High Winds Cause Considerable Damage Here

Damage was reported in several areas of the county Tuesday after 45 m.p.h. wind, with gusts up to 65 m.p.h., swept across the local region during the afternoon.

Considerable damage was caused at Carroll Volkswagen, when winds swept the top layer from the roof of the body shop. Several reports of minor damage, such as campers blown over, trees toppled, signs down, and antenna damage, were also received.

No injuries, however, have been directly attributed to the high winds in the local area. Heavy thunderstorms rolled across the state, and the associated winds were blamed indirectly for two traffic deaths and several minor injuries. The winds also caused widespread damage and disruptions of electrical service.

Winds gusts to 80 m.p.h. were reported at Louisville's Bowman Field and 57 m.p.h. at Louisville's Standiford Field around 4 p.m. when a particularly strong thunderstorm crossed Louisville and Jefferson County.

State Police said a two-vehicle collision on the Pennyrite Parkway about six miles south of Henderson claimed the lives of James Kitchens, 71, and his wife Marie, 69, of Belleville, Ill. when the Kitchens' car collided with a tractor trailer truck.

Gary Ayers, 27, the truck driver, told State Police high winds picked-up his trailer, forced the truck out of control and into the path of the Kitchens' car.

An estimated 15 persons were taken to Hardin Memorial Hospital in Elizabethtown for treatment of various injuries received during the passage of a heavy thunderstorm through the area.

Three small children were admitted to the hospital with possible fractures after winds damaged several mobile home parks in Hardin, LaRue and Meade counties.

Bob Jenkins of Radcliff was treated for injuries received when a plate glass window at a car dealership was blown on him by winds, a hospital spokesman said.

Winds were clocked at 82 m.p.h. in Owensboro where a portion of the domed roof was removed from Gabe's Inn, a 12-story motel, and several cars parked below were damaged but there were no injuries.

Debris from the motel fell on a service station, causing damage to the building. Power lines and trees were downed and phone service curtailed in Owensboro where some store windows were blown out.

WIND DAMAGE—Minor wind damage was widespread across the local area from winds of up to 65 m.p.h. yesterday, as recorded at the Murray-Calloway County Airport. Damage included several campers blown over, several antennas down, and sign damage. Another victim was a telephone booth in front of the Thoroughbred Drive-In. Fire Department and Electric System personnel were called when the wind blew an antenna across some power lines at Third and Maple, shorting out the lines. No one was reported injured. Staff Photo by David Hill

Dunlop Resigns As Secretary Of Labor

WASHINGTON (AP) — John T. Dunlop has resigned as secretary of labor, the White House announced today.

In a one-paragraph letter to President Ford dated Tuesday, Dunlop told the President: "This letter records my resignation as secretary of labor and coordinator of the President's labor-management committee. I have appreciated the opportunity once again to try to be of service to the country and to you, Mr. President, to the best of my ability. Your willingness to listen to divergent views and numerous courtesies to me, I shall always cherish."

In a letter of reply dated today, the President told Dunlop: "You will be greatly missed by all who have had the privilege of working with you."

Ford said he received Dunlop's letter "with the deepest regret."

The announcement came one day after Dunlop met privately with the President to inform him of his decision.

Dunlop maintains that his position with organized labor was unworkable in the aftermath of Ford's veto of the controversial common-site picketing bill. The measure would have expanded union picketing rights at construction sites.

In the exchange of letters, released by the White House, the President told Dunlop: "Although I understand your reasons for making this decision and accept your resignation, you should know that I do so with very great reluctance."

Ford added: "You have demonstrated your strong devotion to public service and your deep understanding of labor issues in the country."

Former Police Chief Placed On Probation

Former Murray Police Chief James M. Brown was placed on probation for five years after pleading nolo contendere to four counts of firearms law violation in U. S. District Court in Paducah Tuesday.

Brown, 59, was charged last November in U.S. District Court in Louisville with 44 counts of violating the Federal Gun Control Act, including failure to keep records of firearms transactions and unlawful possession of a sawed-off shotgun.

He also was charged with attempting to obstruct the investigation conducted by the U.S. Treasury Department.

All but four of the original charges were dismissed by Judge James F. Gordon Tuesday on the recommendation of the U.S. attorney's office.

The charges retained included four firearms transactions occurring in January and April of last year.

Judge Gordon agreed to place Brown on probation on the condition that Brown relinquish his future plans for continuing in a private firearms business.

A collection of firearms belonging to Brown were ordered turned over to a private licensed gun dealer for disposition.

Brown originally was charged by Alcohol, Tobacco and Firearms agent Raymond P. Wilt with possession of a sawed-off shotgun last April following a raid on Brown's home. Several firearms were confiscated during that raid.

A U.S. District Court spokesman said last November that most of the charges against Brown were the result of his alleged failure to keep and maintain proper records of various firearms transactions in which he was engaged.

Mate May Acquire Taste for Topless

By Abigail Van Buren

DEAR ABBY: I don't know why that lady was upset because her husband ate lunch at a topless restaurant. What difference does it make where he gets his appetite as long as he comes home to eat?

BROAD-MINDED BROAD IN YAKIMA

DEAR BROAD: Maybe she's afraid he'll work up such a hunger at the restaurant that he'll go back for dinner.

DEAR ABBY: This is my second year as a school teacher. I teach third grade in a very good public school. At the beginning of the semester I received the following letter from the mother of one of my pupils:

Dear Ms. G—
I understand that there is a rule at Danny's school stating that the teachers are not allowed to hit the kids.

Well, I am giving you permission to hit my son, Danny, whenever you think he needs it. He is mouthy, stubborn and very mean, and the only thing he understands is a good hit. (Not in the head, please.) I know him better than you do.

Please keep this letter in case you hit him. It will relieve you of all responsibility in case Danny tries to get away with something. He told me he can do whatever he wants at school because if the teacher lays a hand on him she will get fired. Thank you.

Mrs. T.J. McD.

Abby, is the above letter legal and binding? And should I hit Danny if I think it's necessary?

MS. G—

DEAR MS. G—: A lawyer I'm not. The advice from here is: Do not hit Danny or any other child.

DEAR ABBY: My husband and I were watching the news on television the other evening, and along came an announcement that a 41-year-old woman had just given birth to a full-term baby only a few minutes after learning that she was pregnant.

The newscaster said that the woman had gained 30 pounds in the last few months, but she didn't know why. But here's the payoff in case you're thinking that the woman was either uneducated or very dumb. She had been working in a doctor's office for the last 17 years!

My husband said it was probably just an attempt at humor on the part of the newscaster. I said it wasn't. What do you say?

CURIOUS IN N.Y.

DEAR CURIOUS: I say truth is stranger than fiction. It actually happened.

CONFIDENTIAL TO WASHINGTON STAR READER: Figures DO lie. Just because a marriage lasted 50 years doesn't necessarily mean it was "successful." Not all unsuccessful marriages end up in the divorce court.

Everyone has a problem. What's yours? For a personal reply, write to ABBY: Box No. 69700, L.A., Calif. 90069. Enclose stamped, self-addressed envelope, please.

Palestine Methodist Church Women Meet At Oates Home

The Palestine United Methodist Church Women held its December meeting in the home of Anita Oates with the president, Freda Lovett, presiding and Clarice McDaniel leading the opening prayer.

Members voted to give a donation to Dale Mathis, a young student that is studying for the ministry.

A Crismon tree was decorated by Freda Lovett as part of the program. She explained the Christ-monograms as she hung each one on the tree as being well known symbols for Christ in various forms of the cross, the crown, the triangle, the circle, the star, and the lamp. The use of these Christian symbols is as old as the church itself, Mrs. Lovett said.

Each member participated in the program on "Service." The second chapter of Luke was read by Avis Childress, Eula Grace Parrish, and Anita Oates.

"The Most Priceless Gift of Christmas" by Helen Steiner Rice was read by Myrtle McDaniel. "Oh Holy Night" was sung by Anita Oates who led the group in singing "Silent Night."

The closing prayer was led by Mae Goodwin. A delightful meal was served at noon.

Members present, not previously mentioned, were Lorene Burkeen, Hazel Jeffrey, Maudie Hopkins, Winnie Burkeen, Mildred Oates, Helen Brooks, Dean Burkeen, Sheila Mullinax, Julie Shapard, and one visitor, Jadie Brooks.

Small change adds up to big dollars and dollars mount up bringing the March of Dimes closer to its goal — birth defects prevention. Coins and bills dropped in the red, white and blue March of Dimes canisters, located in stores, banks, theaters and bus stations, support the voluntary agency's public health education, research and medical service programs. Canisters are being distributed to businesses through the city and county. Here Donald Crawford, Crawford's Shell Service in Lynn Grove, receives a canister from Jerry Fitch, Co-Chairman of the March of Dimes in Calloway County.

FOR THURSDAY, JANUARY 15, 1976

Look in the section in which your birthday comes and find what your outlook is, according to the stars.

ARIES (Mar. 21 to Apr. 20)

The Arien likes room for action, new projects, the means to improve any undesirable situations. This day provides the opportunity for all of these. You should accomplish a great deal.

TAURUS (Apr. 21 to May 21)

A certain amount of daring could prove profitable, but don't let your imagination run out of bounds. The Taurian is usually foresighted. May he be so now!

GEMINI (May 22 to June 21)

Restraint and control of the emotions needed in discussions. Listen to all and judge objectively. Leave out personalities and conjecture. Don't let the "double talk" of others confuse you.

CANCER (June 22 to July 23)

Without realizing it, you may be a victim of your own fears and misgivings. Pull yourself together. This is a day which calls for clear thinking and definite action. Delays could prove costly.

LEO (July 24 to Aug. 23)

Be careful how you invest both time and money. No matter how enticing a new proposition may sound, give it careful thought. You COULD be taken in by rosy promises, if not on guard.

VIRGO (Aug. 24 to Sept. 23)

There will be much contriving and maneuvering for best position. Don't be left at the post. Achievement is possible in out-of-the-ordinary ways and places. Be resourceful.

LIBRA (Sept. 24 to Oct. 23)

It may be advisable to slacken your gait in order to detect error of method or details overlooked. But don't stop dead. Keep working toward ultimate objectives.

SCORPIO (Oct. 24 to Nov. 22)

Don't head into complications. Steer a clear course and focus ambitions on an attainable plateau. Don't strive for the unreasonable.

SAGITTARIUS (Nov. 23 to Dec. 21)

Business matters, difficult tasks, long-range planning favored now. But don't rush into things. Have patience, be vigilant and precise.

CAPRICORN (Dec. 22 to Jan. 20)

Competition is still on the move. Get with it and gear yourself to the demands which are appropriate.

AQUARIUS (Jan. 21 to Feb. 19)

Gains from past good efforts indicated, but don't rest on your laurels. There are further goals to reach, so keep on giving your best.

PISCES (Feb. 20 to Mar. 20)

Generous influences on the whole. Both artistry and imagination stimulated. Use both well and results will please.

YOU BORN TODAY are endowed with a fine mind, unusual versatility and lofty ambitions. Your personality is an outgoing one and you make friends easily; can keep them, too, if you will curb tendencies toward arrogance and a biting sarcasm which alienates. That keen wit which sometimes seeks its outlet in sarcasm, however, can be used constructively in the writing, entertainment or cartooning fields; also makes you a delightful speaker and lecturer. Other fields in which you could succeed: business, the law, statesmanship and the military. Birthdate of: Martin Luther King, civil rights leader.

