Asylum for Red Pirates Assured by Brazil Official

BELEM, Brazil (AP) — The Venezuelan freighter Anzoategui and its pro-Communist captors headed for Belem separately today, in Brazilian custody. The ship is on its way back to Venezuela and the men who seized her are being held in a political asylum in Brazil.

A foreign office spokesman predicted a asylum will be granted to the nine terrorists who seized the freighter at sea and sailed it to Brazil before surrendering. In Venezuela they would face trial and possible 10- to 15-year prison terms.

"There is no question but that this is a case purely of asylum," foreign office spokesman Jorge de sa Almeida told reporters. "Such asylum is a deeply embedded traditional right in Latin America."

Venezuelan diplomats reaffirmed their determination to extradite the daring opponents of President Romulo Betancourt. The final decision may have to come from Brazil's Supreme Court.

Brazilian officials took charge of the freighter and the terrorist band Wednesday at Macapa, a steaming jungle port on the north side of the Amazon Delta, 230 miles northwest of Belem.

Girls Battered With Hammer

TOOELE, Utah (AP) — Two Salt Lake City teenage girls were battered with a hammer and buried alive under desert brush Wednesday. Officers said a 19-year-old part-time dishwasher had admitted the crime.

Carol Annette Clayton and Drinda Jane Afters, both 18, were rescued after a companion, 19-year-old Tony Robertson, ran and walked 14 miles to the nearest telephone and got help. The girls were in hospital in critical condition.

Sheriff Faye Gillette said Rex Hintze of Salt Lake City admitted beating the girls after his car became stuck on a muddy road near the Great Salt Lake and the girls started walking toward home.

"He didn't seem to know why he did it," the sheriff said. "He just said he was mad at them for leaving."

Congo Mutiny Crushed By UN

ELISABETVILLE (Reuters) — UN Swedish troops have been sent to the Kapanza region in northeast Katanga where gendarmes have disarmed and imprisoned their officers and begun looting, a United Nations official said today.

He said the troops were going by road because the airstrip at Kapanza—which is near the border with Angola—is too small to take any UN plane.

He said looting and robbery broke out after the gendarmes complained they had not been paid.

THEFT OF MORE THAN $3 MILLION FROM ELDERLY WIDOW DISCLOSED

NEW YORK (AP) — Theft of more than $3,500,000 in stock certificates from an elderly widow's home was disclosed today.

An FBI spokesman said the theft occurred more than 11 months ago at the home of Theresa N. McSweeney in New Rochelle, N.Y.

Mrs. McSweeney is the widow of Henry McSweeney, a corporation lawyer who died in 1946.

The theft was at first reported a minor one. Information given New Rochelle police said two armed men broke into the McSweeney home on the night of Sept. 10, 1961, tied up the caretaker and made off with two gold vases, two men's wrist watches and cuff links.

Later Mrs. McSweeney notified the FBI that the securities also had been taken.

Police learned that a few days before the robbery, thieves had broken into another of Mrs. McSweeney's homes—at Atlantic City, N.J.—and had stolen jewelry including a necklace valued at $100,000.

West Reported To Be Split On Need For Berlin Talks

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Western allies are reported to be split on pursuing a new round of exploratory talks with Russia on Berlin.

While the United States takes the view that Soviet overtures for a fresh start should not be rebuffed, high diplomatic informants said Wednesday night, France remains opposed to another session with the Russians. Britain and West Germany, the sources said, are supporting the U.S. position.

Talks between the United States and Russia on the divided German city have been stalled since last spring. Earlier this month, the Russians proposed a new attempt be made to try to find a solution to the Berlin problem. The United States immediately consulted with its three allies. The consultations still are going on in Washington with Lewin Thompson, the state department's ambassador at large, presiding. The group also is discussing related matters such as military contingency planning, informants said.

Beyond the need to coordinate positions, informants said, a number of detailed questions have to be clarified, including who should talk to the Russians and where, and what approach should be made. There has been a suggestion that it would be appropriate to ask for some evidence of good faith from the Russians before sitting down with them again.

Court Told Accused Said: 'I Just Killed 2 Policemen'

MONTREAL (CP) — Mrs. Real Fournel, a Crown witness, testified today that Georges Marcotte, charged with capital murder, told her he had just killed two policemen.

Mrs. Fournel, 26, is the sister-in-law of Jean-Paul Fournel, the star Crown witness in the case who is also charged with capital murder in the slaying of the two constables in a bank holdup in suburban St. Laurent Dec. 14.

Mrs. Fournel said that on the day of the robbery she was called at her home about noon by Marcotte who had told her "something has happened to Jean-Paul, come immediately to his apartment."

She said she went to the apartment by taxi and Jules Reeves, a third man charged with capital murder in the case, opened the door for her.

She testified Fournel was not there but she saw Marcotte "with a machine-gun pointed towards me."

"I told him, 'who do you take me for?'"

"He said that he had just killed two."

"I felt stunned."

Mrs. Fournel said Marcotte showed her a travelling bag containing some money and pieces of glass and again told her: "I have just killed two policemen."

She quoted Marcotte as saying "There was one who got up again and grabbed his stomach—I was not going to allow him to run after us."

Galbraith Denies Accusation By Krishna Menon Supporters

NEW DELHI (AP) — United States Ambassador John Kenneth Galbraith has denied charges by backers of former defense minister V. K. Krishna Menon that the United States is trying to drag India into military alliances.

Galbraith told the Indian School of International Studies, Wednesday that the United States has "no interest in a military alliance and neither are we in the market for military bases in India."

The ambassador also commented on a statement by Prime Minister Nehru four days ago that India had not asked any country for an "air umbrella."

Emphasizing that India had asked for the current study of ways to defend India against any Red Chinese aerial attack, Galbraith declared:

"I have been firmly instructed to make clear to your government that even the act of exploring the problem—which with Britain, Canada and Australia we now are doing—does not constitute a commitment."

A Western defence plan is expected to emerge from the present study. It would involve rushing Western fighter planes to Indian airfields in the event of a Chinese attack in a revival of the Himalayan border dispute.

Nehru's remarks had raised questions whether the study was requested or was pressed upon India by the Western countries.

UK Jobless Rise To Most Since '47

LONDON (Reuters) — Unemployment in Britain rose to 878,356 this month, the highest level in 16 years, the labor ministry announced today.

The provisional figure for February was 63,257 more than that of January.

The ministry blamed severe weather conditions for the sharp rise in unemployment.

Ritchie Asks To See Rusk

Canadian Ambassador Charles Ritchie has requested an interview with State Secretary Rusk and Rusk has agreed to see him later today. This would be the first formal meeting between the two officials since the Canada-U.S. nuclear controversy blew up a parliamentary storm earlier this month.

Prime Minister Diefenbaker is scheduled to hold his official campaign kickoff for the April 8 general election in Winnipeg Monday, March 4.

Sir James Pilmsoil, Australian permanent representative at the United Nations, has been appointed high commissioner to India.

Perry Como says in New York he plans to do only "four or five or six shows next season." "I think I've had it," the television singing star said.

T. C. Douglas said Wednesday at Pitt Meadows, B.C., the April 8 federal election will be a referendum deciding "whether we want Canada to be a nuclear power or not."

Pierre Sevigny, a former minister in the Diefenbaker government, said Wednesday in Montreal he may announce next month that he will run as an independent candidate in Longueuil riding.

Minuteman Succeeds

CAPE CANAVERAL, Fla. (AP) — A Minuteman missile blasted out of an underground launching pit Wednesday night and raced 1,400 miles in a successful test of its guidance system.

The air force said although Minuteman is capable of reaching more than 5,000 miles, the rocket was aimed over the shorter course to provide an accurate assessment of guidance performance.

SHAKEDOWN CHARGE REBUTTED

VICTORIA (CP) — As vehemently as the opposition had called "shakedown" in the British Columbia legislature, Highway Minister Gagliardi Wednesday cried "smear."

The highways minister, speaking in the budget debate, accused the New Democratic Party of adopting a policy of "smear" and attempting to "disintegrate the most powerful government in British Columbia's history so that it can sneak in the back door."

He said the NDP in the first week of the current session had attempted to present an image of state-municipal and responsible thinking.

"But they found themselves losing out, because you can't fake things," he said.

NAME THEM
He challenged the opposition to name any government official responsible for any dishonest or corrupt action in the handling of highways contracts. Mr. Gagliardi was followed by Alex Macdonald (NDP)—Vancouver East) who said Elmer Gunderson, former Social Credit

JFK Orders Forces To Act In Preventing Recurrence

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Kennedy ordered the United States armed forces today "to take all necessary action to prevent a recurrence of Wednesday's rocket attack by Cuba-based MiG planes on an American shrimp boat."

Kennedy's action was announced by the White House, which attributed the attack in the Florida straits to "Cuban aircraft."

In a second announcement, the White House said the Soviet Union has told the U.S. government several thousand Soviet military personnel will be withdrawn from Cuba by the middle of March.

It said the Soviet personnel being withdrawn included those who had been involved with guarding the kinds of Soviet weapons that already have been removed from Cuba, and some military specialists who have been training Cuban military cadres.

"The United States government considers this action by the Soviet government a useful step in reduction of international tensions," the White House statement said.

STRONG PROTEST SENT
As for the shrimp boat incident, Press Secretary Pierre Salinger read to reporters a statement reporting that "a strong protest" against the firing of MiG rockets at the shrimp boat Ala has been sent to Havana via the Swiss government.

"The United States government will expect a full explanation from Cuba," the statement said.

Swiss channels were used to forward the note because the U.S. does not maintain diplomatic relations with Cuba.

The key sentence in the White House statement read: "Orders have been given to the armed forces to take all necessary action against any repetition of such an attack."

Incident Seen As Likely Result Of Action Against Pirate Ship

The MiG-shrimp boat incident occurred Wednesday but was disclosed by the Pentagon only this morning. The defence department said two MiGs flew by the shrimp boat Ala and fired rockets but did not hit it.

The presence of the MiGs had been detected earlier by radar and U.S. planes from Florida, dispatched to the area, saw the rocket firing.

A Pentagon spokesman said the Ala was in international waters, 60 miles north of the Cuban mainland.

TANKER SUNK?
The MiG assault raised the question in speculation here as to whether the shrimp boat incident might afford some clue to the mysterious fate of the tanker Sulphur Queen, which vanished Feb. 2 on a voyage between Beaumont, Tex., and Norfolk, Va. The tanker was carrying 15,000 tons of molten sulphur. Ships searching for the vessel Wednesday found float-sam lettered "Sulphur Queen."

However, a defence department spokesman said he was not aware of any evidence that the Sulphur Queen had been attacked.

The reason for the MiG rocket firing on the shrimp boat was not clear, but some officials thought it might be related to the fact that U.S. aircraft a few days ago fired rockets across the bow of the Venezuelan freighter Anzoategui after she had been seized by a Communist revolutionary group and while she was being taken to Brazil.

USAF Jet Bomber Crashes; All 4 Of Crew Thought Dead

SPRINGFIELD, Minn. (AP) — A United States Air Force jet bomber crashed and disintegrated in a southern Minnesota farm field Wednesday, apparently killing all four crew members.

Only three bodies were found, all tangled in parachutes; the men may have tried to use when the B-27 ran into trouble on a practice bombing run. Officers said one man may have been aboard when the craft rammed the ground.

The plane hit on the Carl O. Renburg farm between Springfield and Comfrey, about 100 miles southwest of Minneapolis.

The B-47 apparently was on a training mission to a radar bomb scoring site at Heron Lake, near Worthington, Minn.

All four crew members were based at Lincoln, Neb. The Air Force identified them as Capt. Donald L. Livingston, 31; Lt.-Col. Lamar E. Ledbetter, 41; Lieut. Thomas J. Hallgarten, 22; and Lieut. Michael R. Rehmann, 23.

such charges were made by the NDP in trying to shift attention from their own actions. (Continued on page 2) (See GAGLIARDI)

Mr. Macdonald said Mr. Gunderson could not serve two masters and—as he was connected with the government through the Crown agencies which had control of letting large contracts—he should drop such connections.

The NDP member said Mr. Gunderson is connected with the H.C. Free Enterprise Education Fund which he said is a Social Credit campaign fund.

MADE CHARGE
The charge of "shakedown" was made in the legislature Tuesday by Arthur Turner (NDP)—Vancouver East) and said the education fund, formed in 1951 by three cabinet ministers, was a campaign fund for the Social Credit government and had collected money by shaking down business men.

