Groundbreaking Held For Library

Groundbreaking ceremonies on a $3 million project at Murray State University to convert the Waterfield Student Union Building into the main campus library were held Saturday on the MSU campus.

Harry Lee Waterfield, of Frankfort, former two-time lieutenant governor and native of Calloway County and for whom the new library will be named, participated in the groundbreaking, as well as members of his family.

The building has served as the center for student activities from 1959 until earlier this year. Dr. Edwin Strohecker, director of the library, also spoke at the ceremony. Representatives of Harper and Arterburn of Paducah, the general contractor, and Peck Associates of Paducah, the architectural firm, were also at the ceremony, along with other state, city, county, and university officials.

Expected to take 20 months to complete, the project consists of extensive renovation of the existing structure and a three-level addition to the front of the building.

When completed in July, 1978, the library project will include almost 100,000 square feet of space, more than 57,000 in the existing structure and 40,800 in the addition.

The old library, one of the campus landmarks since it was built in 1931, along with the C. S. Lowry Addition, completed in 1967, will house special collections, the Department of Library Science, and other functional offices of the university.

A portion of the former University School is temporarily serving as the student center. Plans for a new University Center are underway, with construction expected to begin in late summer.

GROUND BREAKING—Former Lt. Gov. Harry Lee Waterfield, his wife, and grandchildren Michael and Mary Dudgeon, took part in the groundbreaking Saturday for the new central library facility. The former student center will be expanded to house the central library.

Calloway Speech Team Wins Tourney

The Calloway County High Speech team returned to Murray Saturday night from the Bullitt Central Speech Tournament with its most impressive first place sweepstakes victory for the 76-77 season.

Calloway County defeated last year's state champ, St. Xavier High School for first place honors. Calloway compiled 255 points for top honors while St. Xavier scored 250 points for second place. Following in third place was Russellville with 231 points.

The best teams from Kentucky and Ohio were competing in the Bullitt Tournament. There were 29 schools in competition.

The Laker Speech Team qualified 12 members for the final round of competition. Those students qualifying were Johnny Brinkley, Luana Colson, Rick Cunningham, Sheila Darnell, Karen Edwards, Tammy Feltner, Nada Frazier, Jo Beth Norwood, Jackie Parker, Gail Tucker and Chuck Williams.

Team members winning individual awards were Karen Edwards, first in Analysis of Public Address; Chuck Williams, second in Extemp. Speaking; Rick Cunningham, second in Storytelling; John Brinkley, third in Oratory; and Tammy Feltner and Luana Colson, third place in Duet Acting.

Speech team coach Larry England said, "The competition at the Bullitt Tournament was the strongest that the Lakers have faced this year." The team will enter the Henry Co. Tournament at Paris, Tenn., December 4.

Sunny and Cold

Partly sunny and cold today, high in the mid to upper 30s. Clearing and colder tonight, low in the low to mid 20s. High Tuesday in the upper 30s to low 40s. Wednesday cold with chance of snow.

Fewer Local Families In Low Income Range

According to a nationwide study of income and its distribution, Calloway County has more of its families in the middle and upper brackets and fewer in the lower ranges than ever before.

Locally, there has been a progressive movement upward, with many families advancing from their former levels to the next higher ones.

Some of them, who had been in the $8,000 to $10,000 group a year or two ago, are now located in the $10,000 to $15,000 spot. Their former positions, in turn, have been taken over by families who had been earning less than $8,000 previously.

The findings are detailed in a report released by the Standard Rate and Data Service, covering communities in all sections of the country.

The purpose was to obtain a better financial picture of each area than is possible through the "average income" figure that is usually given.

Does that average apply to a large segment of the population or does it represent a small proportion of high-income families offsetting a large proportion with smaller incomes?

The report shows that 60.7 percent of the households in Calloway County had $8,000 or more left to them as spendable income in the past year after payment of their personal taxes.

The proportion, by way of comparison, was 57.6 per cent the year before, when a similar study was made.

Since the figures refer to cash income only, they understate somewhat the situation in farm areas where, in lieu of cash, there are special advantages in the form of lower living costs.

Just what portion of Calloway County's population fell within each income bracket in the past year is indicated in the report.

Some 16.4 per cent of the local households had net earnings of $5,000 to $8,000. Another 11.4 per cent were in the $8,000 to $10,000 category. In the $10,000 to $15,000 bracket were 21.8 per cent and, above that level, 27.5 per cent. The others had $5,000 or less left after taxes.

In general, however, despite the income gains, most families were no better off at the end of the year than at the beginning, thanks to inflation.

Local Man Is Named As Outstanding Farmer

Danny Cunningham, who operates a farm in the Penny community, was named Kentucky's "Outstanding Young Farmer" for 1976 at the fall

DANNY CUNNINGHAM "Outstanding Young Farmer" board meeting of the Kentucky Jaycees held in Bowling Green over the past weekend.

Cunningham was nominated for the award by the Murray-Calloway County Jaycees and will represent Kentucky in competition for the national award.

Also at the state board meeting, the Murray club was proclaimed as the number one club in the area, the number one club in the west region and the number four JC club in the state.

The Murray-Calloway County Jaycees was named as Most Enthusiastic in the region.

The Murray-Calloway County Jaycees was named as Action Club of the month for October and received two gold medallions, one for interclub extension and one for action club of the quarter.

The local club was also named as Most Enthusiastic in the region.

Murray Jaycee Jerry McCoy was awarded a Kentucky Colonel commission during the meeting.

Cunningham and his wife, Julia Ann, who also attended the meeting, have three daughters, Deana, Dana and Denise.

Local Jaycees who attended the meeting were Mr. and Mrs. Jerry McCoy, Mr. and Mrs. Ted Delaney, Mr. and Mrs. Mike Hutchens, Mr. and Mrs. Johnny Sheridan, Mr. and Mrs. Dennis Jones, Danny Dunn, Danny Chadwick, Steve Towery and Tony Wallace.

Special speakers for the event were Dick Robinson, immediate past president of the U. S. Jaycees and Don Mauney, U. S. Jaycee vice-president.

MHS Speech Team Travels To Memphis

The Murray High School Speech Team traveled to Memphis, Tenn., over the weekend to participate in the 14th Annual Final Frontier Classic of Memphis Frayser High School.

This tournament was sponsored by the Memphis Commercial-Appeal and WHBQ-TV. The field of competition drew 27 schools from four states on the two days of competition.

Laura Shinnars took first place in prose interpretation, and Donna Bailey and Laura Shinnars took fourth place in duet acting. Kim Alley reached the semi-finals in poetry interpretation, and Robyn Burke reached the semi-finals in dramatic interpretation.

Two students, Donna Bailey and Laura Shinnars, were selected to be taped for the newscast of WHBQ-TV. They were the only students selected out of a field of more than 400 for television. Their selection came from recommendations of judges and coaches.

Other students participating were

City Council Meets Tuesday

The regular meeting of the Murray Common Council this week will be held on Tuesday evening rather than Thursday because of the Thanksgiving holiday.

Items scheduled on the agenda for the meeting, which will begin at 7:30 p.m. Tuesday at City Hall, include:

—a report on a recent traffic sign survey from city planner Steven Zea;

—a report from Steve Owens describing the activities of the Fraternal Order of Police and the organization's relationship with the Police Department and the city;

—consideration of authorizing advertising for bids on a new roof for the mausoleum in the Murray Cemetery.

Career women, take note: Make one or two Christmas cookie doughs on one evening, cover and chill. Plan to bake them the next evening after removing the dough from the refrigerator about 15 minutes in advance of baking. That 15 minutes is necessary if the cookies are to be "worked" as in rolling and cutting.