"Hands Up" Survey To Prevent Crime Sponsored By Club

"Hands Up" is the title given to the project being sponsored by the General Federation of Women's Clubs and the Murray Woman's Club, in an attempt to prevent crime. Mrs. Bettie Boston is chairman of the drive and will lead it with the help of the ten departments.

This project was discussed and endorsed last year and is to be completed this month, according to plans made by the executive board of the Murray Club, Mrs. A. C. LaFollette, president, conducted the one-hour meeting in the dining room of the club house, after opening the session with prayer.

Mrs. Boston expressed appreciation to the Murray Vocational Education School, Creative Printers, Bank of Murray, and Peoples Bank for donations in helping with the "Hands Up" project.

In the "Hands Up" survey, only 500 people will be called upon. Fifty people will be called by telephone. The others will be interviewed in department meetings. This is being done in cooperation with a national interest to prevent crime.

The board heard a letter from the Washington Headquarters requesting the club members to write their congressmen and senators urging them to defeat the Council Bill I-194. This bill would require present non-profit establishments to pay taxes. Club members were asked to write their representatives asking them to use their vote to keep the James Madison Library as a library only. Some are working to incorporate the library with other interests.

The CARE organization is an annual recipient of the Woman's Club and will be remembered by voluntary donations in the club departments. The Home Department will sponsor the Heart Fund Drive.

Livesay, president, opening the meeting with the pledge of allegiance to the flags of the United States and Kentucky and the salute to the Confederate flag.

Dr. Mildred Hatcher, chaplain, gave a thoughtful prayer. Mrs. Leonard Vaughn, secretary, and Mrs. W. Z. Carter, treasurer, gave reports.

Miss Maude Nance who was compelled by illness to miss the previous chapter meeting, thanked the chapter for the gift they had presented to her at the state convention at Kentucky Dam Village in October. As outgoing president of the chapter, she was given a corsage of white carnations and roses, and a gavel inscribed to "Maude Forrest Nance, Kentucky Division President of UDC, presented by J. N. Williams Chapter, October, 1975."

An offering was taken to buy coupon books for the permanently disabled veterans at the Lexington Veterans Hospital. This is a yearly project of the J. N. Williams chapter.

Dr. Edwin C. Strohecker, speaker for the afternoon, spoke on "The Battle of Gettysburg." He is a native of that section of the country and gave a description of the land and the battleground. The speaker described the positions of the opposing forces, and named the advantage and disadvantages of each general's position. His account of Pickett's charge across the open ground in the face of Union artillery was a vivid highlight of the talk.

The speaker, after his analysis of the battle, told of the monuments and memorials which make the battle site interesting to present day visitors; and told of the reunion at Gettysburg when veterans of both the Confederate and Union armies joined in re-living the war.

Dr. Strohecker was thanked by the program chairman for his program and said that his speech was particularly apt for the occasion as it was at Gettysburg that J. N. Williams, for whom the chapter was named, lost an arm in that battle.

Dr. Visser, assisted by her sister, Dr. Hatcher, served refreshments during the social hour.

Those attending were Mesdames John J. Livesay, W. Z. Carter, Ewen Albritten, Sydney McKinney, Leonard Vaughn, Ray Munday, Douglas Shoemaker, Charles R. Stubblefield, Melas Linn, E. W. Riley, Jack Bailey, Fred Gingles, Neva Waters, J. O. Chambers, Miss Maude Nance, Dr. Strohecker, Dr. Hatcher, and Dr. Visser.

A holiday piano recital was held recently at the home of Mrs. Linda Wright. Above are the students who were present: Wendy Lovett, Leigh Anne Harmon, Vicki Edwards, Vona Darnell, Ann Harcourt, Cindy Bazzell, Lisa McCaffrey, Ricky Harrison and Mrs. Wright. Also pictured is Mrs. Wright's little son, Benjamin.

CHOLESTEROL THEORY IN DOUBT

A low-cholesterol diet fed to thousands of persons in a 4½-year study was of no significant help in preventing heart disease, said a recent news report from the 48th Scientific Sessions of the American Heart Association.

INVOLVED were some 17,000 patients of Minnesota state hospitals. Their diets were strictly controlled. "In the entire population...including men and women of all ages over 21, despite a satisfactory decrease in blood cholesterol, there was not the slightest hint of benefit," it was reported by Dr. Ivan D. Frantz of the University of Minnesota.

Dr. Frantz is director of the university's Lipid Research Clinic.

REGARDING the idea that a diet lower in cholesterol and fats might protect against heart disease, Dr. Frantz remarked, "I still believe in the theory, but it's awfully hard to demonstrate."

Although the over-all results of his study indicated that the diet was of no benefit, Dr. Frantz said that men in the study under 30 years of age may have benefited somewhat. But why this might be, he said, is difficult to explain.

In the over-all study, those on the special diet experienced about a 14 percent drop in their blood cholesterol levels. Prior to the drop, the subjects had cholesterol levels in the normal range.

As for the benefit accruing to the men under 30, Dr. Frantz was quoted as saying he thought it wise not to draw conclusions other than that the research offered "an hypothesis for further testing."

THIS RESEARCH serves to further fortify the fact that there are no simple answers to heart disease, despite some advertising to the contrary.

The general public should not on its own, especially in response to sales promotion, start fooling around with its diet for fear of cholesterol. Only your physician, with full knowledge of your personal medical history and that of your family, is in a position to make wise decisions concerning any risk you may have of heart disease.

Dear Abby

Mate May Acquire Taste for Topless

By Abigail Van Buren
© 1976 by Chicago Tribune-N.Y. News Synd. Inc.

DEAR ABBY: I don't know why that lady was upset because her husband ate lunch at a topless restaurant. What difference does it make where he gets his appetite as long as he comes home to eat?

BROAD-MINDED BROAD IN YAKIMA

DEAR BROAD: Maybe she's afraid he'll work up such a hunger at the restaurant that he'll go back for dinner.

DEAR ABBY: This is my second year as a school teacher. I teach third grade in a very good public school. At the beginning of the semester I received the following letter from the mother of one of my pupils:

Dear Ms. G—: I understand that there is a rule at Danny's school stating that the teachers are not allowed to hit the kids. Well, I am giving you permission to hit my son, Danny, whenever you think he needs it. He is mouthy, stubborn and very mean, and the only thing he understands is a good hit. (Not in the head, please.) I know him better than you do. Please keep this letter in case you hit him. It will relieve you of all responsibility in case Danny tries to get away with something. He told me he can do whatever he wants at school because if the teacher lays a hand on him she will get fired. Thank you.

Mrs. T.J. McD.

Abby, is the above letter legal and binding? And should I hit Danny if I think it's necessary?

MS. G—

DEAR MS. G—: A lawyer I'm not. The advice from here is: Do not hit Danny or any other child.

DEAR ABBY: My husband and I were watching the news on television the other evening, and along came an announcement that a 41-year-old woman had just given birth to a full-term baby only a few minutes after learning that she was pregnant.

The newscaster said that the woman had gained 30 pounds in the last few months, but she didn't know why. But here's the payoff in case you're thinking that the woman was either uneducated or very dumb. She had been working in a doctor's office for the last 17 years! My husband said it was probably just an attempt at humor on the part of the newscaster. I said it wasn't. What do you say?

CURIOUS IN N.Y.

DEAR CURIOUS: I say truth is stranger than fiction. It actually happened.

CONFIDENTIAL TO WASHINGTON STAR READER: Figures DO lie. Just because a marriage lasted 50 years doesn't necessarily mean it was "successful." Not all unsuccessful marriages end up in the divorce court.

Everyone has a problem. What's yours? For a personal reply, write to ABBY: Box No. 69700, L.A., Calif. 90069. Enclose stamped, self-addressed envelope, please.

Palestine Methodist Church Women Meet At Oates Home

The Palestine United Methodist Church Women held its December meeting in the home of Anita Oates with the president, Freda Lovett, presiding and Clarice McDaniel leading the opening prayer.

Members voted to give a donation to Dale Mathis, a young student that is studying for the ministry.

A Crismon tree was decorated by Freda Lovett as part of the program. She explained the Christ-monograms as she hung each one on the tree as being well known symbols for Christ in various forms of the cross, the crown, the triangle, the circle, the star, and the lamp. The use of these Christian symbols is as old as the church itself, Mrs. Lovett said.

Each member participated in the program on "Service." The second chapter of Luke was read by Avis Childress, Eula Grace Parrish, and Anita Oates.

"The Most Priceless Gift of Christmas" by Helen Steiner Rice was read by Myrtle McDaniel. "Oh Holy Night" was sung by Anita Oates who led the group in singing "Silent Night."

The closing prayer was led by Mae Goodwin. A delightful meal was served at noon.

Members present, not previously mentioned, were Lorene Burkeen, Hazel Jeffrey, Maudie Hopkins, Winnie Burkeen, Mildred Oates, Helen Brooks, Dean Burkeen, Sheila Mullinax, Julie Shapard, and one visitor, Jadie Brooks.

Your Individual Horoscope

Frances Drake

FOR THURSDAY, JANUARY 15, 1976

Look in the section in which your birthday comes and find what your outlook is, according to the stars.

ARIES (Mar. 21 to Apr. 20) ♈
The Aries likes room for action, new projects, the means to improve any undesirable situations. This day provides the opportunity for all of these. You should accomplish a great deal.

TAURUS (Apr. 21 to May 21) ♉
A certain amount of daring could prove profitable, but don't let your imagination run out of bounds. The Taurus is usually foresighted. May he be so now!

GEMINI (May 22 to June 21) ♊
Restraint and control of the emotions needed in discussions. Listen to all and judge objectively. Leave out personalities and conjecture. Don't let the "double talk" of others confuse you.

CANCER (June 22 to July 23) ♋
Without realizing it, you may be a victim of your own fears and misgivings. Pull yourself together. This is a day which calls for clear thinking and definite action. Delays could prove costly.

LEO (July 24 to Aug. 23) ♌
Be careful how you invest both time and money. No matter how enticing a new proposition may sound, give it careful thought. You COULD be taken in by rosy promises, if not on guard.

VIRGO (Aug. 24 to Sept. 23) ♍
There will be much contriving and maneuvering for best position. Don't be left at the post. Achievement is possible in out-of-the-ordinary ways and places. Be resourceful.

LIBRA (Sept. 24 to Oct. 23) ♎
It may be advisable to slacken your gait in order to detect error of method or details overlooked. But don't stop dead. Keep working toward ultimate objectives.

SCORPIO (Oct. 24 to Nov. 22) ♏
Don't head into complications. Steer a clear course and focus ambitions on an attainable plateau. Don't strive for the unreasonable.

SAGITTARIUS (Nov. 23 to Dec. 21) ♐
Business matters, difficult tasks, long-range planning favored now. But don't rush into things. Have patience, be vigilant and precise.

CAPRICORN (Dec. 22 to Jan. 20) ♑
Competition is still on the move. Get with it and gear yourself to the demands which are appropriate.

AQUARIUS (Jan. 21 to Feb. 19) ♒
Gains from past good efforts indicated, but don't rest on your laurels. There are further goals to reach, so keep on giving your best.

PISCES (Feb. 20 to Mar. 20) ♓
Generous influences on the whole. Both artistry and imagination stimulated. Use both well and results will please.

YOU BORN TODAY are endowed with a fine mind, unusual versatility and lofty ambitions. Your personality is an outgoing one and you make friends easily; can keep them, too, if you will curb tendencies toward arrogance and a biting sarcasm which alienates. That keen wit which sometimes seeks its outlet in sarcasm, however, can be used constructively in the writing, entertainment or cartooning fields; also makes you a delightful speaker and lecturer. Other fields in which you could succeed: business, the law, statesmanship and the military. Birthdate: Martin Luther King, civil rights leader.

