220 Injured

Tornadoes Leave 11 Dead Across Southern States

By The Associated Press

Tornadoes have cut a swath of destruction across Arkansas and Mississippi, killing 11 persons, injuring more than 220 and leaving hundreds of others homeless.

State police said six persons were killed in Arkansas and more than 70 were injured. Five were killed and at least 150 were injured in Mississippi, state Civil Defense officials said.

"This is unbelievable, just unbelievable," said Arkansas Gov. David Pryor as he toured the devastated town of Cabot, hardest hit by the twisters that roared through the two Southern states Monday.

Five died in Cabot, a community in central Arkansas 20 miles northeast of Little Rock. The sixth victim in Arkansas was killed when a tornado struck the town of Dresco, about 100 miles north of Little Rock.

State police earlier said six persons had died in Cabot, but officials reported today that a man listed as dead was later found alive there.

Most of Cabot's business district was demolished, and state police said 65 buildings on an eight-block stretch of Main Street were either destroyed or heavily damaged.

In Mississippi, five persons were killed when a tornado tore through the town of Canton.

Mississippi National Guard troops joined local police late Monday in patrolling the debris-lined streets of Canton and enforcing the 10 p.m. curfew ordered to prevent looting of the town's demolished businesses.

In Arkansas, the Lonoke County sheriff's office said, "The whole main street of Cabot has been flattened."

The Arkansas governor, who arrived in Cabot a few hours after the tornadoes hit, ordered 60 National Guardsmen to the storm-ravaged town. Thirty-five Air Force security policemen and 40 state troopers were brought in to help sift through the debris, direct traffic and prevent looting.

Portable generators supplied electricity for rescue crews and other officials, and utility company crews worked to restore telephone, gas and electric service.

Cabot Mayor Willie Ray said he was at City Hall when the National Weather Service telephoned a warning about 3:15 p.m. Ray said he saw the tornado coming and told city officials to "blow the whistle," a warning device which can be heard several blocks from City Hall.

Ernie Bailey, 37, a Cabot real estate salesman, said he watched the tornado approach a school filled with children. Then, he said, the twister "just sort of hopped to the side of the school and went on by."

In Canton, an agricultural town of 10,000 about 20 miles north of Jackson, the tornado cut a five-mile-long swath through residential, business and industrial areas.

Another tornado touched down in the Mississippi town of Newton, injuring nine persons and damaging between 150 and 200 houses.

Supreme Court Hears Death Penalty Arguments

WASHINGTON (AP) — Once more the Supreme Court hears arguments on the question of whether the death penalty is such cruel and unusual punishment that it should be banned.

Is the death penalty an "insane lottery" as lawyers for convicted men claim, or is it "a means of self-defense for the members of society" who have a right to be protected, as one state claims?

The lives of 468 people on death rows in 30 states depend on the answers based on arguments heard by the court today and Wednesday.

It has been nearly four years since the Supreme Court ruled 5-4 that the penalty, as then applied, was unconstitutional. All nine justices wrote separate opinions in that 1972 case of William Henry Furman v. Georgia.

Most of them objected to the fact that judges and juries had wide discretion in deciding who shall live and who shall die. This led to unconstitutional arbitrariness, many of the justices ruled.

Since then 34 states have passed new laws designed to meet the objections and death row cells are filling anew. The cases being heard by the court represent a cross-section of the approaches legislatures have taken to the capital punishment question.

Lawyers for the six men appealing their death sentences claim not much has changed since the court's ruling in the Furman case. "Florida's non-mandatory death penalty statute permits the same discretionary sentencing system condemned by Furman v. Georgia," said lawyers for Charles William Proffitt, whose case is before the court.

Deadline For Superintendent Post Is Monday

The deadline for accepting applications for the position of Superintendent of Calloway County Schools is noon Monday, April 5, 1976, according to school superintendent William Miller.

Miller said that the school board would accept applications for the position until that time.

Special Session Of Legislature Tentatively Set Late This Year

FRANKFORT, Ky. (AP) — A special Kentucky legislative session is set tentatively between Thanksgiving and Christmas to deal with the new judicial system, mine safety and Louisville sewer district problems.

That word was sent by Gov. Julian Carroll Monday through Majority Leader Tom Garrett, D-Paducah, to the Legislative Research Commission in a special meeting.

Garrett added there might be "one or two other matters... circumstances in the future will dictate that."

A governor has the power to call a special session and list what is to be considered. However, only the legislature can adjourn such a session.

Garrett specified the three subjects and gave some suggestions of the governor to prepare for the session. There was no debate or controversy.

The judicial matter involves a vast area of changes yet to be made in Kentucky's court system under a constitutional amendment approved by voters last November.

The only real change so far has been the naming of a Kentucky Supreme Court—it used to be called the Court of Appeals.

Still to come is selection of the 14-member new Court of Appeals, below the Supreme Court.

For the special session there are questions relating to the structure of circuit courts and district courts, the last a new concept that will affect every county.

Garrett said the governor thinks it would be wise to form a special legislative committee to work with court officials.

The mine safety issue was left dangling in the last hours of the regular session when Carroll declined to accept a proposed measure.

Garrett said the governor is appointing a special citizens' committee which will include four legislators to draw up a strong but realistic measure.

He said the Louisville sewer district topic depends on agreement by the Jefferson County legislative delegation.

Everyone has voiced concern over the need for improved sewer facilities in the Louisville area, but several proposals to do so died in the past session.

The LRC approved a resolution calling for a thorough study of Jefferson County's needs, with local lawmakers on a special committee.

The LRC will provide the staff resources plus as much as $50,000 for the committee's work.

FACELIFTING — Facelifting is well underway at the Bank of Murray where workmen have torn off the front of the building facing Fourth Street. When completed, the older portion of the bank will sport the same facade as the new addition which has just been completed. The bank is providing all of its regular services in the new addition while the refurbishing of the older portion is being completed. Bank officials predict the project will be finished in six to eight months.

Bailar Urges Congressional Action Abolition Of Rate Commission Opposed By U. S. Postal Service

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Postal Service today opposed abolishing the Postal Rate Commission, despite the postmaster general's contention that the commission has contributed to the Postal Service's financial crisis.

"We should continue to have a trial-type hearing where the Postal Service is subject to cross examination in order to justify any rate increase," General Counsel Louis Cox told a House Post Office subcommittee.

Cox said the Postal Service favors a pending Senate bill to limit the commission's deliberations to 10 months on any suggestion by the Postal Service to increase mail rates.

The commission, which must approve rate increases before they can go into effect, has speeded up its proceedings after heavy criticism from the Postal Service of its lengthy deliberations.

Rep. Paul Simon, D-Ill. said the commission costs about $10 million per year and results "in rubber stamping Postal Service rate requests."

Simon has sponsored a bill to allow the Postal Service to increase rates on its own, provided the increases do not exceed increases in the government's measure of inflation, the Consumer Price Index.

Under Simon's bill, increases higher than rises in the Consumer Price Index would have to be approved by the House and Senate Post Office committees.

The subcommittee hearing came one day after Postmaster Gen. Benjamin F. Bailar said the deficit-plagued Postal Service may be bankrupt within a year unless the Treasury agrees to grant new loans to the postal agency.

Bailar, for the first time placing a time limit on the ability of the Postal Service to remain in operation, told the Senate Post Office Committee on Monday that some action must be taken in two to four months to prevent new cutbacks in service.

Bailar's testimony came on a day when cutbacks began in 10 major East Coast cities where business deliveries were reduced to once daily. Such cutbacks, along with the closing of rural post offices, prompted the Senate panel's hearing.

Sen. Gale W. McGee, chairman of the Senate committee, said Postal Service cutbacks have created a "resentful, rebellious state of mind" among the public and members of Congress.

