Three One-Act Plays Shown at Open House

Three one-act plays were presented in the Thompson-Gay Gymnasium on Saturday evening, May 6, as a part of the program for Open House Week-end.

The first of the trio, "Franches Lippees," by Tristan Bernard, was given in French by the Ursinus French Club under the direction of Alfred M. Wilcox. Although all the speaking was in French, the rapidly-moving plot could readily be followed by the action on the stage. The cast was composed of Robert Peck '41, Bernice Hedrick '39, Harry Byrne '40, Bernice Grubb '39, Douglas Davis '41, and Ruth Jones '40.

"The Happy Journey to Camden and Trenton," by Thornton Wilder was ably enacted by the Puppet and Footlight Clubs of the University of Delaware.

"No! Not the Russians!", the third dramatic feature of the evening, was produced by the Ursinus Curtain Club with Dr. and Mrs. Reginald S. Sibbald directing.

The comedy by Osmond Molarsky had previously been presented at the Cultural Olympics of the University of Pennsylvania on April 21. Members of the Curtain Club who had roles in the play were Nadine Sturges '41, Marthella Anderson '40, Frances Thierolf '40, Kenneth Seagrave '39, John Rauhauser '41, and William Wimer '39.

Awards Given and Officers Installed at WAA Banquet

The Women's Athletic Association held its annual banquet on Wednesday evening, May 10, in the upstairs dining room at 6:00 o'clock. Newly elected officers were installed and athletic awards were presented.

Madge Harshaw '40, received an honorary jacket presented by the Athletic Council each year to the most deserving junior girl who has at least one thousand athletic points to her credit. Jane Roberts '40, Betty Snyder '40, and Ruth Von Kleeck '40, were given athletic medals for having also earned one thousand points.

Ruth Shoemaker '39, was presented with a gold basketball for having played Varsity basketball for three years, and Margaret Clafin '39, a silver one for having played for two years.

Hiking awards were received by the following: Naomi Richter '41, "U" for 100 miles; Edna Hesketh '40, and Eva June Smith '42, bars for 200 miles.

Four-Point Program Planned By Snyder and Reifsnnyder for 1939-40 Christian Organizations

Presidents of the "Y" organizations for 1939-40, Dorothy Reifsnnyder '40, and Kenneth Snyder '40, have announced a four-point program to be followed in their administrations.

First, the Wednesday evening "Fireside Chats" and discussions will be coordinated with questions discussed in preceding forums. Second, the social functions similar to the Kiddie Party, Bowery Party, and Doggie Roasts, held this year will be continued to round out the social program on campus.

The third feature of their plan is to encourage a larger portion of the student body to take active part in "Y" work. The last point is a series of exchange programs with nearby colleges who are members of the Student Christian Movement.

Roller Skating Party

The Freshmen class is sponsoring a roller-skating party tonight at the Gateway Skateway. The bus will leave Shreiner Hall at 7:30 p. m.; and admission to the party is fifty cents.

Current Events Quiz Held at International Relations Club

Robert Peck '41, was elected vice-president of I.R.C. on Tuesday, May 9, the last meeting of the year, in Shreiner Hall. Peck won the election after a tie vote with Dorothy Reifsnnyder '40, in a previous election.

Members of the club held a quiz of current events and discussed plans for next year. Joseph Dubuque '41, program chairman, conducted the quiz. Refreshments were served later in the evening.

SIX OPEN SCHOLARSHIPS AWARDED BY COMMITTEE

The six Open Scholarships which are given annually by Ursinus College have been awarded this year to the following persons: Mary Virginia Ernest, Bath, Pennsylvania; Wilma MacCreedy, Colmar, Pennsylvania; E. Elwood Heller, Bloomsburg, Pennsylvania; Leon North, Jr., Glenside, Pennsylvania; Charles A. Werner, Malverne, New York; Llewellyn W. Hunsicker, Haddon Heights, New Jersey.

More than one hundred students from five states participated in the scholarship competition. The scholarships are for $1200 each and extend over the four years of the college course. Awards are based upon qualities of personality and character, literary and scholastic attainments, and leadership ability.

Class Officers Elected During the Past Week

Mark Alspach, John Rauhauser, and Albert Hutchinson were elected during the past week to head next year's Senior, Junior, and Sophomore Class, respectively.

The Senior Class will finish its career with the same officers whom it elected in 1938: Vice-President Betty Shearer, Secretary Ruth Von Kleeck, and Treasurer Paul Wilson.

John Rauhauser, Junior Class President, will have as his colleagues Emily Zoll, vice-president; Kathryn Atkinson, secretary; and Nat Johnson, treasurer.

