Eminent Public Men.

Few are so fortunate as to be acquainted with eminent public men, and but a small number have seen even their pictures. This special edition of "OUR ALBUM" brings to your home life-like pictures and biographical sketches of the leading men in this section.

"OUR ALBUM" contains information that is priceless, which may save your life or that of some loved member of the family. It tells of the medicine that makes people well---Paine's Celery Compound.

Remember that every statement of CURE is from a person of high standing in the community, living in this section. We have thousands of testimonials from Canada, the far West, and the South, but publish only those from your own neighbors that the truth may be easily verified.

Their pictures are reproduced herewith, together with their autographs, and this must carry conviction to the most skeptical.

All this is something never done before by any medicine, and furnishes irresistible evidence of the wonderful and superior power of Paine's Celery Compound in the battle against disease and death.

EDITOR J. H. LIVINGSTON.

The Bennington Reformer is one of the most influential newspapers in southern Vermont. Its prominence is largely due to its brainy and energetic editor, J. H. Livingston. Testimonials from men like him have never before been published by any medicine. Read his letter!

BENNINGTON, VT., Dec. 16, 1893.

WELLS, RICHARDSON & Co.:

In the spring of the year 1891 I was attacked with the grip. I was laid by from business for about two months, a portion of the time as sick a man as ever lived through that mysterious disease. From the effects of the attack I was really ill all summer, weak and tired and dispirited.

In the spring of the year 1892 I suffered another onslaught of the same disease and lost seventeen pounds of flesh in two weeks. I went back to my duties again with a settled conviction that I would be obliged to pass through another summer of misery, but happily I resorted to the use of Paine's Celery Compound, doubtfully I admit, for I was chary of so-called proprietary medicines. But before the first bottle was used, conviction dawned upon me that here was the elixir, if not of life, still of health, and within a month I was mended and really better than before the grip first made my unwelcome acquaintance. And now when tired from brain work or business cares I take a wine glass of Celery Compound on going to bed and awaken in the morning refreshed and fit to begin again the toils and meet successfully the vexations that infest the day.

My wife, who is not wholly free from the ills inherent in womankind, manages, with my help, to consume the contents of about a half dozen bottles of Compound a year to the great benefit of her health and my happiness. It ought to be understood that Paine's Celery Compound is as grateful to the palate as good and wholesome wine, while it is more invigorating and lasting in its effects than any vintage of the fruit of the genus vitis.

The Vermont Soldiers' Home Orders

Paine's Celery Compound.

The Best of All Spring Medicines.

Major R. J. Coffey, superintendent of the Vermont Soldiers' Home, at Bennington, writes the following strong testimonial:

STATE HOME AT BENNINGTON.

Conclusion:— There have been so many requests from members of the Home for that best of all spring remedies, Paine's Celery

Compound, that I ordered a quantity for trial, It has shown such decided good in its use that it has been necessary to order a second quantity.

L. A. Hamilton, late Company C, 12th Regiment, was suffering from a loss of appetite and growing poor. He has taken two bottles and has improved every day since he commenced to use the Celery Compound.

H. A. Percy, Company H, 2d Vermont Regiment, after three months in the hospital, began taking the Compound and improved very rapidly.

Several others are now taking it with benefit. Mrs. Coffey is a great believer in it.

Yours truly,

MRS. A. M. HOWE.

New Life for the Aged !

Picture to yourself the usual condition of old ladies. They feel faint, used up, tired; have poor appetite, rheumatism, and grievous aches. Such was the condition of Mrs. A. M. Howe, of Keelers Bay, who writes as follows:

KEELERS BAY, VT., July 9, 1893.

WELLS, RICHARDSON & Co.,

Dear Sirs:—Paine's Celery Compound is the best medicine I ever used. Like many old folks, I suffered with constipation, rheumatism, and a tired, lifeless feeling. I seemed to be growing weaker every day. My appetite was poor. I had peculiar feelings of faintness, and felt used up.

Nothing did me any good or gave me any strength until I used Paine's Celery Compound. That freed me from my aches and pains, and seemed to put new life into my old body. It is a grand medicine and I cannot praise it too highly.

Respectfully yours,

A. M. Howe

GEORGE E. DICKEY.

"Paine's Celery Compound
SAVED MY LIFE!"

Mr. Dickey is Grateful to the Medicine That Made Him Well.

Mr. George E. Dickey of Sprague's Mills, Me., is a man whose statement can be relied upon. The following testimonial sounds like a miracle, but Paine's Celery Compound makes CURES like this every day in the year.

