GROUNDWORK LAID IN KELOWNA SCHOOL EXPANSION

Groundwork was laid today for construction work at Kelowna secondary school where the two main school buildings will be "linked" by eight new classrooms. Here worker Art Ackerman sets up work platform during preliminary work at the site. The project was approved by ratepayers last December. It calls for construction of two art rooms, two regular classrooms, two physics labs, a general science lab and a library. The two-story structure will be partially vacant at first, but has been constructed to permit expansion. More than 1,500 students now attend classes at the school, and 2,000 are expected with four years. Work will last six or seven months. (Courier Photo)

Final Success For Alouette II Ends Time Of Frustration

VANDENBERG BASE, Calif. (CP)—The tension of a week of frustration evaporated Sunday night when Canada's Alouette II satellite was launched into an almost perfect orbit. The launch, aboard a Thor-Agena B rocket, went like clockwork. After a near perfect countdown, the rocket rose from the Pacific Coast launch pad only 47 seconds after its scheduled 8:43 p.m. launch time. Less than two hours later, information from an Alaska tracking station confirmed that the Defence Research Board satellite was in orbit and operating. "It was a perfect launch," said Dr. John Chapman, coordinator of the Alouette program. The launch had been postponed three times last week, and there were fears about another delay when winds in the jet stream at about 30,000 feet altitude started to increase in velocity Sunday. However, the wind stayed below the permissible limit. The launching originally was scheduled for last Tuesday, but was postponed one day due to radio trouble aboard the United States Explorer XXXI satellite which accompanied Alouette II into orbit along the National Aeronautics and Space Administration rocket. Two hundred knot winds in the jetstream, three times above allowable limit, washed out the Wednesday launch and it was re-scheduled for Saturday night. A HITCH DEVELOPED The countdown went smoothly Saturday until about eight minutes before launch time when minor technical problems forced two short delays. Then, when the launch was only 60 seconds away, a hitch developed in the radar tracking system and the launch was put off until Sunday. While final word on the orbit achieved by the two space craft will not be known until later today, early reports said Alouette II is circling the earth in an elliptical orbit ranging in altitude from 329 miles to 1,837 miles.

Trouble In Gemini 7 Power Unit Not Expected To Delay Flight

CAPE KENNEDY, Fla. (AP)—The U.S. Space Agency said today a spacecraft power unit is not expected to delay Saturday's Gemini 7 launch. A spokesman made the statement after engineers wrestled through the night with the trouble. First they installed a new power unit in the spacecraft, discovered it probably would cause the same difficulty yanked it out and replaced it with the original unit. "The problem is not completely solved at this time," the spokesman said. "Evaluation is continuing. But the situation looks good and we don't expect it will delay the launching." Astronauts Frank Borman and James A. Lovell Jr. are to ride Gemini 7 into space for a 14-day endurance mission. Nine days later, Gemini 6 astronauts Walter M. Schirra Jr. and Thomas P. Stafford are to take off in an attempt to rendezvous within a few feet of Gemini 7. The trouble developed Saturday during a flight rehearsal when a "voltage spike" appeared in the spacecraft guidance system. The source was traced to the power unit which supplies the system.

McNamara Claims In Saigon: We've Stopped Losing War

SAIGON (AP)—Defence Secretary Robert McNamara ended his visit to South Vietnam today by declaring the United States would throw in as many fighting men as needed to wage the war against the Communists. McNamara told reporters after his 36-hour tour he believes "we have stopped losing the war." He added, however, that the increased ferocity of Viet Cong and North Vietnamese attacks in recent weeks indicated "a clear decision by Hanoi to escalate infiltration and raise the level of the conflict." "These acts must be countered," McNamara said. "The South Vietnamese government will further increase its military strength." On the eve of McNamara's arrival, four Viet Cong battalions with North Vietnamese support troops handed the South Vietnamese one of their worst setbacks of the war. In an attack on troops holding an abandoned rubber plantation 45 miles northwest of Saigon, the Communists knocked out an entire government regiment as an effective fighting force. Several American advisers also were killed. It was feared the casualties might be the highest of the war to date. McNamara declined to speculate on the total U.S. forces that will be required but his comments heightened speculation he will advise President Johnson to increase American ground forces in South Vietnam to 500,000 from 165,000 and step up air attacks on the North Vietnamese jungle supply routes.

Moscow Mocks Bid By Chinese To Rally Reds To Rally Reds

MOSCOW (Reuters)—The Soviet Union mocked Sunday Chinese efforts to rally world Communists against Khrushchev policies and warned against super-revolutionaries. A carefully argued editorial in the party newspaper Pravda implied that the rest of the Communist world would have to go ahead without China. The article was confirmed that the breach between Moscow and Peking was as wide as ever and possibly even greater than when Nikita Khrushchev held sway in the Kremlin, observers said. Pravda's sarcastic reference to super-revolutionaries was a clear slap at Mao Tse-tung, the Chinese Communist chairman, although it did not refer to him by name. The editorial, which spelled out Moscow's rejection of recent Chinese attacks, said "the Soviet party has always been implacably opposed to any opportunists who, donning various masks, including those of 'super-revolutionaries,' have tried to divert the Communist movement from the right road." The Pravda statement, which covered two-thirds of the front page, did not appear to indicate the slightest change in Soviet policy, but a hardening of Moscow's attitude to Chinese attacks. It came nearly two weeks after the Kremlin returned to the counter-attack with a Pravda dispatch from Peking listing and rejecting China's criticisms. Pravda ridiculed a recent call in the Peking People's Daily for Peking-aligned parties to "draw a clear line of demarcation both politically and organizationally between themselves and the revisionists, who are serving U.S. imperialism." "Indeed, from whom are they going to dissociate themselves against whom are they going to unite?" Pravda asked. "As a matter of fact, this means dissociation from an overwhelming majority of Marxist-Leninist parties."

Permanent UN Peace Force "Should Be Backed By U.S."

WASHINGTON (AP)—The United States should support the United Nations in creating as soon as possible a permanent force to keep peace in the world, Vice-President Hubert H. Humphrey said today. Humphrey took his stand as he opened a White House conference on international co-operation which heard the issues of peace literally from the earth to the moon discussed. One committee urged President Johnson to seek international agreement on "a code for human activity on the moon" to prevent the earth's natural satellite from becoming a military base for any country. Humphrey, chairman of the conference called by Johnson in support of the UN-proclaimed International Co-operation year, departed from the previously prepared text of his keynote speech to say: "High on the agenda of the UN and fully supported by this government should be the creation of a permanent peacekeeping force ready to respond to act if there is a threat to the peace of the world." Before the participants split into panels to discuss a variety of possibilities of international co-operation, Humphrey read them a message from Johnson halting the conference as a "town meeting of leaders of the nations" and saying he had directed agencies of the government not only to take part but also to "study your recommendations with a view to immediate action."

Act Of Rio Urges Changes In Construction Of OAS

RIO DE JANEIRO (CP)—The foreign ministers of 19 Latin American countries late Sunday night approved the Act of Rio de Janeiro recommending sweeping changes in the Inter-American system known as the Organization of American States.

But approval came only after heated debate and parliamentary manoeuvring. The big wrangle came over giving the OAS peace-keeping powers, and passage on that proposal came by a slim margin. Shortly before the foreign ministers approved the new reforms in the 1948 OAS charter, Spain announced a 10-year program of economic aid to Latin America that would cost up to $1,000,000,000.

Division came over a clause instructing the committee on charter amendments to consider giving the political council peace-keeping responsibilities. BRAZIL SUPPORTS SECTION Some of this appeared a step toward abridgement of the principle of non-interference in affairs of other nations, a key point in every Latin American nation's foreign policy.

The United States defended its inclusion. Chief U.S. delegate Averell Harriman said no country should be opposed to the idea of the appropriate OAS agency being able to act to maintain peace. He added that the conference would be "weakening the whole paper" by removing the clause. The clause was upheld by a vote of 10 to 8 with the Dominican Republic abstaining.

Weather Scene All Mixed Up

Below-zero cold on the Prairies, snow in Ontario, Quebec and New Brunswick and milder weather on the east and west coasts presented a mixed picture today on the Canadian weather map.

Overnight temperatures on the Prairies dropped as low as 20 below at Prince Albert, Regina was 10 below and Winnipeg six below. A warming trend was indicated in the Prairie forecast. Alberta temperatures were already in the 30s. Elsewhere more than a foot of snow had fallen in Northwestern Ontario and New Brunswick. Clearing and cooler weather was indicated by both areas.

French Satellite Stops Sending

PARIS (Reuters)—France's first space satellite stopped sending signals back to earth Sunday, the French armed forces ministry announced. A ministry official said there was no indication whether the signals will resume. The satellite was blasted off from the Sahara Desert Friday, atop an 18-ton French Diamant rocket.

