Lantern staff for the coming year includes business manager John Rauhauser '41, assistant business manager Eva June Smith '42, and Carol Swartley '43, Frank Hyatt '43, Joe Chapline '42, Nadine Sturges '41.

SPEAKER CLINCHY SHOWS THREAT OF IDEOLOGY CLASH

Dr. Everett R. Clinchy, speaker at the last Ursinus Forum, held in Bomberger Hall on Wednesday evening, opened his address with a warning that not only a clash of nationality but also a clash of ideology, caused by the rise of the totalitarianisms, is a serious problem in the world today.

Dr. Clinchy, the Director of the National Conference of Christians and Jews, spoke on the "Dangers and Opportunities Confronting Americans". In the presiding chair for the evening was Mr. Eugene H. Miller, of the College history and sociology departments.

"The ideology of the present-day dictators destroys all the values of Christianity", declared Dr. Clinchy. Hitler has destroyed the value of freedom of the human spirit; he has outlawed the idea of human service; he has proclaimed that love is heresy; and he has eliminated the importance of the human personality, emphasizing instead the omnipotence of the party, state, or nation. Finally he has condemned the whole sovereignty of man's conscience, substituting loyalty to state.

Berates Stalin Regime

Mr. Stalin, along the same line, has destroyed the whole notion of sense of law and orderliness; he has destroyed all sense of ethics and morality, saying that the end justifies the means; and for the spiritual interpretation of the universe and of life he has substituted materialism. This, Dr. Clinchy believes, is revolt against the church, against reason, and against enlightenment.

Le Art's Ambassadors To Play for May Hop

Hampered by a loss of funds and little time, May Hop Chairman Jean Ehlers '41, announced yesterday that he had secured Len Le Art and his Ambassadors for the May Hop, May 18. "Len and his band are great", Ehlers remarked, "They have been playing together for several years, and we feel we've got a winner in this band."

The Ambassadors are well known in Philadelphia, and are currently playing at local college and fraternity dances. Jimmy Dorsey has personally endorsed Le Art's "sax" section; and a further instance of the ability of the musicians is indicated by the fact that Jack Pleis, now playing piano and arranging for Jan Savitt, is a Le Art "alumnus".

Up till press time the committee had not announced the motif of the decorations, merely promising

Penn Invites Three To Bicentennial This Fall

Jane Hartman '41, Harry Showalter '41, and Roy Snyder '41, as delegates chosen by the Ursinus student governments, have been invited by the Undergraduate Council of the University of Pennsylvania with the approval of the University's president, to officially represent Ursinus College at the University's Bicentennial Celebration on September 19, 20, and 21. The alternates for these delegates are Frank Wood '41, and Karl Agan '42.

September 19th and the preceding days will embrace a series of lectures and symposia in the four fields of the humanities, the natural, the social, and the medical sciences. These meetings will be followed on September 20 and 21 by special observances of the Anniversary in which other universities, colleges, among these Ursinus, and other learned societies from all parts of the world have been invited to participate.

Special events for the undergraduate delegates are planned for September 19th. The series of notable events and meetings, which will reach a climax in the Fall, commemorate the 200th Anniversary of the University of Pennsylvania's founding.

The Lovable Sycamore Family Comes To Ursinus

Presenting the "looniest" and most lovable family in the world, the Sycamores, in a quiet evening at home:

Mrs. Sycamore, portrayed by Frances Thierolf '40, is seated before a typewriter, which was accidentally delivered to the house eight years ago, feverishly pounding out the latest inspiration for her eleventh play. Greatest of all her problems is to rescue the heroine from a monastery in order to finish the story.

Then there's Essie, Mrs. Sycamore's eldest daughter, played by Jean Patterson '42. She is a hopeful ballet dancer, who in her teacher's words "stinks".

The role of Alice, love's young dream, is taken by Marthella Anderson '40, who is torn between love for her screwball family and love for Tony Kirby. Fred Weiland '41, as Grandpa, is the arbitrator of the Kirby-Sycamore feud. He quit Wall Street because he wasn't having any fun; incidentally, he hasn't paid his income tax since 1901.

Alice's father, Paul, portrayed by John Musser '41, divides his time between making fireworks and playing with an erector set.

Harry Showalter '41, as Tony Kirby, is the other half of the Sycamore-Kirby love affair. In spite of his father's millions, he would rather be a brick-layer than give up Alice.

The other members of the family who give the play the zest responsible for its popularity are: Ed, Franklin Morris '41; Kolenkhov, John Rauhauser '41; De Pinna, James Coulter '42; Rheba, Mary Alice Lord '41; Mrs. Kirby, Edna Hesketh '40; Mr. Kirby, Stanton Felt '40; Donald, George Hopkins '41; Duchess Olga Katrina, Ann Robinson '41; Henderson, Richard Arnold '42; and the G-Men, William Ditter '43, and Richard Ellis '43.

Introduce your Mother and Dad to this "amazing tribe", in the Kaufman-Hart super-comedy, "You Can't Take It With You", which has enjoyed unusual success both on Broadway and on the road. The Curtain Club's Spring play will be presented in the gymnasium, next Saturday evening, at 8:30 o'clock. Dr. and Mrs. Reginald S. Sibbald are directing the production.

