

Formosan Peace Settlement Near?

WARSAW (AP)—Hopes soared today that statements from Washington and Peking had given a new lease on life to the Formosa talks and eased war threats. The Warsaw talks between U.S. Ambassador Jacob Beam and Chinese Communist envoy Wang Ping-nan entered their third week today. Among developments that diplomats here considered conciliatory was the declaration by Red Chinese Premier Chou En-lai Sunday that the Red Chinese "do not give up their efforts to find a solution to the disputes between China and the United States through peaceful negotiations."

20,000 Isolated — 1,000 Missing

HURRICANES KILL 550 300 MILLION DAMAGE

Villages Wiped Out; Atlantic Gales Join

COMPILED FROM AP-CP DESPATCHES

Two hurricanes, a typhoon and three floods struck shattering blows at two continents and four countries at the weekend and all day today, leaving in their wakes:

- An estimated 550 known dead.
- More than 1,000 persons missing.
- An estimated 20,000 persons isolated in three countries.
- Property damages in four countries estimated at $300,000,000.
- More than 15 cities, towns and villages in three countries wiped out.
- Power lines knocked out.
- Railways washed out and damaged.
- Shipping on two oceans facing peril on high seas.
- Rich valleys in three countries flooded and damaged.

The two hurricanes—Helena and Isa have been reported by weathermen to be heading for a merger in the North Atlantic.

The Rio Grande flooded to four miles wide and 17 feet deep causing widespread damages and isolation in Texas and Mexico.

Northern Mexico's Rio Conchos poured out a new flood early today.

TOKYO (AP) — Relief workers recovered the bodies of 200 more victims of typhoon Ida today from the mud and debris of ravaged Izu Peninsula, 70 miles southwest of Tokyo.

This brought the number of known dead reported by the national police to 540 in the weekend storm.

Police said 976 persons are missing—916 of them in the Izu resort area, where the usually placid Kano River burst its banks and wiped out more than a dozen villages.

The death toll may go higher. A helicopter working on mercy missions spotted bodies floating in the Pacific off Izu Peninsula.

Typhoon Ida's damage was estimated by the construction ministry at more than $277,800,000.

Police said 535,307 persons were left homeless.

CAPE BRETON HIT

SYDNEY, N.S. (CP) — Hurricane Helene roared toward Newfoundland's southwestern coast today after dealing Cape Breton a knockout blow.

Power was restored in all but two residential sections of this city of 32,000 shortly before noon.

For four hours Cape Breton Island's only link with the Nova Scotia mainland was a single telephone line.

A city works official estimated property damage in the wake of Helene's 90-mile-an-hour winds at more than $100,000.

Schools were closed all over the island.

The weather office said Helene will probably hit hard at southern Newfoundland, particularly Port aux Basques and Corner Brook, before 1 p.m.

TEXAN FLOODS

PRESIDIO, Tex. (AP) — The Rio Grande, a swollen monster three to four miles wide, crumpled homes as it swept through the Presidio Valley of southwest Texas and isolated thousands in border cities today.

New walls of water were expected today from continued deluges along the Rio Conchos in northern Mexico.

About 30 families were evacuated in Presidio. One man was believed drowned.

The river, normally four feet deep here, was at more than 17 feet Sunday, 1.15 feet higher than in the big 1932 flood.

The water washed away about 1,000 feet of railway track, cutting connections to northern Mexico. Despite continued rains, the river started to fall Sunday night and continued falling today.

More than 16,000 were isolated in the Ojinaga area on the Mexican side. Pemex, the Mexican government oil company, flew in milk and baby food. Food, fuel and gasoline were reported running low in the Mexican town.

The Red Cross declared Presidio a disaster area.

STORMS MAY MERGE

MIAMI (AP) — Hurricanes Helene and Isa today gave strong indication of merging into a violent storm far out in the North Atlantic.

Courses plotted by the weather bureau here would bring them together possibly in the next two or three days, said forecaster Rollo Dean.

A meteorologist's axiom that hurricanes repel each other does not always hold true, Dean said.

Helene today was losing hurricane characteristics but remained a severe storm. Isa's highest winds were expected to decrease to around 75 miles an hour.

At 6 a.m. EDT, Helene was located about 500 miles east of Portland, Me., moving northeast at about 35 m.p.h. Isa was located 300 miles east-northeast of Bermuda and travelling north-eastward at about 25 m.p.h.

Both hurricanes threatened shipping. The southeast portion of Newfoundland was told to prepare for winds of hurricane force.

Weather Hurts Chiang Supply

KINMEN, Quemoy Island (Reuters)—Bad weather threatened Nationalist China's sea supply line today just as it was beginning to boost deliveries to this beleaguered offshore island. With the typhoon season starting, there was speculation typhoons might replace the Chinese Communist artillery blockade as the big barrier to the flow of food, medicine and military supplies. Little Quemoy Island has only a 25-day stock of civilian food.

Among other statements, he said Communist China would lead the United States to "final and complete disaster if the United States insisted on provoking war." Postponement of any Washington announcement on the details of the closed-door talks beyond the date such an announcement had been expected here also was taken by the diplomats to suggest new developments are in prospect.

TAIPEI (AP) — President Chiang Kai-shek said today his Nationalist air force will bomb the Communist guns ringing Quemoy when and if the "crucial moment arises." He added he felt the United States would back him if that time came.

Chiang said this would be when the lives of the 130,000 troops and civilians on the outpost fortress are in danger either from the effects of the Communist artillery blockade or other military action.

He said: "When the crucial moment arises I feel the United States will not fall back on its promises to help. But the crucial moment has not yet arisen."

"But we will act on our own regardless (of the U.S. attitude) when it comes a question of life and death."

16,000 Pupils Blocked From Entering School

OMAHA, Neb. (AP)—Federal Judge Harvey M. Johnson announced today the court will issue a temporary restraining order against the Little Rock school board which has leased four high schools to a private corporation.

More than 16,000 youngsters were unable to attend public schools in Arkansas and Virginia today, bringing home to pupils and parents alike the full impact of the long and troubled struggle over integration.

The first wholesale closing of schools at Little Rock, Ark., an estimated 3,460 were out while 2,750 were affected by earlier shutdowns at Front Royal, Va., high and Charlottesville, Va.

Elsewhere in the Deep South, hundreds of thousands of children continued to go to school in segregated classrooms while integrated classes were held in some states farther north.

WATCHING WASHINGTON

School boards and judges alike kept a close watch on Washington where the Supreme Court prepared to hand down its decision on the Sept. 12 decision denying an appeal to delay integration at Little Rock's Central High School.

At Little Rock, prospects did not appear bright for immediate reopening of the four high schools despite Saturday's clear-cut referendum victory by advocates of segregation.

An injunction plea seeking to prevent the Little Rock school board from leasing its properties to a private corporation was before a two-judge federal court at Omaha, Neb.

The petition was filed with the eighth U.S. circuit court of appeals by Wiley Branton, an attorney for the Advancement of Colored People. The petition could start a new round of litigation.

Court Blames Faubus, State

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Supreme Court declared today the constitutional rights of Negro students "are not to be sacrificed or yielded" to violence and disorder. The assertion was in the formal opinion setting out the reasoning back of the court's Sept. 12 decision against any delay in integration of Little Rock's Central High School.

With the justices assembled in a special session, Chief Justice Warren read the court's 7-page printed opinion. It said that violence and disorder in the Little Rock situation "followed upon the actions of the governor and the legislature."

No state can deny to any person within its jurisdiction equal protection under the laws, the opinion said.

It cited an earlier Supreme Court opinion in another case that no agency of the state, or the officers or agents by whom its power are exerted, shall deny such equal protection. Anyone who denies such equal protection violates the constitution, the earlier opinion said. This opinion was cited with approval in today's opinion.

Tory Administration Tested At Two Eastern Polls Today

OTTAWA (CP) — The 15-month record of the Progressive Conservative government received its first byelection test today in the Quebec constituency of Montmagny-L'Islet and in Ontario's Grenville-Dundas riding.

The Ontario seat has been Conservative since it was created in 1924 and the Quebec seat Liberal since its formation in 1933. Both were straight Conservative-Liberal battles.

The byelections come six months after Prime Minister Diefenbaker led his party to the largest Commons majority in Canadian history March 31.

8 Road Deaths Reported In West

By THE CANADIAN PRESS Highway accidents caused eight of the 12 violent deaths reported in Western Canada during the weekend.

A survey of fatalities between 9 p.m. Friday and midnight Sunday showed Alberta heading the list with six deaths—three in traffic, two drownings, and a fatal tractor accident.

British Columbia and Saskatchewan each reported two highway fatalities, and B.C. had a tractor death. In Manitoba, a boy died after being kicked by a horse.

Party leader Hugh Gaitskell told the delegates at the annual conference:

"I cannot accept that Britain's attitude towards America should be one of obsequious silence when we disagree with them."

"We cannot and we will not be a party to a war designed to uphold and maintain puppet dictator Chiang Kai-shek on the offshore islands."

GENERAL CHARLES DE GAULLE won a sweeping 4-to-1 endorsement of his new French constitution at the weekend not only in France, but in all but one of the country's overseas territories. The triumph is regarded in many quarters as a smashing blow at communism.

COMMUNISM BATTERED

France Overwhelmingly Endorses New Polity

PARIS (AP) — Premier de Gaulle has won his fight. Returns from the most sweeping referendum in French history today gave him a resounding personal triumph and a strong constitution for a new Fifth Republic.

The Fifth Republic will be proclaimed in the Official Journal next Sunday. And France will embrace a new, more powerful system of government so daring many Frenchmen gasped at the conception while they voted their approval by a landslide Sunday.

Voters of continental France approved the new constitution by a margin of almost 4 to 1. Complete official tabulations in France showed 17,666,828 yes votes and 4,624,475 no votes. There was a record turnout of 84.9 per cent of the registered voters. Counting all those who cast blank ballots, the new constitution was approved by 78.5 per cent.

With one exception — French Guinea in West Africa—the overseas lands of the erstwhile French empire also backed the constitution to the hilt. This set them up with France on the world political stage as a "French community," a sort of global confederation, with commonwealth status and even independence waiting in the wings.

Even the no vote of independence-minded Guinea, on a steamy stretch of the West African coast made little impression in the general massive outpouring of approval that exceeded even the most optimistic estimates.

The landslide raised the prospect that de Gaulle, the 67-year-old wartime hero who became premier after a rightist uprising last May, can almost write his own ticket to cure the sicknesses of this long alling country. Chief of these is the four-year-old Algerian rebellion.

De Gaulle probably will become president, with powers that no French chief of state has enjoyed since Emperor Napoleon III was overthrown in 1870.

In the interval France has deliberately maintained a strong legislature and a weak executive. De Gaulle's dramatic victory was the worst electoral black eye the Communists have suffered in postwar France. The Communists formed the largest bloc campaigning against de Gaulle's constitution. They said it would open the way to dictatorship.

Gaullists' leaders hailed the results as a decisive blow at the Reds, who had the biggest single voting bloc—148 deputies—in the 596-seat National Assembly.

Approval of the constitution automatically rejects the old assembly. De Gaulle now has four months of near-dictatorial powers in which he will write a new election law to seat a new assembly.