NEWSPAPERMAN'S MEMORY CAME IN USEFUL

BANGKOK, Thailand (AP)—A news dispatch from the United States and a newspaper man's memory recalled a worried American mother and her runaway 16-year-old daughter in Bangkok today. The girl, Mary Wilson, had slipped from the Encino, Calif., home of her parents, Dr. and Mrs. George Wilson, Nov. 19. They believed the had gone to Bangkok to work for an orphanage. Mrs. Wilson arrived in Bangkok early today to try to pick up her daughter's trail. Meanwhile, Alan Durby, a reporter at the English-language Bangkok Post read an Associated Press dispatch about the Pierra Foundation, a Bangkok orphanage. Durby called the orphanage and learned Mary had been working there a week. He called the U.S. Embassy, by chance found Mrs. Wilson there and told where Mary was. "I'm so thankful that she's safe and sound," said Mrs. Wilson said after the reunion with her daughter. "She's a do-gooder and a rather religious girl." A spokesman at the Pierra Foundation said Mary came to the institute last Tuesday inquiring about adoption of a child. She was asked to wait until an official of the foundation could be located but left before the official arrived. She returned the next day with her luggage and after a conference with Dr. Pierra Vejabou, head of the orphanage, moved into the establishment.

RAF Token Force May Be Sent In To Guard Kariba

LONDON (AP)—Prime Minister Harold Wilson held an emergency meeting of his cabinet today amid reports Britain was ready to send an RAF squadron to Zambia, bordering rebellious Rhodesia. The meeting lasted 1 1/2 hours. It was called after a midnight meeting of ministers directly concerned with the Rhodesian crisis broke up. Wilson has shown various about sending British ground forces to meet Negro-ruled Zambia's request for troops to protect the Kariba dam. The dam is jointly operated with Rhodesia and is the main source of power for Zambia's huge copper mines. Much of the copper is exported to Britain.

WOULD BE TOKEN FORCE Sources said Britain would send a token RAF reconnaissance squadron to patrol the dam and its power lines. A squadron is made up of 12 to 18 planes. Depending on the type of planes, there would be 20 to 40 air crew, 40 to 100 ground crew and 100 to 200 men assigned to administrative duty. The question of troops for Zambia threatened to split the fragile unity British political parties have maintained in face of Rhodesia's seizure of independence. President Kenneth Kuanda of Zambia has formally asked for British troops to protect the Kariba dam, which was sabotaged last week. The dam is controlled from the Rhodesian side. Political observers said that if Britain decides to send even a token military force, the right wing of the opposition Conservative party would interpret the move as the first stage of military action against Rhodesia and mobilize its parliamentary strength in an effort to block such action. The Tory right wing view was put Sunday night by Julian Amery. Full protection for the Kariba dam, he said, would involve sending British troops into Rhodesian territory. He added: "This would be to risk a clash with the Rhodesian army, which I would regard as risking civil war, and this seems to be totally unacceptable."

BOTTLE BOMBS AND STONINGS SHATTER SALISBURY'S PEACE SALISBURY (Reuters)—Two fires caused by thrown bottles of inflammable liquids and several minor stoning incidents interrupted an otherwise peaceful Sunday in Salisbury, a police spokesman said today. Ten Negroes were arrested after the fires late Sunday night, the first of which caused considerable damage to a timber shed. The second was extinguished quickly. One Negro was slightly injured and another was arrested in the stoning incidents. There have been few incidents of violence in the Rhodesian capital since Prime Minister Ian Smith declared the white-ruled British colony independent Nov. 11. A reported call for a strike this week by Negro workers as a protest against the independence seizure appeared today to have failed. Police said there was no evidence of a strike as workers streamed into industrial areas and the city centre on buses, bicycle and foot. Workers were also reported turning up at their jobs in Bulawayo, the country's second largest city, 300 miles to the south.

KINSMEN DONATE $3,000 TO CITY FOR PARK

The largest cheque both in size and amount the Kinsmen Club of Kelowna ever gave the city was presented Saturday to Mayor R. F. Parkinson by president Andrew Sperie. The club donated $3,000 to the city to aid in the development of the Kinsmen Wardlaw Park on the lakeshore, at Aldon St. and Wardlaw Ave. "We felt since the cheque was large in amount, it might as well be large in size," Mr. Sperie said. The club had a city sign firm design a cheque two feet wide by six feet long. Attending the presentation, besides the mayor and president, were Geoffrey Cottle, parks foreman for the city, Gordon Smith, parks and recreation commission superintendent, and David Wright, Kinsmen parks chairman. The money was raised by the Kinsmen at their regatta midday and from the Dan Cassara chorus in the community theatre. From the left Mayor Parkinson, Mr. Cottle, Mr. Smith, Mr. Wright and Mr. Sperie.

New Controls Recommended For Vegetable Pests, Disease

F. M. King, provincial horticulturist in Kelowna, has recommended changes in vegetable disease and insect control treatment for 1966.

Sevin will replace Methoxychlor as the treatment for surface feeding cutworms on asparagus.

Aldrin and the other chlorinated hydrocarbons no longer control cabbage root maggot. Diazinon or Guthion will be recommended in the transplant water for early control of root maggots on cabbage and other crucifers.

Diazinon granular and diazinon drench will be the treatment for all-season control of root maggots.

BCFGA Local Backs McLaughlin

T. C. McLaughlin, long-time chairman of the Okanagan-Mission-Kelowna Local, BCFGA, has been nominated to the executive of the association.

Mr. McLaughlin, accepting the nomination this week said he felt the BCFGA had not been giving leadership to growers and the industry.

He was reluctant to deal in specifics at present, he said, but felt for instance "they (the BCFGA) did not do a good job with the governments on this fruit aid business."

On providing leadership, he said: "This we must, if we are to become a dynamic part of the future. We have become a symbol of a way of life that disappeared a long time ago — and so will we unless we conduct this business with entirely new concepts and skills."

"I believe I can help with this new approach and hope I will be given an opportunity to do so."

Also nominated by the local were Allan Claridge for president of the association and L. L. Roehoult for director of Sun-Type Products Ltd.

N. C. Taylor, member of the fruit board reviewed for the chairman; W. E. Raikes, secretary-treasurer and F. G. Buck, communications of the planning, alternate delegate to the convention in January.

Raise Beds For Field Crops Advises District Horticulturist

F. M. King, provincial horticulturist in Kelowna, today advised growers to use raised beds to promote earlier crops and best returns.

"In the early spring when soil is cold, vegetable crops grow slowly," he said. "Raising the soil into beds eight to 10 inches high with a mechanical bed-former, not only provides a better-drained soil, but makes the soil warm up faster."

"With some crops a week or 10 days can be gained in earliness through the use of raised beds."

"On large acreages, beds are made with a tractor and special bed-forming equipment. On small areas, a lister plow may be used to mound the soil and the bed is finished by hand."

"Standard beds are 42 inches between centres (top width of bed 21 inches to 28 inches). Seed is drilled along the top of the beds at an appropriate spacing for the crop being grown."

"Crops which would benefit from raised bed culture in the interior are carrots, cucumbers, beets, radishes, lettuce, bunch onions and most crops that mature during June."

"Muck soils would respond best to this treatment but the technique is useful on mineral soils as well," Mr. King said.

The horticulturist suggested growers obtain "Construction and management of small Greenhouses" and "Sweet corn production" bulletins from the nearest B.C. department of agriculture office.

"Ski Kelowna" Promotion Ready For Next Week Start

"Ski Kelowna," a promotion to try to attract some of the millions of dollars spent by Lower Mainland skiers, begins next week.

The big push, sponsored by the visitor and convention committee of the Kelowna Chamber of Commerce, opens in Vancouver Dec. 6 and this year, it takes on an international flavor.

STARTS FRIDAY
Bob Gordon, visitor and convention co-ordinator, leaves Friday to help set up a booth in Vancouver. The booth, to be manned by Big White operators, will solicit business and answer enquiries on skiing opportunities in the Okanagan, with emphasis on Kelowna as the central point for potential visitors.

Vancouver and Lower Mainland skiers at present spend more than $4,000,000 yearly at out-of-province ski areas, says Mr. Gordon, and many are not aware of the facilities available in the Valley.

"This year," he said, "the committee has planned the most extensive program ever, to promote the area."

HEADQUARTERS
In addition to the booth, headquarters will be set up in the Georgia Towers Hotel, and when Lady-of-the-Lake Marcia Fernow arrives, the hotel will provide her with a Rolls Royce from the airport to her quarters.

She will be a guest at a giant breakfast, Dec. 11 at The Hill where she will be interviewed by members of the press, radio and television.