Seniors Revolutionize Program of Class Day

John Wise, chairman of Senior Class Day exercises, announces an entirely new program this year. In former years, the class day exercises have been held in Bomberger Hall. This year, however, beginning on Friday, May 31, at 1:00 p. m., the luncheon and exercises will be held in the Freeland Hall upper dining-room. Mothers and fathers of the seniors will be invited to attend.

Chairman Wise, the toastmaster, and Senior Class President Mark Alspach will preside over the exercises. Dr. George W. Hartzell, to whom the 1940 Ruby has been dedicated, will make an address. As an added feature, Mrs. Charles T. Bardsley, Charles Bardsley's mother, and Mr. Benjamin W. Roberts, Jane Roberts' father, will speak. Mrs. Bardsley is the head of the Parent-Teacher's Association of South Jersey. Mr. Roberts is a graduate of Syracuse University and a well known speaker.

The class song, written by Betty Usinger, and the class prophecy will be presented. Also, a gift appropriate to the student's personality will be presented to each member of the graduating class. The traditional transfer of mantle from Mark Alspach to next year's Senior President, John Rauhauser, followed by the planting of the class tree, will close the exercises.

Dubuque Wins Contest

Joseph Dubuque '41, recently won first prize at an oratorical contest sponsored by the National Lawyers Guild of Washington, D. C.

Dubuque, an active participant in forensic activities on campus, was in competition with 13 representatives from other colleges throughout the East. Each contestant was required to deliver an oration on "Independence of the Judiciary". Senator Robert Taft of Ohio was toastmaster and chairman at the contest, held in the Mayfair Hotel.

The Class Day Change

A welcome announcement concerning Class Day came from Chairman Wise when he decided to abolish the traditional burlesque held in Bomberger in previous years. Not that the Bomberger "one-acters" were not amusing the first time one saw them, but the jokes did not increase in humor when retold the next class day.

It seems a shame that the old style class day programs could not be written and rehearsed well enough to warrant maintaining them, but the program planned for this year seems to have alleviated the condition resulting from a lack of humor in the program, though perhaps at the expense of some necessary informality.

Last Monday evening two new student government organizations assumed the duties of their terms in office. With the change in membership, it would be in order for a change in attitude toward the councils. Not too much is said about student governments; that which is said is often unnecessary or unfair. However, students should be reminded of the opportunities that a student government offers. Too often these are just something to avoid.

Some of the most successful changes made on campus, from the point of view of the students, have been obtained this year through administration-student relations, via the student governments.

Such work should continue. Furthermore, a change in student attitude could enhance and accompany a betterment in inter-student relations. The strength of a government is equal to the strength of the students who support it in its work. The better student moral is, the less work the student's government must do.

To omit giving credit to the Ruby staff would be a cardinal sin, in face of an almost unpardonable promptness in releasing the publication. How does Editor Bonos get that way, putting a Ruby out the beginning of May? Imagine how spoiled we'll be when May comes around next year! A complete, attractive Ruby in the hands of Ursinusites over two weeks before exams—that is an accomplishment.

AN URSINUS STUDENT APPRAISES HIS COLLEGE

This week-end, Ursinus is celebrating its sixth annual open house program. The purpose of this event is to acquaint a limited number of prospective students with the College campus, the students, the faculty, and the work of the institution. With this end in view, scholarship examinations are given, exhibits arranged, and social activities planned. The prospective students are urged to participate with the hope that they will be favorably impressed, and will consider making Ursinus College their Alma Mater.

The College means much to the students, most of whom have a different reason for their loyalty and devotion. Some believe that a small institution offers more in the way of social development than can a large university. In a small college, there is the possibility, even a probability, that the individual may come to know the entire student body, perhaps not by name, but well enough to consider the students his friends. Coincident with this possibility is that of close cooperation, which enables the Christian organizations to function as they do at Ursinus. Their activities include weekly vespers services, forums, parties and picnics, and support of athletics.

In a liberal arts college opportunities for specialization as well as generalization of study are present. The high scholastic rating of Ursinus provides an atmosphere that encourages and rewards initiative. Due to the size of the student body and faculty, small classes are possible, and facilitate the development of relatively close relationships between students and professors. Such a situation is highly desirable, since it fosters the development of an attitude of wholesome criticism instead of skepticism.

Extra-curricular activities occupy an important place in every educational institution, and Ursinus is not an exception. Organizations of varied types and purposes offer opportunities for practically every student. Each group is organized as a club for the purpose of drawing its members closer together. Athletics in season provide diversion for spectators as well as participants. Students who are interested in publications are given an opportunity to write for the Weekly, the Ruby, the Lantern, a literary magazine, or the International Relations Club Quarterly, a commentary written and edited by students.

On the average, there is one dance a month at Ursinus in addition to novelty parties or moving pictures sponsored by the "Y's". In addition, each year the "Y's" sponsor an All-Ursinus Conference. The topic for the past conference was "Design for Understanding", and for it experts in the fields of science, arts, and letters were invited to conduct discussions in line with the general topic.