Elections probably will come in late November or early December.

Algerians Vote 80% In Favor Of Changes

ALGIERS (Reuters) — Mounting returns throughout Algeria today showed a triumph for Premier Charles de Gaulle's new constitution. It also was the first time Moslem women were given the vote.

The big turnout of Moslem women surprised officials. They regarded it as a signal the women are taking full advantage of their new opportunity for emancipation.

Despite the F.L.N. threat of terrorism to disrupt the three days of polling, there were only a small number of attacks.

Guinea Chooses Independence In French National Referendum

PARIS (CP) — France today notified her West African possession of Guinea that it has chosen the path of separation from the French union by voting against the new constitution.

Premier Sekou Toure was told his government no longer could receive financial or administrative aid from France. Measures will be taken to withdraw French officials and technicians progressively over the next two months, the French statement said.

The alumina-rich country, slightly larger than the United Kingdom, broke its links with France Sunday when its people rejected Gen. Charles de Gaulle's constitution.

De Gaulle had warned France's overseas territories they would be voting for independence if they opposed the new constitution.

Valley Fruit Unions Settle Differences

VANCOUVER (CP) — Representatives of the International Brotherhood of Teamsters and the B.C. Federation of Fruit and Vegetable Workers have reached a settlement of differences.

William Dodge, Canadian Labor Congress executive vice-president, announced here in a prepared statement, the settlement is subject to ratification by the membership and legal councils of both unions.

He said details of the settlement will be announced following the vote, expected in one week.

JODOIN PRESENT

Claude Jodoin, CLC president, participated personally in the talks, held here last week. He was joined by Mr. Dodge, Joseph MacKenzie, CLC director of organization and Tom Gooderham, B.C. region CLC director.

Teamsters were represented by Russ Gallagher, Charles Gower and Jim Scott, and the Fruit and Vegetable Workers by A. L. Kanester, Murdo McKenzie, Gord Nairne and John Von Harten.

Credit Bureau Men Convene

Fifty delegates from B.C. points are in Kelowna this week for the annual convention of B.C. Credit Bureaus.

The meeting got under way last night with a dinner at Eldorado Arms. Delegates were formally welcomed by Mayor R. F. Parkinson.

During the convention a number of top speakers are scheduled to address the meeting.

Election of new officers will be held Tuesday afternoon. The convention will wind up with a banquet Tuesday evening.

Doomed Negro Gets Clemency

MONTGOMERY, Ala. (AP)—The death sentence of Jimmy Wilson for a $1.05 robbery was commuted to life imprisonment today by Governor James E. Folsom.

The decision was announced by Folsom following a clemency hearing last Friday which brought the 35-year-old illiterate Negro handyman face to face with the governor.

The governor read a prepared statement at a press conference which said: "After careful consideration of the fact and circumstances it is the opinion of the governor that the said Jimmy Wilson is a fit subject for executive clemency."

U.S. Strains Tie With Canadians

NEW YORK (CP) — The New York Times says it has learned in Washington that the United States "put a strain on its friendship with Canada" over the issue of Chinese representation in the United Nations.

The newspaper said Canada had been prepared to announce this was the last year she would vote against the admission of Communist China to the world organization. The UN assembly voted by a narrow margin not to consider the admission at this session.

Washington informants, the Times dispatch says, told the newspaper that External Affairs Minister Sidney Smith had "cut out" of the speech he made to the assembly the last year reference "after Washington had protested in strenuous terms."

"Canada, the report goes, was told that to stick to this position might destroy the North Atlantic alliance and gravely damage United States-Canada friendship," the Times adds.

"Startled by the intensity of United States objections, the Canadians softened their position to conform more closely with Washington's."

External Affairs Minister Smith spoke briefly in last week's debate, stressing that Canada would vote against considering Red China's admission at this time because of the concurrent outbreak of shooting in the Quemoy area. Declaring that consideration of the issue "would not be timely . . . because of the international tension" resulting from the outbreak, he added:

"My delegation, for this reason—and I emphasize that—for this reason will vote in favor of the draft resolution which would effect the postponement of the consideration of this question for the present session. . . ."

Smith, who returned to Ottawa at the end of last week, made no direct reference in talks with reporters at the UN either to the possibility of a different stand next year or to conversations with the Americans.

Service Clubs Play Vital Part In Life Of This Community

From time to time, the people of this area are asked to support fund raising activities of local service clubs and naturally are interested in where the money so raised is spent.

Some $3,000 was spent on the new Kinsmen Park on North Street, which the club is developing for the city. Another $600 went toward an anaesthetic machine for the hospital.

Commonwealth Parley Had No Animosity Like 1932's

By HAROLD MORRISON Canadian Press Staff Writer MONTREAL (CP) — The Commonwealth parley to a new destiny, held in a spirit of anger, fanned by the decisions of the United States to boost its own tariffs and in a way export some of the unemployment caused by the great depression.

The instinct was still there; to huddle together against the threat of ferocious world competition. But it was an instinct cemented in realism. The preponderance of the U.S. as a world economic force had become apparent. Evolution and revolution had clearly left their marks on the Commonwealth.

By PATRICK NICHOLSON (Specially Written For The Daily Courier) IKALUIT, Northwest Territories—This is the most dramatic community in Canada today. It is now a summer campsite for around 200 nomadic Eskimos, who are still living very much as their ancestors did in the Stone Age.

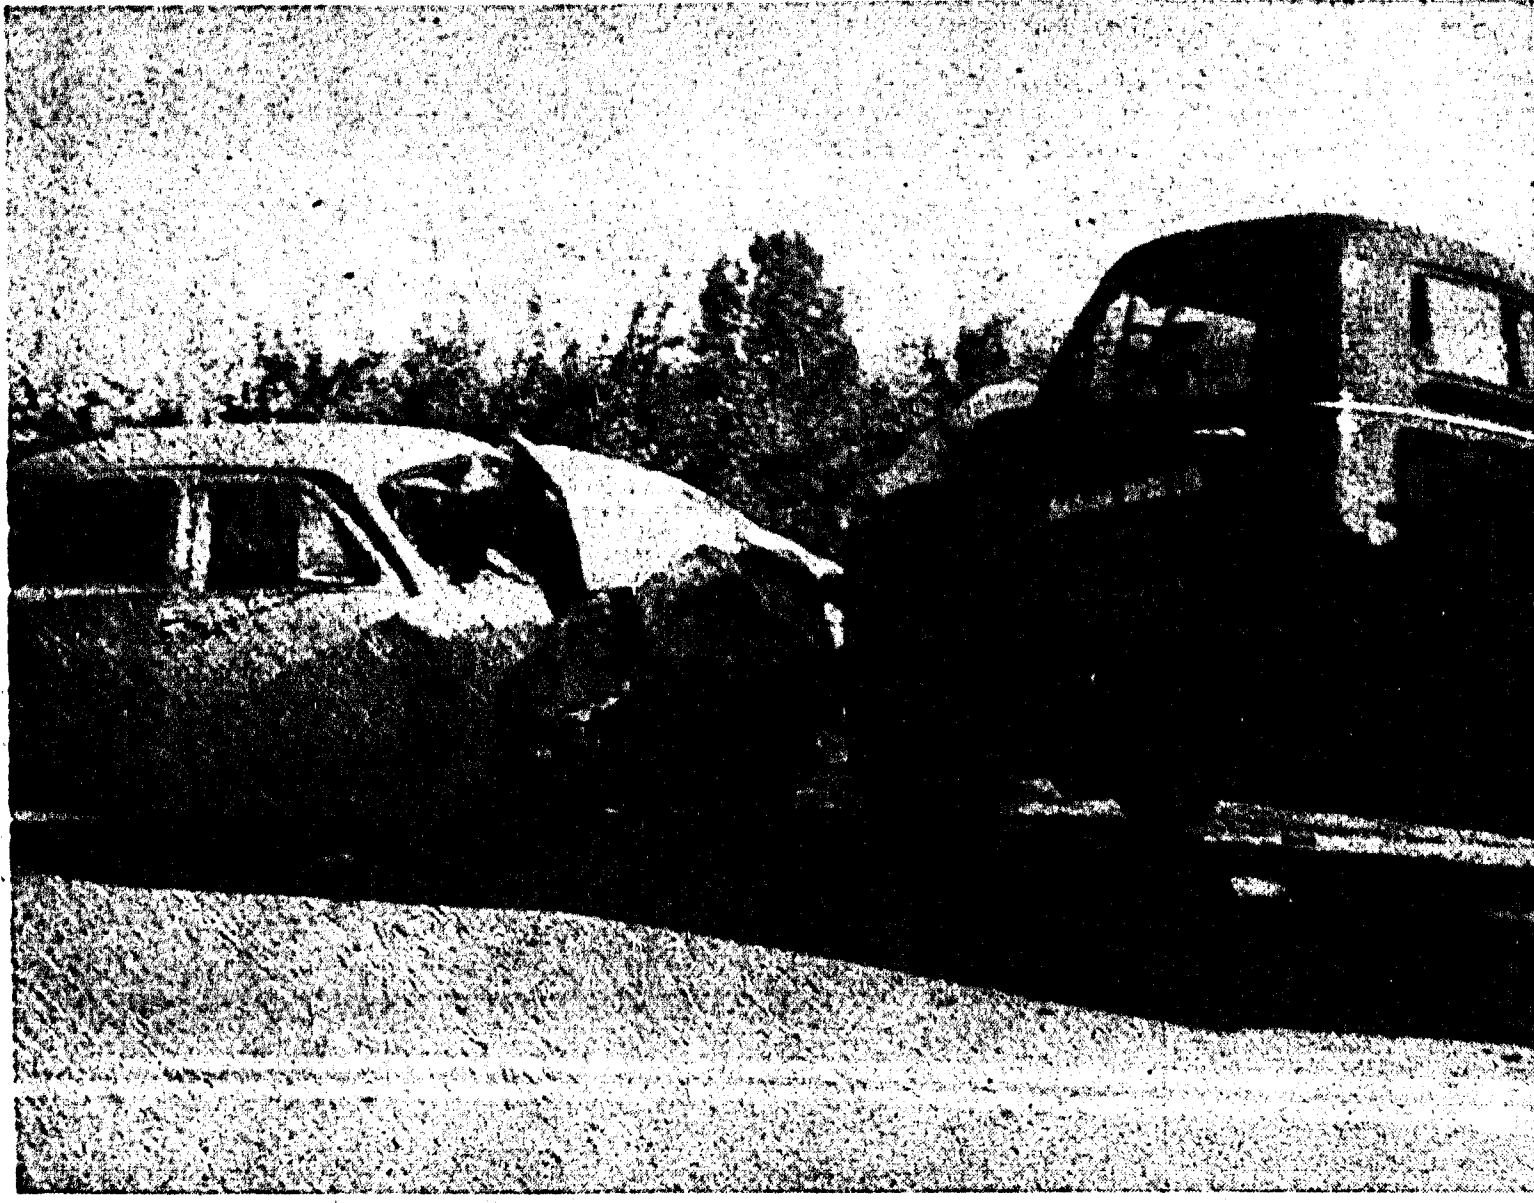

On one side of Ikaluit is a bustling airfield, rapidly becoming the most spectacular world crossroad for jetliners. On the other side, three miles across a little mountain pass, nestles the most modern community in our Northland.