SPRAGUE'S MILLS, ME., Aug. 3, 1892.

WELLS, RICHARDSON & Co.,

Gentlemen:—I am satisfied that Paine's Celery Compound saved my life. I was almost at death's door when I commenced taking it, as I could get no earthly thing to help me. I suffered terribly last winter, and was under treatment four months for spinal trouble. I had several bad attacks so that I could not move or speak, and thought that I should die. I employed a physician and tried different kinds of medicine, but nothing helped me. I also suffered with heart disease, dyspepsia, and nervousness. I had no appetite and was completely gone. I was all discouraged and wanted to die.

Just at this time you sent me one of your albums. I read it over and over for about a week before I conc'ided to try Paine's Celery Compound. I finally commenced taking it, and the first dose relieved me, and I rested well that night. I took three bottles of the Compound, and now I am well and work hard. I cannot say enough in favor of the Compound. I think it is the best medicine in the world. About as soon as I commenced using it I went to work again, and have worked harder every day since.

Going to Get One Hundred People to Use It.

Now, in one year's time I intend to have 100 people try this Compound, and if it would not be asking too much, I wish that you would send me a dozen or two of your albums, so that I could send them to different people. I would like some to send to Waldo and Hancock counties. I am well known there, and when I tell them to try the Compound they are going to do it.

Gratefully yours,

Geo. E. Dickey

Prosperous Farmer Freeman is Now Strong and Well.

Praise to the King of Medicines!

Mr. W. S. Freeman, of Richmond, is one of the best known farmers in Vermont. His cure is wonderful, but Paine's Celery Compound has on record many equally startling.

RICHMOND, Vt., April 19, 1892.

WELLS, RICHARDSON & Co.,

Dear Sirs:—Last winter I had a very severe attack of the grippe, leaving me in a sadly weakened condition, with prospects of death alone to end my sufferings. I never expected to fully recover from the effects of the disease even though I did succeed in arresting the ravages on my system.

At the recommendation of friends I began the use of Paine's Celery Compound, and am glad to say that I think it not only one of the best of medicines but the king of medicines.

I have gained over thirty pounds, and never felt better in my life so far as bodily ailments are concerned.

Yours truly,

Terrible Rheumatism!

Paine's Celery Compound Never Fails to CURE This Dread Disease.

There is no longer any need for suffering with rheumatism or neuralgia, as Paine's Celery Compound makes the lame to walk, gives freedom from pain, and completely drives the dread disease from the system. Mrs. M. C. Curran, of Rutland, is but one of hundreds whom it has made well.

RUTLAND, VT., April 23, 1892.

Dear Sirs:—I have been troubled fearfully with rheumatism. Paine's Celery Compound was recommended to me, and I began to take it. From the first it seemed to relieve me, and after I had taken two bottles I found myself entirely cured of my trouble. I am greatly pleased with it, and would recommend it to every one who has rheumatism.
Yours respectfully,

Mrs M. C. Curran

Remarkable Cure of Ex

Another Great Victory for the Medicine That Makes People Well.

WATERVILLE, ME., Oct. 24, 1892.

WELLS, RICHARDSON & Co.,

Gentlemen :—My wife could not get any rest and her head troubled her all the time. She was very lame at times and when she was lying in bed she was so nervous that she could not keep her limbs quiet. Her system was completely run down. We tried doctors and almost every kind of medicine, but she could get no relief until she began taking Paine's Celery Compound. After she had taken three bottles of the Compound she began to grow stronger and her nervousness left her and she says that she would not be without it for all the world. The enclosed photograph was taken after she had used three bottles of the Compound.

Yours respectfully,

Brought Back to Health!

Eminent Physicians Recommend Paine's
Celery Compound.

Read This and See How People Are Made Well.

Mr. Frank J. Wood of West Lebanon, N. H., is a man of the highest reputation. Testimonials from men like him are rare, but he wants the whole world to know what Paine's Celery Compound has done for him.

WEST LEBANON, N. H., Jan. 8, 1893.

Dear Sirs:—I had a bad case of dyspepsia last spring and took three bottles of Paine's Celery Compound. It did me a great deal of good. In fact, it cured me, for I have been able to eat anything since without any trouble. The Compound was recommended to me by an eminent physician.

Frank J. Wood,

TRUMAN R. PARKER.

20 YEARS OF AGONY!

Mr. Parker's Marvelous Cure.

He Never Tires of Telling the Great Good Paine's Celery Compound Did Him.

