Tulip Time Is Motif Of Hop Decorations

Tulip Time — Spring in all its glory — will be the decoration theme of the May Hop, May 18, Chairman Jean Ehlers '41, announced Saturday. "We've got a swell band, and the committee is working hard on the decorations. We hope everyone will come to enjoy this last dance of the year," stated Ehlers.

Len Le Art and his Ambassadors, a sweet swing band will provide the music. Le Art was business manager of the Don Pike band which played for the Junior Prom here several years ago. When Pike relinquished the band to assume a radio post in the Middle West, Le Art assumed the leader's baton, and revamped the band to suit the changing demands of his audiences.

Admission price for the May Hop is $1.25 per couple, and dancing will be from eight until twelve. Chairman Ehlers heads a committee consisting of Betty Bickhart '40, Muriel Solomon '41, Jean Webb '42, Charles Bardsley '40, and Kenneth Snyder '40. Dr. and Mrs. George W. Hartzell and Dr. and Mrs. Reginald S. Sibbald will be the chaperons for the affair.

Miss Spangler's Students Present Gluck's "Orpheus"

By Ethel Heinaman '41

Inclement weather caused the singing of the Elysian Fields scene from the opera, "Orpheus," by Gluck, to take place inside the Library last Saturday afternoon after the May Pageant, instead of on the Library steps as had been planned. The scene was presented by vocal students of Miss Marion G. Spangler, of the College music department.

Sung in English

An audience of over one hundred persons enjoyed the production which was sung in English and in costume.

Wood Heads Hist-Soc. Group

A reorganization meeting of the History-Social Science Group was held in Bomberger after lunch today. President Charles Bonos presided over the meeting during which the election of officers for next year was held.

Frank Wood '40, is the newly elected president, and the following were also elected into office: vice-president, Denton Herber '42; secretary, Mary Ellen Hillegass '41; men's treasurer, William Selfridge '42, and women's treasurer, Dorothy Adams '41.

TO SUMMER JOB SEEKERS

Mr. Helfferich and Mr. Michael would like to see all men students who have applied at their respective offices for Summer employment, as well as all others interested, in Room 108 of the Science Building at 4:30 on Wednesday, May 15.

THANKS!

The Registrar's Office wishes to express most sincere thanks to all those who so willingly assisted in carrying out the plans for Open House.

TO SCHOLARSHIP HOLDERS AND SELF-HELP WORKERS

Students who intend to apply for scholarship and self-help assistance for next year should do so before June 1. Proper forms may be obtained from the Registrar's Office. All those who now hold scholarships and wish to have them continued are requested not to fill in a form, but to address a letter to the Committee on Scholarships making the proper request.

Successful Pageant Marks May Day

By Denton Herber '42

In a rustic setting replete with the splendor and trappings of royalty in medieval England, Madge "Bunny" Harshaw was pompously crowned Queen of the May on Saturday afternoon. An assemblage of Mothers' Day guests which filled the stadium on Patterson field to near capacity constituted a colorful populace, exhibiting almost as many different hues as were displayed in the variegated costumes of the pageant.

Written by Eleanor Frorer

"The King's Daughters," written by Eleanor Frorer '40, was evolved about the tale of the blackbirds and the pie, and the adventures of the three daughters of the king. The pageant opened as the jolly old king, Mary Alice Lord '41, proceeded to his counting house and the queen, Betty Wismer '42, went into the parlor to eat her bread and honey. As the maid was hanging up her clothes in the yard, the blackbirds escaped from the pie and froliced on the green, one of them playfully nipping her nose.

Then came the suits for the hands of the king's daughters. Perhaps the most ardent advances were made by Puss-in-Boots, Geraldine Reed '42, as he carried presents to the king in behalf of his master, Miriam Maeder '41. Puss' efforts were well rewarded, for the king bestowed one of his daughters, (Continued on Page 6)

Walter D. Fuller To Deliver Commencement Address at Exercises To Be Held on June 3

Commencement and Baccalaureate Speakers

The Rev. Mr. Roy L. Minich '15

Graduate To Speak at Baccalaureate Service

President Norman E. McClure announced today that Mr. Walter D. Fuller, president of the Curtis Publishing Company, will deliver the address to the class of 1940 at the 70th annual Commencement of Ursinus College, to be held on Monday, June 3.

He further made known that the Rev. Mr. Roy L. Minich, pastor of the First Congregational Church of Malden, Massachusetts, will deliver the address at the baccalaureate service on Sunday, June 2.

Plans have been made to hold the Commencement exercises in front of Freeland Hall in order that a larger audience may comfortably attend the exercises.

Fuller at Curtis Since 1908

Mr. Fuller became associated with the Curtis Publishing Company in 1908, after he had been employed by the Butterick Publishing Company and by various other New York publishing houses. He has been successively an office executive, comptroller, secretary, vice-president, and since November, 1934, president of Curtis.

Member of N. A. M.

Mr. Fuller is regional vice-president and a member of the board of the National Association of Manufacturers. He is a member of the board and chairman of the Pennsylvania State Chamber of Commerce, and director, vice-president, and chairman of the general legislative committee of the National Publishers Association.

In addition, he is a trustee of the Penn Mutual Life Insurance Company, director of the First National Bank of Philadelphia, and director of various management and scientific societies. Mr. Fuller is an honorary member of the Delta Sigma Pi fraternity. (Continued on page 6)

SPORTS FLASH!

Jayvees are leading Villanova, 2-1 at the end of fifth, Showalter pitching.

Women's tennis team leading Swarthmore. Harshaw wins first, 6-3, leading, 2-0, in second. Von Kleec loses first, 4-6; Robbins wins first, 6-4, trailing, 0-2, in second. Second doubles ahead, 6-3, 2-0; third doubles tied, 7-7.