"Hands Up" Survey To Prevent Crime Sponsored By Club

"Hands Up" is the title given to the project being sponsored by the General Federation of Women's Clubs and the Murray Woman's Club, in an attempt to prevent crime. Mrs. Bettie Boston is chairman of the drive and will lead it with the help of the ten departments.

This project was discussed and endorsed last year and is to be completed this month, according to plans made by the executive board of the Murray Club, Mrs. A. C. LaFollette, president, conducted the one-hour meeting in the dining room of the club house, after opening the session with prayer.

Mrs. Boston expressed appreciation to the Murray Vocational Education School, Creative Printers, Bank of Murray, and Peoples Bank for donations in helping with the "Hands Up" project.

In the "Hands Up" survey, only 500 people will be called upon. Fifty people will be called by telephone. The others will be interviewed in department meetings. This is being done in cooperation with a national interest to prevent crime.

The board heard a letter from the Washington Headquarters requesting the club members to write their congressmen and senators urging them to defeat the Council Bill I-194. This bill would require present non-profit establishments to pay taxes. Club members were asked to write their representatives asking them to use their vote to keep the James Madison Library as a library only. Some are working to incorporate the library with other interests.

The CARE organization is an annual recipient of the Woman's Club and will be remembered by voluntary donations in the club departments. The Home Department will sponsor the Heart Fund Drive.

As outgoing president of the chapter, she was given a corsage of white carnations and roses, and a gavel inscribed to "Maude Forrest Nance, Kentucky Division President of UDC, presented by J. N. Williams Chapter, October, 1975."

An offering was taken to buy coupon books for the permanently disabled veterans at the Lexington Veterans Hospital. This is a yearly project of the J. N. Williams chapter.

Dr. Edwin C. Strohecker, speaker for the afternoon, spoke on "The Battle of Gettysburg." He is a native of that section of the country and gave a description of the land and the battleground. The speaker described the positions of the opposing forces, and named the advantage and disadvantages of each general's position. His account of Pickett's charge across the open ground in the face of Union artillery was a vivid highlight of the talk.

The speaker, after his analysis of the battle, told of the monuments and memorials which make the battle site interesting to present day visitors, and told of the reunion at Gettysburg when veterans of both the Confederate and Union armies joined in re-living the war.

Dr. Strohecker was thanked by the program chairman for his program and said that his speech was particularly apt for the occasion as it was at Gettysburg that J. N. Williams, for whom the chapter was named, lost an arm in that battle.

Dr. Visher, assisted by her sister, Dr. Hatcher, served refreshments during the social hour.

A holiday piano recital was held recently at the home of Mrs. Linda Wright. CHOLESTEROL THEORY IN DOUBT
A low-cholesterol diet fed to thousands of persons in a 4½-year study was of no significant help in preventing heart disease, said a recent news report from the 48th Scientific Sessions of the American Heart Association.

INVOLVED were some 17,000 patients of Minnesota state hospitals. Their diets were strictly controlled. "In the entire population...including men and women of all ages over 21, despite a satisfactory decrease in blood cholesterol, there was not the slightest hint of benefit," it was reported by Dr. Ivan D. Frantz of the University of Minnesota.

Dr. Frantz is director of the university's Lipid Research Clinic.

REGARDING the idea that a diet lower in cholesterol and fats might protect against heart disease, Dr. Frantz remarked: "I still believe in the theory, but it's awfully hard to demonstrate."

Although the over-all results of his study indicated that the diet was of no benefit, Dr. Frantz said that men in the study under 50 years of age may have benefited somewhat. But why this might be, he said, is difficult to explain.

In the over-all study, those on the special diet experienced about a 14 percent drop in their blood cholesterol levels. Prior to the drop, the subjects had cholesterol levels in the normal range.

As for the benefit accruing to the men under 50, Dr. Frantz was quoted as saying he thought it wise not to draw conclusions other than that the research offered "an hypothesis for further testing."

THIS RESEARCH serves to further fortify the fact that there are no simple answers to heart disease, despite some advertising to the contrary.

The general public should not on its own, especially in response to sales promotion, start fooling around with its diet for fear of cholesterol. Only your physician, with full knowledge of your per-

'Equal Time' Runs Out

The Federal Communications Commission acted wisely in scrapping recently its rule requiring broadcasters to give equal time for responses from all legally qualified candidates whenever they provided radio or television coverage of news conferences or debates of any political candidates. However good the intent, the "equal time" regulation had inhibiting effects that added up to adverse end results.

because it often meant that stations elected not to cover major candidates because they would have been required to make equal time available to all other candidates, however marginal. The rule was bad for politics, too, because it tended to encourage minor candidates to enter races they had no hope of winning.

With repeal of the regulation, broadcasters can increase coverage of major candidates who say something that is news, and they can demonstrate responsibility by giving fair—not necessarily equal—coverage to all candidates.

TODAY'S TOPIC: PANAMA CANAL GIVEAWAY

Secretary of State Kissinger's determination to proceed with the drafting of a new Panama Canal treaty, in the face of strong congressional and public opposition, is hard to understand. The statement of principles governing the Canal negotiations, approved by Dr. Kissinger, clearly envisions a surrender of U. S. sovereignty in the Canal Zone.

The State Dept. position is all the more remarkable in view of the character of the Panamanian regime. The San Diego Union's military correspondent has correctly pointed out that "the principal government officials in Panama are Marxists—every one—and that includes the chief of state." If these Marxists controlled the Canal Zone, they would be in a position to prevent American use of the strategic waterway.

Radio Free Americas, radio voice of the respected American Security Council, recently cited the political ties of the Panamanian leader with whom the State Dept. is negotiating. It reported that "the official organ of the Castro regime announced that Gen. Torrijos, the Panamanian dictator, will visit Communist Cuba Jan. 10-15." Radio Free Americas added that the Panamanian strongman "will put the final touches to the agreement recently signed in Havana by a Panamanian military mission for some Soviet war materials to be delivered by Communist Cuba.

If the U.S. State Department has protested this Panamanian link with Communist Cuba, which is currently deploying proxy forces in Angola for the Soviet Union, the protest has not been extensively publicized. In general, the State Dept. is playing down the threat posed by both Cuba and the Panamanian regime.

The American Security Council properly asks: "With Communist Cuba and the Soviet Union having the upper hand in the Isthmian Republic, what will happen to the United States when we try to use the interoceanic canal?" Clearly, Dr. Kissinger prefers that this question not be considered by the U. S. public.

Unfortunately, the State Dept. has been successful in lining up some support for its position. For example, the board of directors of the U. S. Chamber of Commerce recently voted support of the Ford administration's efforts to renegotiate the Panama Canal Treaty.

As one of the reasons for its action, the Chamber Board stated: "Terms of the 1903 Treaty do not reflect changes in the Panamanian-U.S. relations which have occurred in the last 72 years and no longer serve U.S. national interest as well as a modernized treaty which would be based on a concept of partnership."

It is difficult to understand how the U.S. could have a partnership with a Marxist-oriented government in Panama.

U.S. Rep. Daniel Flood (D-Pa), an authority on the Panama Canal situation, warned Dec. 9 that the State Dept. is spearheading a massive "propaganda assault" to bring about the negotiation and approval of a new canal treaty involving a giveaway of U.S. sovereignty.

Congressman Flood reported that "among the massive propaganda activities were the recent briefing in the State Dept. of representatives of large U.S. multinational corporations doing business in Latin America. This group, calling itself 'The Business and Professional Committee for A New Panama Canal Treaty, has set a $500,000 budget target that it hopes to raise from the business community."

Fortunately, this campaign is likely to be opposed by the vast majority of American businessmen who understand that the State Dept. treaty plans are not in the national interest.

The Panama Canal issue is one of the basic issues confronting the U.S. Congress and people in 1976. The fundamental question is: do Americans want to retain their sovereign rights in the Canal Zone or are they willing to surrender these rights to a Marxist dictatorship linked to Cuba?

Men and institutions will be judged on the basis of where they stand on the Panama Canal issue.

This Is The Age Of The Study Committee

NEW YORK (AP) — This is the age of the study committee. In business, government and academic life the phrasing is similar: "The matter was referred to the committee for further study."

If after due study the committee fails to reach a conclusion, it might hand off the problem to a subcommittee, from whence it might then be passed on for further "action" by a foundation or institute, where study is permanent.

Name the subject and it is being studied, but name the subject and the chances are you won't find the answers. Studies raise questions, like beating a rug raises dust, sometimes beclouding rather than clarifying.

And so, in the spirit of not expecting much, a few unanswered questions are hereby cast into this murky oblivion, offered as subjects that might be studied somewhere, sometime, without the least expectation of resolution.

—Is a gentlemen's club a social rather than a business establishment? There is an intriguing tax angle to this.

In some parts of exclusive city "social" clubs, in a taproom perhaps, you are forbidden from writing or shuffling papers on the surface of the table. Such conduct suggests business rather than socializing.

The rules are enforced too, and people so rude as to require reminding are watched carefully and might find themselves asked to leave if they persist in such crude behavior. The line has to be drawn somewhere.

Oddly, almost everyone at one such club on a certain day were gathered for the specific purpose of talking business. Their memberships, in fact, were obtained through business associations. Their firms paid the dues.

When they were through, their checks were offered to the Internal Revenue Service as business lunch tax deductions, and the waiters who enforced the "no business" rule gladly provided receipts for that purpose.

The questions for the study committee are many, of course, but an especially intriguing one is whether this cultural schizophrenia should be recognized by the IRS.

—Who is the mysterious "they," perhaps the most widely quoted alleged authority on everything and anything but who nevertheless remains unknown? A saboteur, perhaps? "They" always seems to have bad news.

One effort to find the elusive "they" led only to more "theys," suggesting the need for a multiple attack, such as can be launched by a committee, rather than a solo effort.

Referring to the economy, a casual informant commented, "They say we're headed for more bad times and..." The informant was interrupted by a question: "Who says we're headed for bad times?" The answer: "Oh, they all say we are."

Who is "they?" He or she must be found.

—Do high interest rates help cause inflation or do they help arrest inflation?

You think you know the answer, but can you prove it? High rates add to the cost of doing business, don't they? And we know that business passes on increased costs to the consumer, right?

Okay, but high interest rates discourage borrowing, agreed? And when borrowing is discouraged there is less inflationary pressure, no? Isn't it true then that high rates arrest existing inflation?

While this really is a very important matter, one that is at the very foundation of the nation's fight for economic stability, can we ever hope for a clearcut, cleancut answer?

Probably not, and so it makes an ideal question to put to a study committee.

Suppose, during a traffic tie-up, Motorist A drags Motorist B out of his car and begins beating him up. Does Spectator C have a legal right to go to B's rescue?

Generally speaking, courts today do recognize a right-to-intervene. They consider it a logical outgrowth of the ancient right of self-defense.

"What one may do for himself," observed one judge, "he may do for another."

Of course the law prefers a call to the police if that is practical, instead of direct action. The law also insists (to avoid a mere escalation of the violence) that an intervenor must not resort to excessive force.

In one case the foreman of a construction crew saw two workmen having an argument. When one started swinging fists, the foreman stepped over and slugged him on the head with a shovel.

In a subsequent lawsuit the jury decided that the foreman would have to pay damages because he had applied more force than the situation reasonably called for.

