Lantern To Stage New Type Contest

Prizes Are To Be Divided In Separate Fields; No
Price Change

BROIDY NEW BUSINESS HEAD

In place of the annual five-dollar contest in one specified field of literature, The Lantern Council announces a new type of contest to be featured in the first issue of this scholastic year—the Christmas issue.

This year's contest includes three separate fields—poetry, essay, and short story. A two-dollar cash prize will be awarded to the person who submits the best work in each field for publication in the December issue. All articles submitted for the contests are to be unsigned, but accompanied by the author's name and the title of the article submitted, in a sealed envelope.

All contest entries must be in the hands of a staff member by Wednesday, November 18. No prize will be awarded in any division in which there are not at least three entries. There is no limit on the number of poems which may be submitted by one student, but only one essay and one short story will be accepted from any contestant. It is to be noted, however, that any student may contribute to as many of the three groups as he wishes, providing he observes the above limits. The Lantern also reserves the right to keep on file all material submitted, and to use this material with the author's name whenever it desires.

With the recent resignation of James Russo '38, business manager, Eli Broidy '38, was elected to fill the vacancy. Mr. Broidy announces that the magazine will again be sold at the flat rate of fifty cents per subscription (three issues) or twenty-five cents per single issue.

At a recent meeting of the council, Jean Wingate '38, was elected to fill one of the three vacancies.

Large Crowd Attends Hallowe'en Party; Games, Dancing Enjoyed

Hilarity reigned at the joint Y. M.-Y. W. Hallowe'en Party in the Thompson-Gay Gymnasium on Friday night, October 30. About 200 students came dressed in old clothing and although there was a shortage in co-ed representation, couples were organized for a treasure hunt which took place as the first event of the evening.

Starting at the gym, the clues of the treasure hunt led a sprinting group of prize-seeking participants to the Weekly drawers in the post-office and then to the Campus Sandwich shop. Thence the merry-makers raced to the College Drug Inc. (Doc's to you), where Coca Cola drew some of the panting contenders from the race. Those who remained poured into the Bakery and after this riot were sent to "Rec" Hall.

Here the last clue was posted, which told the dog-tired searchers that a 1929 penny would admit them to what a "campus activity cannot do without." Some went to see Dr. White and although she was flattered, they had gotten on the wrong track. It so happened that Albert Robinson '38, and Mildred Olp '37, knew what to do. They presented their pennies to the Faculty Advisors, Professor and Mrs. Maurice O. Bone, who in turn awarded each of the victors a ticket to the Ursinus-Albright football game.

Four teams were then organized to enter a relay contest of skill in "feather-blowing", "balloon dribbling" and "balloon basketball", and "carrot hockey," which all sounds insane but was actually a somewhat modified (?) form of inter-collegiate sports from which the contestants became hilarious and the spectators hysterical.

Following cider and cookies, the piano team of James Reese '37, and Robert Gottshall '38, furnished the music for an hour of dancing.

Administration Approves Costs For New Recreational Center

Plans for the Ursinus recreational center are now being effected and work on cleaning and painting the former wrestling room, site of the new social center, has already begun.

An estimate on equipment and furniture, prepared by Mr. E. M. Bailey, who is directing the work on the center, has been approved by the administration and an appropriation has been definitely made.

Although the room will not contain all the equipment that it might, future additions and improvements will depend upon the manner in which the center is received and treated by the students.

"PENN QUAKERS" TO PLAY FOR VARSITY CLUB DANCE, NOV. 7

Affair Is to Follow Drexel Game;
Popular Orchestra to Play

The Varsity Club will present "The Penn Quakers Orchestra," in its annual dance, which is to be held Saturday, Nov. 7, in the Thompson-Gay Gymnasium.

The Penn Quakers are well known in and around Norristown, where they have played for many dances. They include nine pieces and feature a girl vocalist.

Admission will be $1.50 per couple, and dancing is to be held from 8 p. m. to 12 p. m.

The committee in charge is composed of Frank Reynolds '37, chairman; Charles Edwards '37, and Elmer Gaumer '37.

Second Issue of Grizzly Griddler To Make Appearance Saturday

The second issue of the Grizzly Griddler, the official football program, published by the Varsity Club, will make its appearance this Saturday, November 7. As in the previous program, three watches will be awarded to those making the best predictions in the football score contest, featured by the Griddler.

