

B.C. TREE FRUIT CROP VALUE CLIMBS TO $12,500,000

VICTORIA (CP)—British Columbia's tree fruit crop was worth some $12,500,000 this year compared with about $9,000,000 in the previous year, provincial agriculture department officials estimated today.

The rich, fruit-growing Okanagan Valley accounted for almost all of the total.

Officials said that, as usual, apples reigned as the big B.C. crop in the Okanagan, accounting for some $7,500,000 in 1960—up from about $5,700,000 in 1959. McIntosh and Delicious apples were the most valuable species, each crop being worth about $2,000,000.

DRACHENBERG HEARING OPENS

'Sensationalism' Rapped by Court

The press and radio were rebuked for "sensationalism" today by a Kelowna magistrate as the preliminary hearing of Edward Drachenberg, 62, charged with murder, opened before him.

Magistrate Donald M. White declared that newspaper and radio reports had damaged the case.

Drachenberg was charged with murder after the body of his wife, Agatha, was found early on the morning of Nov. 10 in their home at 1865 Richter Street.

In his charges concerning the press and radio reports, Mr. Harrison-Smith said he was registering a protest of "the inflammatory and utterly erroneous headlines in the newspaper."

He said it was "a deplorable thing that a news medium will publish such a headline circulating the area where the accused must stand trial."

"The story was published by The Canadian Press and distributed to other news media through the country."

"This is cheap sensationalism and the damage has been done, placing the onus on the accused," the defence counsel concluded.

BODY IN KITCHEN

Dr. Allan Douglas McIntosh, first to testify in the hearing, said he found the body of Mrs. Drachenberg in the kitchen of the house upon arriving at approximately 2:30 a.m.

The doctor outlined the position of the body, which he said was lying in a pool of blood on its left side "but from physical appearance it was impossible to determine the cause of death."

He said he did not observe any injuries and could not tell where the blood was coming from.

RCMP Constable Merlin Vanderkinderen testified he arrived at the Drachenberg home at about 2:25 and was met by Mr. Drachenberg at the rear of the house.

BUTCHER KNIFE

He said that upon entering the dwelling he found the body of Mrs. Drachenberg and approximately one foot from the body found a "butcher knife" about one foot off to one side.

The constable said the handle of the knife was wrapped in a dish towel, both of which were blood-stained and both of which were presented as exhibits in court.

He said he also found three or four hairs in the left hand of the dead woman and a hair net in a pool of blood next to the head.

The police officer said he delivered the hairs, hair net and a rolling pin he found near a bedroom door, to the RCMP crime laboratory in Regina, where they are still being held.

He also presented for exhibit blood-stained pajamas, eyeglasses and a set of dentures.

There were also small spots of blood on the kitchen wall, the constable said.

The hearing continued this afternoon.

MAGISTRATE WHITE stern reprimand

The magistrate's remarks came almost as the hearing opened, after an attack on press and radio for their coverage of the death had been launched by H. S. Harrison Smith, defence counsel.

"It is surprising in our democratic country that we find it necessary for newspapers and radio to use sensationalism in cases of this kind, particularly in this case where they had facts available," Magistrate White said.

'GOT TO STOP'

"We must realize that no person is guilty of an offence until it is proven against them."

"This method of trial by radio and press has got to stop," he said.

Magistrate White said that although The Daily Courier carried a retraction on the story, "the damage had already been done."

"I want the press and radio to carry the wishes of this court that in the interests of justice, articles such as outlined here have got to cease."

U.S. Opposing Canada On Disarmament - Green

VANCOUVER (CP)—Canada might have to become a nuclear power in self-defence, External Affairs Minister Green indicated Wednesday.

If disarmament fails and a world arms race begins, no country can hold out indefinitely, he said.

Canada's foreign affairs spokesman said bluntly the United States is opposing a Canadian disarmament resolution in the United Nations. He suggested the U.S. would bring pressure on small, non-nuclear powers not to vote for the measure.

Mr. Green said the fact that Soviet Premier Khrushchev is "yelling as he has been in the last few days" shows Canada's disarmament proposals are having the desired effect.

Drachenberg is at present free on $10,000 bail.

Brian Weddell is crown prosecutor.

FREEDOMITE STRIPPINGS REPORTED

Women Evicted from 'Ark'

CRESTON (CP)—RCMP were been built and financed by Sons of Freedom as a place of refuge and salvation for all Doukhobors.

Wednesday several Creston women objected that they were not able to use the building. They said they helped build it. They said they had gone to the ark at Lebedoff's invitation to seek "unification" of all Doukhobors.

They were invited in and later they were evicted. They said Lebedoff also stripped, but RCMP who evicted the women after being called said they had no knowledge that Lebedoff stripped.

Lebedoff told the women that the eviction was not his doing, but that of the RCMP, they said.

Parliament Races Against Time to Halt Rail Strike

OTTAWA (CP)—With tension mounting and time running out, Parliament resumes its race today against the onrushing threat of a national railway strike—now just two days away.

Warning of massive unemployment problems resulting from a rail walkout, the government is pressing ahead in the Commons with its stop-the-strike law.

But before legislative action will legally forbid 111,000 "non-op" railway employees from walking off their jobs at 8 a.m. Saturday, the government first must surmount a Liberal kill-the-bill amendment, finish second and third reading in the Commons, speed the legislation to the Senate and finally get royal assent.

The government is fighting a stiff attack from both Liberal and CCF-New Party critics on its emergency legislation aimed at deferring the railway wage crisis and the strike threat itself, until May 15.

Khrushchev Summit Campaign Predicted

LONDON (Reuters)—Communist diplomats in London forecast Wednesday night that Soviet Premier Khrushchev will launch a major drive for an East-West summit conference as soon as American President-elect Kennedy enters the White House in January.

The Communist diplomats said they regard Kennedy as more realistic than Eisenhower, especially in his views on the Chinese offshore islands.

High Arrow To Be Topic Of Boards In January

The controversial High Arrow dam will be discussed at the regular quarterly meeting of the Okanagan Malline District Associated Boards of Trade in Kelowna Jan. 18.

W. B. Hughes-Games of Kelowna, president, said today that his organization had decided against calling an emergency meeting to debate the subject this month.

"It's too near Christmas and too hard to get a representative group together," he said.

Revelstoke Chamber of Commerce has asked that the special meeting be held for the purpose of hearing F. J. Barth, a dro electrical engineer who has advanced cogent reasons why High Arrow should not be built.

The Revelstoke group will have an opportunity to prepare a brief for circulation among member Chambers and boards before the January meeting, Mr. Hughes-Games said.

The associated group includes boards and chambers from Kelowna to Kamloops, and from Merritt and Princeton east to Revelstoke.

An urgent plea to defer final consideration of plans for the High Arrow has gone to Prime Minister Diefenbaker from Revelstoke constituency, its Chamber of Commerce, the city and Nakusp chamber, as one of a growing number of protests in the interior.

Kelowna Chamber of Commerce executive has passed a resolution asking the federal and provincial governments to defer immediately any commitments on High Arrow until complete information is made available to the chamber and communities affected.

LABOR TO DISCUSS High Arrow is expected to come up for discussion Sunday at the December meeting of the Kelowna, Pentleton, Vernon and District Labor Council.

The Council this summer protested to Prime Minister Diefenbaker and Premier W. A. C. Bennett against the proposal and the flooding it would cause.

REGATTA SET FOR AUG. 9 TO 12

The newly-formed Chilliwack and Okanagan Summer Events Association has lined up major 1961 events to avoid clash of dates as in recent years.

Vernon Days will be July 19 to 21; Pentleton Peach Festival, Aug. 3 to 6; Kelowna Regatta, Aug. 9 to 12, and Chilliwack Fall Fair, Aug. 13 to 18.

Sit-ins Spread To South Africa

CAPE TOWN (AP)—The sit-in tactics employed by Negroes in the United States to fight discrimination at lunch counters now are being attempted in this legislative capital of racially-segregated South Africa.

Space Ship, Two Dogs In Orbit

MOSCOW (AP)—The Soviet Union launched another test space ship into orbit today with two dogs on board, the official Soviet news agency Tass reported.

The five-ton vehicle, Tass said, also carried "other animals, insects and plants" for Soviet scientists to study their condition via radio-television and other tele-metering devices aboard. Its exact weight—not counting the carrier rocket that boosted it into final orbit—was listed at 10,037 pounds.

The dogs, latest in a series of Russia's canine space travellers starting with the space-dog Laika, were named Pchelka (Little Bee) and Mushka (Little Fly).

It was described as the "third space ship" by Tass.

The launching reported today was the first space exploit announced by Russia since Aug. 21 when the Russians disclosed they had sent a 4½-ton space ship into orbit and safely recovered its cargo of two dogs and some rats, mice, flies and plants.

The two dogs, Belka and Strika, were later exhibited in their space suits before reporters in Moscow.

"Provocation" Cubans Charge

HAVANA (AP)—Military authorities at Holguin, in eastern Cuba, said early today parts of a U.S. space rocket fell near the city Wednesday without causing any damage or injuries.

A military headquarters spokesman said rocket fragments, some weighing as much as 40 pounds, fell on a hillside about 10 miles from the centre of the city, Cuba's third largest.

Cuban organs wasted no time in playing up the incident.

Farmers at the scene reported the incident to authorities.

A two-headed U.S. space rocket was fired from Cape Canaveral, Fla., at 2:50 p.m. EST Wednesday. The rocket later was destroyed in flight.

A spokesman for the semi-official newspaper Revolucion said markings on parts of the rocket clearly identified it as made in the United States.

Castro's Cuban News Agency quoted the U.S. state department as saying the rocket was deliberately exploded while over Cuba.