Furthermore, the intervention must be for the purpose of protecting someone, not for the purpose of retaliation or revenge. Consider this case:

The doting father of a six-year-old girl became enraged when he saw a teenage boy toss a stone at his daughter. The father stormed over and gave the boy a thrashing.

Sued later for assault and battery, the father insisted he had a right to protect his daughter from harm. But the evidence indicated that before he went into action, the boy had already sat peacefully down on the grass.

Result: the father's attack was held unlawful. The court said that while he had a right to protect his daughter, he had no right—after the danger was past—to "get even."

Let's Stay Well

Determining Sex Before Birth

By F.J.L. Blasingame, M.D.

BLASINGAME

Modern medicine has tests that can tell, with a high degree of accuracy, the sex of a baby before birth.

These scientific developments may cause an increasing number of parents, out of curiosity or for other reasons, to request one of the tests for sex and to seek an abortion if the child is of the sex opposite from that which is desired. Such possibilities may bring about exceptional pressures on attending physicians for abortions.

The tests consist of examination of some of the baby's cells in the amniotic fluid in which the baby is suspended inside the uterus. A sample of the fluid is withdrawn with a needle through the mother's abdominal wall and studied for the sex chromosome make-up (amniocentesis).

Another method consists of studying some of the cells that collect above the neck of the uterus. These are aspirated and studied for their sex chromosomes.

In general, parents prefer a male offspring. Perhaps this attitude dates back to the time when the male may have been preferred for heavy labor or for tribal wars. Some fathers appear to enjoy a sense of dominance in being able to produce a boy, and many women are eager to do so to please their husbands.

Studies show that young children, if asked whether they would rather have a girl or boy child when they grow up and raise a family, usually show no preference. As children grow older, the majority indicate that they prefer male offspring.

Parents usually desire a boy and a girl. Pressure for a boy grows if one or more girls have been born into a family. While methods are available to increase the chances of a male offspring, they are not reliable and are not widely available.

Q Mrs. T.J. expresses concern because her six-year-old grandson has a heart murmur. She is anxious in spite of the fact that the physician who examined the child said that the murmur is not serious. She asks for comment.

A Heart murmurs are caused by sounds produced by blood as it passes through the heart. In children, murmurs may be harmful or harmless, depending on the characteristics of the sound, the size of the child's heart, and his history. Many harmless murmurs disappear as the child ages. The physician has probably given accurate advice. If doubt exists, the family may want to suggest a consultation with another physician.

Q Mrs. B.B. thinks that she has a lump in her belly, but examinations by two physicians have been negative. She wonders if she could be correct.

A Considerable training and experience are necessary to examine the belly for enlarged organs, tumors, or lumps. If you are lean, you may be palpating the front of your vertebrae. I am inclined to agree with your physicians. They will probably want to see you again for a follow-up examination if you have pain, weight loss, or alteration of your bowel function.

Heartline: Several of my friends have had their purses snatched. Can you give me any advice on how to prevent this? J.R.

Answer: First of all do not carry one if you do not have to. There are other places on your body you can carry essentials.

Most purse snatchers are grab-and-run culprits. Unfortunately purse snatchers are not noted for a gentle grab, so if you must carry a purse, DO NOT wrap the purse strap around your arm.

This will most likely result in a broken arm. Many ladies have been dragged down the street, causing severe injuries. The more secure the strap to your arm, the harder you will hit the ground.

Weapons in your purse will do no good, except to enable the snatcher to use the weapon on his next victim.

Do not try to fight the snatcher; nothing in your purse is worth more than your life or six months in the hospital. Heartline suggests a coat with large pockets that will conceal a small billfold-type purse. Perhaps an inside zip pocket for your money, even if you must carry a purse.

If you notice a person following you, stay on lighted streets or run to the nearest house or building that looks occupied. Also, you could run to the nearest mailbox and drop your purse into it. Once a potential purse snatcher sees this, he will usually leave you alone.

From "Warner Brothers: A History of the Studio — Its Pictures, Its Stars, and Personalities" by Charles Higham — It seems agreeably ironical that Rin-Tin-Tin, the most successful animal in motion pictures, and the mainstay of Warner's financial structure, was among the most disagreeable dogs who ever lived. One of his co-stars, who wishes to be anonymous, has remarked: "He was literally and actually a son of a bitch." Everyone who worked with this celebrated quadruped is agreed that he was a monster: ill-tempered, vicious, dangerous. He would attack members of the cast without warning, savage his directors, and answer a friendly pat with a menacing growl and perhaps a serious bite. He was, in fact, the very model of a temperamental Hollywood star, characteristic of the breed in every respect except one: he didn't drink.

DePaul Emerging As New Cage Powerhouse

By JOE MOOSHIL
AP Sports Writer
CHICAGO (AP) — Ray Meyer, the winningest active coach in college basketball, isn't concerned that his DePaul Blue Demons, despite some impressive victories, aren't ranked among the nation's top 20 teams.

"Rankings are far more important near the end of the season than they are now," said Meyer. "Who knows, by then we might be ranked." The Blue Demons can start gaining national attention tonight when they play third-ranked Marquette for what could be the 520th career victory for their 62-year-old, mild-mannered coach. Meyer goes into the game with unusual confidence because his present contingent "has the potential of being the greatest team I've ever had." And, of course, that includes his teams during the 1940s era of George Mikan, who was named the nation's first basketball player in the first half of the century. "This team," said Meyer, "was to have been 'The Team' next season but it has come along very fast. The talent is there but we didn't expect the players to put it together and mature so fast." The players include Dave Corzine, the 7-foot counterpart of Mikan, forwards Joe Ponsetto and Andy Pancratz and guards Randy Ramsey and Ron Norwood. All but Norwood are from the Chicago area.

Norwood is from New Hampshire and "not only had to adjust from being shifted from forward to guard but he played Eastern-style basketball and had to adapt to our style."

DePaul has a 10-2 record this season, defeating teams such as Louisville, Memphis State and Providence while they were ranked and also "Louisiana State down there when they were undefeated."

The losses have come from Arizona State and Detroit, both on second nights of tournaments, both with identical scores of 74-67 and both without the full talents of sophomore giant Corzine. In games Tuesday night, Syracuse defeated Cornell 87-72, Princeton beat St. Joseph's 56-46; Drexel upset LaSalle 74-66; Harvard stunned Boston College 79-65; Boston University defeated Northeastern 74-66; Georgia Tech trimmed East Tennessee State 79-54; Davidson turned back Furman 77-68; Old Dominion stopped William and Mary 77-73; Creighton took a 79-76 overtime decision over Kansas State; Detroit hipped Wisconsin-Parkside 79-63; George Washington downed Connecticut 106-92; Louisville nipped Idaho State 62-51 in double-overtime and Portland State outscored Air Force 67-62.

Chris Sease scored 21 points as Syracuse toyed with Cornell. The Orangemen played all 13 of their players.

Frank Sowinski scored 23 points to lead Princeton over St. Joseph's in the second game of a doubleheader at the Palestra in Philadelphia. In the first game, Drexel upset LaSalle behind Mike Kernan's 22 points.

Brian Banks scored a career-high 32 points and grabbed 18 rebounds to lead Harvard over Boston College and Boston University beat Northeastern 74-66 in the first round of the Beanpot Tournament.

Date Is Changed For Murray-WKU

The Murray State-Western Kentucky basketball game at Murray, originally scheduled for March 1, will be played Feb. 19.

The date of the game was changed to avoid a conflict with the first round of the Ohio Valley Conference tournament.

The Murray-Western game at Bowling Green will be Jan. 31.

25-Footer By Jabbar Carries Lakers To Win

By ALEX SACHARE
AP Sports Writer
Kareem Abdul-Jabbar can beat you in many ways — but with a 25-foot jump shot?

Not a slam-dunk, a sky-hook, a turn-around jump shot or a tap-in — but a 25-foot jumper. That's what the towering Los Angeles Lakers center used to beat the Chicago Bulls 104-102 Tuesday night.

With three seconds to play and the score tied, Abdul-Jabbar came outside to take the inbounds pass from Cornell Warner, turned to the basket and fired. Who said the big guy was only good around the basket?

"I don't think the Bulls were expecting me to take the high arching shot I took."

No, they weren't. "We were ready defensively to play them and the ball," said Chicago Coach Dick Motta. "We were all in perfect position. They had good shooters on the floor, but we thought we had everything covered."

Everything, that is, except a 25-foot jumper by Abdul-Jabbar.

Celtics 106, Trail Blazers 94 Boston led by as many as 21 points in the third period, then saw Portland close to within four before putting the game away with an 11-2 burst, John Havlicek getting seven of the 11 points. Havlicek led Boston with 27 points while Bill Walton, turning in his second consecutive strong effort, took game honors for Portland with 32.

Bucks 114, SuperSonics 108 Elmore Smith's three-point play with 41 seconds left sealed the victory for the Bucks after Seattle had closed to within two points in the final minute. Bob Dandridge topped Milwaukee with 25 points.

Warriors 127, Braves 101 Charles Johnson hit seven of eight field goal attempts in the first quarter and finished with a career-high 26 points for the Warriors, who have won seven of their last eight and are 17-1 at home this season. Bob McAdoo topped Buffalo with 28 points, while Phil Smith added 25 for Golden State.

Hall And Mears Still Battling With Words

By BOB COOPER
AP Sports Writer
LEXINGTON, Ky. (AP) — Tennessee basketball coach Ray Mears' comment that it isn't unusual for players to take the place of fellow players for jump balls and the like has Kentucky coach Joe Hall furious.

"I just don't want to listen to that garbage," Hall said Tuesday when a reporter tried to tell him what Mears had said.

Mears said it is "not unusual for a taller man to step in on a jump ball or a better foul shooter to go to the line" in place of a fellow player.

"Is it usual to cheat?" Hall snapped.

The newest outbreak in the longtime war between the universities of Kentucky and Tennessee athletics came when Hall said Tennessee's Ernie Grunfeld took four free throws last week that weren't supposed to be his.

"I even showed you (with stop-action films) on television that he (Grunfeld) wasn't in the picture when the fouls were committed," Hall said. "What else am I supposed to do?"

Hall, in his announcement to the public Sunday night—24 hours after the game in which Tennessee scored an overtime victory—called it a "premeditated conspiracy."

Mears termed that phrase "pretty strong language."

"If he's talking about me and my staff teaching players to take foul shots for one another, then I'll have something to say about that," Mears said.

"If he's trying to accuse the official, he's talking about one who I've known for a long time as a man of great integrity," the Tennessee coach continued.

Referee Don Wedge was involved in both calls, in which Grunfeld took—and made—two free throws each time. He said he was mystified about whether the wrong player went to the foul line.

Both Wedge and Mears said the Kentucky coaches or the official scorer, employed by the university here, could have corrected any possible error by protesting at the time Grunfeld took the line.

Hall said it not only is impossible for the coaches on the bench to see who was fouled, but sometimes the players on the floor don't even know.

"For instance, a guy jumps up and lands on your back and you might think you were fouled. But maybe he fouled somebody else before he hit you, so the free throws would go to that man," Hall said.

Hall said Wedge is "just asking us to do his job."

Grunfeld, meantime, issued a statement through his coach saying "the only free throws I shot were my own. There's no question about who was the shooter at the time."

"I don't want to have a reputation of cheating," Mears quoted Grunfeld as saying.

Hall said some other

Southeastern Conference coaches had told him they planned to go over films of games where they played Tennessee and "we'll look at some of them, too."

He said he didn't know of the switch at the free throw line until a fan related word to him at halftime of last Saturday's game. He said he confirmed it by studying movies the next day.