FOUR ESCAPE DEATH IN THIS HEAD-ON COLLISION

One man—an occupant of the demolished passenger car—was critically injured, two other occupants of the same car suffered less serious injuries and the driver of truck also was injured in spectacular head-on crash on Highway 97, 2½ miles north-east of Kelowna Saturday afternoon. Four injured are still in hospital, three showing improvement and one—the most badly hurt—unchanged in condition. Police said car was attempting to pass another when it smashed into truck. Less than an hour before this accident, two persons were taken to hospital from mishap two miles south. It was district's worst weekend for accidents in months. ### Kelowna Sea Cadets Win Major Award

Another award has come to the Kelowna Sea Cadets Corps it was learned over the weekend. Latest is the R. J. Bicknell Trophy, awarded annually to the sea cadet corps in the B.C. mainland division that shows the best record of professional advancement during the year just past. Officers and all other ranks at RCSCC Grenville (Kelowna) are excited at the news and proud of the tribute to the training received by its members.

The presentation of the award will be made tonight at 8:30 at the Kelowna Armory. Parents of sea cadets and all interested persons are invited to witness the presentation.

PUBLIC INVITED

The corps parades every Monday at 7 p.m. and persons wishing to see the training period may come at any time from 7 o'clock onward—to the armory.

Winning of the Bicknell trophy puts the Kelowna corps on a highly successful year of operation for the local corps and it is just in time to open a new year of training.

L. Ken Carlson, commanding officer, RCSCC Grenville, advised that there still is a limited number of openings for recruits, aged 14 to 18. The corps is approaching its maximum allowable enrolment, he said.

Six Injured In Two Highway Smashups

Six persons were injured—four with less serious injuries, suffered head injuries, while the other two seriously—in two separate highway accidents in the Kelowna and Roddy Gregory, Vernon-Rutland-Benvenuto district within an hour of each other Saturday afternoon.

In the more spectacular, and driver of the pickup truck, also in which two vehicles were all but totally wrecked in a head-on crash, four persons—all out of town—were injured.

The thundering crash took place at about 3:15 p.m., near Syd's Grocery, on Highway 97, when a passenger car apparently attempting to overtake a smaller European car collided with the pick-up truck travelling in the opposite direction.

Traffic was tied up for some time and hundreds of onlookers were on hand as the four occupants of the car were given emergency treatment and taken to hospital by the Kelowna ambulance.

SERIOUS CONDITION

In the most serious condition is Roger Jackson, Merritt. With him in the passenger car, and in hospital with less serious injuries, were William Sandy, Williams driver, Miss Mary Friesen, Clement Ave., had to be treated for facial cuts and shock.

Busy Session Indicated For Cabinet At Special Vernon Meeting Oct. 7

VERNON — A busy day is being lined up for Premier W. A. C. Bennett and his cabinet when they meet in Vernon, October 7. Hugh Shantz, speaker of the legislature, advised that already he has several appointments made. The Okanagan-Kootenay Co-operative Growers' Association, District "G" Farmers' Institute, Shuswap Okanagan Dairy Industries Co-operative Association and Vernon Yacht Club all have appointments to meet with the cabinet. The board of Silver Star has an appointment to meet the minister of recreation and conservation, Earle Westwood. The cabinet session will open at 10 a.m. for about half an hour, after which time the delegations will state their case to the premier and his ministers. This will continue during the afternoon.

Processing Plant Gets Order For 250,000 Cases Of Infant Juices

Officials of B.C. Fruit Processors Ltd. confirmed today that over 250,000 cases of juices for infants will be packed for the H. J. Heinz Company. This involves an outlet for about 60,000 boxes of McIntosh.

Three years ago the grower-owned company started packing an infant apple juice for Heinz for distribution across Canada. This spring specifications were submitted to B.C. Fruit Processors for four new apple-base infant juices — apple-apricot, apple-grape, apple-prune and apple-orange.

Based on these specifications, the fruit products laboratory at the Dominion Experimental Station formulated the juices and samples were submitted to the Eastern firm. Firm orders have now been received for this large pack and production will start in about six weeks' time.

HAWAIIAN PINEAPPLE

B.C. Fruit Processors has gone far afield to obtain the necessary canned concentrates. Pineapple will be shipped from Hawaii; dried prune concentrate from California and grape from Washington. The apricot concentrate was produced in the Kelowna plant earlier in the season.

Already the company has been importing other juices to blend with locally grown fruit for the regular consumer line. Orange concentrate is being imported from California and Mexico to blend with apricot concentrate and lime juice from the British West Indies to blend with apple juice.

In commenting on this latest order, Ian F. Greenwood, acting general manager of B.C. Fruit Processors, said that it will provide employment for about 50 employees for approximately a month and a half in the Kelowna plant.

On this small-sized can, production lines will be operating at about 250 cans per minute.

Bishop From India To Address Meet

Dr. Donald Bryan, Bishop of Barrackpore, India, will address a special meeting in St. Saviour's Anglican Church, Pentonick next Thursday.

Currently touring Canada, it will be the only meeting Bishop Bryan will address in the Okanagan Valley. He has been invited by the Anglican Primate and the executive committee of the Missionary Society of the Anglican Church of Canada to tour the country for six weeks. He was one of the delegates to the Lambeth Conference, held this year in England.

Bishop Bryan is a strong supporter of the Boy Scout movement, holding the position of district scout commissioner for Barrackpore and assistant state commissioner for West Bengal.

St. Joseph's Parochial School Enrolment Sets Record Again

Enrolment at St. Joseph's parochial school set another record as approximately 300 pupils have been registered since the opening of the 1958-59 term.

Helping to make another enrolment record possible were two factors: building of an additional two rooms on arrival of one more teaching Sister of Charity (of Halifax).

There now are seven teaching Sisters here—the largest number ever in Kelowna. Another Sister of Charity acts as housekeeper, making a full complement of eight at the immaculate Conception Convent.

THREE REMAIN

Of the eight members of the teaching order here this year, only three remain over from last year. The three are: Sister Mary Armet, the superior; Sister Mary Loretta Vincent and Sister Mary Annata (the daughter of Mrs. L. Brockman of Kelowna.)

Grades taught are: Grades 7 and 8, Sister Mary Armet (superior and school principal); Grades 5 and 6, Sister Mary Rosa; Grade 4, Sister Mary Annata; Grade 3, Sister Catherine David; Grade 2, Sister Catherine Labour; Grade 1, Sister Loretta Vincent.

Sister Mary Martina is teaching music and singing and acts as choir leader, while Sister Agnes Columba looks after the housekeeping duties at the convent.

FIRST BISHOP

Born in Punjab, India, of Irish parentage, he is the first bishop of the Diocese of Barrackpore.

His father, a civil engineer, one of a County Wicklow family of 16 children, left Ireland for India at the turn of the century. Bishop Bryan is a graduate of Bishop Cotton School in Simla which is in the Diocese of Amritsar and supported by the Canadian church.

At the age of 17 he began work as a journalist, thus fulfilling his boyhood ambition. Three years later the call to enter the ministry became too strong, and he entered Bishop's College, Calcutta, to train for priesthood. After his studies there and at Cuddleston College, Oxford, he was ordained deacon and priest in York Minister in 1929.

LARGEST PARISH

Following a curacy in England, he returned to Calcutta where for 20 years he served as vicar of St. Thomas Church which is the largest Anglo-Indian parish in that diocese. From 1948 to 1951 he was archdeacon of Calcutta.

In October, 1951, he was appointed by Bishop Aurobinda Mukherjee, Metropolitan of India, to organize the new diocese of Barrackpore and to be its first bishop. The diocese comprises, roughly speaking, all that part of the state of West Bengal which lies east of the River Hooghly.

The diocese of Barrackpore has three main centres of work — Darjeeling, the famous tea area; Nadia district in which at one time the church missionary society labored for many years; and the Sunderban district in which the society for the propagation of the gospel missionaries began evangelistic work. Today the only foreign missionaries in the diocese are the bishop and one woman missionary.

Because of the lack of personnel and the paucity of financial support, the Metropolitan of India asked the Canadian church to give practical help and encouragement to this new diocese and its devoted missionary bishop.

Repairmen Hope For Proficiency Certification

VERNON — Laurie Wright, president of the Okanagan chapter, Radio Electronics Technicians Association, attended a meeting of the provincial council of the RETA in Nanaimo.

The Radio Electronics Technicians Association is an organization of radio and electronic technicians, consisting of management and employees interested in the betterment of the radio and TV service industry.

A committee of the B.C. provincial council is now working with the B.C. departments of labor and education to formulate and set up suitable examinations, to enable a radio and TV serviceman to gain government certification, and to obtain a certificate of proficiency in this field.

HIGH RIGGER 2ND IN B.C. JUDGING

"High Rigger" big black jumper owned by Tony Tozer of Kelowna, placed second in the "B.C. Horse of the Year" show at Richmond over the weekend, runner-up to "Sky Bingo," a Victoria horse.

In the provincial open jumping class, High Rigger placed fourth.

DEVIDED STATE

The old province of Bengal in India since 1947 now is divided into West Bengal, in India, and East Bengal, in Pakistan.

1,400 Pints Blood Wanted In Vernon

VERNON — When the Red Cross mobile blood donor clinic is in Vernon Nov. 18-20 Chairman J. B. Livingstone and his committee will be after a target of 1,400 pints. An organizational meeting will be held shortly.

Tentative plans call for a parade to open the three-day drive. At the spring clinic, Vernon placed second in a valley-wide competition with 1,304 pints.

2 Guys With One Thought, Be 'Firstest With Mostest'

By GEORGE INGLIS (Courtier Sports Editor)

Two minds with but a single thought, that's coaches Hal Laycoe and Jack O'Reilly these days.

They both have pressure on during this training camp, but it's nothing that can't be relieved by a few early-season breaks.

"Prince Hal" retained the sport in the Royal City, at a time when it looked like the New Westminster Royals of the Western Hockey League were about to become a thing of the past.

"Smiling Jack" is confronted with the problem of icing a club the equal of last year's with a bit of improvements in some departments.

The similarity? Both men have a mission in mind, the task of racking up some early wins, the job of eliciting more fan support than in the past, and the necessity of doing everything now.

Laycoe's task, in as far as the player situation is concerned, is partially solved right now, he feels. His organization looks better than it ever has in his three years of office.

O'Reilly's task, on the appearance of the players in camp right now, is far from easy, and can only be solved by new entries to camp.

THE VALUE OF EXHIBITION GAMES is one that has been kicked around for years, but like a number of topics, this value is relative, and can only be assessed in individual cases.

There are many years when the coach has a pretty well-set club, and exhibition games can be an irksome break in the job of working on a physical fitness program, with the unpleasant possibility of a pre-season injury as the only compensation.

This will be the first chance fans from both New Westminster and Kelowna will have to take a peek at what their clubs really have to offer this year.