Mr. Gordon says more than 2,500 people attended the breakfast last year, and many valuable contacts were made by Ski-Kelowna promoters.

"But that's not all. Last year literally thousands were contacted, and many displayed interest in coming to the Valley to ski. This year we expect to do even better." He will make a slide trip to Seattle to promote the cause there.

One aspect of last year's promotion to be repeated will be the Fabulous Family Weekend. The all-expense paid trip for a family will be paid for by the committee. The family is chosen by ballot at the ski booth.

"This year, our campaign will be shorter, but it will be even more intense, and we are expecting even better results."

Three Fire Calls Answered By Volunteers Over Weekend

The Kelowna Volunteer fire brigade answered three calls during the weekend, a possible gas leak, a chimney fire and a general alarm.

A woman travelling snow outside her house caught an odor of gas and called the fire department. The gas company was called and the valve outside her home tightened. Gas officials said most outside valves have an odor.

A chimney fire was extinguished without fire damage at 1:05 p.m. in the 700 block Coronation Ave., Sunday.

A fire in the rear section of S. M. Simpson sawmill broke out Sunday at 4:30 p.m. Cause is not known and the damage is "nominal" sawmill officials said.

The city ambulance made four calls Saturday, one of them to the scene of an accident, and three between private homes and the hospital.

This brought the week's total to 15 and the total from Jan. 1 to 612.

Authority On India Speaks At Canadian Club Meeting

Dr. John K. Friesen, a noted authority on India, will be the speaker at the next meeting of the Kelowna Canadian Club.

The meeting will be held Wednesday, December 1, at 6:30 p.m. in the Matador Inn. Dr. Friesen picked as his topic, "Tradition and Change in India."

Dr. Friesen has been director of the University Extension at UBC since 1953. In addition to his many interests in B.C. education, health, welfare, agriculture and business, he has been actively associated with international programs and agencies.

For several years he was president of the International House Association at UBC. In 1954 he was consultant to Western European Universities and in 1962 under the auspices of the Carnegie Foundation he was

Potato Strain May Be Tried

A new variety of potato, "Norgold Russet," may be grown commercially in the interior as a late summer variety, preceding the Netted Gems.

F. M. King, provincial horticulturist in Kelowna, said extensive trials have shown Norgold is 10 days earlier than Netted Gem.

"It is capable of yielding 15-20 tons per acre, and showed no serious diseases in 1965," he said.

"It shows a tendency towards hollow heart in large tubers. Reports on cooking vary, but most growers agree Norgold does not cook as well as Netted Gem."

"On the basis of this year's results, Norgold Russet appears to have a place in B.C. potato industry. It will not replace Netted Gem, but may be useful to precede it."

"It is worthy of further trial on a commercial scale. Although the variety is not registered for sale in Canada as certified seed, three applications for registration are being made to Ottawa," Mr. King said.

AERIALS STOLEN

William Jorgensen, 1251 Lawrence Ave., reported to police at 12:05 p.m. Sunday, the theft of two aerials from cars parked in front of his residence Saturday night.

CMHC FIGURES RELEASED FOR 10 MONTHS OF THIS YEAR

Fewer Start Houses In Valley

Housing starts and completions for the first 10 months of 1965 are down in Kelowna and Pentlicton.

Vernon's figures are below those of other two Valley cities, but they are up from the 1964 figures.

In the province, housing starts in urban centres were down 33 per cent in October and five per cent in the 10-month period.

Dwelling starts in urban and rural areas and smaller B.C. centres for the first nine months of 1965 show an increase of six per cent.

"This difference indicates the current strength of housing activity on the fringes of the urban centres and in smaller centres," Central Mortgage and Housing officials said in a report on this first 10 months of 1965.

Kelowna leads the three Valley cities in the number of dwelling units begun this year, and from the same month last year, Pentlicton had eight, and Vernon six.

In the first 10 months of 1965, Kelowna had 200 completions, down 95 from last year. Pentlicton had 127, and Vernon 130 in the 10-month period this year.

There were 11 completions of dwelling units in Kelowna in October this year, compared with eight in Pentlicton and six in the province for 1964, when there were 103 starts.

A total of 223 housing starts was made in the 12-month period in 1964—70 more than in Pentlicton and 240 more than in Vernon.

In October 1965 Kelowna had 10 dwellings started, down eight from the same month last year, Pentlicton had eight, and Vernon six.

The response to the winter house-building incentive program has not been quite as large as last year throughout the province.

Mr. King said the 10-month period covered 4,022 units compared with 3,205 in 1964. In October 1965, 673 units were approved with eight in Pentlicton and six in the province for 1964.

Realtors Show the Way Toward Togetherness

The Okanagan Mainline Real Estate Board has, for nearly two years now, been conducting business on an unprecedented scale. Nearly every month their sales volume sets a record and compares very favorably with other, and often larger, similar organizations in Canada.

But this past week they continued another pioneering aspect of their work during a seminar in Salmon Arm. Nearly 75 per cent of their membership was present to hear discussions that might well have been heard by all living in the Valley.

One of the speakers was Prof. T. J. Barnose of the University of Washington.

"Self awareness and the art of listening, are the most underdeveloped human relations skills," he said.

"From self awareness, which can also be described as the ability to view yourself realistically and communicate to yourself, about yourself, you gradually gain a better insight into your relations with other people and how to make them more effective. It helps you to appreciate the other man's problems as well as your own.

"The art of listening is another important factor of human communications, but being silent is not the same thing at all. You can be quiet, but still not really listen, or absorb, or understand what the other man is saying."

How often have you expounded a problem to someone and had them sit there sagely nodding and then when you are finished their first comment shows they were miles away all the time you were talking.

It is disconcerting, but it is not a situation unknown to many people. When it happens to you do you make a decision not to do it to someone else the next time the shoe is on the other foot?

Real estate people are not the only ones who deal with other people's problems, but they are showing the way to make sure they know what to do about it.

Others cannot always solve your problems, but often just having an interested and considerate listener helps to put the problem in a proper light.

We congratulate the realtors on their efforts in this most important area of living with one's fellow man.

Parental Responsibility

Canadians ought not to take lightly recent reports that the incidence of illegitimate births has been rising in this country. Each individual case has a shattering impact on the persons directly involved and, when there are large numbers of such cases, society itself feels the impact.

Last April, Alberta's health minister reported a significant increase in the percentage of births outside of wedlock in this province. A welfare department official was reported as saying a high percentage of girls entering marriage were pregnant at the time.

Last week in Toronto, a church conference was informed that the illegitimacy rate rose from 3.5 per cent of live births in 1931 to 4.5 per cent in 1961. The percentage of unmarried teen-age mothers had risen from 28 per cent of the total in 1945 to 44 per cent in 1962.

There is no use blaming churches or schools or movies or other agencies for the situation which finds so many young people of this age playing fast and loose with their lives. The big responsibility, surely, lies on the parents.

There is altogether too much permissiveness on the part of parents these days. They allow, and, indeed, encourage, their teen-age sons and daughters to learn about fast living and extend their freedom to practise it. They exert too little discipline at home and fail to teach self-discipline, which is the only real safeguard outside the home.

Influences encouraging premature experimentation in sex are powerful these days. They can only be counterbalanced by stern discharge of parental responsibility. Youngsters must be warned that, while society may seem to take an indulgent attitude towards moral laxity, it continues to exact harsh penalties.

Both in moral attitudes and practical principles, the general home environment in this country today could stand considerable up-grading. Many parents simply aren't assuming their proper share of social responsibility.

Old Mail Dodge

The "old mail dodge"—the unordered merchandise racket—is expected to be pushed even harder than usual this season, Better Business Bureau headquarters in Toronto advise. This type of promotion always hits its peak in the period of the pre-Christmas buying spurge, which is not very far away.

The product may be a $1.25 box of Christmas cards (which could be bought for 60 cents elsewhere) or it may be a much more expensive item. Frequently it comes from a so-called charitable organization, leaving the sympathetic with the feeling that they scarcely dare refuse to pay for it.

More often than not, the recipient doesn't really know where he stands in respect to such merchandise. BBB officials point out that you are not obligated to acknowledge its receipt, pay for it (unless it is used), or keep it beyond a reasonable length of time.

Unordered merchandise promotions are a nuisance, at best, and at worst, a calculated swindle. One need feel no compunction over not accepting items mailed out in connection with charity or sympathy appeals. In many cases, the charity involved receives only a small percentage of the money you send in.

The best way to put a stop to unordered merchandise solicitations is to make them unprofitable to the senders. Go to a reliable merchant for the things you intend to buy, the Bureau recommends, and make your charitable donations directly to the cause concerned. In each case, your dollar will be put to better use.