No salesman in New England is better known or more highly respected than Truman R. Parker, traveling agent for the Eureka Headache Cure Co., of Concord. His wonderful restoration to health has made him a strong advocate of Paine's Celery Compound, and scores bless him for telling them of the medicine that makes people well.

CONCORD, N. H., May 25, 1893.

Gentlemen:—Though silence is said to be golden, I feel it my duty to add my testimonial to the many thousands you are receiving. For nearly twenty years I have suffered at times from bilious sour stomach. About four years ago this developed into the most aggravating dyspepsia conceivable. I tried anything and everything that was suggested, but without relief. There were times when on the road, that I would fast for twenty-four hours, except for an occasional glass of milk. At the same time I would have an unusual craving for solid food, of which I dared not partake, knowing well what the after results would be. About a year ago, at the request of a fellow traveler, I purchased a bottle of Paine's Celery Compound, and before I had used one-third of the bottle I felt that I had hit the right thing at last. Three bottles CURED me, and I can now eat anything with impunity.

For insomnia it is truly wonderful. Nights when old Morpheus fails to come to the rescue, a dose of your Compound soon sends me to dreamland. Yours truly,

Truman R Parker

Nervous Prostration and Sleeplessness
Made the World All Dreary.

She Thanks God that Paine's Celery Compound Made Her Well.

How hopeless must a woman be when she would welcome death as a relief to her suffering. Such was the condition of Mrs. Helen L. Moore of York Harbor, Me., when she heard of Paine's Celery Compound, the medicine that makes people well. No wonder she is grateful to it!

YORK HARBOR, ME., Nov. 28, 1892.

WELLS, RICHARDSON & Co.,

Gentlemen:—One year ago last spring I was taken with nervous prostration. I was in such a condition that for six months I did not sleep any to speak of. I tried various kinds of medicines, but could not get much relief. But I kept around until this spring when I was induced by a friend to try Paine's Celery

Compound which, thanks be to God! has done me more good than all the medi-

The Only Medicine that Makes

Mrs. E. L. Wing of Putney, Vt., is a highly respected lady whose veracity cannot be doubted for a moment. She writes, as have hundreds of others, that Paine's Celery Com-year and a half I have taken eight bottles of Paine's Celery Compound and have not been so free from these troubles in 15 years as I am now. I advise all who are afflicted in any way with rheumatism or neuralgia to use Paine's Celery Compound.

For the nerves and tired feelings, I think it is the best dose of ambition that I have ever found. Before I had taken one bottle I felt almost like another person. Other medicines have given me only temporary relief. But the Compound has done me more permanent good than the doctors or any other medicine, and I can hardly feel grateful enough for the benefit that I have derived from its use.

IT MAKES PEOPLE WELL!

After All Else Fails, Paine's-Celery Compound Will Cure.

There is but one medicine known that can be implicitly relied upon to cure rheumatism. That medicine is Paine's Celery Compound. The following letter from Mrs. I. B. Merrill of Lewiston, Me., is but one of hundreds that tell where rheumatism has been cured by the medicine that makes people well.

LEWISTON, ME., Nov. 21, 1892.

Dear Sirs:—For about two years I have been troubled with rheumatism in my limbs. I tried different doctors and a number of kinds of medicine, but nothing did me any good until I began to take Paine's Celery Compound. Three bottles cured me, and I recommend it to all that are troubled as I was.

I had got the right medicine. Before the second bottle was gone there was no salt rheum to be seen.

Fearful Nervous Suffering.

Mrs. Vickery Was Sinking into the Grave.

EAST AUBURN, ME., Oct. 24, 1892.

Dear Sirs:—Some four weeks ago I was suffering from one of those awful bad headaches which have been my companion for the last year. My back ached, I did not sleep well, had those frightened nights, which only those who are nervous can understand, did not care whether I ate anything or not, felt so tired, and had that all gone feeling, had no strength to do my easiest home duties.

A friend said to me, who had taken only a few doses of Paine's Celery Compound, and had received much benefit from it, "Try some of my Compound." Well, I took some with little faith, but in three days I was feeling like a new person. I continued using it, and have gained strength every day; can eat three or four times a day, sleep like a log, and my head must be a new one, as I have not had a headache since I began taking the Compound.

Mr. Foster Uses the Medicine That Makes People Well.

The following remarkable testimonial is from one of the best known men in New Hampshire, Mr. Jas. W. Foster, of Bath.

BATH, N. H., March 9, 1892.

