Rumors Flying In Ottawa In Wake Of Dorion's Report

OTTAWA (CP)—Works Minister Lucien Cardin was rumored today to have an inside track to the justice portfolio.

LUCIEN CARDIN ... cabinet quest

Meanwhile, there were reports that some Liberals will see the resignation from the Commons of Guy Favreau, accused by Chief Justice Frederic Doherty of a "reprehensible" act in trying to arrange bail for narcotics trafficker Lucien Rivard.

Mr. Cardin has been a Commons member since 1952. He entered the cabinet as associate defence minister when the Liberals assumed power in 1963. He took over public works when Jean-Paul Deschamps resigned for personal reasons.

THERE WAS A BUILDING HERE TUESDAY ...

Another Kelowna building hit the dust overnight, to make way for a modern replacement. Sewa's construction of Kelowna have performed almost "instant demolition" on the former Growers Exchange building at Ellis St. and Queenway. Tuesday the brick building was still standing. Workers en route to their effects this morning found a mass of rubble. The corner is being prepared for the new job site, slated to begin in the fall. The building was built in two parts, by Growers Exchange. In 1933 they built on half the lot and installed two gasoline pumps. In 1937 the business expanded and the building extended to the second half of the lot, covering an area 130 by 100 feet. In 1945 the front was altered at a cost of $17,000. In August, 1964 the site was expropriated by the government. The company vacated the building early in 1965. KELOWNA DRIVE-IN THEATRE. TONIGHT and FRI., JUNE 30, JULY 2. JERRY LEWIS in THE DISORDERLY ORDERLY.

July 1, 1965

The celebration of Dominion Day, 1965, is something that must be viewed by many Canadians with mixed feelings.

In the face of these things July 1 cannot be a day of unrestricted rejoicing. The ship of state which was launched 98 years ago has been making too heavy weather of it to permit that.

It is easy to view Canada in these terms; and it is easy to be discouraged by what we see. Perhaps it is too easy to put a purely negative face on things and to forget that this has been our lot since the beginning.

A reading of any history of our country reminds us of these things. On July 1 of each year politicians are fond of making stirring, idealistic speeches about Canada's origin; but the truth is that if we introduce too much idealism into the picture, we are guilty of a gross distortion of truth.

The achievement of Confederation was something of a miracle. It brought together both English-speaking and French-speaking elements in a large part of British North America.

Those who have misgivings about Canada's future today would do well to examine the early history of our country. Confederation did not just happen; it was made. Political sagascity, hard-headed courage and a willingness to tackle the most intransigent of problems went into the making. The Fathers of Confederation had stresses and strains to cope with no less real than the problems that confront us today.

On July 1, 1965, there can be virtue and strength in recalling these things. They can help get our present prospects in perspective. They can help indicate the path in which our energies should be directed and they can recall to us the need for that political wisdom and determination through which our type of society may remain viable.

As a nation, Canada is unique. Geographically, racially, politically it is unlike any other country in the world.

We need to recognize the sacred duty of preserving it and giving it unity. We should not think of this only in terms of language. We should, of course, have a more general knowledge of both tongues, but it would be unrealistic ever to expect all Canadians to be familiar with both French and English.

We shall achieve unity when all of us, whoever we are, take pride in the accomplishments of Canadians irrespective of race or time or place—when boys and girls in Fredericton can be thrilled by the journey of La Verendrye, or a child in Chicoutimi can find excitement in the exploits of David Thompson.

We must sternly rebuke those who would render Canada asunder. We must assure those who stand idly by and watch it fall apart. We must comprehend the majesty of Canada, the glory of Canada—yes—the greatness of Canada.

These terms are not too extravagant. They are just a tribute to the men who made what we inherit. They knew in the 1860s what Canada was to be; they set themselves on the road with conviction and courage. It is for us to recapture their spirit—the spirit of the men who saw our country in practical terms together with those who sensed its romance.

It is for us to be worthy of the men of Confederation.

Fountain of Youth

Sherbrooke Daily Record Despite the great victories of medicine over disease in the present century, the limit set by the Psalmist of three-score-years-and-ten still remains for the vast majority of humans the ultimate period of life.

Figures quoted by public health experts and life insurance companies of an increasing life-span are merely the number of years a newborn infant is expected to live. The actual period of life still hovers around the seventy-mark and the exact reasons why the body wears out about this time, still puzzle science.

But there is one people that mysteriously eludes for half-a-lifetime longer the fate of the rest of the world. They are the isolated, half-legendary Hunzas, who live in the northern mountains of Pakistan.

They reportedly live to be well over 100. The men are said to be able to father children at 90 and the women to bear them at 60.

Previous investigators attributed their amazing health and longevity to their diet, exercise, stress-free and pollution free environment and water supply.

Now a team of Pakistani scientists is going to make another study of the Hunzas, with particular emphasis on their food and water, which is highly mineralized and is consumed by them both directly and through their crops.

If the vigor of the Hunzas is indeed found to be related to a special combination of trace elements in soil, plants and water, it could be a medical discovery of really revolutionary effects in a world already worried by overpopulation.

Regina In Uproar On July 1 Riots

REGINA (CP)—Dominion Day marks the 50th anniversary of the Regina riots of 1915, an outbreak of violence that turned the city's old market square into a death-squad battleground for police and unemployed workers.

In the space of three hours, 100 persons were injured, 37 of them policemen, a Regina detective was killed, and 80 men were arrested. Store windows were smashed, vehicles overturned and debris, including such makeshift weapons as railway spikes and rocks, lay scattered in the square behind police headquarters.

An argument that has never been settled is whether the violence was touched off by a mistake or whether a calculated risk had been taken in arresting all at once the leaders of burgeoning march on Ottawa by unemployed workers.

The train of events began in relief camps of the West where thousands of jobless received food and lodging but no hope of work. As discontent grew, 500 men broke camp in British Columbia and began what was to be a trek to Ottawa—a protest strike against the relief camps.

Their ranks grew as east-bound freight trains made their way across Alberta and Saskatchewan. Two thousand were aboard when they reached Regina June 14.

'KEEP HANDS OFF' By this time the federal government had ordered the RCMP to halt the trek. Saskatchewan premier, Jimmy Gardiner, protested the federal order, and in a telegram to Prime Minister R. B. Bennett asked him to keep his "hands off the policing of this province."

With 300 mounties waiting at Regina barracks, ready to prevent the march from continuing eastward, two federal cabinet ministers, Robert Weir and Dr. R. J. Manion, came from Ottawa to try to negotiate a settlement.

The marchers presented a set of demands that included 50 cents an hour for skilled labour, union rates for skilled workers and a five-day, 30-hour week, social and unemployment insurance, and an end to military control of relief camps.

Following a meeting with the two cabinet ministers, a group of marchers left for Ottawa. Eight weeks later with Prime Minister Bennett June 22 Mr. Bennett said their demands could not be met and ordered the men back to their homes and camps.

On their return to Regina, plans were launched to resume the march on Ottawa. Mounties watched rail lines out of the city and marchers who attempted to leave by truck or car were arrested.

Federal officials urged the men to go to a temporary camp at Lundholm, 15 miles north of Regina, where food and lodging were available. From there they would be returned to the places from where they came.

GATHERED IN SQUARE Most of the marchers remained at the Regina Exhibition grounds but some went to market square to attend a protest meeting. A crowd estimated at 3,000, including women and children, was there.

Versions of what happened vary. One is that plainclothes mounties quietly began removing ringleaders from the crowd into waiting police wagons.

Police on horseback suddenly rode into the crowd trying to scatter the demonstrators. Others on foot waded into the crowd wielding batons. Marchers grabbed whatever they could for weapons as women and children ran screaming from the scene. Running battles developed in lanes and adjoining streets. Tear gas was used by police and pistol shots were fired as the riot spread through most of the downtown area. Later police surrounded the exhibition grounds where most of the marchers had remained.

A royal commission headed by Saskatchewan Chief Justice J. E. Brown investigated the circumstances. It declared that the federal government was correct in deciding that the trek on Ottawa must be halted. It also described some of the leaders as dangerous.

due to a sprightly young visionary who has occupied the reeve's chair for eight years and who refers to Burnaby as "downtown lower mainland."

Reeve Alan Emmott, who prefers to treat his massive neighbour, Vancouver, as a junior partner in the expansion of British Columbia's economically rich south coastal area, has virtually removed what he regards as the stigma of being a "bedroom municipality."

In the reeve's eyes, Burnaby has become "the industrial and commercial heart of the lower mainland."

Vancouver still clings to the concept of Burnaby as a bedroom suburb and proposes to annex the neighbor community. But under Reeve Emmott, Burnaby is becoming the tail that wags the dog.

SEKS SPORTS STATUS It is snatching profitable industries from under Vancouver's nose—a nose the voraciously disarming Emmott loves to tweak.

It almost stole a National Hockey League arena that Stamford Smith, president of Maple Leaf Gardens in Toronto, proposed to build in B.C.

It almost had its own race-track when Vancouver city council, the Pacific National Exhibition and the B.C. Jockey Club couldn't get together on rebuilding plans for Exhibition Park.

It is in the process of trying to take the Grey Cup champions B.C. Lions out of Empire Stadium in Vancouver.

And it had wrenched facilities for almost every sport into a Pacific Sport Centre plan, a plan in which NHL hockey B.C. Lions and the fledgling Simon Fraser University all have a part.

The community has been highly successful in its efforts to attract major industries to establish in Burnaby. A list of the remaining trends like the industrial section of the stock exchange, Ford Motor Co., B.C. Telephone Canadian Kenworth, Continental Can, Shell Oil, S.A. and a d. Oil, Valvolene, Kelly-Bowles and General Telephone's Leburton Electric, to name a handful.

Smaller retail and service companies have also flocked to Burnaby to obtain their share of the expanding population's business.

But it is in the realm of sport that Burnaby has put its most polished boot forward.

BECKONS TO LIONS When Sen's suggested building an NHL arena in Vancouver, Reeve Emmott and chamber of commerce members grabbed the first place exit. The tall, left-handed reeve with the broad shoulders, slim hips and like walk of an athlete carried with him a polished proposal that for hockey, Burnaby is "A Site to See."

It turned out that the best of the Toronto Maple Leafs wanted two blocks of downtown Vancouver—nothing else—and no strings attached.

Undaunted, the Burnaby leaders tuned an ear to the woes of the B.C. Lions, who said the PNE's Empire Stadium was no longer big enough to handle the overflow hometown crowd.

Up jumped Reeve Emmott with a come-settle-here proposition.

That proposal is hanging fire while PNE officials manoeuvre in an attempt to keep the Lions in the same cage by enlarging the stadium.

"If they don't," says Lions' general manager Herb Capozzi, "we'll be sitting down for some interesting discussions in Burnaby."

OTTAWA REPORT

Vernon Speech Handed Laurels

By PATRICK NICHOLSON

When automation releases workers from the drudgery of our mechanized civilization, will we reverse our present trek from green fields to concrete and asphalt?

Senator Wallace McCutcheon, in a speech to the chamber of commerce of Vernon, B.C., has suggested that our small communities will be the Meccas to which Canadians will desire to migrate, when science slashes our working hours and stretches our life span.

"It was suggested to me recently that within our lifetime, people on this continent will attain a 40-hour working life," he said. "I can certainly accept that as a possibility. On the basis of a 40-hour week and normal holidays, this would mean that men would work between 20 and 25 years and, as we know, they are likely to live a great deal longer."

With retirement at age 45 or earlier, and a protracted old age in substantial new population of plentiful young persons, where are these people going to work? asked Senator McCutcheon. "I suggest that a very great many are going to prefer the size and type of community where they can more freely enjoy the amenities which nature has provided."

SMALL-TOWN FREEDOM These amenities, the Senator suggested, can be found in our smaller communities such as the North Okanagan in B.C. Equally, they exist in the traditional small towns of our Maritime, through the Maritimes, in rural Quebec, and on the Prairies.

They certainly cannot be found in the concrete megalopolis which political planning and industrial greed is creating today. He assumed that the people of Vernon believe that the advantages of living and working and doing business in a smaller community outweigh the disadvantages.

"You live in one of the most beautiful parts of Canada," Senator McCutcheon told his Vernon audience. "There was a time when communities like this lived in a degree of isolation from the major centres which were regarded as being in the mainstream of economic, social, educational and cultural activity. Today, with modern transportation and communications, you live perhaps in the best of several possible worlds. You are a few minutes away from your home to your business, you are an hour away from theatre or university in Vancouver, and we are all as close as a television set to the events that are taking place in Ottawa, Washington, London or Viet Nam."