First Wife Would Be Fifth Wheel

By Abigail Van Buren
 © 1976 by Chicago Tribune N.Y. News Synd. Inc.
DEAR ABBY: My husband and his first wife were divorced after 26 years of marriage. The divorce was her idea, and I was in no way involved. They have three grown children with whom I have a warm relationship.
 My husband and I invited his children to our home for Thanksgiving dinner. All have accepted, which means his ex-wife will be all alone on Thanksgiving, so my husband asked me to please invite his ex-wife.
 I have met her, and although I bear no ill feelings against her, I really don't see why she should be included. She divorced him because she wanted her freedom, so being along on holidays is part of the price she has to pay.
 Also, I'm afraid that if the entire family is together, I'll feel like an outsider. I really don't want her. What should I do?
NUMBER TWO
DEAR NUMBER TWO: Don't assume that she'll be alone if you don't include her. (She may have other friends.) Feeling as you do, tell your husband you'd feel awkward having her as your guest, and that should settle it.

DEAR ABBY: Please print this because we want to see if other parents of teenagers feel the same way.
 Why can't we sit down for a family evening of TV without every other commercial being for bras, douches, tampons, Kotex or some other personal feminine product? Our teenagers have more than once gotten up to leave the room because they're uncomfortable.
 When teenagers in this day and age are embarrassed, it must be pretty bad.
 We aren't prudes, Abby, but we think there is a time and place for everything. Newspaper and magazine advertising seem more appropriate for such advertising, not television!
 Let's get some pros and cons on this from your readers. Maybe we can influence the networks.
 V.G., SHREVEPORT, LA.

DEAR V.G.: You have my vote, for what it's worth, but don't get your hopes up.
DEAR ABBY: I notice you sometimes print people's pet gripes. Would you please print mine?
 To put it simply: My name is Patricia. It's not Pat, Patty or Tricia. It is PATRICIA, which is, I think a very beautiful name.
 Why then do new acquaintances insist on calling me "Pat" or "Patty," especially after I have pointedly introduced myself as Patricia?
 If someone introduces himself as Robert, I call him Robert. Unless someone gives me permission to call them by a nickname, I think it's bad manners to do so.
 Further, if a yo-yo continues to call me by a short name after I've told him (or her) that my name is Patricia, I become extremely irritated. A person's name is a very personal thing, and goofing around with it is a direct insult.
 PATRICIA

DEAR PATRICIA: Few people feel as strongly as you about having their names shortened. I don't regard it as an insult, but if you do, you can save yourself many insults and much irritation by emphatically stating each time you're introduced that you wish to be addressed ONLY as Patricia.

FOR TUESDAY, NOVEMBER 23, 1976

Look in the section in which your birthday comes and find what your outlook is, according to the stars.

ARIES (Mar. 21 to Apr. 20) ♈
 Stellar influences now suggest prudence, careful deliberation before acting. Don't "toss a coin" or make decisions in a haphazard way. Be painstaking.

TAURUS (Apr. 21 to May 21) ♉
 It will take patience, soft words and a great deal of humor to keep some things (and persons) in line now. But well worth it — and for a long time to come.

GEMINI (May 22 to June 21) ♊
 You may consider making some changes now, but be careful not to make too many, or to go too far in any one direction. A good adjustment should work out well, however.

CANCER (June 22 to July 23) ♋
 A day in which you MUST avoid extremes: They will tempt in various ways. Some situations may prove difficult, but all can be made easier through trying.

LEO (July 24 to Aug. 23) ♌
 A splendid day for improving methods and for experimenting generally. With your innate enthusiasm, you can give a lift to practically any project.

VIRGO (Aug. 24 to Sept. 23) ♍
 Your planetary influences advise against useless activity, negative attitudes, opposing others without reason. A day for exercising tolerance and plain common sense.

LIBRA (Sept. 24 to Oct. 23) ♎
 Stellar influences excellent! Both artistry and imagination stimulated. Use both well and results will please.

SCORPIO (Oct. 24 to Nov. 22) ♏
 Weigh fitness and the validity of proposed action carefully. Keep eyes on the farthest horizon possible as you steer your course.

SAGITTARIUS (Nov. 23 to Dec. 21) ♐
 You may have an unpleasant situation to deal with, or some complexity in a job matter. But your optimism and know-how can turn things to advantage if you don't panic.

CAPRICORN (Dec. 22 to Jan. 20) ♑
 Information needed to consummate a business deal now forthcoming. With the added facts on hand, proceed as originally planned.

AQUARIUS (Jan. 21 to Feb. 19) ♒
 Be cautious in dealing with associates. Some may urge you to make certain commitments against your better judgment. Don't let yourself be pressured.

PISCES (Feb. 20 to Mar. 20) ♓
 Your intuition and self-reliance stimulated now. And both will be needed if you are to solve some possibly "tricky" situations. Don't yield to anxiety, however.

THIS IS A Welcome Wagon TOWN!
 Let us welcome you.

Gamma Gamma chapter of Beta Sigma Phi heard a program of Kathy Lichtenegger's, at the "Panhandler" of Murray.

Mrs. Anne Uddberg gave an interesting performance of Norwegian Pastry Cooking, with delicious samples given to each girl present.

The business portion was discussed at the home of the president, Linda Rogers. The Ways and Means Committee announced that another bake sale will be held December 4th at the local Christmas Parade.

The Social Committee announced a new chairman, Mrs. Joretta Randolph and Christmas plans will soon be in the making. A Ritual of Jewells was given to the new member, Marie Dolchen.

Members in attendance were: Marie Dolchen, Linda Fain, Marsha Horton, Kathy Lichtenegger, Jackie Morris, Trisha Nesbitt, Joretta Randolph, Linda Rogers, Dortha Stubblefield, and Edna Vaughn.

When a recipe calls for chopped candied fruit, dates, dried fruit or raisins, it's easier to cut them with kitchen shears rather than a knife. Dip the shears in water between cuttings to prevent stickiness.

Butter cookies taste better after they're mellowed or aged because time gives them an opportunity to develop flavor. They should, of course, be placed in the proper container when ripening at a cool room temperature.

By MRS. W. P. WILLIAMS

Have you looked around you at the beauty that is everywhere? Take a walk in the woods, or walk down your own street and look at the trees. Some of them are showing their graceful shapes against the sky, as the limbs become bare. Many others are still holding their colorful burden of leaves. Maples are getting bare, but Oaks of all kinds, Ginkgos and Hickories are beautiful. Enjoy them while you can as winter is ready to pounce on them and takes its toll.

Holland bulb growers have sent out some material about planting and care of bulbs. So I am quoting from them. You will find it interesting. "What is so rare as a day in June?" the poet Lowell asks. Well, what's wrong with having a rare day in early March — or even late February — when spring starts "Bustin out all over" and the snowdrops, snowflakes and glory-of-the-snow emerge shyly from their winter hibernation? Or is that taking "poetic license"?

No one needs to wait for the rare days of June to see his garden come alive with color and fragrance. Bulb flowers, planted before the first frost of winter will race the robins to become the first harbingers of spring.

There is no more reliable or punctual bulb flower than the crocus, which is also inexpensive and available in many different colors and sizes. Look for crocuses in shades of yellow, plant them by the hundreds along a paved walk on a sunny slope or scattered here and there on the lawn to give a natural look. They'll gild your springtime garden. An ideal companion piece to the crocus is the Muscari, which is almost a miniature hyacinth. Muscari, in blue and white shades, can be used to set off your golden crocuses along the garden path or for a natural effect. Sprinkle a rock garden with their colors and unusual spherical shapes and texture.