Registrar's Office Announces Open Scholarship Winners

Winners of the Ursinus open scholarships were announced last week. These scholarships are awarded on the basis of a competitive examination and interviews to determine qualities of personality, leadership, and character.

The four open scholarships for men were awarded to Robert Ihrie, of Allentown; Carl B. Hoffman, of Reading; Ralph S. Mendenhall, of Lansdowne, and Harry K. Miller, of Hummelstown.

The two girls to whom scholarships were awarded are Barbara Cooke, of the George School, Newtown, and Emma Jane Thomas, of Philadelphia.

There were three alternate awards to Allan C. Munster, Elizabeth Fellman, and Ethel Detweiler. Alternates receive two hundred dollars, with an option on an open scholarship in case one of the people holding an open scholarship should lose it.

Barbara Cooke is the sister of Robert L. Cooke '43, and Emma Jane Thomas is the sister of Jack Thomas '43.

Masculine May Queen To Rule over Pageant

Forty-three sterling males will present another version of the May Day pageant at 7:00 p. m., on Patterson Field, Tuesday evening, May 14.

"Who Stole the Hair to the Throne," is the name of this fairy tale. The name of the May Queen is to be kept a mystery until the night of the pageant. Practices began this afternoon and will continue tonight.

All are invited to this, the men's pageant presentation. Admission to the event will be free.

Mrs. Barnard Talks at Mothers' Day Vespers

Mrs. J. Lynn Barnard, wife of Dr. J. Lynn Barnard, head of the History-Social Science Group, was the speaker at the Mothers' Day Vespers service last night in Bomberger.

Mrs. Barnard emphasized the point that mothers are the conservative force behind a family. Traditional household aids and certain courtesies are all part of a mother's teaching. It is for these virtues that mothers receive the love of their children. Of the fundamentals which mothers hand down, some are permanent and some are temporary. Some that were important in previous generations are not regarded as being so today. It is, therefore, up to youth to select the ones worth preserving.

Mothers Charge Youth

In closing, Mrs. Barnard stated that mothers enjoy being made fun of and bossed around, up to a certain point; however, the charge they make to youth is that future generations may have as much additional knowledge over this generation, as this generation has over the generation to which its mothers belong.

The student leaders for the evening were Joyce Studenmund '41, and John Cornely '42. Kenneth Snyder '40, sang one of Mrs. Barnard's favorite hymns, "What Shall I Do, My Lord?" Dr. William F. Philip led the singing and William Heefner '42, played the organ.

"Y" Doggie Roast Friday!

The YM-YW organizations will hold a "doggie" roast on Friday night, May 17, at 6:00 p. m. in the Sixth Avenue woods. In addition to food there will be games and songs. Both students and faculty members are invited. Those wishing to attend should pay ten cents to Roy Wenhold '42, in the supply store by Wednesday noon.

Council on Student Activities

Elects Louise Kern '41, Sec.

At the meeting of the Council on Student Activities last Monday, elections for next year were held. Dr. J. Harold Brownback was re-elected president, and Louise Kern '41, secretary. Joseph Dubuque '41, was elected council representative to the Council on Student Expenditures, and Nicholas Barry '41, was elected to the executive committee of the Council on Student Activities.

The "Y" "Doggie" Roast, to be held May 17, was accepted, and it was also decided that the Forum Committee would be given every other Wednesday night next year, alternating with the "Y" organizations.

Dr. Brownback stated that the Rec Hall Committee for next year will include the president of the student councils and the "Y's", and one other student to be appointed later. The dates for the meetings of the organization were set on the first Monday of each month.

There was a lengthy discussion on the Old Timers' Day Dance and the Varsity Club Dance. The next meeting of the council will be held Monday, November 30, 1940, and will take the place of the October meeting.

Women's Rules Changed

The women students' committee for the Revision of Rules proposed several changes in the rules which have been approved by the College administration. They were voted upon by the women students Monday, May 6. It was necessary that two-thirds of the women vote on the proposed revisions if they were to go into effect.

The principal changes made include the extension of the social privileges of the seniors and juniors to sophomores, except those on (Continued on page 6)

Curtain Club Scores With Kaufman - Hart Play

By Robert Yoh '40

Sudden invasions seem to be the order of the day. No sooner does Herr Hitler march into the Low Countries than the Sycamore family rushes (with the most alarming lack of ceremony) on the Ursinus stage and, unlike its German counterpart, succeeds in capturing the hearts and the approval of the invaded. Surely no one minded the fact that the Sycamores took it upon themselves to introduce both themselves and their friends to the large audiences last Friday and Saturday evenings in the Thompson-Gay Gymnasium. All in all, the Curtain Club's presentation of the Kaufman-Hart comedy, "You Can't Take It With You", was a huge success.

Honors to Weiland

Top honors should go to Fred Weiland '41, for his excellent performance and interpretation of the role of the philosophizing and ease-loving Grandpa Vanderhof.

Close behind, and no less inspired, was the performance of Frances Thierolf '40, as Penelope Sycamore, a mother extraordinary, and a playwright by accident. "Terry" proved herself a true comedienne, and seemed very much at home in her part—always an indication of good acting.

Newcomer Coulter Stars

James Coulter '42, a newcomer to the Ursinus stage, gave the older and more experienced cast members a stiff race. Certainly he was one of the top-stars; nearly stealing the show more than once with his portrayal of the somewhat eccentric Mr. DePinna.

As the child-like father, Paul Sycamore, John Musser '41, was more than adequate, and deserves much praise for his intelligent characterization.