EX-URBAN SPREAD The Senator developed his speech into a persuasive argument for community diversification and for the spread of light industries into such diversified communities and away from the huge dehumanized cities, becoming strangled by their own legions. Many communities have power, transportation access to markets and a reasonably skilled labour force, who does not depend on capital and management rather than on local health services, planned land use and a sound and stable municipal government are all important. But there is perhaps a more important point. "Suppose you were indeed the ideal community in all Canada—what would the business and investment world do about it?"

Leaving aside all our auditing spin doctors and all those infeasibly overworked indicators, Senator McCutcheon concluded by quoting a Greek philosopher: "Not houses finely rooded of the status of the city, but unskilled men, not a rank and file, but men able to use their own initiative." The Senator's message could be summed up by many smaller Canadian communities, which will have to use their advantage or be trampled upon by the cult of Bigness.

How Many Crops Before War Ends?

DA NANG (AP)—How long will the war in South Viet Nam last?

The prospect is that victory still is an indefinite number of years away and probably an indefinite number of billions of dollars.

That is, if it is fought to a military conclusion. Some optimists say victory on the battlefield can be won, if at all, only after decades of steady wearing struggle and that the only sensible solution will result from political negotiations. But no negotiations are in sight.

Some optimists think that a military victory can be achieved in at most a few years.

by cutting off the Viet Cong from their supply sources and destroying their strength in the field by the attrition of many battles.

All agree, none of us, will ever, that military victory will be delayed or not be possible if the South Vietnamese fail to maintain a strong central government in Saigon which the people can respect and support.

VIEWERS VARY I'd like to present the views of some of these I've discussed the war with.

An American colonel: "I thought it was hopeless. But now I have hope. I think our air power has enabled us to turn the corner. It boosted the morale of the people. I don't know how long it will take but I believe now we can win."

A French businessman: "You can't win with airpower and you can't win by running up and down the roads in armoured cars. The French tried that and lost. You can't win except with masses of infantry. Until you do that we are all prisoners here."

A veteran newspaper man: "The Viet Cong aren't getting weaker, they're stronger. They used to fight as squads, platoons or, at the most, as companies. Now they're organized at the battalion and even regiment level. They hold the countryside. We hold cities, our airpower is hurting them but where are we going to get the manpower to whip them?"

An American major: "They can't defeat us but to whip them we need a full division roughly for each of the 47 Vietnamese provinces. That means we'll need a lot more troops from other countries."

An American sergeant: "If they can't win with their own guts we can't do it with dollars. This whole country to me isn't worth one drop of American blood. I get out of here in three months and I'll be glad to go."

Arabs Just Love A Mix-Up Song

CAIRO (AP)—A Greek composer and musician has launched a new musical craze in Egypt by mixing a western twist—and half a dozen different languages—into romantic Arab ballads and love songs.

The result is often incoherent, but it is driving Cairo's young set wild.

It has pushed John Contis, 38, to the top of the local hit parade. His latest record, Tamara, has sold 20,000 copies, a best-seller by local standards.

Ten-agers of both sexes pack the Greek restaurant in downtown Cairo every evening to hear singers belt out Tamara in a bedlam of different languages—English, French, Greek, Spanish and Arabic phrases jumbled into a single melody.

Tamara tells the story of a Bedouin girl who preferred the tent, the camel and the desert sands offered by her Bedouin lover to a modern villa and big automobile of a rival, city-dwelling lover.

Life-Saving Scope Vital In Check-up

By DR. JOSEPH G. MOLNER

Dear Dr. Molner: I have had pains in my chest and arms for a long time. Chest X-rays and EKG's revealed nothing. The doctor says it is a nervous condition and neuralgia. Can nerves cause this pain?—L.M.H.

Nerves certainly can—and it is either the hardest or the easiest thing to cure. Hardest if the patient is tensely "sure" that it is heart trouble even though no heart trouble exists; easiest if you can persuade the patient to relax and enjoy life instead of worrying himself into chronic tension. I hope you will be one of the latter.

within the area that can be observed with the proctoscope, attention is obvious. If such a cancer can be detected before it has progressed much and is removed, cure is highly probable. But if it is not found until noticeable symptoms develop, then the surgery is much more difficult and the danger much greater—not that such cancers have not been successfully removed, too.

The examination is virtually painless (although in some cases there may be a few cramps) and can be done in the doctor's office. It should be part of a complete physical check-up.

Trouble Good For Mauritius

PORT LOUIS (Reuters)—The little-known island of Mauritius, plunged into political violence over its future constitution, may yet benefit economically from the publicity resulting from the state of emergency imposed in May.

The emergency and the flying in of British troops had the immediate effect of stopping the inter-racial and political demonstrations, and the British, French and United States journalists and television cameramen who flew to the island, located in the Indian Ocean, found a peaceful tourist paradise.

Their arrival coincided with the beginning of a new drive by the government and private companies to increase the tourist trade.

The island is rich in history. Since the early 18th century, it has been occupied successively by Portuguese, Dutch and French.

During the French occupation, pirates used the island as a base—and even to-day searches go on for the legendary treasure they are believed to have buried here.

The British took possession of the island in 1810.

Trouble Good For Mauritius

PORT LOUIS (Reuters)—The little-known island of Mauritius, plunged into political violence over its future constitution, may yet benefit economically from the publicity resulting from the state of emergency imposed in May.

The emergency and the flying in of British troops had the immediate effect of stopping the inter-racial and political demonstrations, and the British, French and United States journalists and television cameramen who flew to the island, located in the Indian Ocean, found a peaceful tourist paradise.

Their arrival coincided with the beginning of a new drive by the government and private companies to increase the tourist trade.

The island is rich in history. Since the early 18th century, it has been occupied successively by Portuguese, Dutch and French.

During the French occupation, pirates used the island as a base—and even to-day searches go on for the legendary treasure they are believed to have buried here.

The British took possession of the island in 1810.

Rev. Father Hart officiated at the ceremony and the church choir sang "This Day" and "O Lord I am Not Worthy" accompanied by Mrs. Dan Bach.

The radiant bride, who was given in marriage by her father, wore a full-length gown fashioned with a graceful train and a fitted bodice with long sleeves. A halo of pearl sequins held her chapel-length veil in place, and she carried a bouquet of red roses.

The maid of honor, Miss Carol Uselman of Rutland, was charming in a street-length dress of pink organza. Her head-dress was a white halo and she carried a bouquet of pink carnations.

Dennis Gaudreau of Kelowna acted as best man and the ushers were Wilbur Hoffman and Raymond Meier of Rutland.

At the reception held in the Legion Hall following the ceremony, the mother of the bride received wearing a dress of blue lace complemented with a corsage of pink roses. The groom's mother, who assisted her in receiving the guests, chose an ensemble of turquoise blue and her corsage was also of pink roses.

Attending the wedding from Winnipeg, Manitoba, were Mr. and Mrs. Laven St. Yves.

Before leaving on her honeymoon to Okan, Washington, the bride changed to a three-piece suit of blue with white accessories and wore a corsage of red roses.

The newlyweds will reside in Rutland.

ANN LANDERS Wife Is Always One Up As She Has Got The Man

Dear Ann Landers: When we moved to Phoenix from Miami the women I met were very nice. Not one woman seemed interested in getting to know me better. I didn't even get the ordinary courtesies shown to new neighbors—until they met my husband. Then suddenly I became very popular.

If you could see my husband you'd understand. He is six feet one, has dark wavy hair, deep-set eyes, and could pass for Peter O'Toole. I must be fair and tell you that he thoroughly enjoyed being pursued although I doubt that anything ever came of it.

Now that we have moved from Phoenix to a suburb in Connecticut, the same thing is happening again. I must say, however, that these Connecticut suburban types are more than a match for the Phoenix women. Last night one woman followed him into the kitchen when he went to get ice cubes. Later that same woman almost broke her leg getting in line next to him at the buffet supper. All this right under my nose!

I'm tired of being quiet and restrained money and stupid. What do you suggest I do to let them know I know?—EX-DUM-MY Dear Ex: What do you hope to accomplish? Obviously any woman who would follow your husband into the kitchen and "right under your nose" doesn't care whether you know or not. My advice is to maintain your dignity and keep quiet. You're better off in any event—you're got the man.

Dear Ann Landers: I'm a Chicagoan who is stationed at Fort Hood, Texas. Your answer will settle a small civil war in our barracks. We have guys in our outfit who had from all parts of the country. The fellows from New York and Texas pronounce the letters "u" and "ew" as if there was a "y" in front. It comes out "yoo" for example they say "yoo York" and "yooxpaper." The midwesterners and the west coast boys say "Noo York" and "Nooxpaper." The words "produce," "consume," and "student" get the same treatment from the Texas and New Yorkers. They put a little "y" sound in. We notice that Chet Huntley says "NBC, Nyoo York" and David Brinkley says, "NBC, Nooz, Washington."

Can you tell us which is correct?—FORT HOOD GANG

Dear Gang: I have checked four dictionaries. No two agree. The best answer to your question is in Fowler's Modern English Usage. It says "We deserve not praise but censure, if we decline to accept the popular pronunciation of popular words." This means there is no right or wrong, so imitate the natives.

Good night, David. Good night, Chet. We enjoy your nooz in Chicago.

Dear Ann Landers: I need to know something but I'm afraid to ask a question for fear of giving the wrong impression. A relative of mine was admitted to hospital last week. The doctor ordered blood tests, made at once. I asked the nurse why this had to be done. She said, "It is routine."

I have a hunch they were checking to learn if the patient has a venereal disease. What else could it be? Naturally I was shocked and upset. Please print my letter and your answer.

AROUND TOWN

Mr. and Mrs. D. C. Pillinger are driving to Calgary today to meet their son-in-law and daughter. Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Wood of Toronto, who will be spending the next two weeks in Kelowna as their guests and visiting Mr. Wood's mother, Mrs. Alwyn Wood.

Rev. and Mrs. J. B. Danglefield of Winnipeg have been opening a few days in Kelowna visiting friends en route from Victoria to Jasper. They are on their honeymoon.

Mrs. Rex English and boys of Heppner, California, are visiting her parents, Mr. and Mrs. William Heike of Black Mountain Road.

Mrs. D. Uhl and her mother, Mrs. T. D. Barber, were co-hostesses at a delightful luncheon shower held at Mrs. Barber's home on Friday, June 25, in honor of Miss Rita Russo whose marriage to Michael Finchan will take place in Australia in the latter part of August. The many lovely and useful gifts from the close friends assembled were presented to the bride-elect in a decorated laundry basket, and delicious refreshments were served by the hostesses.

Mrs. John Krenzler, accompanied by her daughter, Carol, motored to Prince George for the weekend.

Mr. and Mrs. H. R. Perry will mark their Golden Wedding Anniversary with a garden party for their friends and neighbors to be held at their home in East Kelowna on July 1 at 2 p.m.

Marna Hart is home for a visit to her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Arnold Hart. Marna was a student at Canadian Legion College last year.

From Peoria, Alberta, came Mr. and Mrs. Garth Coonan and Terry Davis to visit relatives and friends in the district.

Mr. and Mrs. E. Cross from Kelowna, Alberta, made their first trip to the Coast and Vancouver Island. It was a most enjoyable excursion and the first time they had seen the ocean. Going to the coast they travelled via the Fraser Canyon, returning over the Hope-Princeton highway to the Okanagan. At Princeton they visited their son, Don, and his family, and in Kelowna they were guests of the aunt and uncle of Mrs. Cross, Mr. and Mrs. James H. Wagner, Gertsmar Road.

Mrs. E. Schafer from Lacombe, Alberta, is spending a few weeks with her daughter and family, Pastor and Mrs. Lavern Krenzler.

Other recent visitors to the district were Stanley Abraham from Beiseker, Alberta, and Mrs. Anne Sawchuk of Lafayette, California.

Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Meyer and boys from Rainy, Alberta, have moved into the former Hathaway residence on Gertsmar Road.

Mr. and Mrs. Roy Shram enjoyed a weekend with their niece and her family, Mr. and Mrs. Holgar Haggkvist, Donors of the Chamber of Commerce.

Couple Plan River Travel

CALGARY (CP)—For a summer vacation, how about a 450-mile motor boat trip down the "Backbone" River in Idaho and around 1,100 acres of wilderness in the Northwest Territories?

That's the plan of a Calgary couple.

Lena and William Gallup say that as soon as a long-range weather forecast shows clear weather in the North, they'll drive their station wagon 1,000 miles from Calgary to Fort Providence, N.W.T., about 550 miles north of Edmonton on Great Slave Lake.