The agency said rocket debris "rained" on several settlements around Holguin, causing "loud explosions and great alarm."

Revolucion used banner headlines over the story and described the shower of fragments as a "new provocation of imperialism" and an example of how the Pentagon disregards the life and security of other people.

"If the Yankee authorities persist in this type of tests they should aim their rockets in the direction of their own territory. The people of Cuba indignantly repudiate this aggression and will not forget it."

In Washington, the defence department said it is possible that pieces of a U.S. rocket have fallen on Cuba.

"We certainly are concerned about it," a spokesman said, "and we are investigating it further."

The 80-foot Thor-Able-Star rocket was destroyed by the range safety officer Wednesday when a malfunction developed in flight.

The Thor-Able-Star was blown up less than three minutes after launch, out of range of ground observers. But the defence department delayed 40 minutes before reporting that the satellites failed to achieve orbit. It was another hour and 20 minutes before it was announced the rocket had been deliberately destroyed.

Reporters were frustrated in attempts to learn the reason for the delay.

Golf Course To Be Enlarged For $150,000

The membership of Kelowna Golf Club has given unanimous approval for expansion of the present nine-hole course to 18 holes, making it one of the finest in the British Columbia interior.

The project which is expected to take several months to complete, will cost in the neighborhood of $150,000.

Work will be started as soon as financial arrangements can be completed, club officials said today.

Plans call for the extra holes to be laid out to the north of the present course. Planning details have been carefully worked out.

Man Cleared Of Indecency Allegation

John Stanley Fenwick, 54, of R.R. 4, Kelowna was acquitted today in County Court of a charge of indecent assault on an eight-year-old Kelowna girl.

Fenwick had elected trial by judge without a jury. Council for the defence was G. G. Beeston. Prosecutor was Brian Weddell and the case was heard before Judge Gordon Lindsay from Vernon.

Judge Lindsay said in acquitting Fenwick, it would be too dangerous to convict on such evidence.

He said: "It was very difficult to disregard the evidence of the accused and accept, in its stead, the unsworn evidence of the girl."

Theatre Fund Now Needs Just $12,250

Only $12,250 needs to be donated to bring the Kelowna Community Theatre-Auditorium into being.

The fund to raise the $35,000 residents' share of the $80,000 project today hit the $22,750 mark.

With more support promised, the fund committee has decided to go beyond the original deadline—which had been set for today—and continue for the balance of the week in an effort to push the total over the top.

It is felt that the fund is so near to achieving its objective that it would be a pity not to carry on.

Trinidad Upset Over U.S. Bases

CROWN POINT, Tobago (Reuters)—Trinidad Prime Minister Eric Williams called an emergency meeting of his cabinet today to discuss what well-informed sources described as a "major disagreement" in negotiations between the West Indies and the United States over the future of American bases here.

The sources said Wednesday night's session of the negotiations between the U.S. and the West Indies ended in deadlock with the American delegation refusing to relinquish Chaguaramas base in Trinidad and Trinidad pressing for American withdrawal from the base by 1970.

KENNEDY'S FIRST APPOINTMENT -AIDE FOR AFRICAN AFFAIRS

WASHINGTON (AP)—President-elect Kennedy today picked Governor G. Mennen Williams of Michigan to be assistant secretary of state for African affairs.

Kennedy called the job second in importance to no other position in the new administration. It was his first major appointment.

Williams, 49-year-old Democrat, has served six terms and will retire as governor of Michigan Jan. 1.

General Assembly Plans Unusual Winter Recess

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (AP)—The General Assembly is planning an unusual winter recess to await the views of the new Kennedy administration in Washington.

The assembly, still in sort of a state of shock since Soviet Premier Khrushchev's table-thumping antics at the start of this session, has not taken action on a single major issue in the last two months. It has given up hope of ending its business on the target date of Dec. 17.

The assembly has not fixed a definite date for the Christmas recess, but Dec. 17 is the date it hopes to be able to start the holiday. In previous years the assembly has concluded its fall session before Christmas.

Most delegates feel that the United States cannot make any hard decisions until Senator John Kennedy takes over the presidency. They do not want the 90-nation assembly to reconvene before the middle of February.

So far the major accomplishments of the assembly have been the perennial decision to shelve Communist China's bid for membership and seating of the Congo delegation backing President Joseph Kasavubu.

"Yes" on Library Shows Confidence in Future

VERNON (Staff) — Voters here were urged Wednesday night by Mayor F. F. Becker to support plans for a combination library, museum and art gallery. The mayor asked ratepayers "to give the future growth and development of the community a real vote of confidence" by supporting the bylaw. The appeal was contained in the mayor's 30-minute report to the city's annual stewardship meeting in the Scout Hall. Some 100 persons attended to hear a review of progress and plans by the city council, school board, arena commission and art gallery bylaw was adopted. The mayor assured ratepayers that the $55,000 bylaw, and the forthcoming school bylaw, would greatly improve cultural and educational advantages in the city.

WINTER WORK

The library, museum and art gallery bylaw will be undertaken only at a winter works project, and according to the mayor, "will create much needed employment with the assistance of both levels of the city's senior governments."

Property owners will vote Dec. 15 on the question. If approved, the library, museum and art gallery will be built on the former Harris property, acquired recently by the city of Vernon. Proposed size of the building would be 80 by 72 feet with a full basement under half the structure, measuring 40 by 72 feet. The library would have approximately 2,400 square feet of floor space, with roughly an equal amount for the museum, plus an outdoor display area of 2,500 square feet. The art gallery would be housed in the basement.

Rent Larger Quarters For Library, Says Ald. Valair

VERNON (Staff) — Opposition to the forthcoming library-museum and art gallery bylaw was voiced by Ald. Franklyn Valair.

"It is my opinion that Vernon is lacking in essentials in basic services, many of which have been needed for a long time. For this reason, I have opposed the bylaw, which can only result in a higher overhead to our citizens and lessen the chances of furthering projects of more importance," Ald. Valair stated.

Annual operating deficit for the proposed building will be $8,000, he said. Currently, Vernonites are paying about $10,000 a year for library service. The library branch here rents its own quarters. "Should larger quarters be needed, it would appear sensible to rent larger quarters," Ald. Valair commented. If a building is necessary, he said, it would be preferable to construct a building where the rent would cover the annual costs.

Library Is "Basic Service" Too, Declares Ald. Palmer

VERNON (Staff) — No community can advance and prosper if it ignores the cultural "and concerns itself only with the provision of what is usually referred to as 'basic services,'" public works chairman Ald. Eric Palmer declared.

Interest of the majority of our citizens. I do not think it will cause any undue hardship. "The amount of money involved is not great and is well within our financial ability. "Naturally, such practical things as water, sewer drainage, street lighting, police and fire protection and so forth... must occupy a large amount of our attention." He added, however, that if Vernon is to be attractive to its citizens and visitors, it would be wise "to concern ourselves with esthetic and cultural things."

He added that therefore, he "could not quarrel with the proposal to construct a building to house the library, museum and art gallery." Regarding the Harris property location, Ald. Palmer's said "in the long view it is for the best."

$40,000 Surplus Will Be Spent Before Year End

VERNON (Staff) — Vernon's financial surplus to Oct. 31 was nearly $40,000, but it will probably be used before the end of the year. Figures presented by finance chairman Ald. Harold Down at Wednesday's stewardship meeting showed that expenditures to the end of October were $38,000 less than revenue.

However, he predicted this difference would be consumed by the end of the year by work now in progress, and by administrative and other fixed expenditures. Real property taxes, termed by Ald. Down "more or less the barometer of the city's economic stability," increased by $114,113 last year over the 1959 total.

The 1959 tax levy amounted to $665,823, of which collections at Oct. 31 were $654,157, or 98.2 per cent. This year, the levy climbed to $779,936, and collections to the end of October were $758,041. This represents a percentage decrease in collection of .78 per cent, and this difference could be realized by the end of the year, Ald. Down stated.

Applications for home owner grants in Vernon increased by 171 this year. There were 1,971 applications, valued at $98,358 in 1960, compared with 1,800 applications amounting to $54,400 last year.

An agreement with the Department of National Defence provided the city be paid $3,000 for military camp fire protection. The payment received this year has been applied to the balance of the purchase price of a new fire truck.

TREND RETURNS
Ald. Down remarked on the return of a trend in relative allocations to the public works department and education.

Figures for 1960, he said, would indicate that there is swing towards the "same situation that existed in 1954 prior to the implementation of the new school formula in 1955."

Uniform Water Meter Rates Advocated By Ald. August

VERNON (Staff) — Uniform water meter rates have been recommended by Ald. Fred August.

Tests conducted this year show that one taxpayer is now paying at the rate of three and a half cents per 1,000 gallons, while another is paying $1.30 for the same amount of water, Ald. August said at Wednesday night's stewardship meeting.

The rate of 19.5 cents per 1,000 water works chairman. The en-

Spallumcheen Building Up Equipment In Five Years

ARMSTRONG (Correspondent) — Spallumcheen municipality has been faced with "great demands" on equipment, Reeve C. F. Whitaker told the 68th annual ratepayers' meeting held earlier this week.

As a result, the board of works implemented a five-year equipment replacement plan, Whitaker noted. He said that machinery costs would be spread evenly over a period of five years, at the end of which a highly mechanized unit would be built up. Council availed itself of all grants that it could qualify for, the reveue said.

Delegates attended Okanagan Valley Municipal Association and the Union of B.C. Municipalities conferences to help keep pace with modern progress. Spallumcheen also kept in close touch with the minister of highways and local engineers, and thus obtained "the best of co-operation," Whitaker remarked.

"All yearly financial obligations of this municipality are being paid," his report showed. "Council showed good co-operation, and worked for the best interests of the ratepayers at all times. I wish to thank each councillor for his sincere service, as well as the foreman, and each member of the public works crew."