Jean Patterson '42, as Essie, succeeded very well in holding the spotlight on her role with her eager, charming manner. Her performance enriched the play and will be long remembered. Ed, her husband, was played by Franklin Morris '41, who was suitable as an aspiring composer.

Another outstanding bit of acting was that of Mary Alice Lord '41, as the colored maid, Rheba. She was ably assisted by George Hopkins '41, who acted as her prospective consort. There was a mellow and controlled comedy in their praiseworthy performances.

The love interest was supplied by Marthella Anderson '40, as Alice Sycamore, and Harry Showalter '41, as Tony Kirby. Marthella's actions left nothing to be desired, and Showalter was at all times himself—and that was as it should have been. He seemed natural in his role.

Although perhaps a trifle guilty of over-acting, John Rauhauser '41, made a very acceptable Russian exile. His actions as Boris Kolenkhov were vigorous, vivid, and sufficiently strong for a man whose chief epithet for every occasion was, "It stinks!"

Rationalism vs. Emotionalism

Today, in a world marked by disorder and conflict, it might be well for any American to consider himself and his society objectively. When the thirteen colonies declared themselves independent of the English government, the framers based their justification of revolution on a philosophy of natural rights. Believing that reason is the only sure guide with which man is endowed, they declared that reason must be the only foundation of a just government. Our democratic government is just, but we do not believe that it is based upon reason.

If rationalism were our guide, we would believe what we should believe, and not what we want to believe. We face problems rationally, sometimes, but when we reach the logical conclusion, we dismiss it, and revert to emotionalism. Reason tells us that we have a vital interest in the affairs of Europe, that the days of isolation and non-cooperation are past, but we refuse to accept these conclusions because they are not what we want them to be. We withdraw into what we believe to be our impregnable shell and attempt to let the world go on without us.

We do not contend that emotions should not be considered in any degree, because we believe rationalism can be carried too far, as is evidenced by the extreme radical movements. But the apathetic, self-satisfied attitude of the American people should be corrected. True, we are Americans, and we live in the Western hemisphere, but true also that we live on earth and are citizens of the world. This is merely an example taken from the field of international relations. The same conditions exist in the everyday life of any man in the street.

Daily, we can find people who have permitted their emotions to carry them away. It is for these people that we have to maintain such institutions as jails and asylums. Do Americans have to learn through experience? It is possible that they cannot be convinced, but have to be shown. Let's be reasonable! Let's not permit ourselves to be deluded by emotionalism.

Chamberlain Government Laid
 Britain Open to Severe Criticism

Events of the last week in Europe have shown England in an increasingly precarious position. They brought doubts of the ability of the English government to lead the nation in effective and intelligent resistance against German aggression in Europe.

Only by a very close vote, 281 to 200, was the Chamberlain government able to avert defeat in the House of Commons by a direct vote of censure. In what news reports termed "the stormiest session since the war began" that body heard demands that the Chamberlain cabinet resign and make way for a national government. Now he has given up his place to Winston Churchill.

First, there had been the British failure in Norway. Then Germany took advantage of English political uncertainty to invade Holland and Belgium.

What have been the causes leading to this condition of danger? Who is to blame for it? Much evidence points to the fact that it is due to "muddling through" methods so often ascribed to the British. The cry of the opposition in the House of Commons last week was directed toward the lack of foresight and the lack of carefully thought out plans of those in control.

The policy of the British ruling group, under Chamberlain and his predecessors, was often vacillating; it was too often based "on a shoestring" and confidence was too frequently lost by failure to fulfill hasty commitments.

The inefficiency and halfheartedness of this government drew down the criticism of too many Englishmen to be considered lightly or as a myth. Said Lloyd George in his eloquent speech in Parliament: "For three or four years everything we have done has been ineffective, without drive. . . There is nothing that would more contribute to victory in this war than if Chamberlain would give up his office."

In his speech before the Commons, Chamberlain admitted that the number of troops sent to Norway was considered to be sufficient to hold the ports which were occupied, but that they were later found to be too few in number to retain possession. Meanwhile, according to his statement, the army had 100,000 men prepared to go to Finland, presumably with proper equipment for fighting under Arctic conditions. Instead of being converted into a Norwegian expeditionary force, these men were sent to France.

Chamberlain attempted to minimize the importance of Britain's failure to take more effective action in Norway by warning against permitting the enemy to "make a diversion" of British forces from other regions. Possibly he suspected the projected German invasion of the Low Countries.

It appears, however, that the Germans went on to capitalize upon the atmosphere of defeat and dissension which was created by the Norwegian situation. And it appears, according to Chamberlain's declaration, that the British action in southern Norway was designed to encourage Norwegian resistance.

Since peace-loving Norway became the scene of bloodshed because there was a war between Germany and England, to encourage Norway to fight and then to give up the struggle herself was not the most generous English policy.

We can but hope, for the welfare of England, that the reorganized and revitalized government will carry on a vigorous and intelligent military policy.

GAFF from the GRIZZLY

That "How tall ARE you, Mac?" gag, currently taunting "Shmoke" MacMahon, was first penned him by an interested Bucknell wench. Looks like that trip upped Phrozen Phiz's "batting" average more than the percentages show. . . Gaff Laffs: at the collitch turkeys that excuse their lack of dates here by pleading "the boy at home". We think they HIMagine things — And did you ever hear their wistful "Ah-Men!" to a chapel hymn?? . . . "Quasimoda" Irey, the Korpusele Kid, donored his second pint of blood t'other day. Stop there, Phil — another pint and you'll have to rouge your arteries to fool your heart into continuing!