Mr. Gagliardi said Wednesday

1,000 Children Collapse Waiting to See Royal Pair

ADELAIDE (Reuters)—More than 1,000 school children collapsed from heat exhaustion today while waiting to greet the Queen and Prince Philip under a scorching South Australian sun.

A senior ambulance official estimated that was the total number of children treated by two gasteries where the couple was greeted by some 90,000 school children.

"It will be at least two days before we know the full toll," the official said.

Temperatures soaring to nearly 90 degrees claimed the first casualties among 11,000 school children assembled to greet the royal couple at Hadley Reserve, near Elizabeth—a new town 11 miles north of Adelaide named after the Queen.

Later, ambulance workers were again busy at Victoria Park Racecourse, where the couple was welcomed by a crowd of between 10,000 and 20,000 children.

On the third day of their visit to South Australia, the Queen and Prince Philip drove to Woodside Green, a small park in the centre of Elizabeth, where most of the population was gathered to greet the Queen.

The Queen unveiled a fountain commemorating her permission to name the town after her.

When she turned a tap to start the fountain, a stream of water gushed into the pool, and Philip turned to photographers and said: "I didn't even touch it."

This was apparently a reference to an incident in Britain in which he was reported to have sprayed photographers with a hose.

Nearly 20,000 persons on a public holiday Wednesday turned out to greet the couple when they drove nearly 20 miles in an open car through Adelaide.

But the newspaper Melbourne Age sounded a sour note by charging that guests at a garden party in Adelaide "behaved like mad dogs."

The paper said milling pushing guests turned the select party into a shambles in an attempt to get near the Queen. Observers said later that intensity rivalry may have led Melbourne to exaggerate Adelaide behaviour.

BC BRIEFLY Dam Under Inspection

VANCOUVER (CP)—B.C. Hydro engineers will make a "routine inspection" of the three-year-old Mission Dam on the Bridge River in March, it was announced Wednesday.

G. F. Green, manager of Hydro's production division, said crews "will be checking the general condition of dam sections normally underwater, with particular attention to repairs made last spring." During a similar check last year a settlement was found in one section of the dam.

MEMBERSHIP UP

Much of the increase was credited to the opening of a new club in Fraservale.

GAGLARDI "SMears"

He quoted former national CCF House leader Hazel Argue, who fled the party to the Liberals, as saying that 80 to 90 per cent of the NDP's funds came from unions, many controlled in the United States.

"Here we have labor laws to protect union dues from being pilfered by political parties. The only way a contractor can get a highway contract in B.C. is by submitting the low bid and proof that he can handle the job."

FREE RIDES
In other developments Wednesday, Liberal leader Ray Perrault asked the government to comment to the hydro authority that free transportation be afforded pensioners during blackouts. He mentioned old age and blind pensioners and recipients of disabled persons allowances in his notice, placed on the House order paper.

Don Robinson (SC-Liberal) said a slide area on the Lillooet highway is hurting the tourist business in the Lillooet area. It was scaring tourists from the region.

He said also he was "doggone mortified" by a suggestion that the PGE be sold to finance education in the province. When it was pointed out the idea came from Dan Campbell (SC-COPEX) who sits next to him, Mr. Robinson said:

"He doesn't know anything." Mr. Robinson is a fireman on the PGE.

CRITICIZES PEACE
Mr. Macdonald, veering from his attack on Mr. Gundersen, took on the Peace River power project, calling it a "financial monstrosity" and stating "today's taxpayers and consumers should not have to lay out capital cost to bring electricity on the line for generations to come."

He said the government had "pulled the rug out" from under the Columbia River negotiations a project he said would have preceded the Peace River project.

He and Camille Mather (NDP-Delta) linked up to support earlier proposals by Social Crediter Cyril Sheilder of Ontario that an investigation into the operations of oil companies in B.C. be held.

Mrs. Mather also said B.C. "pays through the nose" for private medical insurance and stated she would rather pay taxes in Saskatchewan for a medicare plan that covers everyone than pay present high premiums of private B.C. plans which leave, she said, 25 per cent of the people not covered.

South Viet Nam Troops Make Inroads on D-Zone

SAIGON (AP)—For the first time in their four-year war against the Communist Viet Cong, President Ngo Dinh Diem's troops appear to have made real inroads into the Communist area known as D Zone.

During the last week, South Viet Nam companies have been operating close to Viet Cong bases in the jungle area north of Saigon. They have wrecked Communist installations, destroyed ammunition and supplies and forced the guerrillas to keep moving.

Contact with the guerrillas has been light, although the government claims more than 30 of the enemy died in the operation. The government also claims its troops have turned up a large electric generator, an arsenal of heavy weapons and tons of ammunition.

The troops also ran across an evacuated 200-bed enemy field hospital. Psychological warfare teams ordered the troops not to destroy the structure.

Several thousand Vietnamese are operating in the 50-mile-long jungle tracts. More clashes are expected.

Penetration of D Zone is an important psychological step for Saigon's forces. The area is shown on Communist maps as a "liberated zone" in which Viet Cong forces can operate with complete safety.

The main centre of Viet Cong strength and its co-ordinating headquarters are believed to be somewhere in D Zone.

The Saigon government created a special command several months ago to coordinate military activity in the area. U.S. advisers believe the effort is beginning to pay off.

Cigarette Advertising Under Fire

PENTICTON — Legislation to prohibit or control cigarette advertising was suggested by Dr. D. A. Clarke, medical health officer, at a meeting of the South Okanagan Health Unit held Wednesday at the Penticton Health Unit office.

Dr. Clarke, in making the suggestion, said this "subtle advertising" is leading to increasing cigarette addiction in 25 to 50 per cent of high school students.

He said a survey taken in Calgary showed among high school students there 24 per cent of the boys and 33 per cent of the girls were regular smokers.

It appears children "are well motivated to smoking" and a key factor is if both parents smoke. He said it was found children between the ages of 12 and 16 smoked with the average starting at about 14 and 15 years.

Board members said during Health Week, starting April 1, the unit should conduct a survey among all high schools to determine the extent of smoking here among students.

In regard to pollution, it was suggested by a member of the board that he would not like to see "too much publicity on pollution of Okanagan lakes", as this is not good for the area as a whole.

He said more could be done if the people were told how to prevent polluting waters through better and more planning.

Commenting on other proposals, Dr. Clarke said the board should adopt a dynamic public health education and research to inform the public of rapid scientific medical advances and to expose common myths re vitamins, nutrition facts and drugs.

He added this could be achieved through a proper Public Health Museum.

Dr. Clarke called for continued interest and leadership by health boards and municipal representatives in the operation of health, hospital and welfare service, in his annual report.

Peachland Council Meeting Discusses Variety Of Business

PEACHLAND—W. MacKenzie attended the last meeting of the municipal council and offered to sell a piece of his property, approximately 15 feet by 110 feet, which was required by the municipality for the purpose of widening Princeton Ave. for the sum of $150. The municipality to replace the fence and the existing gravity water line.

Mr. MacKenzie expressed the desire to purchase lots 8, 9, 10 and 11 of D.L. 1274, for the purpose of grazing cattle, and agreed on a price of $10 per acre, 10 per cent down, payment and balance in equal payments over a period of five years at 6 per cent interest, might be arranged.

Edgar Bradbury also attended Council expressing the desire to purchase lots 1, 2, 3, and 4 of D.L. 1274 and 18 of D.L. 2535, the same terms applied as in the case of Mr. MacKenzie.

Weather Ideal In Rogers Pass

Figures released by the department of highways in Revelstoke show that the period of Feb. 10 to 16 there were a total of 2,174 cars, trucks and buses using the Rogers Pass route. Figures also show that 4,886 people travelled the route.

The weather during this period was ideal with temperatures ranging as high as 41 degrees. There was only one traffic delay reported for the same period. This was caused when severe ice conditions existed on Feb. 11, the road was closed for three hours at that time.

There was a total of four inches of snowfall during the week bringing the seasons total to 304.5 inches.

Although mild weather has bared the highway in spots, winter tires and chains are still required due to icy roads or sudden winter storms.

Motorists are urged to ensure they have adequate gasoline supply for the trip between Revelstoke and Golden, because there are no service stations between these points.

Roads Show Frost Heaves

Motorists are asked to watch for frost heaves that are now starting to break up roads throughout the interior of B.C. The Department of Highways advise that these potholes could be dangerous if drivers do not use caution when driving over them.

Allison Pass—Mostly bare, watch for some frost heaves.

Princeton—Watch for fog banks, road bare, but watch for frost heaves and morning frost.

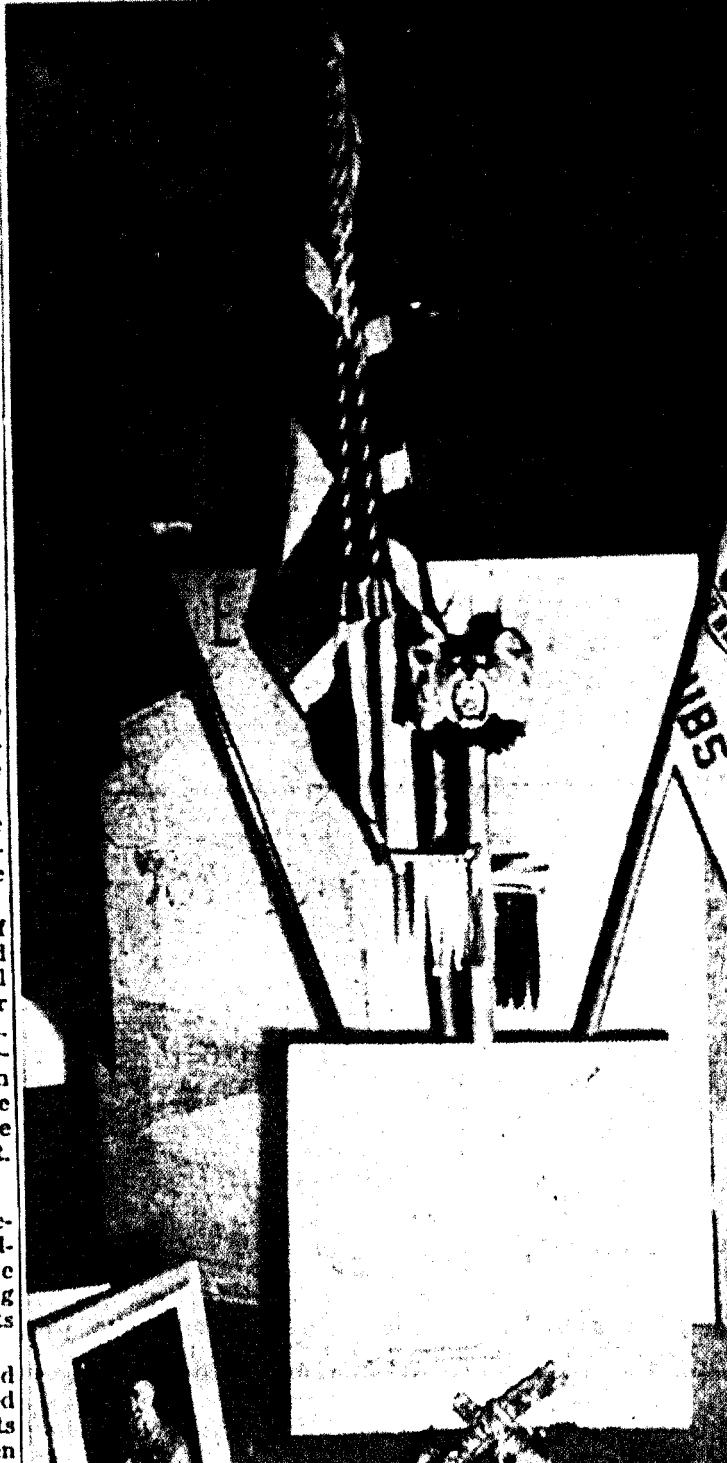

Rogers Pass—Bare sections at either end with compact snow at summit, watch for plowing and sanding. Winter tires and chains must be carried.

Revelstoke—Mostly bare, watch for rolling rock and frost spots.

Kamloops—Bare, but watch for frost sections in morning.

Fraser Canyon—Foggy areas, road bare, but rough sections in construction area. Road closure between Yale and Boston Bar Friday from 8:30 a.m. to 4:30 p.m., due to blasting. Single lane traffic in effect for valley bridge.