Albert Hutchinson, reelected President of the Class of 1942, will be assisted by Vice-President Gladys Hoagland, Secretary Gracemary Greene, and Treasurer Garnet Adams.

YM-YW Officers and Cabinets Installed at Chapel Service Held on Open House Sunday

Officers and cabinets of the Y. M.C.A. and the Y.W.C.A. were installed at a chapel service held in Bomberger Hall, Sunday, May 7.

After short addresses by Jane Poling '39, and William Wimer '39, outgoing presidents of the Y.W.C.A. and the Y. M.C.A. respectively, Dorothy Reifsnnyder '40, was installed as president, Emily Zoll '41, as vice-president, Dorothy Krusen '42, as secretary, and Anabel Ganser '40, as treasurer of the Y.W.C.A.; and Kenneth Snyder '40, was installed as president, Roy Snyder '41, as vice-president, Garnet Adams '42, as secretary, and David Hartman '40, as treasurer of the Y. M.C.A. Miss Reifsnnyder and Snyder spoke briefly to their cabinets.

The Rev. John Lentz, College pastor, delivered the sermon and pronounced the benediction.

"Far Off Hills" Swan Song for Seven Seniors

By Robert C. Yoh '40

In a world in which Hitler writes "Mein Kampf" and James Joyce writes "Finnegan's Wake," it is a blessed relief to find Lennox Robinson, who writes such sensible things as "The Far-Off Hills." And after all, what matters but the sensible things?

One can always count on the Irish to furnish a lot of fun, and along with it some real worthwhile philosophy—and once more the Irish have not proved to be a disappointment. "The Far-Off Hills", a three act comedy by Lennox Robinson, was presented Friday and Saturday nights by the Ursinus Curtain Club in the Thompson-Gay Gymnasium to large and enthusiastic audiences.

Unlike the plot of many plays, the plot was relatively unimportant, and the success of the play depended mainly upon the dialogue, which was consistently free-flowing and often brilliant.

The entire cast was an inspired one—and perhaps for several reasons; first, it was a last performance for seven seniors, whose excellent stage personalities will be missed; second, it was an experienced and well-seasoned cast; third, the play was one which seemed to be alive with those qualities which provoke enthusiasm; and last, it was carefully and ably directed by Mr. and Mrs. Reginald S. Sibbald, who have completed their seventh year of coaching Ursinus plays.

As Patrick Clancy, the blind father, Kenneth Seagrave '39, ended his Ursinus stage career in triumph. His lines showed a depth of interpretation that was most convincing, and his actions were entirely suitable for the portrayal of an old blinded man.

Mary Helen Stoudt '39, also making a last appearance, completed her difficult role with perfection. She seemed to be perfectly suited for the rather strict, somewhat cold role of Marian Clancy which she so ably and dramatically represented.

Roberta Byron '39, another senior who will leave an empty and unfillable place behind her, played her part of Dorothea Clancy, one of the younger daughters, with an eager, naive, and charming manner.

Two more seniors who filled their small roles in a very excellent manner were Allen Dunn as Oliver O'Shaughnessy, and William Wimer as Dick Delany. They both added much humor to the play.

Still another last performance was the one by Dorothy Peoples '39, who took the part of the lovable Susie Tynan, who was willing to marry and care for a blind man. She endeared herself to the audiences, and she furnished perhaps the finest acting of both nights. Her role was a difficult mixture of tragedy and comedy, and she handled it with all the delicacy, grace, and dignity, as well as light-heartedness, which it required.

Mothers Feted with Banquet and Pageant on Rainy May Day Program

From the Office

The members of the administration who were responsible for the Open House program wish to thank most sincerely all those faculty members, administrative officers, and students who so generously gave their services to this project.

Scholarship and self-help applications of all students now in college should be filed in the Registrar's Office before June 1. Please consult bulletin boards for details.

Booster Committee Changes Hands; Lyons New Chairman

James Lyons '40, will chairman the Booster Committee for the 1939-40 school year, it was announced today by William Wimer '39, retiring Committee head.

Harry Byrne '40, will serve with Lyons on the committee. Other members have not as yet been appointed.

Special Mothers' Day Vespers Features Talk by Mrs. Rauch

"Honor thy father and thy mother," was the theme of the special Mothers' Day Vesper Service last evening, at which Mrs. O. H. Rauch, preceptress at Maples Hall, spoke. Mrs. Rauch made an appeal to all Ursinus students to make Mothers' Day here one of real honor to our mothers.