He also paid tribute to clerk Walter E. Saby. So far this year Spallumcheen

CARNIVAL SEEN AS BOOST TO ECONOMY

VERNON (Staff) — A winter carnival here annually could create a "secondary industry" for Vernon, according to Mayor F. F. Becker.

The carnival, he said, will "contribute much to the economy of our community." The mayor noted at Wednesday's stewardship meeting that in the Kootenays and Alberta, which he visited recently, keen interest has been shown in opening of the Roger's Pass, recreation facilities on Silver Star, and the Winter Carnival. "We can anticipate a great influx of visitors not only during the carnival but during the winter months," the mayor said.

Vernon To Expand Its Beach Property

VERNON (Staff) — Expansion of the city's beach property was foretold by Mayor F. F. Becker at Wednesday night's stewardship meeting. Negotiations for the purchase of additional beach property at Kalamalka Lake have been resumed, and, according to the mayor, "A favorable reply is anticipated shortly." Soon afterwards, a bylaw will be presented for ratification, he indicated.

Further development of beach facilities and parking area at Kalamalka Lake can receive winter works aid, the mayor stated. At Swan Lake, 4,200 feet of frontage obtained "through the generosity of a pioneer Vernon family" is being considered for future beach facilities. The mayor indicated that negotiations have been completed with the department of highways, and the city now holds an approved permit to develop this area.

Soil tests are being taken and it is intended to experiment with 200 feet of beach restoration under the winter works program, the mayor said. Water test results were described as "excellent." "If the experiment is successful, Swan Lake, over a period of 15 to 10 years, would be a real asset to our community," the mayor believes. "Many lakes both large and small of a similar nature in B.C. and the state of Washington have been reclaimed as beach and building sites and have added greatly to the economy of their district," he said.

Pumping Station Automation Saves $10,000 A Year

VERNON (Staff) — Automation at Kalamalka Lake pumping station creates a $10,000 a year saving in wages, waterworks chairman Ald. Fred August noted at the stewardship meeting Wednesday night.

The pumping station was converted at a cost of $9,000. There has been a further saving in pumping costs owing to extra reservoir space made available with the repairs to Fine Street reservoir and Dixon Dam, Ald. Down said.

Original cost of automation was quoted as $28,500 five years ago, but this was cut by almost $20,000 by "cutting out frills and standby pumps," Ald. August said.

Fifty-three of Vernon's "Hundred Homes" have now been sold, Ald. Down stated. Under an agreement with Central Mortgage and Housing Corporation, the city receives $275 upon the sale of a home, plus another $275 at the expiration of one year.

Scots' Boys Clubs Envoy Pays Kelowna Visit Today

Scottish Boys' Clubs have sent a representative to investigate operation of Boys' Clubs in Canada—William Tate, executive secretary of the Boys' Clubs Association of Scotland and he will be in Kelowna today to visit the Kelowna Boys' Club. He will also meet directors and instructors of the local organization.

Accompanied by Keith Pattinson, Western Canada Field Representative of Boys' Clubs of Canada, Mr. Tate will be guest of honor at a most dinner put on by Kelowna Boys' Club.

A return match in ping-pong was held at the Kelowna Boys' Club with representatives from Kamloops Boys' Club. Seven boys made the trip from Kamloops accompanied by three adult directors from the Kamloops Club including former Kelowna resident Vernon Cunnison. Honors in the ping-pong were evenly divided between the two clubs. Kelowna Boys' Club presented crests of the club to all Kamloops boys who made the trip.

Kelowna Boys' Club also entertained 21 members of the Vernon St. James Seventh Cub Pack. The Vernon Cubs had seen the Kelowna Boys' Club television show and paid a visit to the club to learn how to do bird-carving, fly-tying and wood burning which are popular activities in the Kelowna Club.

Instructor John Gervers found the Vernon boys so interested in his bird carving class that he found it difficult to persuade them to give up their tools when it came time for them to return to Vernon.

Kelowna boys, Len Storgaard and Ron Rowland gave the Vernon Cubs demonstrations in wood burning and fly-tying.

Boys in the art class are working steadily finishing pictures for Christmas. Instructors Mrs. John Russell and Mrs. A. Heacock are teaching a group of six boys finger-painting, clay modelling and poster painting once a week.

To date 223 boys are registered in the club including 107 boys who were not members last year. More than 3,100 boy visits have been made to the club since it opened on Sept. 16. Boys wishing to join the club may get application forms at the club premises, 346 Lawrence Ave., to be filled in by their parents.

The application was made by J. A. McPherson, president of the Kelowna Commercial Property Association, on behalf of his organization.

Reason for the deferment, said L. N. Leathley, chairman of the Chamber's executive, were sections in the constitution of the chamber which stated membership on the executive by an organization must be approved by a meeting of the entire chamber.

Mr. McPherson was invited to sit in on executive meetings, pending taking the question of membership at the annual meeting of the chamber board.

Theatre Fund Needs Only $12,250 to Reach Target

Heading for the final lap is the Kelowna Community Theatre Auditorium Fund, which by today's latest check had reached a grand total of $22,750, just $12,250 short of its target.

Boosted by this news, the committee running the campaign for funds feels itself justified in carrying on with their project. Deadline was to have been today but with the promise of further support it was decided to carry on for the balance of the week.

Dave Chapman, chairman of the committee, said today "It would be a pity to lose the chance of getting a community theatre and auditorium for the sake of just $12,250."

He said the committee wanted to remind those who wished to contribute but who had not been approached so far that they could still contribute.

PHONE PLEDGE

"Those wishing to donate can phone us and pledge what they want to give as being payable in April, 1961," he said.

So far there have been a total of 461 contributors to the theatre fund. Of these, 13 have been organizations, 67 have been companies, and there have been donations from 384 individual residents of the city.

Students Take Part In Massed Band Concert

Four hundred student musicians felt the thrill of playing in a massed band and orchestra at Vernon last Saturday.

The one-day conference, aimed chiefly at the Junior High School level, attracted musical groups from as far south as Penticton and as far north as Salmon Arm and Kamloops.

About 125 students attended from Kelowna, Rutland and Winfield. The trip from Kelowna was organized jointly by Mrs. Gordon DeLong and A. L. Knodel of the year.

Following the "massed band" the students attended clinics for the individual instruments. The University of B.C. co-operated by offering the services of Professor Weisgarber as chief clinician. The local music directors also acted as clinicians.

It was felt that this was a very worthwhile Saturday in the lives of these young musicians and the directors were unanimous in asking for another conference next DeLong and A. L. Knodel of the year.

Kelowna Male Choir To Open Season On Dec. 14

A performance for the Senior Citizens will kick off the winter season for the year-old Kelowna Male Choir on Dec. 14.

The choir will share the stage on December 19 with a number of other performers in the annual Chamber of Commerce Christmas Jamboree.

The choir, which is comprised of non-professional men who enjoy singing as a group, was formed in October last year and since then has met under the sponsorship of the Junior Chamber of Commerce.

The choir's director is Thomas Austen who is well known in the district for his interest in music. There are 23 members of the choir to date and it is hoped that an expansion of this membership will occur shortly, until the membership reaches 40.

One of the highlights for the choir in the near future is a two-hour production next February 8, and it is hoped that this event, which will include a number of local performers, will become an annual event.

GLENMORE

A surprise party for Mr. and Mrs. Jack Snowsell was held on Wednesday evening last, when ten couples gathered at their home to honor them on the occasion of their twenty-fifth wedding anniversary. A gift was presented to Mr. and Mrs. Snowsell, and later a buffet lunch was served, followed by dancing. Co-hostesses for the happy event were Mr. and Mrs. W. C. Bennett, and Mrs. I. Yamamoto.

Starting on Monday, November 28, the Glenmore elementary pupils will again have the opportunity of enjoying soup or cocoa, as a hot lunch supplement. The cost per pupil is only 25 cents per week. The hot drinks will be prepared by Mrs. H. B. Houstree, with the teachers supervising the pupils during the serving.

Mrs. R. H. Blackwood of Coldstream spent several days this week at the home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. R. W. Corner.

Friends of Kathy Earle, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. H. B. Earle, will be pleased to hear that she is progressing well in hospital following an appendectomy.

Gary Lipssett celebrated his 8th birthday by entertaining 10 of his young friends at a party held at his home on the afternoon of November 23.

Visiting Mr. and Mrs. Jack Snowsell for a family gathering on the occasion of their twenty-fifth wedding anniversary were Mrs. Harry Hubbard and son Bob, Mrs. Maureen Smallman, and Miss Valerie Snowsell, all of Vancouver.

Parents of pupils attending Glenmore Elementary School had a chance to review the progress made by their children and discuss problems of mutual interest, as Open House was held last Thursday evening. The students' work was laid out for inspection, and the entire teaching staff was available to discuss with parents, any problems, etc.

Parents of Glenmore pupils presently attending the Jr.-Sr. High School on Richter Street, and who will shortly be moving into the Dr. Knox Jr.-Sr. High School had a chance to discuss their children's progress with the teaching staff, as Open House was held there, last Tuesday evening. It is understood that these students will be transferred to the new Dr. Knox Jr.-Sr. High School, sometime next month, which will be most welcome to both parents and pupils alike, who since commencement of the fall term have had to undergo the inconvenience of the 'split shift' set-up.

A happy occasion was celebrated last Friday at the home of Mr. and Mrs. W. Hecko, when they entertained at a dessert party in honor of Mrs. Alex Reid, who last week, reached her 89th birthday. Guests included Mr. and Mrs. W. Reid and family; Mr. and Mrs. G. Reid and family; Allan Snowsell; Mrs. Alice Munro; Miss N. Remick; and Mrs. R. J. Munro.

