David Jacobs of Overbrook High School, Philadelphia, Pa., was elected as the freshmen representative to the Men's Student Council by a small plurality over Frank Wood at noon today. Other candidates were Charles Bowen, Frank Wood, Matthew Zeski, and Andrew Cochrane.

Fifty-one of the seventy-eight first year men students voted, or approximately a two-thirds vote of those eligible.

The freshman representative does not have a vote in the council until the second semester, but may introduce legislation.

College To Add Drama Course To Roster In September

A new course, in addition to the three already added to next year's curriculum, will be taught at Ursinus beginning in September, 1938.

The course, to be taught by Dr. Reginald S. Sibbald, will be known as Public Speaking 5-6, and will instruct "The technique of play writing and play production." Using two class hours per week, Public Speaking 5-6 will be elective to all students and will give four semester hours credit. Each student in the course will be required to work in at least one production.

Other new courses, recently announced in the Weekly, are: news writing and journalistic practice, the study and teaching of mathematics, and the literature of chemistry.

In addition, the French department announced changes in two French courses. Starting next fall, French 7-8 will be dropped as a grammar course and will be devoted to the drama of the 19th century. French 5-6, this year a study of 19th century literature, will include only prose of that century, and will alternate with French 7-8.

French 13-14 will be the only advanced grammar course and will be offered every year.

Seven From Ursinus Attend Conference In Ohio

From December 27 to January 1, a group of 1500 students from every state in the union, Hawaii, South America, and Europe, met at Miami University, Oxford, Ohio, in the first national assembly of Student Christian Associations.

Among those hundreds was the delegation from Ursinus: William Irwin '38, Jane Poling '39, William Wimer '39, Rollin Lawrence '40, Jane Pakenham '41, and Professor and Mrs. F. I. Sheeder.

For six days the assembly met in workshops in various commissions centering around such subjects as: The Student and Campus Living, Economics and Labor, and New Relationships among Men, Women, and the Family, and in recreational activities.

The Ursinus delegation, which was financed by a fund established by campus organizations, students, alumni and friends, covered many fields of activities in the conference sessions. The result of their participation in these sessions will be seen on the Ursinus campus through activities of the Y. organizations, as most of the delegates are members of the Y. cabinets.

VESPERS PROGRAM PRESENTS FILMS ON SOVIET RUSSIA, RUSSIAN MUSIC BY BACH ACCOMPANIST

Russia and the Russians were featured last night in a Vespers service that had as its title "An All-Russian Program." It was sponsored by the campus Y. organizations.

Kellett To Speak At Smoker of Philadelphia Alumni

A newly-formed Activities committee of which Robert D. Evans '18, Dr. J. Harold Brownback '21, Ronald C. Kichline '16, and Robert R. Strine '30, are members, has been appointed by the Alumni Association of Ursinus College.

For fellowship, spirit-creating, and social purposes only, a "get-together" smoker and dinner has been planned to be held in Philadelphia at the University Club on January 21 for Philadelphia vicinity's male alumni.

Don Kellett, who recently assumed the tutelage of the Bear gridders, will be one of the speakers.

Alumna Gets Post On Faculty As Voice Teacher

Miss Marion G. Spangler '03, was added to the faculty of Ursinus by the Executive Committee and Board of Directors at their meeting before the Christmas recess. She will be listed in the new catalogue as instructor in the music department.

Her activities and duties will be private instructor in voice in her own studio cottage on the East campus. She will not have charge of any classes.

Miss Spangler has taken complete music courses in Philadelphia and New York and she studied voice in Berlin.

She has had considerable experience in teaching singing. She was a member of the Ursinus faculty, 1904-'08. She also taught singing at Agnes Scott College for women in Atlanta, Georgia, and at Harcourt Place School for Girls in Ohio.

At the present time, besides doing private teaching in Norristown and in the Presser Building, Philadelphia, Miss Spangler is directing the Octave Club, of Norristown, a position which she has held ever since its organization in 1916. She also directs the boys' choir of the Washington Memorial Chapel at Valley Forge.

Many of Miss Spangler's pupils have been successful in concert and choir work. Her musicales in the Studio Cottage are very well known in music circles, and in the future she intends to arrange a number of them to give opportunities to aspiring students of the College.

Leading Roles Chosen For "Mikado"

Gilbert and Sullivan's operetta "Mikado" will be presented by the Glee Clubs of Ursinus College on Saturday night, February 12. The musical organizations have been holding combined rehearsals with the symphony orchestra of the College.