Unlike the short-stemmed (four to six inches) crocus and Muscari, the Fritillaria Imperialis, or Crown Imperial, is the towering giant of the bulb flower family. Rising regally to a height of three feet, its strong, tubular stems are crested with from five to seven bright yellow or red blossoms with a green cockscomb-like growth on top.

Despite its size and showiness, the Crown Imperial will not overpower smaller bulb flowers. It blooms in late April and early May — after the crocus and muscari have played their "Overture to Springtime," and it co-exists harmoniously with its contemporary tulips and hyacinths.

Spring gardens should be planned with flower sizes and textures, as well as colors, in mind. Your garden supply dealer will guide you in selecting a happy blending. As is the case with all bulb flowers, the time to plant is before the frost and in well-drained, reasonably fertile soil.

There's no need to languish through spring yearning for "a summer of roses and wine." Not when you can enjoy the intoxicating spectacle of crocuses, muscari and Crown Imperials — in early spring!

Mrs. Fred Gingles Hostess For North Murray Homemakers Meet

Mrs. Fred Gingles opened her home for the meeting of the North Murray Homemakers Club held on Friday, November 12, at 4:30 p.m. with the president, Mrs. Edgar Morris, presiding.

The devotion on "Prayer" was given by Mrs. Charles Humphreys who read her scripture from James. Twelve members answered the roll call by naming their favorite Thanksgiving dishes. One visitor was Mrs. Jean Cloar, county agent in home economics, who announced the open lesson on "Framing Of Pictures" on November 16.

The lesson on "Energy Conservation and Housing" was presented by Mrs. Greene Wilson and Mrs. Angie Gibbs who gave many points and solutions on saving electricity. Landscape notes were read by Mrs. Bailey-Riggins. Mrs. Esco Gunter directed the recreational period.

Refreshments were served by Mrs. Gingles. The next meeting will be in the home of Mrs. Morris on Friday, December 10, at 11:30 a.m. with the usual covered dish luncheon and exchange of gifts.

NUTRITIONAL INFORMATION ABOUT FISH
— 1. Protein in fish is complete. Lean, white fleshed North Atlantic Ocean fish contain 18 to 20 per cent protein and it is 85 to 95 per cent digestible. 2. North Atlantic species are called "lean" because they are low in fat content, and the fat is primarily polyunsaturated. 3. One four-ounce serving contains less than 100 calories. 4. Fish are a source of minerals — iodine, magnesium, calcium, phosphorus, iron, potassium, copper and fluoride... and a good source of the B complex vitamins. — Jean Cloar, Murray.

Self-Cleaning Ovens do require energy to operate. However, the cost is approximately 15 cents. Another factor not to be overlooked is the cost of cleaning compounds, which cost more than 15 cents. In addition, a self-cleaning oven usually has more insulation than a regular oven. That in itself can be worth the energy it requires. — Juanita Amonett, Paducah.

Reducing Judges

By S. C. Van Curon

FRANKFORT — The idea of Gov. Julian Carroll to reduce the number of district judges from 134 to 98 and appoint more trial commissioners as an economy move appears to be on a collision course with the judicial article adopted as an amendment to the Constitution by the voters in 1975.

To qualify as a district judge under the article, the candidate must have been a practicing attorney for at least two years.

The article also provides that the district judge may appoint a lawyer in a county as a trial commissioner if there is no elected district judge residing in that county.

If there is no lawyer available in a county where a district judge does not reside, then the district judge may appoint a non-lawyer as commissioner "only on certification of the Supreme Court."

The interim Judiciary - Courts committee of the legislature has asked the Supreme Court to spell out the duties of the appointed commissioners, both lawyer and non-lawyer.

The meat of the idea behind the district judge system that the people approved by constitutional amendment is for trial before a legally trained judge. That's essentially what the article approved by the people says.

Under the simple specifications set out above, the Supreme Court has a lot of power in setting out the duties of the appointed commissioners.

For example, the Supreme Court can limit the powers of the non-lawyer commissioner to accepting bonds and issuing warrants. Then, the case would have to be tried before the district judge when he convenes court in that county.

Everyone concedes that trial commissioners will have only part-time duties and that the pay will be made commensurate with the load of work they will have in their prescribed areas.

A salary of $25,000 has been suggested for elected district judges, but Governor Carroll estimated up to $27,500. The salaries will be commensurate with the work load a judge has in his district. Some may be paid more than others. This is yet to be decided.

Last week Carroll suggested that the cost of each district judgeship might run to $60,000 to $70,000, including office rental, secretary, law books and salary. This is the first mention that the district judges will be provided secretaries by the court system. The general idea has been that the Circuit Clerk's office would provide a secretary for the district court and judge. They reason there just won't be that much need for a secretary for each judge.

By reducing the number of district judges from 134 recommended to 98 Carroll proposes, the state would save $900,000 a year at a salary of $25,000 for the judges. If the trial commissioners average $10,000 a year, replacing the judges with commissioners would reduce the saving to $540,000.

The best ballpark figure available from state sources is that the present court system in Kentucky produces about $26 million in revenue per year. This will go a long way in supporting a court system with legally trained judges throughout.

A uniform fee system will be in effect for the first time in the state. Knowledgeable sources seem to agree that the new district court system will produce more revenue from fines and forfeitures than is presently realized through police courts, quarterly courts and magistrate courts. Stricter accounting methods and uniform fees should do this.

Letter To The Editor County Spending Questioned

Dear Editor:

After reading in the news recently that the county highway department had exceeded their budget and would need additional funds to meet their obligations for the remainder of the year, I feel that I must question some actions of the fiscal court.

In October, 1976 I submitted bids on the metal building to be used as the county garage. I submitted bids on two different buildings, each meeting all specifications as set forth by the fiscal court and each of equal quality. My bid was approximately $1,100.00 lower than the next lower bid, but my bid was rejected and the higher bid accepted.

If the higher priced building was of better quality, I would feel that the fiscal court had acted wisely in purchasing that one, but at a special called meeting, they refused to compare the manufacturer's specifications to determine the better buy.

I feel that men elected to represent the people of Calloway County should make every effort to spend the taxpayers' money wisely, and then maybe the budget would not have been exceeded by such large amounts.

Sincerely yours,
Edwin Cain

MUSIC

A buxom soprano was rehearsing an operatic passage and Sir Thomas Beecham was urging her to reach for notes beyond her range.

"Higher, madam," he kept exhorting her, "higher."

Higher and higher she went, creeping up note by note, but still he demanded more. She decided to make one last effort to hit that elusive note. To prepare herself, she sucked in a massive quantity of air.

Beecham, mouth agape, watched in fascination as she slowly inflated. Then, just when it appeared that she was about to burst, he broke the spell.

"Stop, madam!" he cried out "The last note will suffice."

Heartline: I have been employed under Civil Service for eight years. I recently had an automobile accident and my injuries may keep me from ever working again. Can you tell me how I can qualify for a disability annuity? O.N.

Answer: For a person working under Civil Service to be eligible for disability benefits, he or she must have worked at least five years under Civil Service. Also, the employee also must be disabled enough to prevent him or her from efficiently performing the duties of the position occupied or the duties of a similar position. It need not be shown that the applicant is disabled for all kinds of jobs.

As one gentleman by the name of C. S. Lewis observed, "... you cannot go on being a good egg forever; you must either hatch or rot."

The root of many of America's difficulties may lie in the fact that not enough people have taken the trouble to hatch. It has been observed that hatching must be the objective of the individual for his own sake — the eye focused on the growth of one's own consciousness, not the reforming of others.

In seeking an individual of integrity and purpose, we suggest looking in a mirror and not elsewhere. Try your best and hope for the best; others will follow and some may pass you.