COACH O'REILLY HAS AN ADDITIONAL PROBLEM, and he is going to attempt to solve it in his usual forthright manner.

Just three weeks after he starts in the season, slightly more than three weeks from today, he is going to take his club overseas, for a series of exhibition matches in Sweden and Russia.

What Canada will be asking of coach Jack O'Reilly is an effort they can hail with pride, no matter what arena, country or climate it occurs in.

This is one of the large reasons for the exhibition swing the Packers will take through the foothills and the Kootenays next week.

Without any of the distractions naturally found in the home arena, he wants to see what his boys can do on strange ice, meeting strange competition.

SEASON TICKET SALES OPENED THIS MORNING in the arena's north ticket window, and will continue all of this week.

However, there are a lot more new faces needed this year, and to those newcomers who have had their hockey senses titillated by the pre-season chatter, we would like to direct these few words:

THIS LEAGUE, WITH ONE WORLD CHAMPION, TWO ALLAN CUP WINNERS, FIVE PATTON CUP WINNERS (WESTERN CANADA TROPHY) AND SEVEN SAVAGE CUP HOLDERS (PROVINCIAL SENIOR CROWN) in eight short years of full operation as a four-team, senior "A" league, represents the most balanced brand of senior "A" hockey to be found in Canada today.

ITEM: FOR THOSE FORMER SEASON TICKET HOLDERS WHO EXPRESSED CONCERN, your tickets will be held until a deadline yet to be established, but will give you adequate time to make your purchases, unless you have been contacted by phone, and indicated your desire to give up the tickets.

MAON'S TD DRIVE RULES Ti-Cats Still Unbeaten

A 95-yard touchdown run by five forward passes into the Eddie Macon preserved Hamilton Tiger-Cats' unbeaten Big Four football record Saturday after an inspired Montreal Alouette comeback drive had 20,000 fans agog.

MAON grabbed an Alouette kickoff in the fourth quarter and ran all the way to close the scoring with a 35-29 edge for Ti-cats.

For a while it looked as though Montreal was about to score the upset of the season. The injury-riddled Alouettes, trailing 28-13 at the half, staged a 16-point rally in the third quarter on the stout arm of quarterback Sam Etcheberry and had Hamilton down 29-23 with 15 minutes left.

In other Big Four action Saturday, two quarterbacks of the last-place Toronto Argonauts threw single win in seven games.

Spahn, Ford To Start; Same As Last Series

MILWAUKEE (AP) — Milwaukee's Warren Spahn and New York's Whitey Ford, the same pair who pitched last October's opener, will face each other in the first game of the 1958 world series here Wednesday.

The selection of the star southpaw to open the post season proceedings was taken a few days before the official announcements, scheduled to be made some time today.

Spahn, 22-11 during the regular season, warmed up for his important assignment with a six-inning chore against Cincinnati Red Legs Saturday, in which he permitted only one run.

Spahn also turned in an impressive performance for his lead-off role with a one hit, six-inning performance against Baltimore Orioles Friday.

O's Grab Opener Of Spicy Final

The Kelowna Orioles were strictly from Hollywood yesterday.

Facing the Okonots in the first game of the OMBL finals, they thrilled the 1,200 Kamloops fans with an unexpected homer and a last-ditch double play, to wrap up the first of the best-of-three series, 7-5.

The two-run home by veteran coach Hank Tostenzon was the eventual span between the two ball clubs.

Coach Tostenzon pulled pitcher Jack Denbow out in favor of Les Schaefer, and the tense situation evaporated several minutes later on a game-winning double play that gave the O's the vital contest.

The second game of the series will be played in Elks Stadium on Sunday.

Jack Fowles' one-run homer in the seventh and Buck Buchanan's two-run effort in the ninth helped pave the way for the final-inning rally that almost proved disastrous, but Denbow sprinkled the 13 hits he gave up liberally enough to take the sting out of them.

Playing-coach Len Gatin, the Okies' mound stalwart, came back to the line-up after being sidelined with a separated shoulder, and gave up one less hit than Denbow, but the O's made them pay off better.

The O's took the lead on the scoreboard in the third when Hromi Ito walked, and Bob Campbell drove him in, then scored on a pass ball himself, with some agile base scampering.

It was on again in the fourth, when Tostenzon clouted out his big homer. Tostenzon, 32-year-old peer of Kelowna baseball, was filling in at first base, and is usually noted for his skillful placement hitting, rather than the home run ball.

In the seventh, Frank Fritz singled, moved around on an error and was driven in by catcher John Fleet.

Bill Martino, fleet centre fielder, was outstanding at the plate and in the long grass of centre field.

Wet Summer Upsets U.K. Polio Plan

LONDON (AP) — A cold, rainy summer—the worst in years—has upset hopes of the health ministry to prove that polio can be curbed by vaccination.

For the first 36 weeks of 1958 Britain had only 1,352 cases against 4,197 last year. Doctors are not agreed whether the drop was due to the vaccination of some 6,000,000 children, about half the population 15 or under, or to the cool weather.

Doubters point out that there were only 1,214 cases in 1948, when the summer also was unseasonably cool. They feel that cool weather certainly causes a natural reduction in the incidence of the disease, perhaps by reducing the number of such possible carriers as flies.

"At this stage doctors in general simply refuse to commit themselves," a health ministry official said.

Also attributed by many doctors to the wet summer with its low temperatures are declines in the number of cases of measles, whooping cough, scarlet fever, and Asian flu. The exact connection is not yet clear.

So far 5,628,539 British children have received the standard two polio shots, either of the Salk vaccine or a British type.

THE OWNERS of this contemporary home have made their living room come alive with controlled daylight. Soft natural daylight from prefabricated Toplite panel in the ceiling bathes this living room in even, over-all illumination, coaxing the true tones from colors used in the walls, furniture, and fixtures. Solar-selecting feature of Toplite — by which high-angle sun rays are rejected — keeps room cooler in summer.

Daylight Living Room Promotes Color Harmony Of Furnishings

A principal objective in daylighting the 19' x 16' living room was to provide even, glareless illumination which would eliminate sharp brightness ratios and cancel constant high color contrasts. The abrupt physical adjustment which a person makes unconsciously, but constantly, between bright and shaded areas in homes today not only puts a strain on his eyes, but may have a mental side effect producing tension.

"Looking at a 'brightness' area is like driving toward automobile headlights," explains a researcher. "Face them in a dark room and their glare is blinding. Meet the same headlights in broad daylight and you may have to look twice to be sure they are on. It's the brightness ratio that makes the difference."

ACCENTS COLOR EFFECT

Constant color disharmony is caused by improper lighting which robs colors of their true tones and leaves them in clashing contrast to each other. Diffused daylight, brought into the room through a Toplite skylighting unit, picks up and accents the effect the owner has striven for with colors — a touch which escapes the eye in a room over-bright or too dark.

With proper lighting the colors of the furniture, the finish of the copper chimney and the natural grains of the various woods in the living room are brought to their full rich tones, blending in to complete harmony and achieving an effect that is pleasing to the eye.

Visitors in this home often remark on the "restful atmosphere" of the room. What they are really experiencing, without realizing it, is the effect of proper illumination and the advantage of an absence of glare.

NEW TYPE PANEL

The additional daylight for this living room is supplied by a new type of 2 x 2 Toplite panel in the ceiling, which uses concrete to bind together the functional glass daylighting units. This pre-fabricated panel consists of an aluminum frame into which are set scientifically designed prismatic glass units. The use of the new concrete grid means an increase in the amount of light transmitted and a reduction in its cost.

Toplite "selects" only the most desirable rays of sunlight the year 'round. It admits sunlight when the sun is low in the sky during the late fall, winter, and early spring, and rejects color heat during severe summer sun conditions. Thus, during summer months, hot sunlight is turned away while cool north light is always let in. At the same time, its insulation qualities make it easier to heat the room during the winter.

OPEN LIVING

Transmitting the natural light of the sun, Toplite also diffuses the sun's rays, thus providing a controlled system which eliminates glare and provides optimum daylight distribution.

Bringing controlled daylight through the roof is a plus feature that places the accent on "open living."

Toplite is being used in all rooms of modern homes — especially in the family room, interior bathroom, study and den,

FIRST AID TO AILING HOUSE

By ROGER C. WHITMAN

RUST-STAINED SINK

QUESTION: How can I remove rust for a white enamel sink? I left a pan in the sink overnight and the next morning there was rust under it.

ANSWER: Many housewares and hardware stores now sell rust-removing preparations which are quite effective. Or try the following treatment: saturate a piece of cloth with peroxide; sprinkle it liberally with cream of tartar and a scratchless scouring powder. When the powder is well dampened, rub the stain and allow the paste to remain for about a half hour; then rinse thoroughly with clear water.

HOT WATER COIL

QUESTION: I have trouble with hot water heating coil. It gets clogged regularly, because the well water contains lime.

ANSWER: Try boiling the coil in a solution of vinegar, using about a cupful in each gallon of water. After ten minutes or so, remove from the fire and allow the coil to stand in the solution overnight. Rinse thoroughly and allow to dry; then try tapping it with a wooden mallet. This may help loosen the scale, which you could then force through with a piece of wire. Have you considered installing a water-softening unit? That would solve all subsequent problems, save maintenance expense, too. For literature, write Plumbing-Heating-Cooling Information Bureau, Chicago, Ill.

INSTALLING WALL BED

QUESTION: I am interested in pamphlets about the installation of a well-concealed bed. Where can I obtain this?

ANSWER: Consult your classical telephone directory under "Beds — Concealed" for the names of dealers. They usually have manufacturer's instruction booklets available, giving complete instructions.

PAINTING STUCCO HOUSE

QUESTION: Want information about painting a stucco house. The only time it was painted was with water paint which is flaking off.

ANSWER: Old paint should be cleaned off. The easiest way would be to have it sandblasted off. Any other method such as using paint remover on an entire house would take much too long. When you repaint, I suggest using a cement base paint made for the purpose.

LINOLEUM CARE

QUESTION: I am having trouble with my linoleum kitchen floor. When it is waxed, it does not have a sheen; adding a second or third coat of wax does not help. The floor gets a coat of paste wax about twice a year. What do you recommend as the best way to take care of linoleum floors?

ANSWER: Probably the coating of wax over the linoleum is too thick. A thin coat of paste wax, well buffed, gives a brighter result than a heavy layer. Remove present wax with one of the prepared wax removers now available at most housewares and hardware stores; follow label directions carefully. In cleaning linoleum, avoid using scouring powders or harsh, caustic soaps; never flood the surface with water. Use cloths damp with mild soapsuds or detergent, or a linseed-oil soap made especially for this purpose. Wipe up with damp cloths or sponge and immediate drying.

OIL-SOAKED PICNIC TABLE

QUESTION: Someone soaked the top of our redwood picnic table with oil. Now it looks dark and dirty. How can we get it back to its original color?

ANSWER: Cover the table top with a layer of dry portland cement, fuller's earth whitening, or a similar absorbing powder. As the powder becomes saturated

FLAT ROOF MAKES THIS HOUSE DIFFERENT

This is a three bedroom home, with a flat roof and verandah running around two sides. Ideal for a side hill building, it features a large kitchen and dining room, with living room all on the front facing either the street or the view depending on your lot. There is a full basement with plenty of room for an activities room and also furnace room. Drawn for N.H.A. approval, working drawings are available from the Building Centre (B.C.) Ltd. 116 E. Broadway, Vancouver 10.