At the rehearsal in Bomberger on Thursday night, the members of the cast were measured for costumes which promise to add a great deal to the Japanese atmosphere of the operetta.

Dr. Philip announced the people chosen for leads. The three Japanese maids, Yum-Yum, Peep-Bo and Pitti-Sing will be taken by Dorothea McCorkle, Elizabeth Trout and Elizabeth Usinger. Bernice Grubb will be Katisha; Mark Alspach, Mikado; Kenneth Snyder, Pish-Tush; Roy Snyder, Ko Ko; Paul Snead, Nanki Poo; Robert Gross, Pooh Bah; and Rollin Lawrence, the Noble.

What was probably the largest crowd to witness a Vespers program this year, approximately 225 students and outsiders, saw and heard the presentation of Richmond E. Myers and his wife, Ruth Becker Myers.

Mrs. Myers played on the piano eight numbers by Russian composers. A Reading Bach festival accompanist, she gave a Bach recital in the Spangler Cottage on the previous night, Saturday.

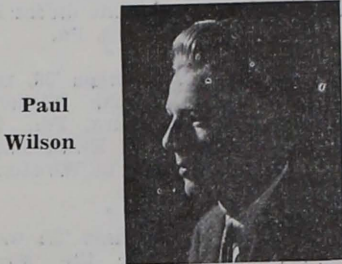

Mr. Myers showed three films of moving pictures on Russian life taken by him while he attended an international congress of geologists in Russia during the past summer. His work is as a social studies teacher in Haddon Heights High School, N. J.

The films had to be smuggled out of Russia, Mr. Myers told several listeners after the meeting. They depicted the crude and poor living conditions which are prevalent in collectivized Soviet Russia today.

W. S. G. A. APPOINTS RUTH ROTH LORELEI CHAIRMAN; ALSPACH NAMES WILSON TO HEAD SOPH HOP

Ruth Roth

Paul Wilson

The season's approaching, when co-eds go poaching; so fellows beware—or you'll get caught in a snare.

This is a warning to all susceptible males. The Lorelei, traditional Ursinus dance based on the legend of old, has been scheduled for Friday night, February 19.

Ruth Roth '38, has been selected by the W. S. G. A. to head the Lorelei committee. Members of her committee are as follows: Alice Plunkett '38, Helen Skilling '39, Madge Harshaw '40, John DeWire '38, Eugene Hile '39, and David Hartman '40.

Muriel Brandt '38, Grace Lees '39, and John Tomlinson '38, officers of the councils, will aid as ex-officio members.

Mark Alspach, president of the sophomore class, recently set Saturday, March 12, as the date for the Soph Hop, and at the same time named Paul Wilson as head of the committee for the dance.

The other members of the committee are John Wiest, Charles Barnes, William Williams, Richard Frohner, Hugh McLaughlin, Betty Usinger, Margaret Kerstetter, Frances Thierolf, and Lois Taylor.

SEVENTY COUPLES TRUCK AT GREEK LETTER BALL

Approximately seventy couples danced to the music of Paul March and his "Midshipmen" at the annual Interfraternity-Sorority Ball last Friday evening. This band is not connected with the Castle Moro Orchestra, as was previously announced. This was the first time that this dance was formal in the last several years.

Decorations were more extensive than customary. The gym was decorated in blue and yellow, and the Greek letters of the fraternities and sororities occupied prominent positions.

Dr. Elizabeth White, Dr. and Mrs. George Hartzell, and Prof. and Mrs. Maurice Bone were the chaperones.

WEEKLY CORRESPONDENT BRINGS TO LIGHT CONDITIONS IN BELEAGUERED SOUTH HALL

(Ed. Note—The following article is a special story to the Weekly. As soon as it was learned that South Hall had been quarantined, the massive machinery of the Weekly staff was rolled into motion, and one of its ace news-hawks was sent out to get the inside dope. However, much to his disgust, he failed to get inside. He had to use the telephone.)

By Dick Yahraes

Collegeville, Fri., Jan 7—Equipped with boy-friends, dancing, and a floor show, quarantined South Hall carried on merrily tonight, as it began its second in a ten-day period of seclusion from the outside world.

Unable to keep their dates for the Inter-Frat Ball, the Sixth Avenue co-eds staged a party of their own, complete with receiving line, trousered "males", and refreshments.

Several admitted that later they "may go nuts", but now, as Libby said, "After all, it's just beginning."

