Weekly Gets Third In Editorial Contest

The Weekly was awarded a third place for excellency of editorial writing and topics in the semi-annual contest sponsored by the Intercollegiate Newspaper Association.

Contest awards in News, Sports, Editorials, and Advertising were announced at the close of the Association's fall convention held at Gettysburg last week-end, November 18 and 19. The Weekly competed with publications of approximately twenty of the member colleges and universities with circulation under 1,050.

The Swarthmore Phoenix and Alfred University's Fiat Lux were first and second choices in the editorial field. The Gettysburgian won the first place cups in the news and sports divisions, while The Fiat Lux was first in advertising.

In the class of papers with a circulation above 1,050, the University of George Washington Hatchet won the cup for excellency in news. The Drexel Triangle took first place in both the sports and advertising divisions and was tie with the Lehigh University Brown and White for first in editorial writing.

Said John O'Rourke, managing editor of The Washington Daily News, who gave the Weekly second place in his editorial judgments, "Ursinus editorials revealed intelligent approach to problems of professional expression of opinion on controversial subjects."

In 1936, when all member papers of the I.N.A. were in one class, the Weekly was commended in both the spring and fall contests for its editorial work.

Professor and Mrs. Franklin I. Sheeder represented Ursinus at the conference of university and college presidents and professors on "Religion and the College Student" held at the Harrisburg Y.M.C.A. this past week-end.

The program was featured by a discussion on religious problems by group leaders at the Saturday evening session.

During this past week-end, the annual meeting of the Middle States Association of Collegiate Registrars was held at Haddon Hall in Atlantic City. Ursinus College was represented by Mrs. Dorothy T. Shelley, secretary to Mr. Sheeder.

Celebrated Harpist Presents Combined Concert And Discussion on Instrument Tuesday Night

By Robert Yoh '40

If playing harps is one of the principal occupations in heaven, then heaven must be a very fine place in which to spend an enforced retirement. Certainly Maryjane Mayhew Barton, one of the outstanding harpists of today, succeed in convincing the students, faculty, and friends of Ursinus that the harp is a heavenly instrument.

On Tuesday evening, November 22, a delighted and enthusiastic audience heard in Bomberger Hall one of the most worthwhile musical programs given at Ursinus in many years.

Mrs. Barton, a charming, and oddly enough, a very human musician, gave a combined concert and discussion on the harp. She pointed out that the harp is a direct descendent of the bow fam-

Marionette Troupe Will Perform Twice

To whom do marionettes most appeal — to adults or children? Everyone knows that children love marionettes, but it was adults that made the Rufus Rose marionettes the most popular attraction of the A. and P. carnival at the Chicago World's Fair.

That same marionette company will perform in the Ursinus gymnasium on December 13. They will play "Pinocchio" in a matinee at 4:00 and "Treasure Island"—as well as a continental variety show—in the evening performance at 8:00.

The quaint, grotesque charm of the Old World puppet show is traditional in Vienna and other European cities. American puppets have added a sophisticated, modern touch which has made them popular entertainment in smart hotels and night clubs, including such New York spots as the French Casino, the Casa Manana, and the Rainbow Room.

Ursinus and Lehigh to Debate On Pi Kappa Delta Topic Friday

The debating team of Lehigh University will meet the Ursinus men's debating team in Bomberger this Friday evening to discuss the Pi Kappa Delta topic—Resolved: That the United States should cease to use public funds, including credit, for the purpose of stimulating business.

Lehigh will debate the negative side of the question while Ursinus will uphold the affirmative. Debating for Ursinus will be Charles Barnes '40, Albright Zimmerman '42, and Robert Luginbuhl '42.

Dr. Lewis Scheffey to Speak Before Anders Pre-Med Society

Dr. Lewis C. Scheffey, assistant professor of gynecology at Jefferson Medical College, Philadelphia, will be speaker at next Monday's meeting of the James M. Anders Pre-Medical Society. His topic will be "Some Medical Portraits."

Far East Fund Drive To Start Next Week

The Far Eastern Student Emergency Fund Drive, in which Ursinus has planned to take part, will begin making its appeal to the student body Wednesday evening, December 7.

At this time two moving pictures concerning the student situation in China and Japan will be shown. The need for educating teachers to rebuild these two countries after the war has run its course will be indicated in the films. Profits derived from the showing of these pictures will serve as the first contribution to the fund.