The Griddler will go on sale at the pep meeting to be held Friday evening, November 6. The price is 15 cents to students and 25 cents to outsiders.

Other features of the program will be several articles by leading sports writers, in addition to those of local interest. As usual the program will include names, numbers, and pictures of the players and coaches of both teams, making it indispensable to thorough enjoyment of the game. Besides continuing with the new-style, four-tone cover, which appeared in the last issue for the first time, the Griddler is enlarging its copy by four pages.

Students are again urged to purchase their copies at the pep rally, as the 25 cent rate goes into effect for all on the day of the game.

THE MAIL BOX

Alf M. Landon
Governor of Kansas
Topeka

To the Editor:

This is to acknowledge receipt of your telegram delivered to Governor Landon at Philadelphia, in which you informed him of the handsome majority given him by Ursinus students in their recent poll.

This is an encouraging omen and only adds to the Governor's confidence that the Republican party will score a smashing victory at the election next week. Your courtesy is deeply appreciated.

With best wishes, I am,
Very truly yours
Willard Mayberry
Sec. to Alf M. Landon

News Flash!

Tomorrow, Tuesday, November 3, has been proclaimed an academic holiday. Classes will be suspended to allow students and faculty to vote in the National Election.

Dorm Rules Made By Men's Council

Committee on Code of Conduct
Classifies Violations At Mass Meeting

COUNCIL MEMBERS DEPUTIZED

At a mass meeting of the entire male population of Ursinus College last Wednesday evening, October 28, in Bomberger, the Men's Student Council presented a report on the recommendations of the Committee on Code of Conduct. They are set forth as follows:

1. Any act committed by a student which shall create a nuisance or disturbance, or which shall be objectionable conduct to others shall be subject to penalty by the Council.

2. The destruction, mutilation, or injury of College or personal property shall be subject to penalty by the Council.

We have agreed that the following forms of specific conduct are to be subsumed under these two rules:

1. Blaring radios.
2. Continual noise-making of any sort.
3. Breakage of glass containers.
4. Water throwing.
5. Damage to windows, doors, furniture, books, and similar property.
6. All kindred acts that fall into the same categories.

Sleber Pancoast '37, Council President, took charge of the meeting and explained that each member of the council is empowered to bring accusations against offenders and that any male student may lay complaint before a Council member for action. Should that member refuse to act, then three male students may bring joint accusation directly to the Council. The member of the Council who accuses the offender will act as prosecutor in a fair trial before the Council. The defendant may bring in witnesses on behalf of his case. A system of penalties for violation of these rules will be provided for with the sanction and support of the administration.

Plans to prevent the annual "informal decoration" of the campus on the eve of Christmas vacation are being made and it is hoped that some form of entertainment in which all can participate will divert the "artistic leanings" of the minority whose "spirit of Santa Claus" is crudely expressed in contempt of College property.

Senior Class Play Chosen; Tryouts Wednesday Night

"The Dark Tower," a mystery drama by Alexander Woolcott and George Kaufman, has been selected as this year's play to be presented by the class of '37 on Friday, December 5, as a feature of Senior Week-end.

"Mr. Pim Passes By," by A. A. Milne, and "Three-Cornered Moon" were other plays under consideration. Tryouts will be held on Wednesday night, and the playbooks will be placed in the library soon.

The committee consists of Clayton Worster '37, chairman; Ida Trout, Sarah Atkinson, Eleanor Bothell, Florence Roberts, Spencer Halberstadt, and Wilson Rahn.

No definite plans have been completed for the Senior Ball to be held Saturday, Dec. 6, according to Robert Murray '37, chairman of the dance committee. Several orchestras are being considered.

A more definite announcement will appear in the next issue of the Weekly.

CURTAIN CLUB TRYOUTS

Curtain Club try-outs will be held Monday, November 9 in Bomberger. The play selected to "go on the road" is "The Ghost Train."

Heiges Injured At Albright; Stellar End Has Leg Broken

King Heiges '37, veteran end of the Grizzlies, received a broken leg and dislocated ankle in Saturday's tiff with Albright. This is the first time that it has been necessary to call time out for the fighting linesman and his loss for the rest of the season will be deeply felt in the Bear line-up.