Bailar also bitterly told the Senate panel that his cries for help have fallen on deaf ears at the White House. He said administration budget advisers have refused to meet with him to discuss the Postal Service financial crisis. "Their inaccessibility and attitudes are deeply disturbing to me," he said.

The Postal Service expects to lose a record $1.5 billion this year.

Discussing the Postal Rate Commission, Bailar told the senators the length of the panel's deliberations on whether to make the old 10-cent letter rate permanent delayed by almost six months the increase to 13 cents last December. The delay cost the Postal Service more than $1 billion dollars and was "prolonged to the point of threatening the economic future of the Postal Service," he said.

The commission, an independent agency, took almost two years to decide to let the 10-cent rate become permanent, clearing the way for the hike to 13 cents. While the commission pondered the matter, inflation increased Postal Service costs, but rates were frozen.

Mailboxes Vandalized At University

An incident of vandalism and possible theft at the Murray State University Post Office has been turned over to U. S. Postal authorities, according to Murray Police, who made a preliminary investigation.

Officers said the glass was broken on a number of mailboxes inside the University Station post office. It is not known at this time what, if anything, was taken from the boxes.

The complaint was made by Postmaster Hal Kingins, according to police.

Trucking Industry Contract Talks Reach 'Critical Stage'

ARLINGTON HEIGHTS, Ill. — The trucking industry's contract talks have reached what Labor Secretary W.J. Usery calls "a critical stage" in the race against a Teamsters strike threatened for Wednesday midnight.

Usery and James Searce, acting director of the Federal Mediation and Conciliation Service, met all day Monday with labor and management negotiators and planned another session today.

Usery, who said a strike would be bad for the industry, the union and the nation, said late Monday that the talks were "at a very critical stage" but refused to elaborate on their progress.

The Teamsters, who earn $7.18 to $7.33 an hour and $44 a week in benefits under the current National Master Freight Agreement, originally sought a $2.50 hourly hike and $36 weekly more in benefits over three years. They have cut their demands to $1.75 an hour and $17 a week.

But the union is also insisting on a cost-of-living allowance without a ceiling on adjustments, arguing that members were penalized more than 50 cents hourly in 1974-75 wages because of the current 11-cent ceiling.

Last weekend, union members overwhelmingly authorized a strike, which would be the Teamsters' first nationwide walkout. They rejected a contract offer from Trucking Employers Inc., which represents 16,000 trucking concerns in the bargaining.

The offer, rejected by 10-1, would have added 85 cents to hourly wages and $11 a week to fringe benefits over a 39-month period.

The Ford administration fears that a strike idling the nation's trucks — and with them the movement of food, goods and heavy freight — would severely impair the progress being made in the nation's economic recovery.

Usery said, "We are not making any preparation at this time to seek a Taft-Hartley injunction. We're seeking to negotiate an agreement." But he added that "after Wednesday, the President and the administration will certainly have to protect the health and safety of the nation."

The Taft-Hartley Act could be invoked — in the event of a strike — to force resumption of work during an 80-day cooling-off period.

Another factor complicating efforts to head off a strike is the possibility of wildcat walkouts by dissident Teamsters.

Meanwhile, the Pittsburgh-based Fraternal Association of Steel Haulers, representing 5,000 owner-operators across the nation, voted to ignore a strike if one is called.

Dr. Howard Keller Speaker At Meeting Of Kappa Department

The Kappa Department of the Murray Woman's Club had an "Armchair Tour of Russia" with Dr. Howard Keller as the tour guide at an open meeting held Tuesday, March 9, at the club house.

Dr. Howard Keller
Dr. Keller, instructor at Murray State University, entertained the Kappa members and their guests with many lovely and unusual slides taken during his travels in Russia.

Following his informative presentation, Dr. Keller answered questions about his experiences in the Soviet Union.

Mrs. Penny Warren, Kappa chairman, presided. The department voted to send contributions to the Kentucky Educational Television and to East Elementary School Environmental Laboratory.

Hostesses for the meeting were Betty Hassell, Genevieve Adams, Kay Adams, Glenda Chrisp, Freda Steely, Donna Carr, and Jan Emmert.

Greer-Wisheart Wedding Vows Read At Spring Creek Church

Mr. and Mrs. Ronald Wisheart

The wedding of Miss Margaret Greer, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Clint Greer of near Kirksey, and Ronald Wisheart, son of Mr. and Mrs. G. E. Wisheart of Almo, was solemnized on Saturday, February the twenty-first, at the Spring Creek Baptist Church.

Rev. Stanley Letterman officiated at the double ring ceremony read as the couple stood beneath the white wrought iron arch entwined with greenery.

Mrs. Harold K. Wyatt, pianist, presented a program of nuptial music while the guests were seated. For the ceremony she played "More" theme, "I Believe," "A Time For Us," and "Whither Thou Goest." The traditional wedding marches were played for the processional and the recessional.

Bride's Dress
The bride, escorted by her father, was lovely in her long flowing white satin dress complete with a train in the back. The dress was designed with a high waist line with a round neck and small pearl buttons on the center front. The long puffed sleeves were tight at the wrist with pearl buttons, and her waist length veil was made of lace.

She carried a bouquet of red roses on a white Bible, a gift of the Baptist Young women of Spring Creek Church.

Mrs. Patty Harris and Miss Jane Greer, sisters of the bride, were her attendants.

They wore long blue satin dresses and each carried a red rose.

Kenny Lawrence and Steve Bailey were best men for the groom. Each wore a white carnation boutonniere.

Mrs. Greer, mother of the bride, wore a street length blue flowered dress. The groom's mother, Mrs. Wisheart, was attired in a street length blue dress with a top coat. They each had a corsage of white carnations.

Following the ceremony the reception was held at the church.

The bride's table was covered with a lace cloth and centered with a single red rose flanked by candles.

Serving were Mrs. Lita Greer and Mrs. Luna Greer, sisters-in-law of the bride, and Miss Peggy Colson. Special piano selections were played by Mrs. Harold K. Wyatt.

The register was kept by Miss Debbie Garrett and Miss Sheila Cleaver.

After the reception the couple left for a short wedding trip and are now residing on Almo Route One. Mrs. Wisheart is employed at the Murray-Calloway County Hospital and Mr. Wisheart is employed with Murray Masonry Company. Both are graduates of Calloway County High School.

Pre-nuptial Events
A household shower was given in honor of the bride-elect by Mrs. Larry Wisheart, Mrs. Willie Smith, and Mrs. James Wisheart.

Miss Debbie Garrett, Miss Mary Beth Hays, and Miss Pam Robertson entertained with a personal shower for Miss Greer.

Babysitting Granddad Beats 6-year-old

By Abigail Van Buren
© 1976 by Chicago Tribune N. Y. News Synd. Inc.

DEAR ABBY: My husband and I have two children ages 3 and 6. My husband doesn't like to hire sitters. He says it's too expensive, but I notice he has money for his boat and a storeroom filled with the latest in hunting and fishing equipment.

Anyway, the last time we went out for an evening we left our kids overnight with his parents. The next day, our 6-year-old had welts and bruises all over his little body. He told us that his Granddaddy had whipped him with a leather belt for talking a fib!

My husband didn't seem at all upset. He said whoever kids are left with has a right to punish them any way he sees fit.

Abby, we have never whipped our kids with a belt, and I say nobody else should, either. Please settle this.

MONTANA MOTHER.

DEAR MOTHER: I agree with you 100 per cent. NEVER leave your children with those grandparents again and tell them why. "Granddaddy" sounds as though he needs a thorough checkup. (Physical and mental.) And where was "Grandma" when all this was going on?

DEAR ABBY: My daughter is a beautiful, bright young woman who has a mind of her own. For seven years I have been trying to train her not to overdraw on her checking account, but without success. Have you any suggestions?