The beginning was a hectic one. Parents had to be telephoned. All the nickels in South Hall soon were in the coin box. Mrs. Cordry got the phone company to extend credit. The calls continued. In four directions and to at least as many states sped the message: "Quarantined for ten days—can't send out any letters—but you may write."

"What was your first thought when you realized you were under quarantine?" the Weekly wanted to know.

"I thought right away that now I'd miss the dance," was the general response. Mary Helen had bought a new dress. Nancy, too, was contemplating a broken weekend. Freshman minds ran in similar channels: Nadine's first thought was of the dance, though her second took the turn, "I guess I'll get tired of seeing the same old faces for ten days."

"My lessons" ranked a poor second or third in the mind of the

Quarantine Follows Single Scarlet Fever Case

On South Hall last Thursday afternoon descended the full force of the health laws of Pennsylvania. A quarantine was made necessary when Estella Klein '38, after an illness of three days, was declared to have a mild case of scarlet fever. She was removed to the infirmary at once.

Last Saturday Estella Klein '38, scarlet fever victim, was removed to her home on the advice of her family physician after her condition was found to be satisfactory. This action was taken after communication with the state and local health authorities.

Dr. John B. Price, the College physician, explained that the laws of Pennsylvania require, in addition to quarantine of a patient suffering from scarlet fever, a quarantine of ten days for those who have been directly exposed to the disease. "The law compels me to take this action," declared the physician, and added that the quarantine will last until next Wednesday.

President Norman E. McClure also emphasized the fact that Ursinus had no choice in placing of the quarantine. He said, "The College cannot permit any students under quarantine to go home. Should any other cases of scarlet fever appear at South, the dormitory must be quarantined for thirty days."

South Hall girls can walk outside, but they must not come into contact with anyone, nor can they enter any building except their own dormitory. Food is taken to them twice a day from the College kitchen.

The ban on South lifts this Thursday morning at 7:00. Although the quarantine was not imposed until last Thursday, the ten-day period began last Monday when the girls were first exposed to infection.

girls; this despite the fact that they will take their mid-years on schedule.

"If you could have one thing from the outside world, what would it be?" the girls were asked. There were giggles and lengthy consideration. "Men" was the unanimous answer.

"Has the thought of sneaking out occurred to you?" brought this answer:

"You mean tying sheets together, or something like that? Yes—Yes, I believe several of the girls besides me thought of it. But now we all feel that taking French leave would defeat the purpose of our quarantine, and none of us will try to break it."

If the secluded ladies could inflict their quarantine on one other dorm, they vote for Shreiner among the girls and Curtis as the doomed males.

The outside world has been ringing the South telephone to express condolences — and other sentiments. By the early returns, Claire and Marjorie seemed to have received the most calls, while Mary Helen's thirty-minute conversation held the time record.

Food is plentiful. Brave Mr. Harvey Lesher and truck arrive three times daily.

The first days at quarantined Trinity Cottage, all agree, have been frantic, jolly, fast-moving. As for the last stretch of confinement, lasting through this week, more and more appropriate will be Libby's comment, spoken for all the isolated co-eds: "Patience is a virtue."

The Social Graces

By the time a man, or a woman, for that matter, gets out of college, he or she ought to be just about as perfect a well-rounded individual as exists in this world. College ought to teach a man just about everything that he needs to know to adjust himself calmly and equably to any and every situation. The ability of fitting into all the various and sundry niches of living, and being outstanding in relation to his fellow men, is one of the marks of a college man.

There is perhaps no more immediately revealing phase of this virtue than a man's actions in polite society. The ability always to do and to say the right thing at the right time is an asset almost immeasurable in value. "To be friendly, kind, and tactful," says Mary Perin Barker, is the fundamental tenet.

The pamphlet on the technique of good manners for men which the Men's Student Council is distributing is something you can't afford to miss. Some men on this campus need it badly; and all of us can profit by it.

The Panay Scoop

When Fox Movietone showed to the great American public the moving pictures of the Panay bombing, they very definitely trod upon dangerous ground. Even more, their film was very definitely un-American.

It was Universal Pictures' cameraman Norman Alley who took the pictures, but by a reciprocity contract among film firms, a scoop secured by one becomes the property of all. However, we are dealing here only with Fox Movietone's version of the Panay bombing, announced by Lowell Thomas, because that is the one we saw. The rest were probably not very much different.