Literary talents are encouraged and expression is developed in various organizations. The Curtain Club produces two plays each year with casts representing every class and group. The Lantern is largely the result of the efforts of those who enjoy writing. Both reflect the high standards of the students as well as of the institution. Ursinus possesses one of the most beautiful campuses in this district. A valuable collection of trees and shrubs enhances the appearance of the buildings and dormitories. The buildings are modern and well-equipped for the courses of study that are offered, and students find no difficulty in obtaining the materials necessary for the type of work which they wish to do.

In a general sense, it is difficult to describe the attitude of a student body toward its educational and cultural environment, but at Ursinus this attitude is one of pride, if not one of gratitude.

GAFF from the GRIZZLY

When the freezer at Studio Cottage went off its trolley last Sabbath morn, Ken Snyder was S. O. S'd immediately. Not that the Man Who Comes Around got a frigid reception, but he's been Punchy ever since... Add similes: An egotistical actor—one who is clap-happy... Latest fave rave among the co-eds is a spoon charm. Marthella wears one—and almost anyone can testify as to her "spooning charm".

... Bobby Guinness raised that egg on Denny's noggin t'other nite with a knitting ball, making her the first girl that's ever gone to his head. And knits to you, too... Here's the lowdown on that by now famous Shuster park job. Seems he rolled in late.

P. M. Patter . . .

"Jean Webb", quips a quickie at Doc's "is getting a plane license this vacation tide." She needs one, the way she pilots her benzine buggy around. If she ever gets a ticket, it won't be for speedin'—it'll be for flyin' low!!... "Hintidentally, Jackson", confides a campus cutie in Wreck Center, the kitchen knew a week ago that there'd be no meat last Wednesday. Which puts those ballots on a par with a Hitler plebiscite!

"Smaht? Look, chum", meows a (c)lassie in Brad's, "that gal pulls more strings than Tony Sarg to get through her exams!"... "This bootleg hand-holding gives me quite a kick, "smirks a shahper in the Lower Drug." Can you imagine being campused for playing patty-cake?... "So he claims he's a florist, huh?" SINTimates a soak at John's. "Well, I know he likes roses—FOUR of 'em!"

Gag of the Week:

The Administration is currently panding out conduct warnings to recalcitrant "Self-helpers". So, when Chas. Miller was off side t'other night, Mrs. Price h'mphed: "You Juniors! I guess you didn't get one of those letters, did you, Charles?" To which Miller niftied, "Oh? Is waiting a varsity sport this year?"

Extensive Ursinus Athletic Program Gives Recreational Opportunities to All Students

By Garnet Adams '42

The ancient Greeks believed that "a sound mind in a sound body" was the ideal make-up of a perfect citizen. Like this old adage, Ursinus engages in a program of athletics that reaches every student. As in all small colleges there is not too much emphasis put on any one sport, but each is considered to be a part of a system of physical exercise for all students.

"Jing" Johnson, graduate of Ursinus in 1916 and a former major league baseball player, is the Director of Athletics of the College. Ursinus is a member of the Eastern Intercollegiate Conference in its major sports.

In the Spring the athletic program is at its peak, with the intercollegiate program including baseball, track, tennis, and cricket; while the intramural set-up provides for contests in golf and softball.

Ball Team Leads League

With all veterans in the line-up, Coach "Jing" Johnson has started a highly successful baseball season. To date the Bears have won five contests, losing only one, giving them the league lead. The track team, composed of nearly all underclassmen, has shown prospects of having the best season in years. Thus far the team has broken even, with one win, one loss. Coach "Ken" Hashagen looks to a far better final record.

Cricketers Defeat Princeton

Ursinus College is one of the four colleges in the United States to have a cricket team. In their first game of the season, the Bears' representatives on the greens scored a decisive victory over Princeton. They are looking forward to the rest of the four game schedule, the next game of which is to be played with Haverford. Although "Jupe Pluvius" frequently plays havoc with all Spring sports, the men's tennis team still manages to engage in a rather full schedule. So far this season, the cohorts of Coach George R. Tyson have engaged in but one match, which they lost, 5-4, to a strong F. and M. outfit.

Football and soccer are the main sports activities for Ursinus during the Autumn season, and with them come all the spirit of the returning student body. "Don" Kellett, former Penn luminary, coaches the football squad, assisted by "Pete" Stevens and "Sieb" Pancoast. The past season showed a record of 2 wins, 5 losses, and 1 tie.

Army Game Outstanding

Outstanding in the season was the brilliant game the Bears put up against the cadets of West Point, holding them to 13-7 as a halftime score: they fell at the end before the man-power of the Army team. Prospects for next year show a number of returning veterans who will vie for positions with members of an undefeated freshmen squad of this year.

Soccer Has Best Record

The old English game of soccer is popular at Ursinus, capably coached by "Doc" Baker, former All-American player. The Bear Booters engage in a schedule of ten games with the best competition in this section of the country. In recent years they have shown the best record of any of the men's sports. The past season the squad fared badly due to the lack of reserves.

Wrestling and basketball form the program for the Winter months. The basketball squad, which during the past season lost the league title in a close finish, is coached by "Ken" Hashagen. They packed the largest crowd in the College's history into the Thompson-Gay Gymnasium to see them play Gettysburg in a crucial league tilt. Although they lost the title in the last week of play, the Bears finished the season with a record of 10 games won, 8 lost.