GEORGE A. KELLOGG

DEAR GEORGE: If after seven years you haven't been able to train her, give up. At this stage of the game, it's obvious that she has YOU trained.

DEAR ABBY: About that woman who was embarrassed by her boyfriend's bad grammar. My glamorous mother was divorced 20 years ago. When she started dating again, she wouldn't even consider dating a man who said "We wasn't" or "He don't."

For the last six months, her constant companion has been a man who says, "We wasn't" and uses "youse" for the plural of "you." But he is the sweetest, kindest, most patient man she's ever known. He's a big success financially, too.

If Mom had stuck to her original standards, she would have cheated herself out of plenty. Also, this man in her life has made her a lot easier to live with.

HER DAUGHTER

DEAR DAUGHTER: Neither glamour nor grammar guarantees a good relationship.

Minister Using Puppets To Appeal to Children

IRENE, S.C. (AP) — Pastor Richard Zawistoski is making a part of his ministry "child's play."

The 28-year-old minister, known in Our Redeemer's Lutheran Church in Irene and in Our Savior's Lutheran Church in Menno as "Pastor Rich," will be using hand puppets as a part of his duties.

Pastor Zawistoski and his wife, Patsy, Maryland natives, met at Towson State College, where they were studying and where she took a course in puppetry. They moved to the Midwest when he attended Luther Seminary in St. Paul, Minn.

Puppetry entered the picture while he served at Branden-Split Rock Lutheran Parish and put on a puppet show with borrowed puppets and script.

"Patsy said she could make better puppets, and I felt I could write a better script," he said.

Four days a week "I do all the kind of pastoral duties that have to be done — that's really what I'm called to first," he said. On two other days it's puppets and other media.

"Instead of a puppet ministry, I would rather call it a ministry with media," he said, "because it's not just puppets. You work with tapes and slides — everything."

"It's as valid as any other ministry," he added. "It just depends on where your talents are."

"I'm a kid at heart, and most of the puppets are geared for children," Pastor Zawistoski said, "but anything that's geared for children, adults listen in too, so you have both audiences at the same time."

"Puppets are a way to get to kids at their level, and it's also a way to get to the adults almost without their knowing it."

DINNER FOR FOUR
Broiled Steak French Fries
Skillet Tomatoes Peas
Chocolate Cake Coffee

SKILLET TOMATOES
4 medium tomatoes
3 tablespoons butter or margarine
1 medium onion, sliced thin and separated into rings (about 1/2 cup)
1 garlic clove, minced
1/2 teaspoon salt
1/2 teaspoon pepper
1 teaspoon dried basil

If necessary, let tomatoes stand at room temperature until fully ripe. Rinse tomatoes and remove stem ends; cut each into 6 or 8 wedges. In a 10-inch skillet melt the butter; add onion and garlic and cook gently, stirring occasionally, until onion is wilted. Stir in salt, pepper and basil. Add tomatoes; over moderate heat, stirring carefully so as not to break up tomatoes, heat through — 2 to 3 minutes. Makes 4 servings.

When you need a disposable cake pan for a picnic or bazaar, line a regular pan with heavy aluminum foil and fold the ends over the sides of the pan. Pour in the batter and bake as usual. When cool, lift out by the foil and set on a sturdy piece of cardboard. No clean-up mess and no lost pans. — Judy Hetterman, Hickman.

In changing to the Metric System, homemakers will not have to give up their old favorite recipes. A metric measuring cup is already on the market which will convert cups to milliliters. Also Metric slide rules for conversion will help to change temperatures to degrees Celsius. The conversion process can already be seen in measurements of food containers. The change will be planned to allow for the use of present equipment (ranges, electric portable cooking appliances, utensils and the like) and new recipes will be available for those that feel the need. — Mrs. Maxine Griffin, Clinton.

Garrott's Galley When Buildings Shake, You Don't Wait To See Why

By M. C. Garrott Although I didn't feel them, the earth tremors that shook Murray last Wednesday night reminded Mancil Vinson and me of the one that shook the area on November 11, 1968.

He and I, both new at the University, apparently were trying to impress somebody or just simply had been unable to keep up with our work because we were at the office on the 4th Floor of the Administration Building at Murray State.

We were in his office talking. I was standing near the window when suddenly the long, vertical curtain strips started swaying back and forth like a hula dancer's skirt.

"Let's get out of here, Mancil!" I yelled. "We're having an earthquake!" I had had a similar experience in St. Louis in 1962 when we had a dust explosion right next door to the offices where I worked.

At first, I thought Mancil was going to jump out the window, but guess he figured he would have looked kind of silly doing that if there really hadn't been an earthquake.

He was about to push the "Down" button on the elevator when I warned over my shoulder, "Stay out of that thing! An elevator shaft is no place to be caught in an earthquake!"

It was a pretty good shake, and, like the ones Wednesday night, felt across a wide area.

I didn't lose any time getting out of the building in St. Louis in 1962, either. I was standing beside my secretary's desk, leaning against a big support pillar, when the explosion took place.

We didn't hear a thing, as the blast was well back in the manufacturing plant and muffled by all the concrete, but it shook our building just like an earthquake.

"Let's get out of here, Delores!" I yelled to my secretary. "There's been an explosion in the plant!" It was 5-below outside and about a foot of ice-covered snow was on the ground, but we had presence of mind enough to grab our heavy coats and overshoes before we took off—the first ones on the floor to head for the stairs.

We were on the 5th floor of that building but it took only about five seconds to get outside using a little-used stairwell! She and I were the first ones out of the building, and moments later were standing well away in the parking lot.

Sure enough, black smoke was pouring from one end of the complex about a block away and within minutes flames were 100 feet in the air. It was Wednesday when it happened, and they sent us home for the rest of the week. They fought the fire for three days and it smoldered in the grain elevators for weeks afterwards.

That was the death of the old mill, though. It wasn't rebuilt, giving way to a big, new research building and additional offices.

After these two experiences with shaking buildings, I don't spend a great deal of time trying to figure out why they're shaking.

Understanding Drug Abuse

New Report On Marijuana

a health column from the Alcohol, Drug Abuse, and Mental Health Administration U.S. Department of Health, Education, and Welfare

The fifth annual report on knowledge of the health consequences of marijuana use has just been published by the National Institute on Drug Abuse.

"Marijuana and Health does not give marijuana a clean bill of health," says Dr. Robert DuPont, NIDA Director, in his introduction to the report.

"Nor does it support the fear and irrationality that still characterize some of the public debate on marijuana."

Instead, it is "a progress report on our effort to understand a challenging health problem with immense social, political, and economic implications."

Commenting on questions raised about marijuana's long-term effect on the human body, Dr. DuPont said that the direct health implications of recent research are still not certain. However, he added, there is little question that marijuana intoxication, like alcohol intoxication, poses significant hazards. These hazards include impairment of psychomotor skills used in driving and in many industrial jobs, and impairment of intellectual performance, particularly immediate memory.

These hazards include impairment of psychomotor skills used in driving and in many industrial jobs, and impairment of intellectual performance, particularly immediate memory.

"Since marijuana is the third most widely used recreational drug—exceeded only by alcohol and tobacco—any adverse implications of its use are likely to be far-reaching," added the NIDA Director.

"It has become increasingly clear that marijuana use is inextricably bound up with the use of many other drugs. Those who use other licit and illicit drugs are far more likely to use marijuana than those who do not."

"While it was once thought that marijuana users were less likely to use alcohol than non-users, it is now evident that they are, in fact, more likely to do so. Frequently, the two drugs are used simultaneously—a combination that may be more hazardous than either used alone."