As one modern philosopher put it, "Making hatching a game of leapfrog — the greatest game in life!" Not bad advice for over 200 million people who have to get their nation back on the track.

The last thing the U.S. needs right now is a bunch of rotten eggs.

Let's Stay Well

Congenital Atresia

By F.J.L. Blasingame, M.D.

Many women born without a vagina (congenital atresia) can now be treated without surgery and can often be expected to have a normal sex life.

According to a recent report in Medical World News, T. Ray Broadbent, M.D., a plastic surgeon from Salt Lake City, says that congenital atresia of the vagina occurs once in about 3,000 female births. It often goes unnoticed in early life and may not be detected until the girl fails to menstruate or until she has a premarital examination.

Such women usually have normal secondary sexual characteristics with average female pelvis and breasts. Their sexual desires may be normal and their ovaries generally function in an adequate manner. However, they have no vagina.

Conventional plastic surgery to construct a vagina is not uniformly satisfactory. This procedure constructs a vagina from skin, and it lacks the characteristics of normal mucosal lining, which cleans itself. With the skin lining, a foul discharge requires persistent vaginal hygiene.

The nonsurgical technique takes advantage of the natural fact that the tissue in the inadequate vagina is extensible. This procedure was originated some years ago by Truman Blocker, Jr., M.D., and William McGanity, M.D., of the Texas University Medical Branch at Galveston.

The patient is carefully counseled regarding her condition and how it can be modified. She is then taught to introduce into the undeveloped pocket behind her urethra (through which urine is discharged) a set of plastic dilators, beginning with the smallest which measures 0.5 inch by one inch. It is moved back and forth to stretch the tissue. Such dilation is done for about 15 minutes twice a day. The patient shifts to the next larger size after her vaginal tissue has stretched. A series of eight dilators are generally used, the largest one measuring 1.75 inches by 7.0 inches.

Such dilation should not be done in children in whom vaginal atresia is found but should be instituted about three months before an active sex life is anticipated.

The majority of women treated by the dilating technique have been able to establish a normal sex life that is satisfactory to them and their husbands, according to Dr. Broadbent.

Women who have vaginal atresia cannot become pregnant, and their desire for children must be satisfied by adoption.

Q Ms. LN: thinks that she may be troubled with low blood sugar and wants to know the symptoms.

A: The usual symptoms of low blood sugar (hypoglycemia) are weakness, episodes of breaking out in a sweat, fatigue and lightheadedness. Hypoglycemia is a relatively uncommon disease and is mimicked by other conditions. You should see your physician for evaluation. He or she may have to do laboratory tests on your blood to make an accurate diagnosis.

Q Mr. T.T. wonders just how effective swine flu vaccine would be in preventing a person from catching the disease if it appears more widespread.

A: Authorities on virus diseases believe that swine vaccine, which has had widespread studies made on it, will be 85 to 90 per cent effective in preventing or ameliorating swine influenza in adults over 25 years of age. Studies continue on younger persons. They may require a second (booster) injection four weeks or later after the initial injection.

Eastern Kentucky Mops Morehead

By The Associated Press
Eastern Kentucky, figured back in September to be a year away from title consideration, cashed in earlier than expected by clinching the Ohio Valley Conference football title last weekend.

Eastern, which finished 8-2 overall and 6-1 in the OVC, won the title outright by bombing Morehead State 31-12. Tennessee Tech, last year's coach, finished 5-2 by spanking Middle Tennessee 33-10, but lost its title hopes in a 28-14 setback to Eastern two weeks ago.

In other OVC games in the last weekend of the conference season, Murray State handed Western Kentucky its first losing season since 1965 by clipping the Hilltoppers 16-6, and Austin Peay stopped East Tennessee 17-6.

Tigers Rip Reidland 36-19 In Jamboree Action At Tilghman

Two of the top three rated teams in the First Region came away with wins Saturday night in the Paducah Tilghman Basketball Jamboree but number one Mayfield was upset by Lone Oak.

The third-rated Murray High Tigers, who finished runner-up to Tilghman in the Regional Tournament last year, easily won their game, blitzing Reidland 36-19.

There were four games played in the jamboree with each game consisting of one, 15-minute quarter.

In the first contest, second-rated Tilghman had no trouble in romping to a 41-23 victory over a Fulton County team hit heavily by graduation.

In the second contest, Murray High was never in any trouble as Coach Cary Miller emptied his bench in the Tiger win.

The third contest found Lone Oak taking a 28-26 win over Mayfield while in the final game, Trigg County edged Heath 37-34.

Murray High, playing without forward Lindsey Hudspeth who received a neck injury in the final football game of the season, got strong efforts from several untested players.

Senior guard Bill McHugh, who played sparingly last season on the varsity, tossed in nine points in an outstanding effort to share game honors with 6-1 junior forward Willie Perry, who started in place of the injured Hudspeth.

Senior guard Brett Harcourt, who had been sidelined with mononucleosis, added six points while senior guard Richie Richardson scored four as did junior forward Frank Gilliam.

Senior center Andrea Perry and senior guard Raymond Sims each scored two.

"I was very pleased with our effort," Coach Cary Miller said.

"We tried to look at as many players as we could. We played all 12 people on our roster.

"I was very pleased with our guard play from Sims, McHugh, Harcourt and Richardson," Miller added.

"I also thought the younger kids on the club did well, particularly Willie Perry who did not play varsity ball last year. Willie hit the boards very well.

"As a unit, we played together quite well for it to be so early," the Tiger coach added.

Mayfield played without one of their top players, Joey Shelton who is still playing football and his absence, almost needless to say, hurt the Cardinals very much.

Murray High will open its season November 30 at Trigg County.

Super Defensive Effort Keys Murray Over 'Toppers, 16-6

By MIKE BRANDON

Ledger & Times Sports Editor
Every now and then on the Tonight Show, they show films of whacky plays from professional football games.

Johnny Carson's film crew would have had a field day Saturday afternoon in Stewart Stadium when Murray State wrapped up third place in the Ohio Valley Conference race with a 16-6 victory over Western Kentucky.

In the first quarter, after Western had taken a 3-0 lead on a Dave Betz field goal, Murray tied the game at 3-3 on a field goal by Hank LaGorce. As the stand-in horse for "Old Dobbin" trotted around the track after the field goal, the rider fell off the horse and landed flat on the track. Fortunately, the only damage was to the ego of the rider.

Bobby Craig got hit in the middle of the back late in the game by a football. The ball bounced up in the air and teammate Chuck Wempe got it for an interception.

Quarterback Mike Dickens of Murray pitched the ball out to tailback Don Portell who ran around the left side. Portell then handed the ball off to Larry Foxwell who was breaking back the other way. Foxwell pitched the ball to Dickens and he in turn fired a bomb to a lonely Gary Brumm in the endzone. Brumm just missed the ball, Coach Bill Furgerson fell to his knees and the entire crowd of 10,300 went absolutely berserk.

It was a fun day indeed. But of course, the most fun was beating WESTERN.

Murray beat Western, yes. Western did not beat themselves, though they had six turnovers. Again, it was the Murray State defense that wrote the victory script.

The scoreboard did not work the entire game, thus part of the excitement was taken away since nobody really knew how much time was left.

"We were constantly trying to figure out how much time was left," Furgerson said. "The amount of time left in a game has a lot to do with what we call on offense and defense," he added.

Though the time was not working on the clock, timeliness was working on the field.

With the teams tied at 3-3 and early in the second period, Murray went ahead for good as defensive back Jim O'Connor popped up and intercepted a Doug Bartholomew pass and scampered 38 yards for the touchdown and after Tom Wright hit the extra point, the Racers led 10-3.

"We expected them to come out running with the ball but I knew they would have to go to the air too because I knew they couldn't run the ball against us," O'Connor said.