Newsreel photographer Alley snared a big scoop when he turned the handle of his camera as the Japanese bombers swooped over the U. S. S. Panay. The American public was entitled to see this scoop as much as they are entitled to read the latest Associated Press report in their morning newspaper, because it was news. But by the time Fox Movietone got through with it, this scoop was no longer plain news. It was editorialized news. And it was definitely incendiary.

We saw this film over the Christmas holidays. One version of it was annotated in sound by Lowell Thomas and the other by an equally well established commentator. We saw the one in which Lowell Thomas was speaking, and we still cannot believe that Lowell Thomas, with all his experience in dealing with wars and the reverberations of wars, could have been following his own mind as he described in lurid word pictures the action as it was being thrown upon the screen. The bare continuity of the photographer's shots was originally straight news. But as it was flashed upon the public screen, it appeared that the film was shaped and molded by cutting some parts and emphasizing others, and reassembled to be most effective. The accompanying description was couched in such language, that the finished product which the masses saw was sensational in the extreme, as befitting a scoop of Fox Movietone. And by the same token, it was definitely jingoistic.

When we saw it flashed upon the screen, the audience hissed and booed, got up on its feet and stamped upon the floor. Those people were being exposed to a very powerful piece of propaganda, and they were hissing and booing at Japan. A little more of that, and they would have been willing to fight Japan. This reaction may not have been universal, but in the more metropolitan centers it was manifested. Simply that it existed is cause for alarm.

Right now there is a sane and safe attitude in the United States concerning the Far East and war. The American press has done much to inculcate and preserve this calm and rational attitude. Such an incident as the Panay bombing would have brought forth far more screaming headlines back in 1914. But Fox Movietone has violated this tacit spirit of holding back that is being exercised today by the purveyors and influencers of public opinion.

We can find no ulterior motive for this violation. It was probably done simply to bring the film the sensationalism that would give it box office appeal. But if this is the real and only reason, and in view of the effect that the film has had on the American public, we would say that Fox Movietone prostituted an organ of public influence to the great god Dollar at the expense of the commonweal of the United States. Many such acts would be bad for the health of the nation.

GAFF from the GRIZZLY

Flash! South Hall goes into its shell! Campus socialites withdraw from cares of world for a week of proper penitence.

The first year that Dean Kline missed his Xmas health speech, Klinky comes back with scarlet fever.

And the boys miss a great opportunity to be forcibly detained in South for ten days. All one had to do was walk in the front door.

Friday nite the conversation ran something like this:

"Oh, I didn't want to go with him anyway."

"I'll bet Tony went with somebody else."

"Oh, I know Earl wouldn't go if I couldn't."

"I wonder why the phone doesn't ring?"

"Let's talk about men."

"What've we been doing ever since this started?"

"Will you set my hair?"

"If he went with somebody else—!"

No use being secretive or vague any longer. We'll just come right out and say "Margie Shaffer's a Siren" when men pour in from off campus to see her. As if two or three on campus weren't enough.

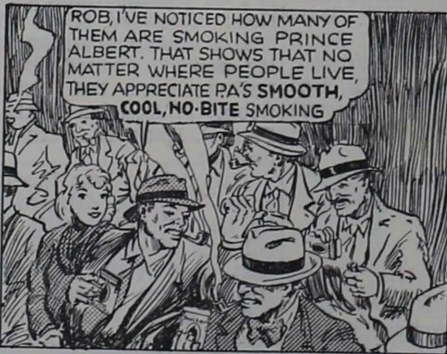

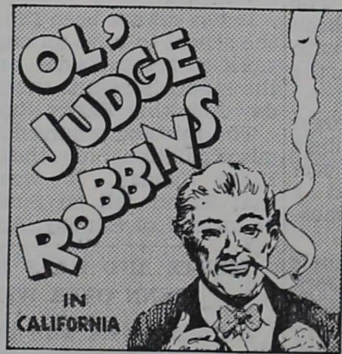

Overheard:
 Ape: Say, who're you taking to the dance." Another: "I'm taking tickets. Know her?"

With this epidemic, it looks as though Tony Williams must wait ten days for his Rhoads Scholarship.

Now that South can't go down to the Drug, Maples gets a chance to squeeze in.

"This fraternity competition is getting Kee (h)n"—Wimer.

