Ursinus Amateur, Says J. R. Tunis

Sports Writer Lists Colleges in Three Classes: Amateur,
Semi-pro., Pro.

BUCKNELL AND COLGATE, PROS.

In an article appearing in the American Mercury, John R. Tunis, widely known sports writer, charged that college football is a racket, that colleges today are frankly out for the money.

In his article, which classed most of the nation's large universities and colleges into three groups—amateur, semi-professional and professional, Ursinus was listed as an amateur team.

Temple and Villanova were listed as professional teams while Penn Penn State, and Lafayette were grouped as semi-pros.

Tunis mentioned Gettysburg in the amateur class, but he grouped Bucknell and Colgate as professionals. Other Ursinus opponents were not listed. Swarthmore, Haverford, and Lehigh were designated along with Ursinus as amateur teams.

The charges made by Tunis stated "that players receive from $60 to $80 per month and some of the big colleges pay higher. Colleges have abandoned the simon pure pretense and want the money."

As a remedy, Tunis suggested colleges come out and admit how much they pay their players, and form leagues with similar schools.

Curtain Club Tryouts Attract Large Number of Students

On Wednesday evening, October 21, the annual tryouts for admittance of new members to the Ursinus College Curtain Club were held. Out of thirty-six trying out, the twenty who were admitted and the skits which they offered for admittance are as follows:

Robert Hassell, "The Cumberland"; Marthella Anderson, "By Local Talent"; Margaret Kerstetter, "The Bridge of Sighs"; Keith Thompson, "Strife"; Evelyn Huber, clipping from a newspaper; Flora Bronson, "Love Lights Labor"; Thelma Shaner, "Little Boy Blue"; Thelma Messner, "Model Letter to a Friend"; Rita Miller, "Song of the Shirt"; Ruth Leone, "If"; Claire Borrell, "The Circle"; Betty Lawton, "The Circle"; Marion Kotko, "Growing Pains"; Edna Hesketh, "Aunt Tabitha"; Mark Alspach, "Are you Digging on My Grave"; Frances Thierolf, "Mistaken Notion"; and Luke Snyder, "Prospice". These new members are all of the class of '40.

Mary Louise Long, who recited "When I Was One and Twenty"; Mary Catherine Diefenderfer, who rendered "A Working Party"; and Margaret Lucker, who presented "Tell-tale Heart" were the members of the class of '39 who were admitted.

Sophomore Class Chooses "U" Ring; Dunn Head of Committee

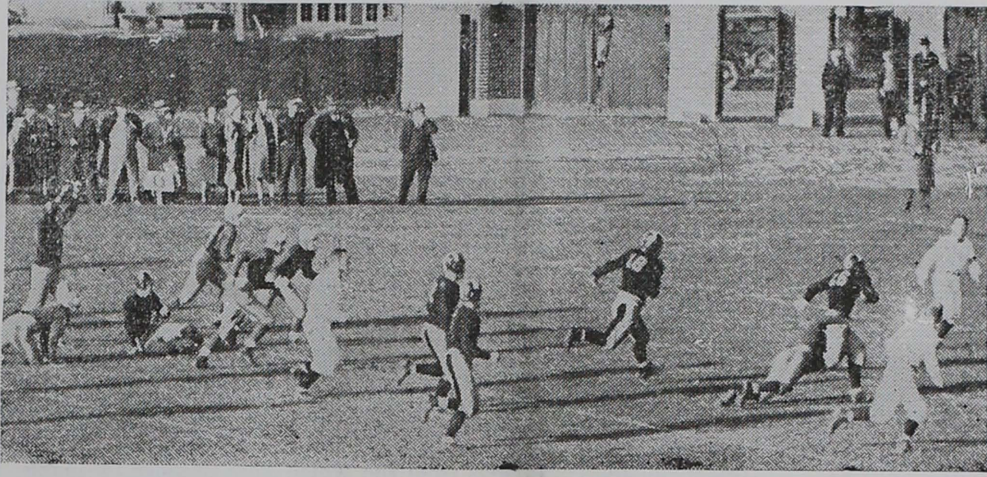

The Sophomore class, at a meeting held Friday noon, October 23, voted almost unanimously in favor of the "U" type ring, as against the stone type, for its class ring. Eugene Hile, president, presided.

Allen Dunn was appointed chairman of the ring committee, which will consist of three men and three women. The remainder of the committee will be appointed this week.

It was also decided to send a basket of fruit to Kenneth Seagrave, who has returned from the hospital and is now in the infirmary.