Kremlinologists Aim to Untie Churchill's "Riddle Wrappings"

WASHINGTON (AP)—In Winston Churchill's famous phrase, the Soviet Union still is "a mystery wrapped in a riddle inside an enigma," but the mystery isn't as deep as it used to be.

One reason for the change is the work done by a group in the U.S. government called the Kremlinologists. It is their job to put together all information that can be had of the Soviet Union.

The group has an unwritten rule against making speeches or otherwise talking out, a rule especially valid since Llewellyn Thompson became the No. 1 Kremlinologist in 1962.

When Thompson, 61, returned from his tour of duty as U.S. ambassador to Moscow, he told State Secretary Rusk he would not join the speech-making circuit and would not talk "on the record."

Rusk agreed, Thompson stuck to his decision, and his aides follow suit.

MEET OFTEN
The reason is simple. Thompson, who officially is ambassador at large, regularly meets with Anatoly F. Dobrynin, the Soviet ambassador. All contacts between representatives of the world's two major nuclear powers are important and Thompson is reported as being particularly diligent in his job of keeping Rusk up to date and meeting his Soviet opposite number on the spot.

Thompson sits at the president's counsel whenever anything remotely connected with the Soviet world is on the agenda.

He spent nine years in the Soviet Union, four attached to the U.S. embassy during the Second World War and five as ambassador.

Others in the group of top American Kremlinologists are Charles (Chip) E. Bohlen, 61, now ambassador to France; Foy D. Kohler, 57, current ambassador to Moscow; and perhaps in a somewhat broader sense—George Kennan, 61, a Princeton professor and Averell Harriman, 73, now ambassador at large.

Bohlen, Kennan and Harriman are former ambassadors in Moscow.

STILL A MYSTERY
The Soviet Union still is a mystery, though it is less esoteric than it was in Stalin's time.

To solve this mystery, the Kremlinologists are engaged in a continuing effort to patch together whatever seeps out from that closed society.

This is the main difference between the students of the Soviet Union and others who study developments in a West European or hemispheric country and this explains why the Soviet experts are regarded as a group distinctly separate from others with a special knowledge.

Of the five, only two have regular control over U.S. Soviet affairs: Thompson, in Washington, and Kohler, heading the mission in the Soviet capital.

A Good Bet Now For Gamblers

SYDNEY, N.S.W. (Reuters)—A special 24-hour telephone service for compulsive gamblers will be started in Sydney by the Central Methodist Mission, whose life line centre already caters to Australians with personal, family or spiritual problems.

"In 2½ years, life line has taken the lid off Sydney, uncovering a wide range of human problems from suicidal despair to simple loneliness," said Rev. Alan Walker, superintendent of the mission.

"A frequent caller on the life line phones has been a compulsive gambler. Gambling is the fastest-growing social problem in New South Wales. With increasing facilities for gambling, there is a real danger that it is a major social problem.

"Compulsive gambling is seldom an isolated problem. Suicide, nervous disorders, disruption of marriage and family life, loss of home, unemployment and financial ruin frequently appear as part of the problem, each bringing additional problems of its own."

Ombudsman Now Not So Busy

WELLINGTON, N.Z. (CP)—New Zealand's ombudsman, the official who investigates public complaints against government departments, says he now is receiving fewer cases than when first appointed three years ago. He attributes this to the fact that government procedures have been improved as a result of earlier investigations and also to the fact that the initial novelty, which produced some frivolous appeals, has worn off.

The ombudsman, Sir Guy Powles, believes the office has been well worthwhile.

OTTAWA REPORT

Quebec Voice Louder Now

By PATRICK NICHOLSON

Is the Liberal Party the political arm of French-Canada?

French-Canada has supported the Liberal Party in federal politics virtually ever since the execution of Louis Riel on Nov. 16, 1885. In the election two years later, the victorious Conservative Party won 33 of Quebec's 65 seats. But it was to be nearly three-quarters of a century before, in the Diefenbaker sweep of 1958, the Conservatives would win more Quebec seats than the Liberals.

Quebec MPs have formed a majority of the Liberal caucus in four parliaments. The election of 1961 gave the defeated Laurier-Liberal party 62 Quebec seats, dominating its parliamentary strength of 82 MPs. In three elections in the 1930s, the Quebec MPs again accounted for more than half the parliamentary strength of the Liberals; but, although Mackenzie King formed Liberal governments in those years, he relied upon the Prairie Progressives for his parliamentary majority, and so Quebec did not dominate the government.

QUEBEC VS. THE REST

A nightmarish week haunted thinking Liberals throughout the recent election campaign was that their party might emerge with a small overall majority, which itself might be dominated numerically by representatives of French-Canada. This prospect raised two drastic possibilities. The first was the obvious one: that the Liberal party would thus cease to be a national party, and would pay dearly for its admitted triumph by losing support in the nine other provinces in the next election. The second was the fear that, while the Government would be backed into a corner and have to adopt policies which favored Quebec above the other provinces, those policies would in turn influence the Conservative and determined New Guard from Quebec with its very socialistic philosophy.

A typical pre-voting prediction —with which this column did not concur—was that the Liberals would win 142 of the 265 seats in the House of Commons, and that between 40 and 65 of those would be Quebec seats. Former Justice Minister Guy Favreau was reported to have said in a speech in the Saguenay region just before polling day that his party would actually win 65 of Quebec's 75 seats.

THE OUTLAND FRENCH

That is not a majority; but a fairly recent development in our history has been the great overspill of French-Canadians into other provinces. Quebec Premier Lesage recently indicated his belief, promptly challenged by Ontario's Premier John Roberts, that the Quebec provincial government has a responsibility for these "outland" French-Canadians. In general this overspill covers northern New Brunswick and eastern Ontario, with pockets elsewhere. There are 10 constituencies outside Quebec where French-Canadians constitute a majority of the population. These are Gloucester, Kent and Restigouche-Madawaska in New Brunswick; Stormont, Glengarry-Prescott and Ottawa East in eastern Ontario, and Nickel Belt, Timmins, Cochrane and Nipissing in northern Ontario. All of these are now held by Liberals, except Timmins and Nickel Belt which the New Democrats hold.

Russell and Sudbury in Ontario, St. Boniface in Manitoba, and Athabasca in Alberta are very nearly predominantly French, and all these, except Athabasca are held by Liberals.

So today Prime Minister Pearson is supported in his caucus by 64 MPs representing Quebec or French-Canadian outland ridings, and by 66 MPs from other ridings. The nightmare feared by those thinking Liberals very nearly came to pass; but even so, the voice of French-Canada will be very, very powerful in the councils of the Liberal Government headed by Prime Minister Pearson.

CANADA'S STORY

Famous Automobiles Have Canadian Names

By ROB BOWMAN

Detroit, Cadillac, and Pontiac are so identified with automobiles that it is difficult to realize they are also important names in Canadian history. When Count Frontenac was sent back to Canada in 1689 to be governor for the second time, his most important job was to check the Iroquois who had been massacring the French.

The chief French fort on the Upper Great Lakes was Michilimackinac between Lakes Huron and Michigan, but it was too difficult to defend. A young officer, La Mothe Cadillac, who had served in many parts of Canada including Port Royal, persuaded Frontenac to build a fort at Detroit. French expression "detroit" meaning "at the strait", Cadillac got there on July 23, 1701, by taking 100 soldiers in canoes from Montreal, up the Ottawa River, down the French River to Lake Huron, to Michilimackinac (he had snowshoed from Michilimackinac to Montreal several times earlier in his career) and then to Detroit.

The French held this fort until Nov. 29, 1760, when it fell to a British force under Major Rogers, sent there soon after the fall of Montreal.

Pontiac came into the picture three years later. He was an Indian chief of the Ottawa tribe, and friendly to the French with whom his people had done most of their trade. Pontiac swore that he would wipe the English off the face of the earth, and kept the fort of Detroit under siege for nearly a year, after failing to capture it by trickery.

Detroit was one of the last British possessions handed over to the U.S.A. after the American Revolutionary War.

ANN LANDERS

Its Thumbs Down On European Husbands

Dear Ann Landers: I saw red when my eyes fell on the words, "The American husband is the most spoiled, pleasure-seeking parasite in the world."

I was married to a European for 18 years so I speak with authority. European husbands would sooner be caught dead than with a dish towel in his hand. He feels it is beneath his dignity to carry out the garbage or empty an ash-tray. It does not offend him, however, to sit in an easy chair with his shoes off and watch his wife haul large baskets of laundry up from the basement.

The European husband leaves his wife home a lot. I was never invited on a business trip although my husband's colleagues often took their wives. I was not permitted to join a bridge club because my husband said respectable women don't leave the house alone at night.

Ten years with that dingbat was like a life sentence. Now I am happily married to an American who treats me like a human being—THUMBS DOWN ON EUROPEAN MEN!