Plywood Kitchen Cupboards Make Meals Easier

The consensus of opinion is that breakfast is the most important meal of the day.

Everyone agrees. Yet, as in the case of the weather, nobody does anything about it.

It remains a time of hurried dressing, small hastily consumed portions of food, and gulped beverages. And, all too frequently, strained relations.

Obviously, the simple answer is to get up earlier in the morning—but let's face it, we all have a touch of the slug-a-bed about us.

So the next best thing to it to simplify morning procedures to the point where it is so effortless you can't help but be cheerful.

The young lady in the picture above is demonstrating one method for your consideration. Before retiring she set the counter top with a gleaming toaster, glasses for juice, cups for coffee, and a shiny coffee pot all ready for use.

As soon as she enters the kitchen in the morning, she turns on the oven. Plates slightly warmed for toast or eggs start the day off better, somehow. Her fruit juice is in the frig in an attractive container, ready to pour.

Now take note of the cabinet she is opening. It's a lazy susan variety, near the serving bar, and equipped with all the things she needs right there at hand . . . her packaged cereals for breakfast, her sandwich toaster for lunch. No need to rush about rounding up breakfast ingredients. The cabinet opens at a touch, swings around to almost hand the articles out.

It may not be easy to serve a leisurely breakfast, but by golly

DO IT YOURSELF PAINTING TIPS

REFINISHING FLOORS

Wax is one of the greatest problems in refinishing an old floor.

All old wax must be removed or the finish will not dry.

Washing or scouring is not good enough.

The wax must be dissolved before it can be effectively removed.

Tri-Sodium Phosphate and hot water will make a solution that will dissolve wax — 1 lb. to 3 gals. of hot water. Use a scrub brush and rinse with clear hot water to finish.

A second cleaning should be made with solvent using lots of clean rags in order to lift up and not smear any wax remaining.

All these materials are available at

McKenzie-Valley Rites Solemnized

A graceful arrangement of pink carnations on the altar lent an added touch of beauty to an afternoon ceremony conducted at the Church of the Immaculate Conception this month.

Msgr. W. B. McKenzie officiated at the marriage rites uniting Mary Jean Dolores, youngest daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. O. Valley, and John Thomas, young son of Mr. and Mrs. Charles McKenzie, all of Okanagan Mission.

Mr. Valley gave his daughter in marriage. Her white bridal gown of Chantilly lace and net, bouffant over hoops was in ballerina length. Fashioned with softly revered high neckline and lily-point sleeves, the lace bodice extended diagonally to the hip-line of the skirt. Tiny seed pearls ornamented her dainty chaplet in lily-point motif, which secured the delicately embroidered-edged chapel veil.

Red sweetheart roses formed the cascading bridal bouquet, and she wore a double strand pearl choker.

Maid of honor Miss Elaine Cone of Vancouver wore pale pink shot taffeta in ballerina length, with pink accessories, and Miss Joyce Neville of Vancouver was in coral accessorized with white. Both wore short veils entwined with their gowns, secured by small white crowns. They carried white carnation nosegays.

Mr. Ronald McKenzie was best man for his brother, and ushering the guests were Mr. Ted Burnell and a cousin of the bride, Mr. John Derker. Organist was Mrs. E. E. Lansdowne.

A bridal supper for 40 guests was held at Tingling's restaurant, where Mr. Derker proposed toasts to which the best man and the groom's brother responded. Centering the bride's table was a three-tiered cake topped with a traditional miniature bride and groom. Pink roses in lily-pad flower dishes and long-stemmed red roses attractively placed completed the arrangements.

For her daughter's wedding Mrs. Valley chose a gown of silk crepe in mushroom tone accented by a hat of coral velour and dark brown accessories. A two-piece ensemble of rust brown was the choice of the groom's mother, with which she wore a hat of natural straw and dark brown accessories. Their corsages were Talisman roses.

A change to a suit of electric blue in fine wool with matching cloche, was made by the bride before leaving on a two week wedding trip, motoring to southern points. Other accessories were in natural tones, and she wore a rose corsage. Upon their return the young couple will reside in Kelowna.

Among the wedding guests were an aunt, Miss Lumena Valley, and a cousin of the bride, Mr. Fred Bourret of Port Arthur, Ont.

Film Festival Will Be Held At Kelowna Soon

The film world comes to Kelowna through the Kelowna Film Festival. Twenty-five films from the many entries submitted will be shown during the three evenings, October 7, 8, and 9, at the Empress Theatre.

Entries have come in from the United States, Great Britain, Norway, Japan, Finland, Australia and New Zealand, and from many of the Canadian provinces. These films portray every facet of contemporary life: science, art, travel, education, agriculture, natural resources and welfare.

The names of the judges who will decide which entries merit the awards, which are unique plaques, will be announced shortly, and a Film Festival schedule will be printed for the convenience of the public.

Get-Acquainted Teas Continue During This Week

"Get-Acquainted" teas with a back-to-school theme will be held at Raymer Avenue School commencing at 2:30 p.m. and at Glenn Avenue School at 3:00 p.m. Wednesday, October 1, also at Gordon Road School on Friday, October 3 at 3:00 p.m.

All mothers and fathers with children attending these schools are invited to visit their child's classroom, sit at his desk, and be "taught" by his teacher. The "lesson" will consist of a display of the textbooks used, plus an outline of the subjects studied in that particular grade.

Cookies and tea or apple juice will be served and the parents introduced to PTA president Mrs. H. W. Chapin and honorary president Mr. G. C. Bissell.

Despite a downpour of rain on Wednesday afternoon, September 24, many stout-hearted parents turned out to the "Get-Acquainted" teas held at DeHart Primary, Martin Avenue, and Graham Avenue schools.

The Kelowna Elementary Parent-Teacher Association needs the moral and oral support of every mother and father who has a child attending elementary school in Kelowna. IT IS YOUR PTA, PLEASE JOIN TODAY.

Moral Fibre Grows From Tough Start

By GARRY CLEVELAND MYERS, Ph.D.

How often have you heard a parent say, "I don't want my child to have as hard a life as I had?"

Would this parent be what he is or where he is, if he had not had to struggle as he did? It's unfortunate that his child won't have to struggle as hard; that the parents are so able and willing to shield him from hard work and that he won't face the normal spurts to effort that his parents had.

PRESSURE ON SCHOOL
This yearning on the part of parents to find easy ways for their children has brought pressure on the school to shield them from learning or doing anything that seems difficult.

When the doctrine of interest, developed by Rousseau and nurtured by Dewey, came along, parents gobbled it up like a turkey gobbling up a grasshopper.

There's nothing wrong with making interesting what the child should learn or do. When it is interesting, he will naturally use effort. But the theory overlooks the hard practical fact that effort is often necessary too, to create interest and keep it going.

The child who chooses to do only what is interesting to him at the moment just won't do a lot of things at all. Parents and teachers don't have the time or skill to make interesting everything he should learn and do.

Because they are growing up in ease and excessive luxury, many youths are soft in physical agility and endurance, soft in physical and mental effort. Always looking for the easy way, they even elect the softest courses they can find in high school.

Parents and teachers are kept so busy trying to make everything the child is supposed to learn and do interesting, that they don't have time and energy left to require him to do things he would rather not do.

TYRANT AND SLAVES
Think of the effort parents expend making home chores interesting and how seldom they effectively require the doing of these chores! As a result, the average child grows up at home an idle tyrant or parasite and his parents are his cowering slaves.

Let's stop trying to make life easier for our children than it was for us. Let's require them to exercise some responsibility, to win rewards from hard work along with rewards from inquiring, reasoning and thinking for themselves.

ANSWERING PARENTS' QUESTIONS
Q. Our daughter, 6, has been weaning the bed.
A. Have her checked by your physician. Prove to her she need have no fear of a scolding for this problem. Take her up often enough at night to keep her dry, gradually lengthening the intervals.

MARY HAWORTH'S MAIL

Wife Is Justified In Attitude To Malevolent Mother-in-Law

DEAR MARY HAWORTH: We invited my husband's parents for dinner and a visit. Everything went along fine for a while. Then my mother-in-law and I got involved in an argument which became heated, to the extent that she called me an ugly name and said she would like to slap my face.

She also said that my husband was her son; that she had "suffered" to bring him into the world, and she should be first in his life. I agreed that she was his mother; but remarked also that I am his wife; and that after a man marries, his wife should be first in his life, according to my belief.

My husband told me to shut my mouth and keep quiet. His mother left in anger; and told me not to consider myself her daughter-in-law, as she never intended to visit me again. She told my husband to visit her any time, that he would always be welcome.

Because of this incident, our house is upset and my husband doesn't speak to me. I feel that his mother owes me an apology for the vile epithet. Also, wasn't my husband wrong for not defending me? And should he visit her when she feels so antagonistic towards me?—D.B.

MOTHER-IN-LAW SOUNDS HORRID
DEAR D.B.: Your mother-in-law sounds like a very horrid person, in several counts.

1. There is nothing more offensive to good taste, common sense and fair play, than a mother's spilling about the suffering involved in producing a child—especially when the spuel is aimed at children long since grown as a sort of gun at their head, designed to keep them captive to her selfishness. Your mother-in-law is guilty of this type of emotional malevolence.

2. There is a revolting amount of savage jealousy and dirty fighting evident in her tricky divide-and-rule handling of the nasty scene at table.

First she turns into you with barred claws, calling you a vile name, offering to slap your face—attacks that indicate chronic, compulsive, competitive hatred of you; and are aimed to rob you of dignity, attractiveness and respect in your husband's eyes.

HER EXIT LINE IS MALEVOLENT
Then with cunning reflex she instantly gets between you and him, ringing in her birth-pain claims, to choke off any decent impulse he might have had, to rally to your defense. And, with this same manoeuvre, she also starts a smouldering quarrel between you and him—when he, poor boob, grows at you to shut up; and thereafter sinks into guilty sulking, because he knows he let you down shamefully, due to his Mom's-boy confusion and cowardice.

3. Her exit-line, wherein she washes her hands of you, disavowing you as a daughter-in-law, while opening her arms to your husband "any time," is a kind of mop-up performance, in female warfare. She departed your premises fully satisfied that she had made mince-meat of you, once and for all—as a quondam threat to her possession of her "boy."

As of now, your marriage is in very bad shape. And the person who can do most to restore it to health is your husband—if he will; if he he knows he let you down, he should be the one to make up to you, and to apologize for the destructive malice she unleashed.

So, to sum up—the ill-mannered matron owes you an apology; your husband was wrong in condoning her rudeness; and he should make no visits to her, until she has humiliated and/or repented you.—M.H.

Mary Haworth counsels through her column, not by mail or personal interview. Write her in care of The Daily Courier.

New Decorative Ideas Appear In Latest Model Room Display

By ELEANOR ROSS

Flowers, appropriately enough set the theme for a smart new spring model room. Floral motifs are everywhere, on fabrics, rugs, wallpapers.