FRESHMAN DEBATERS, NOTE

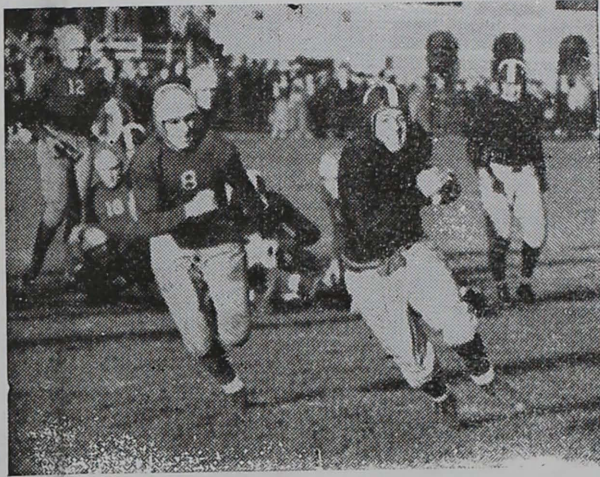

All freshmen girls interested in debating please report for a meeting on Wednesday, October 28, at 12:30 in room 4. Any who cannot be present should give their names to Elizabeth Balingier '38, before this date.

ACTION SHOTS IN VICTORY OVER MULES ON SATURDAY

In the picture above Captain Costello is being tackled on the Muhlenberg 15 yard line midway through the final quarter. On the two previous plays Brandt had carried the oval 13 yards down to the 39, and Power picked up 9 more to the 30, from which point Costello set off on the above jaunt.

The shot at right was taken on the next play as the Grizzly captain reversed his field to score the second touchdown, after skirting around his own left end.

Fighting Grizzlies Beat Muhlenberg

Scores By Vaccaro and Costello
Come in Second Half;
Count is 13-0

BRANDT'S RUNNING FEATURES

The "fightingest" team to tread the gridiron for Ursinus in many a moon kicked "Doggie" Julian's Mules all over Muhlenberg field on Saturday afternoon and for the third week in succession the Grizzly Bears upset the "wise money," by coming out on the bright side of a 13-0 score.

For 30 minutes neither team made any real scoring threat, although the Bears did get as far as the Mules 19 by virtue of a fumbled kick-off. While the Ursinus offense was failing to register, the powerful Muhlenberg attack that scored three touchdowns in the final quarter versus Gettysburg was being stopped dead by the Ursinus forward wall that has been a power-house in every game during this season—a year that was expected to be the poorest in a long time.

Vaccaro, Costello Score

Both scores came in the second half. First Anny Vaccaro dove over from the 1 yard stripe after Captain Costello put the ball in scoring position by a 25 yard dash to the 2. Then the Grizzly leader climaxed a 72 yard march, which featured speedy, shifty, little Booser Brandt, with a sprint around end from the 15 into the "promised land."

Power, Farrel Wage Kicking Duel

After Bodley recovered Matusa's fumble of Tworzydlo's low bounding, opening kick-off on the Mule 23, the Bears were checked on the 19 as Laing intercepted and returned Costello's last down pass 25 yards to the 35. Following an exchange of kicks which put the ball on the Ursinus 9, Bill Power, light-weight, long-range punter, booted one from behind the goal line out on the Muhlenberg 30 on a bounce, 60 yards from scrimmage line and 75 from kicking point. Scrapper Farrel, Muhlenberg big gun, got his team out of danger repeatedly with fine punting on his own part and, until he was forced to leave the game midway during the third period, he repeated.

HEDGEROW NOTED FOR ITS "TWELFTH NIGHT" RENDITION

The Hedgerow Theatre which will present "Twelfth Night" in the Thompson-Gay Gymnasium on the evening of November 14 is especially noted for its excellent rendition of this well-known Shakespearean comedy.

Considered Shakespeare's most balanced comedy, "Twelfth Night" combines farce and romance into a skillful poetic whole, which the Hedgerow presents in an uncut version. Under the astute direction of Jasper Deeter, the Bard's farce of mistaken identity in the mythical kingdom of Illyria, is brought to full stature.

In "Twelfth Night" Shakespeare has introduced some of his most beloved comedy characters. The prudish Malvolio, the insipid Sir Andrew Aguecheek, the lusty Sir Toly Belch, the merry clown, Feste, and the waggish Maria form an unforgettable tapestry of foolery. In counterpoint to the farce, runs the poetic romance of Orsino pursuing the "marble-breasted" Olivia through his messenger Viola, whom he believes to be a boy, and who is only masquerading as such.

Seating reservations should be made as soon as possible, as a large attendance is expected.

VARSITY CLUB TO SPONSOR ANNUAL DANCE NOVEMBER 7

F. Reynolds, C. Edwards, E. Gaumer
Compose Committee

On Saturday evening, November 7, following the football game with the Drexel Dragons in the afternoon, the annual Varsity Club dance will be held in the Thompson-Gay gymnasium.

The members of the dance committee who have been appointed by Clayton Worster '37, president of the Varsity Club, are Frank Reynolds '37, Charles Edwards '37, and Elmer Gaumer '37.