Gentlemen:—For some years I have been one of the many sufferers from indigestion, sick headache, costiveness of the worst kind, weak nerves, and nervous affections. No one who has not had these troubles, can appreciate my sufferings. I tried sarsaparillas, nervines, and physicians' prescriptions, but could not get CURED.

About six months ago I commenced taking Paine's Celery Compound. One bottle has completely regulated and cured me. My nerves are strong, and I am better than I have been for years.

THE KIND THAT CURES TO STAY CURED.

More than a year after Mr. Foster wrote the above testimonial, he sent the following letter, one of scores that proves that Paine's Celery Compound makes permanent and lasting cures.

BATH, N. H., Aug. 10, 1893.

Gentlemen:—You are at liberty to sign my name to any testimonial that you want. I will only say that Paine's Celery Compound is the kind that cures to stay cured. I speak from personal experience. In my letter to you one year ago I gave you solid facts as to what Paine's Celery Compound did for me. It cured me and today I am healthy and strong.

Picture to yourself the self-sacrifice of a woman who for three years was almost constantly at the side of her aged mother. This devotion resulted in shattered health and a broken constitution. But Paine's Celery Compound renewed her health and strength, and Mrs. Richard Gatley blesses its name.

PORTLAND, ME., Oct., 4, 1892.

WELLS, RICHARDSON & Co.,

Gentlemen:—Last winter I was all run down and my blood would settle in spots as large as my hand. After taking Paine's Celery Compound, they went away. My greatest trouble was my nerves, and until they were helped, they of course caused other troubles. My lungs were also very bad. But I am now getting along nicely and am quite smart again, all because I used Paine's Celery Compound. I was so sick that I could scarcely keep around, but as soon as I started taking your Compound I was like another person.

I have had to work beyond my strength and have had too much care. I have had to take care of my aged mother, 83 years old, and this is very trying, as I have to be with her constantly. I cannot leave her to get the air, and so I am shut in too close for health. For three years at a time I have not been out of our gate. This was very wearing on my nerves and they were shattered, but Paine's Celery Compound gave me strength and made me well.

JONESVILLE, VT., Nov. 20, 1892.

Dear Sirs:—It is a great pleasure for me to let you know that we used Paine's Celery Compound for our little girl who had the grip. We tried everything for her, but without relief. The doctors did not do her any good, so we thought we would try Paine's Celery Compound. Before the first bottle was taken she was on the gain.

She was always in delicate health before we began the use of Paine's Celery Compound.

We would advise all mothers with sickly children to give the Compound a trial, as we can not praise it too highly.

JAMES THWING.

Fifteen Years of Rheumatism.

All Credit of His Cure Given to Paine's Celery Compound.

James Thwing, one of the oldest and most highly respected residents of Barre, Vt., after fifteen years of suffering, has been made well by the only medicine that was never known to fail in curing a case of rheumatism,—Paine's Celery Compound.

BARRE, VT., Mar. 25, 1893.

Gentlemen:—I have been a great sufferer from rheumatism for the past 15 years. In the fall of 1891 I was compelled to walk with crutches and could move about only with the greatest difficulty. Then I began taking Paine's Celery Compound and with the best of results. My lameness so far left me that I could put aside my crutches and have since been able to attend to my business.

WATERVILLE, ME., Nov. 23, 1892.

WELLS, RICHARDSON & Co.,

Gentlemen:—After the birth of my babe I had a very bad kidney and bladder trouble. I suffered night and day with a beating, throbbing pain in the neck of the bladder, which would increase to such agony that I would cry like a child. The sharp pain was in my back, too. One doctor said that I had inflammation of the bladder; the other said that the throbbing pains were caused by the blood vessels being strained and inflamed. Be that as it may, I suffered intensely for three weeks, until we got Paine's Celery Compound. The first dose relieved me and two bottles cured me entirely.

Yours very truly,

Great Professor's Work at Yale,

Of Vermont.

Devotion to the Public Good.

His Scientific Discovery of a Vegetable Compound
That Makes the Lame to Walk, Gives Strength
To the Weak, and Relieves Suffering.

Every Dartmouth alumnus of more than ten years' standing remembers the awe in which he held the keen observer whose name appeared in doctor to the world, and made his life an era in the practice of medicine.

Prof. Phelps was born in Connecticut in 1803. He graduated from the military school at Norwich, Vt. He studied medicine with Prof. Nathan Smith of New Haven, Conn., and graduated in medicine at Yale in 1824.

His unusual talent soon brought him reputation and prominence among his professional brethren.