At Fort Providence, they will board a 16-foot boat powered by a 18-horsepower motor for their trip down the Mackenzie River to Inuvik, the Mackenzie River Delta, near the Beaufort Sea and the Arctic Ocean.

Mrs. Gallup, a Cree Indian who met her husband in Fort McMurray, Alta., about seven years ago, is not new to the North. The trip will be her first down the full length of the Mackenzie.

LaMarsh Hits Drugs Plan

VICTORIA, B.C. (CP)—Any proposal to legalize the sale of narcotics to addicts would be a retrogressive step that would multiply by many times the size of Canada's addict population, Health Minister LaMarsh said today.

She noted in an address to the Kiwanis Club that it has been suggested the government try to drive the trafficker out of business by legalizing the sale of narcotic drugs at a low price. Present law enforcement, it was said, reduced the supply of drugs and increased the illicit price.

However, in no country were drugs legally procurable except under medical supervision and prescription and Canadian law clearly authorized this.

3,000 "STREET" ADDICTS
With any relaxation of existing controls drugs would be available to more persons and there would be more addicts. There now were some 3,000 "street" addicts in Canada, most of them with criminal records antedating their association with drugs.

Miss LaMarsh said: "I wish to say as categorically as I can that under no circumstances would the government of Canada propose to legalize the sale of drugs to addicts either for the purpose of driving the trafficker out of business or to provide drugs to addicts for gratification and perpetuation of addiction."

Lonely Women Find An Escort...

NEW YORK (AP)—Charlie is a reasonably presentable fellow with a sun-lamp tan, a careful wave in his hair and teeth as white as his doekin gillies.

He was a part of the crowd on a chartered plane to a New York area social resort recently where a round of weekend parties at the country club and the beach houses opened the summer season. His lady friend, patting his hand, teasingly introduced him to the others as her 35-year-old son.

Other Charlies arrived at the resort driving Rolls, Bentleys and Jaguars, all without roofs. In their silk linen slacks, beside them sat carefully coiffed and heavily perfumed ladies who would pluck up their tabs. Compared with the number of men who at least pay their own way at this summer playground of the rich, the Charlies are few. But they are there, just as they were ever-present at the New York parties during the spring season, and at Palm Beach and Miami this winter—wherever the fun is, the money is, and the lonely women are.

Almost all Charlies are amusing, naturally, mannerly, cultured, grammatical, hip to the swingers and "in" places, and unless they have had too many cocktails, gallant. And broke.

SUPPORTED BY WOMEN
A few are unshakably jobless, totally supported by the women they escort. Some are crew-cut college kids temporarily tasting the hedonic society. Many are frail lads with shaggy manes and tight pants, artists, actors, decorators, hair-dressers, guaranteeing a relaxed resort session in exchange for the chance to make valuable social and business contacts.

In Palm Beach, lack of youthfulness is forgivable, so a lack of money for a single man who is socially registered or, anyway, with very good family connections. A white-thatched Gold Coast Charlie with a paid-up house and a pittance pension candidly admits he is able to live well and cheaply because "all the groceries I need are instant coffee and frozen orange juice to get me through the mornings."

"I have to spend a lot of money on thank-you postage or I'd stop getting luncheon and dinner party invitations, though. My function is to even up an otherwise lopsided seating arrangement, to waltz with an unattached lady now and then, and see her home. Sometimes this gets pretty dull because I never meet nobody outside the group. But it's not a bad price to pay for the very good life I lead."

In Miami, where the available male is in such short supply he is a community crisis, a bronzed and muscular sun-follower with no more than a white dinner jacket to his name can become a regular part of the party-life circuit. Legend are the dollared widows and divorcees who open charge accounts for these young, indigent swains at elite private clubs and restaurants.

Table Salt Said Harmful

BOMBAY (CP)—A team of Indian doctors has advanced a theory that common table salt is harmful to the human system and that the common cold actually is caused by salt.

Dr. U. K. Sheth, head of the clinical-pharmacology department of the Government's Sunderdas Medical College in Bombay, and three of his colleagues said that peptic ulcer and hyperacidity also "gradually vanish" if the patient avoids the use of common salt.

The Sheth thesis, as it has come to be known, has been receiving wide publicity in the Indian and Asian press.

Dr. Sheth said that until now it was believed that a virus must be responsible for the common cold. But experiments carried on by his team "beyond any doubt" that a salt-free diet for a few days resulted in a cure.

He also claimed that more than 50 cases of peptic ulcer and hyperacidity have been cured by his method. Patients being treated for ulcers in his department were even allowed to take coffee and tea, normally denied to ulcer patients. "My patients were allowed to eat what they liked," he said. "The only taboo was salt. All of them were completely cured."

CURED BY METHOD
He said an Indian engineer who was intending to go to the United Kingdom for a peptic ulcer operation was cured by his department through the salt-free method. Some months later, the engineer resumed his salty diet and the ulcer appeared again. "It was like switching on and off an electric current," Dr. Sheth said.

Records Show That Sunburn Can Be Harmful To Children

By JEAN SHARP
CP Women's Editor

More children are admitted to hospital with cases of severe sunburn during the first week of school holidays than at any other time during the summer, say officials at Toronto's Hospital for Sick Children.

Their records show that last year, seven children were taken to hospital with sunburns worse than first-degree burns over extensive areas of their bodies.

Unfortunately, either adults or children can burn again and again, especially if they are only in the sun occasionally—on weekends, for instance.

This is because the top layer of your skin is constantly changing, being replaced from layers beneath. You are, in a sense, constantly growing a new skin. It has four layers—the one outer, protective layer, the one directly beneath it where a final change in cells takes place, the third one down which is made up of living cells, and the deepest, the basal layer where cells, including pigment or color cells, are formed.

even distribution of tan pigment—crease the sun's intensity, but skin granules. You can't be burned on overcast days. You can go outdoors with safety about 4:30 p.m. because the sun's intensity has weakened by then. It is at its height at noon, and only about half as strong by three o'clock.

Tan pigmentation is one natural protective mechanism against the harmful effects of the sun. Another is the gradual thickening of the skin's outer layer, which becomes less transparent to the sun.

People with dark complexions generally tan better than fair people. Dr. Black says because they are able to produce more pigment, and because they apparently have a thicker outer skin layer to start with.

EXPOSE GRADUALLY
Most people can develop a resistance to the sun by going about it carefully. A few minutes exposure to the sun on the first day out, gradually and cautiously increased, should safely tan you unless you are one of the unfortunates who cannot tan. If your exposure program is interrupted for any appreciable length of time, Dr. Black says, start again.

You don't have to bring children indoors. Clothing will usually filter burning rays, although light clothing will let some of them through. Sunburns and creases will also help if you apply them carefully and thoroughly to exposed areas, says Dr. Black.

Shade won't necessarily completely protect you, because the reflection from sand and water can burn.

Clouds and haze may de-

DOESN'T SHOW

When the sun's rays touch your skin, some are reflected, but some penetrate. The harmful effects are localized largely in the third layer. Some of the rays reach the basal layer, where they stimulate the formation of tan pigment in granules which work their way slowly to the top to show as tan after three or four days, says Dr. Archibald Black of Cooperstone Research Laboratories, Memphis, Tenn.

Unless the exposure to the sun is continued, the tan pigment will be lost in the normal process of skin growth or by being reduced to a colorless form. The colorless form can be converted into pigment again by exposure to sunlight, Dr. Black says.

PETER'S PATTERN

with PETER MUNOZ

A lyrical refrain—rare as hen's teeth under normal circumstances—may become commonplace on the links during the three-day Ogopogo Open in early July. Few, if any, of the ordinary human inhabitants of any greens or fairways, are ever in joyous enough mood to take to waiting.

What with the troubles and aggravation most of us experience just trying to move that little white sphere around the way we think it should go, we'd just as soon leave the singing to the birds. The singing and the talking to ourselves keep us far too pre-occupied.

But at next month's Ogopogo, a velvet-voiced tenor is booked in for routine duty. He is among the stars of the event during an evening social function and also participate as a competitor in the 19th annual event, July 8, 9, 10, at the Kelowna Golf and Country Club.

The famed leading member of the original Ink Spots, Bill Kenny, is no novice on the fairways either. This year he is said to have entered into semi-retirement primarily so he could devote more time to the game of golf. And he chose Vancouver as his home base.

Now he undertakes a moderate schedule of singing engagements, just enough to keep in groceries and enjoy a few other material luxuries, leaving as much leisure as possible for touring the greens. The high tenor is strictly a low handicapper—... a three to be exact.

Response to the top golf attraction of the season here has been overwhelming. As far back as mid-March, 200 entries were already in the hands of Frank Feist, chairman of the event, and that was the cut-off point.

Seven pros are entered, including Bob Kidd of Pentecost. This is the same fellow who was runner-up to Bert Tegenhurst at last year's B.C. amateur championships here. He shot a scorching 66 on his second round last June to become new master of this course. His record still stands.

Also on hand will be John Russell, this year's B.C. amateur runner-up. The long-driving Point Grey stalwart lost out last weekend in a tight duel with young Wayne Vollmer, a putter deluxe. Johnny is a past champion of the Ogopogo, winning in 1969 and 1963. Of course 1964's defending champion will have his title on the line. Vic Lowe of Prince George will show the cool type of craftsmanship that won for him last year. Another returnee, Lav Gureney of Chilliwack will be back for his 14th consecutive. He's the only one who's never missed the event.

According to Feist, there are 77 entries with a seven or under handicap and that has the makings of some good golf. Competitors will be on hand from Winnipeg to southern California. About 50 will be here from Victoria, mostly from Uplands Golf Course, where Bill Kane Sr., a former Kelownian, has done much to promote the cause.

Thirty-four prizes await the victors and Feist insists it's the best selection ever. The chairman is enthusiastic about the shape of things too. "Club pro Dave Crane, his assistant Jock Watson and the grounds crew have the course in the best shape it's ever been for this event," he said. So with the course in tip-top condition, and with a sparkling cast, the 14th could very well be the greatest yet... that is providing someone like the weatherman doesn't dampen proceedings.

And while dwelling with the shape of things in golfdom hereabouts, the Johnston-Lefroy trophy is back to rest in Kelowna for at least one more year. The Kelowna men sealed the victory last Sunday at Vernon. Final tally gave them 8 1/2 points to Vernon's 31.

Denver Displaces Oklahoma As PCL's Top Eastern Club

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Oklahoma City, edged 3-4 by Seattle, yielded the top spot in the Pacific Coast League's eastern division Tuesday night to Denver Bears, who won a doubleheader over Indianapolis 6-1 and 5-4.

Seattle's victory gave the Angels a 21- game western division lead over Portland, who defeated Tacoma 3-1. Salt Lake City downed San Diego 6-4. Arkansas clouted Spokane 8-3 and it took Hawaii 12 innings to defeat Vancouver 6-4.

In the opener, Denver's Don Gregson held the Indians to four hits, aided by a fifth inning homer by Andy Kosco, who also closed one in the nightcap for three runs.

The Hanning nightcap was the Bears' ninth straight victory over Indianapolis. The Indians stirred a four-run Denver lead in the sixth on solo homers by Dick Kenworthy and Roman Conde and tied the game in the eighth as the Indians ran through four pitchers.

Denver finally won on a single by Marty Martinez, scoring Frank Quiet who had made third on a pair of singles.

Seattle batters grouped their hitting around a homer by Rick Reichardt and successfully put down an Oklahoma City threat in the fifth.

The Tacoma-Portland tilt was scoreless until the seventh when Rig Fuentes hit a solo homer for the Giants.

Salt Lake City scored early with heavy hitting and held on through the late innings for their victory.

Hawaii led the Mounties 3-1 until the ninth when Charbe Shoemaker hit a two-run single to tie the game. The Islanders won it when pinch-hitter Barry Shetrone singled, Fred Valiantino walked and Dick Phillips closed his 11th homer of the season.

Home runs by Bill Sorrell and Bob Del Greco in the first inning, good for three runs, proved to be the margin of victory for Arkansas over Spokane.

Wildness Spells Finis To Labs' Hopes In Duel

A tight pitchers' duel by rival left-handers Larry Webster of Pentecost and Kelowna Labatts' Dave Hjelmsvoll was broken up by an explosive eighth inning Tuesday night Pentecost Molsons capitalized on Hjelmsvoll's brief wildness to push across five runs and break up the 1-1 Okanagan Mainline Baseball League game at Elias Stadium.