This dance is an annual affair sponsored by the lettermen of the College, the proceeds of which go to the Club. Although the list of available orchestras for the affair have been narrowed down, the final choice will be made by the Club and committee this week and will be announced in the next issue of the Weekly. As in former years the dance will be informal in nature and the decorations will be in keeping with the autumn football season.

It is the hope of the committee that the tax will not be above $1.50, which will be the tentative price per couple.

"THE HUMAN ADVENTURE," EIGHT-REEL PICTURE REVIEWING AGES OF MAN'S PAST, SHOWN FOUR TIMES TO ACCOMMODATE CROWDS; DR. WHITE DIRECTS PRESENTATION

The showing of "The Human Adventure", the eight-reel talking picture reviewing the great ages of man's past, on Friday, October 23, at 1:00, 3:30, 6:30, and 8:15 p. m., proved to be more of a success than even the History Department had anticipated. There were so many demands for seats that the previous schedule of two showings was changed to four with the addition of the 1:00 and 6:30 specials.

Supervised by J. H. Breasted

Nothing like this picture has ever before been produced. No other attempt has ever been made to include in only eight reels the development of the world through prehistoric man and the four great civilizations of the Ancients—the Egyptian, the Anatolian, the Assyrian, and the Persian. As has always characterized the works of Dr. James H. Breasted, the author of Ancient Times and an eminent Egyptologist, there was nothing found wanting. Every phase of man's early development was admirably depicted and with superior artistry.

Prehistoric Times Depicted

To begin with, "The Human Adventure" showed the earth cycle, the change from a "ball of fire" to the earth of primitive man, closely resembling our present earth condition. Prehistoric beasts were pictured, the ice age shown, and shots of primitive men. A background for "things to come." Along with primitive man were shown some of his implements and his use of the environment in developing them and his reactions toward the "phenomena" of the universe such as fire. In this period the commentator is interrupted and Dr. James Breasted speaks on different specimens centering about this period—flint hatchets, iron pieces, and papyrus.

Scenes Taken by Plane

Once more the scene changes and the trip through the centuries begins. To go back to the past the airplane is used. That, to many, was very interesting. Imagine using modern aviation in the study of Solomon, Darius, and Alexander. In the trip the pilot flew from Cairo to Ghizeh of the first ancient civilization. There were the pyramids of Ghizeh, one of the seven world wonders, the terraced pyramid, the great Temple of Karnak, and finally the gigantic obelisk of Queen Hatshepsut. How were these sections excavated? What was the routine? What kind of records were kept? All of these questions were answered in this rather brief description. It would be impossible to tell about all of the fields covered but let it be remembered that no phase of development was neglected.

In going to the second great civilization, Megiddo, the Armageddon of the Bible was presented along with scenes of Jerusalem. In the former, the stables of Solomon and other ruins were shown. In the latter the great wall. Sections of excavations in the land of the Hittites, Anatolia, were then treated.

THE NEW URSINUS SPIRIT

Anyone present at either the Franklin and Marshall or Muhlenberg football game saw there a new spirit both on the field and in the stands which was typically Ursinus.

They saw a team that was supposedly outclassed fight up from the bottom until the final whistle when they emerged victorious over Muhlenberg and held a strong Franklin and Marshall team to a scoreless tie. This was a team which in all the pre-game forecasts was doomed to defeat.

This same sort of spirit was also present in the stands. There were twice the usual number of rooters and they made five times as much noise. They kept up a live wire chatter and cheering which lasted even when we were being pushed back toward our own goal line. At the pep rallies the student body turned out full of pep, vim, and vigor and let the team know they were back of them to the limit.

With a spirit such as this being shown there has begun a new era at Ursinus. With the cooperation of both sides, student body and team, there is nothing that can stand in our way. Once more we have a football team that is playing the best they know how for a certain something that is Ursinus.

And so—on to Albright.

SCHOOL—SLOW

Throughout the United States a campaign is being waged to reduce the number of deaths caused by speeding, careless, or intoxicated automobile drivers. In Collegeville and especially in front of the College, however, this campaign has been sorely neglected.

Although there are School Slow and 20 Mile Speed Limit signs in evidence both in front and near the campus neither of them are seemingly enforced. During the past few years there have been several accidents (one of which was fatal) caused by speeding drivers in front of the campus. It is also a well known fact that at night it is next to impossible to see anybody crossing Main St. even when traveling at a moderate rate. This coupled with the fact that girls from six of the College Halls and a large number of the administration have to cross this highway, a large number of lives are thus endangered several times each day.

Of course it is up to the persons crossing the highway to be careful, but at the same time they should have the cooperation of the authorities to see that the laws in regard to speeding in towns and especially in a School Zone are enforced. Therefore, it is only right that the College Administration notify the proper authorities and make sure that steps are taken to protect the lives of the students.

