

11-2016

The Human Times - Vol. 1

Pacific Humanities Scholars

Follow this and additional works at: <https://scholarlycommons.pacific.edu/post-human>

Recommended Citation

Pacific Humanities Scholars, "The Human Times - Vol. 1" (2016). Pacific Humanities Scholars - The Post Human. 5.

<https://scholarlycommons.pacific.edu/post-human/5>

This Book is brought to you for free and open access by the Honors Programs of Distinction at Scholarly Commons. It has been accepted for inclusion in Pacific Humanities Scholars - The Post Human by an authorized administrator of Scholarly Commons. For more information, please contact mgibney@pacific.edu.

The Human Times

Official Humanities Scholars Newsletter

By Kathryn Harlan-Gran

Museum of Modern Art, San Francisco

On November 5, a number of humanities scholars visited the renowned MOMA in San Francisco, a hub of art and culture (above).

Publication opportunities!

Calliope

Pacific's literary and arts magazine is now open to short stories, creative nonfiction, and poetry submissions. To see previous editions, visit pacificalliope.wordpress.com. To submit, send a word document to uopcalliope@gmail.com.

COME SEE TAP'S PRODUCTION OF HIGH SCHOOL MUSICAL!

Long Theater

November 18, 8:00 PM
November 19, 6:00 PM
and 12:00 AM

Odyssey

Odyssey is an online publication platform based out of more than 1,000 universities across the US, publishing content of all varieties that is not typically covered by traditional media. To read more, visit www.theodysseyonline.com. To apply, visit muse.theodysseyonline.com/apply.

COMING SOON: PEOPLE OF PACIFIC

People of Pacific, an interview style blog similar to the famed Humans of New York, will be launching soon! Check it out at www.peopleofpacific.com

FLOW WITH SIGMA TAU DELTA'S ANNUAL POETRY READING!

The Lair
November 9, 5:00 PM

To present, email a poem to d_sriboonreuang@u.pacific.edu.

SUPPORT ALPHA PHI'S RED DRESS GALA!

November 12, 5:00-9:00 PM

Tickets $60- Proceeds support a cure for heart disease

Giving Back

Making use of what our education offers to support our communities.

Hope Street, an organization that helps offer education, healthcare, and job opportunities to the underprivileged, is giving us the chance to work with them once again this year. Keep an eye out for more information from Matthew Spain in mid-November.

Omega Eta Epsilon, Pacific's professional language and literacy fraternity, will be partnering with the Stockton Homeless Shelter to provide books to children between the ages of two and ten years. They will be tabling outside the UC around noon every day during the last week of November.

Publication opportunities!

The Pacifican

Pacific's student-produced newspaper welcomes article submissions from student creators. To read The Pacifican online, visit thepacificanonline.com/wp/. If you are interested in joining the team, meetings are held in the Smith Lounge of Grace Covell every Thursday at noon.

STRUCTURING THE SCHOLARS COMMUNITY

This semester, we plan to realize a long-considered goal of the Humanities Scholars Program: establishing a mentoring system. We aim to pair up freshman scholars with a second, third, or fourth year scholar who has similar interests, passions, and career goals. The purpose of this program is to help freshman scholars navigate the sometimes complex process of acclimating to university life while strengthening the community of the scholars program as a whole.

Upperclassmen scholars, if you think you may be taking on a freshman to mentor this semester, please contact Kathryn Harlan-Gran at k_harlangran@u.pacific.edu. The new program should go into effect at the end of the Fall semester.

Got questions? Email Kathryn Harlan-Gran at k_harlangran@u.pacific.edu for more information!