He was one of the early founders of the medical department of the University of Vermont, at Burlington, which holds an honored position among the oldest and most influential medical colleges in the country. But few equal it in size, it often graduating classes of over a hundred.* The University of Vermont attracts many students because it is one of the few colleges whose graduates are admitted to practice in Great Britain without further examination. Its faculty includes the brightest men in the medical profession, but none today holds a more eminent position among his medical brethren than did Prof. Phelps, when in 1835 the college catalogue next to that of the president, as Edward Elisha Phelps, M. D., LL. D., professor of materia medica; and every younger graduate has admired the complete museum of medical botany which Dr. Phelps gave to the college.

But it was the world-famed discovery of Prof. Phelps of an infallible cure for those fearful ills that result from an impaired nervous system and impure blood, which has endeared the great he was elected to the professorship of anatomy and surgery.

In 1841 he was appointed lecturer on materia medica and medical botany in Dartmouth

* Any one wishing to confirm these statements about the importance and high scientific rank of the medical department of the University of Vermont, where Dr. Phelps was long a professor, can obtain a catalogue giving full information about the college, by addressing the secretary at Burlington, Vt.

College, and was a member of the faculty until a few years before his death in 1880.

He had for years foreseen the dangers of the American way of living. He went about to find a scientific, common-sense remedy to cure the common evils that, under one name and another, result from an unhealthy state of the nervous system, and within a score of years have seemed to be sweeping over the country like an epidemic.

He succeeded.

He gave to the medical profession a celebrated remedy, which has since come to be known the world over as Paine's Celery Compound.

It was Dr. Phelps' prescription, which ever since has been freely used and prescribed by the most eminent of the profession. The formula was furnished to all reputable physicians. They found the wonderful remedy to be exactly what was claimed for it, a great nerve and brain strengthener and restorer. It was demonstrated beyond doubt that Paine's Celery Compound would cure nervous debility and exhaustion, neuralgia, sleeplessness, dyspepsia, and all blood diseases.

It was as harmless as it was good, and it was the universal advice of the medical profession that the Compound be placed where the general public could secure it, and thousands of people have every year proven the wisdom of this good advice.

On a previous page is pictured the wonderful nervous system. Trace the delicate nerve threads that reach every part of the brain and body.

Yet this crowning example of the Creator's wisdom and goodness is so often sadly abused that disease and death result.

The nervous system rules every action of our body, controls everything we do. In this article are given truths in regard to the nerves, that, if acted upon, will bring valuable knowledge, peace, and happiness to the reader.

Who is there that has not suffered a burn and rebelled at the pain? Yet this shows the wondrous care of the great Creator. If the nerves did not feel the pain caused by the burn and carry this feeling to the brain so that the person knew of it and drew away from the fire, life itself might have been lost.

It has been a mistaken idea that hard working mechanics, farmers, or laborers do not have a nervous system that is as delicate as that of the scientist, or that is as easily injured.

This is all wrong. Let the man or woman who works hard with the hands injure the nervous system, and pain and disease will as surely result, as it would to Mgr. Satolli, who with his marvellous brain, has charge of the affairs of the Roman Catholic church in the United States.

MONSIGNOR SATOLLI.

CAUSE OF FAILURE TO PURIFY THE BLOOD.

It is the easiest thing in the world to convince any one who is open to conviction that disease is due to some weakness or trouble of the nervous system. Dr. Laning has plainly shown that the so-called blood diseases can be cured only by remedies that act upon the nervous system. And the brightest scientific minds of the age positively agree with this learned physician in his conclusions.

Dr. C. H. Hughes of St. Louis, writes: "It may be deemed a bold assertion, but experience will, I am assured, confirm its truth, that eczema is generally a vaso-motor emotional neurosis," or, in other words, is of nervous origin. Erasmus Wilson, the celebrated English dermatologist, in his contribution to Quain's Dictionary, makes nearly the same statement.

WHAT REV. DR. HAYNES SAYS.

Emery J. Haynes, D. D., the well known preacher at Tremont Temple, Boston, gave in the Congregationalist his experience with tired nerves, and showed most conclusively that dyspepsia and indigestion directly result from weakened or strained nerves. He wrote: "My nervous fatigue always shows itself in failing digestion."

NERVOUS CENTRES OF VITAL ORGANS.

The heart, the kidneys, the stomach—all the great organs have their nervous centres. From these centres go forth a network of nerves which accompany the blood vessels, and which govern their tension and that of the heart. If the nervous force be raised, the blood vessels contract, and the course of blood through them is diminished. If the nervous force be lessened, the vessels relax, and they become so unduly filled with blood that the parts which they supply become flushed and congested.