Robert Yoh '40, led the services. Sarah Sadler '40, read the Mothers' Day scripture, and Dorothea McCorkle '39, rendered a solo for the occasion. William Heefner '42, presided at the organ.

A Visitor at Derr Hall

Up three flights on the fire-escape of Derr Hall a robin has built her nest—and calmly settled down to the prosaic task of raising a family. It is just one lone robin, a small robin, and an ordinary one. And yet perhaps it's not just an ordinary one. If a person would stop to think of it, he might be inclined to call the robin foolish, and might even feel that she was playing with fate.

In the first place, like any college dorm, Derr Hall is noisy; it is filled with young, full-blooded men who enjoy being noisy. It is filled with young men who never claim to notice the fresh green of trees, or blue skies, or robins; with students who rush about without much consideration of their fellows. And so this robin might perhaps be imposing upon the good nature of Derr Hall.

Yet it is strange that no one thought the robin was imposing upon his good nature. Instead it has brought good nature to the foreground; it has caused groups of college men to go to the window where they cautiously and quietly peek out to see if their guest is still content; it has caused signs to appear at all the fire-escape entrances saying: "Please do not use fire escape. Thank you. Signed, Robin Redbreast;" it has caused crumbs of bread to be mysteriously placed near the nest. And all this in a dorm filled with persons who take pride in being modern and tough.

And to this there seems to be a moral. Would not a little trust (like the robin's trust) help in this old world troubled by hate, and fear, and suspicion; this old world busy rushing about, and shouting, and boasting; this old world peopled by nations which threaten to war with each other? Trust is a new kind of challenge that even a bitter enemy can not help but accept, and it is a challenge that will not offend, that will not anger, or alarm, or hurt. It is a challenge that brings so-called hardened men to their real selves—selves capable of love and helpful service—and more than just capable of, but willing to show these traits as well.

Unsung Heroes

This editorial is not a protest against the over-emphasis placed on football, basketball, or any other athletic function known to modern college life, for these sports, however much over-emphasized they may be, are symbolic of "flinging youth" in the common conception of college.

It is rather the purpose of this editorial to point out that in comparison with athletics, other campus activities are often shoved mercilessly into the background. This should not be so!

Even though athletics are symbolic of college life, and have the spotlight in the public eye, the number of non-athletic members on campus far over-shadow the number of those athletically inclined.

We choose as an example for comparison with our athletic program an activity which has been made conspicuous by the lack of recognition given to it by the college in general. It is the college orchestra.

From a purely materialistic point of view, we believe it would be well for the college to foster this activity for its advertising value alone. Within the past two weeks The Collegians have furnished dance music for no less than four high schools.

However, aside from this we can see that having a dance orchestra to call our own may mean a great deal in the line of activities sponsored by our Y organizations and other groups which sponsor social functions.

This is only one activity that has not received its share of pats on the back. There are many others. It would be well for all to give such organizations their due credit for functioning without the glamor and color of the "big game", for it is this type of activity that gives college life to all college students and not a selected few.

THE PADDED CELL
Superfluity

Today's column deals with events that probably will not influence the course of history, but which are worthy of momentary notice.

DID YOU KNOW:

That Athlete's Foot need no longer be feared by those people who are not athletically inclined? The older theory about its infectiousness has been disproved by a local research worker who points out that the disease is caused simply by an undue amount of exercise, and that it has no connection with the fungus growth which is coincidentally present in many cases. She advises those who would avoid contracting the disease merely to avoid all strenuous exercise, prolonged recreation, or any other activity which smacks of athletics.

That time will pass increasingly fast from now until the first week in June? The cause of this speeding up of the flight of time is debatable: nobody really knows if it be due to sun spots, cosmic disturbances, the earth's wobble, or just what. But all those people who wish to accomplish anything between now and June are advised to begin without delay and to labor diligently, for reputable observers fear that the Spring weather which we are enjoying may further complicate the situation.

That the keeper of the gate in one of our selected residences for women has become delightfully intimate with some of her charges? With the advent of spring she has evidently felt it one of her sacred duties to supply reliable information concerning the headaches, heartaches, ecstatic sighs, and muttered curses which the marvelous season seems able to produce. Although we have been unable to obtain information from really reliable sources, it is rumored that her method of approach has been surprisingly direct, and that she has even subjected the gentle art of osculation to a cold and impassive scheme of classification. The advantages of a liberal arts college are truly manifold!

Seeing is Believing!