THE PROFESSOR SPEAKS

by Dr. James L. Boswell
Professor of Economics

There is a widely held opinion that technological progress which takes the form of labor saving machinery causes unemployment. However, it does not seem that this opinion is born out by our current or past experience. The fact is that we have made very rapid strides in developing and using labor saving machinery for the past three-quarters of a century. We were using far more of it in 1860 than in 1850, far more in 1870 than in 1860 and the increase has continued down to the present time. Yet the United State Census reports show that a larger proportion of our population was gainfully employed in 1930 than in any previous census year, although we were in a depression in 1930. The increase in the proportion of our people gainfully employed has been persistent and continuous from the time of our first census.

It is noteworthy too that those industries that have been in the van guard in installing labor saving machinery have been increasing their number of employes more rapidly than the other industries. Likewise the volume of employment in those industries has held up better in this depression than in the other industries. For instance, compare the volume of employment during this depression in the automobile industry, which has made rapid technological progress, with that in the building industry, which has made but little progress.

Many such comparisons might be drawn. Experience indicates that technological progress brings down the cost of production and increases the volume of sales to such an extent that more rather than less labor is required to produce the things we buy. Evidence of this is found time and time again. The printing industry affords a good example. When the linotype machine which enables one operator to set as much type as several hand setters was introduced, it was thought by many that it would greatly decrease the volume of employment in the printing industry. But what happened? We find that it reduced the cost of printing to such an extent that there was a rapid increase in the circulation of newspapers, magazines, and books, while the advertising industry

RAMBLINGS

It never occurred to me that I'd want to enter civil service. Maybe that's because I've always had one particular field as my goal. But how about the possible 50 percent of Ursinus students who haven't fixed their goal?

It seems to me that with all the current agitation for civil service reform there is going to be some change. If not in its entirety, then in some degree at least, the spoils system is on its way out.

As merit begins to replace political patronage, and public service will be taken away from the ambitious politician and ward heeler, there will be more and more government jobs open for well-qualified people. And who should be better fitted than the professionally trained college student?

It sounds good—help wanted to spend seven billion dollars a year. Apply within.

which now employs so many was given a great impetus. Not only did the volume of employment in the printing, paper manufacturing, and advertising industries increase many fold but the transportation, manufacturing, and merchandising industries had to employ more and more people in order to supply the increasing demand for the things which people saw advertised.

Technological progress in other industries has had the same general effect, notably in the transportation industry. With the coming of the railroad there was a great increase in the proportion of our people devoted to the transportation and allied industries, while the increase was even more marked with the coming of the automobile.

It should be noted, though, that while technological progress brings an increase rather than a decrease in the volume of employment it does often destroy the livelihood of particular individuals. Many of these individuals quickly adapt themselves to the changing conditions. Witness the transaction of blacksmith shops and livery stables into garages, filling stations, and auto sales agencies. We may have a social task of aiding those who are unable to make the adjustment but it would be extremely unfortunate for us to slow up technological progress under the illusion that in doing so we were aiding in the general problem of finding employment for our workers.

ALUMNI NOTES

'30—Austin Gavin has recently become connected with the legal department of the Pennsylvania Power and Light Company in Allentown, Pa. After graduating from the Law School of the University of Pennsylvania in 1933, he became junior counsel in the Department of Revenue, Commonwealth of Pennsylvania and later served as secretary to Justice H. Edgar Barnes of the Pennsylvania Supreme Court.

'31—The marriage of Miss Margaret E. Smith, of York, Pa. to Raymond G. Todd took place on Saturday, July 4, in York. Mr. and Mrs. Todd are residing in Phoenixville, Pa., where Ray is a member of the faculty of the Memorial High School.

'32—Helen H. Keeler is now teaching the seventh grade in the Harleysville, Pa., School of the Lower Salford district.

'33—Harold E. Fisher, who has been connected with Dun and Bradstreet, Inc., for the past year, has just been transferred to the Trenton, N. J., branch office. Mr. and Mrs. Fisher (Eleanor Mengel '32,) are living at 38 Elmhurst Ave., Trenton.

'34—Harry F. Brian has resigned as assistant advertising manager of the Garvin Department Store in Lancaster, Pa., to accept a position with the Foltz-Wessinger Advertising Agency in Lancaster.

'34—Harold E. Seiple is engaged with his brother in the flour and feed business in Pittston, Pa.

'34—Rev. Clarence R. Robson, a senior in the Eastern Baptist Theological Seminary, Philadelphia, has been appointed to the pastorate of Grace Evangelical Congregational Church, Harrisburg, Pa.

'35—Prudence E. Dedrick is now employed in the Commercial Research Department of the Curtis Publishing Co. in Philadelphia. Prue says that she finds her new work very interesting.