M'lud Wallichuck crimsoned all over last week when he blundered into a pageantry pretty, garbed in but rompers. Not that he was so embarrassed — just Moon (ier)-struck . . . Paul Wise rushed a term paper to Doc Carter just under the wire last Thursday with this admonition: "Here's a blotter, too, Doc—don't smear the darn thing!" Which crack makes Wise just as fresh as his ink . . . The May Day script called for Queen Madge to ride in on a white horse, but Bunny is scared of horses, and refused. Hence the pony cart—and don't nag her about it . . . Ye Clamer contingent high-hatted the rest of the dorms, and hired a caterer, no less, to fix their Mothers' Day luncheon.

The ping-pong tournament victors were offered new paddles, or a compact, if the girl so desired. "Rickey" chose the paddle—but H. Wise demanded the compact! Which isn't the first time some Wise guy has forsaken his pride—for a "vanity" . . . Dotty Cullen and Claire Borrell amuse South these nights with their novel mouse trap. Seems they lure the rodent into a cage with cheese—and then hit it over the head! . . . Heard of a candid cameraddict that lost his mind once. Poor fellow was snappy.

Flour for biscuits must be high these days—at least that's what Herber must be thinking. Apparently the kitchen found the powder used in sidewalks looked just the same when baked. Herber must have noticed that it has the same effect in biscuits as in walks when teeth suddenly meet up with it.

Sorority Officers

Several sororities recently held their elections and chose the following women to lead them: Mar-ion Witmer '41, Tau Sigma Gamma; Ann Robinson '41, Alpha Sigma Nu; Joyce Studenmund '41, Kappa Delta Kappa; and Mary Robbins '41, Phi Alpha Psi; Louise Kern '41, Omega Chi.

The other officers elected for next year are:

Pre-Legalites Hold Election; Choose Showalter President

Harry Showalter '41, will lead the J. Lynn Barnard Pre-Legal Society during the 1940-41 term. At a short meeting last Monday, Showalter was chosen president; Denton Herber '42, vice-president, which position entails the duties of program manager; and Paul Wise '41, was reelected secretary-treasurer.

Language Clubs Picnic

French and German songs resounded through the Sixth avenue woods last Monday night, May 6, as members of the French and German Clubs brought to a close their third joint "doggie" roast.

Almost thirty persons including Dr. and Mrs. George W. Hartzell and Mr. Alfred Wilcox were served "doggies", coffee, and toasted marshmallows. The "doggie" roast ended the clubs' activities for the present College year.

Y M - Y W Plan Activities for Next Year As 75 Attend Arcola Retreat Last Sunday

Miss Emily Parker Speaks On War Relief Work

The appearance of Miss Emily Parker, organizer of child-relief work in Spain, unexpectedly climaxed the annual "Y" Retreat at Camp Arcola on Sunday, May 5. Miss Parker, speaker at the recent "Design for Understanding" Conference, discussed the European foster-parents plan for war children without homes, a project which will be considered by the new social action committee of the "Y's" next year.

About seventy active members of the YM-YWCA participated in a short worship service and discussion of plans for the coming year, before enjoying an afternoon of swimming, boating, and touch football. Plans were made to open membership to the faculty and to distribute membership cards to everyone. Representatives of the Day Study will be members of the cabinet.

The Committees were announced by Jane Pakenham '41, and Roy Snyder '41, presidents of the Christian associations. Dorothy Thurston '42, and Karl Agan '42, will be co-chairmen for the 1941 All-Ursinus Conference. They will be assisted by Mary Anna Wiley '43, Grace Brandt '43, Ruth Ludwig '41, Dorothy Ducat '42, Nadine Sturges '41, Robert Worthing '41, Robert Luginbuhl '42, Charles Cassel '43, and James Richards '43.

The conference committee will be headed by Charlotte Witmer '42, and Richard Arnold '42. Members are Martha Jane Evans '41, Marian Beamensderfer '41, Pauline Nissly '42, Alice Dougherty '42, Rosalind Elting '42, Frank Wood '41, Richard Hartranft '41, Garfield Clark '43, and Benjamin Perkins '43.

Publicity Men

The publicity committee, of which Marion Witmer '41, and Denton Herber '42, will be chairmen, consists of Julia Hogg '42, Mary Alice Lord '41, Mary Hyde '41, Helene Berger '42, Constance Holden '43, Irene Maginnis '43, Winfield Smith '41, Matthew Zeski '41, Albert Grant '43, Nathaniel Johnson '41, and Clark Moore '43. Emily Zoll '41, and John McAllister '41, will head the program committee. They will be assisted by Mary Robbins '41, Joyce Studenmund '41, Virginia Shirtz '41, Blanche Shirey '43, Marion Byron '42, Betty Ulrich '42, Charles Blum '41, Eli Wismer '41, William Ditter '43, and Elwood Heller '43.

The music committee, headed by Muriel Solomon '41, and William Heefner '42, will consist of Emily Baldwin '41, Joan Stoots '42, Dorothy Strauss '41, Jean Ewen '43, Douglas Davis '41, Charles Mitchell '42, and Donald Melson '43.

Members of the freshmen activities committee are: chairmen Gracemary Greene '42, and Victor Troxell '41, Esther Kumjan '41, Carol Swartley '43, Charles Bowen '41, Richard Deitzler '41, Albin Tkacz '42, and William Keagle '43.

The social committee consists of Dorothy Thomas '41, and Jean Ehlers '41, co-chairmen, Idamay Scott '41, Jean Patterson '42, Betty Tolbert '41, Eleanor Hessmer '41, Jean Webb '42, Frances Wilt '43, Doris Harrington '43, Frederick Weiland '41, George Shuster '42, Charles Burroughs '43, Robert Bauer '43, Jack Thomas '43, and Frederick Becker '43.

Emily Wagner '43, and Garnet Adam '42, will be chairmen of the membership committee.