Cariboo—Foggy patches, road mostly bare with some frost sections, sanding where necessary.

George Yetter, treasurer for the 3rd Scout and Cub Group, explains to Mrs. Emma Hanting some of the symbols of Scout Week, special activities are planned to help celebrate and publicize the work that boys, aged 12 to 21, take an active part in learning to become better citizens of the community and country. Heart Disease Still Leads As Biggest Killer in Area

PENTICTON — There were 1,283 births and 532 deaths within the boundaries of the South Okanagan Union Board of Health according to statistics released Wednesday at a meeting of the board in the Penticton Health Office.

The birth rate of 21.3 per 1,000 compares with 23.2 for the province as a whole. There were 15 stillbirths, 34 infant deaths and 64 illegitimate births.

The leading cause of death still remains heart disease which accounted for 41.5 per cent of deaths. Other percentages include cancer, 17 per cent; cerebral vascular, 12, and infant deaths, 6.4 per cent.

Sixty-five percent of deaths were under 62 percent were persons over 70 years of age and 15 percent over 80 years.

Hospital admissions totalled 11,790 and the average stay was 9.2 days. Hospitalization costs, at $20 per day was $2,200,000. There are 63 physicians practicing in the Okanagan for a ratio of one doctor for every 955 people.

Sixty-four patients were admitted to the Crease Clinic of Provincial Mental Hospital for an admission rate of 1.06 per 1,000 population. The six year admission rate is 1.21.

Medical officer of health, Dr. D. A. Clarke, said there has been a marked improvement in the number of accidental deaths. There were 15 recorded last year compared to 31 in 1961.

Motor vehicle accidents, numbering 875, were up five percent but the number of injuries were down 10 percent. There were 11 deaths attributed to accidents, down 64 percent from the previous year.

Vehicle damage totalled $373,000 and insurance costs $1,200,000. Dr. Clarke said sent belts are becoming "more fashionable" in the Okanagan with several hundred installed last year in Kelowna and Penticton. Under Indian Health Services, the records show there were 603 Indians on four Reserves receiving nursing care; 175 admissions and 147 patient days, and that 28.3 percent of admissions involved children in the one to four year old age group.

Dr. Clarke said there was a low incidence of childhood illness in the past year. There were 52 children with rheumatic fever; 23 cases and carriers of Salmonella diagnosed; 37,255 persons immunized with oral Sabin polio vaccine; and 23,000 surveyed during "Operation Doorstep."

There were 336 school accidents with 40 per cent happening on school grounds, most of them during unsupervised periods of play.

GIRL INJURED

A Kelowna girl was injured at the Junior hockey game Tuesday in Kelowna following the exuberance of the fans after the last goal was scored with eight seconds left in the game. Carol Stoh, 150 Wilson Ave., was taken to Kelowna General Hospital and is in satisfactory condition today suffering from bruises and shock after being knocked down by a number of fans. The incident occurred when a fan who had stood up to cheer lost his balance and fell forward. This caused a number of people to fall and bump into Mrs. Stoh, who was at the bottom.

Brotherhood Week Marked At Rutland

RUTLAND — The Rutland United Church A.O.T.S. Club observed "Brotherhood Week" with a special supper meeting in the church basement hall on Tuesday and attended by representatives from the men's groups of all the church organizations in the district.

Men from the Roman Catholic Anglican, Seventh Day Adventist and Pentecostal churches were in attendance, at the first meeting of its kind in Rutland.

Presiding was Ronald Angus, president of the A.O.T.S., who welcomed the guests on behalf of the United Church group, and the very excellent supper was served by the ladies of the Square Unit of the U.C.W.

Special guest speaker was Magistrate Don White of Kelowna, who in a short address, outlined the growth of the idea of brotherhood of man, over the centuries, and linked it with the amelioration of justice, from the severity of the past, to the greater concept of fair trial, even for our enemies. The growth of the Council of Christians and Jews, and the progress made in tolerance as between races and religions.

The speaker was thanked by the chairman, and Rev. Arthur Mundy thanked the representatives of the various churches for their attendance, and expressed the hope that the idea could be continued in the future, at the other churches.

There was a short song period, led by Kelly Sinter, and after the meeting was dismissed, most of the men remained behind for a get-acquainted period.

Seat Belts Should Be Mandatory Says Medical Health Officer

PENTICTON — Installation of seat belts "should be mandatory" in all new vehicles sold in British Columbia, Dr. D. A. Clarke, medical health officer, told a meeting of the South Okanagan Union Board of Health Wednesday.

In recommending future needs of the Unit, Dr. Clarke said all automobile manufacturers selling cars in this province should be forced to comply with this regulation, similar to the regulations in California.

In other suggestions, the Medical Health Officer said all drivers of vehicles involved in a

Expansion Of Health Unit Week Proposed By Area Medical Officer

PENTICTON — More professionally trained staff and expansion of work by the Health Unit was proposed by Dr. D. A. Clarke, medical officer of health, at a meeting here of the South Okanagan Union Board of Health Wednesday.

Future needs of the unit, according to Dr. Clarke, include: Admission of patients with mental illness to acute general hospitals.

Additional professional workers for the Okanagan Mental Health Clinic including a speech therapist.

Resident psychiatrist for Penticton.

Integration of mental and public health service throughout the area.

A community planning area for the Okanagan Valley with a professional planning staff.

Active co-operation of public and industry to safeguard natural land and water resources and to ensure development for all people.

Additional sanitarian to carry out surveys and research.

Adequate testing equipment in the field to detect and record known or possible pollutants.

Chlorination of all surface domestic water supplies.

Long range sewage treatment facilities for the six municipalities not served now.

Fluoridation of all municipal water supplies (Kelowna has completed five years of fluoridation).

And, compulsory meat and poultry inspection with slaughterhouse facilities meeting provincial standards.

In his annual report, Dr. Clarke said the Unit now has a staff of 41 people supplemented by five school medical consultants and 11 dentists.

Cost to operate the Unit in 1962 was $182,787, an increase of 13 per cent over the previous year. He said this was an investment of $2.86 per capita in the prevention of disease and disability and contrasts sharply with the cost of hospitalization for the Unit area in 1962 of $2,200,000 or 36.40 dollars per capita.

The Unit cost was shared on a per capita basis in 1962 with the municipalities paying 30 cents; federal, 40 cents and provincial government, $2.03.

Dr. Clarke said Salmonella is an increasing problem in British Columbia with more than 500 cases each year. This is in contrast to only 27 cases reported in 1942.

He said the Unit welcomed an announcement that a study, to be held over a three year period, will search for reservoirs and vehicles of human Salmonella infection.

He added that the challenge the study presents is one of the major ones facing public health in the 20th century.

Prospects For Crop Irrigation Said Poor After Mild Winter

The Horticultural Branch of the Department of Agriculture in Kelowna report that water prospects for irrigation requirements for this year's crops in the valley are not good due to unusual mild winter weather with little precipitation.

At the present time the snowfall has been inadequate to supply the much needed water that will be needed to irrigate thousands of acres under cultivation in the Okanagan.

Some tree fruit crops, such as apples in the Okanagan and Similkameen valleys have considerable bud damage, with the heaviest damage reported in the Wenatchee Moorpark variety.

Choir Concert Well Attended

A musical concert staged by the Kelowna Men's Choir and guest artists, the Junior High School Boy's choir and pianist, Miss Wilma Dohler, was terminated successfully by more than 475 people who attended the concert at the Community Theatre Wednesday night.

Choralmaster Tom Austen was pleased with the performance and said later the acoustics helped greatly with the sound effects of many of the pieces played.

"The last concert presented by the choir, was held in the High School gymnasium, and although it was well received, the hall was far from ideal for musical productions," said Mr. Austen.

Political Stakes High In Venezuela Trouble

It was not by mere chance that President Kennedy was enthusiastic in his welcome to Washington of President Romulo Betancourt of Venezuela. The U.S. president was making it plain that his country gives backing to a leader which it regards as exemplifying the democratic movement in Latin America.

The welcome came after the hijacking of a Venezuelan ship by communists and in the midst of communist-inspired riots in the South American country. These were attempts to becloud the visit of the Venezuelan president to the United States.

This year of 1963 is the year of decision in Venezuela. President Betancourt, who was elected by the people after a civilian-military coup in 1958, has set a Venezuelan record for an elected president. He has been in office four years. But this year he must retire, under the constitutional provisions he helped to write. And there is no strong, democratic leader to follow him.

The communists do not expect to win the election. They have no foothold in organized labor in Venezuela; and the army, observing what happened to the regular army in Cuba, wants no part of them. But the communists have charted their way to power. Their plan is to throw the country into such chaos that the military will have to seize the government. Under a military dictatorship, the communists have learned, they are in a much better position to get the people on their side in a successful revolution.

Whether the bombings, assassinations, piracy and riots are directed from Moscow or Havana is immaterial. President Betancourt, the leading democratic statesman of South America, is on the hottest seat imaginable. If he is forced to suspend the constitution and cancel the election, the communists will get help from Venezuelans bitter against any dictatorship in overthrowing him. If his government fails to function amid violence raised by the Reds, a military dictatorship may result. Either way, the communists expect to gain in the end.

But Betancourt is a strong man. If he can weather the storm and turn over the government to another president elected by the people, history will be made in Venezuela and the forces of reason and democratic government throughout Latin America will be strengthened.

Canadian Lumber In U.S.

The Canadian lumber industry has been given a reprieve at least in its fight to retain its market in the United States. Commenting upon the decision of the U.S. Tariff Commission, the Portland Oregonian said:

The U.S. lumber industry never had much of a chance of obtaining government restrictions on Canadian lumber imports. Such quotas violate the free-trade policy President Kennedy urges and preceding administrations supported. And, besides, Canada buys much more of all goods from the United States than we buy from her.

If the U.S. Tariff Commission had not rejected the request for lumber quotas on the ground it was not proved increasing imports were caused in major part by past tariff concessions, chances are some other reason would have been found.

The U.S. lumbermen's best hope for relief from serious Canadian competition now lies with Congress. A bill already introduced would require all FHA-financed construction projects use U.S.-made lumber. Whether this is sound legislation may be open to argument. But there are restrictions, placed by law or regulation, on American lumber, such as the Jones Act and perhaps too-extreme requirements for investments in harvesting government timber, which could be eased. The Jones Act was modified slightly by Congress last year to permit shipping lumber to Puerto Rico in foreign vessels. If shipping to Atlantic Coast ports could also be by other than American flag ships, a considerable advantage now held by Canadian tide-water mills would vanish.

Of course, the U.S. industry is not of one mind as to what form relief should take. Small Northwest mills that ship by rail and sell in transit wish reinstatement of freehold privileges on railroads which were abolished recently after 80 years. This freehold was for 15 days. Last week, the Western Railroad Traffic Association denied a compromise proposal, that a hold time of five days, with seven additional days at $3 a day, be granted. Canada dropped its 15-day freehold under pressure last year. But officials of the Western Lumber Marketing Association contend this did not put small western lumbermen back in a competitive position with Canadians. Lumber from many Canadian origins remains more attractive to American buyers, they say.

Large mills, which have their own distribution facilities, are opposed to freeholds, which permit their smaller competitors to use freight cars for storage. There are also many differences of opinion between western and southern producers.

What the lumber industry needs most of all is a boom in home building. If there were brisk demand for lumber, there would be little worry about Canadian competition. Even now some operators are doing well, as annual reports prove.

One can expect continued pressure on Congress for needed remedial legislation, more squabbling among the various segments of the industry itself and continued concentration of lumbering into large, integrated plants better equipped to achieve full utilization of the log.

In Passing

If the average man were to klick the person responsible for most of his troubles, he would have to do so with his heels.

The survival of the human race may well depend upon another race—the nuclear weapons, rockets and missiles race among nations.

Smiling Auto Dealers Hope For Top Trade Again In '63

By THE CANADIAN PRESS

Canadian automobile manufacturers, still smiling with satisfaction after their best year ever, are looking for big things again in 1963 although the industry generally is hesitant about predicting another record breaker.

Canadians are in a "car-buying mood," says E. H. Walker, who doubles as president of the Canadian Automobile Chamber of Commerce and General Motors of Canada Ltd.

And his prediction of continuing prosperity is supported by the comments of dealers in all parts of the country handling

North American models, a Cross-Canada Survey by The Canadian Press shows.

In 1962 sales of passenger cars for the first time surpassed half a million, based on preliminary estimates. And while this alone was reason for satisfaction, there were factors of even greater significance to Canadian car-makers.