Alcorn State, on the strength of three victories, moved into the No. 1 spot in The Associated Press College Division basketball poll, ousting last week's leader, Kentucky State, which was idle.

Alcorn boosted its record to 13-0 while second-place Kentucky State is 7-1. Alcorn garnered 18 first place ballots and 321 points to edge Kentucky State, which had 16 ballots for No. 1 and 316 points.

Tennessee State, 8-2, also idle last week, suffered in the balloting by a panel of sports writers and broadcasters, dropping from fourth to fifth in the weekly poll.

Grand Canyon, 11-1, grabbed one first place vote and held on to its No. 3 spot with 206 points and Gardner-Webb, 15-2, moved up from fifth to fourth, changing places with the Tennessee State Tigers. Gardner-Webb polled 205 points, just missing a third-place tie, while Tennessee State finished with 173 points.

No. 6 St. Mary's of Texas and No. 7 Fairmont State moved up to sixth and seventh, respectively. St. Mary's, 12-2, was eighth a week ago and Fairmont, 7-0, was 11th.

Nebraska-Omaha, the No. 5 team last week, lost its only outing and dropped to an 8-3 record and eighth place in the poll. Marymount, Kan., 14-3, jumped up three places to ninth while North Dakota, 10-2, advanced four notches to 10th.

Rounding out the Top 15, in order, are Gannon, 9-2; Madison, Va., 9-1; Norfolk State, 7-3, and a 14th place tie between Cheyney State, 9-2, and Tennessee-Chattanooga, 8-3.

Six Lakers Hit Double Digits In 94-69 Win Over Cuba Cubs

DON ON DEFENSE—Senior Don McCuiston (43) of the Lakers had his best game of the season as he blocked several shots, had a good night on the boards and scored 12 points. Also in the picture are Tommy Futrell of the Lakers and Mike West (40) and Ricky Walker (55) of Cuba.

Here's one for the CB nuts who just happen to like basketball.

We all know a cub is a small bear. And all the CB nuts know what bears are, right? The bears got arrested themselves Tuesday night in Jeffrey Gymnasium. Calloway County's Lakers put the hammer down on Cuba's Cubs 94-69.

Leading the Lakers' down the road of victory was a convoy of six players who hit in double figures as Calloway trucked to its third win of the season and second in its last three outings.

It was "10-4" all the way with the fans and a "10-6" night for the operator of the scoreboard as the Lakers had one of their better offensive nights in recent years.

"I thought we missed the open man a few too many times," Coach David King said.

"We missed quite a few shots under the basket and we didn't really have the killer instinct but we were sure glad to get the win," King added. Calloway had the killer instinct twice in the game. It was what happened in between that didn't please King.

The Lakers, running and gunning most of the night, went ahead for good early in the first period as former Cuba standout David Williams swished a 15-footer to put Calloway County on top 8-6.

Still leading by two points, the Lakers began moving out midway through the period as Mike Wells and Tommy Futrell both scored from inside and Calloway pushed the margin to six at 18-12.

With just over a minute left in, yet, the opening frame, the Lakers led 24-16. Williams scored on a tip, Futrell added a free throw and senior center Don McCuiston hit two charity tosses and at the end of the quarter, the Lakers led 29-16.

The largest lead of the first half came at the 3:32 mark when Fly Beane scored on a putback to boost the Lakers to a 45-26 cushion. At intermission, Calloway led 50-35.

It was all Tommy Futrell in the third period as the 5-8 junior sparkplug got red-hot from the long range. Calloway was leading 54-37 when Futrell went on a scoring rampage and hit four straight long shots to put the Lakers out to a 62-37 bulge.

At the end of the third quarter, Calloway led 68-47.

Then in the fourth period, the Lakers experienced a bit of a letdown. Cuba came out running and scored the first eight points of the frame and Calloway's lead suddenly was down to just 13 at 68-55. But over the next three minutes, Calloway outscored Cuba 11-4 and the game again became a rout.

"We just slacked up at the beginning of the last quarter and just didn't go out and try to finish them off until they got back in the game," King said. Calloway outrebounded Cuba 50-25 with Williams pulling down 14 and Beane, having his best game of the season, grabbing 13.

In the scoring department, Futrell fired in a game-high 29 points while Williams had 16. Senior Don McCuiston scored 12 while Wells, Beane and Greg Byars all had 11 apiece.

McCuiston was very impressive as he blocked a couple of shots and had an excellent game in coming off the bench after Wells got in foul trouble.

"Don did a real good job for us. He has really improved since the start of the season. He's getting much more aggressive and playing with a lot more confidence," King said.

For Cuba, Terry Edwards scored 25 points while Dale Seay added 15 and Mike West 14.

In the preliminary game, a battle of winless teams, the Lakers held off a late surge to take a 43-42 victory. Cuba's varsity is now 3-10.

Calloway County will host a tough Fulton County club Friday before traveling to Marshall County next Tuesday. Then a week from this Friday, the Lakers will face their biggest game of the season in cross-town rival Murray High.

'Bear' Favors New Alignment Proposed For NCAA Football

By PAUL LeBAR
AP Sports Writer
ST. LOUIS (AP) —

Alabama's Coach Bear Bryant has promised a backdrop of strong emotion for issues facing today's opening of the National Collegiate Athletic Association's 70th convention.

Bryant, commenting Tuesday night on proposed football divisional realignment, labeled the item "the most important issue that's ever come before this convention."

"I think we should all be willing to make some sacrifices," he added in respect to a proposed 91-school football "super division" he and the Southeastern Conference favor.

"But I couldn't speak for the SEC itself," Bryant emphasized. "As a matter of fact, I really can't even speak for Alabama, because I don't have a vote."

Neither confirmed nor denied by Bryant, who in September instituted unsuccessful legal action to rescind NCAA restrictions on football traveling squads, was a published report the SEC would bolt the organization if realignment fails.

"So what if we pull out?" Bryant was quoted by the Memphis Commercial Appeal as having said earlier Tuesday at an SEC pre-convention meeting.

"ABC wouldn't televise us," the newspaper quoted him as saying, "but NBC might come in, televise us and we will get all the money."

"I think there are institutions that have the same objectives within the NCAA and the same problems," Bryant later told The Associated Press in more conciliatory tones.

"I think we should join hands," he added, "but I don't think we should join hands at the expense of other institutions."

Until the realignment issue is resolved, there appeared only a slight chance that the convention's nearly 1,000 delegates will address themselves seriously to another issue: a proposed Division I football championship playoff.

Meanwhile, other stormy issues that may heat up sessions on the convention floor include those calling for distribution of Division I television revenues among all three NCAA divisions, a sore point for Bryant and the SEC, and further restrictions on recruiting.

A proposal to provide financial aid for student-athletes on a need basis was to be brought up today during a session devoted to legislation left over from an August special convention, but it too was given little chance of reaching final action.

In conjunction with the convention, the annual meeting of the American Football Coaches Association entered its second day at a hotel crosstown.

"We need to be in different convention halls," said the AFCA's outgoing president, Texas' Darrell Royal, in reference to disparities between large school and small school athletic needs.

Capitals Now Have Gone 22 Games Without Win

By GORDON BEARD
AP Sports Writer

LANDOVER, Md. (AP) — The Washington Capitals, on a treadmill to National Hockey League immortality, have extended their seemingly endless string of negative records.

After losing 3-2 to the Montreal Canadiens Tuesday night, the hapless Caps stand alone in the record book with a mark of 22 consecutive games without a victory, one more than the 1944 New York Rangers and the 1950 Chicago Black Hawks.

"This is getting ridiculous," said goalie Ron Low, one of the few players who has suffered through both seasons of misery with the expansion team, although he wasn't in the nets for the record-breaker.

"Records really don't mean that much," Low said, "but it gets to you after awhile. We've got to crack out of it." Elsewhere in the NHL Tuesday night, it was New York Islanders 1, Detroit 0; Los Angeles 3, Atlanta 0; Boston 6, Pittsburgh, and St. Louis 7, Buffalo 3.

Low was around last season, Washington's first in the league, when the Caps set 11 negative records while posting an 8-67-5 log. The current team is 3-36-5.

The Caps, who have managed to play three ties since last winning on Nov. 26, made a valiant effort to pull off what would approach a miracle against a team which had beaten them three times previously by a combined 22-3 score.

But Montreal, with the best record in the NHL to date, bounced back quickly after each Washington score and

League-Leading Nuggets Blow Out Nets 137-113

DENVER (AP) — The Denver Nuggets are earning a reputation as a team that knows how to rally when the pressure is on.

For the second night in a row, the Nuggets used a third-period scoring surge to carry them to an American Basketball Association victory.

The league-leading Nuggets downed the New York Nets 137-113 Tuesday night, earning the right to host the ABA All-Star game Jan. 27. Byron Beck and Claude Terry came off the bench late in the third quarter to help Denver break open a close game.

It was the only ABA game of the night.

"Our players really felt pressure to be the host team," Denver Coach Larry Brown said after the game.

"Guys like David (Thompson), Ralph (Simpson), Bobby (Jones) and Dan (Isel) are gonna be all-stars then used its top-rated defense to hold the lead after Mario Tremblay's tie-breaking goal at 5:45 of the second period.

For just about five glorious minutes, the Caps held the lead on Nelson Pyatt's 18th goal of the season, tops among NHL rookies. But the Canadiens went ahead with goals by Rick Chartraw, his first of the season, and Larry Robinson in the final two minutes of the first period.

Islanders 1, Red Wings 0
Bryan Trotter set up Clark Gillies' 19th goal of the season at 6:29 of the opening period, then goalie Glenn Resch made it stand up by stopping 27 shots for his fifth shutout of the season for the Islanders, who drew into a tie with Atlanta for second place in the Patrick Division.

Bruins 6, Penguins 2

Brad Park scored twice as Boston grabbed a 4-0 lead in the opening 10 minutes and stretched its unbeaten string to eight games and continued its dominance over Pittsburgh. In the last 21 meetings, the Bruins have come away with 19 wins and two ties.

Kings 3, Flames 0

Rogie Vachon notched his fourth shutout of the season for Los Angeles, with Butch Goring, Bob Berry and Vic Venaski getting the goals. The loss snapped Atlanta's six-game unbeaten streak and 11-game home unbeaten string.

Blues 7, Sabres 3

Bob MacMillan and Garry Unger got two goals apiece as St. Louis shelled Buffalo goalie Gary Bromley, making his first start of the season since being called up from Providence. Bryan Spencer had a pair of goals for the Sabres.

anyway, but this is great for our team." Beck accounted for four points in the seven-point scoring surge which put the Nuggets ahead for good with just under two minutes to go in the third quarter. He ended up with 20 points for the night.

Brown praised Beck for his performance, saying, "He's happy in his role and he knows his limitations. I've always felt if he got the steam that moves the ball, he'd be unstoppable."

Nets' Coach Kevin Loughery said a crucial point in the game was when Denver built up a 16-point lead in the first half.

"We got back within one and left the court three down, but it took a lot out of us," Loughery said.

Julius Erving scored 17 of his game-high 29 points during the first half to spark the Nets' rally. John Williamson added 18.

NOT QUITE—Fly Beane (35) of the Lakers was just a little late as he cut in front of his Cuba player in an effort to make the steal. Watching are Greg Byars and Don McCuiston of the Lakers and Mike West (40) of Cuba.

Barred Windows Can Become Prison In Fires At Homes

An increasing number of urban Americans are placing bars on windows and multiple bolt locks on doors to keep burglars out. Some have found out too late that the devices can create a deadly prison of flames.