Heiges' injury has confined him to the infirmary for a short time, but it is expected that he will be able to be about soon.

SHAKESPERIAN REVIVAL CURRENT TREND OF DRAMA

Famed Bard's Productions Include
"Twelfth Night" Coming Here

The Hedgerow Theatre's presentation of "Twelfth Night" by William Shakespeare comes to the Ursinus campus at a time when the revival of the immortal Bard's work is at its height in America.

Already America has been re-introduced to Shakespeare through Katherine Cornell's production of "Romeo and Juliet," and the movie of the same with Leslie Howard and Norma Shearer, to say nothing of Leslie Howard and John Gielgud each appearing in their own versions of "Hamlet". In its production of "Twelfth Night" Hedgerow, like these, emphasizes the simplicity and straightforwardness of the great acting literature. Like these, too, Hedgerow gives a true interpretation of Shakespeare's matchless art.

Ever since its initial presentation by Hedgerow, "Twelfth Night" has proven to be one of the most popular plays in the Theatre's repertory. Time after time it has been received with great acclaim by enthusiastic critics and appreciative audiences.

Tickets for this production which is scheduled for Saturday evening, November 14, are already on sale. All students are urged to get their tickets at once. The price of admission is 57 and 86 cents.

"Y" Organization To Conduct Fireside Discussion Wednesday

The combined Y. M. and Y. W. organizations plan to hold a fireside discussion on Wednesday, November 4th, at 6:45 p. m. at the home of Dr. Russel Sturgis. The discussion will be closed at not later than 7:45.

This is the first of a series of similar meetings which will be held at the homes of various professors or at the scout cabin. It is believed by the "Y" that these meetings will answer a need which many students feel for spiritual adjustment. All who are interested are invited to attend.

The discussion on Wednesday will be on "What and Where is God?" Introductory remarks by Dr. Sturgis will present the topic from a scientist's viewpoint. The development from this will be "How can I make God real in my life?"

Weekly Poll Discloses Landon Greatly Favored By Faculty

If faculty sentiment on the Ursinus campus is a dependable indication, the predictions of one of the economics professors will be quite fulfilled and the nation's next president will be a Republican.

This past week the Weekly staff conducted a word-of-mouth poll on the presidential election among the faculty. Of the forty odd members interviewed, thirty were anxious and willing to tell their preferences. Of these thirty, twenty will tomorrow vote for Landon, and ten for Roosevelt.

It is interesting to note that the faculty consensus is identical with that of the student body, the ratio being in both cases 2-1 in favor of Governor Landon. At Ursinus there seems to be a definite, uniform political tendency, and this again is interesting, in that it is contrary to the fairly evident leanings of the general populace.

Albright Conquers Bear Eleven, 35-0

Dick Riffle Scores Three Times
As Hard-Driving Lions
Outclass Bears

URSINUS THREATENS ONCE

When Bear and Lion meet a fight follows. At Albright Stadium this past Saturday afternoon the Bear and the Lion met and the Lion clawed its way to a 35-0 victory before a home-coming crowd of 7000. By virtue of this victory the Albright-Ursinus football feud has been knotted at seven games each. The first game in this rivalry series in 1905 ended in a 53-0 victory for the Red, Old Gold, and Black. In Saturday's contest the Crimson and White garnered 17 first downs to 5 for the McAvoy coached clan, gaining 677 yards as compared to 188.

Scores Three Times In First Period

Eight plays after Tworzydlo's poor kick-off, Dick Riffle, Albright luminary, crossed the Ursinus goal line from the 1 yard marker for the first score of the game. Turner who was substituted into the game for Comba failed to convert the extra point. Albright kicked off to the Ursinus 10 where Costello took the ball and returned to his own 26. Costello then advanced the ball to the 37 for a first down. After Brandt failed to gain he fumbled on the next play and the ball was recovered on the Ursinus 35 by Garnet who reversed the field for the second Albright score. Again the attempt for the extra point failed, this time the try being made by Muller. A pass, Korner to McFadden, resulted in the third score for the men of Munn. Cody place kicked the extra point. Score at the end of the first period was Albright 19, Ursinus 0.