They found a growing preference among buyers for bigger, roomier cars and expect this to continue in 1963. The so-called compacts, introduced several years ago to meet the competition from the smaller European imports, held fairly steady

Sales of cars from overseas, however, were hard hit.

Final figures are expected to show total sales of all cars in 1962 at about 501,000 compared with 437,310 in 1961. The total for European imports is estimated at 75,000, a sharp drop from the 101,197 in 1961. And with no significant increase in sales of compacts, the figures mean a standard-size and luxury North American model jumped by about 90,000 units during the year.

The 10-per-cent duty on imported cars and parts imposed last summer as part of Canada's economic austerity program was the chief reason for the drop in sales of European imports.

"The surcharge is adverse to our business," says H. J. Lucas, deputy managing director of the British Motor Corp. (Canada) Ltd. "What is 10 times worse is the impression in the consumer public mind that the surcharge is only temporary.

Therefore, they held back from buying until the announcement is made."

Brian Rootes, managing director of a family firm importing Humber, Hillman and Sunbeam cars from Britain, admits there was a need for temporary austerity measures but says Canada's economic situation now is improving and he can no longer see the need for the surcharges.

SEEK PRESTIGE

"Our sales here will come back," Mr. Rootes says, "though not to the level of several years ago."

LETTER TO EDITOR

WORKING WIVES

Everyone is talking about unemployment, well it's time to stop talking and do something about it. First of all where men are working wives should stay home and take care of their children unless she has to support the kids and herself.

In most places I see men and wives working. And they hire a baby sitter to care for her children. And so many healthy men out of work that could easily do that same work like women.

For instance in the packing-house or plywood millworkers instead they get a little handout from welfare. Maybe some people like handout, but most men like to make their own living. So ladies if your husband is making enough, stay home and give another guy a chance to live. You cannot take it with you.

OTTAWA REPORT

A Nuclear Secret

By PATRICK NICHOLSON

Canada should not become a nuclear power, Robert Thompson, leader of the Social Credit party, insisted at a pre-election press conference in Ottawa. By that he means that Canada should not arm itself with nuclear weapons capable of attacking another country. Man-kind's hopes for achieving nuclear disarmament, and hence mankind's aim to prevent suicide through nuclear war, would be reduced sharply by any addition to the few nations which now have an offensive nuclear capability.

But while he is sturdily opposed to Canada acquiring any offensive nuclear weapons, Mr. Thompson takes the honest and realistic view about the smaller short-range nuclear weapons which can only be used for defensive purposes. No ordinary Canadian citizen, no Canadian politician except some of those in the cabinet, know the secret details of western defence plans, and without that knowledge, nobody can say for sure whether we should or should not arm our defence forces with these nuclear weapons intended to ward off attack.

The nuclear controversy ranges around the Homburg missiles, which we are installing at North Bay, Ontario, and La Macaze, Quebec. These are intended to be equipped with small nuclear tips, and their purpose is to shoot down attacking enemy bombers. Their range is so short that they could not attack any target outside Ontario or Quebec anyhow.

COMMITTEE URGED

A Social Credit government, Mr. Thompson said, would set up a "non-partisan parliamentary defence committee", which would be told the facts and the secrets, and then could base its recommendation upon its thorough study of those details.

Liberal Leader L. B. Pearson has also proposed the creation of a parliamentary defence policy committee.

Prime Minister Diefenbaker on the other hand told Parliament that "never at any time has there been a committee set up in our country on defence policy. There can be committees of defence for the purpose of looking into questions of defence but not for the determination of policy, which must be the responsibility of the government."

That accurately represents the present practice. But many thinking people question whether this practice truly represents parliamentary government. On the contrary, it is government by secret. And it is in many parliamentary democracies, the prime minister is leading more and more to wield supreme and even sole power within his cabinet, the trend is towards "presidential government."

EFFICIENT BUT WRONG

In our Cold War against the communist bloc, we of the western democracies are handicapped by our more cumbersome and devious methods of governmental decision. In vivid contrast, the dictators enjoy the alacrity of instant government. To meet this handicap, the system of arbitrary decision by a prime minister is growing up, leading notably in Britain, as Professor Max Beloff points out, to a drift towards "presidential government."

Specifically to reverse this trend, political scientists are urging that the power of government be restored to parliament. One step in this direction would be to set up select committees of M.P.s of which relevant cabinet ministers should be members—to examine and recommend upon major fields of government activity. In studying defence, the special problem of the committee would be restored to parliament. But in general this development would be welcomed, ensuring more careful study, and permitting back-bench M.P.s to specialize and thus to build up their name by making a more effective contribution.

So Bob Thompson's proposal for an all-party defence committee reflects the serious thought and worry in many parliamentary circles, and deserves equally serious support.

TO YOUR GOOD HEALTH

Father's Sins Passed On

By JOSEPH G. MOLNER, M.D.

Dear Dr. Molner: When I entered the army in 1943 my blood showed a positive Kahn test. I took 800,000 units of penicillin and was O.K. Now it is positive again. Could this be hereditary? I know of no other way it could have happened.—J.A.L.

We usually give more than 800,000 units of penicillin for a complete treatment of syphilis, but the fact that your blood test became negative the first time is a good sign. It may be that you need further treatment.

It is also possible that you are one of those unfortunate people whose blood test won't change. It happens. But with proper evaluation of your case, and treatment if it is needed, you can at the same time be without any clinical indications of the disease. Enough of the germ is in the blood to make a test positive, but except for that you can be well, and not run a risk of passing the disease on to anyone else.

Incidentally several newer and more sensitive tests have been developed in the last 20 years, and can do a more accurate job, in difficult cases, than can the Kahn or Wasserman tests. However, those two tests are still very useful for most purposes.

As to whether your case is hereditary, I'd have no way of knowing, but what's the difference? Whether the disease is contracted as a result of heredity, or through the more usual way, it still should be treated until it no longer is a peril either to the patient or his family.

Dear Doctor: In it possible to get syphilis from a man who has had relations with a woman yet he does not have the disease himself?—MRS. B.J.

I have never known the disease to be passed on in that fashion. While I can imagine circumstances under which I suppose it COULD happen, they would be so extraordinary as to be scarcely believable.

The syphilis germ, you see, doesn't survive very long except in the human body. But in the human body—oh, how persistent it is. For a person to carry the germ for more than a very short time, gives it to someone else, yet not contract the disease himself would be quite unusual.

Dear Dr. Molner: Please discuss phlebotomy, where they bleed, how they spend, treatment, and whether a doctor's prescription is necessary?—MRS. R.S.C.

So many people have asked the same thing that I have written a booklet which covers all of those questions. Yes, a prescription is necessary for the modern and highly effective treatment now in use. Send 25 cents in coin and a long, un-stamped, self-addressed envelope for a copy of "The Commonest Pest-Phlebotomy." Address your request to Dr. Molner in care of this newspaper.

Dear Dr. Molner: Can one ever get cured of trench mouth?—M.M.

Certainly, but the quicker you get to your dentist, the sooner you'll be cured.

Dear Dr. Molner: Does diabetes affect one's nerves? Does it interfere with one's ability sexually?—L.M.M.

Yes, sometimes. There can be "diabetic neuritis" with pains and reduced sensations as well. Hence diabetics should be careful of hot water bags, electric pads and the like. They sometimes can burn themselves because they don't sense how hot the things really are.

A nervous involvement can occur, causing reduced sexual potential. It can also involve the intestinal tract, causing either diarrhea or severe constipation.

FACES OF WAR IN VIET NAM

A young montagnard mother seeking refuge from the war in Viet Nam holds her small children close at the airfield at Dalat in the central highlands, as one of her children eats some bread given them by U.S. aid personnel. They were among montagnard refugees who fled Communist Viet Cong terrorism and were airlifted by U.S. Army plans for resettlement in a valley about 30 miles northwest of Dalat. Montagnards are the primitive mountain people in Viet Nam.

Italian Designer Combines Burlap And Mink

FLORENCE, Italy (AP) — Lowly burlap has found a partner in luxurious mink at the Italian showings of spring and summer fashions.

Biki, a Milanese designer who made her debut Sunday night, put the burlap and mink together. She showed on the same bill at the Pitti Palace with Antonelli of Home.

The audience did a double take as Biki came up with fur-trimmed suits in unexpected fabrics—plique with ocelot, organza with sable and burlap with mink.

Biki's silhouette was based on a hipbone-long basque bodice with wide-spaced double-breasted buttoning. Skirts were straight and soft.

White organza, bound in black, was used in a wide-collared evening suit with a double-breasted basque jacket and a long full apron-front skirt.

FEATURES WIGS
Hottentot wigs were featured with Biki's evening clothes.

Antonelli put a leather rose bud signature on mannish long-jacket suits.

Turquoise teal and porcelain blue dominated her color palette.

Unpressed box pleats at skirt sides created more apron effects in the Antonelli collection. Some cocktail blacks had flat apron backs faced in contrasting colors.

Antonelli put great ruffled Berthas on her evening gowns. Best of all in the evening collection was a long straight evening suit in black-dotted white silk. The mannish jacket was double-breasted and had very wide revers.

ANN LANDERS

Dimples Can Be Made!

Dear Ann Landers: You recently said in your column you have never heard of dimples being produced surgically and that you got yours for a birthday present.

Well, yours may have been a gift but some women have to pay for theirs.

The dimple is a symbol of good luck. The poets of ancient China frequently associated this anatomical endowment with a pretty and happy face. The dimpled wife, they believed, brought contentment and good fortune to the family.

Many Malayan Chinese women insist that plastic surgeons create dimples in their faces. It has been done with considerable success.

I volunteer this information because I know you want to give your readers correct advice.—SINGAPORE

Dear Singapore: Thank you for the fine letter. I found the information fascinating. Dimples are rather nice to receive as a gift—but I certainly wouldn't go out and buy 'em.

Dear Ann Landers: The whining widow who wrote to you made me sick. She sits there with money in the bank, fat insurance, policies, a paid-for home, solicited relatives, and all she has to complain about is loneliness.

It's the divorcee not the widow who knows what real heartache is. How would she like my routine? I work at a newspaper from 7:30 a.m. until 4:00 p.m. After work I return to my dreary, shabby furnished apartment to scrub, cook, wash, iron, and mend clothes. I attend school conferences, listen to the children's problems, discipline, pray for and worry about three youngsters who are growing up without a father.

Occasionally I accept a date thinking "this one will be different." But it never is. I always end up feeling degraded because most men think a divorcee will say yet to anything as payment for a dinner or some dull conversation.
So please—tell the widow who signed herself "Akne" that divorcees are alone, too, but that they have a myriad of added problems which widows do not have.—TREADMILL

Dear Treadmill: Your letter has some merit, but not every widow has a fat insurance policy, money in the bank, and a paid-for home. And not every divorcee is living in a shabby apartment. Sometimes it's the alimony-busted husband who winds up in a rented room with naked light bulbs.

One thing is certain, however—the widow doesn't have a choice.

Dear Ann Landers: My problem is an older man. I'm 16 and Brad is 29. His parents think I'm 20 and my parents think he is 22. He's madly in love with me, but I'm not in love with him. The trouble is I don't have the heart to break up with him.

Brad knows how I feel but he doesn't care. He says love will come later. He has spent over $200 on me in the last two months, and his parents have bought me gifts, too. They think I'm the smartest and loveliest girl he has ever gone with. He wants to marry me next year when I graduate from high school.

Please don't think Brad is going with me for sex. I am very moral. Tell me what to do.—MISS NEWARK

Dear Miss Newark: People often ask me how I spot phony letters. Well, here is how I spotted yours.
No parent can possibly think a 20-year-old who is still in high school is "the smartest girl he ever went with." Now why don't you go do your homework?

SALON RETURNS
MONTREAL (CP)—Mrs. Abraham Harman, wife of the Israeli ambassador to the United States, said on a visit here that Mrs. Jacqueline Kennedy's influence is bringing about a return of the "salon" to Washington society. Diplomats now frequently entertain artists from their own countries at dinner parties.

GREAT FOR VERNON POSTIES

New to Vernon, and a boon to postal carriers, is this new letter carrier cart wheeled by postman Ed Spaychuk. The cart is in Vernon on an experimental basis, and if proved satisfactory, six more may be acquired by the post office in Vernon. It consists of two aluminum buckets with a snap lock on top. When the postman delivers mail to an apartment house or business block, the cart, naturally remains outside, but securely locked. They were designed for greater efficiency in mail handling to cut the expense on lumpy drops, and of course easier for the postman. Postie Spaychuk (Courier Photo).