Thus, under different conditions of the nerves, there are flushes, chills, coldness of hands and feet, perspiration, irregular action of the bowels, deficient tone in the stomach and intestines, with flatulency as a constant and oppressive symptom, and often frequent and unhealthy urination. In addition to these symptoms there are at times distressing and even painful sensations of ringing sounds in the head, all caused by some weakness or strain of the nervous system.

NERVES OF THE BONES.

Do not think because you do not see your nerves that you have none. They are everywhere, even in the bones. Through the marrow run the nerves and blood vessels, entering the bones from the flesh without by little holes, which you can see for yourself any time by examining a skeleton or part of one. When the disease called rheumatism, which but few physicians understand, affects the nerves within the bones, the only way to treat it successfully is by Paine's Celery Compound, a medicine that acts upon the nervous system.

HEALTHY NERVES NECESSARY FOR LONG LIFE.

That aching head, tired brain, and painful weakness, we all admit comes from weakened nerves, and can never be cured until the nervous system is strengthened. But diseases of the liver, kidneys, and stomach are also caused by disordered nerves, and can only be cured by the proper remedies, strengtheners, and nourishers for the nervous system, scientifically combined and compounded.

"TOMORROW MAY BE TOO LATE."

But beware of that evil of putting off until tomorrow what should be done today. Now, there is time to save yourself. Tomorrow, it may be too late. It is the same with health,—delays are dangerous.

The Rev. Dr. Haynes says: "It is the stitch in time that saves.

A good mother's nerves are the finest creative work of God. At any cost save them."

Mrs. Potter Palmer is no more liable to nervous prostration than the wife who does her own housework. Weak nerves will come to one woman as surely as to the other.

MRS. POTTER PALMER.

We have briefly shown the folly of treating so-called diseases of the liver, kidneys, blood, and stomach, by special remedies for these organs. Perhaps in this way, benefit may be gained for the time being while using the medicine. But that is not what the poor sufferer wants. To be made well and strong, to feel life's current once more flowing joyously through the veins, to be able to put away medicine,—that is what the weak and sick desire, oh, so earnestly.

WHO CAN BLAME THEM?

All that they have would they give for health. And who can blame them?

Stop experimenting.

Use a scientific, common sense remedy that cures disease.

There is such a remedy. It is the result of the life's study and experience of one of the ablest physicians of his day, Prof. Edward E. Phelps, M. D., LL. D., a graduate of Yale.

and a professor in Dartmouth College and the Medical Department of the University of Vermont.

It is not a patent medicine; it is not a sarsaparilla; it is not a bitters or mere tonic; it is not an ordinary nerve,—it is as far beyond them all as the diamond is superior to the cheap glass.

It is a medicine that will give new life and strength to people as old as Harriet Beecher Stowe, and at the same time is so pure and harmless that it is the favorite medicine for children.

HARRIET BEECHER STOWE.

Paine's Celery Compound is a physician's discovery, and as such is freely used and prescribed by many of the most eminent of the profession. The formula is furnished to reputable physicians, and hence they have confidence in prescribing it, for they know it to be harmless as well as useful.

PAINÉ'S CELERY COMPOUND CURES.

But even this Compound cannot in one or two days cure a disease that has been coming on for years. Give it a fair chance, and it will do more than you had hoped and longed for. A case of dyspepsia, for instance, requires time for a cure,—the nerves of the stomach must be toned up, the excretory organs must work naturally, and the nervous system must be strengthened and invigorated. All this requires time. And yet how willingly and gladly should you devote weeks, yes, even months, and give all that you possess, if you were only confident of a cure at the end of that time. Keep on until success crowns your health-seeking.

Like Edison, the modern wizard, whose magnificent success came by perseverance, the victory will come at last, and by the aid of this grand good Compound the longed-for health and happiness will be yours.

Well, Paine's Celery Compound will cure. The first bottle will benefit. All the while the nerves will be growing stronger, the digestive organs will be gaining tone, and health will be surely returning. Do not be in too big a hurry. Buy half a dozen bottles of the Compound, and use it faithfully according to the directions. Why we urge this is because so many people stop taking the medicine as soon as they feel better, and then perhaps have a relapse, while if they used several bottles the cure would be permanent. Then, too, there is such a large demand for the medicine that the druggist's stock is sometimes sold out, and the patient has to wait and suffer until more is received. As it keeps perfectly, the last drop in the sixth bottle being just as full of curative power as the first, there is no chance of losing anything, and by being able to use the Compound right along until cured permanently, months and years of sickness may be saved.