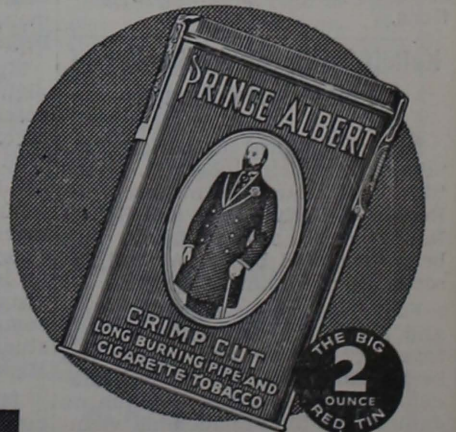

After much urging Charlie Wallick asked the orchestra to play "Happy Birthday" for his date at the dance, but "I Still Love to Kiss You Good-night" was his own idea.

Santo Domingan Student Speaks To University Women Group

Spanish-speaking Dr. Consuelo Bernardino was the guest of honor at a meeting last Wednesday night of the Perkiomen branch of the A. A. U. W. (American Association of University Women). The meeting was held at 944 Main.

Dean Elizabeth B. White, who is president of the Perkiomen branch of this college alumnae organization, entertained Dr. Bernardino at dinner in the President's dining room in Freeland Hall preceding the meeting. Also present were Mrs. William U. Helfferich, Clamer preceptress, and several women students.

Dr. Bernardino, a native of the West Indian island republic of Santo Domingo, is an A. A. U. W. Latin American fellow now doing a year's work at the Women's Medical College in Philadelphia. The A. A. U. W. annually awards a graduate fellowship to a woman from one of the Latin American countries.

Next year Dr. Bernardino will study abroad, and then return to Santo Domingo to become the head of a children's hospital there.

Although her native tongue is the Spanish language, Dr. Bernardino spoke English fluently enough to talk to the A. A. U. W. meeting on her work here in America.

WORLD CONFERENCES SUBJECT OF I. R. C. SPEECHES

Ruth Shoemaker '39, spoke on world peace conferences at the last International Relations Club meeting which took place on Tuesday, December 14, at Shreiner Hall. The Brussels Conference was the topic of the talk given by Justus Bodley '38. Group discussion completed the meeting.

A current events quiz, planned by Paul Guest '38, program chairman, will be featured at the next meeting of the I. R. C. on Tuesday, January 11.

DO GOLFERS APPRECIATE CAMEL'S COSTLIER TOBACCOS?

FAMOUS golfers like Gene Sarazen, Helen Hicks, Lawson Little, and Ralph Guldahl prefer Camels. They have found that costlier tobaccos do place Camels in a class apart. Listen to Ralph Guldahl, National Open Champion: "I've stuck to Camels for 10 years," he says. "I smoke lots of Camels and they never jangle my nerves."

And millions of Americans prefer Camels day after day — making them the LARGEST-SELLING cigarette in America.

Ouderkirk Takes Coach's Place As Phys. Ed. Club Sponsor

At the December business meeting of the Physical Education Club, held in the Science Building the Monday before Christmas recess, Mr. Kenneth Hashagen resigned as sponsor of the club and announced that Miss Sara Mary Ouderkirk would assume leadership of the club's activities. At the same time, it was announced that the dues would be reduced from $1.00 a year to 25 cents a semester. All dues must be paid before this month's meeting, to be held tonight at 7:30 in the Science Building.

In the future, one of the four classes will plan the program for that meeting to which they are assigned. A committee chosen from the sophomore class and consisting of Lois Taylor, Betty Snyder and James Johnstone is preparing entertainment for tonight's meeting.

Although plans are still indefinite, the Physical Education majors and minors will have a roller skating party sometime in the near future.

Dr. Sibbald Gives Tips On Play Judging to Manuscripters

Members of the English Club were guests of the Manuscript Group at a joint meeting held on Monday evening, December 13, in Clamer Hall.

Following the welcoming address by Elizabeth Seidle '39, president of the host club, Ralph Meisenholder '38, who was in charge of the entertainment, read an amusing article, titled: "Schools for Authors." The program consisted of original poems, essays, and stories read by Ruth Grauert '39, Mary Hyde '41, Adelaide Slade '41, Edward French '38, and Robert Yoh '40.

The feature of the evening was an address by Dr. Reginald S. Sibbald on the subject "Points to be Considered in Judging a One-Act Play."

Other guests were Mrs. W. U. Helfferich, Mrs. F. I. Sheeder, and Dr. C. D. Yost, Jr., Manuscript Club sponsor.