The win vaulted Pentecost into second place, and game ahead of Labatts.

Hjelmsvoll, up until the eighth, had limited Pentecost to three case hits. He struck out 13 batters until relieved by Les Schaefer during the eighth.

Webster, meanwhile checked Labatts on eight hits. Kelowna counted one unearned run in the first inning. Leadoff hitter Nick Busack got on by an error, stole second and scored on Bill Martino's single.

Earlier, Pentecost combined a hit batsman, base on balls, stolen base and an error by catcher Chuck Jungblom to account an unearned tally.

The southpaw then locked horns and went to work curtailing the hitters with Hjelmsvoll having the most success until the fatal eighth.

He walked the first batter, shortstop Ben Webster, but right fielder Dan Pankse with an inside pitch for the second time in the game. Another walk to before Labs got out of the inning.

Labatts showed possibilities of rallying in their half of the inning. Coupled with two singles, Pentecost's battery came up with some erratic behavior. Webster unworked two wild pitches and Hale contributed a passed ball, but Labs could only count once.

Comeback hopes left in the top of the ninth when he added a two-run blast over the right field wall. Labatts went out in order to end the contest.

Hjelmsvoll was top batsman of the night with two hits in three trips. Kelowna's shooting star, Alf Day had two hits in four tries.

For Pentecost, Hale's two-for-four was tops.

Labatts are at home to Vernon Saturday night at 8 p.m.

Leps Fails By Four Seconds In Bid To Crack Own Mile Mark

HAMILTON (CP) — Ergas Leps of Toronto ran the mile in 4:05.1 Tuesday night, four seconds short of his Canadian native record.

Jim Irons of Toronto finished fourth behind Oxford - Cambridge runners Martin Henderson and David Ross. Henderson clocked 4:07.3, his best time.

Dave Ellis of Toronto, the Canadian three-mile champion, won his event easily in 3:50.6, well off the best for the distance.

Hamilton schoolboy Ray Tucker streaked to victory in the half mile in 1:51.1 seconds. It was the best time for Tucker 18, who holds the Canadian junior record of 1:51.7. Hugh Pullan was clocked in 1:51.3, his best time on the English team's two-week tour.

Tucker also ran a swift 440-yard anchor leg to nose out Graham Plows of the English team in the medley relay event. Jeff Archer gave the visitors two victories with performances of 10 seconds and 22.1 seconds in the 100-yard and 220-yard sprints.

In the women's events, Abby Hoffman of Toronto avenged her 440-yard loss to Cecelia Carter of Hamilton last weekend at the Canadian senior championships by defeating Miss Carter in a rematch.

Abby clocked 56.6 seconds. Cecelia 57.5.

Canadian Rowing Pair Ease To Victory Over Strong Finns

HENLEY-ON-THAMES (CP) — Canada's Olympic gold medalists, George Hungerford and Roger Jackson of Vancouver comfortably defeated a strong pair from Finland in the first round of the Henley royal regatta silver goblets for paired eights today, and became heavy favorites to win the event.

The two tall, powerful Canadians were clocked in seven minutes, 55 minutes for the 2,000-metre 19-mile course and always had the race in their pockets.

They led Finland's Veli Lehtela and Teemu Paananen by two lengths after three-quarters of a mile and with the race seemedingly won, the Canadians eased their rate of stroking.

Resurgent Terry Leads Indians To Top of Heap

By DICK COUCH
Associated Press Sports Writer

A year ago Ralph Terry was trying to break out of New York Yankees' bullpen and Cleveland Indians were doing time in the second division. Today Terry and the Indians are on the loose while the Yankees are where Cleveland was last June 30—sixth place.

The Indians took the American League lead for the first time Tuesday night by pouncing on Boston Red Sox 8-5 as Terry pitched up his eighth victory of the season.

Terry, who had won a total of 40 games in the two previous seasons, wound up 7-11 last October.

The Indians' 16th victory in 18 games moved them a half game ahead of Minnesota Twins, who edged Chicago 7-6 to drop the White Sox from a first-place tie into third position.

Washington Senators broke the Yankees' five-game winning streak with a 2-1 verdict over the defending AL champions, who fell 10 games off the pace and three under 500, while Baltimore Orioles topped Detroit Tigers 3-2 on Curt Blewett's two-run single in the eighth.

Terry helped himself to a 7-0 lead with a two-run double in the second inning. The Indians struck for four more runs in the third. Max Alvis belted a two-run homer. Pedro Gonzalez, another former Yankee, knocked in two runs with a homer and sacrifice fly.

Minnesota pushed over the winning run in the last of the ninth on a double by pinch-hitter Bernie Allen, a sacrifice bunt and Zola Versalles' scoring fly.

Frank Howard broke up New York's southpaw Al Downing's no-hit bid in the seventh with a towering homer, and the Senators won it in the eighth on an error by Cleve Boyer, a wild pitch off throw by Downing, Bob Chance's single and Ed Brinkman's sacrifice fly.

John Orsino's single, Brooks Robinson's double and Blewett's more to end a three-game skid and take fourth place, one game ahead of the Tigers.

Dandy Sandy Goes Merrily On Way As Majors' Winningest Pitcher

By MURRAY CHASS
Associated Press Sports Writer

Sandy Koufax finally has pulled ahead of Sammy Ellis. The Los Angeles Dodger ace recorded his 18th victory in the National League leaders' 3-3 triumph over San Francisco Giants Tuesday.

Ellis on the other hand, spent 14 innings trying for his 15th victory but couldn't get it. Instead Cincinnati wound up losing to Pittsburgh Pirates 2-1 in 16 innings. The Reds came back and won the nightcap 7-5.

In winning his seventh straight game, Koufax completed a masterful month of pitching. During June he won six times, one more than he ever has won before in one month.

But it took Koufax the entire month to get Ellis, who has blossomed into a sterling starter after spending last season in the bullpen. Each won his 14th game June 29 and his 15th last Friday. Each has lost three times.

In other National League games Philadelphia Phillies whipped St. Louis Cardinals 1-0 and Milwaukee Braves trimmed New York Mets 6-4. Rain washed out Houston Astros and Chicago Cubs.

SUPPORTED KOUFAX
John Roseboro and Jim Gilliam supported Koufax with some lusty hitting. Roseboro drove in five runs while Gilliam knocked in three, each with a homer and a single. Maury Wills rapped four singles and stole his sixth base.

Ellis gave up just four hits in 14 innings but wasn't around when Roberto Clemente singled home Bob Bailey with the winning run in the 14th.

Pete Rose batted in three runs in the nightcap, the first with a third-inning triple and two more with a single in a five-run fourth-inning outburst.

Bo Belinsky stopped St. Louis on six hits, winning his third game against four defeats. Philadelphia supported him with a bases-empty home run by Tony Gonzalez, a two-run homer by Johnny Callison and Dick Stuart's three-run blow.

The Braves outlasted the Mets with the help of two relievers.

HOPE TO BEES
CHICAGO (AP)—Lefty Billy Hoeft, who pitched 23 major league seasons, was purchased by Chicago Cubs Tuesday from their Salt Lake City club in the Pacific Coast League.

THRONEBERRY HURT
MEMPHIS, Tenn. (AP)—Marv Throneberry, 31-year-old former major league first baseman was severely injured Tuesday when his car spun out of control and crashed into an embankment.

Flying Teamsters Eye Second Spot

Kelowna's soaring Teamsters will now stand at the top of the Kelowna Valley League schedule with a home game at City Park oval Thursday at 2 p.m. League-leading Vernon National Royals will provide the opposition and Teamsters will be gunning for a win to average a 7-0 drubbing the league champs handed them in the season opener at Vernon.

The high-flying Teamsters have risen in the last few weeks from fifth place to their present third place slot, one point back of second place North Kar-loops United.

WIN MEANS SECOND
A win Thursday would vault Kelowna past the hills United crew who ended their schedule last weekend. Kelowna had United by a single point, 23 to 24.

Teamsters' playing manager Erwan Mueller is confident, if his club can take Vernon, they will go all the way and bring the Imperial Cup to Kelowna this year.

PLANS TAKING SHAPE FOR MEET BUT BILLETS STILL REQUIRED

The B.C. Interior Track and Field Championships will be staged at the Kelowna City Park Oval Saturday.

Teams from all over the province will be competing for the four age group trophies and the team aggregate trophy won by Trail Track Club last year.

Top market (15 and under) and juvenile (17 and under) boys and girls from the Okanagan will be competing with athletes from the coast and the U.S.

The running and field events will begin at 9 a.m. with heats in every event. The finals start at 2 p.m.

Billets are still urgently required for many of the incoming athletes. They will need accommodation for Friday night only. Anyone with room for one or more competitors is asked to phone the parks and recreation office on Mill St.

Hard Year For Yanks All Round, Ignored In All-Star Selections

NEW YORK (AP)—Felix League's fifth leading batter, Mantona, was named today to the 1965 American League All-Star team which for the first time in its 23-year history failed to list a single New York Yankee.

Mantona, the league's runner-up in leader, beat out Bobby Richardson of the Yankees for the second base job on the opening lineup which will face the National League's best line-up at St. Paul. The veteran Boston Red Sox infielder is the

Senior Golfers Chosen To Represent Canada

TORONTO (CP)—A 10-member team to represent the Canadian Seniors' Golf Association in the biennial triangular matches was announced today.

The matches will be played July 5-9 at the Royal St. George's Golf Club in Sandwich, England. Canada will meet teams from the United States and Great Britain.

Former U.S. amateur champion C. Ross (Sandy) Somerville of London, Ont., will serve as captain of the Canadians.

Other members are Romeo Trudeau, Laval, Que.; George Heveron Sr., Toronto; W. D. Taylor, Montreal; H. H. Richardson, Mount Bruno, Que.; S. T. Clegg, Montreal; N. D. Barnabe, Laval, Que.; Ben Merwin, Sudbury; Ont.; R. G. McLean, Toronto; Fred Lyon, Toronto; D. N. McIntosh, Hamilton; and Dr. A. W. Mathews, Vancouver.

"COLOR GUY" RECEIVES RARE SHOW OF AFFECTION FROM FANS Official's Life No Bed Of Roses

DARTMOUTH, N.S. (CP)—Johnny Fortunato has had his eyesight and parentage questioned and has been called a meatball and a bum—all the traditional vituperations heaped upon an umpire and referee.

But in 28 years of officiating baseball, basketball and football in New England and the Maritimes, he earned a reputation as a color guy, and the inevitable abuse was often mixed with affection that is rare among fans.

"Fortunato, yer a bum but we love ya," echoing across the basketball court of Boston Gardens during some forgotten game years ago, is a sample.

Now 50, Fortunato retired this spring and now manages a bowling alley here. But the individual style that marked more than 4,500 games at which he officiated during his career has made him something of a celebrity.

"You hit, he shoots," his announcement of a foul in basketball, became his signature in the Maritimes, and the scowling, round-faced man often hears the exclamation as a sort of greeting from friends and stranger alike.

"It's followed me out on the street," Johnny says.

"Fitch," son of an Italian immigrant, was born in Boston and won a William Cardinal

O'Connell scholarship to Boston College after being named outstanding athlete in the city's Roman Catholic school system. He played quarterback for his alma mater but after university he turned to refereeing.

MOVED TO HALIFAX
As chief referee in the New England College Basketball Conference, he worked many games in Boston Gardens.

"I was in games when Bob Cousy and Tommy Heinsom, both all-Americans, played for Holy Cross in the 1940s. They were great ball players, even then."

Cousy retired last year after a brilliant career with Boston Celtics and Heinsom was a top scorer with the National Basketball Association champions last season.

During summers "Fitch" was an umpire in the New England pro baseball league and in 1919, the year the circuit folded, was named the league's top scout by 16 major league clubs, selected over such men as Nestor Chylak, Hank Saur and John F. Lahey and James Leungue now.

However, Fortunato didn't go on to the majors. In 1947, O'Connell, chief eastern scout contact game like hockey and basketball in Canada that will ever be playing hockey."

Not that he has anything against hockey. "My kids are Bob Cousy and Gordie Howe. Gordie Howe—any man who can play for 20 years in a body can play for me like hockey and basketball in Canada that will ever be playing hockey."

Fortunato was chief referee for the Canadian intercollegiate basketball championships here in March. Then he turned in this whistle for a cigar.

World's Best Run Tonight

WORLD'S BEST RUN TONIGHT
HELSINKI (AP)—The world's foremost 5,000-metre runners will clash here tonight at the World Games in Olympic Stadium.