Dear Thumbs: I'm not dishing your word but I know of some American husbands who have the traits which you describe as European. I'd like to hear from other women who have (or have had) European husbands. What goes (or went) on at your house, girls?

Dear Ann Landers: Recently there was a letter in your column about wives who undress in the closet. The letter attracted my attention because I am a 15-year-old girl who has a similar problem. Only I hate to undress in front of my female classmates.

I just die when I have to show after physical education. The dressing rooms don't have doors or curtains. It's not that I am

Replacement For Doctor-Nun Sought By Dominican Order

SALISBURY (AP) — The Roman Catholic Dominican order is scouring the world for a replacement for a doctor-nun famous in Rhodesia for her work among 80,000 Negroes in the drought-stricken Chillymanzi reserve.

She is Sister Cecilia, a German nun who worked so hard for three years at St. Theresa's tiny bush hospital she had to be flown to Munich for a rest.

Sister Cecilia came to Rhodesia to work at the Harare Negro Hospital in Salisbury. She impressed everyone with her surgical and medical skill and devotion to her patients. Then she took over St. Theresa's Hospital as the first and only doctor in the Chillymanzi reserve.

She worked from 7 a.m. until long after nightfall, 365 days a year. The hospital grew from its original 50 beds to 125, but regularly has 175 patients at a time.

Mattresses were put on the floor and sometimes two patients with the same disease shared the same bed.

Patients came to stand or sit outside the hospital all night, waiting for Sister Cecilia's attention. Some were brought in 20 miles or more by wheelbarrow. Others walked up to 50 miles.

"Even the local witch doctor came for treatment, and then announced he had to hurry back to see his own patients," said Mother Auxilia, the Dominican vicar general in Salisbury. "Later on, he came back again."

Last year the hospital had 4,018 admissions and 453 operations were performed by Sister Cecilia, who graduated from Martin Luther University, Halle, East Germany, as Dr. Cecilia Schmitzer and entered the religious life in West Germany. Only 40 deaths from general causes were recorded at the hospital, and there were 9,378 outpatients. Thousands were treated for tuberculosis, gastro-enteritis, malnutrition, typhoid, malaria and measles.

But the strain on Sister Cecilia was too much. A doctor said she must have a long rest or break down completely.

Appeals have gone out from the Dominican order to West Germany, Ireland, Britain, Canada and the United States for a replacement.

The few Kelownians who were left unexcited by the Grey Cup playoff on Saturday were certainly not among the 120 thrilled members and guests who assembled at the Kelowna Club to watch the game between the Ti-Cats and the Blue Bombers.

Greeted on arrival by the president, R. G. One Ti-Cat fan wore a black and gold striped sweater and head band, and most of the fans wore lapel members and guests who assembled at the Kelowna Club to watch the game between the Ti-Cats and the Blue Bombers.

Cries of "there he goes," "lets go," and thunderous cheers when the players did fill the club and excitement ran rampant as the Ti-Cats gradually took over the game to win 22-16, although not till the last 20 seconds did the Bombers' fans even consider defeat.

Following the game a most delicious buffet lunch consisting of enormous roasts of beef carved by Dave Millin, salads, brown bread and coffee, was greatly enjoyed, while the fine points of the play were rehearsed by the more knowledgeable fans.

Glove Machine Set In Worker's Home

BIDEFORD, England (AP) — To save a 16-year-old worker from hitch-hiking to and from her work, a factory is moving a glove-making machine to her home.

"She's a fine worker," said manager Frank Day, "and there's no reason why she shouldn't work at home."

Said Ruth Pennington: "It will be lovely not having to go to work any more, but I'll still work pretty hard at home. I'm paid by the amount I do."

Ruth lives in the isolated village of Bradworthy 15 miles from her factory. There is no bus service and no train. Ruth is too young to drive a car. For more than a year she's been hitch-hiking both ways.

"The machine is quiet and will be suppressed, so it won't interfere with anybody's television," said the manager.

Pretty Victoria Wedding Of Interest To Okanagan

Field United Church in Victoria was decorated with white floral arrangements for the late fall wedding of Jennifer Kathleen Sands and Donald Basil Robson, Rev. H. W. Kerley officiated at the pretty ceremony and Miss Joan Oswald sang "The Wedding March Prayer" during the signing of the register.

The bride is the daughter of Deputy Labor Minister William H. Sands and Mrs. Sands who will be remembered by many friends as former residents of Kelowna and the groom is the son of Mrs. B. H. Robson and the late Mr. Robson of Victoria.

An heirloom wedding band fulfilled the tradition of "something old" for the lovely bride who was given in marriage by her father. The ring which belonged to the groom's great-grandmother, complemented a gown of ribbed taffeta fabric styled slightly on train. Silk rose appliques starred the full skirt and the fitted bodice featured a bateau neckline, outlined with similar accents, and five-pointed sleeves. A bouffant five-tier veil of silk illusion net misted from a headpiece of seed pearls and brilliants and she carried a Bible topped with red roses and white lilies.

Cranberry red velvet gowns, complemented with white wedding ring headpieces and bouquets of white feathered chrysanthemums were worn by the bride's attendants. They were maid of honor, Miss Sali Price; bridesmaids, Mrs. W. R.

A three-tier heart-shaped wedding cake, topped with red roses, centred the head table at the reception following in the Empress Hotel ballroom. Floral arrangements in silver and white tones completed table decorations. Hon. Wesley D. Black proposed the toast to the bride.

The couple will make their new home in Beacon Towers, Douglas Street, Victoria following a honeymoon trip to San Francisco and Kelowna. For travelling, the bride chose a three-piece pink wool suit accented with black accessories and corsage of pink sweetheart roses.

Vaccine For German Measles Produced

MELBOURNE (Reuters)—A vaccine to protect women from German measles has been produced by Australia's Commonwealth vaccine laboratories. It was announced last week.

But the acting director of the laboratories, Dr. W. R. Lane, said the vaccine will not be released until it has undergone extensive tests, possibly in 12 to 18 months' time.

German measles is not generally serious but can have more severe effects when contracted by women during the early stages of pregnancy.

Because an "average" accident last year cost $810...a jump of $113 in just 5 years

Automobile Insurance rates in most areas of Canada will increase in 1968. Prudent drivers ask why premiums should rise again. Here are the key reasons:

- Every year the number of vehicles on Canadian roads is increasing... but the total cost of accidents in the past five years has gone up three times as fast as the number of cars which together must provide the money to pay for these accidents.
- And during the past five years the number of accidents has spiralled much faster than the number of cars that are on the road.
- In that same period the total cost of insurance claims has doubled.
- Since 1960 this claims cost has been climbing at an average of $40 million a year. This year's insurance bill for accidents will total $400 million.
- Each accident costs more than it did five years ago — the result of more expensive and luxurious cars, increasing repair costs, higher medical expenses and compensation for time off work or lost income.

The only way to stop this spiral is to have fewer accidents. That is the best way, too, to cut the tragic toll of 4,500 deaths and 150,000 injuries in Canada each year. Safety pays... it saves lives and dollars.

Even Good Drivers Have Accidents.

Drivers with a three-year accident-free record earn a 35 per cent discount off basic insurance rates. But even good drivers have accidents. Eighty per cent of all accidents are caused by people who have driven three or more years without an accident. That is why the basic rates go up for everyone—even the good driver who still gets his discount.

Bombers Hopes Went With Gale

TORONTO (CP) — Hamilton Tiger-Cats called the game in Saturday's 22-16 Grey Cup triumph and were the performance-minded chances of Winnipeg Blue Bombers were blown in the wind.

The Tiger-Cats' victory was hammered out by their mauling unyielding defensive corps, which dominated play this season in the Eastern Football Conference.

It proved enough to snap the Western Conference Bombers' great 1965 comeback of the wind-buffed grain at Canadian National Exhibition Stadium before a sell-out crowd of more than 32,000 fans.

The maestro was captain John Barrow, Hamilton's all-time star defensive tackle, who was named the game's outstanding player. He stole a wind-stalled punt out of the hands of kicker Ed Ullmer in the third quarter after it sailed back across the line of scrimmage, and he recovered a fumble by quarterback Kenny Ploen that stalled a key last-quarter Winnipeg drive.

Barrow got able assistance from others on Tiger-Cats' defensive front wall: Angelo Moses, Dave Van, Marty Marletto and Jim Reynolds.

DEFENCE WAS THERE

When a Winnipeg ball carrier was able to find a hole in this granite front wall, or skirt more than 100 yards, the defensive halfbacks Billy Wayne and Gar-John Barrow, Hamilton's all-time star defensive tackle, who was named the game's outstanding player. He stole a wind-stalled punt out of the hands of kicker Ed Ullmer in the third quarter after it sailed back across the line of scrimmage, and he recovered a fumble by quarterback Kenny Ploen that stalled a key last-quarter Winnipeg drive.