"Low Down" FROM THE Congressional Record

By JOE CRUMP

(A Column for Readers Who Haven't Time to Review the Congressional Record Daily)

Bill Would End Automatic Pay Raises For Congressmen

REP. WILLIAM L. ARMSTRONG (Colo.) "... Until recently, the only way Members of Congress could get a pay raise was by standing up and publicly voting on the issue, an action often resented by voters at home. This was a good system, far better than the copout of an automatic cost-of-living escalator system which permits Members to avoid taking a hard stand on this sensitive issue."

"Congress passed the law providing for automatic cost-of-living increases for Federal employees. Later Congress amended the law to include the Members themselves in this automatic pay raise scheme."

"My opposition of pay increases to Members of Congress has nothing to do with the individual worth or merit of the Members as human beings or as legislators. It is not based on my estimate of the value of their service. Some Members make a contribution which would easily justify a higher salary than they are now paid; by the same token, many other Members are overpaid at the old salary of $42,500. But that is not, I repeat, the main issue. My opposition to the pay increase is based on these considerations:

First, I object to the idea of automatically increasing a Member's pay without a vote.

Second, I am concerned about the example which we have set for the Nation. This country's economic system has been seriously, perhaps permanently damaged by excess of Federal spending, and already we are seeing grim signs that continued deficit financing threatens to touch off a new round of double digit inflation.

"For these reasons, I am introducing legislation (H. R. 11747) to repeal the automatic cost-of-living legislation for Members of Congress and other high-ranking Federal officials. This automatic escalator never should have been adopted..."

CRUMP'S GRASS ROOTS COMMENT

In the not too distant past, an increase in earnings depended on working longer hours, improved skills on the job or accepting greater responsibility. But cost-of-living increases written into union contracts ended that route. Most Congressmen wanted a piece of the action, particularly if they didn't have to stand up and be counted.

It's doubtful if H. R. 11747 will get out of The Committee on Post Office and Civil Service to which it was referred.

Let's Stay Well

Primary Dental Care

By F.J.L. Blasingame, M.D.

An editorial in the American Dental Association News stressed the point that the greatest advance in dentistry in recent years has been the widespread recognition by the public of the many benefits available from modern dentistry.

Yet leaders of the dental profession believe that all is not well and that much more needs to be done to assure even wider application of dental knowledge and skills.

In a recent position paper on primary dental care, C. Gordon Watson, D.D.S., executive director of the American Dental Association (ADA), said, "Primary care has special importance to the dentist because of the paradox posed by the widespread incidence of dental disease, affecting nearly every member of the population to some degree, when most manifestations of dental disease are readily prevented. It has long been clear that a relatively limited number of behavioral changes in people could result in a sharp decrease in the amount of dental disease suffered."

The changes identified by Dr. Watson included better diet, more consistently practiced home hygiene, and periodic visits to the dentist. "Though these necessary behavioral changes are relatively easy to identify and describe, they are not easy to implement," he said.

While Dr. Watson acknowledged the significant progress achieved by dentistry, working along with many interested groups, he said further impact is needed. Dr. Watson suggested increasing the number of professionally qualified persons and the amount of ancillary assistance, promoting a national dental health program for children, extending group dental prepayment programs, and constructing new dental and dental auxiliary schools. Stress on research is needed in order to learn better ways of preventing dental diseases and improving their treatment.

Primary dental care offers an attractive professional career for men and women, and an increasing number of women are entering dentistry today.

Q: Mr. RA. requests an explanation of tennis elbow and suggestions regarding prevention.

A: "Tennis elbow" is a popular term for a condition known medically as epicondylitis. This inflamed and painful condition involves the bony prominences (epicondyles) on the inner and outer parts of the elbow joint. The strong muscles that bend the wrist forward and close the fist arise from the inner epicondyle, and the opposing muscles which extend the wrist and open the fist connect to the outer epicondyle. These muscular attachments become tender from faulty or excess pulling of the muscles on the bone in playing golf or tennis, pitching a baseball and performing heavy work. Relief comes from avoiding such stress and using the shoulder girdle and arm muscles in ways which protect the forearm muscles. In severe and recurrent cases, surgery may be necessary.

Q: Mrs. A.F. wants to know how a physician decides which antibiotic to prescribe for an illness.

A: A physician may use a broad spectrum antibiotic, one that kills a wide variety of bacteria. Or he may make a test on the germs in a specimen (urine, sputum, throat smear, etc.) to see to which antibiotic the offenders are sensitive. He selects one that is effective in killing the bacteria in a laboratory culture of the bacteria.

Your Individual Horoscope

Frances Drake

FOR WEDNESDAY,
MARCH 31, 1976

Look in the section in which your birthday comes and find what your outlook is, according to the stars.

ARIES

(Mar. 21 to Apr. 20) Don't let loyalty to an associate involve you in a dubious situation. It's a day for being strictly conventional.

TAURUS

(Apr. 21 to May 21) Good will built up in the past will prove an invaluable asset now. You gain added prestige and status in several areas.

GEMINI

(May 22 to June 21) Stress your independence of thought. Don't let friends talk you out of your ideas — even though they may be a bit on the unconventional side.

CANCER

(June 22 to July 23) Leave the status quo in all phases of your life unless you are forced to make changes because of unexpected developments. But, even then, act reservedly.

LEO

(July 24 to Aug. 23) Personal relationships highly congenial. In fact, your career status may be boosted by an influential person.

VIRGO

(Aug. 24 to Sept. 23) You have a wonderful chance now to display your ingenuity and possibly think up a new way to present an old idea which could STILL be feasible if properly worked out.

LIBRA

(Sept. 24 to Oct. 23) Job matters may require some special attention, perhaps a change of method. A state of readiness advised — to cope with the unexpected.

SCORPIO

(Oct. 24 to Nov. 22) Unusual tact needed in domestic and social circles. Don't "make waves" or stir up needless dissension — only too easily done now if you are not alert.

SAGITTARIUS

(Nov. 23 to Dec. 21) Aspects stimulate your knack for handling matters which involve many persons. Especially favored: legal matters, government work and mediation between opposing forces.

CAPRICORN

(Dec. 22 to Jan. 20) Someone will throw down the gauntlet. The challenge will stimulate you and give you a bright idea — if you get busy at once.

AQUARIUS

(Jan. 21 to Feb. 19) Be objective and watch for opportune moments to advance your interests. Combine your best ideas with those of others — for the benefit of all.

PISCES

(Feb. 20 to Mar. 20) Fine Neptune influences. Be on the lookout for good leads, projects with substantial background. Maritime interests, creative pursuits and travel especially favored.

YOU BORN TODAY are endowed with a powerful personality and tremendous ambition. There are few failures among those born on this date, but many of you do not realize your full potentialities. Actually, you are extremely versatile and could succeed in either the business world or in one of the professions — once you find your niche and train for it. You could do exceptionally well in art, music, literature or the theater; would also make an excellent diagnostician, lawyer or statesman. Curb a tendency to be overly critical of others. Birthdate of: Franz Josef Haydn, Austrian composer; Edward Fitzgerald, translator of the Rubaiyat.

Sale of Florida to the U.S. by Spain in 1819 for $5 million rounded out the southeastern boundary of the continental United States.

Flintlock Operation was the code name for the Allied attack on the Marshall Islands in early 1944 during World War II.

Venezuela — larger than California, Oregon and Washington combined — is the fifth most important oil producing country in the world and has the largest petroleum refinery.

Sims, Boone Make All-Purchase Teams

Raymond Sims and Tammy Boone have both been named to the All-Purchase First Team.

The team, consisting of 10 players, was picked by a poll of coaches, supervised by the Paducah Sun-Democrat.

In the girls' All-Purchase lineup, hot-shooting Laura Lynn of Paducah Tilghman was the top vote-getter while Laura Petrie of Carlisle County finished second. Joining them on the team, in order of votes received, were Belinda Davidson of Sedalia, Carol Yates of Reidland, Tammy Boone of Murray High, Kathy Hughes of St. Mary, Julie Buchanan of Lone Oak, Andrea Morris of Sedalia, Vickie Keeton of Ballard Memorial and Rachel Pyle of Lowes.