'35—Edward J. Knudsen, who is connected with Charles S. Rockey and Co., public accountants, in Philadelphia, and R. Norman "Moon" Turner, now a salesman for the Frankford Grocery Co., took time out from their new jobs to go tarpon fishing in Florida with Fred Schiele and Oscar Freas '36, in the latter part of August. The fishing was good, but the biggest ones are said to have gotten away.

'35—Robert C. Stewart is teaching English and Social Studies, assistant athletic manager, and faculty adviser of the Hi-Y Club in the Northampton, Pa., High School—just another versatile alumnus.

'36—Clifford D. Calvert, Jr., has been elected coach of soccer, basketball and baseball and instructor in Biology in the Perkiomen School, Pennsburg, Pa., effective October 13. Cliff spent the summer teaching swimming and life-saving at the Kingsessing Recreation Center in Philadelphia, and was acting as assistant football coach at Friends' Central School when elected to the Perkiomen post.

'36—Rubin Levin is attending Temple University Law School.

'36—Eugene J. Bradford is teaching Physical Education and coaching in the Salem, N. J., High School. Gene has been given the responsibility for organizing a complete physical education program for the school, and feels that he has the opportunity to do a worthwhile job.

I am requesting that he gives them out to the students so long as they last. But first preference must be given to those students enrolled in Prof. Carter's history classes who will promise to wear said little button to encourage the professor when the way is hard and going tough. Another tho't—the campus chairman will have stickers for automobiles for those Ursinusites so fortunate as to possess them.

The professor's Republican ear having become a little deaf, I am at loss to prescribe a remedy. I hope it is not permanently lost. He should work on a campaign ode for Gen. Jim Farley and Sec'y Corn Wallace.

I hope that Prof. Carter's rapid convalescence is not seriously arrested (1) by the violent shock he will receive from reading the Philadelphia Inquirer and Record on Nov. 4, and (2) when he pays me the election bet we negotiated on the above-mentioned "Old Timers' Day."

For Digestion's Sake . . . Smoke Camels

MENTAL EFFORT TOO—especially long hours of study—builds up tension and puts an extra strain on digestion. When you're tired, get an invigorating "lift" with a Camel. And at mealtimes and after, "for digestion's sake . . . smoke Camels." Camels set you right!

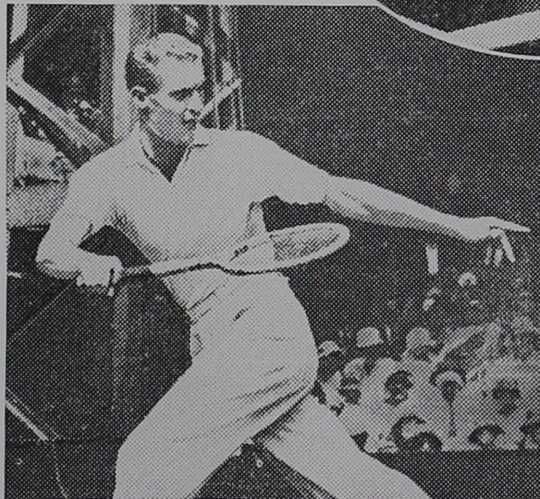

Smoking Camels with meals and after helps bring a delightful sense of well-being EATING is one of life's real pleasures. And Camels make it even more enjoyable! Thanks to Camels, food tastes better and digestion goes along more smoothly. For it is a scientifically established fact that smoking Camels at mealtime and after speeds up the flow of digestive fluids...alkaline digestive fluids, which good digestion and proper nutrition require. Mild, rich-tasting Camels are a refreshing stand-by the whole day through. They give you a cheery "lift" when you need it most. Camels set you right! They never get on your nerves... tire your taste... or irritate your throat. So, make Camel your cigarette!

Women's Debating Club

Last Monday night the Women's Debating Club of Ursinus College held their initial meeting of the fall semester in Shreiner Hall.

The feature of the meeting was a brief talk by Ruth Seitz '37, manager of the debating team, who summarized the proceedings of the Inter-collegiate Debating Conference held in Harrisburg last summer. The three topics chosen for inter-collegiate debating were presented and then discussed by the entire club. The tentative schedule planned for the varsity debaters and plans for the Freshmen team were also considered. Announcements concerning freshmen debating are to be released during the week. Later, entertainment in the form of extemporaneous debates on current campus topics was provided by Sarah Ennis '37, chairman of the entertainment committee. The next meeting will be held at Fircroft Hall.

Hall Chemical Society

Last Friday evening the Hall Chemical Society visited the chemical exhibit at the Franklin Institute, Eighteenth Street and the Parkway, Philadelphia. A party of twenty-five members made the trip. Dr. R. D. Sturgis, Dr. J. W. Mauchly, and Prof. W. S. Pettit accompanied the club.