HERE'S AN INTERESTING CIGARETTE
COMPARISON...See how it's made by college student Bob Hendrickson

SMOKERS all over the country are learning what Robert S. Hendrickson, Jr. (right) is showing a group of classmates. It's a striking way to compare cigarettes by simply watching them burn! Bob is testing the leading brands to find the one that burns slowest! Which brand won? C-A-M-E-L...by a wide margin! The reason? Costlier tobaccos, expertly blended in a cigarette that burns slowly, completely — smokes cooler, of course!

Recently, a group of scientists ran this interesting laboratory test on a bigger scale. 16 of the largest-selling cigarette brands were rated impartially. CAMELS BURNED SLOWER THAN ANY OTHER BRAND TESTED — 25% SLOWER THAN THE AVERAGE TIME FOR THE OTHER BRANDS. (Camels were remarkably consistent.) IN THE SAME TEST, CAMELS HELD THEIR ASH FAR LONGER THAN THE AVERAGE TIME FOR ALL THE OTHER BRANDS.

Camel is the cigarette of costlier tobaccos... cool, mellow, appealing in taste, so uniformly delightful!

"Look how slowly the Camel burns compared to the other brands," Hendrickson points out. Everyone agrees that Camels win hands down. "No wonder Camels smoke so cool and mild," Bob adds. "And that must have a lot to do with why Camels have such an appealing taste!"

Smoking is Believing!

WHEN you've enjoyed the thrill of a mellow, ripe-tasting Camel, you'll know that NOTHING can take the place of costlier tobaccos! What a pleasure it is to get set with a cigarette that is really mild — a matchless blend, made to give you all the enjoyment in smoking.

Camels have more tobacco by weight than the average of the 15 other brands tested. Besides, Camels burn slower than any of those other brands. And by burning 25% slower than the average of the 15 other of the largest-selling brands, Camels give you the equivalent of 5 extra smokes per pack!

Camels give you even more for your money when you count in Camel's finer, more expensive tobaccos. Buy shrewdly! Buy Camels...America's first choice for a luxury smoke every smoker can afford!

Camel's slower burning (compared to the average time of the 15 other brands tested) gives you the equivalent of 5 extra smokes per pack! You economize while enjoying smoking pleasure at its best!

Trackmen Bow to St. Joe's; Eshbach Wins at E.C.A.C. Meet

Ken Hashagen's tracksters competed at Swarthmore on Saturday, May 6, at the Eastern Collegiate Athletic Conference in which F. and M. took first place. Last Wednesday the team was defeated by St. Joseph's at home, 76-50.

At the Conference meet Captain Glenn Eshbach took the only first, in the broad jump. Six records were broken at the meet, F. and M. taking four of them.

Eshbach and Ed Conine were keymen for the Bears against St. Joe's, taking eight points each. Conine took the 120 high hurdles and a second in the broad jump which Eshbach won.

Jean Ehlers' 112 feet, 9 1/2 inches were enough to take the discus; Toulon took the javelin throw; and Johnson led the pole vault. Seconds were taken by Eshbach in the javelin, Bardsley in the discus, Leuallen in the high jump, and Glatfelter in the 220 yard dash.

Curtis Led by Deardorff Takes Softball First Half

Curtis, paced by the brilliant hurling of Deardorff, won the first half competition in the Interdorm Softball League by emerging victors in all five of its contests.

Brodbeck finished right on the heels of the Duck Raisers, with three wins and two losses. Day and Derr forfeited two games apiece, and therefore face suspension from the league.

The rainy spring would have been incomplete without a little dampness for mother and the pageanters.

The elements have shrunk the baseball schedule like an $8.80 South St. "bargain".

Dr. Tyson's forgotten tennis team is reported to have conceded victory to the weather bureau for this season.

The wind at Muhlenberg threatened to blow "Smiling Jack's" change of pace back into his face.

Toy Dawson had his own private May Day at Allentown and wound four base hits around the pole.

Stamus' scorching liner tried to disengage Babe Harris' hand from his wrist, which prompted the third sacker to swap jobs with Bob Keehn.

Incidentally, the change was a smart one, for newly-elected right fielder Harris brought in accurate count of cars on a passing freight during Friday's game, while Keehn enjoyed to short brush walk to and from the hot corner.

Fred Swift's high hard one took wings against Lebanon Valley and his curve bent like a Reading pretzel.

The big hurler allowed only one Dutchman to reach third base, and he felt so strange he walked off before the inning was over.

Walt Chalk deserved a better fate against Muhlenberg, but the wind must have blown a completed double play out of the ump's eyes.

In order to keep the Bear itinerants from getting homesick, the L. V. kitchen had the sweet aroma of sizzling shark wafting o'er the campus.