Denise Bumphis and Mary Ann Littleton of the Tigers received honorable mention as did Becky Innes of Calloway County. In the voting for the Coach of the Year, Sedalia's Ken Wray was a run-away choice.

In the boys' All-Purchase team, Gene Roof of Paducah St. Mary topped the vote-getters while Barry Snow of Reidland was a close second.

The rest of the First Team, in order of votes, includes Tim Allred of Symsonia, Delbert Shumper of Tilghman, Russ Cochran of St. Mary, Tim Larkin of Hickman County, Raymond Sims of Murray High, Bruce Wyatt of Lowes, Mike Rosa of Marshall County and Don Hubbard of Mayfield.

Lindsey Hudspeth and Bob Wilder both received honorable mention for the Tigers while Tommy Futrell and David Williams were named as honorable mention picks for the Lakers.

Jim Long of Lowes was voted as the Coach of the Year. The coaches' teams are close to what I would have picked so we won't dispute any of the choices.

Horse Show

The big Kentucky State Charity Horse Show is coming up soon, May 15 in fact, and it will be held in the beautiful, new Murray State Livestock Show and Exposition Center.

Classes in the horse show include the following: American saddle pleasure class, two-year-old walking horse, Roadster pony (50 inches and under), junior three-gaited, Ladies walking horse, Amateur five-gaited, Harness pony (50 inches and under), Amateur walking horse, Amateur three-gaited, Fine harness horse, Junior five-gaited class, Three-gaited open, Racking horse open (English equipment), Walking horse open and Five-gaited open.

Reservations for stalls should be made before May 8 and the stall fee will be five dollars. Show time will be at 7:30 p.m. on May 15.

Benson, May Key IU To NCAA Title

By KEN RAPPOPORT

AP Sports Writer

PHILADELPHIA (AP) — The Indiana Hoosiers were handed the No. 1 ranking at the start of the season, but that doesn't mean anything unless you can earn it on the court.

They did — 32 times. The "perfect" Hoosiers capped a glorious 32-0 season Monday night with a businesslike 86-68 victory over Michigan in the NCAA finals, ending a long quest for college basketball's Holy Grail. "If we don't deserve to be national champions, then I don't know who does," said Indiana's superlative guard, Quinn Buckner. "We won all our games. What else can you do?"

The Hoosiers survived several pitfalls on the road to the championship — including a mild mid-season slump that relegated Buckner to the bench. During this time, they struggled to beat Michigan twice by close scores.

Despite what Buckner called "peaks and valleys," Indiana made it through the Big Ten season undefeated, a performance that Michigan Coach Johnny Orr called "unbelievable."

What happened thereafter was even more impressive. The Hoosiers, playing in one of the toughest regional tournaments in NCAA history, defeated St. John's, Alabama and Marquette to win the Midwest and advance to the gold-plated

Final Four in Philadelphia.

"It was very physical all through the Big Ten and just as physical in the regionals," pointed out Indiana strongman Kent Benson. "It was as physical as I can remember."

UCLA's Bruins, the defending champions, presented no problem to peaking Indiana in Saturday's semifinals at the Spectrum. The Hoosiers, who had beaten UCLA by a shocking 20 points on opening day, handled them with almost as much ease the second time.

For a change, Benson and Player of the Year Scott May took a backseat to two lesser lights — Tom Abernethy and Bobby Wilkerson. Abernethy scored 14 points and shut down UCLA's Richard Washington and Wilkerson grabbed a career-high 19 rebounds. And Indiana won, 65-61.

While the Big Ten champions were disposing of tall and talented UCLA, Michigan was laboring Rutgers. Indiana's Big Ten colleagues handed the Scarlet Knights their first defeat of the season after 31 victories, 86-70, and set up a unique NCAA finale. It was the first time in NCAA playoff history that two teams from the same conference met in the championship game.

"It'll probably be the last time in our lifetime that we ever see something like this again," said Orr. "Take a good look at it."

Indiana's brightness didn't shine until after the Hoosiers were hit by adversity. Wilkerson, one of the few starting guards in the country at 6-foot-7, suffered a concussion in the early going and had to be carried from the court on a stretcher.

"When Bobby got hurt we knew we had to go at it tougher," said Buckner. "Bobby's a big part of our team. We did go at it."

Actually, the Hoosiers didn't really "go at it" until after the start of the second half. The Wolverines kept ahead of their Big Ten colleagues with a brilliant fast break and by intermission, led 35-29.

Benson, a blond giant with a pacifist temperament off the court and a killer instinct on, blamed his first-half timidity for the Hoosiers' uncharacteristic performance before intermission.

Benson pulled himself together in the second half — and in the process, pulled Michigan apart. The All-American center took charge of things, scoring 15 of his 25 points and collecting six of his nine rebounds.

With the help of their tower of strength, the Hoosiers went from a 51-51 tie with 10:15 left to a 73-59 lead at the 3:51 mark. Indiana only had to run out the clock after that overpowering 22-8 burst.

May also had a high-powered second half for Indiana, scoring 18 of his game-high 26 points and pulling down all of his eight rebounds.

"We just couldn't get the running game going in the second half," said Rickey Green, Michigan's high scorer with 18 points. "They were making their shots and we couldn't get the rebounds. We've got to get the rebounds to run. I think we ran pretty well in the first half and that was the difference."

Orr, who almost beat Indiana during the regular season, found the Hoosiers much stronger in their third meeting — in fact, downright indestructible in the second half.

"They played a great second half," noted Orr, bitterly disappointed. "I don't know what else we could have done."

The splendid season matched the 32-0 perfection of North Carolina in 1957, the best undefeated record in NCAA history.

"For two years, this (NCAA championship) has been our objective," said Indiana Coach Bobby Knight. "Not just this year, but for two years these kids have worked hard — and no one knows how hard any better than I do."

Benson Selected MVP In Championship Game

By RALPH BERNSTEIN

AP Sports Writer

PHILADELPHIA (AP) — Ken Benson, the Most Valuable Player of the 1976 National Collegiate Athletic Association basketball championship, might best be described as a Dave Cowens in a college uniform.

The 6-foot-11 Benson bulls to the basket and seems to have a nose for the ball, just like Cowens, the star center of the Boston Celtics of the National Basketball Association.

Benson, a 245-pounder with the moves of a guard, scored 25 points, grabbed nine rebounds and handed out two assists as he muscled the unbeaten Indiana Hoosiers to the national collegiate basketball championship.

Indiana crushed Michigan 86-68 Monday night to complete a march through one of the toughest brackets in NCAA tournament history. The Hoosiers beat four of the Top Ten ranked teams en route to their third title in eight postseason ventures.

Both winning Coach Bobby Knight and loser Johnny Orr put the finger on Benson as the major difference between the two Big Ten rivals.

Knight observed that Benson deserved the MVP accolade.

"He played an outstanding game," said the Indiana coach. "He did an outstanding job on the boards. He got the ball for us."

Benson, a junior from New Castle, Ind., didn't allow a little thing like a cast on his left wrist to deter him. He's been playing with torn ligaments, and has plans for an operation during the off season.

And to hear Knight tell it, Benson has yet to reach his peak.

"Benson has developed well at Indiana," observed Knight, who has encouraged the big guy to be aggressive.

"He'll develop even more next year," Knight said. "He's done an outstanding job and he'll do even better," the coach advised.

It's hard to envision Benson any better than he was against Michigan Monday night. He was devastating. Phil Hubbard, the talented Wolverine center, fouled out trying to stop the Indiana crusher.

Benson scored 10 points in the first half as Indiana left, trailing 35-29.

"It was just a matter of gathering myself (together)," Benson said. "I was a little tight in the first half. I knew I had to take the ball stronger to the hoop. I had to do my job rebounding and defending."