Ron Clarke, Michel Jary and Bob Schul all have bettered the listed world record of 13:35.0 set seven years ago by Vladimir Kuts of Russia.

WHEN I GET TO BE BOSS...

I'll thank my credit union savings account...

When I was just a baby my parents opened an account at the credit union for me. Each month they deposited my family allowance cheque in this account. By the time I reach the age of sixteen my credit union balance will be $1,688.16. This will be a real boost to my further education and of course for the opportunity in later years to be my own boss.

My parents have always liked the credit union, they agree that the loan and life insurance benefits have helped many people in their time of need. I believe that everyone who wishes to insure their future should be a credit union member, don't you?

Men with ability and ambition know. This credit union stands ready to provide every savings and loan service for business and personal needs for every "boss" present and future.

The bidding:

Opening lead—six of spades. Sylvia was never shy in the bidding. When she had a good hand, she would always bid it to the hilt—and then some. Sylvia had very little use for part score hands, her idea being that you had to bid games to win rubbers. It was next to impossible to dissuade her from this view.

This philosophy naturally got her into hot water, though it did occasionally produce a good result. For example, she held the South hand one day and opened the bidding with two spades. This was a far cry from a genuine forcing two-bid, but Sylvia wanted to be sure to get to game.

North couldn't really stop short of six, having an opening bid facing a forcing bid, and he naturally contracted for a slam. If West had led a diamond, Sylvia would have gone down very quickly, but West led a trump instead.

It did not take Sylvia long to play the hand. She realized that it would do no good to play West for the king of clubs, because even if the finesse through West worked, she would probably still have to lose two diamond tricks.

So she took the trump lead in her hand, played a club to the ace at trick two, and returned the queen of clubs. When East followed low, Sylvia discarded a heart instead of the more normal discard of a diamond.

West took the king, but, finding it difficult to lead a diamond from the king, he returned the jack of hearts. He naturally assumed from Sylvia's heart discard that this was the weak spot of her hand.

West later had a lot of difficulty explaining the logic of his play to East. Sylvia took the return with the ace of hearts, entered dummy with a trump, and discarded her three losing diamonds on the J-10 of clubs and king of hearts.

YOUR HOROSCOPE

FOR TOMORROW
 Generous Venus influences continue to encourage creative and cultural pursuits, to foster romance and stimulate social activities. Other aspects warn against being careless in financial matters, however. Neither borrow nor lend on Thursday.

FOR THE BIRTHDAY
 If tomorrow is your birthday, this next year in your life should prove highly stimulating on practically all counts. If business and financial matters have been somewhat on the slow side for the past few weeks, do not be disheartened. In about six weeks, you will see an upturn in these matters, which will last until September 8th, followed by a really excellent cycle between September 20th and November 18th when Jupiter, in your Sun-Sign, will bring you all the opportunities for success for which this planet is famous. Next good period along these lines: January 15th through April 15th.

If careful not to antagonize superiors during the latter half of October, when a Cancerian tendency to become overly excited at trifling situations may be unusually strong, you should do well where your occupational affairs are concerned. Outstanding months for accomplishment: September, December, next January and March. The successes of those engaged in creative pursuits will follow a slightly different pattern, with fine periods of profitable inspiration promised between now and the end of July, in late September, throughout November, January, March and May.

Personal relationships will be under generally good aspects for the next 12 months, with emphasis on romance throughout July (an exceptionally propitious month), between August 15th and October 4th, next February, April and May. Do not take what may look like the "real thing" in early August too seriously, however. Both travel and stimulating social experiences are star-promised in late July, throughout September, January, April and next June.

A child born on this day will be highly intuitive and impressionable, and will be extremely tenacious in the pursuit of goals.

School District No. 23 (Kelowna)

AUDITORS' REPORT

Kelowna, B.C.
 March 24, 1965.

To the Chairman and Members,
 Board of School Trustees of School District No. 23 (Kelowna).

We have examined the balance sheet of School District No. 23 as at December 31, 1964 and the statement of revenue and expenditure for the year ended on that date and have obtained all the information and explanations we have required. Our examination included a general review of the accounting procedures and such tests of accounting records and other supporting evidence as we considered necessary in the circumstances.

In our opinion the accompanying balance sheet and statement of revenue and expenditure are properly drawn up in accordance with generally accepted accounting principles applied on a basis consistent with that of the preceding year so as to exhibit a true and correct view of the state of the affairs of the District as at December 31, 1964 and the results of its operations for the year ended on that date, according to the best of our information and the explanations given to us and as shown by the books of the District.

Peachland LA To Legion Has Successful Year

The Ladies Auxiliary to the Canadian Legion Branch 69 in Peachland had a very successful year.
They held nine regular meetings, one executive and two carnival committee meetings.
In January, they catered to the Co-op meeting to the Ladies Curling banquet in Feb. and were hosts to the district curling meeting in February. In April they held their annual spring tea, with home baking novelties and a plant sale. Also tea cup reading and door prizes.
In July they organized a carnival with the help of the branch and a full evening of bingo, home cooking, white elephant table and refreshments was very successful and well supported. The children thoroughly enjoyed the McEivains' merry-go-round which was in attendance.
A wreath was laid on the Cenotaph on Remembrance Day and refreshments were served at the Remembrance Day dinner. They held a Christmas "Goody" Bake Sale and door prize, with a tidy sum realized from the sale.
A delegate attended one community meeting with a report going to the other one.

This Rustler High On Hog

MERRITT — At least one modern-day cattle rustler drives a Cadillac instead of riding a horse and stores his steers in a freezer instead of stashing them in a corral.
Magistrate D. M. MacDonald of Kamloops was told tire tracks from a 1957 Cadillac owned by Melville Larabee of Coltenville were found near the spot where a calf was butchered and stolen from a local rancher April 28.
Curt was told hairs from the animal were found in the trunk of the big automobile and meat was found in the deep freeze at Larabee's home.
Magistrate MacDonald found Larabee guilty of cattle theft. He will be sentenced July 6.

Slower Sales Of U.S. Gold

WASHINGTON (AP) — U.S. gold holdings declined $117,000,000 in May, the federal reserve reported today.
The loss was the smallest of any month this year. The gold stock on May 31 stood at $11,263,000,000.

Violent Withdrawal

HAMBURG, Germany (AP) — A physician broke into a local bank and believes he is owed money for damages. He fell through the floor of his apartment above and dangled briefly over the cashier's desk as a result, he claims, of a recent renovation of the bank offices which weakened ceiling supports.

Closing Exercises Complete Term At Armstrong School

ARMSTRONG — The closing exercises for the Armstrong Secondary School were held in the recreation hall June 24 at 7:30 p.m.
The hall was decorated with purple, blue and mauve streamers, cut flowers and Japanese lanterns.
Teachers Mrs. Eileen Mitchell and T. A. Moore presented the graduates.
Principal D. R. Stubbs gave a welcoming speech and spoke briefly to the graduates as to how different they looked when he came to Armstrong 11 years ago, how they entered high school when he became principal six years ago, and now they were graduating together, going on to a further education in various fields. Mr. Stubbs reminded them to take time out to think as a physics class, "What units do you believe life should be measured by."
The class was then addressed by T. A. Nordstrom, a former graduate of Armstrong High School. Mr. Nordstrom is a computer engineer and personal assistant to Dr. Schrum of the B.C. Hydro.

The miles cost less with compound power Chevron Gasolines

You keep the cost of family vacation trips down, when you fill up regularly at the sign of the Chevron.

For over a generation continual advances in the quality of Chevron Gasolines have had a single aim: to provide your engine with the smoothest, most dependable power available and to give you more miles per gallon.

In 1960, for example, Chevron led the whole industry by introducing Methyl—the biggest breakthrough in anti-knock additives since Ethyl, 36 years earlier. Other big leaps forward have included a special additive to banish carburetor-icing; the famous Chevron Detergent-Action formula which keeps your carburetor as clean as the day it was installed; improved refining processes to assure the best possible octane values for new and older engines alike.

Today, this compound progress towards ultimate perfection has put Chevron Gasolines in a class by themselves. Our research shows they represent the sum total of every element known to date that goes to make Chevron Gasolines truly superb.

Compound progress adds up to COMPOUND POWER. And with COMPOUND POWER the miles cost you less. Drive into your nearest Standard Station or Chevron Dealer this week and try a tankful for yourself...

Aims Of Catholic Women's League Of Immaculate Conception Parish

The aims and objectives of this organization for Catholic women are many and in fulfilling its motto "For God and Canada," many tasks are entrusted to us and no person is too small to receive attention, whether the need be in the parish or in the community. We maintain close ties with the Diocesan, Provincial and National Council where our wishes are made known at the annual convention.

Working under the guidance of our Director, Very Rev. Father R. D. Anderson, our immediate concern is the care of the altar, the spiritual needs of our members, the needy, the sick, the shut-ins, the lonely and the aged. Groups of ladies working in Circles and in Committees, carry on these works of mercy as well as working for Missions, both home and foreign; caring for the Parish Library which boasts some 1,400 books for all ages and interests; some also visit new-comers to the parish. An active group spend many hours in the Thrift Shop, washing, mending and pressing used clothing and making it available to anyone at a very nominal charge. The Circles provide a wonderful opportunity for friendship and exchange of ideas through discussion while busy hands knit, embroider, sew, quilt for Fall and Spring parish bazaars. The CWL also sponsors Girl Guide Companies and Brownie Packs and has representatives on the Lloyd Jones Home Auxiliary, John Howard Society, and Sunnyvale Home for Retarded Children.

This year's activities were many and varied. We hosted the Provincial CWL convention when delegates from all parts of B.C. met to deliberate League matters and enjoy our fair Valley. The theme of the convention "For God and Canada—A Modern Apostolate" re-emphasized the duty of every woman to take an active part in the parish, in the community and in the nation.

The Annual Membership Tea attracted more than 100 ladies to hear our Diocesan President, Mrs. R. Jones of Rossland address us and also pay homage to the CWL's oldest member in H.C., Mrs. A. Bregolis, and recognize her many years of service in the League.

In September, 28 new members were formally received in the group, boosting our total membership to 169.

Much preparation and thought went into organizing an Education and Leadership Workshop for the Okanagan Region. Highlight of the 2-day event was the guest speaker, Mrs. Hermon Stevens, of Calgary, Past National President, who gave an inspiring talk on "Leadership in the Space Age." She urged all members to become informed responsible members of society and to accept the challenge offered to us as Lay Apostles.

Lionel Wace, Social Welfare, spoke to us on "The Family, Cradle of Human Personality." He outlined the history of adoption and foster homes and gave provincial laws which govern this form of welfare. This project known as "Provincial Adoption Year" was further emphasized with slides and commentary at monthly meetings and regional conferences hoping to open more homes to these unfortunate children.

A. W. Bilsland explained the necessity of making will and estates correctly at the November meeting.

The Christmas Party was a "planned impromptu" affair with Circles presenting a variety of skits and songs; exchange of gifts and lunch topped a most hilarious evening. June is winding-up month and many Circles are planning some social event to top the year's activities.

The new executive for the coming year was formally installed in an impressive ceremony on May 13; Mrs. J. Olinger, President; Miss May Conroy, 1st Vice-President; Mrs. M. Koenig, 2nd Vice-President; Mrs. M. Ratcliffe, 3rd Vice-President; Miss E. Hromek, secretary; Mrs. A. Carten, Treasurer; Miss F. Heron, Mrs. A. Bregolis, Councillors; Mrs. G. Wambuke, Past President.

Fellowship Among Jaycee Wives Is Aim Of Kelowna Jaycettes

The Kelowna Jaycettes were formed in 1954 and at present have a membership of 20 girls. The 1964-65 executive is: president, Mrs. M. Whiter; vice-president, Mrs. F. Majewski; secretary, Mrs. W. Wostradowski; treasurer, Mrs. M. Tahara; director, Mrs. D. Smith. The aims of the Jaycettes are to be an auxiliary to the local Junior Chamber of Commerce; to assist the Jaycees; to promote fellowship among the wives of Jaycees; to provide members with an opportunity for self-development and to further international goodwill and understanding.

During the past year, the Jaycettes have undertaken quite a variety of projects. In September, we got underway with our annual Regal card sales, which proved to be a very successful project. We spent an evening in Pentleton at the Pentleton Jaycees birthday party.

In October, 12 girls canvassed an area for the Community Chest. We also attended the Kelowna Jaycees ladies night which was most enjoyable.

In November, three members attended the Okanagan-Mainline District Jaycee Congress in Kamloops. We helped the Jaycees with their annual Okanagan apple pack project selling apples and typing labels.