Indeed, Western couldn't run the ball, at least when they needed too.

With an awesome defensive front four and a superb effort from the linebackers, Murray shut down Western time and time again. In fact, the Hilltoppers never were able to get past the Racer 30-yard line.

The only other Western score came early in the fourth period when Betz booted a 50-yard field goal to make it a 10-6 game.

On the next series, the Racers shocked everyone with the double reverse play that ended with Brumm just missing the ball in the endzone.

With just over six minutes left in the contest, a pass by Bartholomew hit Craig smack in the back. But senior defensive end Chuck Wempe was right there and grabbed the ball for an interception.

On the first play from scrimmage after the interception, Dickens rambled 17 yards to carry the ball down to the Western 13.

Four plays later, on a second and two from the Hilltopper five, Dickens was dropped for a loss of five yards.

Everyone in the stands knew Western would have to pass as there was less than four minutes to play. On a first and 10 from his own 31, Bartholomew was again intercepted.

This time, Darrell Ramsey picked off the pass and ran 39 yards for the touchdown and that wrapped up the game. The extra point attempt failed and it was 16-6.

"That was the one. It was my biggest thrill ever in college football," Ramsey said of the interception return for the touchdown.

"I've been waiting for that to happen for four years," he added.

The last Western play was a most remarkable one. To cap a storybook ending, Wempe dropped Bartholomew for a 12-yard loss.

Only two years ago, Wempe was being pushed around campus in a wheelchair, after undergoing double knee surgery.

"We were going all out to win this one. It's just a great way to end a career," the All-

Conference Wempe said.

There were stars and more stars for the Racers. Wempe had nine unassisted tackles in the contest while Chuck Marquess had eight as did senior linebacker Al Martin.

O'Connor, who was knocked out twice in the contest, had seven tackles in addition to his touchdown. Craig and linebacker Kevin Whitfield each had five tackles.

Murray had several more chances to score. Once in the contest, defensive end Sam Franklin got his hands on a pass but couldn't find the handle. If he had caught the ball, he could have walked to the endzone. Another time, Roy Hackley picked off a pass but he was out of bounds.

And in the first period, Murray used a pass interference play that was good for 25 yards to carry the ball down to the Western three, where the offense stalled and LaGorce hit the field goal to tie the game at 3-3.

"How many turnovers did we get?" Furgerson asked. Someone huddled around the group of reporters in the dressing room told Furgerson his team forced six turnovers. "We asked for seven," Furgerson chirped.

"Our people stuck with it. After losing 13-11 to East Tennessee and 12-10 to Eastern Kentucky, we still were able to battle back. That's what happens when you have quality people.

"Bruce Walker got hurt on the first play of the game. He came back in, got hurt again later on, but still kept coming back and playing. That's the kind of folks we like to have in our program. Not only do we have good athletes but we have good students and good citizens," Furgerson added.

Murray finished with 164 yards on the ground, with freshman Don Portell racking up 90 in a sensational game. Dickens hit only two of 10 passes for 14 yards, giving the Racers a total net yardage of 178.

Western had 159 on the ground and 132 in the air for a total of 291. But the Hilltoppers had three passes picked off and lost three fumbles.

Recovering fumbles for the Racers were Dennis McGhee, Bill Shannon and Jeff Boyd.

Murray finishes the season with a 5-6 overall mark while the Hilltoppers bow out with a 4-5-1 record. In the league, Murray finishes in third place with a 4-3 mark while Western was 3-4.

The Racers lose only seven seniors off the squad. They are kicker Emodi Amagwala, who was injured for most of the season, defensive back Darrell Ramsey, fullback Bernie Behrendt, linebacker Al Martin, defensive back Bruce Walker, offensive tackle Buff Fritz and defensive end Chuck Wempe.

If the Racers can come up with some key recruits at key positions, Murray could very well be in the thick of the league race next season.

"As of right now, we're hitting the recruiting at full speed," Furgerson added.

Livingston County Gets 75-61 Win Over Lakers

By BARRY DREW
Ledger & Times Staff Writer

The Calloway County Lakers lost a hard fought game, 75-61, Saturday night when they met the Livingston Central Cardinals at Smithland.

Billed as a potential battle early last week, the game lived up to its billing and then some.

In the first and second quarters, the teams played almost even basketball. At the end of the first quarter the game was tied at 19 all. The half time score gave the Cards a slim lead of only two points at 32-30.

Livingston began to take control in the third quarter and opened up a lead of 48-41 over the Lakers. The Lakers were never able to get back into the game and Livingston coasted on in with a 14-point victory that was their third in a row.

The Lakers showed that they were more than a match for the run and gun Cards throughout the first half. The chink in the Calloway armor turned out to be fouls as the Cards went to the charity stripe 27 times and connected on 21.

The Cards had a big night on the boards holding a 41-25 edge in rebounding.

Chug Black paced the winning Cards with a 20-point performance. Livingston had five players hitting double figures with an outstanding performance from Ricky Ringstaff who came off the bench and went for 15 points on the night.

Senior forward Mike Wells led the Lakers with a game high 22 points. Following the lead of Wells, Randy McCallon added 11 and Jimmy Lamb and Tommy Futrell each had ten to put four of the visiting Lakers in the double column.

Calloway had a tough night trying to stop the Livingston attack. The Lakers went man to man with the Cards and frequently employed full-court pressure to stop Livingston. But the Cards seemed to rise to the occasion and thwart whatever the Lakers were doing on defense.

Livingston County enjoyed a good shooting night from the field as they hit on 26 of 65 field goal attempts. The Lakers nailed down 24 of 61 from the field. The foul line proved to be the winning margin for the Cards.

The game was a "battle" in the truest sense of the word. But it was a learning experience for Coach Robert Slone and his Lakers.

With the loss to Livingston Central, Calloway County is 1-2 for the season going into a Tuesday night contest with visiting Hickman County here at Jeffrey Gym.

Following the game with Hickman County the Lakers host Livingston County at home on December 2nd. Look for a really tough game as this young Calloway County team takes on the Cards on their home floor.

Calloway County played Livingston a good game except for the foul trouble which seemed to be what did them in. But they played good basketball up there Saturday night.

Basketball season runs a lot longer than three games.

GOING UP FOR TWO—Senior forward Mike Wells (44) goes up for two points in the Lakers' game against Livingston County Central Saturday night at Smithland. Forward Jimmy Lamb moves in for the possible rebound. He didn't need to. The shot was good and Wells put in 20 more for the night.

Michigan Rated Top Cage Team In First Poll, Peay Mentioned

By KEN RAPPOPORT
AP Sports Writer

All but four of the nation's Top Twenty college basketball teams start shooting this week.

The Big Four Tournament at Greensboro, N.C., on Friday night, highlighted by a game between third-ranked North Carolina and No. 15 North Carolina State, precipitates a landslide of games involving the country's basketball royalty.

The college basketball season opened Sunday with a token number of unimportant games. By next Saturday, such teams as top-ranked Michigan, third-rated North Carolina, fourth-ranked UCLA and fifth-ranked Indiana, the defending national champion, will see action.

Michigan entertains Western Kentucky Saturday, UCLA plays San Diego State Friday and No. 18 DePaul Saturday, and Indiana opens with a game against South Dakota Saturday.

Contractors Reminded Of Rules

Farm labor contractors covered by the Farm Labor Contractor Registration Act (FLCRA) are reminded by the U. S. Labor Department that they must have current certificates of registration in order to comply with the Act.

James E. Patching, regional administrator for employment standards, Atlanta, says that under the FLCRA a "farm labor contractor" is one who is paid to recruit, solicit, furnish or transport seasonal farm workers for agricultural employment either within a state or across state lines.