Veteran Wrestlers Remain

Wrestling at Ursinus is rapidly becoming a very popular sport. Coach "Pete" Stevens has some of the best prospects of many seasons waiting for the Fall call. Every man except one will be back next year to grapple for a position on the squad.

Freshmen are eligible for varsity positions for all of the Spring sports; but in all others, they must serve a year on the junior varsity aggregation before stepping into a varsity suit. For all sports in which certain requirements are fulfilled, the traditional "U" is granted.

Women Athletes Star

The men's athletic teams at Ursinus have always had a tough time combatting the fine records set by the women athletes. On the athletic program for the girls are intercollegiate contests in tennis, hockey, baseball, archery, and golf. During the past years the Ursinus women have been consistent leaders in women's sports in this section of the country. Miss Eleanor Snell and Mrs. Sara Hampson are the coaches for all of the teams.

Counseling System Used Aids Student Adjustment

By Mrs. Eugene E. Shelly

The counseling program at Ursinus College, conducted under the leadership of Franklin I. Sheeder, Registrar, attempts to intelligently assist the student in the complex problem of adjustment to college life.

Approximately twenty members of the faculty and administrative staff who are especially equipped for this type of work become interested in a small group of students. Counselors and students meet frequently in groups or individual interviews to discuss educational and vocational plans, and financial and personal problems. Social gatherings which permit a close and informal association within the group are frequently arranged in the counselors' homes.

Standard Tests Used

Regular meetings of counselors under the guidance of Mr. Sheeder, are held for study and consultation.

During the past year, several sessions on "How to Study", stressing techniques of note-taking, study for examinations, and classroom preparation, were conducted by Dr. Elizabeth B. White, professor of history, who has had considerable experience in the field of counseling.

Counselors Meet Regularly

Use is made of the American Council on Education Psychological Examination, the Cooperative tests, and the Strong Vocational Blank questionnaire in helping the student to plan for his future. Reading and Summer work pro-

Placement Tests Indicate High Ranking of Ursinus Freshmen

Since their inception at Ursinus College in 1933, the present placement examinations for all entering students have become a regular part of the Freshman Pre-Matriculation Program. These examinations are prepared by the American Council on Education and the Cooperative Test Service for use in colleges where ability grouping of entering students seems advisable.

In September, 1937, Ursinus College freshmen attained 13th place in a group of 323 colleges in the United States who made use of the psychological examination that year. The following year Ursinus maintained its relative rating, placing 24th among 355 colleges.

Although relative standings for September, 1939, are not yet available, indications are that Ursinus will make as good a showing as usual.

In the Cooperative tests, national ratings are not prepared in the same way. However, Ursinus students have from the very first attained a median well above the median for all liberal arts colleges who use the Cooperative English test. From preliminary results, it is expected that the group now in college will do as well as previous classes.

grams are frequently outlined as a practical method of becoming acquainted with a certain field of work. Many students are referred to members of the faculty, alumni, or friends of the college for specific vocational information and a close-range view of certain fields of work.

Application of Three Tests to Educational Institutions Should Precede Matriculation

By Registrar F. I. Sheeder

According to Registrar F. I. Sheeder there are five tests that every student who is planning to go to college should apply to the institutions under consideration. First, by what agency, or agencies, is the college accredited? There are three types of agencies which rate institutions of higher learning. They can be classified roughly as follows: state, regional, and national. Of these the most discerning is the Association of American Universities, which is national in its scope. Only about 300 of the more than 1000 colleges and universities in the United States are on the accredited list of this organization.

Test the Faculty

The second test has to do with the quality of the faculty. Since the faculty is the most important part of any educational institution, it is natural that the prospective college student should investigate this matter with care. Every college publishes a catalogue in which are listed such items as the names of faculty members, the advanced degrees held by them, and their professional experience. The reputation of faculty members as teachers or scholars in their respective fields; their contributions in the form of published articles, or books, to their own or other fields of interest; their concern for other than academic matters as indicated by their participation in public affairs, these are factors that can be readily checked. It is also possible to discover how well they are regarded outside their own immediate sphere of influence by examining such professional publications as "Who's Who in America", "American Men of Science", "Leaders in Education", and the like.

What Students Attend?

The quality of students attracted to a given institution is another test that can be readily applied to a particular college. It is natural to expect that good students will want to associate with other good students. If a college is heavily weighted with weak, or mediocre students, it is reasonable to infer that the challenge to superior work will not be great. Most of the better colleges administer the American Council on Education Psychological Examination to all incoming classes. The results of these tests give a fair indication of the quality of students attracted to a given institution. These results for each college are available to the discerning student and will usually be supplied upon request.

A fourth test has to do with the ratio of faculty to students. It is obvious that the smaller the ratio that is obtained the more likelihood there will be for close personal contacts between faculty and students. In some of the lower-priced colleges the ratio of faculty to students is 1 to 25, or more. Educators are generally agreed that a good ratio is 1 to 10, or at most, 1 to 15. In institutions where care is exercised on this point, it is altogether likely that the student will have a much more profitable educational experience than would otherwise be the case.

Do Students Leave?

The ability of a college to hold its students is a fifth test that should be taken into account. A disproportionate percentage of student losses may indicate an unwise admissions policy.