A miscellaneous shower was held on Friday at the home of Mrs. Ichiro Yamamoto, in honor of Mrs. Shege Kawahara, formerly Miss Sumeko Ueda. Fourteen guests were on hand to present the bride of November 5 with a number of attractive and useful gifts. Games were enjoyed by all, followed by refreshments.

Mr. and Mrs. Kawahara have taken up residence in the Pridham Subdivision.

Congratulations are extended to Mr. and Mrs. Matt Linn, who last Saturday celebrated their twenty-fifth wedding anniversary. Guests at a dinner held in their home were their son-in-law and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. Terry Johnson; Mr. and Mrs. M. Johnson; Mr. and Mrs. Sebastian Trenn; Mr. and Mrs. M. Rambold; Mr. and Mrs. Rupert Krenn; Mr. and Mrs. W. C. Bennett; and Mr. and Mrs. Tony Trenn. Unfortunately Mr. and Mrs. Lina's son and daughter-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Karl Spohl of Victoria were unable to be present for the happy occasion.

Mr. and Mrs. G. W. H. Reed are leaving by CPA flight on December 5 for Ottawa, where Mr. Reed will attend the Canadian Beekeepers Council, as one of British Columbia's two delegates. While in the East, the Reeds will also visit Professor Townsend at the O.A.C., Guelph.

Mr. and Mrs. R. J. Munro and little daughter are moving this week into their new home on Kelglen Crescent.

It's a certain sign that the festive season is just around the corner, when schools start preparing for their annual Christmas parties. Glenmore Elementary School students held their first practice on Monday for the Christmas party which will be held in the activity room on Tuesday evening, December 20.

Teen Towners will remember vividly the wonderful provincial conference that Kelowna staged last Easter. Since that time we have not heard much about that healthy Teen Town in the Okanagan.

"You will recall our first successful homecoming two weeks ago, complete with initial basketball game? Last Friday Kelowna held their first homecoming, B.C. Lions' General Manager, Herb Capozzi, pushed the organizing of the newly formed and smooth running Okanagan High School Football League. The Kelowna High School roster, the Cubs, won over the Kamloops Red Devils 30-14. The spirit was tremendous, and the Teen Town Pep Club turned out in full force. I wonder if we will ever see high school football in Prince George?"

"Kelowna's in-the-news-neighbor Vernon (Vernon Teener Miss Barbara Wolsey became Miss PNE 1960) also has a hard to beat football team, the Panthers. They are Kelowna's biggest obstacle, and will meet on Saturday, November 19th to play OHSFL championship, first in history.

"There is one wonderful thing that Vernon High School has which Prince George High School is lacking. This is an active United Nations Club. Vernon students have raised $500 for the UN Children's Fund, and are still planning ways to increase their fund. $1.00 can mean twenty children cured of yaws or can provide seventy children with a glass of milk every day for a week. These Teens are doing something very worth while. Where are we?"

Mr. and Mrs. R. J. Munro and little daughter are moving this week into their new home on Kelglen Crescent.

Northern Teen Town Writes Of Okanagan

Miss Gail Bryant, daughter of Mrs. Gordon Bryant of Kelowna, who is attending school in Prince George, writes for the Teen Topic page of the Prince George Echo. The following is an excerpt from one of her articles. After discussing the volleyball team of the Prince George High School and stating that their basketball team should develop into a top team by Christmas, she goes on to discuss our Valley sports and Teen Town activities:

EFFECTIVE ELEGANCE

By VERA WINSTON
Understated elegance is the keynote of this black dress, the fabric a wool-and-silk mixture. 'The overskirt is slit at the sides to show the black satin underskirt which ties up with the fall border of the overskirt. Two black satin bows dress up the black satin belt. The bodice is effectively simple.

UNAPPEALING JOB

WELLINGTON, N. Z. (CP)—The New Zealand education department declines to commit itself for or against coeducational schools. But because of staffing duties it is refusing to sanction the opening of more schools for girls only. The department says it finds the utmost difficulty in staffing girls' schools since young women teachers do not find positions there appealing.

Mayor Alsbury Lashes Out At Football Authorities

VANCOUVER (CP)—Canadian Football League authorities are to blame for the incidents which brought a premature ending to last Saturday's Grey Cup game in Empire Stadium, Mayor Tom Alsbury said Wednesday.

"And on top of this, he said, they have 'tried to shift the blame which was theirs to our city police.'"

"The mayor was commenting in a statement on the criticisms made following the game, which was called with 41 seconds still remaining on the time clock after fans had left their seats and poured on the field.

Ottawa Rough Riders led Edmonton Eskimos 16-6 at the time and had possession of the ball.

Mayor Alsbury was particularly critical of football commissioner Sydney Halter, who blamed a lack of police action for the rush of fans to the field which ended early.

"The outburst and charges of Mr. Halter are most unfair and unwarranted," said Mayor Alsbury, who added that football officials will have to make some special arrangements to keep fans off the field before he'll permit city police to undertake the responsibility of stadium security on Grey Cup Day.

"I have said that this incident was a black mark on Vancouver and a black mark on a good day," the mayor said.

"That black mark was caused by Mr. Halter and his officials. I do not intend to allow him to shift the blame unfairly to the shoulders of our police force."

He said he fully supports the statement Tuesday of police chief George Archer who said that given a chance his men at the stadium could have cleared the field and allowed the game to be completed.

The mayor said the police films of the game prove "conclusively" that the police "were successfully clearing the field of play and would have made resumption of the game possible within another two or three minutes but for the precipitate and premature action of football officials who ordered the firing of the gun to end the game."

There were nearly 40,000 people in the stadium, he said, including 4,000 in track seats right up to the edge of the field. There had been a great deal of open drinking.

"If there are to be large crowds at future Grey Cup finals, for the safety of our citizens and in fairness to our taxpayers who foot the bill, we must insist that we have the full co-operation of the football officials in helping maintain order," said the mayor.

"There must be proper barriers if any spectators are to be seated on the field."

Tiger Scores TKO To Regain Crown

EDMONTON (CP)—Nigeria's Dick Tiger punched his way back to the British Empire middleweight boxing title here Wednesday night when he won a scheduled 15-round bout with Edmonton's Wilf Greaves on a technical knockout in the ninth round.

Greaves, 25, weighed in at 160 pounds for the match while Tiger tipped the scales at 159 pounds.

After an even opening, Tiger, 31, shook his opponent with a right to the jaw in the third round and moved on top for the balance of the fight with a series of rights and lefts that rocked the defending champion into helplessness.

Referee John Smith stopped the fight after 80 seconds of the ninth round as Tiger was pounding his man in a corner.

TREMENDOUS PACE
The Nigerian kept up a tremendous pace throughout the fight, continually wearing Greaves down, and once on top it was a question of how long Greaves could last.

Tiger lost his title to Greaves last June when the decision was changed in Greaves' favor an hour after the contest had been declared a draw. The referee's card was examined again, a figure changed, and on the stroke of a pencil the title went to Greaves.

Tiger's manager, Jersey Jones, who calls himself "my boy's hardest critic" said after the fight:

"It was 100 per cent Tiger this time, he took every round. In the last fight there was some doubt, but this time he took it all the way."

"Now it is the world title we are after. We lost five valuable months through postponements, and now we have to make it up."

"If necessary we will waste through all the top ten contenders. We will go after the winner of either the Fuller-Robinson fight or the Pender-Downs affair—or both if necessary. We are going all out for a crack at the world crown."

After the fight a cock-a-hoop Tiger said, "It was a good fight, but I was just warming up."

Greaves, his short-lived reign ended, showed little emotion as he admitted, "I just couldn't seem to get on top." He would say nothing of his plans for the future.

The new champion's victory was the result of an elaborate plan worked out among Tiger, Jones and American trainer Jimmie August. In August's words:

"It was a three punch combination move—a jab, a right cross, then a hook. Greaves was rolling with the jab, moving with the right—slap into the hook."

The jubilant Tiger ruled out the possibility of a re-match, and said he would return to New York on the lookout for another fight.

WHL Gap Tightens Up As Bucs, Comets Win

By THE CANADIAN PRESS

The gap between the top and bottom of the Western Hockey League shrank like a cheap sweater Wednesday night as Spokane Comets and Portland Buckaroos both gained wins.

Comets got theirs the hard way, by going into Winnipeg and beating the Warriors 4-2. Portland had the advantage of home ice but still had to knock over league-leading Calgary Stampede 4-3.

Spokane still remained in last place, but it is in effect in a fifth-place tie with Victoria with 16 points. Portland and Winnipeg are in fourth place with 17 points.

Calgary, which has 23 points, dropped its second straight game on its current coast tour, having lost 6-4 in Vancouver Tuesday.

IN TROUBLE EARLY
Stampede's got into trouble early in Wednesday night's game and opponent Gordie Fashoway, the all-time leading point collector in the WHL, gave Buckaroos a 2-0 lead while Calgary was shorthanded.

Portland led 3-1 after the first period and the sides split four goals in the second. The third period was scoreless.

Other Buckaroo goals came from Barry Krake and Gordie Howarth.

Lou Jankowski scored twice for Spokane, and Ron Leopold, the Japanese, outpointed Donny Urso, WHL's leading scorer, got one.

Even with its early lead, Portland still had to come from behind to beat Young Wild.

Crake intercepted a pass in front of the Calgary net to get the equalizer and Howarth got the winner on a pass from Ron Matthews.

LATE GOALS WIN GAME
At Winnipeg, Ching Johnson broke up the tight game with two third-period goals. Other Comets marksmen were Forbes Kennedy and Bob McCusker.

Winnipeg goals were scored by Al Nicholson and veteran Nick Mickoski.