Firemen across the nation tell harrowing tales of families, including scores of children, trapped in smoke-choked rooms by metal window grates and key-operated deadbolt "safety" locks.

"The real problem is that people don't realize what happens to them in smoke and fire," said C.G. Nunnally, the fire chief in Birmingham, Mich. "Fire investigators in the past just attributed deaths to smoke and left it at that, rather than wonder why the victims failed to get out."

In many cases the victims got to windows but were imprisoned by their own bars. Others have been found slumped against doors locked from the inside with a key. In the rush to get out they forgot or couldn't find the key.

Fire marshals in urban areas contacted by The Associated Press in an informal survey shared the same general reaction: "We can't tell you not to bar your windows, but there are better ways to protect your home."

Several cities, such as San Francisco and New York, have codes restricting the type of grates that can be put on windows, but door locks aren't as strictly regulated.

In New York City, fire department spokesmen reported from 10 to 20 deaths a year—up to 10 per cent of all fire fatalities in the city—are caused by illegal security grates.

Eight deaths in Detroit this year and at least seven other fatalities elsewhere in Michigan since 1973 have been blamed on deadbolt key locks, said Detroit Fire Marshal Donald L. Robinson.

The most gruesome case in Michigan occurred in Avon, a suburb northwest of Detroit, in December 1974. Firemen found the bodies of a man and his three children—ages 12, 14 and 16—six feet from a door locked with a deadbolt that was keyoperated inside and out.

Such locks are designed to prevent a burglar from opening a small hole in the door, reaching in and unlocking it.

"If you have too many locks on the door, especially double-keyed locks, you may not be able to find the keyhole in an emergency fire situation," said Sgt. Lee Tracy of the Beverly Hills, Calif., police.

In Beverly Hills and Los Angeles three deaths in as many months and four in a year have been attributed to window bars. The Los Angeles City Council recently took action to curb the toll by ordering that window bars be removable from the inside without the use of any special tool or key.

Beverly Hills is famed for its wealthy residents, but in most cases neighborhoods with window bars have been low-income, high-crime areas

D-E Sailor Association Being Formed

The World War II destroyer-escort is a type of naval vessel which has passed into history. Of the more than 400 which were built during World War II, few, if any, remain even in the mothball fleet. Besides World War II, these ships performed with distinction in both the Korean and Vietnam Wars. Although the primary mission was originally anti-submarine warfare, the DE carried out a large variety of tasks with little or no publicity. The demise of the destroyer-escort closes a memorable chapter in naval annals.

Thousands of officers and men served in DE's during World War II and the years following. To preserve the remembrance of these ships and their crews, the Destroyer-Escort Sailors Association has been formed. Any former DE sailor, officer or enlisted, interested in membership or information may contact Frank R. Crawford, STGCS, USN, (Ret), P. O. Box 1280, El Cajon, California 92022.

where people fear not only burglars but rapists and other attackers more than they fear fire, the officials agreed.

Los Angeles Fire Inspector Gilbert Lindley said he can't blame people for being afraid.

"Take a case like the Westside Rapist," he said of the 33 unsolved attacks and 10 murders that still haunt elderly women in west-central

Los Angeles. "They think, 'Put up bars,' but that really isn't the answer."

"I'm an elderly woman, and they (bars) make me feel secure," said one San Bernardino, Calif., resident. "I can sleep with my doors open in the summertime and feel perfectly safe."

"For one thing, you can get smoke detectors," said Lindley. He said there are sophisticated computer-telephone systems which automatically notify police or fire agencies in the event of intruders or fires.

You pay according to the sophistication of a wide range of devices that can be installed, such as electric eyes, listening devices, heat sensors and a variety of alarms, silent and noisy. Most of them currently are more expensive than simple window bars, perhaps one reason why low-income areas opt for the grates.

Of course the more complicated devices often result in an increase in false alarms and "accidental trips," said Lt. Jack Yeske of the police department in San Marino, Calif., an exclusive suburb of Los Angeles.

"There are more sophisticated methods, and they (wealthier homeowners) can afford them," Lindley said.

In Atlanta, Ga., and elsewhere, there are concerted efforts to educate the public about fire safety measures.

"We've had a campaign under way here to preplan fire escape routes and to utilize a window in the escape route," said Atlanta Fire Marshal J.B. Gossett. Barred windows are therefore discouraged, he said.

But if one must put bars on a window, select "security gates that actually swing open," said Beverly Hills Fire Inspector James Anderson. "We're looking at them," he said. "Companies bring them to us. The ideal would be a gate, hinged like a door, that opens out—a strap hinge with the pin protected, that is covered so burglars can't get to it."

He said a knob-operated latch also would be preferable, "like turning a doorknob. One turn and it opens."

Beverly Hills was the scene of the most recent death attributable to burglar-proofing. Muriel Steinmetz, 70, was found in her bathroom next to a barred window.

Bill Would Diminish Services To Alcoholics

FRANKFORT, Ky. (AP) — A senate committee is considering a bill that if passed as written will result in diminished services to persons in the state with drinking problems, says the executive director of the Kentucky Association on Alcohol Abuse and Alcoholism.

The bill, discussed but not acted on Tuesday by the Senate Health and Welfare Committee, would create a Health Occupations Credentialing Board, empowered to grant credentials to persons in health field jobs who meet certain qualifications.

Raymond P. Daugherty, who spoke before the committee, said his organization is not opposed to the concept of the bill, but he noted that many persons who treat those with drinking problems do so "through their own recovery in the disease of alcoholism or through other life experiences."

Alcoholism counselors should receive credentials, he said, even though they may not have formal education or training in the treatment of alcoholics.

Daugherty said the bill "puts the emphasis on the training available, rather than the services being given or the qualifications and abilities of the individual to do the job, regardless of where these qualifications and abilities were obtained."

"Fields for which no academic programs currently exist, in our opinion, may be equally in need of credentialing provisions," he said. "The fact that treatment institutions and institutions of higher learning have failed to establish formal programs of training or have been low in providing for the needs of the alcoholic population in no way changes the need of America's nine million alcoholics for appropriate treatment, and the subsequent need to insure that quality personnel provide that treatment."

The bill, he said, should be redrafted "to reflect the dual reality of the heavy utilization of nondegreed persons in the treatment of alcoholism and the actual lack of academic programs to train people to deal with this problem."

His organization also objects to language in the bill which would require supervisory personnel in health fields to be licensed health professionals.

"In some cases supervisory personnel of alcoholism services do not fulfill traditional medical roles such as M.D., R.N. (registered nurse) ... but are people from other disciplines or even highly experienced and qualified nondegreed professional persons who lack academic preparation but otherwise have been trained and are adequately experienced to fill the role of supervisor," Daugherty said. "If these persons were to be forced out of their jobs and replaced by persons credentialed in some other health occupation, it would not only be a great injustice to that person but would be extremely disruptive to alcoholism services," he said.

States' Rights Still On Minds Of Legislators

Frankfort, Ky. (AP) — The issue of states' rights — which helped plunge the United States into a bitter Civil War more than 100 years ago — is still on the minds of some Kentucky legislators.

And if a resolution approved by a senate committee Tuesday is also okayed by the Senate, then the House — that message will be conveyed in no uncertain terms to President Gerald Ford and to the United States Congress.

The resolution was sponsored by Sens. John M. Berry Jr., D-New Castle, and John F. Lackey, D-Richmond. The resolution if approved would be sent as a petition to the president and to Congress, urging them "to recognize the right of the states to govern their inhabitants."

It asks the president and Congress to "cease usurping the authority of the states by passing and signing into law legislation requiring inspections and establishing standards which are duplicative of existing state laws and regulations."

It says the federal government should curtail the "excessive promulgation of rules and regulations which necessitate the further growth of federal and state bureaucracies."

And it asks that the president and Congress "respect the separate powers reserved by the states and the right to individual freedom of choice by every citizen."

If it's approved, copies will be sent to Ford, Vice President Nelson Rockefeller, the speaker of the U.S. House of representatives and members of Kentucky's congressional delegation.

"DAVE ALLEN AT LARGE" features the antics of the British comedy star on the premiere of the new monthly entertainment potpourri, "Piccadilly Circus," beginning Saturday, January 24, at 8 p.m. (CST) on Kentucky Educational Television (KET). Five Jurors Seated In Lax Trial At Paris

PARIS, Tenn. — Jury selection is continuing here today after only five jurors were chosen Tuesday in the first-degree murder trial of two Murray, Ky., men charged with the shotgun slaying last Aug. 4 of prominent Henry County farmer Travis Lax.

The two, Terry Mitchell Compton, 22, and Donald Ray Scott, 20, sat without acknowledging each other during the proceedings, in which defense attorneys rigorously questioned 36 prospective jurors. About 80 were called Tuesday, and another 50 are to be called today.

Under instructions from Circuit Court Judge Dick Jerman, each defendant and the prosecution is allowed 15 peremptory challenges to reject potential jurors. By the end of the day, Compton's attorneys, Julian Guinn and Brown Hawley, had used six. Marvin Morton, representing Scott, had used seven. All the defense attorneys were court-appointed.

The other jurors were dismissed "for cause" by the court for failing to satisfactorily answer questions put to them by the attorneys.

The five men chosen were Johnny Cooper, Ernest Dumas, Joe Allen, John Harville and George Campbell. Dist. Atty. Gen. William Kinton's questioning stressed whether the juror would convict a man knowing the conviction carries a mandatory death sentence. Some were dismissed because they said they would not.

Defense attorneys asked if the prospective juror would be able to maintain his position in the face of pressure from other jurors, whether they understood the two men, and not the community, was on trial, and whether they would be swayed if evidence that Scott had made a "deal" were presented in court.

The defense also asked if jurors were swayed by pretrial publicity of the case, and others were dismissed because they said they had already formed opinions. The defense has asked Jerman several times to grant a change of venue for the trial.

Compton and Scott were arrested in Kentucky hours after Lax was killed as he and his wife, Dathel, arrived home from a cemetery meeting in nearby Buchanan. Mrs. Lax was wounded as she entered the home, apparently surprising two intruders.

The defendants, who are also charged with burglar and attempted murder, are being held without bond in the county jail.

Schlesinger Available For Consultation On Defense

WASHINGTON (AP) — Former Secretary of Defense James R. Schlesinger has given Ronald Reagan a short course in defense policy, but sources say he has no intention of backing Reagan against President Ford for the Republican presidential nomination.

Sources close to Schlesinger, who was fired by Ford more than two months ago, said he recently flew to California at Reagan's invitation and is available to discuss defense issues with any and all presidential hopefuls, Republican or Democratic. So far as is known, no other candidate has issued any similar invitation to Schlesinger.

However, Schlesinger long has held views close to those of Sen. Henry M. Jackson, D-Wash., and there are indications they have been in contact since Schlesinger was ousted from the Ford cabinet.

Jackson is seeking the Democratic presidential nomination.

Schlesinger was wounded by his abrupt dismissal but has

Sheppard Elected By Craftsmen

Fred Sheppard, Chairman of the Ceramic Area at Murray State University, has been elected to the Board of Trustees of the Kentucky Guild of Artists & Craftsmen, Inc.

Others elected to three year terms were Marie Hochstrasser, Lexington, and Jerry Workman of Berea. According to Guild Director Garry Barker, a record number of ballots were cast in the statewide election.

Sheppard holds degrees from Michigan State University, and has been a Murray faculty member since 1962. He has belonged to the Kentucky Guild since 1965, exhibiting at their Fairs and serving as Chairman of the Guild's Standards Committee. His work has been widely exhibited and collected; he participated in the 1972 International Ceramics Symposium in Memphis, Tennessee.