English Club To Meet

The English Club will hold its bimonthly meeting to-night at the home of its sponsor, Dr. N. E. McClure. Business of the meeting includes election of a secretary-treasurer to succeed Mary McDevitt '37, the new president. Elections will be followed by a program including book reports and informal discussion.

The English Club plans this year to consider a varied group of modern books, among which are novels, such as Santayana's "The Last Puritan" and Mitchell's "Gone With the Wind", essays, and poetry by Sandburg, Frost, and De La Mare. At the end of the year, books bought by the club will be divided among the members.

French Club

The French Club will hold its next meeting on Wednesday, October 28, in the West Music Studio. This time a marionette show, "La Farce Du Luvier," is to be presented. Harold Taylor '40, will manipulate the marionettes. Speaking parts will be as follows: Jaquinot, the husband, Walter Kelley '37; Jeanette, his wife, Jean Ulsh '37; Jaquette, his mother-in-law, Virginia Fenton '37.

Dr. Sibbald is coaching this play to which everyone is invited.

Glee Club News

The Glee Club, under the sponsorship of Dr. Philip, promises to have a large and extensive season. A well rounded program has been worked up, including several concerts throughout the winter. The high spot of the Glee Club's work will be the Christmas program, which this year is to be a presentation of an old English festival, The Boar's Head and Yulelog Procession.

German Club

A program of German music featured the meeting of the German club last Wednesday evening. A short business meeting was held at which Flora Youngken '37, was elected secretary to take the place of Virginia Fenton '37, who resigned.

Group singing of German songs was enjoyed. A quartet composed of: Louis Krug '37, Teru Hayashi '38, Hannah Leisse '38, and Sara Atkinson '37, sang several numbers. Henry Schmidt '37, gave an interesting account of the life of Beethoven. Walter Kelly '37, played a piano solo, "Moonlight Sonata," by Beethoven.

The committee appointed to plan the next program includes: Virginia Beck '38, Sara Atkinson '37, and Charles Halm '38.

International Relations Club

At the regular meeting of the International Relations Club to be held on Tuesday evening, the newly-elected members will be initiated. A survey of the clubs throughout the world and the work accomplished by them will be reviewed for the benefit of those just entering.

In keeping with the spirit of the coming presidential election, the various magazines and newspapers will be classed according to their political tendencies. The political situation will finally be summed up with speeches made by a Democrat, a Republican, and a Socialist member of the club.

URSINUS SOCIETY

On Friday, October 16, the girls of the newest dorm, "612", gave a tea in honor of Mrs. Doll, a guest of the College.

On Thursday, October 22, at 5 p. m., the girls of South Hall entertained the girls of '612" at a doggie roast in the woods beyond the Sixth Avenue bridge.

Tomorrow, Tuesday the 27th, all the girls halls will entertain the Montgomery County Federation of Women's Clubs. The girls of the College will first escort the visitors around the campus, and then different groups of the women will be taken to the various dorms where teas will be held in their honor.

Frosh Beat Perkiomen In Hard Fought Game As Kurek, McConnel Stage Down-field Drive

Cubs Score on Touchdown and Safety; Grizzly Defense Holds Visitors

FIRST DOWNS ARE 13 TO 2

The Ursinus freshmen continued in their winning ways on Friday afternoon by triumphing over Perkiomen Prep, 8-0. Kellett's club showed a hard running offense as they registered 13 first downs to their opponents 2.

The lone touchdown of the game came in the first period. After an exchange of punts, the Cubs started a goal line march featured by the hard running of fullback Ed Kurek. "Albie" McConnell, quarterback, culminated the drive with a plunge over the goal line from the one yard marker. "Bucky" Lai's kick for the extra point was wide of the goal posts.

In the second period, the visitors made their best showing and neither team came close to making another score.

The third period opened with several exchanges of punts in which Ursinus consistently gained. The ball was finally advanced to the 22 yard line. An intercepted pass stopped the threat at this point.

In the beginning of the fourth period, the Grizzlies again threatened. Taking the ball on the Perkiomen 31 yard line, they advanced the ball to the 20 yard line where the Perks braced and held for downs. Perkiomen punted to mid-field and after unsuccessful attempts to gain, Ted Clark set the visitors back on their heels with a beautiful punt that rolled out of bounds on the 2 yard line. The Bear forward wall charged in hard on the first play and the Perkiomen kicker was tackled behind his goal line for a safety.

The yearlings made two more goalward drives, on to the 10 yard line and another to the 25. but both were halted. Kurek, McConnell, and Taxis gained consistently thru the line.

The excellent end play of "Shorty" Schirmer and Joe Walraven, and the hard running of "Toy" Dawson were featured throughout the game.