Johnson got the insurance marker with 44 seconds remaining after Winnipeg goalie Harry Lumley had been pulled in favor of a sixth forward.

Comets used goalie Cesare Mangano in preference to veteran Gilles Boisvert.

Boisvert, property of Detroit Red Wings of the National Hockey League, refused to report to Comets at the beginning of the season. He finally relented and showed up but coach Roy McDride decided he is not yet ready to play. He hopes to use Boisvert in one of Spokane's weekend games at home.

Smoldering Tennis Feud Erupts In Australia

MELBOURNE (AP)—A long smoldering feud between Australian Davis Cup captain Harry Hopman and former Wimbledon champion Jaroslav Drobny erupted anew today and threatened to break up the Victorian tennis championships until an official soothed Drobny's injured feelings.

A formal apology was issued by Robert Vroland, president of the Victorian Association, after Drobny who, acting as coach and manager of the Italian Davis Cup team, charged Hopman in effect called him "a liar."

Drobny threatened to pull his Italian stars, Nicola Pietrangeli and Orlando Sirola, out of the doubles final Saturday unless redress was made for what he called "atrocious treatment." He was calmed down after a morning-long meeting with Vroland and a three-paragraph statement which contradicted Hopman's comment.

In a syndicated column today Hopman accused Drobny of "talking nonsense" in statements made following Pietrangeli's dramatic walkout on the match with Chuck McKinley in Tuesday's quarter-finals.

Drobny complained that Victorian officials had not extended the usual courtesies—such as free travel tickets—to the Italians until the Italians made a good showing in the championships.

Drobny also said Vroland had made an effort to get Pietrangeli and McKinley to continue the match the next day, but Pietrangeli declined.

Trail Smoke Eaters managed to fight through a charging Nelson Maple Leaf attack Wednesday night in a third period rally which brought them a 4-2 victory in Western International Hockey League action before about 1,000 fans.

Smokies were unable to penetrate the Leafs' ferocious attack during the first two periods but rallied in the final minutes of the third to break a 1-1 tie which was held for two periods.

The first period goals were scored by left winger Vic Polier of Nelson and Bob Kromm of Trail.

BROKE TIE
Nelson broke the tie at the 1:25 mark of the third when Howie Hornby scored on a pass from Fritz Koehle from behind the Smoke net.

Trail's rally came with three unanswered goals by defenseman Harry Smith, Frank Turk and Cal Hockey. Turk's goal came when playing coach Bobby Kromm slapped a slider at the net and the puck bounced off Turk's skate and in.

Ted Leboldia was waiting out an interference penalty midway through the period when Smith scored his marker for the Smokies. Hockey's goal skittered through Leaf netminder Gerry Koehle's skates.

Trail had a few anxious minutes early in the first period when goalie Seth Martin lost his stick and the Leafs poured on the pressure. But Smoke defenders managed to clear the puck before the Leafs got a chance to make use of the opportunity.

Stops by Trail were 31 and Nelson 23.

International League Elects New President

WILLIAMSPORT, Pa. (AP)—A while back, Thomas H. Richardson, the new president of the International League, was smiling about the days when he was a youngster.

"I had four jobs at one time and I made $8 a week out of all of them," he said. "I delivered hats, painted signs, ushered in a theatre and made popcorn balls for a candy company."

Richardson was 13 and had to leave school to go to work after his father's death.

It points up one of the things that has made him successful—hard work and energy.

For 26 years Richardson was president of the class A Eastern League. He kept it going during the lean days, at times when many minor leagues were falling by the wayside.

ELECTION A TRIBUTE
As a tribute to Tommy's excellent work, the triple A International League, meeting in Louisville, Ky., Wednesday unanimously elected him president to replace Frank Shaugnessy, 77, who retired Sunday. Richardson was given a one-year contract at $15,000.

The new president, who lives in this central Pennsylvania community and maintains an auto business here, is a former vaudeville song and dance man. Before breaking into baseball he and his brother Joe performed in the tabloid reviews which toured the eastern Pennsylvania coal towns.

International League secretary Harry Simmons, 50, an authority on tricky baseball rules and an expert schedule-maker, was reported to be hurt and deeply disappointed at the selection of Moore, Montreal.

Richardson, he said he will seek another job, although he agreed to remain with the league for the present.

Richardson said league headquarters will be moved from Hightstown, N.J., to Detroit.

Penticton (CP) - Unemployment muscled its way into the sports scene here and caused the collapse of senior hockey.

Penticton Vs. Allan Cup champions in 1954 and world champions a year later, disbanded and left the Okanagan League with only three teams—Kelowna Packers, Kamloops Chiefs and Vernon Canadians.

The Vs were the league's best drawing card this season, averaging about 1,000 fans a game.

Officials said the club could not continue because nine imports failed to find jobs to augment hockey payments.

The immediate plight of the remaining teams will be decided "within the next two or three days at an emergency league meeting," said Bob Gilhooly of Kelowna, OSHL president.

SAD TO SEE
"It's a sad thing to see a town like Penticton fold," he said in a telephone interview from Kelowna. "Penticton is the valley's best sports town. The Vs were winning their share of games and had the best attendance."

Gilhooly said both Vernon and Kamloops have intimated they will continue to operate in a three-team league.

"It depends upon the Packers now," he added. "They are pretty shaky financially, too. But if they decide to keep going with three teams we can continue. If they fold it's difficult to say what will happen."

Penticton's decision to declare what officials called a "temporary suspension of operations," followed a meeting between the executive and players.

The club faces an operating deficit of $2,600 and Wednesday a creditor obtained a court order against the team's bank account.

KAMLOOPS SOUND
Most of the players were hesitant to continue under a new co-operative plan because of the league's financial troubles. Only Kamloops, which got off to a wobbly start, now appears to be on solid financial footing.

Wille Schmidt, Kamloops coach, said Wednesday the Chiefs will continue to operate even if the others fold.

Kamloops' average attendance this year has been 300, Vernon's 700 and Kelowna's 450. The three teams need a 1,000-fan average to break even and pay players small salaries.

Penticton, with its nine imports, needed an average of about 1,500 but failed to weather the storm because the imports couldn't wait until the end of the season to collect.

DAYS AHEAD DIFFICULT
Leo G. Atwell, immediate past-president of the B.C. Amateur Hockey Association and western representative on the Canadian association's rules committee, said in Vancouver:

"I'm greatly disappointed that the Vs have folded. This won't do hockey in the interior any good. I hope the league can continue, but the days ahead will be difficult."

Atwell said the decline in attendance came with television and dictated that the days of importing were over.

Atwell suggested the future of B.C. senior hockey might lie in the formation of a single league.

The leagues adopted a partial interlocking schedule this season and the best attendance marks were set at these games.

Penticton is the second OSHL team to fold this year. Merritt, which joined last fall, quit because of financial troubles after a month's operation.

The neighboring Western International League, which began the season with teams in Trail, Nelson and Rossland, expanded last weekend to include a Kimberley-Creston entry—East Kootenay Rams.

Nelson survived a brief collapse last month and now all teams are reported financially sound.

THREE-TEAM LOOP NOW Packers, Canucks Battle Tonight

Kelowna Packers meet Vernon Canadians 8 o'clock tonight in Memorial Arena in the first game of what is now a three-team Okanagan Senior Hockey League.

The league was forced to three teams Wednesday night in Penticton when the Vees withdrew due to job problems and a reported $2,600 deficit.

OSHL President Bob Gilhooly said this morning that a league meeting will be called shortly to discuss the matter of carrying on with three teams.

Gilhooly said he felt the three teams—Kelowna, Kamloops, and Vernon, wish to carry on. However a meeting will still be held to confirm their wishes.

The game scheduled for tomorrow night between Penticton and Kamloops was naturally cancelled but the Saturday night contest between Kelowna and Kamloops at the Hub City will go ahead as scheduled.

The league prexy said a new schedule will be released shortly.

It was reported this morning that players are already leaving Penticton for their homes in Winnipeg, Vancouver, the Kootenays and various other areas.

It is not yet known if Kelowna or any of the other remaining teams will take advantage of obtaining local Penticton players.

PLAYERS STAYING
Players residing in Penticton and Kelowna and not expected to leave are: Jackie Howard, Walt Peacock, Don Slater, Buddy Evans, Warren Hicks, Reo Touzin and Ralph Boychuk.

Packer Coach Jim Middleton said today he has not yet decided if he will pick up any of the players.

Tonight's game will see Packers out with a full roster.

The popular contest, one shot into an empty net, will be held at tonight's game between the second and third periods.

Smokies Score 4-2 Victory Over Leafs

NELSON (CP)—Undefeated Trail Smoke Eaters managed to fight through a charging Nelson Maple Leaf attack Wednesday night in a third period rally which brought them a 4-2 victory in Western International Hockey League action before about 1,000 fans.

Smokies were unable to penetrate the Leafs' ferocious attack during the first two periods but rallied in the final minutes of the third to break a 1-1 tie which was held for two periods.

Uke Line Still Major Force Behind Bruins

By THE CANADIAN PRESS

The Ukrainian line is still a major force behind Boston Bruins sporadic offense.

The National Hockey League trio — Bronco Horvath, Johnny Bucyk and Vic Stasiuk—proved just that Wednesday night.

The Bruins were losing 2-0 to the Black Hawks in Chicago until the Ukes engineered two late third period goals, tying the game 2-2.

It was the only game in the league and the tie stretched both Chicago's unbeaten record on home ice and Boston's winless streak on the road this season to 12 games.

BUCKY BIG STAR
Bucyk emerged as the big star. He combined with Stasiuk to set up Doug Mohns for the first Boston goal with less than six minutes remaining in the game. Then with less than four minutes to go, he took passes from Stasiuk and Horvath and beat Chicago's Glenn Hall for the tying marker.