The purpose of this united intercollegiate campaign will be further explained at a chapel service to be conducted by the program committee for which an outside speaker will be secured. The name of the speaker and the date of the service will be announced later this week.

In order to correct any false impressions the general committee wishes to emphasize that this campaign is not conducted on a partisan basis. It is to benefit the students of both Far-

The forum committee has invited the local unit of the Pennsylvania State Police, as well as other groups interested in crime detection to this meeting. Also welcome to this meeting are townspeople and friends.

Philip Announces "Messiah" Artists

Last week, Dr. William F. Philip, Director of Music, made his first announcement of the production of the Christmas section of Handel's "Messiah", which is to be presented Thursday evening, December 8, in Bomberger Hall.

Arrangements have been made with three of the four soloists. Madame Atwood Baker, formerly of the Metropolitan Opera Company, will be the soprano soloist.

The baritone role will be sung by Ralph Magelssen. Mr. Magelssen recently appeared opposite Miss Kitty Carlisle in "Three Waltzes" and also performed in "The Great Waltz," "Fredericka," and has sung opera at the Lewisohn Stadium in New York.

The third soloist will be Mr. Steel Jamison, tenor, who is a member of the Reveler's quartet of the Cities Service Concert radio program. As yet no alto has been secured.

Dr. Philip is also making arrangements to bring a professional orchestra to Ursinus to accompany the artists in this production.

All College students, faculty, and townspeople are invited to this musical program.

December 9 and 10 Will Bring Keating and Comedy; Byron, Harbaugh In Play

Only eleven more days until the Senior Ball, which, as you are well aware, will be held in the gymnasium Friday evening, December 9. Only twelve more days until the Senior Play, which, as you are well aware, will be presented in the gymnasium Saturday evening, December 10. Only nine more days of classes until the Senior Week-end, which as you all know, is the final social contribution of the Class of '39—the biggest week-end of the first semester. So mark the date, boys and girls, for Ray Keating and "Lady of Letters" are coming to Ursinus.

Ball and Ray Keating

The Ball, on Friday evening, will feature radio's Ray Keating and his orchestra, popular musicians heard regularly over WOR, presenting Al Kearney and Tex Mulcahey, vocalists, along with their incomparable Hal Kemp and Russ Morgan rhythms. The band is noted for its imitations of other famous orchestras.

Ball Chairman William Ellenbogen '39, has announced that the extensive blue and silver decoration scheme, the arrangement of the orchestra's and chaperons' corners, and the solid paper false ceiling will present an arrangement never before seen at an Ursinus formal.

Tickets will be on sale every day this week and next.

Mr. Michael Addresses Rotary Club Wednesday on Education

Professor Eugene B. Michael was the speaker at the Thanksgiving meeting of the Spring City-Royersford Rotary Club on Wednesday, November 23. The meeting was held at the Spring-Ford Country Club in Royersford where a turkey dinner was served.

Mr. Michael spoke of the history and significance of American Education Week which was observed this year during the week of Nov. 6, which featured the theme "Education for Tomorrow's America." In line with this theme, Mr. Michael accentuated Pennsylvania's problem of educating over-age youth in the secondary schools.

Mr. Michael concluded his speech with suggestions as to what Rotary Club's are doing and can do for youth and education.

Miss Shoemaker is planning to enroll in the Geneva School of International Studies, in New York, from December 6 to 17. She will take a special course under Dr. Alfred Zimmern, authority on the League of Nations.

1 For 25 Or 3 For 50

The first issue of the Lantern appears on campus in two weeks. Despite continued publicity and energetic campaigning by the magazine editors, the Lantern is probably the least-known publication on the campus.

The Lantern has never been a publication replete with buffoonery, like the comic magazines of some campuses. Yet, in its plans for this Christmas issue, the Lantern staff has apparently realized that a literary standard does not necessarily preclude variety. Holiday themes, poetry, description, and fiction will be included.

The Lantern is a magazine for a campus of varied tastes. If even half the students who should be interested in a worthwhile literary effort—and that means half of the student body—will subscribe, there will never again be an issue of the Lantern left to lie neglected in the corner of a student room.

Reprinted from the Weekly of February 22, 1937.