WHAT THE COMPOUND IS MADE OF.

Is it not strange and extremely foolish that people will go on taking medicine to cure effects, instead of using Paine's Celery Compound and getting rid of the cause? The only result of such folly is failure, misery, and death. This Compound is a remedy which science has taken from Nature's laboratory, and is composed of Nature's health-restorers, celery, coca (the heavenly plant), cascara sagrada (the sacred bark), hops, dandelion, buchu, mandrake, sarsaparilla, and chamomile, scientifically combined and compounded.

Sickly children, weary women, and tired, broken-down men find in this great Compound, health, strength, and happiness. For all those diseases which are really the result of weakened nerves, such as dyspepsia, headache, rheumatism, liver, and kidney troubles, Paine's Celery Compound is the only remedy that absolutely cures. It has done greater good to the human race than any other discovery of the 19th century, and well deserves the grateful praise of the thousands whom it has snatched from the jaws of death.

Albert H. Hardy.

Albert H. Hardy, the author, whose poetical work, "The Maid of Bethany," is commended by such eminent men as Hon. W. E. Gladstone, Rev. Edward Everett Hale, and Dwight L. Moody, speaks for hundreds in writing the following:

"I take pleasure in recommending Paine's Celery Compound to others. After suffering for months with insomnia (sleeplessness) and nervous prostration I was persuaded to try the Compound. Good results were shown after the use of one bottle, and three practically cured me. It is not only valuable as a remedy but delightfully pleasant as a compound."

"DELAYS ARE DANGEROUS."

Do not neglect the little ills, the aches and pains, the "all-gone" and tired feelings that the majority of people look upon as trifles. Remember that delays are dangerous, and the weak, nervous, irritable feeling of today may tomorrow be the terrible misery of nervous debility, sleeplessness, melancholia, paralysis, insanity, or that dreaded paresis that ends only in death. While there is life, use this great Compound that will strengthen the nerves, purify the blood, and give health and strength to both brain and body. It will keep far distant the solemn time, so piteously described in the following sentence:

"We are never so impressed with the cruel inexorability of nature's laws as when we see our friend, glowing with the full joy of life, blindly hurrying on to the vast unknown whence no one may come back to tell us it is well with him; when we know that the hand warm in our clasp is already chilling with the creeping clutch of death; when we must see that, were our love as wide as the world, it could not hold him back for a moment against that invisible grasp that is drawing him down, as in a quicksand, before our eyes."

A New York lady who had been a perfect martyr to sleeplessness and nervousness, as well as a dyspeptic, last autumn was entirely cured by the use of Paine's Celery Compound. In her fullness of heart and great joy she sent the proprietors a most flattering testimonial, together with the following lines:

There is a Blessing.

When times of care and sadness,
O'erwhelm like darksome nights;
When pain doth banish gladness,
And darken earth's delights;
'Tis then the heart feels weary,
The step is slow and weak;
'Tis then we find earth dreary,
And 'bout our health we speak.

The nervous system suffers,
The throbbing brain is tired;
The hand is weak and trembling,
The brow with fever fired;
The restless head on pillow,
Repose can never find;
Our bed is like a billow
Toss'd by the sweeping wind.

'Tis then we need a healing—
The remedy is near;
This great and mighty blessing
Removes all doubt and fear.
Oh! for Paine's Cel'ry Compound,
It brings a sweet release;
By it new joys and years are found,
New health and perfect peace.

A medicine that can rescue him who is perishing with kidney disease, which is what Paine's Celery Compound did for T. J. Lyon, of Rutland, is worthy of the grand reputation it has won. There is nothing equal to it in making people well.

Dear Sirs:—My husband complained a great deal of headache, and had a very bad digestion. He perspired easily, his food did not seem to nourish him any, and the urine that he passed was as colorless as the water that he drank. His trouble was kidney disease. He wishes me to tell you that he thinks Paine's Celery Compound is a splendid medicine. As a result of using it his appetite is better, there is less gas in his stomach and he is about cured.

The following letter from a man who suffered should be read by all. It tells of a way to gain strength and health.

LINCOLN, Vt., April 12, 1892.