Ticats Outstanding Defence Forced Costly Mistakes

The defence forced Winnipeg's explosive offence to give up 115 yards on 18 plays, as were when Bombers' fullbacks cluding the three on which the Bombers conceded safety touches.

It also rescued the Ticats' own half-and-half offence which coughed up a record-tying five fumbles to a Winnipeg defence rated second only to Hamilton's in Canada this season.

The safeties—only four were conceded in previous Grey Cup games, stretching back to 1928—provided the victory margin which brought Hamilton its sixth Grey Cup in 17 tries and its fourth in nine against Winnipeg, dating back to 1928.

After a game, Hamilton coach Ralph Sazio commented: "This great defence has carried us from the start while we were rebuilding and getting our safeties upset his plans, said: "I thought a couple of fumbles would be, but not that."

Sazio never considered similar action, letting Zuger punt against the wind even when the Ticats were deep in their own end.

"But," he added, "you have to give full credit to their defence. They were able to hold our offence with their backs to the bay. And Barrow was terrific."

Grant said the game proved only that the Hamilton defence was able to spoil the Bombers' strategy designed to make the most of the high winds.

East Still Holds Advantage In Overall Grey Cup Standings

The victory was only the East's fourth triumph in the last dozen games when the West boasts a power in Canadian football, launched by three consecutive victories by Edmonton Eskimos in 1964-65-66. It also was only the second victory in six attempts by Hamilton against Winnipeg in the last nine years.

The over-all record in the East-West Grey Cup clashes since Edmonton Eskimos were shut out 23-0 by Toronto Argonauts in 1921, now is 26-12 for the East.

WOULD DO IT AGAIN

Grant, who failed to win a record-tying fifth cup, defended his strategy to ordering his club to give up the safeties. He said he would do it again under similar circumstances.

Sazio, asked whether the Bomber strategy in trying to eat up the third quarter with the

Writers Assessment Credits Defence, Wind, Bud Grant

TORONTO (CP)—The wind, the Hamilton defence and the strategy of Winnipeg coach Bud Grant share the credit for the Tiger-Cats' 22-16 Grey Cup victory over the Blue Bombers in the assessment of sports writers and columnists who watched Saturday's game at Canadian National Exhibition Stadium.

Dink Carroll of the Montreal Gazette said the wind, "which reached gale proportions a times," spoiled the game.

"The conditions were equally bad for both teams, to be sure, but the point to be made is that the CNE Stadium is not a good place to play football," Carroll continues. "It is located right down by the bay and there always seems to be an offshore wind blowing in off it."

Carroll blames the proximity of Lake Ontario for creating the Fog Bowl, which forced the 1962 final into a second day, and recommends that the Canadian Football League consider moving the Grey Cup game to other sites.

Jack Kinsella, sports columnist of the Ottawa Citizen, gives full marks to the Hamilton defenders:

"In the last analysis, Hamilton's great defence proved the margin in a tremendous fourth quarter in which it restricted the Bombers to only three points."

'HURT BOMBERS MORE'

Kinsella says the wind hurt the Bombers more than the Ticats because it restricted their passing attack.

Rex MacLeod, football writer of the Toronto Globe and Mail, notes that Grant gave away three safety touches, the margin of victory, in an effort to keep the ball rather than risk punting against the wind.

"Grant had such confidence in his offence that he thought he could donate six points and regain it, plus several other points, with the gusts behind him in the fourth quarter. . . . The gamble failed."

Eric Whitehead of the Vancouver Province says the Bombers went down fighting.

Grant got brilliant work from his backfield, with the truly great veteran Leo Lewis coming through with one of his classic afternoons. However, in the end, it was that vicious Hamilton defence that made the difference when it had to.

Police Report Quiet Night

TORONTO (CP)—Most of the howling was done by the wind on Grey Cup weekend.

Chill winds whipped through downtown streets Saturday night, and the throngs that usually whoop it up after the annual East-West football final chose to stay indoors.

Police put extra men on duty and waited for the wholesale celebrating that never materialized.

Only 74 arrests, mostly for drunkenness, were made in downtown Toronto after the game, won 22-16 by Hamilton Tiger-Cats over Winnipeg Blue Bombers. The quiet night club belt usually yields about 90 arrests on a normal Saturday night, police said.

Even Hamilton supporters refused to let their exuberance bubble over. There were no street demonstrations and police reported no more arrests than usual.

Chualo Tells How 'Clay Can Be Had'

LONDON (AP) — George Chualo, Canadian heavyweight boxing champion, arrived by plane here today and said he knows the way to beat Cassius Clay.

"Floyd Patterson went about it the wrong way," the husky 28-year-old Torontonian said. "He stayed too far away from Clay. You've got to get in and attack the body. I think I could beat him."

Clay successfully defended his world title against former champion Patterson last week. Chualo is here for a 10-round fight against Joe Bygraves, former British Empire champion, at London's Royal Albert Hall Dec. 7.

"I reckoned this was the best way to go at Clay for the world title," Chualo told reporters. "If I can win two or three fights in Europe, I shall be well in line for a title shot."

"I hope to beat Bygraves, go home for Christmas and then come back to Europe for another fight or two in the new year."

Chualo said he should have got the decision against Ernie Perez, who defeated him Nov. 1 for the World Boxing Association version of the world title.

"I'm even more convinced after watching the film of the fight. 'If I'd absorbed all the punches they said I took, my face would have been pulp. Terrell was like an octopus. He just clung on. He'll never stand up to Clay."

FORT LAUDERDALE, Fla. (AP) — Harvey Haddix, left-handed pitcher who retired this year after 14 seasons in major league baseball, was named pitching coach of Vancouver in the Pacific Coast League Sunday.

Haddix, 40, is best known for the 12 perfect innings he pitched against Milwaukee while with Pittsburgh in 1959. He lost the game 1-0 in the 13th inning on a one-hitter.

Canadiens Gain Two Wins To Climb To Top Of NHL

By THE CANADIAN PRESS

Montreal Canadiens won first place during weekend National Hockey League action while George Howe pulled out of a slump to break records.

The Canadiens, who picked up two wins to take sole possession of the league leadership, were the target for Howe, who parked No. 600 into their nets and a player off the ice.

Howe, Detroit Red Wings' big right winger, scored his 600th regular-season goal Saturday but it wasn't enough as Montreal downed the Wings 3-2.

Two minutes after his historic goal, Howe high-sticked Montreal defenseman J. C. Tremblay, smashing his chestbone.

Howe went to the penalty box with a major and Tremblay was taken to hospital.

In other NHL action Saturday, Maple Leafs 2-1 and Chicago Black Hawks shut out New York Rangers 3-0.

Brutus edged Toronto Rangers 1-0.

In Sunday's games, Montreal beat Chicago 2-1, Toronto downed New York 4-2 and Detroit clipped Boston 5-3.

Montreal jumped off to a 2-0 lead early in the first period on goals by Gilles Tremblay and Yvan Cournoyer. Bobby Rousseau scored the winner in the third period.

Norm Ullman scored the other Detroit goal.

Howe had been gunning unsuccessfully for his 600th goal through five games since Nov. 11.

MASS TAKE LEAD

Canadiens took first place with their win over Chicago Black Hawks Sunday.

The victory, Montreal's second over Chicago in three games, moved the Canadiens two points ahead of the Hawks.

Henri Richard and Claude Provost scored Montreal's goals — Richard's came just nine seconds after the game got underway.

Pat Stapleton, replacing injured defenseman Elmer Vasko, scored the Hawks' lone marker.

Seattle Moves Out Of Cellar With Win And Tie In NHL Play

By THE CANADIAN PRESS

A fierce battle is in progress at the bottom of the Western Hockey League standings.

Since Nov. 20, Los Angeles Blades and Seattle Totems have exchanged places in the league base "ent" four times. Fourth-place San Francisco Seals have barely managed to avoid the fray.

The Totems moved out of the cellar Sunday night with a 4-3 victory over Springfield, Mass., of the American League in an interlocking game played at Seattle.

VICTORIA ON TOP

Victoria Maple Leafs are way out in front with 25 points, four more than second place Portland Buckaroos. Vancouver Canucks are third with 19 points. San Francisco, Seattle and Los Angeles follow with 14, 13 and 12 points respectively.

In the only other action Sunday night, the AHL champion Rochester Americans edged Portland 4-3 in overtime.

Four games were played Saturday night, including two more interlocking games with AHL clubs.

Seattle the Totems fought Canucks to a 3-3 overtime tie; the hometown Blades dumped Victoria 3-1; Seals beat Springfield 4-1 at San Francisco; and in Pittsburg the hometown Hornets shutout Portland 5-0.