From The Editor

In last week's issue of this paper there appeared a letter in the Mail Box which expressed some interesting though scarcely novel criticisms of the Weekly. The writer of it asked, in effect, where the Weekly was when a student won a prize in a national oratorical contest. Why does it not have more real news of the students? Why does it not have columns readers can understand?

In regard to the obvious question as to where the Weekly was when something happened that very few knew about, the writer was delightfully vague. In fact he made no suggestions of any sort. Apparently, he would be quite satisfied if the staff would, once a week, ask every student individually what he was doing, and print the answers. Anything would do, as long as the Weekly was not "asleep on the job." For that would be the only means of learning something that only a few in the whole College knew about—but none of whom thought it was important enough to let a staff member in on the secret.

All this was very interesting, but even more interesting, at least to us, was the suggestion that perhaps we should have more real news of our students. The writer of this letter honestly stated that Gaff columns are the right thing for a college paper, but that the Weekly should have more real news of the students, and less of the "bull-session" type of entertainment. For this statement he deserves much credit, for we did not know this: nevertheless, clearminded as it is, this statement raises a question which seems to linger continually in the undergraduate mind and upon which those immediately concerned seldom have an opportunity to speak.

For whom is the Weekly published? For the students alone? If it were the writer's criticism would be justified. But the Weekly is for the students, the faculty, the alumni, and the College. And because it is it contains news of the students, the faculty, the alumni, and of the College. With our limited space each week, it is impossible for us to include much more concerning the news of any of these than we do. We include as much student news as our setup will allow.

Collecting articles that are actually news for a college paper's weekly editions is not an easy task. Real news usually consists of "pre-views" of events yet to take place, or of write-ups of happenings having general student interest, which only a few know about.

Events signed in the College Calendar, announced in chapel, or mentioned on the bulletin board are easily covered. Some others are occasionally missed. To help prevent this faculty members are asked to let us know what conventions they attend, what articles they are publishing, or what surveys they are making. From the office of the president, of the registrar, and of the director of athletics, come almost regular reports of events of which readers will want to have some knowledge.

The Weekly wants to cover all campus events and student doings. We know that it is our job to uncover the news, not of others to bring it to us, but we shall be glad to learn of any news sources which have been overlooked.

We do not hope to kill, even temporarily, the thoughts which occasioned this letter. Annoyance does not die so easily. But we do deny that the Weekly was asleep on the job when it failed to uncover a news item which it could only have uncovered with the cooperation of the writer of this letter, or of one of the few others who knew the news. We will not comment on our columns until we hear more student opinion of the same.

There Are No Ethics To War, Says Reader

To the Editor:

I read with amazement that at the last meeting of the Newman Club the subject for discussion was the ethics of war. I do not know what decision the club arrived at, but it seems to me that such a topic smacks of naivete.

It should be realized that war is no longer confined to a struggle between troops who fight with all courtesy and under the rules of polite and gentlemanly warfare. No longer do opposing forces line up facing each other for battle, no longer does one general call out, "Gentlemen of the enemy, you may fire first," nor does his opponent reply, "But, no, please. You fire first!"

There are no ethics to war. War comes with a flood of gas. Air frightfulness cannot be mitigated. Wars are fought to be won, and any general who risks success for a beau geste is justifiably subject to court-martial.

Sincerely,
Regarder Pertinacious.

Ursinus Frosh Show Averages Above Norm of Liberal Arts Colleges In Cooperative Tests

According to information received by the Registrar's office from the cooperative test service of the American Council on Education, the freshmen who entered Ursinus this fall are above the average for liberal arts colleges.

Scores made by Ursinus freshmen are above the norm of liberal arts colleges in English, Literary Comprehension, French, Latin, and General Science. The norms for foreign languages are based on two years' previous instruction.

The Ursinus average in English is 57.9, compared with the norm of 55.6; in Literary Comprehension, 59.8 compared with 57.2; in French, 58.3 as against 56.6; in Latin, Ursinus freshmen surpassed the 60.1 norm with an average of 62. The General Science scores showed the largest margin of superiority for Ursinus, as the freshmen averaged 62.1 in this department, 7.1 points above the norm.