DISEASE OF HEART, ARTERIES CHIEF OF OKANAGAN KILLERS

VERNON (Staff)—Of the five leading causes of death, disease of the heart and arteries occupied first in the Okanagan in 1962 with 149 deaths or 43.5 per cent. Second was disease of the nervous system with 48.

This was observed recently by Dr. Duncan Black, medical officer for the North Okanagan Health Unit. Other killer diseases in the Okanagan were cancer which was listed as third with 43 deaths during 1962; 50 per cent of which died from cancer of the digestive tract and about 20 per cent of the limb. Diseases of the respiratory system and violent or accidental deaths shared first place with 32 deaths or just more than nine per cent.

Eleven of the 32 accidental deaths in the Okanagan during 1962 were caused by motor vehicles which was similar to 1961 in statistics.

Growers Helped In War on Deer

OYAMA (Correspondent)—Fruit growers attending a recent BCFGA local meet here this week were told by chairman Ken Ellison that relief may be in sight in the long-fought battle to prevent deer from causing widespread damage to fruit trees on the east slopes.

Mr. Ellison reported to the well-attended meeting that the B.C. Game Department had approved plans to hold a series of deer control hunts to eliminate the offending animals. The first hunt will take place as soon as weather conditions permit and will be followed by more depending on the deer movement.

Commenting on the effect of the severe winter conditions in the Oyama area only will be eligible to join in the system, Mr. Ellison stated that the winter weather and the fact that the participating growers will carry special permits from the game department. The entire scheme will be under the direction of Vernon Conservation officer Allan Frisby. District horticulturist Mike Oswell of Vernon was the meeting's principal speaker. The 1963 tree fruit spray calendar was his topic and growers gleaned much information from the question period following.

SOME ECONOMIES
Mr. Oswell suggested that growers could effect some economies by carefully watching for the first signs of a build up of insects, and by taking immediate action to suppress them before their numbers built up to serious proportions.

U.S. Toll Tallied On Accidents

CHICAGO (AP)—The National Safety Council tallied today the death and economic toll in the United States from accidents in 1962 and found: Killed—66,500, a five-per-cent increase compared with 1961 and the highest toll since 1948 when the toll was 68,021. Disabling injuries—9,700,000, of which 200,000 resulted in some degree of permanent impairment. Economic cost—$15,300,000,000 a five-per-cent increase compared with 1961.

Contrasts of New Ghana Told by Student Here

VERNON (Staff)—A picture of a new nation surging forward with modernization while still retaining rites of its jungle past was described in Vernon Wednesday. Daniel Equakum from Sekondi, Ghana, was in Vernon for skiing—a sport new to him. He is training as a bridge-design engineer having completed post graduate studies at UBC in traffic engineering. Next month Mr. Equakum will work with Geert Jobansen, a resident engineer in Jasper National Park, at the end of March he will go to Banff public works department. About mid-April he will spend a short period in Glacier National Park on the Roger's Pass section of the Trans-Canada Highway, followed by three weeks in Calgary.

Then on to Whitehorse, Ottawa and back to Africa in July where he will head the road design section of the public works department at Accra, CANADA'S OFFER. Attractive 28-year-old Mr. Equakum has been in Canada since September, 1961. His university studies here were made possible by a Canadian scholarship "special Commonwealth African assistance," (similar to the Colombo plan). Canada offers approximately 100 scholarships to Ghana every year, he said. Though educated at the university of Ghana, he has a BSc from London, England. From the time of its inauguration in 1952, until last year when the Ghana university began offering its own degrees, it was affiliated with London's.

Ghana supplies half the world's cocoa—but the citizens dislike it, he said. Aluminum is a major industry—"the country is practically covered with bauxite." There is no heavy industry at present, but industrialization is expected to follow completion of the Volta Dam in 1965. The Volta River is Ghana's largest and runs from north to south. Electricity generated will supply power for the entire country—including a large smelter under construction by the Aluminum Company of Canada to develop Bauxite for both national and international markets.

VERNON VIEWPOINTS

Last week a 19-year-old youth appeared in a London, England court, charged with impaired driving.

In a city the size of London, the charge is not unusual and would not normally hit the front pages of the metropolitan dailies. But the front pages it did hit. The lad was not jailed, and only moderately fined, but the magistrate ruled he be forbidden to drive a motor vehicle anywhere in Great Britain for 50 years. Actually for the rest of his life.

A stiff penalty indeed, but a serious charge don't forget. An impaired driver is a potential murderer, and as such he should be treated accordingly by the judiciary.

Higher fines and longer suspensions have been advocated in British Columbia, and in most cases, including our own magistrates court, have been implemented. But we're still not in the same league with the English Courts.

THE IDEA FOR A shopping mall in Vernon is not new, but neither should the idea die. Penticon has its shopping Plaza, Kelowna, Shops Capri, and Vernon . . . well we've got tree-studded Barnard, the curse of every motorist but delight of tourists and residents—who don't drive for sure.

And what potential Barnard avenue has as a shoppers mall?

We certainly don't propose to tell engineers how they should route vehicular traffic so Vernon could produce one of the finest main streets in Canada . . . but it's been suggested by some that 32nd street, or Highway 97, remain (at least until a bypass is constructed), one or two cross streets remain, leaving the rest of Barnard, both east and west of Highway 97 free for the mall.

Sidewalk cafes would spring up—and frankly it's amazing some already haven't, blessed with Okanagan sunshine as we are there's little fear of being drenched by rain while dining—outdoor shopping or what have you.

The idea of a mall actually hit the planning stage under a chamber of commerce committee headed by A. K. Allen, or Allen-Huggins Architects. However as Mr. Allen tells it, it became evident that despite a majority of the committee favoring a mall and it would be in the greatest interest to the city, there was not strong support from the merchants on Barnard who would be most affected. Actually that's a pity . . . and they should reconsider.

NEW VENEER

But Ghana's age-old heritage shines through the new veneer. Ghanians love social events—especially dancing. "High life" is the national dance. With rolling black eyes and flashing white teeth, Mr. Equakum described how the "half a beat faster than combined calypso-samba" music draws the dancers into "an ecstasy of enjoyment."

"There are two types of high life," he said. "One is very slow—for the lovers. And there is a very fast one for the teenagers and agile people."

Every Tuesday the fetish practice grips southern Ghana, he said. Each city has its own priest who dances in the streets ahead of his drum-playing, chanting group. Tuesday is a holiday for fishermen and hunters as the fetish priest invokes the good graces of the gods in the trees and rivers, for another week.

In an unmistakably English accent, Mr. Equakum thinks Vernon is "like a charming English town." He says he loves skiing; and would love to cope back, but he laments he must sell his ski equipment before sport is unknown except in the movies.

AROUND VERNON

Local B.C. tree fruit director Tom Towgood told the meeting of some of the problems which the sales department had encountered in disposing of the 1962 crop. He indicated the steps which are being taken to make sure that several of the difficulties will not recur in the 1963 crop. The 1962 total acreage of just under five million boxes had now been reduced to about 1.25 million. The movement to date has been average, he said, but a few difficulties are foreseen in disposing of the rest of the crop.

Mr. Towgood stated that plans are being formulated to have the industry build controlled atmosphere storage for up to 15,000 boxes. Growers are to be kept informed of the plans as they develop.

BCFGA executive members John Kosty of Vernon and Allan Claridge of Oyama reported to the meeting on recent activities of the executive which covered a broad field of subjects. Mr. Claridge also outlines the reasons used by the pooling committee in their recent advances to packing houses. Due to marketing conditions it is not yet feasible for the committee to establish the yardstick of values.

Bob Davidson of Vernon, newly-elected director of Sun-Rype products, attended the meeting to report on the recent installation of the new centrifuge juice presses which are

Leafs Nip Canadiens 2-1, Bruins, Rangers Tie 3-3

By THE CANADIAN PRESS

That old coaching bromide, the lineup shuffle, has helped carry Toronto Maple Leafs into the runner-up spot in the National Hockey League.

To give his attack a little more oomph, manager-coach Punch Imlach made a couple of switches Wednesday night and came up with a 2-1 win over Montreal Canadiens.

But an injury to 30-goal scorer Frank Mahovlich rubbed some of the gloss from the victory.

The Big M was racked up by Montreal's Jean Gauthier in the second period and taken to hospital for treatment of what was diagnosed initially as a minor charleyhorse of the left leg.

In Wednesday's other NHL game, Boston Bruins salvaged a 3-3 saw-off with the Rangers in New York on a third-period goal by rookie Bob Leiter.

Chicago's league-leading Black Hawks and the Red Wings, idle Wednesday night, meet in Detroit.

In Toronto Wednesday night, the Leafs got both goals from Bob Fulford, shifted by Imlach to centre a line with Bob Nevin at right-wing and defenceman Carl Brewer moved up to left wing. Brewer dropped back to defence in later shuffles after Mahovlich was sidelined.

Dickie Moore was the Montreal producer. All goals came in the second period.

Fulford has played on left wing almost all of the current campaign. He now has 14 goals. The win gave Toronto 63 points, three shy of the Black Hawks. Montreal follows with 64 then Detroit with 59. The Rangers have 44 now and Boston 40.

Leiter scored at 15:34 of the final period, deflecting in a shot from the point by Doug Mohns. Wayne Hicks and Tommy Williams were the other Boston scorers. Camille Henry, Andy Bahgiate and Vic Hadfield counted for the Rangers. It was Hadfield's first goal of the season.

Hicks and Henry scored on power plays.

Murray-Oliver drew an assist on Williams' goal and pulled even with 11 men a tie Johnny Bucyk for the league lead in the point-scoring list. Both have 59. Bucyk was held pointless in the game.

Gump Worsley, in the New York goal had one of his easier nights with only 27 shots to handle. His mates hurled 39 at Ed Johnston.

Alberta Heavy Favorite Quebec Shares The Lead

GUELPH, Ont. (CP)—For something supposed to be a Western show, the Canadian schoolboy curling championships have taken on an Eastern flavor.

Going into today's gruelling three-round schedule, Alberta, with five wins in a row, was still a top-heavy favorite.

But a Quebec team from Montreal High School shared the lead after Wednesday's play.

The third-ranking rink was a foursome from Prince Edward Island which had won four games and lost one. Sharing fourth place with British Columbia was Nova Scotia, both with 4-2 records.

Quebec and Alberta won one game apiece Wednesday to remain unbeaten.

Alberta's Wayne Saboe blasted Newfoundland 10-4 in the fifth round. Quebec took New Brunswick 9-7 in the sixth.

COMPLIMENTS RINK
 Saskatchewan coach Roy Thiessen says the Montrealers are a solidly knit group.

If Quebec and Alberta keep up the pace in the 11-round, round-robin competition, they could provide a big windup in the event. They don't meet until the final draw Friday night.

Both clubs had three games scheduled today — Quebec against Ontario, Saskatchewan and Manitoba, and Alberta against British Columbia, Nova Scotia and Prince Edward Island.

British Columbia's rink from Salmon Arm won two extra-end games Wednesday and both losses hurt their opponents.

B.C. edged Saskatchewan 9-7 in an 11-ender in the fifth round to almost dash all hopes the defending champions had for the title. Salmon Arm's Peter Munro, at 15 the youngest skip in the event, downed Newfoundland, 10-4 in 11 ends.

LAST ROCK FATAL
 Newfoundland, winner of only one game in five years of national competition, has lost three games on the last rock this week. Saskatchewan beat Nova Scotia 10-6, Prince Edward Island scored in the final end to edge Manitoba 6-5 and tarto 11-9 in other sixth-round Northern Ontario stopped Ontagames.

In the fifth round, Northern Ontario beat New Brunswick 12-6, Prince Edward Island edged Ontario 7-5 and Nova Scotia took an 11-9 decision from Manitoba.

Following Nova Scotia and British Columbia going into today's action were Saskatchewan (2-3), Manitoba (2-4), Ontario (1-5), Newfoundland (0-5) and New Brunswick (0-6).

'63 Grey Cup At Vancouver

WINNIPEG (CP)—G. Sydney Halter, commissioner of the Canadian Football League, said today he has decided the 1963 Grey Cup game will be played in Vancouver Saturday, Nov. 30.

The decision was left to Mr. Halter after last week's annual meeting of the CFL in Hamilton.