In December we held two socials. One was for all Jaycee wives and the other was a mixed social. We also organized the Jaycee Children's Christmas party. We wrapped gifts for the Mental Health association and wound up both the applepack and Regal cards projects.

Our January meeting was a dinner meeting and plans were made to adopt a sister unit in another country.

In February, we got our raffle of a pair of copper tooled pictures underway and baked cakes for a local drugstore's birthday party.

Our March meeting was attended by Jaycettes from both Pentleton and Vernon and a delightful evening of games and refreshments was enjoyed by all.

Our nominations meeting was held in April.

In May, a total of five girls attended at least part of the Spring Congress held in Pentleton. Several will also be travelling to Vernon at the end of this month for the provincial convention. The drawing for the raffle was held and the winner was Mrs. Marie Wostradowski of Rutland.

We assisted the Jaycees with the Teen Safe Drilling Road-ee. The Jaycettes marked test papers and tallied the scores of contestants. On the long weekend, the Jaycettes assisted the Jaycees with the concession booth at the Okanagan Sports Car Club Hill Climb. The May meeting was the election meeting.

Throughout the year we have been collecting clothes for the Unitarian Services committee and saving newspaper clippings for the Jaycees.

The installation banquet and president's ball will be held on June 10 and we will end the year with a social evening later in the month.

Ladies' Auxiliary Aids Kiwanians

The Ladies Auxiliary to the Kiwanis Club of Kelowna have a dinner meeting on the first Monday of the month when business is dealt with and a social time is enjoyed.

Our main objective is to assist the Kiwanis Club in any way we can with their various activities. The most recent project was on May 17 when we catered to the Charter Installation Banquet tendered the newly-formed Key Club of the Dr. Knox School. Also present at this occasion were the boys' parents, Kiwanis wives and other guests.

Last May we joined other Ladies Clubs at Capri Motor Inn for the Multi-Club Poolside Bazaar, where we had the white elephant and plant booth. At Christmas and Easter we provided hampers of food and clothing for needy families.

A barbecue during the summer and a Christmas party were much enjoyed by Kiwanis and their ladies.

Officers for the current year are: Mrs. Carl Brice, President; Mrs. Evan Williams, Vice-President; Mrs. Peter Reimer, Secretary; Mrs. Lloyd Green, Treasurer; Mrs. Everett Greenaway, Publicity; Mrs. Fred Henderson, Mrs. Peter Reimer, and Mr. Harold Michtanna, Phone 619.

Primrose Club Assists Students With Scholarship

The Primrose Club of Kelowna is composed of a group of women interested in the governing of Canada and in the Progressive Conservative Party. The club was named in honor of the great British Tory Darroch, whose favorite flower was said to be the primrose. The Primrose Club provides an annual scholarship of $100.00 for an outstanding Kelowna High School graduating student, in memory of the late Hon. Grose Stirling. The money for this scholarship is raised by members holding an annual Spring Tea, Blossom Tea and White Elephant Sale in the Fall. Two recent recipients of the award are continuing their studies abroad. Miss Anne Parslow is planning to teach at a high school in India, under the Canadian University Service Overseas Plan. Miss Marlene Gilbert last year's scholarship winner is now in Israel after spending a year at UIC. She is working on a collective farm near Haifa and spends four hours each day studying Hebrew. She plans to enter the University of Israel in the Fall. The Primrose Club takes pleasure in knowing that it has, in a small way, helped these students along the road to higher education.

The present executive of the Primrose Club are: President, Mrs. E. D. Walker; 1st Vice Pres. Mrs. A. Stubbs; 2nd Vice President, Mrs. C. Stanley-Hess; Secretary, Mrs. J. C. Donald; Treasurer, Mrs. B. C. Westkill.

Golden Anniversary Celebrated By Rutland Womens' Institute

The Rutland WI celebrating its 50th birthday this month wishes to report a very busy and successful year. An innovation this year was the WI float decorated by the members and entered in the May Day parade in 1964.

Women's League for the use of St. Theresa's hall, kitchen, dishes, linen, etc.

to everyone. It is hoped that old friendships will be renewed and many new ones made. We would like to meet anyone interested in joining our group and prospective members are urged to contact any of the executive for further information.

Thrift Shop Main Project Rutland WA To Hospital

The Rutland Hospital Auxiliary meets the fourth Thursday of every month and at present has 24 active and 4 associate members.

The Rutland high school graduates' banquet was catered for and many compliments were paid by the approximately 200 persons attending. This was followed by the flower show in August which is an annual event. Rummage sales and bake sales were also held to raise funds.

On June 9 a friendship tea will be held in the Rutland park hall to commemorate the 50th anniversary of the Rutland WI, and a hearty welcome is extended

Rutland Catholic Women's League Celebrates 25th Anniversary

The year 1964 began for the Rutland Catholic Women's League with a red luck supper during which the officers were installed. Also this past year our council celebrated their 25th anniversary of CWL with quite a number of past presidents attending. We participated in the fall bazaar, also the community bazaar held this spring. Quite a few conferences were attended by a number of the members. A strawberry social was held, also an Advent Supper to which all husbands were invited.

Rieger; second vice-president, Mrs. W. Simla; third vice-president, Mrs. T. Eao; secretary, Mrs. H. Falck; treasurer, Mrs. L. Zvonarich.

Spiritual convener, Mrs. A. Reiger; missions, Mrs. J. Ottenbreidt; Canadian League, Mrs. T. Eao; organization and membership, Mrs. W. Simla; education and citizenship, Mrs. E. Reiger; social action, Mrs. P. Haak; phoning, Mrs. A. Kellerman; cards, Mrs. A. Sherman; rep. to community meetings, Mrs. M. Gelowitz; radio and TV, Mrs. L. Zvonarich; press and report forms, Mrs. H. Falck.

There was a very good turnover at the religious article store. A good number of get-well cards were sent out. We catered to about 10 weddings and banquets during the year. There were four gifts presented to members celebrating their 25th wedding anniversary, 41 gifts to First Communion, four spiritual bouquets, and quite a number of infant medals to babies. Also two gifts to members leaving our parish.

We have helped out four fire victims in our community, donated to Park Society, March of Dimes, Seminary Fund, Hospital Fair, Xmas hampers and used clothing to St. Vincent de Paul and Rutland Thrift Shop. A Remembrance Day wreath was purchased for Remembrance Day services. We had a speaker on adoption, also films shown. There were a great number of visits made to sick and needy. For the missions we made about 900 bandages, gowns, collected used stamps and Xmas cards, eye glasses and broken rosaries. Also a penny auction held. A reception ceremony was held for new members, which was very impressive.

Rutland Volunteer Fire Brigade WA

This small group of very active women in the community have had a busy year raising funds and assisting victims of fires. Funds are raised through the annual Penny Auction held each autumn, and a Spring Tea and Bake Sale. Both these events were well supported and an additional Benefit Bake Sale was held in October of 1964 to assist the Rhyno family who lost everything in a disastrous fire.

Other activities of the year include a Santa Claus party for the children of the firemen and directors.

One of the major projects of the year is sponsoring the May Queen portion of Rutland's annual May Day celebrations.

The Rutland Brownie Pack, which was started by us six years ago has grown to such a large group that we continue to assist them with financial help.

The new executive for 1965 is: President, Mrs. W. Husch; vice-president, Mrs. E. Schneider; secretary, Mrs. E. Hanet; treasurer, Mrs. M. Coghilli; welfare, Mrs. N. Would; advertisements, Mrs. J. Duncan; kitchen convener, Mrs. G. Morphy.

Three burned out families were assisted with cheques and canned foods. Donations were made to many charitable organizations and help was given to the hospital fair, May day celebrations, Halloween party, etc.

The highlight of the year was the community bazaar sponsored by the Rutland WI as their contribution to the observance of International Co-operation year. Being unable to do anything on the international plane it was decided to further co-operation at home, and with this in mind all women's groups in Rutland were invited to participate. The idea was enthusiastically received and six groups took part. All donations were pooled for candy, baking, delicatessen, knitting, crocheting, sewing, white elephant and plant stall and a fish pond for the children. A delightful tea was served which was well attended, and the proceeds of almost $300 were divided equally as were the expenses. The spirit of friendly co-operation was truly gratifying and it is planned to make this an annual affair. Special thanks are due to the Catholic

WEARER PLEASE LEARN KARATE

LONDON (AP) — A woman shopper reports that when she examined a brief bikini for the maker's washing instructions she found instead a label reading: "The makers of this garment recommend karate sessions."

During the year we held two rummage sales and a raffle in December. Our main money making project however is our Thrift Shop, in the Valley Lanes building in Rutland. We are open Wednesday and Saturday afternoons all year round.

We compiled a cook book and sold 300 copies at $1.00 each and have just received a reorder for 200 copies. These books have been distributed to the same merchants who handled them for us previously.

In the field of public relations we sponsored a tea for the Rutland Senior High School Dress Display, operated a ball game recess on at the Rutland Park on Sunday evenings and entered a float in the May Day Parade.

We purchased for the Kelowna General Hospital, equipment amounting to $725.00, including a suction machine, intravenous pole, aqua K pad machine and pads, one dressing carriage for the surgical floor, 15 foot-stools with handrails, five gross diapers, five dozen receiving blankets, five dozen nighties.

We also presented the children's ward with 13 hardcover books as well as toys and games, which were purchased with money amassed from our coffee and birthday money.

A $50 donation was made to the Rutland Health Unit which will be completed shortly and in which we will hold our future meetings. To date we have held our meetings in private homes but our growing membership is making this a bit crowded at times.

Since our last report we have also invested in three $500.00 bonds which have increased in value up to $520.00. These have been set aside until the completion of the new hospital.

Senior Citizens' Good Time Club

The Good Time club of the Kelowna senior citizens had a very successful season of whist, cribbage and dancing.

The final meeting and social evening was held in the senior citizens' club room on April 23 with 22 members attending.

Mr. and Mrs. E. Palmer resigned as president and treasurer respectively and J. Minette was elected president for 1965. Mrs. Reg Lee, treasurer, Mrs. J. B. McDonald, secretary, John Nelson, vice president and Mrs. J. Minette and Mrs. Lily Jenaway composing the kitchen committee.

Mothers' Auxiliary To Minor Baseball

The Mothers' Auxiliary to Rutland Minor Baseball was formed in May of 1963 to assist the minor baseball association, and to provide uniforms for all minor league players. In 1964 eight teams were provided with sweaters, and this year an additional three teams have joined the ranks, and sweaters have been ordered for these boys. The mothers plan and cater to several hundred people at a family picnic at the close of the playing season each year. We assist the community during Rutland's Annual May Day each year.

Our biggest effort in this is a Pancake Breakfast, as well as cooking hamburgers, and helping in the food booths. Much of our fund raising takes the form of bake sales, and these have all been very successful, due largely to the hard work of the executive and members. We also took part in 1965 in the Community Bazaar which was sponsored by the Rutland Women's Institute.

The executive for the coming year is as follows:

Past president, Mrs. C. Malloch; president, Mrs. W. Husch; vice-president, Mrs. P. Wolfe; secretary, Mrs. O. Schneider; treasurer, Mrs. J. Weninger; publicity, Mrs. B. Showler; ways and means chairman, Mrs. B. Wotradowki; chairman of phoning committee, Mrs. B. Schneider.

Junior Hospital Auxiliary Sponsors Candy Stripers

The following is a report of the Junior Hospital Auxiliary activities in 1964 and up to May, 1965.

Active membership in the auxiliary is 50, we have at present 15 associate, and three life members.

Volunteers are now working in five departments of the hospital and we were pleased to add the teen age group of Candy Stripers in November. The girls assist on the medical and surgical floors each day from 4 to 6 p.m. We now have a total of 66 volunteers, not all members of the auxiliary, who last year assisted at the hospital for a total of 2,071 hours.

Our money making projects from June 1964 to May 1965 include: rummage sale, sale of memo calendars, annual dance, this year an evening in Paris theme, and our 12th annual Blossom Time Fair. The auxiliary will be sponsoring a Canadian 65 Fashion Show in October at the community theatre, and hope to make this an annual affair.

Purchases for the hospital in 1964 include: 1 laryngoscope with blades; 1 laryngoscope with handle and blades; 1 portable TV; 7 arm chairs with high backs; 1 patient lifter; 1 commode; 1 sterilizer for maternity; 1 glove powderer, linen including 15 dozen sheets, 20 dozen bath towels, 28 dozen hand towels, 28 dozen wash cloths. Total cost of equipment $2,394. We also invested in another $1,000 bond which brings our bond total to $7,000. This fund is set aside for use in our new hospital wing.