Annual Banquet of New York Grads Held at Hotel Pierrepont

The Ursinus Alumni Association of New York held its annual banquet at the Hotel Pierrepont, New York City, on May 9. Harold D. Steward '07, president of the New York group as well as president of the General Alumni Association, presided.

Present at the meeting were President Norman E. McClure, Vice-President Donald L. Helfferich, Registrar Franklin I. Sheeder, and Dr. Calvin D. Yost, Jr., secretary of the General Alumni Association.

President Steward is the father of Robert E. Steward '38, now studying at the Jefferson Medical College in Philadelphia.

On the Shelves

A new social analysis by the man around whom centered the recent controversy on academic freedom, Bertrand Russell, has been acquired by the Library. In Power, Russell, one of our foremost philosophers and political thinkers, deals with the role of power in the affairs of men. He approaches the question from the point of view that power is the fundamental concept in social science, just as energy is the fundamental concept in physics.

A Guide to Understanding the Bible, by Harry Emerson Fosdick, is for the purpose of making illuminating material, which scholars have long appreciated, available to the general reader. In it the minor detours of the Bible are distinguished from the major high-ways of Biblical thought.

The Human Situation, by W. MacNeile Dixon, is an attempt to arrive at a true knowledge of man and the universe of which man is a part. The conclusions are noteworthy because the terms of the professorship which Dixon held in the University of Glasgow prohibit the lecturer from supporting those conclusions from revealed religion.

In the field of social science, The Government at Your Service, by Archie Robertson, is an important addition. It is a handbook of federal help for the citizen, with definite helpful information to solve problems. The book is not just official propaganda, but is an expert guide to the amazing array of governmental services.

An interesting book in the historical line is Pen Pictures of Early Western Pennsylvania, edited by John W. Harpster. It is a collection of the most colorful and informative writings left by early travelers and settlers who ventured west of the mountains.

The French Revolution as Told by Contemporaries, compiled by E. L. Higgins, is a mosaic of short selections taken from the writings of persons who were themselves actors in the stirring drama of the French Revolution. These first-hand accounts come from diaries, memoirs, letters, books of travel, reports, and state papers.

As the Republican Whip in the House and as Republican Floor Leader in the Senate, James E. Watson knew everybody of importance in Washington. In As I Knew Them he tells with genial and kindly candor of friends and foes on the great stage of political action, just as he knew them. Watson's friendship knew no party lines, and his memoirs include anecdotes of Wilson, Taft, Harding, Cleveland, Coolidge, Will Rogers, and Huey Long.

Beardwood Chemical Society To Hear Lecture on Quartz

Quartz and silicates will be the topic under discussion as the Hall Chemical Society, henceforth to be known as the Matthew Beardwood Chemical Society, holds its last meeting of the year this evening at eight o'clock in the Science Building. A representative of the Philadelphia Quartz Company will be present to lecture on the manufacture, chemistry, and uses of quartz and silicates.

The name of the Society was changed to Matthew Beardwood Chemical Society at the last meeting in honor of the late Dr. Beardwood for his unbounded interest in the student chemical organization.

Mary Clark To Review Book At Final English Club Meeting

"Listen! the Wind", written by Mrs. Anne Morrow Lindbergh, will be the book reviewed by Mary Clark '40, at the regular English Club meeting at the home of Dr. N. E. McClure this evening at 8:00 p. m.

Members of the club will draw for books at the meeting. At the beginning of the year each member contributed two dollars toward a book fund. This money was used to buy books, several of which were reviewed at meetings. Now at this final meeting of the season each member will receive personally one of these books to keep.

Spring Operetta, 'Firefly', To Present First Guest Artist, Miss Louise Julia

Lovers' quarrels plus a pretty street singer disguised as a boy plus a ladies' man, and you have the amusing story of this year's Spring Operetta, "The Firefly", by Rudolph Friml, which the combined music groups will present on May 31 and June 1. A special interest of this year's production is the appearance of Miss Louise Julia in the difficult title role. Miss Julia is a special voice student of Mrs. Martha Atwood Baker, of the College music department. She has the distinction of being the first guest to take part in one of the Commencement musicals.

Gym Rehearsals Next Week

"The Firefly" is shaping up very well in rehearsal and next week will find the leads going through their paces in the gymnasium. Previous to this year the stage was not used until a day or so before the performance. Dr. William F. Philip, director of the musical, believes that this change will result in a more polished and unified production.

Rudolph Friml, the composer, is a Bohemian, born in Prague, who since he came to America has held a top place among popular composers. Rarely has there been a year without some show or song of his sweeping the country. The last several years Friml has spent in Hollywood rewriting his more popular shows for the movies. Among the most popular works from his pen are "Rose Marie", "The Vagabond King", "The Three Musketeers", and several of the "Ziegfeld Follies".

The score of "The Firefly", which ranks with these other shows, includes such hits as "Giannia Mia", "Love is Like a Firefly", "Sympathy", and the "Donkey Serenade". The last number was written especially for the movie version of "The Firefly" which starred Jeanette MacDonald, and because of its popularity Dr. Philip has arranged to include it in original stage version he is presenting here.

In addition to Miss Julia, the cast includes Gracemary Greene '42, Edna Hesketh '40, Frances Kooker '42, Helen Adams '41, Roy Snyder '41, Kenneth Snyder '40, Robert Yoh '40, Donald Melson '43, and Fred Wilhelm '43.

Five Juniors Elected To Write Constitution for New Society

A new organization had its embryonic inception on campus on Friday after lunch when students interested in government laid plans for a government club. The purpose of the club will be to afford an opportunity for gaining experience in parliamentary procedure, discuss current trends in American politics, and enkindle interest in the annual intercollegiate state government conferences.

