ARIEL ANNOUNCES A NEW JOURNAL

John E. Keller of the Department of Spanish and Italian at our University, founded the Society of the Cantigueiros de Santa María in 1986, which is, an informal group of scholars devoted to research on the Cantigas de Santa María of King Alfonso X, el Sabio. The Society will sponsor sections at conferences and meetings of scholars, will occasionally hold research meetings, and will publish twice a year the Bulletin of the Cantigueiros de Santa María, whose first number appeared recently. Volume I concentrated on research opportunities in the Cantigas. Subsequent volumes will continue to print such articles, and will, of course, publish articles on specific studies relating to King Alfonso's favorite book.

Volume I contains the following articles: Joseph T. Snow, "An Overview of Recent Studies Devoted to the Cantigas de Santa María" (Univ. of Georgia); Dorothy Clotelle Clark, "Alfonso X: Questions on Poetics" (Univ. of California, Berkeley); Dennis P. Seniff, "Letter from Doña J. Alfau de Solalinde to R. Menéndez Pidal on her Projected Study of the Cantigas de Santa María," (Michigan State University); Robert I. Burns, S. J., "The Cantigas de Santa María as a Research Opportunity in History," (Univ. of California, Los Angeles); Kathleen Kulp-Hill, "A World in Words in the Cantigas de Santa María," (Eastern Kentucky University); Connie L Scarborough, "A Summary of the Research on the Miniatures of the Cantigas de Santa María," (Middle Tennessee State University); Israel J. Katz, "The Study and Performance of the Cantigas de Santa María: A Glance at Recent Musicological Literature," (New York, N.Y.); Jesús Montoya Martínez, "'Razón,' 'refrán' y estribillo' en las Cantigas de Santa María," (University of Granada).

Ariel congratulates the Editor John E. Keller, and the Associate Editors Dennis P. Seniff and Connie L. Scarborough for founding this sister journal.