He said, "They forgot to set the date then."

"I have circulated the clubs advising them of my decision and asking whether they have any dissenting opinions. I have not heard from any of them."

The last Grey Cup game held in Vancouver was in 1960 when Ottawa Rough Riders defeated Edmonton Eskimos for the Canadian professional championship.

own and district game warden by Art Pollard, vice-president of the Okoela Fish and Game Club.

Mrs. Ellis will retire a year from April and continue to live in Kelowna.

"Don has served this district as a game warden for the past 13 years and has done a terrific job, also has become a friend of all the sportsmen in the area, who will miss his guiding hand very much," said Art Pollard.

Game Warden Ellis was presented with a lifetime membership to the club by club president, Ken Nuyens on behalf of the Okoela Fish and Game Club for their appreciation of the work done by Don Ellis.

After accepting the membership, Mr. Ellis said, "I am very pleased and honored to receive this membership from the club and after my retirement I will stay in Kelowna and will be more than willing to assist any person to the best of my ability and hope people will feel free to call on me for advice any time."

Earl Carlson, taxidermist from Vernon who started taxidermy as hobby at the age of 13 mounting his own trophies collected by himself in the Falkland area where he lived before moving to Vernon where he started professionally three years ago displayed pieces of his work throughout the hall.

Mrs. Ruby Carlson set a display of unique rock collection of Okanagan and Fraser Valley rock findings.

After the dinner, President Ken Nuyens presented the A. G. Pollard trophy to Morris Whitehead with an entry of four points and a spread of 18 1/2 inches.

The Memorial Trophy presented annually to the member with the longest pheasant was won by two members, Art Pollard and Virgil Willcott. Willcott accepted the trophy.

Able Helps ended the night of festivities with an interesting film of wild-life of Canada's north country which he filmed a trip in the region.

Teddies Host BC Hoop Finals

The B.C. Senior "A" Women's basketball playoffs open tonight in the Kelowna Senior High School gym with the Meikle Okanagan Teddies Bears taking on the UBC Thunderettes for the provincial basketball crown.

The series will be a best of three affairs with the first game being played tonight and the second Friday and the third if necessary on Saturday.

While the Teddies have recorded one win over the UBC team this season in an exhibition game, the thunderettes are slight favorites in the current series. They take the regular "favored" roll because they have played in a regular league all season, while the Teddies have had to look for games wherever and whenever they could be obtained.

Teddies have kept sharp however, against boys high school teams, and finished off their training season last weekend with a resounding tour of the Kootenays, defeating Castlegar 84-33 on Saturday night and then whipped a Trail team 68-27 in a Sunday afternoon game.

The main game tonight will start at 8:30 p.m.

The preliminary will send Immaculata Dons against Lumby Timbermen at 7 o'clock.

Trail Edged 3-2 By Czech Team

PRAGUE (AP)—The Czechoslovak press today hailed the national team's 3-2 exhibition victory over Trail Smoke Eaters in Wednesday night's hockey game at Arno, but conceded that the Canadians were not playing their best.

According to the official Czech news agency CTK, the newspaper Lidova Demokradie calls the five Canadian defencemen "superb" but adds that their exuberance caused them to make unnecessary errors.

Seals Dump Canucks 4-2 Flyers Hang On With Tie

By THE CANADIAN PRESS

Three goals in less than five minutes sealed the fate of Vancouver Canucks Wednesday night as they went down 4-2 to the Seals in a Western Hockey League game at San Francisco.

The teams each scored once in the second. Dannt Belisle, scoring leader Nick Mickoski and Len Haley accounted for the third-period deluge.

In other action, Edmonton Flyers and Portland Buckaroos fought to a 4-4 overtime tie with the Buckaroos, Southern Division leaders.

Edmonton now has seven points ahead of Calgary Stampede in its battle for the third and last playoff berth in the Northern Division.

Norm Corcoran, Bo Elk, Don Chiz and Doug Messier scored for the Flyers. Bill Saunders, Doug Anderson, Tom McCarthy and Gord Fashway shared the Portland scoring.

GERMANS DISPLEASED
 BONN (Reuters)—West Germany may review its "friendly relations" with Ghana unless the government-controlled Ghanaian press ceases its "communist anti-German" campaign, a foreign ministry spokesman said Wednesday. The spokesman said West Germany also may be forced to review economic aid being given to Ghana if the campaign does not end.

New Building Being Occupied

Just completed on the corner of Ellis Street and Harvey Avenue is the modern new Harvey-Ellis Professional Building. Construction on the building was begun on Aug. 15 and completion was indicated by the moving in of two tenants last weekend. In the new building will be Dr. Melville Butler, Dr. Malcolm Leitch, Dr. Robert Emalle, Dr. Kenneth Geis, Dr. Harold Henderson, Hartley and Barnes, architects, Alberta Mortgage Exchange Ltd., and the branch office of Mutual Life Insurance.

The structure is of wood-glue laminated post and beam construction, outwardly finished with glass and stucco. Inside, the walls are plaster, and the floors linoleum-covered. The ceilings are of acoustic tile and air conditioning is installed throughout.

To be featured on the building, but not yet added, are solar sun screens to cover the glass portions of the building, keeping the interior cool and enhancing the general appearance of the building.

The total area is 6,875 square feet. The building is planned to accommodate five dental suites and four rental suites on the second floor, which is a distinctively different color scheme. Settees are built-in and fabric-covered, while other furnishings are of the standard modern office furniture.

The total cost of construction of the Harvey-Ellis Building was estimated at $107,000. The building is modern in construction and planning, with conveniences in accord with the accepted modern trend of the day.

It was reported that official opening will signify the commencement of business in the Harvey-Ellis Building. Two tenants occupy office space at present and others are scheduled to arrive within the month. Hartley and Barnes were the architects for the structure.

Lid Set To Blow In Spring In Mixed-up Haiti Republic

NEW YORK (AP)—The lid may blow off this spring in the confused Caribbean Negro republic of Haiti.

It is an explosive time, say reliable sources. U.S. military action may be needed to prevent a Castro-like regime from passing up on the island of his peaks only 50 miles across the strategic windward passage from Cuba.

Haiti, a turbulent dictatorship, shares Hispaniola with the Dominican Republic, itself freed recently from the Trujillo dictatorship.

Sources in touch with Port au Prince, the Haitian capital, speculate that President Francois Duvalier, dictator of the French-speaking nation of 4,000,000, will leave the country suddenly, before May, with the explanation he is seeking medical treatment abroad.

The informants add that if Dr. Duvalier decides to leave, he probably will turn the government reins over to his current interior minister, Luc F. Francois.