Ursinus Graduates Win Med. School Success

According to a report which President Norman E. McClure has just received from the Association of American Medical Colleges, Ursinus students, over the past nine years, have made an enviable record in the medical schools which they have attended. Those colleges included in the report have sent 10 or more students to medical school in the indicated length of time.

During the period 1930-38, 82 Ursinus students have been admitted to institutions all over the United States to study medicine, 80.4% of whom made a clear record in their first year, that is, a record with no failures. In this same period, only 1.2%, or one student, failed at medical school. The difference in percentage between the percentage who had no subject failures, the percentage who failed, and one hundred per cent is the percentage who made up subject failures.

This record compares very favorably with that made by students from Bryn Mawr, Elizabethtown, Lehigh, Penn State, Swarthmore, Temple, and the University of Pennsylvania, nearly all of which are considerably larger than Ursinus. The lowest percentage of students from Pennsylvania colleges having clear records is 33.3%, while the highest for the same group of colleges is 93.4%. The percentage of students withdrawing from medical colleges ranges from 0.0% to 14.3%. 0.0% of Ursinus students have withdrawn during the period of the study.

A comparison of students of Pennsylvania colleges with those of other states reveals that the Pennsylvania group has a relatively good standing.

LOOKIN' AT URSINUS

For almost a decade Ursinus has had available the completely equipped Science Building, shown at the left. In addition to the various science laboratories and classrooms, the building contains a completely equipped lecture hall. The President and Vice-President have their offices here.

Genial but reserved, Shakespearian editor and professor, Norman E. McClure has directed Ursinus' policies since his election to the presidency in 1937.

A familiar scene from the street is Bomberger Tower dominating the Romanesque structure in blue marble. The home of the chapel, the administrative offices, and the language, literature, and social studies departments, Bomberger Memorial Hall was named for the first president of the College.

The colonial structure in Chestnut Hill stone, shown at the left, is the Alumni Memorial Library, a tribute of former students to those who served in the World War. With stack space for 60,000 volumes, the library also houses seminar rooms, the faculty room, and a museum.

AND WHERE WE LIVE

Picturesque and gentlemanly, a figure known for fifty years at Ursinus, Whorten A. Kline has helped and seen the progress of Ursinus as Dean of the College since 1909.

Looking through Eger Gateway and along the shaded center walk, one's attention is focused on Freeland Hall, the original Freeland Seminary building.

The Hall includes in addition to the men's dormitory the two College dining rooms.

To the left may be seen two recently erected men's dormitories, Brodbeck and Curtis. Built of Chestnut Hill stone on Colonial lines, they are well-lighted, spacious halls.

These four-floor buildings are named for Andrew R. Brodbeck and Cyrus H. K. Curtis, benefactors of Ursinus.

Clamer Hall, the women's hall shown at the right, is a gray stone residence located on Main Street away from the main campus. A large lawn surrounds the Hall, which has been leased by the College for additional quarters for women.

Quiet and gracious, Camilla B. Stahr assumed the duties of Dean of Women at the beginning of the present college year.

Footprints Is Novel Theme Featured As "Ruby" Makes Earliest Debut in Years

By J. William Ditter '43

Charles Bonos '40, and Hugh McLaughlin '40, amazed Ursinus on Wednesday by bringing forth the 1940 Ruby before test-time. As the students thronged around the Library to get their books, the editors received congratulations on one of the finest Rubies to appear in a number of years.

The book is tied together by the idea of footprints which marked the class history on the sands of Ursinus life. The attractive red cover with its background of the Bömberger Tower introduces the theme with the footprints traced across the gold name band. The dividers and the articles carry the idea further as the whole book sustains the thoughts of the history imprinted on Ursinus by the class.

The Ruby is dedicated to Dr. George W. Hartzell, professor of German, who was also voted by the class as its most popular faculty member. An interesting picture of the dedicatee with his family accompanies the more formal portrait.

Class Personalities Chosen

One of the most interesting innovations is in the presentation of the sophomore class, whose pictures were grouped by the dorms in which they lived. Another interesting feature was found in the sports department, where the football pictures were sloped in the oval pigskin form, while the group baseball picture was shaped like a diamond.

The beautiful pictures of the campus, effectively brought out by the use of green ink, show views which the departing seniors will want never to forget. The group picture of the faculty and that of the Class of '40 as freshmen are the more interesting for their originality.

Sophs Grouped by Dorms

The selection of the class personalities might be termed "individual footprints", as members of the class are listed as "most henpecked", (Taxis, Meade, Barnes, Ganser, Simpson, Naugle); "best bluffers", (Keehn, J. Wise, Barnes, Anderson, Leone, Green); "most naive", (Zvarick, Edwards, Gerhart, Clark, Judd, Naugle), and eighteen other like groupings. The individual senior pictures are complete with a short "character sketch" and a list of the activities of the four years at Ursinus.

Other classes are pictured, together with the year's pursuits, recreations, and diversions, but The Ruby is in spirit the possession of the Class of 1940, and its record at Ursinus.

French, German Clubs To Give Joint "Doggie" Roast and Sing

A combined French and German Club "doggie" roast will be held Monday, May 6, at 6:00 p. m. For ten cents anyone interested in the organizations may join the group in singing and in devouring "doggies" in the Sixth Avenue woods.