Bullets Ineffective As Hashagenmen Take Opener 36 - 28

Win Puts Bears In League Lead

By Stan Weikel

The new deal in basketball started on Saturday night when Ken Hashagen's boys trimmed the Gettysburg Bullets on the home court of the Bears, 36-28. The Grizzlies took the lead in the first minute of play on field goals by Hal Moyer and Bob Keehn and were never headed thereafter. This was the season's premiere.

A fast passing attack and one of the finest defenses that has even been seen on the local court were combined by the Grizzlies to completely dominate the play from beginning to end. The hard playing of the homesters on the defense resulted in numerous fouls. This enabled the Bullets to outscore the Bears in the last half, 16-13, but the commanding lead of 23-12 which the Bodley-led men had established in the first half enabled them to win handily.

Keehn led the Ursinus courtmen with nine points, all of them coming in the first half. Chern and Moyer each had eight, while Meade, Bodley, and Schirmer accounted for the rest.

Harry O'Neill, tall Battlefield veteran, led both teams with a total of 11 counters, five from the fifteen-foot line. Bommer had nine to his credit, while Weems, Yevak, and Hamilton dropped the rest.

The floor work of the Grizzlies brought the plaudits of a capacity crowd. By reason of their victory, the Bears rest in a first place tie with Muhlenberg and Lebanon Valley for the league lead.

Tomorrow night Hashagen will send his crew against Swarthmore at home and on Saturday will take them to Reading to battle Albright in the second league contest and the first away game.

In pre-season games, the warriors of the wooden way stacked up against the U. of P. squad and several independent teams and showed up in all of them to good advantage.

SOCCER CROWN ANNOUNCED AT SPORTS BANQUET

On Monday evening, Dec. 13, the annual banquet for members of the Ursinus soccer squad was held at the Bungalow Inn in Jeffersonville. Those present included members of the freshman and varsity squads, Professor Baker, soccer coach, members of the Athletic Council, Professors Bone and Clawson, "Jing" Johnson, and Vice-President Helfferich, and several alumni.

The feature of the evening was the presentation of a book by Captain-elect Robert LeCron '39, in behalf of the soccer team, to Coach Baker in appreciation of his efforts in completing a successful 1937 soccer season. LeCron made the presentation for Captain Paul Guest '38, who was unable to be present.

Of interest was the announcement by Professor Bone that Ursinus has been recognized by the Eastern Pennsylvania Intercollegiate Athletic Association, of which it is a member, as having the best soccer record of the year of any team in the conference, which can be interpreted the same as a championship.

TREASURERS PLEASE NOTE

All treasurers of campus organizations must present their accounts for auditing to the Committee on Student Expenditures, in care of Professor M. O. Bone, by January 15.

GIRLS' BASKETBALL SCHED.

Jan. 14—Swarthmore away
Feb. 4—Rosemont away
Feb. 11—New College home
Feb. 12—Bryn Mawr away
Feb. 17—Moravian away
Feb. 23—Beaver away
March 1—Drexel home
March 8—Univ. of Penn away
March 12—Mt. St. Joseph away
March 16—Temple home

This year's co-ed court schedule has two new competitors for Miss Snell's cohorts to work against. They are New College, which is part of Columbia University, and the Temple sextet.

Both were added to give the Ursinus team larger and better-known adversaries. This is Temple's first year of girl's intercollegiate basketball competition.

DORMITORY BRIGHTLIGHTS BEGIN TO SHINE

The intramural bucket-chasers blew the lid off with three games on Saturday.

The first round of the Inter-dorm Basketball Tournament was played in the gym, with the favorites coming through as expected.

However, Derr gave Brodbeck quite a tussle, before the latter was able to win 28-25. Harbaugh played a brilliant game, scoring 11 points for the victors, while Halm scored 7 for the losers.

In the second game, Curtis easily defeated Highland, 34-11, with Porambo turning in the high score of the day, 12 points for the Marines. Hayashi was high man for the losers, scoring 5 points.

In the final game, Stine's basketeketeers came from behind in the second half to overwhelm Freeland 28-20. Astheimer scored 8 points for the winners, and Harris led the Parsons, hitting the basket for 7 points. Weightman also turned in a good performance for the losers.

KELLETT STARTS BOYS TOMORROW NIGHT

An untried squad of Bear Cubs will open its season tomorrow night when Don Kellett's freshmen basketball five plays the Norristown Y. M. C. A. as the preliminary to the Ursinus-Swarthmore game. This game will enable local fans to ascertain the potential strength of the yearlings. To date they have engaged in no practice scraps, nor have they had any intensive pre-season training period.