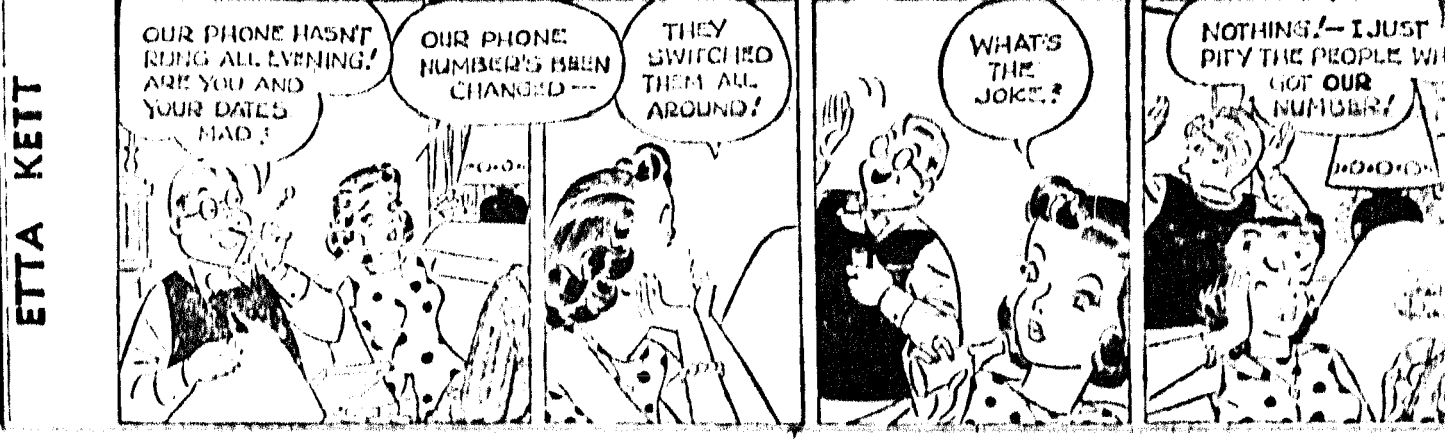

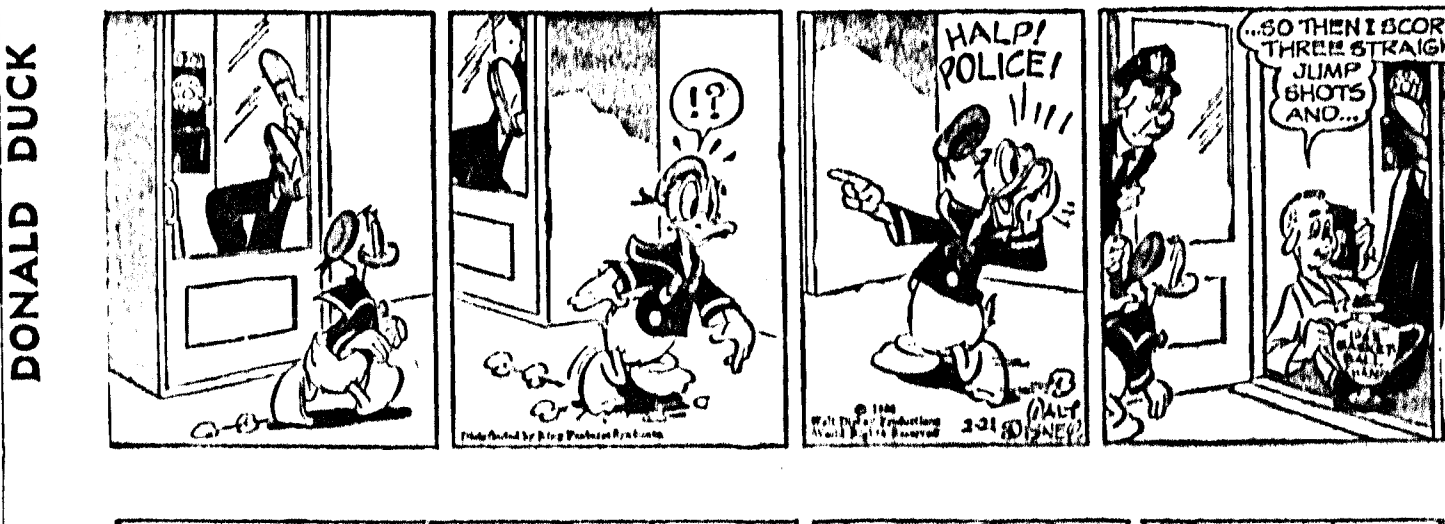

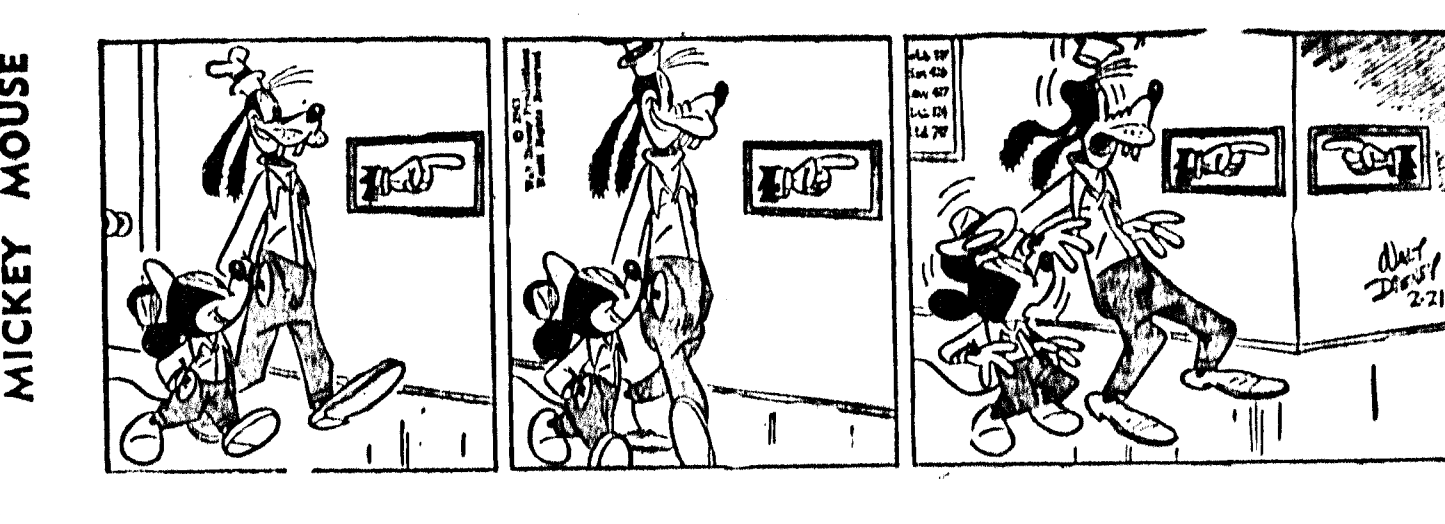

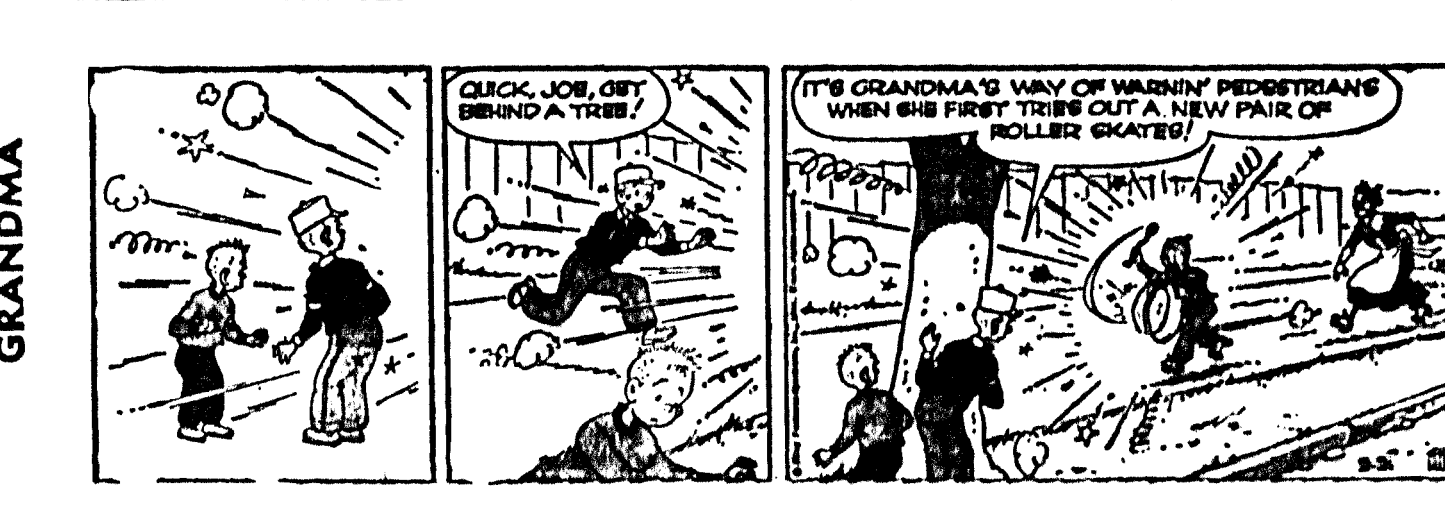

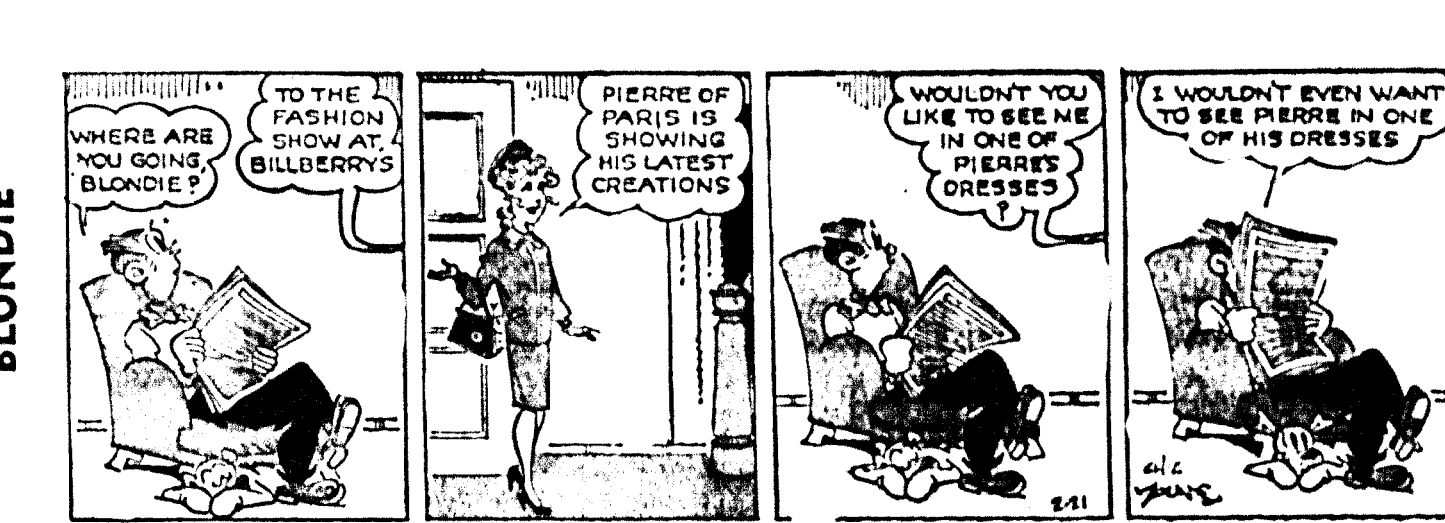

Survives Plots Duvalier, 55, a physician turned politician, has survived a dozen plots since taking office in 1957 after an election denounced by his opponents as fraudulent.

Now he likely averts disaster. A general student strike against the regime is in the offing. Duvalier's secret police and militia are reported cracking down with a wave of arrests.

Reliable informants said two students were shot dead in Port au Prince's streets Friday and that the capital is being flooded with anti-Duvalier handbills. The situation is described as extremely tense. Haitians in exile all around the hemisphere are reported on the alert for an upheaval.

Communists are among the student groups attempting to touch off violence and seize the leadership. Duvalier's sudden departure could leave the poverty-stricken nation, 90 per cent of whose people cannot read or write, on the edge of civil war.

Constituency Supports Harkness Nuclear Stand

CALGARY (CP)—Former defence minister Douglas Harkness Wednesday night received the support of his constituency association in a campaign for acquisition of nuclear weapons by Canada.

The former school teacher and army officer was not opposed when nominated Progressive Conservative candidate for Calgary North constituency in the April 8 federal election. He was given a standing ovation.

While Mr. Harkness defended his decision to resign from the cabinet in a dispute over nuclear weapons, he made it clear the issue would be one of the cornerstones of his campaign—two university students were in the hall displaying anti-nuclear placards. There were no disturbances.

He told the 250 persons at the meeting he was prepared to resign before Parliament convened in January but changed his mind after receiving assurances that his nuclear policy would be followed.

Dr. John J. Porter, president of the constituency association, said Mr. Harkness was a "man who in the finest traditions of Progressive Conservatism has stood for his principles, belief and honesty before personal considerations.

Canada's freedom has depended to a great extent on the defence plans of NATO, an alliance to which Canada has a nuclear commitment with its forces in Europe, said Mr. Harkness.

"WOULD KILL ALLIANCE"—If countries in the alliance fail to carry out their share of the burden, this alliance will disappear.

Turning his attention to the students who carried placards reading "no nuclear arms for Canada, Mr. Harkness" and "a positive stand for peace—Canada free of nuclear arms," he said possession of tactical nuclear weapons is a "highly moral thing because it will save many lives and much damage."

"These weapons would destroy enemy tankers in the air without doing any damage, said Mr. Harkness.

He said Canadian political parties have offered no clear choice to the voters on the nuclear arms issue and as a result the voters will not have an opportunity to make his feelings known.

Mr. Harkness is who has represented Calgary North in the Commons for the past 18 years, was asked what he would do with a $15,000 fund being raised by a group of Toronto businessmen to assist his campaign.

He said he intends to remain in Calgary North for the bulk of the campaign but there are some Progressive Conservative candidates who have the same defence policies as he and the money would be used to finance speaking tours in their areas.

Soviet Rockets Armed With 'Bite' Of 100-Megatons Says Commander

LONDON (Reuters)—A senior Soviet rocket commander says in the defence ministry newspaper Red Star that Russian rockets are armed with 100-megaton warheads, the Soviet news agency Tass reported today.

Col-Gen Vladimir Tolstok, first deputy commander-in-chief of Soviet strategic rocket forces, says U.S. claims to rocket superiority are intended to complicate the international situation.

He said the United States is trying to encourage the Western allies and persuade American taxpayers to spend more in the arms race.

The general says the main argument in favor of American rocket superiority is the total number of rockets possessed by the United States compared to the number of Soviet rockets.

But he charges that Western experts deliberately ignored the relative power of rocket warheads when figuring the East-West missile gap, and counted the number of such weapons.

"Otherwise, their conjectures about American rocket superiority would burst like a soap bubble."

When it is realized that American Titan rockets have warheads of seven megatons—equal to 7,000 tons of TNT—while Soviet rockets carried warheads "reaching a power of 100,000 tons of TNT," commentators are surprised," the general says.

PEOPLE'S LIFE FOR TEQUILLA

WANTAGH, N.Y. (AP)—His a dog's life for some people, but for Tequila—who is a dog—it's a people's life.

Tequila's owners, Mr. and Mrs. Robert Key, can't do enough for their two-pound, two-year-old pet, a fawn-colored chihuahua. Most recently they bought her a $200 chinchilla coat for her birthday.

"The fur coat was my husband's idea," said Mrs. Key Tuesday. "You know, for the dog that has everything."

"Everything" thus far has included a pink collar with pearls, an over-sized bed with an inscribed headboard and a foot-square couch for lounging.

Scorpion Bites Esquimalt Man

VICTORIA (CP)—Stuart Currow, 23, of Esquimalt was bitten by a poisonous scorpion Wednesday while unpacking a crate of Phloxes fern sent from Florida to a Victoria wholesale florist.

He was taken to hospital where his hand was given a local anesthetic and he received an injection to counter the scorpion's poison. His hand and forearm had swelled by twice their normal size.

It was the first recorded case of scorpion poisoning in Victoria for many years.

Doctors said the spider-like scorpion had sufficient poison to kill a small child.

Currow said he plans to keep the scorpion as a souvenir.

Canada Offers Down-To-Earth Way To Aid Poorer Countries

GENEVA (Reuters)—Canada today offered its "down-to-earth approach" to the world's underdeveloped nations in helping their scientific and technological advance.

Dr. J. W. T. Spinks, president of the University of Saskatchewan and leader of the Canadian delegation to the United Nations science and technology conference, said his country could be of particular help in setting up surveys of soil, timber and fish, co-operatives, farm training programs and the like.

Canadian experts also could be of assistance in fields where they have special experience such as railway transportation and nuclear technology, he said.

Dr. Spinks referred during his speech at today's closing session to Canada's contributions to UN assistance programs and experience in the Colombo plan.

"In some areas at home we are ourselves still in the process of development, and our own history helps us to view with understanding the many and complicated problems facing the developing countries," he said.

THE TAME COUNTRY
"Settlers arriving in my own province of Saskatchewan at the turn of the century saw only the windswept prairies grazed by herds of buffalo, but now we have farms, roads, towns, schools, hospitals and libraries, and even a large university with many students from abroad: From the West Indies, India, Pakistan, Nigeria, Ghana and Indonesia."

The Canadian delegation believed any aid program must, to be of value, be accompanied by a strong system of scientific and technical education in the recipient countries.

"This should be at all levels, from the early introduction of science in the elementary schools through the secondary and technical schools to universities and research institutes.

"There is often a great lack of science teachers. We feel that teacher training colleges should be set up as soon as possible in the countries themselves, but that, in the meantime, dedicated teachers should be encouraged to help in the training program.