Continuing members of the Guild's nine member Board of Trustees are Trudy Thompson, Fulton; A. G. McConnell, Danville; Edgar Hume, Lexington; Charlie Lewis and Ed Dienes, Louisville; and Smith Ross, Pine Knot. The Guild's Board, elected by the over 450 members, serves as a policy making and management body for all Guild functions.

Major 1976 Guild projects include Fairs in Berea May 27-30 and October 1-3 and operation of the Guild Gallery in Lexington.

Congress Expected To Vote Cut Of Aid To Angola This Month

WASHINGTON (AP) — Congress appears likely to reject a new appeal from President Ford and to vote to cut off U.S. aid to Angola this month, House sources predict.

A House source said Tuesday no head count has been taken but that the House appears to have the votes to approve a Senate-passed measure cutting off Angola aid. A State Department official also conceded the administration faces an "uphill battle" to win House approval for continued aid to Angola. Rep. Don Bonker, D-Wash., who signed up nearly 140 House votes against Angola aid in three hours just before Congress left town last month, says he is confident he can get the 220 votes needed to guarantee a House cutoff of the aid.

Bonker also is trying to block the Ford administration's favorite "backchannel" of providing U.S. aid to Angola through Zaire. White House Press Secretary Ron Nessen said Tuesday that President Ford will ask Congress next week to permit continued U.S. aid to anti-Soviet forces in Angola. Ford presumably will make the request in his State of the Union message to Congress on Monday night.

The Senate tacked the Angolan aid cutoff onto a $112.3-billion defense appropriation bill last month by a vote of 54 to 22.

House Appropriation Committee Chairman George H. Mahon, D-Tex., said he and House leaders have not scheduled a House vote on the bill, but other sources said the vote could come as early as next week.

Ford has not said whether he would veto the massive defense funding bill if Congress keeps the Angola aid cutoff in it.

Bonker said he believes his resolution against Angola aid received heavy House support

Kidnap Victim Killed; Ransom Money Is Paid

GULFPORT, Miss. (AP) — When banker Charles W. Marter paid $25,000 in a desperate attempt to win freedom for his kidnaped wife, the woman may already have been dead.

"She had been dead several hours," Coroner Edgar Little said Tuesday after authorities were led to the crumpled body of the 36-year-old mother of two. She had been shot in the back of the head.

"The pickup was made this morning," Little said of the ransom paid by Marter, "and the arrest at about 3:30 this afternoon, so that's quite a time span."

Little said only an autopsy will tell for sure when the woman died. He said he will conduct the examination today.

Both Houses Of Legislature Expected To Adopt Permanent Open Meetings Rules

FRANKFORT, Ky. (AP) — Both houses of the Kentucky legislature—before adjourning for a long weekend holiday this afternoon—were expected to adopt permanent rules that will open meetings of committees which have met secretly in the past.

The proposed rules would open to the press meetings of each chamber's rules committee. Rules committees receive bills approved by other committees and decide whether to send them to the floor for a vote or back to a committee.

Copies of the proposed rules for the 1976 session were distributed to members in both chambers on Tuesday. Both are lengthy but contain few changes.

Sen. Tom Garrett, D-Paducah, the majority leader in the upper chamber, said the Democratic caucus would meet before the Senate convenes to discuss possible changes in the proposed rules. He said he expects some alterations to be made in the rules.

The major changes in the Senate's proposed new rules, he said, "are opening rules committee meetings to the press and requiring fiscal analysis" of bills. He said there are a few other "minor" procedural changes included in the new rules.

The House Democratic caucus, which controls the lower chamber, already has voted to open rules committee meetings to the press but not to the public.

"The only other major change is a fiscal note," said House Majority Leader Bobby Richardson, D-Glasgow.

"Bills which have fiscal implications, before they are considered, must have a fiscal note attached indicating the short term and long range fiscal implications on state and local governments," Richardson said.

The new Senate rules include a provision stating that meetings of the rules committee "shall be open to members of the Senate, members of the Capital Press Club and such others as the chairman or committee may invite."

But the provision also states that no cameras or other recording devices will be allowed to be brought into rules committee meetings.

Both chambers met only briefly on Tuesday. In the House, activity mainly involved requests by legislators to add their names to bills as sponsors or to remove their names from bills.

Richardson rose to call for legislative equality with the other branches of state government. He said the general assembly must make sure that each piece of legislation receives close scrutiny.

The house voted on a resolution to adjourn, but one

Kenton Says Slow Start Could Be Good Indication In Kentucky

FRANKFORT, Ky. (AP) — The 1976 General Assembly has gotten off to a slow start in terms of the number of bills passed—but House Speaker Bill Kenton, D-Lexington, says the first days could be an indication of what the entire session will be like.

"I wasn't sent here to see how many bills could be passed," he said in an interview Tuesday.

"The system's going to be slowed down—but in the end it will be much more responsive to the demands of the people," he said.

"The whole emphasis is on quality, not quantity. It's no assistance to us simply to report legislation (out of committee)."

Kenton made his remarks during a discussion of rule changes proposed by the House leadership. Copies of the proposed rules were distributed to members of the House during Tuesday's general session.

They were to be submitted to the Democratic caucus today for review and Kenton said the proposed rules might also be brought before the full House for a vote today.

One of the key changes in the House rules this year is to open all meetings of the rules committee to members of the House and the press.

Kenton sees this change as evidence of the House leadership's commitment to open and responsible government. The rules committee acts as traffic director for all legislation, sending it back to committee or onto the floor of the House for a vote.

A second major change in the proposed rules involves the procedure by which a bill gets considered in committee.

The proposed rules would require the chairman of a standing committee to post a bill at least three days in advance of when it will be considered.

In addition, this year's rules would require anyone wanting a bill posted for consideration to file a "posting form" with the committee chairman containing information on who might be available to speak for or against the bill.

Kenton said the purpose of the increased notice time and of the posting form is "to give interested citizens adequate notice" that a particular bill will be brought up.

"We plan to employ the committee system—and we believe in notice and in being fully advised before the committee meets," Kenton said.

He also said the posting requirement would make it easier for committee chairmen to plan their meetings, and to schedule additional meetings on Monday or Friday if the workload warranted.

However, some legislators took issue with the posting requirement, saying it could delay legislation, and that filling out posting forms is an unnecessary burden on legislators.

There also was criticism of another major provision of the proposed rules, a requirement that a fiscal note—or financial impact statement—be prepared for every bill with a potential financial impact on state or local government.

While admitting that the idea of fiscal analysis is good, some legislators were critical of the proposed rule change because it too might delay legislation.

One representative pointed out that it allows not only the sponsor of the bill to decide legislation needs a fiscal note, but also the committee chairman, and prohibits a committee from acting on a measure until a fiscal note is prepared by the Legislative Research Commission.

The rules also require fiscal notes to be prepared for any amendment offered to a bill on the House floor.

Kenton said the rules changes should make it clear "we are not trying to speed up the process."

"We are trying to slow it down, to ensure that bills are given full and due consideration in committee," he added.

Southeastern Farmers Receive Higher Prices In Recent Week

ATLANTA, Ga. — Southeastern farmers received higher prices for most of their commodities during the week ended Jan. 9, USDA's Agricultural Marketing Service reports. The exception were hogs, eggs and heavy hens.

Cattle producers received higher prices for all feeder classes. Feeder steers and calves were steady to $1 higher with instances of $2 up. Heifers were steady to $2 higher. On the other hand, hog prices at Georgia-Florida-Alabama packing plants were 50 cents lower.

Grain prices rallied under improved demand and posted gains. Soybeans were mostly 20 to 30 cents higher with a cash spread of $4.25 to $4.75. Corn advanced mostly 8 to 12 cents a bushel and sold in a range of $2.44 to $2.81½.

Cotton prices continued their upward trend and reached the highest level in over one year. The ten spot market average was 58.45 cents per pound.

Southeastern broiler-fryer markets began the new year with a firm undertone. Prices were over 1 cent a pound higher than pre-holiday values. Light hen prices reversed their recent downward trend and were steady, while heavy hens were barely steady to weak. Egg prices fell sharply—up to 6 cents per dozen.

Burley tobacco prices were stronger, while peanut prices were about steady.

POULTRY—Southeastern broiler-fryer markets reflected a firm undertone for business the week of Jan. 12. Preliminary F. O. B. dock equivalent prices in Alabama for U. S. Grade A were 38.28 cents per pound and plant grade 37.53 cents. Demand was generally good with inquiries often in excess of plant capacities. Live supplies were ample and sizes ranged from desirable to heavy.

Market conditions were barely steady to weak on heavy type hens and steady on light type. Supplies were adequate for processor needs. Demand was good to slow with the best interest centered on light hens. Processors were generally cautious. Prices paid at farm for heavy hens were 22 to 23 cents and light type ranged 6½ to 9 cents, mostly 7½ to 8½ cents.

EGGS—Southeastern egg prices were sharply lower during the week ended Jan. 9. Demand was improved and ranged from generally good in retail channels to fair to good in other outlets. Graded supplies were about adequate while nest run inventories were fairly heavy. Cartoned prices to retailers for extra large eggs ranged 72 to 77 cents and mediums 69 to 74 cents.

PEANUTS—The Georgia-Florida-Alabama shelled peanut market was about steady during the week ended Jan. 8. Demand was light and trading slow. Offerings of most grades were fairly light. Sales quotations for prompt through May delivery were: Runner Jumbo, mostly 35 cents; U. S. Splits, mostly 26½ to 27 cents; and Spanish No. 1, 32 to 32½ cents. There were too few sales in the Virginia-North Carolina area to quote prices.

COTTON—Active trading continued at southern cotton markets during the week ended Jan. 9. Merchant demand was good, spot cotton prices were steady to about 100 points higher than a week earlier and farmers offered freely. Grade 41 staple 34 cotton brought 57 to 59 cents per pound. Crop lots sold for 54 to 60 cents, depending on qualities involved, size of lots and location. Farmers contracted several thousand acres of 1976 crop cotton during the week. Most contracts were for 53.50 to 54.50 cents per pound, basis grade 41 staple 34, 3.3 to 5.2 mike cotton.

Domestic mills bought a moderate volume of cotton and prices were steady to about 100 points higher than a week ago. Purchases consisted of 1975 crop cotton with delivery dates extending through the third quarter, as well as some 1976 crop cotton. The export market was slow.

Quotations for grade 41 (strict low middling) staple 34 cotton at the 10 designated spot markets averaged 58.45 cents per pound Jan. 8. This compares with 56.57 cents a week earlier and 36.16 cents a year ago. Individual southern market quotations compared with a week earlier (second figure) and a year ago (third figure) were: Augusta 61.25, 59.40 and 38.85; Greenville 59.75, 57.50 and 38.00; Greenwood 58.80, 56.80 and 36.80; Memphis 58.10, 56.60 and 36.80; and Montgomery 60.35, 58.35 and 37.55.

FRUITS & VEGETABLES — Trading and prices were mixed for Southeastern area fruits and vegetables during the week ended Jan. 9. Shipments were generally unchanged. Prices were higher on small yellow squash at $10.15 a bushel hamper and pole beans at $7.15. Green tomatoes brought $8 a 30-pound carton.

Florida cabbage sold at $3.50 a 50-pound carton, carrots $3.75 a sack and celery $8 a crate of 36 stalks. Florida yellow corn was lower at $3.50 a crate.