Chicago had appeared headed for victory on goals by Murray Dainoff in the first period and Ron Murphy in the third.

The outcome left Chicago in third place—one point behind second-place Montreal Canadiens and two shy of first-place Detroit Red Wings.

Boston remained in the cellar with 15 points, one behind fifth-place New York Rangers.

Hall saved 28 shots while Boston's rookie goalie, Bruce Gamble, stopped 26.

BACK ON THE ROAD
Boston has another road game coming up tonight, in Detroit.

Toronto Maple Leafs are at Montreal in another game.

Canadiens will dress left winger Guy Gendron, acquired Monday from the Bruins in exchange for Andre Pronovost.

A study by a presidential commission has set up a number of recommendations for U.S. national goals. These and other proposals almost certainly will be debated sharply in the months ahead as a new Democratic administration takes over. The commission's domestic goals are discussed in this first of a series of three articles.

By STERLING F. GREEN WASHINGTON (AP) — Several hundred goals for the 1960s were set before Americans this week by a White House commission. Yet one word told the story — growth.

Growth to provide at least 13,500,000 new jobs, growth to avoid higher taxes, growth to support new multi-million dollar outlays for research and education, growth to rebuild decayed downtowns, growth to arm more strongly against "grave danger."

Without economic growth, at a rate apparently not less than one-sixth faster than American production has increased during the last 30 years, the commission believes some of the United States' vital objectives will be lost, its security and leadership endangered.

In such a case, said the president's commission on national goals, Americans are going to have to sacrifice — perhaps by tax increases, loss of leisure time, a slower rise of living standards and unaccustomed controls.

This was the essence of the report filed with President Eisenhower by 11 leading Americans after 10 months of study. The White House released it Sunday.

The central theme was that the United States must make a greater investment — in its own future, or it will risk the loss both of world leadership and its own cherished freedoms.

The growth target, said the commission should be the fastest possible rate which is "consistent with primary dependence upon free enterprise and the avoidance of marked inflation."

What will that rate be? The commission was uncertain. One study, it said, suggests that the total output of goods and services can be boosted by 3.4 per cent a year — if unemployment is held consistently below four per cent and if a climate favorable to investment and research is maintained.

Other studies indicate that a five-per-cent growth can be achieved "without extraordinary stimulating measures," said the report.

The average increase in gross national product recorded since 1939 has been 2.9 per cent.

Here are some of the specific targets:

Education — Yearly U.S. outlays must be doubled by 1970, to $10,000,000,000. "The federal role must now be expanded."

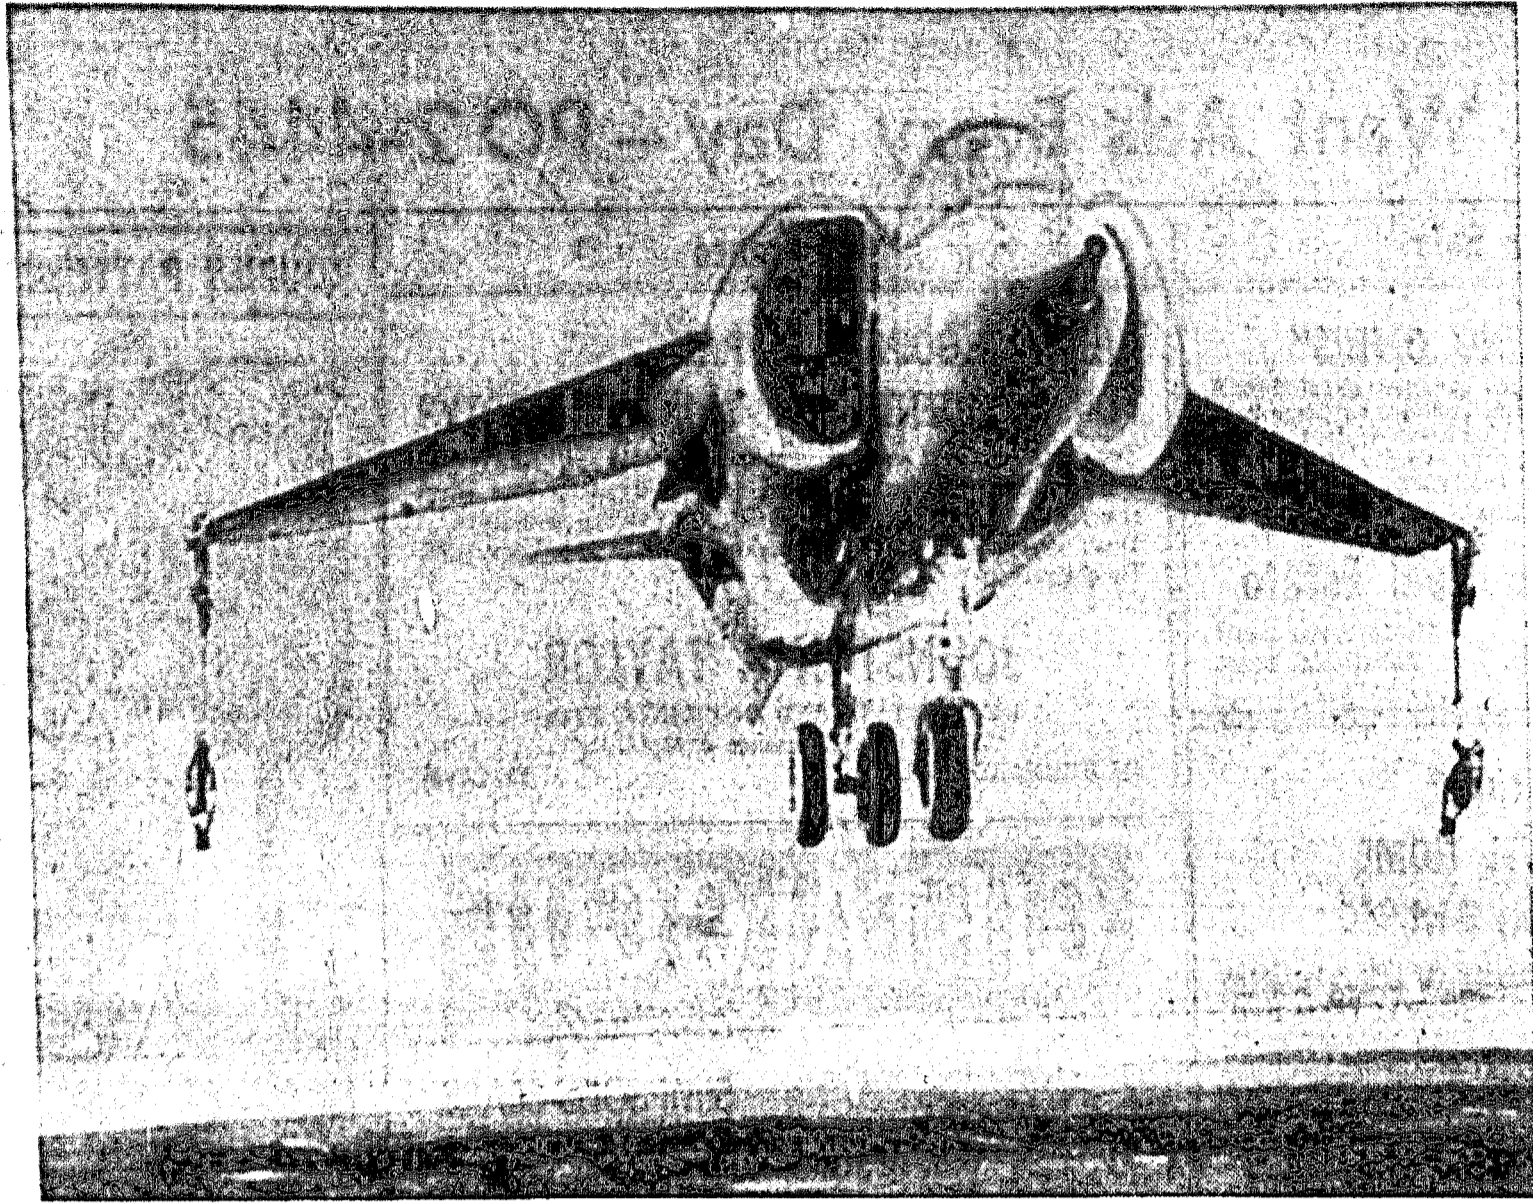

Taxes — An "overhaul of the tax urban renewal programs 'costing system' is necessary, whether as much as $1,000,000,000 a year."

tax rates go up or down, to improve the climate for new business investment. The changes, said the commission, should include more liberal depreciation deductions on business and industrial equipment to encourage modernization and investment.

Automation — Technological change should be encouraged but with careful advance planning to avoid hardship to those displaced by new machines and processes.

Agriculture — Supply and demand must be brought into balance so that the market will provide farmers a fair return. There should be "much increased retirement of farm land, with emphasis on whole farms."

The cities — Slum conditions must be remedied and the process of decay in big cities arrested. The commission called for urban renewal programs "costing as much as $1,000,000,000 a year."

Party-Loving Ghanian Leading Voice Of Africa

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (AP) — A convivial young man from Ghana, in little more than a year, has become a leading UN spokesman for some 200,000,000 African Negroes.

In that brief time, Alex Quaison-Sackey has played a key role in ramming through the General Assembly resolutions ranging from a denunciation of South Africa's racial policies to a staunch defence of Secretary-General Dag Hammarskjöld's policies on the Congo in the face of bitter Soviet attack.

His demeanor as standard-bearer for the dark continent has roused mixed emotions among his colleagues. Admirers hail him as a rising star in Africa's expanding firmament. Critics label him a flashy orator with the tactics of a rabble rouser.