From a band of 26 aspiring candidates Coach Kellett made his final cut Friday in preparation for the coming season. An active squad of 12 will carry the freshmen through a 13 game schedule.

In scrimmages last week with the varsity and with the Brodbeck dormitory five the Kellettmen showed promising signs of adding another factor to the already improved Ursinus basketball system. Kellett's record with freshmen athletics is most impressive, a record which elevated him to the varsity football role he now holds. This year's squad of courtmen is expected to be no let-down in his fine coaching career.

Dave Jacobs, an exponent of the Brown Prep outfit which gave us Keehn, Chern and the two Wises, will probably start at center. A rugged worker under the basket,

Wrestlers Open Sat. With Penn

Although the ineligible list and numerous injuries have claimed several candidates, the Ursinus College wrestling team is anticipating a good season. Coach Pete Stevens does not predict a team that will win every match, but he does say that the men will be giving their best, and should win their share of matches.

Captain Teru Hayashi says that the team has a fine spirit, is aggressive, and ready for the University of Pennsylvania meet that is scheduled for January 15, in Philadelphia.

The squad misses greatly the services of George Meklos, stellar 155 pound grappler. Meklos will not be available until the second semester because of an injured hand, but after that time George expects to continue the winning streak that he started last year.

In the 135 pound division, Ted Peter has shown great promise, and will perhaps be the outstanding wrestler on this year's team. Peter is fast and shifty, and knows more holds than does the average fighter, so he should cause lots of trouble to his opponents. Coach Stevens expects great results from Ted and says he is one of the mainstays of the team.

Hayashi Leads Squad In 118 Division

Captain Hayashi will wrestle in the 118 pound class and will give a good account of himself in all bouts. Willard Snyder, a newcomer to the mat, will be in the 126 division. Snyder is willing, but lacks experience.

Herb Althouse has won the 145 pound class spot, and this year should reach his peak in wrestling. Althouse is a senior and has had plenty of experience in the wrestling game.

Bill Grove and Roy Heyen are battling for the 155 pound division left vacant by Meklos. Both of these boys are strong and smart, but lack the experience that is so necessary for college wrestling.

To find a man for the 165 pound class has been the biggest worry of Stevens. Candidates for this position are few and all lack experience. "Twidge" Irwin, however, will probably get the nod to fight in the Penn meet.

The 175 pound division has two very able men in Charles Steinmetz and Gordon Astheimer. Steinmetz, however, has the advantage because he is a veteran of the mat and has shown greater versatility than has Astheimer. Astheimer, nevertheless, will see some action this year.

John "Tiny" Knoll will be wearing the Ursinus jersey in the heavy-weight division, and will demonstrate, much to the delight of his many fans, some new grunt and groan antics.

Jacobs will be the key man of the yearling attack. Nat Johnson and Don Fetterman, of Wildwood and East Greenville High Schools respectively, have the inside track on the forward berths. Both are shifty and eagle-eyed and should supply the scoring punch.

At guards will be Charley Bowen, former Haddonfield High luminary, and George Biery, of Northampton, reputed to be the ace of the squad.

This is only a probable lineup. Frank Wood, scrappy forward from nearby Conshohocken, and "Rip" McConnell of Wilmington are strong candidates for starting berths.

Paul Wise, although lacking the experience of his more plump brother, may also be counted on for a good performance, along with Nat Toulon, who played with Bowen at Haddonfield High.

The high spot of the coming season will be the game with the Penn yearlings at the spacious Palestra on February 26. It will be the third time Kellett has invaded the scene of his many collegiate triumphs, having taken his last year's squad of freshmen in twice and emerging with a .500 record, losing to the Jayvees and handing the previously undefeated freshmen team its only defeat of the season.

Sheeder Finds Variety, Spice In Lantern

By Franklin I. Sheeder

The Christmas, 1937, number of The Lantern gives evidence of an attempt on the part of the editorial staff to provide much variety and some spice. This is quite desirable if not carried to the extreme, for nothing would be more incongruous than to have The New Yorker and The Atlantic Monthly bound in the same cover. In the judgment of the reviewer, editor Yahraes has done a good job in his effort to get the reader in a happy and expectant mood through the opening pages of the December issue of The Lantern.

Frank Tornetta's human interest essay on Pasteur is most delightfully written and clearly merits the first prize which it was awarded in The Lantern contest. Likewise, Mabel Ditter's short story "The Thing" provides an excellent example of the manner in which dramatic contrast can be utilized with great effect in a few brief paragraphs.