The first step in organizing the club was the election of a committee to draw up a constitution. The committee on the constitution consists of Shirley Staples '41, Virginia Shirtz '41, Joseph Dubuque '41, Nat Johnson '41, and Harry Showalter '41.

Seven-Hole Golf Course Built Behind Curtis by N.Y.A. Men

A squad of N. Y. A. workers, under the direction of Nick Biscotte, have constructed a 7-hole golf course on the rear extremities of the campus; and at the present time about 50 students have been making use of this addition to the Ursinus athletic plant.

Each hole has been laid out in a different pattern to give the golfer a chance to use as many clubs as possible. In addition to the regular driver and putter, several holes will require niblick and mashie-niblick strokes. Par has been set at 30 for the course.

Biscotte, assisted by Bill Selfridge, Jim Raban, Walt Vernon, and Jack Shuttleworth, have spent the past week in conditioning the greens, putting in new type cups, and mowing grass around the holes. Further improvements contemplated include a golf-ball washer and wooden arrows pointing toward the next green.

Bears Trip Muhlenberg To Hold Lead In League; Beaten by Wildcats, Thurs.

By James Zeigler '43

Freddy Swift repeated his Frank Merriwell trick by winning his own ball game, 3-2, with Muhlenberg on Wednesday, before a full house on Price field. His triple in the last half of the tenth inning, followed by Ed Thompson's line single past third base, brought Ursinus its fourth straight win in the Eastern Pennsylvania League, keeping the Bears undefeated in the circuit.

The Bears got off to a flying start in the first inning. Don Fetterman was safe on Morris' error. Bob MacFarland laid down a perfect bunt, as did "How" Moyer, who followed him. Howie Wise hit the first pitched ball into the hands of the right fielder, but Fetterman beat the throw to the plate. At this point, Luther Knerr, the Mules pitcher, bore down, and the rally was halted.

MacFarland Flashes Double Play

The Allentownians got busy in the second and tied the count on a triple and a single. The teams both played heads-up ball for the next five innings, except for a flaw in the Ursinus infield, but MacFarland ended this uprising by starting off a flashy double play, with Moyer and Wise.

Muhlenberg took the lead in the eighth after two were down, two singles and a walk accounting for this run. However, the Bears got right back into the game. "Toy" Dawson singled to open the Bear half of the eighth, Bob Keehn forced him at second, but when Morris threw wild to first, Keehn went on to second. Harry Atkinson then lined a single through the box, again deadlocking the score.

Swift Triples in Tenth

The pitchers both retired the sides in order in the ninth, and on the first ball pitched to Swift in the tenth, he walloped a tremendous drive over Hauser's head. Ed Thompson then stepped to the plate to end the game.

Both hurlers were very effective throughout. Knerr walked five and struck out three. Swift walked three and struck out five.

TEN COMMANDMENTS

"Jing" Johnson has placed the following list of commandments on the bulletin board of the men's locker room in the gym.

1. Keep in good condition.
2. Have confidence in yourself.
3. Have confidence in your teammates.
4. Everlastingly hustle.
5. Be alert at all times.
6. Cooperate.
7. Have guts in a crisis.
8. Cultivate a desire to win.
9. Strive for excellence of performance in victory or defeat.
10. Think—smart ball can be played by smart athletes only.

By Don Johnson '43

On Thursday, the Ursinus baseball team travelled to Villanova to meet their old rivals, the Wildcats, and came home on the short end of a 6-3 score. Loose playing and a disputed umpire's decision were the main causes of the Bears' downfall.

Bears Score Early

The game started very auspiciously for Ursinus when, in the first inning, Ed Thompson led off with a triple and Howard Wise brought him home and scored himself with a home run over the left field fence. This gave the Jingmen a 2-0 lead, which looked very imposing as Howard MacMahon made the first three Villanova men ground out to the infield. The Bears got their third run, which turned out to be their last, in the second inning, when George Spohn singled, went down to second on a wild pitch, went to third on a fielder's choice, and came home on a single by "Babe" Harris. This ended the Ursinus scoring, the Bears getting only three more scattered hits off O'Leary, once the Cat hurler settled down after the second inning.

Home Run Disputed

Villanova garnered their first run in the second inning on a double, an error, and a fly to center field. They scored two more in the fourth on one hit and some loose playing by the Jingmen. The Cats' last three runs came in the fifth on a single and two home runs, the first of which was hotly disputed by the Bears, since the ball seemed to have bounced over the fence for two bases, but the umpire ruled an error on "Toy" Dawson and allowed a home run. The Cats got three scattered hits in the next three innings.

Bears Fielding Jittery

Howard MacMahon pitched fairly good ball during the game, except in the third and fourth innings when he issued four walks and hit one man. The Bears' fielding was rather jittery at times; the Cats gaining several unearned runs because of it. Villanova's pitching and fielding were good, having one error to four for Ursinus.

Cricketmen Remain Undefeated In Easy Win over Haverford

"Doc" Donald G. Baker took his cricket squad over to his alma mater, Haverford, last Tuesday and whipped the Main Liners, 58-28.

Baker made most of the runs scored by Ursinus, supported by high scores from "Bud" Graver and "Joe" Harrison. Most of the scoring was done in the middle of the game. Smith, Lurdy, Melson, Maurer, Arnold, Shoemaker, Bauer, and Evans completed the Bears' lineup.

William and Mary Trip Brings 5-0 "U" Sweep

Last week brought more laurels to Captain "Bunny" Harshaw and the Women's tennis team. On a three-day trip to Virginia they downed William and Mary College, 5-0, in the third match of the season.