Contractors who are exempt from coverage are those who operate solely within a 25-mile radius of their homes and for not more than 13 weeks each year.

A registration certificate is effective only during the calendar year for which it is issued, according to Patching. However, a contractor who holds a 1976 certificate and files for renewal before Dec. 1, 1976 may continue to operate until his application for a 1977 certificate is acted upon.

Patching also cautions growers to deal only with contractors who hold valid certificates of registration and who are otherwise in compliance with the FLCRA.

Along with other requirements, the Act calls for contractors to provide workers with a full explanation of all pay deductions and to submit proof that any housing facilities the contractors own or control meet applicable federal and state safety and health standards.

Application for a registration certificate may be made at any office of the State Employment Service.

Under the Fair Labor Standards Act (FLSA), also administered by the Labor Department's Employment Standards Administration, persons employed in agriculture, by an employer who used more than 500 man-days of agricultural labor in any calendar quarter of the preceding calendar year, must be paid a minimum wage of at least $2.20 an hour beginning Jan. 1, 1977.

There is no overtime pay requirement for agricultural employees.

Additional information on both the FLCRA and the FLSA is available from the U. S. Labor Department's Wage and Hour Division office at 187-E Federal Building, 600 Federal Place, Louisville, Ky. 40402, telephone 502-582-5226.

Stir in one 16-ounce can kidney beans, one 4-ounce package sliced cervelat, cut up, 2 tablespoons pickle relish, 1 tablespoon vinegar, 1 teaspoon cornstarch and 1/4 teaspoon salt. Simmer 10 minutes, stirring occasionally. Serve hot. Makes 4 servings.

Farm Bureau Federation To Hold Annual Meeting In January

PARK RIDGE, ILL. — Government farm programs, taxation, spending, inflation, international trade, and the adverse impact of federal regulatory agencies on food production are expected to be the major policy issues discussed at the 58th annual meeting of the American Farm Bureau Federation in Honolulu January 9-11. With the Agriculture and Consumer Protection Act of 1973 expiring with the 1977 crop year, more than usual attention will be devoted to Farm Bureau recommendations to the Administration and Congress for programs designed to promote a market-oriented agriculture.

The convention is expected to be the largest ever for the organization with an anticipated attendance of 15,000 farm people. Policies on both national and international issues will be adopted by the voting delegates representing 49 state Farm Bureaus and Puerto Rico (Alaska has no Farm Bureau.) The Federation is the largest general farm organization in the nation with more than 2.5 million member families.

Guest speakers at the Monday and Tuesday January 10 and 11 general sessions of the convention in Honolulu's Blaisdell Center will include Ambassador Frederick B. Dent, U. S. Special Representative to the General Trade Negotiations in Geneva, Switzerland, and Shirley Temple Black, Chief of Protocol for the Department of State, and former U. S. representative to the United Nations. Ambassador Dent will address the convention on Monday morning, Mrs. Black will appear before the Tuesday morning general session. AFBF President Grant will give his annual address Monday morning. The Federation's Chief Administrator and Secretary, Richard W. Owens, will present his annual report Tuesday morning.

The convention will open with vesper services at 4:00 p. m., Sunday, January 9, led by the Reverend Dr. Abraham K. Akaka, a widely known Hawaiian clergyman. Pastor of Honolulu's historic Kawaiahao Church, Dr. Akaka, is a graduate of the University of Chicago, and has long been prominent in Hawaiian church affairs. The choir from the Kawaiahao Church will provide music for the services.

The American Farm Bureau Young Farmer and Rancher Committee will hold its discussion meet beginning Sunday afternoon at the Surftrider Hotel with selection of four national winners coming Sunday evening in the Sheraton-Waikiki's Hawaiian ballroom. Approximately 25 state Farm Bureaus have indicated that they will have representation in the contest this year.

Monday afternoon, January 10, will be devoted to special interest conferences, as well as the American Farm Bureau Women's annual conference.

Dr. John Hannah, former president of Michigan State University and presently

Executive Director of the World Food Council, and Edward W. Cook, chairman of Cook Industries, Inc., will be featured speakers at the Commodity and Marketing Conference. Dr. Hannah is expected to discuss some of the food problems facing developing nations, while Cook will discuss ways for American producers to sell in world markets and marketing problems in less developed countries.

In the Insurance Conference, three outstanding financial and insurance executives will talk of opportunities — and problems in the field of insurance. They will be Vestal Lemmon, president of the National Association of Insurers; Lester Rawls, Insurance Commissioner of the state of Oregon and Larry Ronson, who recently retired as senior vice-president of the First Hawaiian Bank.

At the Organization Conference, Charles B. Shuman, Sullivan, Illinois, former president of the American Farm Bureau, will discuss the importance of good volunteer leadership in Farm Bureau programs.

In the SAFEMARK Programs Conference, opportunities to improve and expand existing SAFEMARK product lines will be explored by American Farm Bureau Service Company staff and conference participants.

Entertainment for the convention will include a dance Monday evening at the Sheraton-Waikiki ballroom with Phil Ingall's orchestra playing.

Beginning at noon on Tuesday, the voting delegates from member state Farm Bureaus will begin consideration of the report of the Resolutions Committee. The Business session of the convention will continue through Wednesday morning with adjournment scheduled for Wednesday noon.

Tuesday evening will be devoted to the organization's annual awards and recognition program and a festival of traditional Hawaiian music and dance by several local groups. Programs judged for awards include: Membership, Commodity Activities, Farm Bureau Women, Farm Bureau Young Farmers and Ranchers, Information, Local Affairs, Marketing, National Affairs, Natural Resources, Political Education, Policy Development, Safety, and Special Projects.

Because all convention participants cannot be seated in Blaisdell Center at a single show, two performances will be presented Tuesday evening. The first will consist of the Hawaiian program plus the awards to state Farm Bureaus. The second performance will repeat the entertainment program.

From 4-H Cookbooks: Chicken Casserole Recipe

CHICAGO — Orange-nut rice topped with seasoned, coated chicken! Sound good? For flavor and texture, it's hard to beat this low-cost casserole prepared by young cooks in the national 4-H food-nutrition program.

BAKED CHICKEN WITH ORANGE-NUT RICE

- 1 cup water
- 1/3 cup orange juice
- 1/3 cup minced onion
- 1/4 cup butter, cut in pieces
- 2 tablespoons chopped pecans or peanuts
- 1 teaspoon salt
- 1-1/3 cups quick-cooking rice (uncooked)
- 2-1/2 pounds frying chicken pieces (or use all drumsticks)
- 1 envelope seasoned coating mix

Combine water, orange juice, onion, butter, pecans and salt in 2-quart shallow baking dish. Add rice and mix well. Coat chicken with seasoned coating mix as directed on package, and arrange over rice mixture. Bake at 400° for 45 to 50 minutes. Makes 4 servings.

With the casserole serve buttered wax beans, tomato salad, enriched or whole-grain rolls, apple pie with cheese, and milk. This menu includes servings from each of the four food groups: milk and milk products, meat, vegetable/fruit and bread/cereal. The four groups supply nutrients needed daily for good health.

For good nutrition, daily menus should include servings from each of the four food groups (milk, meat, vegetable/fruit, bread/cereal). The national 4-H food-nutrition program emphasizes practical instruction in planning and preparing well-balanced, appetizing meals and snacks. Program members 9-19 can earn awards ranging from county medals to college scholarships sponsored by General Foods Corporation.

To recognize outstanding achievement in the food-nutrition program, General Foods Corporation sponsors awards that range from county medals to college scholarships.

28-Dec. 2 in Chicago. During Congress, six national food-nutrition winners receive $800 scholarships.