The committee in charge of the affair, which will be chaperoned by Dr. and Mrs. George W. Hartzell and Mr. and Mrs. Alfred M. Wilcox, consists of Norma Braker '40, Dorothy Cullen '40, Janet MacNair '41, and Emily Pollock '41.

New officers of the French Club were elected at a special meeting on April 29. They are: president, Janet MacNair '41; vice-president, Douglas Davis '41; secretary, June Meunier '42; and treasurer, Emily Pollock '41.

Phys. Ed. Club Elects

At a recent meeting of the Physical Education Club officers for the coming year were elected. Donald Fetterman '41, was chosen as president; Gladys Hoagland '42, as vice-president; and Gladys Levengood '42, as secretary-treasurer. A tentative date, May 16, was set for an outing of the group. This will be in the form of a picnic and will be held along the Perkio-men.

Manuscript Club Elects Shisler

Dorothy Shisler '41, was elected president of the Manuscript Club last Monday evening at the meeting held at Brad's Sandwich Shop. Mary Hyde '41, was chosen as secretary-treasurer.

On the Shelves

By Douglas Davis '41

Recent acquisitions of the Library include an important book in the field of biological science. The work is the first volume of a projected treatise covering in comprehensive and modern manner the morphology, physiology, embryology, and biology of the invertebrates. The Invertebrates, Protozoa Through Ctenophora, by Libbie Henrietta Hyman of the American Museum of Natural History, is strictly zoological. Concepts and ideas current in zoological teaching have been critically scrutinized in the light of available facts, and have been passed or rejected according to the weight of the evidence. There are many illustrations taken directly from living and prepared material.

Arthur Weigall, the English author and Egyptologist who combines drama and scholarly writing in his books, has published another history of a great figure of the ancient world. Alexander the Great is a moving biography, in which the man who conquered the world and who attributed his parentage to Zeus becomes a human being.

This Fascinating Oil Business, by Max W. Ball, is a romantic story of a unique and all-important industry, overflowing with vital facts about a vital business. The oil history and the possibilities of oil are presented and described in non-technical language, its purpose, to clarify the workings of the industry. The oil needs and oil supplies of the belligerents in the present war are searchingly examined, resulting in some startling conclusions.

In the field of religion, the Temple of Religion and Tower of Peace at the 1939 Golden Gate Interna- tional Exposition, by Stanley Armstrong Hunter, is a well designed souvenir of one of the phases of the San Francisco Exposition. It tells the story of how various religious groups came to unite to provide interfaith exhibits and programs.

The Protestant Crusade, 1800-1850, by Ray Allen Billington, is a description, by a man who is not a Catholic defender, of the development of the anti-Catholic, anti-foreign feeling in the United States from the beginning of settlement to the first dangerous outburst in the 1850's.

War and Diplomacy in the Japanese Empire, by Tatsuji Takeuchi, is an intimate, revealing, carefully documented study of the psychology of the Japanese government—a history of Japanese diplomacy as a cause of war. It describes the government and constitutional history of the island empire, devoting one section to the exposition of the situation in Manchuria.

E. R. Hughes' The Invasion of China by the Western World is a vivid account of the penetration of China by Western culture and ideas. Political events, influence of Western political thought, the destruction of the old educational system, Western science and medicine, and the new literature of China today are outlined by a man who has observed first-hand the acquaintance of China with new forces.

"Speed wins in motor-cycle racing! Slow burning wins in the cigarette field!"

says Jimmie Kelly, Champion Motor-cycle Racer and Enthusiastic Camel Smoker

ON THE FAST SIDE—A 50-mile-an-hour skid, and Jimmie Kelly (No. 43) whips into the lead on the ocean beach at Daytona. On a racing motor-cycle Jimmie Kelly is a riding champion, but when it comes to cigarettes, this record-breaking driver is . . .

ON A MOTOR-CYCLE I GO FOR SPEED IN A BIG WAY, BUT I KEEP MY SMOKING ON THE SLOW-BURNING SIDE WITH CAMELS. THAT WAY I GET A LOT OF 'EXTRAS'— IN MILDNESS, COOLNESS, FLAVOR— AND CAMEL'S SLOW WAY OF BURNING MEANS EXTRA SMOKING PER PACK

"ON THE SLOW SIDE"—That's Jimmie Kelly's way—and the way of millions of other smokers—of saying that he prefers the slower-burning cigarette . . . Camel. "That's where the 'extras' are in cigarette pleasure and value," explains Jimmie (above).

CHAMPION Jimmie Kelly (right, above) is just one of thousands of experienced smokers who have discovered that Camel's slower way of burning means several definite advantages. Being slower-burning, Camels are free from the drying, uncomfortable qualities of excess heat. They give you extra mildness and extra coolness . . . always so welcome. Slower burning makes the most of the full, rich flavor of Camel's costlier tobaccos. Camels give you extra flavor . . . don't tire your taste. The extra smoking in Camels is a matter of the smokers' experience as well as of impartial laboratory record. So get more pleasure per puff and more puffs per pack. Get Camels. Penny for penny, Camels are your best cigarette buy!

Head Greenskeeper Biscotte asks that all divot diggers replace their excavations before going to the next hole.

Hank Shuster's condition is very much improved. The big griddler has left the hospital and is now resting at home.

