Salve Regina Golden Memories:

A Tapestry of Friends

Fifty Years later, there is still magic in the memories of my times at Salve Regina, three of which are at the forefront:

Lasting friendships made. Cherished among my memories are those of so many young ladies whom I met my first year at Salve, and with them, formed a lasting bond, which is still treasured throughout these 50 years of sharing our lives' milestones.

Learning experiences shared. Together we reached towards our goal of graduation, enriched by our teachers, and lived through each other.

Living among Elegance. We were constantly swept up in the Gilded Age environs of our magical campus.