All winners are chosen by the Extension Service. Awards are arranged and announced by the National 4-H Service Committee.

Up to four 4-H members per county can earn medals of honor, and one 4-H'er in each state can win an expense-paid trip to the 55th National 4-H Congress, Nov.

More information on the food-nutrition program is available from county extension agents.

Cooperating

Extension Office at 209 Maple Street and get acquainted. We have all sorts of programs, information, and publications to share with you. It's a tax-supported operation, so come on in and get your money's worth!"

Cooperative Extension is nothing new. It's been around more than 60 years, ever since it was established by an Act of Congress in 1914.

Even so, Calloway County Extension Agent for Home Economics, Mrs. Jean Cloar says she keeps running into people who never heard of Extension. "So, I guess we need to spread the word around, not only that we're here in each county, but why we're here," she says.

"Extension started out helping mostly rural families, but nowadays our informal education program is available to everyone who wants it. The whole thing is a cooperative effort on the part of federal, state and local county governments. This means that part of the money to make it work locally comes from our own county treasury."

Since 1972, the predominantly-black land-grant universities established by law in 1890 have been included in Extension work. In this state, the assistant director and his staff housed at Kentucky State University in Frankfort are a vital component of the total Extension program.

Individual Retirement Accounts
Today's Plan for Tomorrows Security

WHAT IS AN INDIVIDUAL RETIREMENT ACCOUNT?

An Individual Retirement Account (IRA) is a personal tax-sheltered retirement plan. It was developed by Congress to bring to every American worker the opportunity to build a more secure future for himself and for his family.

Corporations have long been permitted to establish retirement plans for their employees. As long as a plan met certain requirements, employer contributions to the plan were fully tax deductible. Likewise, employer contributions on behalf of an employee were not currently taxable to the employee. He was taxed on his share of the plan only when he received it.

Since 1962, tax deductions for contributions to a retirement plan have also been available to self-employed persons. In that year Congress determined that these persons, too, should be allowed a tax-sheltered method of saving for retirement. The result was H. R.-10, a law which allowed the self-employed to make tax-deductible contributions to a pension or profit-sharing plan.

While corporate and H. R.-10 plans covered a substantial portion of the working population, a large number of workers still had no tax-sheltered means by which to supplement Social Security. Recognizing that Social Security alone is inadequate, especially in times of inflation, Congress has now provided for Individual Retirement Accounts for those not covered by other plans. Amounts set aside in an IRA may be placed in a trust or custodial account with a financial institution such as ours. They may also be invested in an annuity or endowment contract, or qualified retirement bonds.

We would like the opportunity to discuss with you, first hand, how such an account might benefit you.

FARM REVIEW & FORECAST

Research Points Out Hazards Of No-Hay Rations For Cows

Displaced abomasums, leading to high surgery costs and loss of good cows, has been one of the chief problems related to no-hay diets for dairy herds, according to recent research at several universities. Ketosis also seems to be more common in herds that are not fed adequate hay rations.

The latest report to confirm this is an extensive study at Cornell University in Ithaca, New York. It is the second such study at that university that has turned up the same results.

While the report pointed out many advantages of an all-corn silage or corn silage and haylage diets for dairymen, the previous experiences on loss of cows and health problems reappears as a warning to dairymen using or considering all-corn silage programs. The newest report notes that the scientists have still not determined just why test cows fed hay along with their silage diets have less ketosis than the cows which receive no long fiber hay.

The Unknown Growth Factor (UGF) attributed to quality hay by researchers through the years, has still not been identified. But the new report seems to confirm the value of feeding hay to ward off health problems. A report on the research notes "ketosis was far more common in both silage, all-corn-silage and corn-silage-plus-haylage, diets than the ration which included hay. The reason for this is unclear."

While noting that milk fever was unrelated to diet, the report went on to state "however, a high percentage of displaced abomasums occurred in the all-corn cows only."

Data from the most recent studies indicate that for intake, milk production and body weight changes corn silage is as equal to hay as a forage. But, the long term effect of no-hay rations on dairy cows is not really known. The report states "Less resolved is the question of the effects of continuous corn silage consumption upon the health of dairy cows. More data are needed to corroborate previous studies and to provide information to farmers about the feasibility of long corn silage feeding."

Dr. Sam Guss, recently retired Pennsylvania State

University veterinarian, has long been an advocate of feeding adequate hay rations to ward off ketosis and displaced abomasums. Dr. Guss has reported on findings that showed increases on incidence of these problems when hay feeding dropped off due to drought-forced reduction of hay intake.

Farmers, too, have noticed the difference feeding adequate hay rations makes. R. Arthur Stoller, a Gridley, Illinois, dairyman had switched to a no-hay ration diet for his cows a few years back. He installed huge silos and made his feeding easier on him.

"But, a couple of years later things began to happen. We began to have herd problems such as displaced abomasums, mastitis, poor conception rates and some milk fever."

After reviewing his feeding plan, Stoller still couldn't discover what was wrong. Then he read an article about no-hay rations causing problems for dairy cows and decided he would look into it.

"We started feeding hay daily to all cows and within a short time the health problems began diminishing," Stoller said.

Stoller's experience and solution to a serious problem has been echoed by other farmers. By instituting a careful feeding program incorporating adequate long fiber hay with corn silage, grain and haylage rations, dairymen can help their herds to better health and more productivity.

Farm City Week Celebrated Locally

As the Calloway County High FFA participates in National Farm City Week, the involvement of one FFA member's farming operation relates the interdependence of rural and urban people.

Shea Sykes, President of the Calloway County FFA, had as a part of his Occupational Experience Program, 70 acres of corn. That produced about 8,000 bushels of grain. What does this mean to the food consumer? Food and fiber from field to factory to the family table furnish jobs and income for a third or more of America's working force. A wide variety of concerns in our society brings clearly into focus the growing need for better understanding between rural and urban people.

The 8,000 bushels of corn weighed about 448,000 lbs. It takes about 5 lbs. of corn to make 1 lb. of pork, therefore this FFA member produced about 89,000 lbs. of ham, bacon and sausage.

That same 70 acre corn project could produce 179,200 lbs. of poultry or 74,660 lbs. of hamburger and steak or 112,000 dozen eggs, or finally this FFA member could produce 896,000 lbs. of milk. This is quite a feat for one FFA member.

In the picture above, the Senior Ag 4 Class members from Calloway County High School are observing the grain unloading and drying operation of Allbritten Farms. In much of the world a farmer can raise enough plants and animals to supply only his own family's needs. There is nowhere near the productivity of the American farmer as can be seen by the following example. FFA members have, as part of their planned programs of occupational experience, cash crop projects such as soybeans, corn, wheat and tobacco, feed crops such as grain, hay, silage and pasture, and livestock projects such as beef, dairy or hogs. To produce any of these a farmer has to use tractors, combines, trucks, equipment, fuel, seed, fertilizer, herbicides and many other items. These are only a few products of the vast agricultural complex which forms the keystone to our nation's economy.

Consider what goes into the making of one tractor. The iron ore is mined then sent to be processed in a factory. The steel is sent to the machinery factory where it is pressed and molded, then assembled. Besides this, paint is used for the tractors, fuel and tires have to be made and processed for the tractor and these are only part of the materials involved.

The broad spectrum of

On Thursday morning, reports will be presented by P. L. Robinson of Jonesboro, Tennessee, the President of Dairymen, Inc., and James E. Mueller, Vice President of Finance for the cooperative.

Guest speaker for the morning's business session will be James J. Kilpatrick, nationally-known columnist and commentator.

Headquarters and press room facilities will be located at the new Hilton Hotel in downtown Atlanta.