Riffle Again

The second canto opened with an exchange of punts by Wildonger and Comba. After failing to gain Wildonger kicked from his own 20 to the Albright 38. Here another Albright drive started that finally spelled touchdown. Riffle and Kasel alternated with the ball until they had advanced to the 25 yard marker from where Riffle went through center for his second score. Again Turner failed to convert. In the final moments of this period Muller attempted a field goal by placement from the Ursinus 34, but his try fell short as the period ended. Score at half—Albright 25, Ursinus 0.

Bears Stiffen

Coming back in the third quarter the Bears put up the strong defense for which they have been known. W. Riffle kicked off to Gurzynski, who returned the ball from his own 15 to the 27. After Costello had gailed to gain, Vaccaro punted to the Albright 35, where Troisi made a beautiful return to the Ursinus 42. On the following play the Crimson and White were penalized fifteen yards for holding after which a forward pass from Comba to Riffle was good for 30 yards. At this point Gurzynski recovered an Albright fumble and the Bears made their only serious threat of the day when they advanced the ball to the host's 13 yard stripe. The threat ended when Troisi inter-

BUT LIARS FIGURE

During the past few months many objective methods have been devised and employed to sound out the trend of public opinion in an endeavor to prognosticate the result of the presidential election.

Poll after poll has resulted in anything any party has looked for—ranging all the way from a Democratic to a Republican landslide. The Literary Digest straw vote favors Landon by a big majority. The Democratic objection to this poll is that the Digest's sample ballots are marked, for the most part, to telephone subscribers and automobile owners, and is therefore unreliable.

The American Institute of Public Opinion, on the other hand, has concluded from its poll that President Roosevelt will be returned to office. Of the two, this seems the fairer poll because it contacts all groups, high and low income-earning categories, farmers, people on relief, etc.

However, a Poll-of-Polls conducted by the Cleveland News, a consensus of the predictions drawn from 3,007 separate newspapers and magazine straw ballots, indicates this vote in the electoral college: Landon 307, Roosevelt 220, and undetermined (Idaho) 4. This, in the face of the 3 to 1 odds on Roosevelt, quoted by the "wise-money" of Wall Street, is enough to make the American voter wonder.

Everybody eligible should cast his ballot in to-morrow's poll. No matter what can be said about all the other polls, to-morrow's is the best—because it counts. So get in on the big poll; it is your duty as a citizen.

FOOTBALL, THEN—?

Many of us who were spectators at the Christmas entertainment in the gym last year remember the enjoyment we received from the talent displayed by the participants. It is a well-known fact on the campus that this talent which the school contains is not being utilized. With football reigning exclusively over these past and next few week-ends, we have not had time to think of anything else. However, the time soon arrives when the football season will be over and as we have perceived, from the Activities Calendar, there will be many week-ends with absolutely nothing scheduled to take place at Ursinus.

Now because these week-ends after football season have a reputation of being "dead" at Ursinus, it has been suggested that we somehow organize these useful talents in order to enliven the morgue-like spirit which has for recent years typified many Ursinus week-ends. This could be done on a competitive basis in order to stimulate school support. Competition between dorms as an intra-mural contest or a "Major Bowes" system might be used.

The question is, would such a plan be practical? It is a habit for Ursinus students to journey home over week-ends for lack of activity on campus and this condition is in direct contradiction to what a college campus should be. It is the free hours over week-ends that we as college students can take time off from studies to enjoy ourselves in social contact and activity. It offers an opportunity for the college community as a whole to participate in healthy recreation away from the routine of classes and books. Such recreation is a boon to education along social lines, which is an integral part of college life.

We believe that the students of Ursinus would cooperate in making a project of this type successful and surely no one would regret the good times and social benefits derived from it. This is only a suggestion toward furthering the Ursinus "New Deal" and awakening the Ursinus student body from the stupor which it is accused of possessing. Let's utilize these wasted week-ends and get more collegiate minded.

RAMBLINGS

The Men's Student Council now raises the hand of authority after years of slumbering inactivity. There can be little doubt that the members mean to exercise that authority; there should be equally little expectation that their authority need be exercised often. For its action is a compulsion which it can no longer deny, a compulsion so simple that it scarcely requires statement.