Prices were unchanged for North Carolina sweet potatoes at $6.25 to $7 a 50-pound carton.

HONEY—Florida honey prices were steady during the week ended Jan. 9. Bakery grade sold at 30 cents per pound, light beeswax $1.05 per pound and dark $1.03.

GRAIN—Corn and soybean prices closed the period ending Jan. 9 at moderately higher levels. Corn ranged 3 to 16 cents higher, mostly 8 to 12 cents higher. The cash spread was $2.44 to $2.81½. Soybeans ranged 13 to 42 cents higher, mostly 20 to 30 cents higher with a cash spread of $4.25 to $4.75.

During the holiday season, there were no major market influences and prices moved irregularly upwards. Trading in the cash product was dull. During the week, farm to market trading increased a little as cold weather prompted heavier livestock usage.

Bids to corn producers at southeastern Virginia points closed at $2.45 to $2.74; Richmond $2.53 to $2.65 and Wilson, N. C. $2.59. South Carolina's Piedmont area was $2.44 and the Central area $2.75. Louisville, Ky. prices ranged $2.51 to $2.56½ and Ohio Valley points were $2.47 to $2.55. Alabama trucklot offerings were $2.78 to $2.80 and Georgia multi-cartlot offerings $2.77½ to $2.78. Terminal prices at Memphis closed at $2.77½ to $2.81½ and Norfolk $2.74.

Bids to soybean producers at Southeast Virginia points were 10 to 22 cents higher at $4.25 to $4.60 and Richmond $4.26 to $4.40. Wilson, N. C. prices were $4.40. South Carolina's Piedmont area was $4.25, Central $4.58 and Coastal $4.63. Louisville, Ky. ranged $4.53½ to $4.56 and Ohio Valley points were $4.53 to $4.59. Bids to producers in Alabama gained 33 cents at $4.43 to $4.53. Terminal prices at Memphis $4.53½ to $4.63½; Norfolk $4.64 to $4.69; Raleigh and Fayetteville $4.48 to $4.48½; Chicago $4.65½ and Gulf export bids $4.65 to $4.75.

TOBACCO—Prices were stronger during the week ended Jan. 9. Several burley tobacco markets ended their sales for the season during the period. Gross sales through Jan. 8 compared with the same period a year ago were: Burley—569,286,900 pounds, averaged $104.94 per hundred, compared with 612,671,677 at $115.00 per hundred. One Sucker—4,389,480 pounds averaged $91.48, compared with 5,809,270 pounds at $76.26. Green River—2,776,496 pounds averaged $90.17, compared with 2,345,250 pounds at $83.08.

CATTLE—Feeder cattle trended higher during the first full week of trading since the New Year holiday. Receipts of feeder cattle at selected markets totaled 38,900 head.

Compared with last week's light supply, feeder steers and steer calves were steady to $1 higher, instances of $2 higher. Heifers and heifer calves ranged steady to $2 higher. Demand remained good for most weights and grades.

In representative sales around the Southeast, Choice 200 to 300 pound steer calves sold at $24 to $32.50, Florida up to $35; 300 to 400 pounds $26 to $35; 400 to 500 pounds $28 to $35; and 500 to 600 pound steers brought $28 to $36. Good 200 to 300 pound steer calves sold at $18 to $28, Florida to $31; 300 to 400 pounds $21.50 to $30, Florida up to $32 and Alabama down to $19; 400 to 500 pounds $22 to $31, Florida to $33; and 500 to 600 pound steers brought $22 to $32.

Choice 200 to 300 pound heifer calves sold at $18 to $25; 300 to 400 pounds $20 to $27, Florida to $30; 400 to 500 pounds $21 to $28, Florida to $31; and 500 to 600 pound heifers brought $22 to $29, Florida to $30. Good 200 to 300 pound heifer calves sold at $14 to $24, 300 to 400 pounds $16 to $25; 400 to 500 pounds $17 to $26; and 500 to 600 pound heifers brought $18 to $26.

HOGS—Barrows and gilts at Georgia-Florida-Alabama packing plants closed mostly 50 cents lower during the week ended Jan. 9. On Friday, Jan. 9, U. S. 1 to 2, 195 to 230 pounds, barrows and gilts brought $48.75 to $49. Several lots brought $49.25 to $49.50. U. S. 2 to 3 butcher hogs, 195 to 240 pounds, cashed at $48 to $48.75.

73-Year Old Nudist Colony Manager Denies Immodesty

LOS GATOS, Calif. (AP) — "Some people say we are immodest," says the 73-year-old woman manager of a nudist colony in the Santa Cruz hills. "I say the way some people dress is immodest."

"Many girls and women wear clothes in public that are too skimpy and too tight," said Ethel Plant. "I wouldn't think of going downtown without wearing hose."

Mrs. Plant, who's been managing the Lupin Lodge nudist camp for 26 years, said she is ready for those who might consider her a prude because of her old-fashioned notions about how people should dress.

"I may be old-fashioned, but I don't think people should appear in public in clothes designed to attract attention," she said. "When everybody's nude, everybody's the same and you can't very well be showing off your body."

Lupin Lodge is a private resort on 119 acres south of here that caters to families who flock there for vacations and weekends.

She said she and her late husband, Ray, became supporters of nudism after reading about it during World War II.

"We liked the freedom of being without clothes, especially in the water."

There's nothing worse than a wet bathing suit. Did you ever notice, the swimming pool is the only place people will sit around in wet clothes?"

Mrs. Plant and her husband became joint managers of Lupin Lodge in 1950. She said that after her husband died in 1963 she welcomed the chance to stay on.

"I meet so many interesting people, many more than I would any other place," she said. "Some are the most far-out people I know and some are the most prudish people."

"I become confidante to many of our members. People tell me things they say they wouldn't tell anyone else."

Shown here is the intersection of Parklane and South 16th Street which has been cleared of Shrubbery that had made it one of the "blind corners" in the city of Murray. This same intersection was pictured in October as the Theta Department of the Murray Woman's Club started an effort in Murray to get a list of obstructions to drivers to present to the local city officials in an effort to help for more safe driving. Members of the Theta Department expressed appreciation to all residents, officials, and motorists who have helped in any way to correct obstructions or "blind corners" that could be a hazard to motorists and pedestrians in the city of Murray.

Better Personal Habits Would Improve Health, Report Shows

WASHINGTON (AP)—The federal government's first report on the status of the nation's health notes some improvements in U.S. medical care but says that American health also could be improved by better personal habits.

The report by the Department of Health, Education and Welfare indicated that excessive use of alcohol and tobacco and the lack of exercise and proper diet contribute heavily to heart disease, cancer and respiratory disease.

Death and disability from those factors "are preventable primarily by changes in individual behavior," said Dr. Theodore Cooper, HEW assistant secretary for health. "The data suggests that much improvement in health status could come from individual action."

The report also said improved medical care of children and young adults is resulting in a larger number of older people who suffer more frequently from chronic diseases. The three-volume report released Monday attempts for the first time, under congressional mandate, to take the nation's temperature and list its health pluses and minuses.

Infant mortality, frequently considered to be a yardstick of general health conditions, has dropped about 4 per cent a year since 1964 after a decade of little change, the report said.

The 1974 rate of 16.5 infant deaths per 1,000 live births ranked the United States 15th in the world. Just 24 years earlier the U.S. infant mortality rate was 47 per 1000.

"The period 1-14 years of age now has the lowest overall death rate of any period throughout the span of life," the report said. It said 73 per cent of babies born in 1973 could expect to reach age 65 compared with only 41 per cent born in 1900.

Only 43 children died in 1973 from tuberculosis, diphtheria, polio and measles, compared with 2,729 in 1950. Similarly, child deaths from influenza and pneumonia averaged about 14,000 annually in the 1930s but had dropped off to 1,345 in 1973, the report said.

Death rates in accidents involving children, however, have remained just about constant at 12,500 a year. Roughly half result from motor vehicle mishaps.

The report said young adults aged 15-24 died less frequently now from TB, heart disease, flu and pneumonia but, since 1950, the toll from accidents, suicides and homicides has increased rapidly.

In 1973 there were more than 77,500 deaths from those causes among adults aged 15-44, and the toll among younger people aged 15-24 increased one-third from car accidents and more than doubled from murder and suicide since 1950.

Among older adults aged 45-64, the report said, death rates from stroke, arteriosclerosis, kidney disease and gastric ulcers have all shown marked reductions but the cancer death rate has increased from 269 per 100,000 persons in 1950 to 292 in 1973.

The other exceptions to the generally brighter health picture are that death rates more than doubled during the last decade from cirrhosis of the liver and bronchitis, emphysema and asthma, the latter three aggravated by smoking and air pollution.

Black Walnut Banditry To Increase In Boone Forest

WINCHESTER, Ky. (AP)—It's winter, and time for the annual increase in black walnut banditry in the Daniel Boone National Forest.

"We always expect to lose a few black walnuts in the winter months, when the sap is down and the veneer is better," said Bill Williams, timber staff officer for the forest preserve in Eastern Kentucky.

A recent U.S. Forest Service report said cedar thieves sneak into private and government forests in Idaho and haul out loads valued at $200 to $300.

That's small time compared with the take of a black walnut thief, Williams said.

While the forest hasn't kept records of its losses, he said, a single black walnut tree can be worth $750 to $1,000.

He said tree stealing, a problem in the Boone forest for generations, fluctuates with the economy, becoming worse if unemployment is high or the timber market is good.

White oak is also popular with poachers, who usually hunt out the valuable specimens and haul them off with a tractor or draft animal, Williams said.

"It's sort of a scattered situation. We rarely miss more than one or two trees in the same area, and they go mostly where there is little activity by forest personnel," he said.

Big trees aren't the only targets, he added. "Any tree with a good market value will be taken."

"We even miss shrubby-type trees, such as white pine. They dig them up by the roots, ball them up like a nursery would and take them off for transplanting on their lawns, we suspect."

"We know of only one case where shrubby trees were being dug up for sale," he said.

Williams said most of the trees taken from the Boone forest are sold to Kentucky mills, and some are shipped overseas.

However, he said, the Boone forest has a good record for catching tree thieves before they get to the mills.

"We have a lot of people in the field, and they look carefully at loads of logs being hauled on the highways, he said. "If they don't recognize the haulers, they ask around and usually learn where the logs came from."

The mills help, too.

Shipwrecks yield valuable treasures

Divers frequently return to shore with examples of 18th and 19th century wine bottles, cutglass decanters and other items from the sea floor of the Bahamas.

Historians say they are all that is left of centuries-old shipwrecks.

YOUR Newspaper

Who makes the news this newspaper cares about?

You do, of course...Just take a look through these pages!

Somewhere there's the name of a new citizen or two who's come into our lives noisy and hungry. To you, it's a baby. To others it's a sister or a brother or a niece or a grandson. But its arrival is an important and happy event worthy of notice.

Somewhere else there is news of losses—grievous ones—and we have occasion to reflect on the sometimes inscrutable nature of life's patterns.

Then there are graduations, and weddings, homecomings and leavings. There are meetings and plans and projects...All the efforts expended by you to advance a cause, change a situation, improve our community. There are promotions and advancements and honors and controversies.

There are the exertions of volunteer firemen serving us with their skill and dedication.

All this—the complexity of community life—is reported and commented on by this newspaper 309 days a year. And the circle of our responsibility expands as our circulation grows into neighboring communities and phenomenal speed, requiring from us a wider gaze and increasing efforts.

But basic to these efforts is the realization that this newspaper exists not just For You...but Because of You.

It is first and foremost...Your Newspaper!