Window treatments use florals in a big way.

For example, garlands of flowers are used as a swing to represent the room colors. In another case, floral-patterned fabric used on draperies for two windows on the same wall, also covers the area between the windows to unite them. This is a nice change from the ubiquitous wall-to-wall drapery idea.

MORE LEEWAY
When furniture is very simple, there is more leeway for decorating.

For instance, in the display, one room was cleverly furnished as a Victorian sitting room. Authentic century-old furniture of the dark, sometimes even gloomy, Victorian type, was lightened by the use of sharp, vibrant color. It is in this room, with its full-length monotone window draperies, that the flowered swags are used. These, topping the velvet draperies, together with full-length lace curtains, give the right touch, as do the pinks, oranges and golds of the color scheme.

The round table, with its floor-length fringed cloth, is drawn cozily before the fireplace in true Victorian fashion.

PRACTICAL SETTINGS
Another store makes the most of simple, practical settings.

The furniture used is moderately priced, the synthetic carpeting is as practical as can be, and the layouts are sensible. But each room is planned around one

Lady Reeve Of Long Branch Sets Pace In Development

By EDNA USHER Canadian Press Staff Writer

TORONTO (CP)—A housewife's work on the family budget is just the training needed for handling a community's finances, says Mrs. Marie Curtis, housewife-reeve of the lakeshore community of Long Branch.

In the last five years, she says, she has evolved some economical budgeting changes for the community of 10,000 persons, which has village status but is part of Metropolitan Toronto.

A three-year road construction and storm-sewer program now is complete. It cost the community $1,247,000.

"But it saved us $1,000,000, too," said Mrs. Curtis, whose blue-grey eyes glistened like those of a housekeeper who has found a real bargain in sheets.

"We bought graders and other equipment and rented them to ourselves. We shall sell them for cash. And we provided 15 local men with work."

Long Branch, just west of the city of Toronto, is reclaiming swampy land on the shore of Lake Ontario by charging $2 a load to garbage dumpers.

"We've made $110,000 so far on the deal, and when the land level has been raised 15 feet by the dumping we shall have a 35-acre park," she said.

"That part of the park which is already opened is named after her."

PLANNING AHEAD
Mrs. Curtis has a long-term plan for Long Branch.

"With the park and our stretch of lake shore we can be a tourist resort—Long Branch used to be the Coney Island of Canada—and we can be a commuter centre for Toronto," she said.

"The important thing is that we must not be swallowed by Toronto. We can contribute to, and benefit from, old folks' homes which we could not afford to build for ourselves. But voters lose control of council in a big ontly."

Reeve Curtis, who has been a figure in many debates in the Metropolitan Toronto council, says women can't be cry-babies in municipal life.

"If men resent you on council and speak harshly to you, it's no good bursting into tears. I've felt like it sometimes, but if I believe something is right I get up and say so just the same."

She entered politics because of her children. When she first went to Long Branch from the city of Toronto 23 years ago, it had only about 2,000 inhabitants. There was no kindergarten for her children, Joan and Bill, now 18 and 15 years old respectively.

"I asked the school board for a kindergarten and they said 'no,' so 100 of us mothers got together and attended a school board meeting. We got our kindergarten."

She became president of the Long Branch home and school association and again crossed swords with the school board, campaigning for more pay for teachers. "They were poorly paid then; now maybe the pendulum has swung the other way," said Mrs. Curtis.

She was elected deputy reeve in 1950, and in 1953 became reeve. She is president of the Association of Ontario Mayors and Reeves, an executive member of the Metropolitan Toronto council.

Dangling Toys Not Advocated As Beneficial To Baby's Eyes

WINNIPEG (CP)—A United States visual training expert warns parents not to hang toys directly over a baby's crib.

Dr. Leo Manas, head of visual training at the Illinois College of Optometry, told a public meeting here that "the percentage of cases of eyes 'turning in' is much greater now than it was 20 years ago—and I'm convinced it's partly because of these toys."

If one of a child's eyes turns in, Dr. Manas said, parents should always hand him objects from the side. If the eyes turn out, toys or other objects should be directed straight to the child.

READING TUITION
Dr. Manas made his remarks during an address on teaching children to read.

"The main thing is to get Johnny to read," he said. And this depends on the child's basic visual skills, along with such things as balance and co-ordination.

"A chimpanzee has 20-20 vision but he can't read. Man is the only animal who can manipulate symbols."

To test a child's visual skills, Dr. Manas said, teachers could use a series of simple tests, the results of which have shown a high correlation to school achievement.

PENCIL TEST
For instance, he said, the teacher might hold up red and blue pencils, one in each hand, and tell the child to look alternately from one to the other. The child's eyes might move smoothly from one to the other, or fall short of the mark, or go beyond.

Dr. Manas said this would indicate how the child's eyes would travel when he is reading.

To further develop visual skills, he said, children should be encouraged to reproduce basic designs, such as circles, rectangles and crosses. A chalk-board would be better than pencil and paper because the child could form a better visual image on the larger area.

If matches always escape you, try taping them to your package of cigarettes. Run the tape inside the back cover of the matches, then around the cigarette package.

No. 7 In a series on tobacco research

The International Cancer Congress and Cigarette Smoking

Earlier this year, in London, England, 2,000 scientists from 63 countries attending the 7th International Cancer Congress — an event held every four years — were given the latest data on cancer and smoking by the world's foremost cancer experts. Rothmans Research scientists were also there and have examined the papers submitted along with their own findings.

THE CANADIAN PRESS and smokers from coast to coast have shown widespread interest and a desire for more information on this important subject. The following report is a brief summary of the facts as they stand at this moment:-

1. Rothmans Research Division accepts the statistical evidence linking lung cancer with heavy smoking. This is done as a precautionary measure in the interest of smokers.

2. The exact biological relationship between smoking and cancer in mankind is still not known and a direct link has not been proved.

3. In research laboratory work, inhalation studies on animals have been largely negative. However, the application of tobacco tar on the skin of certain animals has produced cancer and therefore indicates that tobacco smoke condensate contains carcinogenic substances which are at least active to those animals.

4. The suspected chemicals in tobacco smoke that have produced cancer in animals have been identified. In fractionation studies, the majority of the active carcinogenic agents were located in the fraction which is eluted with carbon tetrachloride from the neutral tar. This fraction represents only 1.7% of total tobacco tar and, when applied in the heavy concentration of 10%, produced 100% cancer on animal skin.

5. Further studies were then conducted to determine whether there was a threshold level at which total tobacco tar would not produce cancer on animal skin. It was discovered that there was a dose level at which the development of animal cancer was so small, and the latent period before the formation of tumours so long, that for all material purposes it represented a threshold level. This minimum level is about one-third the optimum level.

6. Transposing this data to cigarette smoking, an increasing section of scientific opinion believes that if the tar intake from a single cigarette were reduced to the range of 18 to 20 milligrams (mgs.), there would be a significant reduction in the possible risk of lung cancer. Most of the world's cigarettes today yield in the vicinity of 30 mgs. and there are many which exceed 40 mgs.

N.B. The control at 18-20 mgs. of the tar intake from a single Rothmans King Size cigarette is achieved as follows:-

- (i) the use of tobaccos of lower tar content,
- (ii) the fitting of an effective filter which reduces further, and in correct proportion, the amount of tar entering the mouth and lungs, and
- (iii) the stubbing out of the butt of a cigarette equivalent to about one-third of its total length (for which purpose the extra length of Rothmans King Size is provided).

The balance between satisfaction, filtration and ease of draw is constantly checked by scientific instruments,

7. There are no scientific grounds to justify the reduction of tar in a single cigarette to less than 18-20 mgs., except in the case of very heavy smokers of more than 2 packs (40 cigarettes) a day.

N.B. To such smokers Rothmans advocates moderation.

Reducing the tars in cigarettes to the level of 18-20 mgs. does not affect the pleasure of smoking. Indeed, once people have smoked such cigarettes, they find satisfaction and enjoyment in the cleaner smoke. Below 18-20 mgs., tobacco begins markedly to lose its taste and aroma, and there would be less and less satisfaction as the readings drop.

8. Unburned tobacco contains no cancer forming agents. They are formed only during combustion. Any plant material sets free cancer forming agents when burned at a high temperature. (If lettuce were smoked, the result would be the same.)

From about the middle of a cigarette length to the butt, the temperature reaches 880°C. ( $\pm 30^\circ\text{C}$ ). When this temperature is reduced below 700°C., the biological activity on the skin of animals is reduced to almost nil.

As a further precautionary measure, research projects on this problem include the search for a chemical to make tobacco burn at a lower temperature.

N.B. The present straight virginia manufacturing process as used by Rothmans employs no chemicals whatsoever. Nor would any chemicals be used unless a direct biological link (as distinct from a statistical link) makes it necessary to treat tobacco with such a catalyst.

9. Some statistical studies indicate a higher mortality rate from lung cancer among cigarette smokers than among smokers of cigars and pipes. However, in laboratory experiments, the carcinogenic activity from cigar and pipe smoke was found to be greater than in cigarette smoke, because, burning at a high temperature for a longer time, combustion is more complete in cigars and in pipes.

10. The tobacco-cancer problem is difficult and nebulous. It has brought forth many conflicting theories and evidences. But great knowledge and a better understanding have been gained through research. The controversy is a matter of public interest. The tar contents of the world's leading brands of cigarettes are today under the scrutiny of medical and independent research.

A list of cigarettes, some of which have achieved significant tar reductions of up to 40% in the past year, was tabled at the International Cancer Congress by an eminent cancer expert.

N.B. The performance of Canadian made Rothmans King-Size cigarettes (as previously certified by independent research) showed that:-

Rothmans King Size Filter yields from 14.4% to 38.7% less tars than the four other best selling Filter brands in Canada.

Rothmans King Size Untipped yields from 26.5% to 34.0% less tars than the three best known plain end brands in Canada.

ROTHMANS Research Division welcomes this opportunity to reiterate its pledge:-

- (1) to continue its policy of all-out research,
- (2) to impart vital information as soon as available, and
- (3) to give smokers of Rothmans cigarettes improvements as soon as they are developed.

In conclusion, as with all the good things of modern living, Rothmans believes that with moderation smoking can remain one of life's simple and safe pleasures.

Gregory Calls For Reduction MLA's Salaries
VICTORIA (CP) - Victoria Liberal MLA George Gregory has called for a cut-back in ministers' and MLAs' salaries to the 1956 level in preference to reducing government spending on public services.
His suggestion came on the heels of a report that Premier Bennett has told most provincial government departments to slash their estimates by at least five per cent from 1958 levels in order that the direct provincial debt can be paid off by 1960.
"If these cuts have been ordered, it is a disgraceful situation," Mr. Gregory commented as a storm of opposition to Premier Bennett's reported economy cuts mounted throughout the province.
The orders to cut back are said to have followed several meetings of the B.C. treasury board in Premier Bennett's office.