Then, Benson provided the understatement of the night.

"I guess I just played harder in the second half," he noted.

Benson credits God with his development as the best center in college basketball.

"Coach Knight helped me considerably, but everything I've done goes back to my faith in Jesus Christ. I played tonight (Monday) not for myself, or for my teammates, but for the glory of God. I get my emotional energies from Jesus Christ. He's my only audience. I try to play for him."

Tigers Win Pair In Citrus League, Cardinals Rout Reds

By HERSCHEL NISSENSON

AP Sports Writer

For the State of Michigan, there was some good news out of Florida to go with the bad news from Philadelphia Monday night, which is the route you might expect Florida-Philadelphia news to go.

While the University of Michigan Wolverines were winding down the basketball season by bowing to Indiana in the national championship game, the Detroit Tigers prepared for the upcoming baseball season by sweeping a pair of seven-inning games from the Chicago White Sox, 8-3 and 1-0.

And the nightcap produced a near-perfect no-hitter by Ray Bare and Billy Laxton while most of the sports writers in the press box at Lakeland, Fla., were watching the basketball game on television.

Bare hurled five innings and only one Chicagoan reached base when shortstop Tom Verzyer committed a throwing error on Alan Bannister's third-inning grounder. Bannister was rubbed out attempting to steal and Billy Laxton finished up with two perfect rounds.

Laxton, who came with Rusty Staub from the New York Mets in the Mickey Lolich deal, became the winner when Staub led off the bottom of the seventh with a home run off Cecil Upshaw. In the opener, Ben Oglivie and rookie Bob Molinaro each drove in three runs.

The good news-bad news syndrome also hit the Boston Red Sox camp. Cecil Cooper hit a two-run homer and Bill Lee pitched five scoreless innings in a 5-1 decision over the Houston Astros. But Jim Rice spiked himself in the left ankle trying to make a diving catch.

Rice, who missed the 1975 playoffs and World Series with a broken wrist, suffered a deep puncture and needed three stitches. Trainer Charlie Moss said the slugging outfielder would be out for two or three days barring complications.

Texas' Jeff Burroughs raised his spring average to .500 with three singles and a three-run homer in the Rangers' 12-7 triumph over the Kansas City Royals.

Don Sutton, rumored bound for the Mets in a swap for Tom Seaver, allowed one run and six hits in seven innings as the Los Angeles Dodgers bowed to the Montreal Expos 3-2 on Bombo Rivera's ninth-inning pinch double.

Ex-Dodger Jimmy Wynn hit his first spring homer, a three-run shot that helped the Atlanta Braves defeat the winless Mets 8-4.

Ted Simmons drove in two runs with a homer and single in a seven-run third inning that lifted the St. Louis Cardinals over the Cincinnati Reds 11-4. Brent Strom and Bill Greif combined on a five-hitter and Willie Davis and Dave Winfield homered to lead the San Diego Padres over the Cleveland Indians 7-0.

The Oakland A's posted their first spring triumph, downing the Chicago Cubs 8-6 as Bill North collected a single, double, triple and four RBI. Chris Arnold, trying to win his way back onto the San Francisco roster, belted a grand slam homer to help the Giants beat the Milwaukee Brewers 9-3.

Dropping Suit

PHILADELPHIA (AP) — Former Philadelphia 76er Allan Bristow is dropping his million dollar contract suit against the National Basketball Association team in favor of arbitration.

Bristow had charged the Sixers dropped him from the squad last fall in violation of his three-year contract. The team said it fulfilled the obligations of the contract which was due to expire at the end of this season.

Sea Hawks Begin Taking Players (Caveat Emptor)

By HAL BOCK

AP Sports Writer

NEW YORK (AP) — In the age-old tradition of every team that ever made a draft pick, the Tampa Bay Buccaneers and Seattle Seahawks selected "the best players available" as the National Football League stocked its 27th and 28th teams today.

Those available may have included some familiar names made expendable by age, salary or a combination of the two.

League officials were on hand to supply pertinent information on factors such as salaries and bonus arrangements in the contracts of possible draft choices as the two teams began making their selections.

There were reports that such veterans as linebackers Lee Roy Jordan and Dave Edwards of Dallas, running back Essex Johnson of Cincinnati, offensive linemen Joe Scibelli and Charlie Cowan of Los Angeles, quarterback Len Dawson and former All-Pro receiver Otis Taylor of Kansas City, all longtime NFL performers, would be on the lists of players eligible for selection by the new teams.

But the draft carried a standard warning of caveat emptor — "let the buyer beware."

If Tampa Bay or Seattle chose a player coming off the injured reserve list who cannot perform or a veteran who chooses to retire instead of moving to a new team, they're stuck.

That's why officials of the two clubs sifted carefully through the draft lists supplied to them by the league at noon EST Monday. They had 21 hours to study the names before Seattle made the opening expansion selection at 9 a.m. EST today.

The two new teams were to choose 39 players each, with each of the 26 established NFL teams losing three men in the draft. Each time a team lost a player, it was permitted to add another player to its protected list. Going into the draft, the 26 established teams were permitted to protect 32 players — 30 from their active rosters and two from the reserve lists.

Spurs Stop Tired Dr. J. To Romp To Easy Win Over Nets

SAN ANTONIO (AP) — When Dr. J. is having problems, the New York Nets often seem to have problems. And Dr. J. is tired, says Coach Kevin Loughery of the superstar on his American Basketball Association team. Dr. J., of course, is the fabulous Julius Erving. But Erving was contained — at least for the first half — by San Antonio in general and Larry Kenon in particular as the Spurs dumped the Nets 116-101 Monday in the night's only ABA contest.

San Antonio held Erving to just four points in the first half as Erving connected on only one of eight field goal attempts and was two for two at the free throw line.

Erving was his old self in the second half scoring 20 points, but the damage was done and San Antonio was never in real trouble after intermission. "The Doc (Erving) really needs a rest," said Loughery. "He has played almost 40 minutes a game all season and not many of our people even play 30 minutes. He had a bad night tonight in the first half. But he came back strong in the second half."

The Nets Coach blamed offensive problems and early foul trouble for the loss. "We played very poorly in the second quarter and I think that was the turning point of the game. "We had won nine out of 10 before coming in here tonight. But we have a lot of nagging injuries, nothing severe, but a lot of our people need rest," he added.

San Antonio was not without its own offensive fireworks. James Silas pumped in 33 points and four other Spurs were in double figures. George Gervin had 24, Kenon 20, Billy Paultz 17 and Mike Gale 11.

The San Antonio victory clinched the ABA regular season championship for the Denver Nuggets. The Nets need one more victory to clinch second place. And the Spurs need any combination of three Kentucky losses or three San Antonio wins to clinch third place.

National League Asks Kuhn To Block Toronto Franchise

By PAT LEISNER
Associated Press Writer
TAMPA, Fla. (AP) — The National League, unable to agree on expansion, has asked Baseball Commissioner Bowie Kuhn to block the American League from putting a new franchise in Toronto next season.

"We'd like him to hold off on American League expansion," said Chub Feeney, National League president, after a four hour meeting Monday in which the 10 owners in favor of expansion failed to sway Cincinnati and Philadelphia, which are opposed. A unanimous vote is required.

"That's very interesting," said an American League spokesman when advised of the NL action, "but we have no further comment."

Unless Kuhn steps into the picture, the National League will remain at 12 teams in 1977 while the American League jumps to 14 with expansion franchises in Seattle and Toronto. Such a move apparently would leave Washington, D.C., out in the cold and might put baseball in hot water if certain members of Congress decide to press the point. Kuhn has been politicking for expansion to the nation's capital.

The AL, which needed only nine affirmative votes to expand, beat the NL to Toronto last week.

