fuel was being used less,
and people started to enjoy nature and began exercising a lot more.
Covid has taught many people the value of appreciating, especially those people who experienced a loss due to this pandemic.
Pandemic is such a scary word. I didn't know that word even existed until I started living it. It's crazy that even though we're living with all of these rules & regulations, people are not afraid to fight for what they believe in. Covid did teach me one thing, live in the moment. Covid also allowed me & my family to bond more!