Bronco Horvath came up with the winning goal in the Rochester-Portland game Sunday night. It was his second goal of the night. Wally Boyer and Eddie Joyal scored the other two for Rochester.

Art Jones, Bill Saunders and Tommy McVie scored for Portland.

Saturday's victory by San Francisco may have eased the pressure on players' wallets. The teams' management had fined players for their performance in their recent series of losses. The team has won only six games this season.

Wayne Connolly scored two goals for the Seals. Player-coach Cliff Burns, the defenseman not fined, and Ron Harris scored once each. John McCarran scored the lone Springfield goal late in the second period.

PORTLAND SHUTOUT

Single goals by Pit Martin, Pete Goegan, Andre Pronovost, Murray Hall and Duke Harris led Pittsburg to its Saturday shutout over Portland.

Scoring for Seattle in their overtime tie Saturday with Vancouver were Jim Powers, Earl Heiskala and Len Haley. Dave Duke scored twice for Canucks and Phil Maloney once.

Los Angeles managed their single day out of the cellar Saturday when they beat Victoria on goals by Leo Labine, Cliff Pennington and Buddy Boone after Victoria's Gordie Redahl had scored for a 1-0 lead earlier in the game.

But the following night, Seattle dumped Los Angeles back into the cellar by defeating Springfield on an overtime goal by Jim Powers. Guyle Fielder, Earl Heiskala and Bill Dineen got the others for the winners.

Scoring for Springfield were Yves Locas with two and Dave Amadio with one.

Mike Darnbrough Shines As Bucks Beat Kamloops

Kelowna Buckaroos strengthened their hold atop the Okanagan Junior Hockey League by sweeping Kamloops 6-3 in Kamloops Saturday.

A crowd of 700 partisans fans saw Mike Darnbrough score two goals to sink the hometown Kraft Kings.

Darnbrough scored his first goal to give Kelowna a 1-0 lead at 6:01 of the opening period. Mike's goal came on a backhander after he received a pass from Kelowna defenseman Dave Haley.

Kamloops evened the score at 8:19 of the middle frame on a goal by Roy Sakai. Bobby Jamieson broke in on Buck goalie Alje Kamminga and then dropped a pass back to Sakai. Roy pushed the puck by Kamminga on the short side.

Reg Saunders again put Kelowna ahead at 10:27. Garth Rizzuto was sent into the clear on a pass from newcomer Keith Bousquet. Garth took his shot which Darnbrough stopped but he failed to cover up on the rebound. Reg took the puck about three feet in front of the Kamloops net and drove it home for his fifth goal of the year.

Garth Rizzuto scored the winner at 11:01 just 40 seconds after Saunders' marker. Rizzuto scored in his typical fashion. Garth wound up at his own blue line and skated through the centre. Kamloops goalie and head Darnbrough with a shot into the upper portion of the net.

Dave Couves and Billy Bell rounded out Kelowna's scoring in the second period.

Couves' goal came on passes from Mike Meenan and Bill Bell. Dave caught the puck on a rebound for his goal. Bill Bell's goal came on a pretty passing play from Keith Bousquet.

Kelowna wrapped up their scoring for the game just 11 seconds into the final stanza. Mike Darnbrough and Marcello Verna teamed up to beat Wally Deneault.

Robbie Jamieson scored Kamloops second goal on a two-man break. Charlie Cook ragged the puck up to the Kelowna blue line and passed over to Jamieson. Jamieson unleashed a slap shot that went through Kamminga's legs.

Referees called 12 penalties with six going to each team. Early in the first period Garth Rizzuto and Ken Rodgers went off together for roughing and late in the third Dave Couves and Charlie Cook squared off which resulted in roughing penalties. Another mild skirmish involved Lynn Swanson and Kamloops captain Eddie Begg.

Kelowna outshot the Kraft Kings 40-30.

Next action for the Bucks comes this Friday night when the Bucks square off against Kamloops at Memorial Arena.

By JOHN WOODSWORTH
George Pringle secondary school sponsored the 14th annual Okanagan - Kamloops students' council conference held here on November 19 and 20.

On Friday evening the students of George Pringle and the visiting delegates filled five buses which took them to a skating party in Summerland.

After the skating party, a dance was held back at the school from 10 to 12. Music by the Kastaways.

Everyone had a lot of fun that evening and we all got a chance to get really acquainted with the delegates.

The conference began at 9 a.m. Saturday. Workshops in student government, athletics, fine arts, and other clubs were held until noon in these workshops the students talked over new ideas, compared present activities, and generally got to understand their clubs more fully.

At noon a large banquet was held in the gymnasium. Our principal, Mr. Zuback, introduced the guest speaker, Mr. Venables, who discussed plans for the new Okanagan Regional College to be built near here soon in his speech he expressed hopes that the college would be open by 1967.

This college should turn out to be a good one as the aim is to have it accredited. This would make it possible for students to be accepted in any university when they are ready.

U.K. Bakers Halt Strikes

LONDON (AP) — Britain's bakers union today called off its "hitting" bread strikes, but only for a week.

The union announced that by Dec. 1 it expects an interim wage increase of £1 (£3) a week and a promise to discuss its main demand for a 30-per-cent increase.

Otherwise, it said it will call out all its 32,000 members.

The bakers are demanding a minimum weekly wage of £15 (£45). The present minimum is £11 (£33) but overtime and bonuses take home pay to £20 (£60).

Last week a series of strikes hit major towns bringing long queues for bread and sometimes driving women to rediscover the lost art of home-baking.

There's a much different side to be seen of teens if only we attempt to show them this side.

At the Kelowna Secondary School participation is shown. Next week we will bring a birthday, where students bring enough money to cover their age and contribute it to the March of Dimes.

Many good ideas of candles were put forth by Norma Gourle and we'll try different colors, sizes and shapes.

Our first Teen Town bulletin will be sent out within the next week to all members. And our planning list is being compiled.

Each member will be assigned and asked to read an hour of their spare time for a project with which we need help.

We need your help so please say "yes" when a Teen Town Council member phones you.

Two weeks ago we were fortunate to have six visitors from Cashmere, Washington visit us. We were delighted and they were delightful.

They were Gary Jones, Bob Morrison, Eric Erutzel, Joanne McManus, Jean Kingman, and Peach Taylor.

Three of them attended our Teen Town meeting on Sunday night. They participated in the meeting and then we had an open discussion and they explained that in Washington they don't have such things as Teen Associations as we do and they think they're just wonderful.

They said they have discotheques but its notran by teen for very small. The Student Council held all the dances after hockey, football or basketball games.

They liked how we voiced our opinions freely and how the meetings were very informal.

We talked about their school hours, their teens and how they differed from us in dress, ideas and dancing. We may differ from them in physical things but basically we are all the same, fun-loving growing adolescents, the citizens of tomorrow.

I hope they felt welcome, we enjoyed having them, and we hope they'll come back again someday.

Snow Piles Up By Great Lakes

CHICAGO (AP) — Snow continued to pile up today in areas along the shores of the Great Lakes while freezing temperatures were reported in the United States from the Rocky Mountains to the Appalachians.

Those areas hit by the snow are along the eastern and southeastern shores of the lakes.

At Conneaut, Ohio, 60 miles northeast of Cleveland, nearly a foot of snow had fallen. Other cities with heavy accumulations were Erie, Pa., and Buffalo, N.Y., both with eight inches, and Grand Rapids and Traverse City, Mich., with seven inches.

The storm swept off Lake Erie early Sunday and stationed itself over an eight-county western New York area.

Nazi Propaganda Film On Again

BONN (Reuters) — A Nazi propaganda movie is being shown to West German audiences for the first time since Hitler's Third Reich collapsed 20 years ago.

The picture, Kolberg, designed to whip up patriotic ardor in Second World War Germany, is the first of a series of such propaganda films which a West German distributing company intends to show as examples of how the Nazis used the medium to indoctrinate the people.

Kolberg and other Nazi "pep" movies are banned in their original form here.

The company, the Atlas Film-Verleih, presents Kolberg as a historic document, accompanied by wartime newsreels and a commentary to show its contemporary background of hidden purpose.

Christmas Program Started At George Elliot Secondary

By MARY RAMSAY and EILEEN CROWDER
Christmas is coming and with it the preparation for George Elliot's annual Christmas program. The band and choir under the direction of Mr. W. Epp, as well as the drama club sponsored by Mr. I. Sietz and Mr. Black are all practicing diligently.

The 1965-66 senior boys basketball season started Friday, November 26.

Teams from Revelstoke, Princeton, Kelowna, Rutland, Summerland, and Winfield will play off in a "round robin series" at Summerland. An invitational trophy which is now held by the George Elliot senior boys will be presented to the victorious team.