In January 1965 the auxiliary elected a new executive:

President, Mrs. Louis Rampone; vice-president, Mrs. Harold Pettman; second vice-president, Mrs. W. T. Manning; treasurer, Mrs. Lorne Smoak; secretary, Mrs. W. O. Aynsley; buying, Mrs. H. R. Birch-Jones; volunteer service, Mrs. J. Whillie

At the May meeting it was decided to purchase another $500 bond and to purchase over $1,000 in equipment for the hospital.

At the regional meeting held in Kamloops in May we were pleased to report Mrs. E. M. Palmer, one of our members, was elected assistant regional representative.

Mrs. I. Leathley chaired a workshop on volunteer service at the Kamloops meeting. It was interesting to note: Kelowna has the only organized volunteer service in the region. Mrs. Leathley will travel to Vancouver May 24 to attend an institute on volunteer service.

Council Of Women Privileged To Attend Legislative Meets

Councils of Women are the only women's organization with the right and privilege to attend legislative meetings of their province and to present resolutions regarding their work.

For the year 1965 Kelowna Council of Women officers are: President, Mrs. W. L. Smith; First Vice-President, Mrs. T. F. McWilliams; Second Vice-President, Mrs. B. Deans; Treasurer, Mrs. C. R. Downing; Recording Secretary, Mrs. C. Munlow; Corresponding Secretary, Mrs. T. J. Stephens.

Kelowna Council of Women was formed in 1950 although Councils of Women have been operating in Canada since 1893, when the first Council was formed by Lady Aberdeen. In the war years of 1916-1918 much of Council Women's work had been concentrated on patriotic service and emergency activities. After

Annual Report Of Ladies' Auxiliary -Royal Canadian Legion Branch 189

1964 was a busy and successful year and our members were kept busy carrying out the aims and objects of the auxiliary, which is to assist the local branch of the Royal Canadian Legion wherever possible, which includes catering for all social activities.

In March, the auxiliary catered for the district council meeting, serving a smorgasbord supper.

In June presentations of past presidents jams were made by Mrs. Gladys Baume, deputy district council representative, to five past presidents: Mrs. I. Kenney, Mrs. O. Parysh, Mrs. D. Cartwright, Mrs. E. Parker, Mrs. L. Edgerton.

Community work included canvassing the Oyama district for the Conquer Cancer campaign. The annual collection of used clothing for the Salvation Army was made and a shipment sent to Vancouver where it is most needed.

the war years activities centred around Child Welfare, and soon general pasteurization of milk. The Victorian Order of Nurses was brought into existence. The energy with which the early Councils struggled for reforms for children was unceasing. Council has never represented itself to be the sole mover in these matters; rather its aim has been to take up causes for which the need is evident and in which its help was sought.

Fund raising projects included bake sales held at a local parking house, two whist drives, and a hard-times dance, as well as a very successful blanket draw.

Annual donations were made at follows: Shaughnessy hospital, Pearson hospital, Pacific Command scholarship fund, and the children's Christmas party fund, covering the three districts of Oyama, Winfield and Okanagan Centre, and George Elliot high school year book, and gifts were also sent to our adopted veteran at Shaughnessy hospital.

Membership was increased with 11 new members initiated. A large coffee urn was purchased by collecting Nahab coupons, and is being extensively used.

A joint installation meeting was held in February and the executive is as follows: immediate past president, Mrs. G. Edgerton; president, Mrs. G. Schumann; first vice president, Mrs. M. Purdy; second vice president, Mrs. C. Mink; secretary, Mrs. W. Sproule; treasurer, Mrs. G. Allingham; sergeant at arms, Mrs. B. Hall; executive committee, Mrs. M. McDonagh, Mrs. G. Parker, Mrs. H. Crozman and Mrs. H. Gray.

Lions' Ladies Aim To Assist Lions

The Kelowna Lions' Ladies are primarily an auxiliary to the Kelowna Lions club. We are called on by the men's club to assist at any of their projects, and any money made is a joint effort.

Once a year we have our only money making project and this is our semi-formal dance. It is held on the first Saturday of December. This dance is arranged entirely by the ladies and our proceeds are turned back into the community in various charities.

One of our favorite projects has been the Red Cross loan cupboard to which we have given several wheel chairs, hospital bed, and other articles. Only recently we were honored with a citation from the Red Cross, a unique distinction in the Okanagan.

This year our money went to the David Lloyd-Jones home, being one of the first to contribute to the drive that is presently being headed by the local Lions club.

Our 1963 executive are: president, Mrs. Harold Denny; past president, Mrs. Victor Haddad; first vice-president, Mrs. William Robson; second vice-president, Mrs. Norman Mullins; secretary, Mrs. Edward Cinnamon; treasurer, Mrs. Robert Giles.

Kelowna Branch Voice Of Women

The Kelowna Branch of the Voice of Women had a very active and interesting year.

The main object of V.O.W. is to help create a climate of understanding between people the world over. One way members work towards this is by communicating with women in other countries, both in English and Esperanto.

One project undertaken was a high school essay contest. There were some excellent entries which were judged by Jack Scott of the Vancouver Sun.

We requested a local milk company to install equipment to remove Strontium 90 from milk supplies.

Some subject studies were French-English Canadian problems, and Indian affairs, and we hope to assist in an inter-community project in the future.

In conjunction with the local United Nations Association we assisted in the UNICEF greeting card sales; arranged for city-wide collection for the Mysore Project during Freedom from Hunger Week, and helped to organize the two day seminar held in the Fall on I.C.Y. and UNESCO.

In October we organized an Art Competition in the schools for a hand note design on the theme of International Co-operation Year. 5,000 copies of the winning design, by Barbara Holly, were printed, and are being sold in many parts of Canada and the U.S. to further Kelowna's I.C.Y. project and V.O.W. activities.

In early June we plan to sponsor an outstanding "International Children's Art Exhibition," at the Art Centre, with contributions from many countries in the world.

The slate of officers for 1963 are: President, Mrs. W. Knowles; Vice-President, Mrs. A. Drake; Treasurer, Mrs. D. Baillie; Recording secretary, Mrs. W. Spiller; corresponding secretary, Mrs. A. Haines.

on Labor Day weekend 1963.

After the fire from which nothing was saved, our first two meetings were held in a private home. The Royal Canadian Legion, learning of our desperation, very generously offered us the use of their building. Through their generosity we were able to hold regular meetings until the new Elks home was purchased. Our first meeting in the new home was held in May 1964.

Again we are able to meet our charitable commitments, the primary one being the Purple Cross fund. This is a national fund which is most anxious to care for any child, regardless of race, color or creed, who is in need of medical assistance and is without means.

Our lodge has a hospital fund set aside with which we plan to help furnish a room in the new addition. A small cheque is also donated in June of each year (Royal Purple Day) to aid the hospital for immediate contingencies.

Other donations include March of Dimes, Mental Health, Community Chest and C.A.R.S.

All this has been carried out under the capable supervision of our honored royal lady Mrs. Mary Knosshutzen. The principles of our lodge are justice, charity, sisterly love and fidelity. Constantly keeping these in mind we are ever aware of our great responsibilities.

Our present executive comprises: honored royal lady, Mrs. Mary Knosshutzen; past honored royal lady, Mrs. Clementine Miller; associate royal lady, Mrs. Margaret Mairs; loyal lady, Mrs. Dawn Fehr; lecturing lady, Mrs. Shirley Robson.

Westbank Residents Excel In Women's Club Activities

MC BOUCHERIE CHAPTER JOINS

Outstanding achievement of Mount Boucherie Chapter Imperial Order Daughters of the Empire this spring was the A. L. Lee tea and fashion show sponsored to provide the nucleus for activities at Westbank and Lakewood Heights elementary schools. Generously supported, the event provided between two and three hundred books, ready-made for grades one to seven reading. Regent, Mrs. W. M. Macleod, assisted with the show, and Mrs. J. H. Blackley, who has expressed gratitude for the splendid response.

At the time of its inception in 1959, the chapter decided to establish a fund for a George Plingle Secondary High School fund worthy of recognition. Starting with a gift of $50 to a graduate, this sum has increased as funds become available and this year of 1965 the total will be $300.

Mount Boucherie Chapter's greatest efforts have been in the field of education, and the past year's report reveals more than $500 expended here and elsewhere in the interests of young people. This amount includes $150 for the purchase of a plate presented to the recently formed George Plingle Band Association.

SUBSTANTIAL AID GIVEN
Another $150 provided surgical instruments for Kelowna General Hospital and Mrs. Paul Brown, convener for services at home and abroad, also sends books and other parcels to Canada and overseas, as well as taking charge of providing nursery bags for children confined to hospital. Mrs. Brown's budget during the past year was $248.

World Affairs programs are in charge of Mrs. T. H. D. Horsley, who has arranged for various speakers and film showings, as well as presenting her own eloquent tribute last January to the memory of the late Sir Winston Churchill.

Regent and standard bearer Mrs. Alex Windt were delegates to the provincial convention held in Vancouver, and other activities include a safety program, sale of UNICEF cards at Christmas and the laying of a wreath on Remembrance Day.

The chapter has 22 members, with Mrs. R. A. Pritchard as honorary regent, and funds are raised by means of the superfluous shop in Kelowna, run jointly with the Dr. W. J. Knox Chapter, at which members from both chapters share duties on regularly-appointed days.

First vice-regent is Mrs. Clare Small, with Mrs. V. E. Norman as second vice-regent. Secretary is Mrs. W. A. C. Wilson and treasurer, Mrs. R. E. Springer.

WESTBANK WOMEN'S INSTITUTE

Chief among Westbank Women's Institute activities is the annual fall fair, originated by the institute in 1929, and at which prizes are offered in a variety of classes including fruit, flowers, home economics and other branches of women's work, handicrafts and classes for young people. More than 500 entries helped make the 1964 fair a success, and assisting in its operation were Mr. and Mrs. John Seltenrich, W. B. Gore, L. T. Hannam, A. M. Thompson and Mrs. J. H. Blackley.

Institute gifts to Kelowna General Hospital this year include pajamas at a cost of $75, and a shower of aprons for the Hospital Fair. Other contributions are made as needed to the furnishings of Westbank's wards in that institution.

Bales of clothing and other articles are forwarded frequently to UNESCO, and during the past year 100 suitable garments, as well as Christmas gifts, were shipped to Escondido. These contributions amount to hundreds of pounds of clothing annually.

Working in her efforts on behalf of institute activities is Mrs. Emma Wolfe, who each year accomplishes enormous amounts of needlework in the form of quilts, crib covers, children's and lavette garments and knitted articles. In much of this she is assisted by contributions of materials, sewing and knitting from other members.

Other institute gifts have included donations to the Students Association Fund, the mental health association, the Helpless Home in Ontario, making the founding of Women's Institutes by A. L. Lee.

DEDICATED PLOT

Site offices in the community are maintained, besides which a bronze plaque, inscribed "Dedicated to the memory of the Westbank Women's Institute, 1961" this year marks the little memorial park at the site of the Hudson's Bay Company Fair Brigade camp at the east end of Main Street.

Institute president is Mrs. Ed Goshall with Mrs. J. N. Busham as vice-president. Secretary is Mrs. William Macleod and treasurer, Mrs. J. H. Blackley. Directors are Mrs. A. L. Kearley and Mrs. A. L. Clarke.

ST. GEORGE'S GUILD

Mrs. M. N. Reeve heads St. George's Anglican Guild, an active organization working untiringly on behalf of St. George's Church.

Annual events include a bazaar and various teas, as well as sales and catering to dinners, banquets and so on. This spring a novel teenage dolls fashion show and sale of work proved a huge success, attracting the interests of many girls who entered their dolls.

Funds from these events provide the means for assistance to the AYPAs; church upkeep and furnishings, dishes and many other necessary things. This year's vice-president is Mrs. J. A. Brown; secretary is Mrs. Reuben Huva and treasurer, Mrs. H. R. Drought.

YACHT CLUB AUXILIARY

This comparatively new, but very busy group is currently engaged in assisting Westbank Yacht Club with the renovation of the "Pendozi" into a clubhouse, by providing what funds they can raise. Members already have voted $550 to the Yacht Club account, and more money will be forthcoming from their recent Spring Fling, which proved to be another successful affair. Mrs. D. A. Pritchard is the 1965 president, and membership is rapidly increasing; so fast indeed, that the girls look forward to the time when they will be able to meet on board the "Pendozi" instead of in each other's homes.