The weaker sex are very much vexed at "Gus" Johnson's observations on May Day Progress, and say the whole thing is a bluff to keep customers away.

Tom Pastras' threat of giving Bayne the "Greek Horns" failed to keep the Jersey Skeeter from copping the golf title.

This week's bouquet goes to Jim Raban who bettered the conference record for the 100-yard dash on Wednesday against F. and M. Because the wind velocity was too great, his feat will not go down in the record books, but it was a valiant attempt just the same.

With not a senior on the track team and the freshmen rolling up the bigger half of the points, things look bright for next year's cinder squad.

Garnet Golfers Down Co-Eds

The women of Ursinus' golf team fell before a strong Swarthmore squad on Friday by the score of 4-1. The team, coached by "Pete" Stevens, includes Dot Schleinkofer, Ann Robinson, Peg Stettenbenz, Muriel Solomon, and Kay Atkinson, captain and the only scorer against Swarthmore.

WEEKLY SPORTS

Varsity Acquires Wins from Leb. Valley, Swarthmore; J. V.'s Lose to Brown Prep

The Ursinus nine nosed out Lebanon Valley and Swarthmore on Tuesday and Thursday, respectively. Playing at home they took Lebanon Valley, 10-8; playing away they downed Swarthmore 5-2. The Jayvee squad met a less enjoyable fate at the hands of Brown Prep, falling by a 5-2 score.

Possessing little of the skill and finesse that carried the team to victory in the opening games of the season, the Bears combined 11 hits, 4 Lebanon Valley errors, 3 stolen bases, and 7 bases on balls to down the Annville nine. The winners were outhit, 13-11.

Swift was knocked out of the box in the fifth inning, when ragged support caused him trouble. MacMahon lingered till the ninth, when Chalk rushed in to halt a 2 run uprising.

Swarthmore Game

Using a revised line-up that produced results, "Jing" Johnson's ball team rallied in the late innings of the Swarthmore game to win, 5-2.

Vexed by the seven misplays the Bears committed against Lebanon

Valley on Tuesday, "Jing" shook his line-up, switching Fetterman to second, changing Keehn to third, and adding Johnstone and MacFarland to the set-up.

Chalk started, but Swift relieved him, and MacMahon came in to relieve Swift in the sixth.

Ursinus scores were made in the seventh and eighth innings. Atkinson, Wise, Dawson, Keehn, and Johnstone came across the plate.

Jayvees Fall Before Brown Prep

Despite the addition of varsity catcher Spohn, Brown Prep drubbed the jayvees, 5-2, Friday. The Kelletmen started with a bang, but tapered off and were unable to advance beyond third thereafter.

The game was lost in the fifth when Garlock was nudged for five blows and three runs. Showalter then took over and escaped without injury.

Some bizarre base-running in the sixth effectively broke up the only serious local scoring threat after the first. With McGowen on first, Glass' second blow and an outfield error set up two runs with one away. McGowen, attempting to reach home on the error, was flagged, and a few minutes later Glass was picked off second. Glass, who paced the team's attack, saw his triple wasted as the following batter failed to produce.

Raban Breaks Ursinus Record as Bears Lose

Freshman sprinter "Jimmy" Raban cracked an old Ursinus record in the 100 yard dash Wednesday afternoon, as the Bears lost a tough meet to a strong F. and M. team, 86-40.

Raban, who won first place in the century event and second in the 220, ran the shorter sprint in 9.8 seconds to break not only the field record but also a long-standing College record. "Joe" Irvin matched his teammate's performance by winning the 220 event with a highly commendable 22.2 and running second to Raban in the record breaking century.

Ed Conine was the chief point getter for the Bears as he compiled a total of 9 points by taking first place in the broad jump, second in the high hurdles, and third in the low hurdles. Although Ursinus dominated the sprints, they could not match the strong power of the Diplomats in the distance and field events.

"Joe" Ingham, freshman hurdler, ran a dead heat in the low hurdles with Silver of F. and M. to add 4 points to the Bears' cause. Ehlers and Toulon captured seconds in the discus and javelin, respectively; and third places were won by Frohner, Adams, Cornely, Felton, Jowett, and Morrow to finish out the scoring for the Ursinus cinder-men.

Racquetees Top Swarthmore Co-Eds; Men Lose to F. and M.

Bunny Harshaw, Ursinus' No. 1 tennis player, and her teammates won their first tennis match of the season against a hard fighting squad of Drexel co-eds by the score 3-2.

Bunny Harshaw, Mary Robbins, and Squeaky Von Kleeck won their singles, but both doubles teams dropped their matches. "Allie" Dougherty and Natalie Hogeland lost 6-4, 8-6; Jane Roberts and Mildred Bricker 4-6, 8-6, 3-6. Mary Robbins won 9-7, 6-4; Squeaky Von Kleeck 6-3, 6-1; and Bunny Harshaw swiftly claimed her honors, taking her match 6-1, 6-0.

Men Lose to F. and M.

The men's tennis team, in its first match of the 1940 season, lost to a more experienced Franklin and Marshall team last Wednesday at Lancaster by a 5-4 score. It was the first time in two years that the net men have been able to get a point in competition.

The Bears were led by Felix Karpinski, Ursinus' number three player, who was the lone singles player to win a match. "Karp", a persistent fighter when the odds are against him, came through a gruelling three-set match on the long end of the score.