Bob Keehn banged out four hits this week as a sign that his admirers' applause need not be so thunderous after future bingles.

A few more days and college life will again suffer a rude interruption in the form of final exams.

Women's Tennis Team Beats Beaver, Loses to Swarthmore

Continuing to exhibit its customary prowess on the court, the women's tennis team defeated Beaver College last Monday, 4-1. On Tuesday the Ursinus team bowed to Swarthmore, 3-2, after five thrilling matches.

In the Monday singles, Bunny Harshaw, Squeaky Von Kleeck, and Mary Robbins subdued their Beaver rivals, while Nat Hogeland and Alice Dougherty shared honors in winning the first doubles. The other doubles, played by the usually successful "Slim" Shoemaker and Jane Roberts, was dropped to Beaver after a long and interesting give-and-take battle.

The Swarthmore match of Tuesday was especially good, although it resulted in a 3-2 defeat for Ursinus. Rain forced the netsters to play the last doubles in Swarthmore's field cage, whose wooden floor and restricting quarters certainly gave no impetus to the Ursinites' play.

Mary Robbins and Bunny Harshaw both won their singles matches, while Helen Tomlinson of Swarthmore defeated Squeaky Von Kleeck.

Ursinus Baseball Team Smothers Muhlenberg, 17 - 7; Swift Blanks Lebanon Valley Batsmen with Five Hits

Jing Johnson's Ursinus baseball tossers outslugged Muhlenberg College at Allentown last Tuesday to win, 17-7, in a contest cut short in the eighth inning by a cloudburst. It marked the third victory in six starts for the Bear nine and saw Freshman Howard MacMahon win his first collegiate pitching decision.

The lanky MacMahon relieved Walt Chalk in the second frame when the Mules bunched together four hits to tally three runs. From then on the frozen-faced yearling had the game well in hand save for a slip-up in the seventh, when the losers scored 3 more times.

While MacMahon was pitching brilliant relief ball his mates were pounding a trio of Muhlenberg hurlers for 19 basehits to account for 17 runs. The Bears hopped on Schneider in the first to push across four counters. Thompson singled and after Power moved him along with a bunt Moyer ramed a double to right to score Thompson. Atkinson's single to center sent home Moyer. Harris singled and then Dawson's single to right sent both runners scamperring home.

A third inning seven-run uprising sewed up the victory for Ursinus. Harris singled and Dawson doubled before Keehn singled them both home. MacMahon's single scored Keehn and Moyer pushed the pitcher and Thompson, who had walked, across with another bingle to right. Here Atkinson drove the ball to deep left-center for a home run scoring Moyer ahead of him.

MacMahon's second hit accounted for two more runs in the fourth, and Power's double for a brace in the 6th. The Bears also scored single counters in the fifth and seventh.

Lebanon Valley Game

The traveling Ursinus College baseball team got in only one of its two scheduled games on the annual two-day trip, but won that from Lebanon Valley, 5-0, on Friday behind superb pitching on the part of Fred Swift. A steady rain on Saturday caused the postponement of the game at Gettysburg.

Swift pitched the best game of his college career Friday at Annville in blanking the formidable "Flying Dutchmen." He allowed only five hits scattered over as many innings while fanning an even 10. Only in the sixth inning was he in any trouble, when the losers had men on second and third with one out, but here the runner on third was picked off and Swift proceeded to whiff the hitter for the final out.

The Bears had trouble with Kuhn, ace Lebanon Valley fireball pitcher, but managed to bunch hits in the third and eighth to win. In the third Moyer singled to right and Atkinson's double dropped in the same place to score Moyer. Wise walked and Dawson's infield hit filled the bases. Here Keehn doubled to score Atkinson and Wise and sewed up the game.

Successive walks to Harris and Dawson in the eighth, followed by Ed Thompson's one bagger to center, accounted for the winners' other two tallies.

Bill Power and Ed Thompson turned in great fielding plays to help Swift along in the third and fourth innings, but the big fireballer needed little assistance thereafter.

Co-Ed Golfers Drop First Match to Penn Lassies, 4-1

The newly-formed women's golf team, coached by Charles Halm, lost its initial match to the Penn co-eds last Monday by a score of 4-1.

Dorothy Schleincofer was the lone Ursinus winner, beating Nancy Thompson, one up. Captain Kay Atkinson, playing in the number one position, lost, one down, to Jane Leary, of Penn.

Peg Stettenbenz, Ann Robinson, and Alma Stiteler, the other members of the team, all gave good accounts of themselves, losing by close margins. The team meets Swarthmore today in its second dual match.