Nanaimo's Huge Birthday Cake Must Be Tasty
NANAIMO (CP) - The remaining part of Nanaimo's huge Centennial cake will be taken from public view this week, George Molecey, Centennial committee chairman, said here.
Although it was planned to tear down the cake last week, it was left on view because of the Union of B.C. Municipalities convention here.
More than 60,000 pieces of the cake have been sold and more than 75,000 persons have viewed the 10,000-pound confectionery that took almost two years to plan, create and erect.
Mail order sales are continuing steadily, said Mr. Molecey. Orders were received today from Alaska and Quebec.
"I am confident the last crumb of cake will be sold and paid for by Christmas," he said. "In fact I am reserving 350 pounds of cake for Nanaimo people for Christmas sale.

RUSSIAN TAUGHT IN SCHOOLS

A demand for Russian language courses in high schools has been answered in Toronto for the first time. Helen Cox, who learned the language in Toronto university and continued her studies in Yugoslavia, has a class of 19 students chosen from a group of 50 applicants. Miss Cox taught Russian for the past two years to a group of Canadian scientists.

Feet Lift Tons Daily No Wonder They Hurt

By Herman N. Bundesen, M.D. Whether they are large or small in good or poor condition, your feet lift an average of about 442 tons each day. Is it any wonder then that some 60,000,000 American women have foot trouble? THREE MILES A DAY If you are an average person in good health, you walk about three miles a day. Many of us, I know, walk a good deal more than that, but this is the national average. If you are an average person, you weigh about 140 pounds, give or take a few. Your average step is about 30 inches and you have to lift those 140 pounds with each step you take. A foot aid manufacturer has done some rather involved figuring and has come up with the report that 30 inches (the length of each step) divided into three miles gives us a total of 6,336 steps per day. He goes on to multiply these steps by 140 pounds and arrives at the conclusion that each of your feet lifts 221 tons a day. EMPHASIZE THE POINT I certainly am not going to challenge him. Anyway, these statistics emphasize the point I'm trying to make. Although your feet are the most perfectly engineered part of your body, they get a good workout every day so, therefore, you must take good care of them. Cleanse them daily with soap and water. It might also be a good idea to massage them with a soothing food balm and to dust foot powder on feet, in stockings and shoes. Every time you remove your shoes, wriggle your toes and feet to exercise them. It will help you—and your feet—to relax. It will help strengthen foot muscles, too. Wear shoes that fit properly. Shoes that are too tight, too short or have heels that are too high can cause serious trouble. Your stocking shouldn't be too short either. DANGEROUS SURGERY Bathroom surgery, remember, is extremely dangerous. Don't cut a corn yourself. A slight slip of the razor blade could cause blood poisoning and maybe the loss of a foot, leg, or even a life. If you have corn trouble, or any type of foot ailment, consult your doctor or a chiropodist. Foot trouble not only produces aches and pains in your feet, but also headaches, nervousness, pains in the legs and back, stomach disorders, feelings of depression and lack of appetite. QUESTION AND ANSWER Q: Are chest pains always considered an indication of heart trouble? A: Although vague chest pains are often ruled out as unfounded symptoms for concern, a complete physical examination by your physician should be sought to determine the exact cause of such pains.

The bidding:
East South West North
1NT 2♥ 2♠ 3♠
Pass 3NT 5♦ 5♣
Pass Pass Dblc.

Opening lead—three of diamonds.

One of the most sensational hands to come out of the match for the world championship card this year between Italy and the United States was this one. Charles H. Goren writes it up in his latest book titled: Goren Presents the Italian Bridge System. This is the first work to appear in English which explains the Neapolitan Club system. Siniscalco's notrump bid showed a relatively weak opening bid, and identified a club suit. A one club opening, in the Italian system, would have indicated a much stronger hand. Forquet, in line with the Italian theory of bidding the stronger suit secondarily, overcalled Roth's two heart bid with two spades. Stone, with the best hand at the table, drove the hand to five hearts, which Forquet doubled. The bold double by Forquet was followed by the daring underlead of the ace of diamonds, the only lead which could defeat the contract. Siniscalco won the diamond and returned a club which Forquet ruffed. Eventually, another club trick was lost by Roth and he went down one. At the other table the bidding went:

East	South	West	North
1♠	1♦	1♠	2♣
Pass	1♥	1♠	2♣
Pass	4♥	Pass	5♣

After opening the ace of diamonds Sidoroff shifted to a spade. D'Alelio won in dummy and cashed two trumps and a spade. He next ruffed a spade, then a diamond, and then another spade. When he now led a club to dummy's eight, Crawford was endplayed. A club return would be into dummy's A-J, while a diamond return would permit the jack of clubs to be discarded as declarer ruffed. So the Italians made five hearts at one table while their teammates defeated five hearts doubled at the other table for a net gain of 550 points on the deal.

No Progress In Toronto Strike Talks

TORONTO (CP)—Talks were adjourned Friday night with no progress reported in the dispute that has throttled Toronto's construction industry. They are expected to resume next week. The Cement Masons' Union, whose 450 members struck last week, met Friday with representatives of the Toronto Builders' Exchange in the first day of talks called by Labor Minister Daley of Ontario. The strike and a lockout this week by the exchange's 90 contractor-members halted $100,000,000 in major projects and left 20,000 men idle. Basis of the dispute is the masons' demand for premium pay for shifts beginning at 1 p.m. instead of 2 p.m. Traditionally they report for work late in the day to apply finishing touches to the cement already poured.

Royals Will Drop Dorohoy

Ollie Dorohoy, veteran hockey player, will be the first puckster to be dropped from the New Westminster lineup. Dorohoy discontinued working out with the Royals this morning, manager-coach Hal Laycoe disclosed at noon today. At Dorohoy's own request, his release will be granted. "Dorohoy requested his outright release, and it will be granted," Laycoe said. "Waivers will be asked on him today." Dorohoy, 35, injured his knee last year, and didn't play the last half of the season.

VOODOO'S CAULDRON

By MARY-ANNA KIRSCHNER SENIOR COUNCIL MEETING

This term the council is going to be run in a political manner. The executive's names of president, secretary and treasurer will stay fixed due to the constitution. The representatives from each division, however, are now ministers who make up the cabinet. The following have been appointed from the executive body: Assistant secretary, Bill Chores; Beally; minister of athletics, Terry Smith; and deputy minister, Bernice Kyle; minister of social affairs, Carol Wostrowski; and deputy minister, Leona Donhauser; minister of service, Tats Nakahara; deputy minister, Janice Stubbs; minister of supplies, Dianne Spencer; deputy minister, John Holzman; minister of clubs, George Kyle; minister without portfolio, Sharon Wageman. Nominations for magistrate of the senior court were made by the council last Thursday and are now open to the school body to add more names to it. Voting will take place this coming Wednesday (Oct. 1). It has been decided that the council meetings will take place each Monday in Activity Period.

SPECIAL ASSEMBLY

A special assembly was called to order last Wednesday (Sept. 24). The purpose of this assembly was to give Mr. Campbell a chance to say hello and farewell to all the students, while he was down for the trustees' convention. Mr. Campbell brought with him, Mrs. Hunter, Mr. Berton, Mr. Stubby, Mr. Hunter, and Mr. Bose, who are all trustees from the Peace River Country. Mr. Bruce, the principal, welcomed the guests to our school. He also told them to be sure to take some of our fresh apples from the frozen Okanagan back to the Peace River Country. With this Mr. Campbell made a short speech upon which David Geen, president of the senior students' council replied. David presented Mr. Campbell with a desk set (including a chronometer and barometer) set off with two pens. Upon it was engraved: "Mr. D. H. Campbell. Presented by the Student Body of Rutland Junior Senior High School, 1958."

With this David said appropriately: "May it keep you on time, rain or shine." Before the assembly came to a close Mr. Campbell told a joke which I would like to repeat—but it's more-less has to be acted. (He hasn't changed a bit.) The assembly then came to a close with

WE CAN DREAM CAN'T WE???

Some of our grade 12 students are in a high fog again I hear. This is their future plan of school:

Wouldn't it be nice if school began at noon; we got out at 1:00 p.m. for lunch—we were awarded cars instead of grades—we had jets instead of school buses—chewing gum, talking, giggling and passing notes were required—Monday morning wasn't—skipping school was a course—and we had a staff like this: English—Rory Calhoun and Dolores Hart; science—Jane Russell and Rock Hudson; languages—Zsa Zsa Gabor and Ricky Arnaz; Chemistry—Boris Karloff and Sal Mineo; music—Elvis Presley; mathematics—Esther Williams and Marlon Brando; home economics—Liz Taylor and Debbie Reynolds; typing—Jerry Lewis and Dean Martin; industrial arts—Tab Hunter and Ricky Nelson; art—Tony Curtis and Janet Lee; social studies—Pat Boone and Tommy Sands; physical ed.—Marilyn Monroe and Burt Lancaster; band—Louis Armstrong. GET WELL SOON The students in RHS, especially the Emeralds, have asked me to wish Butch Powick a speedy recovery from his operation, and hopes he will be back with us soon. We miss our drummer Butch!

LORD'S DAY ALLIANCE

LIBRARY CLUB

Delectable odors came from the lunch room during second and third periods Thursday morning. Yes, you're right. Luscious hot dogs smothered with onions and mustard took our minds from our books to our stomachs. When the bell rang for lunch everyone was in the lunchroom like a flash. Librarian Mrs. Logie's only comment was: "Well next time we'll have to make more."

Well that rounds up all the news for this past week. In my next report I hope to have some sports news and scores.

YOUR HOROSCOPE

By ESTRELLITA

FOR TOMORROW

Resist any temptation to let down in your efforts now. Assume full control of your obligations and duties, carry on steadfastly, and you will net gains. There are many advantages indicated for those who are ambitious and enterprising.

FOR THE BIRTHDAY

If tomorrow is your birthday, your chart indicates that, while the next six weeks could be fine for financial matters, possible inclinations toward extravagance, or risky speculation in mid-November, could seriously unbalance your budget. In fact, it would be advisable to watch finances carefully during the next year. Caution will pay off.

December and January will be exceptionally good months for cultivating new friendships and social interests generally. Also, promote vital matters in mid-December, since the stars promise recognition for good work, and cooperation from those in a position to help you. The first three months of 1959 promise fine opportunities for business expansion; also for creative workers. Romance and travel will be favored between May and August. A child born on this day will be amiable and optimistic but will dislike drudgery of any kind.

Auckland Faces Possibility It Could Eventually be A Volcano

By J. C. GRAHAM
Canadian Press Correspondent
AUCKLAND (CP)—Auckland, New Zealand's largest city, has been presented with the alarming possibility that it could become a volcano.

It has always been known that Auckland was built on a volcanic site, but the many small volcanic cones that dot the city have been comfortably described as "extinct."

The area is, indeed, of great interest to scientists, for the complex of small volcanic cones is highly unusual.

On this isthmus are no fewer than 35 volcanic cones, the tallest a little more than 600 feet. Many are parks, open spaces, look-out points and the like; some are completely built over; others have been almost removed for road or railway ballast and survive only as remnants.

Scientists at one time believed that all these little volcanoes had been extinct for at least 5,000 years. The theory received a jolt, however, when scientists studied two islands in Auckland harbor. They found that one, a volcano, must have erupted within 200 or 300 years, for a layer of volcanic ash was discovered on the other island above signs of human habitation left by early Maori dwellers. They also found volcanic ash in the forks of growing trees which have a life of only a few hundred years.