The compulsion is the agreement, recognized by college men and women everywhere, that college is for study and must therefore provide conditions suitable for study.

We students are released from earning our own livelihood in order to come here to study. The faculty is here to help us in our study. The buildings and equipment are here to furnish us with the tools for study. With these facts there can be no dispute.

Now the duty of the President of the College, of the Faculty and of the Student Councils is to see that the environment favors study. At present the Men's Council has addressed itself to the dormitory situations. The code presented to the men is not a list of "Do's" and "Don't's"; it has no hard and fast lines; it does not attempt to regulate morals; it cannot be considered an imposition.

The rules are simply a statement of the decent conduct any Ursinus man or woman has a right to expect of another man or woman. They are a statement of the standards which we believe a majority of Ursinus students wish to prevail.

For if the majority desire otherwise, let moss silently cover Bomberger; let the bell of Freeland peal no more for Grizzly victories; let the benefactions of our friends go to paupers who, though they live by bread alone, at least appreciate its value. Let those who would constitute this majority depart from these gates, but let them not labor in the behalf that with them shall go the sanity and grace and peace which real men ever seek to cultivate.

CAM-PAIN NOTES

(This is an adjunct to the Gaff column, inspired by local election-day fervor, and compiled by William Tells, who is strictly neutral, because he is too dumb to be partisan.)

Harvey L. started something with his "garden of sunflowers" letter in the Weekly. Urged by alumnus Alspach, Stan O. organized himself as a retaliation committee to hand out sunflowers.

We forget who it was who stood at the door, offering Landon buttons to people as they entered Friday morning's American history class.

It is rumored that Professor Carter did not accept one.

Seeing that it was free, Caesar Throne grabbed a Republican emblem, but later he remembered he's for F. D. R., and, disgusted, tossed the button back to Lipkin.

Some people are going home to vote. Some are going home to vote, and to. Some are just going home to.

Gene Shelley, usually above such things (he'll tell you so himself), weakened and dictated a note "Nobody but an imbecile would want a Landon button," and had it placed on Bomberger Bulletin board with the forged signature of a curly-haired history prof attached.

Colorful was the Landon-sticker-posting-tour of Slim and Paul (you Guesseed), which came to its merry climax with the fastening of two sunflowers on Skippy's office door.

About this time, Skip, the above-mentioned New Dealer, had forgotten constitutional cases, to the delight of his (as usual) unprepared class, and was waxing warm on, "Resolved: that Roosevelt has no desire to become a dictator."

Towsey denies being a Communist agitator.

THE PROFESSOR SPEAKS

by Dr. D. G. Baker
Professor of Greek and Latin

The following analysis of New Deal fallacies is presented merely as one side of the story and as a basis for argument.

The New Deal should be done away with, because:

- I. It is economically unsound, for:
  - a. It has attempted to artificially fix prices.
  - b. Its various agencies have worked and still work at cross-purposes. (e. g.: the A. A. A. gave the farmer more money while the N. R. A. forced him to pay more for everything he bought; reclamation services drain swamps, wild-life conservation agencies make new ones; C. C. C. workers remove obstructions from brook channels, flood-control agencies put others in their place.)
  - c. It expects to regain prosperity by curtailment of production.
  - d. By continually threatening changes, it increases the instability of economic conditions and hence causes stagnation of business.
  - e. It is running the nation deeply into debt.
  - f. By causing prices to rise more rapidly than wages, it has lowered everyone's standard of living.
- II. It is socially unsound, for:
  - a. It taxes all who have earned a decent living and with this money supports all the lazy and incompetent. It therefore breeds up the unfit and anti-social elements at the expense of the socially fit elements and so is the opposite of eugenic. (Of course by no means all of the unemployed are incompetent or lazy, but most of the incompetent and lazy are among the unemployed and are getting relief money.)
  - b. It tends, therefore, to pauperize the nation.
  - c. It discourages people from attempting to save or to own their own homes.
  - d. By publicly (through the press and radio), setting the farmers against the manufacturers, the laborers against the employers, etc., it has emphasized distinctions of class which are un-democratic and un-American.
- III. It is politically unsound, for:
  - a. It leads to an ever growing bureaucracy.
  - b. It has been promoted largely by men not elected by the people.
  - c. It has set up an increasing group of agencies which overlap with those of the states. (This could equally well be called economically unsound.)
  - d. Its philosophy (expressed in its acts rather than its words), that the government owes anyone, no matter how little he contributes, a living and that no one owes anything to the government, is a philosophy fatal to the responsibility of the individual citizen upon which any democratic government must rely.
- IV. It is un-Christian, for:
  - a. It denies the right of the individual to be happy on the pretext of securing mass-happiness, a thing which does not exist except as it equals the sum of individual happiness.
  - b. It fosters the growth of favoritism, laziness, prodigality, dishonesty, and all sorts of political corruption. (If repeal be included in the New Deal, it fosters drunkenness also.)
  - c. It is purely materialistic, assuming that food and clothing are the ultimate ends of human existence in direct contradiction to Christ's teaching.
- V. It is inherently blundering and stupid, for:
  - a. It disregards the past experience of the United States and overlooks the factors which have hitherto made the U. S. prosperous.
  - b. It attempts things tried over and over again in the past which have invariably failed (stupidity—getting caught twice in the same trap).
- VI. It has as its leader a man who has proved himself a demagogue and a violator of his own pledges.