UNITED CHURCH WOMEN

Mrs. C. R. Cameron is this year's president of the Evening Circle of Westbank United Church, one of three groups of women who interest themselves in church work. A recently organized "silent supper" provided money for the construction of three Sunday school rooms in the church basement.

The Alpha Circle comprises the older women of the congregation, while at Lakewood Heights the women also have their own group. All three confer together before decisions affecting their activities are decided on, and the congregational picnic is being planned for this month of June. Later a congregational supper is planned at the time of the dedication of the church addition.

GOSSPEL HALL WOMEN

Another active group is that of the Missionary Society at Westbank Gospel Hall, which meets once a month to sew and pack garments for needy ones in Canada as well as abroad. In this group are women from Kelowna as well as Westbank, Glenora and Lakewood Heights. Shipments of new and used clothing continue to go forward wherever needed, to India, Africa and all over the world.

Leper colonies are helped; Korean children adopted and regularly supported, and from these children come frequent letters expressing grateful thanks for gifts sent.

OUR LADY OF LOURDES

While a small group, members of the Catholic Lourdes League of Our Lady of Lourdes meet regularly and carry on with church and community work. President is Mrs. Peter Guttenberg and Mrs. Fred Dickson is secretary-treasurer.

UNITED CHURCH WOMEN

The Peachland United church women had a fairly successful year in 1964. They had 18 members and held meetings.

They decided to hold their meetings in the evenings in hope of getting some new members who could not attend in the afternoon.

The United Church women served lunch at the congregational meeting in January. At their annual meeting in January. At their annual meeting in January.

 members. In February they took part in the World Day of Prayer, which was held in the United Church. All Dorcas commitments were met and in the spring the WA catered to a wedding, a Masonic dance and put on a shower.

Mrs. Arthur Kopp was a delegate to the Diocesan annual held in Trail. Mrs. J. Young was a delegate to the Archdeaconry in Osoyoos in the fall.

A donation was received to buy new Prayer Books and also an Altar Book.

The regular donation to the Theological College was met and a new floor was laid in the Anglican Church in the summer.

The Women's Auxiliary attends to all cleaning of the church and buying of the stove oil, also paying for the lights.

In November the WA placed a spray at the Cenotaph on Remembrance Day.

In the fall, they held a very successful bazaar.
 Mrs. George Smith was the president, the secretary was

 Mrs. Arthur Kopp and the treas-

Kelowna Acettes Provide Fellowship For Travellers

The Kelowna chapter of the Ladies Auxiliary to the Associated Canadian Travellers was formed May 1964, to provide fellowship for travellers wives and to assist the men's club in any capacity. The club endeavors to hold various money making projects throughout the year in aid of charitable organizations.

The Kelowna Acettes are the branch of a national organization and operate by the rules of a national constitution. The club's present executive includes: President, Mrs. Peter Nowicki; Vice-President, Mrs. Richard Grainger; Secretary, Mrs. Mort McNally; Treasurer, Mrs. Bob Johnson; Directors, Mrs. Leo Berg, Ways and Means; Mrs. Will Cross, Publicity; Mrs. Lorne Purchas, Entertainment and Mrs. Jim Williams, Membership. Our present membership consists of 15 active members with a number of prospective members to join us in the fall.

During the past term, the girls have met on the first Wednesday of the month for a short business meeting followed by some form of entertainment. This included games, special guests—one of which was a local hairdresser demonstrating various hair styles. The girls also organized a mixed curling party which was held in February.

Money making activities were a Thanksgiving Bake Sale and raffles at two of the men's club dances. The club also supplied hampers at Christmas and Easter to needy families.

The girls assisted the men's club by ushering in their recent presentation of entertainer Rolf Harris held locally in aid of the Shannon Lake Dude Ranch project. At present we are preparing entertainment for presentation at the upcoming ACT Dance, June 19, at the Capt Motor Inn.

We are winding up our first full season with a dinner meeting at the Royal Anne Hotel on June 2, then we will recess for the summer, resuming active activities in September.

Okanagan Mission Women's Clubs All Have Very Successful Year

THE PARENTS' COMMITTEE FOR THE GIRL GUIDES AND BROWNIES

This committee consists of fifty mothers whose aim is to assist the Girl Guides and Brownies. A committee supplies uniforms for the Guides, warrant pins, pays the census and assists with purchase and maintenance of camping equipment. They are purchasing a new flag for the Guides. In 1964 they held a bake sale in April to pay some share of the Scout hall assessment. A raffle was held early this year to obtain $200 from each mother concerned. This paid the 1964 census. The Community Hall association gave $25 to the committee. This year the committee plans a bake sale to be held on June 5.

Officers for 1965 are: president, Mrs. R. D. Brown-Clayton; vice-president, Mrs. Howard Morgan; treasurer, Mrs. Joan Surtees; secretary, Mrs. W. E. Haskett; cookie convener, Mrs. V. Osborne; badges, Mrs. A. Baxter; publicity and camp convener, Mrs. Donald Hall; telephone convener, Mrs. L. Collett; transportation (Brownies), Mrs. H. Moir; (Guides), Mrs. W. Jones; uniform convener, Mrs. G. Sarsons.

THE EVENING GUILD OF ST. ANDREW'S CHURCH

In the past year this active group have sponsored a hobby show and children's art contest, served refreshments at parent-teacher night at Dorothea Walker school, assisted with the annual parish bazaar, sponsored the annual winter bridge tournament, the thrift shop in the parish hall, and organized a "Slave Day" when teenagers of the Parish raised considerable money. Money raised by the guild goes to furnishing and maintaining the parish hall, and to St. Andrew's church funds. Officers this year are hon. president, Mrs. H. Dunlop; president, Mrs. W. Haskett; first vice-president, Mrs. J. E. Apsey; second vice-president, Mrs. H. S. Robinson; secretary, Mrs. F. A. Smith; treasurer, Mrs. A. Blower.

THE U-GO-IGO CLUB

Although not as active as it has been in community projects for the past 18 years, the U-Go-I-Go club hopes to meet early in June for its annual general meeting. In the past year they have made over one hundred pairs of pants, numerous dresses, layettes, and a number of comfettes. These articles are distributed by the Kelowna women's council to needy families in the Kelowna district. Officers for 1964-65 were Mrs. W. H. Doyd, president; Mrs. W. Wyant, vice-president; treasurer, Mrs. W. Fraser; secretary, Mrs. O. Fisher.

THE LADIES' AUXILIARY TO THE COMMUNITY HALL

This auxiliary has, over the years contributed much to the community. The executive this year is:

president, Mrs. Joan Surtees; vice-president, Mrs. J. Wright; secretary, Mrs. Edward Blaker; treasurer, Mrs. Donald Hall; advertising, Mrs. Art Vajond; planning, Mrs. W. Wyant.

With the community hall executive they sponsored the grape festa last autumn in December, with the cooperation of the staff and pupils of the Dorothea Walker school and Chestnutfield Hall kindergarten, a delightful Christmas concert was staged in February, a most successful Margaret's dance was held in March, the fashion show selected in young fashions for mothers and children alike. The stage was beautiful, complete with an old Dutch windmill. Recently the auxiliary sponsored a most enjoyable "End of the Season" dance, featuring exhibition dances by the pupils of the Joan Vajond dance school. Coming up soon is the western jamboree dance.

The auxiliary could do with a much larger membership. Money raised by this group goes towards improvements to the community hall — a building much used by the whole community. Money earned by the auxiliary is turned over to the community hall association. The kitchen has been repainted, dishes and kitchen utensils have been brought up to requirements. Planned for the fall is a public address system.

FATHER FANDOSY CIRCLE to the CATHOLIC WOMEN'S LEAGUE

This circle has a membership of 20, who meet once a month—the third Monday, and welcome any new members. Present officers are: president, Mrs. Edward Guinette; secretary, Mrs. H. T. Meddins; treasurer, Mrs. Garry Holton. These women assist with the annual parish bazaar, supply clothing, food and money to local needy families. They are now making a patchwork quilt which will probably be raffled later in the year.

THE AFTERNOON GUILD of ST. ANDREW'S CHURCH

This is the group with the longest history of service to Okanagan Mission. They assist with the annual parish bazaar, hold two rummage sales, a plant sale, home cooking sales and teas. Money raised is turned over to St. Andrew's church for use in the church and parish hall. Officers this year are: hon. president, Mrs. H. C. S. Collett; president, Mrs. J. Willett; vice-president, Mrs. F. I. Crossley; secretary, Mrs. H. R. Hobson; treasurer, Mrs. C. H. Walford.

PRESENTING NEW DIPLOMAS BASKATOON (CPI)—The University of Saskatchewan provided a new type of diploma for graduates this year, instead of the plain sheet of parchment tied with a ribbon. This year's diplomas were smaller, and mounted in green leatherette cases with the university crest.

MRS. ROSEMARY KING, vice-regent of the Dr. W. J. Knox Chapter, IODE, (right) discusses the chapter's plans for 1965 with the secretary, Mrs. A. E. Rolph.

Dr. W. J. Knox Chapter IODE Contributes To Many Causes

Members of Dr. W. J. Knox Chapter, IODE were most encouraged by the success of their newest project, the distribution of TTI Christmas seals. Under the chairmanship of the regent, Mrs. P. G. Russell, over $5,000 was collected and returned to headquarters in Vancouver. Mr. Douglas Geeckie, executive secretary of the TTI Christmas seals campaign, expressed great satisfaction in the way the chairman and her committee of chapter members conducted the campaign, and in the amount of money collected. The chapter plans to continue this worthwhile work during the 1965-66 season.

Senior Citizens' Club 17 Report

It was decided to elect another delegate to the Senior Citizens' convention to be held in Princeton in June, and Mrs. H. Lamb will attend as well as the president and secretary-treasurer as a delegate for Senior Citizens' Club No. 17.

At the May meeting of the club, members planned a bus trip for the end of June to a destination somewhere south of Kelowna.

In honor of Mothers day two beautiful corsages were presented to the oldest mother and the mother who had the most children, the winners being Mrs. A. Cornoch and Mrs. W. Jackson respectively.

May 19 was chosen as club-room cleaning day, and several ladies volunteered to lend a hand.

The 11th anniversary of the club will take place on June 7 and a pot-luck supper will be held following the June meeting and featuring an anniversary cake. Membership for 1965 has already reached 307.

Because of a substantial increase in revenue from the superfluity shop on Lawrence avenue, operated and staffed by members of the Dr. W. J. Knox Chapter, Kelowna, and members of the Mount Boucherie Chapter, Westbank, the chapter has been able to contribute generously to local, provincial and national projects, as well as the annual bursary of $250 awarded to a deserving student of school district No. 23. Miss Sheena Fernow was the recipient in 1964. Library books and gifts were sent to the chapter's adopted school at Brookmere, B.C., IO DE calendars were bought and placed in over ninety classrooms in the district. The Lottie S. King memorial book will be presented to the A. S. Matheson school before the close of the school year. Again, a contribution to the travelling expenses of students attending the United Nations seminar in Vancouver was made.

In addition to the parcels of quilts, clothing, knitting, nursery bags, etc., valued at $440 (the largest in the chapter's history) sent to headquarters for distribution to distressed people, 17 eye examinations and 13 pairs of glasses were supplied to children of needy families. Three food parcels were mailed to an old age pensioner in Wales. Contributions were made to Children's Welfare, Cancer Fund, National Centenary Fund and others. The chapter continues to make and serve refreshments at the monthly meeting of the White Cane club.

The slate of officers and conveners for 1965-66 is as follows: regent, Mrs. P. G. Russell; 1st vice-regent, Miss Rosemary King; 2nd vice-regent, Mrs. T. Gregory; secretary, Mrs. Madeline Rolph; treasurer, Mrs. P. McCallum; educational secretary, Mrs. Walter Hall; echoes secretary, Mrs. Peggi Lee; standard bearer, Mrs. Larry Preston; services at home and abroad convener, Mrs. R. W. Ross assisted by Mrs. A. Laird; immigration and citizenship convener, Mrs. L. J. Brazzlel.

United Nations representative, Mrs. George Martin; white cane club, Mrs. Harold Johnston; local council of women, Mrs. A. Laird; Indian affairs study, Mrs. Charles Buckland; superfluity shop, Mrs. Charles Buckland, Mrs. Larry Preston, Mrs. Howard Williams (finances); public relations, Mrs. J. D. Kerr; membership, Miss Rosemary King; hospitality, Mrs. T. Gregory; provincial council, Mrs. J. D. Kerr and Miss Rosemary King.