More Contented? U.S. cows are the most productive of all milk cows in the world's major dairy producing countries.

Agricultural Occupations offers challenging opportunities. Within this framework one can find a choice of satisfactory life's work.

Here are some other interesting farm facts:

1. Two out of three people in the world are farmers while in the U. S. one person in 20 are farmers.

2. An average American farmer feeds about 51 people.

3. One acre of land is about the size of a football field.

4. One large tractor could cost as much as five cars.

5. One bushel of wheat will make about 47 or more loaves of bread.

6. American farmers grow half of the corn in the world.

7. One acre of land can produce enough potatoes to make 52,000 servings of french fries.

8. One apple tree equals about 225 apple pies each year.

9. A dairy cow may produce 72 glasses of milk daily.

• If you think turkey is that big bird we serve only on holiday occasions, you're wrong! It's something you can serve everyday if you stop by the market and pick up some turkey hot dogs, turkey salami, turkey pastrami or turkey roll.

Ky. 3 Win 4-H Congress Trips

Payne White Miss Brown

Three Union County students have been named 1976 state 4-H winners and will attend the 55th National 4-H Congress in Chicago Nov. 28-Dec. 2.

They are among about 30 Kentucky 4-H members named to state honors by the Cooperative Extension Service.

The three are George Payne, 18, son of Mr. and Mrs. George Payne of Waverly, Reed White, 15, son of Mr. and Mrs. Jack White of Clay, and Nancy Brown, 16, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. James E. Brown, also of Clay.

According to George Payne, the lives of all of us depend on conservation. His seven-year award-winning project dealt with soil erosion, planting and rotating crops, soil enrichment and irrigation. John Deere is providing Payne's trip to Congress.

Reed White's six-year petroleum power project won him a trip to Congress provided by Amoco Foundation, Inc.

White has mastered the safety aspects, sound maintenance and proper lubrication of tractors. Since 1971 he has devoted more than 1,000 hours to tractor driving contests and has conducted driving schools for younger 4-H members. He has received a total of 17 county awards.

Nancy Brown has developed a total of 19 skills in her five-year award-winning food preservation project.

Her skills range from the proper selection and preparation of jars for canning to the advantageous use of the freezer. During the last five years she has received more than 20 prizes.

Miss Brown, a high school junior, will attend Congress as guest of Kerr Glass Manufacturing Corp.

Awards are arranged by the National 4-H Service Committee.

Tobacco Sales Begin Today

LEXINGTON, Ky. (AP)—The sales season for burley tobacco was set to begin today and warehousemen predicted the start would be shaky at least as far as volume is concerned.

Most everyone has been enjoying the good weather lately. The warm dry days of Indian summer have been pleasant for many Kentuckians.

But for the burley farmer, who often depends on it as his main cash crop, the good weather hasn't been so good.

"We need some moist weather so the farmers can handle it," warehouse owner Oscar Penn said in a recent interview. "If we had a drizzle for a day or two or some good heavy fog, it would set us up."

Burley tobacco is stored in barns after it's harvested, and allowed to turn from the light green it was in the field to dark brown. But it needs help from the weatherman.

It must become moist enough to be separated from stalks and tied into "hands," as farmers put it. And moist weather is the only solution.

Ira Massie, a tobacco specialist with the University of Kentucky, says "volume is not on the market yet." And the situation is the same, he says, and in some instances worse, in other areas of the burley belt, which consists of Kentucky, Tennessee, Virginia, North Carolina, West Virginia, Indiana, Ohio and Missouri.

"I was down in Glasgow the other day and one of the big warehouses had a third of a row up for sale Monday morning — about 40 baskets — and it would only take a few minutes to run through those," Massie said.

"Some markets have a little tobacco and some have just a little bit more, but none of them have a marketful," he said. "It will be a matter of waiting until the weather changes."

The National Weather Service in Louisville issued a forecast late Sunday which provided no good news for the burley growers. The forecast was for colder weather with no precipitation.

There are more than 200 burley warehouses in Kentucky, and for the next two or three months, farmers will be playing a guessing game with small groups of buyers from cigarette companies.

The farmers have a better crop than last year, and they may hold on to their stocks and wait for the prices they want, according to those in the industry.

Support prices this year have jumped from 96 cents a pound in 1975 to about $1.09 per pound. The new support prices exceed last year's actual market prices.

Kentucky Agriculture Commissioner Thomas O. Harris has predicted a market-price average of as much as $1.20 a pound. Prices like that could mean the first $500 million market for Kentucky's burley farmers.

The U. S. Department of Agriculture has estimated the Kentucky crop at 441.8 million pounds. If that proves accurate, it would be 2 per cent larger than last year's and the largest since 1963.

The estimate of total production in the eight-state burley belt is 634 million pounds.

Humane Society To Sponsor Bake Sale

The Humane Society of Calloway County planned a bake sale to be held on Saturday, December 4, on the court square to coincide with the annual Christmas parade.

This special fund raising project was planned at the meeting held on November 15 at the Calloway County Public Library with over fifty persons present.

Dr. Keith Heim, president, presided. A film, "The Animals Are Crying," was shown at the meeting. This film dealt with the problems of over-population and animal shelters. Dr. Heim said.

Refreshments were served. The next general meeting will be held Monday, January 17.

Transit Authority To Not Operate Two Days

The Murray-Calloway Transit Authority will not be in operation on Thursday and Friday, November 25 and 26, according to Alex McLeod, director.

McLeod said the regular service will be through Wednesday, but closed the last two days in observance of the Thanksgiving holidays.

Services Planned By Scientists At Church Thursday

Thanksgiving day services at Churches of Christ, Scientist, will be held Thursday, November 25, at eleven a.m. at the local church building at 1640 Farmer Avenue, Murray.

Mrs. Gordon Ellis, first reader, and Mrs. Helen Peebles, second reader, will conduct the worship service which will include readings from II Corinthians, from the textbook of Christian Science, "Science and Health With Key to the Scriptures" by Mary Baker Eddy, and testimonies by Christian Scientists.

The public is invited to attend the services at the church on Thursday.

Scotland had "skyscrapers" more than 400 years ago, according to National Geographic. Before Edinburgh expanded in 1767, the city had become so crowded some buildings were built from 10 to 14 stories high.

Miner Thought To Have Had Premonition

EOLIA, Ky. (AP) — It was late afternoon, last March 11, when coal miner James N. Sturgill, a devoutly religious man, said he wasn't afraid to die.

"You've got to die sometime," Sturgill said. "You're going to die, period. If you die, you die. So What!"

The interview ended when Sturgill put on his coat and left his mobile home to go to the Scotia Coal Co. No. 1 mine.

He had volunteered to be part of a 13-man team that was going into the mine to investigate the cause of an explosion two days earlier in which 15 miners were killed.

A few hours after the interview ended, an explosion ripped through the area where Sturgill and the other volunteers were working. Two men escaped. Sturgill and 10 others were killed.

After an eight month wait, his body and the remains of the others were removed from the pit on Friday. On Sunday, Sturgill was buried near the mobile home where he had talked so optimistically about life.

During the interview, Sturgill had described the first explosion as "a fluke... a freak."

"This doesn't put any fear into me," he said. "If you thought about the dangers, it would drive you out of the mines. I don't think about it."

He said he was "no more afraid to go into the mine than I ever was."

Sturgill had worked in the mines as a youngster, after learning to read and write in the one-room school house, where, ironically, his funeral services were held Sunday.

converted into the Frank's Creek Freewill Baptist Church.

In a 1919 speech Woodrow Wilson said, "I can predict with absolute certainty that within another generation there will be another world war if the nations of the world do not concert the method by which to prevent it."