Orchids to Angie Vaccaro, the too-long-concealed publicist of "Fats Costello" on local bulletin boards.

Orchids to Martha Franklin, who not only comes through at games, but during the week feeds cakes to our fighting Grizzlies.

The piano was missing from rec hall for a while, so the shufflers had the grace to stay away, too.

The Harvard College Student Council passed a resolution urging repeal of the rule prohibiting entertainment of women alone in undergraduates' rooms.

Recently, the rule specifying that a chaperone be present was modified so that students might entertain women in their rooms provided at least two of them were present.

The resolution, which will be presented to President James B. Conant on his return from Europe described the rule as "inconvenient."

THE MAIL BOX

To the Editor:

In a recent issue of the Weekly it was stated that the Day Study Organization had been formed to secure a room for non-resident students after their present study would be used by the wrestling squad. This statement is quite misleading. No organization could or should be formed on such a basis. The non-resident students voted to form a coherent group that would be able to cooperate as a unit with the Administration, Faculty, and resident students; to sponsor their intra-dorm athletic teams; and to provide a place of study and rest at leisure time.

Tentatively, plans have been drawn for the new recreational center to be located in the former wrestling room. Consequently, another room would have to be provided for the wrestling squad. Several rooms are available, one of which is the men's Day Study. Finally, if the Men's Day Study is to be used as a wrestling room, another room will be provided for the non-resident students that will be suitable for their use. There has never been any question of this, it being only that of the most advantageous location of the room to be used by the wrestling squad.

FROM OUR FILES

Thirty years ago, the young Republican men of the College organized themselves into a Republican Club, the object of the club being to promote the best interests of the Republican party. The club was to meet once a week to discuss the platform and the political situation. It was to be a branch of the Philadelphia Republican clubs, and through these clubs was to procure prominent Republican speakers to address the men of the College.

Twenty-five years ago, we find that the business men of Collegeville gave a smoker for the men students of the College. It was a sort of post mortem affair in which our 9-0 defeat by Penn was rehashed. The men of the team were praised for their work even though the score was against them.

In 1916, the Freshman banquet was held at the Hotel Vendig in Philadelphia. There were fifty-nine freshmen present and the records show that the frosh had no trouble in getting their president there.

Good digestion and a sense of well-being are helpful allies for every one!

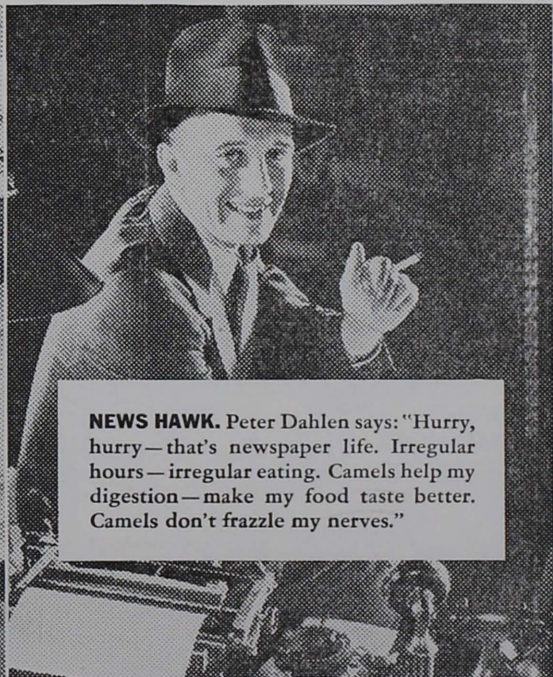

PEOPLE in every walk of life... men and women... agree that Camels ease strain and encourage digestive well-being. Millions of smokers find that "Camels set you right!"