On Friday, November 19, the Band Association sponsored a Wildlife film, narrated by Mike Nolan. Thanks to all those who supported the band and made this film a success.

On Thursday, November 18, the senior girls Volleyball team challenged the staff to a game of "volleyball". The teachers obliged and dressed up to a state of non-recognition. Of course no rules were enforced.

The girls were cheered on by the "Go-go" cheerleading "Boys" and the choruses of the Future Teachers Club added to the confusion. Everybody thoroughly enjoyed themselves and nobody will ever know who won.

On November 18, G.E.S.S. held the senior girls and boys

There were chances held during the day and the students obtained many new ideas. They attended a banquet at noon and an account was heard of the OK Regional College. Congratulations go out to the Westbank Council for their splendid job.

Between the dates of November 12 and 22, the Students Council sponsored their annual magazine drive under the management of Mary Ramsay. It was a great success, with over 2000 raised.

Two Visiting U.S. Students Cause Stir At Dr. Knox School

By DON RAMFONE
The halls were a trifle more crowded this past week because Knox had two visitors.

The two students, Joanne McManus and Jeannie Kingman were exchange students from Cashmere, Washington.

They were visiting our school on an exchange program sponsored by the Rotary club. We hope their stay at Knox was enjoyable and a new exciting adventure in their life.

TO THE U.S.
Exchange students from Dr. Knox that went to Cashmere were Sandra Barrone, Joanne Balfour and Emily Meek. We hope to hear from these students soon as to what they did.

On Friday, November 19, the whole school moved down to the gymnasium for a general assembly. The assembly opened with the singing of O' Canada. Mr. Hawker then announced the members of the honor's club and the students of Honorable Mention who were given honor certificates.

The next item on the agenda was the presentation of the "Rotary Cheque" received by Mr. Dendy on behalf of the school library.

PINS PRESENTED
Art Enns, president of this year's Students' Council, presented Knox pins to Joanne McManus and Jeannie Kingman of Cashmere, Washington, the two exchange students visiting our school.

Reds Attack Laos Army

VIENTIANE (AP) — The Communists appear to have launched attacks against the Laotian army in south central Laos, a military spokesman said today.

He reported successive waves of attacks were made Nov. 26, 27 and 28 on army positions at Nong Boua Lao, 80 miles east of Savannakhet. Nong Boua Lao is located on a route which leads from Vinh, in North Viet Nam, to Savannakhet, on the shore of the Mekong River.

The spokesman said an estimated two battalions of Pathet Lao and North Vietnamese troops were facing one Laotian battalion.

Laotian air force planes strafed Communist positions and losses were believed heavy, the spokesman added.

Berliners Seek Christmas Visits

BERLIN (AP) — West Berliners began applying today for passes to cross through the Berlin Wall to visit relatives in the Communist half of the divided city over the Christmas holidays.

People began lining up at 4 a.m. at the 16 offices set up to handle the applications. The doors opened six hours later.

U.S. Church Denominations Now Seemed Quieter About Viet Nam

NEW YORK (AP)—American church denominations, usually inclined to speak out on moral issues before the nation, are generally non-committal these days about the war in Viet Nam. Many individual clergymen and special groups have voiced firm opinions about the matter, sometimes critical of U.S. policy, and religious periodicals have carried considerable pro-and-con discussion. But the major denominations, other than pacifist bodies, have largely avoided taking official and definite stands on American military involvement, either disapproving or clearly supporting it.

There is no real consensus among American Christians on how to bring about peace with justice in Viet Nam. Bishop Reuben H. Mueller, president of the National Council of Churches, has said: "The council, including most of the larger Protestant and Orthodox church bodies in the country, has assigned a special panel of leading clergymen to assess the situation, and also recommend ways to relieve suffering in Viet Nam."

But just how specific its findings may be about the complex, harsh and expanding conflict remains uncertain. The task of peace-making has been a difficult one, says a Roman Catholic theologian, Rev. Daniel Berrigan, writing in the periodical Worldview about the growing domination of technology. "Peace-making in a war atmosphere becomes inevitably the specialty of small groups of diplomats and military experts. However, amid the contention that only specialists with inside information are compe-

A Grey Week On Stock Market Despite Grey Cup Excitement

By PHIL FORSYTH-AMT, Canadian Press Staff Writer. Football fans may find their greatest excitement in Grey Cup day but investors couldn't find any excitement in Canada's grey stock markets last week. Trading continued its dull performance for the third week and prices made no headway with defensive investors. A brief advance Wednesday only interrupted 12 days of falling price and by Friday all the Toronto Stock Exchange indices registered losses from last week. The twelve-day decline was one of the longest since the index began about two years ago.

WON'T PAY DIVIDEND

In gold, Madson Red Lake tumbled 27 cents to 2.08 following an announcement Wednesday that the company would not pay its semi-annual dividend. Giant Yellowknife 1/4 to 13 and Kerr-Addison 20 cents to 8.00.

PAPERS MIXED

Pulp and paper companies, undergoing tremendous expansion programs, showed a mixed response. B.C. Forest went up 1/4 to 22. Price, on news of immediate newprint expansion, gained 1/4 to 28 1/2 but MacMillan, Bloedel eased 1/4 to 25 1/2. In other issues, Du Pont dipped 1/4 to 44, Bell Telephone 1/4 to 56 1/2, Dominion Textile 1/4 to 34, Distillers Seagram 1/4 to 37, Canadian Breweries 1/4 to 7 1/2, Moore Corp., and Texaco 1/4 each to 79 1/2 and 32 1/2, and Quebec Natural Gas 1/4 to 13 1/2.

NORANDA FEATURED

Among primary metals, Noranda was the feature issue in the otherwise softer group. Its shares picked up 1 1/2 Friday for a gain of 7 1/2 to 51 1/2. Falconbridge did not fare so well and was still off 2 to 108, Hudson Bay was down 1/4 to 75 1/2, Inco 1 to 99 1/2 and Cominco 1/4 to 49 1/2.

EXECUTE NATIONALS

YAOUNDE, Cameroon (AP) Four Cameroon nationals, condemned last Oct. 20 for the slaying of two Swiss Protestant missionaries, were executed by firing squad Friday. The two missionaries were slain three months ago near Bangangte, a village in the Bamileke tribesmen's country.

Kansas City Rookie Stars In Rout Over Houston

By MIKE RATHEN, Associated Press Sports Writer. Kansas City Chiefs have forgotten about the trouble Fred Arbanas had with his eye. The only trouble was Arbanas was beginning to suspect the Chiefs' eye had forgotten about him. "They just haven't been throwing to me," Arbanas said recently in discussing the loss of sight of his left eye. "As far as I'm concerned they don't have confidence in me. My right eye does all the work but as long as they throw it near me I can catch it."

Canada's Santa On Globe Trot

VIENTIANE (AP)—Canada's Father Christmas plane arrived in Vientiane today at 9 a.m. and left for Bangkok two hours later to continue its Santa Claus mission. The plane, decorated with scarlet maple leaf emblems, is a Yukon aircraft of the RCAF Transport Command. To four-engine turboprop is one of the largest planes ever to put in at Vientiane's airport. Three Klansmen Tried In Killing MONTGOMERY, Ala. (AP)—Federal prosecutors put three Ku Klux Klansmen on trial today on charges resulting from the killing of a white civil rights worker, Mrs. Viola Greg Lauze. Each of the Klan members—one of them already acquitted in state court, the others still awaiting trial—could be sentenced to 10 years in prison and fined $5,000 under the indictment based on an old law used mostly in the past to safeguard voting and property rights. Nowhere in the indictment is there any mention of the slaying of Mrs. Lauze, a Detroit housewife, which touched off the prosecutions in both state and federal court.

Victoria To Double Up On Grant To Peachland

PEACHLAND — As a grant towards the new municipal building from the federal government will not be available until the municipality has received less than had been anticipated under the winter works program, the Provincial Government has decided to double the amount of its grant. This was told to Peachland council Nov. 23. The surveyor mapping branch of the department of lands and forests had advised that the installation of control monuments has been listed for inclusion in next session's operation and in the meantime a member of their staff will visit the area to advise where the said stakes should be placed.

Searcher Lost But Found Alive

Last Wednesday prospector Bud Disto, 65, got lost in the woods not far from Port Hardy, a northern Vancouver Island community.

Thursday he was found but Pat Taylor, 21, a member of the party that searched for him, got lost.

Saturday a search party that Disto, a veteran woodsman helped organize, found Taylor as long as the first.

Taylor spent two days in eight inches of snow on some of the most hostile terrain in B.C. His brother Ray, 20, said in an interview from nearby Alert Bay, Taylor was no hunter. He wore only rubber boots, blue jeans, a shirt and windbreaker.

Taylor spent two fireless nights during which snow fell while 100 men searched for him.