His opponent, Hackman, led him by a score of 4-0 in the first set and it looked as though the F. and M. man was going to have an easy time of it; however, "Karp" fought his way back by taking six games straight and the first set, 6-4. He dropped the second set, 3-6, and within one game of match, came through to win 9-7.

Ursinus swept all three doubles matches in much the same manner as F. and M. had taken the singles, but the three points were not enough for victory.

- Intramurals -

The first single hole golf tournament was won by "Gil" Bayne of Curtis with a total of 120 points. Ed Benjamin and Nick Biscotte were the runners-up with 90 point totals.

Brodbeck beat Freeland in the only softball game of the week to the tune of 31 to 1. Standing in the softball contest are:

	Won	Lost	P.C.
Derr	3	0	1.000
Brodbeck	3	1	.750
Curtis	2	1	.666
Freeland	1	2	.333

Games for the coming week are: Monday, Derr vs. Curtis, Day vs. Freeland; Tuesday, Brodbeck vs. Freeland; and Thursday, Curtis vs. Freeland.

Dorm standings in the quest for the intramural trophy are: Curtis, 49½ points; Brodbeck, 26½ points; Day, 23 points; Derr, 20 points; Stine, 20 points; Highland, 8½ points; and Freeland, 4½ points.

Over 500 Compete in Scholastic Meet Here

The Fifth Annual Interscholastic Track and Field Meet, which Ursinus College sponsors for the senior high schools of District One, P. I. A. A., was run at one-thirty this afternoon on Patterson Field. This meet is run in accordance with the P. I. A. A. rules. A new record entry mark fell with the placing of five-hundred and eight entries in the various events. However, some of the boys were scheduled to run in four or more events, and since the limit is three, were scratched.

Four counties were represented in the meet; they include, Bucks, Montgomery, Delaware, and Chester. The high schools competing in the class "A" division were Abington, Cheltenham, Chester, Coatesville, Darby, Haverford, Lower Merion, Norristown, Pottstown, Upper Darby and West Chester.

Two of the individual winners from last year in the "A" group, who were back again were Soroka, of Chester, in the shot-put, and Art Green, of Lower Merion, in the high jump.

One of the feature events was the running of the medly relay. It includes the running of the 220, 440, 880, and the mile. In this event the times are usually outstanding because high schools generally put their best into this relay.

The high schools of the "B" division are Ambler, which placed second last year, Bridgeport, Collingdale, Downingtown, Doylestown, Glen-Nor, Hatfield, Media, North Coventry, Oxford, Prospect Park, Quakertown, Radnor, Spring City, Springfield, of Delaware County, Ridley Park, the winner last year, Ridley Township, and Swarthmore.

Athletic Program

During the past season the hockey team won 4, lost 4, and tied 2, while the jayvee aggregation left a similar record. The basketball team completed one of the best records for the year by winning 10 games and losing only 1. In the Spring, women's sports, too, are at their peak with teams in tennis, golf, and archery representing Ursinus in competition. Last season the tennis team, led by "Eastern Clay Courts Champ" Bunny Harshaw, won 5 matches and lost only 1. Archery and golf are new sports for women, but in both of these bright prospects are foreseen.

All women who win a certain number of points in various sports are eligible for the Women's Athletic Association, while all men who receive the "U" letters are eligible for the Varsity Club.

Perhaps the most beneficial of all sports at Ursinus are those participated in by intramural teams. Intramurals, well-directed by Mr. Everett M. Bailey, provide the recreational opportunities for the student unable to play in intercollegiate sports.

Mauchly Attends Washington Convention of Physics Society

Dr. John W. Mauchly, of the College physics department, recently attended a national convention of the Physics Society in Washington, D. C.

One of the main topics discussed was the New England hurricane of 1939, which traveled from the center of Africa to northern United States. Note was made of the difficulty of charting the route because of the scarcity of information. The course was determined by combining weather bureau reports, observations of ships, and accounts by individuals.

Bruehl Talks to Newman Club

"Sex in Christian Philosophy" was the topic discussed at the Newman Club meeting last Wednesday in St. Eleanor's Parish Hall, Collegeville. The Rev. Charles Bruehl, Ph.D., professor of philosophy at St. Charles Seminary, at Overbrook, Pennsylvania, was the speaker of the evening.

Forum

To counteract the dangers presented by totalitarian action, Dr. Clinchy made a study of the dictatorships to discover "how they get that way". He reached the conclusion that three factors are necessary for our protection. They are the supplying of a greater degree of economic justice in this country than in other countries; the immunization of our people against hate; and a spiritual re-awakening.

Dr. Russell Sturgis Discusses Cultural Aspects of Sciences

Dr. Russell D. Sturgis, of the chemistry department, spoke at a meeting of science teachers of fourth class public schools, held in the Court House, Norristown, Pa., on April 29. At the meeting, which was arranged by Dr. A. M. Kulp, County Superintendent of Schools, Dr. Sturgis considered the purposes and methods of teaching science in secondary schools.

He handled the topic from the standpoint of the cultural value of science to all students, with its relation to history, geography, and economics.

Included in the discussion were the questions of the content of science courses fitting students for college, and of the overlapping of college and high school courses in science.