Glee Club

Plans are being formulated by the Glee Club for a Christmas program of Boar's Head carols, which will be presented shortly before the Christmas holiday.

The Meistersingers, a group composed of select members of the choir, have also made tentative arrangements for concerts, the first of which will be presented in Pottstown on November 4.

Dr. W. F. Philip announced that there will be no Glee Club practice this Thursday night, but there will be Meistersingers' practice. It is very important that everyone be present at Glee Club rehearsal on November 12.

French Club

Something novel in entertainment was offered last Wednesday evening, October 28, in Bomberger in the form of a puppet show staged by members of the French Club.

The play, a fifteenth century burlesque called "La Farce du Cuvier" ("The Story of the Washtub") was presented first in English, then in French. Its success was due to the combined efforts of Harold Taylor '40, and Robert Yoh '40, who manipulated the marionettes, and Jean Ulsh '37, Virginia Fenton '37, and Walter Kelly '37, who produced the words that seemed to flow from the lips of the puppets. Walter Kelly, as Jaquinat, a hen-pecked husband, Jean Ulsh as his nagging wife, and Virginia Fenton as Jaquette, mother-in-law of Jaquinat, interpreted their French roles. The unreality of characters and setting peculiar to Marionette shows blended effectively with the farcical elements of the play. The show was grotesque and humorous in parts.

This French Club meeting was open to every one, and over seventy people were present.

Plans for a French movie to be held at Ursinus at a future date are now being considered.

Math Group

The members of the Mathematics group enjoyed a Hallowe'en Party on Wednesday night at the home of Dr. F. L. Manning. About twenty-two members spent the evening playing games. The faculty advisors of the group, Drs. J. W. Clawson, F. L. Manning, and J. W. Mauchly, were present and spoke to the students.

English Club

Since Monday, October 26th, was proclaimed an academic holiday, the regular semi-monthly meeting of the English Club was postponed until November 9th. At that time a secretary-treasurer will be elected.

Colgate University is sponsoring a contest to find the best after-dinner speaker among the students.

Clamer Hallowe'en Party

On Tuesday evening, October 27, Clamer Hall gave a Hallowe'en party for Glenwood Hall in the basement of Clamer. Miss Camille Stahr and Miss Helen Moll were guests of honor. In keeping with the spirit of the party, everyone was in masquerade. Hallowe'en games made up the entertainment of the evening, after which refreshments were served.

Shreiner Hallowe'en Party

Shreiner Hall also had a Hallowe'en party, theirs taking place on Wednesday evening, October 28. A decorated reception room, ghosts standing in corners, "spooky" games, and everyone in masquerade helped make this a true Hallowe'en affair. Hot dogs, pumpkin pie, cider, candy, and cookies added considerably to the enjoyment of the party and ended the evening perfectly.

BEARS TO TACKLE DRAGONS IN LEAGUE GAME SATURDAY

Drexel Out to Avenge 20-6 Defeat
Given By Bears Last Year

The Ursinus Bears play their second home game of the schedule this Saturday with the Drexel Dragons.

Drexel is out to win this game: first, to avenge a 20-6 defeat at the hands of the Grizzlies, last year; second, because they have been promised a holiday in exchange for a victory against Ursinus.

This is the first year that the Philadelphia Dragons are in the Eastern Pennsylvania Conference. To date Ursinus is at the top and Drexel at the bottom. The odds are therefore with the Bears. However, Drexel has won three of their six games.

The Dragons have a big, rangy line, and depend mostly upon running plays. Only one man, Fox, left halfback, is in the starting line-up from last year. Quinn, left halfback is the Dragon threat, he being the man who ran 40 yards for Drexel's lone touchdown against G-burg in the Dragon's only Conference game to date, which they lost, last Saturday.