"A number of students will continue to train in the more developed countries, but this should be directed as much as possible to the higher levels of study."

Lawyer Accused By Witness Of Instigating Bank Raid

MONTREAL (CP)—Jean-Paul Fournel testified Wednesday that Trasan Constantin, a lawyer for the defence at the murder trial of Georges Marcotte, instigated a bank robbery last September.

Fournel dropped the bombshell during cross-examination at the trial of Marcotte, charged with capital murder in the death of two police constables during a bank holdup Dec. 14 in suburban St. Laurent.

He testified that he had robbed the same bank twice before, once at the end of May or early June, 1962, and again in September, 1962.

Fournel also named Andre Grafenko as an accomplice in the first two bank robberies.

Fournel said that last July or August Mr. Constantin had come to him with a proposition to buy a restaurant that was bankrupt.

He said Mr. Constantin was an inspector of bankruptcies and wanted "to use Grafenko and me as a front."

NEEDED MONEY
He said that between $5,000 and $10,000 was needed to run the restaurant, a d d i n g t h a t

"Mr. Constantin pushed us and pushed us" to get the money needed.

"He (Mr. Constantin) said 'the last place that you did,'" Fournel testified, adding that this was a reference to the St. Laurent bank branch.

Mr. Constantin represented Fournel in court at the time of his arraignment last month on charges of capital murder along with Marcotte and Jules Reeves.

Mr. Constantin apparently has since disassociated himself from Fournel's defence and now is sitting at Marcotte's trial beside Yves Mayrand, Marcotte's lawyer of record.

Mr. Constantin was in the court when Fournel gave his testimony. He said nothing but was seen to shake his head a number of times during Fournel's testimony about him.

Fournel has named Marcotte as the alleged accomplice who wore a Santa Claus disguise when the two of them and Reeves held up the St. Laurent bank.

Two police constables were gunned down when they answered a holdup alarm at the bank.

Secondary Industries Urged To Boost Share In Progress

WINNIPEG (CP)—Trade Minister McCutcheon said today Canada's secondary industries must "assume a very large share of the burden" of providing economic growth in the country.

Canada's problem, he said, is basically this: Canadian producers do not have a large enough share of the North American market and "our aim should be to encourage the growth of efficient secondary industries which can exploit our existing and potential economic advantages."

General economic conditions in Canada are encouraging, he told a regional industrial expansion conference. He pointed to the eight-per-cent increase in the gross national product last year and an increase in all major income groups. "The market outlook for the future is also good."

While these trends were "extremely encouraging," there would be problems. Canadian industry was meeting stiffer competition at home and abroad and "our success will depend upon our ability to develop strong efficient industries which can compete effectively in both industrial progress."

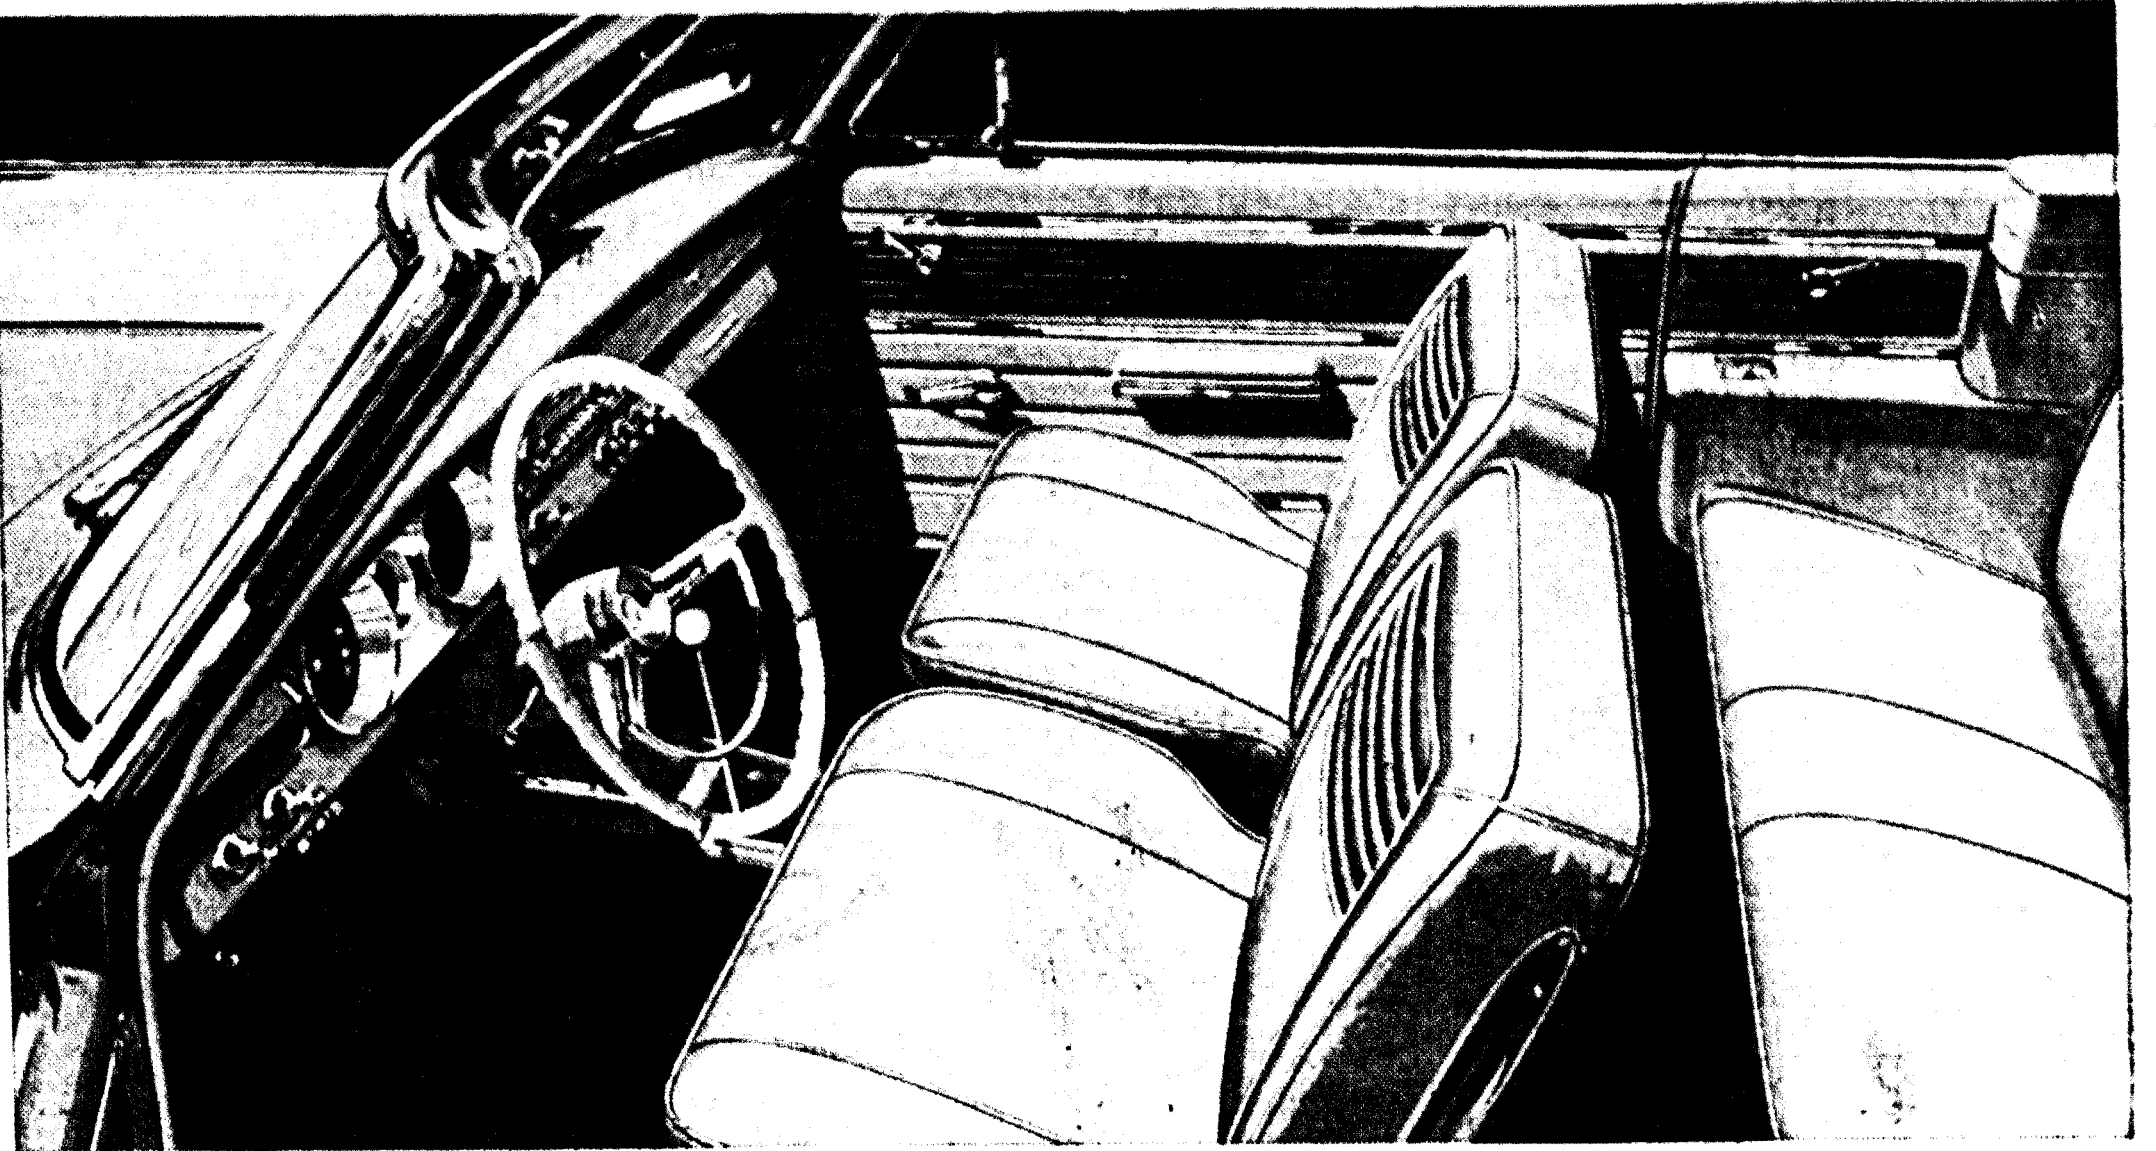

the domestic and export markets.

Everything possible should be done to increase Canadian exports to overseas countries to help offset the trade imbalance with the United States. But he added: "The real solution to this problem is for Canadian producers to capture a larger share of Canadian and United States markets."

Failure to meet the challenge of stiffer competition, he warned, will result in "lower standards of living and unemployment with its terrible consequences of personal frustration, family hardship and widespread social distress."

Senator McCutcheon, who became trade minister earlier this month after the resignation of George Hees, said there is evidence of a "significant change in attitude on the part of both labor and management in Canada." There appeared to be a growing understanding of each other's problems.

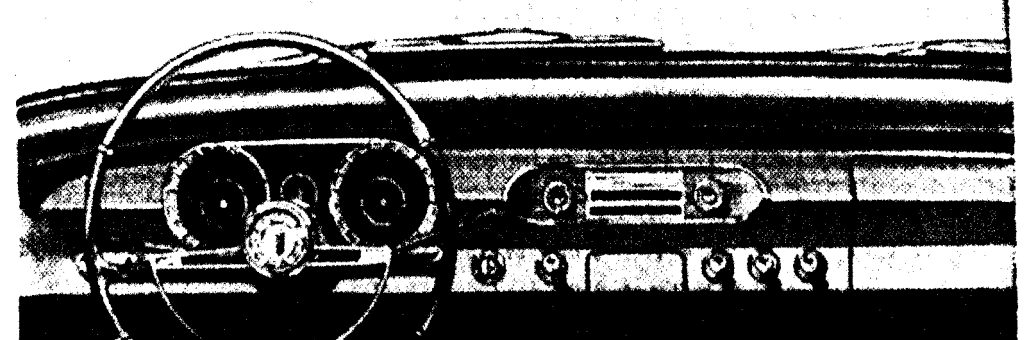

"I believe that we are witnessing the beginning of an era when mutual understanding between labor and management will be one of the keystones of our progress."