Feeney said the following resolution was forwarded to Kuhn:

"Resolved that the commissioner be advised that the National League clubs wish him to consider the failure of the NL Toronto-Washington,

Foul Problems Ended Michigan Upset Hopes

By LEE LINDER
Associated Press Writer
PHILADELPHIA (AP) — Michigan knew it was all over when with 44 seconds left Indiana Coach Bobby Knight began removing his star players one by one and hugging them joyfully as Hoosier partisans cheered.

"I'm happy for them," the elated Knight said afterward, "and for those people who have invested part of themselves in this team."

"No question, Indiana is the No. 1 team in the country," acknowledged Michigan Coach Johnny Orr when the buzzer finally ended his 86-68 nightmare, giving the undefeated Hoosiers their 32nd season victory and the National Collegiate Athletic Association basketball title.

A grinning Quinn Buckner, Indiana's tenacious guard, boasted, "We won all our games. What else can you do?"

Michigan almost pulled off an upset but ran out of gas and into foul trouble with 10 minutes to go.

"We made a great effort," Orr said, specifically referring to the Wolverines' strong first half when they led 35-29. "But they were stronger in the second. We are proud to have lost to one hell of a basketball team ... They're damn good, I'll tell you that."

Indiana won despite losing 6-foot-7 guard Bobby Wilkerson in the opening minutes. He suffered a moderate concussion in a collision with Michigan's Wayman Britt.

"When you lose someone so suddenly you don't have much time to think about a lot of things," Knight said. "You just try to think of a replacement. We tried a couple of guys and then we went for more quickness with Jim Wisman. Jimmy did a great job in moving the ball from side to side, getting it to the people who could score. It's interesting that he has played hardly at all previously in the tournament."

Wisman came in with 42 seconds left in the first half, and he stayed all the way in the second half when the Hoosiers broke the game wide open.

"Wisman was the difference that allowed them to run their offense," said Michigan's Steve Grote. "We never had a better first half against Indiana, nor a worst second half. This was the first time they really beat us."

It was the third time Indiana has beaten Michigan this season — the others 80-74 and then 72-67 in overtime.

Orr said Michigan was running well and shooting well until his club got into foul trouble early in the second half, and eventually lost two players — Britt, team captain, and freshman Phil Hubbard, who had fouled out in the two previous Hoosier games.

"They were getting the shots, and we were fouling them before the ball dropped in," Orr said. They just wore us down."

Racer Netters Defeat Mississippi State 5-4

Murray State recorded one of its biggest tennis wins in several years Monday as the Racers defeated Mississippi State 5-4 in Starkville.

The southern road trip will continue today as the Racers are scheduled to take on the University of Mississippi. Coach Bennie Purcell of the Racers said the match may not be played though because the Oxford area is due for heavy rain today.

Against the Bulldogs, Mikko Horsma cruised to an easy win in the number one singles by defeating Heino Lentz 6-2 and 6-2 while at number two, Mike Owen, an Evansville native, had to go split sets to beat Ed Copetes 6-7, 6-4 and 6-3.

At the number three spot, Roger Westfall of the Racers fell 6-7 and 5-7 to Paul Espinosa while at number four, Tom Lie of Murray lost 3-6 and 2-6 to Mario Copete.

In the number five singles, Del Purcell lost 2-6, 6-1 and 6-4 to Randy Purdom. Jeff Leeper of the Racers evened up the singles as he won at number six over Bill St. Clair 7-5 and 6-3.

That simply meant Murray had to win two of the three doubles matches to defeat Mississippi State and that's exactly what the Racer netters did. Westfall-Purcell lost 7-6, 4-6 and 2-6 to the Copetes at number two but at number one, Horsma-Owen defeated Lentz-Espinosa 6-7, 6-4 and 6-4 to again tie it up at four matches apiece.

The outcome of the match was decided at the number three doubles position where Lee-Leeper defeated Purdom-St. Clair 6-7, 6-1 and 6-4.

The win over Mississippi State leaves the Racer tennis team with a 5-2 season record.

CLOCK & WATCHES PERSONALIZED WITH YOUR NAMES!

...a gift they'll remember every minute, every day of the year.

There's no nicer way to remember someone special than with the famous cherub characters from Kim Grove's nationally syndicated cartoon "Love is". Each watch or clock is personalized with that special name, day or date you want them to remember. The "Love is" Mini-Alarm clocks are West German imports, stand a full 4" high, have double alarm bells, an all brass plated case and luminous hands. They're the excellent quality you'd look for in that important gift.

The "Love is" wrist watch is a great way to start a conversation wherever you go, with whom ever you're talking. Or let it serve as a constant reminder of how much you care to that special someone. It's a gift that will be with them wherever they go all day long. The watch has a swiss movement, stainless steel case, sweep second hand, is electronically tested and shock resistant. The polished gold case stands out against the handsome nylon band.

Watch, clock or both—you'll never find a better way to say you care or to help that special someone remember you always.

You can personalize the clock with one or two names and a special day or event such as: Happy Birthday, Happy Anniversary or a special date. You can personalize the watch with just two names only... due to space limitations.

Help is for the Asking... We're Asking...

When you're very young... castles are for the asking. All you need is the sand and the spot. And a little encouragement.

When you're very young and you have cystic fibrosis, like Suzanne does, help is for the asking. Equipment to help you breathe. Medication to help you digest food and fight infection. Education to aid your family and doctor to help you live. And — help to hope, from people dedicated to conquering this yet incurable disease.

And so — we're asking. For Suzanne, and all the children with C/F, and other lung-damaging diseases. Asking for you — for your help.

Please, don't wait — volunteer today. Time is short for sand castles, and the children with C/F who build them.

'Cuckoo's Nest Wins Top Academy Awards

By LEE MARGULIES
Associated Press Writer
LOS ANGELES (AP) — "One Flew Over the Cuckoo's Nest," a movie whose message of hope and perseverance has special meaning to the people who fought for 15 years to get it made, became the first film since 1934 to sweep the four most prestigious Academy Awards.

"Cuckoo's Nest" was named best picture of the year. Jack Nicholson, as the leader of a rebellious group of mental hospital inmates, and Louise Fletcher, as the strong-willed nurse who keeps them in line, won the top acting Oscars for 1975. Milos Forman was named best director. In addition, Lawrence Hauben and Bo Goldman took best screen adaptation honors at the 48th annual presentations Monday night.

"To anybody who's got a dream and there's a possibility that it's not going to be a reality, just hang on, it'll be all right," said "Cuckoo's Nest" coproducer Michael Douglas, accepting the Oscar for best picture. That was the message of the film and of making the film.

Comedian George Burns, 80, became the oldest actor ever to win an Oscar. His supporting performance in "The Sunshine Boys" was his first motion picture part in 37 years. Lee Grant, whose NBC television series "Fay" was canceled three weeks after it debuted last fall, was named best supporting actress for her role as an adulteress in "Shampoo."

"It Happened One Night," with Clark Gable and Claudette Colbert, was the only other film to walk off with the top Academy Awards, in 1934.

Douglas' father, actor Kirk Douglas, tried to turn Ken Kesey's novel of "One Flew Over the Cuckoo's Nest" into a movie 15 years ago, but he was never able to get the project off the ground. Michael got interested in it five years ago and with coproducer Saul Zaentz fought to get financial backing amid a widely held feeling that the project couldn't be a success because it was depressing and dealt with crazy people.

Their dream paid off and so, in other ways, did those of Miss Fletcher, Nicholson and Forman.

Miss Fletcher, who had given up acting for 11 years to raise her children, won the role as Nurse Ratched only after five big name actresses had turned it down. Accepting the Oscar, she provided the most touching moment of the evening as she faced a national television audience and said, her voice breaking with emotion:

"For my mother and my father, I want to say thank you for teaching me to have a dream. You are seeing my dream come true."