The scores on all the tests show a wide range of achievement. These large differences among the members of a single entering class emphasize the necessity for adopting educational work to the needs and interests of the individual. These tests help the college to make this adjustment to the capacity of the individual student.

norm for liberal arts colleges in results of similar tests, but not such a marked superiority. In English last year the freshmen of Ursinus were one point above the norm, in German, two points, and in French, three points. The General Science and Literary Comprehension (reading) tests were new this year.

Pre-Medical Aptitude Test To Be Given This Friday

The Association of American Medical College's Aptitude Test will be given this Friday, December 2, at 3 p. m., in room 108, Science Building. This is the only time the test will be given this year.

It should be taken by all students who expect to apply for entrance to a medical school by the Fall of 1939. The test has been adopted by the association as one of the normal requirements for admission. It measures one's ability to learn material similar to that which he will have in medical school.

A fee of one dollar will be required of each student taking the test. Application should be made immediately to Dr. J. Harold Brownback, head of the Biology Department.

Swift, graceful, and remarkably wise. Ancient Egyptian and Greek royalty stamped him as a symbol of aristocracy. Distinguished lines and proud bearing can be found on Egyptian carvings dating to 3500 B. C. Racing has made this breed popular in the U.S.

IT'S THRILLING to watch the flashing greyhound in full flight. But it's important to note that when the race is over he rests—as the greyhound above is doing now. Though the dog's highly keyed nervous system closely resembles our own, the dog relaxes instinctively! Life as it is today leads us to ignore fatigued nerves. We carry on despite increasing tension, strain. Be kind to your nerves if you want them to be kind to you. Pause a while, now and then. LET UP—LIGHT UP A CAMEL! Let the frequent enjoyment of Camel's mild, ripe tobaccos help you take life more calmly, pleasantly, profitably!

Bears End Victoryless Campaign As Franklin and Marshall Wins Final 40-2

By Carlton Davis

A disappointing Ursinus eleven ended a tragic football season by being hopelessly outclassed by a powerful Franklin and Marshall team in the first of a series of five games to be played on Turkey Day in Lancaster.

Paced by Captain Samuel Roeder, who scored 28 points, the Diplomats rolled up a 40-2 score over the faltering Bears. Playing before 3,000 shivering football addicts, F. and M. quickly scored two touchdowns in the first quarter to take a 13-0 advantage, a lead which they never relinquished.

Scoring their first touchdown on the sixth play of the game, F. and M. went on to score at least once in every period, and not once did the Bears seriously threaten to score on the Lancaster foe.

Meklos Blocks Kick

A beautiful coffin corner kick by Bill Power, however, set the stage for a Bear safety. Standing on his own forty yard marker, Power booted one out on the one yard line. Roeder, standing in the end zone, attempted to kick back, but George Meklos, stellar Bear center, blocked the kick; the ball rolling in the end-zone for an automatic safety.

Starting from the Ursinus forty yard stripe, F. and M. began its first touchdown march. This march was climaxed by a twenty yard gallop by Abbie Asplin who received a lateral pass from Roeder. Roeder's attempted conversion failed, and the Diplomats led 6-0.

A short time later another sustained forty yard advance found

Roeder taking the ball over the line for the first of his four touchdowns. Roeder converted and the Holman outfit led 13-0.

Jim Flowers accounted for the third F and M. touchdown with a thrilling seventy yard run. Roeder again converted.

Roeder Scores Four Times

Pushing over three more six pointers in the second half, Sammy Roeder became the leading scorer in the East. When Manotti and Terrari deliberately stepped out of bounds on the one yard marker, Roeder found himself in position to score twice more. The fourth Roeder touchdown came after Flowers had made a short gain through tackle, and Roeder picked up twelve yards around end to top the home team's scoring.

For the Bears it meant the final game for eight Grizzlies. Gone next season will be such outstanding stars as Captain Fred Todt, Bill Power, Howard Smith, George Meklos, Howard Gushard, Glenn Eshbach, Ray Gurzynski, and Gordon Astheimer. The helpful performance of each of these men will be greatly missed.

Wedding Bells

Miss Carmeleta Duvall Turner, of Conshohocken, became the bride of Peter Paul "Pete" Stevens, Bear line mentor, last Wednesday evening in a ceremony performed in Cheltenham Methodist Church.