Against the best competition she has had this year, "Bunny" took the first singles, 6-3, 6-4. "Squeaky" Von Kleck characteristically came from behind in the second singles match to beat her opponent, 2-6, 6-1, 6-4. Mary Robbins, the third singles of the Monday match, took another point by her win, 6-3, 2-6, 6-3.

The doubles matches showed Ursinus still too strong for the "gals" from Virginia. Jane Roberts and "Mil" Bricker, playing in the first doubles, won, 6-3, 3-6, 6-4. "Nat" Hogeland and Alice Dougherty took the second doubles in straight sets, 8-6, 6-2.

The Ursinus team reports that the courts were in excellent condition and that William and Mary had expected to defeat its guests.

The last team Coach Eleanor Snell sent to the Virginia college was the hockey squad, which also came home with a score in Ursinus' favor.

Temple Game

In their second match of the season, held on Friday, May 3, both the singles and doubles co-ed racquetters came through unscathed on the Temple courts to hand in a 5-0 score in favor of Ursinus.

"Bunny" Harshaw, first singles player and captain of the team, downed her opponent, 6-0, 6-2, with her usual ease, while "Squeaky" Von Kleck and Mary Robbins won their singles matches with scores of 8-6, 7-5, and 6-3, 6-3, respectively.

Jane Roberts, a veteran doubles player, joined forces with "Mil" Bricker, a newcomer to the Ursinus team, to pile up a score of 6-4, 9-7. "Nat" Hogeland and Alice Dougherty made the doubles victory complete when they turned the tables on their opponents to win, 6-2, 6-4.

Netmen Win First Match by 5-4 Score over Main Liners

Coach George R. Tyson's netmen tasted victory last week when they defeated Haverford J. V.'s, 5-4, on Tuesday at Haverford. Friday, however, they returned from West Chester Teachers College on the short end of a 7-2 score. It was West Chester's eighth victory of the season.

At Haverford the Bears gained their points by three singles matches, played by Wood, Karpinski, and Horsfall, and two doubles matches won by Horsfall and Hassell, and Karpinski and Barry.

Haverford took the singles matches from the second, fifth, and sixth Ursinus netmen. Wood and Wismer, No. 1 Bear doubles, lost a hardly fought match to give Haverford her other point.

West Chester swept the singles on Friday, led by their No. 1 man, Owen. In the doubles Ursinus gained its two points in the second and third doubles brackets.

Track Squad Bows In St. Joe's Meet

Although sixteen members of the Bears' track team were able to figure in the final point scoring, the Ursinus cindermen went down to defeat at the hands of a well balanced St. Joseph's team last Wednesday, by the score of 55 2/5 to 70 3/5. The meet was very close throughout with St. Joe's holding a slight edge due to the clean sweeps which they scored in the mile and half mile.

In the century event freshmen sprinters Raban and Hyatt breasted the tape ahead of Nicholas of St. Joe's in 10.2 to hand him his first defeat of the season. In the 220, however, with the aid of the inside lane, which was a gift to him, he was able to beat out Raban in a very close finish.

Newcomer Joe Ingham and veteran Ed Conine swept the hurdle events for the Bears' cause by taking the first two places in the low hurdles and second and third, respectively, in the highs. Joe Irvin and "Buddy" Adams took second places in the 440 and 2 mile, respectively, to finish out the Bears' scoring in the track events.

In the field events Ursinus garnered a great deal of their points. Pole vaulter Nat Johnson, recovering from a case of shin-splints, took the event with a leap of 10 feet 6 inches, with Adams taking second. "Jug" Ehlers threw the discus 112 feet to capture his pet event from St. Joe's Jacobs, with Bill Selfridge in third place. Second places were taken by Morrow in the shot put, Huckle in the high jump, and Frohner in the broad jump.

Tomorrow afternoon the Bears will finish up their season against Albright in a dual meet scheduled for Patterson field at 2:30 p. m. Coach Hashagen predicts a victory for his cindermen in a very close meet.

Jayvees Take Hill Schoolers By 6-5 Score on Wednesday

Leaving the home grounds after dropping three straight contests, the Jayvees finally met success at the Hill School last Wednesday to the tune of 6-5. The game was only a slight improvement over the others, Hill merely handing out more runs than the locals.

Harry Showalter was pounded in the first for four runs on four hits, a walk, and two errors. A tendency toward mildness brought Jack Garlock on in the second and he was eventually credited with the win. In the third two hits, a walk, and an error put the locals in the ball game with three runs.

Payoff in the Sixth

The payoff came in the sixth after Hill added another tally on West's triple. One down, Peterson sledged a homer to right center to open the scoring. Berman up for Glass and Hartline for Ditter punched out singles; Hartline then stole second. Tom Strange tapped an easy chance to the pitcher who threw wild to first, the tying and winning runs counting.

Wildness forced Garlock out in the seventh and Augustine finished up. The game was called in the eighth due to a 5:15 time limit. On Tuesday a wild last inning which saw eleven runs score sent the Kellettmen to defeat 11-4 against Villanova.

ORGANIZATION BOOKS DUE!

All organizations must submit their books to the Council on Student Expenditures before May 15, it has been announced by Chairman Maurice O. Bone. Organizations should complete their accounts by that time in order that the Council may review them.

Commencement

The Rev. Mr. Minich was graduated from the Union Theological Seminary in 1918, following his graduation from Ursinus in the class of '15 and study at Columbia University in the department of philosophy.

He entered the United States Army and became chaplain and first lieutenant. From 1919 to 1925 he was pastor of the Christ Congregational Church in New York City.

Church of Michael Wigglesworth

Since 1926 he has been pastor of one of the oldest and most active congregational churches in the Boston area. It was organized in 1648 and one of its earliest pastors was the poet-minister, Michael Wigglesworth, author of "The Day of Doom".