She delivered the message in sign language at the same time. Her parents, both deaf mutes, were watching from their home in Birmingham, Ala., she told reporters later. For Nicholson it was the first Oscar win in five tries. He previously had been nominated for "Easy Rider," "Five Easy Pieces," "The Last Detail" and "Chinatown."

"Well," he said with a grin, "I guess this proves there are as many nuts in the Academy as anywhere else."

Forman, a native of Czechoslovakia, also had special reason to savor his directing Oscar. With him at the ceremonies at the Los Angeles Music Center were his twin 11-year-old sons. He was reunited with them Sunday night after five years. They flew in from Prague, where they live with their mother, from whom Forman is separated.

"The reunion was a great thrill," Forman told reporters backstage. "But I asked them if they wanted to see my film and they said, 'Well, we would rather see 'Jaws.'"

"Jaws," the biggest grossing picture of all time, won three Oscars — for sound, musical score and film editing. The only other big winner was "Barry Lyndon," which won for art direction, costume design, scoring adaptation and cinematography.

Best original screenplay went to Frank Pierson for "Dog Day Afternoon." "I'm Easy," written and performed by actor Keith Carradine in "Nashville," was named best song.

"The Man Who Skied Down Everest" won as best documentary feature and

"Dersu Uzala," a Russian production directed by the great Japanese filmmaker Akira Kurosawa, was named best foreign language film.

Mary Pickford, the first superstar of films and a founder of the Academy, was presented a special Oscar. The 82-year-old actress did not appear on stage but was seen in a prerecorded interview, in which she remarked, "You've made me very, very happy."

Burns, ever the comic, was in complete control as he made his acceptance speech for the Oscar, capping a distinguished career. "Making 'Sunshine Boys' was so exciting that I'm going to make a picture every 37 years," he cracked.

Backstage he was more reflective when asked what he thought about inheriting the role after the death of his closest friend, Jack Benny.

"It was a pretty tough part for me to take," he acknowledged. "But look, life goes on. You can't quit show business — not at my age. I'm starting a whole new career."

Twelve Democratic Candidates Contenders In Kentucky Primary

By SY RAMSEY
Associated Press Writer
FRANKFORT, Ky. (AP) — Almost half the Democrats invited to get into Kentucky's May 25 presidential primary no longer are contending actively for the presidency.

No matter. If a candidate became eligible for matching federal funds under a new law, he is being invited to participate in the state's first presidential primary.

Charlotte Mullins, Executive Director of the state Board of Elections, said Monday that is the criterion.

Thus, an invitation has gone out to Ellen McCormack, who is running on an anti-abortion platform.

And 11 other Democrats have been nominated by the three-member board.

They include Jimmy Carter, Henry Jackson, Morris Udall, George Wallace, Birch Bayh, Frank Church, Fred Harris, Sargent Shriver, Milton Shapp, Lloyd Bentsen, and Terry Sanford.

"We're giving them the opportunity to run," said Miss Mullins. "They will have 15 days to qualify and file the necessary papers."

The election board will meet Wednesday in Secretary of State Drexell Davis' office to nominate candidates in both parties and process petitions for other candidates.

The three board members are Davis, by virtue of office — he is a Democrat — and Democrat Ray Bossmeyer, of Louisville, and Republican Earl Searcy, also of Louisville.

Five of the Democrats nominated either have pulled out of active campaigning or indicated they are giving up efforts entirely — Bayh, Shriver, Shapp, Bentsen and Sanford.

The petitions under board consideration must have 1,000 signatures for a candidate.

Miss Mullins indicated two such arrangements for the ballot would be approved.

One is for Roger MacBride of the Libertarian Party.

Another is for the American Party, with Thomas Anderson of Tennessee listed as presidential candidate and W. Ed Parker, of Louisville, as vice presidential candidate.

The Republican primary ballot presents no complications. It's President Ford versus Ronald Reagan, with nobody else expected to enter.

Kentucky law requires the board to nominate as presidential preference candidates those "generally advocated and nationally recognized" in political parties.

The top six candidates in the Democratic party will share the chain stitch single-thread sewing machine was invented by James Edward Allen Gibbs of Mill Point, Va.

The first science magazine was the American Journal of Science and Art, printed in New York City and issued in July 1818.

the 46 Kentucky delegates to the Democratic National Convention in proportion to how they fare in the May 25 voting.

Among the top six is expected to be an uncommitted slate, which is regarded as the territory of Gov. Julian Carroll if he should seek control of the state delegation.

The Republicans will not have an uncommitted slate, but apportionment of delegates also will be based on the primary outcome.

The GOP meets before the presidential primary to pick 37 delegates to the Republican National Convention. The Democrats convene afterwards.

Scent Resigns Position

FRANKFORT, Ky. (AP) — William E. Scent, the secretary of the cabinet and Commissioner of Finance since January, 1975, will return to his private law practice in two weeks.

Gov. Julian Carroll said Monday that Scent would step down April 15. He will be succeeded as cabinet secretary by Jackson White, the governor's general counsel.

Russell McClure, chief executive assistant to Scent, will become Commissioner of Finance.

Carroll said he will sign an executive order before the appointments become effective, separating the two posts.

Scent served as state Revenue Commissioner from 1959 to 1961, under former Gov. Bert Combs and was U.S. Attorney in Kentucky's Western District from 1961 to 1965.

He practiced law in Hopkinsville until Carroll asked him to join state government 15 months ago.

Carroll said he asked Scent to come to Frankfort for a year, and he attributed "what success my administration has achieved" to men like Scent and White.

White has served as Carroll's general counsel since December, 1974. For two and a half years prior to that he was director of the Legislative Research Commission.

Andrew J. Palmer, now the deputy general counsel, will succeed White as general counsel. He served as assistant Commonwealth's Attorney in the Second Judicial District until joining Carroll's staff in January, 1975.

McClure worked on the budget staff of the state Finance Department from 1958 to 1962, and then became assistant for business affairs to the president of Morehead State University. He was Morehead's vice president for fiscal affairs prior to joining the Carroll administration in January, 1975.

Peers Compiled History Of Kentucky; Credit Was Due His Brother-in-Law

MAYSVILLE, KY. (AP) — Henry Perviance Peers laid the foundation for an important part of Kentucky pioneer history, but did not receive the credit which should have been his for researching what is still the most widely used reference work on Kentucky history.

1846. "Historical Sketches of Kentucky" was reprinted twice. In 1847, the book was enlarged and republished by Richard H. Collins, son of Lewis Collins. The enlarged edition had several printings, including an edition for schools which was republished in 1924. The most recent republication of "Collins' History of Kentucky" was in 1966 by the Kentucky Historical Society.

Peers traveled the state in the early 1840's, compiling the research material for the book "Historical Sketches of Kentucky," more familiarly known as "Collins' History of Kentucky."

The book was published 20 months after Peers' death by Lewis Collins of Maysville, the researcher's brother-in-law. Peers, who had intended his research for a small gazetteer of the state, had the material in good order at the time of his death at age 38 on March 6, Soprano Alice Hopper, a doctoral student at the University of Illinois in Champaign-Urbana, will appear at Murray State University in a guest recital on Monday evening, April 5.

Legislative Research Commission Names Interim Legislative Boards

FRANKFORT, Ky. (AP) — The Legislative Research Commission—departing from tradition—has named the officers of the 15 joint interim legislative committees.

The LRC, composed of the leadership of the two parties in the House and Senate, voted Monday to change the procedure by which chairmen and vice chairmen of the interim committees have been chosen in the past.

standing committee on one house serves as chairman of an interim committee, the chairman of the standing committee in the other chamber serves as vice chairman.

Under the new rules adopted by the LRC, each committee chairman will have the responsibility for calling the initial interim meeting "when he feels there is sufficient pending business to justify a meeting."