Ernest Muller's account of Gilbert and Sullivan is ably written, Robert Peck's article on the newspaper as an instrument of propaganda is both timely and interesting, and Kenneth Snyder's critical estimate of Winslow Homer is a beautiful tribute to one of America's nature artists.

Edward French's humorous story entitled "The Commuter", is in a lighter vein, as are the contributions of Jane Poling, Ruth Grauert and Dorothy Shisler. These authors help provide a nice balance to the journal, and have made contributions that show creative imagination and facility of expression of a high order.

Eli Broidy's review of Maurice Evans' presentation of "King Richard II" will be read with interest by the many Ursinus students who witnessed this performance in Philadelphia recently. Likewise, Robert Yoh's informative article on the Isle of Man merits the careful reading of all.

The poetry ranges from the jingle of Robert Peck to the serious religious poem of Robert Yoh. Some of these musings are clever and entertaining, others suggest the deeper yearnings of youth in pensive mood.

Quality Good, But Arrangement Poor

It is the judgment of the present reviewer that for quality and variety of material this issue of The Lantern is somewhat superior to its predecessors. In general appearance, however, it is not all that it could be. The photographs and other illustrations are an interesting innovation; but the arrangement of the material is, on the whole, quite poor. There is too much crowding of diverse materials, as, for example, on pages 5, 9, 11 and 19. The cover is abominable. Not only is it inartistic; it is amateurish. The Lantern is worthy of something much better. Perhaps the student artists on the campus can be challenged to make a contribution to The Lantern at this point.

At a recent business meeting of the Lantern, Roy Heyen '40, and Robert Null '40, were elected to the staff. The announcement was made by Richard Yahraes '38, the present editor of the Lantern.

A letter of gratitude was recently received by Eli Broidy '38, from Maurice Evans, the actor who just finished a brilliant stay at the Forrest Theatre in Philadelphia in the show, "King Richard II".

The Lantern, in its last issue, featured an article by Mr. Broidy which was primarily a review of Mr. Evans' performance in Shakespeare's great play. The Lantern staff thought it would be a favorable gesture to send Mr. Evans a copy of the issue, and the article. In return Mr. Evans sent this letter.

MAY DAY PAGEANTS

All May Day pageants must be completed by Monday, January 17, 1938. For last minute details and information see the pageantry folder at the librarian's desk in the College Library.

DOGGIE ROAST, BARN DANCE PLANNED BY Y. M.-Y. W.

At an informal meeting of the Y cabinets on Thursday the conference committee reported a tentative program for the Christian organizations on the Ursinus campus. None of the plans were definitely acted upon but were merely regarded as proposals.

Suggestions were made for an improved recreational program. Included in these were a Barn Dance on March 11, and the Y. Doggie Roast for May 11. In addition to these, the Y's are planning a wider variety of interesting programs such as more fireside chats, movies, outside speakers, and programs of interest to the more scientific students.

Of special interest to the student body is the proposed Ursinus Student Conference to be held sometime in the spring, to include discussions, recreation, a play, and worship, and to extend from Friday evening until Sunday afternoon. It is planned that a survey be made of the student body for a subject of interest to the majority for use as a theme in this assembly.

CANCELATIONS THIS YEAR DOUBLE NORMAL AMOUNT

Registrar Franklin I. Sheeder has recently completed a report of his findings with reference to student cancellations at Ursinus for the year 1937-38. In his report attention is called to the fact that for the past twelve-year period the average annual number of cancellations has been 30, 18 of which have normally been men, and 12 of which have normally been women.

This year, however, the total number of cancellations of prospective students jumped to 60, a 100 percent increase over the average expectancy. Of this number, 30 were men and 30 were women.

To determine the reasons for cancellation, a request was addressed to each student who had made application for admission and later canceled the same. The student was asked to state specifically the reason, or reasons, for this action.

As a result of this inquiry, said Registrar Sheeder, it was learned that over 50 percent of the cancellations were due to financial considerations. Many of the students who mentioned "lack of funds" as the reason for cancellation of their plans for attending Ursinus are not attending college anywhere, or are attending some institution of less than college grade. Many of the students who stated as their reason for cancellation the fact that they were not granted a scholarship at Ursinus are attending other institutions nearer their homes, which they can attend as day students.

"The importance of the financial factor," said Registrar Sheeder, "in connection with the educational program of young people who are looking forward to college must be recognized by the colleges if they are to continue to serve the deserving youth of our land."