At 38, party-loving Quaison-Sackey is one of the youngest ambassadors to head a delegation in the 89-nation General Assembly and one of the most energetic. His duties range from international debate to helping his fellow Ghanian delegates knot their unfamiliar neckties.

FORCEFUL DEBATER
Conscious that Ghana holds a front-row position among Africa's UN members, Quaison-Sackey is an aggressive debater.

"The trouble with Quaison-Sackey," said one Commonwealth delegate, "is that he seems to think he's still addressing independence rallies back in Africa. He hasn't got the knack of diplomatic language."

Quaison-Sackey gave the UN's special political committee a memorable example of his oratory last year when he led off the perennial debate on the South African racial question.

"Africa is on the move," he said. "The flame of nationalism is burning in the souls of many on that continent, South Africa notwithstanding."

"If the government of South Africa does not take heed of the world will cast them asunder and the white minority will receive their measure of justice when that great and terrible day of judgment arrives."

NOT SO ROUGH
Quaison-Sackey appeared to have toned down somewhat when he entered his second year of world diplomacy. But the spark was still there and it flared during the Congo debate.

"The bastions of privilege and domination are falling one by one," the Ghana ambassador told the assembly. "In Africa the struggle for equality is still raging and it can only end when all Africa is free. A continent like Africa cannot be half free and half slave."

Delegates do not take Quaison-Sackey lightly when he speaks thusly.

"I am a political economist who is a firm believer in socialism built on solid foundations," says Quaison-Sackey. "And I might add that I mean socialism in the British, not the Russian, sense."

Like many African diplomats, he speaks with a clipped British accent that still bears traces of some tribal dialect.

A lover of good food, fine wines and gay cocktail parties, Quaison-Sackey spends many weekends entertaining fellow delegates at the spacious, colonial-style mansion Ghana maintains for him in nearby New Rochelle where he lives with his wife and four children.

MORE SCHOLARSHIPS

OTTAWA (CP) — France will increase the number of scholarships available to Canadian teachers and engineers if Canada is interested, says Raymond Treuil, commercial counsellor at the French embassy. Thirty such scholarships a year now are available.

FUTURISTIC COUNCIL

SEPT-ILES, Que. (CP) — The municipal council of this town 360 miles northeast of Quebec city is building its new city hall with an eye to the future. Construction began last year on a $514,000 building designed to accommodate civic administration for 50,000 people although Sept-iles today is a community of only 15,000.

Williston Will Give High Arrow Answers Dec. 14

VICTORIA (CP) — Lands and Forests Minister Williston said today he will go before the Nelson Chamber of Commerce Dec. 14 to answer questions about the proposed High Arrow dam as part of the vast $450,000,000 Columbia River project.

It will be the first semi-public meeting on the giant project.

The minister said he had to postpone the meeting because of the necessity of going to Ottawa on business. He is a member of a steering committee meeting in Ottawa to lay the groundwork for a resources conference next year.

So far as general public meetings regarding Columbia works are concerned, Mr. Williston said these will be called at the discretion of A. F. Paget, controller of water rights.

And Mr. Paget won't act to call such meetings until he has before him an application from the B.C. Hydro Commission for a certificate to proceed with works on the Columbia.

Mr. Williston said he did not know when B.C. Hydro might make the application, but it was learned from other sources no move may be made until early next year. A number of technical details have to be completed before B.C. Hydro can act.

Colorful Pioneer Of Flying In Canada, Roy Brown, Dies

WINNIPEG (CP) — Roy Brown, one of the rollicking band of bush pilots who flew by the seat of their pants to help open up Canada's vast northland, died Wednesday. He was 64.

He died in hospital of a kidney ailment that developed after he underwent heart surgery last week.

It was a faltering heart that at the age of 58 grounded him as a pilot, ending the 37-year flying career of one of Canada's most colorful aviation pioneers.

He then turned his efforts to politics and represented the northern constituency of Rupert's Land in the Manitoba Legislature from 1933 to 1938. There, he spoke for all the friends he had made in the north as a pilot and airways executive.

In 1929, he and seven other renowned bush pilots — including such as C. H. (Punch) Dickins, H. Hollick-Kenyon and A. D. (Andy) Cruikshank — took part in the long search for the late Col. Cyril D. H. MacAlpine and a seven-man party who had set out to explore the Arctic coast. Guided by little else but instinct, the eight pilots swept over the uncharted wilderness for 54 days before finding the missing party. During the hunt, Roy Fokker cracked up, smashing a wing and leaving him stranded with his two mechanics on Aylmer Lake, just south of the Arctic Circle. They were rescued after 15 days.

Later, he worked on the first airmail route operated in Western Canada, connecting Winnipeg, Regina, Saskatoon, Medicine Hat, Edmonton and Calgary.

BECAME PART OF CPA
In 1934 with three friends—Milt Ashton, Ted Stull and Jack Moor—he formed Wings Limited, operating over northwestern Ontario and northern Manitoba. The operation was purchased by the CPA in 1941 and became part of the Canadian Pacific Airlines.

Teacher, 23, Wins Alta. Seat For Socreds

CARSTAIRS, Alta. (CP) — A 23-year-old school teacher became the youngest person to win a seat in the Alberta legislature by capturing Wednesday's Didsbury byelection for the Social Credit party.

The victory by Robert Clark in his first bid for public office fattened the already heavy majority held by the Social Credit government of Premier Manning. The party now holds 60 of the legislature's 65 seats.

Mr. Clark, who devotes most of his teaching time to physical education in junior high grades at Sundre, held the seat by more than 1,000 votes over his Liberal opponent, farmer James A. Lore, 29, also a newcomer to politics.

Mayor Wilfred Henry Metz, 54, of Didsbury, ran third as Progressive Conservative candidate.

The rural constituency has voted Social Credit all but once since the party's 1935 sweep into power. It went independent for four years in the 1940 general election.

New House standings: Social Credit 60, Liberal 1, Progressive Conservative 1, Coalition 1, Independent Social Credit 1, vacant 1. No date has been set for a by-election in Medicine Hat. The vacancy was caused by the death of Mrs. E. G. Robinson, Social Credit.

Travel Lightly Into Hospital

By BURTON H. FERN, M.D.

You're worried about going to the hospital. You'd feel better if you knew what to pack. Travel light! You're coming home in a week or ten days. The packing list for a longer stay includes extra items. The average hospital supplies fewer essentials than the below-average penitentiary. Hospital nightshirts serve adequately, but your own bedclothes can liven the scene and raise your morale. Include a bed jacket along with filmy negligees. Men wander in and out mopping bloopers, wash-

to sneeze and wheeze the whole time. Calm the hospital's jittery nerves by bringing along your Blue Cross card. For entertainment, a deck of cards helps pass the time. Bring along all those books and magazines you've been meaning to read. Puzzles and games, too! But please, no dice! TAKE YOUR RADIO A transistor radio puts wings on dragging hours. It works best on the window sill, but be prepared for static from diathermy and x-ray machines. You clock watchers will need your own watches or clocks. Few hospitals give you the time of day. SMALL CHANGE Nickels, dimes and quarters are worth a million dollars when you want to use a public phone or buy a snack from a vending machine. When you pack stationery and stamps, don't forget pen, ink and your address book. If you pack cigarettes, include lots of extra matches. Don't bring extra street clothes. Nurses have been known to spend hours hunting for a patient whose sport shirt and slacks made him look like any other visitor. Leave valuables home or check them as you enter on admission. Dr. Fern's mailbox is wide open for letters from readers. While he cannot undertake to answer individual letters, he will use readers' questions in his column whenever possible and when they are of general interest. Address your letters to Dr. Fern in care of this newspaper.

CONTRACT BRIDGE

By B. JAY BECKER (Top Record-Holder in Masters' Individual Championship Play)

East dealer. North-South vulnerable.

Bridge hand diagram showing North and South hands with cards: NORTH (A 3 8, Q 7 6 4 2, A K 5), WEST (Q 10 8 7, K 10 8, 9 8 4 3, 9 7), EAST (5 4 3 2, J 9, 7 6 5, Q J 10), SOUTH (K 6, A K Q 10, 8 7 4 3 2).

The bidding: East 2 spades, South 3 spades, West 3 spades, North 4 spades. Opening lead—nine of clubs. Despite all stories you may have heard on the contrary, this was the hand that created the greatest consternation in the club and launched Sylvia upon her series of amazing adventures at the bridge table. The deal occurred a week or so after she had joined the club. There is no question that had the Admissions Committee been aware of how poorly Sylvia played and how little experience she had had, they would not have accepted her for membership. But having been admitted, Sylvia did not shy away from the tough games, and, in fact, made it a point, whenever possible, to play with the experts. I was not present when the deal was played, but the bidding was reliably reported to me to have taken place as shown in the diagram. Sylvia was East and said two spades after South had passed. Undoubtedly, this was not an intentional misbid on her part. Perhaps she was counting out loud how many spades she had, or was referring to a preceding hand, but whatever the reason, West quickly passed, and North quite justifiably jumped to seven. Sylvia was aghast at the turn of events that had taken place, but, as usual, took things in stride. After winning the club lead in dummy, she played a diamond, and, having learned several days earlier the art of finessing, finessed the ten. When this held, she cashed the A-K-Q, discarding a club and two hearts from dummy. Sylvia then finessed the queen of hearts successfully. Next she cashed the ace of clubs and ace of hearts, and ruffed a heart with the six of spades. By now, nine tricks had been played and West was down to the Q-10-8-7 of spades. When Sylvia led a club, West ruffed with the seven but was overruled by the nine, and when Sylvia trumped the last heart with the king, West had to undertruff with the eight. A club lead then trapped the Q-10 as dummy's A-J took the last two tricks. So Sylvia made seven spades!