The bride is a fourth grade teacher in the Conshohocken schools. Included in the wedding party were Dave Smukler, former Temple fullback, now with the professional Eagles, and three fellow teachers of the bride.

After a Florida honeymoon, the newlyweds, both Temple graduates, will reside in Conshohocken.

First Frosh Drill Next Monday

The first call for freshmen basketball candidates will be issued for Monday, December 5, according to Coach Don Kellett, when the yearlings are expected to report to the gym at 4 p. m.

As usual the Freshmen will play a schedule compared to that of the Varsity since the first year men invariably play the preliminary game to all home as well as some away varsity scraps.

Coach Kellett expects to scrimmage his yearlings with Ken Hashagen's varsity club throughout the season. According to preseason dope the freshmen will probably have a smooth club which will be built around Al Hutchinson, who sparked the Atlantic City High School club to the finals of the Glen Falls tourney last year, and Howard McMahon, former Brown Prep and Merchantville (N. J.) High School luminary.

Courtmen Prepare For Coming Battles

Coach Ken Hashagen sent his band of courtmen into high gear this week at the opening of their final training drive before the initial game right after the Christmas holidays.

Three weeks of strenuous workouts are in store for the local basketballers who will again be in the thick of the battle for the popular Conference title which seemingly slipped from their hands last year after an auspicious start.

With the advent of the new playing rules last year coaches have been forced to place on the floor at least two teams of equal strength in order to hold up the pace set by winning clubs. With that in mind Hashagen has a task before him in developing a full squad of ball players of winning calibre.

Keehn, Chern Nucleus

Hashagen has a veteran squad to work with but is in dire need of good replacements. Bob Keehn and Hal Chern are sure starters at guard and forward respectively and are the nucleus around which the Bear team will be built.

Veterans Hal Moyer and Frank Meade, who improved so greatly last season during the course of the schedule, are others who will undoubtedly retain their starting berths and may be counted on for banner seasons after their year's experience as sophomores.

For the other guard Hashagen has Bill Power who played bang up ball at the close of the last campaign, and John Wise.

The robust Wise who has been in strict training since the beginning of the current school year has brought his cumbersome weight down below the 200 mark and may be the key to the Bears' success if he is able to return to his form of the days when he sparked the Brown Prep champions to tourney titles.

Howard Wise is the other veteran of the '37-'38 team and should prove very useful if the injuries he suffered during the football season mend well enough.

Veteran Ed Thompson will not be available until scholastic deficiencies have been overcome.

Bill Power is expected to report this coming week for the first time, having been detained by gridiron activity. Newcomers aspiring to varsity berths are Dave Jacobs, Nat Johnson, George Biery, and several other members of last year's freshman squad.

LOOKING 'EM OVER

By Harry Atkinson

40-2 . . . and so endeth the 1938 football program at Collegium Ursinus.

The Turkey Day loss wasn't as bad as the score indicates. The boys really put out in spite of weather that would make an Arctic blubber huckster turn blue.

Bill Power looked like an All-American in singing his swan song and won the acclaim of the working press.

Sammy Roeder's 28 points were all earned too after the sensational back had to smash the stubborn Bear line for all but one.

Bill Manotti made the sporting gesture of the day in stepping out of bounds when in the clear to set Roeder up for his thrust at the scoring title of the East.

Curtis and Brodbeck tangle this week to see who plays in the Pretzel Bowl.

We're all glad to see up and around again after a siege of grippe Ursinus' No. 1 fan, Mrs. "Jing".

If Hash can get Ed Thompson released from the Dean's team by Feb. 2, he feels set for a pretty fair court season.

Soon it gives Xmas when some of us will be trudging mail for Uncle Sam, others will be smiling across bargain counters while most of us will just "be".

John (The Shadow) Wise is still below the 200 mark and just pants now after running instead of snorting.

Gus The Feather Merchant closed the season with 9 cigars to the good but not enough to offset the loss of 3 jugs of mountain dew suffered the first two games.

Bogie's trail these pre-Senior Ball days looks like a multiple view of a Ballantine's ad.

Add alibis to be used Feb. 1 on "dough"-boys Helfferich and Ermold: Mayor Wilson's 1 1/2% income tax on all salaries earned in Philly.

Wonder whose memory directed the plow around the campus paths, Abe's or the horse's?