The Rev. Mr. Minich is a past president of the University Club of Malden and the Malden Kiwanis Club. He is a member of the city building and school committees, as well as director of the Malden Council of Religious Education.

He is the author of a small book of addresses to young people, Adventuring with Amateur Adults. He also wrote Life's Out There—Waiting.

Pageant

Dorothy Lees '40, upon the forlorn woodsman.

The hand of the second daughter, Roberta Ostroske '40, was won by a wandering musician, Frances Thierolf '40, and his magic fiddle, while the third daughter, Ruth Von Kleeck '40, was made the reward of outstanding bravery. She had been kidnapped by a wicked baron and whisked away to a prison tower where a fierce dragon was her jailer. A gallant captain of a band of archers, Betty Snyder '40, killed the dragon and won her hand.

King Selects Prettiest Girl

At a celebration after the safe return of his daughter, the king selected the prettiest girl in the village and made her Queen of the May. After the coronation, the Queen ascended her throne and presided over the festivities of the villagers.

May Queen's Court

Members of the May Queen's court were: Betty Shearer and Betty Usinger, seniors; Muriel Solomon and Idamay Scott, juniors; Betty Frorer and Leonore Berky, sophomores; and Helen Caulfield and Nancy Landis, freshmen.

Prior to the pageant, many of the mothers had been guests of their daughters at luncheons held at the various residence halls.

At 6:00 p. m. approximately 150 mothers, in company with their sons or daughters, were entertained at the annual Mothers' Day banquet held in the upper dining room. Following the dinner, some of the members of the administration and a few of the mothers were introduced and made a few remarks.

the ineligible list. Outside men may be entertained on any regular social hour evening from 6:30 to 10:30 p. m. The treasurer of the WSGA will be a junior instead of a senior, and the office of secretary will be separate from the chairmanship of the Sophomore Rules Committee.

Johnson Named Head As Varsity Club Dines

Fifty-nine Varsity Club members were honored at the annual banquet held at Bungalow Inn, Jeffersonville, on Tuesday night, May 7. Retiring President Harry L. Atkinson, acting as toastmaster, introduced Mr. R. D. Evans, President of the Athletic Council, who in turn presented the speaker of the evening, Mr. Tad Wieman, Head Football Coach at Princeton University.

Coach Wieman in presenting the value of athletics in college, stated that athletics serve as a laboratory for the development of character, and as a means for disciplining the mind to control individual desires and powers. To quote Mr. Wieman, "Anybody can be told what to do, but it is the experience gained in physical participation which shows what an athlete is made of. Athletic competition brings out the best in an athlete".

In conclusion he stated that a varsity letterman is a marked man because "the outside campus expects more of you". Newly elected officers for 1940-41 College year are: president, Nat Johnson '41; secretary-treasurer, Albert Hutchinson '42; Grizzly Editor, Kenneth Deardorff '41; Grizzly Business Manager, Don Fetterman '41.

To the Director of Intramurals!

The article on Ursinus athletics in the Open House issue of the Weekly, stated that the intramural program was under the direction of Mr. Everett M. Bailey. Mr. Kenneth A. Hashagen is the director this year, though Mr. Bailey has been in charge of intramural activities in the past.

"DESSERT" AT SHEEDER'S

The class in Religious Education, taught by Mrs. Franklin I. Sheeder, will entertain at an informal "after-dinner dessert" this evening for all students who have taught Sunday School at some time or have gone to a church camp.

The "dessert" will be held immediately after dinner this evening at the home of Mrs. Sheeder. All students who have participated in any of these religious functions are cordially invited to attend.

the Grand Duchess Olga she portrayed. Her small part was truly outstanding—and one could only wish she had been on the stage longer and more often.

The cast was filled out by Edna Hesketh '40, as Mrs. Kirby, and Stanton Felt '40, as Mr. Kirby; Richard Arnold '42, as the frustrated Mr. Henderson; and J. William Ditter '43, and Richard Ellis '43, as the two Plainclothes Men. All of these actors performed intelligently—an accomplishment indeed!

Credit Due the Sibbalds

Most of the spontaneous success of the play was due to the painstaking coaching of Dr. and Mrs. Reginald S. Sibbald. It was their effort and their advice that inspired this large cast, which, in its turn, inspired those who were fortunate enough to have seen this final performance of the Curtain Club.

lowing: Orpheus, Gracemary Greene '42; Eurydice, Dorothy Newhard '41; Amor, Averill Fox '42; A Blessed Spirit, Mary Alice Weaver '43; and attendants, Blanche and Carolyn Nowicki. The musical accompaniment was provided by Joseph Chapline '42, pianist, and Jeanne Russell, flutist.

The singing was enhanced by presentation inside, as the soprano voices were ample complements for the deeper voices. Averill Fox, Gracemary Greene, and Dorothy Newhard sang the difficult passages admirably, and Mary Alice Weaver, as the Blessed Spirit, sang with good tone and expression.

Mr. O. Stonorov To Lecture On 18th Century Art Tonight

Mr. Oskar G. Stonorov, prominent Philadelphia architect, will speak tonight at eight o'clock, in the Science Building auditorium, on eighteenth century art and architecture. It will be remembered that Mr. Stonorov delivered two lectures on Renaissance art last semester. The talk is sponsored by the College history department.

Mr. Stonorov, who lives at Charlestown, near Phoenixville, has studied abroad, notably in Italy and Germany. He is interested chiefly in public housing and has worked on both the Camden and the Frankford housing projects.

He designed the Charlestown Playhouse, and, probably of more importance, worked on exhibits for both the New York and San Francisco expositions. For the New York World's Fair, he designed the "Children's World" exhibit; and for the San Francisco exposition, he did the government weather bureau exhibit.