BRODBECK LEADS IN DORM FOOTBALL; TIE FOR SECOND

Brodbeck, with an undefeated, untied, and unscored upon record, still leads the pack in intramural touch football as the tourney enters the final week of first-round competition.

Freeland and Derr are tied for second place honors, with two wins, one loss and one tie apiece. Stine has dropped to fifth, with Day still occupying the cellar position with four straight losses.

Curtis made the best showing last week, gaining victories over both Derr and Day. Derr beat Stine 6-0 and played a scoreless tie with Freeland. Brodbeck walloped Day 19-0 to complete the week's competition.

A survey of the records shows Tomlinson and Keehn, both of the high-flying Brodbeck outfit, tied for high-scoring honors with thirteen points each. Close behind are Wilson of Freeland and Broidy of Stine with twelve apiece.

Brodbeck can win the first round this week, as it plays two games, one with Stine and the other with Derr. Curtis meets Freeland and Day plays Stine in the other games of the week.

The standing of the teams:

| | W. | L. | T. | P.C. |

McAvoy's Bears to tangle with Albright Lions on Saturday

When Ursinus meets the Albright eleven at Reading this coming Saturday, the Bears will go into the fray with a theoretical advantage by virtue of their holding F. and M. to a scoreless tie while Albright fell prey to the Diplomats to the tune of 7 to 6. However, Moravian, C. C. N. Y., and West Chester were defeated by the fast moving Albright eleven, but since the Bears did not tangle with any of these teams no conclusions can be drawn.

All squads have a certain distinguished player and in the case of Albright the spotlight turns to Dick Rifle, triple-threat back. The team is centered around Dick and if the Bears stop him they will have broken up the main cog in the Albright football machine. The McAvoy coached clan will have to be on their toes throughout the game inasmuch as the Lions have developed a passing attack that is second to none among the smaller schools in the East. It was this strong aerial attack that made the Bears the victim of the Lions in last years encounter.

During the Muhlenberg game an Albright fan(atic) wanted to bet that Ursinus would not score a single first down on his pet team—Saturdays results will tell the story.

Following are the summaries of the games played by the two teams so far this season.

SPORT NOTES

The Mules looked big enough to be from the Army in their nice new hoods. But that was before the game.

Shades of Bassman! Scrapper Farrel hits just like Reds did. He knocks them high. On one occasion he knocked Boozer 5 feet into the air—parallel to the ground.

He did just about everything for the home team. And when he was carried from the field during the third quarter he babbled and cried like a baby.

Toot—local boy making good. That is, until someone landed a haymaker on his fairly prominent schnozz.

The boys up in the press box were lost for a spotter after the half. The guy doing the Ursinus part was last seen being escorted toward the hot-dog stand during intermission by a Reading school teacher. The strayed person is a well known Democratic gangster.

The coal-cracker ministerial student from Muhlenberg forgot his religion when that long Mule pass was out of bounds on the 5.

Porambo got his weekly pass interception—but it was out of bounds too.

The King of Brodbeck did quite well considering the run around he got from the Maples Rabbit.

BEAR BOOTERS TROUNCED AS TEACHERS STORM BRUIN GOAL

Edwards and MacNair Good in 9-0 Defeat by West Chester

Comparative scores held true to form when West Chester beat the Baker men 9-0. The Teachers beat Franklin and Marshall 5-0, while Ursinus lost to the Diplomats 5-1.

The Bears never penetrated the strong Teachers' defense and could not break up the flashy offense which the West Chester outfit displayed.

Joe Carney, West Chester center forward, tallied three goals while his mates, Soulhard and Moore, both scored twice. For Ursinus, Edwards and MacNair were outstanding, saving the Bears from a still more decisive defeat.

Tennis Tournament Reaches Quarter-Finals; Ends Sunday

During the past week, the Intramural Tennis Tournament has been moving along rather slowly. To date there is still one third round match to be played and two quarter finals to be played. The third round match to be played is between Worster and Concello, the winner to play Mackenson for the quarter finals. Landis and Lauer have to play for the quarter finals also.

During the past week Fenimore and Quay defeated Van Tries and Flamish respectively to advance to the semi-finals.

All quarter-matches must have been played by Sunday. All semi-final matches must be played by Wednesday and if weather conditions permit, the finals are expected to be played by next Sunday. To date Concello has scored the only upset, defeating Murray who was seeded sixth.

Hockeyites Bow To Swarthmore In Hard Tilt; Come Back To Shatter Beaver's Winning Streak

Meyers Outstanding As Plucky Eleven Loses, 2-1

Von Kleeck Scores Both Goals In 2-0 Surprise Victory

SWARTHMORE SCENE OF GAME

On Thursday, October 22, the Ursinus hockey team journeyed to Swarthmore to play a postponed game. This was the first big game of the season and some fine playing was exhibited although the score shows our defeat 2-0.