Gentlemen.—I have been troubled with rheumatism in my limbs every spring for twenty years. Have taken several different kinds of medicine, but never derived much benefit from them. Last spring I had the grippe and it left me with a very poor appetite, pain in my back, and in the back of my neck. I got a bottle of Paine's Celery Compound, and before I had taken half of it MY APPETITE WAS AS GOOD AS EVER. I am now using the second bottle and I have derived great benefit from it. My limbs are all right and so is my back. It has done me more good than all the medicine that I have ever taken. Yours truly,

Dear Sirs:—I had a cancer in my lip and had to have it cut out. This left me weak from loss of blood, and I could not sleep and had no appetite. I tried —’s Sarsaparilla, but it did not help me. Some one recommended Paine’s Celery Compound to me and I took two bottles, and I can now sleep well nights and have a good appetite and AM ABLE TO WORK AGAIN. WELLS, RICHARDSON & Co.,

Gentlemen:—Nearly all my life I have been afflicted with headache and pains in my limbs. At times the pain would strike to my stomach and make me so sick that it seemed as though I would die. All of one winter I suffered with neuralgia of the heart and general debility, and I tried everything in the shape of medicine, but got NO RELIEF. Neither I nor any one who saw me thought that I would ever get well.

My son persuaded me to try Paine’s Celery Compound and I used it. As a result my health has been good for three years. Whenever I have any return of the old trouble it is only necessary for me to take a little of the Compound and it relieves me at once.

Gentlemen:—My great trouble has always been constipation. I have taken every remedy that I have ever seen advertised for this trouble, but all without getting any relief until I began to use Paine's Celery Compound. I consider it a wonderful medicine, and can not praise it enough, and will always speak a good word for it.

MRS. MARY E. BROWN.

Helpless for Months!

That a lady eighty years old should be helpless from rheumatism is terrible; that after trying the best physicians, and all the sarsaparillas without relief, a purely vegetable Compound should make her well, is marvelous! Yet these are the exact facts in the case of Mrs. Mary E. Brown, of Concord, N. H. And she is only one of thousands whose experience has been the same.

CONCORD, N. H., April 22, 1892.

WELLS, RICHARDSON & Co.,

Gentlemen:—My mother, Mrs. Mary E. Brown, who is eighty years old, was taken sick last September with rheumatism so that she could scarcely walk. She could not dress or undress without help; her limbs were swollen; and SHE SUFFERED A GREAT DEAL OF PAIN.

Have You, too, Tried Sarsaparillas and Nervines in Vain?

She took many different doctor's medicines and sarsaparillas with little or no benefit. Mr. Sabin of St. Albans, who was visiting my sister at the time, was using Paine's Celery Compound, and he recommended it so highly that mother began taking it.

She says that there is nothing equal to it, for she has had no pain since taking your Compound. She also thinks that as a remedy for constipation it has no equal.

Gentlemen:—As Paine's Celery Compound raised me from a bed of sickness, I thought it my duty to write you, so as to let others see what it has done for me.

I have been suffering ever since last November with kidney trouble, dyspepsia, nervous prostration, indigestion, torpid liver, and other complaints. Paine's Celery Compound has done just what is claimed for it, and I feel that I cannot praise it enough. I have only taken one bottle, but before I had taken half of that I felt a great change.

I am now using my third bottle, and my nerves are strong, and I have not had an attack of neuralgia since I began taking the Compound. I cannot speak too highly of it. Yours truly,

Framie Campbell

I send you a true statement from Miss Campbell. I am personally acquainted with her and know it to be true. I sold her the Paine's Celery Compound that she has used.

One of the Smartest Old Ladies in New Hampshire Tells of Her Restorer.

"It makes mother strong and gives father new life"; is the way in which many people speak of Paine's Celery Compound. In scores of families it has prolonged some dear and useful life, as told in the following letter from Elizabeth W. Jones.

PETERBORO, N. H., Oct. 24, 1892.

WELLS, RICHARDSON & Co.,

Dear Sirs:—Paine's Celery Compound has benefited me wonderfully, assisting nature in my case. I know that it is all that it claims to be to relieve suffering. It stays the progress of my disease, a cancerous humor in the blood and system, from which I have been a great sufferer for years; I also have an inactive stomach and bowels. The Compound allays that difficulty, tones up my system, restores natural action and prolongs life. I tell my friends it is Paine's Celery Compound that enables me to live to enjoy old age, making the decline of life pleasant and living enjoyable. I take it on going to bed and usually rest well which is a new condition in my life. As a whole, I am comfortable, free from pain, and have not had any severe attacks of sickness since I began to use the Compound nearly three years ago. I have taken no medicine of any kind other than the Compound and rely upon that as a restorer.

Yours truly,

Elizabeth W. Jones

It Made Mother Strong.

Paine's Celery Compound. That made her strong, strengthened her nerves, and did her a world of good.”—G. H. BEERS, Orbisonia, Pa.