Use Of French Falls Off Slightly In Commons

OTTAWA (CP) — The use of French in Commons debates dropped slightly during the last session. A spokesman for the bureau of translators said the slight drop in the use of French in the 1960 session could be explained by the fact that the novelty of the simultaneous translation system had worn off after one year. Meanwhile, the Senate has learned that it will not be possible to have its simultaneous translation system in operation this year. The system could have been ready if the session which began Nov. 17, had opened in late December or early January. In view of the impossibility of getting the work done sooner, the government has decided to delay the project until next session.

YOUR HOROSCOPE

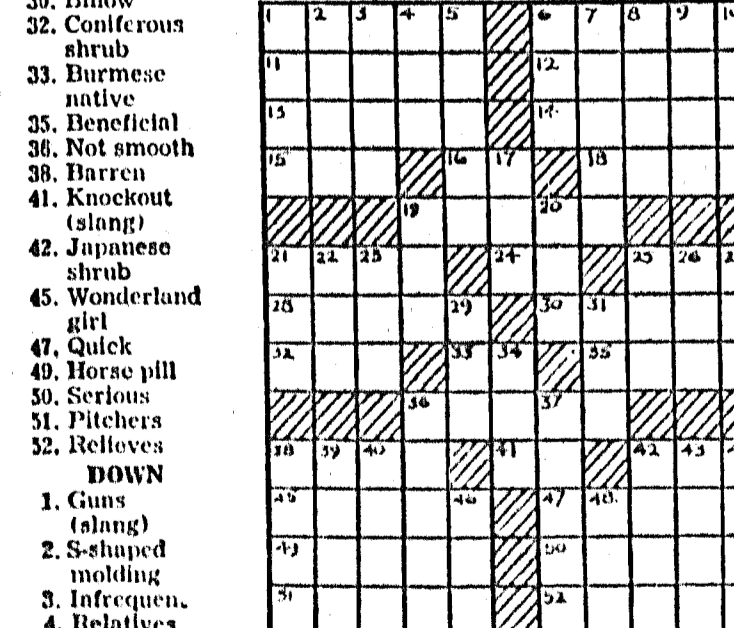

FOR TOMORROW Personal interests and finances are governed by fine planetary aspects. FOR THE BIRTHDAY If tomorrow is your birthday, your chart forecasts excellent developments in personal and business life during the next year. Start making plans now for good opportunities which should open up to you—both where job and monetary interests are concerned—and follow them faithfully throughout the year, putting forth special efforts during the next few months. Expect, exceptionally good opportunities during this month, in late December and the first three months of 1961. Look for happy personal relationships throughout most of the year ahead and, for romance, especially next May and June. Carelessness or outbursts of temper could cause unnecessary friction. A child born on this day will be endowed with a high order of intellect and could make a great success in any field dealing with the public.

British Lamp Post Still Centre Of Controversy

LONDON (AP) — The battle around the British lamp post is now in its 11th year—as hopeless, it seems, as most gallant struggles against time.

The issue is simple: Does the old Victorian lamp post of the lamppost era have to go to the scrap heap to be replaced by modern, concrete standards with electricity instead of gas light?

The armies in the struggle:

1. The army members of the cult of lamp post lovers whose kindest word for the new standards going up in the country is that they are "hideous."
2. Officialdom, of the local government sort, that believes concrete, electric standards are cheaper to maintain, give more light and will be attractive if you've long enough to get used to them.

Battle lines started forming in 1950 when the local government officials began replacing the old lamps with the new.

FOET STARTED IT

The first lance was hurled by means of a letter to The Times. Aug. 16, 1950, poet John Betjeman wrote in that letter how much he deplored "the present craze of erecting lamp posts like concrete gibbets with corpse lights dangling off them in old country towns."

With the years and the increased number of concrete lamp posts, supporters increased in number.

In 1956, actionists entered the fray.

In front of a 260-year-old home in Greenwich a new lamp post had been placed. Capt. William Braxton Sinclair pulled it down. It was his house.

The municipal powers complained.

"I can't understand what the fuss is all about, the captain said. 'I didn't like the new lamp post so I pulled it down. Wouldn't anyone have done the same thing?'"

Sir Albert Richardson, past president of the Royal Academy, announced in 1958 he would run for the local council as a "lamp post candidate." He said he did not want 25-foot concrete posts erected outside his Georgian house in Amphyll, Bedfordshire.

FAMOUS BATTLE WAGED

And 1958 was the year the late A. E. Matthews, an actor who was almost 90, staged the Battle of Bushy Heath.

The council had the audacity to threaten to take down the gas light in front of his home and put up a concrete one.

He took guard in the snow, fortified by a liquid stronger than tea and wearing dress topped by a deerstalker hat.

Noble as was the A. E. Matthews fight, the new standard went up.

Last year, the Guardian of Manchester entered the lists with an editorial attacking the "thin, mean lamps" and warning: "The full horror is beginning to show."

In the Derbyshire town of Ashbourne the people began putting ivy on the new standards, hoping it would hide the ugliness. Others tried rambling roses.

And in London's Chelsea, one man surrendered. He bought the old lamp post, erected it inside his house.

The people of Blackheath Park scored a slight victory. They complained so much about the "stumpy little cement affairs so hopelessly inappropriate" that they were permitted to put up their own new lamp posts, to their own design.

BRIEFS FROM BRITAIN

ROYAL COMMISSION
LONDON (CP)—Murals of the Coronation in Westminster Abbey and the procession through London have been hung in a corridor in Buckingham Palace. They were painted by Feliks Topolski, who was commissioned by the Duke of Edinburgh.

UNUSUAL PLEDGE
GLASGOW (CP)—A section of workers in Clyde shipyards have given their pledge not to strike for two years. The pledge came from 137 welders who have just been given a pay increase after a nine-week strike.

YOUNG TALENT
LONDON (CP)—The Philharmonic Concert Society is to stage a nation-wide competition to find talented young conductors. The four best will conduct the Philharmonic Orchestra at the Festival Hall next year.

MYSTERIOUS HALT
LONDON (CP)—Five times in a month the Reading-to-London evening train came to a halt halfway along the line. Now the mystery is solved. Rush-hour crowds weighted down the front car so much the automatic stopping device touched the rails and applied the brakes.

SUNDAY PUBBING
CARDIFF (CP)—The Lord's Day Observance Society is to oppose the government's proposal to allow Welsh pubs to stay open Sundays. The Society says it would lead to further exploitation of the Sabbath.

HANDY DEVICE
LONDON (CP)—The new liner Orleana has closed-circuit television to keep a watchful eye on sleeping children while parents are up on deck.

ANCIENT BATHS
BAKEWELL, England (CP)—The council of this Derbyshire town may reopen its ancient Roman baths because it can't afford £20,000 for a new swimming pool. The baths, built about 1,500 years ago, now are being used for storage.

DOG'S DAYS
LONDON (CP)—The Tall Wagger, a magazine for dog-lovers, is printed in Barking, Essex.

RACE RELATIONS
LONDON (CP)—The Nuffield Foundation and the Ford Foundation have presented grants totalling £35,000 to the Institute of Race Relations. The money will be used for studies of race relations in the Caribbean and Latin America.

HEAVY RAINFALL
LONDON (CP)—Army units have been called in to help harvest this year's potato crop. Harvesting has been held up because of heavy rainfall.

DRINKING CHAMP
KIDDERSMINSTER, England (CP)—Bert Taylor, the Worcestershire beer-drinking champion, has challenged John Capes, the Suffolk champion, who recently downed 2½ pints in 85 seconds. Taylor's best time is 2¼ pints in 29 seconds.

OVERCROWDED CITIES
BIRMINGHAM, England (CP)—Alderman Harry Watton has asked the government to curb immigration to Britain because industrial cities are becoming overcrowded and health difficulties may arise. He says there are 100,000 immigrants in Birmingham, many living 30 to a house.

WOBBLY TEETH
COLCHESTER, England (CP)—A man told Essex health officials his new set of false teeth wobbled so much that he couldn't eat with the result that he lost 23 pounds. The cost of the teeth was refunded.

Cloth Rations Tightened In Red China

PEKING (Reuters) — Chinese citizens have been urged to "make-do and mend" their old clothing at a time when cloth rations are being tightened and cotton fields are reported to have been affected by natural disasters.

Newspaper editorials have appealed to tailors and dressmakers to use "advanced methods of cloth cutting and tailoring" to save cloth. Citizens have been urged to take care of their clothes and use them longer.

The basic Chinese cloth ration has, in effect, been reduced by adding to the list of goods which require coupons. For example, underwear and hats, not previously rationed, now are unobtainable without coupons. The sale of stockings, towels and other items is controlled.

Woolen goods and silks, expensive as they are to Chinese workers, are difficult to find. One foreign visitor who tried to purchase a silk shirt was told that stocks have been withdrawn "because they are not suitable for winter wear."

China has increased its production of cotton and other cloths but official sources say that there is still a shortage.

Floods, drought and insect pests over wide areas in the last year are expected to reduce the cotton as well as other crops.

Locusts, gloves, antcows and other insect pests were reported in large numbers in the cotton producing areas of Honan, Hopen, Shantung, the Yellow River valley, the Northeast (formerly known as Manchuria) and Inner Mongolia.

New Robot Will Tell Friend From Stranger

LONDON (AP) — A new robot that will be able to recognize friends from strangers is being fashioned by British scientists. They hope to make it able to talk in electronic squeaks, to see, read and write.

The machine will have an eye of 100 photoelectric cells. Its brain will have 4,000 cells. University of London researchers are trying to equip it with the ability to distinguish important problems from unimportant ones. They expect to have it operating in about a year.