The Ursinus eleven threatened several times but never managed to push the ball over. Combating a fast and excellent team, our girls showed plenty of pluck. Edna Meyers was especially outstanding for her speedy drives. A newcomer, Squeakie Von Kleeck also did some fine work. The team fought hard but Swarthmore's excellent stick work brought them out victorious.

The line-up:

| Ursinus | pos. | Swarthmore |

JUNIORS ARE VICTORIOUS IN INTER-CLASS HOCKEY GAMES

Last week's interclass hockey games showed the Juniors emerging on top. With a fast team the third year co-eds vanquished their sister class, the Freshies, 3-1 on Monday. Jennie Palilonis, center, scored the winning goals. The Freshies suffered more severely on Tuesday when the Seniors rolled up 4 points against them. The following day the Seniors had their previous score reversed when the Sophs beat them 4-0. Again Dot Barry's flash eleven came out as victors 2-1 in a close game with the Sophomores on Thursday. The final clash between the upperclasses will be staged on Thursday of this week.

Grizzlies Upset Predictions by Stopping Powerful Mule Team

edly drove in to check Ursinus advances. In addition he bore the brunt of Muhlenberg's offense.

Blocking Features Ursinus Advance

Midway during the third quarter, Frank Tworzzydlo touched down Wildonger's long punt on the Muhlenberg 1, just as it seemed about to roll into the end zone. On the kick out, Vaccaro, one half of Ursinus' new pair of pony backs, returned the ball from the 40 to the 26. Three plays, one a short pass to Wildonger, netted 5 yards, during which Farrel, the home-team ace, was carried from the field. With the count last and 5 on the 28, Fats Costello, the biggest ground-gainer of the day, cut off left tackle and, behind perfect blocking, reversed his field and got down to the 2 before being spilled by Gutekunst. Costello and Brandt each took fruitless cracks at the line. Then on third, Vaccaro dove over the broad stripe for the initial score of the game. Tworzzydlo's place-kick set the score at 7-0.

Brandt Spearhead of Long March

When Muhlenberg's longest drive of the day which started on their own 38 was stopped on the Bear 28, Ursinus set off on a 72 yard straight-football march for the second six-pointer. The drive started when Raymond Gurzynski leaped up to snatch a long pass away from Matusa, lanky Mule end, Brandt then broke away for 18 to his own 48. Costello picked up two thru guard, and Brandt again got loose—this time for 13 to the Mule 39. Bill Power slipped thru center for 9 and Costello carried the oval for 15 yards to the 15. On the very next play the Grizzly captain sprinted around end for the second score. The try for point failed as the center pass was fumbled. Score, 13-0. The game ended as Costello passed to Power, putting the ball on the Mule 20, again within scoring distance.

The "U" ends again kept anything from getting around them and drove play after play into the reach of either Clayt Worster or Tiny Knoll. Fred Todt continues to be one of the best guards in the Conference, still headed by the dark-horse Ursinus. The other guard post was well taken care of by James and Meklos. Porambo played his usual bang-up game at center, which post remained well fortified as Pancoast entered the game.

In the final analysis, Ursinus has a handful of good football players, but a world of the "old gipper" that makes a good team extra good.

The line-up:

| Ursinus | pos. | Muhlenberg |
|------------|----------|------------|
| Tworzzydlo | L. E. | Matusa |
| Worster | L. T. | Bloom |
| Todt | L. G. | Poust |
| Porambo | C. | Eagle |
| James | R. G. | Dawe |
| Knoll | R. T. | Young |
| Bodley | R. E. | Dietrich |
| Power | Q. B. | Laing |
| Wildonger | R. H. B. | Gutekunst |
| Smith | L. H. B. | Hunsicker |
| Costello | F. B. | Farrell |
| Ursinus | 0 | 0 |
| Muhlenberg | 0 | 0 |

SHOWING OF HISTORY FILM PROVES HIGHLY EDUCATIONAL

Then, the Institute's center in Assyria was reached. Many interesting phases of the Assyrians and Babylonians were presented. The cuneiform, the art and architecture—wall drawings and winged bulls and temples. One of the most interesting things here was the conception of the Tower of Babel, an almost modernistic piece of architecture in design.

Finally, the fourth and last great civilization of man's past, the Persian, was shown. Persepolis was shown, Persepolis of the artists and architects, and Persepolis of Darius and Artaxerxes. One can never forget the superbness of the Grand Stairway leading to the Audience Hall of Darius the Great. Its beauty, flawless and its structure are inspiring. And at the same time the excavation harked back to prehistoric man, for across from Persepolis the houses of a Stone Age village were unearthed.

Showing Directed by Dr. White

The picture was brought to the campus by Dr. Elizabeth B. White, Professor of History, who is also responsible for the organization which allowed four showings of the film to accommodate the many outsiders who attended.