The University of Florida now offers a course to develop the student's sense of humor. It is listed as "Types of Humorous Literature."

Temple and Haverford Prolong Losing Streak of Soccer Team

Continuing their losing streak the Bakermen lost to Haverford on Wednesday 4-1, and to Temple on Friday 3-0. In both games the Bears looked better than the scores indicate.

In the first period of the game with Haverford, Ursinus started with a rush taking the lead in the first few minutes of play. The game was nip and tuck until the second half when Haverford spurred and by the final whistle they had amassed a 4-1 lead. The fine playing of Atkinson, center forward for Haverford, put his team in the lead.

On Friday afternoon the Bears had to contend with a very strong wind. Temple was fortunate in taking advantage of the wind while the Ursinus soccermen could not adjust themselves to it. Although Temple had acquired a 3-0 lead the first half, they found difficulty, upon lining up in the second half, to penetrate the Bears defense. Although the Bakermen couldn't score, they did check McKenna, who scored twice for Temple in the first half on lucky shots. Neibert acquired one unit for Temple on a well deserved goal.

A fine passing attack was exhibited several times in both games, and the Bears show signs of improvement. Friday Ursinus will journey to Delaware to play the

Don Kellett's Frosh Gridders
To Play Drexel Jay Vees Friday

Coach Don Kellett took his freshman gridders down to Norris-town last Thursday afternoon to hold practice with the county seat high school football team on the high school field.

The two teams took turnabout with the ball, running plays in scrimmage for about one hour. Don Kellett and the two Norris-town coaches, Pete Lewis and Charlie Barnett, were on the field the whole time giving instructions.

Although the yearlings have won their two scheduled games to date, they were not especially impressive in this high school workout. And on Friday afternoon they meet on Patterson field at home a team that will give them no end of fight, the Drexel Jayvees.

Last year the Drexel Juniors sent a heavy, experienced team against Ursinus, and the Bear Cubs beat them in a tough game. The Ursinus victory should be repeated this year, if the flesh and spirit are willing and strong.

The freshmen squad thus far lost only one man. Blase Ravikio, who left school last week, was a social soph from Villanova and a first-string tackle on the Bear Cub line.

Northwestern University students must hand their pictures in with themes so the professor will know whose work he is grading.

HOCKEYITES SETBACK 1-0
AT HANDS OF BRYN MAWR

On Saturday morning Ursinus lost to the Bryn Mawr girls 1-0, in a game played on the latter's field. Ursinus showed poor coordination on the line, being unable to push a goal through the opposing team. Fenton and Billett starred on the defense, keeping many prospective goalmakers out of the driving area. Bryn Mawr's left inner, Mildred Bakewell, especially was turned back many times, although she got through once in the first half to make the only goal of the game.

More Rifle

On a series of line plays and passes the Lions advanced the pigskin from their own 20 to the Ursinus 45. From here a pass from Comba to Rifle brought the ball to the 1 yard stripe, where on the next play Rifle slipped off tackle for his third score of the day. Troisi's try for the extra point was good. After the kick off an exchange of punts resulted in the Crimson and White taking the ball to the Bears 30. With one minute of play remaining, Joe Cody dropped back and booted a field goal to end the day's scoring. W. Rifle kicked off to Dresch on his own 15 who returned it to the 36 as the final whistle blew. Final score—Albright 35, Ursinus 0.

Dick Rifle was without any doubt the star of the men of Munn, while for the McAvoy coached clan, Pancoast was strong on the defense, and the small but mighty Vaccaro did some nice ball carrying on the offense.

We all agree on this... cigarette paper is important. For Chesterfield we use the best paper that we can buy. It is called Champagne Cigarette Paper. It is made from the soft, silky fibre of the flax plant. It is washed over and over in clear, sparkling water.

A lot of the pleasure you get in smoking Chesterfields is due to our using the right kind of cigarette paper. Chesterfield paper is pure, and it burns without taste or odor.

Remember this... two things make the smoking quality of a cigarette—the tobaccos and the paper. The Champagne cigarette paper on Chesterfields is tested over and over for purity, for the right burning quality. Another reason why Chesterfield wins.