Other indications that volcanic activity in the Auckland area is not entirely something of the distant past have been given in recent years. In one suburb a garage proprietor found a few years ago that the gasoline in his underground tanks had heated up without explanation.

Patches of warm earth were reported in several other districts and in one place a warm spring appeared that had never been noticed before.

Now R. W. Willett, director of the New Zealand geological survey, has officially advised the city authorities that there is no evidence that volcanic eruptions in the Auckland area have ceased and that further volcanic activity should be regarded as likely.

Willett suggests residents be told of likely symptoms so that warning signs be heeded promptly if they should occur. Since all the volcanoes in the Auckland area are small ones, an eruption would not necessarily devastate the entire city, and rapid action could save much life and property.

Giving an indication of the kind of eruption that could occur in the region, Willett says: "Assuming that some warning were available, necessary organization would probably involve evacuation of an area varying from half a square mile to one square mile. 'If an eruption without warning were of the explosive type, destruction in the crater and immediate surrounding area would be complete. Surrounding hills would be an area in which buildings may have collapsed from the weight of debris thrown on them. 'Quick rescue work would be required. Outside that again would be an area in which damage would be confined to distribution of damage.'

STORMS

weekend's furious onslaught of hurricane Helene.

Stung by the hurricanes of 1954-55, residents "gave us no arguments" when asked to evacuate, a civil defence spokesman said. There were scattered personal injuries but no loss of life.

Spinning in to the coast Saturday from the southeast Helene passed over most of South Carolina's lush resort area.

She smashed a 300-foot pier at Ocean Isle Beach, N.C., damaged most of the houses at Holden Beach and sent high water over the protective sand dunes at Long Beach, damaging roads. Helene saved her hardest blows for southport, tucked inside the elbow of Cape Fear, and for Wilmington, 30 miles to the north on the inland river. She never came inland, but stayed about 35 miles offshore, lashing the coast.

Capt. C. R. Williams of the state highway patrol estimated total damage in Southport at between $500,000 and $750,000. Wilmington, the state's biggest coastal city, suffered an estimated $1,000,000 damage, said the highway patrol. Most of this was to residences and businesses. Seven thousand telephones were reported out of service.

Most Icelandic People Go By Fathers' First Names

By EDDY GILMORE
REYKJAVIK, Iceland (AP)—Lost in the maw of history is the startling fact that an Irishman discovered Iceland.

The present natives don't even remember his name. But when the first Vikings hit these misty shores, they found a Paddy in port.

He was a hermit, and how he reached this off-beat, volcanic, lava-laden land of gorgeous sunsets, strong winds and fishy waters, nobody seems to know.

The theory is irresistible, however, that the original Irishman must be responsible for the always delightful, sometimes crazy, generally surrealistic behavior of a large number of the island's 165,000 inhabitants.

When people invite you to their home at 2 o'clock in the morning they expect you to come and enjoy yourself.

And when you apologize to your friend's wife for invading her house with the dawn, she looks puzzled and replies: "I don't think you understand. This is Iceland. You're welcome at any hour."

Then she floats into her super-modern kitchen—dish washers, clothes washers, electric driers and toasters are as common as cod in Iceland—and whips up a dream of a dish.

It's not fashioned from whale blubber, either.

Icelandic parties are puzzlers. One of the reasons is the unique system of peoples' names.

In the entire nation fewer than 100 families have family monikers. The rest of the people are

Immigrants Shun Short Work Week

CALGARY (CP)—Karl Meyer, 50-year-old head of the Jaguar Shoe Manufacturing Company, says "we would go broke in a month with an eight-hour day. We work from six o'clock in the morning until night."

The shoe factory was established recently by Mr. Meyer, an enterprising immigrant from Germany, and its workers are members of his family.

The plant has a production capacity of 30 pairs of shoes a day, but plans are being made to increase this to 100 pairs as soon as new machines can be added.

At present the family workers produce various styles of Oxford shoes. Other lines, and more employees, may come later.

While Mr. Meyer is the driving force behind the business, it was two of his three sons who first interested him in the idea of emigrating from Germany.

Albert, 28, and Herbert, 24, came to Calgary from Germany in 1955 and started to work with a packing company. They wrote enthusiastic letters home about life here.

Karl, his wife and 20-year-old son Heinz came here two years ago. The father worked in a construction business, boiling tar, while Heinz joined his brothers at the packing plant. Mrs. Meyer wanted to work too, but the men said she had plenty to do around the house.

They were determined from the start to open their own business, and when they had saved enough, they began the shoe plant.

Karl brought with him the technical know-how, having been in the trade in Germany since he was 14. His sons also had worked in the shoe business.

"We feel that we have much better prospects here," says Karl today, speaking of the future for his sons. "We like Germany. But we realized that we had no future there. No matter how hard we worked, it was impossible for us to start our own business."

Owner Harvey believes Butch is the only trained squirrel in the world. His favorite trick is untangling his owner when Harvey's hands are bound with twine. He's adept at picking pockets, too.

Vernon Honey Harvest Stays At Same Level

VERNON — While the 1958 Canadian honey crop is expected to fall short of last year's 32-million pound total, the honey crop in Vernon and district—which extends to Westwood—is about average at approximately 300,000 pounds, provincial apiarist John Corner said.

In British Columbia as a whole, this year's crop is about 1 1/2 million pounds, a drop of 15 per cent from last year's harvest. However, on the lower mainland bee keepers have enjoyed the best crop in years, Mr. Corner said.

On the whole, Vernon and district honey crop has been fairly good. Hot weather was favorable for pollination, Mr. Corner explained. He said there is a total of 150 apiaries in the Vernon district, which range from the small operator with two or three hives, up to the five large commercial apiaries; and for all, except the last named, bee keeping is a sideline.

There are now two 4-H Honey Bee Clubs—one in Vernon, (the first in Canada,) and one in Armstrong. Individual entries

New Drug For Treating Diabetes Looks Bright

NEW YORK (CP)—Chlorpropamide, an oral drug for treating diabetes, has received favorable evaluation from expert meeting here noted.

The assessment of chlorpropamide, known also by the trade name Diabinese, was made at a conference sponsored by the New York Academy of Sciences and Charles Pfizer and Company, the firm that developed the compound.

The drug was assessed as being at least as potent as any other substitute for insulin available. However, it was said to be limited in its effectiveness generally to adult diabetics whose insulin requirements usually are under 20 units daily.

Juvenile diabetics and patients requiring large daily intravenous injections of insulin are not usually helped by the oral drugs, it was noted.

Dr. Charles H. Best, director of the Best Institute in Toronto and co-discoverer of insulin in 1922 with the late Dr. Frederick G. Banting, summarized the advantages of Diabinese.

In an interview, he said he found that chlorpropamide stimulated some extra liberation of insulin, which is furnished by the pancreas. Insulin lowers the amount of sugar in the blood, which the body has failed to metabolize. The disease is characterized by the body's inability to assimilate carbohydrates and sugar.

Commenting on chlorpropamide's side effects in some patients, such as loss of appetite, vomiting and abdominal discomfort, he found these differed little from the known symptoms of other oral preparations. Ten to 15 years must elapse, he cautioned, before scientists will know "what these drugs do in terms of progress of the disease."

The conference heard a favorable clinical report on a group of 68 patients treated with chlorpropamide for periods up to eight months.

Dr. Samuel Sugar and associates of the George Washington division, district of Columbia General Hospital and Prince George's General Hospital, Chevy Chase, Md., said that of 28 diabetics controlled with insulin 19 did well on chlorpropamide alone.

WESTERN PIONEER
Born in England, Mr. Holmes went to Ontario in 1907 and to Moose Jaw, Sask. in 1909. He homesteaded 10 miles north of Herbert that year and farmed there until 1919 when he moved into town.

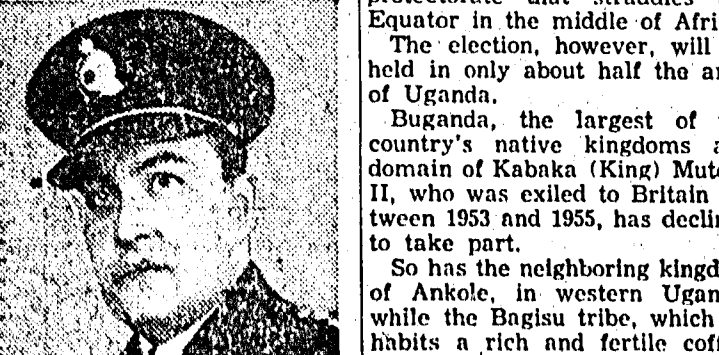

He operated a service station until 1935 and during the depression served as a relief officer. For six years he was a town councillor and then he became town clerk, a post he retired from in 1949.

Now with a family of three sons and three daughters all married, Mr. and Mrs. Holmes have their castle and estate to themselves.

The interior of the home, as well as the exterior, has a distinctive old country atmosphere. "It's heaven here," says Mr. Holmes. "We sure like it both winter and summer."

Police Chief Points Finger at "Protection" Racket

KAMPALA, Uganda (Reuters) Some 600,000 Africans are expected to vote in Uganda between Oct. 20 and 24 in the first direct election ever held for the legislative council of this British protectorate that straddles the Equator in the middle of Africa.

The election, however, will be held in only about half the area of Uganda.

Buganda, the largest of the country's native kingdoms and domain of Kabaka (King) Mutesa II, who was exiled to Britain between 1953 and 1955, has declined to take part.

So has the neighboring kingdom of Ankole, in western Uganda, while the Bagisu tribe, which inhabits a rich and fertile coffee-growing area around 14,000-foot high Mount Elgon, on Uganda's eastern boundary, also has turned down the idea.

There will be no voting either in the Karamoja district, which runs north to the border with Sudan and which is inhabited by primitive nomadic tribes.

Ten of the 18 African representative seats in the legislative council will be filled in the election.

The election will be carried out on a qualitative franchise. To obtain the right to vote, a man or woman had to show that he or she could fulfill minimum qualifications, many of which were alternatives.

A minimum age of 21 was specified, but the ability to read and write, while one of the things that would qualify a person, was not essential. Alternatively, a man could qualify to vote if he had owned land for two years, or had been in employment for seven years, or had a cash income of £100 a year.

Sask. Man Has Castle Centre Of Farm Area

HERBERT, Sask. (CP) — They say a man's home is his castle—and for Tom Holmes, resident of this southwest Saskatchewan farming community, this holds literally true.

His home, surrounded by trees, shrubs and flowers in a 1 1/2-acre yard of rare beauty, is built in the style of a castle.

He purchased the property in 1933 after a private hospital that was located on it burned down.

BUILT BIG HOUSE
"There were a few big trees here then and a full basement, 40 by 50 feet," he said. "That's why I built the house as big as it is."

Since then he has developed his garden. He has hung a large set of elk antlers over a gateway, built walks and a fish pond and erected a water fountain.

Bush rabbits and owls are among trespassers, but most intruders are humans.

"Strangers think this is a public park," says Mr. Holmes. "The other day I found an old woman wandering around here
